Four Act Comedy 'Thieves Carnival' Has First Performance Thursday Night

CASUAL, MAN — Peering intently over Pi Phi Sally Wilbank's shoulder to ascertain the value of a string of pearls is Ed Vandervort, off campus. Fred Nelson, Lambda Chi, uninterestedly toots a clarinet while Bill Campbell, Sigma Chi, plays beat sounds on the bongos and gazes heavenward in a scene from Thursday and Friday's "Thieves Carnival." (Walt Johnson photo.)

The first performance of the airy ASUI comedy production, "Thieves Carnival," will open Thursday night at 8 p.m. with 11 University students assuming character roles.

Final performance of the four-act comedy is slated Friday night. This is the last ASUI production of the year, said Miss Jean Collette, director of dramatics.

Students will be admitted to the comedy on their ASUI cards. Adult tickets are 75 cents. Ticket sales opened yesterday at the University Bookstore.

"Thieves Carnival," written by French novelist, Jean Anouilh, is a gay and frivolous comedy which has no central theme. Three thieves are the center of all action as they practice their profession with a series of masquerades and disguises.

The thieves are played by Phillip Bigsby, Willis Sweet; and Edgar Vandevort and Frank Grossman, off campus. Other parts are portrayed by Robert Beamer, Bob McConnell and Don Davis, off campus; Bill Pressey, Phi Delta; Sally Wilbank, Pi Phi; Diane Fawson, Linda Ensign and Angie Arrien, Kappa.

One of the most comical aspects of the production is the occasional appearances of a one-man orchestra composed of Lambda Chi Fred Nelson and his clarinet. Some "off-beat" rhythm is also provided by Bill Campbell, Sigma Chi, on the bongo drums.

Backdrops and stage settings have been designed by director Edmund Chavez, assistant director of dramatics, to accentuate the light, airy mood of the comedy. Scenery includes props such as chests without drawers and trees with exaggerated transparent leaves.

The scenery and costumes represent several periods of history, and were chosen to give the audience a feeling that the action is taking place at no particular time or place.

Building and stage crew members for the production are Terry Messenger, Lindley; Bill Line, ATO; B. J. Schaffer, Sigma Chi, and Gary Tusberg, Lambda Chi.

Other technical workers include Delbert Jones, Chrisman, lights; Helene Hilton, DG, and Val Hoff, Alpha Phi, properties; Nanci Welker and Jo Ann O'Donnell, FG, sound; Orinda Hamon, Dorney, make-up; Suzy Wilson, Forney, and Ann Rogers, Kappa, paint; and Angie Arrien, Kappa, and Suzanne Best, Gamma Phi, publicity.

Highlight of the week's observance will be a banquet Friday in the SUB ballrooms at 6:30 p.m. Chairman of the banquet is James O'Donnell, off campus. Guest speaker will be Virles L. Fisher, well-known mountain climber, conservationist.

Fisher, of Las Vegas, Nev., is a member of the Federation Western Outdoor Clubs and former chairman of its conservation committee. He is chairman of the National Parks Association, and a member of the Wilderness Society and the American Forestry Society. (Continued On Page 2 Col. 3)

Billboard Shows Power Of AWS

The prominence of the Associated Women Students in the University community is tremendous.

A good example of the power and influence of this organization was observed Sunday on a billboard between the campus and the town on West 6th street.

The signboard pictured a young obviously-in-love couple hugging the left side of a car. Caption was "Don't Drive Cheek to Cheek."

Under a line reading, "In Cooperation with the Moscow Police Department," somebody had written in, "... and the AWS."

Russian Visiter Given Partial OK By Regents

The University's Board of Regents gave a partial okay to the Cosmopolitan Club's hopes to have a Russian representative visit the campus, it was learned today.

The Board told Beverly Brown, club publicity director, that the visit by the Russian is permissible if the club will make it part of a series in which other countries will send representatives to the campus, too. About three other countries would be suitable, said Mrs. Brown.

The question is centered around the wishes of the Cosmo Club to have different countries provide information and, if possible, speakers in Cosmo Club lectures on the campus. The club received a reply from the Soviet Union that they would oblige and send a personal representative but because of the significance of the project it would have to have the Regents approval.

In reference to the Board's decision, Mrs. Brown said she had written to four other countries asking them to send representatives; they included Cuba, Ghana, Brazil, and the United Arab Republic.

"Since the semester is about finished we are also working against time to try and bring the speakers here this semester," she said. "We have had a reply from the UAR, but they didn't say they would send a representative."

Previous nations that the club sent letters to were; Iran, India, Burma, Cambodia, and Britain. The purpose of the program is to try and get nations in the international spotlight to visit our country and the University, commented Mrs. Brown.

Judo School To Give Show

The Moscow School of Judo and Ju-Jitsu will give demonstrations tonight at 6:15 in Willis Sweet Hall, and Thursday night at 6:15 in Forney Hall.

Taught by Sgt. Mary Lou Calene, Moscow policewoman, the Moscow school is part of the Ryu-Jitsu System of Schools operating under the direction of James Moynahan, Jr., in Moscow, Pullman and Lewiston.

The demonstration will feature throwing techniques, knife fighting, and defense methods.

Classes began last night in the basement of the old Moscow Furniture building. Anyone wishing to enter the school may come in as many as four lessons late. New classes will begin May 3 at the completion of the present course. All classes are held from 6:45 to 8 p.m. The school is open to both men and women.

Tryouts Set As Blue Key Picks Acts

Although only two applications have been received for MC of the Blue Key Talent Show, all of the 35 to 40 entering individuals or groups have been contacted and will audition this week for berths in the 2½-hour show.

The two lone applicants for master of ceremonies are Bob Keller, Sigma Chi; and Denny Hague, off campus.

First audition was last night in the Borah theater when Keller and Hague auditioned and members of Blue Key heard entries in the musical solos division.

Tonight, also at 6:30 p.m. in the Borah theater, auditions are scheduled; large ensembles will try out. A new "division", that of duets, will also try out tonight.

"There have been so many entries in this area," said co-chairman Dave Trail, Sigma Chi, that we will probably have to add this as another division.

"Also, every audition period should be over by 8 p.m. If plans follow according to schedule," he said.

In auditions held Saturday afternoon in the SUB, two members of Vandeleers, currently on tour, tried out. They were Larry Eld, Gault; and Dave Pugh, Sigma Chi. Both were vocal solos.

"Lizzie Borden", the only all-house act, by Pi Beta Phi will return to present their act again this year.

General results of the auditions will be announced in Friday's Argonaut. The number of contestants chosen to participate in the show will depend on the time taken by each. The show will cost 35 cents a ticket. It will be held in Memorial Gym at 7:30, April 30.

Honorary Will Be Installed

Interest in the physics department this week is centering around the installation ceremony of the Idaho chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the SUB.

Dr. Marsh D. White, professor of physics at Pennsylvania State University and executive secretary of Sigma Pi Sigma, arrived yesterday to take charge of the ceremony, and officiate in the installation.

The granting of the petition of the local group of physics students is the recognition of the standing of the physics department and the University of Idaho in the field of science.

Sigma Pi Sigma was founded in 1921 at Davidson College, North Carolina. The Society now has 105 chapters in leading universities and colleges in the country.

The Society was organized to serve as a means of awarding distinction to students having high scholarship and promise of achievement in physics, to promote student interest in research and the advanced study of the subject, encourage a professional spirit and friendship among those who have displayed marked ability in physics and to popularize interest in physics in the general public.

Students Start Giving Blood Today For Drive

By DON ERICKSON
Argonaut Managing Editor

Students from "the bloodiest campus in the nation" began rolling up their sleeves this morning to work for their living groups, the state and the annual Blood Drive's goal of 850 pints.

