Time Running Out For Decals

Student car decals must be on vehicle windows by Wednesday, or the driver will be fined, University parking officials announced yesterday.

Failure to display a decal on the lower right-hand corner of a windshield will be considered a traffic violation, and a student will be subject to a $5 fine, they said.

Several revisions in parking restrictions were also reported to the Argonaut by the officials.

Cedar Hall lot, which encompasses the area where the former dormitory was torn down last spring, is open to both faculty and students on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Gale Mix, ASUI general manager, said the SUB lot will now accommodate 95 cars, compared to a 70-car capacity last year.

Idaho Club parking lot will be ready for use in about two weeks. The area, which occupies the space where the men's dormitory was torn down this summer, will serve the needs of several men's dorms in that area.

The area where Campus Club stood will not be converted into a parking lot, officials added.

A small parking area, just south of Science Hall, will be restricted for the use of faculty members this year. In past years, students were allowed to park there.

Prexy Names 36 Committee Appointments

President D. R. Theophilus this week appointed members to 36 standing councils and committees for the school year including seven with student representatives.

Named to the Borah Foundation committee, which plans Borah Conference, were Paul Baker, Theta Chi, and Bill Roy, McConnell Hall.

Three students were appointed to the Athletic Board of Control including Rollie Lodge, Sigma Nu; Jim Golden, Beta, and Bob Nestel, Tekle.

Two seniors will serve on the Commencement committee. They will be appointed by the Executive Board later this fall.

ASUI President Dick Kerbs and John Thornock, off campus, were named to the Men's Discipline committee. A representative to the women's Discipline committee will be appointed later.

Two students, Margaret Remsburg, Gamma Phi, and Jay Eacker, Theta Chi, will serve on the Student-Faculty committee, which considers all major student problems.

Students Holding Activity Offices Must Have Grade Point Accumulative Of 2.0

Students holding an elective or appointive office in any extracurricular activity or organization this year must have accumulative grade-point average of 2.00 or above.

This was the decision of the Student-Faculty committee last spring, when it completed drafting a University code concerning student affairs and behavior during the academic year.

The code was distributed to students passing through the 1958 fall registration lines. It was published by the Office of Student Affairs.

A student planning to run for an office will do so with the understanding his grades will be checked, according to the report. He will be automatically removed from any office if his grades fall below the required average.

Other rules set down by the Student-Faculty committee were similar to past years. They are as follows: —Single undergraduate women, who are not Moscow residents, must live in a sorority or dormitory unless they have permission from the dean of women to reside elsewhere.

—"Hazing" or any form of initiation outside of fraternity and sorority houses will be dealt with by the Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, and University. This rule also applies to Independent Hall.

—Consumption of alcoholic beverages will not be condoned by the University if the student is a minor, or if he violates any state or local laws. Penalty for violating this rule could result in expulsion or denial of social privileges.

—Firearms will be allowed on campus, but must be dismantled and unloaded. Possession of firearms, gun powder, or other forms of explosives is prohibited.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

The shortage of parking space, compounded by the fact that a half-dozen streets in Moscow are impassable because of repairs, is currently ranking in the minds of students who have to stow their cars somewhere.

The cry is already echoing campus wide that foresight has been somewhat lacking in staking out new areas for student parking. It would be an entirely justifiable cry except for a couple of hard facts.

In the first place, two new lots (one of them completed) will be open for students in a little more than a week. It's true that one—located across from Science Hall—is now off limits to students, but the addition of the other two more than makes up for the difference.

Second, the influx of cars in the past two years has been little short of astounding. Since every student is looking for a parking lot close to each class, the friction is noticeable and can't be ignored. A lot close to campus that will handle a couple of hundred cars just isn't in the cards for Idaho's compact area.

To expect the administration to keep up with the crush of automobiles on a growing campus is to presuppose that unlimited funds, space and equipment are immediately available for such luxury projects.

Problems Aired At Proposed Student, Faculty Lake Retreat

University of Idaho administrators, faculty members and student leaders will meet at Coeur d'Alene Oct. 4-5 to discuss problems confronting the school and student body, according to conference chairman Bill Roy, McConnell.

