Coeeds To Live At Forney Hall This Summer

An agreement with the Administration has been reached on coeeds housing and board problems for summer school, according to Charlotte Martell, Executive Board secretary.

"The problem we have been faced with," she said, "is whether women planning to attend summer school could live off campus to eliminate the high expenses we thought the session would entail living on campus."

"However," she added, "after discussing the problem with the administration we've come to a satisfactory solution and women will be able to live at Forney Hall."

Miss Martell pointed out that the rent would be the same as a regular semester and meals for the period will amount to about $99. A regular semester board rate is about $50 a month.

Coeeds attending summer school will have to eat in the Student Union Building cafeteria, paying about $2 a day for food. If they don't eat there on the weekends, Miss Martell said, the program offered will not work.

Last year, the cafe had to shut down on weekends after July 4, because the number eating was too small.

Washing facilities will also be provided for women living in the dormitory.

Miss Martell noted that the expenses listed for the summer session are less than those established at other institutions of comparable size except for two Utah schools.

Seniors May Take Exams Before Fall

Students going home for the summer vacation are requested to remind high school seniors who plan to enter the University next fall they may take entrance exams any time this summer.

C. H. Bond, chief counselor, urged prospective students having questions about their course of study or registration to make an appointment with him during the summer months.

The Student Counseling Office will be open five days a week this summer to assist students, Bond said. Appointments may be made any time after June 8, he added.

Decals Must Be In Rear Window

Beginning next semester, students will be required to place automobile registration decals on the left-hand corner of the rear window, Bob Gese, announced yesterday.

The new ruling by the Traffic Appeals Board was made at the last meeting of the Board. Penalty for violation is $5.

Formerly, the stickers could be placed in either the front or back windows.

Library Changes Hours For Finals

Students preparing for final exams will have a little extra time to study in the library in the final weeks of school. Library hours are:

May 22, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. May 23 through May 28, regular hours. May 29, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. May 30 (Memorial Day), through June 4, regular hours. June 5, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. June 6, regular hours.

PERMITS AVAILABLE Applications for permits to register for summer school are still available, it was announced this week by the Registrar's Office.

Blevins Is ISEA 1959-60 Secretary

A University coed was named secretary of the Idaho State Education Association this week. Vaughn Lee Blevins, Alpha Chi, was named at the association convention on April 17. Ballots were sent out to local chapters and officers were notified by mail.

Battle-Marked Pacific Coast Conference Will Be Buried At Seattle This Weekend

By DWIGHT CHAPIN The old warhorse Pacific Coast Conference, veteran of many minor skirmishes and major battles, breathes its last this week.

Athletic chiefs of all the old member schools will converge at Seattle this weekend to lay the conference to its probable final rest.

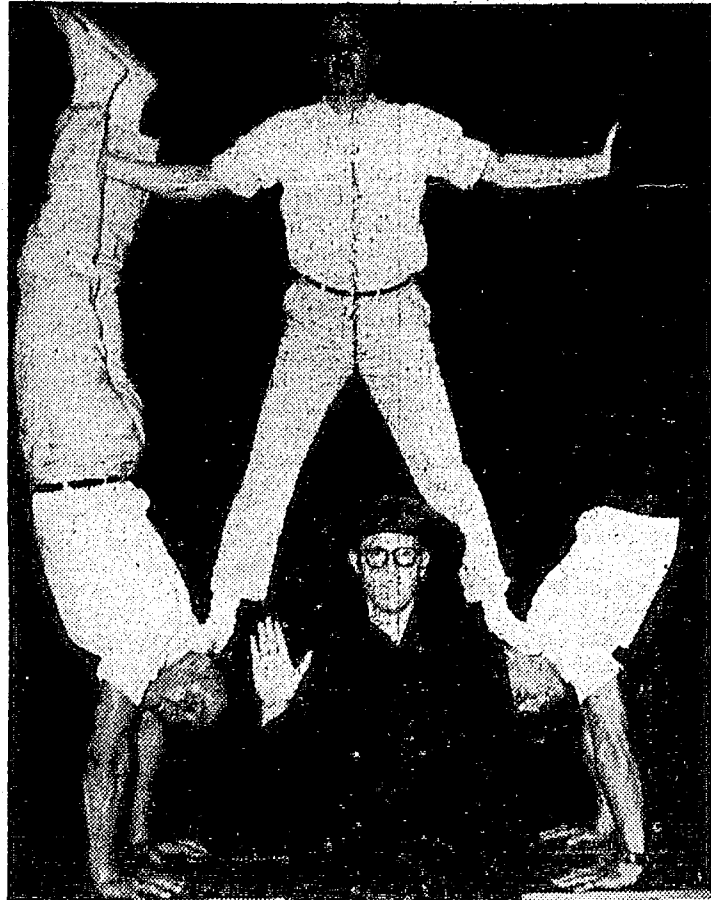

The PCC, relatively ancient as far as athletic unions go at the age of 44 years, will bow out in a blaze of muscular glory with the last conference track meet.

