Simple, Uncluttered Plot--Biblical Tone Give 'Cradle Song' International Note

By SKIP JONES
Argonaut Drama Critic
"The Cradle Song," the next ASUI dramatic presentation, is a play with an international reputation. It was first presented in the Teatro Lara, Madrid, in 1911. From its first performance it has been considered by critics as a "rare inspiration of the theater."
It has been translated into all of the major languages and each time it has met with the same affectionate response. Its longest run was in the Theatre des Champs Elysees in Paris where it was presented for a total of three hundred performances.
The language used in the play is very simple, almost Biblical in tone. By using this type of presentation, the author is able to capture the feeling of the convent in which the story is set.

The plot, which is very simple and uncluttered, concerns a closed convent of Dominican nuns and how their lives are affected by a founding child. A baby girl is left at the convent and the nuns take upon themselves the rearing of the child.
Mother Love Is Shown
The story illustrates the presence of mother love in all women, regardless of their social position and circumstances. These nuns experience the joys, problems, and pleasure involved in bringing up a child, an experience which they would normally have never known. This presents a problem in that it obviously interrupts the regulated order of the monotonous monastic life.

The baby awakens feelings and emotions that have lain dormant in these nuns. In effect each of these sisters becomes a mother to the child and is able to find expressions for this universal mother's love.
A Timeless Story
Although the play was first presented in 1911, it is essentially a timeless story. It is still as fresh and new as it was when first presented.
The plot is realistic in its presentation of convent life. The audience is soon well acquainted with the ways of the nuns and this ceases to be a novelty; therefore the interest must be held by the actors alone. Since the audience does become familiar with the simple routine of the sisters and with the form and function of the set, the emotional aspects of the play are free to stand alone.
The cast for this production is: Sister Joanna — Nancy Davis, Pi Phi; Teresa — Judy Kempton, Gamma Phi; Prioress — Val Hoff, Alpha Phi; Vicarress — Sally Wilbanks, Pi Phi; Mistress of Novices, Susan Arms, Pi Phi; Sister Marcela — Ann Rosendahl, Kappa.
Sister Maria Jesus — Jo O'Donnell, DG; Sister Sargrario — Judith Aldape, Alpha Phi; Sister Inez — Anita Stits, Ethel Steel; Sister Tornera — Linda Ensign, Kappa; the Doctor — Darwin Afdahl, Lambda Chi; Antonio — John Rowe, Delt; and the Poet — Gary Whitmore, Shoup.
The play is directed by Mr. Edmund Chavez, of the Dramatics Department.
Curtain time is 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. Admission is 75 cents or an ASUI activities card.

Spring Blood Drive Plans Begin; Committee Members Selected

By GLEN BURMEISTER
Argonaut Staff Writer
The 1961 Spring Blood Drive got underway this week with the selection of committee members according to the Board of Selection and Controls.
Idaho, dubbed "Bloodiest Campus in the Nation" for leading percentage-wide all colleges in donating blood during the war years, has today the largest single quota in the state, and is greatly depended upon for an enormous amount of blood.
The blood drive is based on a competitive attitude with all living groups participating with one another. Quotas are based on 45 per cent of residents in mens' living groups and 41 per cent of each womens' house.
Percentages for the trophy contest are determined by dividing the house quota into the number of pints of blood over the quota of the living group.
General chairman of the 1961 Blood Drive is Blanche Blecha, Alpha Phi. Assisting her is Isabel Woods, Alpha Gam, as assistant chairman; Paul Juarequi, Delta Sig, facilities chairman; Mary Ann Dalton, DG, personnel chairman.
Military chairman, Jim Judd, Delta Sig; Vivian Dickamore, Gamma Phi, and Gary Carlson, publicity co-chairmen; scheduling chairman is Ruth DeKay, Tri Delt; and Ginger Cottier, Pi Phi, is competition chairman. Judy Kindstrom, Alpha Gam, is secretary of the campaign.

The three-day tournament in debate, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu speaking, oratory, oral interpretation was attended by representatives from 58 schools in 11 western states.
Linda Kinney and Karen Smith reached the semi-finals in the Junior Women debate division out of a field of 54 teams. They were eliminated in the semi-finals by Redlands University.
Dr. A. E. Whitehead served as a judge in the tournament and also represented Idaho in the legislative assembly of the association.

Lounge To Have Colored TV Set?

A colored television may be in the offing for the Student Union Building. At the last SUB Program Council meeting November 22, Sylvia Wyatt suggested that a colored TV be purchased to replace the black and white set now in use in the SUB lounge. A committee is now looking into the possibilities of a new TV.
Members of the Program Council unanimously passed a motion that a series of paintings for exhibition purposes be purchased from the Metropolitan Museum of Art. This series consists of twelve portfolios and 144 prints.