The drive, themed "Plazma Pliz," will continue today, Wednesday and Thursday in Student Union ballrooms from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., including the noon hour.

All students, faculty and townspeople are urged by chairman Pete Kelly, Fiji, to give blood at any time during the three days, particularly during the less busy morning hours. Days for each living group have already been announced are included in this article.

ASUI general manager Gale Mix recalls that "Idaho was the leading college percentage-wise in nation during war years and thus acquired the title 'Bloodiest campus in the Nation'."

Today, the University has the largest single quota in the state and is depended upon for much blood.

The men's and women's living group with the greatest percentage of pints over the house quota will each receive a trophy award. The trophies will be on display on the nurse's desk as students go through the blood-drawing center.

Quotas are based on 45 per cent of men living in a house and 41 per cent of coeds in a women's living group. Percentages for the trophy contest will be figured by dividing the house's quota into the number of pints a house gives over its quota.

All other houses that make 100 per cent or over will receive a filled blood bottle for a trophy — filled with red dye and water.

In counting toward house quotas, exemptions will be made for health reasons only. Anyone may donate blood except those who have given in the last eight weeks or have a medical history of hepatitis.

Individual donors will receive small blood-donor pins.

Military instructors will honor excuses from ROTC students.

Headed by the competition committee for the drive are Dianne Heller, Gamma Phi; and Keith Huettinger, Delta Sig. Joan Kernex, Pi Phi; and Judith Aldape, Alpha Chi, make up the personnel committee.

Quotas for houses and the days they will give blood follows:

Today: Shoup — 27; Willis Sweet — 70; Gault — 57; Upham — 49; Forney — 31; French — 23; Sigma Chi — 25; Theta Chi — 6; Alpha Phi — 22; Tri Delta — 24; Lambda Chi — 18; LDS — 11, and Campus Club — 25.

Wednesday: Kappa Kappa Gamma — 27; Pi Phi — 22; Beta — 28; Lindley — 50; Phi Tau — 13; Delt — 22; Chrisman — 32; McConnell — 32; Delta Sig — 18; Teke — 17; Alpha Gamma — 15; Ethel Steele — 18; FarmHouse — 12.

Thursday: Sigma Nu — 24; Phi Delt — 28; Delta Chi — 16; Kappa Sig — 21; Hays — 25; SAE — 23; ATO — 20, and International House — 30.

On the Blood Drive publicity committee are Vivian Dickamore, Gamma Phi; Pat Kelly, Pi Phi; Nancy Hewitt, Delta Gamma; and Dan Lysinger, Delt.

"We hope students will rise to meet the need of the 1960 Blood Drive as they have in the past few years," general chairman Kelly said yesterday. "It's really a painless and gratifying experience."

Dating Series Starts Tonight

A discussion of marriage, "From Dates to Mates," is scheduled each Tuesday night for the rest of the school year, beginning tonight and ending May 10.

The lecture and discussion series will be held from 7-8 p.m. each Tuesday in the Campus Christian Center and is open to the public.

The four-week series will cover some of the knotty problems of marriage as well as examining dating and courtship problems.

Dr. Thomas Baird of Moscow tonight will speak on "Learning The Ropes," a look at courtship and marriage.

Other lectures planned are on religion, law and sex. Books and pamphlets on the discussions will be displayed and sold after each series.

PROM TICKETS AVAILABLE
Les Brown and his band will be featured at the WSU Junior-Senior Prom April 29. Tickets are now available at the ASUI office for $3.50 per couple.

Traditional Saw-Race Begins Forestry Week; Plans Are Set

Forestry Week got under way yesterday with the traditional race between chain saws and cross-cut saws in cutting timber.

Sponsored by the College of Forestry faculty and students, the program will feature talks, demonstrations and movies on the theme "Full Development and Use of Forest and Range Lands." Co-chairmen for the week's activities are Don Hauxwell, McConnell, and William Woolwine, off campus.

The idea of a Forestry Week, proclaimed by Governor Robert E. Smylie at the request of the Associated Foresters student group, was conceived in 1946. Each year since, the event has been given state-wide recognition.

Highlight of the week's observance will be a banquet Friday in the SUB ballrooms at 6:30 p.m. Chairman of the banquet is James O'Donnell, off campus. Guest speaker will be Virles L. Fisher, well-known mountain climber, conservationist.

Fisher, of Las Vegas, Nev., is a member of the Federation Western Outdoor Clubs and former chairman of its conservation committee. He is chairman of the National Parks Association, and a member of the Wilderness Society and the American Forestry Society. (Continued On Page 2 Col. 3)

Your quiet, but efficient manner in carrying out the duties of your post has been observed by your fellow workers and been appreciated.

Your aid to your "boss" Laird Noh has been seen in the many letters, phone calls, communiques, and suggestions that have kept him going when times got tough.

Your work has been an inspiration to all those around you and given us all a boost of morale.

And while you have done all this ... putting in many long hours ... serving as scribe for the 1959-60 Board ... going out of your way to do both menial and major tasks ... you have kept your scholarship up to standards many of us would like to aspire to.

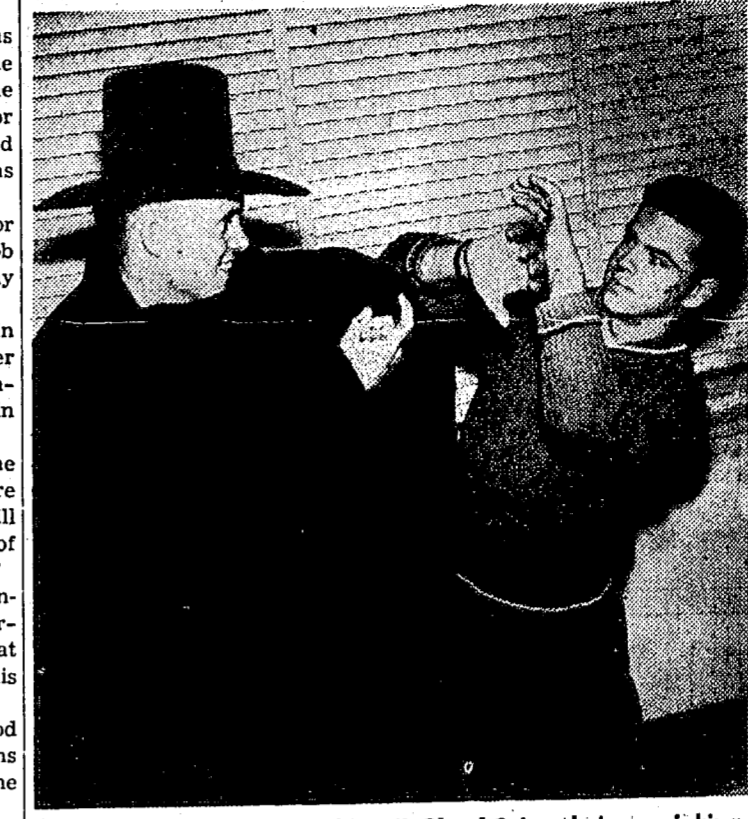

For all of this ... and more ... may we offer a humble "thanks."

Program Director To Attend Confab

Miss Charmaine Tourville, Student Union program director at Idaho, will be among 325 delegates to attend the annual Association of College Unions international conference at Indiana University April 24-27.

Theme of the 37th annual meeting is the union's part in the university's education program. It reflects the purpose of college unions to train students in citizenship, social responsibility and democratic leadership.

The association is comprised of 375 member-institutions in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Australia and the Philippines.

