Last week's Campus Chest drive netted $2,954.14, but the final total was expected to top $3,000, Laird Noh, general chairman, said yesterday.

Late donations will probably total more than $50 if this year's drive holds true to last year's form, Ann Becker, funds and collection chairman, said. Last year's drive brought just under $2,500, which was this year's goal.

The auction was the top money-getting part of the drive, bringing in $700 more than last year. Living groups spent $1,616.50 at the climaxing event.

Carnival booth ticket sales were $847.41. The house donation drive gained $354.90 and the "ugly men" collectively made $135.33 to reach the near $3,000 total.

Could Have Been More
Had last year's practice of charging 10 cents admission to the carnival been used this year, Saturday night's collections would have put the drive well over $3,000.

A continuous swarm of students filled the Dipper to help the Alpha Phi, TMA and Phi Tau dime-a-dance and cake sale booth net more than $122 to gain top honors. Each group received a trophy.

Twenty-four living groups registered 100 per cent participation in the 25 cents per capita donation drive. Three others lacked only a little of joining the "100 club," Miss Becker said.

George Bertonneau, Fiji, drew $24.60 to gain the Ugly Man title and a trophy.

Betas and Sigma Nus drew rounds of applause at the night-capping auction for making the highest bids. Betas bought Gamma Phi for $136 and Sigma Nu bought DG for $135.

Six sororities brought over $100 each out of fraternity treasuries. The Fiji house drew $65 to top all mens groups.

Houses that sold for over $50 are:

- Gamma Phi, drew $136 from Beta; DG, $135 from Sigma Nu; Tri Delt, $67.50 from Kappa Sigma; Fiji, $65 from Gamma Phi; Theta, $110 from Sigma Chi; Sigma Nu, $55 from Alpha Phi; Pi Phi, $110 from Phi Delt; Alpha Chi, $97.50 from Delta Chi; Alpha Phi, $105 from Fiji; Kappa, $105 from Delta Sig; Alpha Gam, $56 from Upham.

Miss Becker, Theta, said only one third of the auction money has been received. It should be turned in no later than Wednesday at the ASUI office, she said.

Distribution of Chest funds by percentage basis will be decided tonight at an Executive Board meeting. Last year's funds were distributed to 14 different charitable organizations and programs.

If you're saving up to buy the much-talked-about issue of Post, might as well save the 15 cents. It isn't worth the money.

The article in question, "Are We Making a Playground Out of College?" smacks strongly of the outraged screams of a college grad (circa 1920) who saw a tubbing once and sat down to mourn the inhumanity of it.

Jason's tired of outdated knowers of all things trying to tell collegians how to spend their time and trying to make a Ph.D. candidate out of us all. He just didn't make that out way.

Jason herewith comes to the defense of tubbing, turtle races, most queen contests and water-fights as pleasant diversions — even if some J. prof disagrees. Summing up: A sensational article, designed for drawing folding money and an example of lousy journalism.

NAVY WINS 5 OF 6

Strength Tussle Will Kick Off Frosh Week

University freshmen will launch their annual Frosh Week activities this afternoon at 4, when they hold a strong man contest among male class members.

The event, scheduled in conference rooms A and B of the Student Union Building, will include arm and leg wrestling, plus endurance trials. Winner of the contest will receive a trophy at a class dance Saturday night.

A prettiest legs contest is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in the SUB Bucket. The freshman coed with the best looking gams will also receive a trophy at the dance.

To Show Gams

Competing for the title are Pat West and Kelda Johnson, Alpha Chi; Pat Roberts and Carole Geidl, Alpha Gam; Suzanna Shern and Shirley Vowels, Alpha Phi; Rae MacArthur and Virginia Oaks, Tri-Delt.

Nancy Welker and Brenda Brown, Delta Gamma; Ann Henrich and Mary Ella MacDonald, Ethel Steel; Karen Bell and Mary Hasfurther, French; Florence Griffin and Vickie Barnet, Forney.

Judy Middleton and Lois Bowers, Gamma Phi; Gail Agee and Peggy Sinnemaki, Hays; Diane Rudolph and Pat Berger, Theta; Edwina Zabel and Lorraine Peter, Kappa; Jane Anderson and Charlene Peter, Pi Phi.

Friday the freshmen will meet the sophomores in the traditional tug-of-war over Paradise Creek at 4:30 p.m.

Heaven Theme

"A Little Bit of Heaven" is the theme of the class dance, scheduled from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday. The Mickey Finn Sextet will play at the event.

A freshmen queen and king will be crowned at the dance intermission. Final voting is scheduled for noon Friday in Idaho living groups.

A mix-up in preliminary voting was explained yesterday afternoon by Bill Sakaguchi, Gault, freshman class president.

"Due to an unfortunate error, two candidates were omitted from the ballot," he said, "and a complete revote for the king had to be taken the next day."

"The exclusion of Campus Club from voting was the result of misinformation stating that no freshmen were living in that hall," he added.

1960 Yule Is Re-Scheduled

The Administrative Council yesterday rescheduled Christmas vacation in 1960 from a Friday to a Tuesday. Under the new ruling students will not have to make up school days as under a prior recommendation.

An original recommendation, approved in a vote by freshmen and sophomores, called for the vacation to begin on Friday, Dec. 17 and end Tuesday, Jan. 3. The two days of classes missed were to have been made up by going to classes on one Saturday and by extending final week one day.

But the Council said that even though one day more of school would be missed, none of the days would have to be made up.

The council's recommendation now will go to the Board of Regents for final approval.