Arg Given Top Awards At Meeting

By NEIL LEITNER
Argonaut Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (Direct phone)
The Idaho Argonaut picked up three top national newspaper awards today during judging at the Sigma Delta Chi convention here in New York, the first time since the award program was begun that an Idaho student newspaper has picked up any awards at the annual convention.
With some 67 student newspapers entered in the competition, the Argonaut took first place in editorial writing, second place in feature story writing and third place in sports writing.

The awards were presented by Maynard Hicks, Professor of Journalism at Washington State University and National Vice President in charge of under graduate chapters of Sigma Delta Chi.
All selections were based on last year's Argonaut headed by Dwight Chapin, now of Columbia Graduate School of Journalism, and Jim Flanigan, now working for the United Press International.
The story samples, upon which the awards are based, were submitted by last year's SDX president, Bruce Wendle, who attended the convention and is now representing the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Co. at Wilmington, Delaware.

Four divisions of newspaper awards were given, and each division had three places. Categories included editorial, feature stories, and straight news writing. Straight news writing was the only category in which the Argonaut did not score.
First place in feature story writing was taken by Brigham Young University; the Daily Collegian of Kansas State won first prize in sports writing and the Kentucky Kernal, University of Kentucky won straight news writing.

Students Talk Of Becoming More Informed

Leaders of various student organizations met Nov. 30 to discuss methods of giving the general student body opportunities to become better informed about world affairs and other subjects of importance to the educated man.
Acting chairman of the meeting was Bob Scott, Delta Sig, who is president of the National World Affairs Club. Other student leaders present were: John Kerr, off campus, president of the Cosmopolitan Club; Liz Hofmann, off campus, secretary of the National World Affairs Club; Harold Schillreff, Gault, chairman of the Campus Committee of the United Nations; Bob Moe, representative for the National World Affairs Club; Morris Erickson, Delta Sig, chairman of the SUB committee for coffee hours; and Dick Stiles, Delta Sig, Student Director of the SUB.
These students are all leaders of organizations which are trying to stimulate student interest in national affairs, and broaden the average student's range of information about these affairs, stated Bob Scott.

The meeting was held to discuss ways in which their efforts may be coordinated and overlapping areas be eliminated. Scott said that all the groups decided to lend support to one another as they all had a common interest.
In his introductory speech Scott emphasized this, saying, "It is to be acknowledged that each group attending this meeting has a specific area of interest and a purpose for which it is designed and with which it is best able to accomplish."
"But I believe we all have one basic interest or goal in common; that is a student body which is more informed as to conditions, situations, and problems in the world today. Our goal is a more enlightened citizenry better prepared to contribute to a more peaceful and prosperous world."

Leader Of Panel Has Qualifications

Mae King, panel discussion leader for the joint-CCC group meeting Sunday, is vice-president of the National Student Christian Federation and past-president of national student YWCA. See story, church news.

The coeds, nominated by the women's living groups are Eleanor Unzicker, Alpha Phi; Linda Ensign, Kappa; Rosi Curteman, DG; Pixy Woolverton, Theta; Judy Kempton, Gamma Phi, and Jean McCleod, French.

The theme of the style show, "Silver Belles," will feature holiday color schemes.
Will Appear Twice
Each of the Holly Queen candidates will appear twice and model school clothes, wool dresses, or cocktail and formal dresses. Diane Fawson, Kappa, and Judy Aldape, Alpha Phi, will narrate.
Five queen finalists will be selected during a preliminary vote by sophomore men Wednesday at dinner. The final vote will be taken Friday noon, and the queen will be announced at the Holly Dance Friday night.
Can Vote in SUB
Sophomore men residing off campus will be able to vote at the Student Union, according to Keith Huetting, Delta Sig, and Miss Curteman.
A special attraction at the fashion show will be the presentation of eight "outstanding sophomores." The winners, named for their academic excellence and leadership qualities, will each receive a certificate.
Named by Deans
Recipients of the "outstanding sophomore" awards will be selected by the academic deans of each college. Two will be named from the College of Letters and Science, and one from each of the other colleges.
The awards were initiated this year so sophomores can recognize those who excel in their class, according to award committee chairman, Bill Boves, SAE, and Judy Stickney, Forney.
Working with Boves and Miss Stickney on the special awards are Kathy Thompson, Alpha Chi; John Myers, Delt; James Metcalf, Delta Sig; Skip French, Phi Delt; George Heashi, Lindley, and Larry Ferguson, Teke.

There will be a Town Men's Association meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the SUB Conference room D.

Productivity: Its Affects On America

How America's domestic future is affected by the perils and prospects of abundance through the rise of productivity will be discussed by writer-historian Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., Dec. 8 at an 11 a.m. University public events program in the Memorial gymnasium.

Schlesinger became associate professor of history at Harvard in 1947 and since 1950 he has been full professor. He has contributed numerous articles to Life, Fortune, Atlantic Monthly, Harper's, Saturday Evening Post and other leading periodicals.

