Idaho's first Ag Science Day Saturday will be given an extra boost in its debut by visiting high school students, who will tour the campus and the Ag show as a part of the first Senior Honor Day.

Old To Meet New Tonight At E. Board

Ten fresh Executive Board members, who won their jobs last week, meet with the "oldtimers" tonight for a look at what's in store for them.

Newly elected President Laird Noh and his Board will attend a joint meeting at the invitation of President Dick Kerbs. None of the new members will have a vote until the old Board quits next Tuesday night.

Noh said today he'd bring his group together tomorrow night to elect a vice president and secretary, both of whom will have expanded duties. After that, they will go to work on filling committee posts. (Story on this page.)

The new veep will serve as chairman of the Board of Selection and Control, as a member of the ASUI Executive committee and on the Student Union Board, unless another more qualified member is selected for that job. He also takes over the President's duties during his absences or upon his resignation.

The Board meeting tonight will take up a long list of committee recommendations for transmittal to other agencies in the University, proposed changes in Gem operation and reorganization of the Department of Student Events. Four more student representatives to faculty committees will report.

A final vote of approval on the 1959 ASUI budget is also on the agenda.

Minor Car Damage Caused By Crash

Willis Sweet Hall resident, Keith A. Barrick, told police Sunday his car struck a parked car owned by Earl Hudson, also of Willis Sweet, while he was turning around near the dormitory.

Damage to the Hudson car was estimated at $100 and $50 for the Barrack car. Barrack said he was backing out to the street when his foot throttle stuck, sending him backwards into the other car.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

One would be naive to assume that the bitterness of last week's Executive Board election race has already been forgotten. Human beings do not forget real or fancied wrongs overnight and politicians forget such things slower than most.

The just-elected Executive Board is burdened by more personal antagonism than have most Boards facing the awkward job of taking over the reins and getting rid of the old. Jason won't take any bets on how fast the charges and counter-charges will be forgotten, but he suggests that it be in a hurry. He is tired now of the frayed tempers of last week as is just about everyone else. In short, the fun is over; now the work should start.

The 1958-59 Board for all its troubles has left an enviable record of internal cooperation that few persons ever knew about outside the inner circle. There was little feuding (though dissatisfaction that was pent up did come from other mouths during the campaign) and work proceeded smoothly.

No Board has ever gotten on its feet until midway in October after it was elected. If the programs set up this year are to continue, the new Board had best plan to get in shape at least that fast.

New Board To Interview Wednesday

Idaho's 1959-60 Executive Board will officially begin its duties Wednesday evening when members conduct interviews for a top ASUI committee position.

Laird Noh, newly-elected student body president, said the Board will interview students interested in serving as Freshman Orientation chairman next fall.

The Frosh Orientation chairman will also serve as a member of the revamped Board of Selection and Control, he added. Interviews will be held from 7 to 10 p.m.

Noh said that persons interested in cheerleading or being pom pom girls and those who want to serve on a student-faculty committee should leave their names at the ASUI office.

Student-faculty committees include Men and Women's Discipline, Traffic Appeals Board, Athletic Board of Control, Borah Conference, Student-Faculty, Public Events, Model United Nations, Recreation and Traffic Safety.

Persons desiring to work as a part-time secretary in the ASUI president's office should apply for the job in the general manager's office in the SUB. Noh said the pay is 85 cents an hour and a student can earn as much as $40 a month.

Queen Crowned

The Ag Science Day queen will be crowned at a Student Union banquet Friday night. Queen candidates are Sue Livingston, Kappa, Carol Hodgson, Ethel Steel and Sonja Carlson, off campus.

Last year's Little International queen, Carol Hattan, Delta Gamma, will crown her successor who is chosen by Ag Club members.

The dinner will climax the Alpha Zeta public speaking contest, with three finalists competing for the top award.

Animal and dairy husbandry judging team awards will also be given at the kickoff banquet. Bud Beasley, off campus, will emcee.

Livestock Show

The Little International livestock show, a 32-year-old spring fixture at Idaho, will be sponsored this year by the Block and Bridle, animal husbandry club and included in the Ag Science Day program.

A new trophy named in honor of C. W. Hickman, head of the Animal Husbandry Department, for many years, will be presented to the high point winner in the sheep, beef and swine fitting and showing contest.

Alpha Zeta, agriculture honorary, is planning a chili feed Saturday noon by the Ag Science Building for persons attending the Science Day and open house in all Ag buildings.

Kintner Chairman

Elwood Kintner, FarmHouse, is general chairman for the event which is sponsored by the Ag Club, John Falen, off campus, and (Continued on Page 2 Col. 6)

Annual May Fete Planned May 9 In Memorial Gym

Plans were underway yesterday afternoon for the annual May Fete, scheduled May 9 in Memorial Gymnasium. The event will be sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary.

Highlight of the Fete will be the coronation of Kay Zenier, Alpha Gamma, outgoing Associated Women's President, as May Queen. She will be crowned by Dick Kerbs, outgoing student body president.

Newly-elected ASUI President Laird Noh, Sigma Nu, will emcee the Saturday afternoon show.

