Alum New Dean Of Business

Dr. David D. Kendrick, 46, of the University of California faculty, has been named dean of the College of Business Administration effective August 1, President D. R. Theophilus has announced.

Kendrick succeeds Dean Donald J. Hart, who resigned last year to accept the deanship at the University of Florida. Dr. Erwin Graue, economics professor, has been acting dean since Hart resigned.

Dean Kendrick

Outstanding Reputation
"We are pleased to have as the new head of our college of business administration a man with an outstanding reputation in the business world as well as in academic circles," said President Theophilus. "In addition to being a leading lecturer on business at the University of California, Dr. Kendrick has been asked by various large business concerns to serve as a consultant.

"While the quest for a new dean meant consideration of many distinguished persons throughout the United States, it is significant that the man finally selected is a former Idahoan from Buhl and a graduate of the University of Idaho. Dr. Kendrick is already well-known on the University faculty, as he taught in the college of business administration here in 1946-47."

ASUI Prexy
While an undergraduate at the University, Kendrick was active in student affairs, serving as president of the ASUI. He was graduated in 1935 with highest honors.

A native of Wichita, Kans., he came to Idaho early in life with his parents. His first teaching position after graduation from the University was at Lewiston High School. During W.W. II, he served for two years with the O.P.A. Commissioned a lieutenant in the Navy, he was a gunnery officer for two years in the South Pacific.

Degrees
Most of his academic life has been spent at the University of California, where he received both his master's and doctorate degrees. In teaching, he has specialized in economic theory and history, money and credit, marketing and international trade.

Dr. Kendrick is married and has an 18-year-old son. They will move here this summer.

TRIAL FEES PAID

Lloyd G. Martinson, Latah county prosecuting attorney, announced that students and faculty members who are to receive witness or travel fees for participation in the Paul Matovich trial last week can pick up their checks at the court house from the district court clerk.

ASUI Election Campaign In Full Swing With Candidates Touring Living Groups

Campaigning in the ASUI election less than a week away, will continue through next week with its routine question and answer visits to living groups until all candidates gather at a political rally Wednesday night.

The only official ASUI smoker will be held in the Bucket Wednesday night starting at 7 p.m. However, Lindley Hall sponsored an all-party smoker last night and Hays Hall held one for the Independent Party Wednesday night. Students will go to the polls next Thursday to choose an ASUI president to succeed Dick Weeks, and a nine-member executive board.

United Platform

- Dale Carlisle, United Party president announced the following platform for his party:
1. Work toward a faster more efficient registration system including University-wide pre-registration and advance preparation of class cards.
 2. Have the rules, regulations, and procedures of the new library presented to the executive board for review and suggested changes.
 3. Expand on-campus parking and improve traffic facilities. Specific steps would be:
 - A. A parking lot in area behind the SAE house.
 - B. Gravel and improve road behind the Home Ec building so maximum year around parking is possible.
 - C. Keep streets in Vet's Villages

THREE REASONS FOR CHANGE CITED

Chicks—Lots Of 'Em

Striking a pre-Easter note, a trio of campus cuties and ten baby chicks team up for a pleasing look ahead to the weekend. Background beauties are Lorraine Langdon, Theta; Joyce Weaver, Kappa and Sylvia Stoddard, Theta. Young ones in the foreground are unidentified.

Sun Rise Services, Concerts, Holiday, Highlight Campus Easter Observance

Idaho will observe the final three days of the Easter season with a half-day holiday, special church services, a concert and sunrise services. Classes will be dismissed at 11:50 a.m. in observance of Good Friday and Moscow churches representing most faiths have planned special services recalling the date of Christ's Crucifixion. All afternoon classes are cancelled. University singers will present a concert, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at 8 p.m. tonight in the recital hall of the Music Building.

Sunrise Services
Rounding out University observances of the week, sunrise services are scheduled for early Sunday morning in the arboretum near the old administration building steps. The steps are located south of the present Ad building and west of the Home Economics building. Sponsored by the Inter-Church Council, services will begin at 6:30 a.m. and end at 7:15 a.m. A free breakfast at the Presbyterian Church will follow. Co-chairmen Mary Ellen Ogston and Larry Wing said that in the event of rain, services will be held in the Ad Auditorium. Lt. John Shumway, Navy ROTC instructor at Idaho, will deliver the principal address on "Easter Comes to America." Special music will be presented by the Army ROTC choir, directed by Bob Whipple. Miss Nelson will sing "The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Thornock will sing solo selections with the choir. Miss Ogston will give the call-to-worship, Larry Wing will present the invocation; Arlene McKinney a representative reading; Jim Heer, the scripture reading and John Thornock the benediction. Miss Van Orman will be organist.

Aggie Wins Trip In Essay Contest

A paper on developments in modern meat packing has won for Charles M. Thomas, Gault Hall, an all-expense, four-day trip to Chicago April 28-May 1. A junior in the college of agriculture and majoring in animal husbandry, Thomas has been chosen the Idaho winner in the twentieth annual Swift college essay contest. An active Ag student at the University, Thomas is a member of Farm House, vice president of Vandal Riders and treasurer of the Wesley foundation.

"Hell On Women" will be directed by Sue McMahon, assisted by

Graduation Schedule Meets Disapproval

President D. R. Theophilus cited the growth of the University of Idaho, a desire to eliminate inefficient use of seniors time, and an effort to lighten the amount of work on instructors during final week as major reason for the graduation changes in a statement to the senior class this morning. Theophilus announced during the question and answer period at the 11 a.m. meeting in the Central Ballroom, that a change back to the former graduation system this year or any other was "possible, but highly improbable." During the 45 minute interrogation period by students, following the President's statement, he repeatedly pointed out the decision for the change had been made by the Academic Council and approved by the faculty. Theophilus emphasized that he could not dictate to the faculty on decisions about curriculum.

Students Dissatisfied

Most of the students taking advantage of the chance to question the President on the issue seemed dissatisfied with one of three different points. Criticism came on the sudden announcement of the change, the fact that student feeling was not asked for or considered when making the change, and the disorganization that the campus would be in during commencement.

Theophilus pointed out that the meeting had been called to explain the reasons for the change when he was introduced to over 350 seniors by senior class president Larry Wing. "I have been informed that members of the Senior Class of 1957 have made inquiries of various members of the University staff as to the reasons for the manner in which this year there is being inaugurated changes in the final examination schedule for seniors and the Commencement procedure," Theophilus said. "In view of the apparent serious concern of some members of the senior class, this assembly was requested."

President Explains

The President began by outlining the procedure through which the change was made.

He announced that he had appointed a committee from the Academic Council to make a study on suggested changes, December 21, 1955. The Council passed the committee's recommendation two months later and the entire faculty approved the move on March 1, 1956. The Board of Regents made change official in their meeting later that week at Boise.

Theophilus pointed out that "the final action was not hasty or precipitous, but rather deliberate and in accordance with the authority and responsibilities entrusted to the faculty."

In pointing out the reason for the change, Theophilus said that the increasing enrollment was one of the causes for the necessitated change. The increasing number of seniors had not presented a problem early in the history of the school but in recent years it had put a heavy burden on the faculty members.

