

Recruiting Plan Pushes Science

Idaho has joined other American colleges this year by emphasizing scientific fields and personal counseling in its student recruitment program.

The Greeks concluded their four-day activity week Saturday as their overflowing bandwagon greeted to a stop with the Greek Week dance.

Looking back, the Greeks may have accomplished a great deal in their annual Greek Week. The result (when all the loose ends were wrapped up) may be some very good publicity for the University of Idaho.

Some part of the week did deserve praise. The charitable efforts of the Junior IFC and the pledges of each living group went surprisingly well.

The students met the challenge of raising $1,000 with enthusiasm and energy, and just about achieved a goal that a great number of observers (including Jason) had deemed almost impossible.

Now Junior IFC officials have the funds for their seeing-eye dog, and intelligent selection of the right person for the award will be important in adding a successful last chapter to the charity drive.

We still maintain, however, that despite the success of some phases of Greek Week, it was too drawn out and included too many time-consuming activities.

If this activity marathon is to be tried again in years to come, it would seem a little more thought could be given to the overloaded campus activity schedule, and that functions such as street dances in the middle of the winter be looked over carefully before being included on the slate.

Student Views Questionnaire Out Next Week

A questionnaire designed to gain indications of student opinion on University buildings will be circulated to 600 students by the NSA committee this week.

Jim Rathbun, Willis Sweet and chairman of the local NSA educational affairs commission, said the questionnaire would be handed out to 10 campus living groups during the noon meal.

Two yes or no questions and a place for comments will be asked. Rathbun said the committee was trying an experiment to attempt to find a method for gaining student opinion on problems and actions of student government and school administration.

"The purpose stated on the questionnaire," Rathbun said, "states that we are polling student interest and concern in the University's policy regulating speakers appearing before the student body."

"We want to gather information to show whether students are backing the Exec Board proposal for changing the present speaker policy which restricts political figures appearing before the students in University buildings."

Questions on the questionnaire will be (1) Would you like to have speakers on controversial issues appear before the student body in 'University buildings? (2) Is a knowledge of partisan activity an important part of college life? and (3) Comments.

The Board of Regents recently appointed one of their members to study the proposed changes in policy and make recommendations at the March meeting.

The ASUI Exec Board, faculty of the Social Science department, and faculty of the College of Law has all sent proposals for liberalizing the present policy.

REGISTRATION CLOSURES D. D. DuSault, registrar, announced today that 5 p.m. Friday, Feb. 28, is the last day students may register for classes and receive credit.

Greek Week Winners

First place winners in two Greek Week contests receive their trophies from IFC President John Rosholt: Sue Livingston and Pat Rogers, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma, which won top honors in the women's division at a variety show Friday; Jerry Smythe, Sigma Nu, who won the "Ugly Man" contest, and DeLance Franklin, Lambda Chi, winner of the variety show's men's division.

Episcopal Bishop Named As RE Keynote Speaker

An Episcopal clergyman who is main speaker for Religious Evaluation Week has established a name for himself in church circles through his contributions to religious literature, Helen Gregory, RE Week publicity chairman, explained yesterday.

The Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., who is slated to speak to Idaho students during the RE meetings Sunday through Wednesday, Feb. 26, has written "This Holy Friendship," "Gifts of the Spirit," "The Optional God,"

"Christian Living," and "In the Sight of the Lord."

Bishop of the Diocese of Olympia, Mr. Bayne received his B.A. from Amherst College and the S.T.B. and S.T.M. degrees from General Theological Seminary. He holds several honorary degrees from colleges and seminaries.

Miss Gregory also released the background on the other speakers scheduled to speak during the week. Christine Stockley received her A.B. from Pacific University, a

B.D. degree from Union Theological Seminary, and an M.A. degree from Columbia.

Dr. Anand Malik is presently a visiting lecturer for the department of education at Idaho. He has a B.A. in mathematics and an M.A. in English literature, from Punjani University in India.

The Rev. Carl H. Mau, Jr., received his B.A. degree at Washington State College and his B.D. from Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. He is presently pastor of the Lutheran Memorial Church in Tacoma, Wash.

Reverend William A. Sanderson received his B.A. degree from the University of Cincinnati. He received his B.H.L. and M.H.L. degrees from Hebrew Union College.

