Senator Paul Douglas Will Speak Tomorrow On Morality In Government

Senator Paul H. Douglas, Democrat from Illinois, will make a public events appearance tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium.

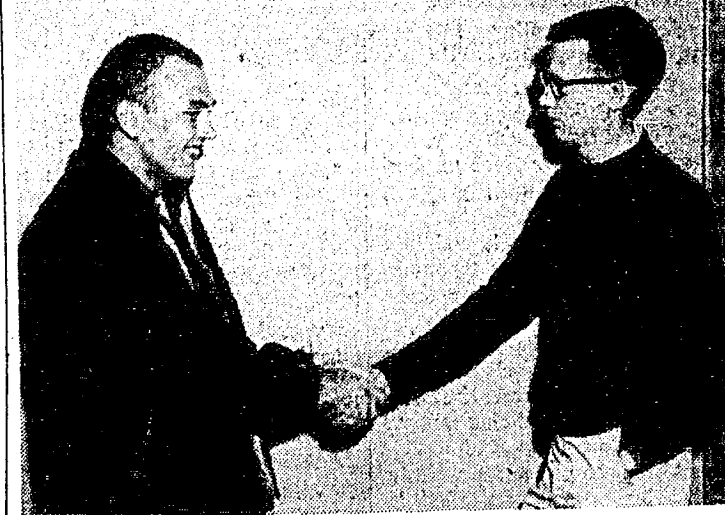

His subject: "Can We Have Morality in Government?"

An attorney on employment, Douglas was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1913. He took his graduate work at Harvard and Columbia universities, getting a Ph.D. from Columbia.

After teaching for a time, he entered government service, then went to the University of Chicago in 1920 where he eventually became a professor of economics.

Banking and Currency Committee and of the Labor and Welfare Committee. His knowledge of economics was put to work on the Joint Committee of the Economic Report. The report of his subcommittee on Monetary, Credit and Fiscal Policies received wide attention in financial circles.

Douglas is the author of numerous books on economic subjects. In 1947, he was president of the American Economic Association, the highest honor in his profession.

THE TRADITIONAL HANDSHAKE—Dean Grossenback, United Party President; and Bob Plumb, CUP President, give each other a friendly hand shake before the political campaign formally lines their parties up against each other.

New Professor Seminar Is Planned For Dad's Day Weekend Ahead

A weekend chucked full of beard contests, dancing, football, seminars and an all-around good time is awaiting Dads, Patt Kelly, Pi Phi Dads' Day Chairman, said.

A new special for the Dads, Miss Kelly said, is the professors seminar.

"We felt that something so show the academic side of campus life was needed in the Dads' Day program," she said.

Seminar

The seminar, held 10-11:30 in the Music Building auditorium Saturday morning, will feature such speakers as Academic vice-president H. Walter Stephens, Deans James E. Krause (Agriculture) and Boyd Martin (Letters and Science), and professors T. J. Pritchard (head of Architecture dept.), Malcolm Renfrew (head of physical sciences), and Donald W. Seelye (Asst. Prof. Labor Economics and Business Administration).

The Dads' Day celebration starts Saturday morning with registration at the Moscow hotel between 9 a.m. and noon.

The Dads' Day game, Idaho vs. University of Pacific, starts at 1:30 p.m.

10 To Attend Union Confab

Ten persons connected with the University's Student Union will leave tomorrow for Western Washington College of Education at Bellingham, where they will attend the annual convention of Region 11 of the Association of Student Unions.

The region comprises some 200 colleges in the western United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, and Hong Kong. ASUI General Manager Gale Mix estimated that about 300 people, representing some 80 colleges, will attend the three-day conference.

Attending from Idaho will be Mix, Mrs. Mix, SUB program director Charmaine Fitzgerald, public relations student director Skip French, Phi Delt; Dick Stiles, Delta Sig, Region 11 vice president; Mrs. Sharon Grossenbach, off campus, SUB Program Council chairman; Ann Spiker, Theta, public relations chairman; and SUB directors Bob Carlson, Campus Club; Gary Green, Phi Delt; and Ron Ayers, off campus.

The group from Idaho, traveling in two cars, will tour the University of Washington Student Union Thursday and then will go on to Bellingham, where the meetings begin Thursday afternoon.

Longest Term

Douglas served as a chairman of the Board of Arbitration for the Newspaper Publishing Industry from 1925 to 1942, handing down 85 decisions. He served the longest term on record in this work.

The senator served on many state and national commissions. He was drafted by Franklin D. Roosevelt, then Governor of New York, to serve as secretary of the New York Committee to Stabilize Employment. He later worked under President Roosevelt on the Consumers Advisory Board of the NRA and was active in drafting the original Social Security Act.

Pension Advocate

Douglas was one of the earliest advocates of old age pensions and unemployment insurance in the late 1920's and 1930's. He drafted the first old age pension act passed by the Illinois Legislature and helped draft the state unemployment insurance act of 1937. He led the fight to reduce electricity and gas rates in the 1930's and to protect investors in private utilities from financial manipulation.

Douglas early recognized the danger to the United States of Hitler's policy of aggression. He became a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, but in 1942, enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps at the age of 50, as a private. He was later decorated for heroism in action on Pellelieu.

Elected To Senate

In November of 1948, he was elected to the U.S. Senate. He has been an active member of the

New Stage Equipment Obtained For Use In 'Rashomon' Drama

A number of innovations, including a stage lighting "brain" and sets made up entirely of large screens, will be put into use Friday and Saturday nights when the ASUI dramatic production "Rashomon" is presented in the University Auditorium.

The Oriental production, to be presented at 8 p.m. both nights, will be in stylized rather than realistic form and will use Oriental screens for background. Edmund Chavez, assistant director of dramatics, said the 15-foot-high screens are larger than most screens used in dramatic productions and are covered with chiffon and paint so that the audience can see through them when lights are brought upon them.