Campus service honoraries will tap members for next year and Dr. D. R. Theophilus, University president, will reveal the top 16 seniors. The Spurs, sophomore women's honorary, will present the annual May Pole Dance.

University Singers, under the direction of Norman Logan, will present several selections from "Brigadoon" and the University Concert Band, directed by Warren Bellis, will play for the Fete.

Several other activities are planned for the Mother's Day weekend.

Helldivers, synchronized swimming honorary, will present its yearly show at the Memorial Gym pool. No details on the program has been released at present.

The annual Orchestris Mother's Day program will be presented May 8 and 9 in the University auditorium. The program will begin both nights at 7:30 and will include a combined show by the Orchestris, Pre-Orchestris, and Advanced Dance groups.

Under the direction of Pat Rowe, associate professor of women's physical education, the dances will include portrayals of typical American streets, a re-peat performance of the "Young Love" dance, from the Fine Arts Festival, an interpretation of the "Incredible Flutist" composed by Walter Piston, and a Negro spiritual number.

Five Finalists Are Named For Crown

Finalists for Military Ball Queen were announced yesterday by Willis Smith, Willis Sweet, publicity chairman for the Ball, and cadets from the combined service units this week will meet them in preparation for a final vote in May.

Finalists will be escorted to various sections of the military detachments during Thursday's leadership labs.

The five, cut down from an original field of 13, are Vicki Warner, Gamma Phi; Lynne Shelman, Pi Phi; Charmaine Deitz, Tri-Delta; Georgia Finch, Delta Gamma, and Judy Geidl, Alpha Chi.

The Queen will be chosen by vote of all service cadets on campus and will be crowned at intermission of the ball May 15 in Memorial Gym. The dance will round out the annual Spring Review activities on campus.

The 25th Army Band from Caldwell will play for the dance. Admission is $1 a couple, and tickets can be purchased from any advanced ROTC cadet.

Other events scheduled Saturday are organized tours of the campus, a special Jazz in the Bucket, a variety show featuring University talent and a street dance, the SMUG Stampede.

"We've had a very good response from the Idaho high schools and hope to set a precedent which will be of major service to Idaho students," Miss Roffler said.

Dick Loeppky is chairman of this year's Senior Day. B. J. Schaffer and Joe Erramoupe are in charge of entertainment.

Mom's Corsages Now Being Sold

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, is now taking orders for Mother's Day corsages, said Marilyn Lewis, off campus, president of the chapter.

The corsages are made up of 3 red or 3 white carnations and sell for $1.50 each. Orders will be delivered on the morning of May 9 by the members.

Father of Land Grant Schools Helped To Establish University

Justin Smith Morrill, father of 68 landgrant colleges and universities, including the University of Idaho, was born 149 years ago this month.

Morrill, Vermont storekeeper-farmer who would not take "no" for an answer, asked Congress in 1857 to parlay some of the nation's raw land into colleges for "those at the bottom of the ladder who want to climb up."

He contended brains, not money nor birth, should determine who went to college. And he saw no reason why farming should take a back seat to Latin or any other classical study in American colleges.

In 1857, two years after reporting to Congress as a Vermont representative, Morrill introduced a bill to give every state a large parcel of federal land. The bill required the state to invest the money it received from this free land. The interest from the investments was to be used to endow colleges established in each state "to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life."

Lincoln Gave Okay

At first, this radical approach to higher education was met with hoots of "fancy farmers" and "land-grab." But Morrill pushed his bill through Congress only to see it vetoed by President Buchanan in 1859. Morrill started his bill moving through Congress again. On July 2, 1862, President Lincoln signed the bill into law.

State's Seniors Invade Campus For Weekend

University and ASUI leaders yesterday were getting the red carpet ready to roll out for the top high school seniors of the state this weekend.

The University will host an estimated 300 top-ranking Idaho seniors Friday, Saturday and Sunday on campus.

In the first Senior Honor Day, the University and the ASUI hope to acquaint outstanding seniors with the school and to encourage them to choose Idaho as their college.

The top 10 per cent of each high school graduating class in Idaho has been invited.

Nothing is being spared to give the seniors a lasting, favorable impression of the University.

Four special events, Ag Science Day, Home Economics Day, Idaho Academy of Science and Physical Education Play Day, are scheduled in conjunction with the Senior Day.

Special Trips

Suzanne Roffler, publicity chairman of the event, said tours and special trips through all University facilities are planned. Each visiting student will attend conferences in two special areas in which he is especially interested.

Various colleges of the University are planning special programs for the visitors, she said, including faculty and student speakers, special bulletins and films.

The Home Economics Department is sponsoring a style show at the Home Ec Building at 1 p.m. Saturday. Visiting women will be invited.

Most of the festivities are slated Saturday. Seniors will spend most of Friday registering. Religious activities will occupy most of Sunday.

General Assembly

Saturday's session will begin with a general assembly at 8 a.m. and introduction to the University in the Administration Building.

Other events scheduled Saturday are organized tours of the campus, a special Jazz in the Bucket, a variety show featuring University talent and a street dance, the SMUG Stampede.

"We've had a very good response from the Idaho high schools and hope to set a precedent which will be of major service to Idaho students," Miss Roffler said.