The two-day meeting, the first of its kind, was planned last spring as an attempt at improving student-faculty understanding. Purpose of the retreat has been outlined as follows:

- 1. To promote fellowship between students, faculty, and administration personnel. 2. To define aims of higher education. 3. To help student government organization contribute more to the educational system. 4. To provide an informal atmosphere for talking over mutual problems. 5. To develop the spirit of cooperation and esprit-de-corps among students, faculty, and administration for the coming year.

ences without permission of a hostess or housemother, and they will not be allowed inside except during visiting hours, or special events such as Dad's Day.

Women will be subject to similar conditions when a guest at a men's house or hall.

—Major social functions will be defined as all dances, formal and informal, house parties, and cruises. Minor social functions include firesides, picnics, exchange parties, breakfasts and teas.

Major functions must be registered at the Student Affairs office, but minor ones do not need formal approval.

A discipline committee for men and one for women have been set up to rule on cases of delinquency by students. Both groups recommend preventive and corrective measures, and have power to take action against a student.

Members of the men's committee include Dick Kerbs, ASUI president; John Thornock, representative of the ASUI Executive Board; G. O. Baker, agronomy professor; Col. Merrill A. Kempton, professor of Air Science; Edward C. Moore, philosophy professor and chairman of the group.

Included in the coed's committee are Kay Zenier, AWS president; Margaret Coffey, professor of physical education, and Elsie Nielsen, professor of home economics.

Thirteen Coeds Vie For Homecoming Queen Laurels

Thirteen junior and senior coeds were nominated by their living groups yesterday as candidates for Homecoming Queen.

Record High Reached; Total Boosted To 3,801

A 27-year-old veteran today held the distinction of being the man who set an all-time enrollment record at Idaho.

He was Howard Humphrey, Nampa, who at 3 p.m. Monday became the 3,776th student to register for classes. Before the day was over, the total stood at 3,801, exactly 100 above the count at 5 p.m. Friday when formal registration ended.

Associate Physician Post Filled By Dr. H. Brogan

Dr. Horace H. Brogan, who has been practicing medicine at Miles City, Mont., for the last 12 years, has been appointed associate physician at the University of Idaho.

Teacher Brings Campus Closer To Broadway

A new University of Idaho instructor in music will bring the campus a bit nearer Broadway.

Fresh from singing in the Radio City Music hall in New York, John B. Tumbleson, Jr., will teach voice and direct the Idaho opera workshop. He replaces Harry Morrison, who is on leave to do advanced studies.

The 35-year-old father of three has had extensive experience as a professional singer, conductor and arranger. He has been a singer-actor with the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera and the Robert Shaw Chorale, has appeared in the Broadway production of "Seventeen", and toured the nation with Xavier Cugat.

Tumbleson, known professionally as Ray Thomas, has also appeared on many TV shows including the "Voice of Firestone," and the Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, and Arlene Francis programs.

The singer, who received his B.A. from the University of Southern California and M.A. from Columbia university, has left show business to do something he feels more important.

"I taught for a time in the Los Angeles public schools before being lured back to New York. I like teaching very much, and have long wanted to get back to it," said Tumbleson.

He feels it is up to the universities and colleges across the nation to offer a steady hand and present the important productions which might never make the Broadway stage for lack of commercial appeal.

Martin Profiled In Magazine

A personality profile on Dean Boyd A. Martin of the College of Letters and Science at the University has been featured in the September issue of American Society for Public Administration News.

The article called Dean Martin one of the best known figures in Idaho and a long-time advisor of the Idaho Municipal League.

He numbers among his friends most of the state and municipal administrators, many of whom are his former students.

It continues: "A week seldom passes in which he is not called upon by some public official for advice or invited to speak. Whenever his full schedule allows, he is always willing to oblige, and evenings at home are a rarity."

A native Idahoan and alumnus and faculty member of the University of Idaho, Dr. Martin has served as dean since 1955. After receiving his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Stanford university, he accepted a position as instructor in political science at Idaho in 1938.