It's been a steady, sometimes brilliant, league of schools, this PCC, but in recent years most of the glory has disappeared in a sea of bitterness and backbiting.

The conference was formed as it may likely die, by a handful of men in a smoke-filled room.

Pacific Coast Conference was born Dec. 2, 1905, at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, the child of four parents, California, Oregon, Oregon State and Washington.

The four "daddies" were happy to have the little fellow around because he considerably broadened the scope of their athletic activities. Two More Join One year later, two other schools, Stanford and Washington State, gained a share of the infant PCC

900 To Receive Degrees In Cermonies On June 7

Idaho's Class of 1959 will have its day Sunday, June 7, when about 900 University students receive bachelor and master degrees in commencement ceremonies.

There are 730 candidates for bachelor degrees at present and 169 candidates for master degrees, according to registrar D. D. DuSault.

The University's 64th commencement activities will get under way at noon Saturday, June 6, when the Alumni Day luncheon and annual association business meeting are held in the Moscow Hotel.

Inez Robb, a former Idaho student and now an internationally known syndicated newspaper columnist, will deliver the baccalaureate address Sunday morning.

Tickets for parents and husbands planning to attend the degree-granting ceremonies in Memorial Gymnasium Sunday afternoon are now available at the Book Store.

Students should call at the Book Store for these tickets before Monday, according to Dean Boyd A. Martin, chairman of the commencement committee.

"Each graduate will be entitled to receive upon request a maximum of three tickets," he said, "but graduates are requested to ask only for the definite number needed."

"Those needing more than three tickets for immediate members of the family must make written request at the Book Store before Monday," he added, "and as many as possible will be honored."

C. R. Kerr, manager of the SUB Book Store said that about half of the 2,700 tickets had already been given to seniors. Kerr also said that caps and gowns will be ready for distribution on the Wednesday or Thursday before graduation.

Students and faculty who have ordered the costumes may pick them up at the Book Store. The store will be open the day before graduation and will also be open Sunday afternoon, so the caps and gowns may be returned.

Use Those Bones, Bob Gibb Advises

Idaho's athletic director, Bob Gibb, Tuesday night told high school graduating seniors to "bone up"—but finals were all over with.

Actually, Gibb was advising 101 Moscow High School graduates to take along a small bag of bones on their trip into the future.

The bones he referred to were a wishbone, a shoulder bone, a "good headbone," a funnybone and a backbone.

Friday - Tuesday forecast: Partly cloudy skies expected through Tuesday with slowly warming temperatures. Temperatures should be slightly below normal, however.

Pair Chosen Top IK, Spur Of 1958-59

Lorna Woelfel, Kappa, was named Spur of the Moment, and Garth Sasser, FarmHouse, Knight of Knights at a joint banquet of IKs and Spurs last night.

Approximately 65 ex-Spurs and IKs attended the dinner and award program that followed.

Held annually, the banquet is the final activity for the two service clubs each year. Past members of the two groups are honored guests at the function.

The Knight of Knights was chosen by vote of members of Spurs, and the Spur of the Moment was picked by the IKs. Each winner was given a trophy and a certificate of merit.

COUNCIL NAMED New members for the 1959-60 SUB Program Council were announced yesterday by Bob Vallat, SAE, retiring chairman of the Council. They are Kent Harrison, Phi Delt; Dick Rene, Delt; Terry White, Phi; Bob Brown, Beta; Katherine Koelsch, DG; Bob Gese, Gault; Earl Hall, off campus, adviser; and Ann Becker, Theta, ex-officio.

50 Top Seniors With Possible 3.33 Average Attend Banquet

About 50 top scholars of the senior class at the University were honored at a banquet given by President and Mrs. D. R. Theophilus.

The seniors, all of whom are on the tentative honor list for those attaining a 3.33 grade average out of a possible 4.0 for four years, heard Professor Michael J. O'Reilly of the College of Law stress:

"The old conception of a scholar as an entombed person has long since been outmoded. Today's scholar is of essential value not only as a citizen of his own country, but of the world. His value becomes greatest when he is an active participant in the common law of mankind."

