

$1.5 Million in Steel and Concrete

This is the building that will be dedicated to the State of Idaho and its University tomorrow.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

A new university library will be dedicated tomorrow, and with it will be the realization of the dreams that have for many years been held by the faculty, administration, and students at Idaho.

The structure, certainly one to be proud of, helps move Idaho a little higher among the intellectually strong and highly respected institutions in the country.

Although buildings alone won't move scholastic ratings and intellectual values of a school higher, they do give better facilities in which the administration and staff can work toward that goal. This new multi-million dollar structure is devoted to collecting and storing information and knowledge for the students' use. The first hour spent by a student in the library and every hour afterward helps little by little to make a finer and stronger Idaho because of the fine facilities available.

Limited Budget

It is certainly too bad that Idaho cannot enjoy more such dedications of new physical additions to the campus. A limited budget has slightly slowed this state owned institution, compared to recent building fever that has hit other prosperous private universities and colleges across the nation.

Some make giant strides with tremendous programs that dazzle the budget minded administrators of state schools.

While such expansion goes on Idaho will continue, we hope, to keep its eye on one objective. The other schools may grow with tremendous strides, but will they keep in mind that they have to grow intellectually while the physical expansion is going on. We are certain Idaho will.

Idaho has a definite need for a great deal of physical expansion however; and Idaho's only university can only develop so far intellectually without financial help for physical improvement.

Rally 'Roars' Tonight For Last Game

"Roaring Twenties" is the theme of tonight's pep rally, scheduled for 6:30 in the Bucket of the SUB, rally chairman Jan White said. The rally is being held in conjunction with tomorrow's Idaho-Montana game.

"Students with raccoon coats, flapper costumes, and other paraphernalia of the period are asked to wear them," Miss White said.

The Vandal squad will appear, and Wayne Walker, center, will speak to the crowd. A Charleston skit and ukelele music will be featured and several numbers will be presented by the Idaho pep band.

Living groups are encouraged to make posters for event, and to sit in their group sections.

Over 300 students have signed up for the Vandals Boosters Club, according to yell king Marv Fischer, and will hold their first meeting Tuesday.

Halftime entertainment for tomorrow's game will include acts by the marching band and a drill by the army ROTC drill team.

Ex-Senator Herman Welker Succumbs In Washington

Herman Welker, former Idaho Republican senator and University of Idaho graduate, died at the National Institute of Health near Washington, D. C., Wednesday following two brain operations. He was 50.

Welker, who was chief defender and teammate of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) during his prolonged Senate investigations into Communist activities, entered the center on Oct. 16 and underwent surgery on Oct. 17 and again on Oct. 28. Friends of Welker said the operations were to relieve pressure possibly caused by a brain tumor.

He had collapsed twice in Washington during the waning days of his Senate career, but the nature of his affliction was never made public.

Relatives said Thursday funeral services would be held in Boise on a date yet to be announced.

The former solon, who was defeated in 1956 by Democrat Frank Church after one six-year term in the Senate, graduated from the University of Idaho law school in 1929. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Fraternity Theft Suspect In Latah Jail

A California man was being held in the Latah County jail today in connection with the theft of money and several other articles from Phi Kappa Tau fraternity early Wednesday morning. Curtis Eugene "Moose" Killingsworth, 27, was picked up by The Dalles, Ore., police Wednesday and brought to Moscow yesterday by Latah County Sheriff J. F. Jordan.

Fraternity officers announced that some time Wednesday morning a cash box containing over $600 in cash and checks was taken from the house safe. Also missing from the house were a wrist watch, clothing, luggage, and other items.

Police said that the suspect had a watch and coat answering the description of the missing articles in his possession at the time of his arrest.

Local police received word that the suspect had left by bus from Spokane for San Francisco after three members of the fraternity drove to Spokane Wednesday morning and found that a man answering Killingsworth's description had purchased a ticket.

A pickup order was issued to The Dalles police department and Killingsworth was apprehended from the bus when it stopped there at 3:20 p.m.

SMYLIE TO DEDICATE LIBRARY

Flu Flares Again, Delta Gamma Hit

A brief flare-up of influenza was reported here Tuesday and Wednesday as the University Infirmary filled up with ailing students for the first time in three weeks.

University Physician Dr. J. M. Fleming said students reported in increasing numbers Tuesday and Wednesday and filled the 50-bed hospital to capacity at the end of each day. Fleming said, however, that the total had dropped to 40 Thursday and showed signs of slackening off.

He said three women were still being housed in the Forney Hall auxiliary hospital because there were no remaining facilities for women at the Infirmary. A men's auxiliary hospital at Willis Sweet hall was reopened earlier in the week, but no patients were reported left there yesterday.

Delta Gamma, hard-hit by the disease this week, cancelled a Halloween exchange last night because of illness among their members, and Willis Sweet moved its dance to the SUB, but no other changes in the weekend social schedule were reported.

Officials said they suspected that the newest baby outbreak was a remnant of the influenza which three weeks ago spread rapidly through the campus.

Old Chairs To Be Replaced Soon Says Mix

The old folding banquet chairs, in service at the SUB since 1946, are being replaced with chairs of more modern and comfortable design, ASUI general manager, Gale Mix, said today.

New chairs, manufactured by the Steelcase Co. of Grand Rapids, are of all steel construction and the seat and back are covered with Naugehyde plastic. They are colored charcoal, with a lemon-yellow back rest.

Mix went on to explain that the replacement program will take about four years to complete, purchasing 100 new chairs each year. Mix said he chose the metal chairs after finding the wooden chairs to be inferior in durability and general appearance.

Heads Guest List

Gov. Robert E. Smylie will be honored guest and featured speaker at dedication ceremonies for the University's new library Saturday at 11 a.m.

United Party Selects 16 Candidates For Election

Sixteen students were selected Wednesday noon as United Party candidates for class elections scheduled for Nov. 14.

The group, chosen from a 32-member slate selected by Greek caucus Tuesday night, was selected in a primary election with member living groups participating.

John Bradbury, caucus president announced that the candidates will hold a meeting at 4 p.m. today in the SUB.

He also pointed out that the candidates will begin living group campaign tours next Monday.

The candidates for senior officers include Mike Patton, Beta, president; John McMinamin, Sig Chi, vice president; Lorraine Langdon, Theta, secretary; and Patti Rees, A Phi, treasurer.

The juniors on the slate are, president: Neal Newhouse, Beta, and vice president: Dick Kerbs, Farm House. Women are Carolyn Edwards, Gamma Phi, for secretary and Marge Erstad, Delta Gamma, treasurer.

"Chub" Anderson, SAE, will head the sophomore group, and Bob Bernard, Delta, is the candidate for veep. Nahn Alvord, Kappa, was selected the group's candidate for secretary, and Nancy Campbell, Gamma Phi, was nominated for treasurer.

The freshman group includes Bruce McCowan, Beta, as presidential candidate; John Fitzgerald, Delta, for veep; Barbara Branom, Tri-Delta, secretary; and Dolores Hormaechea, Gamma Phi, treasurer.