Father J. Sarsfield O'Sullivan is a native of Montana. He did his undergraduate and graduate studies at St. Edward's Seminary in Kenmore, Wash., and Notre Dame University in Notre Dame, Indiana. He has spoken at several R.E. Weeks, including Montana State College and Montana State University.

Boyd A. Packer, a native of Brigham City, Utah, is supervisor of seminaries and institutes of Religion for the Church of Jesus Christ.

'Better Campus Meetings' Holds Session Saturday

Working in clubs, honoraries and living group organizations that have meetings will be discussed at the "Better Meetings on Campus" workshop this Saturday in the Borah Theater of the SUB starting at 9:30 a.m.

Functions of officers, members and committees in all types of meetings will be emphasized in the one-half day session.

The workshop is sponsored by the ASUI Leadership committee as the second of a series of workshops designed to present ideas and information to all students in the area of participation, planning and working in meetings.

Committee chairman Tim Daley and Don Ingle said today that a definite program would be drawn up using a speaker, discussion groups and movie at the committee's next meeting Wednesday night.

They said students attending the first workshop two weeks ago reported that they would like to have more time in small groups discussing and exchanging ideas on specific problems of organizations

"We are attempting to organize a program that will be informative and interesting to all students," Ingle said. "We will give opportunity for students attending the session to practice and develop ideas which can be applied to meetings they attend."

The BMOCC session will also go into planning meetings, implementation of ideas, conducting meetings and setting goals.

The individual members position in a meeting and organization will be pointed out in the session, Ingle said.

Committee members in addition to the chairmen are Lowell Martin, Willis Sweet; Jim Kay, ATO; Craig Marcus, Phi Delt; Marg Erstad, Delta Gamma; and Tom Strohschein, FarmHouse.

First Technical Rehearsal Indicates Assorted Troubles, Some Miscues

By JIM FLANIGAN Crews and cast for "Kiss Me, Kate" suffered through a night of mistakes last week when they got together for the first technical rehearsal of the show held in preparation for opening Feb. 27.

However, this is a typical occurrence with any play's first technical rehearsal. During the three-hour session, nothing seemed to function properly on stage.

In the first act the rope that controls the large, blue front curtain went haywire and remained that way until it was repaired at intermission.

Several actors missed their cues causing Jean Collette, co-director, to reprimand them. Once a group of women dancers couldn't continue because their male partners were missing.

directed orders on lighting effects, blackouts, curtains, and stage set moves, over a telephone connected with the backstage.

Calmer director was Harry Morrison, who has charge of the musical numbers. He did stop the action periodically to issue one or two comments, but he didn't become too frustrated.

As the cast, chorus and dancers took a smoke break in the dressing room beneath the stage between acts, they seemed confident that the show's loose ends would be tied together before opening night.

Leading man Larry Black admitted, "It's a lot of work." Director Collette, who had been giving private consultations during this period, emerged from another room and gave the go-ahead for the second and final act.

Greeks Collect $985 During Charity Drive

Greek Week organizers took stock of their four-day money raising and promotion effort Monday and pronounced it "A successful project that benefited the whole Greek system."

Junior Interfraternity Council President Andy Anderson said about $985 was collected from three projects, only $15 short of the $1,000 goal. He said his group would go ahead with plans to finance the training of a seeing-eye dog for a blind person, reason for the fund drive. He said the dog would probably be given to a resident of southern Idaho.

Greek Week Co-chairman Tom Edwards yesterday termed last week's activities as "very successful," but added that there are a "lot of loopholes that need to be corrected."

Will 'Hash Over' He said that chairmen of the event, the first in Idaho history, would "hash over" results of the project at a meeting soon. "Of course, there will be some changes to discuss," said Edwards. Edwards pointed out that fraternities and sorority members gave "excellent" support to all activities during the week and evaluated workshop session Thursday as "especially good."

Smythe Wins Jerry Smythe, Sigma Nu, was named "Ugly Man" following three days of voting which netted $225 toward purchase of the seeing-eye dog. Smythe supporters donated over $60 in dimes to elect him from a field of 16 candidates.

A Variety Show Friday night attracted over 200 persons and added nearly $100 more in gross receipts to the fund. Trophy winners from among 21 competing acts were a Kappa Kappa Delta group which presented "My Funny Valentine," and DeLance Franklin, Lambda Chi, who sang "Old Man River."

