'Fats'n Stars' Perform Monday At 8p.m.

Crowd of 5,500 Expected For 'Big Show'

Rock n' roll recording artists will invade the Idaho campus Monday night for a three hour musical show headlined by Fats Domino and a group of 13 other personalities.

Tickets for the "Show of Stars for '57," now in its fall tour, are on sale for $3.50 and $2.50 in the ASUI office of the SUB, according to Gale Mix, general manager. The program will start at 8 p.m. in Memorial gym. Mix predicts a crowd of approximately 5,500.

Born in the heart of American music—New Orleans—Domino was one of nine children to show interest in the music field.

In the past three months alone, Domino has sold over ten million records, including his renditions of "My Blue Heaven," "When My Dreamboat Comes Home." As a composer, Domino has written and sung "Ain't That A Shame," "Poor Me," and "Don't Blame That On Me."

From an early beginning, Domino's record sales sky-rocketed. Now, at 28, he has become one of the top artists in his field.

Band Leader
Furnishing music for the Idaho show will be Paul "Hucklebuck" Williams and his band. The orchestra leader became interested with a musical career while attending Bowling Green Academy in Kentucky.

Williams was compelled to quit school before graduation, but his school day musical training enabled him to weather the rough depression years as a saxophonist.

While playing with Detroit's King Porter Orchestra, as saxophonist, Williams was discovered by a talent scout from Savoy Record company. His first disc, "Hastings Street Bounce" became an overnight smash hit.

In 1949, came "The Hucklebuck" which he wrote and recorded. Within two weeks after the record was released to the American public, Williams and his band became a top musical attraction throughout the country.

When asked about the play given to individuals in the band, he said "People come to see a band, not a leader."

The Drifters
The Drifters, also slated for the Idaho campus appearance, organized their quartet in 1953 after they met in a Harlem rehearsal hall. Since then, they have topped record sells with "Fools Fall In Love," "Adorable," "Drifting Away From You," and "It Was a Tear That Fell."

The singing group selected their name, The Drifters, because each of them had drifted from one singing group to another before they formed a team.

Tommy Evans, Gerhart Trasher, Johnny Moore, and Charlie Hughes form the musical group. Their manager is George Treadwell.

After their first recording, "Money Honey," Frank Schiffman, manager of the Apollo in New York, signed them to an exclusive ten year contract.

Cromer To MC
Master of Ceremonies for the "Show of Stars for '57" is Harold Cromer, a Broadway Shows star and leading night club entertainer.

Born in New York City, Cromer entered the field of entertainment at the age of 17. Buddy De Sylva signed him to appear on Broadway in the Cole Porter musical "Due Barry Was A Lady," with Ethel Merman, Bert Lahr, and Betty Grable.

Cromer has appeared on television with Frank Sinatra, Steve Allen, Milton Berle, and Kate Smith. He's played at the Palladium in London, and the Cirque Medran in Paris.

Cromer began emceeing tour shows with the Big Shows of 1951 and 1952.

After appearing in Spokane the 125 member company will fly to Lewiston and drive to Moscow from there.

Persistent 'Flu' Forces Blood Drive Postponement

A three-day campus Blood Drive scheduled for next week was postponed yesterday by University health officials and student chairmen, who blamed "the general health situation" for the last-minute change.

University Physician Dr. J. M. Fleming said he ordered the drive, which was set to begin Tuesday, changed to "sometime after Christmas."

Co-chairmen Elaine Hieber and Jim Golden said late yesterday they had not set any new dates for the campaign, but said the affair would "probably" be changed to early February.

Fleming explained that he had conferred with officials in Boise and that they had agreed that the event should be cancelled "because of the general health situation and the number of students now recuperating from the recent flu outbreak."

He pointed out that although "flu" incidence had dropped off "far below" the average of 60 last week, the outbreak had left potential donors weak and thus had created a possible hazard.

Inoculations of antibiotics, said Fleming, would also disqualify donors, and added that a "substantial number" of students had received "shots" in the past two weeks.

Miss Hieber said she and Golden would begin reorganizing the Drive as soon as new dates could be secured.

She explained that the postponement would involve "a complete revamping" of campaign plans.

"We were sorry plans had to be reversed at the last minute," said Golden, "but there was no alternative. We will try to make the best of the situation."

Military Groups Sponsor Dance; To Select Queen

Idaho's three ROTC units will jointly sponsor the Military Ball Nov. 23 in the SUB ballrooms, Bob Nelson dance chairman, announced today.

Nelson said the dance would be complete with a queen elected by the ROTC students on campus and displays from the military units at the dance.

The dance has been held in the spring for the past several years and is being changed to fall this year, Nelson said, to cut down interference with other activities of the military organizations.