The drama will mark the first time chiffon has been used for this purpose in University productions and probably the first time it has been used anywhere in this area, Chavez stated.

Painting of the screens presented a problem. The paint had to be thin enough to be seen through, Chavez said. The usual mixture of powder paint combined with glue made samples of screening pucker or shrivel up, so Chavez mixed the powder with water and then sprayed a thin coat of lacquer over it to make it stick to the screens.

"The play doesn't demand any specific period," Chavez said. "We know it's an old play—about 1,000 years old." Traditional Oriental costumes are not identified with any specific period—are used in the drama.

Lighting is employed to a great extent in the play, which will use a silicon-controlled rectifier (SCR) possessing a complex brain that plans ahead on all scene changes and special effects.

A roto-selector, which covers most of a side wall in the stage wings, will permit innumerable lighting combinations to create moods for the play. In the intricate equipment is a combination permitting presetting of light circuits for scenes.

Controlling the selector panel from a smaller console switchboard the size of a desk is a single operator. Lighting head, Diane Fawson, Kappa, will maintain fingertip command of the 36 separate light units during the production.

Included in the bank of lights are 12 dimmers capable of receiving up to 4,000 watts each. Because of their variable illumination, realism and depth are added to the players and scenic backgrounds, and special psychological moods can be created by careful changing of the lighting.

SCR Safer

Besides the ease and number of light combinations it offers, SCR is a tremendous safety factor on

Platforms Issued By Parties; Only 2 Weeks Until Elections

With only two weeks remaining in the campaign, the political parties are putting their vote-getting machinery into action.

Both parties have issued platforms (see page 2) and Campus Union Party has accepted a United challenge to a debate Thursday night to be held in various living groups.

Debates Scheduled

The candidates will appear at the following houses to present their views and answer questions at 7 p.m. Thursday: seniors, Delta Tau Delta; juniors, Delta Delta Delta; sophomores, Sigma Nu, and freshmen, Gamma Phi Beta. The debates are open to all students. Officers of the two parties will moderate at the smokers.

CUP president Bob Plumb said concerning their platform, "Our platform is composed of very specific projects. We want to make sure that it is not just a vote-getting device and that all our projects are able to be accomplished."

Commenting on the United platform, party president Dean Grossenbach said, "Our platform is designed to help clear up a few specific problems in university life. We feel that most of these problems evolve around two issues, no participation in class projects and therefore no class integrity. This same situation has carried over into our alumni program."

Asked if anything was being done to hold the elected officers responsible to their parties, both presidents said yes. Grossenbach said that class officers will appear before United caucus when the group desires. Plumb said that this has been done in the past with Campus Union Party.

Asked why United had a platform this year for the first time. Grossenbach said, "We feel the time has come that the student body is politically aware of developments and are able to read a platform and analyze it and be aware of its good and bad points."

Both presidents felt student awareness has grown since class elections last year. Grossenbach added "I think credit should be given where credit is due and we feel that some should be given CUP." He was referring to the bonded indebtedness issue.

Predicts CUP Majority

Plumb stated that he felt CUP would elect their candidates to the majority of the 16 class offices up for grabs. He also added that he hoped the level of the campaign will be higher this year than in the past and that there will be no mudslinging. Grossenbach reiterated a former statement expressing the same views on the level of the campaign.

Warm Up

A warm up to the football game is the student rally Friday night at 6:30 in the Student Union. At this time there will be a living group yelling contest. Each living group is expected to enter an original yell. A banner will be awarded to the winning men's and women's living group.

According to Miss Idona Kellogg, Ethel Steele, publicity chairman, the card section to be seen at half-time of the game, will be the largest in the history of the university.

NFS Invites Idaho Profs' Aid In Choice

Two University professors were among 70 educators from across the country invited by the National Science Foundation to appraise proposals for NSF research grants in San Francisco last week.

Dr. Malcolm M. Renfrew, head of the physical sciences department, and Dr. V. A. Cherrington, head of the bacteriology department, reviewed approximately 600 proposals.

Dr. Renfrew reviewed projects dealing with physical science and Dr. Cherrington studied proposals in the biological sciences.

The National Science Foundation frequently calls on outstanding researchers to aid them in choosing wisely which activities should receive support.

Halloween Night Expected To Be Tame On Idaho Campus

Tonight's the night for the witches to jump on their broomsticks to fly over the country terrifying the people. But from all indications the witch will probably by-pass the Idaho campus.

Most campus living groups hold annual exchanges with other groups, but if it weren't for the Moscow children walking from door to door calling out the familiar Halloween phrase "trick or treat," the Halloween spirit would be almost non-existent on the campus.

"The campus has quieted down in the last few years on Halloween night," ASUI General Manager Gale Mix said. He noted that most of the pranks on the campus have been the result of Moscow school gobline's.

In recent years it has not been uncommon after Halloween to see a small foreign car on the porch of a sorority house. But other than a few mischievous acts, Halloween has been quiet at Idaho in the past few years.

Today the occasion is marked by house parties and annual exchanges with a limited amount of pranks.

The gobline will be out tonight, but not in full force on the Idaho campus.

Peace Corps Representative Has Interviews

Arnold Zack, a Peace Corps field representative from Washington, D.C., will be on the campus today to interview students interested in applying for the Corps.

The visit is one of 500 visitations to campuses throughout the nation. Zack will discuss the Peace Corps with both students and faculty members.

Zack will be available for individual consultation with students until 4 p.m. in the board room of the President's Office, room 105 of the Administration Building. Students have been asked to meet at the office for interviews on the hour.

This noon the representative will have a luncheon with the faculty in the Student Union Frontier Room. An informal discussion with the faculty will be held this afternoon in the lower lounge of the Faculty Club.

A general session, open to students and faculty, will be held at 4 p.m. in the SUB Borah Theater. A general presentation of the Peace Corps aims will be followed by a question and answer period. Zack will meet with Executive Board tonight at 7 in the SUB.

