

FULL WEEK OF SOCIAL EVENTS CANCELLED

Activities Grind To Halt; Illness Wave Continues

University officials last night imposed a strict, all-inclusive ban on campus activities — one which could extend into the weekend — after a week-old flu epidemic continues to spread over campus.

Guy Wicks, assistant director of student affairs, made the announcement late Monday after consultation with President D. R. Theophilus and Dr. J. M. Fleming, acting University physician.

Scheduled classes will not be effected by the present ruling. Wicks said no steps have been taken in that direction as yet.

The ban took effect last night and closes the Dipper, cancels house exchanges and all meetings at the SUB involving more than six people. The Bucket will remain open.

Executive Board meeting tonight was also cancelled in an announcement from Gale Mix, ASUI general manager.

A Frosh Week tug-of-war Wednesday was abolished completely after the announcement. Rich Thomas, freshman president, said he was asked to cancel it because of the physical exertion involved that officials said would lower participants' resistance.

Wicks said he would decide Wednesday afternoon whether or not his office will extend the ban to activities this weekend. Four house dances and the Frosh Dance would be principally effected.

Editor's Note

News of the administration's restriction of campus activities involving large gatherings reached these offices late yesterday.

Stories involving campus events scheduled the latter part of this week do not include the fact, "that scheduled events will take place only if the activities ban is lifted by the date of the event."

get as much rest as possible. "At this time, it is impossible to tell whether the weekend activities and dances may proceed as scheduled."

Campus traffic officials also announced that all roads leading to the Arboretum will be blocked until further notice.

Wicks said the action was aimed at cutting down contact with large groups, a prime means of spreading the illness.

The SUB management intends to cooperate fully with the regula-

Week-Old Flu Epidemic Growing

The University's flu epidemic, now over a week old, Monday gave no indication of slackening as 20 more students were admitted to the infirmary and others were sent back to their living group to cope with the disease there.

Dr. J. M. Fleming, acting University physician said that about 10 per cent of the campus was affected by the virus-caused influenza. Dr. Fleming, through the office of student affairs, last night imposed an all-campus ban on activities to curb contagion.

About 65 students were treated at the Infirmary yesterday, Fleming said. This closely approaches the surge that besieged the hospital a week ago at the onset of the epidemic.

He said nearly all available beds were filled again Monday afternoon. He also indicated that effects of the disease appear to be milder than those of individuals first affected.

Fleming is handling ailing students alone after the resignation of Dr. Ralph M. Alley Thursday. He said yesterday he expected no help for from four to six weeks.

Local doctors are all busy with their own cases, he said. Elsewhere in the surrounding area doctors are coping with extensive outbreaks.

Moscow school officials Monday were considering closing the city's schools. About 10 per cent of the total Moscow High School student body was absent yesterday. Officials, however, said that many were suffering from other diseases, including mumps.

WCS is also being hard-hit by flu and allied ailments.

A team of investigators from the U.S. Public Health Laboratory at Hamilton, Mont. has been in the Moscow area for a week and will return to Hamilton with cultures of the specific viruses affecting the area for study.

Fleming said he was sending students with low fevers back to their living groups to recuperate. He said this should not spread the disease further if ill students remain in bed and "do not mingle with other members of their living groups."

FLU EPIDEMIC CONTINUES

Pulitzer Prize Winner Gives Borah Report On Russia

An undergraduate student fired from the editorship of the University of Minnesota Daily "for smoking a cigarette in the university library," will be among three featured speakers at the 1957 Borah Peace conference March 20-21.

Harrison Salisbury, the now Pulitzer prize-winning Moscow correspondent to the New York Times, first made page one headlines of the Times over that incident.

"The conference theme this year will be 'Current Crises and the Price of Peace,'" Chairman Robert Hosack, said. "Mr. Salisbury will bring to the conference a 'Report From Moscow,' and he is one of the best qualified men in the nation to do so. He has served as a correspondent in Russia for five years, the longest term of service of any Times correspondent in that country except for one of his predecessors, Walter Duranty."

He finally got his B.A. degree from Minnesota in 1930 and went to work for the United Press in Chicago.

One of the outstanding stories of that period covered by Salisbury was the income tax evasion trial of Al Capone. Later, when he had moved to a UP editorship in Washington, D.C., he deserted the re-write desk long enough to cover the assassination of Senator Huey Long.

In 1944 the journalist made his first visit to Russia when he accompanied Eric Johnston, then head of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, on a fabulous 6,000-mile odyssey through the Urals, Siberia and Central Asia.

