DAD'S DAY PROGRAM LAUNCHES 1957-58

Record 1800 Students Register First Day

Beards Aren't Completely Out For Dad's Day Parade, Game, Dance Fill Annual Celebration Slate

Jason for 1957-58 bids a welcome and a hearty hello to all returning and new students. Here's best wishes for a great year academically and socially for everyone.

The aim for the coming year for the Argonaut and the Golden Fleece will be to keep them on a plane that will make the campus newspaper an interesting and informative media for the students of Idaho.

First the Argonaut will try to follow the policy successfully advocated by last year's staff. The paper will not become a campus bulletin board, but will strive to present real news and interesting reading to its readers.

Second the interests of the students will be the first thought of the editorial staff in handling and obtaining news that concerns them.

The opinions of the staff and the Argonaut as a unit will be presented as editorials on page two and should not be confused with the points stressed in the Fleece. This column will represent only the thoughts of Jason.

For the interest of new students and those unfamiliar with the Argonaut, the Jason of greek mythology sailed on a ship named Argo in search of the Golden Fleece. The men who accompanied him were called Argonauts. Therefore, the newspaper representing the students becomes the Argonaut; the editor, Jason; and the editor's column, The Golden Fleece.

A step taken by the Office of Student Affairs yesterday indicated that that office will make every effort to avoid the confusion that resulted last spring over social regulations.

The action of presenting social and other regulations to all of the students before any chance of violation becomes evident is an indication that the office will continue to make every effort to give the students at Idaho as "fair a deal as possible."

Massey Heads Presentation Of Hit At WSC

Three top stars of stage and screen will appear in person in Bohler Gymnasium, in Pullman Wednesday, when the WSC Department of Speech presents Paul Gregory's production of Norman Corwin's dramatic hit, "The Rivalry."

Heading the cast will be Raymond Massey, distinguished actor, who has been long associated with the role of Abraham Lincoln. Massey appeared on the WSC campus in 1953 in "John Brown's Body," another successful hit by Paul Gregory.

New York Critics Award winner and Academy Award nominee, Agnes Moorehead, was the next acquisition by Gregory, and this came about when Miss Moorehead read Corwin's script while playing in "Raintree County" at MGM. She plays the part of Adele Douglas, the beautiful wife of Lincoln's rival, Stephen Douglas, and the woman who figures prominently in both their lives, to perfection. Miss Moorehead played to a capacity audience in Bryan Hall in 1956 in her solo reading performance "The Fabulous Redhead."

Brian Donlevy rounds out the threesome for "The Rivalry." Donlevy is one of the most active stars in Hollywood and there is constant demand for his talent.

Only 72 cities will be privileged to see the play prior to the Broadway opening in January, 1958. "The Rivalry," written and directed by Norman Corwin, will play in Vancouver and Seattle before coming to Pullman.

Tickets for "The Rivalry" are available at the WSC Department of Speech office, Room 5, Bryan Hall and will be at the box office the night of the show for $1.50 general admission, and $3 or $2.25 for reserved seats. Order forms for tickets are available at the U Hut.

Organizations Tell Purpose In Booths During Carnival

The second annual all-campus carnival and mixer will be held from 9-12 next Saturday night in the SUB ballroom. Music will be furnished by The Embers, a campus dance band.

This year's carnival and mixer will feature booths by campus honoraries and service organizations. A meeting of organization representatives Tuesday at 7 p.m. in conference room A has been called by Nan Alvord and Bert Allian, carnival co-chairmen. Booth assignments will be made and final plans formulated in preparation for the affair.

The carnival-mixer was initiated last year to replace the traditional frosh assembly, in which campus organization representatives spoke about their respective groups. The purpose of the carnival is to give freshmen and other new students an opportunity to discover and learn about various campus organizations, and for the organizations to recruit new members.

Construction on carnival booths will begin around noon on Friday. The Campus Carnival will culminate the 1957 frosh orientation program which is under the direction of co-chairmen Lee Scott and Helen Gregory. Other committee members include Irene Scott and Tim Daley, nametags; Jerry Steele and Jim Lunte, facilities; Sandra Wanamaker and Mary Margaret Broderson, publicity; Diane Smith and Rich Thomas, Freshman Dance; Chuck Bend, new student assembly; Eric Carlson, ROTC and veterans' assemblies; and Edna Jones and Claudia Patton, independent girls' tea.

IK Book Exchange Open Longer Than Previously Stated

A used book exchange, sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights has been extended until 5 this afternoon. Arlo Johnson, IK in charge of the 1957 sale, reported that because of a conflict with the Dad's Day activities, the sale was originally set to be shorter, but has been extended from the previous deadline.

Arrangements have been made for students to pick up their unsold books and money Monday evening from 7 until 9:30 p.m. in the SUB cloakroom; however no sales will be made at this time. Over $500 had been taken in at closing time Thursday and more sales are expected after registration is completed.

A shortage is evident in engineering, architecture, and medical books and students who would like to sell books of this type are encouraged to bring them to the SUB cloakroom. Also in demand are books from courses numbered over 100.

This exchange, which is handled every semester by the Intercollegiate Knights, permits students to recover past investments and it enables the new student to purchase his books at a reduced price.

Karl Bittenbender and Butch Goodwin have acted as co-chairmen this year and they encourage all students to take advantage of this opportunity offered by IKs.

"GEM" BEING ISSUED NOW

The Idaho "Gem of the Mountains" for 1957 is now ready and sophomores, juniors, and seniors can obtain their copy in the ASUI office in the SUB, Myrt Williamson, editor for 57-58, said today.

Exactly 1800 students, the largest number to ever register in one day, passed through the Memorial Gymnasium to complete their registration.

Almost 2,000 are expected to complete their registration tomorrow as the total enrollment is foreseen by officials as reaching an all time high of between 3,800 and 3,900.

A less complete registration card facilitated the registration procedure as the record number of students arrived on campus. Fraternity and sororities came back to life about a week ago and most of the remainder of the students had arrived by Wednesday evening.

Robert Greene, director of dormitories, announced yesterday that all independent living space had been filled, except for a few rooms in Pine Hall and Hays Hall.

Under present plans, Greene said he hoped to be able to reassign all Pine Hall residents to other halls by the end of the semester. He pointed out that only the ground floor of the hall would be used this year and the top floor has been permanently closed. The hall will presently accommodate only 62 men.

Sixty-four new family living group apartments, constructed over the summer by the University, have partially alleviated the married student housing problem.

The new registration cards revised by the faculty committee this summer eliminated several sections from the old forms. The section for the student's trial study list was eliminated along with the infirmary and library cards. The student will use his student identification card in place of these two sections.

The list of classes and times they are scheduled have been eliminated from the Office of Student Affairs card, with the blank for that office only containing information of a personal nature. This leaves just the blanks for the Dean and the Registrar with the student's list of courses.

Registration will close today, with a receipt of paid registration fees necessary for admittance to tomorrow's Dad's Day game with Oregon.

Most of the students have taken care of preliminary processing and are awaiting turns to be processed in the gymnasium where class schedules are completed and fees paid. The registration fee this semester was $59.50 for resident students.

"GEM" BEING ISSUED NOW

The Idaho "Gem of the Mountains" for 1957 is now ready and sophomores, juniors, and seniors can obtain their copy in the ASUI office in the SUB, Myrt Williamson, editor for 57-58, said today.

Claudette Kerns, Alpha Chi, chairman of the Dad's Day festivities slated for this weekend, tests the growth of Don Wilton's Van Dyke beard, which he grew over the summer while stationed on a lookout. "Joe" the Vandal, holding the weekend schedule, looks on.

Social Activity Regulations Set Down, Officials Ask For Obedience Or Else!