Conniff To Arrive Sunday; Show Scheduled For 7:30

By GARY RANDALL
Argonaut Staff Writer

Ray Conniff, the man SUB director Gale Mix regards as "One of the finest in his field that we'll ever have at Idaho," will arrive on the Vandal campus at 4 p.m. Sunday and complete preparations for his 7:30 Sunday evening show in Memorial Gymnasium.

"I don't believe that we'll ever have anybody at Idaho that has a finer reputation in popular and semi-classical music than Ray Conniff and his chorus," Mix stated yesterday.

The veteran band leader and approximately 43 members of his troupe will perform a "Concert in Stereo" in the gymnasium, featuring special stereo effects designed to give the listener the impression of sitting in an arena, surrounded by music.

Four engineers from the Conniff crew will arrive early Sunday morning to supervise placement of some of the equipment, followed by an additional truck load of equipment at noon and the bulk of Conniff's group by special plane at 4.

Conniff and his group will dine at 5:30 in the Student Union Building and meet the press and radio people from the Northwest, along with representatives of Columbia Record Company.

Mix stressed that although tickets were going fast, enough remained for any Idaho students who might be interested in sitting in on Conniff's show. Although the exact number of tickets sold is not available, it is believed that less than 900 seats are left.

A special matinee performance, mentioned as a possibility earlier, will probably not be given unless ticket sales pick up, according to Mix.

Conniff is completing a tour through the Northwest, playing at Oregon Friday, Oregon State Saturday and Idaho Sunday. Monday, Conniff will journey to the University of Washington for his final Northwest appearance.

The program, which is scheduled for two hours, is reliably reported to carry a guarantee at the $6,000 level. In addition, over $500 will be required to meet production expenses including placement of equipment, extension of the gymnasium stage and ticket distribution.

Mix expressed his confidence that the guarantee will easily be exceeded by the ticket sales.

Tryouts Slated For Positions

Students with pep and a desire to yell loudly and long will be given a chance to try out for Pom Pom and Cheerleader positions April 27.

A preliminary orientation will be held Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the SUB's North Ballroom, however, and any student who thinks he or she would make a good yell leader should be at the meeting.

Present cheerleaders Jeanne MacMartin, Alpha Gamma; and Arnie Candray, Delta Sig; will speak at the Thursday meet.

Circulars giving further information will be distributed in living group boxes in the SUB sometime this week.

Marcel Hillaire To Present Program Called 'Smile Of France' At Assembly

A French actor, whose face and voice are known to millions of Americans through his many appearances on the movie screen, stage and television comes to the University of Idaho Memorial gymnasium at 11 a.m. Friday.

Marcel Hillaire will present a program called "The Smile of France," aimed at bringing the spirit of France to the audience. To achieve his purpose, Hillaire dips into the poetry, drama and humor of his native land.

In a variety of moods that range from the gay to the poignant, he presents works written by some of the great French authors—François Villon, Ronsard, La Fontaine, Voltaire, de Maupassant, Pagnol, Colette and Guitry.

Censorship: An Ugly Example

Another depressing example of censorship based on ignorance and timidity was exhibited yesterday in California.

The California Teachers Association reported that parental protests had led to the removal of five outstanding American novels from the Andrew Hill high school library at San Jose.

The association said it also was investigating the transfer to another school of the teacher who had prepared the reading list which included the books. The teacher was transferred last February. There were indications that the reassignment was an outgrowth of parents' objections that the banned books were "too sophisticated" for an advanced high school English course.

And what were these presumably deadly-dangerous books? The association listed them as follows: Ernest Hemingway's The Sun Also Rises, J. D. Salinger's Catcher in the Rye, Aldous Huxley's Brave New World, William Saroyan's The Human Comedy, and Thomas Wolfe's magnificent Look Homeward, Angel!

These excellent American novels, which should be virtually required reading for anyone aspiring to become educated, were banned from the high school library because a group of parents stamped the school administration, and possibly even the school board, into believing that the minds of the young would be corrupted by exposure to such literature! This at a time when a teenager can pluck off any bookstand the foulest kind of salacious reading matter, and when the overwhelming threat is not that youngsters will read the wrong books, but that they will read no books at all!

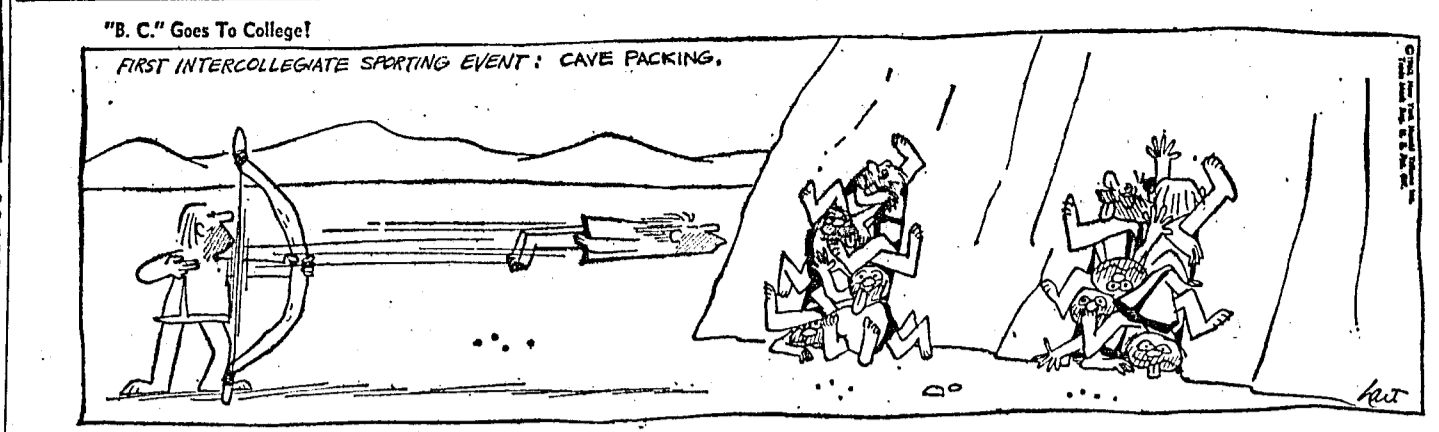

Sometimes it seems that the human race makes almost no progress in its struggle against censorship, superstition and intellectual cowardice.

Sometimes it seems that uninformed parents are almost spitefully determined to impose their own ignorance upon their offspring, and that far too many educators talk strongly and act weakly when the time comes to stand up and be counted for the right to learn, to decide and to know. —Lewiston Tribune

Dear Jason:
Due to the actions of the old Executive Board on the SUB issue, and the limited time which the new Executive Board has to act on this issue, I have mailed the following letter and petition that was circulated during mid-semester, accompanied by a similar letter written by another member of the Executive Board, to the Board of Regents.
I felt that the students that had signed the petition had done so in good faith and it was a moral obligation on my part to take this action.

The Board of Regents
The University of Idaho
Care of Delmar Ingelking
Superintendent of Public Instruction
Boise, Idaho
Ladies and Gentlemen:
This letter is being written in as brief a form as possible; mainly its purpose is to introduce to you the petition accompanying it — a petition bearing approximately 2,600 student signatures, better than two-thirds of the student body of the University of Idaho.
We who submit this petition are certain that you are aware of the Student Union Building Addition issue, an issue which has stirred up more controversy on campus than any student-administration issue has stirred up in ten years. Consequently, we do not intend to say very much about the background of the problem. We only wish to ask you to consider our side of it.
Until the last student election (March 9, 1960), the Student Executive Board, ostensibly representing the entire student body, chose to ignore student demands for a student referendum on the Student Union Addition issue. Especially they chose to ignore the petition accompanying this letter.
Since the last student election referred to above, the student body is again represented by an Executive Board which at least has a potential for truly representing them. It is very likely that this new Executive Board will be able to bring the Student Union issue to a formal student vote. There is no doubt that the issue can be brought before the students by the next formal election, approximately a year from now, provided, of course, the Board of Regents has not given their final approval to the construction of the addition before then.
On the basis of the accompanying 2,600 signatures, we ask you to defer action on this issue until it can be tested by means of a formal student referendum. Whether the students want the addition is moot and shall remain so until such a referendum has been taken. Since the students will be paying for the addition, we feel that our request to let them make the final decision is eminently fair. We hope that you will see it this way, too.

