

Adler's Topic To Be Learning

Dr. Mortimer J. Adler will address the student body Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Memorial Gym. A long time believer in a return to the classics, the educator will give a speech entitled, "Labor, Leisure and Liberal Education."

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Thursday's class schedule is as follows:
First period—8:00 to 8:35 a.m.
Second period—8:45 to 9:20
Third period—9:30 to 10:05
Fourth period—10:15 to 10:50
Speech—11:00 to 12:00

Whoopee! Here we go again. The ASUI political scene, which threatened to be a dull one at first look this year, may provide some real fireworks yet.

Such was the prospect when immediately after his defeat in the Greek party presidential primary yesterday Reed Bowen moved to form a fourth party.

It was just two years ago that the Idaho ASUI elections saw four parties in the competition, and that year the fourth group might well have kept their hats out of the ring and their hands out of the politicking.

They finished a poor fourth in every instance. Their presidential candidate didn't even stay close and their Exec Board candidates almost failed to show in the top eighteen.

This new fourth party may be different. Their competition may not be as rugged as the talent loaded slates in 1956, they may have some ideas that will appeal to the voting students. And they may have dominant candidates that will appeal to the voters.

These qualities, if they have them, may make this a stronger group than the one that appeared two years ago, but we feel they may finish just as their earlier candidates did when the results roll in April 24.

The ideas they have thrown out now are not especially new. Members of the Exec Board have been harping on these things since the first of the year.

The Campus Liberal Party may set the campus afire, but we are a little dubious about how the students will accept their idealistic outlook.

Ban Parking In All But 2 Lots Apr. 4-13

Normal parking areas will be closed for cleaning during spring vacation, the Operations Council announced today.

Two areas have been designated for students who expect to remain on campus, they said.

Students may park from Idaho Street west from Willis Sweet hall to the Gym annex and in the area east of Pine hall.

Students who plan to leave their cars on campus during the vacation are requested to park them in these areas before leaving the campus.

If cars need to be moved, student owners will be charged for the towing costs and the University will not be responsible for any loss or damage to moved vehicles.

Unauthorized areas which should be cleared include all University parking lots such as the Student Union, Music Building and behind all dormitories.

Students are also asked not to park on Sixth or Seventh Streets Idaho Avenue east of Line Street, University Avenue, Sweet Avenue, between Blake and Deakin or Deakin, Blake, Elm, Ash, Pine, Line and Rayburn Streets.

German Film Set For Wednesday

A "Film Without a Name" will be shown at the Borah Theater Wednesday, Marilyn Robinson, Gamma Phi, ASUI movie co-chairman, said today.

The comedy concerns a film director, writer and author who want to make an original movie in the British zone in Germany. Hildegard Neff, Willy Fritsch and Hans Sohnen star in the 74-minute German film. It will be shown at 4, 7 and 8:30 p.m. Admission is 35 cents.

Gamma Phis Dance the 'Can Can'

This line of pretty chorus girls went French and stole the show at the winning "Around the World in 80 Days" booth Saturday at the Campus Chest Carnival. In the high-kicking line are Pat Riley, Kay Berger, Sally Beale and Kathryn Smith, all Gamma Phis.

Classes Dismiss Good Friday 1-5 P.M.

University classes will be dismissed from 1 to 5 p.m. April 4, in observance of Good Friday, it was announced today by the Administrative Council and Executive Committee.

Officials stressed the class dismissal is not an extension of spring vacation, but is being allowed for students and faculty members to attend church services for Good Friday.

Spring vacation will begin Monday, April 7 and continue until classes resume at 8 a.m. Monday, April 14.

Charity Nets $2,414; Variety Booth Wins

Last week's Campus Chest drive netted $2,444 during a four-day campaign—$100 more than expected, junior class president Neal Newhouse announced Monday.

Newhouse said $1,300 came from concession receipts, and the rest was raised from living group contributions and the Saturday evening auction. About 1,000 persons attended the Carnival and auction.

The funds will be allocated to 12 national, state and local charities by the ASUI Exec Board next week. Delta Sig and Sigma Chi collected an "Around the World in 80 Days" booth built by Gamma Phi, $105 in 10-cent Chest tickets to win the Carnival trophy. A combination of Forney Hall, FarmHouse and Phi Tau collected about $70 with their marriage booth and won second place. Third were Ethel Steel House, Willis Sweet Hall and ATO with a gambling casino.

IK Meeting For 7 Colleges Here Mar. 29

Delegates from seven Pacific Northwest colleges will convene on Idaho's campus Saturday for the Regional Convention of Intercollegiate Knights.

Dick Jensen, WSC, regional vice-president, will conduct the session, which will host representatives from Idaho, Whitworth, WSC, Gonzaga, Eastern Washington College of Education, Lewis and Clark Normal and Eastern Oregon College.

Don Ingle, Willis Sweet, national royal king of IKs, said the principal business would be the election of regional officers and planning methods to finance travel to the national convention in Denver April 9-12.

Election of Region II queen, who will compete in Denver for the National IK Queen title, will be held. Ann Marie Berry is the candidate of the Idaho chapter.

Registration at 10 a.m. will be followed by a business meeting at 11. Lunch in the Frontier Room followed by discussion of chapter projects and regional-national business will conclude the meet.

Among IK officials attending the meeting are Ingle; Jensen; John Chapman, Idaho Phi Delta, national royal duke; Harry Brewer, Eastern Washington College of Education, public relations; and Dr. James Brooks, Eastern Washington College of Education, chairman of the National IK Advisory Board.

Blood Drive Plans Moving Well, April Quota Meeting Set

Blood Drive chairmen said Monday they had tied up most loose ends in preliminary arrangements for the spring drawing April 22-24.