The law professor, whose topic asked "What of Tomorrow?" gave three major answers:

The scholar, O'Reilly pointed out must accept the world of space and the attempted conquest of it. The space explorer of today stands where Columbus and Magellan stood years ago, and the scholar must stand with him.

As his second point of emphasis, O'Reilly said: All Evidence Not In "The natural concern of men over possible effects of nuclear detonations should not lead to an

Campus Activities Must End Tonight

As of this Friday, campus social life will come to a standstill with the coming of closed weekends.

Eight days prior to final examinations each semester all campus activities cease, said Dean Marjorie Neely, associate director of student affairs for women.

Rounding up of all activities of campus clubs and organizations should also be finished before this period.

Five Tapped For Blue Key Membership

Five junior men were tapped Wednesday night for membership in Blue Key, national upperclassmen's service honorary.

Bob Bernard, Delt; Dwight Chapin, Willis Sweet; Jim Flanigan, Theta Chi; Denny Hague, Beta; and Earl Hall, off campus, were chosen from a field of 22 applicants.

The number of applicants this year was considerably larger than last, when five men were picked from nine who had applied.

Blue Key, a national organization with chapters on 105 campuses in the US, is directed at scholarship, leadership and service.

Initiation for the five junior men will be held next fall. A special meeting for the new pledges is scheduled Tuesday, however.

Burlison Wins Father Of Year

Vernon H. Burlison, University extension forester, has been named Idaho's Father of the Year for 1959.

Burlison, father of four, was selected through competition with 21 other entries in a state-wide contest sponsored by the Idaho Cow Belles Assn., an auxiliary of the Idaho Cattleman's Assn. He was nominated for the award by the Latah County 4-H Council.

He is the second annual Idaho Father of the Year.

Burlison attended schools in Missouri and Colorado before coming to the University where he received a forestry degree in 1946. He has been active in civic, church and youth work.

112 Women To Get Ph.T.'s

One hundred and twelve women will join the ranks of Ph.T. degree winners at the University commencement exercises Sunday, June 7. Ph.T. degree? Putting Husband Through, of course.

Started in 1947 by the ASUI, the custom of honoring the wives of graduating seniors will again be part of the program. The special diploma will be tucked into the same folder that will be given to married male graduates.

Instead of a university official conferring the Ph.T., that honor will rightfully go to the graduating husband. Originating at the University, the practice of giving the degrees has spread to campuses across the nation. Associated Students manager Gale Mix said today, "The number of Ph.T. degrees is beginning to rise again. In the 12-year period they have been given, the highest number of awards was 140, the lowest, 60. Last year 80 were given."

- Dear Jason -

Dear Jason:

Recently there was published in the Argonaut, the action of two university student's questioning the validity of the administration in recognizing the supporting private institutions that conflict with the 14th amendment.

This action was thoroughly thought through and received the counsel of several competent individuals. It was raised with the primary purpose of seeking some method of using the University housing at full capacity.

Thus, what happens, a few of the Greeks get the idea that they are being discriminated against, since positive action by the Attorney General would mean the Greeks could not rent land or housing from the University.

What do the Greeks believe that their past methods of selection and use of discriminatory clauses amounted to (if they were not in direct defiance of the 14th amendment).

This questioning of the legal status of the Greek institutions and administration's policy is not an effort to drive them off campus.

If the Greek living groups do not live up to the full interpretation of the law, they simply will have to give up their methods of selection and discriminatory clauses. In my estimation this is a step in the direction of growing up.

Jim Rathbun

Dear Jason,

I would like to compliment John Burgess for his ability to "speak his mind" in regard to the lack of response to the recent legal question; in spite of certain organizational opposition.

This opposing organization is supposedly composed of some of the top intellectuals on campus who I understand like to be thought of as liberal in their thinking.

But what is this opposition? Is it liberalism? It looks more like ultra-conservatism; an old guard stand for complete conformity, a cry for the status quo; and more fitting to a traditionally scholastic institution which recognizes an individual for his ability to imbibe the

It seems that at least part of this group has taken upon themselves the task of squelching liberalism. A liberalist, it seems, implies an individual who is at liberty from the confines of the opinions of others, but when a member of this group of liberals shows that he is liberated from group opinion his very right to belong to said liberal organization is questioned.

Perhaps certain stiff named liberals are worshipping words and suppressing the action for which they are symbols.