Ind. Propose More Class Officer Duties

An investigation into student government and campus activities is being conducted by Independent candidates for class officers to determine possibilities of increasing the jurisdiction of class organizations, caucus president, Lee Watenpaugh, said today.

Watenpaugh said the party and candidates believe that class officers' responsibilities should be expanded beyond the traditional one class week function and should participate more in student government.

"We feel class officers should have duties to fulfill and that they should continually be looking for things to do to meet the responsibilities of their office," Watenpaugh added.

Meanwhile campaign managers are preparing living group visitation schedules which will begin next week.

MASTER'S DEGREE DEADLINE

Today is the deadline for submitting Master's Degree Programs to the Graduate School office, Dr. L. C. Cady, graduate school dean, announced this morning.

Officials Attend Ceremony Governor Special Guest

Idaho's $1.5 million library will be dedicated at 11 a.m. tomorrow amid military pomp and speechmaking. Gov. Robert E. Smylie will make the dedicatory address in the main lobby of the recently-completed building, which took one year to construct.

A formation of Army, Navy and Air Force cadets will provide an official welcome for the chief executive and will line the walk leading to the building. As Smylie passes through the ranks he will be given the traditional four ruffles and flourishes by a drum and bugle corps from the University band.

Many Dignitaries

University President D. R. Theophilus will preside at the ceremonies. Special guests will include the school's Board of Regents, Idaho State College President Carl W. McIntosh, Latah County legislators, University library officials and faculty members, librarians from ISC and Washington State College, and architecture and contracting firm representatives.

Librarian Emeritus

Special guest at the ceremonies will be M. Belle Sweet, Idaho librarian emeritus, who first joined the University staff in 1905 and served for 43 years. She retired in 1948 and was succeeded by Lee Zimmerman, who took the initiative in planning the new four-story building.

Theophilus will also introduce Professor Mary Kirkwood, creator of a large mural painted in the library's lobby. The painting depicts man's enlightenment through knowledge.

A student audience will be accommodated in a first floor reading room and browsing room after the lobby is filled, planners said Thursday.

Temporarily Housed

The building, a sharply modern creation in concrete, provides the first permanent home for the Idaho library. For many years, the library was temporarily housed in the Administration building.

The new building also provides quarters for the University post office, formerly located in the U Hut.

Largest

One of the largest buildings on the campus, the structure is 205 feet long and 138 feet wide. The interior provides 89,806 square feet of space. The building will seat at one time 1,000 readers, and has a book capacity of 525,000 volumes.

An air conditioning system enables temperature to be maintained at a uniform 72 degrees. Also uniform throughout the reading rooms is the lighting provided by a luminous ceiling. Noise absorption has been achieved through the installation of a series of fins underlying the luminous ceilings of the reading rooms.

On each floor there is a glass-enclosed sound-proof typing room. Both an inter-com and chime system, with 26 outlets, have been installed throughout the building.

Browsing Room

Another special feature is a browsing room. Arranged around its walls are current newspapers, general periodicals and interesting books selected for their appeal to students.

At the exterior of the main entrance is a relief map in stone of the State of Idaho. Beside this map is carved the inscription: "Here is the knowledge of centuries past that all may come and share today."

Gov. Smylie Guest At GOP Coffee Hour

Gov. Robert E. Smylie has accepted the invitation to attend an informal question and answer type discussion and coffee hour sponsored by the Young Republicans, Neal Newhouse, organization president, announced this morning.

The meeting will be at 4:30 today in the SUB Syringa room and is open to all students and faculty.

The Young Democrats have been invited and have expressed willingness to attend, Newhouse commented.

NAVY TEAM HERE TUES.

A Naval Officer Information team will be on campus Tuesday to discuss the various opportunities in obtaining commissions as a Navy officer with students. They will be in the SUB from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Curtain Rises On Ring Round Moon At 8

By JIM FLANIGAN

"Everything must end happily. It's only decent."

This piece of philosophy by Madame Desmortes, portrayed by Rose Marie Perrin in "Ring Round the Moon," sums up the plot of the 3-act comedy by Jean Anouilh.

The ASUI production will be presented tonight and Saturday at 8 on the Ad auditorium stage under the direction of Jean Collette, drama professor.

Students will be admitted with ASUI activity cards. Tickets are selling for 75 cents at the University Bookstore and Hoagin's Drugs in downtown Moscow.

Taking the lead roles are Edgar Vandevort, Lindley, and Diane Kail, Kappa. Vandevort plays two parts—Hugo, a playboy type character, and his brother, Frederic, who is just the opposite in personality.

In Winter Garden

The action takes place in a winter garden in the springtime, and the plot revolves around a party that is to be given by Madame Desmortes, Hugo and Frederic's aunt.

Isabelle, played by Miss Kail, is invited to Madame Desmortes' chateau for the party by Hugo, without his aunt's knowledge. The original title of the play was "L'Invitation au Chateau."

Completing the cast are Tony Matson, as Joshua; Caryl Heth, Diana Messerschmann; Mary Ellen Bennett, Lady India; Bert Allen, Patrice Bombelles; Marilyn Pritchett, Capulet; Art Lindemer, Messerschmann; Ken Bartlett, Romanville; and Mary Margaret Broderson, Isabelle's mother.

Ed Vandevort instructs Diane Kail who plays the second woman in the life of the hero of "Ring Round the Moon," which opens tonight for a two-performance run.

Flu hit the Idaho company several weeks ago causing a postponement of production until tonight. The thespians had a brief vacation from rehearsals, but Miss Collette began a heavy work schedule after the disease was quelled.

French Play

Jean Anouilh, the French playwright, was eluded by fame until production of "Antigone" and "Ring Round the Moon."

"Ring" was adapted for English speaking audiences by Christopher Fry, who first tasted success with his plays "The Lady's Not for Burning" and "Venus Observed," the latter of which won the Critic's Circle Award.

After an outstanding success in London, "Ring Round the Moon" came to the Martin Beck Theater in New York City on Nov. 23, 1950. The comedy ran 68 times under the direction of Gilbert Miller, and it starred Denholm Elliot as Hugo, Stella Andrews as Isabelle, and Lucille Watson as Madame Desmortes.

A New York Times reviewer saw it as "a play of many moods—wistfully romantic, satirical, fantastic..."

Anouilh has often called his three-act play a "charade." He explains that he created all his characters as exaggerated, unreal people—except for Isabelle, a ballet dancer who is always pictured by her mother as "one headed for fame."

Alry Set

"The stage in "Ring" has a light airy set with a lot of greenery and plants in the garden to gain a festive mood," Howard Dorgan, drama instructor handling the technical aspects of the shown, said.

"A ball room party scene in the garden is a good example of this. Lighted Japanese lanterns and gay party decorations are used during this act."

About three-fourths of the stage is a glass wall that affords a view of the lawn that leads down to the lake. The rest of the indoor garden is walled in by an intricate mesh work that has ivy climbing up it.

Roman brick tiers are up stage and all the way around the bottom of the glass walls. A modernistic fountain is located on the left, down stage, and a rock bench is on the right.