Dean of Student Affairs Charles Decker today reemphasized the school's present regulations for social activities and cautioned that Idahoans would have to obey them or suffer the consequences.

Decker specifically cited a rule that prohibits the use, possession or serving of beer, wine, or alcoholic beverages on the University campus or buildings on the campus.

He pointed out that the longstanding rule applied to any fraternity, sorority or other officially recognized student living group.

Regulations specifically apply to the serving of alcoholic beverages at social functions, he added, and such action is strictly prohibited.

A second problem, Decker said, was the scheduling of social functions.

Under university law, he said, a social function is defined as any social gathering or event planned and sponsored by a regular living group or other student organization held at any time during the day or night and involving men and women students.

The president or social chairman of a living group should have sole responsibility for scheduling all social events, he said.

To be officially sanctioned, a social event must first be petitioned for by the group through the calendar committee. The committee, Decker said, is composed of Mrs. Marjorie Neeley, Dean of Women, chairman, and Dr. Don Marshall, Prof. Ted Sherman, Dave Maxey, Sharroll Bartlett and Bob Livingston members.

Individual students can include suspension or dismissal from school.

Drama Tryouts Are Scheduled For Sept. 23-24

Tryouts for Idaho's first dramatic production of the fall season, "Ring Round The Moon," are slated for Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Ad auditorium, Jean Collette, director, announced today.

"All students are eligible to participate in the show," she pointed out. "Both backstage crews and actors are needed."

Students who turn out for auditions will have completed their basic tryout for the entire year.

"Ring Round The Moon" is a comedy written by Jean Anouilh and adapted by Christopher Fry. Action occurs in a modern setting.

Technical director for the show, set for production October 18-19, is Howard Dorgan, assistant professor of drama.

Regents Okay Scholarships Totaling $7000

Seven scholarships amounting to more than $7,000 were formally approved by the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho, it was announced today by President D. R. Theophilus.

The sum of $4,432 was received from the estate of the late Charles Henry to establish a scholarship endowment fund for an award to be given annually by the University to worthy and deserving male students. It will be called the Mary Lillian Henry scholarship fund.

The American-Marietta company has established an annual $250 scholarship for students in the fields of chemistry, chemical engineering, forest products or wood utilization, or for future junior or senior high school teachers of science or mathematics.

Wayne E. Henry, Vets Village, has been awarded a $500 scholarship from the Ralston Purina company for the 1957-58 school year. The Monsanto Chemical company gave Idaho a $600 grant for an award to a student majoring in chemical engineering.

The state advisor of the Future Homemakers of America presented a $50 award for Charlotte Martell Meridian. The sum of $100 was received from the Idaho Insurance Agents, Inc., for scholarships for the 1957-58 school year.

Priest River high school gave $100 for the Gary Elder scholarship to Sheila Yarroll.

"Show Of Stars" Features 14 Top Recording Artists

Fourteen of the nation's top recording artists are slated to arrive on the Idaho campus for two concert appearances on Memorial gymnasium stage October 28, Gale Mix, ASUI general manager, announced today.

Mix said the program, called the "Show of Stars for '57," is headed by "Fats" Domino and his orchestra.

"This is the biggest show of its kind to appear throughout the nation this year," he said. "All of the recording artists who will perform have had hit records in the top 20 this past year, many in the top 10."

Headlining the show with Domino are Paul Anka, record star of the Ed Sullivan show and author, arranger and singer of "Diana," Frankie LYmond and his "Goody Goody" record; Clyde McPhatter, best known for "Long Lonely Nights;" LaVern Baker of "Jim Dandy" fame; the Everly Brothers who have been on top of the record polls with "Bye Bye Love;" Chuck Berry, the Crickets, Jimmy Bowen and the Rhythm Orchids, Buddy Knox, Eddie Cochran, the Drifters and Paul Williams and his orchestra.

ARG STAFF MEETING

Students interested in working on the Argonaut are invited to attend a coffee hour in the Syringa room of the SUB Wednesday at 4 p.m., Dean Judd, editor, said today. Positions are open for reporters, photographers, lab technicians, advertising personnel, and copy readers.

living groups have been granted dispensations for spring cruises at lake Coeur d'Alene.

He said any living group, or student organization which failed to comply with any of the school's regulations would be subject to disciplinary action which could include denial of social privileges, suspension of charter, or revocation of charter.

Individual students can include suspension or dismissal from school.

Group Plans Fall Program

Auditions for Vandaleers will be completed here Monday and a tentative membership list will be published in the Tuesday issue of the Argonaut, Director Glen Lockery said today. About 20 new members will be accepted.

The Vandaleers, with a full membership of 65 voices will appear several times during the fall and at Christmas the group will present the annual Christmas Candlelight concert in the Memorial Gym.

After Christmas vacation, the choir will be reduced to approximately 40 voices in order for the group to make their spring tour. Selection of the touring group will be on a scholarship basis, in addition to outstanding work in the choir during the preceding months. Insofar as possible, touring personnel will be chosen from the membership of the fall choir.

After the annual tour, membership in the Vandaleers will again be extended to the full complement and the group will perform as a unit for spring programs and for Commencement exercises. Included in the spring appearances will be a program of popular and light classical music, Lockery noted.

Two Scholarships In Chem Available

The Office of Student Affairs today announced two new scholarships available to students studying chemistry or related subjects.

Monsanto Chemical company offers a $600 grant to any student majoring in chemical engineering who has completed one year of study in that field.

The American Marietta corporation is sponsoring a $250 grant to a student in chemistry or chemical engineering or wood utilization. The award is made on the basis of high school record.

LIBRARY BOOKS ISSUED
Library officials will operate a reserve book issue point in the Administration building effective the first day of class until the move to the new building is complete. Lee Zimmerman, librarian, said today. Either room 113 or 115 will be used, he noted.

Job Try-Outs Mon. At KUOI

Announcers and office personnel are needed to fill the ranks of KUOI, the campus radio network. Ed Seielstad, station manager, said today.

Auditions will be held for prospective announcers every afternoon starting Monday, Seielstad noted. No previous experience is required.

Two hour shifts will be maintained, and the station will be on the air every day from 12:30 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Broadcasting will start Oct. 7. The "Voice of the Vandal" can be heard in all living groups on campus after that date.

Parade, Game, Dance Fill Annual Celebration Slate

By Jim Flanigan

An early Dad's Day program on the Idaho campus will launch the 1957-58 school year and the fall football season for the Vandals, when they clash with the Oregon Ducks in Neale Stadium Saturday afternoon. The annual "Pop's Hop," a parade in downtown Moscow, and a tour of living groups are slated for weekend activities.

Fathers, and mothers, too, will register from 1 to 5 p.m. Friday, and 8 to noon Saturday in the Student Union. Spurs, under the guidance of Carolyn Dempsey, French House, will be in charge of registering Dad, who can not enter house competition unless he does sign in.

Trophies will be given to the house with the most Dads on campus, to the living group that has the dad from the most distant point, to the men's house that has the best poster and the women's house that has the best poster.

Program chairman is Claudette Kerns, Alpha Chi. Marilyn Rider, Alpha Chi; Fran Baudek, Theta; Phyllis McAlexander, Pi Phi, and Dean Sorenson, Beta, complete her committee.

Rally Tonight
A rally at 6:30 tonight in front of the SUB begins the long weekend. Students are asked to meet a sound truck, scheduled to tour the campus just before the rally, Miss Kerns said.

Coach "Skip" Stahley will introduce his squad to the student body in front of the SUB. Pom-Pom Girls and cheerleaders will give the new yell for the year, and members of the Pep Band will fill in with musical entertainment. Joe Vandal is also scheduled to make an appearance.

Bonfires at the corners of Elm and Idaho and Elm and University are included in rally plans.