Idaho Singers? Spring Concert Is Tonight At 8

Choral selections of church music, contemporary numbers and show tunes will highlight the Vandaleers' home concert tonight at 8 p.m. in the Ad Building auditorium.

The Vandaleers returned from a tour in northern Idaho Saturday after singing before several high school groups and appearing on a Spokane television program. The spring tour is made annually.

Included in the church music section will be "Tristis Est Anima Mea" by Johann Kuhnau; "Lamentation Prima Tertii Dei" by Doland de Lassus; and five selections by J. S. Bach.

Contemporary selections include "The Seasons" by Ernest Krennek; "If Thou Must Love Me" by Fredrick Picket; "Lament for April 15" by Avery Claffin; and "Go Down Death" by Tom Scott.

Show tunes on the program will be choral selections from the Broadway production, "My Fair Lady."

Also on the program are "Niccene Creed" by a Gretchaninoff; "Requiem Aeternam" by Verdi; and "O Savior Throw the Heavens Wide" by Johannes Brahms.

Several student soloists will have parts on the program. The concert is free and the public is invited.

General Manager's Wife Says 'Thanks'

A word of thanks was issued to Idaho students and ASUI president Dick Kerbs this week by Mrs. Gale Mix, who is recovering at home from surgery.

Mrs. Mix, wife of the ASUI Manager, was given a plant after a recent operation. In a thank-you note for the gift, she wrote:

"Believe me when I say it came at a time last week when I could definitely use a bit of spring and sunshine in my life."

New Council Decides SUB Programs

By GEORGE FOWLER

Student positions on a newly organized council which has nearly as much control over student activities as the ASUI Exec Board will be filled after interviews at 7 p.m. in the Pine room Thursday.

The new group, the SUB Program Council, was formerly the SUB committee under the supervision of the Exec Board. Out of the Council's separation from the Exec Board this year will grow a group of students, when selected, who will control as members of the Student Union Board nearly twice as much money as the Exec Board and whose decisions will affect almost as many students.

Organized This Year

The SUB Program Council was formed this year because it was felt that the SUB program has become too large to be adequately supervised by elected student leaders.

The Exec Board will approve the recommendations for new Council appointments and send them on to President Theophilus for final approval.

The Exec Board will channel student body opinion about SUB programs to the Council for decisions. But decisions made by the Council will go directly to the President for approval.

ASUI President Dick Kerbs; Bob Vallat, SAE; and Dean Charles Decker, director of student affairs, were instrumental in the change. Kerbs explained the new set up like this:

"This Council serves to coordinate the SUB program and leaves the Exec Board to regulate campus activities such as Homecoming and Dad's Day. Now the Exec Board members can spend their time on the wider scope of student activities for which they were elected."

As seen in the chart on page 1, the members of the Council will sit on the Student Union Board as part of the policy and program-making body which is advisory to President Theophilus.

Five Divisions

The Program Council is divided into five major categories—operations, recreation, public relations, music and art and special events. The chairman of the recreation committee will be chosen Wednesday evening.

The operations committee does purely advisory work. It serves mainly as a channel through which students can express their opinions about how the SUB and facilities are being run. This year, the way has been cleared to begin work on recommending new menus for the food service, suggesting new equipment for the building and making recommendations about housekeeping and pricing.

Recreational activities in the SUB include those in the game room—bowling, pool, billiards and table tennis—and bridge and chess. According to Carolyn Staley, SUB program director, free lessons in the activities will be planned as soon as more facilities are available.

It is also planned to encourage more league bowling and to do more to interest women in bowling and billiards. As soon as the new SUB addition is built, other recreational activities will be emphasized by the recreational committee.

Activities in public relations this year included the publication of a campus calendar, the recent issue of the weekly "On the Agenda," which is put out to inform students of campus activities, and a better system for publicizing campus events.

Next year, promotion of campus and SUB hospitality is planned, using such occasions as a SUB open house for freshmen and new students in the fall and receptions and coffee hours for student, faculty and off campus groups.

Exhibits To Continue

Jazz in the Bucket has been an activity this year under the music and art committee. Exhibits of art, photography, architecture and other skills have been promoted and will continue next year. The film committee, formerly under the Exec Board, has tried to bring better quality foreign and American films to the campus.

The special events committee is in charge of the one-shot or short term events, for which there is no special committee organized. Such programs as dances, dance lessons, big-name entertainment, and seasonal decorations have been in this category.

This year, for the first time,

UI Army 5th, Navy 7th In Drill Contest

Idaho's Army Drill Team placed fifth and Idaho's Navy seventh in a 10-team Inland Empire Drill Team competition at Ghormley field Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

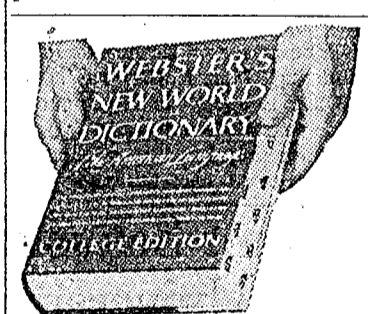

In the Inland Empire Rifle Conference, held the same day at 10 a.m. in the Gym Armory, Idaho teams chalked up fourth, fifth and sixth place, with Army, Air Force, and Navy winning in that order. Eight teams entered the rifle competition, won by Gonzaga Army, and a medal went to Idaho's Navy Cadet Ron Thomas, McConnell, for high individual score.