The chairman said a contest to select the traditional "Military Queen" will be started in about two weeks.

Mile-Long City Parade To Lead Off Saturday Homecoming Plans

Idaho begins its 1957 Homecoming celebration tonight despite threatening skies and a possibility of snow tomorrow.

Planned for the estimated 6,000 visitors that will flood into Moscow tonight and Saturday morning is an event-packed weekend that includes a rally, parade, football game, open house and climactic dance.

ASUI General Manager Gale Mix said Thursday weather forecasters in Spokane and Lewiston had predicted a "50-50" chance for rain or snow Saturday.

Homecoming Chairman Bob Vallat said, however, that the parade tomorrow would be held as scheduled regardless of the weather.

Alumni registration booths will be set up in the Moscow and Idaho hotels today and a third sign up point will be opened at the SUB Saturday, said Vallat.

The celebration will be officially kicked off tonight with a pajama parade and pep rally at McLean Field, but first city-wide observance of Idaho's alumni weekend will begin Saturday at 9:30 a.m. with a traditional parade through downtown Moscow.

Floats will be in position at 9:15 a.m. and will be disqualified if they are not ready to move at that time, parade co-chairmen Tim Daley and Terry White reminded students Thursday.

The mile-long parade, led by Marshals President and Mrs. D. R. Theophilus, will begin at the intersection of Main and A streets and will proceed south down Main to Eighth St., where the route will turn right to Jackson St. From there, the line will move to the intersection of Jackson and Sixth street, where it will turn left to Deakin St. It will follow Deakin to Sweet St., then turn left to the SAE parking lot.

Daley emphasized that floats were not to be dismantled in the parking area and that they were to be removed from the lot by Sunday noon.

Vallat said trophies would be presented to the winning floats in the mixed and men's divisions at the Homecoming dance Saturday evening. There were no entries in the women's division this year, Vallat explained.

Parade Lineup

Section A—State Police, Scabbard and Blade, U of I Band, Grand Marshal, Vandalettes, Rep. Pfost, Dr. Paul Ellis, Exec. Board, and Queen's Float.

Section B—Moscow Band, Willis Sweet and French House, TKE, Mortar Board, AF Drill Team, McConnell and Hayes, Tri-Delt and FarmHouse, TMA and Dames, Vets, and two units of the Moscow Fire Dept.

Section C—Special Color Guard of the American Legion, Lewiston Band, Campus Club, Gault Hall and Ethel Steel, Phi Tau and Forney Hall, Navy Drill Team, Fiji and Gamma Phi, Idaho Club, Lindley Hall, Spurs, and Moscow C. of C.

Section D—Wallace Band, Delta Sig and Pi Phi, DG and Beta, Kappa Sig and Delta Chi, Army Drill Team, Sigma Chi, Silver Lance, Job's Daughters, and Torpey Motors.

Section E—Kellogg Band, Sigma Nu and KKG, The United Fund, SAE and Alpha Chi, Lions Club, Theta and Phi Delt, ATO, and Holsum Bread Co.

Halftime Activities
Vallat said no other activities were planned for visiting alumni until 1:30 p.m., kick-off time for the Idaho-Fresno State College football game.

A 20-minute halftime program will feature the crowning of Homecoming Queen Marilyn Crane, speeches by ASUI President Dave Maxey and Alumni President Dr. Paul Ellis, Wallace, presentation of the traditional "T" blanket to the year's outstanding athlete, and a performance by Vandalettes and the University Band.

Open houses are slated for most living groups from 4 to 6 p.m. Climaxing the day is a Homecoming Dance, slated for 9-12 p.m. in the Student Union ballrooms. Ralph Dickinson's orchestra will provide music for the affair, which will be built around a "Remember" theme. Decorations chairman Marsha Mottling said decorations would recall the Gay Nineties era. Tickets cost $1.50.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

The ASUI Exec Board succeeded in making a small change in the procedure used in selecting all-campus royalty, but from the manner in which the last election was run there doesn't even seem to be a need for that change.

Bruce Summers and Marilyn Durose did a fine job in setting up and running a very successful and smooth operating election for Homecoming Queen.

If all elections run this smoothly throughout the year, no such change was necessary in the manner in which elections are handled.

Summers and Miss Durose had all of the schedules set up well and both elections seemed free of any kind of bickering or conflicts.

These are just two of a fine committee under Chairman Bob Vallat that seems to have one of the "best Homecoming weekends ever," ready to get under way at 6:30 tonight.

ASUI President Dave Maxey found Tuesday night that a situation may not be nearly as bad as it first seems.

