China Becomes Power-E. Snow

Although China is still a backward nation in many ways, it is progressing to where it will soon become a nuclear power, a journalist well acquainted with the country stated yesterday in a public events lecture in Memorial Gym.

Edgar Snow added, however, that "China isn't building up the country to start a war and have it blown up."

The reporter is the most recent one to have been allowed to travel in Red China and has written 10 books about the country since making his first trip there in 1928. Included in many interviews during his trips was one recently with Mao Tse-tung, the Red Chinese ruler.

China, whose civilization is older than that of Greece, is a country of many paradoxes, the speaker said in his well-attended talk. One of these paradoxes is that the country is one of the most stable civilizations in the world even though it has endured numerous revolutions.

But despite the great turnover in rulers, the country only started to progress under the communist regime, Snow continued. However, it still has many problems to solve.

Land Is Mountainous
Stating one of the problems, the speaker mentioned that some 700 million Chinese live in an area about 100,000 square miles larger than the United States, but that only 10 to 12 percent of the nation is under cultivation.

Approximately 65 percent of the mountainous country's land can't be cultivated, and 90 percent of the population lives in the eastern one-third of China. There is an average of three Chinese to an acre of land.

But he added that China could double its cropland. Irrigation is used to a great extent.

The speaker told of the forming in 1923 of the Chinese Communist Party and of its cooperation with the nationalists. But by 1927, when the nationalists had conquered most of China, the two factions began to quarrel. The more radical communists advocated government land and industry ownership, Snow said, but the nationalists had a more capitalistic viewpoint.

In an interview Snow had with Mao Tse-tung, the ruler admitted that China had a backward economy. But the journalist stated: "The Chinese people aren't backward, though."

He added that the Chinese leader predicted China would catch up with the United States economically within 50 years.

Despite its progress, China still has its problems, Snow said. One of these was the Red leaders' setting up of communes, an idea which proved to be too communistic for the Marxist form of socialism to which China adheres.

Peasants Lost Incentive
The belongings of the communes' citizens were collectivized to such an extreme that the more energetic peasants lost their incentive to work.

At the same time as the commune experiment, one of the worst disasters in China's modern history hit the country in the form of drought and crop failure, the speaker noted.

But Snow added that although the country is having agricultural trouble, China will have an atom bomb in 1963 and a plutonium bomb in 1966, thus making the nation a nuclear power, he said. However, he added, China doesn't intend to risk a war.

"We have failed to separate the history and people of China from Communism as a fact," the speaker pointed out in closing, adding that "the satisfying of China's needs is a good thing for the world."

"The containment of communism as far as its aggression toward the rest of the world is more effectively being done inside the party than outside," he concluded.

Smylie Is Trim But Not In Race

"Don't confuse me with John Fitzgerald Kennedy—even though I might be as lean," Gov. Robert E. Smylie jokingly commented when asked Wednesday if he were a serious candidate for president in 1964.

He was making reference to the recent suggestion by a Los Angeles political columnist that he would make a good GOP candidate for president.

Recently the Idaho governor has been undergoing an extensive physical workout everyday with a set of barbells. The reason? To bring his weight down to a trim 185 pounds—the so-called "college man's weight."

Gifts Presented To University

Gifts to the University of an historical silver service set, early-day Army uniform, cash and books have been formally accepted by the Board of Regents, President D. R. Theophilus has announced.

John R. Middleton, coach of the Vandal football team in 1907 and 1908, presented the University with a silver service given to him by his team. Middleton currently resides in Sebastian, Fla.

An Army uniform worn by her husband while attending military classes at the University in 1907 was given to the University by Mrs. A. B. McPherson, San Antonio, Texas.

E. J. Gowanlock, Spokane, presented the Library with a subscription to the Wiesenberg Investment Report for 1962. Eastern Star gave $125 for a training award for religious leadership to Dale Gentry, off campus.

Boise Cascade Corporation Foundation, Inc., presented $1,000 to the Department of Art and Architecture for work in architecture. First Security Foundation, Salt Lake City, presented $1,000 for two scholarships and $200 for the purchase of books by the College of Business Administration.

The controversies over Idaho's head football coach, Skip Stahley, and the University athletic situation in general, have been picked as the top Argonaut news stories of the semester.