Mining, University Officials To Speak At Ceremonies

University and mining officials will speak at the dedication ceremonies Friday for the new $500,000 mines building.

Speaking at the 2 p.m. ceremony will be Dr. D. R. Theophilus, University president, John Peacock, president of the Board of Regents, L. S. Randall, president of Hecla Mining Company, and E. S. Cook, Dean of the School of Mines.

Randall will represent the mining industry who paid half of the cost of the three-story structure. The building was financed by the mining industry of Idaho and by state-appropriated funds. The building, the newest on the campus, has been providing laboratory and class room space since classes started this fall.

Following the dedication ceremonies open house will be held until 5 p.m. Anyone is welcome to attend.

KUOI Begins Broadcasting After Late Start

Today, after a month's delay, the campus radio station KUOI, will begin broadcasting to 19 living groups. The postponement in broadcasting was made by programming difficulties and the lack of staff members.

Thirty-three staff members, virtually all new to the staff, will work two hour shifts daily in bringing music, news and intellectual programs to the campus seven days a week. The station, which is wired into 19 living groups, has plans for expansion during this first semester of operation.

Jerre Wallace, off campus, station manager, said that KUOI which operates on only one kilowatt of power, will serve only a "limited audience" until late in the first semester.

Wire Galore

"There should be between three and four miles of wire strung to the living groups from the station by the end of the first semester," Wallace said.

He pointed out that the problem of grouping fewer campus living groups this year was due to the steam tunnel construction at the site of the new SUB excavation. The weather conditions have caused the wires to wear, he said.

"With the present operating budget for KUOI," Wallace stated, "it is hard to complete the entire new system before the end of the semester." Stringing of telephone wires around the campus will be done by staff members of the station. Included in the new system will be the installation of new transistorized transmitting units in each house.

Range of Programs

Programs ranging from concert favorites to live recorded programs on the campus will highlight KUOI's broadcasting. The station will broadcast every day of the week beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoons and concluding at 11 Sunday night. Monday through Thursday the station will carry programs from 3 p.m. to 11. Friday and Saturday the broadcast hours will be from noon until midnight.

Wallace, who also served as station manager during the first semester last year, said that the 45 staff members are mostly fresh-lacking in experience.

News

The station will broadcast news on both the campus and world scene. Most of the music will come from albums ranging from classical to semi-popular. There will be a minimum of rock 'n roll music.

The station with studios and offices located on the third floor of the Student Union Building, receives advertising from the College Radio Corp. of New York. This company offers advertising to all college radio stations throughout the nation.

Equipment in the studios of KUOI consists of a Gates console, three turntables, three tape recorders, a limiter, transmitter and other technical equipment.

Weekly programming schedules will appear in the Tuesday issue of the Argonaut.

United-CUP Release Platforms

Campus Union Party

I. To incorporate the ideals of the Campus Union Party within our policy and carry them out to the best of our abilities we stand for:

1. An informed student body
2. Responsible leadership
3. Cross campus politics
4. No block voting

II. We shall endeavor to develop communication, interaction and co-operation among existing members of the student body, and re-orienting their ideas in planning major activities, projects, and programs.

III. We shall strive to maintain the position for a more thoroughly informed, and therefore more conscientious student body.

A. Copies of the minutes of each meeting of the class will be distributed to all members of said class via individual living groups.

B. Announcements of all activities of importance to the welfare of the classes will be made known well ahead of schedule in order that all who wish to participate may do so.

IV. We shall strive to keep the standards of a class office high and carry out the obligations of such a position with honesty, tact and integrity.

A. Student body officers should be fully prepared to advocate and support any function of worth which the members themselves might think necessary for the future progress of the body as a whole.

B. Officers and individuals in a position of authority will not engage in activities slanted toward any other group of individuals which are not positive in their purpose. "Muddling," "criticism," and "rehashing of past mistakes simply for political advantage is not necessary."

SENIOR CLASS PLATFORM
We, the senior class officer candidates of CUP Party propose to combine the dual qualities of a specific platform with flexibility in the following manner:

If it is found to be the will of the students, and with the advice and consent of the Senior Extended Board, we will:

1. Attempt to overcome, between now and next Spring, any remaining obstacles to the holding of graduation ceremonies outside, where they can be enjoyed by a greater number of our friends and relatives.

2. Replace the one "big name" orchestra usually acquired for the Jr.-Sr. Prom with four of the top groups in the local area; each playing a distinctly different type of music, in separate corners of the ballroom, with decorations varying accordingly, and rotating the playing among the groups at fifteen minute intervals. This would provide greater variety at a lower cost.

3. Encourage the reopening of the library on Friday evenings, at least on a trial basis. While we recognize the financial difficulties involved, we also recognize an ever growing need for this action in view of the increasing enrollment in both the undergraduate and, especially, the graduate schools. We feel that any necessary economies can be made either within the library itself or within some other area rather than continuing the present policy which destroys some of the effectiveness of one of our basic educational institutions.

4. Work towards a better coordinated and more effective program of senior orientation, perhaps initiating a Senior Orientation Week to provide such information as:

(a) How to present yourself for job interviews so as to make the best impression.

(b) What jobs are available for graduates in your field and where the best opportunities are located.

(c) The best graduate schools in which to pursue an advanced degree in your field, and any scholarships for which you might qualify.

Whether or not these ideas are put into effect will depend upon the wishes of those in the senior class. But whether you accept or reject these proposals, we guarantee an intelligent and conscientiously well-administered program in all we attempt. We pledge ourselves, at the very least, to be the constant guardians of the best interests of the senior class; to provide a graduation ceremony you can be proud of, and to organize a prom you can sincerely enjoy.

I. We the CUP candidates for Junior Class officers do recommend the following measures and present them in the line of a platform. We accept the responsibilities this affiliation implies; we are not unmindful of the need for maintaining and emphasizing the privileges and immunities due class officers, collectively and individually.

A. We advocate concentrating our efforts on doing the job at the present time that hasn't been done in the past. Rash promises and major changes shouldn't be promised only later to be left undone.

