'Brush Up Your Shakespeare' for 'Kate'

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

We may have missed again. Dave Maxey and Clark Anderson, Idaho's representatives to the student government meet at Idaho State College returned Sunday with their views on the meet.

From what we could tell they weren't valuing benefits for Idaho achieved at the conference too highly.

About a month ago Jason urged that Idaho send representatives to the meet, hoping that Idaho may get some concrete benefit from attendance, however, the Idaho pair may have accomplished something.

They may have been able to keep the conference from becoming a completely successful recruiting meet for Idaho State.

According to Maxey and Anderson, a good deal of the meeting was taken up with the merits of Idaho State, and what a desirable school it is was pointed out often.

The Idaho delegates report they did their best to push the University. The reported theme of meetings during the confab was often "COME TO IDAHO STATE and if you can't come, to college somewhere else in Idaho."

Idaho may not have benefited a great deal by having representatives, but at least they had someone around to let the high school students know that ISC is not the only institution of higher learning in Idaho.

Debaters Win First, Second In Tourney

The University debate teams took first and second place at the Idaho Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa last weekend.

First place in the Junior Women's division was won by Pat Decker and Mary Broderson, Kappa, in competition with teams from five other schools.

Reed Bowen and Richard Sorenson, Lindley, placed second in the senior men's division. They both received ratings of either "superior" or "very good" in all six of their debates.

The third debate team, Karen Sedfield, Kappa, and Gordon Chester, Phi Delta, entered in the Junior division, recorded two wins and two losses.

In individual events Bowen placed second in oratory and communicative speaking. Sorenson won second in extemporaneous speaking on subjects from the field of foreign affairs. Miss Broderson received a rating of "superior" in interpretative reading and Miss Sedfield was rated "very good" in Junior women's oratory.

Schools entered in the tournament were: Idaho State College, Ricks College, College of Idaho, Boise Junior College, Northwest Nazarene and the University of Idaho.

The team's next debate will be at Lindfield College in McMinnville, Ore. on March 6-8.

Professional Touch Adds Enlivenment To 'Kate'

By Jim Flanigan

The professional touch that only a long-run Broadway show possesses will help streamline the tempo of the University of Idaho's amateur production of "Kiss Me, Kate," which opens for a three-night run Thursday.

Jean Collette, co-director of the ASUI production, had the opportunity to see the show on Broadway in August, 1949 during the peak of its run in New York.

She predicted Sunday that the "overall tempo and mood of the show" will be about the same as that of the Broadway presentation.

Same Theme

"We tried to maintain the same theme as they did," she said. Idaho thespians will present the Cole Porter musical comedy on the University auditorium stage Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Curtain time is set at 8 p.m. each evening.

Students can buy tickets for 35 cents at the University Bookstore. Reserve seats for adults are $1. Faculty members with cards may obtain two tickets for $1.50.

Miss Collette pointed out that she travels to New York about every two years to see the latest Broadway shows and she often incorporates ideas from these productions into plays she directs here.

Harry Morrison, co-director in charge of the musical numbers, said he saw "Kate" in Chicago in 1950 and again in a summer production presented by the St. Louis Municipal Association several years later.

He noted that Patricia Morison, who sang the lead on Broadway, took the same part in both these shows.

Black Has Lead

Playing the leading roles in the Idaho show are Larry Black as Fred Graham and Joan Fisher as Lilli Vanessi. Co-stars are Bert Allen, who takes the part of Bill

Calhoun, and Mary Jane Milbrath, portraying Lisa Kirk. The play revolves around Graham, the director of a company of actors presenting Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" in Baltimore, Md. He plays the male lead in the English comedy. His former wife, Lilli Vanessi, takes the shrew's role.

One of the actors, Bill Calhoun, drops $10,000 in "the most respectable floating crap game in town," and signs Graham's name to an IOU. Just before opening night, Graham is approached by two gangsters, played by Cliff Cook and Nathan Yost, who demand that the money lost by Calhoun be repaid.

Added to Graham's troubles is the fact his former wife sometimes acts like a shrew off stage as well as on. But the plot's pieces fall into the right places before the final curtain and the musical ends on a happy note.

Pie Throwing

During one of the "Taming of the Shrew" scenes, Miss Vanessi throws a pie plate to the ground as she sings "I Hate Men." Miss Collette borrowed this idea from the New York show.

Another idea she uses from the professional production takes place in a backstage scene of the Baltimore theater. Lisa Kirk stands on a ladder as she sings "Why Can't You Behave" to Calhoun.

Five Sets

Five lavish sets for the musical comedy were designed by Howard Dorgan, technical director. He and a crew of students constructed them in the U-Hut workshop prior to moving them on stage in late January.

New to the University theater are the sets mounted on two wagons which measure 8 by 12 feet and 8 by 14 feet. Casters placed under the platform wagons allow three people to move the scenes on or off stage within 45 seconds or less.

No Breaks

Dorgan explained that there are no breaks in the show during these scene changes.

Two of the sets depict the dressing room and backstage corridor of a theater. The other three sets are used for the "Shrew" scenes and are a stylization of the Elizabethan era.

Costuming for the production utilizes Elizabethan clothing for the "Shrew" scenes and some contemporary garments.

About 20 old costumes in storage were used in the Idaho show. Only Miss Milbrath's outfit is completely original, Dorgan explained.

NSA Policies To Be Noted Here Today

NSA policy and foreign student exchange projects will be discussed by students and faculty members today when Harold Bakkin, past NSA president visits the Idaho campus.

The past president is presently the director of the NSA Foreign Student Leadership Project. He will meet with the ASUI Exec Board during the noon hour and with all interested students from 1-2 p.m. in the Frontier Room of the SUB.

Local NSA Co-ordinator, Lee Watenpugh, said Bakkin would meet with faculty foreign student advisors and Cosmo Club officials and the NSA committee in the morning.

The afternoon session will be open to students for a question and answer period on student government, foreign travel and NSA.

Bakkin is currently the head of an exchange program which brings students to study in American schools for a period of one year.