Joining the New York Times staff in 1949, Salisbury promptly became the newspaper's Moscow correspondent, and, one way or another, managed to travel more extensively in the Soviet Union than any other present-day correspondent.

Following his return in 1954 from the Moscow assignment, Salisbury wrote a long series of penetrating articles for the Times called "Russia Re-Viewed." They won for him the coveted Pulitzer prize.

Today is the opening of "Campus Recupation Week" with a hasty ban placed on all school activities which involve large gatherings outside of the classroom.

The administration's legislation in an attempt to bring the flu epidemic to a head is also one answer in the ASUI Executive Board's pursuit to limit activities.

The flu epidemic has hit the campus where it hurts most. Resistance is low and living groups are filled with rundown students with varying degrees of influenza, virus caused.

The administration makes no mention of classroom activities where thousands of students congregate each day, and trip to and from class in flu conducive weather.

There is no mention of restricting classes.

We're fairly safe in assuming that the largest gatherings on this campus are in classrooms and that just as many germs can pass from person to person in such activity as there will be during the activities upon which the ban has been placed.

The only sure cure would be to place all students in isolation tents. The partial ban of gatherings, meaning the social activities, will not help as much as the curtailment of all classes for a day or two to give students a chance to rest up and kill this flu bug.

Debate Teams Back From Tournament

Five University of Idaho debate students returned yesterday from the 28th Linfield College Invitational Tournament at McMinnville, Oregon.

Entered in the senior men's division were Reed Bowen and Richard Sorenson, who won four and lost two in debate. Jim Burt, who entered the Lincoln-Douglas debate section, won three and lost three. Bob Ridener and Dick Day also won three and lost three in the impromptu division. Day placed fourth in the senior men's extemporaneous division.

The Tournament, lasting from March 7 to 10, was attended by 38 schools from the 11 western states. Four hundred contestants were entered according to coach Dr. A. E. Whitehead, who also acted as a judge.

Dates For Spring Election Told

Election dates were set Tuesday by Exec Board with the approval of all three parties. The general election will be April 25 and the late date for primaries is April 5. Petitions must be filed in the ASUI office by March 16. Absentee balloting will be from April 18 to 25.

Smokers will be sponsored by the ASUI and will be held in the Bucket, April 22 and 24.

Blue Key Trophy Winners

Aggies Choose Candidates For 'Little International'

Sixteen coeds were named as candidates for Little International queen at an Ag Club meeting Thursday night.

Those nominated were Lora Allison, Hays; Trenna Atchley, Marilyn DuRose, Kay Knox and Jyl Rupe. Forney; Judy Bailey, Sonja Carlson, Linda Edwards, Peggy Gee, and Rose Kimpleton, all of Ethel Steel; Carolyn Edwards, Gamma Phi; Diane Kell, Kappa; Tonia Peterson, Pi Phi; Marilyn Merrick, Alpha Chi; Sue Struck, Delta Gamma and Carol Wilson, Alpha Phi.

The queen will reign over the annual Little International agricultural show which will be held May 13-18.

An informal mixer Thursday night will enable the Ag Club members to become acquainted with all of the queen candidates. Three finalists will be selected from this group, and the queen will be announced at the Little International kick-off banquet May 9.

According to Ladd Mitchell, general manager of the Little International, voting for the queen will be conducted at an ice cream feed which is planned for March 28. The various contests in the show will be explained at this event and drawings will be held for livestock.

This Year's Best "This year's Little International promises to be the largest and most successful one ever held," Mitchell said. "There seems to be widespread interest among the ag students, and the committees are all working hard to make the show a success."

The point system has been revised, and the contest has been divided into two divisions. The livestock division includes the livestock, dairy, and poultry judging contests, the fitting and showing contests, and a veterinary science contest which is being added this year. Included in the plant division are contests in agronomy, horticulture, entomology and plant pathology. An "Outstanding Stockman" and "Outstanding Crossman" will be selected on the basis of points received in these contests. The "Outstanding Aggie of 1957" must have a maximum number of points from both the plant and animal divisions, in addition to points from the ag economics and public speaking con-

Wednesday's Tug-Of-War Cancelled; Dance Pending

The Frosh-Soph tug-of-war scheduled for Wednesday has been cancelled by the University ban on scheduled activities.

Plans for Friday night's Frosh Dance are pending until Wednesday's decision on weekend activities. Finalists for Frosh King and Queen have been picked, and voting for winners will take place Thursday or Friday.