"Growth brings on problems and as we assume the role of a large and important University some changes are necessary," Theophilus said in closing. "All these changes are directed toward maintaining a high academic standing in the best interest of the students."

Matovich Hung In Effigy Three Times At Gault

Convicted murderer Paul D. Matovich was hung in effigy from a lamp post between Campus Club and Gault Hall for the third and final time Thursday morning. The stuffed dummy mysteriously appeared and disappeared from the same spot since the Idaho journalism major was sentenced to 25 years in the Idaho state penitentiary for second-degree murder in connection with a University dormitory fire that killed three students last fall.

A "Matovich Defense Committee" at Kellogg, Idaho, says it will remain active in an effort to get adequate psychiatric treatment while the former Idaho student is in prison. The committee was formed during the two week trial held in Moscow.

The dummy with leather shoes and sweat clothes appeared on a

Deadline Soon In Art Contest

Entries in the Student Union committee sponsored art and photography contest must be submitted to the Student Union Manager's office by Monday. The contest is open to all University students and there is no limit on the number of entries per student. The winning pictures will be permanently placed in the Student Union Building. Cash prizes total $58.50.

Three divisions comprise the contest: oils, watercolors and photos. The subject matter is open in the oil and watercolor divisions; the photo division is limited to campus life. Both watercolors and oils must measure 12 by 15 inches. Opaque or transparent paints are to be used in the watercolor division. Minimum size for the photo division is 8 by 10 inches. Photos must be in black and white. Names are not to appear on the surface of the paintings and photos or on the surrounding surfaces. Entries will be displayed in the SUB before and after the contest.

Attic Card Party Next Friday Night

Attic Club will hold a Chinese auction at its annual card party next Friday. The event is scheduled in the Art Building from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Tickets will be on sale in the Art Building office after Tuesday for 75 cents. The auction merchandise will include pottery, drawings, watercolors, oils and handmade jewelry. During the evening trige and pinocle will be played with prizes being awarded to the highest scores.

lamp post across the street from Gault Hall late Monday night and had disappeared in the same strange manner before eight o'clock classes Tuesday. On one side of the stuffed figure appeared the name "Matovich" and on the other was painted "bug." Again Tuesday evening the dummy went up in the same spot. University officials were on the scene Wednesday morning with a ladder to take the stuffed figure down, but they could not reach it. While they were gone an unidentified person climbed the pole and took the figure of Matovich which had hung in effigy two days. When the dummy appeared Thursday morning in the usual place, University officials took fast-er action and retrieved the figure that hung swinging in the morning breeze.

Organized Campus Tour Approved By Exec Board

The ASUI Exec Board approved an Independent Party proposal to set up a campus tour program under the Recruitment committee.

Dick Day, representing the Model United Nations delegations, came before the board to ask that the group be incorporated into the ASUI as a regular activity with financial backing.

The tour committee proposal was presented by Bob Schreiber three weeks ago at the Board's last meeting. It sets up machinery to coordinate tours for high school students visiting campus under the recruitment committee.

As set up members of the Intercollegiate Knights, student service group, and Rafe Gibbs, University publications service, would conduct the tours when visitors arrive on campus.

At the present time Gibbs conducts tours when he is not busy. A similar plan for tours was started several years ago by Blue Key, but was dropped because members of the group were too busy.

Report Given
The MUN delegates gave a report on their convention at Stanford University. They asked that the activity be placed under complete control of an ASUI committee and that financial backing be furnished for ten delegates to next year's convention at University of Washington.

Day said they would like to have registration, board and room fees paid next year. He said it would probably amount to about $21 per delegate.

Day also reported that at this year's meeting the Idaho delegation circulated a questionnaire which showed that Idaho was one of three schools represented that did not have any financial backing from the student government. Some 41 schools answered the questionnaire.

Dick Rhoads presented a proposal to set up a dance band in the ASUI office to be available for all groups for finding information concerning all bands in the Inland Empire. The proposal will be voted on next week.

The board set May 8 for the date for the annual Exec Board banquet. The banquet will be for both the present board and the board to be elected next week.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Biber

"I'VE WAITED FIVE YEARS FOR SOMEONE TO ASK ME THAT QUESTION."

In Spite Of WHAT YOU THINK

By Bill Bates
We think it would be better if the school year were shorter. In view of the incredible waste of time involved in a college year it could certainly be radically shortened and still include the same amount of material.

Then you could get through the year before you began to get tired of it, while you were still capable of your best work. And with the longer vacation this would involve, you could do more of whatever it is you do during vacation, maybe even squeeze in another year of school.

With regard to this, the last secular "In Spite of What You Think" was more mediocre. In short, they STINK. Like most everything else here, we have begun to decay.

The truth of the matter is that we are running out of gripes. Some of our recent stuff has been dutifully ground out merely for the sake of filling space.

The Trouble Is
But the trouble is that we're just getting tired of it all. Graduation comes June 9th and with luck we might be in on it. We are already beginning to disassociate ourselves from this place. Not really disassociate, because we were never genuinely a part of it. If you allow something to become a part of you, then you have to give up part of yourself to make room for it, and we're not willing to do that. Going to college has been like driving a car - you learn the mechanics of it, and after that it's a smooth action you perform with no particular concentration required.

It's Spring!!
Then, too, it's spring. Spring and graduation and does anything matter? We just don't feel like getting all worked up over something.

All we would really like to do would be stretch out on some soft grassy hillside somewhere under a tree that shields us only slightly from the warm sun, stretched out there with the books we'd like to read, if we had the energy to open our eyes. Maybe with some music playing softly in the background and with an ample supply of frostily chilled bottles of what the WCTU-intimated commercials refer to as "our favorite beverage," we would for a time be content with the thought that in a hundred years nothing will matter.

Displays Mark Local Forest Celebration

Forestry week and Arbor day will get a special boost from the Associated Foresters, says Ben Jenness, co-chairman of the event.

To commemorate Forestry week, April 22 to April 27, and Arbor day on April 28, the group has planned a series of events to highlight Idaho's economic dependence on this natural resource.

Assisted by Russell Hudson, co-chairman, Jenness and the club have sent letters to all government agencies in the state and contacted schools to inform them about the coming week.

Campus displays erected by the foresters will feature a log sawing demonstration on the progress made by power saws over conventional methods of sawing logs.

Tree Farm management and practices will be demonstrated on the Jerald Cornstock woodlot near Potlatch at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 27. Forest officials and persons interested in woodlots will view planting, thinning, pruning, crop tree selection and slash disposal operations conducted by members of the club.

Signs will be put up to point the way to the area.

2 British Visitors Order Coffee In Mix-Up

ASUI Manager Gale Mix wasn't calling all over the campus for teapots for nothing. He thought he knew the British.

As a U.S. army captain during World War II, he was assigned to the British army for three months in the invasion of Europe and was awarded the Order of the British Empire for his distinguished service.

When G. C. Whitteridge, British consul-general from Seattle, and Mrs. Whitteridge were given a luncheon at the SUB on their official visit here Monday, Mix started calling dormitories to borrow two individual teapots.

He finally found the teapots at Hays Hall. But what did Mr. and Mrs. Whitteridge request at the luncheon? "Coffee, please."