Last Tuesday's Exec Board meeting was just about over when a knock on the door brought news that a call had just come from President Theophilus that he and a number of the members of the Board of Regents, wished to meet with Maxey and the Exec Board in a half an hour in the Syringa Room.

Maxey paled a little and expressed concern to the Board that this was the first time that any such action occurred. He indicated that it may be serious.

Minutes later word came that the President had called again and wanted to meet in ten minutes. Maxey became quite pale.

Campaign Ahead

Class Officer Slate Decided By Independent Caucus

Sixteen students were nominated as candidates for class officers by the Independent Party last Monday night to kick-off a three week period of campus political activity.

Lee Watenpugh, caucus president, said all candidates would meet at 3 p.m. Sunday in conference room A to discuss campaign procedures and living group visitation schedules.

Watenpugh said all candidates had been cleared scholastically and that petitions were being circulated to obtain the 75 signatures necessary to place names on the election ballot. Petitions are due in the ASUI office by Oct. 31.

Each class will elect a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer Nov. 14. The election will be handled by the ASUI Election Committee and Board.

Candidates
Nominations for senior class officer are: president, Gary McGwen, McConnell; vice president, Don Ingie, Willis Sweet; secretary, Martha Sharp, Forney; and treasurer, Evelyn Evens, French.

Junior class nominees are Lee Watenpugh, TMA, president; Joe Erramaupha, Lindley, veep; Kay Zenier, Ethel Steel, secretary; and Shannon Newman, French, treasurer.

Bob Tate, Willis Sweet, was nominated for president of the Sophomore class with Bob Blatner, LDS house, veep; Claudia Patton, French, secretary, and Rose Kimp-ton, Ethel Steel, treasurer.

Fresh class candidates are Chuck Bertrand, Willis Sweet, president; Leon Lewis, TMA veep; Maxine Hilby, Hays, secretary; and Ann

Greeks Pick Prelim Slate On Tuesday

Selection of candidates for the United Party primary class elections will be handled at meeting at 6:30 Tuesday according to Greek Caucus president John Bradbury.

Bradbury announced that eight persons would be selected from each class to run in the preliminary elections. He indicated that by the caucus constitution four would be men and four women.

Each living group in the party may nominate only one member of its group for each class, but may put up a total of three names for each class, he pointed out.

One other regulation was stressed. "Under rules of the group, one house may have no more than three persons on the final slate," pointed out Bradbury.

Some Flux, But Many Problems

It's Homecoming time again, and to the thousands of alumni that will visit the Idaho campus today and tomorrow we extend a hearty "welcome back."

You, who were the life blood of the University of Idaho one or five of forty years ago, are returning to a school which is changing rapidly. And, unless you are now the parent of a present-day student here, you may not really grasp the significance of these changes.

It Costs

If you are a resident and taxpayer in the State of Idaho, you know this institution is costing you money each year. Where is that money going?

A partial answer to that is spread out before you. $1.5 million is in that new University library, hundreds of thousands more in two new dormitories, a married students dormitory and an improved Student Union building.

This money has been spread thin. Improvements are needed in many areas of the physical layout of this school.

Even more important, this tax money is helping to provide an expert faculty to keep the University of Idaho near the top of the academic heap. That faculty costs more each year, but thus far forward-looking legislators have authorized the appropriations to keep it here.

Almost the Same

Idaho has substantially the same problems today she had when you were here as students.

She is still fighting to stay in the Pacific Coast Conference and she still is making a valiant — and usually successful — effort to keep up with the technological advances of a world that is almost a blur before our eyes.

She is still trying to keep ahead of the growing enrollment with living facilities and an adequate number of classrooms.

She is trying to turn out annually a crop of students which can distinguish themselves and their state before the critical eyes of the educated world.

She still has icy, snow-clogged streets in the winter and daily rain in the spring and fall. She still has her troubles with WSC.

Probably the most static element in this expanding University surprisingly enough is the student body itself.

Though now clad in Ivy League fashions this fast-growing student body still says "hi" on Hello Walk, still indulges in an occasional "sneak date", still slugs it out verbally in heated political campaigns, still drinks gallons of coffee and still spends hours decorating for house dances.

And combined with all that collegiate fun, they still want an education.

The students who tonight will put the finishing touches on their floats and will cheer lustily tomorrow have a serious bent and clearly realize the benefits their state university is giving them.

They are proud of their school and support it with the facilities you have helped provide.

Look It Over

We urge you to take a few moments from renewing old acquaintances and look the old Alma Mater over. We are sure you will leave here satisfied that the money earmarked for this University is being well spent. Further, you may note that much more is needed.

When you leave here Sunday, we are sure you will not only take away the memory of a fine weekend, but will carry along a renewed pride in the work of this school.