Stage Manager Cliff Cook and a number of crews worked diligently to perfect the set. Most of the properties were completed in the U-Hut shop, before moving them to the stage.

Assisting Director

Assisting Miss Collette in directing the production are Don Harris and Joan Fisher.

They Have A Right To Speak

Down at UCLA, a big college with a campus that is prone to become involved in off-beat controversies, a basic question of constitutional rights is brewing.

At that populous school, a group of "Young Socialists" is in a protracted struggle with the school administration to distribute its publication, "The Young Socialist," on the campus. In addition it is being attacked by the UCLA Daily Bruin for disseminating Socialist propaganda under the mask of the most democratic of practices, that of "free and open discussion."

Last week the October issue of this publication arrived here, filled with commentary on the Little Rock situation and a report on an NSA blast at students who went on the Red China sight-seeing excursion two months ago.

This newspaper is "the voice of the American radical youth" by its own admission and is undeniably radical throughout. For those who dogmatically believe in democracy it is probably even a little "pink" in some places.

We do not believe either in principle or in practice with the ideology the producers of this publication profess to believe. It contains scathing blasts at American "conservatives" and questions some of the bases of our democratic system.

At the risk of being branded as un-informed or dogmatic toward our democratic society, we make it clear: at this point that we as future formulators of public opinion and collectors of information will continue to believe in and support our free competition.

We, however, will attempt to correct the mistakes that well-meaning citizens of this country do make. We may even die to correct them at some future date. That is part of supporting wholeheartedly a society which has been productive for us and which tolerates the minority who contests the validity of that society.

These "Young Socialists" are just such a group — one entirely foreign to our conception of loyal Americans.

But they do have the right to preach their idea of what America should be to those that will listen provided they do not violate a regulation arrived at by due process of law. There are those who brand these students as Communist tools and they may be. However, until they are proven so or are stopped by a court injunction, they have every right in a free society to present their case.

This ruling banning such literature at UCLA appears to us to be the grossest type of censorship. We are certain that intelligent Uclans would soon forget this movement if they were not stopped from getting their literature.

And if they did find something worthwhile in this propaganda, then it could be brought to the mass of the people through free and open discussion, by far the best method of educating, regardless of the Daily Bruin's contention.

Looking at this situation with practicality, it is plain stupidity to make martyrs out of this handful of radicals. It would be far better to let the students at UCLA read, discuss and then decide.

If the editors of the Bruin, the school's administration or the California legislature persist in their apparent "witch hunt," let them do it quietly and then produce the facts that will once and for all either brand these "Young Socialists" as Communists or vindicate them so that they can return to their virtually ineffectual haranguing.

Meanwhile, let the informed adults that compose the student body of UCLA judge the merits of this philosophy for themselves.

New officers of the city group are: Mrs. James Bowly, president; Mrs. Richard Snyder, vice-president; Mrs. A. B. McDonald, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, treasurer.

Regents OK Request For New Institute

Approval of a newly-organized Episcopal Institute to offer courses in religion to students attending the University of Idaho has been granted by the regents, President D. R. Theophilus announced today.

"Under its charter, the university itself teaches no courses in religion," explained President Theophilus, "but the university has long encouraged the program for students to take religious courses in their particular faiths, with up to six credits earned being transferred to the students' university records."

The Episcopal Institute will be the fourth organization of its kind serving university students. Operating for many years have been the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, representing various Protestant churches, the L.D.S. Institute of Religion and the Catholic Institute of Religious Education.

The Episcopal Institute will be established at Canterbury House, a student center erected some years ago by the Episcopal church. Authorized to teach at the new institute is the Rev. Robert V. Lancaster.

Seminar Discusses Spectrophotometer

An infra-red spectrophotometer will be the subject of discussion at a seminar to be held in Science 110 at 4 p.m. today, W. C. Cone, physical science head, announced yesterday.

This machine gives information about bonding between molecules in an object of composition by measuring the amount of infrared rays actually penetrating the object. It works much like a photographer's light exposure meter, Dr. Cone explained.

Dr. Richard E. Reiss, representative of Baird Atomics, Inc., will demonstrate and explain the $10,000 machine.

The machine will be open for analysis of samples between 1 and 4 p.m. today and the seminar is open to anyone interested.

Campus Politicos

Two Tough Slates, But Weak Spots

Now that the two parties have hacked their way through the bewildering lists of hopefuls that perennially predate every election and have finally decided on the standard-bearers, it would be beneficial to look at the slates and their selection.

The Independents stuck to their traditional, if not always productive, strategy of picking candidates from every hall on campus. In all four classes they picked out strong candidates for their top two slates—the presidency and vice presidency—but spread thin when they picked the two more minor offices.

Here is where the "spread thin" plan was especially effected. All of their 16 candidates are known in varying degrees on the campus with the exception of the freshmen, who have no record to judge.

Whether independent halls will back their individual "local" candidates to a degree that will elect them is questionable. Election in these class choices is not proportional; one hall will not elect anyone.

Over on the Greek side, the problem of picking candidates was muddled by last-minute disqualifications and party delegations dropping in and out of the caucus in a maddening display of confusion and close, deceptive voting.

Biggest question-mark was junior Reed Bowen, who for the second time made it clear he was not sure what class he belonged in or at least declined to inform anybody about it.

Last spring Bowen did the same rather disquieting thing by running for student body president as a junior and suddenly was pulled out by the registrar because his transfer credits were not in order. He apparently tried the same thing this year, and though he is a political unknown, managed to get through again. Wednesday morning he got scratched because of the same disability and an especially weak also-ran was substituted.

Bowen also is closely tied with another problem that is plaguing the Greeks.

The two new Greek affiliates, Alpha Gamma Delta and Theta Chi, have become something approaching Alfred E. Newman (of What! Me Worry? fame) political monsters who are apparently in the wrong party.

The Alpha Gams, who are officially a rushing, chartered sorority, put two candidates on the Independent slate and have an Exec Board member who supports the Independent theories.

The Theta Chis, who are a loosely organized, unchartered local, jumped into the midst of the United Party from their Old Student Government perch and fielded five candidates, of which all but Bowen

Jim Golden's Campeyeing Buildings Cover Parking Lots Maxey Looks At Truth

There's another big weekend pending. Upcoming Saturday is the dedication of the University's new library and a tough tilt with a hot Montana State University team.

Biggest of the two, interest-wise (a Madison Avenue expression) is the library dedication with Gov. Robert Smylie heading the list of dignitaries. It isn't every day that a new library is dedicated here. In fact, it's not even every century that such an event occurs.

These building dedications come few and far between, but somehow the school seems to grow—gradually covering up all the parking lots. Those who have the courage to look ahead predict that sooner or later we may be parking somewhere near Pullman, Wash., and footing it back. A glum prospect and besides, what would happen to the novelty of that annual walk to WSC Idahoans apparently enjoy so much?

Prexy Maxey On Truth
ASUI President Dave Maxey, a mean man with a phrase, took a look at the Arg's motto on the masthead this week and produced a neat (if pessimistic) alternative that is sometimes more truth than fiction:

"That you shall know the truth and the truth shall get you all fouled up."