Co-chairman Jim Golden said committee heads reported on their progress last week and that "everything appears to be moving ahead on schedule."

Elaine Hieber, the other co-chairman, said a house representative meeting had been set for April. At that time, she said, individual quotas would be established and release slips would be distributed so that students could have them signed during spring vacation. She emphasized that properly signed release slips would be required from all students under 21.

Miss Hieber added subcommittee chairmen would not meet again until April 1 when the entire routine would be explained.

zine described their association as "highly important intellectual cross-fertilization."

Hutchins created some commotion in the field of higher learning when he abolished the University's football team. He considered it unnecessary to a well-rounded curriculum.

Adler and Hutchins conceived and compiled a list of 443 books which they considered to hold all the important ideas in Western world thought. The books were bound into a 54-volume set which was published in 1952.

Formed 'Idea Book'
From these great books, Adler and Hutchins selected 102 ideas which they believed to be the most basic. To these they added 3,000 sub-ideas which were bound into one, 2,500 page book called a "Synopticon." He describes the book as an encyclopedia of ideas.

Some of Adler's educational theories led to forming of an "honors course" at the University of Chicago.

No textbooks were required for the course and there were no planned lectures. Instead, Adler and Hutchins talked to each other and the attending students were urged to enter the conversation.

Committee Chosen to Work On Pre-Registration Set-Up

A group of four faculty members were appointed today to work out a registration procedure for next fall, H. Walter Steffens, Executive Dean announced today.

He said the committee that worked out the pre-registration for second semester registration this year would be reappointed.

Don A. Marshall, assistant dean of agriculture; Hervon L. Snider, professor of education; Edward C. Moore, chairman of philosophy; and C. C. Warnick, Research Professor of Civil Engineering; will form the committee. Marshall is chairman.

from the student's standpoint," he said.

Hardship
"The only real drawback was the hardship on the instructors because of the large amount of time over a long period of time required; especially for instructors who act as advisers, teach classes, and do research."

The faculty-committee will submit a report to the University Faculty Interim committee. Steffens said it would have to be in the near future, if pre-registration schedule is recommended, to enable setting up plans for this spring.

DAILY NAMES MARTIN
Lowell Martin, Willis Sweet, has been named "Campus Citizen of the Week" by the Spokesman-Review. Martin, a senior majoring in economics, is a member of Executive Board.

Fourth Party Looms On Political Horizon

A fourth political party leaped into the ASUI election race yesterday as plans got underway for the formation of the Campus Liberal Party.

Party spokesman, Richard Sorenson, Lindley, cited aims of establishing policies on a cross-campus basis and the setting up of a "meaningful" student government as the reasons for forming the party.

In other action on the political scene Dick Kerbs, FarmHouse, was selected as the United Party presidential candidate, and the Independent Party selected a field of three for their presidential primary scheduled for Wednesday noon.

Bowen Candidate

Reed Bowen, Lindley, was announced as the Campus Liberal candidate for ASUI president. Bowen, who ran as a presidential candidate on the Greek primary slate as a representative of Theta Chi, finished last in the four-man race held yesterday noon.

Sorenson and Dick Hughes, Delta Chi, temporary Campus Liberal Party co-chairman pointed out that the new party was in favor of cross-campus politics.

"We of the Campus Liberal Party are convinced that common goals that unite the Greeks and Independents are greater than the petty, unfounded, differences that divide them," Hughes pointed out.

"In surveying the present goals in the minds of both the Greeks and Independents we find that these questions that are at present being expressed, are the same ones upon which campaigns have been waged in the past."

Work Out Problems
Sorenson indicated that the aim of the new party would be an attempt to work out problems that are important to students.

"As students we have successfully elected candidates upon a promise to solve these problems in the past, yet the problems still exist," he explained. "Therefore, the students now have the right to inquire into the explanation of this failure and also to inquire into ways and means to make our student government meaningful."

The representatives of the new party pointed out that the group also feels the ASUI president and the Exec Board should also be able to depend on interest and cooperation after the election was over.

Hughes explained that the new party was prepared to "identify the real issues with which student representation should be concerned in campaign," and said the reason for formation of the party was that "they have had no opportunity to present these things to the students through present political channels."

Other United Candidates
Other candidates for the United nomination were Tom Edwards, Fiji, who was runner-up for the top job, Neal Newhouse, Beta, third, and Bowen.

Party chairman John Bradbury said yesterday the United Party would nominate a slate of 22 Exec Board candidates today and would submit the list to Greek voters Thursday. The nominating convention is slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the SUB ballrooms.

Student Government Ready
Student Government Party president, Al Andrews, Gault Hall, said Monday his group would meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in conference room A and B to select their candidates in open convention.

He said the SG party primary election would be held in living groups Monday.

Independents To Decide
Independent Party last night nominated Jim Rathburn and Clyde Lofdahl, both of Willis Sweet Hall, and Marvin Mackie, Christian Hall, as their candidates for ASUI president. Primary elections will be held Wednesday during lunch. Party chairman Lee Wautenpauugh said nominations for Exec Board would be made Wednesday evening and that the primary would be held Friday.

Blue Key Show Directors Release Schedule Of Acts

Blue Key Talent Show directors Monday announced a list of 15 acts that will appear at the annual variety event Friday at 8 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium.

A preliminary rehearsal has been scheduled for 6:45 p.m. Thursday. Show co-chairmen Mike Patton and Clark Anderson jointly released this list of acts for the 2½-hour show:

Two winners from last year's show, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Ralph and Loretta Alley and the Embers dance band have been selected for intermission entertainers, the co-chairmen said.