We who populate it now have faith in its potentialities. We hope you will wholeheartedly help us and our superiors on the Hill achieve them.

Jim Golden's Campeyeing Stalwart Alums Get Home Today

Dame's Club Said Productive

Once a year, about the time the first fall freeze, there descends upon this northerly outpost of learning, a small army of eager-eyed grads returns to this campus for a week-end of reminiscing. For convenience's sake, the are grouped under one classification — the Latin word "alumni."

And, if you look around, you'll find they're here again for a big weekend of sundry entertainment centered around the Vandals' collision with the Fresno State Bulldogs.

They may have to brave snow and rain tomorrow to watch the Homecoming parade and they may catch pneumonia at the game and they may get their feet stepped on at the Homecoming dance, but that won't daunt them.

They're something we can't really comprehend yet, but in 20 years we'll (theoretically) be on the alumni list too and will probably cheer just as loudly as the Vandals play that glorious game in the mud.

It's difficult for us to understand all this enthusiasm, but there's a simple explanation.

As one grad put it last year, "We don't have any eight o'clocks."

Disqualified

Earlier this week, before the Blood Drive-bit the dust, furious planning was going on in various quarters. The big event was only a few days away and final problems were being cleared away.

For all this furor came one priceless "sign of the times" at a changing University.

The Dames Club was in the process of getting set to plan its part in the festivities.

"How many of you can give blood next week?" asked the woman in charge.

Play Practices Running Well Since Relapse

"Ring Round the Moon," rescheduled for Nov. 1 and 2, went into rehearsals again this week after a brief relapse because of flu that struck a number of the cast members.

The three-act comedy by Jean Anouilh, and adapted by Christopher Fry, was originally slated for Friday and Saturday night, but Director Jean Collette called off the show after several leads were stricken with the disease.

Idaho players in the comedy returned to work Monday night, and ran through the first act, which includes two scenes, in 45 minutes.

"I was quite surprised," Miss Collette noted. "The first act was expected to go overtime after being away from rehearsal several days, but it ran the same time as before the cancellation."

After the first scene rehearsal was completed, Miss Collette said to the cast, "I guess all of you had something of a shock coming back into a show and finding that little line that isn't there. You are reverting back and leaving lines out."

The cast ran through the scene again. Miss Collette noted, "They did a lot better the second time through, and finished the scene in 20 minutes."

In the second scene the cast picked up lines better, but they were still cautioned by Director Collette to keep themselves thinking.

Don Harris and Joan Fisher are assisting Miss Collette in the comedy's production, and Howard Dorgan, drama instructor, is in charge of the technical aspects of "Ring Round the Moon."

Tickets are on sale at University Bookstore and Hodgins' Drug Store for 75 cents. Students will be admitted with ASUI cards.

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOC

Last week we passed along some fashion hints for coeds. Today we will do the same for college men.

The most important thing to remember, gentlemen, is to dress with verve, with dash, with inventiveness. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry saber, or a gold derby.

Guard Against Gaudiness

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry saber. This is too much. Wear a dagger instead, or, for formal occasions, a bowie knife.

Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember this "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know because I was wearing it. I was an undergraduate then, and in love—hopelessly in love with a beautiful statistics major named Harry Sigafos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry madly, though her expensive tastes were the ruin of me. Bit by bit I sold off my belongings to pursue this costly courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit." One night I came calling for her in this garment and she, of course, slashed me across the face with a riding crop and sent me from her door.

I slunk home and lit a Marlboro and sat down to think. I always light a Marlboro when I sit down to think, for their good mild flavor is a great aid to cerebration. I always light a Marlboro when I don't sit down to think, too, because Marlboro is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours, too, once you make the acquaintance of that filter, that flavor, that fliptop box. As the man says, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro.

Well, sirs, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in a campus newspaper which said: "WIN A COMPLETE WARDROBE! Touhy's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best-dressed man on campus. The winner will receive absolutely free a complete new wardrobe!"

Struck by a sudden inspiration, I took pen in hand and wrote a letter to Mr. Touhy of Touhy's Toggery: "Sir—I see by the paper that you are giving a complete new wardrobe to the best-dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best-dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes, and if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe?" "Touhy's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst-dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a crowd in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has canceled my subscription.

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, a vote for the American way!"

With a flourish I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe.

And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.

Always fashionable, always correct for any occasion, in the bright red and white flip-top box of Marlboros, made for your pleasure by the sponsors of this column.

U.S. Integration Discussed By U.N. Week Panelists

Prestige of the United States has been lowered in the minds of many people in foreign countries because of the integration issue.

So said three Idaho foreign student panelists discussing the "Little Rock Situation" in a special U.N. Week panel held here Tuesday.