Domino—Railroad Magnate
Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager, reports somebody pasted an especially descriptive sign on Pats Domino's block-long (approximately) Cadillac Saturday.

Read the poster: "Union Pacific Railroad."

"It was about as long as four railroad cars," said Mix.

Another One
Here is a new addition to the fast-growing collection of brilliant journalistic efforts this writer is saving for future reference. This from a house news reporter:

"The hall was scheduled to have five speakers from Hays Hall come over last Tuesday night for an Etiquette Forum. When the five guys that went over to Hays arrived there, they discovered that the Frosh girls had pulled a sneak, never got past the caucus.

There is a large blob of a query now circulating in the United ranks as to what exactly these two groups are attempting to do.

But regardless of the confusion, the United crew pulled out a strong list of appealing candidates, all of whom have strong records of service to the school and past political experience. Strangely enough, many of them did poorly during the three-hour "cut" session that produced their slate.

Weakest of these is probably the sophomore class which is bottom-heavy with two strong women aspirants, but lacks power at the top.

What the independents think of the whole 16-member list is the problem at the moment.

FARMHOUSE
Guests over the Homecoming weekend were the parents of Dick Kerbs, Jay Garret, Tom Stroscheln, and Dick Hayes.

Clark Bedow has returned from a products judging contest at San Francisco. Jay Garret left Thursday morning on a beef-judging trip to San Francisco.

The house would like to express its appreciation to the girls at the Tri-Delta house for their co-operation in building the Homecoming float.

UPHAM HALL
Mrs. Gracie Pfost attended dinner at Upham last Monday night. Mrs. Pfost gave a short after-dinner speech and answered questions in the lounge after dinner.

Upham welcomes back Mr. and Mrs. Derr from their trip East. We offer our condolences to Mrs. Derr.

Thanks to Hays for entertaining five bewildered boys at dinner Tuesday evening. We only regret we couldn't be there.

PHI DELTA THETA
Our thanks go out to the Kappa Alpha Thetas for their hard work on the float.

Everyone enjoyed themselves at the Gamma Phi-Phi Delt Halloween Exchange Thursday evening. Congratulations to Craig Marcus on appointment to the Leadership Board.

New AUSA pledges include Dick Clericuzio, Frank Hunter, and Dick Cripe.

BETA THETA PI
Tubbing of Stu Robertson highlighted the week at Beta Theta Pi as Barbara Schaffer, Forney Hall, rescued the Beta senior Tuesday from a mixture of water, molasses pancake flour and feathers.

Miss Schaffer was honored Wednesday night at a serenade as some sixty Betas sang at Forney Hall in honor of her engagement to Robertson.

BTP regretted the cancellation of the Halloween exchange with the Delta Gammas because of the sickness at the house.

Beta Theta Pi also enjoyed the building of the Homecoming float with the Delta Gammas.

Pledge class of BTP enjoyed escorting the Alpha Phi pledges to the football rally Friday night right after the pajama parade.

Visitors who were in attendance for Homecoming activities included Beta members Bill Knox, Bill Ostrander, Denny Hague, and Erik Berggren.

TMA
Thanks to the Dames Club for helping with the float. You are invited to attend our victory dance at Moose Hall on Nov. 8.

Congratulations to Lee Waterpaugh on becoming Independent Caucus president and his nomination for junior class president.

Also, congratulations to Leon Lewis on his nomination for Freshman Vice President, on Independent ticket.

Tom Hoots and Howard Willis are all smiles now. Seems Tom has a new daughter and Howard brings a little quarterback.

A pat on the old back too for Oon Elg who has received a $500 scholarship from First Security Bank.

Next meeting will be in conference room B, at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 7.

DELTA SIGMA PHI
Guests for Homecoming were Mrs. Everett Bonnicksen and son, Mrs. Clinton Dougherty, Filer; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boyd, McCall; Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Patton and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clovis, Craigmont; Mr. William Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Marcey Taragan, Caldwell; Mr. and Mrs. Loeppey, Lewiston; Mr. Don Shannon, Wenatchee, Wash. and Mr. Bill Exworthy, Elk River. A buffet dinner was served for the guests.

Dinner guest last Wednesday was Mr. Snider of the Horticulture Department.

KAPPA SIGMA
The Kappa Sigs had a very busy weekend due to Homecoming. We were honored by a large number of parents, alumni, and guests who attended the buffet dinner held at the house after the game.

Guests for the weekend included Ron Treat, Don Harper, George Merritt, Rich Hormaechea, Bob Snyder, and Gary Gould.

Thanks go to the Delta Chis for their help in constructing the float.

We wish a speedy recovery to the fellows from the house who have succumbed to the plague and are now residing at the infirmary.

We express thanks to the Thetas for the talent displayed in the skit which they provided for us Tuesday evening. We are anxiously awaiting the next performance.

DELTA TAU DELTA
Delts entertained many alumni, parents and guests at the Shelter during the Homecoming weekend.

Sunday dinner guests were Mrs. T. W. McCartney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sauls, Moses Lake, Wash., and Barbara Ison, Portland, Ore.

Guests for Monday dinner were Mike Stowe and Layton Severson, both of Twin Falls.

The annual Halloween exchange with the Tri-Delts, scheduled for Wednesday night, had to be cancelled because of the large number of flu cases at the Tri-Delt house.

SIGMA NU
Congratulations are in store for Bruce Summers who recently passed his pin to Nadine Talbot of Boise.

Thanks to the Kappa's for their guidance and assistance in building our Homecoming float. We didn't get first, but we got the next best, second place, and had a lot of fun building it. Tom Requist, Fred Ringe, Nels Moller, Rollee Lodge, Skip Nelson, Suzie Snow, Judy Orcutt and June Sleeman deserve special praise for their never-tiring efforts.

Decorations for our pledge dance Saturday are underway.

Houseguests last weekend with Butch Daugherty, Larry Adams, Bud Dove, and Jim Jepson.

Late but sincere congratulations to the five new members of Sigma Nu. They are Dick Bohlschird, Wayne Wallace, Bruce Summers, Laird Noh, and Gary Farnsworth. Our new Jr. I.F.C. representatives are Bill Pasley and Larry Hobson.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON
Many thanks to the Pi Phi members and pledges, who serenaded for their sign which adorned the front of the SAE house for over a week; to the Alpha Chis for the good time we had building the Homecoming float; and to Chuck Thomas, Art Misner and Dennis Wickwire, who put in so many hours building our float.

Homecoming guests this last weekend were: Mr. and Mrs. Vance Dobson and Kathy; Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Nunat; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gates; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Henson; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Longfellow; Mr. and Mrs. Len Raschka; Miss Marcia Cervia; Miss Judy Meir; Miss Joan McLean; Marlin Briggs; and L. D. Haight.

Congratulations to Meldon Anderson for his nomination by the United Party for sophomore class elections; and to Bob Vallat for a good job well done on Homecoming this year.

Thanks to the Kappa members and pledges for lots of fun on our annual Halloween exchange.