President's Shoes Fit Both Dad, Son

It runs in the family.
Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Theophilus revealed recently the appointment of their son, Donald R. Theophilus Jr., as administrative assistant to the dean of the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration.
The younger Theophilus attended Moscow High School and graduated from Idaho in 1953 with a degree in journalism. Following his graduation here, he entered the Air Force.
He entered the Harvard Graduate School in 1955 and graduated in 1958. Since June 1958 he had served as a passenger analyst for American Airlines in New York City. He accepted his new post Feb. 1.

60 Selected To Participate In Conference

A group of 60 teachers out of 951 applicants has been selected to participate in the National Science Foundation Summer Institute for Science and Mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania.

ced recently by Dr. Edgar H. Grah, associate professor of chemistry and institute director. More than half of the teachers are from Idaho schools. Other states represented are Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Nebraska, Indiana, California, Washington, Oregon, Wisconsin, Michigan, Hawaii, Utah, New Mexico, Illinois, Nevada and Texas.

Game Range Study Made

Eight forestry students and their professor returned this weekend from a six-day tour of Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho, where they studied range conditions of elk and other game.
Dr. Kenneth E. Hungerford, professor of wildlife management, and his senior students left Monday, April 11, for Highway 10 and western Montana to begin a study of the grass and shrubbery eaten by the big game of the tri-state area.

The survey took them the length of western Montana, through eastern Idaho, and into the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming. They studied the range feed of the 2500 elk they saw there.

Dates for the eight-week institute for junior and senior high school science and mathematics teachers coincide with the regular summer school session, June 13 to August 5.
Both graduate and undergraduate work will be offered in the fields of mathematics, physics, chemistry, botany and zoology, and undergraduate work in geology.
A stipend of $600 plus travel and dependency allowances will be paid to each participant by the National Science Foundation.

Board To Pick New Members

New members of the Board of Selection and Control for the 1960-61 year will be chosen beginning Wednesday, at 7 p.m. in the SUB.
The Board of Selection and Control includes the chairmen of Food Drive, Student Recruitment, Freshman Orientation, Senior Day, Dad's Day, and Homecoming.
The Board selects or supervises the selection of all other committees under the ASUI.

Fahrenwald Gives College Machines

Operating models of commercial machines designed and invented by Arthur W. Fahrenwald, dean emeritus of the University of Idaho College of Mines, have been given to the university.
Dean Fahrenwald presented the college of mines with a crusher, sieve shaker, settling classifier, flotation machines and grinding equipment valued at about $3,000.
A college graduate is a person who had a chance to get an education.

Other students on the trip were Chuck Peck, Al Boss, Tom Schroeder, Don Sweep, all of Uppham; Keith Heezen, Sam McNeill, and Dick Presby, off campus.
Transportation was in two University carry-alls. They slept in sleeping bags and did their own cooking at range stations along the way, Davidson said.

Dem Hopefuls To Give Views

Five Democratic senatorial candidates will present their views from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday in a meeting sponsored by the Young Democrats.
The five running for U.S. Senate are Bill Brunt, Idaho Falls; Gregg Garry, Plummer; Compton I. White Jr., Clark Fork; and Bob McLaughlin, Mountain Home.
One of these will run on the Democratic ticket against Republican Henry Dworshak in the fall general election. Frank Benson, another candidate, was not able to be present at the Thursday meeting in conference room D.
Bob Moe, president of Young Democrats, said the first hour will feature short talks by each of the candidates, and the second hour will be for questions and answers and a chance to meet each candidate personally. Moe said the meeting is open to all students at any time during the 2-hour meeting.

Library Meet Is To Discuss Improvement

Ways and means of improving Idaho's libraries will be among the topics to be discussed at the bi-annual meeting of the Idaho State Library association to be held at McCall April 29 and 30.
Lee Zimmerman, association president and University of Idaho librarian, said discussion for the opening session at 9 a.m. Friday at Shoreline Lodge will center on findings of a recent Ford Foundation sponsored survey of libraries in the Northwest.
A panel-forum on the subject will be moderated by Arthur L. DeVolder, Twin Falls public librarian. Panelists include Irving Lieberman, director of the University of Washington school of librarianship; Henry Drennan, Boise, Idaho State librarian; Roy Miller, Pocatello public librarian; Del Engelking, Boise, State superintendent of public instruction; Perry Swisher, Pocatello, representative in the Idaho State legislature; Marion Bingham, Boise librarian; Maxine Slagowski, Idaho Falls Senior high school librarian; and Theron Atkinson, Ricks college librarian.
Pres. Zimmerman will lead a symposium on the subject of education for librarianship in Idaho composed of Dean Boyd Martin of Idaho's College of Letters and Science, and Drennan and Lieberman.
Dean Martin will be the featured speaker at an evening banquet with a talk entitled, "Education for Living."

NEW HOURS SET

There will be no more recreation in the Gymnasium on Sunday afternoons from 1:30 to 4:30 for the remaining part of the year.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT — Forestry

Association.
The planting of 30 trees on the campus Friday will be under the direction of Russell Newcomb, off campus. The trees will be selected by Asst. Professor Frederic Johnson and purchased by the College of Forestry.
They will not only be a reminder of the importance of forestry, but will also serve as specimens for study by student foresters.

SUBWAYS

By FRED NELSON

Queen's Life Is Full Of Fears, Frustrations—But It's Great

Positioned at a table in the crowded SUB were a small plate and a chair. Placed in these two objects, respectively, were a doughnut and Lynne Hallvik.
Lynne is one of the several Idaho coeds who have survived trials by cross-examination, mental dissection and men's living group food to become a campus queen. Casting occasional reflective glances at the solitary doughnut, she was telling what it was like to receive this honor.
Queen contests usually begin with a preliminary elimination of one, sometimes two entrants from each women's living group. The coeds are hosted at a tea or a series of dinners where the men get their first chance to try their hand at mental and physical analysis.
Lynne recounts this process by saying, "they were just wonderful. The food was fine, and they all did their best to make us feel at ease."
Had she looked more closely, she would have noticed probably half the group milling around in the far corner like a flight of osprey trying to think of appropriate conversational tidbits, each probably secretly fearing to go near her for fear he would come away with tooth marks on his leg or something.
The other half of the gang usually deals with prevalent atmospheric situations. They rush the candidate, each with his own opinion on the probability of rain, sleet or a seven-year plague of locusts, then regroup across the room to outline a new conversational approach.
The process is repeated after the first elimination, after which the coed has a day or so off to reassemble herself for the night of crowning.
The finalists are grouped together around the throne and the master of ceremonies is handed the name of the winner. He reads the name of the queen, who then mounts the throne with the air of someone who is tottering between ecstasy and a dead faint to receive the crown.