Graduating summa cum laude from Harvard in 1938, Schlesinger had his honors essay published the following year under the title of "Orestes A. Brownson: A Pilgrim's Progress." It received high critical appraisal and was selected by a book club.

During World War II, he served in the Office of War Information in Washington and in the Office of Strategic Services in London, Paris, and Germany.
In the meantime, Schlesinger completed work on "The Age of Jackson," a book he had worked on before the war as a Henry Fellow at Cambridge University, England.

Plans Re-Hash Set By Board For Tomorrow

Idaho's student Executive Board may not be too clear on just what they've accomplished so far, but by noon tomorrow they should have a pretty fair idea.
Beginning at 8:30 in the morning, Exec board members will meet and hash over accomplishments, failures and future plans with regard to official business, with special attention given to the "areas of concern" assigned to each member upon the inception of this year's board.
On one relatively un-heralded front the board may have taken a major step forward however. Jim Mullen, board member, stated that Idaho students may have a student court "before Christmas." The student judicial group, if authorized, would give students a big say in judicial decisions.
Meanwhile, a major problem of SRA, expected since its beginning, appeared. Attendance, absolutely necessary for the successful operation of any such group, fell off last week, with some 17 absentees. Reportedly, a special committee has been organized within SRA to attempt to remedy the situation.
Red Taylor, usually full of surprises, held the big suggestion until last, waiting until near the end of the meeting to suggest immediate consideration of a skating rink for "the campus."

According to Taylor, who at first proposed that the field house be converted into a rink, one of the tennis courts, with some adaption, would fit the requirements of a serviceable ice-skating center well. No action was taken on the suggestion, although ASUI president Bruce McCowan pointed out that the matter could become a class project.

Working with Boves and Miss Stickney on the special awards are Kathy Thompson, Alpha Chi; John Myers, Delt; James Metcalf, Delta Sig; Skip French, Phi Delt; George Heashi, Lindley, and Larry Ferguson, Teke.

Paintings Of American, French Artists Set For SUB Exhibit

By JIM METCALF
Argonaut Staff Writer
Paintings by both American and French artists on exhibit in the SUB this coming week will carry out the Christmas theme as winners of the First International Hallmark Art Award competition.
Twenty paintings are included in the display that has been shown in museums, art galleries, and universities in 23 different states. The paintings have been selected from over 10,000 entries by American and French artists.
The artists have received a total of $23,000 for their work. Of special interest are paintings by Fred Conway and Edouard Guoerg, the winners of the two divisions. They shared the grand international prize of $3,500.
Established in 1949
The Hallmark art awards were established in 1949 to broaden public appreciation of fine art and to bring contemporary recognition to modern artists. Thousands of artists have participated in the competition.
In 1952 over 4,000 artists from 35 countries entered the second contest. The third and fourth contests in 1955 and 1957 featured work by artists who had been commissioned in an effort to achieve a more varied and balanced collection of art.
Question of the Future
Hallmark Cards is sponsoring a fifth contest this year in observance of its Golden Anniversary. Twenty American and European artists were commissioned to do paintings with the theme of "The Question of the Future."
No Jazz Session Set For Weekend
There will be no Jazz in the Bucket this weekend, according to Dave Pugh, chairman. The next session on Dec. 10 will feature Mike Durkey and the Four, a group from WSU.
The co-chairman of the SUB classical music committee reported that the Christmas program, originally slated for Dec. 4 in the Bucket, will be postponed until Dec. 14.

Top Yule Program Tonight

SOUND EVOKES RESPONSE — Dorce Baldrige, Alpha Phi, and Arlene Wright, Kappa, set the mood for the Orchestis-Pre-Orchestis Christmas performance tonight in the Women's Gym, interpreting and responding to sound. (Walt Johnson photo)

Idaho's traditional Orchestis and Pre-Orchestis Christmas program will be on tap at 8 p.m. tonight in the Women's Gym, the first evidence of the coming Yule season on the Vandal campus.
Idaho's Christmas season, complete with carols, a special Vandaleer Christmas program, and the Orchestis and Pre-Orchestis presentation, is one of the traditions that have brought alumni back to the University year after year. While the carols and Vandaleers concentrate on Christmas through sound, the Orch and Pre-Orch program gives Idaho students a chance to see, as well as hear, Christmas on the campus.
The free-admission affair, featuring "Sounds of Winter Wonderland," will be presented by the 51 members of the top dancing honoraries, highlighting sights and sounds of the Christmas season, with dancers changing visual and vocal Christmas activities into action in their dances.
The two honoraries, who meet twice a week during the school year preparing for the Yule event and another special Spring program, are made up of special personnel, selected on the basis of ability and dancing ability.
The hour-long program is set to a background of Christmas music.

French, Forney Halls Make Plans For Christmas Dances

By MARSHA BUKER
Argonaut House Editor

Dances lead the social calendar in the coming two weekends before Christmas vacation. Exchanges, serenades and firesides are also vying for top place.