B. We will encourage students to assume their responsibilities as participating class members, as well as to exercise their rights and privileges.

II. The organizational structure of any class should be adaptive to changing needs.

A. We will make sure that any activity the class undertakes will have a definite and definable worth. If the individuals within the class are not learning or gaining something from the project, there is little justification for it.

B. We will persist in finishing a job once it is started. We capitalize on experience, integrate with other experiences, and then go after a still bigger job.

C. We will not begin a program at the sacrifice of people. Ultimate worth depends upon the growth of the people involved.

III. To carry out the traditional responsibilities of the Junior class we will:

A. Help sponsor successfully the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

B. Aid the ASUI in presenting prominent entertainers to the student body. Our portion of the profits from these programs will be applied towards efforts to further enhance the Junior Class as a whole.

IV. The success of a class depends upon the communication between class officers and members. Ultimate goals cannot be reached without co-operation from informed members of said class.

A. We propose the annual publication of a Junior Class budget along with financial reports of our financial situation from time to time. We want the members of the class to know exactly how much money they have and where it is being channeled.

I. We shall specialize within the Extended Board. We would like to have an advisory board made up of four people: one to represent the fraternities, one to represent the men's halls, one to represent the women's halls. These people will be elected from within the Extended Board by their various groups. They will serve in a special advisory capacity to the class officers on special problems which arise in order to present an over-all view of the problems which arise in order to present an over-all view of the problem. Also, as special projects come up, we shall appoint special committees within the Extended Board to work on them, and report their findings to the Extended Board.

II. As our class treasury follows us through all four years, and is of definite interest to all sophomores, we shall publish a record of the class treasury every month which will be sent to each living group, so that students may see where and why their money is being spent. We shall take part in as many fund-raising activities as is practical.

III. We will do everything in our power to see that the sophomores find out about all activities pertaining to them, and know where to go to take part in them. And, in addition, to publish minutes of every meeting and send them out to all living groups on campus.

IV. We will carry out the traditions and customs of Holly Week. We feel Holly Week should include:

A. Recognition of outstanding sophomore scholars, one from each college.

B. A fashion show of queen candidates.

C. Traditional crowning of the new Holly Queen by the old Holly Queen at intermission of the Holly Dance.

D. Caroling by the entire sophomore class.

V. We will have a class service project as approved by our extended board, such as spending a day working at an orphanage or old folks home when the entire Sophomore Class or as many as possible, can do so. We feel this would be a very worthwhile project.

I. We intend to keep the freshmen informed as to class functions and the activities of its officers.

A. Oral reports will be given by Extended Board representatives to their respective living groups during house meetings.

B. Minutes of Extended Board and Freshman Executive Board meetings will be posted in each living group.

C. Information pertaining to Freshman Class activities will be publicized in the Argonaut.

II. We intend to obtain more responsibility in the organization of the New Student Days Program:

A. By encouraging living groups to provide adequate activities for their new students during New Student Day.

B. By sponsoring an additional class activity such as a class picnic.

III. The treasurer will publish a detailed class budget for the class members.

IV. We intend to carry out the already delegated duties and traditions of the Freshman Class and by conscientiously planning and efficiently completing such plans to better insure their success.

The United Party presents the following platform to and for the consideration of the University of Idaho student body.

The United Party feels that we must plan and work for the future. This planning and work must be done for both the long-range future of the entire University and the short-range future and unity of the individual classes. We will accomplish these stated objectives through the efforts of the individual class officers: to increase class unity by more effective use of class extended boards, KUOI, the Argonaut, and entire class participation in class projects. United Party's entire state of class officer candidates are dedicated to the above goals.

In view of the above goals we feel that there are certain areas which the individual classes can best facilitate the accomplishment of the stated goals.

SENIOR CLASS PLATFORM
Alumni Relations — We feel that there are two phases connected with alumni relations. The first of these is to maintain the integrity of the class after graduation. The second is to assist in relations with present alumni.

Commencement — We propose to assist in the efforts being made for an outdoor commencement. We propose to increase the number of seats available for relatives and friends of graduates.

Junior-Senior Prom — Conditional to the opinion of the juniors and seniors, we, along with the senior class officers, will promote a successful Junior-Senior Prom.

Responsibility — Utilizing our efficient Extended Board we shall make a study to obtain information from the juniors as to what their class officers should accomplish. In cooperation with the other class the results will be presented to the Executive Board for consideration in the compiling of the new constitution.

Projects — 1) We shall make a permanent display of a map and information showing available rides and riders to different areas. 2) We shall formulate a list showing possibilities of student summer employment.

Responsibility — We will support the junior class in their attempt to place class officers and their duties on a sound and durable basis.

Projects — With the approval of the Executive Board we will continue to take the responsibility for Campus Chest. In an attempt to increase student awareness we will print and distribute a revised University of Idaho activities booklet. Through complete class participation we will promote a successful Holly Week.

Service — As a service to the University we will assist in registration of entering freshmen and foreign students.

Responsibility — We propose the promotion of freshman self-education through a scholarship committee composed of the members of our Extended Board. We will support the junior class in their attempt to place class officers and their duties on a sound and durable basis. We propose monthly informal meetings of those who desire to air their opinions to the frosh officers and their fellow classmates.

Projects — We propose to sponsor a fund-raising campaign to aid in the creation of a model of the campus for the new addition of the SUB. We pledge responsibility and improvement of Frosh Week through more class participation.

Profs Discuss Douglas Topic, Govt. Morality

By JIM HERNDON
Argonaut Managing Editor.

The subject of morality is like love. Both are abstract and can be expressed in numerous ways. The dictionary defines morality as "the doctrine or practice of the duties of life; ethics."

Senator Paul Douglas, Wednesday's public events speaker, has picked "Can There Be Morality in Government?" for his topic. In his address, the Illinois senator will attempt to answer the question of ethics and honesty in government in concrete terms.