Last year a student from Indonesia studied on the Idaho campus under this program. The Exec Board voted to apply for another student on this program for next year.

Bakkin is a former student at the University of Wisconsin.

Idaho Represented In State Ed Meet

One Idaho student and a representative of the University faculty were named by Gov. Robert E. Smylie this week to participate in a Statewide Education Conference in Boise April 21-22.

Jim Golden, Beta, and J. Frederick Weltzin, dean of the College of Education, will travel to the capital city this week to attend a Friday planning session, where ideas for the conference will be formulated.

ASISC president Bob King led a discussion on student government. The AWS president at Idaho State conducted a session on inter-school relations. The Idaho delegates said the

Discussions Highlighted Today

RE Headliner Reviews Stages Of Existence

Worldly existence confronts man in three different stages throughout his life, the Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., told 600 persons yesterday in the opening session of Religious Evaluation Week.

Speaking to a group of students and faculty members in the Ad Auditorium, the Episcopal minister evaluated the subject, "Man Confronts the World."

He pointed out in his keynote address that "Existence comes to us as something to be known."

The clergyman said the infant is innocent and is always exploring simple things in his small environment. As he grows into manhood, he still learns new things each day.

"Existence is something to be felt, rolled around and held in our hands," he said.

Unfailing Minds

God gives us the unfailing minds to seek out the secrets of life, Mr. Bayne noted.

Existence also comes to man to be shared.

To substantiate this statement, Mr. Bayne pictured the youngster who first gathers the impression that the world and life were created only for him.

"We later come to understand that life is going to have to be shared," he said.

Understanding the common life we share, to understand what our fellow men are like, to share knowledge—these instincts are religious instincts," the minister declared.

'Man Is Free'

Third on the clergyman's list of stages was the fact that existence comes to man as something to be chosen.

"Man is free," Mr. Bayne said. "When man confronts the world he confronts it under the agency of freedom."

Life comes to man in choices and man must have the ability to decide how he will use these, the minister said. Knowledge of atomic physics will serve life both good and evil.

"It is not possible for man to crawl back into innocence. The obligation of freedom is inescapable," he said. "We still have to choose what we will do, what we will say, and how we will live."

Workings Of High School, College Government Seen

Relationships between high school and college student governments and the importance of Idaho students to attend universities in the State were emphasized last week at the Idaho State College Student Council Exchange.

Idaho student leaders, Dave Maxey and Clark Anderson returned from the two day meet Sunday. They took part in discussion groups, get acquainted sessions, and listened to speakers.

Some 40 students attended the session representing seven high schools from both North and South Idaho and Boise Jr. College, Ricks College, Idaho and Idaho State.

Leading guest speaker, Idaho State President Carl McIntosh, told the leaders they should not judge the importance and effectiveness of their office by the things that they say in office.

Anderson said McIntosh explained that the result of any governing body's actions and efforts will not be harvested during the administration itself but in the future.

Other speakers were Joseph A. Hearst, ISC Political Science Department; and Lavoy Sims, vice-president of the ISC student government.

Maxey was a discussion group leader of a session on the administrative duties of the president. He emphasized the importance of informing the student of the actions of student government and why decisions of the governing bodies are important.

ASISC president Bob King led a discussion on student government. The AWS president at Idaho State conducted a session on inter-school relations. The Idaho delegates said the

Panels, Seminars Lead RE Program As Sessions Move Into Second Day

Idaho's 1958 Religious Evaluation Week went into its second day of panels and seminars today with a discussion on the value of the church heading the list of activities.

An opening address by the Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., and a panel discussion on "This I Believe . . . About Jesus of Nazareth," opened the three-day program Monday.

Mr. Bayne spoke to an audience of students and faculty members in the Ad Auditorium at 11 a.m. Monday.

A group of Christians and non-Christians held the main panel of the day in the SUB's Borah Theater last night.

"Responsible Living in Our World Today" is the theme for today's panels and seminars.

Dr. Anand Malik of the University College of Education will discuss "The Future of Mass Education" in conference room A of the SUB at 3:10 p.m. today.

Other seminars on slate that hour are "Missiles, Motives and Me" with Boyd K. Packer, conference room B; "Justification for Denominations?" led by Mr. Bayne, Borah Theater; and "The Student and Political Issues," with Father J. Sarsfield O'Sullivan, South Ballroom.

Seminars set for 4:10 p.m. in the Student Union include "By What Authority the Church," with the Rev. Karl Mau, Borah Theater; "Racial Sense and Nonsense" with Mrs. Christine Stockley in conference room A.

"Paths to Peace" with the Rev. Robert Peters, conference room B; "Censorship," led by Rabbi William A. Sanderson, South Ballroom; and "The Command of Gautama" with the Rev. Shoko Masunaga, North Ballroom.

Religious speakers will be lunch and dinner guests at campus living groups today and Wednesday.

Schedule

Their schedule is as follows:

Lunch today, Mr. Masunaga, Alpha Phi; Mr. Bayne; Beta; Father O'Sullivan, Delta Sig; Packer, Gamma Phi; Dr. Malik, Theta; Rabbi Sanderson, Kappa; Mr. Mau, Lindley; Mrs. Shockley, Pi Phi; and Mr. Peters, SAE.

Dinner today, Mr. Bayne, ATO; Mr. Masunaga, Campus Club; Rabbi Sanderson, Forney; Mrs. Stock-

ley, Kappa; and Dr. Malik, Sigma Nu.

Dinner Wednesday, Packer, Tri-Delt; Mr. Mau, Chrisman; Mr. Peters, Hays; Mr. Masunaga, Phi Delt; Mr. Bayne, Fiji; Father O'Sullivan, Sigma Chi; Rabbi Sanderson, Upsilon; and Dr. Malik, Willis Sweet.

Discussion Tonight

Following tonight's dinner, a panel will evaluate the subject, "The Institutional Church Open to Criticism." The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Borah Theater.

Members of the panel will point out what they think is the severest weakness of the Church, and what is or should be the nature of the Church.