Beards Out
Beard growing contests, which have taken the Dad's Day limelight in previous years, will not be included in the program because of the early time element of the affair.

Poster judging, slated for 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, will be based 50 per cent on workmanship; 25 per cent on theme originality, and 25 per cent on originality of design. Size and extra decorations are not considered, Miss Kerns noted.

About 16 high school bands from throughout Idaho, a group of palomino horses here for the Latah county fair, and several agriculture floats, will parade through downtown Moscow Saturday morning.

In the afternoon, Dad and offspring will attend the football game at Neale Stadium and tour various living groups.

"Fads With Dad"
"Fads with Dad" is the theme of the "Pop's Hop" Saturday evening in the SUB ballrooms. Magazines, newspapers, and cartoons are planned for decorations.

Bob Whipple and his band will furnish music for the dance, which is $1.50 per couple.

Moscow churches welcome families to services Sunday morning before the parents depart for home after the weekend.

As Before, 1957-58 Is A Challenge Faculty Changes Are Listed For 1957-58

Once again comes the time for "looking ahead." The University of Idaho, its administration and faculty and the student body at large is set to embark on another year of what should be an opportunity for an expanding academic knowledge and a broadening of human experience.

We wonder at this starting point what the students — for which this institution was created — will do with this year 1957-58. Will it be a year of achievement for Idaho, or will it be a year of apathy? In this question lies a responsibility that lies heavily on upper and underclassmen alike. But the brunt of the obligation for improving the University falls on the junior and senior classes for obvious reasons.

The freshman here or at any other college is a neophyte to the collegiate world. He looks to his seniors in experience to help mold his attitude toward life and the school just as all students look to their professors for knowledge. The example is set by Idaho's older collegians.

If the attitude of their superiors in scholastic rank is one of intense interest in the improvement of the school giving them the key to a productive life, then freshmen will logically follow suit. Most important, it is noted for its student courtesy and must be remembered that Idaho is interested toward one another. This is a friendly campus with every opportunity for intellectual growth and individual maturation.

Perhaps no one group of people is more aware of this than the University administration.

It has been the unremitting policy of the administrators of this school to aid the students who come to them with wholeheartedness and sincere interest.

A concerted building program is in constant progress to allow even more young men and women to enjoy the benefits of a state university.

A combination of these two facts make Idaho the pleasant place it is.

However, apart from the administration, whose chief interest is to educate students in the recorded knowledge of mankind, there is a part of college life that is uniquely the students' own.

That is the student-created program of self-government and a press-onself. Herein lies the previously-mentioned responsibility of the students — especially the upperclassmen — toward the incoming freshman.

To maintain collegiate sovereignty here, the supply of interested, young material must be constantly replenished. Projecting into the future, it is apparent that even a 15 per cent drop in those participating in student government and activities in their freshman year would mean a complete loss of student government in three to four years.

Freedom to think and to develop a mature personality without the bonds of administrative censorship or unduly harsh rulings has been and must continue to be jealously guarded at Idaho.

If it were not, the chaos that would result would force the hitherto understanding administration to crack down on the student body for its own good.

So the challenge is there again this year. We hope that a look-back nine months from now will show it to have been one of the best in Idaho's history.

University President D. R. Theophilus today listed one of the most extensive lists of faculty appointments and promotions in the school's history.

Rising from associate professor to professor were Herbert A. Berman, law; Mark Gurevitch, physics; Kenneth R. Johnson, dairying; Mabel Locke, chairman of physical education for women; Charlie F. Peterson, poultry; Theodore A. Sherman, English; and Calvin C. Warnick, associate director of the Engineering Experiment Station.

Promoted from assistant director of the Forest, Wildlife and Range Experiment station to associate director was Professor Edwin W. Tisdale. Walter C. Sparks was moved up from associate horticulturist to horticulturist. Professor Thomas B. Keith, who has been associate animal husbandman, now becomes husbandman.

Resignations accepted included those of Albert Slinger, associate professor of education; Waldo Curtis, assistant professor of physics; Jay C. Dotson, assistant professor of mining engineering, mining and metallurgy; Douglas H. Benson, instructor in English and journalism; and Frederick M. Miller, instructor in music.

New associate professors here at Idaho are William P. Barnes, mechanical engineering, a graduate of the University of Idaho and Clair F. Bowman, electrical engineering, who has attended the University of Nebraska, Purdue and Montana State.

Lynn A. Beattie, who has taught at the University of Michigan, and holds bachelor, master's and doctorate degrees from that institution; and Michael J. O'Reilly (visiting appointment), who is a graduate of Manhattan college and holds a law degree from St. John's university in New York.

Promoted to associate professor to professor included those of Guy R. Anderson, bacteriology, who was also made associate bacteriologist; Bernard C. Borning, political science; Roland O. Byers, chairman of engineering drawing; Margaret A. Coffey, physical education for women; Melvin W. Farley, education; Maynard A.

Fosberg, agronomy; Edgar H. Grahn, chemistry; Lowell A. Jobe, chemical engineering; Earl J. Larson, zoology; Howard E. Packenham, English; William Parish, electrical engineering; Mabel W. Rentfro, languages; Agnes C. Schuidt, music; Robert H. Seale, wood utilization and Scott A. Walker, agricultural economics.

Named associated university physician was Herbert A. Hartfiel, M.D. For more than seven years he practiced medicine in Minnesota, and for 11 years was engaged in industrial medicine and clinical research in the New York City area. He has been listed in "Who's Who in American Medicine" since 1944.

Physics: Waldo Curtis, who is a graduate of Fresno State college, and has a Ph.D. from the University of Washington, electrical engineering; George G. Hespelt, University of Idaho graduate with a master's degree from Oregon State college, sociology; Dr. Myra S. Minnis, who is returning to Idaho after a year of teaching in the East.

Botany: Lorin W. Roberts, who holds A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Missouri, economics and business administration; Beavers D. Mabry, Tulane university faculty, who holds a B.B.A. degree from the University of Chattanooga, M.S., University of Tennessee, and Ph.D. Tulane university, agronomy; Alfred E. Slinkard, who has just completed his doctorate work at the University of Minnesota after receiving B.S. and M.S. degrees from Washington State college, civil engineering; George R. Russell, University of Idaho graduate, who has been completing his master's work here.

Other Assistant Professors: Donald F. Clifton, metallurgy, faculty of the University of Kentucky, is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, and has a doctorate degree from the University of Utah; Morris E. Harvey, education (extension), who was engaged in educational extension work for Oregon State college and the University of Oregon. He has his master's from the University of Oregon.

Moved from instructor to assistant professor were Harold C. Amos, mechanical engineering;

Warren T. Bellis, music; Merrill W. Conitz, civil engineering; John E. Dixon, agricultural engineering; Kenneth E. Grimm, geology; Leon P. Lind, radio-TV technician, and Clifford A. Taylor, testing engineer.

Lawrence L. Inman, forestry, who has been doing research at the University of Minnesota, is a graduate of Iowa State college and the University of Minnesota; Reuben R. Wagner, accounting, who is a graduate of Nebraska State Teachers college, and has his master's degree from the University of Nebraska.

From Minnesota: James H. Cooley, chemistry, who has been teaching and completing his doctorate studies at the University of Minnesota, and holds A.B. and M.S. degrees from Middlebury college in Vermont; Robert M. Kessel, secretarial studies and business education, is a graduate of Wisconsin State college at Whitewater, and has M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin; and George A. Williams, geologist.

William H. Trogdon, partner in the Spokane architectural firm of Walker, McGough and Trogdon will become visiting assistant professor of architecture. A graduate of the University of Washington, Trogdon holds his master's degree in architecture from Harvard university.

Ping-Tsoong Sun, a native of China, becomes assistant professor in civil engineering. A graduate of Chiao-Tung university in Shanghai, he has a master's degree from the University of Tennessee and his doctorate from the University of California, where he has also taught.