Political theorists consider government as a neutral unit and attributes any morality, or lack of it, to the society from which the government evolved.

Dr. R. E. Hosack, head of social sciences, said that corruption is the basic sign of the lack of morality among government officials.

"When government is going to pieces, there is a failure in morals," Dr. Hosack said.

However, the concept of what is honest in government and what is not, is very complex, Hosack said. There are certain events in history such as war, which changes society's concept of honesty, he said.

"Also there is the question of with whom are you honest," Hosack continued. "Is a politician to be honest with the persons he is working with or honest with people in general?"

Sherman Adams, in the Eisenhower Administration, was honest with the people around him but not with the public, Hosack said.

In the history of the United States there has been several cases of graft and corruption. The Teapot Dome Scandal broke out at the end of the Harding administration and before that there was a large scandal in Grant's regime. Since that time, however, no scandal of such scale has been exposed.

Government today is still capable of housing such grafts and corruption, Dr. Bernard C. Boring, chairman of political science, believes.

"Government today is a greater

The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

The class officer campaign formally opened yesterday and both parties jumped in, but not with the energy which might have been assumed from earlier political activity.

Both parties have issued general party platforms and individual class platforms; the first time in Jason's four years that it has been done.

Both parties' candidates will also meet with their electorates in four individual class smokers this week. Last year a general smoker was held for all classes in the Student Union, but outside of creating confusion, little was accomplished.

The smaller individual smokers should give each candidate a chance to express his views and facilitate discussion of ideas between candidates and interested students. The use of platforms and smokers are indicative of a trend toward more active class officers which was started last year.

Once someone is elected on a platform and on public statements he must assume some responsibility for what he does in office.

But even though class officers are being gradually forced to prove themselves qualified for an office prior to election, class elections may never be surrounded by a spirited campaign such as the ones which surround spring ASUI elections.

Reading both parties' platforms there are no noticeable differences in intent or method. Agreement doesn't generate controversy, and lack of controversy doesn't incite a spirited campaign.

A spirited campaign however, isn't necessarily an indication of a good campaign. The fact that both parties' candidates have been forced to think about the positions they are vying for enough to write a platform puts the campaign on one level higher than it has been in the past.

The November 7 elections will be good for another reason — results will be a good indicator of how much influence the shifting balance of political power will have on future elections.

Only time and final votes will tell.

power for good and also a greater power for evil," he said.

Borning gave an example: "Government becomes more complex everyday and creates more agencies. These agencies are forces for good, but can be easily diverted," he said.

Both Borning and Hosack expressed the view that society was the prime reason for corruption in government.

"The indifference of society breeds corruption," Hosack said.
"Some contracts will always be awarded on a personal basis, such as giving shipment order to a close friend," Borning said. "This is just human nature."

Dances' Themes, Costumes Varied; Exchanges Slated

By BRIDGET BEGLAN Arg House News Editor An evening of "Delicate Dancing with Delta Tau Delta" or "All Alone with Al Capone" was the theme for the Delta pledge dance Saturday. Pledges wanted for various crimes were Squid Wheeler, Babyface Patrick, PeeWee Fancher, Pretty Boy Prescott, Bird Harper, Logomorph Larry Eng, Lover Boy Shade, Stormy Brain Hill, Goose Conner, Bust-her Keaton, Gruesome Gordy Judd, Terrible Tommy Harris, Cherry Jim Berry, Kid Dropper Skinner, Murderer Mike Wiley, Marbles Vanorman, and Sunken Chest Honeychurch.

Halloween Fun Had By Dames

The Idaho Dames Club held their annual Halloween masquerade party Monday night at the Faculty Club. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Claudette Gesner, Joan Maloney, and Vivian Milford. A costume parade followed, highlighted by Helen Wennekamp's prize-winning "Ugliest Witch" costume.

High point of the evening was a campus scavenger hunt which terminated at the Faculty Club where Halloween refreshments were served.

Table decorations featuring a haunted house centerpiece were arranged by Claudette Gesner and Anita Thomas.

The evening was climaxed with a social hour. The next meeting will be Nov. 1. The home economics department will present a program on "Do It Yourself Christmas Ideas."

MEMBERS TERMED 'OLD' Delta Chi members treated the pledges to peppermint sticks at raucous night dinner Friday as a challenge to tub a member. An all-house tubbing followed immediately with the pledges coming out on top. Members blamed their inability to put up a good fight on old age.

Dinner guests during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Vick Moore and Mark, Pullman; and Mrs. Anderson of Arco.

DELTA GAMMA all house exchanges this week were with the Deltas and the Fijis, and the traditional Halloween exchange will be with the Betas this evening. Mary Ann Dalton was chosen DG of the month for her service to the chapter. She was presented the cream colored rose and lavallere by Pat Simmons.

At a recent fireside the sophomores announced to the pledges that their dance will be November 11, with the theme, "Club 65." DELTA SIGNS HAVE DANCE Friday night was "Sleepy Hollow" night for Delta Sig members and pledges. The dance was a great success which was due in part to Dr. and Mrs. Iiams, who chaperoned at the affair.

Pledges as well as members limped around Sunday morning and complained of sore backs which resulted from a hard-fought football game which the members won with no trouble.

Guests at Sunday dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Galbraith, Dream Girl Carol McCrea, Melody Snyder, and Jeri Ross, all Alpha Phi's.

ALPHA GAM'S RECEIVE MYSTERIOUS visitors left behind an abundant supply of aroma Thursday night. Upon investigation a pound of Limburger cheese was found on the sleeping porch.

Kaye Aslett, Portland, was a weekend guest at the house. Guests for dinner on Sunday included United Party sophomore candidate.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT—New Stage

the stage, Chavez said. "Circuit changes can be made by merely turning dials. There is no longer the danger of students accidentally touching a hot wire."

For the play's fight scene, authentic Japanese Samurai swords are used. The fights are choreographed, and each move is carefully set and rehearsed, Chavez noted.