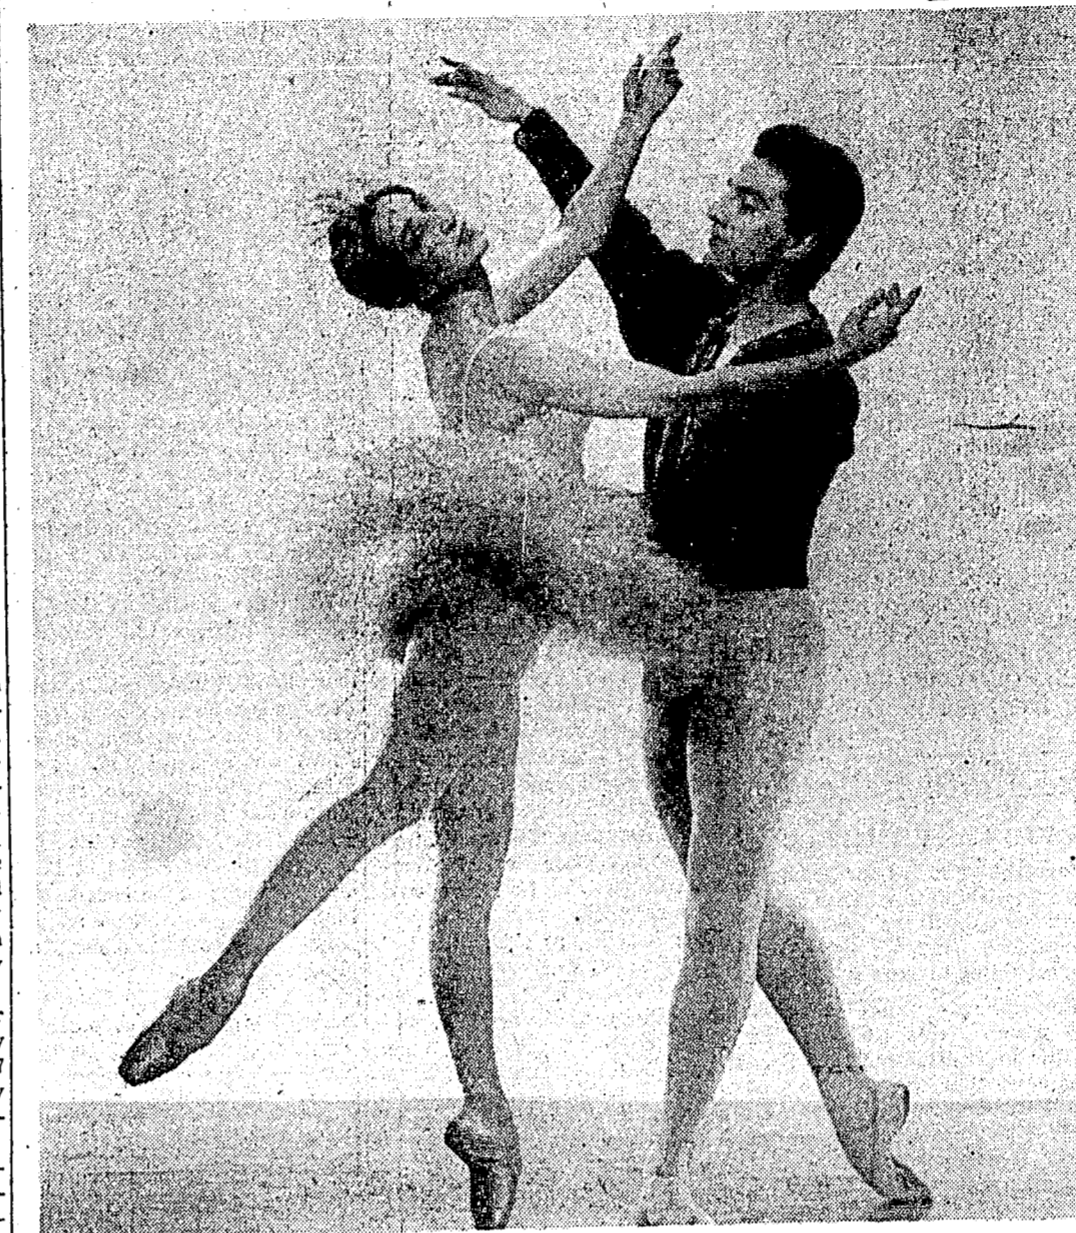

In a poll taken among Argonaut staff members to determine the Top Ten Stories of the Semester, Stahley's resignation was chosen as the number one story. Other aspects of the problem also rated high in the poll.