Participating in the discussion will be Dr. Boyd A. Martin, dean of the College of Letters and Science; Mr. Peters; Mr. Bayne, Rabbi Sanderson, Mrs. Stockley, Mr. Mau, Packer, Dr. Malik, Rev. Masunaga, and Lawrence M. Randall.

The final session will be held in the Ad Auditorium Wednesday at 7 p.m. Mr. Bayne will speak on "The Individual's Relationship to Religion" in his closing address.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. Ronald H. Hummel, Student Methodist minister, and the benediction by the Rev. Charles W. Doak, Presbyterian student minister.

Miss Marlan Frygman, assistant professor of music, will play the organ prelude and postlude.

Seminars will be held on "Responsible Living in Our World Today" at the SUB at 3:10 and 4:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Throughout today and tomorrow, speakers will be available for personal conferences with the students in the University classroom buildings, according to Ed Kale, co-chairman for R.E. Week.

A display has been erected in the library by the RE Week committee. Kale said it is located on the basement floor.

ATOs Win Prize At Mucker's Ball, Affair Successful

Idaho's ATO house was the recipient of the gold pans given away during the Mucker's Ball Saturday evening in the SUB ballrooms.

Throughout the three-hour dance, 184 couples re-lived the by-gone days of the mining era. Gambling tables and displays of saddles, bridles, hard hats and picks gave a flavor of a mining camp.

Sponsors of the annual event were the Associated Miners. Members of the organization acted as game operators during the dance.

Dick Peters, off-campus, general chairman of the dance, termed the affair a success.

Key Show Chairman Urges Groups To Line Up Acts

Blue Key Talent Show Co-chairman Mike Patton Monday made a special appeal to campus living groups to line up acts for competition in the event, scheduled for March 28.

In a letter to house presidents, Patton and Co-chairman Clark Anderson urged each living group to start preliminary plans on its entry this week.

"We want a variety of acts to give a good cross section of student talent," Patton said.

Applications for entry in the show are due before noon, March 3, he added. Auditions will begin March 15 and continue into the next week. Sixteen acts were included in the competition last year. Patton said the audition committee would probably reduce that number slightly.

No Limitations

No limitations have been established for divisions, but Anderson said comic skits, comic vocals, dancing, vocal or instrumental musicals, piano, group acts and novelty entries would be acceptable for trophy competition.

Tickets will be sold to students and all tickets will sell for 25 cents. Patton said that master-of-cer-

'The Embers' Will Cut First Record

A Spokane recording company, that formerly cut records for Bing Crosby, will make a disc featuring an Idaho dance band sometime in March.

The Embers, led by Gary Dosssett, Sigma Chi, will cut their first recording at the Sound Recording Company at Spokane some time in early March.

Dosssett said that the record will be used primarily to publicize the band. The records will be distributed to various organizations in the Palouse area.

A limited number will be available to students.

RE Week Has Some Value

Religious Evaluation Week began Monday with the usual fanfare and the characteristic hopeful predictions for "the most successful one yet" from its creators.

Less than a quarter of the student body showed up for the opening address, about average for any public speech. Idaho students like their coffee better than their philosophy.

But it might be profitable to stop just a moment and look at this activity with a little less prejudice for or against.

Whether we believe in any one church, in any one set of moral standards or in any one type of Diet, we all are searching for an understanding of the meaning of life. For mental balance, we must ultimately settle this question for ourselves.

This does not mean we need to develop some well-defined concept of the omnipotence of God or must accept the teachings of one faith. It simply implies that we cannot ignore philosophy if we are to deal with our fellow humans in an intelligent manner.

However, a knowledge of the beliefs of the countless millions who ascribe to one established religion or another is essential to understanding the psychology of the peoples of the world.

To their credit, the planners of Religious Evaluation Week (which more aptly should be named Religious Information Week) are trying to provide this. They have imported a wide array of representatives of many of the world faiths. They seek not to convert, but to elicit the interest of the general college population.

It would be gross ignorance to deny this effort as "valueless."

We urge students here to remember that the label "student" indicates that we are searching for knowledge. And knowledge does not end when a final is passed or when a diploma is granted. Neither does it apply only to the tangible, to formulas, or to stark logic. Knowledge is probably best defined as "a realization one really never knows a great deal."

For that reason, RE Week presents an especially opportune time for the skeptics and the believers alike to learn a little of the philosophies of each other. Representatives of each side in the student population are not yet experienced enough or learned enough to express their beliefs convincingly.

The men and women who have been sent here by their denominations are experts in the realm of their particular faith, in some cases in several. Their discussions and answers to pointed questions will benefit every Idaho student. Attendance at these sessions is the most logical method for any interested Idaho student to learn more about himself and his civilization.

RE Week is here to stay. Regardless of how well attended it is or how little interest the general student population exhibits, it will continue. Since it is a permanent facet of Idaho life, why not utilize it as a real educational opportunity?

Only when the student body at large realizes this important part of education—understanding—will RE Week become a substantial contributor to the culture of this university.

Writer Of 'Go, Vandals, Go' Has Been Loyal Alumnus

Morey's Night

By Jim Golden
Five thousand people stood in crowded Memorial Gymnasium during the intermission of a University of Idaho basketball game Saturday and sang, a little off key, a boisterous song called "Go, Vandals, Go."

Although that tune, unofficially recognized as the best "spirit builder" at the school, is sung wherever and whenever students gather, Saturday was a special occasion. The entire crowd of Idaho partisans was honoring a Moscow attorney named J. Morey O'Donnell who has won himself a kind of immortality as its composer.

Extra-Special Honor
For O'Donnell, a greying, but still young-looking alumnus at 46, it was an extra-special honor. Saturday marked the first public recognition he has gotten for contributing melodies to his alma mater that go back 25 years.

A quarter century ago, O'Donnell enrolled at the University as a freshman from Coeur d'Alene. He was a musician in spirit rather than in intended vocation and soon was caught up in a student songfest, which in 1930 was the principal event on the campus.