Recruiter Brewton Tells Of Openings

E. M. Brewton, Naval recruiter, has announced that the local area naval reserve company has openings for men interested in joining a military unit.

He stressed that through this reserve program both training in a profession and the fulfillment of military obligations can be accomplished. Meetings of the naval reserve are held each Wednesday night at the Naval Science Building.

Drama Tryouts Slated Tonight

Tryouts for the first ASUI dramatics production of the season were held at 7 p.m. Monday and are scheduled at the same time tonight in the University Auditorium.

Jean Collette, drama chairman, said theater-goers will be able to see "The Happiest Millionaire" on the University stage Oct. 24-25.

"Monday and Tuesday tryouts will be considered a general tryout for the year," she explained, "as well as one for the 'Millionaire'."

There are jobs open for backstage work and in the cast, she added.

Other productions scheduled this year include "Our Town," in December, "The Teahouse of the August Moon" in March, and "The Tender Trap" in April.

Law Students to Inscribe Names In Rebound Honor Code Book

The College of Law has a new book on its shelves from which no assignments are given nor does it contain required readings. Yet all of the 547 students who have attended the Law College have read its contents and have inscribed their names.

Executive Board Scheduled Tonight

First Executive Board meeting of the semester will be held tonight at 7 p.m., ASUI President Dick Kerbs said today.

Kerbs said agenda would include organization of the Board for the business year, a discussion of next month's student-faculty retreat and reports on the NSA national convention.

The Board will meet weekly on Tuesday.

NEW STUDENTS SING

A Song-Fest for all new students will be held Wednesday in back of the Field House from 6:30-7:15 p.m. Ernie Carr and Barbara Davis, New Student Days co-chairmen, said. Norman Logan, Prof. of Music, will lead singing.

COMING EVENTS

TODAY 4-H conference room A, 6:45 p.m. I.K.'s, conference room A, officers, 8:15 p.m., members, 9 p.m. WEDNESDAY Student Recruitment Committee, conference room B, 7:30 p.m. AWS, Executive committee, SUB Bucket, 4 p.m. THURSDAY Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia, Pine room, SUB, 9:30 p.m. TMA, conference room B, 7:30 p.m. Living group Homecoming float chairmen, SUB, 4 p.m.

ASUI President Dick Kerbs and John Thornock, off campus, were named to the Men's Discipline committee. A representative to the women's Discipline committee will be appointed later.

Thou Shalt Not...

Throughout time, man has been confronted by a list of "Thou shalt not's." And the college student is no exception.

Upon returning to their alma mater, Idaho students soon found out, as in past years, a set of rules and regulations had been adopted to guide them through the academic year. The typical rules concerning liquor, firearms, and social events were listed neatly in black and white, and distributed in the registration lines.

Many complained about the decisions, some laughed, and others accepted it with a grain of salt. But, nevertheless, we must admit these rulings are definitely good, and necessary.

If we did not have these rules to guide us, we would be like a traveler without a map or destination. Every nation, group, or individual must have his mores, customs, and laws so he will know what is considered right, and benefit from them.

Would it be wise not to have statutes stating murder is wrong, and punishable. No. Nor would it be wise not to have laws governing students at the University.

The University code concerning student affairs and behavior states:

"This code is reasonable: it promotes the education process; it promotes the welfare of the University; and it is enforceable."

We must admit this is right. As a group of individuals, we are watched by the taxpayers of the State of Idaho. We must display a mature outlook on these regulations, and obey them. In this way, we will assure those who help pay for our education that we are capable of benefiting from their help, and appreciate it.

Not Accidents
Social probation and shootings are not accidents; they are definite violations of the basic rules set down by the University, and they leave lasting impressions on the residents of the state.

Evaluate the code. It was written after long hours of work, both on the part of faculty members and students, who were on the Student-Faculty committee.

As the code states, "It is the responsibility of each University of Idaho student, and the officers of each campus organization to understand this code and live by it." The decision is yours.

Pledges, Oldtimers Run Into Usual Indoctrination Miscues

Water filled balloons seem to have become an accepted weapon for campus warfare.