Paul Barnes

Dear Jason:

Concerning the column "Sidelines" by Gary Randall:

If this column is what the name infers, why doesn't the author stick to the sidelines which are interesting to most readers and not litter the column with lame uninteresting excuses for what might have been?

If the people who read this column believe what the author conveys, all an athlete has to do is to step into an Idaho uniform and he becomes major league quality and acquires a one-way ticket to luckless Joe Btppik's rained-out. So it goes with the whole team.

The poor, uninformed, gullible people who actually believe this columnist certainly would not recommend their little brothers to attend this institution to help strengthen the unlucky varsity teams.

For the majority who are unfortunate enough to start reading this garbage-filled area, they turn away in disgust (a colossal understatement) and wonder; just what the heck is the great crime in losing to a better team?

Ed note: We welcome criticism of any article or column appearing in the Argonaut. We feel, however, that a columnist is privileged to present his own views and not necessarily those of the Argonaut. We would further welcome anyone to our staff who feels he can do a better job than is now being done.

She: "Well you need not try to completely reform in one evening."

Advertising Class Hears McCowan

A Moscow business man took over as teacher Tuesday in a retail advertising class and gave students an inside look at the problems of advertising in a small town.

F. N. McCowan, manager of a local food store, explained to the students his problems in getting his advertising out to his prospective customers.

Sounds of a struggle came from a parked car. "Sir," said a female voice, "Where is your chivalry?" "I traded it in on dis Buick."

The grasshopper who came to dinner
What a pest! This uninvited guest eats your family's dinner while the food is still growing. Together with other insects, he destroys more than four billion dollars' worth of U. S. crops each year.
To help farmers reduce these losses, Standard's scientists are at work on new and better insecticides. Since 1907, we've developed more than 650 products for every general plant disease and insect problem . . . from home garden products to agricultural pest controls. Last year our products helped save enough food of all kinds to feed more than a million people.
While this is encouraging progress, the battle never ends. Insects are developing harder strains which are more difficult to control. And protecting our food supply is becoming more important, for by 1970 there will be an additional 36 million people in the United States.
That's why one of our most important jobs is creating better ORTHO* pest controls. Through research that helps farmers provide more food for a growing population, the people at Standard are planning ahead to serve you better.
*ORTHO pesticides and fertilizers are made by Standard's wholly-owned subsidiary, California Spray-Chemical Corp., and sold in 75 Free World countries.

Research Meet Is Scheduled Here In June

Regional agricultural research being conducted by land-grant colleges throughout the United States will be reviewed by the regional research advisory committee for the national association of land-grant colleges when it meets at the University June 9-10, according to R. D. Ensign, associate director of the Idaho agricultural experiment station.

Following the regular meetings on research the group will visit Pollatch Forest operations in the Clearwater area. Several members of the committee expressed interest in seeing private forestry research and operations in one of the west's leading logging areas.

Inter-regional fruit virus research will be reviewed when the committee assembles at the Prosser branch experiment station in Washington June 12. Saturday, June 13, the group will tour the Columbia basin to inspect irrigation developments.

Members of the committee are the experiment station directors from the state of Alabama, South Carolina, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Maryland, Utah, Colorado and Idaho. Attending the sessions will be two representatives of the department of agriculture.

Idaho activities are being scheduled by Ensign while those in Washington are being arranged by Harold Singleton, vice-director of the Prosser branch station.

"Can I help you?" inquired a helpful bystander, as the drunk tried to fit his key in the door lock.

"You sure can," replied the drunk. "Just hold the house still while I put the key in."

Evanoff Receives Unusual Present

English professor Alexander Evanoff got a surprise going away present yesterday — but he's probably just as soon forget about it.

Evanoff, who is leaving Idaho at the end of the semester to teach at the University of New Mexico was given a pair of blue woolen trunks by fellow faculty members.

There was only one hitch — the trunks, of a 1920 vintage, were size 60. For condolences, members of the faculty offered Evanoff a bouquet of flowers.

Brost Speaks On Labor Law

Increased prices aren't caused entirely by higher labor costs, John Brost, Clarkston, Northwest public relations director for the AFL-CIO told University labor law students yesterday.

Pointing to the steel industry, Brost said steel workers have had 11 wage increases since 1946, but that the steel companies have raised prices 23 times and jumped the price of steel $3 for every $1 wage increase.

Math Instructors Awarded Grants

Two Idaho mathematics instructors have been awarded National Science Foundation grants, it was announced this week by K. A. Bush, Mathematics Department head.