Named assistant plant pathologist was Richard R. Tomanko, B.S., University of New Hampshire; M.S., University of Delaware, and Ph.D., Louisiana State university. Walter L. Moden, Jr., graduate of Kansas State college, becomes assistant agricultural engineering technologist, and George W. Nelson, University of Idaho graduate, who has been office manager for the Washburn-Wilson Seed company in Moscow, assistant accountant in the bursar's office.

New Instructors: Art instructor George H. Roberts, who comes from the faculty

Lewis Clark Normal Staff Is Complete

The staff for Lewis-Clark Normal school, which opened its doors Monday to begin its third year, was complete today with the announcement by President D. R. Theophilus that the regents had approved the appointment of Phillip D. Duley as assistant professor of education and psychology.

Duley replaces Asst. Professor Maurice C. Williams, who is now on the faculty of Santa Barbara State college in California.

Also new on the staff this year are Dr. Cleon C. Caldwell, dean of the school; Kate Esther Moe, assistant professor of music; Thomas V. Calkins, instructor in English; Lowell Duffey, instructor in biology, and Dorothy Aileen Harvey, head librarian.

Bachelor—A rolling stone who gathers no boss.

THE MIXTURE AS BEFORE

Today begins my fourth year of writing this column and, as before, I will continue to explore the issues that grip the keen young mind of campus America—burning questions like "Should housemothers be forced to retire at 28?" and "Should pajamas and robes be allowed at first-hour classes?" and "Should pretors be armed?" and "Should picnicking be permitted in the stacks?" and "Should teachers above the rank of associate professor be empowered to perform marriages?" and "Should capital punishment for pledges be abolished?"

Philip Morris Incorporated sponsors this column. Philip Morris Incorporated makes Philip Morris cigarettes. They also make Marlboro cigarettes. Marlboro is what I am going to talk to you about this year.

Before beginning the current series of columns, I made an exhaustive study of Marlboro advertising. This took almost four minutes. The Marlboro people don't waste words. They give it to you fast: "You get a lot to like in a Marlboro... Filter... Flavor... Flip-top Box."

Well, sir, at first this approach seemed to me a little terse, a bit naked. Perhaps, thought I, I should drape it with a veil of violet prose, adorn it with a mantle of fluffy adjectives, dangle some participles from the ears... But then I thought, what for? Doesn't that tell the whole Marlboro story?... Filter... Flavor... Flip-top Box.

Marlboro tastes great. The filter works. So does the box. What else do you need to know?

So, with the Marlboro story quickly told, let us turn immediately to the chief problem of undergraduate life—the money problem. This has always been a vexing dilemma, even in my own college days. I recall, for example, a classmate named Oliver Hazard Sigafos, a great strapping fellow standing 14 hands high, who fell in love with a beautiful Theta named Nikki Spillane, with hair like beaten gold and eyeballs like two tablespoons of forgetfulness.

Every night Oliver Hazard would take Nikki out to dine and dance, and then to dine again, for dancing made Nikki ravenous. Then they would go riding in the swan boats, and then Nikki, her appetite sharpened by the sea air, would have 8 or 10 outlets, and then Oliver Hazard would take her home, stopping on the way to buy her a pair of oysters or two.

To raise money for these enchanted evenings, Oliver Hazard took on a number of part-time jobs. Between classes he cut hair. After school he gutted perches. From dusk to midnight he vulcanized medicine balls. From midnight to dawn he trapped night crawlers.

This crowded schedule took, alas, a heavy toll from Oliver Hazard. In the space of a month he dwindled from 260 to 104 pounds—but that, curiously enough, proved his salvation.

Today Oliver Hazard is a jockey, earning a handsome living which, combined with what he makes as a lymph donor after hours, is quite sufficient to curb Nikki's girlish appetite. Today they are married and live in Upper Marlboro, Maryland, with their two daughters, Filter and Flavor, and their son, Flip-top Box.

The makers of Marlboro take pleasure in bringing you this free-heeling, uncensored column every week during the school year... And speaking of pleasure, have you tried a Marlboro?

Women's Dean Advises Rushees

By Rosemary Maule
Leading, advising, and helping eight sorority houses and 166 rushees this year fell into the hands of the University of Idaho's new Dean of Women, Mrs. Marjory Neely.

Stepping into a new position this fall, Mrs. Neely showed outstanding characteristics of being a leader and an organizer. Not only being confronted with the new experience of rush, Mrs. Neely also found herself having to work out the problems of a new rush schedule.

This year's "rush week" was shortened to four days, Sept. 14 to Sept. 18, with the Pan Hellenic tea starting the "rush week" parties. At the Pan Hellenic meeting for rushees, Mrs. Neely gave the new women students an idea of rush and its purpose.

"Rushing is simply an opportunity for rushees and the members of sororities to make a mutual choice of membership. Be open minded and find the group with whom you feel you can be most congenial. Invitation to membership is a two-way thing—it is the same principle as marriage; it is whom you want and who wants you."

A tiny, charming, soft-spoken woman, Mrs. Neely shows a sincere interest in the women students of the University of Idaho. She has a special interest in the education of women and the function of education in women's lives.

Mrs. Neely states, "I believe there is a need for more emphasis on the education of women today

MOSCO SHO R R S

Official Welcomes

Pres. Theophilus

Welcome, students, to the University of Idaho.

You have come to an institution of traditions in which you can have pride. As one year merges into another, you will become more and more a part of these traditions — traditions of scholarly attainment and friendly associations.

Since the University was founded in 1889, many thousands of students have stood where you stand today. Each made his mark on the character of the University, just as you will. May your mark be a credit to both you and your University.

It is a particular pleasure each year to welcome a group of new students, because the welcome is to the great opportunities of higher education. All the people of Idaho are sharing with you, and on behalf of them I urge you to make the most of these opportunities. I hope that your stay at the University of Idaho will be not only profitable but pleasant.

D. R. Theophilus, President.

STUDENTS SEIZE BUSES

Students at the University of Mexico took things into their own hands after one of their number suffered a broken leg when he was struck by a bus. They seized several buses and refused to return them until the bus company had paid damages to the unlucky student.

DAVE MAXEY

Welcome to Idaho from the ASUI Executive Board. We sincerely hope that you new students will enjoy your four years here and gain much from this fine educational opportunity.

The role you can play in your student government is a great one, since this type of government must rise and fall in direct proportion to the interest and enthusiasm of the student body. Feel free at all times to bring your thoughts and suggestions to us, and rest assured that they will be given consideration. Let's have a great year at Idaho, beginning Saturday at the ball game. See you there.

Arg Circulation Bids Requested

Two students are needed by the Argonaut to distribute the school paper on both Tuesday and Friday mornings from 10 a.m. until noon. Bids for the job will be taken in the ASUI office, Manager Gale Mix said, and any student interested should contact him.

The only requirement is that the student have a car.

BOWLING LESSONS GIVEN

Free bowling instructions will be offered in the SUB from 4 to 5:30 p.m. every Tuesday afternoon, according to ASUI representatives.

Students To Be Auditioned

The University Symphony Orchestra will hold auditions for new members Monday and Tuesday in the music building, Director LeRoy Bauer said today. Membership in the orchestra is not restricted to faculty members and townspeople he noted.

A new member of the music faculty, David Whisner, will be the guest soloist at the first concert in late November, Bauer said.

This year the Orchestra will also appear on the Community Concert series, accompanying their guest soloist, Vera Franceschi, who is a young pianist from the east.

Bauer urged all students who are interested in joining this musical group to contact him at the Music building.