Sunday morning at 6, an amazed pledge leaped sideways, fell from her top bunk, and made a neat three point (two knees and a nose) landing on the floor after a well directed missile splashed resoundingly on her head. It seems that all beds near the windows have since been assigned to pledges.

The first week of school is always a period for release of the suppressed kleptomaniacal tendencies found in all freshmen. This year the time honored fall sport, trophy stealing, was complicated by enforcement of the rule prohibiting the entrance of girls into mens' living groups.

One pledge class, not to be deterred by such silly rules, came home with loot ranging from chairs and ash tray stands to a five foot wooden coffee table, all reportedly procured through an open window.

Alpha... Beta?
The Lambda Chi pledges, after an unsuccessful bout with the Greek alphabet, merrily splashed Alpha Chi Alpha in red paint over all available windows.

The usually staid and conservative bulletin board in the SUB has been sporting frivolous notices such as the one announcing the end of mens' rush. "Hotboxing Ends Tonight." Investigation revealed that Carolyn Staley, newest helping hand in the ASUI office, has been conducting a cheer campaign. Latest little note of cheer: IK book sale for the poor potato picking student.

And there was the seventy-five-year-old man who wasn't interested when two eager girls asked him if he would like to have the Argonaut sent home to his parents.

A note from the Arg staff. We are requesting contributions for a bottle of rose colored ink to put in Jim Golden's crystal ball.

ASUI Movie Slate Released By Mix

"Neptune's Daughter," the first ASUI movie of the fall term, will be shown in the Borah Theater of the SUB at 4, 7 and 9 p.m. Oct. 2, according to Gale Mix, ASUI general manager.

Also scheduled is "On The Riviera," slated for showing Oct. 23.

Marshall Awards Open For Seniors

Applications for 1959 Marshall Scholarship Awards to be used at any British university are now being taken. Only those students receiving a degree before next year are eligible.

Twelve awards, each worth about $1,400 plus tuition and travel expenses, are given each year by the British government.

All students interested should contact Prof. T. J. Pritchard at the Art Building before Oct. 31 deadline.

Former University Student Honored

A former University of Idaho student has been cited for the development of future warfare concepts that helped the U. S. Army Infantry school become a recognized authority on combat developments within the armed services.

Col. Dured E. Townsend, chief of the U. S. Army Infantry school's combat developments office, has received a commendation ribbon with metal pendant for "performance of exceptionally meritorious service."

Col. Townsend, who came from Newberry, Ind., to attend the university before entering the Army in 1934, was commended for work done in preparing the infantry to meet the changing demands of warfare.

KUOI Schedules Radio Announcer Auditions Thurs.

Auditions for announcers for KUOI will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the KUOI studios according to Mick Seeber, station manager. He urged interested persons who haven't previously auditioned to attend.

Seeber also stated that due to the late arrival of equipment for repairing the transmitter, KUOI will not go on the air until the last of September. It will feature popular music and new records, and news exclusively this year. A sale of old records will be held in October.

Executive staff for this year includes Bob Gese, chief engineer; Larry Ayer, program director; Joe Visentainer, record librarian; and Warren Wubker, program director.

Exchanges Fill Fall Calendar

By NAN HUGHES
"Socializing" took on a new meaning for freshmen this week, as a jam-packed round of exchanges introduced them to life on the Idaho campus.

Included on the exchange slate were water fights, football games, cake dates and dancing.
Lambda Chi members will celebrate moving into their new headquarters with an open house Sunday. Riot reigned as pledges upset members in the first pigskin practice of the season. Social doings are rolling on, with a fire-side with the Pi Phis scheduled for Friday.

At the Alpha Gamma Delta House, Mollie Godbold announced her engagement to Steve Clements, Kappa Sig, by rummaging through her paint-spattered jeans pocket to produce the ring.

Charlotte Ruckman broke Alpha Gam tradition by eliminating the usual candlelight and flowers and announcing her engagement to Art Misner, SAE, by passing a box of chocolates Monday evening.

Kappas will join brains and brawn with Fijis in building their joint float for Homecoming. Social life at the KKG house began with a bang—exchanges with Kappa Sigs, Sigma Chi's and Fijis have kept the pledges occupied!