Student demonstrations against Stahley before and after the game with University of Pacific, and the barrage of comments by newsmen throughout the Northwest about Argonaut Sports Editor Herb Hollinger's stand on the athletic situation were placed fifth and sixth in the poll.

The University's record enrollment of 4,356 students was chosen for second place in the poll. Third and fourth places went to stories on the proposed Science Building and the opening and dedication of the Mines Building, respectively.

Campus politics apparently didn't create too much of a stir during

Noted Ballet Troupe Performs Here

BALLET RUSSE PERFORMERS . . . Guest Ballerina Nina Vyroubova and performer George Zoritch are caught by the cameraman as they present "Les Sylphides," one of the numbers to be given by the famous Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo in the Memorial Gymnasium Monday evening.

Only Northwest College Stop; Students Admitted Free

A classical ballerina on her first tour of the United States will dance the leading role Monday night for Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

The American ballet company showing starts at 8 p.m. and features four numbers, "Les Sylphides," "Pas de Trois Classique," "Sombrosos" and "Gaité Parisienne." Nina Vyroubova, guest ballerina from France, will be the featured dancer.

A capacity crowd of 5,000 is expected. The stage has been temporarily extended to provide adequate space for the dancing troupe. The show is sponsored by the Moscow Community Concert Assn. and the ASUI.

Miss Vyroubova is noted for her artistry and her leanings toward pure classicism, according to Prof. Glen L. Lockery, president of the Moscow Community Concert Assn. "The number 'Les Sylphides' is one of her specialties," Lockery said.

Miss Vyroubova studied ballet with her mother in Paris and later worked with ballerina Diaghilev Trefilova. She joined the Russe De Monte Carlo troupe last fall. Her debut was Dec. 24, 1961, in Chicago.

There are about 34 members in the troupe which each year visits more than 100 cities in the United States and Canada. According to Lockery as the program changes from town to town the featured dancer also rotates.

"This way each dancer does not have to dance every night," Lockery said. Also this is the reason why the company's prima ballerina, Nina Novak, has only a minor part in Monday night's showing, he added.

"Gaité Parisienne" is considered one of the most popular ballets of all time. Made up of various episodes in the course of an evening at the famous Cafe Tortoni in Paris of the Second Empire, an era of gaiety and merrymaking, this ballet captures the spirit of those carefree times.

"Pas de Trois Classique" is included in the troupe's repertoire as a perfect classical showpiece. "Sombrosos" is a ballet about a Mexican village and the gay romancing of its youth.

The fourth part of the program is considered one of the most famous of the "white" ballets. "Les Sylphides" has no story but is a poetic reverie befitting the charm of the Chopin music. It was composed in 1908 and was first presented a year later in Paris.

Conducted after Tracy and Griner had spent 20 minutes explaining why they were resigning and giving their opinions on the body in its present state.

Tracy said, "There is nothing for us to do; the cooperation from the Executive Board itself is poor and sometimes downright antagonistic." He went on to add that as it presently exists SRA is a "useless body and an unnecessary activity for its members."

A delegate who remained as part of the student committee said, "SRA will never exist again as it has. It will either change or be completely non-existent."

"Right now, according to the new constitution," Tracy said, "SRA doesn't have any more power than the average students."

There was a definite feeling that an organization such as SRA should exist as part of the student government machinery at Idaho.

Tracy said, "Until we find an Executive Board that will cooperate, the organization has a dim future. The things I consider important we're not supposed to talk about."

Ike Griner in giving his reasons for resigning said, "If the students want this they can do it but it's up to them; we're tired of beating our heads against the wall."

"Until we get power, we can't do anything," Tracy concluded. Tracy and Griner then left the group which turned to discussing the petition.

The ASUI constitution calls for a petition from 5 per cent of the members of the student body to call for an election to change the constitution.

Board Hears Protests About Dads' Day Date

The Executive Board held its last meeting of the semester Tuesday night and heard protests from 1961 Dads' Day chairman, Pat Kelly, about the tentative scheduling of the 1962 Dad's Day for September 29.

Miss Kelly denounced the tentative date after giving her official Dads' Day report to the board. The board also heard reports from Keith Huettig, New Students' Day Chairman, and board member Fred Decker, who presented a report on the ASUI budget appropriations for the Activities Advisor under the proposed combined ASUI-SUB Activities Council.