J.J. on Jazz

By J. J. O'CONNELL
This week I'd like to mention the part of jazz collecting, or the collecting of jazz records. A person can be a specialist and collect one person or he can go for the old originals. The latter usually takes much more money.

Specialized collecting seems to attract beginners particularly, and it's a good idea for the, since they start with something they definitely like and that leads them on to widen their jazz interests. Say you like Count Basie's piano playing. You ask yourself what is in Basie's piano technique that intrigued you. In that case you might start your collections with pianists. From Basie you could go to the two men who helped shape his style - Fats Waller and James P. Johnson. Basie could also lead you to boogie woogie and Meade Lux, Lewis, and Jimmy Yauzey.

Possibly the thing you liked about the Basie records was the sound of the big band. This could lead to other like Duke Ellington, Stan Kenton, or Woody Herman. And you're off again on a new tangent. As you can see, this method could lead to quite an array of different sounds and people and a large record collection. If you happen to have a yearning for the originals and rare collectors' records, then a little work and money will go into your collection. It will mean rummaging around in junk shops and second stores for the real originals. Today it is possible to pick up re-issues and there has been a massive transfer of these old relics to long playing records in the past three or four years.

Another idea for starting is to buy "sample" disks like "Introduction to Jazz" (Decca DL844). This will give you an idea of what you may really want in traditional jazz.

For the 30's you can get "Guide to Jazz" Vol. 1 (ABC-Paramount 115). This will give you a start on doing a little collecting and will be the beginning of a safe and sound collection.

How Standard's explorers help find the 830 gallons of oil you'll need this year

Oil geologists probe the ocean floor for clues to new oil fields
THE OCEAN FLOOR IS THE NEWEST FRONTIER in our search for oil to help meet the growing demand of motorists, home owners, farmers, industry and the Armed Forces.

Last year Standard's scientists explored millions of acres offshore and on land in the Western Hemisphere. Once again we discovered new oil deposits that will help supply the 830 gallons of petroleum everyone in the U. S. will use this year... and the 1000 gallons they'll need by 1965.

With oil becoming more difficult and expensive to find, Standard's investment in exploration is increasing... $119,000,000 last year. That's one way we can find new oil to help keep ahead of the nation's growing need for products from petroleum.

Pins, Rings Declare Spring's Arrival

PHI BETA KAPPA
Welcome back to Jody Baldwin, Barb Brewer, Pat Harrington and Marcene Jeffery who have been absent teaching. Seems they all got kind of lonesome away from us.

Thanks to the Deltas for the serenade in honor of Shirley Lovgren's pinning to Bill Simon. Wedding bells were ringing April 11, as Josie Anderson became the bride of Bill Stibbal in Idaho Falls.

"How now, brown cow," can be heard along the halls as Nancy Beardmore, Kay Kelly, Dawn Keck, Darl White and Gerri Williams practice phonetics. The girls were chosen to play in the three one-act plays being produced by the Drama department.

Congratulations to Marilyn Nugent who was selected as a member of Phi Beta Kappa. The Phi Phos really had a good time at the Phi Delt dinner exchange Wednesday.

Saturday the Phi Phis entertain the children of alumni at their annual Easter egg hunt and party.

KAPPA SIGMA
The annual Kappa Sig Spring Formal will be held this Saturday night, with music being furnished by Wally Johnson's band. The house is in a mass of confusion as the decorating is in full swing.

During spring vacation, the long expected pinning of Charles Rau and Roma Sanders, French House, finally materialized. Congratulations to both of you. We also extend our congratulations to Joe Leitch and Mary Jane McLeod, French House, on their recent engagement.

Lots of luck and best wishes to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. John Blanton.

GAMMA PHI BETA
The beary-eyed Gamma Phis seen staggering around Thursday had a strange story to tell. Big Sisters rising at 6 a.m. found to their surprise the long awaited paddles in their beds.

Congratulations are in order for Sharrol Bartlett, recently elected AWS president; Pat Riley for being a Military Ball finalist; Carol Rossman for her recent pinning to Hal Hogge, Delt, announced at Wednesday dinner; Jan Williams and Betty Bovey, tapped for Phi Beta Kappa.

Dinner guests Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich, and Barbara and Bobby of Monroe, Michigan. Congratulations to Kay Conrad on being tapped for Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Nancy Campbell for being named the Crescent Girl for April.

Song practices in advent of Song Fest are underway. Gamma Phis are teaming with ATO and will enter mixed competition.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON
Spring is nearly here, and its effects are already being felt. Two pins were passed over vacation. Bill Currie is now pinned to Loris Addington, French House, and Ernie Carr passed his pin to Mary Margaret Brown, Alpha Chi. Congratulations to all of you.

Plans are being made for the Spring Formal Saturday night, and it has every characteristic of being a real ball. We are also looking forward to the representative from National, John Bough.

DELTA GAMMA
After a wonderful Spring Vacation, the DGs are ready to set the tone down to work for the remainder of the semester.

Saturday will find the DGs entertaining children of Moscow alumni at an Easter party. Our annual Bunny Breakfast for friends and guests will be held this Sunday.

The sophomores are busy working on our Initiation Dance which is scheduled for April 26. Jan Lenke, College of Puget Sound, was Wednesday night dinner guest.

PHI DELTA THETA
Thanks to the Pi Phis for the dinner exchange last Wednesday. Tonight the annual upperclassmen's dinner-dance will be held in the house.

Congratulations to Don Lindseth and Sondra Klumper of Lewiston who announced their engagement. Miss Klumper, who attended the University last year, has been working in Seattle. They plan a June 15 wedding.

Tomorrow is the service-day picnic with the children of the Lewiston orphanage. Every year the house entertains the orphans at Spalding park.

New officers who were elected recently are: Mike McNichols, alumni secretary; Dave McMahon, social chairman; Jim Givan, scholarship chairman.

KAPPA GAMMA GAMMA
Congratulations to Nan "Needle-Knees" Alvord, the new Freshman Queen.

Congratulations are also extended to Penny Preston and Colleen Watson for being tapped for Women's I Club. We're also very proud of Jackie Wainwright for being elected president of the organization.

Louise Vanderbark has been tapped for Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman woman's honorary, and Shirley Nettleingham has been tapped for Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary. The girls would like to thank the Fil pledges for an enjoyable exchange Wednesday evening.

The Tri-Delts held their "come-as-you-are" dinner Thursday evening. The boys were not informed beforehand, and some rather surprising combinations appeared. Dinner guests this weekend included Mrs. Edelblute, and Mrs. Music and Joan Music.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA
Congratulations to Wade Patterson on being elected vice president of the P.E. Club, and to Kent Marboe who was elected to the P.E. majors honorary society.

This seems to be a big week for Kent Marboe as he announced his pinning to Cathy Cannon, Pi Phi. Congratulations.

Four Moscow high school seniors were dinner guests Wednesday night. They were Rich Cunningham, Dave Kime, Don Myklebust and Larry Parberry.

FRENCH HOUSE
Congratulations to Mary Jane McLeod who is engaged to Joe Leigh, Kappa Sig; Roma Saunders for her recent pinning to Charlie Rau, Kappa Sig; and Loris Anderson for her recent pinning to Bill Currie, SAE, during spring vacation.