DELTA CHIS are anxiously awaiting their annual Pirates' Dance which is scheduled for the third of December. The bloody crew spread the ultimatum to dates last night. Willard Huff was guest of the Delta Chis for the Thanksgiving weekend.

Plans for the FRENCH HOUSE "Winter Heaven" dance to be held Friday are progressing rapidly. Carmone Wittenman is in Chicago for the Four-H National Congress and Marion Clark is in Boise for the State Convention of the Idaho Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Once again sewers are being built to add to the atmosphere of the TEKE "Le danse d' Apache" on Saturday. Officers for the new term are: John Fleming, president; Bob Ames, vice president; Phil Olson, secretary; Roger Johnson, historian; Jack Fuller, chaplain; and John Desmond, sergeant-at-arms.

One of the big events for the KAPPA SIG house this week was the pledging of Al Morino from La Puente, California; John Fink, Ephrata, Washington; Jim Spinelle, Dearborn, Michigan; and Dick Terry, Boise. The date for the House Party was changed to December 10. The Smokejumper camp at McCall was invited to add to the spirit of this holiday occasion.

Preparations for the annual Christmas dance of FORNEY HALL are now being made. The formal dance will be held in the hall on Dec. 10. Exchanges with Chrisman and the Tekes are scheduled.

Despite the number of PHI DELTS who went home for Thanksgiving, the house was quite active during the holiday. Wednesday night the pledges exchanged with HOPE, PIZZA King, Dick Clery, served his always great pizza to the Phis and their dates at a fireside last week. Future plans include the annual Christmas exchange with the DGs and the Christmas dance which will be held in the Chapter house on December 10.

UPHAM HALL will hold their dance December 10. Miss Jessie Kincluloe, Lindfield College, was a guest for Thanksgiving.

The Bowery, the Bowery... This Friday night scenes of New York's Bowery during the roaring Twenties will be portrayed at the SAEs annual Bowery Dance. Six gorgeous can-can girls will entertain during the intermission as a climax to the dance. The SAE quartet serenades all the women's living groups last night to announce the event. Jim Sheels was formally pledged last week. Dinner guests for Thanksgiving included: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Cross and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Yost. Keith Riffle was elected assistant house manager in a recent election. Other officers elected were: Bill Boves, I.F.C. representative; Jamie Moffit, SRA rep-representative; and Terry Marshall and Gene Frederickson as co-chairman of the Little Sisters of Minerva. Mrs. Coleman's annual Christmas tea will be held in the chapter house this Sunday. A guest at dinner Wednesday was Dearth Hurlbert, Shoup.

The Outstanding Men's living group trophy was presented to WILLIS SWEET, president of WILLIS SWEET, by Lynn Hossner, president of the Residence Hall Council, at a formal banquet last Wednesday. The evening's guests were Dr. and Mrs. Donald Theophilus, Dean and Mrs. Allen Janssen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and the presidents of the independent living groups. Willis Sweet is the first hall to win the Men's Trophy.

ALPHA PHIS recently earned two honors from National, the Gold Certificate for outstanding scholarship and the Silver Certificate for making the most scholastic achievement. The pledge dance "Sophisticated Swing" was held November 19. Exchanges were held this week with Town Men, Sigma Chi and the City Firemen, the latter due to two electric wires cut into by the recent wind storm. Guests for dinner include Sharon Nonini, French; Dick Rene Delt and Chris Hauf, Alpha Phi, WSU.

Beta's serenaded the ALPHA CHIS on Wednesday evening to bring in the yule season. Marlys Hughes was chosen Carnation girl of the month for her outstanding activities. The sophomores are planning to decorate for the Christmas season on Saturday.

Thanksgiving dinner guests at the PI PHI house were: Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Harrison and Rod; Chuck Rienke, Ben Haynes, Gary Manville, Dale James, Gary Michael, Karla Seivert, Ardell Shockley, Duane Allred, Steve Deal, and Cliff Lawrence. That evening a fireside was held to thank Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Daniels for preparing Thanksgiving dinner. They were both presented with a box of candy. The pledges removed themselves from the house for a few hours on the annual sneak and returned to the annual "mess." Pi Phi's celebrated the coming

It is election time for the CHRISMAN HALL officers. It was not uncommon in Chrisman's past for it practically to put a man in a half-nelson just to get him to run for office. But today's Chrisman is quite different. They have an unofficial two-party system. Politicking is going on at a furious pace, and the old seniors are watching in amazement. Wednesday night the Kappa pledges put on a serenade for two missing benches of theirs which turned up at Chrisman.