Queen finalists are: Karla Klamper, Gamma Phi; Kay Shipley, French; Nan Alvord, Kappa; Fran Baudek, Theta; and Ann Marie Berry, Alpha Phi.

King finalists include: Gary Farnworth, Sigma Nu; Don Yost, Sigma Alpha; Tom Benjamin, Delta; Garth Brown, Beta; and Ed Campbell, Phi.

Friday's dance, "A Little Bit O' Ireland," will be decorated with an Irish theme and will feature the music of Ralph Dickenson's orchestra. Tickets for the semi-formal affair at $1.50 a couple and may be purchased at the door.

Talent Winners Use Various Music Themes

Music of Elvis Presley, Mexico, and Ireland was part of winning acts at last Friday's Blue Key Talent Show. An estimated 3200 people attended the 11th annual show.

Winning acts were Ralph and Loretta Alley, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Ed Pena, and Delroy Lechelt. All four singing acts were presented trophies by Dale Carlisle, president of Blue Key, sponsoring organization.

The show consisted of 16 acts of student talent selected from 29 entries auditioned the week before the show.

Kappa Kappa Gamma act of 60 people doing Irish songs and dance placed first in the group comedy division. Their act included solos by Loretta Alley and June Sleenan and the 40 piece "MacNamara's Band." The Kappas won the same division in the show two years ago.

Brother-Sister Win Ralph and Loretta Alley placed first in the popular music contest. The brother-sister team did pantomime take-offs of present song hits. They interpreted Elvis Presley, progressive jazz, and rock-and-roll music. Honorable mention winner was the six piece Kappa Sig Dixieland jazz band. They played "Tiger Rag," "Five-Foot-Two," and "When Saints Go Marching In."

Delroy Lechelt won the singles competition with a vocal solo, "Little Man You've Had a Busy Day." The song was sung in a setting of a man putting his son to bed. The child in the act was Lynn Schultz. Honorable mention went to Claudia Patton, French, who did an acrobatic dance.

Winning act in the Serious Music group was a duet singing Mexican songs. Ed Pena, an exchange student from Ecuador, and Ed Weinstein, an exchange student at WSC from Peru, sang "Perfidia" and "Guadalajara."

Marigay Nelson, winner in the serious music division two years ago, was guest soloist during the intermission while waiting for the judges' decision. Miss Nelson sang "They Call Me Mimi" by Puccini, "Indian Love Call," and "Take My Hand Precious Lord." Also performing during intermission was the Gamma Phi "Stamess Twin Act," a winner in last year's group comedy competition.

Five show judges from the Moscow-Pullman area were Robert Schestventer, WSC speech department; Mrs. E. W. Tisdale, Moscow; Fred Miller, Idaho faculty; J. Morris O'Donnell, attorney in Moscow; Gerald Goecke, Whitworth Jr. High in Moscow. Emcees for the show were Roger Thieme, Daxe Maxey, and Al Dingel.

Neal Powell and Dick Gaskins were co-chairmen for the show. Other committee chairmen were Don Ingle, Ralph Lindberg, Jerry Kessler, Jack Cole, Clark Anderson, Jim Hargis, Dwaine Griffith, and Mike Patton.

"Sabrina" Closes, "Angel Street" Next "Sabrina Fair" closed Saturday night to an audience of 750 after a two-day run on the University auditorium stage. Meanwhile the drama department was working on its next production, "Angel Street," scheduled for March 29 through 30.

Pati Rees Reigns As Queen of Queens

Pati Rees reigned as "Queen of Queens" Saturday evening at the IK dance held in the SUB ballrooms. She was crowned by John Chapman, Duke of the local Ball and Chain chapter, during the intermission.

A two-foot traveling trophy and an IK locket were presented to the queen, while her princesses, Joyce Weaver and Lou Ann Olson, received charm bracelets. Miss Rees was last fall's Homecoming Queen, Miss Weaver is "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and Miss Olson was selected Military Ball Queen last spring.

Chapman said Miss Rees will enter the regional queen contest when the IK convention is held here March 30. The winner of the regional will compete for the national title at Salt Lake City Apr. 10.

Approximately 100 persons crossed over the moat and draw bridge which formed the entrance to the dance. An IK shield on one wall was

Students Regret Alley's Departure

To label a man as "dedicated to his profession" somehow seems a poor method of wrapping years of service into a succinct phrase.

Yet that is the only brief compliment we can pay Dr. Ralph Alley, who resigned Thursday after eight and one-half years of service to the University. Dr. Alley's career here demands far more explanation.