Saturday Busy Pledge classes from 17 fraternities and sororities fanned out over an area extending from Moscow to Lewiston Saturday in an effort to raise the fund total to the $1,000 goal.

Delegations from the Theta, ATO, Delta Sig and Delta Gamma houses drove to Lewiston and in a one-day campaign that included working in service stations and washing cars, raised $350, the most money collected in any single town.

In Moscow, an "auction" of pledge slaves produced $235 and another $80 came from another auction of fraternity and sorority members by pledges. About $100 more was added in miscellaneous donations.

Pledges from Kappa Sig, Phi Delt, Phi Tau, SAE and FarmHouse fraternities and women from Alpha Chi, Tri-Delt and Gamma Phi sororities worked in the Moscow area.

'Impressed' Anderson, who headed the Saturday campaign said Monday he was "especially impressed by the enthusiasm shown by freshmen who participated." He added that "some people said we would only raise $500. We proved they were wrong."

Late donations, said Anderson, will probably lift the total over the $1,000 mark. Meanwhile, IFC President John Rosholt announced that competition for a "Help Week" trophy donated by ATO would begin immediately. To enter the contest, fraternities must abolish all "Hell Week" activities and perform community service projects instead. He said that all projects would have to be completed by May 1.

Nominations Deadline Set In Selecting Miss U of I

Nominations for the Intercollegiate Knight's "Miss University of Idaho" contest must be turned in to an IK representative by 7 p.m. tonight, Neal Newhouse, Idaho chapter duke, said this morning.

The winner, who will be crowned at a semi-formal dance in the SUB ballrooms March 7, will also receive the title IK queen of Queens and will enter the Knight's national queen contest.

Candidates, who are nominated by women's living groups, will be narrowed to a field of 10 by an IK committee. Judges for the final choice will be from out-of-state.

The pageant for selecting the queen will be held in the University auditorium March 7, at 7 p.m. Admission to the affair will be 35 cents per person and 50 cents a couple.

Intermission at the dance Friday will feature the queen's presentation. Music will be furnished by the Esquires.

Jack Macki, Willis Sweet; Mike McNichols, Phi Delt, and Larry Ripley, ATO, are in charge of the dance, Newhouse said.

He pointed out that the Idaho IK's queen would enter the Miss Idaho contest set later this year. The coed's expenses will be paid to Boise, where the state-wide competition is to be held.

Tickets Ready Wednesday for 'Kiss Me, Kate'

Tickets for "Kiss Me, Kate," will go on sale Wednesday in the University Bookstore.

The ASUI sponsored musical-comedy, slated for Feb. 27-28 and March 1, will cost Idaho students 35 cents upon presentation of their activity cards.

Adult reserved seat admission is set at $1, while faculty members may purchase two tickets for $1.50, if they show their cards.

Student Lodges Assault Charge

James A. Laviletta, off-campus Saturday evening charged a Moscow man with assault with a deadly weapon in a complaint following an alleged altercation at the Nobby Inn.

Laviletta, a junior in civil engineering, charged Wayne Mayberry, manager of the restaurant, assaulted him with a pair of scissors.

Laviletta's wife had been employed by Mayberry and, according to police, had been discharged Saturday.

Mayberry was released on his own recognizance by Justice of the Peace L. Lamont Jones.

Debate Meet This Weekend At Nampa Site

The University debate team will compete in the senior division of the Idaho All-State debate tournament this year according to Dick Sorrenson, debate team member.

Previously the team had competed in the junior division, taking first-place in 1954 and again last year.

The tournament, to be held Feb. 21-22 at North-West Nazarene College, Nampa, will discuss the subject Resolved: That membership in a labor union as a condition for employment should be made illegal. This will be the fourth time this year that the University debate team has argued the subject.

Same Theme When asked why the team uses the same theme over and over, Dr. A. E. Whitehead, debate team coach, explained that "it takes so much research to make a good debate that most schools in the US find this method the best."

This year, the team consists of four, two-man teams and one individual who will enter other events.

Besides debate, other events offered are extemporaneous speaking, oratory, interpretative speaking, and radio-TV speaking.