Dave Maxey, Beta, and Marv Fisher, Fiji, will be show emcees. Admission is 25 cents.

Anderson said technicians and directors would run through the entire show Thursday evening and added that participants had been

Borah Meet Well Received, Says Hosack

Student participation in the Borah Conference last Wednesday and Thursday was commended today by Robert E. Hosack, chairman of the sponsoring Borah Foundation committee.

The chairman said attendance at the 11th annual Peace Conference was very similar to figures of former years with a marked increase in participation at living group fire seat meetings.

"The committee feels," Hosack said, "that participation by Idaho students and organizations was very good, especially when compared with reports from other college campuses where similar events are held."

Attendance at the forums following the main speaker addresses was slightly lower this year, he said. There were only three forums this year as compared with eight or nine panel discussions in former years.

Five Campus Dance Bands Featured At Musicians Ball

The Musicians' Ball will present an opportunity for University students to become acquainted with bands that are available on the campus, Bob Whipple, dance co-chairman, said today.

The semi-formal dance, sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia, national musician's fraternity, will be held in the Central Ballroom of the Student Union Building at 9 p.m. Saturday.

"With the spring dance season approaching, this should be valuable to the social chairmen, and it is part of our Phi Mu Alpha purpose to promote 'home' music," Whipple said.

Five bands from the Idaho campus will play at 30-minute intervals during the dance.

The bands and their scheduled times are as follows: Continentals, 9:30 p.m.; Gary Dossett Quartet, 9:30-10 p.m.; The Keynotes, 10-10:30 p.m.; The Embers, 11-11:30; and The Notables, 11:30 p.m. to midnight.

There will be a limit of 200 couples who may attend the dance. Tickets are $1.50 per couple and are being sold on a first-come-first served basis at the ASUI office, central office in the Music Building, Cub's Music Den, or from any Phi Mu Alpha member, Whipple said.

During the intermission of the dance at 10:30 p.m., a portable hi-fi set valued at $150 will be given away. Two other door prizes of $10 and $5 gift certificates from Cub's Music Den will also be awarded at that time.

Four Freshmen Quartet Presents Two Programs At 'Street Of Dreams' Prom

The 1958 Junior-Senior Prom will bring one of the nation's top recording quartets, the Four Freshmen, to the campus. The group will present two 30-minute shows at the dance April 18.

Sharing the spotlight at Memorial Gym will be Ralph Dickinson's orchestra from Spokane. "Street of Dreams" one of the Four Freshmen's top recordings, will be the theme for the event set from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. A New York City skyline motif with a blue and black color scheme will form the decoration's background.

The Four Freshmen organized in 1948 at Jordan Conservatory of Music in Indianapolis, Ind. At that time, brothers Ross and Don Barbour, their cousin, Bob Flanigan, and Ken Errair comprised the quartet.

Recordings Listed
Ken Albers replaced Errair in 1956.

The Four Freshmen

Doubling as their own accompanists, the Four Freshmen have appeared in concert engagements across the country, on network television, in motion pictures and have made numerous recordings for Capitol Recording Co.

Recently the Freshmen were named winners of Metronome, Downbeat, United Press, Billboard and Playboy readers and critics polls.

Ticket Sales
Junior and senior house representatives will meet at 6:45 p.m. Monday in a SUB conference room to plan ticket sales.

Mike Patton, senior class president, said students will be able to purchase tickets from their living group representatives for $3 per couple. Single tickets in the balcony will be 75 cents.

Aid Of $200 Is Available

Individual awards from $100 to $200 are available to Idaho students under an undergraduate research scholarship program made possible by funds from the Idaho Heart Association.

The new program's objective is to stimulate students' interest to participate in scientific research. Awards are open to any undergraduate majoring in one of the physical sciences.

Awards will be based on the merits of a research project. It does not necessarily have to be original. The projects must be planned under sponsorship of a member of the University physical and biological sciences faculty.

What About Liberal Arts?

Editor's note: The Minnesota Daily last week took a long look at the science binge that the United States has embarked upon since the missile age began and had these pertinent comments on technological emphasis.

At one time it was the dream of many parents that their offspring would become President of the United States. Today the contemporary parent dreams that his son or daughter might become an engineer and thus, the technical savior of the world. We see that this change in thought may become a nightmare.

With the great emphasis now being given to science and engineering, we see a danger in forgetting the continuing importance of the liberal arts. Athelstah Spillhaus, dean of Minnesota's institute of technology, appears to see this same danger. He said recently, "One must know and understand the interests of others. So I appreciate the value of a liberal education."

Underlying the danger of too much emphasis on technology is the lack of real leadership both at national and local levels. Perhaps we are passing through a possibility of never reaching the heights low cycle of leadership, but we see the gained during the early twentieth century, for example. It is too easy for a nation to pride itself on technical achievement and neglect or forget what is just as important—political and moral leadership.

We are sure the men of science will continue their work in making a better world for us to live in. We only hope that other areas of learning such as the liberal arts will not be neglected as a result. The country and the world are also in need of leadership other than the scientific variety.

Bell Might Be Good Remedy For Prolonged Goodnights

By Jim Flanigan

Brigham Young University is trying to get rid of everything from Australian missionary pins to cowboy lassos.

According to the school's paper, The Daily Universe, the lost and found department has collected an array of strange articles and is still waiting for someone to claim them.

"We never know the value of an article to another person," a department spokesman said, "so we will guard a piece of paper just as much as the $1,500 rings we have recently returned."

Included in the lost and found collection are a Bricker tie clasp, a gold track shoe charm, new tap shoes, a gym outfit, and several watches.