The fourth panel member, Dr. Anand Malik of India, disagreed, saying he believes the U.S. attitude toward the Little Rock problem marks a great change for the good.

"More people in the United States have denounced the situation than in any other foreign country, because of freedom of discussion.

"There are incidents like this all the time in some other countries, but they seldom get international attention. Other countries are prone to hide the truth," Malik observed.

French View

"In France it is hard for us to realize the division between the North and South in America, and French newspapers and magazines illustrated this attitude, Alexander Mikialoff, panel member from France, noted.

"Our people feel that Governor Faubus won the Little Rock battle in that Eisenhower failed to exercise his powers soon enough," she pointed out.

The panel's moderator, Dr. Boyd Martin, Dean of the College of Letters and Science, explained that the world did not know that our states have divided powers and that each state has its own constitution.

Edward Kuncar of Jordan pointed out that he felt Governor Faubus backed the segregation movement for his own interests.

"The general feeling in England is that Faubus was wrong in calling out the Guard," Peter Reed, English student said. "We feel, however, that Eisenhower was justified in grabbing the Guard for U.S. use."

"Little Rock," Reed said, "should be regarded as a world problem, not strictly an American one."

"One ironic thing to us is that the U.S. will send such great ambassadors as Louis Armstrong all over the world. And then we read about Little Rock."

"Little Rock is not going to speed integration elsewhere in the world," he pointed out.

Delay In Hatching Causes Fly Influx

If you see a classmate swat a neighbor on the back you can be assured that it is not undue friendship—it's simply a fly, one of many thousands that have invaded the Idaho campus this fall.

Roland W. Portman, entomology professor, said the fly influx this year is caused by a dry summer and wet fall.

Fly eggs, he said, need damp weather to hatch, so they didn't hatch this summer as they should have.

He said that 25 years ago there were actually more flies. But because of the "insecticide age" flies are more easily controlled.

"However," he concluded, there will always be flies."

Dr. Dressler Tells Audience Of Major Crime Problems

The major problems of modern crime prevention lie at the beginning and the end of the criminal's trail — the home and the penitentiary — an expert sociologist told a University of Idaho audience here Tuesday.

Dr. David Dressler, an associate professor of sociology at Long Beach State College, told 1200 students and faculty that six major areas of criminal treatment and rehabilitation needed to be explored in greater depth.

These, he said, include home life, schooling, law enforcement, prisons, probation and parole.

"Although there is no one stable element in the personality of a criminal," said Dressler, "one characteristic that continuously comes out is a pattern which begins in childhood in the family environment."

"If a child doesn't have a mature personality picked up at home, he will probably not get it outside."

Next "line of defense" he said, is in the school, where students—especially those in the "exceptional" category—must be prepared for society. Intelligent youngsters and their direct opposites, the feeble-minded, must be given an education to suit their requirements, said Dressler.

$15 Billion A Year

But if the first two roadblocks fail, the youth becomes a lawbreaker, a renegade which costs society $15 billion a year.

From there, he said, it's a short step to the next stage, the law enforcement agency which must stop him. It was in this area that Dressler had his only significant words of praise.

"The law enforcement agencies of the United States and England," he said, "are the most scientific in the world."

If the lawbreaker is committed to a correctional institution, the speaker said, he is automatically being subjected to another weak point in the chain—the penal institution.

He explained that prisons and reformatories are far behind the progress of the outside world in equipment teaching methods.

But most harmful aspect of prison environment, Dressler said, is the lack of classification and segregation of inmates.

Dressler spent little time on parole and probation shortcomings, but said they too needed revamping in many states.

Events Assembly Tuesday Features Two Debate Teams

The much-talked-about issue of the power of labor unions will be given an international airing next Tuesday as part of the fall semester Public Events Assembly.

Here to take part in the discussion will be the Cambridge University debate team of David Ritchie Fairbairn and James Crichton-Miller, who will be pitted against Idaho's team of Reed Bowen and Richard Sorenson, both of Lindley Hall.

The debate team from the English university will speak in favor of the supposition that the present power of labor unions is a threat to democratic government. Idaho's team will take the negative side of the issue.

Topic for the debate is: Resolved: That the present power of labor organizations is a threat to democratic government.

Currently on tour of the Northwest, the Cambridge debate team will appear on campus at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The program will be held in the Memorial Gym.

Lecture's Main Point Again

The Leader, newspaper for Teachers college, Fredonia, N. Y., says this happened there:

The other day the psych class lecture was on job aptitudes.

The prof finished, "The point is, a good poker player can hold down any sort of an executive position. Now then, are there any questions?"

Came the voice from the back of the room, "What would a good poker player want with a job anyway?"