Miss Kelley told the board that it would be "completely impossible to have Dads' Day here on September 29."

She said that it was too close to the opening of the term, and few fathers would want to attend. She suggested that traditional Dads' Day activities might be postponed until the basketball season.

Board member Gary Michael, who is a member of the University Athletic Board of Control, pointed out that the September 29 game is with Idaho State College.

He said this has been a much-talked about contest over the state, and should attract many people for the weekend.

In her report, Miss Kelley also recommended that a poll be taken of living groups to determine whether or not the Barbershop Quartet contest should be continued. She suggested that the Professor's Seminar, which was initiated this year, be continued because of its "great success."

Construction of both structures will be started at the same time and will be completed sometime in 1963. They will be built in the northwest area of the campus, west of Shoup Hall.

The two identical buildings each will have room for 212 students and will be designed to house either men or women students. The decision as to which the dorms will house probably will be made after registration next fall and will depend on the number of each who enroll then, Dick said.

"At any time we can decide whether the dormitories will be used for men or women," he stated, adding that the enrollment of women students could rise as much next fall as it did this year.

Because of an unexpected upsurge in the number of women students enrolling last fall, McConnell Hall was converted from a men's to a women's dorm.

Say No Cooperation SRA Chairmen Resign; Attack Executive Board

Resigning Student Representative Assembly chairman Dave Tracy and vice chairman Ike Griner denounced the ASUI Executive Board Tuesday night as having "completely let us down."

SRA members then formed a student committee to draw up a petition for a constitutional amendment to give the body legislative powers.

A quorum was not present at the meeting so no official business was conducted after Tracy and Griner had spent 20 minutes explaining why they were resigning and giving their opinions on the body in its present state.

Tracy said, "There is nothing for us to do; the cooperation from the Executive Board itself is poor and sometimes downright antagonistic." He went on to add that as it presently exists SRA is a "useless body and an unnecessary activity for its members."

Hollinger Is Second Semester Editor; Next Arg February 6

Herb Hollinger, Argonaut Sports Editor, will assume the duties of editor-in-chief when the Argonaut goes to press next semester. The first issue will be published February 6.

Present editor, Sharon Lance, will step down to Associate Editor. Both Miss Lance and Hollinger were named to the editors' positions by the ASUI Communications Board last spring.

Hollinger said that no major changes will be made in the editorial policies of the paper. "The Argonaut will continue its efforts to bring to the students of Idaho the best possible news coverage. I hope that any student who feels that the student newspaper can be improved through constructive criticism will offer it to the staff, as this is what makes a newspaper effective," Hollinger commented. Larry Roby, present Argonaut Associate Editor, will take over the sports desk for the first nine weeks of the spring semester, and Jim Herndon, Managing Editor, will finish out the year on that desk.

Ann Spiker, Women's Editor; and Sherry McGuire, Assistant Copy Editor, have resigned, effective this issue. Those positions will be open for replacement, according to Hollinger.

Replacing Dell Kloepfer and Mike Anderson as Argonaut Advertising Managers will be Blake Thompson and Larry Willis.

Staff members retaining the same positions are Jim Metcalf, Political Editor; Neil Modie, News Editor; Barbara Stivers, Copy Editor; Bridget Beglan, House Editor; and the reporting staff.

SECURE PERMITS

Students now in residence may secure their permits to register for the second semester at the Registrar's Office starting next Friday.

Gov. Smylie Critical Of Wilderness Bill, Legalized Gambling

COFFEE WITH THE GOVERNOR . . . ASUI President Jim Mullen and ASUI Vice President Dick Stiles talk briefly with Governor Robert E. Smylie before the Meet-The-Press session, which was held in the Student Union Wednesday afternoon.

Idaho Governor Robert E. Smylie told a University of Idaho panel forum Wednesday that commitments to higher education in the state have "increased by 100 percent in my seven years as governor."

Gov. Smylie was on the campus for an hour-long meet-the-press type interview presented by the Student Union Forums committee. The five-member panel tossed questions at the governor ranging from the controversial Wilderness Bill to the proposal that Smylie will be a candidate for president in 1964.

About 100 students and faculty members attended the session. The panel was made up of Jim Mullen, ASUI president; Dick Stiles, ASUI vice-president; Sharon Lance, Argonaut editor; Carl Berry, publicity director; and Sharon Grossenbach, SUB program chairman. Dr. Boyd A. Martin, Dean of the College of Letters and Science, was the moderator.