Slips of white paper, scattered throughout the house, with 10:30 and question marks on them puzzled the girls of French House all day Tuesday. Everyone was positive that some drastic specter might occur that evening, but no one knew what these peculiar symbols meant. At 10:30 Marvel Gresser announced her engagement to Paul Muhonen, Lindley Hall, by the passing of a canary yellow nosegay attached to a candle of the same delicate color with her diamond sparkling from the center of the yellow rose.

The couple plan a late summer wedding. Plans are being finished for our house dinner-dance to be held Saturday night, April 20. Committee chairmen are Janice Parsons, dance, and Barbara Noneman, dinner.

CHRISMAN
Congratulations to Rollie Williams, who married Karen Tiger during spring vacation. Karen is from Rollie's home town, Kellogg.

Congratulations also to Larry Pine and Anton Smutny on being tapped for Alpha Zeta, agricultural honorary.

Chrisman was left open during the vacation to accommodate members staying in Moscow. At least one Chrisman member had a job on campus over the vacation. For some, the distance was too far to make a trip home practical in the time allowed. Still other hall members stayed here part of the vacation to appear as witnesses in the trial of Paul Matovich.

Larry Hobson had a long spring vacation. He traveled with the Vandaleers on their annual Southern Idaho tour before taking his regular week's vacation. Paul Baker and Bob Hill used their spring vacation to participate in the seventh session of the Model United Nations at Stanford University.

FORNEY
Thanks for coming and slinging to us, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Congratulations are in order for Sharon Matheny and Ralph Mays, SAE, on their recent pinning.

The trees they will bloom, the birds they will sing, the world will be happy 'cause Diane has her ring. Perhaps Diane Husted helped set a record March 29th when she became engaged to Les Storey and also became the third girl in her suite to become engaged during the past two weeks. A September wedding is planned. Best wishes, kids.

Forney girls can cook too! Yellow and white ribbons prompt congratulations for Jane Scheline and Anita Koskella who have been tapped for Phi Upsilon Omicron, women's Home Ec Honorary.

Mimi Desher has returned from the south. She spent a few days in Boise at the Music Educators Convention.

Carol Webster and Janet Vowels were the two Forneyites who toured with the Vandaleers. Welcome back to Lavonne Bell who is living in Forney after a semester away from the hall. Lavonne has been practicing teaching for the past nine weeks.

"Heaven on Earth" has been chosen as the theme of the Forney-French dinner-dance to be held April 20th. Music will be furnished by the Notables.

Overnight guests have included Mrs. Ralph Scheline, Mrs. Matt Koskella, Donnelly; and Margaret Reynolds, Boise.

Dinner guests have included Jim Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker, Moscow; John Ciboci, Willis Sweet; Al Galley, SAE; and Bob Schreiber, Lindley.

BETA THETA PI
Congratulations to Garth Brown, the new Freshman King.

The house is preparing for the coming spring formal, "Blossom Time." The date is set as the 5th of May.

Congratulations to Ralph Cairns who is now engaged to Evelyn Evans, French House. Dinner guests last week were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. John Cummins.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA
Thetas wish to welcome back Carolyn Babcock and Nancy Moen who are back with us now after student teaching.

Thanks to Lindley Hall for the enjoyable exchange Wednesday. We also wish to thank Bishop Hubbard of Spokane for dining with us Tuesday.

Ann Becker, Jo Petrashek and Cathy O'Connor were tapped for Alpha Lambda Delta. Judy Raschka was recently tapped for Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary; and congratulations to Niki Hull who is a finalist for Military Ball Queen.

Private Herb Schmidt of the U. S. Marine Corps was our dinner guest Wednesday night.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON
The wedding bells rang for Don Baroni who took as his bride Verrol Page of San Francisco and for Don Giles who married to Kay Loneker at Walla Walla. Mrs. Giles is a member of the Alpha Phi sorority at WSC.

Tekes Ardell Parks, Jim Prestel, Bob Prestel, Al Miller, Lefty Miller and Bruce Lorenz attended the regional TKE leadership conference in Corvallis, Oregon last weekend.

Mike O'Callighan and Bernie Cannon are presently visiting the house.

ALPHA PHI
Congratulations to Peg Nelson and Kirt Miller, San Mateo, Calif., on their recent engagement. Pat announced it Sunday evening at a fireside. Also to Dixie Young and Dave Anderson, Sigma Nu, on their engagement. Dixie announced their engagement at an informal pajama fireside Monday night.

Thanks to the Delta Gamma pledges for the coke date Tuesday night.

Congratulations to Nancy Buchanan who was tapped for Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary.

Coed Clothes Featured By Home Ec Club

A style show featuring clothes worn by college coeds will be part of the annual University of Idaho Home Economics club day to be held Saturday morning, April 27, in the Home Economics building, Professor Margaret Ritchie, head of the department, has announced.

Freshman and sophomore students will model clothes, some designed by the sponsoring junior class, under the direction of Elsie Nielsen of the home economics department. Commentator will be Martha Sharp.

Designed to illustrate the opportunities in the home economics department at the University for high school girls, the day begins with registration at 9 a.m. The style show to be held in room 301 will begin at 11 a.m. followed by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Refreshments will be served during the morning at a demonstration of small household equipment by that class. Tours of the building will include exhibits of table services, weaving and art structures.

Committee members are Judy Archibald, decorations; Dorothy Bauer and Kay Conrad, hospitality; Cecelia Sullivan and Kay Zenier, luncheon; Mary Tsudaka and Eleanor Whitney, housing, and Jane Scheline, publicity.

Lewis-Clark Main Dish Revived For Historians

A dinner of another century will be featured at the 10th annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest History conference today and Saturday. The special dinner will be an authentic display of foods served on the Lewis-Clark expedition of the Northwest more than 150 years ago.

The conference is being sponsored jointly by the history departments of the University and Washington State college. Sessions will be held on both campuses.

Harry Wheeler, Stites, will exhibit the food display along with other Indian relics during the luncheon scheduled at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, April 20, at the Student Union. Wheeler attended the University in 1913-14 as an agriculture student after preparatory studies at the famed Carlisle Indian school.

The conference will get underway this afternoon with a series of workshops on museums at the Compton Union at WSC. A tea, business meeting and a dinner follow.

Florence Reed, Spokane, director of the Eastern Washington State Historical Society, will be chairman of the museum sessions.

Saturday's session begins with a breakfast business meeting and continues with panels on the service of libraries and archives to regional and local historians and studies in Pacific Northwest history.

The afternoon scene changes to Moscow where President Donald R. Theophilus will greet the historians at a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Eli M. Oboler, Idaho State college, is chairman of the luncheon which will feature a parade of Indian and pioneer costumes presented by Erna Gunther, University of Washington, and the home economics staff at WSC.

Merrill D. Beal, ISC, will address the group on "Field Experiences in Historical Recording."

After a tea served by the Moscow Historical club, the group will return to Pullman where Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, University of Texas, author of "The Great Plains" and eminent historian of the west, will speak on "The Significance of the World Frontier to the Twentieth Century."

WAC's Trial Camp Reveals Army Life

The Women's Army Corps has announced a new program of trial employment to see if young women will be satisfied with Army work as a career.