New Students Were Guided By The '57 Student Handbook

Idaho's 1957 Student Handbook for new students, "Here We Have Idaho," became a helpful guide to freshmen and transfers as they were rushed from one office to another during a hectic week of becoming acquainted with the University.

Sharon Barlett was editor of the 64 page booklet, which was printed on an offset press to allow for more photographs and art. A yellow section gave full information on New Student Days, and the rest of the Handbook was devoted to University policies, activities and customs.

President D. R. Theophilus had a message to new students in the handbook, which read, "It is a real pleasure for a college president to welcome new students, because he invites them to share in knowledge and understanding, which are among the world's richest treasures."

Included on the student handbook staff, besides Miss Bartlett, were Bud Duffy, artist; Mollie Godbold, Diane Olmsted, Charlene Roth, Elece Merritt, Anna Marie Rice, Lois Lundquist, and Keith Kelly.

Communication Heads Ask Fresh To Fill Positions

Editors and station managers of three Idaho Student communication services have issued calls for freshmen and upperclassmen to join their staffs.

Freshmen Need Good Averages In Scholarship

Freshmen should plan early to get a good scholastic average if they wish to obtain membership in either of the honoraries offered by the University to men and women with a grade point average of 3.5 or over. Alpha Lambda Delta is the women's honorary and Phi Eta Sigma is the men's.

Membership in a national honorary is also available in each of the eight colleges of the University.

Students with good grades and with many activities are eligible to apply for admission into Spurs, a sophomore women's honorary, and Intercollegiate Knights, sophomore men's honorary. Members for these two organizations are selected at the end of the freshman year, and membership is based on service to the University while maintaining a good grade point average.

Blue Key is the honorary for junior and senior men who have given outstanding service to the University.

The top students in the senior class are tapped for membership in Mortar Board and Silver Lance. Both of these groups are service honoraries which give recognition to the outstanding leaders on the campus.

Organizations, such as Associated Engineers, Associated Miners, and Associated Foresters, are available to students who are majoring in these fields. Orchestras is a group of the modern dance students, while art students attend Attic Club, and Curtain Club is for drama enthusiasts who earn membership by participation points.

Bench and Bar brings the law students into a group and the Journal Club draws together the majors in its field.

The wives of the married students have formed the Dames Club and graduate students and faculty join together in the Graduate Journal Club.

Band Director Warren Bellis today announced tryouts for baton and flag twirlers and acrobatic majorettes for the Idaho marching band will be held Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Music building.

Bellis said he had not set a number for the majorette corps and added that the group would perform throughout the football season.

Major work on the Arg is done Monday and Thursday afternoons preparing the news for the paper which is distributed to the students Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Myrt Williamson, Gem editor, said she needs people to work with photography, social organizations, living groups, sports and academic sections.

The yearbook is a yearly publication and is financed by the ASUI. Interested students can contact the editor at the Gem office on the third floor of the SUB.

KUOI offers persons interested in all phases of radio a chance for practical experience in the fields of news writing, announcing, engineering, sportscasting, news, and special broadcasting.

The station broadcasts from 12:30 to 11 p.m. six days a week. The up-to-date well-equipped studio is located next to the Gem office.

The station broadcasts on a frequency of 660 kilocycles and is piped in to all living groups.

Auditions will be held any afternoon starting September 23, station manager Ed Seielsted announced.

Seielsted said he needed about 25 announcers to work on two hour shifts plus a office and clerical staff.

One thing is unique about the school's foreign student program: It's the only university where the foreign student population is represented on the student legislature.

ROTc officer? No, what about him? He was rotten to the corps.

Activities Keep New Students In Whirl

Mixers, registration, orientation, week, and a whirl of other activities have kept freshmen and transfers busy during New Student Days this week.

A dance is slated from 9 to midnight today at the LDS Institute. The mixer is open to all students on campus.

Army ROTC incoming cadets were confronted with a display on various military functions this year, instead of the usual lecture by department heads, and upperclass officers.

A large part of the week was taken up with guidance tests and counseling, but mixers Tuesday and Thursday evenings gave new students some relaxation.

Rush continued throughout the week for a large number of new students.

Idaho Student Participation In Government Rewarding

Leadership and citizen training are available to Idaho students through work in a student government system rated as one of the most active in United States universities and colleges.

Idaho's student government known as the Associated Students of the University of Idaho (ASUI for short) has been rated by the National Students Association, an organization of over 100 schools bound together to solve common problems and to exchange ideas.

The ASUI is organized with a president, a nine member executive board, and 15 committees. Over 200 students fill positions on committees, and class offices each year.

One of the strong points in the ASUI setup is the working of political parties during its two elections. In late October all four classes elect a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. In April elections are held for the 10 ASUI administrative positions.

Three Parties Three political parties have sponsored candidates for the past three years. The United party is composed of Greek letter living groups, the Independent party sponsors candidates from independent living groups, and the Student Government party represents students from both types of living groups with special emphasis on off-campus students.

This year the ASUI President and four Exec Board members were elected from the United party. Three Board members were represented by the Independents and two from the SG party.

During election periods candidates run and campaign on platforms which have planks concerning student problems and activities. The platforms give the candidates a chance to express themselves and ideas to the students at rallies, smokers, and visitations to the living groups.

ASUI Committees Chairmen for ASUI committees are selected from interviews by the Exec Board, while members are selected by a Board of Selection and Control, a committee composed of five affiliated and five non-affiliated students.

This Board holds interviews with all interested students and selects the committee members. After students have received experience working on committees during their underclassmen days, they can qualify for ASUI representatives on University administrative, discipline, facilities, and faculty committees. These com-

Committees give the student a change to represent the student body in making plans for the functioning of the University.

Convocation Sunday The significance of morality and character in the education process was stressed by President D. R. Theophilus in the opening convocation held in Memorial Gym Sunday for 1,000 new students.

Dr. Theophilus, Walter Steffens, executive dean; C. O. Decker, dean of men; Mrs. Marjorie Neely, dean of women; the Rev. Sigurd T. Loken, Moscow; Dave Maxey, ASUI president, and the deans of all the colleges and graduate schools were in attendance at the program.

A $3000 organ, played by Hall Macklin, professor of music, was furnished for convocation by Sampson-Ayers Music company of Spokane. The instrument was used free of charge after University officials agreed to transport it to Moscow from Washington.

"Unless there be honor, truth and justice, unless our material resources are supported by moral and spiritual resources, there is no sound foundation for progress," Dr. Theophilus said.

He listed acquiring skills and techniques, training in the responsibilities of citizenship, understanding the fundamental principles that undergird our way of life, and knowledge of the world in which we live as the four major opportunities provided by the University.

The president also stressed that "education is a two-way street—the university provides competent instructors and adequate facilities, and the student provides on his or her part the desire to learn and the ability and willingness to follow instructions."

As a final admonition to the new students, Dr. Theophilus told them, "Don't forget to write the folks at home."

Classes Start Classes are slated to start Monday morning for the entire student body, but freshmen will have one more chance to get acquainted before the year is too far along, when the Campus Carnival will be held in the SUB ballrooms next Saturday.

Students Despair Teacher Shortage

Just about everyone interested in education is talking about the problem of the teacher shortage. College newspapers are no exception, as this editorial from the Daily Texan proves: Today record numbers of youngsters flood through the school room doors—and teacher isn't always there. Why? And what can be done? The despondent old gentleman emerged from his club and crawled into a taxi. "Where to?" the driver asked with a smile. "Drive off a cliff," the old man answered, "I'm committing suicide."

Dr. Anand Malik is to fill the staff vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Albert Sitlinger, assistant professor of education.

Library Uncompleted; Equipment Delayed

For Window Gazers

A few of the many study tables that have been installed in the nearly-finished University library. From this corner of the long first-floor room, students will have a view of Chrisman hall. The library will open in about three weeks.