Montana State College Army won the David Trophy for outstanding drill, and Montana State University took second place honors.

Washington State College Air Force walked away with the other two drill awards: the Chappell Award, an ancient two-handed sword, which traditionally goes to the outstanding drill team from either WSC or Idaho, and the Milky Way Dairy award going to the best WSC team competing.

The Army ROTC sponsored the rifle match, and the Army team was the defending champion. The drill meet was hosted by the Naval ROTC, and the Army drill team was again the defending unit.

Coordinator for the rifle match was Col. Glenn B. Owen, professor of military science and tactics. Reviewing officer for the drill meet was Capt. G. F. Richardson, professor of Naval science.

Mining Grad Prof Next Fall

An assistant editor of the Mining Congress Journal in Washington, D. C., will return to his alma mater to become an assistant professor of mining engineering, it was announced yesterday by Dr. D. R. Theophilus, University president.

The new faculty member, who will start his duties in the fall, is Jerry M. Whiting, who holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from the University as well as a bachelor's degree in naval science. A native of Spokane, Whiting completed his university studies in 1957, after a two-year tour of duty with the Navy.

In 1957-58, he served as a mining engineer with the Aluminum Company of America at Bauxite, Ark., and for the last year he has been on the staff of the mining publication.

Kennedy Tabbed Most Likely Presidential Candidate In 1960

Even before the 1958 election campaigns were over, speculation was growing as to possible presidential candidates in 1960.

Newspapers were editorializing on favorite sons, and their news columns were following closely the activities of possible candidates. National news magazines were devoting large amounts of space to stories on the merits of various men considered to be likely candidates.

Nearly two years before a candidate will be chosen, the election has become a popular topic of conversation. To find out what American college students felt about various public figures' chances at becoming the 1960 Democratic candidate, pollsters asked the following question of a representative national sample of college men and women:

As the political situation looks to you right now, who would you expect the Democratic candidate for the presidency to be in 1960?

Sen. John Kennedy (D.-Mass.) emerged as the most likely candidate at present. Nearly 50 per cent of the persons interviewed gave his name in answer to the question.

Next in line—but a long way from the number expecting Kennedy to get the nomination—was Adlai Stevenson. Minnesota's Sen. Humphrey placed third on this "expectancy" vote with four per cent of the sample giving his name in answer to the question.

Lyndon Johnson from Texas, Tennessee's Senator Kefauver, Missouri's Symington and ex-governor Harriman from New York were also nominated.

Sen. Kennedy ranked much higher among the men interviewed than among the coeds. Stevenson was mentioned just about an equal number of times. None of the men expected Humphrey to get the nomination, whereas seven per cent of the coeds did.

Coeds tend to be more undecided about possible Democratic candidates. Forty-one per cent of them answered the question with "Don't know" as opposed to 36 per cent of the men who expressed indecision.

Also, whereas the men tended to answer with a noncommittal "I don't know" if they hadn't made up their minds, coeds answered more along the lines of "I have absolutely no idea." Several of them qualified their comment with "It's anybody's guess."

Take A Second Look At Idaho

By DAVID D. KENDRICK
College of Business Dean

Recently a group of Harvard business students organized to hunt jobs in small business. It was their opinion that many desirable positions could be found in small or medium-sized firms.

It has long been apparent that opportunities in small (and large) firms exist in the State of Idaho which are overlooked by newly graduated students. There are several reasons for this situation.

The smaller firms are not able to send a team of recruiters once or twice a year to interview the seniors. Many times we receive requests from Idaho firms for graduates from the College of Business Administration in the late spring.

We do our best to satisfy such requests but by that time many seniors have been offered and have accepted positions out of the state. Different environments seem exciting and attractive. Starting salaries elsewhere are sometimes higher and fringe benefits more apparent.

This migration to large firms throughout the Northwest, California and the nation, is certainly an indication that our students are capable, well-trained, and willing to work.

We are proud to have so many graduates in highly responsible positions in large out-of-state firms. Nevertheless, we know that there are many positions in Idaho which are just as important and rewarding.

The only suggestion we would make to students at Idaho is that they study the situation in Idaho. They should look into the possibility of entering a small business which is seeking a dependable person to assume management and ownership responsibilities.

After this examination of alternatives, they may still accept positions outside the state. They will

5 Here Help Award $10,000

Five Idaho professors were named recently to a state committee taking part in a search for the nation's outstanding agricultural scientists.

Four Dormitories To Sponsor All Campus Outdoor Dance

By SHARON LANCE
Arg Women's Editor

The normal spring formal trend on the Idaho campus will take an unusual twist this weekend when Shoup, McConnell, Upham and Gault Halls sponsor an all-campus outdoor dance. The theme of the dance, "Smug Stamped" was chosen to represent the first word of each of the sponsoring living groups. The outdoor affair will be held in the parking lot behind the Navy Building Saturday night. Other living groups holding spring formal this weekend are Delta Sigs, Deltas, Hays Hall and Theta Chis.