Contemporary Theme Picks '59 Campus Art Festival Offering

An art exhibit and lecture will open the five-day University of Idaho Festival of Contemporary Arts at 7 p.m. today, in the foyer of the Arts Building.

The festival will present artistry of students and faculty in modern dance, chamber music, contemporary art and theater.

A philosophical approach to the arts will kick-off the event. Melvin Rader, philosophy department, University of Washington, will speak on "The Artist — An Outsider?" at 8 p.m. in the Arts Building.

Kennedy Cancels Speech; Airline Balks At Airport

The on-again, off-again relations between Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.), and the University of Idaho were off-again Saturday — apparently for the last time unless he later campaigns for the presidency here.

United Airlines, which was to bring the young Kennedy here by chartered plane from Medford, Ore., refused to do so at the last minute Friday. He was to have spoken here Saturday afternoon.

The airline said it could not give clearance for Kennedy's two-engine Convair plane to land at the Pullman-Moscow airport because of maximum weight restrictions.

Kennedy instead flew from Medford directly to Boise, and spoke at a Jefferson-Jackson Day fundraising banquet Saturday night.

Selections for the show are: "Five Trombones" instrumental group; Delta Sig, vocal-instrumental combo; Marilyn Crane, Kappa, and Pat Iverson, Alpha Chi, baton twirling act; Sandy Wright, Hays, a dance; "Dave Trail Trio" instrumental; Carol Haddock, Kappa, vocal.

Jo O'Donnell, DG, vaudeville routine; "I-Vans" quartet; Delt quartet; Shiria Calaway, Forney Hall, uke trio, and the Phi Delt, DG, Pi Phi, Kappa, Tri-Delt and Alpha Phi group acts.

Last year's winners, Gamma Phi and the Icecaps, will repeat their performances without competing. Dress rehearsals are slated for March 19 at Memorial Gymnasium, chairmen said.

Four Students Draw Fines

Four students have been fined for traffic infractions and one was placed on conduct probation by the Men's Discipline Committee last week.

Three of the cases, said a spokesman for the committee, involved a third parking violation for each man and resulted in $25 fines for two of them. Fifteen dollars was suspended. A third student was fined $25 with $10 suspended. All the suspended fines are forfeited on a fourth conviction in addition to any new penalties.

The other case concerned a student who "borrowed" a reserve book from the Library and deposited it in his living group's library. The book had run up a $52.80 back fine before he was caught. Fine was set at $25 and the student was placed on conduct probation.

2 Members Needed For 'Nations' Team

Spain will be Idaho's topic country in the annual Model United Nations, held at the University of Southern California, April 26.

Two more students are needed to fill out the nine-man team to be sent to USC, said Paul Baker, off-campus, general chairman. The University will pay registration costs, but the student must pay his own transportation.

Interested students should contact Baker for additional information.

Florida 'Teahouse' Gets Two Extras

LEESBURG, Fla. — While Idaho thespians searched for a goat for the forthcoming play, "Teahouse of the August Moon," a company of players putting on the same show here were having their animal problems.

The goat appearing in the Florida production turned in a fine performance, but was unable to take her curtain call.

She had just given birth to two kids backstage.

Paris Organist Plans Concert For March 15

The organist of the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris, Pierre Cochereau, will present a concert of classical music in the Music Building Recital Hall at 4 p.m., Sunday. Admission will be $1.50.

Although only in his early thirties, Cochereau holds one of the most musically significant positions in Europe as organist of the famed cathedral. While performing the greatest of music for the organ, he has shown a great amount of personal inventiveness, color, and imaginations, critics report.

"There is no doubt that M. Cochereau is a worthy successor in the line of great organists who have held the post of Notre Dame," said the critic for the Christian Science Monitor.

Although this is Cochereau's third American tour, he plays regularly throughout all Europe. His recording of Louis Vierne's "Second Symphony" and Marcel Dupre's "Passion Symphony" won the 1956 Grand Prix du Disque.

Regular performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets are on sale at the University Bookstore and Carter's Drug Store in downtown Moscow for 75 cents each. Idaho students, with ASUI cards, will be admitted free. They can reserve seats at the Bookstore.

House Grants $8 Million-Plus Appropriation

BOISE—The House ended its deliberations at 1:04 a.m. today, just 20 minutes behind the Senate and three days past its regular 60-day limit. The final hours in the Senate were taken up with a successful move to sidetrack a new labor code and kill it.

BOISE (Special)—The harried Idaho House, racing toward a midnight adjournment target, Monday night gave final and unanimous approval to SB262 giving the University of Idaho $8,562,367 for general education for the next biennium.

The bill, which had already passed the Senate, was one of many that were jammed through. All had received extensive attention in committee meetings prior to their presentation. It was the last bill of importance affecting the University that had not received approval from both houses. All of them still need gubernatorial approval.

The eight-million-plus appropriation was the biggest chunk of the $11,665,703 that went to the University in five major categories. The others, all earmarked for special divisions of the University, were passed earlier in the week.

President D. R. Theophilus could not be reached for comment on the Legislature's action late Monday.

Idaho had originally asked $9,650,615 in the general education, non-agriculture research and operation category, but a pre-legislative committee chopped $2,432,046 off that amount before turning their recommendations over to Gov. Robert Smylie and the Legislature. Smylie, in his "hold the line" budget, wanted $8,237,367 for the University, a $693,000 increase. The joint Senate-House finance committee boosted the total back up to the $8.5 million.