In Lynne's case it wasn't this easy. The emcee pondered over the announcement with her name on it, turned away from the microphone and looked out into the herd with a faint "who's she?" After he'd been reassured, Lynne boarded the throne. It disassembled neatly under her.
Attacking her doughnut with zest, she again smiled and repeated how wonderful she had felt.
As she bravely clung to the more resolute pieces of the throne, she received her crown. It didn't fit. The ceremonies were completed when she was presented a trophy, one of the casserole dish variety, and a load of flowers.
The dance ended, and Lynne parted on a cloud. Her date tottered along behind uncertainly, armed to the teeth with enough flowers to start a nursery in the trunk of his car. The crown swung merrily from the stem of an orchid.
Lynne polished off the doughnut and looked around with a satisfied smile. She described her activities as queen.
"I go to their social functions and a lot of their dress meals. I love every minute of it. They're really nice."
She concluded by repeating her classic statement, "and the food at the men's living groups is so much better than what we girls get. I can't understand why you men are always complaining about it."
She'll learn.

Easter Season Is Time For Dances

By DANA BAKER
Argonaut Women's Editor

Easter seems to be the season for pinning, engagements and serenades; and especially for spring dances that are coming up in the near future.

Dinner guests at HAYS HALL this week were Penny Yates, North Idaho Junior College; Bill Hoskins, Willis Sweet; Paul Edgerton, Shoup; Jerry Fuller, Prairie City, Oregon; and Larry Woodbury, Lindley, Adrienne Postwick, Spokane was a weekend guest.

The ATOs serenaded the KAPPA house Tuesday night in honor of the pinning of Maureen McGourin and Kayo Craven and in honor of Edwina Zabel's engagement to Harold Gustafson.

Thyre Bailey was tapped and initiated in Pi Gamma Nu, social science honorary, along with Lorna Woelfel, who was tapped earlier this year.

ETHEL STEEL is planning a spring dance Saturday. The theme will be "Summer Place." Billie Reed was chosen to replace resigning Sue Wiley as WRA Representative.

An annual Easter egg hunt and children's party for the children of THETA alums was held Saturday at the chapter house. Thetas enjoyed a sweetheart serenade given by the Sigma Chis in honor of Nancy Holcomb's pinning to Ralph Hagedst.

The DELT golf team played host to the Nampa golf team this weekend. The annual pledge class project this year was landscaping around the house. Dave Iverson discovered that the weather was not very warm when he was tubbed for being elected treasurer of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity.

The PHI TAUS gained another pledge last week when John Nixon, formerly of Chrisman Hall was pledged. Phi Tau seniors received their annual tubbing Friday morning at 5:30 a.m.

New officers were recently elected by the TRI DELTS. They are also busy making preparations for an annual sunrise dance to be held Saturday morning. Weekend guests were Margaret Toews, Aberdeen, and Carolyn Gentilen and Carmina Rossi, Pongree.

The WSU and Idaho chapters of FARMHOUSE held their annual Star and Crescent formal Saturday night. Gene Allen and Darrell Hatfield were recently elected as censor and chron of Alpha Zeta, agricultural scholastic honorary. Bob Bradley, Doug Park, and Lyle Sasser were recently tapped by Alpha Zeta for membership and Larry Harvey was tapped by Pi Gamma Nu, Social Science Honorary.

DELTA CHI is enjoying the visit of the past national president of the fraternity, Dr. Marsh D. White of Pennsylvania State University. Plans are now underway for the annual spring formal to be held May 14. Ten Delta Chi's returned Sunday from Seattle where they attended a regional conclave of the fraternity.

Eight ATO members are waiting for the proverbial axe to fall — in the shape of a tubbing. On the list of "Coming Events," are John Allgair, Rich Erwin, Kayo Craven, George Luckhardt, Dale Dennis, Walt Johnson and Mike Robb. House guest for the week is Darrell Woelfel's father, Blair Woelfel, Las Vegas.

The GAMMA PHI house was turned into a Manhattan penthouse this weekend as the "Delta Gamma Phi's" held their initiation dances together. Suzanne Best is wearing the crescent necklace of Pledge of the Month. The annual Sweetheart dinner is planned for Wednesday.

Denny Fraucher, SIGMA CHI, won the Northwest Province Belford award naming him the "most outstanding Sig" in the Northwest. He is now the representative from the Northwest province in a contest for the national award.

Romanio Plans Piano Recital

The University's Department of Music will present Steven Romanio, pianist, in faculty recital Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Romanio, an instructor in the Music Department, will perform a program of classical and modern works.

Selections include Variations on "Ah, vous dirai-je, Maman," by Mozart; Adante, Allegro and Adagio movements from "Sonata quasi una Fantasia, Op. 27, No. 1," by Beethoven; "Estampes" in three parts; "Pogodes, La Soiree dans Grenade and Jardins sous la Pluie," by Debussy.

Also featured on the program will be the Allegro marcato; Presto misterioso, Adagio molto appassionato and Ruvido ed Ostinato movements of "Sonata" by Ginastera.

The work of Bloch, "Five Sketches in Sepia," includes Prelude, Mist wreaths over the town, Fireflies, Hesitation and Epilogue.

Romanio will conclude the recital with the "Rhapsodie hongroise No. 15" by Franz Liszt.

Sewage Short Course Slated

A short course for sewage treatment operators will be held at the University Thursday through Saturday, according to Assoc. Professor Frank S. Junk, who will be in charge of the course.

The course is being jointly sponsored by the University's department of civil engineering and the State Department of Health. Officials who have signed up for the sessions are from all parts of Idaho and eastern Washington.

Directing engineering phases of the course will be Vaughn Anderson of the State Department of Health, Boise. Professor James Martin, head of the University's department of agricultural engineering, will speak on "An Engineer Looks at Our Neighbors" at a smorgasbord at the Idaho Hotel, 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Pi Gamma Nu Has Initiation Banquet

Pi Gamma Nu, social science honorary, initiated five new members last week with a banquet and a talk.

Thyre Bailey, Kappa; Lorna Woelfel, Kappa; Tim Green, Beta; Larry Harvey, FarmHouse; and Ted Spence, off campus, were treated to a dinner at the SUB and initiation ceremonies were held at the home of Dr. Fred Church. Dr. Harry Caldwell, assoc. professor of geography, told about his forthcoming European study tour.

Vandaleer Concert Choir Is On Six-Day 'Vacation' In State

By NANCY SIMPSON
Argonaut Staff Writer

A group of 49 University students is taking a six-day vacation, all expenses paid.

The fortunate 49 plus 4 faculty members are all members of the Vandaleer Concert Choir. Their six-day "vacation" will be spent representing 15 programs for audiences in the Boise and Twin Falls areas.

The group is directed by Prof. Glen R. Lockery.

Selected instrumentalists comprise a special orchestra to accompany the Vandaleers and is featured in parts of the program.

Faculty members who are included in the chamber orchestra are William Billingsley, trumpet, and David Whlsmar, cello.

Featured on the program is a Bach motet, "Jesus, My Great Pleasure," "Haydn's 'In Splendor Bright,'" and "The Heavens are Telling," from "The Creation."

Also included are Gretchenhoff's "Necene Creek," "Clap Your Hands," by F. M. Christiansen and "Lamentationes Prophetae Jeremias," by Alberto Ginastera.

"Songs of Nature" by Dvorak, selections from "Rigoletto" and songs from "Porgy and Bess," by George Gershwin complete the program.

Vandaleer soloists are Anne Lyons, Alpha Phi; Kris Madison, DG; Billie Sommers, Tri Delt; Joan Ward, Kappa; Barry Binning, off campus; Ardell Shockley, LDS; DeLance Franklin, Lambda Chi, and Russell Crockett, Delta Sig.

The concert program will be presented for the Idaho campus April 26 in the University Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Engineers Will Attend Meeting

Four civil engineering students will attend the annual Pacific Northwest student chapter meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers Friday at Corvallis, Oregon.

Seniors Leo Tefolla, Upham, and Danny King, Chrisman, will submit technical papers that have already won praise and distinction in engineering circles. Representing the junior class will be Lynn Kerby and Richard Day, both off campus.