DELTA SIGS will make "their dreams come true" at the Carnation Ball to be held next Saturday night. The Delta Sig Dream Girl for 1950 will be crowned at the annual affair. Vying for the queen title are Judy Middleton, Gamma Phi; Linda Himmelsbach, Theta; Virginia Olds, Tri Delt; Kelda Johnson, Alpha Chi and Lorraine Potter, Kappa. The Delta Sig house this week as some of the windows were knocked out by the blasts from Toby, the house canon. The canon was shot off in honor of Karl Bittenbender's election to Exec Board last Thursday night. John Bethke failed in an attempt to make grass grow in three days, but he did manage to turn the front lawn into a "beautiful" mud pond.

THETA, Delta Sig and Phi Delt pledges donned their gardening clothes and spent a day doing various outdoor jobs in Lewiston Saturday. The three pledge classes joined their efforts in order to raise money for the Jr. Panhell-IFC project for the blind. Gary Wolvortner was at the mercy of the Theta pledges when the Sigma Chis tied him up and delivered him to the Theta house for a "porching." The pledges covered Gary with shoe polish, perfume, lipstick, and floor wax. After the porching, the Thetas helped Kay Kelburg rescue Don Taylor from a Sigma Chi tubbing. Spring flowers and table decorations set the atmosphere for the annual Brothers-Son Banquet held Sunday. Guests included Neal Newhouse and Danny Langdon, Beta; Mike Estes, Tom Nicholson and John Freeman, Phi; J. E. Greenstreet and Jim Rogers, Kappa; Spike Nasyth, SAE; Dan Gerphelide, Bill Campbell and Lee Stokes, Sigma Chi and Ben Haynes, Phi Delt. Carolyn Stoker, Shelley, Idaho, was a weekend guest at the house. Also visiting last weekend were Mary Alice Walstrum and Sally Cleve, Whitman College students. Jill Kromer, Spokane, was a Sunday dinner guest. Delta Sigs announced the selection of Linda Himmelsbach as Dream Girl finalist during a serenade Friday night. The Delta Sigs also entertained the Thetas during a music jam session Sunday evening.

DELTA pledges are looking forward to their spring formal, "Playboy Party," to be held May 2. The Deltas are planning for a novel function which will begin with a banquet and end with a dance to be held at the chapter house. The Deltas started an enthusiastic attempt to finish a "help week" project last weekend. They will try to complete the project at a later date. Ron Wise, Upham, was a dinner guest Wednesday.

TRI DELTS rose with the sun Saturday morning for their annual sunrise dance and breakfast. The theme, "Chautecler's Lament," was illustrated with silhouettes of chickens and roosters which were placed on the walls. Pledges climaxed turnout day last Wednesday when they sponsored a fire-side for the members. Betty Hamlet, Sandra Wagner and Susie Sharp gave imitations at the fire-side. Jan Foley was presented with a sucker for being the "worst pledge" of the day. Delta Sigs serenaded to announce Virginia Olds as a Dreamgirl finalist Friday night. Weekend guests were Sue Savas and Roberta Flint, Spokane and Betty Jean Pergstrom and Ruth Erickson, Sandpoint.

THETA CHIS will find "A Dream to Remember" at their spring dance to be held this Friday in the south ballroom of the SUB. Jim Flanagan attended the Sigma Delta Chi journalism convention in Corvallis, Oregon, over the weekend.

HAYS HALL will become the scene of Spring fantasies during their spring formal, "Moonlight in Vermont" to be held Saturday evening. Hays and Forney girls gathered together Sunday for the annual Hasher's Steak Fry which was held in the Forney kitchen. Sharon Montgomery, recently pinned to Nick Purdy, was honored at an SAE serenade Sunday night. Plans are being made for parties with the LDS House and the Phi Taus, in payment of the recent Campus Chest Auction.

DELTA CHIS will enjoy the balmy atmosphere of Lake Chacolet during their spring picnic to be held there Sunday. Jack March was recently elected to the office of asst. house manager. Larry Bardsley, who broke the intramural pole vault record, was honored at Saturday dinner. Weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jaedicke, Bismarck, North Dakota. Ron Wise, Upham, was a Sunday dinner guest.

KAPPA's and their dates "stomped" to the music of the Blue Jeans at the annual spring dance Saturday night. Delta Sigs serenaded Friday night in honor of Lorraine Potter, Delta Sig Dreamgirl finalist. Guests for Wednesday dinner were Lorraine Taylor and JoAnne O'Donnell, DG, and Noel Harrington Alpha Chi. Home Economics faculty guests for Sunday dinner were Miss Ritchie, Miss Newcomb, Miss Nielson, Miss Jackle and Miss Pierson. Kelly Fizzelle and Nadine Talbott rescued Bill Montgomery and Dean Sorenson, Betas, from a double tubbing Sunday afternoon.

PHI TAUS spring banquet and formal dance will be held this Friday. The Phi Taus are enthusiastically making plans to evacuate their house for the Sigma Chi house next fall. Sunday dinner guests were Jim Ketrans and Gary Emmett.

FARMHOUSE members and pledges were the dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Beachell and Mr. and Mrs. Erickson last Sunday evening. The dinner was held at the Bailey home. Connie Block and Karen Sasser, Tri Delt; Malcolm Kink, Lindley; John Reed, Willis Sweet and Clarence Reed, off campus were dinner guests last week.