William Currie, SAE, is the individual candidate. The team members are Reed Bowen and Dick Sorrenson, Lindley Hall; Karen Stedfield, Mary M. Broderson and Pat Decker, Kappa; Gordon Chesters, Phi Delt; Dick Hughes, Delta Sig.

Colleges entering this year are Idaho State College, Ricks College, College of Idaho, Boise Junior College, North-West Nazarene and the University of Idaho.

Idaho Club's 60 Members Have Vacated

The last members of Idaho Club moved out yesterday and the hall is now vacated except for the proctor and hostess, Robert F. Greene said today.

According to Greene, 62 members moved to other halls, two rented a trailer, and one or two moved into fraternities. Several withdrew from school but not because of the closing of the club, Greene said.

Proctor and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Brent Cummings, are going to live in their apartment throughout the semester.

'Pregnant Narratives' Give Teacher Slight Trouble

By Jim Flanigan—Practice teaching has its good and bad moments as any education major will tell you.

College Men Like TV Fare Better Than Coed Critics

Answers to a question in a survey conducted by Associated Collegiate Press as part of its yearly study of student opinion indicate that, by a slight margin, college men are more satisfied with programs available on television than are coeds.

Thirty-eight per cent of the men interviewed rated television's general fare as "excellent" or "good" as compared with 38 per cent for the coeds.

Associated Collegiate Press obtained this information by asking the following question of a representative group of American college students across the nation:

In separating the favorable categories of "excellent" and "good," it becomes apparent that, although men are generally more favorable, coeds hold a proportionally slight edge on their male classmates in rating programs as "excellent."

'Everything You Want' One notion seemed consistent among those who felt television's programming was excellent.

A Bradley University (Peoria, Ill.) sophomore coed feels just the opposite from those who think television in general is excellent.

1958 Decisions IRC Subject Of Discussion

Organization of Great Decisions of 1958 discussions will be the subject of an International Relations Club meeting set for this afternoon at 4:10 in Conference Room A at the SUB.

Paul Baker, IRC president, announced that an outline of the program sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association will be set up, and that objectives to be aimed at through the discussions will be established during the meeting.

Baker explained that the first of the eight Great Decisions topics would be discussed at the next meeting a week from today.

The Great Decisions program deals with discussions of eight critical world situations prepared by the Foreign Policy Association.

Greek Week 'Rests In Peace' As Officials Ponder Money Use

The Week of the Greek is over. A grand total of something close to one thousand bucks is in the coffers. All's well, or so it would seem.

It might be interesting to run back over the festivities for the enlightenment of the other half of the campus which did not get engraved invitations.

The house exchanges were moderately successful, although they lacked the conviviality the Greeks usually manage to instill in their functions.

The variety show with its 21-count 'em—21 acts, pleased most Greeks who didn't mind the crowded conditions or who weren't turned away from the Moscow Hotel's banquet room.

House Dances And Officers Are Prominent Socially

Campus social activities make marked increase. Sigma Chi energetically prepare formal dinner dances. Rumors say: "The Embers, a college dance band, may have been approached about making recordings."

Earlier this week Jim Swayne announced his pinning to Carol Patrick. Last of all, the rumor has it that Bart Paff passed his pin off campus.

HAYS HALL
The first sign of love is the last of wisdom—or is it? Nevertheless Hays Hall has another engagement and another pinning to chalk up. Congratulations to Claire Hansen and Larry Drexler, Willis Sweet, on their engagement and to Joan Fisher and Bob Watson, ATO, who announced their pinning at dinner Sunday. Miniature cards accented with two hearts and the names Joanie and Bob inscribed in each formed centerpieces on each table. Joan wore a corsage of white roses.

Dinner guests included Colleen McDevitt, French House, and Bob Howell, Dwan Tesohldek and Kenny Baker, all off-campus. Weekend guest was Mrs. Edwin Herr, Nampa.

FORNEY HALL
We all braved the death-defying slide down the fire escape again last Wednesday as we tested our ability to escape from a flaming Forney. We would like to thank the Tekes for giving us a refreshing rinse with their lawn sprinkler as we rode gally by on the fire truck.

Congratulations to our two interpretative contortionists, Shiela Yarrol and Beth Hoesner who were tapped for Pre-Orchesis.

Thanks to the Lindley fellas for the all-house exchange Wednesday. Congratulations to two more new officers. Barb Wheeler is our new WRA representative and Betty McLean is the new culture chairman.