"Each blow and each blocking of a blow is set so the actor knows exactly what is happening next," he explained.

The swords can be dangerous, because their weight makes them difficult to control, Chavez said, and for that reason, the actors worked up to their weight gradually. Yardsticks were used during the first rehearsals, then light swords, and so on, he explained.

The two-act play is seen through the eyes of a woodcutter, telling of a courtroom scene. In a series of flashbacks, three versions of the plot are presented by three characters in the courtroom scene.

Linda Scoville Wins First Place In 'Make It With Wool' Contest

Linda Scoville, DG, won first place in the senior division of the district Make-It-yourself with Wool contest held last Saturday in the home economics building. This is the second year that Miss Scoville, now a sophomore, has been eligible for the state contest, which will again be held in Boise.

The contest is sponsored by the Auxiliary of the Idaho State Wool Growers' Association. Winners in the state competition, to be held Nov. 12 this year, will advance to the national finals in Salt Lake City.

First prize in the national contest is an all-expense paid trip to California fashion centers and to the island state of Hawaii.

Junior division winner was Julie Byrnes of Culesac. Other district winners included Polly Thompson, Moscow, sub-deb division; and Mrs. Dorothy Mills, Podlatch, adult division. Adults and sub-debs are not permitted to compete beyond the district level.

Forty-two entered the contest. Each girl made and modeled her own outfit. Colors ranged from magenta, blue, rose, and purple to green, brown, and black. Dresses, suits, skirts, coats and jacket dresses were modeled.

District coordinator of the contest was Mrs. Oliver Hanson, an Idaho home economics graduate, who now lives in Moscow.

Orchestra San Pietro Of Italy Appears Here Sunday Night

The Orcestra San Pietro of Naples, Italy, will present a concert Sunday evening at Memorial Gym. The appearance is co-sponsored by the Moscow Community Concert Association and the ASUI.

The twenty piece orchestra, composed of some of the most talented young musicians in Italy, is making its first tour of the United States and Canada. The trip is an effort to satisfy the overwhelming demand of the concert public to have an opportunity to listen to them.

Guests included Merry Bauer, Forney; Martretha Huson and Bev Satriano, McConnell; Jim Small, Pat Muldoon, Ray Featherstone, Pat West, and Buzz McCabe, Phi Deltis.

An all-house exchange with dinner and dancing was held with the TKE's Saturday evening.

BETAS HOST Owen Pipal and Bert Nelson, both of Boise, visited the Beta house this weekend. Both are members of the 1964 pledge class.

Dinner guests Friday night were Amy Bone, Tri Delt; Karen Christensen, Theta; and Vicki Seibert, Alpha Phi.

A-PHIS GIVE FIRESIDE Pledges returned, tired but happy, from their sneak to Coeur d'Alene and were given a fireside upon their arrival by the members.

Guests for the week were Terry Scofield, SAE; Jerry Spratt, Gonzaga; Mrs. J. Kooztz, Alpha Phi alum, Moscow; Mrs. M. F. Custer, Twin Falls; and Francis Schmidt, Quincy, Washington.

Blazing torches greeted the Alpha Phi's Monday night at the Delt serenade honoring the signing of Deanna Duffy to Tom Schmidt.

LAMBDA CHI "CONVICTS" Many jailbirds seen around the campus Saturday were Lambda Chi pledges and members portraying convicts in accord to their pledge dance theme "Jailhouse Rock." Music was by the "Pacers" and chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Cowen, Dr. and Mrs. George Williams and housemother Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Pledges emerged victorious from the member-pledge football game last week, 18-0. This was the first pledge win in five years.

IFC Chooses Gary Carlson

Gary Carlson, Beta, was chosen President of Inter-Fraternity Council last Thursday at a meeting held in the Phi Delt house. He succeeds Dick Minas, Phi Delt.

Chosen for the other offices of the organization were Skip French, Phi Delt, vice president; Bob Tuncliff, Fiji, rush chairman; Eddie Ekum, ATO, secretary; Barry Nelson, Delt, treasurer; and Bill Sullivan, Sigma Chi, publicity director.

"The IFC will work with more determination this year to promote better understanding and actual cooperation among the respective fraternities on campus," according to the new president.

CLUB TO MEET FRIDAY Cosmopolitan Club will hold an election Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the South Ballroom.

Truls Astrup of Norway will show slides of educational and scenic interest. Refreshments and a social hour will follow.

Rhea Dee Patrick Is Selected As Color Girl For NROTC

"Far Away Places" came to the Idaho campus via the annual Navy Ball last Saturday evening in the SUB ballrooms. Approximately 150 couples attended the dance which was highlighted by the crowning of Dee Patrick as Navy Color Girl of 1961-62.

Miss Patrick, who succeeds Carol Rigshy, Kappa, as Color Girl, is a DG from Castleford, Idaho, and a sophomore arts major. She was chosen by NROTC students from a group of five finalists. Her court includes Linda Bachelior, Pi Phi; Sherry Bruce, McConnell; Julie Severn, DG; and Nancy Yount, Gamma Phi.

The new color girl, crowned at intermission by Commander E. M. Barton, received the traveling trophy, which will remain at the DG house for the remainder of the year.

Nick Bond and his quartet played for the dance, which was open to all students and faculty.