Thursday afternoon they will tour through Bonneville Dam. Hustling to Portland that evening, they will attend the senior ASCE to hear professional engineers speak.

Early Friday the quartet will be led through interesting plants in the Portland area. Then they will go to Corvallis and Oregon State College to meet with student representatives from other Northwest schools. Saturday morning the engineers will return to Moscow.

The trip is partially financed by the Columbia section of the ASCE, with no assistance given by the University.

IK Duke Named; 7 Others Elected

Terry Mix, Phi Delt, was elected last week as honorable duke of the Idaho chapter of Intercollegiate Knights.

Other officers were also elected to preside over the new group of IK's which will be tapped sometime this week. Elected were: Jim Okeson, Beta, worthy scribe; Duane Allred, Delt, chancellor of the exchequer; Bill Martin, Sigma Chi, worthy recorder; Bill Hobdy, Delta Sig, senior expansion officer; Larry Hicks, Gault, page master; Ron Houghtalin, Delta Sig, horrible executioner; Steve Norrell, Phi Tau, court jester.

The incoming IK's will be tapped on the basis of grades and activities throughout the campus.

Several members plan to attend the national IK convention in Pocatello this week. They are: Mix, Okeson, Martin, Hobdy, Allred, Norrell, Ed Christensen, Dave Tovey and Gordon Chester.

B and B Club Plans Banquet

The Block and Bridle Club held its spring banquet Tuesday evening in the Moscow Hotel.

"Slats" Wilson, past president of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, was presented an honorary membership award by Roger Falen, Upham, club president.

Guest speaker was Rube Bauer, agricultural representative of the First Security Banks of northern Idaho. Master of ceremonies was Orvil Sears, Gault; invocation was given by Veldon Hix, off campus; entertainment was provided by Gordon Elliott and LaVerne Kulm, both from FarmHouse.

Ag. Science Day committee reports will be given at a meeting of the Block and Bridle Club tonight at 8 p.m. in Ag. Sci. 215.

Rockwell's Art To Be Exhibited

A collection of original Norman Rockwell cover paintings will be on exhibition at the SUB from May 3rd to 23rd in the Mezzanine.

The paintings are on tour of the United States and Canada in response to many requests by student groups all over the country. The Curtis Publishing Company is sponsoring the exhibit.

The Rockwell exhibition is unique as it shows the amazing amount of painstaking effort the artist puts forth to insure that the finished painting will meet his own and the Saturday Evening Post's standards.

Everyone was in suspense Sunday night as a candle went around the fireside circle at the Kappa house. Becky Ross blew it out to announce her pinning to Dick Turner, Delta Sig.

MITCHELL-POWERS
An Easter Bunny, Jane Johnson, appeared at a Sunday night Theta fireside with a basket of brightly colored Easter eggs which she passed to several of the coeds asking them to crack an egg and read the poems inside. After four poems were read, Doris Anne Greenstreet cracked an egg revealing a Sigma Chi pin which she pinned on Shirley Mitchell to announce her pinning to Dave Powers.

SCOGGIN-STURB
A mysterious Easter present appeared at the dinner table of the Theta house Saturday night with instructions to open, light and pass around the table. A candle set in a gardenia base and entwined with roses was passed around the table until Jayne Scoggin blew it out to reveal her pinning to Jack Strub, Sigma Chi.

BURGESS-RAYBURN
A candle decorated with white carnations was passed around Hays Hall fireside Monday night. Lael Burgess blew it out to announce her pinning to Ken Rayburn, Lambda Chi.

NELSON-BRYAN
A pin cleverly concealed in a purple Fiji garter was revealed when Nancy Nelson, Theta, blew out a candle during a fireside last week to announce her pinning to Dave Bryan, Fiji.

ENGAGEMENTS
ALGER-HINGSTON
The engagement of Rogene Alger, Hays Hall, to Elmer Hings-ton, off campus, was announced during spring vacation.

MCGOURIN-CRAVEN
Notes in Easter baskets were used to announce the engagement of Maureen McGourin, Kappa, to Kayo Craven, ATO, at dress dinner last week. Miss McGourin's family were present from Spokane.

BATY-THOMPSON
The romantic and colorful spring season was greeted at the Theta house with the engagement announcement of Judy Batty to Duane Thompson. The names of the engaged couple appeared on dainty blue and white place cards and the table was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and tapered blue candles.

Theta Sigma Phis To Hold Annual Feast

Featured speaker at the annual Matrix Table banquet scheduled Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Moscow Hotel by the Idaho chapter of Theta Sigma Phi will be Mrs. Beatrice M. Davis, public relations service manager for Potlatch Forests, Inc.

A community affair since its beginning, the Matrix Table is the main function each year of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalistic fraternity.

"The aim of our Matrix Table, and that of chapters throughout the country, is to promote better relations between the local community and the members of our group," said Mrs. Polly Walker, chapter president.

Theta Sigma Phis To Hold Annual Feast

Mrs. Davis, who will speak on the subject "Public Relations Is . . ." is a resident of Lewiston and has been employed by P.F.I. since 1951.

She is a member in the Lewiston-Clarkston Toastmistress Club, and in May she will be installed as vice-chairman of the Toastmistress Council No. 1 in Spokane. The council is composed of 14 clubs in Washington and Idaho.

Her other civic activities include membership in the Lewiston-Clarkston Altru Club, women's community service organization, and in the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce.

Theta Sigma Phi is made up of both undergraduate and professional chapters throughout the United States. Outstanding women journalism majors and non-majors who have displayed active interest in the field are selected for undergraduate membership.

Upon graduation they become professional members and may affiliate with the nearest such group.

WRA Confab Ends With Discussion

The Women's Recreational Association regional meeting concluded last Saturday morning with a discussion on the improvement of participation in WRA activities.

Four Northwestern states were represented at the workshop and were guided by the theme of "Blueprint for the '60's." Improvement of WRA activities at the regional level was the main problem discussed throughout the meeting.

Vandalettes Hold Tryouts Tonight

With 15 openings to fill, Vandalettes will choose new members tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the SUB's North Ballroom.

Coeds wishing to try for the girls' marching team can wear shorts or bermudas to the auditions, and the routine to be given can be obtained from living group representatives.

Further information may be obtained from Sue Livingston, Kappa, or Pat Brogan, DG.

Idaho, WSU To Host Meet Of Sociologists

Two leading sociologists will address the Pacific Sociological Society meeting to be held April 28-30 at the Davenport Hotel in Spokane, according to Dr. Mhyra S. Minnis, assistant professor of sociology and member of the arrangements committee at the University of Idaho.

Idaho and Washington State University will serve as co-hosts for the meeting. Welcome for the conference will be extended by Dean L. C. Cady of the University of Idaho graduate school and Dean S. Towne Stephenson of WSU.

Main talks will be given by Dr. August B. Hollingshead, Yale University, and Dr. Donald B. Cressey, University of California at Los Angeles, president of the society.

Dr. Hollingshead, winner of the MacIver award this year for the most outstanding book in sociological research called "Social Class and Mental Illness," will speak on the problems of mental illness.

Dr. Herbert Bisno, University of Oregon, will discuss the implications for sociology and social research of the curriculum study of the council on social work education at a special luncheon session.

Sigma Tau Plans Initiation Today

Initiation of 11 students and honorary memberships for two professors will highlight the Sigma Tau initiation ceremony today at 2 p.m. in conference rooms B, C, D and E of the SUB.

The students to be initiated into the engineering honorary include Wesley Buchanan, Sigma Chi; William Pantry, Gault; Paul Barnes, Gene Baxter, Gary Frame, Walter Jones, Robert Twigg, Gary Waymores and Robert Yearley, all off campus; William Parman, Lindley, and Barton Whight, Shoup. The two professors are Dr. Lynn A. Beattie and Prof. H. W. Silha.