Another $1,352,633 is expected to come from federal appropriations, endowment income, and local income during the biennium.

All appropriation bills, the University's included, were locked in committee for more than a month before they were thrown in the hopper.

The $11,665,703 total allocation compared over-all with $13½ million originally requested by the University.

House leaders had first hoped to adjourn at 6 p.m. yesterday, but the slower moving Senate caused trouble. A joint House-Senate resolution was passed about 6 p.m. calling for the 11:59 p.m. cut-off.

Meanwhile, the bulk of other appropriations affecting the University, most of them agricultural, were on Gov. Robert Smylie's desk awaiting his signature, which was expected this week. In all they totalled $3,103,336, somewhat reduced from the $3,723,720 that was asked in the University budget.

Each category, however, was a separate part of the budget and considered separately. Biggest chunk went to agricultural research and was set at $1,678,978, compared to the $2,086,398 asked. That bill (HB346) cleared the house yesterday. An extension got $1,251,578, a cut from the $1,435,262. Pure seed lab service was trimmed from $62,060 to $47,780, and special research got a $25,000 slicing from $150,000.

There was still some hope for an okay from the Legislature to renovate the south wing of the Administration Building. But nearly $2,000,000 in other requests including that for construction of a new science building were sure of rejection.

A mix-up was still being worked out on a bill that was introduced last week requiring that $250,000 originally allocated in 1957 for a mines building revert to the general building fund on June 30. The money was set aside as a 50-50 matching of money provided by the Idaho mining industry. There was indication that the industry would still be able to provide the money before the deadline, enabling construction to begin this fall. Another bill was also before the House providing that the deadline be extended for a year.

Idaho State College, meanwhile, was in line for $4,927,208 in general appropriations. Lewis-Clark got $445,200 in House-Senate action earlier this week. ISC had asked for a total of $5,706,134.

Shaking The Doldrums

Residents of University dormitories are slowly beginning to rise out of their dormant state and are trying to develop inter-dorm spirit.

The reason for the sudden surge of interest in improving extra curricular activities while nourishing a feeling of prestige seems to have resulted after a new Independent organization—the Resident Halls' Council—was formed.

Leaders of this new group are trying to develop spirit among dormitory residents so they will take a greater interest in their living groups, while they build a name for themselves on campus.

One of the council's main goals is initiating incoming freshmen into campus life, while they acquaint them with their living group. One officer pointed out new students are confused and lost when they first move into a dormitory because there is no one to welcome them to Idaho.

At present, he said, the council is trying to initiate an orientation program for freshmen. The group is also attempting to better social relations, develop spirit, improve physical conditions of the dorms, start open houses on weekends, and form competitive attitudes.

The officer added that none of these goals can be accomplished, however, unless the new council can earn prestige and power.

We feel the council could accomplish its goals if it was able to cultivate the next crop of freshmen under this new program and if it continued to indoctrinate incoming students year after year.

However, the council will never be able to earn prestige, power, or accomplish its goals if various dormitories continue to stay out of activities "because of the lack of communication." We feel that the various campus functions are announced far enough in advance so that a living group will be able to take part in them.

But until the Resident Halls' Council can weed out the dead heads and seek out the go-getters and give them something to do, its principles will fail.

The council's ideas are basically good, and will pay off if they are handled right. —J.C.F.

CLUB DEDICATION — The University's newest men's dormitory, Campus Club, was officially dedicated Sunday afternoon. The Unit replaces a wood frame structure destroyed by fire last spring.

Booklets, 800 Books Among Gifts To Idaho

More than 800 books and pamphlets and an issue of the New York Herald dated March 11, 1863, were among gifts to the University of Idaho receiving formal Board of Regents approval, President D. R. Theophilus announced yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl David, Moscow, presented the University Library with 772 books and 89 pamphlets. Earl David is one of three brothers who recently sold their interests in the department store which still bears their name.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Jennings, East Glacier Park, Mont., gave seven books to the library. A University graduate and scenario writer for many Hollywood epics,

$1,600 In Scholarship, Gifts Receive Official School Okay

More than $1,600 in scholarships and gifts to University students have received formal Board of Regents approval, the president's office announced yesterday.

Elberta Truchot, Hays, received a $300 scholarship from the Congregational Christian Churches of New York and a $100 award presented by the Shoshone-Bannock tribes of the Fort Hall Agency.

John Whitbeck, Lindley, and Arthur Lee, off campus, were given $125 awards from the Boundary County scholarship fund. Craigmont Chamber of Commerce presented a $62 scholarship to Leroy Inglis, off-campus.

Delta Tau fraternity gave $100 to the Allen Reeb memorial fund. Ludel Boyd, FarmHouse, received a $150 PTA scholarship from the Kellogg Senior High School.

Boise architects, Humel, Humel & Jones, presented the Department of Art and Architecture $100 to be used for junior design problem awards.

A second half-payment of $150 of the scholarship stipend for the National Merit scholar, Carolyn Dempsey Mitchell, off-campus, was presented by the National Merit Corporation.

Potlatch Forests Foundation, Inc. gave a $200 award to Judith Geidl, Alpha Chi, for the second semester of this year. The Presser Foundation music scholarship of $175 was presented to the Music Department. Dama Wildig, Pi Phi, was given a $100 second semester award by the Zonta Club of Boise.

The conference, which drew nearly 300 delegates from Idaho high schools last year, begins Friday morning, March 20. Panel discussions and workshops will be part of the program this year.

Jack O'Connor, Lewiston, gun editor of Outdoor Life, along with other newspapermen will be on hand to help in the panel discussions.