Ravinda Nathan, part-time instructor, and Ward Crowley, assistant professor, were recipients of the awards. Nathan will attend the University of Montana this summer, while Crowley will study at University of California at Los Angeles for the summer.

NOTICE: The Army ROTC survival training program was postponed yesterday because of rain.

Rings 'n' Things

"My Own True Love" was sung by Linda Smith as a carnation covered candle was passed at dinner Tuesday evening at the Phi Phi house. The candle was blown out by Kevea Pringle to announce her engagement to Charles Monson, U of I graduate. Monson is now working for Westinghouse in Baltimore, Maryland.

A lavender bow and multi-colored sweet peas at the base of a pink candle provided a colorful background for a diamond ring that was passed at dinner at Forney Hall. The candle was claimed and blown out by Phyllis Hanson to announce her engagement to John Dodds, Upham Hall.

Larry Gibbons, Willis Sweet, is engaged to Judy Newhouse, Gooding. Miss Newhouse is attending Link's School of Business in Boise.

A surprise fireside was held last night in the Alpha Chi house when Lou Ann Lofthouse announced her engagement to Harry Miller of Boise. The theme was "True Love." A bouquet was passed with the ring in it while Mary Jo Downey read, a poem about the couple.

"Hey, Pa," the kid asked, "ain't Ma drinking?"

Rooms Changed For Two Meetings

Two meetings of graduating seniors with their deans scheduled for June 6 have been changed to different rooms because of conflicts with the final exam schedule.

The seniors graduating in agriculture who were originally to meet in Ag Science 106 will now hold their meeting in Ag Science 104. Graduating seniors in the College of Business Administration will meet in Ad 317, instead of Science 110.

INTRAMURALS

Delta Tau Delta added a full 100 points to its intramural point total Tuesday, as Delt Dick Rene downed Tau Kappa Epsilon's Ken Parks to lead his team to the horseshoe crown.

For Rene the win climaxed a three year personal drive for the title. Rene lost to Arlen Chaney in 1956 in the final round of play, moved into the quarter finals last year, and finally topped his three year drive with Tuesday's win.

Official point totals for horseshoes were not available at press time, leaving second, third and fourth place still in doubt.

The Delt, League II champions, downed the League I champion,

Chrisman Hall blasted Town Men's Association 10-3 to gain the Independent crown. Chrisman won League III, TMA was the League VI champion.

In other play-off action today, Phi Gamma meets Tau Kappa Epsilon on field 2, Upham Hall 2 clashes with Shoup Hall 1 on field 3 and Beta Theta Pi tangles with Alpha Tau Omega on field 6.

Willis Sweet Wins
Willis Sweet Hall 2 downed Lindley Hall 2 by a 12-6 count Wednesday night in a play-off for third and fourth positions in League IV in intra-league play-offs.

Phi Gamma Delta blasted Alpha Tau Omega 8-1 in a League II play-off for second and third. Gault Hall romped to a 26-1 win over Chrisman Hall 2, TMA 1 downed McConnell Hall 2 13-10 in an inter-league play-off and Campus Club 2 and Upham Hall 1 took a double forfeit in other softball action.

In the point total field, Willis Sweet Hall holds a 43.5 point margin over runner-up Phi Delta Theta with golf, horseshoes, softball and manager's points still to be computed.

Frosh Baseballers Sport 4-1 Record

The winning Idaho freshman baseball team sports a 4-1 record going into its last two games of the season this weekend against the WSC Couababes.

The two teams square off at 3 p. m. today at MacLean Field and at 2 p. m. tomorrow at Pullman.

The Vandal babes have recorded two victories over the Couababes and two wins and a loss in games with Lewis and Clark Normal School. Three games were cancelled because of rain.

Sam had a homely wife, but on all his travels he took her along. To a friend he said, "I have to take her along — it's better than kissing her goodbye."

Coach Dick Snyder's swingers sport one of the finest records of all the teams entering, a 7-1-1 mark establishing the Idaho stickers as one of the teams to beat for the crown.

Oregon, holding the advantage of playing on their home course, which is of top-flight tourney caliber, rates as favorite along with USC, Stanford and the Idaho six.

Instead of the usual dual match system, golfers play a 72 hole total today and tomorrow in medal play competition to determine who carries home the championship trophy.

Last year's champion, the University of Southern California, remains one of the top favorites, Alan Geiberger, USC's top swinger, leads the Trojans and is rated as one of the finest players in the United States.