Sigma Chi plans are in the making for their pledge dance on October 4. Pledge exchanges with Theta, Alpha Chi, and Gamma Phi pledge classes have begun the social calendar for the Sigs.

Hays Hall officially opened its doors with a welcome fireside Wednesday. Sandi Wright, who spent several weeks in the Bahamas this summer, presented the "Limbo," a native dance. Freida Schid played a marimba solo, and freshmen and new students were given the opportunity to display their talents in two novelty skits.
Theta Chis are now occupying the former Lambda Chi house at 609 Deakin Avenue. Members report that a remodeling job has brightened life in their new home.

Tri Delt initiated two new members Sunday: Barb Branon and Roxie Daugherty. Mona Olsen-nausen from Asker is a new addition to the Tri Delt household. Mona, a business administration major, is an avid ski fan.

Alpha Chis welcomed back Mike Beglan and Frankie Lisle into their ranks. Pledges waged battle during their football game with Phi Taus, and enjoyed cake dates with the Kappa Sigs. Homecoming float time will see Alpha Chis and Sigma Chis working together on their project.

Alpha Tau organized functions have included a breakfast exchange with the Pi Phis, and an informal cake date with the Kappa pledges. Impromptu doings have included several exchanges with the Alpha Chis, and the lifting of various "spells of war" from neighboring sorority houses.

Idaho Students Awarded $7,250 In Scholarships

Trustees of the Hecla-Bunker Hill Scholarship Fund have announced the award of $7,250 in scholarships to 38 University of Idaho students and a student at North Idaho Junior college.

The awards are made annually from a $10,000 fund established by Hecla Mining company and the Bunker Hill company in 1951. University of Idaho students named to receive the awards were: Joseph and Rolland Bouchard, Jerry Boyd, Larry Cantrell, Harold Damiano, Glen McCurdy, Walter Nelson, Keith Riffle, Noreta Smith, Leo Weeks, Lawrence Winiarski and Edwina Zabel, all of Kellogg; James Uolla, Mullan; Donald Hull, Clara Lowry and Norma Norman, Osburn; Dana Hertzog, Wallace Huff and Jerry Mix, Pinehurst; Kenneth Patton, Janet and Kay Salyer, Smelterville.

Victor Brewer, Anthony Nelson and Leo Tafolla, Wallace; Eric Carlson and Darrell Ferguson, Wardner; Eugene Hart, Bloomington; Lenny Kirkeby and Jerry Wicks, Coeur d'Alene; Monte Shirts, Hailey; James Hoss, Hope; Donald Beck, David Durham, Richard Gott and Roland Williams, Moscow; Henry Eyrich, Princeton; Donald Brown, Donnellson, Iowa.

Each student received from $100 to $250, depending upon need.

Golden pointed out that there are vacancies in editorial, copy desk circulation, advertising and night staff categories. Some of the positions, he said, are salaried.

Members of the Arg executive staff will explain procedure for joining the organization.

I'm sorry, the bored young coed told the interested senior, I can't see you Sunday. I'm expecting a headache.

Lambda Chi's slate open house plans announced open house to be held next Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, according to Loren McCoy, president. All faculty and students have been invited.

The Lambda Chi's received their chapter charter last year and have moved from 609 Deakin to the former Pi Phi house.

History Written By Idaho Graduate Receives Acclaim

A University of Idaho graduate and a former member of the faculty has written what has been described as the "greatest single work by an American historian of our time."

The quote from the "Borzoi Quarterly" of publisher Alfred A. Knopf concerns a nine-volume history of the British Empire before the American revolution written by Dr. Lawrence Henry Gipson, formerly of Caldwell.

The first three volumes have gone out of print and are now being revised.

Dr. Gipson was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1903. He was selected as a Rhodes scholar to study at Oxford following graduation. In 1926, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, and holds doctorate degrees from both Yale and Temple universities. For his historical writings, he has received two of the nation's top awards—the Justin Winsor prize and the Loubat prize. He was given an honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Idaho in 1933.