He came here to work at his alma mater to work for much less pay because, as he put it, "I wanted to send my kids to the University." And he stayed until ill health he traces to overwork brought an abrupt halt to his work here.

Dr. Alley is not only a dedicated physician who enjoys his work, he is devoted to the students of this University. At the age of 56, long years since his college days here, Dr. Alley still maintains a strong and necessary contact with the students. While here he never sought to rise "above" the "level" of the students. For that, if for nothing else, Dr. Alley leaves here one of the most highly respected men of the entire University staff.

Dr. Alley considered student problems from the student viewpoint and recognized them as such. He was ever ready to listen.

The "Doc" was never too tired or too busy to see a supposedly ailing student. He was known on many occasions to drive to the campus at 3 in the morning to see a sick student, something he was not officially required to do.

Regretably—but characteristically—it was a campus epidemic that ended the "Doc's" career here. The Doctor stopped only when there was no alternative. He is apologetic for it. University of Idaho students today—and all those since 1949 who ever came under his care—do not demand an apology.

Instead they regret only that the Doctor could not stay to carry on his career of service with "his kids," the students of the University of Idaho.

If the Doctor's stay here has been as rich in human experience as has been his influence of the students, then Dr. Alley can consider his years here as the most satisfying of his life.

We—whether ailing or healthy—will miss Dr. Alley.

Dear Students of the University:

As an alumnus of the University of Idaho, I am much interested in the influence which the university exerts upon the people of the state of Idaho, the nation and the world. Without doubt the university's greatest influence upon the areas mentioned stems from its many graduates who spend four or more years studying and learning as well as establishing objectives, goals and standards for their lives. This process takes place not only under the guidance of the administration and faculty but also as the combined result of the influence of the students, one on the other. It is of this influence that I wish to speak.

Last Friday evening some friends and I attended the Blue Key Talent Show. We all left feeling that we had the privilege of becoming acquainted with some of the very outstanding talent to be found at the university. I would personally like to commend each of you who displayed your talent for your fine performance and for all the work and preparation that went into it.

To the members of the Blue Key Service Monitory and, especially to its three members who acted as masters-of-ceremonies for the show, I speak out against the filth and obscenity presented both in act and in word, in the form of so-called jokes and stories, as strongly as it is possible for me to do! Never have I heard worse in a public gathering!

I ask you; is this the highest to which your organization can attain? Is this the way in which you as a man's service honorary wishes to serve and be represented to the students of the University of Idaho and by them where ever they may go to represent you? How many of you would feel no twinge of conscience about such expressions if you knew that your families and friends from home were in the audience? How many of you would feel it perfectly right and acceptable to tell these same jokes and stories to your fam-

New Sailings Added To Meet Students' Needs

More ships are being added to the trans-Atlantic run to Europe to accommodate increasing numbers of students booking summer passage, the Council on Student Travel said last week.

To meet the increased demand, the non-profit Council on Student Travel has just announced several additional sailings with space for students and teachers. The Council reports that trans-Atlantic bookings by educational travelers are up 15 per cent through March first.

This year the Council expects to arrange 10,000 one-way passages for students and teachers, an increase of 30 per cent over last summer, and the largest number of persons served by the Council during its eleven years of operation.

"Inquiries to the Council by students and teachers planning to travel independently are running 30 per cent ahead of last year," said John E. Bowman, Executive Director of the Council. He added that the educational travel programs sponsored by the Council's 43 member agencies are experiencing a similar increase.

Bowman estimated that more than 10,000 students and teachers will be traveling abroad this summer in educational programs sponsored by the Council's 43 educational and religious agencies. These agencies conduct international educational travel programs in Europe, America, Africa, Asia and South America. The Council provides year-round trans-Atlantic transportation for students and teachers, TRIP—a shipboard Traveler's Recreation-Information Program, and tour information on international travel.

A young man about town approaching a cigar counter behind which stood a cute young thing, said: "Do you keep stationery?" Said cute young thing: "Yes, up to a certain point, then I just go all to pieces."

Jim Golden's Camp + eyeing

Besides being noted for its new ideas in musical presentation, the Blue Key Talent Show has the honor of packing the most jokes into the shortest length of time of any event on campus.

In fact the entire problem of how many and what kind is a question of major importance for the emcees who must tie the whole affair together into a semblance of order and keep the audience interested between acts.