GAMMA PHI weekend guest was Lynn Paulson, Chelan, Washington. The SAEs serenaded Monday and the Delta Sigs honored Judy Middleton, Dreamgirl finalist during a serenade Friday night. Marcia Mottinger, who was injured during spring vacation at her home in West Covina, Calif. She is recuperating in a California hospital.

SIGMA CHIS from WSC, Whitman, Montana State and MSU attended the annual Province Conference which was held Saturday in the SUB. Over 100 Sigma Chis from the five chapters attended the convocation. Thetas, DGs and Gamma Phi entertained the delegates after the conference. Guests at the chapter house last weekend were Robert Joseph Jr., asst. executive secretary; Dr. Fritz Hurd, Grand Prator; Dr. Harm Schlomer, Guy Wicks, and A. L. Lyons. Don Taylor found himself pinned to the traditional Sigma Chi stocks amid molasses and feathers when the pledges stocked him last week.

ATO pledges were dragged screaming from their beds early Saturday morning as the annual "Senior Get the Pledges" day began. The pledges were hosed down in the front yard while trying to wake up the neighboring sorority houses. Massive retaliation was begun early Monday morning, as the annual "Pledges Get the Members" day began. The house officers were the first to meet the fate of the "sever ready" hose. Guests for the sister-daughter banquet last Wednesday were Kay Sanders, Alpha Chi; Deanna White, Alpha Phi; Virginia Olds, Tri Delt; Linda Murray and Katherine Koelsch, Delta Gamma and Carol Evans, Kathy Brewer and Judy Morse, Gamma Phi.

WSC Building Plans Okayed

Preliminary plans for a new engineering building at WSC were approved yesterday by the Board of Regents and ground breaking ceremonies were held Sunday for a new wing on a sorority house on the Washington campus.

The engineering building was designed by a Spokane architectural firm and is expected to cost $1,635,000. Present estimates place the cost of the basic building at $1,400,500. It is believed by one of the architects that the regents would be able to obtain an additional 6,100 square feet of space in the center of the building and necessary equipment and still stay within the funds allotted through Referendum 10, $1,700,000.

Construction is now underway on a new wing of the Kappa Delta sorority house. The wing will cost $75,000.

First floor of the wing will house a large dining room and expanded kitchen facilities. The second story will provide living quarters for 16 additional girls, and the top floor will be an extension of the dormitory.

Rain Postpones Cinder Meet Finals; Betas Lead In Points

Rain forced postponement of yesterday's scheduled intramural track finals until 4 p.m. today, but Beta Theta Pi seemed likely to pick up their first intramural sports trophy of the year.

Vandal Mentor Seeks Center

Idaho grid coach Skip Stahley, heading his squad into its third week of practice, found himself with two big problems yesterday; Jim Prestel's broken foot and a wide hole at the center slot.

Prestel, who injured his foot during practice workouts last week, is not expected to be on hand for any more spring workouts, but will be ready by next fall. The hole at center, unlike Prestel's broken foot, should be healed by the end of spring ball.

The task is to find a replacement to fill the shoes of center Stan Fanning who has been moved to the tackle slot. Prospects for the job include John Hanson who was moved in from the end spot, Gary Spray who moved up from fullback, and Jim Davidson, a quarterback during the past season.

Other tentative changes find Kent Valley moving from the guard slot to the end position. Paul Wagner, a halfback on the 1958 squad, is working as an end.

Spring drills so far have been devoted to re-organization of the squad.

Coach Stahley expects "more depth in the backs" from the 1959 team than last season and "better overall speed in the backfield."

"Progress is going satisfactorily and is as good as can be expected," said the Vandal head mentor.

Idaho Golfers Down Huskies

Vandal golfers, capitalizing on their strong depth and overall team strength, swept to an upset 16-11 victory over the University of Washington linksmen at Seattle Friday at the tough Broadmoor Golf and Country Club.

Although behind 5 1/2 to 3 1/2 after best-ball competition, the Idaho swingers came back to cop 12 1/2 points in individual play against 5 1/2 for the Huskies.

This victory is the third triumph in a row for the undefeated Idaho stickers and places the Vandals in one of the favorites' roles for the Pacific Coast Conference Championship at Eugene, Oregon, May 22-23.

Long-hitting John Rosholt paced Idaho's attack with 71 and was followed closely by Ray Kowallis at 72. Low best-ball score for Idaho was turned in by Jim Kraus and Norm Johnson shooting 68.

Clint Names, a sophomore from Tacoma, led the Husky golfers with 73 and was pressed by teammate Dick Goff's 75. Names and Dick Geldt combined for Washington's low best-ball total at 71.

Vandal Coach Dick Snyder commented that this was an outstanding team victory and was the most important triumph for the Vandal crew this spring.

Duck Freshman Tops Drake Relay Record Over Weekend

Oregon freshman Dyrol Bursleson clipped off a 4:06.7 mile at the Drake Relays over the weekend, the only Pacific Coast Conference runner to take first place honors at the Des Moines event.

Seven other Oregon runners, headed by ace miler Jim Grelle, also represented Oregon and the FCC at the meet but failed to take any blue ribbon honors.