A new pledge at the DELTA SIG house is Ed Connors from West Townsend, Vermont. Guest for the past week was Bill Colegrove, representative from the national office of Delta Sigma Phi. Faculty guest last week was Dr. Max E. Fletcher, of the economics department. He spoke on possible economic changes which may be wrought by the new administration. This week Dr. Floyd Tolleson spoke to the Delta Sigs on the methods and techniques used by one of the modern poets. Guests at last Wednesday's dinner were Miss Charmaine Tourville, and Dream Girl Marge Marshall. Miss Tourville held an after-dinner discussion on student union work, and plans for the new union here at Idaho. Guests for Thanksgiving dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Dick Turner, Mr. and

SUB Committee Sponsors Dance

Anyone for dancing? Free too. Tonight after the play in the North Ballroom and in the Dipper there will be a dance sponsored by the SUB Dance Committee. The music will be by records.

More dances of this type are going to be held following home basketball games, according to Bob Brown, Beta, SUB Program Council Chairman.

Sox Up, Boss!

Rolled up sweatsox are becoming the rage with a number of Idaho coeds. It seems several eastern Thetas, Tinder Moeller, Sherry McGuire, and Nancy Hancock, refused to follow local customs. Braving sarcastic male comments, ("Eastern bobby-soxers," "Basketball coach," "Don't they itch?") muffled giggles, and astonished stares, they wore them to class.

Out of curiosity, local gals have tried wearing them — and to their surprise, like them.

Mrs. Bud Ashworth, Mr. and Mrs. John Laut, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heseaman, and their daughter Ingrid, and Mr. and Mrs. Glade Oberhansli. Guests at Sunday dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Walt Garman, and alum Bill Exworthy.

LINDLEY HALL extends the seasons greetings of "Merry Xmas" to everyone with their Christmas sign which was hoisted last Wednesday. Dinner guests Wednesday evening were the girls from the Home Management House.

Eisenschiml Talks To ACS Group On Chemist History

Dr. Otto Eisenschiml, noted scientist and historian, gave a talk on "A Chemist's Adventures in History" recently in Fulmer Hall at WSU. All faculty, students, and families were invited to attend the meeting sponsored by the Washington-Idaho Border Section of the American Chemical Society.

Born in 1880 in Vienna of American parents, Dr. Eisenschiml graduated from the Vienna Polytechnical Institute, and came to America in 1901. In 1914 he was chairman of the Chicago Section of the American Chemical Society, founded and edited the Chicago Chemical Bulletin (the first chemical newspaper in the United States), was president of the Chicago Chemists Club in 1922.

He received the honor scroll of the Chicago Chapter of the American Institute of Chemistry in 1949. In 1935 he was awarded the degree of Honorary Doctor of Literature from the Lincoln Memorial University of Harrogate, Tennessee.

Dr. Eisenschiml has an extremely varied background, and, in addition to being chairman of the Board of the Scientific Oil Compounding Company, he is widely known for other accomplishments. He has found time to write numerous books, among them, "In the Shadow of Lincoln's Death," "Without Fame," "Chicago Murders," "The Story of Shiloh," and many others of general interest.

His first press-reported speech was delivered in 1903. Since then he has been in demand as a speaker in every state of the union.

Student Group Has Two-Fold Future Plans

Future plans of Students For a Better University are two-fold, Neal Newhouse, Beta, spokesman for the organization, said yesterday.

"First," he said, "we hope that active student leaders will be able to contact the Legislators in behalf of the ASUI this Christmas vacation."

"Second, we are planning to contact the appropriations committee after the Legislature meets so that they will be well aware of University needs."

Newhouse also expressed thanks to all the students helping and supporting Students For a Better University during the recent election.

"Even though our efforts on the part of SJB were not successful," he commented, "we can feel that we acquainted more people in the state with University problems. This we hope will reap future benefits."

3 Dieticians Give Reports Of Convention

Delegates returning recently from the Tri-State Dietetic Convention report they met several Idaho graduates at the Portland, Ore., meeting.

Miss Margaret Ritchie, professor of home economics; Miss Shirley A. Newcomb, assistant professor of home economics; and Miss Bernice Morin, University dietician, said they saw 14 "successful Idaho home economics graduates, all holding very good positions."

The delegates heard top speakers in the fields of space feeding, personnel management, diet therapy, and food misinformation at the Nov. 18-19 convention of the states of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. While there, Miss Ritchie conducted a discussion group session on diet therapy.

Among officers elected to the Idaho Dietetic Association were Miss Newcomb, president, and Miss Morin, treasurer.

Sharp Frosh Made Knights

Ball and Chain Chapter of Intercollegiate Knights initiated 58 pages into knighthood Nov. 21 with a formal ceremony which had been preceded that afternoon by a parade around campus by the pages.

These men were selected last spring as the outstanding men of the freshmen class according to their scholastic achievement and their extra-curricular activities. Their active status will end this spring when a new page class is selected.

One buxom beauty to another, looking at a rival, "All a sweater does to her is make her itch."

Working Way Through Is Rule Today Not Exception

The student that worked his way through school was often the exception, but today he is the rule.

Two-thirds of the students at Idaho are employed at some time during their college career to help pay for their education, according to Charles F. Hudson, administrative assistant of student services.