Barbara Davis was very pleasantly surprised Valentine's Day when the hashers selected her as Hasher's Sweetheart and presented her with a dozen roses.

A guest to dinner Thursday night was Mrs. Roger Williams, the former Anita Koskella. Anita was given a surprise shower after dinner.

GAULT HALL
Congratulations to the Gault Hall team for taking the Independent intramural basketball championship, and to Larry Hattermer, Hall sports manager.

Roman B. Ramos, a graduate student from the Philippines, was a guest speaker at dinner last week.

Welcome back to Rich Willey, who recently returned from practice teaching at Grangeville.

SIGMA CHI
Congratulations to Gary Krier on his engagement to Ida Miranda, Alpha Phi.

After recuperating from the after effects of their sneak, the pledges mustered up enough energy to serenade for their clothes.

Dinner guests for Sunday dinner were Mrs. Magnuson, Dolores Hormaechea, Gamma Phi, Mr. and Mrs. John Murry, and Bonnie Bright, Spokane.

The upperclassmen are busily preparing for their dinner dance Friday at the house.

Congratulations are also going out to Jake Talbot, who recently received his commission as an Ensign in the Navy.

Valentines And Interests Announce Two Engagements Hansen-Bozarth

A valentine motif of cupids and hearts set the scene when Gladys Hansen, Gamma Phi, announced her engagement to Bill Bozarth, Lewiston, at the Gamma Phi house Sunday.

A styrafoam heart embedded in a heart base formed the centerpiece. Cupids completed the arrangement.

The ring was concealed in a heart nosegay of red and white carnations.

Individual valentine favors, bearing the theme "A Heart's Content," depicted a mock medical report.

Miss Hansen is a junior majoring in education. Her fiance is a junior majoring in Pre-medics at Harvard College.

Dinner guests were Mrs. Alfred Hansen and Mrs. Gordon Bozarth, Lewiston.

No wedding date has been set.

Kroll-Lunstrum

"One Plus One Equals Two" was the theme used to announce the engagement of Valerie Kroll, Pi Phi, to Bruce Lunstrum, Delt, at the Pi Phi house.

Math and art books spread upon the table gave clues to the prospective couple's majors. Black and white slates were given to all the guests.

No wedding date has been set.

Transistor Phones At AIEE Tonight

New developments in transistorized telephones will be the topic when the American Institute of Electrical Engineers meets at 7 p.m. tonight.

A representative of Bell Telephone Laboratories will address the session in room 104 in the Engineering Building.

A movie, "Unchained Goddess," will be shown.

Dr. Paul Emmett Will Lecture Here

"New Approaches to the Subject of Catalysis" is the topic of a lecture to be delivered on campus Thursday by Dr. Paul H. Emmett, professor at John Hopkins University.

Sponsored by the local chapter of the American Chemical Society, the speech will be held in room 110 of the Science building at 7:45 p.m.

Muckers' Ball In A Casino Saturday At 9

A gambling casino will be the decorations theme for the annual Muckers' Ball Saturday at 9 p.m. in the SUB ballrooms.

The Associated Miners, dance sponsors, will display mining equipment outside the ballroom.

To portray the peak of the mining rush, the south ballroom will have various gambling games.

There will be mouse roulette, with live mice instead of dice, black jack, dice tables, and chuck-a-luck, a game in which three dice are rolled inside a cage.

A total of $1,500 worth of play money will be handed out at the door to each couple for gambling.

At the end of the dance, an auction will be held to sell miners' gold pans.

Music in the main ballroom will be by Bob Baker's Continentals. Admission is $1.50 per couple and the dress is casual.

Dick Peters, off-campus, is in charge of the dance. Tom Archibald, off-campus, is president of the Associated Miners.

New Students To Take Tests

New students on the Idaho campus with less than junior standing will be required to take a battery of guidance tests Saturday, according to C. H. Bond, University Chief Counselor.

Registration for those students will not be completed until after they have completed the tests, to be given at 8 a.m. in Ad Building 104, he pointed out.

Part-time students carrying six credits or less do not have to take the tests unless they desire, Bond said.

Pancake Supper Tonight At Canterbury House

A pancake supper will be held tonight at the Canterbury House from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Bill Cady, an experienced chef with an outstanding pancake recipe, will supervise the food preparation.