Thirteen records fell at the Relays, two of them topped by University of Texas relay groups.

The Texans grabbed a total of three relay firsts at the meet, setting records in the half mile and mile relay events, with a

Idaho Track Crew Bows To Duckmen

Ron Adams, Dick Boyce and Frank Wyatt managed the only blue ribbons for Idaho last Saturday as the Vandals went down to a 90-34 defeat at the hands of the Oregon Duck cinder squad.

The fleet-footed Idaho distance stable, expected to have troubles against the powerful Ducks, won easily over their Oregon hosts, Wyatt lowering the old two-mile meet mark to 9:16.9.

Only Oregon's Dick Miller has recorded a better time this season, but Miller, along with seven other Ducks, was at Des Moines at a special track meet.

Pete Reed followed Wyatt to the two-mile tape as the only finisher in the long event.

Adams Wins Mile

Adams led Oregon's Jim Schell to the finish of the mile run, hitting a 4:21.8 to outrun the second place Duck. Reed added third place points to the Idaho scorecard, finishing behind Schell.

Boyce copped the 880 with a speedy 1:54.3 clocking, leading Oregon's Winchell to the tape along with Bruce Wendell who finished third.

Boyce's time ranks the half-mile ace as third best in the Northern Division this season, behind Oregon's Jim Grelle and Washington's Bill Moser.

Dave Durham and Bill Overholser carried the only other Idaho second place honors in the track events, Durham placing as runner-up in the 440 and Overholser storming home to second in the 120 high hurdles.

Overholser also picked up another Vandal third in the 220 low hurdles.

Theron Nelson picked up the other Idaho track scoring, winging to a third place finish in the 100 yard dash.

In the field events Idaho managed its strongest finish of the season, with Cliff Lawrence placing second in the pole vault, Jack Ashbaugh notching third in the shot-put, and Anderson grabbing a third in the discus.

Stan Fanning took the other Vandal third in field events, placing in the javelin.

Flying Club Gives Leitch Presidency

Joe Leitch, off campus, was elected president of the Vandal Flying Club at a meeting held Tuesday night in the SUB Frontier Room. He succeeds Chet Prior, off campus.

Prior was named vice president of the Flying Club for the ensuing year. Other officers elected were Ralph Baughman, operations manager, and David Moore, secretary. Both live at Chrisman.

Moore said there are 10 openings in the club at present and anyone interested in joining the organization should contact him. He added activities would increase as spring weather improved.

Vandal Yearlings Sweep Weekend Baseball Clashes

The Idaho frosh, paced by Pat Townsend and Larry Tripp, scored a double victory over the weekend, downing the WSC Couabes 7-3 Friday and out-slugging the Lewis-Clark Warriors 12-11 in a fourteen-inning game Saturday.

Against the Couabes Townsend scored two game-tying runs in his half to force the tilt into extra frames.

In the 10th the Warriors scored again, moving to a 10-9 margin before the yearlings again tied the score with a run in their half of the 10th.

The 11th and 12th innings went scoreless, setting the stage for LCNS to move ahead again in the 13th. Idaho flew right back, matching the Warrior score with a Vandal tally.

Townsend, playing in the outfield against the Warriors, finally turned the trick for coach Jim Brannom's frosh, bringing in Waide from second base with a scorching single.

Waide again topped the frosh hit list, sharing honors with Norm Pfeiffer and Sakelarlis with 4 hits in 8 trips to bat.

Pfeiffer added more coal to the frosh batting power, pulling two doubles for two runs-batted-in.

Gerry Rush opened the pitching day for the Vandals, throwing 7 strikeouts before being relieved by LeRoy Johnson in the eighth.

Against the Warriors the Vandals moved to a 7-4 seventh-inning lead before the Warriors tallied five times in the eighth inning to move in front. Idaho

Idaho Hitter Paces Loop Batting List

Steady hitter Norm Geertsen picked up the only Idaho baseball laurels over the weekend, grabbing the top Northern Division hitting spot as Idaho lost twice to Washington, 7-0, 6-0.

The reliable Vandal second baseman jumped to the top spot with a .429 hitting pace in conference baseball action ahead of Washington's Don Daniels who has a .417 at bat average.

Team-wise the Idaho crew with a .235 mark stands third in hitting behind Washington and Oregon. Washington has a .276 average, and Oregon a .265.

Action resumed for the touring Vandals yesterday when they met Oregon at Eugene. The results of that game were not available at press time.

Idaho faces the Ducks again today, completing their two scheduled games against the Eugene-based team.

Tomorrow the Vandals tangle with the Ducks bretheren, the Oregon State Beavers, at Corvallis in the first of two games the Vandals will play against the Beavers. Idaho battles the Oregon State nine again Thursday to complete the Vandal's road trip.

Washington currently heads the ND loop after her two victories over the Idaho crew, ranking ahead of Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho. The Huskies sport a 5-1 record, the runner-up Ducks have a 3-1 mark in conference action.

Two Model Plane Winners Fly Jet

Two students collected their prizes for first place in the Air Force ROTC Model Airplane Building Contest last Thursday.