Students find many part-time jobs through the office run by Hudson as one of his duties. It serves as a clearing house. Students who need the money a few hours work will bring and the employer each call on Hudson who gets them together.

Shoes Play Part
Jobs are not always easy to find, but the student who really wants work can usually find it. Good shoe leather and the initiative to use it seems to play an essential part.

"When we do not have jobs available many students start walking at one end of town and call at every business firm until they either turn up a position or find themselves at the other end. Then they turn around and go the other way," said Hudson.

Students are employed either full-time or part-time by about 130 business firms in Moscow, such as department stores, service stations, hotels, restaurant, and the hospital.

Of the 4000 plus students enrolled at the University, about 2600 will receive W-2 forms at the end of the year from the payroll office of the University.

Some can be seen working at the University barns at 3 a.m. milking cows, at the poultry farm, on the University farm driving tractor, or planting trees for the College of Forestry.

Snow Control By Telemeter

Professor Lynn Beattie, department of electrical engineering, will demonstrate Telemeter remote control snow measuring methods at the Kirtley Lab No. 2 openhouse Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Other displays at the openhouse will include some from downtown merchants, and many from the work of students and instructors. The Beattie demonstration will utilize a transmitter-receiver apparatus in the lab and two towers on Moscow Mountain, where the snow is measured.

Vaughn Estrick, Delt, publicity chairman for the event, said the other displays will be color-television, stereophonic music, communications, computers, radar, power equipment, and — of interest to women — electronic cooking. Everyone is invited to come and see, he said.

Tonight, from 7-12 p.m., the AIEE-IRE lab party will be held. Electrical engineering students are urged to attend to get a preview of the openhouse displays. Refreshments will be served.

ON THE PULLMAN ROAD

Idaho Swimmers Set For Far West Relays

LARRY ROBY
Argonaut Sports Writer

Idaho swimmers will get their first taste of real competition Saturday when they journey to Pullman to take part in the Far West Relay meet.

The swim-fest, which starts at 1:30 p.m. in Bohler Gymnasium on the Cougar campus, will have participants from Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State and Idaho.

The ineligibility of Tucker Cole limits the Vandal strength to only eight men. The high calibre of the competition might be too much for the out-manned Idaho crew.

Those making the jaunt across the state line include: Al Hansen, Jerry Zaph, Cliff Lawrence, Dave Polage, Dale Dennis, Chris Nyby, Paul Breithaupt and Bill Stancer.

With great depth and speed the Huskies from Seattle are considered definite favorites. They easily took the honors last year.

Idaho entrants in the relay events;

400 free-style relay — Dennis, Zaph, Nyby and Hansen; 400 backstroke relay — Breithaupt, Stancer, Polage and Lawrence; 800 free-style relay — Zaph, Hansen, Polage and Lawrence; 200 medley relay — Dennis, Nyby, Breithaupt and Stancer; 200 free-style relay — Dennis, Zaph, Nyby and Breithaupt; and 400 medley relay — Hansen, Stancer, Polage and Lawrence.

Vandal Ski Season Is Getting Started

The 1960-61 Vandal skiing season is underway. Coach Boris Kaufman is in the process of gathering equipment, clearing eligibility, and handling other matters as practice has not yet begun.

Some of the skiers that Kaufman expects to have out, include Halvard Groswood, an All-American last year; Truls Astrup, Larry Schaaf, Howard Garish, Charlie Rank, Pete Groom, and Arnstein Friling.

Coach Kaufman hopes to have five meets scheduled during the season, and three are already tentatively scheduled. These meets are at Rossland, Banff, and Kimberly. In addition, Kaufman plans to enter the Vandals in a regional meet at Reno, where Idaho will compete against other teams in the Rocky Mountain Association.

The Vandals probably will not attend the NCAA Championships, since they will be held in the East this year.

The Vandals strongest showing in the 10-event meet is expected to be in the 200 medley relay and the 200 free-style relay.

Both Washington and Washington State have top notch swimmers on their teams. Some who will be swimming Saturday have competed in the NCAA Swimming Championships last year.

Back from last year's swimming team are Breithaupt and Hansen, who both placed third in the relays in the back stroke division. The finsters placed third also in the 400 medley relay last year in this meet.

Eight Entered

Idaho will be entering only eight of the ten scheduled events. They will not be able to enter either of the diving contests since two divers from each school are necessary for competition. Cliff Lawrence, Idaho's only diver, will be needed in the other relay events to bolster the Vandal chances.

LONE DIVER — Vandal finman Cliff Lawrence unfolds from a back-jack-knife and looks downward for a wet landing spot. Lawrence will not compete in diving tomorrow when the Vandals travel to the Far West Relays at Pullman. Idaho does not have a sufficient number of divers to enter a diving team. This meet, the first of the season, is to give regionals teams a chance to compare notes, and will not be scored as an official contest. Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State, and Idaho will be represented. (Schmidt photo)

The managers of the indoor track meet, scheduled for Jan. 14 in the new 9500 seat Portland Memorial Coliseum, have extended an invitation to a number of Idaho athletes to compete in that meet. This meet will be one of the topics of discussion at the meeting.