PI BETA PHI
Best wishes go to Carol Kurdy and Warren Hawley, Alpha Tau Omega, who announced their recent pinning.

The Pi Phis had a wonderful time entertaining our Pi Phi sisters from WSC last Tuesday. A buffet-style Chinese dinner was served, after which we were taken on a lion hunt by Darl White. The pledges also presented a hilarious "reception-room" skit. All in all, it was loads of fun.

Congratulations to Tonia Peterson, who was chosen "roommate of the week" by president Ginger Symms.

FORNEY HALL
Best wishes to Colleen Casey and Duane Heber, Coeur d'Alene, on their recent engagement. Wedding date has not been set.

Plans for a Christmas wedding are being formulated by Barbara Schaeffer and Stuart Robertson, Beta.

Congratulations to Carrol Globber and Bob Bigler, on their pinning.

Thanks to the Betas for the serenade in honor of Barbara Schaeffer and Stuart Robertson's engagement.

A good time was had by everyone at the all-house dinner exchange.

Finalists

One of these five beauties will be Esquire Girl Nov. 23. They are Kathy Thompson, Gamma Phi; Caroline O'Connor, Theta; Neale Ward, DG; Roxanne Jones, Alpha Chi; and Tonia Peterson, Pi Phi.

Wesley Foundation Students Attend Conference Retreat

Ten Wesley Foundation students will attend the fall retreat of the Pacific Northwest Conference of the Methodist Student Movement in Ellensburg, Wash., next weekend, Ed Kale, president of the Washington-North Idaho group, announced today.

The conference is planned around the theme, "Ecumenicity not Simiplicity," with emphasis on the world-wide aspect of the church.

Kale said the main speaker at the meeting which will be held on the Lazy F Ranch several miles south of Ellensburg will be Rev. J. Stanley Barlow, director of Westminster Foundation at the University of Oregon.

The conference will attempt to answer the question, "Why is the Church so separated from every day life?"

Kale said the conference program would also include recreation and some mixer type activities.

WESLEY FOUNDATION
W. A. Billingsley, University music department, will speak on various types of music at a meeting of the group Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Methodist Church basement.

WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION
There will be a panel discussion of "Is the United States trying to Conquer the World?" Sunday night at the 5 p.m. dinner meeting. Rides from the CCC will be available at 4:45.

Coffee Hour is held on Tuesday afternoons and a work-party will be held at the CCC Saturday morning.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS ASSN.
Mr. Allen Dieter, campus student worker, will be the speaker at Sunday evening's meeting. He will discuss the "European Study Project" in which he was a recent participant. The meeting will be at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church at 5 p.m.

During the business meeting questions which members would like discussed by a clergyman will be collected. These are to be used as a guide for a speaker planned for the near future.

ROGER WILLIAMS FELLOWSHIP
Everyone is invited to a Halloween party this Saturday evening, Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. in the church basement.

On Sunday evening Mr. Roger C. Larson, representative for the Camp Easter Seal Crippled Children, will be with us to tell about

WRA Hockey Team To Meet WSC Today

The WRA field hockey team will meet WSC at Pullman today at 3 p.m. in their last regularly-scheduled game of the season.

Last Friday, Idaho defeated WSC, 2-1 in a game called because of darkness with several minutes remaining. Ginger Symms and Jackie Wainwright scored for Idaho while Carol Husing tallied for Washington State.

Game Last
Today's game will be the last for the WRA squad until they travel to Eugene, Oregon, Nov. 15, for the Northwest Field Hockey Tournament.

Making the WSC trip today will be Karren Anderson, Joan Baldeck, Harvette Brown, Kristin Damm, Carol Edelblute, Joanie Ferris, Betty Galley, Normandie Griffin, Shirley Horning, Jamie Hughes, Rose Kimpton, Sheila McGuire, Penny Preston, Anna Marie Rice, Pat Rosholt, Diane Smith, Janemarie Smith, Dolores Stippleh, Ginger Symms, Sue Thomas, Jackie Wainwright, Joyce Weaver and Betty Wiswall.

Italian Musical Tour At WSC

The appearance of the Symphony Orchestra of the Florence Festival at Bohler gymnasium on the WSC campus Tuesday, Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. will mark a musical event of prime importance. It is the first season in 38 years that change with Willis Sweet Wednesday evening. The evening was highlighted by dancing and apple bobbing.

Dinner guests this weekend were Barbara Krieg, St. Maries; Peg McDaniels, St. Maries; Naomi Johnson, Karon McCracken, and Jean Ann Saxton.

LINDLEY HALL
Thanks to all the fellows who stayed up most of the night Friday to finish the float, and special thanks to Bill Hardie and Larry Ferguson, float co-chairmen, for a job very well done.

Congratulations to Lowell Grim and Joanne Horton, Nampa, who were engaged Friday. A spring tubbing is planned.

Guests for dinner Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walker, of Parma. Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Grim, and Joanne Horton, Nampa.

Thanks to the Hays Hall girls who came over to give us dancing lessons last Thursday. Also thanks to Hays for the dinner exchange Wednesday.

ALPHA PHI
Thanks to the Fijis for the wonderful time we all had at the Halloween exchange Sunday afternoon.

Guests over homecoming weekend were Mrs. Scofield, Mrs. Harmon, Mary Evans, Julie Kennedy, from Mountain Home; Anita Wilcomb, Lynette Heiss, Dolores Kkolintopp, Jerome; Sharon Cox, Nampa, Gladys Pollard, Boise, and Sheila Lord from Caldwell.

Plans are underway for our pledge dance which will be held Saturday night.

Thanks to the Delts for the serenade Tuesday night in honor of Marla Gill's pinning to Don Wenzler.

Congratulations to Pati Rees who is running for senior class treasurer on the United party ticket.

an Italian symphony orchestra has been heard on these shores.

The 97-piece Symphony Orchestra of the Florence Festival is an integral part of the celebrated "Maggio," a music festival noted for its color, variety and popularity. It is the official orchestra of the historic city of Florence.

Three of Italy's principal conductors are accompanying the orchestra on its American tour, thus signaling the importance with which this visit is regarded. The three conductors, who will alternate honors are Carlo Zecechi, Franco Ferrara and Franco Mannino.

The performance will open the Moscow-Pullman Community Concert Series. Students are to be admitted on presentation of student activity cards.

Blue Key To Select Meeting Delegate

A delegate to the Blue Key Regional Convention and publications plans for the Kampus Key will be decided at a meeting of the group Monday, at 12:30 p.m. in the SUB Mezzanine, Jack Cole, president, said today.

A delegate will attend the convention on the Fresno State College campus November 14-16.

Cole said work should begin next week on publication of the Kampus Key, Idaho student and faculty directory.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA
To the Sigma Nus, thanks for our Homecoming investment. "In the Bank." You did a tremendous job. Western Union brought the good news of the recent pinning of Ella Gaye Springer and Dale Williams, Delta Sig.

Costumes, refreshments and big sisters greeted the pledges at a surprise Halloween fireside, Wednesday night.

Congratulations to newly tapped Helldiver, Rosie Maule.