A record fan can obtain a "Shake, Rattle, and Roll" disc, while a person with more talent will find a clarinet among the articles.

Perhaps Idaho students and the lost and found people here have the same problems. However, the situation at the Utah institution sounds more like a variety store sellout.

The Bell Tolls for Thee

A house mother at South Dakota State College has found a definite means to persuade male suitors to leave immediately after lights out instead of prolonging their goodnights.

She had wondered why they hadn't obeyed the signal for farewells, so she took a survey. Most of the men and women said their eyes were shut and they couldn't see the room darken.

To prevent this, the housemother now rings a dinner bell at evening's close.

At South Dakota State there is a dormitory—both for men and women. And the house mother is a college junior.

Perhaps we should explain. The dorm is actually an off campus house occupied by 10 coeds and two men students, who are employed as caretakers.

The housemother dropped out of school for 26 years between her sophomore and junior years to raise a family.

Shades of Dorothy Dix

The University of Washington Daily has received so many student letters in the last few weeks relating to heart ache problems that editors decided to run a love column for the "first and last" time.

Jan Meanders, a Daily staff member, took the role of Dorothy Dix and gave her advice on various problems.

Several of the letters and Miss Meanders' comments are:

"Dear Jan: A year ago the Columns ran a two-page picture spread featuring me. While I enjoyed the publicity at the time, everybody is afraid to take me out now. Boys stay away in droves, I'm a normal girl with normal desires, yet I can't get a date. What can I do? 'Hopefully.'"

"Dear Hopefully: Your first mistake was allowing those pictures to be run. The male animal is a funny thing, he likes to look but is afraid to act. I'm afraid you'll have to change your major from the art of being liberal to Liberal Arts."

"Dear Jan: I am an independent male. I recently fell in love with a charming sorority girl. She is

Inter-Agency Sets Wednesday Meet

The Columbia Basin Inter-Agency committee, a federal-state agency concerned with the development of the Northwest's resources, will meet here Wednesday.

The committee, composed of seven federal agencies, works with the Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Utah state governments.

In the morning session, the group will cover continuing committee business.

At a noon luncheon in the Student Union, Herbert West, executive vice-president of the Inland Empire Waterways association, will speak on recent progress in the development of water resources.

A program on the activities of the U.S. Forest Service in conserving the forest supply will highlight the afternoon meeting. After the meeting, committee members will tour the university forestry nursery and the College of Forestry.

Plane's First Flight Is Short, Tragic; Builder Is Undaunted

The little brown-colored plane was on its maiden flight as it circled the spot not far below where a cluster of would-be aeronautical engineers looked skyward.

It wobbled occasionally as vicious cross currents of wind caught it. It dipped, nose pointed earthward, twice as the man flying it fought the controls.

Then the tiny craft shuddered in mid-air, stalled and, engine whining pitifully, smashed into the soft soil with tremendous force.

Spectators from nearby Willis Sweet Hall were silent as they watched the doleful cluster of men pick up the pieces of fabric and wood from the crash scene.

That was the situation Wednesday at the University's latest (and probably first) aircraft disaster in the campus area.

Far from being discouraged, model airplane builder Ken Durk is now working on another smaller craft that will respond to its control lines better.

Marital Music

Last week, Willis Sweet Hall residents and their irate proctor were searching for an unidentified musician who insisted on playing taps at 10 p.m. each day.

Friday, the investigation was on in earnest and as the hour for the noisy serenade approached, the proctor waited.

Sure enough, down the dormitory hall walked a freshman carrying a horn.

The proctor pounced only to find he had caught the wrong man. The real culprit, who prefers to remain anonymous, watched the proceedings with obvious delight. At Willis Sweet, however, the 10 p.m. serenades have stopped.

New Talent Find

Perhaps the greatest contribution gleaned from the Campus Chest Carnival Saturday, excluding the money collected and the mess that remained, was the discovery of a previously unknown torch singer named Margaret Remsberg.

Miss Remsberg, who has done little vocalizing previously, unlim-bered a sexy, show-stopping version of "Frankie and Johnny" at the "Around the World in 80 Days" booth her sorority (Gamma Phi) built.

Said singer Remsberg later: "That's the first and last time I will ever do anything like that." She says she means it.

Tubbing for Two

When Sigma Nu alum John Hughes was tubbed for his six-month-old pinning to Kappa Nan Alford Sunday, a postscript was added to the usual tubbing sequence.

After Miss Alford had freed Hughes, her sorority sisters grabbed her and dumped her unceremoniously into the tub, too.

Fourth Concert By Faculty Trio Set For Monday

The University Faculty Trio will present its fourth concert of the year at 8 p.m. Monday in Recital Hall, Music Building.

Members of the trio are Leroy Bauer, associate professor of music, violin; David Whisner, cello, and Steven Romano, piano, both instructors of music.

Monday's program includes Beethoven's Trio No. 1, op. 1; Brahms Trio No. 4, op. 101; and two movements from the Mendelssohn Trio No. 1.

The trio appeared in Spokane in November, at the Idaho Music Educators' Convention in Pocatello and for the Fine Arts Club this month. Monday is the first public appearance of the group on campus this year.

Ancient Clay Tablet Gift From Student

Artifacts from the library site of ancient Babylon, primitive Indian objects, books and cash awards were among recent gifts to the University.

Lee Watenpaugh, a junior from Meridian, presented the Library with a baked clay tablet which shows the ancient writing system used in Babylon, President D. R. Theophilus said.

The Lawyers Title Foundation has given $100 for an award to be presented to the top student in the senior class in real property courses.