A movie, "City Room," will be shown Friday afternoon for delegates.

Author To Be At Conference

A Montana newspaper woman and author of the novelette, "The Hanging Tree," will speak here next week at the 13th annual High School Journalism Conference.

Dorothy M. Johnson, secretary of the Montana Press Assn., and author of several Saturday Evening Post western articles, will speak at the banquet Friday night, March 20, in the SUB.

Pulitzer prize winner, William Lambert, reporter for the Portland (Ore.) Oregonian, will also be among conference speakers. Lambert is one of two reporters who opened up investigations into vice, labor racketeering and political corruption in Oregon. He will be a guest of Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity.

Sorry We Missed You, John

The up and down expectations of Sen. John Kennedy's visit to the Idaho campus have ended—down. Circumstances played against us and we came out on the short end of a yes-again no-again acceptance.

Sen. Kennedy would have made a welcome contribution to the tone of national interests at Idaho, especially preceding the annual Borah Conference.

Although there was little indication as to what he might have spoken about, probably the one thing closest to home, besides his possible 1960 bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, would have been his stand against the loyalty oaths tacked onto last summer's $887 million National Defense Education Act. The oaths provide that to qualify for a loan or fellowship, a student must (1) swear allegiance to the U.S., and (2) affirm that he "does not believe in, and is not a member of and does not support any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the U.S. government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

Sen. Kennedy, in co-sponsoring a repeal bill with Pennsylvania's Joseph Clark, called the "anti-Communist mousetrap an unnecessary, futile gesture toward the memory of an earlier age."

The Senator who wrote in the oaths provision did it because "it would be the height of absurdity to make funds available to Communists or saboteurs under the heading of national defense."

It is doubtful the oaths are going to reveal the Communists among us or keep them from getting loans. Communists will sign the oath anyway and take a chance on being guilty of breach of contract.

The oaths also imply that students and professors are more suspected than other groups. Our government gives out a lot of money in other avenues without requiring a loyalty oath. Besides, it's possible a person could be violating the oath without knowing it. It all sounds odd on paper but actually, the oaths accomplish little except implant the thought of distrust.

The Arg, for one, would like to have heard what Jack Kennedy might have had to say about this. If he's behind it as he says he is, there'll be more people behind him.—D.E.

Blue Key Talent Auditions, Campus Chest Top Events

The Student Union Building was the scene of varied activities last weekend when Idaho students mingled in the western gaiety of Campus Chest Saturday night. Blue Key tryouts, held Sunday at the SUB, also took a top spot among campus events.

DELTS received an inside look at the mysterious land of Iran this week when they hosted Zhiant-Rezal, Iranian exchange student. Delt pledges proved that they "had a lot on the ball" when they made the highest grade point on campus with a 2.47, but they lost the basketball to the Sigma Chi pledges who defeated them in a game last Saturday. Karla and Bob Walton were presented with a late wedding gift during Sunday dinner. Gary Michel, off campus, was also a dinner guest. Deltas, Kappas and Sigma Chis had a "stompin good time" when they combined their talents for a Campus Chest booth.

ALPHA CHI Carnation Girls for March are Judy Conger and Vauna Blevins. The two girls were given the traditional honor Wednesday evening. Guests for the Wednesday dinner were Marcia Mannville and Celeste Jones, Gamma Phi. Mary Jo Fox and Joyce Tugs, Alpha Phi, were Sunday dinner guests. Newly elected officers at the colonial-style Alpha Chi house are Mary Jo Downey, social chairman; Mike Beglan and Frankie Lisle, rush co-chairmen; Mary Jauregi, asst. rush chairman; Camille Shelton, publicity chairman; Vicki Fisher, asst. scholarship chairman; Kelda Johnson, asst. house manager; Audrian Huff, asst. treasurer and Judy Westwood, recommendations chairman. Music was in the air Saturday night when the Kappa Sigs and the Neptunes, a singing group from WSU, serenaded the girls. A pledge exchange with the Fijis was held Wednesday evening. The Alpha Chi termed the Campus Chest booth which they built with the Theta Chis and the Kappa Sigs as "successful."

KAPPA weekend guests were Sonia Allen and Angie Arrien, Twin Falls and Mrs. W. B. Ross, Nampa. Betas gave the Kappas a preview of their Songfest presentations when they serenaded Thursday evening. LaDessa Rogers has been elected to handle public relations following a resignation by Nancy Reading. Elected to other house offices were Edwina Zabel, asst. public relations chairman; Joan Wallington, asst. social chairman and Judy McGarvey, asst. house manager. Blue Key practices occupied weekend activities at the Kappa house.

THETAS entertained Grand Vice President, Mrs. Jane Krohn and local advisory board members at a special dinner last Monday. Attending the dinner were Betty Pappeneau, Helen Zimmert, Pauline Whitehead, Editha Warren, Jody Reed, Ellie Anderson and Carol Holden. Letizia Pittigliani, visiting Italian artist, is getting the "inside" of a college coed's life while she is giving the Thetas some tips on Italian living during her stay at the house this week. Kappa Sigs presented Marge Ingle with a dozen roses and a sweetheart serenade Wednesday in honor of her pinning to Jim McBride. The girls also heard a preview of the Beta Songfest presentations when the Beta singing group serenaded Thursday. Sigma Chis put the "Theta Indians" in a real western mood when they serenaded previous to Campus Chest Saturday night. Nancy Lamb and Jayne Scoggins were co-chairmen for the Campus Chest booth, which was built with the Sigma Nus and Willis Sweet.