Tickets will be available at the door for those who didn't purchase in advance.

Committee chairmen: Table decorations, Charlotte Darling, off-campus; ticket sales, Robin Merrill, Delta Sig; table service and kitchen work, Lorraine Langdon, Theta, and Pat Day, Pi Phi.

New officers chosen at the last regular Canterbury meeting are as follows: president, Bill Cady, Upham; vice president, Robin Merrill, Delta Sig; and secretary, Sharon Jenkins, Kappa.

The Rev. Harold D. Fleaharty urges students to make a good beginning for Lent by attending Holy Communion at 7 a.m. on Ash Wednesday.

LDS
A talk entitled "The Importance of Habit," presented by Jim Christensen, Lindley Hall, and slides of a recent trip to England shown by Sharon Shuldberg, Hays, will highlight activities at the MIA meeting tonight.

MIA meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30.

"Does your husband talk in his sleep?" "No, it's very exasperating. He just grins."

French Club To See Slides

E. Malcolm Hause, associate professor of history and political science, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the French Club at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Canterbury House.

His impressions of Europe in 1957 will be related by Dr. Hause, who was group leader of a University-sponsored student tour to Europe last summer. He will also show slides of his summer travels.

Simmons Nets 37 To Spark Vandals; Hodges Praises 'Great Team Effort'

The Idaho Vandals took the cue from guard Gary Simmons and posted their first PCC basketball win in history over the UCLA Bruins, 73-67, at Memorial Gymnasium Saturday night.

Idaho overcame a big early Bruin lead, tying the contest at halftime and moving in front early in the second half.

Coach Harlan Hodges, elated over the win which dealt a severe blow to UCLA title aspirations, praised the entire Vandal squad.

Neutral Corner Fans Got Their Money's Worth When Idaho Staggered Bruins

The question everyone wanted the answer to after the Idaho-UCLA game at Memorial Gymnasium Saturday night was, how many points did Gary Simmons get?

By way of an explanation, it is this reporter's assignment to prepare a statistical record of each and every Vandal basketball game.

After every game a number of interested spectators always drop by the scoring bench to inquire how many points this player or that has scored.

Needless to say since the crowds at Memorial Gymnasium are nearly always highly partisan, we get many more inquiries after a victory than after a loss.

It was quite surprising, though, that such a large number of interested persons should want to check the scoring totals after this particular game, especially since the Vandals had just finished a disastrous road trip.

That was the kind of a game it was, however.

We think we would be correct in saying that a majority of those who filed in to witness Saturday's game came only because they had bought reserved seats at an earlier date or came for want of something better to do.

Thrilling Action

We would also probably be correct in saying that 40 minutes of more thrilling action could not have been purchased anywhere at any price.

In this corner Friday we predicted it would take a miracle for Idaho to defeat the Bruins.

As usual, our prediction was taken for what it was worth, nothing, by the Vandal players and most everyone concerned.

Or perhaps you could conceive Simmons as a miracle. But then he has been turning in that sort of performances all season.

Outstanding

Credit must go to Simmons for a truly outstanding job.

Don't overlook the other Vandal players, however. Whydon Coleman, Jim Branom, Gary McEwen, John Liveious, B. J. Schaffer, each played a major role in the victory.

In this corner, Feb. 11, we rapped officiating on the Vandal road trip to Washington, Oregon and Oregon State.

Any such article written after the particular reporter's "team" loses smacks of a "sour grapes" attitude. We don't deny that.

But we firmly believe that when a sports reporter feels that improper officiating, or any other incident for that matter, has a bearing on a game, it is his duty to report it to his readers.

It has been said that a college reporter never finds fault with officiating after his team is victorious.

To dispel that notion, we would like to take issue with two of the calls, one hurting Idaho, one hurting UCLA, in Saturday's game.

Midway in the last half, the Bruins' Rafer Johnson tipped in a UCLA shot. He was fouled, clearly by a Vandal.

Misplaced Basket

But then the confusion started. He was awarded a free throw and after he made it was given another. He also sank it.

Coach Harlan Hodges and the Idaho players objected vociferously. The scorer's bench clamored for a ruling.

Within earshot of this reporter one of the officials said that Johnson was given the extra free throw because Idaho had over six team fouls in the half (a situation calling for the one and one free throw.)