Townmen, Phi Delt's Win Intermural Glory

Touch football and tennis came to dramatic climaxes last night as Town Men defeated Lindley Hall 1 and Joe Bryhn, Phi Delt, won over Knute Westergren, Beta.

Harvey Neese's two touchdown passes were enough to give Town Men a 13-6 victory over Lindley 1 for the University touch football championship.

Neese hit Tom Hoots and Duane Hodgson with the two scoring aerials and connected with Hoots for an extra point. Lindley tallied when Vern Becker intercepted a pass on the first play of the game, ran it to the Town Men one-foot line and scored one play later.

Town Men had reached the finals by downing Tau Kappa Epsilon, 6-0. Lindley 1 dropped Willis Sweet 2, 8-0 for a berth in the championship battle.

Bryhn topped an uphill fight through a large field of entries taking straight sets from Westergren, 6-1, 6-3 for the University tennis title.

Bryhn's win also gave the Phi Delt's first place in team tennis points and dropped the Betas to second. The Betas had won the tennis title for the past two years helped largely by Westergren's efforts. He was tennis champion last year.

WRA To Practice For Hockey Games

One of the main features of WRA, field hockey, will be shown in action today at 4:00 p.m. at the baseball field. The competitive games with the WSC women's field hockey teams will be practice games for the Northwest Field Hockey Tournament to be held November 16 at Eugene, Oregon. The University of Idaho physical education department is planning on sending a team, chosen from WRA participants, to represent Idaho.

Girls chosen to play in the practice games today are Joan Baldeck, Joan Ferris, Jamie Smith, Lois Proctor, Jackie Wainwright, Joyce Weaver, Ginger Symms, Shirley Horning, Jaynee Farnsworth, Normandie Griffin, Polly Brown, Karen Anderson, Carol Edelblute, Janice Smith, Anna Rice, Betty Wiswall, Sue Thomas, Jamie Hughes, Dolores Stippich, Kris Damm, and Penny Preston.

The number of girls chosen are enough to form two teams. Last year WSC and Idaho split one game each at WSC.

Intramural director Clem Parberry announced yesterday that the intramural swimming meet will start Monday.

The meet will begin at 4:10 p.m. Events to be run include: 50-yard free style, 50-yard back stroke, 50-yard breast stroke, 100-yard free style, 150-yard medley relay, 200-yard free style relay, and diving.

Parberry said that the meet will run through Monday, Nov. 4, when finals in all events will be held. Preliminary and semi-final events will take up the slate next week.

Last year, Phi Kappa Tau, paced by Sam McNeill, Lew Oring, Mike Nerell, and Jack Pettygrove swept to the team swimming championship.

McNeill and Oring both starred on the freshman Vandal tankmen squad, however, after the intramural meet was into the record books. Neither will be eligible for intramural swimming this season.

Harriers Risk Perfect Record Today At WSC

Idaho's vaunted cross country team will meet WSC's harriers at WSC today in a four mile race.

They have already defeated the WSC team twice this season by wide margins, as Frank Wyatt, Ray Hatton, Ron Adams, and Pete Reed have swept the first four places for Idaho in both meets.

The Vandal harriers are also scheduled to run in the Inland Empire AAU meet, which will be held Saturday, November 2 at Spokane. The Idaho team will run against teams from WSC, EWCE, Whitman, and possibly Whitworth. Last year the harriers swept to a easy first place, as they out-scored WSC, 28-10.

Initial Varsity Hoop Drills Draw Nineteen Hopefuls

Nineteen varsity prospects, including eight returning lettermen, reported to varsity basketball coach Harlan Hodges for initial practice of the 1957-58 season last week.

The eight returning lettermen, guards Gary Simmons, Bill Wilson, Whaylon Coleman, and B. J. Schaefer; forwards Harold Damiano, Jim Branom, and Jerry Jorgenson, and center Gary McEwen should form the best returning nucleus at Idaho in many years.

Five hopefuls are up from last year's freshman club. They will probably have to battle for positions on the '57-58 varsity.

Up From Frosh
They include guard Dave Damiano, forwards Roger Watts and Bob Walton, and centers Rollie Williams and Weldon Wood. All saw a lot of action for the 1956-57 frosh, except Williams, who was scholastically ineligible the second semester.

George Veazey

From Atchafalaya Swamp, more for your money at the gasoline pump

"Somebody has called this the atomic age. It's really the petroleum age.
"In 1935 America used about 300 gallons of oil products a year per person. Today it's over 800 gallons. The industry has a big job to meet this demand. But we're doing it."

"For one thing, we go farther to find oil. Atchafalaya Swamp here in Louisiana where I head Union Oil's production crew, is a good example.
"Before we start to drill we have to dredge canals to float the rig in. When we drill we often go twice as deep as we did ten years ago. And the number of dry holes is much higher now."