PANSY girls for February and March are Jane Johnson and Karen Kramer. Mrs. Hill from the Infirmary and Karen Stedfeldt, Kappa, were Sunday dinner guests. HAYS HALL came out in full force last week when they held a car wash to earn money for the Campus Chest auctions. May 2 has been tentatively scheduled as the date for the Hays annual spring formal. The girls entertained several visitors and dinner guests this week including Reverend Boulini, Religion in Life speaker; George Wilson, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Simpson and the ASUI Co-ordinating Council. Many Hays coeds visited the neighboring Campus Club during open house activities Sunday.

WILLIS SWEET members are anticipating a Spanish Fandangle with Forney Hall which they bought at Campus Chest auctions Saturday night. The fellows joined forces with the Thetas and the Sigma Nus for a Campus Chest booth.

TRI DELT newly installed officers are Louise Vandenberg, chapter president; Judy Freeman, house president; Roxie Daugherty, chaplain; Shirley Nettleingham, marshal; Connie Block, vice president and pledge trainer; Marilyn Voyles, recording secretary; Jan Foley, treasurer; Pat Ramsey, corresponding secretary; Joann McDaniel, librarian; Jan McCleskey, historian; Billie Sommers, scholarship chairman; Barb Brander, activities chairman; Kay Harder, publicity chairman; Charmaine Deitz, social chairman; Joanne Gartland, service projects chairman; Molly Banks, song leader; Claire Slaughter, AWS representative; Margaret Johnson, WRA representative; Marilyn Loeppky, asst. house president; Lynn White, asst. chaplain; Kathy Horn, asst. treasurer; Mimi Wood, asst. scholarship chairman; Gayle Carlson, asst. social chairman and Barb Timmons, asst. song leader. The Tri-Delts received some international airs this week when they entertained Miss Pittigliani, Italian artist at Wednesday dinner. The artist gave a short talk on her career following dinner. Mr. Harrington was a guest speaker Monday night. Fijis and Tri Delt pledges held an exchange Sunday.

ATOS from the three chapters in Province Thirteen met in Spokane Saturday to discuss fraternity policy at the annual convolve. Represented were the WSU, Montana and Idaho chapters. Dinner guests for the past week were Esquire Girl, Nadine Talbot, Kappa and Mrs. Hill, housemother.

ETHEL STEELS annual house dance has been scheduled for March 21. Recent dinner guests were Miss Betts from the PE Department, Dornie Dressel, Kappa and Dr. Wessler, who gave a short speech after dinner. Sarah Kelson from Sagle Idaho was a weekend guest.

DELTA CHIS plan to take advantage of Friday 13 superstition as they have scheduled their Zom-boree for the day. The Jamboree, which is the theme of the annual initiation dance, will be semi-formal. Music for the affair will be furnished by the Continentals, a local dance band. Lunch guests for Monday were Cookie Goodwin and Phil Rogers, both of Sandpoint. The Delta Chis joined in the western gaiety of the Campus Chest when they sponsored a booth with the DGs and Campus Club.

CAMPUS CLUB, Idaho's newest dormitory, was dedicated Sunday.

DR. THEOPHILUS, university president, and Gary McMichael, Campus Club president gave short addresses during the ceremonies. More than four hundred people attended an open house which followed the dedication. Refreshments were served by coeds from Forney Hall. Many university officials and living groups sent their congratulations and bouquets of flowers. Newly elected officers are Earl Pederson, vice president; David Nash, secretary; Arnold Brown, social chairman; Dick Boxleitner, intramural manager and Marvin Nebel and Ted Keith, council representatives.

FARMHOUSE alumni Maurice Johnson and Jay Garrett are visiting the local chapter while attending an IFYE conference at Pullman. Sunday dinner guests were Dr. and Mrs. Bailey and family and Maurice Johnson. Zhiant-Rezal, Iranian exchange student, was also a dinner guest this week.

Two Debaters Win At Contest

Two Idaho debaters won third places in the annual District II collegiate tournament at Linfield College in Oregon last week.

With approximately 500 students from 37 western colleges and universities competing for bids to the national collegiate debate tourney at West Point, Gordon Chester, Phi Delt; and Allan Boss, Upsilon, place third in interpretative reading and radio speaking.

Idaho had seven teams entered this year, and each team debated six times. They won 30 and lost 12. Last year, Reed Bowen, off campus, and Dick Sorenson, Theta Chi, went to the national meet.

The University of Oregon, Whitman College and St. Martin's College at Olympia, Wash., will represent District II at West Point this year.

New Dwarf Wheat To Be Discussed

A new semi-dwarf wheat type will be discussed by O. A. Vogel, US Department of Agriculture agronomist, when he addresses the Idaho Agronomy Club at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Vogel, who has developed many varieties of winter wheat for the Palouse area, will talk on "Desirable Characteristics Needed in Future Wheat Varieties" in room 104 of the Agronomy Building.

The semi-dwarf wheats are being tested at Pullman, where Vogel is stationed.

TV Demonstration To Be Presented

A talk and demonstration of color or TV will highlight the next meeting of the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Dean Klempel, Chrisman, group spokesman, announced yesterday.

Warren Jensen of Prudential Distributors will give the talk at 7:30 Wednesday in Eng. 104.

14 Coeds Vie For Ag Science Title May 2

Fourteen candidates for Miss Ag Science, 1959, were named yesterday, Larry Whitby, LDS, contest chairman, said.