Bob Grant, Willis Sweet, and Don Benson, off campus, were taken to Fairchild Air Force Base and each was given a 30-minute ride in a T-33 jet trainer fighter. They went to up 20,000 feet and each piloted the plane at that altitude.

Cindermen Work Long Hours, Receive Little Fame Or Glory

For those who entered and survived last Saturday's and yesterday's intramural track meet, the experience could have been a small sample of what Idaho's cinder team goes through — from early in February clear through May.

This writer, at least, picked up a quick insight on track conditioning...it's a very nice thing to have. After hovering over a typewriter or study desk since leaving high school a guy tends to pick up weight and lose lung power. Both the addition and the loss are very detrimental to sprinting, running or throwing.

The point this corner is trying to bring out is that when the Vandal track team finds itself practically alone in Neale Stadium, accompanied only by whichever cinder squad they face at the time, things must seem rather discouraging.

In fact, it's almost a mystery to this writer why the trackmen do it...it certainly isn't for fame or glory, at least not with the enthusiasm currently shown by Idaho students, and this corner has a little difficulty believing a guy can pick up too much enjoyment by punishing himself from February to May, so what's left?

Without answering that question let's take a quick look at spring football and Jim Prestel in particular. The Idaho gridders are still slogging away toward their 20 practice limit. But they're slog-ging without their 245-pound tackle. During spring ball the loss hurts, but not as bad as it would in the fall. Imagine the loss if Jim were injured in, say the second game next year. Without wishing to cast discredit on the rest of Idaho's tackles and interior linemen, we feel that such a loss would be a disaster.

So, by such a slender thread as one man, Idaho's football hope, could well hang. Frightening, isn't it?

Bengals Blasted
Down Boise way a sports writer for the Boise Statesman threw a few verbal brickbats at Idaho State College in a recent column carried verbatim in the Moscow Idahoan.

Among the items mentioned was ISC's reluctance to meet Idaho on the gridiron next fall, and ISC's rather pointed remarks about the Vandal "full-ride" system going into effect next year. Without commenting on either item, this writer feels that Athletic Director Vesser of Idaho State might well pay attention to the remarks made in the Statesman...they could be indicative of a growing distrust of the ISC sports policy.

VIVE LE POPCORN!

The other day as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil, (Marlboro, incidentally, has the best tinfoil, which is not surprising when you consider that they have the best cigarettes, which is not surprising when you consider that they take the best filters and put them together with the best tobaccos and rush them to your tobacco counter, fresh and firm and loaded with smoking pleasure). The other day, I say, as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil, (I have, incidentally, the second largest ball of tinfoil in our family. My brother Eleanor's is bigger—more than four miles in diameter—but, of course, he is taller than I). The other day, as I was saying, while walking down the street picking up tinfoil, I passed a campus and right beside it, a movie theatre which specialized in showing foreign films. Most campuses have foreign movie theatres close by, because foreign movies are full of culture, art, and esoterica, and where is culture more rife, art more rampant, and esoterica more endemic than on a campus?

Nowhere; that's where.

I hope you have all been taking advantage of your local foreign film theatre. Here you will find no simple-minded Hollywood products, marked by treacly sentimentality and machine-made bravura. Here you will find life itself—in all its grimness, its poverty, its naked, raw passion!

Have you, for instance, seen the recent French import, Le Crayon de Mon Oncle ("The Kneecap"), a savage and uncompromising story of a man named Claude, whose consuming ambition is to get a job as a meter reader with the Paris water department? But he is unable, alas, to afford the flashlight one needs for this position. His wife, Bon-Bon, sells her hair to a wigmaker and buys him a flashlight. Then, alas, Claude discovers that one also requires a leatherette bow tie. This time his two young daughters, Caramel and Nougat, sell their hair to a wigmaker. So now Claude has his leatherette bow tie, but now, alas, his flashlight battery is burned out and the whole family, alas, is bald.

Or have you seen the latest Italian masterpiece, La Donna E Mobile (I Ache All Over), a heart-shattering tale of a boy and his dog? Malvolio, a Venetian lad of nine, loves his little dog with every fibre of his being. He has one great dream: to enter the dog in the annual Venetian dog show. But this, alas, requires an entrance fee, and Malvolio, alas, is penniless. However, he saves and scrimps and steals and finally gets enough together to enter the dog in the show. The dog, alas, comes in twenty-third. Malvolio sells him to a vivisectionist.

Or have you seen the new Japanese triumph, Kibutsi-San (The Radish), a pulse-stirring historical romance about Yamoto, a poor farmer, and his daughter Ethel who are accosted by a warlord one morning on their way to market? The warlord cuts Yamoto in half with his samurai sword and runs off with Ethel. When Yamoto recovers, he seeks out Ethel's fiancé, Red Buttons, and together they find the warlord and kill him. But, alas, the warlord was also a sorcerer and he whimsically turned Ethel into a whooping crane. Loyal Red Buttons takes Ethel home where he feeds her fish heads for twenty years and keeps hoping she'll turn back into a woman. She never does. Alas.

If there's smoking in the balcony of your theatre, we hope you'll be smoking Philip Morris—or, if you prefer filters, Marlboro...Marlboro—new improved filter, fine rich flavor—from the makers of Philip Morris.