A dinner-dance at the New Idaho Hotel will follow in the evening at 7.

Dwight Chapin's Neutral Corner

Mooney Problem Is Unsolvable; Stahley Explains His Position

Sometimes a problem to which there can be no complete solution arises. Such a problem currently has sports fans at Idaho talking to themselves. It involves Dick Mooney, the slick-fielding and big stick-carrying second baseman of the Vandals. The team's leading hitter throughout the non-league season, Mooney will be playing no more baseball this year for Idaho.

Along with some 70 others, Mooney will be trying to earn a starting position on Skip Stahley's football team. Stahley, who has come under some criticism for plucking Mooney out of the baseball lineup for spring football, explained his position recently.

No Prior Agreement
 "Mooney came to Idaho from Sacramento Junior College on a straight football scholarship with no provisions for baseball," Stahley said.

"Like every other first year man, he must earn his scholarship in football. It wouldn't be fair to the other first year players if we let him play baseball this year," Stahley said.

Presumably, Mooney could play next year, if he makes the football team this fall. Two graders, end Bob Vervaeke and back LaRoy Johnson, are currently on the baseball team and won't play spring football. But both earned football letters last fall.

Stahley's position can't be changed and it shouldn't be. Simply, he is 100 per cent right.

Might Kill Winner
 But if we had our druthers, we'd druther see him at second base for the baseball Vandals, because without him a winning combination might be broken up.

His relief, Terry Boesel, formerly of Wenatchee Valley Junior College, is a pretty fair left-handed hitter and he will get a chance to show it. But he'll have to prove he can make the double play as smoothly as Mooney did with shortstop Bill Johnson.

We hope Boesel can do it and we hope Mooney becomes the greatest football player Idaho has ever known. That would solve any doubts.

If you're a baseball fan and are planning to bet any money on the pennant chances of the Milwaukee Braves and Cleveland Indians, don't.

To play pennant-winning baseball over a 154-game schedule, a team has to be solid everywhere. Neither of these teams are.

The Braves have no outfield depth whatsoever, with Wes Covington and Bill Bruton both subject to serious knee trouble. And Covington is not yet in condition. He's carrying a lot of fat around his middle.

Only outfield reserves are Lee Maye, who is untested and has done nothing this spring; a minor league-punch hitter named Al Spangler, who has never hit big league pitching; and a displaced infielder, Mel Roach. This is no pennant winning outfield, even with the great Henry Aaron.

An Old Arm
 Pitcher Warren Spahn's left arm is nearly 40 years old. Other than Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl, only up and down pitchers are back of him. Red Schoendienst, gritty but still battling the after effects of tuberculosis, can't play every game.

It doesn't look like a pennant for the Braves. The Indians, favorite of many for the American League pennant, are in serious pitching trouble.

Once great lefthander Herb Score has never recovered from an eye injury in 1957 and Jim Perry, the rookie star of last year, has a sore shoulder. The staff "stopper," Cal McLish, has been traded. The rest of the Indian pitchers are good, but very young.

Even a great infield, a good outfield and fair catching, which Cleveland has, can't make up for pitching weaknesses. As Connie Mack once said, "Pitching is 90 per cent of a baseball team."

Stahley Greets 70 Men; Prospects Appear Bright

By JIM HERNDON
Argonaut Asst. Sports Editor
 The pigskin has returned to Neale Stadium after a short winter vacation. Spring football practice got under way yesterday with 70 hopefuls turning out.

"The size and amount of the players are satisfactory," said coach-athletic director Skip Stahley, pausing in his busy pregame activities to converse with this reporter.

"The quality, though, remains to be seen; it is too early to make any definite commitments."

From the largest player, John Desmond, who weighs 244, to the smallest, Dick Davies, 155, Stahley will have the largest field of contestants to choose from since coming to Idaho in 1954.

The Vandals who lose line strength in men like Jim Prestel and Stan Fanning, should be bigger and stronger next season.

With Ron Ismael, (Mr. Toe), Ralph Jannino, Lee Shellman, and Jim Neubauer returning to form a nucleus, Stahley will have something on which to build.

Returning lettermen reserves Darrel Vail, Jim Decko, Jim Davidson and Bill Hill will also give needed support.

Help to fill the holes will come from the 13 upcoming junior varsity players, 16 junior college transfers and 22 frosh.

INTRAMURALS

Two of the final three sports on the spring intramural calendar are scheduled to get under way this week. Horseshoes competition will begin Thursday and the first half of the intramural track meet is slated Saturday.

The final intramural sport, golf, will wind up the 1959-60 calendar May 14.

Intramural softball, which began last week, continued yesterday, despite rain and wind.

League winners in bowling competition were Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Town Men's Assn., McConnell Hall and Phi Delta Theta. They are meeting in playoffs this week for the campus championship.

MAY GO TODAY — Transfer lefthander Denny Grant may be on the mound today when Idaho battles the Washington Huskies on MacLean Field at 3 p.m. The Vandals, behind the pitching of Steve Hinckley, edged Washington yesterday, 2-1.

Old Records Are Broken And Equalled In Field Events As WSU Wins Meet

By PETE REED
Argonaut Staff Writer
 Saturday's Idaho-WSU track meet, won by the Cougars 84-46, provided some exciting races, fine performances in the field events, four new records, and two existing records equalled.

Most of this record breaking took place in the field events where the wind was a nuisance, but the competitors were free from the hindrance of a slow track, which frayed the runners.

The events which drew most enthusiasm from the spectators were the two-mile race, the 100-yard dash; the high jump and the exhibition hop-step-and-jump.

In the two mile, Ray Hatton of Idaho shot into an early lead and was never seriously threatened. Idaho's other two English distance stars, Frank (Buck) Wyatt and Ron Adams, worked together until Wyatt made his bid to close on Hatton.

For a while the gap between him and Hatton narrowed, but Wyatt began to feel pain from an old tendon injury, and from this point continued to yield ground to the leader.

After winning the two mile race, Hatton continued for a further mile, completing the full three miles in 14 minutes 23.4 seconds, equaling the existing Idaho record held by Wyatt.

Washington States' Don Maw won the 100 yard dash, and did the same trick in the 220. He was able to develop enough speed from 30 yards out of the blocks to be looking over his shoulder in the last 20 yards.

His time of 9.8 was good, considering he was in the third lane, which was quite badly torn up, and bearing in mind this obviously was not a full power effort.

Hank Wyborne, (WSU) left the rest of his competitors at 5 feet 10 inches in the high jump, then went on to clear 6 feet 5 1/2 inches, a new record for the Idaho field.

Jumping Joe King looked good in the hop-step-jump, although he may well have bettered his performance in this event and the broad jump, given a better run-up. He still managed to beat the University triple jump record with a distance of 43 feet 10 inches.

Idaho's Joe Davis threw the discus 157 feet 10 1/2 inches, also a new meet record. He had a throw of well over 160 feet, but this was disallowed. It was a good indication, however, that Davis can look forward to an even better performance next time out.

Hatton finished the mile with a 59 seconds last quarter which took him a full five seconds ahead of second place man Don Bertola of WSU. Bertola only just squeaked home ahead of Adams, who appeared to make his finishing effort too soon.

The Cougars' Bill Colwell once again tried to score against the Idaho milers by taking an early lead, an endeavor in which he has failed repeatedly. This time it brought him fourth place.

Hurdler Bill Overholser gave some very tough competition to ace Cougar Spike Arlt. In the highs it took Arlt three hurdles before he could begin to edge away.