"When we do strike oil, we have to refine it and get it to market. Some of our oil travels thousands of miles by boat, pipeline and truck before it reaches your car as Union gasoline."

GEORGE VEAZEY, "COMMUTING" TO HIS JOB IN THE ATCHAFALAYA SWAMP COUNTRY

"Costs are up all along the line, but we're drilling more wells than ever. In spite of more dry holes, our production is up. And our products are better than they've ever been!"

The problems George Veazey discusses are very real.
Despite them, though, you never got more for your money than you do today at a Union Oil Service Station.
Today, gasoline is 15 octanes higher than it was in 1939, and you get free services with every gallon. The price, on the other hand, has increased only 65% as compared with a 100% rise in the average of all consumer prices.
We intend to continue to bring our customers the best possible products at the lowest possible price.

FRESNO ST. HERE IN HOMECOMING BATTLE

Gridders Aim For Season's Second Win; Team Declared In Good Shape

An Idaho Vandal football squad which has appeared to be "up" in practice this week will take on the Fresno State Bulldogs in a homecoming battle tomorrow at 1:30 in Neale Stadium.

After a vicious scrimmage Tuesday in which the gridders showed more fight and desire than perhaps at any other time this season, coach "Skip" Stahley decided to proceed with only light drills the rest of the week.

Physically Strong

Idaho should be at its highest physical peak since the opening game of the year against the Bulldogs.

Flankerback Bob Dehlinger remains the only question but he is expected to see some action. Every other Vandal is likely to be ready.

The Vandals will go into the tilt with a newly acquired crown. They are the new PCC pass defense leader after last weekend's games.

Defensively the team rates as one of the best in the nation and with the addition of a strong defense against aerials to go with the rugged ground defense, the outlook is considerably brightened.

Coch Stahley had words of praise for the new-found Idaho pass defense.

He called it "no fluke," pointing out that the Vandals had played two of the top-ranked passing clubs in the nation, Arizona State and Utah, this season.

Both squads rank among the top ten teams in the nation in passing. The Fresno State Bulldogs have not fared much better than the Vandals, win-wise this year, taking only one of five games played. Idaho has one win, three losses and a tie.

Only Twice

The two schools have played only twice. Idaho was edged by the Bulldogs 13-12 in 1946 but turned the tables last year with a 24-12 victory at Fresno.

Coch Clark Van Galder's Bulldogs are rated as one of the top independents on the Coast, along with College of Pacific and San Jose State.

Lineup Same

The starting lineup which opened last weekend against the COP Tigers should remain intact, for Idaho.

Larry Aldrich and Wade Patterson will be at ends, with Tony Anderson and Pete Johnson at tackle.

Jerry Smythe and Jerry Kramer at guards and Wayne Walker at center.

In the backfield, Howie Willis will start at quarterback, with Jim Norton at flankerback, Larry Norby at right half, and Ken Hall at fullback.

Tackling Terror

Tony Anderson, who played one of his greatest games against COP at Stockton last weekend, should be a big factor in the Idaho defense in tomorrow's homecoming.

Fresno Coach Dissatisfied; May Start Rookie Line

Clark Van Galder, Fresno State football coach, was so dissatisfied with practice sessions this week that he indicated he might start an all-rookie line against Idaho.

"We have come along defensively in the last two games, but I feel our only chance against the Vandals is to be really tough up front," he commented.

At the ends this week were sophomores Barney Wade and Vance Stanley; tackles, sophomore Ray Slater and senior Nick Brown; guards, sophomore Bob Peeler and freshman Gene Lopes, and center, freshman Bob Spielman.

Two seniors, fullback Dean Philpott and halfback Darrell Moody and two sophomores, quarterback Mike Pratt and halfback Mike Ricketts, form the starting backfield.

Philpott, a bruising fullback, is likely the Bulldogs' top star. A three-year standout, Philpott

Neutral Corner Hall's Kicks 'Not Much Harder' Team Has Lost Little Yardage

Ken Hall, who has quick-kicked 11 times for a 48.3 average and the current PCC punting lead, says that quick kicking really isn't as tough as it might seem.

"It's harder than a regular punt because you have to get the ball away faster, but not too much," he explained.

Hall, versatile junior fullback who hails from Newark, Delaware, has had to displace Kirk Wilson of UCLA, the nation's number one kicker in 1956, to top the PCC.

Wilson now carries an average of 44.5, almost four yards short of Hall's.

Learned In High School

Hall said he learned the quick kick in high school. He played three years of prep football in Wilmington and Newark, Delaware, high schools.