A $1,000 grant from the Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago, Ill., will be used for research investigation for the project "Unknown Chick Growth Factors" under the supervision and direction of Dr. A. C. Wiesse and Professor C. F. Petersen of the college of agriculture.

Indian baskets and containers, a cradle board, a knife and clothing were presented to the department of social sciences by Mrs. S. W. Siljan of Wallace. The artifacts were given to her father, a frontier doctor, in payment for services to the Plateau Indians.

John Luedke, Genesee, presented the library with 21 bound periodical volumes on photography 20 US Camera annuals, 70 Harvard Classics and 51 miscellaneous works.

Other gifts to the Library included 15 books from Harvold McIlvaine, Moscow, and 23 volumes from Ray Barlow, Tucson, Ariz.

Group Hears Social Codes

House social chairmen will discuss codes and procedures with Dean Marjorie Neely at 6:45 tonight in the Frontier Room of the SUB.

Bob Livingston, head of the Social Co-ordination Committee, said the group will also elect this semester's officers.

SMOKE RINGS come in all shapes and sizes. Like 4-sided smoke rings for squares. Sturdy smoke rings for windy days. Even invisible smoke rings for people who aren't ostentatious. As any competent smoke ringer (Vapor Shaper in Stickles!) will tell you, the best way to start one is to light up a Lucky. It's best mostly because a Lucky tastes best. A Lucky gives you naturally light, wonderfully good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Why settle for less? You'll say a light smoke's the right smoke for you!

Plans are underway for our dance, "Spring Fever," this Saturday.

DELTA DELTA DELTA
The pledges took the upper hand last Thursday for Turnabout Day. The members were given the privileges of the pledges including house work and library hours. Thursday evening the members presented a skit for the pledges portraying the future lives of the pledges.

Our weekend guest was Noche, a black chow puppy. She was treated royally by all and will certainly be missed.

The pledges enjoyed serenading the fraternities last Wednesday night.

Thanks to the Beta pledges for the serenade in honor of the new initiates.

Thanks to the Kappa Sigs and McConnell for their cooperation and assistance on our cake walk at the Campus Chest.

The pledges will gladly serenade for our lost door mat when they find out where it is.

SIGMA CHI
We were very happy and honored to have Rear Admiral Robert D. Workham, Grand Treasurer, visit us this week. We were also glad to have Dale Brandt back for a visit.

Many thanks to the Gamma Phis and the Delta Sigs for their fine cooperation in helping our three houses win the Campus Chest trophies.

Congratulations to Dusty Adams on his planning to Pat Garrison, Gamma Phi.

Thanks to the Kappas for their impromptu semi-formal serenade last week.

The red-faced pledges wish to thank the Alpha Phis for rescuing our stocks at Saturday's auction at the Bucket.

We also enjoyed hearing Dr. Joseph Kaplan and his informative talk at the Gamma Phi house last week.

HAYS HALL
The Hays Hall Habitual Sacrats Association Unlimited disbanded and has protestingly adopted a new "rise and shine" policy. The explanation is that pigeons have invaded one sleeping porch via the open windows and are proceeding to build nests, vocalize at early hours and cut capers around and between the beds. In retaliation the beginning of one family layed early this week have been destroyed.

Birthday dinner Thursday evening honored Jeanne MacMartin, George Ann Berkeley, Barbara Worst, Mary Ann Kohl, Mary Ann Gaines and Georgia Reynolds.

Dinner guests were Jim Cornie, Lambda Chi; Jim Macduff, Lindley; Mrs. Victor S. Casebolt, Pullman; Louise Hoyt, Theta; Mr. and Mrs. William Novak and Maryin, Spokane; and Roger Sites, Delta Sig. Weekend guest was Jan Avery, a former resident of Hays.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA
We are happy to announce the pledging of Rollic Williams and Daniel E. Van Thiel.

Wednesday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kent Marboe, Mr. and Mrs. Per Windju, Mrs. Rollic Williams and Mrs. D. E. Van Thiel.

The ATO pledges would like to thank the Kappas for an exceedingly enjoyable pledge exchange Thursday.

Our annual Sister-Daughter banquet was held Sunday afternoon. Guests were Miss Claudia Patton, French House; Miss Helen Gregory, Forney Hall; Miss Janice Palmer, Miss Helen Hanford, Miss Marlene Randall, Alpha Chi; Miss Eleanor Whitney, Miss Margie Bradbury, Kappa; Miss Judy Williams, Alpha Phi.

The Freshmen and Sophomores emerged victorious over the Upperclassmen in an exciting inter-house softball game held Saturday morning.

The chapter is eagerly anticipating the Annual Spring Formal to be held this year with the WSC Taus.

We are looking forward to the fried chicken fiasco with the Theas to be held in the near future.

Carl and Paul Winterstein, New Plymouth, were house guests during the High School Journalism Conference.

WILLIS SWEET
Congratulations to our Campus Chest Committee for bringing us near the top again. We're hoping the Pi Phis are prepared to feed 180 men.

Recognition should be given to Sweet's anonymous bugle blower who puts us to bed at 10 o'clock sharp every night.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA
Guests for the Brother-Son banquet held a week from Wednesday were: Ken Randall, Andy Anderson, Jerry Wicks, ATO; Jerry Jones, Walt Cranston, Dave Worsley, Bob Magnusson, Kappa Sig; Dave Titus, Jim McDonald, Sigma Nu, and Al Gailey and Bill Currie, SAE.

Weekend guests have been Mrs. Robert Shelton and Camille, and Sharon Ardruser of Boise, and Marlene Evans of Natchez, Wash.