The new project is called "WAC Summer Training for College Juniors," and has a two-fold purpose. The program will give young women an opportunity to learn about the Army and gain some experience in Army life, while at the same time "helping them to decide whether they will apply for a commission as a WAC officer after completion of college."

If selected for training, the young woman will be sworn into the WAC enlisted reserve as a corporal, and called to active duty during the last summer prior to her college graduation for a four weeks period at the WAC Center, Fort McClellan, Ala.

This trial period in summer training will give her a clearer picture of the careers which make the life of a WAC officer. Any young women who are interested may contact Major Walter N. Moore Jr. of the U.S. Army ROTC Instr. Group, Room 103, Memorial Gym.

Sight In On Workshop

Members of the University radio and TV staff take members of the Idaho Broadcasters Association on a cook's tour of Idaho's modern TV center. The groups are making plans for the first high school radio and TV institute. Left to right are Clair B. Hull, Caldwell; Leon Lind, University staffer, Duane Wolfe, Caldwell, Donald A. Thomas, Lewiston; Herb Everett, Jerome and Robert K. Tracy, director of radio and TV at Idaho. The IBA members are station managers of radio outlets in their communities.

Prepsters To Be Offered Radio-TV Training In June

The University this summer will reveal to 30 high school students opportunities offered in radio and television in the state of Idaho through a two-week workshop.

The school becomes the second in the nation (after North Carolina) to present a Radio and TV Institute for students who have completed junior or senior standings in high school.

The two-week course, from 17 to 28 on the Idaho campus, is co-sponsored by the Idaho Broadcasters Association and the University Radio-TV Center in cooperation with the College of Letters and Science.

Clair B. Hull, of Caldwell, a past president of the IBA, brought the idea to the association and the University a year ago and plans were stepped up to include this course in summer work. The institute will give students an opportunity to gain practical experience in a wide range of broadcasting activities.

Hull said the workshop will be conducted by members of the University staff and six members of the Idaho Broadcasters. Instruction will be given in the fields of announcing, writing, technical operations and the productions of programs in music, news and sports.

Scholarships Available
Stations throughout Idaho will make available $125 scholarships to students from their areas to cover enrollment and living costs. Applications are being sent to high schools in the state, Hull said.

Herb Everett, station manager of KART, Jerome, and former manager of KRPL in Moscow, is the IBA coordinator. Everett said, "we hope to encourage the best student broadcasting talent in Idaho to explore a future in the radio and TV industry."

Everett explained attendance will be limited to 30 the first year and that candidates will be screened carefully to find students who have shown natural ability the last two years in high school.

Last year, Hull attended a meeting in Washington, D.C., of the state presidents of broadcaster associations and brought the idea to Idaho.

Low Power Stations
"Idaho is spread out and is a small state," Hull commented, "and the radio and television stations in the state are generally of low power, covering fewer people and have less business. Many of the good people in the business go to the big city."

"But through this institute we can orient our young people of the values of our state industry and show them opportunity does lie in our state."

"Idaho is sold on it from the school to the broadcasters." Hull added the students will not be taught radio and television per se. "They will look at the problems which will either entice them to the industry or send them away."

Serving as instructors will be Robert K. Tracy, chairman of radio and TV at Idaho; Leon Lind, technical, and Kenneth Bell, television, specialists of the University staff.

Other instructors will include Earl Glade, Jr., manager of KBOI-TV in Boise; Kay Clark, general manager of KBAR in Burley; Doyle Cain, KFDX, Nampa station manager and sports specialist; C. N. (Bosie) Layne, manager of KID-TV in Idaho Falls and present IBA president; Donald A. Thomas, station manager of KRLC in Lewiston, and Hull.

John Crowley Given Award

A pre-doctoral fellowship has been awarded to John M. Crowley, senior in agronomy at the University college of agriculture by the National Science foundation, a government-sponsored agency to encourage outstanding college graduates to continue studies in science.

Receiving his degree in June, Crowley will have the distinction of having completed four years of college in three regular sessions and one summer term. Also, he will be the first student in agronomy ever to achieve a straight-A average.

Under this fellowship, Crowley has selected the University of Minnesota as the institution where he will do graduate study. The fellowship is for $1,600, plus tuition and fees, the first year. The amount of the grant increases the second and third years. At Minnesota, Crowley plans to specialize in plant genetics, with particular emphasis in breeding of field crops.

A graduate of McPherson, Kansas, High School, Crowley came to Idaho to study agriculture simply because he liked the Northwest. Passing through this section on his way to overseas duty in the armed forces he was so taken with the Northwest he decided to come back here to college upon his discharge.

Education Program Feature Of Study

Representatives of 30 Northern Idaho schools met Friday in the SUB to discuss "The Professional Standards Movement in Teaching: Progress and Projection." The keynote speaker, T. M. Stinnett, spoke on the professional standards movement in teaching in relation to the teacher education program.

At the conclusion of Stinnett's speech, a study group was organized to discuss "The Teacher Education Program." The group was headed by Paul Kaus, president of the Idaho Education association. An afternoon study group, headed by Dr. H. L. Snider studied the "Licensing of Members of the Profession and Accreditation of Institutions Preparing Them." Dr. Melvin W. Farley acted as chairman of the conference.

Sen. Fulbright Speaks At April 26 Assembly

U.S. Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, one of the leading advocates of international education, will speak at a public events assembly at 11 a.m. April 26 in the Memorial Gymnasium. Subject of the address will be "The United States in World Affairs."

A former president of the University of Arkansas, he is a member of the banking, currency and foreign relations committees of the Senate. A senator since 1945, he was a delegate to the Ninth General Assembly of the United Nations.

Fulbright, perhaps best-known for the scholarship program which bears his name, was graduated from the University of Arkansas and received a master's degree from Oxford University, joined the Department of Justice as a special attorney in the anti-trust division.

He entered the teaching profession as an instructor in law at George Washington University.

Later he became a lecturer in law at the University of Arkansas and was named president in 1939. He was elected to the 78th Congress in 1943 and has served Arkansas as senator since 1945.

Tennis Season Opened Today

Tennis coach Frank Young named the five Vandals today to compete in the squad's opening matches this afternoon and tomorrow.

The Idaho team meets Whitworth in Spokane at 12:30 p.m. today, and plays Washington State here tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Young announced that Frank Benson would open the season as number one man on the team. He listed the remainder of the team as: 2. Dave Cummins, 3. Larry Moss, 4. LaRalle Smith, and 5. Len Chin.

Benson and Cummins and Moss and Smith will make up the doubles teams for the openers.

Exec Board Long Learning All Channels For Factual Decisions Says Rhoads

By Don Ingle
"It has taken this year's Exec Board quite a while to learn all the channels to work through in its activities," Dick Rhoads, independent member of the board, said.

Rhoads, a senior majoring in business education who worked on most of the major ASUI committees before his election, said the board at the first of the year often tried to act on proposals when they did not have the complete fact picture before them.

"In the past few months," Rhoads said, "we have been able to find out the channels and facts on which to base our decisions."

Rhoads' main activity as a board member this year has been working on the ASUI Budget Committee.