All well and good, he was told. But how about Johnson's basket? If it counted he was entitled to only one free throw. The official then said that Johnson had not made the basket, another Bruin player had.

An interesting sidelight to this matter, never entirely cleared up, is the fact that all persons scoring the game on the scorer's bench gave the basket to Johnson.

In another instance, Vandal John Liveious and a Bruin player were scrambling for a loose ball at the Idaho end of the floor.

Liveious obviously knocked the ball out of bounds but the referee nearest the play called it a jump ball.

As Liveious entered the Idaho key to jump, a wide grin broke over his face. He probably thought, "If you saw it that way, I'm not gonna argue."

Art Spander, sports editor of the UCLA Daily Bruin, apparently has let some of the love of southern California sportswriters for Northern PCC teams rub off on him.

In a by-lined story in that paper, Feb. 11, Spander discussed the Bruins' upcoming road trip to WSC, Idaho and Washington.

"If UCLA can get past Washington they have a good chance for the conference championship," he said.

With that remark he implies that UCLA wasn't even bothering with Idaho.

It looks like the mighty monsters of the Los Angeles midway stumbled onto a sleeping David, and just like the Goliath of old, didn't realize that little stones carry big wallops.

Idaho's Gary Simmons, who collected 37 points, fakes around UCLA's Walt Torrence in Saturday's game won by the Vandals at Memorial Gymnasium, 73-67. A partisan crowd of nearly 5,000 watched the action.

Open Quick Lead

UCLA, led by the long jump shots of guard Denny Crum and forward Jim Halsten, opened up a quick lead. The Bruins once led by as much as ten points in the first half.

With Simmons leading the way in scoring and John Liveious picking off several rebounding shots, Idaho closed the gap late in the first half.

Center Gary McEwen took over the hero's role as the second half began, dumping in two left-handed hook shots in what proved to be the game's turning point.

After that UCLA tried vainly to catch the high flying Vandals. Simmons' sparkling work on jump shots and free throws and a last minute Idaho stall thwarted them, however.

Idaho hit .371 per cent of its shots from the field. The Bruins were not quite as accurate, hitting .324 per cent of their tries.

Burke Tops

Forward Connie Burke led the Bruin scorers with 12 points, most of them in the second half. Guard Walt Torrence followed with 11.

Guard Whydon Coleman was second to Simmons for the Vandals with 10 counters.

A total of 49 personal fouls were called in the encounter, one of the roughest of the season in spots. UCLA's Crum was ejected from the game for an intentional foul late in the second half, after he had spilled Idaho's Coleman.

The game marked the return to action of forward Jerry Jorgenson, sidelined all year by a knee injury.

Jorgenson, who captained the Vandals last season, has kept in good playing condition and according to Hodges "will definitely be a help for the remainder of the year."

He came to Hodges last week and asked to rejoin the squad after a rash of injuries seriously depleted the Idaho reserves. He was a key defensive man last season.

Strong OSC Finmen Hang Defeat On Idaho Squad

The Oregon State finmen proved to have too much strength for the Idaho swimmers Friday, running up a 71-15 score over the host Vandals.

The Beavers completely dominated the Northern Division dual meet, sweeping all 10 first places, and all but three second places.

The bright spots for the Vandals came in the 200-yard breaststroke, where Chet Hall missed a win by inches, the 200-yard backstroke, where Larry Nelson just missed a first place, and the 100 yard freestyle, where Larry Lawr copped a comfortable second.

Oregon State's Hubbard ended up as high point man for the victors, with wins in the 50-yard freestyle, the 100-yard freestyle, and the 200-yard backstroke.

Two This Weekend

Two dual meets face the Vandals this weekend, with a meet here Friday with Eastern Washington College at 3:30, and another at Missoula with Montana State University Saturday.

The Idaho swimmers dunked the EWCE team 62-23 Jan. 11 at Cheney, but meet the Montana State team for the first time this season.

Idaho's frosh, dormant since Feb. 1, when they won a one-point victory over the WSC frosh, meet the Couababes again Feb. 25. The meet will be the last of the season for the yearling swimmers.

Trackmen To Hold Meeting At 3 P.M.

Varsity trackmen will meet in the Memorial Gymnasium dressing room today from 3 to 3:30 p.m. to discuss plans for the upcoming track season, coach Joe Glander said yesterday.