At that time, the school's main achievement in the world of collegiate music was a composition called "On, Idaho," which was a poor adaptation of "On, Wisconsin."

O'Donnell decided a simpler, more original song was needed, something students could learn easily and remember for years afterward. So he sat down at a piano and plunked away until he had produced "Go, Vandals, Go," which was presented at the songfest. As with almost every O'Donnell effort then or since it was an immediate "hit" by college standards, and he gave the copyright for it to the school the following year.

More Songs
But O'Donnell did not quit with that one triumph. He decided other Idaho songs needed revising.

"All of the school's songs were sung by rote then," he recalls. "They were passed from class to class and were changed every time some song leader got the whim. I thought we should get them consolidated into musical compositions that would survive."

In 1932, he rearranged two more tunes, "Silver and Gold" and "Come, Fellows." Both of these are still sung in the O'Donnell version. In all, he produced 12 songs during his six years at the University, three of which he wrote himself. At the same time, he earned B.A. and LL.B. degrees.

Worked As Guard
To help pay his college expenses, O'Donnell spent his summers at Medical Lake, Wash., institution at Medical Lake, Wash., and played in the hospital band. He also collaborated on arrangements for a rising young band leader from Spokane named Bob Crosby.

But O'Donnell's chief fame still remains with his first effort, "Go, Vandals, Go."

"Whenever I'm introduced to somebody by an alumnus, it's always 'Morey O'Donnell, the man who wrote the Idaho fight song,'" he laughs.

Nor have O'Donnell's contributions to the school ended with his musical dexterity. He has served as president of the Moscow Vandal Boosters Club and is a rabid Idaho football and basketball devotee. He seldom misses a home game, often travels to the other end of the state to watch road games.

"And I get a special thrill every time I hear those songs again," he admits.

Why all this devotion to a school he left so long ago?
"I just feel I owe the University something," says O'Donnell.

Eight Coeds Are Nominated For Three Top AWS Offices

A slate of eight Idaho coeds has been nominated for Associated Women Students officers for next year and nine others have been named as candidates for the May Fete court this spring.

Mollie Godbold, AWS president, released the women's names yesterday afternoon shortly after they were selected by the AWS council and nominating committee.

Nominations from the floor will be accepted Wednesday at 7 p.m. at a general meeting of Associated Women Students.

Presidential candidates must have junior standing and must have served at least one semester on the AWS council. Nominees for secretary must have sophomore standing and the treasurer must be a sophomore or junior this year.

May Queen nominees are from the senior class. The Maid of Honor will be selected from junior class candidates and the Page must have sophomore standing.

Kay Zenier, Alpha Gamma Delta, so far is the only candidate for AWS president. Candidates for secretary are Carolyn Dempsey, French; Rosemary Maule, Kappa; and Irene Scott, Delta Gamma.

Nominated for treasurer are Deanna Geertsens, Gamma Phi; Dawn Keck, Pi Phi; Marilyn Mooers, Alpha Chi; and Sandra Wanamaker, Alpha Gamma Delta.

One Queen Candidate
Sole candidate for May Queen is Miss Godbold, Alpha Gamma Delta. In the running for Maid of Honor are Carolyn Edwards, Gamma Phi; Gail Guernsey, Delta Gamma; Tonia Peterson, Pi Phi and Carol Wachal, Theta.

Candidates for Page for the traditional May Fete are Nan Alvord, Kappa; Arlene Frahm, Forney; Nancy Campbell, Gamma Phi; and Mary Walcott, Tri-Delt.

Also on the agenda for the meeting, to be held in the Borah Room, are plans to discuss revising the AWS constitution.

Proposed changes for the constitution, Miss Godbold stated, include the reappointing of representatives of women's living groups to the council. Under the

Dear Jason:

We of the International Relations Club wish to express our appreciation for your support of the Great Decisions Series in recent issues.

As in all campus organizations, those of us who work most closely with international relations place a more particular interest in the subject than should be expected of the campus at large. However, the course of international events in recent months has emphasized the precarious and potentially disastrous position of the United States to such an extent that it seems impossible that thinking college students could ignore the situation.

Our present world position has been attributed by many to a state of complacent ignorance and apathy concerning international affairs on the part of the American people. It is to be hoped that Idaho students will recognize the need and aid I.R.C. in its program of information and discussion on this vital subject.

IRC Presents Foreign Policy Topic Series

An introduction and evaluation of our present world position is the topic for the first in a series of Great Decisions discussions to be held on campus this semester.

The series, sponsored by the International Relations Club, will open in conference room A in the Student Union Building at 4 p.m. today. The remaining seven programs in the series will cover critical world problems and situations prepared by the Foreign Policy Association of Washington, D.C.

All students and faculty members are invited to attend, according to Paul Baker, IRC president. "You don't have to be well versed on foreign relations problems to attend," Baker said. "Knowledge on the subject may be obtained at the meeting. Interest is the most important qualification."

Two similar discussion groups were held on campus last year. The first session was originally scheduled for last week but was postponed because of low attendance, Baker said.

NOTICE

Junior women who live off-campus and who are interested in submitting an application for Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, should obtain application blanks this week, Martha Sue Dempsey, Mortar Board president said Monday.

These blanks are available at the ASUI office, she stated. Applications should be completed by March 3 and returned to the ASUI office.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"Problems keep life interesting for a telephone engineer"

"I've taken part in all kinds of engineering projects during the five years I've been with the telephone company," says Bill Rhode, M.E., Tulane, '52. "Each project brings special problems to solve.

"Take a couple of recent jobs I did as examples. One was to plan and oversee the relocation of telephone facilities near a new drawbridge. The job included designs for attaching telephone cable to the finished bridge and for providing service to the bridge-tender's office and the locks.

"The other job was completely different. I was asked to make an experimental installation of some newly developed line concentrator equipment. After selecting the test location, I engineered facilities for the remote concentrator unit, and trunk plant to the central office.

"Another thing about these jobs—they're a result of the growth of the telephone business. Not only do problems like these keep life interesting for a telephone engineer, but they mean that careers are full of opportunities to show what you can do and get ahead."