All the jokes and their presentation were not the split-second product of one of the emcees' minds while he was onstage. They were planned days ahead of time and rejected or accepted for desirability and pertinence to the show.

As was graphically illustrated at the show, a faculty censor reads and approves of all jokes before they are accepted for use.

This news surprised Camp-eyeing and immediately invoked the standard journalistic cry of "Censorship."

But before an impassioned plea for freedom of expression could be begun, one of the emcees explained.

"He deleted one and added two of his own."

While desperately trying to make Sigma Delta Chi some dough at a recent home basketball game, we stopped yelling for a second to ask one Carolyn Edwards, Gamma Phi, where she was going with a nasty-looking target pistol.

"Now the men on this campus certainly aren't that dangerous," we stated, perhaps too positively.

Ignoring that not-too-appropriate comment, Miss Edwards went on to explain.

"I'm on the NROTC pistol

Agriculture Expert Brought In By IKs

Intercollegiate Knights announced yesterday that they have set March 20 as the date for a speech by Paul Rusch, agriculture expert. Rusch will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Borah Room of the SUB.

A native of Kentucky, Rusch has spent the last few years acting as an agricultural consultant in Japan. He conducts an experimental station on the slopes of Mt. Yatsu near Tokyo. Rusch spends his time teaching the Japanese farmers new farm methods.

Owen Williams leads a team of research and development specialists at Bell Telephone Laboratories. His is one of many teams set up at the Labs to explore the frontiers of electronics and communications. In the picture above, Owen (right) discusses modulation problems in electron tubes with Robert Leopold, M.S., Electrical Engineering, University of Michigan, 1949.

Owen himself is thirty-one, and a B.E.E. from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, class of '49. He joined the Labs upon graduation, and was assigned to communications development training—the equivalent of a two-year postgraduate course in communications. Mixed with his classes were various assignments in the Chem Lab, the switching and wave filter departments, and work on transmission systems and coaxial cables.

In 1954 Owen was promoted to supervisor. He works with two electrical engineers, both systems analysts, and four technical assistants. Their current job is exploratory development of submarine cable systems, looking towards great new transoceanic communications links.

Owen is one of many engineers and scientists in the Bell System whose principal responsibilities include those of leadership. The work of improving telephone service in the Bell System is guided, and decisions are made, by men who understand the problems involved at first hand.

Many young men like Owen Williams are finding interesting and rewarding careers in the Bell System—at Bell Telephone Laboratories, in Bell Telephone Companies, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. # Baseballers Open Year Idaho Skiers Cop Top Spots At McCall Races

Only nine practices remain before Coach Clem Parberry's veteran-packed diamond crew travels to Lewiston to meet the Oregon State Beavers March 22 in a double-header to open the 1957 baseball season.

Vandal baseballers have begun workouts much earlier than usual this year by turning the fieldhouse into a practice area.

Parberry said yesterday that the team will journey to Lewiston for an intra-squad game Saturday if weather permits. Weekend practices will be held in Lewiston until the start of the season.

Eleven lettermen will be back this year to bolster the team's chances and several promising newcomers brighten the outlook even more.

Letterman shortstop Knute Westergren will don a pitcher's top and is expected to greatly help the Vandal mound corps. Westergren hurled for a semi-pro club last summer and went undefeated.

Pitchers Doug Randall and Clark Anderson, both of whom showed well as sophomores in 1956, and outstanding prospects Steve Hinkley and Val Johnson, up from the freshmen, complete the mound staff.

Veteran catcher Gene Arnone is back, as are lettermen infielders Ray Copeland, Jim Chrisman, and Mick Poillio. Bill Stellman, long-ball hitting Vandal outfielder in 1954, returned from service and may be shifted to first base.

Outfielders include Jim Throckmorton, Ron Braden, and Ralph Lower, all lettermen.

New Assistant Don Weiskopf, a former hurler for the Oklahoma City Indians of the Texas League is assisting coach Parberry as pitcher and catcher coach. Weiskopf, an Idaho physical education instructor, also pitched at Illinois and was an assistant coach there while working for his degree.

Vandals have been sharpening their hitting far earlier than in past years by use of an automatic pitching machine.

The electrically operated machine fires baseballs plateward from a horizontal position at the rate of 12 every two minutes. Most of the machine's "pitches" are within the strike zone but do not always come through in the same spot.

Idaho has scheduled 18 non-conference and 16 PCC games for the 1957 season. Five non-conference and eight conference clashes will be played at Moscow.