Former Idaho Volleyball Is Still The King; Forfeits Mar League Play

NEW YORK — Colleges and universities across the country have studied their senior football players of the year 1935, and 67 of them put forward candidates they deem worthy of honor on the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-America roster this year.

Prominent among the candidates, who number among them a senator and three judges, as well as some famous coaches, is Judge Theron Ward of Jerome. Judge Ward was nominated by the University of Idaho.

Nominees' names, with the citations by the universities, have been submitted to the board of judges which will pick 25 for the award in December.

Judge Ward played football three years as a member of Idaho's team. In his final year, 1937, as an end he was invited and played in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco. He was captain of the 1935 squad.

He is married and has a son, Terry, now at the University of Idaho.

Idaho Hoopsters Meet First Basketball Invasion Tomorrow

Frosh 'Anxious' To Battle Yakima In Preliminary

The Idaho yearling basketball team takes to the maple court Saturday evening in their first tilt of the 1960-61 season against the Yakima Junior College quintet.

The game will get underway at 5:50 p.m. in Memorial Gym, and will be a preliminary contest to the varsity game.

"We're anxious and ready to play our first ball game," frosh coach Wayne Anderson said. He believed that the frosh "would do quite well" against their first opponent.

Idaho has been victorious over the JC's from Yakima in their three previous meetings in 1956-57-58.

Last year the Vandal Bubes won only four of their 14 games.

The team from Yakima ranked fourth in the Washington Junior College league (northern division) by compiling a 4-9 season record. Columbia Basin Junior College, Everett Junior College, and Wenatchee Junior College comprise this league.

Coach Anderson suggested that the team would "give the fast-break a whirl." A tone of pessimism was noted in his comment, however, and he concluded by saying that it would not be used extensively.

"We will also be using a pressing game effect when needed," Anderson stated.

Line-Up

No general starting line-up has been designated, and a "little bit of actual game play" will be needed before any definite positions are filled. The players are still all in top contention for starters. Anderson plans to start the game Saturday with John Penney at center. Jim Scheels is in the infirmary with a bad ankle and it is not known if he will see action in one of the forward starting spots. The other forward opening will probably be filled by Tom Whitfield. Another possible forward is Terry Gustavel.

The guard spots are wide open for starters. The big battle now seems to be among Fred Crowell, Joe Pettit, Tom Ballantyne and Bill Mattis for this position.

Choice of team captain or co-captains has not been made. In past years game captains have been chosen prior to each game. This gives the boy chosen a chance to show his ability to make pressing decisions. It is believed that this rule will be followed again this year.

GREATEST GAME

Dec. 28, 1958 . . . Baltimore's Colts beat the New York Giants, 23-17, for the world pro football title in an epic, sudden-death overtime playoff game before 64,185 fans in Yankee stadium, N.Y. City. It was called the greatest football game ever played.

WHITE!

Silver and Gold for Victory — White for Fight . . . so let's wear it. Washington State Cougars here Dec. 9, Memorial Gym; Vandals in White for Vandal's victory. Silver, Gold and White, Dec. 9, Idaho Maple court — Quint.

PASS, PASS, SHOOT — Vandal hoopster Tom Gwilliam, left, passes to Jeff Wombolt, center, who in turn passes to Rich Porter who shoots, as Idaho prepares to defend Vandal Land against the Montana Grizzlies tomorrow night. The Vandals played Portland University in Portland last night.

Huskies Better; Oregon Plays Pilots Tonight

Preseason predictions for the basketball season point toward a very strong group of teams on the West Coast. Washington, with its first contest this evening with Brigham Young, appears as a strong contender for being the top team on the coast this season with three juniors returning to the line-up. Last season the Huskies finished with a 15-13 record and should do much better this year.

Another strong coast team is the University of Oregon. The Ducks, who take on Portland University tonight, will be headed up by junior Glen Moore, a former Oregon high school great. Moore, 6-7", the dark horse of the Northwest looks like Seattle University. The Chieftains have one returning starter, senior Dave Mills, one of the best players on the coast. With a great deal of strength in its reserves, Seattle may have some surprises in store.

Bowlers 'Improve' Manager Says

The SUB bowling team is improving at a rapid rate according to manager Dick Rene. The bowlers as a team are averaging close to 185 pins per game and can be expected to make some gradual improvement, Rene said. To date the team is undefeated. The team is working toward the regional tournament which will be held next spring.

Tall, Tough Pilots Tip Vandals In Opener; Grizzlies Next Foe For Cipriano's Squad

Idaho fell 50-53 to the Portland Pilots after leading for three-quarters of the ball game last night in Portland to open their 1960-61 basketball season. The Vandals play Montana State University here tomorrow at 8 p.m. in their first home game.