He requested that 20 prospects who have indicated an interest in the sport be there.

They include Bruce Wendle, Milt Riggers, Doug Seely, Larry Ferguson, Bill Overholser, Dave Campbell, Charlie Kahl, Dick Shern, Dave Durham, Frank Wyatt and Pete Reed.

Dick Boyce, Ron Adams, Dick Gilberts, Stan Fanning, June Hanford, Bob Eyer, Ron Edwards, Larry Bardsley and Gene Ryba.

Gault Hall 2 Tops Sigma Nu 35-27 For Intramural 'A' Hoop Crown

Gault Hall won its first intramural sports championship last night, taking the campus basketball crown from Sigma Nu, 35-27, at Memorial Gymnasium.

Guard Ted Knivila was the Gault 2 hero, dropping in 10 points to pace the win. Val Johnson added eight and Mark Cole, nine. Cole's points all came on free throws.

Jerry Smythe, varsity grinder recently elected most inspirational player of 1957, led the Sigma Nus with 10 points.

Gault jumped off to an early lead and led 9-5 at the quarter and 16-11 at the half.

Sigma Nu pulled to within three points, at 20-17 late in the third quarter but could not catch up and faded at the end.

Gault 2 won the independent crown Thursday, defeating League III champion Town Men Association 1, 41-38.

Ted Knivila led the winners with 14 points. Former Idaho varsity center Mark Cole had 11 and former Vandal frosh star Larry Hatter had 10. Bill Moore topped the losers with 11.

The junior Vandals had to come from behind in the first half before finally holding a two point margin at 35-33 during halftime.

Zwitter High

Ron Zwitter hit 8 field goals and 4 of 8 free throws to lead the scoring with 20. Next was Bruce McCowan who also made 8 from the floor, and one from the charity lane to back up Zwitter with 17.

Terry Nielsen was high point man for the Savages with 16.

Frosh Divide Weekend Pair; Win Sixth Game

The Vandal Yearlings neared the end of their season with a 6-6 record, after Friday night's 54-49 loss to the Gonzaga Frosh in Spokane, and Saturday night's 76-59 victory over the Eastern Washington College junior varsity here in Moscow.

Saturday night, the Vandal Babes waited until the last five minutes to open up a margin, but then made up for it by connecting for 14 points, while holding the visiting Savages scoreless.

The junior Vandals had to come from behind in the first half before finally holding a two point margin at 35-33 during halftime.

Zwitter High

Ron Zwitter hit 8 field goals and 4 of 8 free throws to lead the scoring with 20. Next was Bruce McCowan who also made 8 from the floor, and one from the charity lane to back up Zwitter with 17.

Terry Nielsen was high point man for the Savages with 16.

Win Replay

In other action Phi Gamma Delta won the replay of a protested game with Tau Kappa Epsilon, 29-24.

Will Benjamin dunked nine points for the Pijls; Ron Ismael got eight for the Tekes.

Smythe Is Named Most Inspirational

Senior guard Jerry Smythe was named the most inspirational player on the 1957 Vandal football squad by a vote of the other Idaho gridders, Friday.

Smythe is the second recipient of the Clarence E. "Hee" Edmundson award, given yearly by Kappa Sigma fraternity in honor of the former Idaho coach.

Quarterback Gary Johnson received the initial award last year.

The award was made public at a team banquet Thursday night at Pullman.

blanked Willis Sweet Hall, 4-0, Beta Theta Pi shut out LDS, 4-0, Delta Tau Delta dethroned Gault Hall, 3-1, and Campus Club and Sigma Alpha Epsilon tied 2-2.

Frank Benson, Campus Club, rolled Thursday's high game, a 189 effort. Vern Becker, Lindley, had Thursday's high series, 516 for three games.

Intramural director Clem Parberry announced that intramural managers will meet tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in room 109 of Memorial Gymnasium to discuss plans for leagues in 'B' basketball and table tennis.

'B' basketball is tentatively set to start Wednesday night, with table tennis due to begin in the near future.

Parberry also said that due to the fact that Idaho Club had dropped from intramural bowling, Phi Delta Theta will move to League IV and take over the Idaho Club spot.

The intramural bowling schedule has been revised and each of the four leagues now has six teams entered.