The multi-million dollar university library will not be completed and ready for student use for "several weeks" following registration, Librarian Lee Zimmerman said today.

The four-story building, built at an estimated cost of $1,500,000, still has a long list of internal equipment which must be installed prior to its opening, Zimmerman said.

Chief bottleneck was a strike on the Pacific coast which tied up completion of metal shelves for the 515,000 volumes which will be housed there. "These," Zimmerman said, "should arrive Tuesday. However, they must still be installed, a two-week job in itself."

Meanwhile, a system for providing reserve books for students has been set up, the librarian said.

Reserve Stacks
In the interim, reserve stacks will be housed in the present library administrative offices on the first floor of the Administration building. Zimmerman said students would have to find their own places to use the volumes since the old library was almost completely dismantled in the moving process.

No other books will be available for use until the new building is opened.

He said part of the staggering number of documents and books had already been moved to the new quarters.

The school's entire newspaper collection along with special books are now housed in the new building. But thousands more must still be transported across the campus to the new library.

Zimmerman added that part of the furniture for use in the new construction had been assembled.

When in full operation, the library will have a permanent staff of 14, a clerical staff of 10 and about 35 students working part time.

He said an administration order, resulting from a student request last spring, had changed the library schedule to allow for Sunday hours from 2:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Previously, the library had closed at 5 p.m. on Sundays.

To accommodate the increased hours, Zimmerman claimed the library will close at 5:30 p.m. on Fridays.

The building, as yet not opened to student inspection, contains 89,606 square feet of floor space. A new expanded "browsing room" will include about 900 recent magazines and documents.

include a reserve reading room and book storage.

No Coffee Room

The librarian said a student proposal for a smoking and coffee room had been abandoned.

A corner of the first floor will be used for the university post office, previously housed in a separate frame building.

Zimmerman explained that the ground floor of the building would include a reserve reading room and book storage.

The first floor will house a humanities reading room, browsing room, typing room and bibliography room. Second floor plans call for a social science reading room, special collections room, document room and typing room.

Third floor will include a science reading room, microfilm room, typing room, and seminar rooms.

New Dean Named To Idaho's Faculty

Dr. Earl F. Cook has been named dean of the College of Mines and director of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology, it was announced recently by President D. R. Theophilus, following regents' approval. Cook has been serving in an acting capacity in these positions for the last year since the retirement of Dean A. W. Fahrenwald.

At 37, Cook becomes the youngest dean on the university faculty. He has had extensive experience however, with the area's geological and mining operations, having conducted numerous studies while serving with the U. S. Geological Survey and various Northwest mining firms.

Before joining the University of Idaho faculty in 1951, he taught a Washington as well as at Stanford University. From 1949 to 1951, he was photogeologist for Geophot Services, Denver, Colo.

Cook's first position at the University of Idaho was as assistant professor and acting head of the department of geology and geography. In 1952, he was promoted to associate professor and head of the department of geology and geography. He represented the University of Idaho in 1956 at the 20th International Geological Congress in Mexico City.

SUB Cafeteria Is Modernized Over Summer

Modernizing cafeteria equipment headlines summer changes in the Student Union Building. A new paint job and new game room equipment are also being added, Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager, said.

A new ice cream machine, milk shake machine, and coke barrel have been added to the serving counter in the Bucket to speed up service.

"Student traffic in the SUB has doubled in each of the past two years," Mix said. "With the more efficient equipment we expect to double the SUB's use again this year."

The milk shake machine will turn out 400 shakes an hour, Mix added. An electric serving cart has been added to the kitchen equipment to provide faster service with less help during banquets in the SUB Ballrooms.

The cart is completely electrically heated with humidity control which will keep banquet foods hot for several hours. It will handle enough food for 100 people.

SUB Repainted

The whole SUB is being repainted with bright colors which will reflect more of the light given off by the new lights that have been added to some meeting rooms.

The SUB interior has not been painted since the building was completed in 1949.

The paint job is 70 per cent completed and will be done within a month, Mix said. Everything has been painted except the food-handling area.

Sound proof acoustic tile has been added to Conference Rooms A and B.

In December 1958 model Brunswick automatic pin-setting equipment will be installed in the SUB bowling alleys.

"This pin setting equipment will make Idaho's alleys one of the most outstanding setups in the Northwest," Mix said.

At the same time new Tel-e-foul lights, Dura-plastic pins, ball kick-back apparatus, and a ball cleaner will be added.

New cushions and covers have been put on the pool tables.

WIVES TICKETS NOW OUT

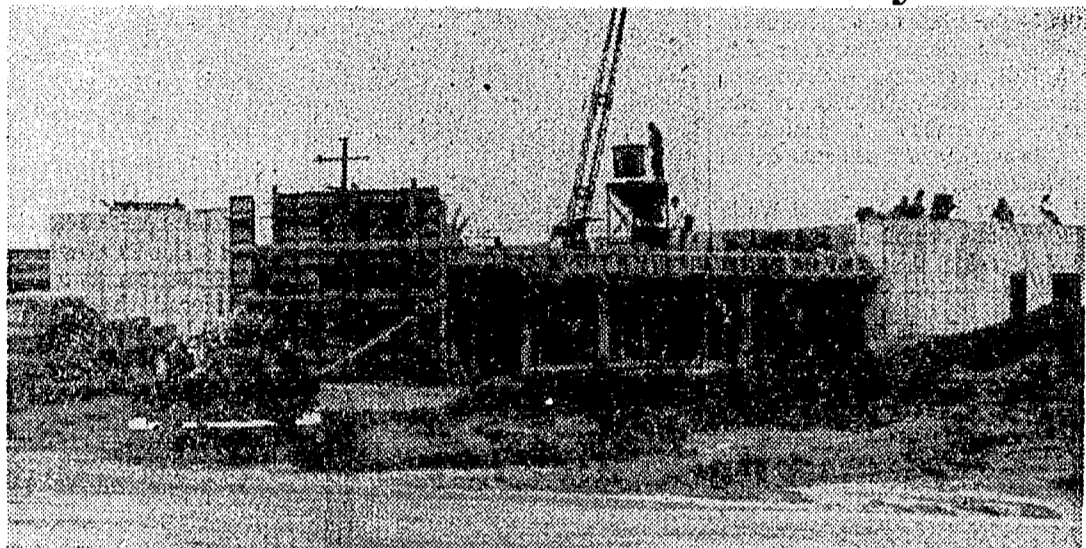

Student wives' tickets for concerts, games, and other activities on the Idaho campus are now available in the ASUI offices at the SUB for $12 a year, Gale Mix, general manager, said today.

Addition To An Expanding Campus

McConnell hall, newest men's dormitory, was completed about ten days ago. It accommodates 110 male students.

... And Another Is On The Way

Scheduled for completion next year, Shoup hall will be a duplicate of McConnell. The three-story structures cost about $385,000.

Historical Mining Scales Given U of I

A scale that weighed more than a million dollars worth of gold dust and nuggets in Idaho's early mining history has been formally accepted by the regents as a gift to the University of Idaho, President D. R. Theophilus said today.

There's still gold in that scale, too. Gleaming flecks can be seen imbedded in the wooden base of the scale — "dust" that had spilled out in the weighing process and then had been pressed into the wood when the scale's iron weights were placed on it.

A. N. Dyer of Boise, who presented the scale to the University, said that in 1893 it came into the possession of Vollmer & Scott, a general merchandising firm operated by John P. Vollmer and Wallace Scott of Mt. Idaho and Grangeville. The firm acted as agent for Warren mining camp.

The gold had to be weighed before it was transferred to a stage-coach for shipment to the San Francisco mint.

Dormitory And Housing Recently Opened For Use

A new men's dormitory and married-couple housing unit, this week, were opened for occupancy as another step in the University's continuing race to cope with increasing enrollment.