The winner will reign May 2 during the new Ag Science Day, formerly called the Little International.

"It used to be a big occasion in the old days, but is less colorful and more scientific this year," Whitby explained.

At a mixer March 26, three finalists will be chosen from the 14 candidates by popular vote. Final choice will be named May 1.

Art Prof. Wins 3 Show Prizes

A university art instructor has won three prizes in the Northwest Craftsmen's Exhibition at the University of Washington in Seattle. George Roberts won prizes for work with ceramics.

The exhibition opened March 8 and features the work of craftsmen from Alaska, British Columbia, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington.

Sponsored annually by the Seattle Weavers' Guild, Lambda Rho Alumnae Art Honorary, the Seattle Clay Club and Henry Gallery. The exhibition continues through April 8.

The second annual Air Force ROTC invitational rifle match will be held March 28, Capt. Richard E. Denfeld, assistant professor of air science, said.

The Air Force has invited WSC Army, Montana State College Air Force, University of Washington Air Force, and teams from the Idaho Army and Navy ROTC units.

2d Coed Seeks An. Husbandry Degree Here

A young woman who likes to watch livestock grow may become the second member of the fair sex to receive a degree in animal husbandry at the University of Idaho. She is 20-year-old Sonja Carlson, off campus.

First woman to earn the degree was Charlene Roth, a 1958 graduate, who came within a single 'B' grade of being the University's ninth straight "A" student.

The two women have much in common. Both are pretty blondes and expert horsewomen, and both have an agricultural bent. Working with farm animals is nothing new for Miss Carlson. On her father's irrigated farm at Firth she has 25 cows and 4 horses.

The coed likes to write about animals almost as much as she does working with them.

"I'm very interested in agricultural journalism," she said, "and have been lucky enough to have had articles published in several newspapers and magazines."

An active 4-H member, she has served as state historian. Last year, she was selected as one of four Idaho delegates to the National 4-H Congress in Washington, D.C.

Newman Club Hosts Confab; National President Speaks

Newman Clubs from all over this area attended a leadership conference last week. The conference, which was held on the Idaho campus, closed Sunday.

NEWMAN CLUB

About 15 students from the University of Washington, WSU, North Idaho Junior College, Eastern Washington College of Education, Boise Junior College and attended an area leadership conference this week. Jim Bendau, national Newman Club president from the University of Louisiana, conducted the confab which was held on the Idaho campus.

Guest speakers during the conference were Dean Ernest Wohletz of the Forestry Department and Mr. O'Reilly from the Law School.

Newman Club will meet Tuesday and a regular business meeting will be held Sunday with a breakfast following the 9:30 mass.

Idaho Regents Meet In Boise

Research and summer school programs were the topics of major action taken for the University of Idaho by the Board of Regents at its Boise meeting, President D. R. Theophilus, said yesterday.

The regents authorized the University to enter into an agreement with several agencies of the United States Department of Agriculture to conduct joint research during the fiscal years of 1959-1960-1961 on summer sheep range at the Dubois experimental station.

Looking to advances in poultry ration studies, the regents approved acceptance of a $1,500 grant from Abbott Laboratories to continue work in this field. For conducting research on the evaluation of bark-base fertilizer, the regents accepted a $4,500 grant from Potlatch Forests, Inc.

Final plans for the University's 1959 summer school, June 15 to August 7, were approved. The regents also approved faculty appointments for the annual Public Utilities Executive's course.

Idaho Takes Second Victory From Cellar-Dwelling Oregon

The Idaho Vandals picked up their second series sweep of the season Friday night, coming from behind to force an overtime play-off with the Oregon Ducks, then moving away to notch their sixth PCC basketball victory, 81-75. Coach Harlan Hodges' crew moved firmly into the seventh PCC slot with a 6-10 record. They downed Washington State twice, had single victories over UCLA and Stanford, to go along with their final sweep.

Coleman Stars

Senior captain Whydon Coleman, playing his final game for the Vandal, finished out his career in fine fashion. He hit a long jump shot with just 23 seconds left to move Idaho into a 70-70 deadlock with the sharp-shooting Oregon visitors.

By that time Coleman was the only Vandal senior on the floor. Starter B. J. Schaffer left via the foul route after collecting six points and the other senior regular, Hal Damiano, had been injured in the closing seconds.

Bob Walton and Joe King, Damiano and Schaffer's replacements, added steam to the Idaho boiler, notching 13 points between them.

Oregon, after trailing 36-32 at halftime, stormed back onto the court in the second half and blazed the nets with an amazing 55 per cent shooting average. The Ducks pulled away to a 10-point margin before King, Prestel and Coleman could set the stage for overtime heroics by King.

Free Throw Victory

Idaho won its final game at the foul line, connecting on 29 field goals while the Ducks netted 30.

At the gift line Idaho hit 23 of 32 tries while Oregon settled for 15 of 23.

Leading the Idaho Vandals in their final PCC basketball outing was Prestel, who hit 7 floor shots and 11 of 14 free throws for 25 points, Coleman with 20 was next.

Diver Leads Idaho Squad In Last Trial

Diver Cliff Lawrence took third and fifth placement to lead Idaho fin-team scoring last weekend, as coach Clarke Mitchell's crew splashed home ahead of Oregon for fourth place ND scoring.

Lawrence, along with teammates Larry Nelsen, Ken Goodwin, Leonard Lawr and Dale Dennis in individual events, rolled up 26 points to head Oregon's 24 point total.

Washington, with 177.5, headed Oregon State with 117.5 for meet honors. The Beaver mer-men were followed by Washington State with 73.