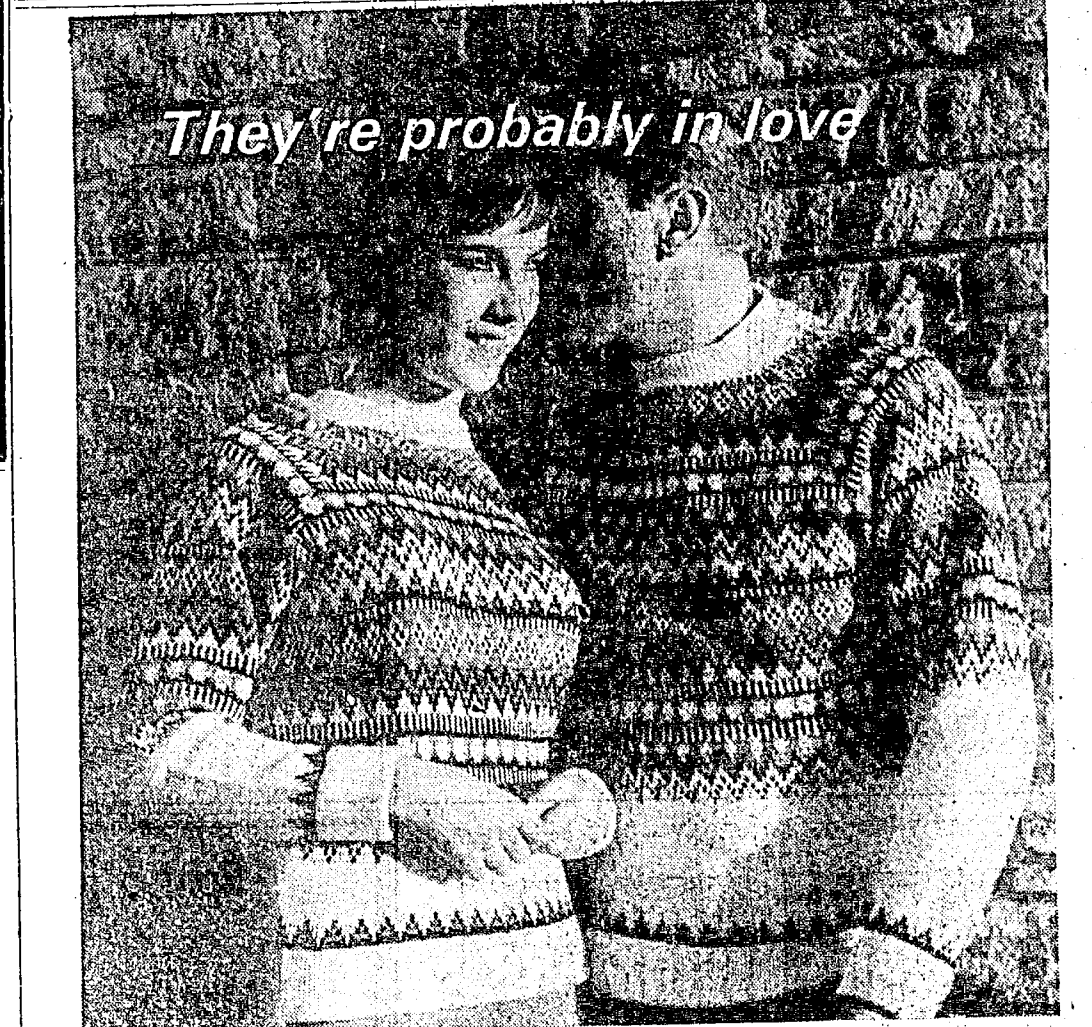

Decorations consisted of signal flags hung from the ceiling, and three large murals featuring scenes of Paris, Tokyo and Honolulu.

Competition for Color Girl began when 28 candidates, two from each women's living group, were entertained at a tea, October 18. The five finalists were announced by members of NROTC on Oct. 23.

What Can Be Said For A 69-0 Beating? Play Easier Teams?

This columnist was away last weekend and about Saturday evening decided to catch a few of the football scores of the day on TV. The TV commentator gave the big scores, which a few were startling upsets such as Iowa, Army, and Notre Dame, and I had a faint hope of hearing that the Vandals had surprised the Aggies of Utah State.

When he got to games of the Far West he came to the Idaho score and:

"And get a load of this score. Utah State MAULED the University of Idaho 69-0. Man, what a beating!"

What happened? The same thing that happened in other games — Oregon, 51-0; Oregon State, 44-6; WSU, 34-0; Army, 51-7; and now worse than ever 69-0.

At the first of the season there was the hope for a better season than last. The Oregon game dimmed those hopes somewhat, the San Jose game brought that hope back. Then Oregon State, WSU, and Army really took about all hopes for a good season into the past. But, brother, when Utah State got through with the Vandals that was it—the end.

How does a team lose by 69-0? It takes some doing, some real work.

Anyway, here is my constructive (?) thought on the matter.

Take the football teams of Idaho plus the football team of Washington State University—add a vibrant, young coach to lead them in battle. Then, with this tremendous potential, as noted by the fabulous scores and records of the two teams, get a good schedule. A good one would be—Whitman, Wenatchee, Eastern Washington, North Idaho JC, Western Washington, College of Idaho, Pudget Sound, Pacific Lutheran, and Onaway JC.

And why WSU? Well, the only game they won was with us, they have the same identical record and let the only team we beat — beat them. They had 7,700 spectators to that game Saturday and were confidently expecting 30,000 and a victory. I guess WSU fans have that down-trodden feeling!

All kidding aside, I think that the point is made clear.

If Idaho expects to win any ballgames, they have got to schedule someone they have an even chance of defeating.

There are other incidentals that some students and alumni seem to keep harping on—such as a new coach—but it is probably a combination of many things. After all, when you have a season as bad as the Vandals, somebody is going to get the axe.

Saturday here at Moscow is the annual Dad's Day game and festivities. The Vandals play the University of the Pacific. UOP has a respectable record of three wins and three losses against small California teams. San Jose State, whom Idaho defeated 27-19, beat the crew from Stockton easily. Now, in normal times, that would be indicative of a win for the Vandals. The Dads will be there, just as the Alums were at Homecoming, this does make a difference.

Since this is the last home varsity football game of the season it is this columnist's hope that everyone will attend the game, if nothing more than to see if Idaho is really that bad (which I hope they're not.)

Hear ye! Hear ye! The Idaho frosh footballers AGAIN beat the University of Washington Pups. After losing barely to Wenatchee 10-7, the vehement Vandals took Washington, 7-6. And if you aren't satisfied with the score, look at the statistics, they're even better.