Dr. Gipson was an assistant professor of history at Idaho from 1903 to 1904, and professor of history from 1907 to 1910. From 1911 to 1924, he was on the Wash-bash college staff. Later, he taught at Lehigh university.

Majorette, Twirler Tryouts Set Today
Tryouts for coeds interested in the University majorette corps and flag-swingers will be held at 4 this afternoon in front of the Music Building, Warren Bellis, band director, announced Monday.

The coeds selected will appear with the Marching Idahoans during the football season and on various other occasions throughout the year.

Show Grind Tough, Miss Nelson Says

Life in the entertainment world may sound glamorous, but breaking into the "big time" of show business involves a lot of push and hard work, according to a University of Idaho graduate who has launched a singing career in New York.

Marigay Nelson, a 1957 music graduate who received her first big break by winning a Horace Heidt talent contest, returned to her alma mater this summer to present a vocal recital to a Northwest regional meeting of the National Association of Teachers Singing Voice workshop.

While still in college, Miss Nelson spent a summer studying under Boris Goldowsky with a scholarship presented by the Idaho division of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Marigay now leads a double life working as a secretary in a New York insurance company of the day, and taking voice lessons and sandwicheing in singing engagements during her off-hours.

Last winter she won a spot on the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts Program, and has recently auditioned for the Patti Page Show.

Cuts Record
One of four girls in New York who can do a "high obligato" she has cut a record album as a member of the supporting vocal group with popular singing star at a Singing Voice workshop.

"It's an album of Christmas carols which will be released soon," she said.

To beginning singers who dream of reaching the vocal heights of the entertainment world, Miss Nelson suggests, "Never give up. There is plenty of competition and hard work—but it's worth it."

While attending the University, Miss Nelson was a featured soloist in many music department productions including the operas "Cosi Fan Tutte" and "Impresario".

A two-time Blue Key Talent Show star, she was a 1956 winner, and appeared as guest soloist in 1957.

Students Get Look At Campus Religious Groups This Week

Various get-acquainted meetings, coffee hours and student receptions sponsored this week by Moscow churches will provide both new and returning University students with a look at religious organizations.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP
The Disciple Student Fellowship of First Christian Church begins its fall semester tonight with a student reception to be held at the church. Cars with DSF signs in the windows will be stationed at the University Book Store, Ethel Steel House and McConnell Hall at 7:15 to provide rides. The program, which features recreation and fellowship, will begin at 7:30.

CANTERBURY CLUB
A University-parish reception for all Episcopalians will be held tonight at the Canterbury House from 7 to 9 p.m.

Students will spend the evening getting acquainted with each other as well as with the facilities which Canterbury has to offer.

Regular Canterbury activities were resumed Sunday evening with a supper and get-acquainted program. A weekly celebration of Holy Communion will start tomorrow morning at 7 a.m. in the Canterbury Chapel. The service will be followed by a breakfast.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSN.
Lutheran Student Association will hold open house tonight at Our Savior's Lutheran Church beginning at 7 p.m. Members of the council will stop by each living group to pick up students who wish to attend.

Students will be introduced to the program for the year and meet the Lutheran Foundation Board members and the pastor. A coffee hour for Lutheran students will be held at the Campus Christian Center at 4 p.m.

Various get-acquainted meetings, coffee hours and student receptions sponsored this week by Moscow churches will provide both new and returning University students with a look at religious organizations.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP
The Disciple Student Fellowship of First Christian Church begins its fall semester tonight with a student reception to be held at the church. Cars with DSF signs in the windows will be stationed at the University Book Store, Ethel Steel House and McConnell Hall at 7:15 to provide rides. The program, which features recreation and fellowship, will begin at 7:30.

CANTERBURY CLUB
A University-parish reception for all Episcopalians will be held tonight at the Canterbury House from 7 to 9 p.m.

Students will spend the evening getting acquainted with each other as well as with the facilities which Canterbury has to offer.

Regular Canterbury activities were resumed Sunday evening with a supper and get-acquainted program. A weekly celebration of Holy Communion will start tomorrow morning at 7 a.m. in the Canterbury Chapel. The service will be followed by a breakfast.