Washington State's Rick Hosking drew top individual honors of the meet, copping and setting records in the 100 and 200 free style events, and winning the individual medley relay trials.

Hosking was voted the meet's outstanding swimmer in overall balloting.

Idaho's medley relay team and free style relay group came in third and fourth, respectively, to add to the individual points totals.

Nelsen took fifth in the 200 backstroke competition, while Goodwin swam off with fifth in the 50 yard free style.

Len Lawr placed sixth in the 1500 meters events, and Nelsen fanned his points total with a sixth placement in the 100 backstroke trials. Dennis finished out the Vandal scoring with a sixth place in the 200 free style.

"They did a real fine job," Swim Coach Mitchell stated in reference to the Vandal squad. "They didn't swim as good this time as the week before against WSC, but I'm not disappointed," he concluded.

Vandal Skiing Team Meets

Idaho ski coach Tom Anderson yesterday called a meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in Conf. room C for team members who will go to Colorado for the NCAA championships this month.

The Vandal boardmen tentatively plan to leave March 20 for Bozeman, Mont., and a four-way championship meet, then drive to Colorado for the NCAA finals scheduled the following weekend.

Idaho Ski Club Sets Meeting

The Idaho Ski Club will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in conference room E of the SUB to complete plans for a ski party Sunday at Emida.

Larry Hossner, Upham Hall, was elected president of the group recently. Larry Muhriman, off campus, was chosen vice president.

Hattermer, Wolf Lead 'A' Basketball All-Star Team

Theta Chi Larry Hattermer and Wendy Wolf of Pine Hall were named yesterday to the Argonaut A basketball all-star team along with eight other Greeks and Independents. It was the second straight selection for the honor for both.

Both Hattermer, who won third team honors a year ago, and Wolf who was on the second team last year, grabbed first string berths this season.

Jack Bloxom and Gary Thompson of Lindley Hall 1's Independent championship team, Cliff Trout of TMA2 and Ron Youngman of Willis Sweet 2 were other first string Independent choices.

In the Greek all-star picks, campus champions Tau Kappa Epsilon placed four team members on the teams chosen. Bob Prestel was a first-team pick. Teammates Ron Ismael and Fred Schmidt drew second team placement and Bill Hill ended on the third team.

Hattermer, Theta Chi's powerhouse, Terry Ward, Delt sharpshooter, Sil Vial, ATO star and Earl Owen, Sigma Chi flash, finished out the first team Greek berths.

Independent Second Team: Joe Erramouspe, LH; Jerry Enders, GH; Joe Wilson, WSH; Gary Healea, SH; Orvil Sears, GH.

Independent Third Team: Bill Klaus, MH; Don Brown, PH; Dave Gundlach, UH; Gene Novotny, LH; Bill Sakagunchi, GH.

Greek Second Team: Walt Peterson, LDS; Val Johnson, TC; Ron Ismael, TKE; Fred Schmidt, TKE; Theron Nelson, DTD.

Greek Third Team: Bill Hill; TKE; Bruce Cairns, BTP; Dale Peterson, LDS; Jim Kraus, SC; Jerry Meyerhoffer, PGD.

Floan, Sorman Head Victory

Gary Floan and Karl Sorman blistered the nets last Friday night as the Idaho frosh romped over the Warriors of Lewis and Clark, 86-64. The flashy Floan hit from the top of the key and from out in front as Sorman was pumping through shots from all around the key.

Led by Floan and Sorman the Vandal Babes jumped off to an early 11-2 lead and were never headed.

Chuck Lange and Sorman did a powerful job on the boards and helped to out-rebound the Warriors 64-47.

All the Frosh starters hit in double figures as they scored seemingly at will. At halftime the yearlings held a seven point, 42-35, edge.

In the second half fouls began to tell on the visiting Lewis and Clark squad and four starters left the game via the foul route.

Floan topped all scoring with a 26 point effort, followed by Sorman with 19. The other three starters, Lange with 13, Dick Sula with 12 and Tom Gwilliam with 10, finished off the double scoring for coach Wayne Anderson's charges.

Hoop Pair Win Season Honors

Senior Whydon Coleman and junior Jim Prestel were chosen most valuable and most inspirational Vandal players, respectively, at the Oregon-Idaho basketball game Friday night.

Coleman, who last year was given the Jay Gano award for most inspirational player, succeeded former teammate Gary Simmons as the most valuable player and recipient of the Ronnie White trophy, while Prestel received the Gano award.

Idaho Scoring Total Released

Coach Harlan Hodges' Vandals picked up a grand total of 1655 points, according to un-official Argonaut records, as against 1595 scored against them by all opponents.

Breaking the total down, Idaho notched 727 points against non-conference opponents, while their out-of-league rivals netted 602. In conference play Idaho hit 928 league points, while giving up 993 to all conference opponents.

Idaho bucketed 73 points against Montana State College in their highest single non-conference outing, had 74 points made against them by Colorado State University for the highest opponent's score.

Arg, KUOI Set Hoop Contest

Idaho's two communications media, the Idaho Argonaut and the KUOI "Voice of the Vandal," are scheduled to meet on the Memorial Gymnasium floor at 8:40 Wednesday night in what is reported to be a "grudge match."

The KUOI staff, headed by station manager Mick Seeber, will send six men to the game, including Seeber, Lawrence Ayer, Warren Wubker, Bernard Marra, James Taylor and Steven Van Horne.