Super Sub!
It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist. Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet. Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable. Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

Chapman Favors Cooperation With Faculty On Parking Needs

By Don Ingle
Evaluating and solving Idaho student's problems stands as the guiding light for ASUI Exec Board member John Chapman in his activities this year.

Chapman, one of three students now serving on the Exec Board representing the United Party, was elected last spring with one of the longest lists of activities recorded at Idaho.

He has participated on more than one-half the major ASUI committees and at the present time is serving on two important investigating Exec Board groups. He is currently on an evaluating committee of Idaho's parking situation and is acting as a liaison person from the students to the University Library administrators.

Parking Committee
Chapman said the Exec Board parking committee is working on Idaho's parking problem and hopes to be able to make recommendations at the end of this year which will be satisfactory with the students and the administration.

"The parking problem is as much a faculty and administration problem as it is the students," he said. "We hope the faculty will work closely with the students to solve the problem."

The member called attention to two alternative solutions the committee could recommend, but said the group was trying to find ways to make more parking space available.

"The other solution of limiting cars on campus does not appear feasible at this time," he added. "The distances students travel to members of the current Exec group have overcome party affiliations and are functioning as a unit for the betterment of the ASUI.

"The new student government system started last spring which places more responsibility on the Vice-president and decreases the President's load has helped the Board work to improve the ASUI," he said.

Chapman is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity and is a senior from Twin Falls.

In addition to working on ASUI Committee, he is a member of Blue Key, upperclassman service group; National vice-president and former duke of Intercollegiate Knights, a national service organization; Pi Gamma Mu, social science honorary; and Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary.

He is also president of the Young Democrats, and was a co-chairman of last year's Religious Emphasis Week.

come to school coupled with the lack of adequate transportation facilities out of Moscow makes it necessary for many students to have cars at school."

Improved Library
Last spring the Exec Board approved a list of recommendations for operating of the new University Library to meet the needs of the students.

The recommendation of having the library opened Sunday afternoon and evening instead of just for three hours in the afternoon has been implemented in the building's current program.

"We feel that several other improvements in the buildings operations can be accomplished by this method," Chapman said. "Plans are now under way to submit some more recommendations to the Exec Board in a couple of months."

"Things students have indicated that they would like to have in the library—such as smoking privileges in the lounge and having a coffee machine in the building—could be included," he added.

Educated Students
Chapman throughout his campaigning and ASUI activities has emphasized the concept that activities in organizations and student government should contribute to the students' education.

"To develop this idea," Chapman said, "the ASUI should sponsor a program which uses discussion groups, panels, and speakers on current international and national problems."

"A similar program is now working very successfully on the WSC campus under the name of 'Popcorn Sessions.' Attendance at these meetings ranges from 200-1500 students."

Kay Represents Idaho NSA At Regional Conference

Jim Kay, ATO, will go to Seattle today to represent Idaho at the Great Northwest Regional NSA Fall Conference to be held on the University of Washington campus Saturday and Sunday.

Kay's trip was approved by the Exec Board Tuesday night following lengthy discussion of the need and usefulness of NSA on the Idaho campus.

The evaluation session will continue next week, with Kay making a detailed report on the organization and his findings at the regional conference.

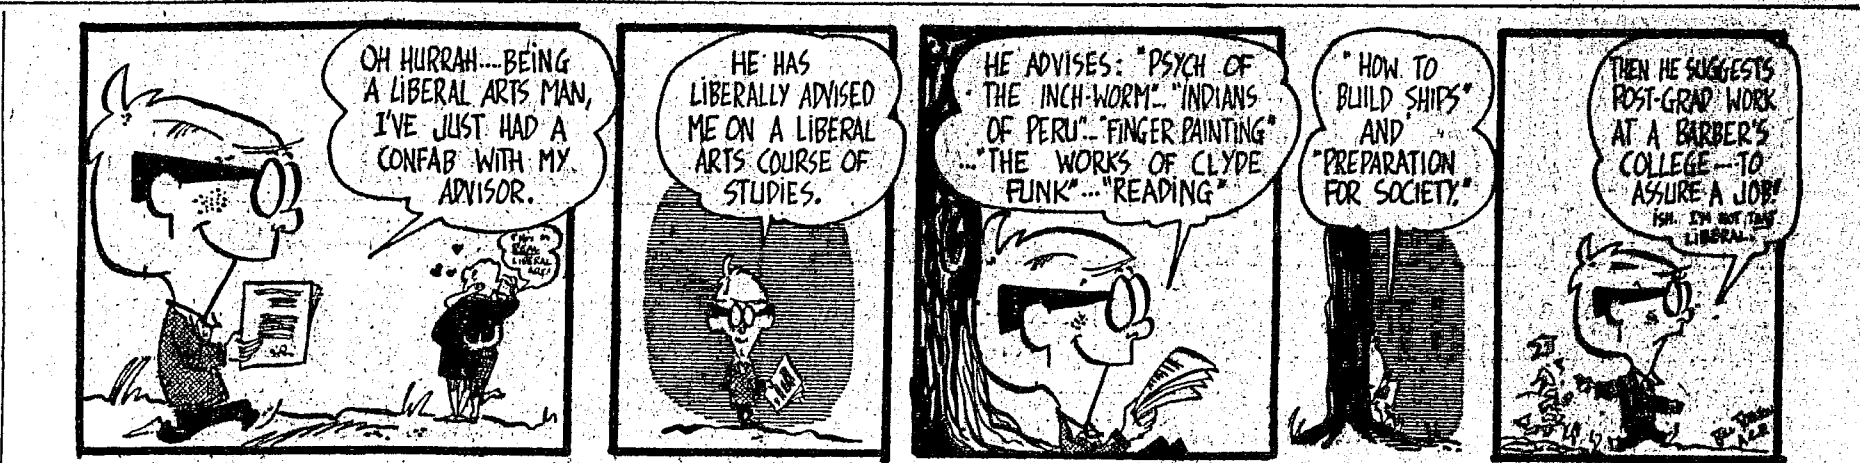

Program for the Regional Conference will include a review of the National Students Congress held last summer on the University of Michigan campus, area directors will report on the programs they plan to have schools work on this year, and student government problems will be hashed over in discussion groups.

Kay is the Idaho NSA coordinator, and in charge of the organizations operations on campus. He is also a Regional area director in charge of the Student Government commission.

Five Questions
During the evaluation session at the Exec Board meeting members posed five main questions which they will attempt to answer at next Tuesday's meeting.

Board members asked if enough results of NSA at Idaho could be presented to justify the expenditures, which Kay estimated would come to $120 per year.

Other questions asked were: Will information NSA supplies be of use to the University of Idaho? Is NSA being used to the fullest extent for supplying information on student government? Is there any other area in which NSA can serve the University besides information?

Cal Glee Club Cements Japan-US Relations

"Making friends through the common bond of 'music' was the work University of California glee club did this summer in Japan. Members are back to campus now with the applause of the Japanese still in their ears.

Said one Japanese paper about the student singers: "Their expression was so friendly, so pure, healthy, youthful and cosmopolitan that . . . they gave an illusion that we had known them for a long time and saw them in our classrooms."