The committee is having its final meeting Monday afternoon to hear discussion from people who want additional funds. One of these groups is the Model United Nations delegation.

"I think MUN should be placed on an equal basis with debate which at the present time receives money from the ASUI," Rhoads said.

MUN Good Deal
"The MUN is a real opportunity for students to learn about other countries and their ideas," he said. "Students gain and learn a great deal actually playing the part of representatives of other countries."

Rhoads said the Board's weak point in student government operations this year was the selection of committees.

"We should set up a system of scheduling interviews for committee appointments," said. "A time schedule to sign up for interviewing could be posted in the ASUI office. This would eliminate students waiting in line two hours for a two minute interview."

"Also," he added, "we should use the card catalog system to gain more information about the students, which would cut down on the time to select the committees after interviewing."

Favored Tours
Rhoads and his Independent partner on the Board, Bob Schreiber, have recently presented two proposals to the governing body for approval. One was passed last Tuesday concerning the setting up of a standardized campus tour under the recruitment committee.

"The tours would be for high school seniors visiting the campus," Rhoads said. "It is hoped that the set up would furnish an opportunity for visitors to receive a good tour of the campus when the administrative personnel are too busy to conduct the tours."

The other proposal is to set up a dance band file available to any group who wants information about bands in the Inland Empire, Rhoads said.

Rhoads has been active as a member of the Dad's Day, Homecoming, Campus Chest, Holy Week, and Blood Drive committees. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, men's professional education service honorary, and is a past vice president of Independent caucus.

—or why you don't pay more for gasoline

"THE OIL COMPANIES have come up with a lot of advances to meet competition and keep customers.

"Nothing, it seems to me, illustrates this better than the efficiency of the transportation system they've developed.

"If you were to mail a gallon of gasoline from Los Angeles to Seattle, for example, you'd pay 82c postage.

"For 59c less, Union Oil finds the oil in the ground, sinks a well and pumps it out, pipes it to a refinery, converts the crude oil into gasoline, pipes the gasoline from the refinery to the terminal, moves the gasoline by ship from one port to the other, where a truck picks it up and delivers it to your neighborhood service station.

"WE TRANSPORT A BARREL OF CRUDE OIL 665 MILES FOR ABOUT 1c A GALLON."

"We then put it in your car, wash your windshield, check your oil, tires, battery and radiator, brush out your car and carry your account for a month before sending you a bill.

"All for 23.1c, if you deduct the 9/2c Federal and Washington State tax on a gallon of gasoline which we collect to build roads.

"On the average, a barrel of Union Oil crude moves 665 miles between the time it leaves the ground and goes into your car as gasoline. Our handling and transportation cost for this trip is about 1c a gallon.

"That's the world's biggest transportation bargain. And one reason why gasoline doesn't cost more than it does."

This unique method of moving goods to market was perfected by the oil industry. As was the tank car, the tank truck and the tank ship.

It is the lowest cost transportation system in the world, developed by an intensely competitive industry to keep its prices down.

Students Can Vote On Water

By Jim Flanagan

Faculty members of the University and a large number of students are eligible to vote in the Moscow city election this year, officials said today. Married students who maintain homes and addresses in Moscow and who meet age and residence requirements should register at City Hall by Saturday.

Four bond proposals are the main issues this year. Voters will make decisions on a new water treatment plant, expansion of the present sewerage disposal system, a bond for water exploration, and the construction of a new well at the local cemetery.

Action to improve water conditions in Moscow has followed numerous complaints about the rust colored water which flows into homes and buildings on the campus and throughout the city. Water shortages during summer months have grown in seriousness.

An amount totaling $685,000 is asked for a treatment plant to eliminate the rusty color, bad taste and other familiar elements of the Moscow water. Another $40,000 is asked for water exploration, which would allow Moscow to continue work already started in cooperation with the University geology department, U. S. Soil Conservation Service and several other organizations.

If the water treatment bond is passed, a monthly increase of up to two dollars on 70 per cent of the population's water bills will result.

Electric-Powered Vehicle Costs Little For Operation

Nearly everyone would like to have a car that costs only $24.50, operates for a quarter-of-a-cent a mile and will start with the flick of a switch in Robert Sewell, Moscow, senior electrical engineering student at the University of Idaho, has such a vehicle. He built it as a senior research project.

Powered by a small electric motor just a shade larger than the ordinary car generator, Sewell's car has power to spare. "The motor is actually too much for the car," Sewell said. "I hope make another one with two motors and a direct drive. It should be even more efficient."

The 22-year-old student drives his battery-driven car to University classes each morning and home at night. During sub-zero weather, when most drivers have problems getting their cars started, Sewell merely turns on the current and is away. No warmup period is needed for the car.

"It make an ideal second car because of its low upkeep," Sewell added. "There are no oil, gas, antifreeze, spark plugs, filters, or any of the other maintenance costs needed to keep the average car on the road. All I need for a day's run is about seven cents worth of electric current to recharge the batteries."

The car cost the young engineer $24.50; $10 for rental of the car body and $12.50 for the surplus aircraft electric motor. He will return the body to a Spokane junk dealer at the end of the school year, and then inject what he has learned into a new set of plans for an electric car.

It took two weeks to get the idea off the drawing board and operating on the Moscow streets. Getting the motor properly lined up with the transmission was the most difficult problem.

The car was built by installing a five-horsepower direct current motor in the body of a 1947 Crosley station wagon. The electric power of the motor is supplied by regular lead-acid storage batteries charged by a small charger carried in the rear of the car. The charger is plugged into any 120-volt alternating current circuit at night to recharge the batteries.

The electric control system is done completely by relays and no electric power is wasted in the complete system. The motor runs into a generator when the car is descending a hill or slowing down and this generated power is fed back into the batteries. This also acts as a braking system for the car.

Sewell adds that the car will travel 40 miles per hour at the low cost of one-quarter-of-a-cent per mile. Nothing gives him greater pleasure than passing the gas pumps by.

Choice Between Baseball And Music Resulted In 'Sophisticated Swing'

By JIM GOLDEN

Not too many years ago, a young man—still a high school student—was faced with a difficult and significant choice: he could play professional baseball or he could follow a music career. Which would it be.

Music won and Les Elgart decided to continue his trumpet lessons on the chance that glory might lie somewhere ahead.

Today Elgart's "Sophisticated Swing" is apparently a by-word with dancers of all ages, but it especially appeals to the collegiate set.

Elgart brings his 14-piece band to the University on Friday, Apr. 27, for the Junior-Senior Prom. Tickets went on sale this week in the ASUI office at $3.75 per couple. Spectator tickets are also on sale for 75 cents.

New Dorm, Tennis Court Plans Passed By Regents

The Board of Regents this week approved construction of a second 110-man dormitory and three additional tennis courts on the Idaho campus. The announcement was made by President D. R. Theophilus.

The dormitory structure is another step in Idaho's vast building program and the tennis courts will replace courts removed from the site of the new library.

The three-story dormitory, with cost of construction estimated at $375,000, will be a duplicate of McConnell Hall, which will be completed this fall. It will also be built of concrete, and will be located to face McConnell Hall. Regents' bonds will be issued to finance the building.