Poetry Association Announces Contest

The National Poetry Association has announced its annual competition for students who wish to submit manuscripts of their poetic efforts. Deadline for submission of verses is Nov. 5.

Although no limit as to form or theme is set, shorter works are preferred because of space limitations. Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet and must bear the name, the student's home address and name of the college he or she attends. Entries should be sent to National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Argonaut Meeting Slated Tomorrow

A general meeting of the Argonaut staff to acquaint students with job openings and operation of the newspaper has been scheduled for 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Borah Theater, Editor Jim Golden said today.

Golden pointed out that there are vacancies in editorial, copy desk circulation, advertising and night staff categories. Some of the positions, he said, are salaried.

Members of the Arg executive staff will explain procedure for joining the organization.

I'm sorry, the bored young coed told the interested senior, I can't see you Sunday. I'm expecting a headache.

Lambda Chi's Slate Open House Plans

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity announced open house to be held next Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, according to Loren McCoy, president. All faculty and students have been invited.

The Lambda Chi's received their chapter charter last year and have moved from 609 Deakin to the former Pi Phi house.

DUCKS CRUSH VANDALS, 27-0

Oregon Squad Explodes In Big Last Period Surge

Holding only a slim 8-0 lead after three quarters, the Oregon Ducks exploded in the final period, adding three touchdowns and one extra point to win going away, 27-0, from Idaho at Eugene Saturday.

Idaho started the game out the hard way, fumbled the kickoff on its own 37, and immediately had to make a goal line stand. The stand was cracked when Fullback Marland Holland drove over for a touchdown, but the touchdown was called back because of a penalty.

After retaking the ball on their own 15 yard line, Idaho moved to the Oregon 47 before being halted. A penalty set Idaho back to its own 48 and punter Jim Norton could manage to move the ball only 15 yards past the line of scrimmage to the Oregon 37.

One pass later the Ducks were knocking at the door again, with the ball on the Idaho 23. Don Laudenslager, pile-driving Oregon halfback, went all the way two plays later to put the Ducks ahead to stay.

Idaho had to hold at the goal again, when midway through the second quarter, the host Ducks had the ball on fourth down on the Idaho five yard line. Vandal quarterback Gary Farnworth stopped Duck halfback Willie West at the one foot line to pull Idaho out of the fire, temporarily.

Hall Trapped
Three plays later, Vandal fullback Ken Hall found himself trapped in the end zone and tried to pass to a receiver that wasn't there. A resulting penalty gave Oregon two points on a safety.

Not content with the two-point-er, Oregon took the Idaho kick on its 34 and started another march with two minutes and thirty one seconds left in the half. The Vandals put on their best show of the game in the third quarter, keeping the Ducks largely at their own end of the field,

INTRAMURALS

Touch football, tentatively scheduled to start tomorrow, will open the Idaho campus for the 1958-59 school year, according to intramural director Clem Parberry.

Intramural football is divided into four leagues, with the fraternities largely lumped together in leagues one and two, and the Independents belonging to leagues three and four. The Town Men's Association is classed in one of the fraternity groups.

At the end of the season, the winners of leagues one and two play for the Greek championship, and the winners of leagues three and four meet to decide the Independent title. In the final game the Greek and Independent champions meet to decide the campus champs.

Last year Lindley Hall took top honors in the Independent league, only to lose to the top Greek team, Town Men's Association in the battle for the campus crown.

Both TMA and Lindley went undefeated in regular season play last year.

Parberry disclosed that last night's intramural meeting, which took place too late for the results to be included here, would be primarily concerned with the election of officers and the drawing for league berths. He expressed belief that the leagues would remain basically the same as last year.

Vandal head coach Skip Stahley summed up Idaho's showing with one short sentence, "We were lousy."

Coed: May I get you an hors d'oeuvre?
Freshman: No thanks. I'm on the wagon.

Varsity Basketball Workouts Slated To Begin Next Month

Varsity and freshman basketballers will begin workouts Oct. 15, the Idaho Athletic Department announced yesterday. Initial varsity action is against Montana at Missoula, Dec. 1.