Baseball Team Will Open Play Mid-Way In March

By HAROLD GUSTAFSON

Baseball coach Wayne Anderson released the Vandals' 33 game schedule recently, depending heavily on eight returning lettermen for this year's sixteen-game Northern Division slate.

The other 17 games will be exhibition games, with the first to be played March 20-21 at Pasco with Columbia Basin junior college, followed the next day by a scheduled tilt with Whitman at Walla Walla.

The eight returning lettermen include pitchers Val Johnson, Denny Solt and Jack Bloxom and infielders Larry Hattermer, Fern Pasold and Norm Geertsens. Ralph Hatch and Bob Dehlinger make up the returning lettermen outfielders.

At present the ball club is working out in the field house, but reportedly hope to get out as soon as possible. Anderson disclosed that the team may go to Lewiston to work out if the weather stays bad.

According to Anderson, the team is hurting in the catching department, which reportedly looks very poor with no returning lettermen.

The spike-men will make their first appearance on home grounds April 4 when they meet Whitworth college here in Moscow, then tackle Columbia Basin the following day.

Bears Capture League Crown

The California Bears backed into the PCC basketball title Friday night, watching casually from the sidelines while UCLA dumped Washington's slim chances for a possible tie with a 56-55 victory over the Huskies.

California widened the gap the next evening by bouncing Oregon State out of fifth place with a 55-52 victory while USC, the sixth place PCC team, finished the job on the sagging Huskies, 84-80.

Huskies Lose

Washington had a firm chance of a possible tie with the Bears going into the Friday tilt, and held onto it until midway through the second half, when Bruin Rafer Johnson ignited a UCLA rally.

By the time Johnson had settled down the Huskies were behind by five points with one minute to go.

Washington's two scoring aces, Bruno Boin and Doug Smart, gathered four quick points and cut the margin to one before the final gun sounded. With it came the death knell for Washington's title hopes.

Saturday night the USC Trojans applied the finisher, The Trojans, leading throughout the game, were forced into an overtime but came out ahead after the five-minute scramble.

In other Friday night PCC action, Stanford clipped Oregon State, 70-54 to start the Beavers on the downhill trail.

Saturday night, Washington State pulled Oregon into a cellar tie by dumping the Ducks, 70-63.

Big Ten Vote Insures Bowl Continuance

The nation's post-season grid classic, the Rose Bowl game, seemed virtually assured of continuance in a resemblance of its former pairings by a recent vote in the Big Ten.

According to a recent press release the Big Ten voted by a majority vote to continue the January 1 meeting between the top Pacific Coast team and the top team from the Big Ten, subject to certain requirements.

The vote, which was of an exploratory nature, seemed to indicate the action that the official balloting will take when voted on May 21-23.

The old PCC, now replaced by the Association of Western Universities, will dissolve June 1, but the new Association and the tournament of roses committee will issue formal Rose Bowl invitations.

At present the AWU consists of USC, California, Washington and UCLA.

HUSBANDS, ANYONE?

It has been alleged that coeds go to college for the sole purpose of finding husbands. This is, of course, an infamous canard, and I give fair warning that, small and spongy as I am, anybody who says such a dastardly thing when I am around had better be prepared for a sound thrashing!

Girls go to college for precisely the same reasons as men do: to broaden their horizons, to lengthen their vistas, to drink at the fountain of wisdom. But if, by pure chance, while a girl is engaged in these meritorious pursuits, a likely looking husband should pop into view, why, what's wrong with that? Eh? What's wrong with that?

The question now arises, what should a girl look for in a husband? A great deal has been written on this subject. Some say character is most important, some say background, some say appearance, some say education. All are wrong.

The most important thing—bar none—in a husband is health. Though he be handsome as Apollo and rich as Croesus, what good is he if he just lies around all day accumulating bedsores?

The most important thing to a husband is health.

The very first thing to do upon meeting a man is to make sure he is sound of wind and limb. Before he has a chance to sweet-talk you, slap a thermometer in his mouth, roll back his eyelids, yank out his tongue, rap his patella, palpate his thorax, ask him to straighten out a horseshoe with his teeth. If he fails these simple tests, phone for an ambulance and go on to the next prospect.

If, however, he turns out to be physically fit, proceed to the second most important requirement in a husband. I refer to a sense of humor.

A man who can't take a joke is a man to be avoided. There are several simple tests to find out whether your prospect can take a joke or not. You can, for example, slash his tires. Or burn his "Mad" comics. Or steal his switchblade. Or turn loose his pet raccoon. Or shave his head.

After each of these good-natured pranks, laugh gaily and shout "April Fool!" If he replies, "But this is February nineteenth," or something equally churlish, cross him off your list and give thanks you found out in time.

But if he laughs silverly and calls you "Little minx!" put him to the next test. Find out whether he is kindly.

The quickest way to ascertain his kindness is, of course, to look at the cigarette he smokes. Is it mild? Is it clement? Is it humane? Does it minister tenderly to the psyche? Does it coddle the synapses? Is it a good companion? Is it genial? Is it bright and friendly and full of dulcet pleasure from cockerow till the heart of darkness?

Is it, in short, Philip Morris?

If Philip Morris it be, then clasp the man to your bosom with hoops of steel, for you may be sure that he is kindly as a summer breeze, kindly as a mother's kiss, kindly to his very marrow.

And now, having found a man who is kindly and healthy and blessed with a sense of humor, the only thing that remains is to make sure he will always earn a handsome living. That, fortunately, is easy. Just enroll him in engineering. © 1959, Max Shulman