Charred rooms in Gault hall were also in the process of being made liveable after a lethal fire a year ago and tennis courts were being constructed near French house at the southern end of the campus.

A second men's hall is in the process of construction.

First to be completed prior to the return of students Monday was $375,000 McConnell hall, which will house 110 men. A duplicate to McConnell, Shoup hall, is partially completed with a final target date of August, 1958, University officials said. Shoup will be an almost exact copy of McConnell.

Both halls are located west of Upham hall.

The second dormitory is named after the first governor of Idaho, George L. Shoup, who called the state constitutional convention in 1889.

Shoup was one of the first commissioners of Lemhi county and was appointed governor of the Idaho Territory. Previously, he had served as a colonel in the Civil War.

The married student's unit will house 64 couples. The building was completed about Sept. 15. The building, located in Park Village in north Moscow, was built to augment previously-existing units in West Sixth Village and North Main Village.

Gault Hall Renovated

Elsewhere, an extensive rebuilding job on the blackened lounge and third floor of Gault hall will be completed "in a few days," according to University engineer George Gagon.

Gagon said a total cost for the rebuilding would be $50,000, and an additional $11,000 had been spent on improvements to the hallway leading up to the third floor. Seven rooms were effected by the arson-set blaze which whipped through the dormitory and took three lives last October.

In the wake of the fire, University employees today were finishing the installation of automatic sprinkler systems in rooms at Hays, Forney, Willis Sweet, Lindley and Christman. The entire operation will cost $44,000, Gagon said.

New residence halls including French, Ethel Steel and Upham already have adequate systems, he said.

A third set of tennis courts near French will be ready for use in about a week. Surfacing of the courts was completed earlier in September and fences were being erected today. Opening of the added facilities, however, pends arrival of nets.

8 Scholarships Taken From Fund

Eight scholarships, totaling $1,050, have been accepted by the regents from the Showalter-Carlisle fund for students at Lewis-Clark Normal school, President D. R. Theophilus said today.

This fund, honoring the pioneer Showalter and Carlisle families, was established years ago, and is held in trust at Coeur d'Alene. It was set up to assist "worthy and needy students to attend the Lewiston Normal school (original name of the institution)."

Scholarships, varying in value from $100 to $150, were awarded to Audrey Finney and Jean Snyder, Lewiston; Maureen Goff, Indian Valley; Marian Lay and Joyce Moser, Council; David Swayne and Eunice Weinmann, Orofino, and Donald G. Scheibe, Clarkston, Wash.

Alpha Gams Start Rush

Rush begins Monday for a new sorority on the Idaho campus, Alpha Gamma Delta.

Chris Mackert and Kay Zener were initiated into the sorority this summer, while attending the national Alpha Gamma Delta convention in California. Miss Mackert will serve as president protem and Miss Zener will act as treasurer of the group until formal installation of the chapter sometime next spring.

Thirteen girls were pledged last spring, and will live in halls this year, while plans are being formulated for the purchase of a house on campus. The special rush period will run from Monday until Thursday, with rush parties being held in various sorority houses. The group may also participate in semester rush.

Pvt. Ferdinand Chudy of the U. S. Army recently completed his tour of duty in Iceland. He requested to be sent to "someplace in the south." He had had enough of cold weather. His new orders assign him to the ice breaker Glacier at the South Pole.

DUCKS-VANDALS MEET IN DAD'S DAY GAME

Heaviest Team In Stahley's Tenure To Open For Idaho

"We have passed the point at Idaho where we have to fear any team, and we'll be out to prove it tomorrow."

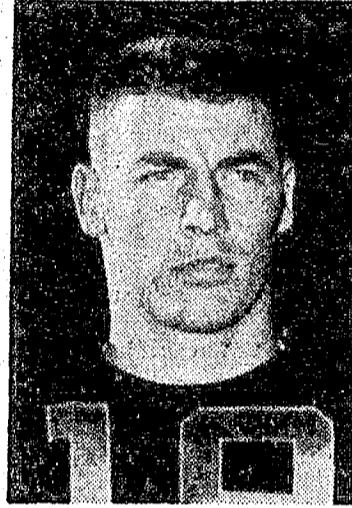

This terse comment from Idaho head coach "Skip" Stahley yesterday summed up university feeling before tomorrow's clash with the Oregon Ducks.

Stahley's Vandals will meet the PCC darkhorse Ducks of Len Casanova at 1:30 in Neale Stadium in the 1957 conference opener for both. A crowd of 10,000 is expected.

For the first time in many seasons, Stahley is blessed with adequate size and enough reserve strength, at least on paper, to defeat any team on the schedule.

Probable Idaho line starters, Larry Aldrich and J. D. Lawson at the ends; Tony Anderson and Jim Prestel at the tackles; Jerry Smythe and Jerry Kramer at guards; and Wayne Walker at center pack a bulky 213 pound-per-man average compared to the 203 pound Oregon av-

Airman

Howie Willis, veteran Vandal signal caller, will handle the majority of passing chores in the squad's initial action of the 1957 season.

The Vandal backfield of Howie Willis at quarterback, Bob Dehlinger and Larry Norby at the halves, and Ken Hall at fullback will outweigh the Duck starting quartet but Oregon's scatbacks make up in speed what they may lack in size.

Top Backs

"We know Casanova has the most feared stable of running backs on the Coast," Stahley said, "and we will have to stop them to win."

Thirty-nine Vandals will be ready for action with no player definitely out at press time.

Stahley praised several sophomore stars and said they should add immeasurably to the bench strength of the squad. Singled out were centers Stan Fanning and Ralph Jannino, guard Dave Andrews, and halfbacks Paul Wagar, Don Ridener, and Jim Norton.

Fanning, a 6'4", 215 pound giant is largest of the newcomers, while Wagar, a 5'10", 160 pound speedster, is the smallest.

Norton not only has promising possibilities as a halfback but is perhaps the top punter on the squad. Stahley indicated that Norton would handle kicking chores when he was in the lineup.

The Vandal mentor felt the Vandals would be hurt by the loss of burly centers John Roussos and Bill Skinner, both out for the season, but lauded the reserves for the jobs they have been doing.

Lloyd Fenton, who saw little action last season, has been waging a terrific struggle with the highly touted Norby for the starting right halfback post and may get the nod against Oregon.

Dale Hill, 215 pound California junior college transfer, has been pressing Smythe at right guard and

Other reserves such as halfback Mike Haas, and ends Wade Patterson and Theron Nelsen, have been battling for starting berths.

Depth Uncertain

Whether or not the team is deep enough to get through a rugged schedule, only time will tell. But Stahley at least has the consolation of knowing this year, that he can substitute more freely without hurting the quality of play.

The Vandals will travel to Tempe, Arizona, next weekend to take on the powerful Arizona State Sun Devils. Coach Dan Devine's crew spoiled the Idaho homecoming last season by crushing the Vandals, 41-0, and are a tough football team in any man's league.

Neutral Corner

Kramer Drawing Praise From Preseason Pollsters

By Dwight Chapin

In the boxing ring, any fighter scoring a knockdown is required to go to a "neutral corner" and remain there until his opponent has been counted out or has taken the mandatory count and has been signaled by the referee to resume the battle.

We have picked "Neutral Corner" as the title for this year's sports column and will strive to uphold the meaning of the term, aside from going out on the usual limb, and attempt to keep the column free from bias and prejudice.

Jerry Kramer, Idaho's candidate for All-American and All-Coast honors, has been receiving perhaps the largest publicity buildup given any Vandal athlete in recent years, by pre-season magazine pollsters.

Kramer, who booted three field goals last season and converted on 15 point after touchdown tries, is also a rugged operator at guard Coach Skip Stahley's massive forward wall.