The Frosh play here in two weeks against the WSU Cougbabes who beat the Oregon State Frosh last weekend, 22-20. Last year the Vandals won a thriller, it looks like it will be another tremendous ballgame. And it is here, in Neale Stadium. Congrats to the Frosh—one of the best in recent times. Likewise, to frosh coach Bud Goodell on his fine squad.

Wow! Babes Stun Washington Pups Again

Frosh Beat Pups For Second Consecutive Year, Win 7-6

By LARRY McBRIDE
Arg Sports Writer

Idaho's freshmen gridsters' up to last year's tricks again, turned a brilliant run and an all-important conversion into a 7-6 victory over the University of Washington's Pups.

The Vandal Babes, playing in Seattle, turned in the second victory in a row over the Washington frosh. The Idaho frosh have beaten Washington but twice in the history of the rivalry. A lot of Seattle fans probably didn't believe last year's loss—they better believe this one.

The Pups committed a lot of mistakes, but many of them can be attributed to the sparkling play of the Vandal Babes, especially the defense. The rumor out was that Washington had backs to burn — after the game their rooters probably agreed — but the Idaho line pretty well contained them.

Idaho Tally

Idaho's TD came in the second quarter, when quarterback Joe Chapman, caught the Pup defense asleep for a moment — on a roll-out, put on the steam, and turned the play into a 65-yard TD jaunt and the play of the game.

Paul Lawrence then calmly kicked the extra point, and the Babes had a margin which eventually held up as their first win of the season.

In the fourth quarter, the Pups came back — that is, within one point. Washington put together a sustained drive, led in the main by halfback Charles Browning, and marched into the end zone, but Ralph Winter's two-point pass play didn't pay off.

Washington fans could claim that the loss of Junior Coffey in the first half with an ankle injury hurt the Pups offense, but a quick check of the box score finds that Coffey had carried four times for a scant twelve yards. Actually,

Browning, who replaced Coffey, was the leading Washington ground-gainer with 43 yards.

In the final analysis, Idaho won the game in other areas than merely score. Statistics were overwhelming in the Vandal Babe's favor, as they gained 11 first downs as compared to four of the Pups', and gained 217 yards rushing to Washington's 66. The Pups' one clear advantage was in passing, where they out-gained Idaho 40 yards to 2. The Pups fielded 10 completions of 3 of 9, and Idaho's 1 for 5.

Coach Bud Goodell turned two quarterbacks and a fleet of backs that the Pups couldn't drop when they did catch them. Quarterback Mike Whiles alternated with Chapman in running the team, and both treated Washington fans to a great show. In Chapman's run, halfback Clarence Kleber took out safety man Joey Wilson — Chapman's last obstacle — and Joe skirted into the end zone untouched. Chapman was the games leading rusher with 74 yards.

USU Clobbers Idaho Vandals

By JIM FAUCHER
Arg Sports Writer

The 16th meeting between the Idaho Vandals and the Utah State Aggies turned out to be anything but a meeting. Saturday the Aggies literally slaughtered the Vandals, giving the men from Idaho their biggest setback of the grid-iron season a 69-0 count.

Last Saturday afternoon at Logan's Romney Stadium certainly was not a good day for a football game. The entire game was played during a blinding snowstorm. Despite this fact, there were 2000 eager, but very cold football fans in the stands.

The star of the day was USU's halfback Tommy Larscheid. Larscheid scored three touchdowns and ran a two point conversion in the 10 touch down massacre. Last week Larscheid was tied for 7th place in the nation with 36 points, and the Idaho game boosted his total to 54 points.

Stahley's vanguard had planned to use a passing offense in the Utah State game, but due to the weather, the Vandals completed 4 passes out of 10 attempts, which considering the circumstances, is a fair average. The Aggies completed 3 of 4 attempts.

Idaho Net Loss

The snowstorm seemed to obliterate everything but humiliation for the Vandals, as they wound up with an astonishing net loss of 27 yards total offense. Actually the passing pulled them up, as their total rushing yardage was a minus 60 yards, compared to a net 260 yards for Utah State.

Some old Idaho setbacks came back to the Vandals, one of which was fumbling. The Vandals lost the ball three times, which hurt them badly. Idaho also had a grand total of 2 first downs, compared to the Aggies' 19.

Shotgun Offense

Idaho finally restored to a shotgun offense in a futile attempt to crack the Aggie stonewall line. This plan of strategy, which has worked in the past, met with complete failure.

Coach Skip Stahley had hoped in this game to upset the Aggies, but his hopes were completely and humilatingly shattered. In this week's game with Arizona, at Tucson, Stahley has the same hopes, and everyone prays he fares better.

Cip Stresses Fundamentals

With a full month remaining before their first game, head basketball mentor, Joe Cipriano, still has his talented Vandals concentrating on the fundamentals of working with each other offensively and defensively.

Cipriano stated last night, that the Vandals would begin working on play patterns now that they seemed in pretty good physical condition. He also stated that they would hold their first intra-squad scrimmage this Saturday evening at 8.

When asked how things were shaping up, Cipriano replied, "I'm pleased with my lettermen, but it is pretty early to tell about the sophomores."

The Vandal hoopsters open the cage season at home against Whitworth on Dec. 1.

Meet Times I. Runners

The Idaho track team held a intersquad meet Saturday with seven events being run. The 70 yard high hurdles were won by Pete Luttrupp and Jerry Pressey, both hitting the tape in the time of :08.9.

The 100 yard dash was won by Ron Huff in :10.5 seconds. The 330 yard dash was won in :37.7 seconds by Nick Cornix and the 660 yard run was won by Curt Flisher in 1:26.2.

The 100 yards dash was won by Dick Douglas in 3:14.9. The 1 1/2 mile run was won in 7:35.1 by Gunter Amtmann. The 440 yard relay was won by the Pasley Whites (Pressey, Pasley, Luttrupp, Huff) in :45.5.