Thank you to the Deltas for the breakfast exchange and to the Betas for the serenade in honor of our initiates. Thanks also to the FarmHouse for the nice exchange.

Many thanks to Reba Taylor, our hard-working Campus Chest Representative for all her organization and work; also to Marilyn Moozer who is at the helm of our Blue Key Talent Show Act.

GAULT HALL
Thanks to Fiji and Delta Gamma in joining us in putting over the balloon shaving booth at the Campus Chest Saturday night.

Borah Conference male delegates were guests in the Gault dormitory.

A recent dinner guest at the hall was Milo Abbott, a Gault alum. He stayed overnight here before leaving for Brooklyn, N. Y., to visit with Mike Meyer.

FORNEY HALL
Thanks to the Sigma Nus for their serenade in honor of Ann Rudolph's pinning to Kay Nelson.

Thanks to Upham for the exchange last Wednesday.

Brenda Brown, Jeri Scott, Beth Hossner, and Sheila Yarrol combined efforts and made our first afternoon coffee hour a great success. The next coffee hour will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 2nd.

Thanks to the Phi Taus and FarmHouse for working with us on Campus Chest and helping make our booth such a success.

Dinner guests during the past week have been Paul Klewein, North Platte, Neb., and Sharon Mathoney, Alpha Phi.

Carol Ann Reasoner, Burke, Idaho, was a weekend guest.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA
Congratulations go to the two girls who announced their pinning a week ago Sunday night. Joyce Weaver announced her pinning to Jerry Schuette, SAE from WSC, and Rosemary Maule surprised everyone with her pinning to Jon Brassey, Sigma Nu.

The Sigma Nus didn't waste any time with Jon's tubbing. Monday noon Rosemary performed a heroic rescue and was well rewarded. They also gave us another surprise tubbing Sunday when John Hughes was given his delayed tubbing, and Nan Alvard came to the rescue.

Thanks to Lindley Hall for the

Chem Theme Tells Troth of Baker, Thorpe

"What a Bang When Sigmund Freud Discovered Chemistry" was the theme announcing the engagement of Valene Thorpe, Hays, to Ken Baker, off-campus, Sunday at Hays Hall.

Miniature test tubes tied with pink ribbon and containing small scrolls served as place cards announcing the betrothal. Candlelight and a bouquet of pink and white snapdragons and sweet peas formed the centerpiece.

The ring was centered in a white carnation and was passed among the girls and their dinner guests. No wedding date has been set.

Guests at the announcement were Carol Seitz, French House; Jim Fisher, off-campus; Pat Delaney, Washougal, Wash.; and Art Misner, Gifford, Idaho.

12th Journalism Meeting Is Declared Successful

Presentation of seven awards to young Idaho journalists and their publications Saturday morning climaxed the 12th annual high school journalism conference on the Idaho campus.

The two-day program was termed a success by Dr. Granville Price, chairman of journalism here. He pointed out that both the full length talks and group discussions, some led by students, were praised by the visiting advisers.

At the banquet Friday evening, Louise Shaddock, director of the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development, told 225 of the journalists and their advisers to "think Idaho and write Idaho."

She backed up her advice to seek a career in Idaho newspaper work by displaying a stack of magazines featuring the Gem State.

Seventeen-year-old Keva Pringle of Post Falls was named outstanding girl editor in the state by the Idaho Presswomen's Association at the awards assembly.

Winner in a news writing contest was Sharon Paul, Boise, who wrote fun exchange Wednesday night; to the ATOs for the pledge pizza exchange Thursday, and to the Sigma Nus for the front porch exchange for desserts and for the beautiful two dozen roses in place of our annual St. Patrick's Day exchange. Our thanks also go out to the Beta frosh for the serenade in honor of our initiates.

The Betas were over Wednesday night to hear Dr. and Mrs. Young in connection with the Borah Conference.

Sunday dinner guests have been Mr. and Mrs. Gale Mix, Jim Golden, Art Lindemer, Gwin Hicks and Carol Davison.

GAMMA PHI BETA
Last Tuesday night the annual Gamma Phi Beta "Smarty Party" was held at the home of alumnae Evelyn Fahrenwald. Those attending received a 3.0 or above grade point at semester.

Congratulations to Patsy Garrison on her recent pinning to Dick Adams, Sigma Chi.

Sunday dinner guests were Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Theophilus, Dean Neely and her mother Mrs. Miller. The Gamma Phi initiates extend a "thank you" to the Beta frosh for the serenade Sunday night.

The pledges enjoyed the exchanges with the Phi Deltas and Campus Club last week.

SDX Head To Discuss Wire News

Wire service news coverage will be discussed by the Associated Press western regional manager at a meeting here Wednesday.

Robert Cavagnaro, who is also national president of men's journalistic fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, is coming to the Idaho campus through the joint efforts of the SDX chapters here and at WSC.

SDX officers will meet with Cavagnaro before the meeting to discuss local chapter affairs.

John Werner, University of Washington SDX chapter president, who was once an Idaho student, will attend.

The meeting will be held in the South Ballroom of the SUB at 7:30 p.m.

Home Ec Confab Opens Here Today

Home economics specialists from Washington, D.C., and Boise are attending conference on the state home economics teacher training program at the University Home Economics Department today and tomorrow.

They are Miss Rua Van Horn, western region home economics program planning specialist for the U.S. Office of Education, and Miss Martha Graves, state supervisor of home economics education.

Miss Van Horn is chairman of the conference. A dinner in her honor is planned by the home economics faculty at 7 p.m. tonight at the Moscow Hotel.