An architect for the new Student Union Building will be announced by the Board of Regents in two weeks, according to Theophilus.

A committee composed of students and faculty members met Wednesday night and picked the architect, Theophilus said, but the Regents will have to give approval before the name can be announced.

Salary Increases
Idaho faculty members were assured of their salary increases at the Pocatello meeting of the Board of Regents, and according to Theophilus, the faculty were informed of their increases this week.

Curtis Eaton of Twin Falls was sworn in as a new member of the Board last Sunday, succeeding John D. Rensberg of Rupert. John W. Spencer of Grangeville will assume the presidency under the Board's rotation system.

J. E. Graham of Rexburg will be vice president and Mrs. Marguerite Campbell of New Meadows, secretary.

Song Rehearsals Underway Now For Fest

Living groups, alone and with others, began practicing in earnest for the University's annual Song Fest scheduled as part of the Mothers' Day weekend May 12.

Sponsored jointly by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha national music fraternities, living groups will enter in one of three divisions—women's, men's or mixed—in competing for four trophies. Winner in the first two divisions will receive the Darrell Callahan Memorial trophies and joint winners of the mixed division will receive travelling trophies donated by the two music fraternities.

Songs will be limited to four minutes duration and will include selections from Broadway shows and movie musicals as well as standard tunes.

Co-chairmen Joan Fisher and Bob Whipple said auditions for the show would be held soon, probably within a week.

Weak Stand On Suez By US Questioned By Visitor

By DEAN JUDD

A stronger stand by the United States on Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal and conflict with Israel might have kept the Middle-East problem from assuming its present proportions, according to G. C. Whitteridge, British consul-general from Seattle.

Whitteridge, who visited the Idaho campus Monday on a tour of his consular district, the Pacific Northwest and Alaska, spoke to a group of political science students Monday afternoon on the political problems of the Middle-East.

The visiting consul said an earlier and more convincing stand by the U.S. could have eased the Middle-East situation and given Great Britain and France more support on their stand on the matter.

Whitteridge stressed that "not since 1939 has the world been in such danger, and that much of the crisis is centered in the Middle-East.

"Communist Russia is trying to upset the balance in the Middle-East," according to Whitteridge. "Shortly after the World War II they tried to take over by force, but after Stalin's death they overhauled their plans. Now they are concentrating on nationalism in the Middle-East states to develop anti-western feeling."

The consul cited the two most presenting problems as the Suez Canal and the Israeli-Arab conflicts.

"The main issue concerning Great Britain is whether Nasser can effectively run the Suez Canal," he said. "It cannot accept control of the canal by one man or one country."

Whitteridge pointed out that three

Disney's Photogs To Tell Problems

The life of a husband and wife team as Walt Disney photographers in Alaska will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 25, in the University auditorium, the public events committee has announced.

Fred Machetanz and his wife, Sara, will show a new color movie entitled "North to Adventure," which features exploring by dog team, predicaments in caring for seven husky puppies, Christmas next door to Santa Claus and, for the women's point of view, house-keeping in a sod-banked cabin.

The account of the experiences in making one of the famed Walt Disney nature films will be presented free of charge.

PCC BASEBALL SLATE OPENS HERE MONDAY

Nine Face Gonzaga In Last Practice Tilt Tomorrow

Idaho's Vandals, sporting a highly creditable 13-3 record, host Gonzaga here tomorrow at 1:30, and open the 1957 Pacific Coast Conference baseball slate here Monday and Tuesday against the Washington Huskies.

Coach Clem Parberry named Val Johnson to start against the Bulldogs tomorrow and will send Doug Randall to the hill Monday. Parberry did not name a starting hurler for Tuesday's tilt but will probably go with Steve Hinckley or Clark Anderson.

Randall, 4-0 so far this season, and Hickey at 3-1 have been the top men on the staff in early games, leading the team to its best pre-season record in years. Monday's battle with the Huskies will start at 3 and Tuesday's clash will open at 1:30.

Ray Copeland, who has played both second and third this year and currently leads the Vandals in hitting with a .364 average, was named captain of this year's squad Wednesday by his teammates.

Copeland, a two-year letterman, has 16 hits and 5 runs batted in for the season.

The Idaho starting lineup for the next three games is likely to remain unchanged with the exception of one infield post.

Reserve third baseman Bill Skinner has been pressing veteran letterman Mick Polillo for a starting berth in recent drills.

Skinner's bat has put him in hot contention for the starting third baseman spot. If Skinner starts, Copeland will shift from the hot corner to second base.

Polillo has started most pre-season games at second base with Copeland at third.

Outfielders Ron Braden, Jim Throckmorton, and Ralph Lower, who have all looked good this year, are likely to get starting picket line duty.

Gene Arnone is the probable catching choice over Larry McDonald.

Bill Stellman at first and Knute

Westergren at shortstop complete the Vandal starting cast.

Staff Impressed

Head coach Parberry and pitching aide Don Weiskopf have been impressed with the overall squad play in recent games and lauded the team for its spirit and hard work in practice sessions this week.

Parberry said the team realized that the upcoming games will be tougher than early clashes but also commented that overall squad optimism was very high. He added that good team hitting must hold up.

Weiskopf thought that if the pitching held up and hitters came through in the clutch "anything could happen."

Washington has been picked as the co-favorite with Oregon to take the PCC Northern Division title and will probably provide the Vandals with their stiffest test of the year.

Solid Hurling

Coach Dale Parker is pinning the hopes of his Huskies on a solid pitching staff. Monte Geiger, a 1955 letterman who participated in an AAU tour of South Africa and George Kritsonis, a highly touted transfer from Seattle University, are the keys of the Husky mound corps.

Seattle sports writers are comparing Geiger and Kritsonis as a counterpart to the Washington basketball standout duo, Bruno Boin and Doug Smart.

Catcher Jack Walters, who was third in the PCC with a batting average of .429 last year, anchors the defense and hitting attack. Other Huskies expected to shine include infielders Terry Frere and Ray Christanson and outfielder Jerry Thornton.

Washington finished fourth in the five team Northern Division race last year with a 5-9 won-lost record, topping Idaho which had a 4-9 mark.

1957 Vandal Baseball Squad

First Grid Call Draws Fifty One

Fifty-one gridgers, including 16 lettermen and six junior college transfers, answered the first call for spring football practice Wednesday afternoon. The team held their second workout yesterday.

Head coach Skip Stahley plans to give the squad its first scrimmage either this afternoon or tomorrow, with weather being the key to next week's workouts. The PCC allows each member-school 30 days in which to get in their 20 practices.

Stahley commented that he was "well pleased" with the opening workouts which consisted mainly of calisthenics and preliminary drills.

Missing Lettermen

The only lettermen missing from opening drills was center Bill Skinner, leading third base candidate on Clem Parberry's baseball squad. Stahley stated that Skinner will miss all of the spring practices, but will be available next fall.

Mike Haas, non-letterman half-back, will join the squad after he fully recovers from a recent appendectomy.