Arlt, incidentally, is hoping he may be able to find a place on the Olympic 400 meter hurdles team. His time of 14.7 was a new meet record.

Although Washington State beat Idaho, the Vandal track men made an excellent showing. The freshmen also have a very fine team, and succeeded in beating WSU by 50 1/2 to 42 1/2.

Spearhead of the frosh team was Ed LaRoche, who won the 440 with fine judgment, pulled the same well-timed effort to give Idaho the mile relay, and also won the 220. His teammate Phil Steinbock won the 100 on a fast start, and these two, together with Phil Russell, may later give Idaho's varsity squad the strength it has long needed in the dashes.

The meet showed that Idaho is improving its track team tremendously, thanks largely to Sorsby. His enthusiasm seems to be infecting the whole team, so that the future teams, even without the three English distance stars, all of whom graduate this June, should continue to grow stronger.

Idaho Stops Huskies: Second Contest Today

By GARY RANDALL
Argonaut Sports Editor

The Idaho hardballers go looking for Northern Division win number two today at 3 p.m., when they meet the Washington Huskies in the second of their scheduled two game series on the Vandal campus.

Vandal hurler Steve Hinckley rudely set the defending Northern Division champions on their ear, 2-1, yesterday, scattering five hits and giving up only an opening inning run.

His teammates hopped on Husky starter Ken Jacobson for five hits and first and third inning runs. The Huskies helped Hinckley, committing four errors in the eight times they took to the field.

The win left Idaho firmly in first place in the Northern Division, sporting a 1-0 ND record and a 15-2 season's mark. OSC, Oregon, WSU and Washington have all lost at least one game.

Outfielder Al Holmes, the first man Hinckley faced, gave the veteran righthand Vandal hurler a welcoming single to right field, later advancing to home after stealing second and then third.

George Grant, Washington shortstop, followed Holmes to the plate and picked up a base on balls, causing Idaho coach Wayne Anderson to send reliever Tony Burke to the warm-up pen.

Burke need never have reached for his glove as Hinckley worked his way out of the inning with only Holmes reaching home plate.

Idaho promptly pounced on two-year letterman Jacobson for the tying run with second baseman Dick Mooney reaching first on an error, then working his way home on two singles by Ralph Hatch and Bill Johnson. Hatch was thrown out on his way to the plate later in the inning.

Hinckley breezed through the second inning, backed by some stout infield work and the Vandals went hitless in their half of the second.

In the third stanza, Hinckley kept the Huskies hitless, while the Vandals capitalized on a Washington error in the bottom of the third, and a solid single by Bob Vervaeke to send third baseman Glenn Porter home with the winning run.

The rest of the game was largely a defensive battle, with Hinckley seeming to grow stronger as the game progressed.

The fourth inning was highlighted by a beautiful double play by the Vandals. Hinckley threw to shortstop Johnson to catch one Husky at second and Johnson pegged to first baseman Fern Pasold to catch the Washington batter short of first base.

Washington coach Dale Parker finally sent in reliever Ernie Wheeler for Jacobson in the eighth inning, and he set the Vandals down in order, but the damage had already been done.

Hinckley calmly made Husky batters Pete Hanson and Phil Swinley hit grounders to third baseman Porter and ended the day striking out Don Daniels to preserve his win.

Tennis Squad Eyes Matches
 Idaho's tennis team, still after a win following losses to Gonzaga and Eastern Washington, leaves Thursday for rugged tests against Oregon and Oregon State.

The Vandals will meet the Oregon Ducks at Eugene Friday and face Oregon State at Corvallis Saturday.

Coach Frank Young said the Oregon schools would be by far the toughest teams the Vandals have met so far and may be the roughest opposition of the season. He expects them to play each other for the Northern Division championship.

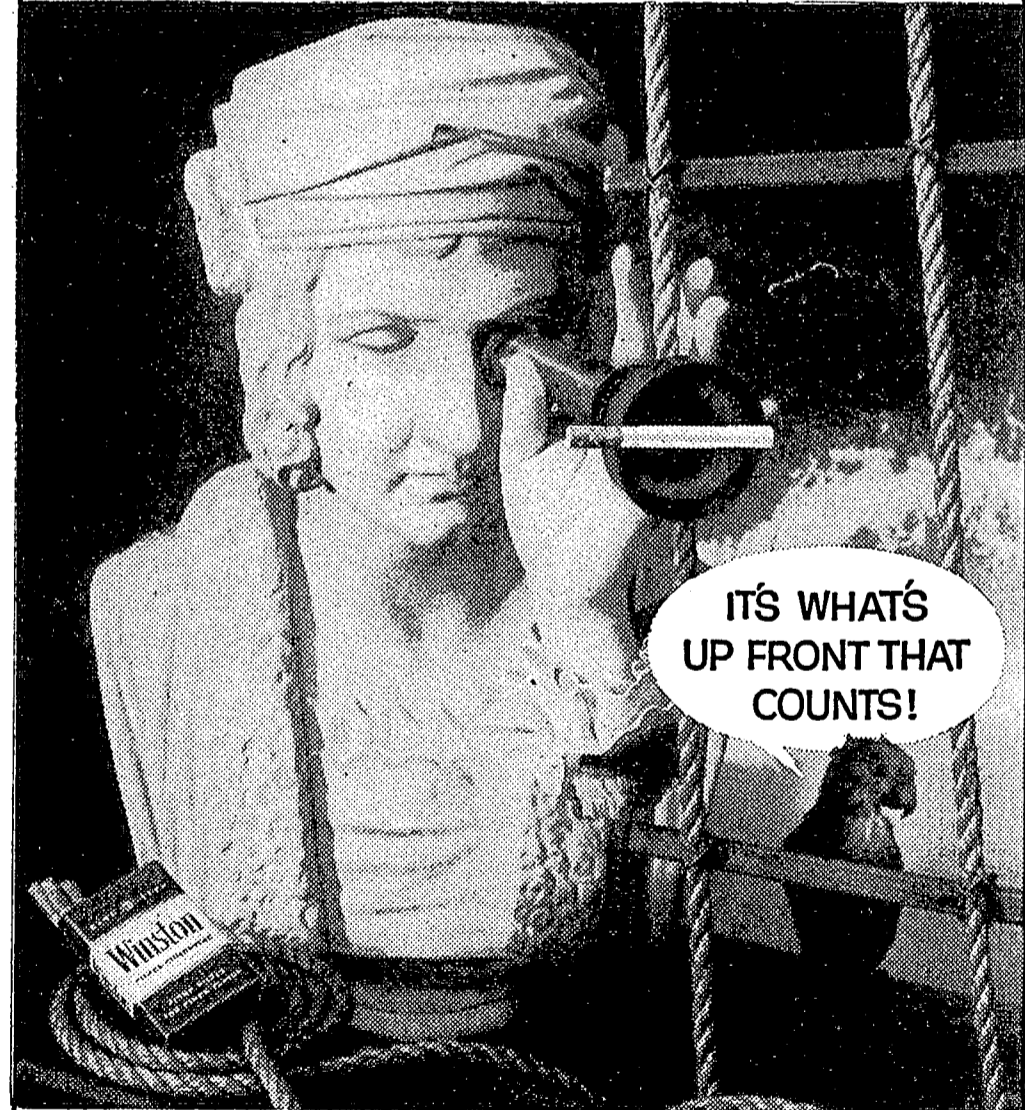

Idaho lost all seven matches to EWCE at Cheney Saturday. Young said the Vandal net team had been a "little slow in coming around" but he was hopeful they would get in the win column this weekend.

Winston! It is the only cigarette with a modern filter plus Filter-Blend—rich, golden tobaccos not only specially selected, but also specially processed for filter smoking. Crew now thinks this is a pleasure cruise.