Wilmer J. Rhode is with Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. He is one of many young men who are finding interesting and rewarding careers with the Bell Telephone Companies. Ask your placement officer for information about the careers these companies offer.

Tri Deltas Plan Initiation Dance; Phi Taus Go 49er

Variety is keynote to campus social activity . . . "49er Fling" planned by Phi Taus . . . Tri Deltas preparing for initiation dance . . . ATO entertained by yo yo demonstration . . . Hays girls reveal hidden dreams at "Suppressed Desire" dinner.

PHI KAPPA TAU
 Congratulations to our new house officers for the coming year: president, Ron Bishop; vice president, Larry Nelson; secretary, Lew Oring; house manager, Ed John; and pledge trainer, Sam McNeill.

The house is now busily preparing for its annual "49er Fling" to be held this Saturday.

The pledges would like to thank the Poo Phoo pledges for the fun exchange last Wednesday evening. Our initiation will be held March 15. This event is to be followed by our annual Founder's Day Dinner, Mar. 16.

The House entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Covert of Nampa last weekend.

DELTA DELTA DELTA
 The pledges thank the boys of Uppham for the exchange Wednesday evening.

This week is Delta Week, and all the girls who are going to be initiated are participating. The week will be climaxed by an Initiation Dance on Saturday night, and formal initiation on Sunday.

Weekend guest was Mrs. Ed Roichert from Filer. Dinner guests last Sunday were Glenn Woodall of Willis Sweet and Dean Moore of Gault.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA
 New pledge class officers for the spring semester follow: president, Ken Randall; vice president, Kayo Carven; social chairman, Rich Cunningham; sergeant-at-arms, Greg Hoskins; song leader, Mike Baumann.

Kent Lambert, 1952 Vancouver yo-yo champion, gave the house a demonstration last week of his skill with the yo-yo.

Guests over the weekend were Jerry Beebe, Roy Frisk, and Delmar Hudson of Pocatello, and Don Peterson and Jim Jaeger of Coeur d'Alene.

Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kent Marboe, and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Thomas and son.

HAYS HALL
 "Come as your suppressed desire" revealed the hidden dreams of Hays Hall girls Friday night at dinner. Outstanding in the characterization of their desires were Mary Ann Gaines, a devil; Morva Casey, a bride; Carol Renstrom, a little girl, and Mollie Godbold, a debutante.

Slowly becoming a ghost town, Hays Hall says farewell to Karen Elstone and Lucille Johnson.

Thanks to the SAEs for the serenade Sunday night honoring Kayronne Cooper's pinning to Tom Olson.

Good luck to Darlene Johnston, who has been elected secretary of Hays after the resignation of Geri Crank, and to Kris Bengston and Toni Botsford, our Miss U. of I. candidates.

Dinner guests were Sam Edwards and Conrad Thorne, Portland; LaRene Newberry, Forney; Sally Wolfley, French; Bob Howells and Bobbie Hawk, off-campus; and Phyllis Monroe, Moscow. Weekend guest was Wilda Smith, Spokane.

GAULT HALL
 Highlighting Wednesday night's dinner was the presentation of the intramural championship trophy to Larry Hattemer, hall sports manager, by Clem Parberry of the Physical Education Department.

After his acceptance speech, Hattemer turned the 16-inch cup over to Wiley Daniels, hall president.

Other guests at Wednesday dinner were Dr. Harry Caldwell, associate professor of geography and geology, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cole.

Dr. Caldwell spoke on private enterprise.

Last night Dr. Anand Malik of the University College of Education was a dinner guest. He was a Religious Evaluation Week speaker.

ETHEL STEEL HOUSE
 Mrs. Cora Lavender, Moscow, was a dinner guest.

Folk dance practice under the direction of Arleen Westfall and Alice Smith has been progressing.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA
 Knob Hill Fantasy, an excursion in pajamas, was the theme of a pledge dance Saturday. The decorations stressed an I-Tower effect.

SIGMA CHI
 Sunday dinner guests were Mrs. Magnuson, Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Virginia Bowly, Johnnie Richards, Mitzi Switzer, Alpha Phi, and Mike Beglan, Alpha Chi.

The Sigs were happy to have Keith Boyington and Chuck Story, alums from Spokane, down for the game last Saturday.

The scream heard at the SUB Sunday was the result of Joe Ketchum pinning Carol Davison, Theta. Congratulations Joe.

The upperclassman dance was held Friday at the house. A crab feed highlighted the evening.

Marilyn Rider won the prize for having the most material left over in making her costume.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA
 Congratulations to Barb Tatum and Shern Snow, Sigma Nu, on their Valentine's Day pinning.

Congratulations from the "wholesome girls" to the Betas for their fine showing in Vancouver. Also thanks for the songs Wednesday night.

Noon hours the last few days have been spent in busy preparation for the Folk Dance Festival.

Thanks to the Phi Deltas for the serenade in honor of Marcia Ellis' pinning to Gwin Hicks, off-campus.

Congratulations to Sandy Nichols, first in the open ski race at the Mt. Hood Winter Carnival.

Thanks to the Delta Chis for their shoe shines and serenade. Last but not least, thanks to the Fiji pledges for the dipper date Thursday.

GAMMA PHI BETA
 Initiated into Gamma Phi Beta sorority Saturday were Judy Bracken, Cathy Brewer, Kay Burger, Marian Collins, Joan Dean, Betty Dotzler, Margaret Garrison, Sonja Hoene, Dolores Hormaechea, Gerogia Marshall, Pat Rosholt, Janet Salyer, Marge Snyder, Lynette Squires and Margaret Tatko.

Mrs. Don Morse, Moscow, Mrs. Jack Baggs and Mrs. Duane St. Marie, Lewiston, were guests over the weekend.

The annual "Initiation Banquet" was held Sunday in honor of the newly initiated Gamma Phis. Judy Bracken was chosen pledge of the month, and was also presented with the scholarship pin, given annually to the pledge having the highest grade average for her first semester's work at college.