The Vandal varsity was hard hit by graduation, losing high scoring captain Gary Simmons, as well as most of its height in Jim Bransom, Gary McEwen and Jerry Jorgenson.

But several top veterans are returning, including Whaylon Coleman, John Liveious and B. J. Schaffer. Latest word is that Hal Damiano, who broke a leg last year and saw little action, will also return.

Every other undergraduate on the squad last year will be back, along with several transfers, including Joe King and John Fleming of Lewis-Clark Normal School and Dean Baxter and John DeRitter of Boise Junior College, and several more players up from the frosh.

Top Frosh Prospects
Top freshman prospects include Charles Lange, 6'5", Coeur d'Alene; Paul McGinn, 6'3", Idaho Falls; Gary Floan, 5' 11", Orofino and Philip Waters, 6'8", Allensville, Ky.

The Vandal varsity will play a 10-game non-conference schedule, closing with the Montana State Bobcats at Bozeman, Jan. 31. The conference slate begins Jan. 2 when the Vandals meet UCLA at Moscow then host Stanford here Jan. 3.

The season winds up March 6 when the Vandals host the University of Oregon Ducks here.

Everyone should pay their taxes with a smile but unfortunately the government wants cash.

He was a member of the Oklahoma swim team from 1950 until 1953 and captained the squad in his last year.

Mitchell said a meeting for all varsity swimming candidates would be held Friday at 4 p.m. at the Memorial Gymnasium pool.

Idaho's first meet of the year, the Northern Division Relays at Pullman, is slated Dec. 7.

Gary Randall's SIDELINES

Old Defense Headache Back; Fourth Quarter Hurts Vandals

The Oregon Ducks pointed out that Skip Stahley's Vandals are still plagued by one of last fall's troubles — defense in the fourth quarter.

Last year the Vandals outscored their opponents in every period but the last. Saturday's game made it seem likely the same could happen this year.

The Idaho line, which played ball straight across with the host Ducks for three quarters, found itself pushed back time after time in the final period as the Idaho backs tried to get running room.

In yardage, the Oregon team completely out-classed the Vandals, holding them to only 30 yards on the ground, and 85 through the air. In the same time the fleet-footed Duck scat-backs were churning along the turf for 218 yards, and moving 176 yards through the air. It was a bad day for Idaho.

Across the border, the Cougars were chewing up Stanford's Indians in big mouthfuls, pounding the California visitors every minute.

Perhaps the most surprising thing to come out of the game was the WSC gridders ground yardage — 243 yards of it. The Cougars, a pass-minded outfit, picked up 214 yards through the air, and proved that through the air or on the ground, they could move the ball.

In other action, the College of Pacific took full advantage of the new two-point conversion rule to edge California 24-20. The COP tigers scored the two pointers three times following three touchdowns. The Bears matched the touchdowns, but couldn't match the tigers in the all-important extra points department.

The new ruling, which allows a

Tigers Drop Opening Game To Vanderbilt

The Missouri Tigers, Idaho's next grid foe, dropped their season opener, 12-8, to Vanderbilt Saturday, but gave promise of having a solid defense and a tough ground offense.

The Tigers held the invading Vanderbilt eleven to a total of 157 yards while they ran up 193 yards on the ground and went for an additional 83 yards through the air. In first downs, the host Tigers accumulated 17 while holding the Vanderbilt gridders to 11.

Other future Vandal opponents met with varying degrees of success, but there were two real surprises, Washington State's 40-6 slaughter of Stanford, and Oregon State's 21-0 loss to USC. Both teams will meet Idaho on its home field.

In other action, San Jose lost to the University of Washington, 14-6, after worrying the Huskies for four quarters with a potent air offense, and Montana lost to Utah, 20-6, in a game that saw both teams stick close to the ground.

you are running around with my wife.

Veterans Must File Training Reports

Veterans attending the University under program PL 550 who registered before Sept. 20 must file a report of training at the counseling center Oct. 1-5. C. H. Bond, Chief Counselor announced today.

"There is no assurance, however," Bond added, "that these veterans will receive checks before Nov. 20."

Letter: I shall expect you at my office at 3 p.m., to explain why