The Japanese seemed to prefer folk songs, pieces with high rhythmic interest and soft lyrical songs, the glee club's conductor told the Daily Californian.

Geological Deposit Described In Book

Deposits of copper, gold, lead, silver, cobalt and tungsten in the Leesburg area of Lemhi county are described in a new publication announced today by Dr. E. F. Cook, director of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology.

Judging Teams Go To San Francisco

Two judging teams, one from the Animal Husbandry department and the other from the Dairy husbandry department, left Thursday morning for San Francisco to compete against about nine other western colleges in judging competition Saturday, Prof. D. L. Fourt, Dairy Husbandry, said.

Representing Idaho on the dairy cattle judging team are Ronald Beal, Thomas Cooper, Dale Pline, and Larry Pline. The team will return next Tuesday night.

Competing in the Intercollegiate Livestock Judging Contest at the Cow Palace are Idahoans John Garrett, Wayne Henry, Arthur Misner, Charlene Roth, and Charles Swenson. They will be accompanied by Professor C. W. Hodgson.

Other schools participating in the judging competition include WSC, Oregon State College, University of California, Fresno State, California Polytechnical College, Utah State College, and University of Arizona.

Exec Board Approves Date Of Holly Dance

An ASUI committee membership and a date for the Sophomore Holly Dance were approved by the Exec Board Tuesday night.

The Board approved three students selected by the Board of Selection and Control for the Leadership Conference group.

Appointed were Marge Erstad, Delta Gamma; Tom Stroschein, FarmHouse; and Craig Marcus, Phi Delta.

The date recommended for the Sophomore Class Holly Dance was Dec. 14. This date has been sent to the Calendar committee with the recommendation that it be considered a closed night to other campus functions.

No action was taken on other suggested dates for activities that normally have closed nights. The Board said other class and organization function dates could be closed later.

The Board tabled to next week a motion to place the annual Campus Chest Drive under control of the Junior Class. The class has handled the drive to raise money for charity organizations for the past two years.

Tom Stroschein was appointed as student representative to the University Public Events Committee replacing Marcia Ellis, Kappa, who resigned to serve on the Student-Faculty Committee.

One of the faculty's lectures was so dull the other day that two empty seats got up and walked out.

A barber looked at a young man's sleek hair cut and then asked if he wanted it cut or just the oil changed.

Studio Tryouts Set For One-Act Plays

Studio One-Act tryouts are set for Monday in the U-Hut at 7 p.m., Jean Collette, drama professor, announced today.

Three scenes from Greek plays will be presented this year — two from "Oedipus Rex" and one from "Antigone."

Clifford Cook, Rose Marie Perrin and Joan Fisher are the student directors named by Miss Collette for the one-act productions set for early December.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

Though this column is intended to be a source of innocent merriment for all sexes and not to concern itself with weighty matters, I have asked my sponsors, the makers of Marlboro, whether I might not, from time to time, use this space for a short lesson in science. "Makers" I said to them, "might I not, from time to time, use this space for a short lesson in science?"

They agreed with many a kindly smile, the makers of Marlboro, for they are the most agreeable of men. Their benevolence is due in no small measure to the cigarettes they smoke, for Marlboro is a cigarette to soothe the most savage of breasts. I refer not only to the flavor which, as everyone knows, is a delight to the palate, but also to the Marlboro container. Here is no fiendishly contrived device to fray the fingernails and rasp the nerves; here, instead, is a flip-top box that opens like a charm, and inside you find a handy red tape to lift out the cigarettes with ease and dispatch. Add to all this the best filter ever made, and you can see that you get a lot to like.

Let us begin our series of science lessons with chemistry. It is fitting that chemistry should be the first, for it is the oldest of sciences, having been discovered by Benjamin Franklin in 488 B.C. when an apple fell on his head while he was shooting the breeze with Pythagoras one day outside the Acropolis. (The reason they were outside the Acropolis and not inside was that Pythagoras had been thrown out for drawing right triangles all over the walls.)

LITTLE BROWN STEIN CLASH TOMORROW

Both Squads Lose Starting Senior Ends; Grizzlies Primed For Third Upset

Idaho's Vandals, minus the services of end Larry Aldrich, meet the red-hot Montana Grizzlies tomorrow at 1:30 in Neale Stadium. To the winner will go the symbol of the annual clash, the Little Brown Stein.

Coach "Skip" Stahley's Vandals have been in possession of the Stein, traditional symbol of rivalry between the two schools since 1950, when the Grizzlies defeated Idaho 28-27.

Since then, Montana has not been able to come up with a win. Coach Jerry Williams, former Washington State and professional football star, has not defeated the Vandals in two years as coach at the Missoula school. While at WSC, Williams never lost to an Idaho team.

Williams has made it known publicly that he is out to get this game. "We could beat Idaho," he said, "but it will be really tough with a young and building squad." "I can't positively say we'll win, but I definitely don't concede defeat."

A crowd of 6,000, including Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie, is expected to watch the tilt. Smylie is here to dedicate Idaho's new library.

At press time, Stahley had not named a successor to Aldrich at left end. Aldrich, who suffered a shoulder injury last week will see no action.

Four men, J. D. Lawson, Don Ridener, Bud Dowling, and Bob Eyer have been competing for his spot this week. Lawson, who has seen a lot of action at right end this season, would seem to have the inside track for the left wing spot but that may change before the start of the game.

Montana also suffered a big loss at end when two-year letterman starter Pete Rinehart suffered a dislocated shoulder last week. He will not play against the Vandals.

Vandal guard Jerry Smythe, who played with a badly bruised face against Fresno State may not start this weekend but at last report he will see some action.

MONTANA—Les Vierra and Terry Hurley, ends; Karl Benjamin and John Dixon, tackles; Bill Hand and Stan Renning, guards; Mick O'Brien, center; Earl Keeley, quarterback; Russ Grant and Matt Gorsich, halfbacks; Ervin "Tank" Rosera, fullback.

The Grizzlies have won two games while dropping four this season. The Vandals have won two, lost three, and tied the College of Pacific Tigers, 7-7.

Gridders Fall In PCC Pass Defense After Fresno Tilt

Last Saturday's Homecoming game with Fresno State pushed the Vandals out of the lead and into third place in the PCC pass defense column, but kept Idaho quarterback Howard Willis on the top in the scoring department, where he is tied with Jim Shanley of Oregon.

Both Willis and Shanley added one touchdown to their credit over the weekend, to raise their totals to six apiece.

Willis Second

On total offense, Willis continued to hold his second place position in the conference, where he trails Bob Newman of WSC and leads Joe Francis of Oregon State. Newman has a total of 724 yards, Willis has 656, and Francis has 577.

Although Willis is a consistent ground gainer, as evidenced by his yardage gaining quarterback sneaks against Fresno State, most of his yardage came through the air, where he ranks No. 3 in the conference, with 408 yards.

Willis trails Newman, with 669 yards, and Jack Douglas of Stanford, who has 492 yards.