Congratulations to Dianna Paerson who announced her pinning to Skip Nelson, Sigma Nu, Sunday afternoon.

World Expert On Semantics In Assembly

A communications expert will discuss "The Full Functioning Personality" in the first public events assembly for this semester, according to A. E. Whitehead, public events assembly chairman.

The talk will be given March 6, in the Memorial Gym.

Dr. Samuel I. Hayakawa, one of America's foremost semanticists, will be the speaker.

Semantics, the field of communications which is Hayakawa's special interest, deals with the explicit meaning of words.

He first became interested in the field as a professor of freshman English when he realized that too many of his students did not understand the meaning of the words they were attempting to express themselves with, Whitehead said.

The "Mass Baloney" successfully used by Hitler during the 1930s, increased Hayakawa's efforts to teach people to understand the usage of words.

His first book "Language in Action," was published in 1941 and sold over 300,000 copies.

Second BMOC Workshop Sees Organization Pitfalls

Organization chairmen and purposes were sighted as main pitfalls in campus meetings by students attending the final "Better Meetings on Campus" workshop last Saturday in the SUB.

Rev. Charles Doak, director of the local Westminster Foundation, led the discussion emphasizing the need of Idaho organizations to re-examine their purposes to determine where they fit into the university atmosphere.

He said organizations often consider themselves a lobbying group with the purpose of lowering the academic standards of the University. They make no attempt to set themselves up as part of the intellectual center of the University.

The session was the second BMOC workshop sponsored for all students by the ASUI leadership committee. Seventeen people attended the two-hour session.

Role of Leader
 The speaker outlined the role of the leader in making a meeting place to get things done and functional.

"A leader has to recognize the needs for roles of members in the group, he must be concerned with elements of problem solving, and he should capture a feeling that the chairman is not alone in the organization," Mr. Doak said.

"The leader must take time to organize and prepare for meetings and when in a meeting he should anticipate problems and provide information and resource persons to eliminate the problem."

He said it is important to recognize the fact that mistakes are going to be made, that situation caused by mistakes will have to be corrected.

Use Imagination
 Mr. Doak also said that organizations should use their imagination and not be afraid to experiment with new ideas and activities.

"We all should check our traditional activities and ideas to see if they are really needed for the organization," he added.

Students on the committee organizing the session were Tim Daley, Beta, and Don Ingle, Willis Sweet, co-chairmen; Lowell Martin, Willis Sweet; Marge Erstad, Delta Gamma; Tom Strocschein, FarmHouse; Craig Marcus, Phi Delt; and Jim Kay, ATO. Mollie Godbold, Hays, was worked with the group as a discussion leader.

Canterbury Hosts RE Guests, Groups Encourage Attendance

CANTERBURY
 Canterbury House is host this week to Religious Emphasis week speakers and committee members. All luncheons during the three days of meeting will be served in the Canterbury dining room at noon. The food committee, is headed by Lorraine Langdon, Theta.

The regular meeting of the Inquirer's Class Tuesday evening will adjourn to the Borah Theater in the SUB where, at 7 p.m. Dr. Boyd A. Martin will moderate a discussion on "The Institutional Church Open to Criticism."

The Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Episcopal Bishop of Olympia, will be the celebrant at Holy Communion in Canterbury Chapel at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. Breakfast will be served following the service.

L. D. S.
 MIA will not be held tonight due to the Religious Evaluation Week Panel at p.m. The Mutual presidency wishes to encourage all MIA participants to attend the Religious Evaluation program. Mutual will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30.

All The King's Men On Tap Thursday For Borah Movie

"All the King's Men" is on tap this Thursday in the Borah Theater as the first in a series of second semester ASUI movies.

The plot concerns Willie Stark, a ruthless power grasping governor. During his reign, he inaugurates an administration of reckless corruption.

Starring Broderick Crawford, Joanne Dru, John Ireland, and Mercedes McCambridge, the Hollywood version is taken from Robert Penn Warren's novel.

The movie won an Academy Award and the New York Film Critics Award.

Students will be admitted for 35 cents. Show times are 4, 7, and 8:30 p.m.

Idaho Coeds Win Ski Meet

Three Idaho coeds placed first in team competition at the Pacific Northwest Women's Intercollegiate Ski meet Feb. 22 marking the second consecutive win for the Idaho team.

The official results showed the three girls, Kris Damm, Gamma Phi, Sandra Nichols, Kappa, and Carol Cammack, DG, held a wide lead over the second place team, the University of British Columbia.

The first place individual standing was won by Jan Jones, University of Washington, Kris Damm tied with Karen Coiner, Whitman for second place.

Other Idaho contestants, Sandra Nichols, Carol Cammack, and Shirley Horning, placed fourth, seventh and tenth consecutively.

Further team standings placed Washington State third, the University of Washington fourth, Whitman fifth and Western Washington College of Education sixth.

The Idaho WRA hosted the skiing event at Spouts Springs which consisted of one major race in the morning and one in the afternoon.

"The event was very successful," stated Kris Damm.

Vandals Fight Back Against Huskies After Loss to Bears

Extra Point Try

With their title hopes spoiled by a 70 to 62 Friday trouncing at the hands of a pressing, deliberate California team, the Idaho Vandals returned Saturday to wallop the Washington Huskies 85 to 63.

Harried by the conference leader's full court press in the Friday game, the Idaho squad found their offensive game slowed, and also were unable to find an effective defense against the deliberate ball control tactics implemented by the Bears.

The Saturday game was a completely different story. The Vandals briefly had trouble stopping Doug Smart who slithered around Vandal defenders to drop in 15 of the Huskies' 17 points, but an effective full court press and timely scoring by Idaho guards Why-lon Coleman and Gary Simmons put the final stops on the Washington squad.

In the individual scoring race between Smart and Simmons, the Idaho guard started slow, but outscored the Washington center by two points dropping in a total of 30, his third high for the season. Simmons, however, lost ground in the race as he was held to 13 points in the California game. He holds a 22.5 average in PCC contests.