Open Meetings
Commenting on open meetings before the interview, the Governor said: "I have always been in favor of open meetings." The question was asked in regard to a three-day meeting of the Idaho Board of Regents held here last weekend behind closed doors.

Smylie said, "The Board of Regents knows my feelings on this." He pointed out that there was nothing that could be done about it since the Board of Regents is a constitutional body.

In response to the proposal by Judd Baker, a Los Angeles newspaper columnist, that Smylie might be named a 1964 Republican candidate for president, the Governor jokingly replied:

"Nobody could be anything but flattered with the statement. Baker's comments are entirely speculative. There is nothing to be taken in the serious vein."

Wilderness Bill
The Wilderness Bill, which was passed by the U. S. Senate in September by a 78-8 margin under the support of Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho), drew criticism from the Governor.

The bill was "too hastily shanghaied through the Senate," Smylie remarked. He said a bill with this large of scope should be viewed on the impact it has over the entire economy. "A drugstore 3,000 miles away (Washington, D. C.) is too far to go to get a prescription for a sick community in Idaho," he commented about the Wilderness Bill.

He made a pessimistic conclusion about the Wilderness Bill when he stated that he was certain the House of Representatives would "subject Sen. Church's bill to many amendments — if it does reach the house floor."

Another point which has been a thorn in the side of the Governor — legalized gambling — raised this comment:

"I think it would be detrimental to the state, because it would bring to us the kind of people that are found in Las Vegas, Nevada."

Industrial Promotion
Governor Smylie said that industrial promotion cannot be done in Idaho with any manner of flamboyancy. He does think, however, that the "die-hard sentiment" against change is evaporating on the Idaho scene.

The audience was given a chance to ask the Governor questions after the panel had concluded its questioning.

Elections, Football Coach Among Featured Arg Editorials

By Jim Metcalf
Arg Political Editor

Subject matter for editorials during the last semester ranged from class elections, to the football coach to foreign students to Land Grant colleges.

The editorial rated as the most important by the Argonaut staff appeared on Jan. 12. The edit, called "Football: Sunrise or Sunset?" attracted attention from newspapers throughout the Northwest and received comments from students and administrators alike.

In the first issue of the 1961-62 term the Arg took a stand on the new grade-point requirement for extra-curricular activities favoring the raise.

With a new ASUI constitution in the offing an editorial was published urging the students to watch and listen before making up their minds. Undoubtedly, this issue will call for more comment before the year is over.

A note of humor in a realistic appraisal of the Spur Nickel Hop brought a few muffled protests from one editorial. In the next issue, however, attention was turned to more important matter such as Idaho's economic future and the crowded housing conditions at the University.

The controversial subject of foreign students was raised in the issue of Oct. 17. Reaction to the editorial came from the faculty as well as the student body.

Editorials giving the newspaper's views on the two party platforms drawn up by CUP and United highlighted the campus election.

The dissension between the independent and Greek living groups on campus, a perennial issue, prompted an editorial pointing out its ridiculous aspects.

The ramifications of the Land Grant College Act were commented on as its hundredth anniversary drew near.

Against Boise Game
A proposal to play Idaho State College in football at Boise was rejected by the Argonaut in an editorial Dec. 5.

The large number of queens selected each year on the campus was subject for editorial comment as Christmas vacation neared.

Follow-Up On Action
Last Tuesday a follow-up editorial on the football situation was published giving the Argonaut's opinions on the Board of Regents' decision.

Another editorial in that same issue discussed University requirements.

Along with these editorials The Golden Fleece, by Jason, has consistently presented analyses of campus problems.

Herb Hollinger, Argonaut Sports Editor, has contributed to the editorial policy of the Arg this year with his blunt column on the sports scene.

An effort was made throughout the semester to give to the students an interpretative feature presenting the facts concerning editorials on complex or controversial subjects.

'Exodus II' or Error I?

For 35 cents Idaho students can now purchase "The I", a literary magazine composed of poems and literary pieces written by University students and personnel.

In addition to the 26 pages of literature, however, there is one piece entitled "Exodus II," which has been labeled as an editorial. The first thing which strikes the reader about this editorial is the incongruity of its tone with the rest of the magazine.

It appears to the casual observer that the editorial is an attempt to be sensational and attract attention to the book. Could there have been some doubt by the editorial board that the book merited consideration on its literary compositions alone?