LDS
"Five Ideals for a Happy Marriage" by David O. McKay is the lesson to be presented tonight by Helen Krantz. Mutual meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Sunday school will not be held on March 30 due to the State Conference in Spokane. A light breakfast will be served at the Institute beginning at 7:00 a.m. for those attending the Conference. The group plans to leave between 7:30 and 7:45 so anyone needing a ride should be at the Institute before 7:30.

Vandals, Whits Trade Shutouts

Vandal hurlers Clark Anderson and Jack Bloxom shut out the Whitman Missionaries, 5-0, Saturday, to give Idaho a split in a two game series at Walla Walla.

Whitman's Buck Jentsch blanked the Vandals, 1-0, on one hit in the second game. The double-header opened the 1958 pre-conference season for the Idaho baseball squad.

The hitting of shortstop Knute Westergren and outfielder Jim Throckmorton gave Idaho the edge in the first game victory.

Three For Three
Throckmorton rapped a double and two singles in two times at the plate and scored the winning run in the top of the first inning on Westergren's 330-foot home run.

The two runs were enough to win as Anderson and Bloxom throttled the Missionaries on only two singles. Both hits came off Anderson.

Anderson struck out four in the five innings he worked. Bloxom fanned two in his two-inning stint. Each pitcher walked one man.

Throckmorton tallied again in the fifth inning when he singled, went to third on an error, and scored on a sacrifice fly by first baseman Bill Stellman.

Catcher Larry McDonald opened the sixth inning with a single, advanced on a sacrifice and an error, and scored on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Jim Chrisman.

First baseman Don Hanford got the final Idaho tally when he walked in the seventh inning, went to second on a wild pitch, advanced to third on a ground out and scored on Bob Dehlinger's sacrifice fly.

Different
Coach Wayne Anderson started an entirely different lineup in the second game, with the exception of Throckmorton, and the Vandals ran into Jentsch's shutout.

Jentsch maintained complete mastery over the Vandals, allowing only a single to Idaho pitcher Denny Solt in the seventh inning. Gerwyn Jones of the Missionaries singled in the game's only score.

"We looked very good defensively, but still need a lot of polish at the plate," Idaho coach Wayne Anderson said yesterday.

The Vandals made only one error in two games, that coming on the opening play of the Whitman first inning in the first game.

Anderson praised his pitching staff, which gave up only six hits in the two games.

He said all 20 players who made the trip played, adding that he planned on shuffling his lineup in pre-season games to come up with "the best nine" before the PCC season starts.

To Lewiston
Idaho will travel to Lewiston Thursday for a tournament involving the Vandals, Washington State, Oregon State, and Montana. The Vandals play OSC Thursday.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural director Clem Parberry announced yesterday that softball and horseshoes will not begin until after spring vacation. Parberry said that intramural managers voted not to begin the sports until after the nine-day holiday in a meeting last week.

He also said that 967 players had participated in 'A' and 'B' basketball, a new intramural record. 'B' basketball drew 608 of the total.

Russ Campbell, SAE, rolled the high game in intramural bowling Thursday, a 241, while Dale Pline, Chrisman, bowled the high series, 605.

At the end of fourth round bowling action, Town Men's Association Lindley Hall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Chrisman Hall led their respective leagues.

Track And Field Clinic Is Slated At Neale Stadium

A track and field clinic, following on the heels of the March 15 highly successful basketball clinic, will be held Saturday, according to Vandal track coach Joe Glander.

Glander will be official coach at the clinic, which is directed by Don Weiskopf, Idaho physical education instructor who also directed the hoop clinic, which drew some 350 youngsters.

Sponsored by Union Oil
The track and field clinic is sponsored by the Union Oil Stations and the Moscow Recreation Department, the same group that sponsored the basketball meeting.

The Union 76 Sports Club has sponsored similar meets throughout the country.

Area boys, age 7-15, are invited to the clinic which will be held at 1:30 p.m. in Neale Stadium. The only equipment needed for the meeting is track or gym shoes, which will be used in the two track events to be run; the 50 and 100 yard dashes.

Awards will be given to winners in the various age groups.

To Demonstrate
Over 12 outstanding Vandal cindermen will demonstrate their specialties at the clinic, with such track men as Dick Boyce, Reg Carolan, Milt Riggers, Jerry Kramer, Ron Adams, Larry Ferguson, Dave Durham, Peter Reed, Frank Wyatt, Chuck Kahl, and Dave Campbell, scheduled to be present, as well as several others.

Registration for the clinic may be made at any Union Oil Station, or at Neale Stadium itself, between 1 and 1:30 Saturday.

It Doesn't Pay To Get Up

What does it feel like to pitch a no-hit game and still lose. WSC pitcher Elwood Hahn should know. Saturday Hahn threw a no-hitter at Columbia Basin Junior College only to go down to defeat, 1-0.

The winning run came when Hahn walked two men and a runner advanced on a long fly and an infield out to score.

A beauty by the name of Henrietta Dearly loved wearing a tight sweater.

Three reasons she had; To keep warm wasn't bad, But the other two reasons were better.

Our grandmothers believed that destiny shaped their ends. The modern girl puts her faith in girdles.

1957-58 Vandal Watermen

Neutral Corner Chiefs' Showing Boosts West; Grid Squad Of Decade Named

The showing of the Seattle Chieftans at the NCAA basketball championship finals last weekend proved one thing to this corner. The West is no longer a patsy as far as basketball is concerned.

Seattle advanced to the championship game of the NCAA finals before losing to the surprising Kentucky Wildcats, 84-72. California, the top team in the PCC, was narrowly defeated by Seattle in the regional Western playoffs of the NCAA two weeks ago.

Sad Day
It was a rather sad day for the PCC then, because Cal had been given a good chance to down the Chiefs.