Idaho Skiers Cop Top Spots At McCall Races

University of Idaho skiers swept the first three combined ratings in the Pacific Northwest Ski Association races at McCall Sunday.

Reidar Ullavelseter won the combined with a point total of 189.9. Vandals Frank Cammack with 188.4 and Erik Berggren with 184.1 followed.

Cammack took the open meet's Class A slalom with 137.6 points. Idaho's Viggo Friling finished second in the Class A jumping with 207.1 points, falling short of Einar Helgestad of Walla Walla who topped the event with 213.8. Vandal Ullavelseter was third.

Several Idaho skiers have tentatively planned to enter an open meet at Portland, slated for March 24, coach Rollie Byers said yesterday.

The Vandal slatmen will travel to the NCAA Championship meet scheduled March 29, 30, and 31 at Ogden, Utah.

SPORCAS/BORD by Dean H. Judd

The 1957 PCC basketball season gasped its last breath and faded from the picture at the close of the weekend. Things went almost true to form as California clinched the crown with a double win from Southern Cal. Washington took two from WSC, and Oregon fashioned an upset win to split with Oregon State.

As the Golden Bears from California prepare to enter the NCAA tournament, the interest starts to swing to spring sports. Just as a parting gesture to the PCC season let's take a look at what form the race may take next year.

California's champs will find themselves without high-scoring Larry Friend, and first stringers Duane Asplund and Gabe Arrillaga. Flashy Earl Robinson and forwards Don McIntosh and Everett McKeen will be back to give the Beags a strong base upon which to defend their newly won crown.

UCLA surprised almost everyone as they battled down to the wire in the conference race. The Bruins lost only Dick Bantom from their first string and should again field a strong squad.

Huskies Strong

Tippy Dye seems to be in the strongest spot with his powerful Huskies. Only guard Don Sunitsch will be lost from the squad. Both Bruno Boin and Doug Smart will be back and can expect plenty of help from a top frosh team.

One factor may keep the powerful Huskies below top strength next season, though. With the Washington squad prohibited from playing in the NCAA finals, next season Dye may hold Boin out and save him for an all out bid for the National championship with sophomore Smart in 1959. Whatever the case, the Huskies will be tough next season.

Southern California, another surprise with a fourth place finish, will be the team hardest hit by graduation. Three seniors, Danny Rogers, Jim Sterkel, and Ken Pearson, will all be lost to the Trojans. Only Monte Gonzales and Chuck Reilly will return to the starting team.

Three seniors will also leave the fifth place Stanford team. Starters Bill Bond, Hap Wagner, and Carl Issacs will leave sophomores Paul Neumann and Dick Haga to carry the load in Coach Howie Dallmar's 1958 campaign.

Babes Have Respectable Record Despite Losses

Although they lost four of their starters at the end of the first semester, Idaho's freshman basketball squad finished with a respectable 8 and 7 record.

Junior College who both dumped Bob Walton, 6-4 forward from Twin Falls, led the squad in scoring despite the fact that he played part of the season as an alternate. Walton came on strong in the final games of the season and ended up with 197 points in 15 games for an average of 13.1 per game.

Coach Clem Parberry's Babes were hit hard by the eligibility ruling at semester, losing sharpshooting guard Jackie Blöxom, 6-4 center Rollie Williams and Jess Tilden, big 6-1 forward who alternated between the first and second string.

The Babes' top scorer during first semester, 5-7 guard Kent Woodhouse, transferred to Brigham Young University.

Second high scorer for the year was center Weldon Wood with 154 points and a 10 points per game average.

Forward Dave Damiano was the Babes top free throw artist, hitting on 32 of 45 attempts for a .711 average. Wood and guard Roger Watts, one of the most improved players since the start of the year, were second in this department.

Wood picked up the most fouls, 61 in the fifteen games.

The only teams to hold an edge over the Babes were Northwest Nazarene College and Yakima the frosh in single contests.

Wyatt Fails To Gain Place At Milwaukee

Frank Wyatt, standout freshman Vandal trackster, returned yesterday from the Milwaukee Journal invitational meet after failing to finish near the top in the mile run.

Wyatt said yesterday that the indoor track conditions were vastly different to outdoor track conditions which he had been used to previously but felt he should have finished higher than he did.

The Vandal miler explained that he started well and stayed with the rest of the runners for the first half mile, but faded after that.

Raymond Hatton, the other half of Idaho's star pair of frosh hurriers, did not make the trip because of illness. Hatton was ill two weeks ago and dropped out in the time trials held here prior to the Milwaukee trip.