Idaho held a one point lead with 2:51 left to play when Pilot junior guard Frank Bosone drove around the Vandal defenders, and scored to give Portland a one point lead.

A Vandal missed shot and a Pilot rebound and Mike Doherty netted two on the fast break, one on a free throw, and Portland led by four, never to be overtaken by the Idaho quintet.

The first half started in a flurry of shooting by both sides. In the end both teams finished with the same number of shots taken and identical percentage figures. Each team had hit 19 of 66 shots attempted for a .339 percentage.

Idaho gained a 7-6 lead in the opening minutes and remained in front until late in the final half. At one time in the first half the Vandals led by 11 points, their largest margin.

The Vandals held a 27-23 lead at half time.

Gary Floan opened the scoring in the second half to give Idaho a six point lead, but he Pilots came back and the Idaho margin dwindled slowly.

Pilot Art Easterly narrowed the margin to four with a tip-in. Then Bosone followed quickly on the fast break to tie the score. There was 8:18 left to play.

Vandal center Ken Maren scored a jumper from the key, however, to give the lead back to Idaho.

Idaho co-captain Rollie Williams followed with a scoring drive and now Idaho led by four.

Maren then proceeded to draw his fifth personal foul which the Pilot shooter made good. The score — Idaho 44 and PU 41.

Vandals huck White and Floan both scored from the charity line to up the Idaho score to 47 while Portland added one basket to their column.

JOE CIPRIANO Idaho Coach

Then Pilot Jim Altenhofen scored a basket and free throw and Portland was within one point of Idaho. The Pilots then went ahead on Bosone's play.

With 1:47 left to play and Portland leading by four, Reg Arolan, 6-6, who had come in at center when Maren fouled out, nearly brought Idaho back into the ball game.

Carolyn Helps

The lanky Vandal red-head pumped the ball through the basket drawing a foul in the process. Carolyn also made the charity toss good and the Vandals were behind 50-51.

The Vandals received their chance after gaining the ball in Portland territory. Pilot Chuck Rogers' killed Idaho's chance, however, as he intercepted a Vandal pass with :52 left to play and was fouled by James' fifth personal.

Idaho regained possession of the ball with 18 seconds remaining and called time out. When play was resumed Idaho was unable to capitalize and Portland gained possession with Altenhofen scoring as the buzzer sounded.

The Grizzlies are back this year after a 7-17 record and a sixth place finish in the Skyline Conference, the worst since Coach Forrest (Frosty) Cox took over in 1955.

Jim Herndon On The Bench Like A Hill Among Mountains, Vandals Miss Size In Hoop World Size-wise the Idaho hoopsters are like a hill among mountains. Basketball is rapidly becoming a tall man's game and the Vandals are not a "big" team in the hoop world. The Vandal forward wall, for instance, comprising of 6-7 Ken Maren (or 6-8 with some stretching), 6-4 Rollie Williams and 6-4 Chuck White, are larger than three average men, but are comparatively shorter in comparison to the centers and forwards of most major college teams. As this column goes to press the Idaho trio are lining up against Portland University's taller "big" men in Portland, and the Pilots are not generally considered on the major college scale. Bill Garner, 6-9, Jim Altenhofen, 6-5, and Art Easterly, 6-5, make up the Pilot forward line. Another taller team that the Vandals will meet this season is the University of Michigan of the Big Ten. Michigan, who is not figured to be among the top contenders for its league title because of a lack of height, uses Tom Cole, 6-7, Dick Meyer, 6-6, and Rich Donley, 6-6, as starters. The Vandal backcourt, while averaging 5-11 with Dale James, 5-11, Gary Floan, 5-10, or Rich Porter, 6-2, and Tom Gwilliam, 6-2, or Lyle Parks, 6-1, is not to be called tall these days. Next door Washington State uses Terry Ball, 6-2, and Howard Thoremke, 6-1, and teams such as Kentucky and San Francisco use men averaging 6-3 and 6-4 in the backcourt. The Vandals, theoretically could use Maren, Art Anderson, 6-6 and Reg Carolan, 6-6, or John Fleming, 6-5, under the basket and Gwilliam and White in the back court for their tallest possible team. San Francisco uses 6-7 John Johnson, 6-6 Bill Gallagher, 6-5 Bob Ralls, 6-5 John Galten, along with their "small man, 6-0 Charlie Rangas without the extra height help from reserves 6-5 Hal Urban and 6-6 Allan Mitchell. Another team with a taller starting five than Idaho could muster, even with reserve help, is Notre Dame who averages a little over 6-5 per man. No longer is the 6-5 or 6-6 man considered unusual on the maple court as was the case 20 years ago. Rather, today coaches consider him a necessity. The before awkward giant has today become a graceful weapon which Idaho could use to great advantage.