Smart got 14 points against WSC last night to drop his average to 20.9.

In Friday's action the Idaho team stayed with the Bears briefly, but the strong California aggression working their full court press to perfection forced the battered Vandals to throw the ball away numerous times.

The Bears held a 32 to 20 half-time lead and effectively held off late Vandal rallies during the second half action.

After grabbing an 8 to 2 lead, the Washington team saw a reversal of the California game, as the Vandals employed a full court press and quickly bounced back in front 9 to 8.

Smart rolled on with seven more quick points and looked unstoppable until Coach Harlan Hodges sent in recently returned forward Jerry Jorgenson.

Jorgenson, last year's Vandal captain who had been out for the season with a knee injury, effectively stopped Smart, as he and center Gary McEwen held the 6-8 giant to only 11 points through the remainder of the game.

The Idaho team moved on to a 42 to 31 half-time lead and then stretched the margin in the second half as Simmons, held to eight points in the first half, went wild in the second half and dropped in 22 points.

Frosh Stop Pups; Fall To Couababes

Idaho's frosh lost 58-39 to the WSC frosh Friday night, and then stormed back to dump the Gonzaga Bullpups 75-64 the following evening.

Friday night the Vandal Babes raced to a 13-6 lead, only to see sharp-shooting Nick August lead an effective assault on the margin, and push the visiting Couababes into a 27-17 halftime margin. After the intermission, the WSC yearlings kept on moving and finally coasted home.

The only bright spot for the host Babes was the 17 points posted by 6' 7" Ken Maren, frosh pivot man.

Pete Reed and August each had 15 for the Couababes.

Saturday night's encounter was a complete switch, with the Babes out in front by a 17 point lead at one time in the first half, only to see it whittled down to a 9 point margin at halftime.

In the second half, the margin was cut to 2 by the visiting Bullpups, before the Idaho Babes could get fired up again.

Maren again copped scoring honors for the young Vandals, with 22 points.

"Maren did the best job rebounding he has ever done for us, and is improving steadily," Coach Anderson noted.

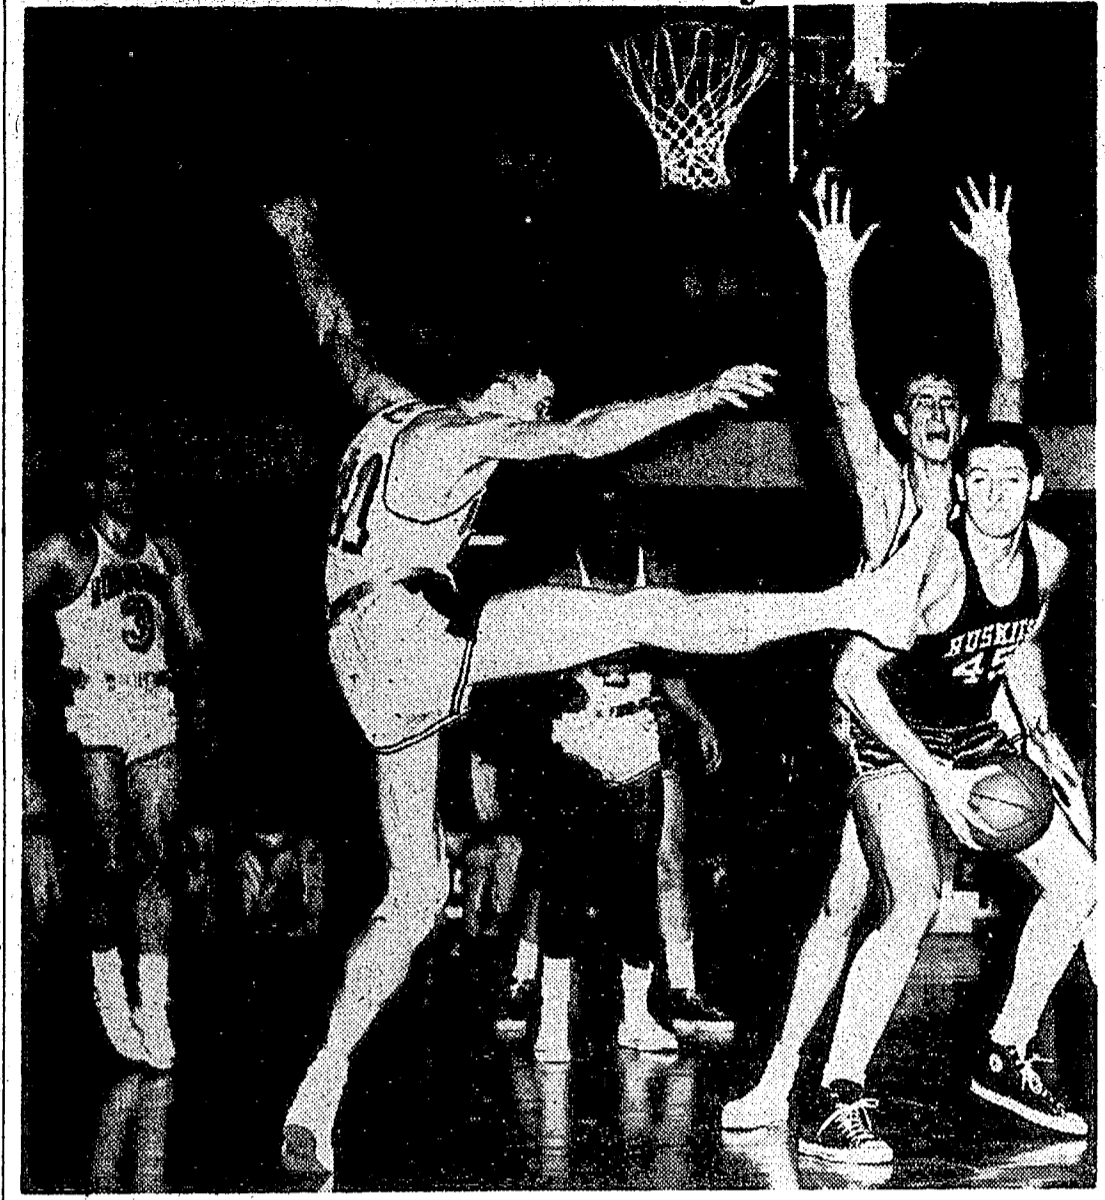

The combination win and loss kept the frosh record even, with seven wins against seven losses. The WSC Couababes could provide the frosh with a winning season March 7, when the Idaho Babes travel to Pullman for the last game of their season.