"The University of Delaware is located in my home town," he commented, "and I just naturally grew up playing football around the college."

Hall punted for the Idaho freshmen gridders but upon joining the varsity last year he was not used in that capacity. Even this season Howie Willis, Jim Norton and Gary Kenworthy have done all the booting from scrimmage on fourth downs.

But the solidly built Hall has really put the foot back into football and the Vandal attack this year.

Offensive Too

His kicks have been both offensive and defensive weapons for on more than one occasion after a booming Hall punt, the great Vandal defense has stalled a rival attack and taken over to score a touchdown.

Although his main forte may seem to be kicking, the stubby junior's running has been the feature of the Idaho ground game.

Hall has picked up 227 yards on 57 carries this season to lead the Vandals in ground gaining and carries an average per rush of four yards second only to the five yard average sported by Larry Norby.

He has also grabbed off three

Ken Hall

Vandal publicist Ken Hunter came up with an interesting bit of information on the rugged character of the Idaho defense this season.

In five games, the Vandals on rushing and passing plays have lost a total of only 66 yards while they have thrown opposing squads for 192.

Against Oregon and Arizona State, the gridders lost more yardage than their opponents but in the last three tilts both the Idaho defense and offense have shown marked improvement.

Utah lost 64 yards to only nine for the Vandals, Oregon State 40 for four, and College of the Pacific lost 39 to four.

After looking at those figures, it would be easy to assume that Idaho won all three games handily, but actually they defeated only the Utes.

Sometimes "there just ain't no justice." At least in college football.

Frosh Open Season Against MSC Bobcats

The Idaho frosh football team will open its three game season against the Montana State College Junior Varsity at Wallace at 3 p.m. today.

The young Vandals will try to reverse last year's 12-0 loss to MSC.

KRPL will broadcast the game live from the field at Wallace. The Montanians have already played one game this year, in which they scored a victory over the Montana School of Mines.

Coch Anderson said yesterday that the traveling squad, which numbers 35, will leave at 7:30 this morning by bus for Wallace, and will return tonight.

The junior Vandals will be slightly below normal strength, as Everett Schutte, 5'11", 215 pound left guard from Eden, Idaho, and 185 pound Bard Spencer, fullback from Dundee, Michigan, are both in the infirmary.

Anderson stated that the team "appears to be ready for a ball game," and added that the squad seems to have grasped effectively the new material they have been working on this week, which includes kickoffs and punts.

Vandals Top Pass Defense; Willis Leads In Scoring

Ken Hall, Vandal fullback, maintained his Pacific Coast Conference lead in punting; Quarterback Howie Willis remained tied as the conference's top scorer; and the strong Vandal line pushed the squad to the top in pass defense as a result of weekend games.

Willis, Idaho's versatile quarterback, who is tied for the scoring lead in the Conference, and second in total offense, has chalked up a total of 214 net yards on the ground.

Hall has churned to 227 yards to maintain a 13 yard margin over Willis, Larry Norby, with 112 yards is next for the Vandals, followed by Lloyd Fenton with 105 net yards.

In the Punting department, Hall continued to lead both Idaho and the Conference, as he now has a 48.3 yard average. Willis is again Hall's closest competitor on the Vandal ball club with a 34.3 yard average. Kirk Wilson of UCLA trails Hall in the Conference, with a 44.5 yard average.

In passing, Willis leads Gary Kenworthy with 334 yards gained passing, as compared to Kenworthy's total of 138. Willis is also third in the Conference in Passing, where he trails Bob Newman of WSC and Jack Douglas of Stanford.

On the receiving end of Willis and Kenworthy's passes, Larry Aldrich leads Idaho with a total of 15 receptions for 210 yards. Aldrich is the No. 2 pass receiver in the Conference, where he trails Don Ellingsen of Washington State who has 310 yards on 22 receptions.

On the defensive side of the game, Idaho moved into the lead in the Pacific Coast Conference in Pass Defense, where the Vandals have allowed an average of only 65 yards per game through the air. The University of Southern California is right behind Idaho, as it has held their opponents to a 66.8 yard average.

The Vandals also hold down third place in the Punting department, where they have a 37.6 yard average. UCLA with a 42.4 yd. average, and WSC with a 37.6 yard average head the Vandals.

A good line is the shortest distance between two dates.

Oregon will contribute Center Charles Ridenour. Ridenour, who weighs 185, hails from Roseburg. After the Montana State College game, the Vandal frosh travel to Seattle, where they will play the Washington Pups. In last year's game with the Pups, the frosh were held to a 6-6 tie in a hard fought game. And in their final game of the season, the young Vandals will return to Moscow, where they will play the Washington State Pups. The Pups also downed the Vandal frosh last year, 12-7.