The Jaycee transfers are Bob Dehlinger, 5-10, 175 pound halfback from El Camino, Calif., JC; Ted Eakes, 5-11, 190 pound half-back from Northeastern Oklahoma A&M; end Gene Sjostrand, 6-2, 185 pounder from West Contra Costa, Calif., JC; J. D. Lawson, end, 6-2, 185 pounds, Palos Verdes, Calif.; tackle Dale Hill, 5-1, 190 pounds, El Camino and Jack Ashbaugh, 6-2, 210 pound tackle from Orange Coast, Calif.

Fourth Year

Starting his 4th year at Idaho, Stahley will be assisted in spring drills by line coach Don Swartz; Ed Knecht, new and coach from Ohio, and Lt. Dick Denfeld, former Navy star who is now in the naval reserve program. In addition Gary Johnson and Dick Foster, stars of last season's varsity are helping in the drills.

Poster, a tackle, recently signed a pro contract with the British Columbia Lions of the Western and will report this summer. Quarterback Johnson plans on returning to school next fall.

SPORGASBORD by Dean H. Judd

Idaho's Pacific Coast Conference baseball season opens Monday and prospects appear as promising as they have in many years.

The Vandals will have no push-over in their opening series against Washington, the Northern Division favorites, but they will go into the opener with a 13 and 3 pre-season record. Coach Clem Parberry's squad has only lost games to Montana, Oregon State, and Whitworth.

This year's team has one big advantage over the teams of the past few years. The 1957 Vandal baseball team has an outstanding pitching staff.

Pitching coach Don Weiskopf has four big hard-throwing right-handers and one southpaw on staff all of whom graduated from Idaho high schools.

Ace of the staff appears to be junior Doug Randall, workhorse of last year's squad, who leads all the Vandal twirlers with a 4 and 0 record. Randall is from Lewis-ton.

Clark Anderson, number two man behind Randall last year, may be replaced by two promising sophomores, Val Johnson and Steve Hinckley. Anderson handed the PCC champion WSC Cougars one of their three season losses last year.

Injured early last season he came back well to add strength to the '56 staff. The big pitcher from Boise should again be an important in the '57 season.

Johnson and Hinckley are both pleasant additions from last year's frosh squad. Both did good jobs as freshmen and have looked good in pre-season games. Johnson is from St. Maries and Hinckley from Preston.

The lone lefthander on the staff is Wendy Wolfe, from Clark Fork. The smallest man on pitching staff, Wolfe has a good variety of slow stuff to serve as a good reliever for the four fastball-throwing front line pitchers.

Parberry has the pitching this year. With good hitting and fair fielding behind them, these pitchers could carry the Idaho baseball team into contention for the PCC crown.

An elderly man approached the little boy and asked, "Tell me, young man, do you have a fairy godmother?" "No," replied the little boy, "but I have an uncle we're a little suspicious of."

Trackmen Seek Season's 1st Win At Cheney Tomorrow

Obtaining their first win of the 1957 dual track season will be the goal of coach Joe Glander's varsity cindermen when they take on the Eastern Washington Savages at Cheney tomorrow.

Ray Hatton, the most promising distanceman at Idaho in many seasons, will lead the Vandals into the contest. Hatton won both the mile and two-mile in last Saturday's meet with Oregon State and set two dual meets records in the process.

Hatton's 4:19 mile and 9:28.5 two-mile are by far the leading ND times set in those departments this year and are extremely good for early season competition. He is the only Northern Division performer who has the best marks in two events.

Glander said yesterday that he also expects half miler Dick Boyce and shot putter Jerry Kramer to show well in the EWCE meet.

"We should do better against the Savages than we have done so far this season," he said yesterday, "but we will have to be at our very best because they have three men in every event, while we have only one or two."

Glander was hopeful that track newcomer Gary Simmons, Vandal basketball star, could win the high jump and said that Dave Durham and Bill Baxter had good chances in the 440. He also expected pole vaulter Ron Edwards and hurdler Dave Powell to do well.

Powell will have a tough battle on his hands in the low hurdles, for freshman Gary Fuller, EWCE hurdler, has been a stand-out this season. Veteran Lyle Balderston, a sprinter, has been the other Savage star this year. He ran a 9.8 100-yard dash last season and has also been impressive in the high hurdles.

Eastern Washington, which dumped Western Washington, 87-43, in their 1957 opener last Saturday, has perhaps the strongest team in its history combining both strength and depth.

"Oh here's the place Mother told me to keep away from. I thought we'd never find it."

She: Do you know what they're saying about me?

He: What do you think I'm here for?

D. Sheppard Leads Golfers Into Action

Dick Sheppard, top candidate for PCC individual honors, will lead the Vandal golf team into their first two matches of the season this weekend.

The Vandals swing into action today with an exhibition match at Walla Walla against Whitman and return to their home course Saturday for their opening conference tilt with WSC.

Sheppard topped the qualifiers with a 139, 1 under par, for 36 holes. Coach Dick Snyder plans to use nine men in the match with Whitman today and from the results will choose six to oppose WSC.

Nine-Man Team

The team behind Sheppard in the order that they qualified are: John Cranston, Ray Schmidt, Rusty Sheppard, John Rosholt, Jack Snider and Mike Heaton tied, Bill Deal and Tom Olson. The latter did not finish his qualifying play but will still make the trip.

Six men will compose the team for all conference matches and the members of the squad for each match will be determined by a ladder challenge system, according to coach Snyder.

Freshman will have until Sunday to qualify for the yearling squad, announced Snyder. Top candidates for the team include Ray Kowallis, Boise, who shot a two under par 33 his first qualifying round; Bill Dyer, Calgary, Canada; Allan McGowan, Moscow; Frank Hunter, Moscow; Bob Pierce, Lewiston; Joe Karmos, Weiser and Gary Ford, Pocatello.

The first frosh match is scheduled for May 2 against Whitman in Spokane. Bob Campbell, veteran Idaho golfer, will again coach the first year squad.

Delts-TMA To Meet Monday For Intramural Bowling Title

Delta Tau Delta and Town Men will meet Monday night at 7 to decide the 1957 intramural bowling championship. The two teams gained the right to play for the title by winning semi-final matches before spring vacation.

Delts, winners of League 1 with a 18-2 record (tops on campus), defeated League 2 champs, Kappa Sigma, and TMA, League 4 titlists, edged Lindley Hall, League 3 champs. Defending champions, Chrisman Hall, were eliminated earlier.

Softball and horseshoes got underway this week with three day's matches being played. Wednesday games in both sports were cancelled because of rain. The rained-out softball games will be played at the end of the schedule and the horseshoe schedule will be moved up one day, according to intramural director Wayne Anderson.

Phi Gamma Delta, defending softball champs got off to a successful start with a 5-1 win over the Betas on Monday while Delta Tau Delta, fraternity runner-ups last season shutout the Kappa Sigs 3-0 Tuesday behind the four-hit hurling of Glenn Potter.

In the only independent game played Upham Hall 1 smashed Gault Hall 11-4. Anderson also announced yesterday that the annual intramural golf tourney will be held next Saturday morning on the University course.

Each living group may enter four men, but no handicaps will be taken into consideration. The team with the lowest score will be declared the winner, Anderson said. House intramural managers must have the names of their entrants in by Tuesday at 3 p.m., to the intramural office.

No practice will be allowed on the University course on the same day of a contestant's match and the putting green will be open for practice only.