The 6'4", 220 pound star, has been named among the top 100 college football players for 1957 by REAL Magazine and also named as a guard on the All-West Coast team in the same magazine.

Stanley Woodward's football, 1957 and Street and Smith's yearbook both name him as one of the top performers in the West.

Unheralded by the football experts, but a player who this corner feels will come into his own this year, is end Larry Aldrich.

The rangy, 195 pound veteran ranked fifth among the nation's pass receivers last season and was runnerup in voting for lineman of the week honors after his brilliant play against Utah State's Aggies in November.

Aldrich was the key receiver on tosses from quarterbacks Gary Johnson, Howie Willis, and Gary Kenworthy.

Two interesting sidelights behind Vandal fall football practice:

When asked to comment on the running ability of his stubby junior fullback, Ken Hall, Coach "Skip" Stahley quipped: "You can't tackle that guy, you have to swat him down."

Opponents are learning to respect Idaho for more reasons than one. Last season, the Vandal line came up with three touchdowns, two by huge tackle, Jim Prestel, and the other by reserve center John Roussos. Guard Jerry Kramer added to the line's scoring with three field goals and 15 extra points.

Frosh Gridders Start Under New Coach

Freshman footballers will open practice for a three-game season Oct. 7, new frosh grid coach Wayne Anderson, said Wednesday.

Two of the three tilts, maximum under PCC regulations, will be away clashes, against the Montana State College freshmen at Wallace, Oct. 25, and the Washington Pups at Seattle, Nov. 8.

The Vandal Babes will close out the season against Washington State College yearlings here, Nov. 15.

Anderson welcomed about 40 candidates for initial practice sessions this week but said it was too early to tell how the squad would do in game competition.

Alums Meet Set For Day Of Utah Tilt

Plans for the University of Idaho alumni meeting to be held in Boise, on October 5, the day of the Idaho-Utah football game, were announced today by William S. Campbell, Boise, chairman of the alumni association for southwestern Idaho.

Headquarters for the meeting will be in the Boise Elks Temple. A buffet luncheon will be served starting at 11 a.m. Bus service will be provided from the Elks Temple to the game which begins at 1:30 p.m. An open house for graduates, parents of students and friends of the university will follow the game.

A buffet dinner will be held from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Elks Temple followed by a dance starting at 10 p.m. Dance proceeds will go to the Boise chapter of the alumni association for a scholarship for a student coming to the University of Idaho.

the hoop sport can do so.

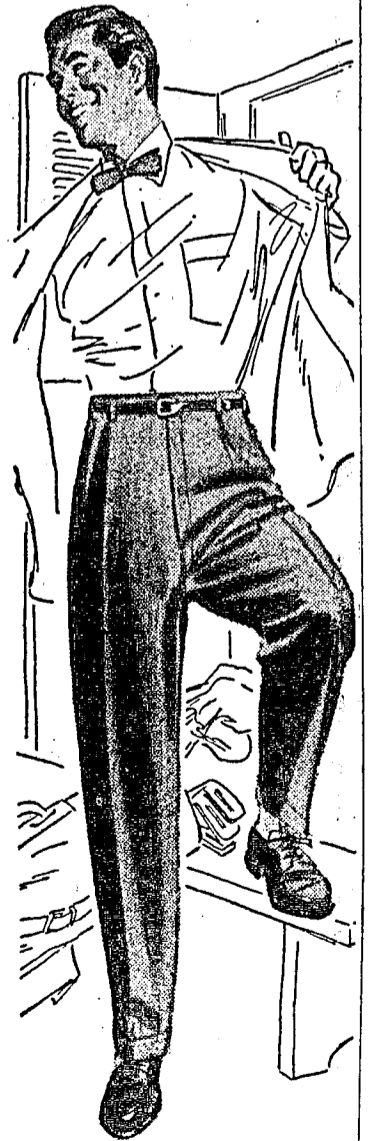

Points are given to each living group for overall performance in the various sports. Lindley Hall, which showed well in all sports, won the total point crown in 1956, with Kappa Sigma second, and Delta Tau Delta third.

The Deltas won championships in four sports, touch football, golf, bowling and track, but were not as consistently outstanding as Lindley and the Kappa Sigs.

"Darling, am I the first man you ever loved?" "Yes, dear, all the others were fraternity boys."

Oregon Labeled Question Mark Squad In Race For Conference Championship

Oregon will invade Moscow tomorrow with the tag of the PCC question mark team. Observers have been unable to determine just how far the Ducks can go in this year's race.

Duck Coach Len Casanova is bemoaning the lack of adequate second line defense but still has enough talented ball carriers and a hefty first string line to make things rough on any team on a given afternoon.

Fullback Jack Morris and halfback Jim Shanley are as fine a one-two backfield punch as any in the league.

Morris, who runs the 100-yard dash in 9.8, is the co-holder of the league record for consecutive points-after-touchdown (23) and also shines on kickoff returns and defensively.

The little, 5'8", 170 pound Shanley has the reputation of being one of the trickiest broken field runners on the Coast. The fifth all-time ground gainer in Oregon history, Shanley is the leading ground gainer among active PCC players, averaging 5.76 yards-per-carry last year and compiling 1164 yards total in his sophomore and junior seasons.

Halfback Starter

Charlie Tourville will be at the other halfback post with Jack Crabtree, who has never reached top potential as a passer, at quarterback.

Guard Harry Mondale will lead the Webfoot line, which guided the club to the overall PCC defense crown in 1956.

Mondale, a three-year letterman, stands only 5'6" but weighs 198 pounds and was named to the PCC coaches all-coast team in 1956.

Other probable Oregon starters include Ron Stover and J. C. Wheeler at ends; Jim Linden and Jerry Kershner at tackles; Bob Grottkau at guards and Norm Chapman at center.

Cummins Name On Honor Roll

Dave Cummins, who lettered three years on the Idaho tennis squad, was among 51 senior athletes who were named to the PCC honor roll last June.

Cummins, who is now studying law at the University of Washington, was the lone Vandal athlete selected for the award, given annually for scholastic achievement.

The Conference Four-Year Honor Roll recognizes athletes who have completed eligibility and who have maintained a cumulative grade average of B or better for all college study.

Wrestler Walter Pilkey of Washington State compiled a cumulative 3.85 to rank at the top of the group.

If you want to make the noise in your car stop, let her drive.

Dashing Duck

Jim Shanley, the top ground gainer in the PCC will lead the Oregon Ducks in their try to spoil Idaho's Dad's Day celebration tomorrow. Shanley is considered the speediest man in the whirlwind Webfoot backfield which ranks as the fastest on the West Coast.

MORE PEOPLE DRIVE CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

New Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe with spunk to spare!

Great to have—and only Chevy's got 'em!

Chevrolet's the only leading low-priced car with any of these advances—the only car at any price with all of them!

BODY BY FISHER. You get more to be proud of in Chevrolet. No other low-priced car is quite so beautifully or substantially built down to the last detail.

SHORTEST STROKE V8. This helps explain Chevrolet's smooth and lively V8 ways. Short-stroke design also means less piston travel, longer engine life. Here's super-efficient power with plenty of vim and vigor!

STANDARD BALL-RACE STEERING. Chevy's Ball-Race steering gear mechanism is virtually friction-free! That means easier parking, surer control, more relaxed driving.

POSITRACTION REAR AXLE*. When one rear wheel slips in mud, snow or ice, the wheel with the traction grips for sure going!

TRIPLE-TURBINE TURBO-GLIDE*. The silkiest automatic drive anywhere! You move from standstill to top cruising speed in one gentle stream of motion. Special "Grade Retarder" position saves braking on hills.

P.S. Chevy's got the big "details," too! See all the exclusives at your Chevrolet dealer's!