Stanford, a perennial favorite in this annual championship, brings a top-caliber crew to participate with Dick Foote heading the Indian participants.

Oregon has a well-balanced six and with a home course remains a potent foe headed by the strong foursome of Keith Guberud, Chuck Hunter, Gary Hval, and Tom Jakobson.

The secret of Idaho's surprising success this spring has been the depth and overall team balance. Rusty Sheppard and John Rosholt lead Idaho and are ably supported by teammates Ray Kowallis, Don Modie, Dave Smith, and Bob Pierce.

The Vandals departed early Wednesday morning for the tourney and a day of practice before the tourney and are expected back late Sunday night.

Vandals Move To Final Trials

Three Cinder Stars Set For Track Action

Track coach Joe Glander left for Seattle today, accompanying distancemen Frank Wyatt and Dick Boyce and hurdler Bill Overholser to the Pacific Coast Conference track championships to be run this weekend.

Wyatt is slated to run the three-mile, and Overholser the high hurdles.

In last weekend's Northern Division track finals, Wyatt finished second to Oregon's Dick Miller, losing by 1.5 seconds to the speedy Duck in the two-mile run. Miller clipped off a 9:10 clocking, Wyatt a 9:11.5 time.

Boyce finished fourth in the mile, placing behind winner Jim Grelle of Oregon, Washington's Jack Larson and Oregon's George Larson. Grelle marked off a 4:11.1 time, Boyce a 4:13.5 clocking.

Wyatt may find the longer, three-mile run more to his advantage at the PCC finals, but Bob Monzingo of Stanford, who hit a 9:10.8 time in the two-mile distance this season, is expected to give both Wyatt and Miller a battle in the long distance.

In the mile, Boyce will face both ND champ Jim Grelle and USC's Bob Shankland, Grelle is currently ranked second in the nation in the mile, Shankland fourth.

Vandal Golfers Try For PCC Divot Crown On Duck Course

Vandal golfers teed off this morning at the lengthy Eugene Golf and Country club in the opening day of the Pacific Coast Conference Golf Trials in a match to determine the PCC champion.

Coach Dick Snyder's swingers sport one of the finest records of all the teams entering, a 7-1-1 mark establishing the Idaho stickers as one of the teams to beat for the crown.

Oregon, holding the advantage of playing on their home course, which is of top-flight tourney caliber, rates as favorite along with USC, Stanford and the Idaho six.

The Vandals departed early Wednesday morning for the tourney and a day of practice before the tourney and are expected back late Sunday night.

Last weekend the racket team chalked up two more victories to keep a clean record against Gonzaga and Eastern Washington, Idaho beat Gonzaga 4-3, and overpowered EWCE, 5-2.

Baseballers Test Cougars In Last Contest

This year's spike season has been filled with errors, rain and some tough luck; but the Vandals have been able to pick up seven wins. Many of the close games have been lost in the ninth inning.

Today's game is at Pullman at 5 p. m. The two teams will take to the field here Saturday afternoon at 1.

Last year Idaho defeated WSC in the last game of the season to knock the Cougars out of the Northern Division lead.

Coach Wayne Anderson will be looking for another win this year although the Cougars are not in contention for the top spots. Washington is in first place and Oregon must beat OSC twice this weekend to remain in the running for first.

Three hurlers for the last two games will be Val Johnson, Jim Neese and John Fleming. Johnson will start the first game and Neese will hurl the second tilt.

Gary Randall's SIDELINES

When Ray Hatton decided to return to the Idaho track team next fall, Vandal cindermen hopes took one of the biggest jumps in many years, at least in the opinion of our Idaho cinderman.

"With Hatton, Adams, Reed, Douglas and Wyatt running next fall, there won't be a team in the nation that can touch Idaho in the cross-country," Bruce Wendle, Vandal half-miler commented.

Without being quite so positive, this corner feels that with the addition of former Vandal Hatton and frosh distanceman Dick Douglas, there won't be any team on the coast that can touch the Vandals, and probably very few in the nation that could come close.

Hatton, as you may remember, ran for the Idaho harriers in 1957, then returned to England. Since he has clipped off one very respectable 4:19 mile, and several sub-nine minute two miles that this writer knows of.

Definitely Hatton, along with the free-striding Douglas, will make a welcome addition to the current distance greats of Frank Wyatt, Dick Adams and Pete Reed.

Reed this spring, has been troubled by illness, forcing him to 1 out of spring track. It is expected that the powerful distanceman will be ready for next fall, however.