Larry Aldrich, glue-fingered Idaho end, held onto his second place spot in pass receptions with a total of 16 for 219 yards in six games. Don Ellingsen of WSC with 334 yards heads Aldrich.

Ken Hall's punting average dropped .4 of a yard in the Homecoming game to 47.9, but he still holds a comfortable lead over Kirk Wilson of UCLA who has a 45.4 average.

Hall also had a field day in the rushing department, as he chalked up 79 yards to raise his year's total to 506 yards on the ground.

Guiding the Reins

Howie Willis, a passing and running wizard at quarterback for the Vandals, will be a key figure tomorrow as Idaho attempts to pick up its third win of the season. In addition to his other talents, Willis shares punting duties with Ken Hall.

Williams' Charges Are Win Hungry After Hibernation

Severely hampered by the flu bug early this season, Coach Jerry Williams' Montana Grizzlies have snapped their hibernation and are win hungry.

The Grizzlies, who could get in only one pre-season scrimmage because of flu, dropped four straight games but have pulled two major upsets the last two weeks.

Williams' fired-up charges surprised a good Utah State eleven, 35-25 two weeks ago and last Saturday defeated New Mexico's Lobos 21-6. The Lobos had been on their way to the Skyline Conference championship.

Leading the Grizzlies have been junior quarterback Earl

Keely and junior guard Stan "The Ram" Renning.

"Keely is just what our team needed," Coach Williams said earlier this year. "He runs the club out there with the poise and forethought of a pro quarterback."

Renning has been named the top Grizzly lineman in every one of the first six games. Although he weighs only 200 pounds, Renning is a vicious blocker and tackler, and extremely fast for a lineman.

Terry Hurley, a 6' 4" 200-pounder, will be on the receiving end of many of Keely's passes. Hurley caught 20 last year for 204 yards and is considered a top-flight defensive performer.

Two massive tackles, Karl Benjamin and Gary Kennedy have buoyed the defense.

Mick O'Brien, stocky 5' 9" 190-pounder from Spokane's Gonzaga prep will get the starting call at center. Senior Bill Hand, 220, will be at the other guard.

Pete Rinehart, tough defensive performer and a sure pass receiver will not see action against Idaho due to a dislocated shoulder. His place will likely be taken by junior Les Vierra.

Ervin "Tank" Rosera, hard-charging 190-pound senior is among the Skyline Conference's best fullbacks. Sophomore Russ Grant and speedy Matt Gorsich will be at halfbacks.

Jerry Connors, 5' 8" 158-pound former Gonzaga prep star might wrest the starting wingback post from Grant.

Williams, who has never coached a Montana team to a win over Idaho, will send a belatedly-healed team, with a solid line and improving backfield, against the Vandals.

Swimming Into Semi-Finals; Meet To Kickoff Volleyball

Swimming has held the intramural spotlight this week. Semi-finals were held last night in everything except diving. Earlier this week the diving preliminaries were held with the semi-finals getting under way tonight. The finals in all events will take place Monday.

Point score thus far, shows Idaho Club in the lead by a wide margin.

There will be a meeting of all intramural managers at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 109 in Memorial Gymnasium. Plans will be discussed for intramural volleyball. Tentative date for the start of the volleyball tournament is November 11. The gym is open for practice from 7:30-9:30 p.m. every week night.

Intramural director Clem Parberry said participation was excellent in both football and tennis. All time high records were set in participation in both sports. Cross country and swimming, however, did not have the usual high turnout, probably due to the flu epidemic.

Sheppard To Meet Modie For ASUI Golf Championship

In final round action in the ASUI golf championships, John Cranston defeated Bob Pierce to take first flight honors. The final match of the championship flight, which pits Dick Sheppard against Don Modie, is to be played this weekend.

Winners in four of five flights: Championship flight: Final match to be played.

First flight—John Cranston. Second flight—Paul Smith. Third flight—Gary Thompson. Fourth flight—Laverne McMahan.

Willie: "Papa, what makes the world go round?" Papa: "How many times have I told you to stay out of the cellar?"

Babes Drill For Husky Frosh Clash

With no game scheduled for this weekend, the Idaho frosh are concentrating on smoothing out their offense, and tightening their pass defense, in preparation for next week's tilt with the University of Washington frosh at Seattle.

The young Vandals, 48 strong after four weeks of practice, suffered a set-back Wednesday night, when tackle Ed Moomaw suffered a shoulder dislocation.

Moomaw, who frosh coach Wayne Anderson described as "showing he was willing to go all out," will probably be lost for the season.

Novotny Stars

At the other tackle position, Eugene Novotny is continuing his rugged type of play, Anderson reported. Anderson also added that halfbacks Roger Johnson and Dave Christy are "really starting to come into their own."

End Bill Hill has been shifted to flanker-back in an effort to strengthen that position. Hill, a 175 pounder from Sheldon, Connecticut, has been turning in a good job at end, and is expected to strengthen the backfield considerably.

"I've got a friend I'd like you to meet." Athletic girl: "What can he do?" Chorus girl: "How much has he?" Literary girl: "What does he read?" Society girl: "Who are his family?" College girl: "Where is he?"

Competing against Idaho at the Spokane affair will be Washington State College, Whitworth, Whitman, and Eastern Washington.

An outbreak of flu so incapacitated the Vandals that they were unable to practice for the game.

Two other members of the team will not make the trip. They are Milt Riggers, out with a leg injury, and Ray Hutton.

Glander said that he was extremely hopeful that the Vandal harriers would extend their victory string to eleven and was optimistic about the squad's chances.

Coach Joe Glander named a six-man squad, including Frank Wyatt, Ron Adams, Dick Boyce, Pete Reed, Mike Lund, and Bruce Wendle, to the traveling squad yesterday.

Neutral Corner Hall Just Short Of Kick Lead; Montana's Many Woes Listed

By Dwight Chapin
Once again by the thinnest of margins, Idaho's "booting" Ken Hall has been denied the nation's kicking leadership. Hall's average of 47.9 yards per kick is tops in the nation, better than his nearest rival by more than two yards, but his 14 kicks fall one short of the minimum for consideration.

He still tops Kirk Wilson, UCLA, last year's Coast and national punting leader and is recognized as the top kicker in the PCC, however.

Quarterback Howie Willis, with 656 yards, is now ranked 10th nationally in total offense and end Larry Aldrich, despite having been hampered by the flu and a shoulder injury is eighth in the nation with 16 pass receptions.

J. D. Coleman, athletic tub-thumper at Montana, came out with a descriptive, if somewhat wordy, dissertation on the Grizzlies' football fortunes this season in a recent press release.

It read in part: "Tomahawked by Redskins, hoovered by Cowpokes, slashed by Cougars and shot by Pioneers, a battered and bitter Grizzly Saturday turned on its embattled haunches, mauled and clawed an unsuspecting Farmer, then returned to its lair to await an invading pack of marauding Lobos."

"Whew." In the words of an ancient philosopher, "That's quite a mouthful, son."

The above represents the fate which threw Montana into a king-sized muddle before the season and from which the Grizzlies are just recovering.