But who would have said then that Seattle would have gone as far as they did in the outstanding post-season tourney in the country.

The Chiefs are a solid ball club. And don't let anyone tell you they are a strictly one man ball club either.

Even in Seattle, they have been dubbed the "Baylorites" and other such nicknames, denoting of course that they are entirely dominated by their great star, Elgin Baylor.

Baylor, the Seattle Super chief, undoubtedly is one of the top two or three college basketball players in the country. Perhaps he is the finest.

But right down the line, Seattle is loaded with talent of every magnitude.

Two sophomores, Sweet Charlie Brown and Don Ogorek, bid for national honors in their initial varsity seasons. Francis Saunders, overlooked by almost everyone, is one of the soundest all around players anywhere.

What this all boils down to is the fact that Cal lost to a truly great all around team in the NCAA playoffs.

PCC Tough
Indirectly then, this does not give the PCC a black eye, but instead proves, at least in this reporter's mind, that it is one of the better conferences in the country.

Golfers Play Best Of PCC In May Meet

Vandal golfers will participate in an all-PCC golf match to be held in Stanford May 23 and 24, according to the golf schedule just released through the athletic department of the University of Idaho.

The all-PCC meet will replace the usual Northern Division tournament which wrapped up the golf season in the past.

The linksmen will get their first test under competition at Whitman April 18, when they travel to Walla Walla to meet the Whitman golf team. Last year the Idaho golfers easily outplayed their Whitman opponents on two separate occasions.

The schedule:
April 18 — Whitman at Whitman
April 25 — Gonzaga at Spokane
April 26 — WSC at Moscow
May 2 — Oregon at Eugene
May 3 — Oregon St. at Corvallis
May 8 — Gonzaga at Moscow
May 10 — WSC at Pullman
May 17 — Washington at Moscow
May 23 and 24 — PCC tournament at Stanford, Calif.

Backs
In his starting backfield Hunter lists Wayne Anderson (1952) or Billy Williams (1947) at quarterback; Jerry Diehl (1949) and King Block (1949) at halfbacks; and Flip Kleffner (1953) at full-back.

Hunter, who has been sports publicity director at Idaho since 1947, pointed out that both Williams and Diehl were instrumental in a big Idaho upset over mighty Stanford in that year.

Lewis personally blocked six punts of a Vandal total of nine in 1952 and Killsgard played in both the East-West Shrine game and the College Pro All Star game.

Anderson, Holder, Block, and Kleffner were individual stars on Idaho teams which did not post outstanding records.

The merits of Hess, Foster, Kramer, and Walker are well known to most Vandal fans. All played in East-West Shrine games and rank as four of the top gridgers in Idaho history.

If any fan disagrees with the above choices this corner would welcome comment. Selection of

Kramer Selected For Star Game

Idaho's Jerry Kramer, standout Vandal football guard, was selected yesterday to play in the annual College All Star-Professional game August 15 in Chicago.

Wyatt Paces Tracksters At WSC Meet

Distanceman Frank Wyatt paced the Idaho trackmen to a strong showing in the WSC Indoor Invitational at Pullman Saturday.

Wyatt, who turned in what Idaho coach Joe Glander called "the most outstanding Vandal performance," lowered the existing mile and one half meet record by two full seconds, with a clocking of 6:51.9 for the distance.

Former Vandal Ray Hatton placed second, followed by Idaho's Ron Adams.

Despite the temporary loss of ace distanceman Dick Boyce, out with an ankle and foot injury, the Idaho tracksters collected points in almost every field event they entered.

Vandal Charles Kahl recorded the third longest distance in the hop step and jump competition, finishing behind Jack Fanning of WSC, and Jack Warrall of Seattle Pacific.

Bill Overholser grazed the first hurdle in the finals of the 70-yard high hurdles, and was slowed down enough to finish sixth in his specialty. Overholser had advanced to the finals by winning an earlier high hurdle heat.

Durham Edged
Ron Ohler of Seattle Pacific just edged Idaho's Dave Durham in the 600-yard run. Ohler toured the distance in 1 minute, 15 seconds.

The Idaho frosh unveiled a potential star in Reg Carolan. Carolan won both frosh weight events, flipping the discus 145' 11", and the shot 50' 3".

He's the best frosh shot putter we've ever had," Coach Glander said.

Dale Dennis, who finished second in the high hurdles at the Idaho state high school meet last year, copped a second place for the frosh in the 70-yard high hurdles.

Kramer becomes the second Idaho player in history to be named to the contest, played yearly between the National Football League title winner and top college stars of the previous season. Tackle Karl Killsgard was the first Vandal to play in the Chicago game. He was a member of the College All Stars in 1950.

Word of Kramer's selection came yesterday in a letter from Green Bay Packer official Jack Vainisi.

The Packers drafted Kramer in November in the opening rounds of the annual NFL player draft. He has signed to play professional football with Green Bay this fall.

The big Vandal guard starred in the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco in December and became the first Idaho player in history to compete in the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala., in January.

Big Thrill
"It's a big thrill to be selected for the College All Stars," Kramer said upon notification yesterday. "I had been hoping to get the chance to play."

Vandal football coach Skip Stahley called Kramer a "great choice" for the game and added he did not see how the All Star coaches could have overlooked him.

"If Detroit will consent, I think Wayne Walker will also be a cinch to play in the game," Stahley said. Walker, Idaho center who also was a big factor in the West's win in the last East-West Shrine game, has been drafted by the Lions, who will oppose the College All Stars in the Chicago clash.

If the Lions do not consent to let Walker play for the All Stars, he probably will see action for the Detroit team.