Long-limbed center Gary McEwen (21) looks as though he's trying some fancy footwork on Washington's Doug Smart (45) during the Vandals' clash with the Huskies Saturday. Smart scored anyway, but Idaho won the game, 85-63. Behind the big Husky is forward Jim Branom and guard Gary Simmons (3) and forward John Liveolous (4) are in the background.

Frosh Swimmers End Season Today

The Freshman swimming team meets the WSC frosh for their last meet of the year today.

In previous meets, the Idaho mermen have won one and lost one to their arch-rivals. The overall frosh record for the season stands at 2 and 1, with the other win over the EWCE frosh.

"Some of the kids have a good chance of making the Varsity next year," coach Kirkland remarked. "Cliff Lawrence is good in diving, and we lose both of our varsity divers. Al Hansen, Don Slavin, Al Ray, and Tim Greene could all help us a lot also."

The action in Missoula saw five meet records fall, with the Vandals setting 3 new records, and the host Grizzlies accounting for 2.

Swim Team Evens Record Stops Montana And EWCE

Coach Eric Kirkland's fast-improving swim team evened its record at 4-4 with a 62-24 win over Eastern Washington College Friday, and a 61-25 victory of the University of Montana the following afternoon.

In the Friday meet, Eastern Washington's Stevens flashed to a new meet record of 2:34.2 in the 200 yard backstroke.

The win, coupled with a victory in the 220 yard freestyle, also by Stevens, gave Eastern Washington College its only first places, as the Vandal swimmer, paced by Len Law's two first in the 100 and 400 yard freestyles, copped the other 6 individual events, and both relays.

The pitching and catching staff have been holding special practices the last two weeks, in what Coach Wayne Anderson described as a "physical training development period."

Anderson's mound staff includes Anderson, Johnson, Jack Bloxom, Dennis Solt, Bill Higgins, Donald Smith, Jim Branom, Harlan Melton, Wendy Wolf, Roger Watts, and probably Westergren when needed.

"We certainly plan to give everyone an opportunity to display their baseball ability. The team will be selected from those best qualified," Anderson noted.

Seven men are missing from last year's team, which finished fourth in Northern Division play with a 5-8 record. Among those gone are the two top pitchers, Doug Randall and Steve Hinckley.

"Did she blush when her shoulder strap broke?"
"I didn't notice."

Tracksters Picked For LA Meet

Ace Vandal distancemen Dick Boyce and Frank Wyatt have received invitations from the Chairman of the Coliseum relays to run in the Los Angeles relays May 16, track coach Joe Glander announced today.

Glander pointed out that the pair of Vandals would probably be facing some of the top competition in the nation in the meet.

This marked the third time in two years Vandal trackmen have been selected for national meets. Wyatt and Ray Hatton received a similar invitation last year, when they traveled to meets in Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, and Wyatt attended the Milwaukee Journal invitational in Milwaukee.

Boyce, who finished second to Jim Bailey in last year's PCC meet in the 800, is generally regarded as one of Idaho's finest middle distance men in recent years. Both Wyatt and Boyce were on the Vandals' championship cross-country team last fall.

Seven Return To Baseball Squad Of 37

The Vandal baseball squad drew its uniforms last Saturday in preparation for yesterday's first team workout.

Thirty-five men showed up at the first meeting, including seven let-termin and three others with varsity experience. Returning letter-men include: Larry MacDonald, catcher; Clark Anderson and Val Johnson, pitchers; Bill Stellmon, Knute Westergren and Jim Christian, infielder, and Jim Throckmorton, outfielder.

The turnout also included many new faces, with several juniors and seniors seeking positions in their first year of college competition.

The pitching and catching staff have been holding special practices the last two weeks, in what Coach Wayne Anderson described as a "physical training development period."

Anderson's mound staff includes Anderson, Johnson, Jack Bloxom, Dennis Solt, Bill Higgins, Donald Smith, Jim Branom, Harlan Melton, Wendy Wolf, Roger Watts, and probably Westergren when needed.

"We certainly plan to give everyone an opportunity to display their baseball ability. The team will be selected from those best qualified," Anderson noted.

Seven men are missing from last year's team, which finished fourth in Northern Division play with a 5-8 record. Among those gone are the two top pitchers, Doug Randall and Steve Hinckley.

INTRAMURALS

Town Men Association took a big League 1 intramural bowling lead Thursday as competition moved into second round action.

The TMA squad, runners up for the bowling crown last year, shut out Upham Hall 4-0 Thursday to increase their record to 8-0. They had trounced FarmHouse earlier.

McConnell and Lindley Halls are tied for the top spot in League II with identical 4-0 records. McConnell topped Phi Gamma Delta, and Lindley stopped Willis Sweet.

In League II, Sigma Nu holds top spot with a 4-0 record on the strength of a shutout over Phi Kappa Tau, and Alpha Tau Omega's 4-0 win over Kappa Sigma placed them in the League IV lead.

In Thursday's bowling Bob Case of Lambda Chi, and TMA's Quentin Stoda placed high for the night. Stoda and Case both rolled 200 games, and Stoda's 564 series topped other bowlers.

Intramural table tennis action got underway yesterday afternoon with activity in both the singles and doubles tournaments.

Defending champion Campus Club with the two finalists back from last year's singles is again favored for the crown.

Heng Mun Low, who defeated teammate Frank Benson for the 1957 championship, is slated to meet Crown of Kappa Sig next Thursday. Benson met Wade Patterson, ATO, in action yesterday.