This writer was at most of the meetings held last spring when many of the facts for the editorial were gathered. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say when most of the opinion was gathered.

H. K. H. has apparently shuffled the opinions received, selected those that agreed with what he believed and then ignored the other findings of the group.

In the opinion of the Argonaut, the editorial has lowered the value of the magazine in which it is published.

It is understandable that the backers of the magazine will try to obtain ASUI Executive Board approval and appropriations for future ASUI-sponsored magazines of the same type. Their chances for success would have been much improved if they had stayed within the limits of a literary magazine. They should not have bothered with editorial stands on matters so far separated from the literary field.

Both The Same Board Of Education Becomes Regents When Helping U of I

By LARRY ROBY
Argonaut Associate Editor

The State Board of Education—the Idaho Board of Regents. They are all one and the same, but their problems are different.

The Idaho Board of Regents, the group's official title when deciding questions concerning the University of Idaho, concluded a three-day marathon session on the campus last weekend when they discussed the athletic situation here.

The five-member education group with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction being an ex-officio member, recently acquired a new member when Elvon Hampton, of Genesee, was named to replace Mrs. Marguerite Campbell, of New Meadows, who resigned.

The Regents, as old as the University itself, was created as the governing body of the school. Idaho Territorial Governor E. A. Stevenson approved the establishment of the University and Board of Regents on January 30, 1889. At that time the Regents numbered nine, but was later cut to five.

Originally the term of office for a Regent was two years, but was later extended to five years, with the four-year Regent member automatically being named the president of the board.

When not serving as the Idaho Board of Regents, the Idaho State Board of Education serves as the trustees of Idaho State College in Pocatello, the state board for vocational education, and the state board for rehabilitation. It also assumes administrative responsibilities for the state correctional school at St. Anthony and the Lewis Clark Normal School at Lewiston (a division of the University of Idaho). The board also administers the school for the deaf and blind at Gooding.

John J. Peacock, a Kellogg attorney, is the current president of the Board. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho College of Law in the 1930's, and has been on the Board since 1956.

Vice-president Claude V. Marcus, an attorney from Boise, has served on the board since 1959. He is also a graduate of the University of Idaho College of Law.

Ezra M. Hawkes, appointed to the Board in 1960 by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, is secretary. The Pocatello transportation businessman attended the present Idaho State College in the 1930's. Curtis Eaton, a graduate of Stanford University, has served on the board since 1957. He is a rancher and banker from Twin Falls.

Elvon Hampton, a Genesee farmer and businessman, is the most recent appointment to the board by the Idaho governor. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Delmer F. Engleking has been an ex-officio member of the board since his election in 1959.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

If you have devoted 27 issues of the Argonaut to criticizing the actions of the University administration, student leaders, and even members of the Argonaut, how do you tell these same people "Thank you" when it's all over?

How do you tell the University administration that you appreciate the fact that they have enough trust in the students to let them put out a newspaper with forthright editorial opinions and any handling of the news without even one attempt at censorship? How do you tell them that for student journalists to have the opportunity to build a newspaper from raw facts, and to learn from the mistakes they make along the way, is the best training any University could offer?

How do you tell these administrators that there is nothing which could make a student editor feel better than for someone to dig up information on a particular issue, and then spend two hours explaining the background without once trying to influence editorial opinion?

How do you tell a staff that has devoted more hours to the Argonaut than to studying or extra curricular activities that you appreciate the work they have done and the things you have learned from them?

As a rather personal debt, how do you tell a journalism instructor who is leaving the University at semester how valuable his training has been to you as editor? How do you tell this same instructor that you appreciate the support he has given you, other student journalists, and the Argonaut when they come under criticism from other segments of the University community? How do you tell him that future Argonaut editors won't be as fortunate as you, and you realize it?

How do you tell the whole University "Thank you" for the opportunity of being Jason 68—for the opportunity of not only serving the University, but of learning things about people and organizations which no text book contains, nor any professor could teach in 10 semesters' time?

Journalists, especially editors, should never be at a loss for words, but Jason is.

So, "Thank You."

—Sharon Lance.

Registration forms for graduate students wishing to register in the Graduate School are now available at the Graduate School office, according to Dean L. C. Cady.

Nat'l. Review Editor Refutes Edgar Snow

National Review magazine editor William F. Buckley, Jr., stated in a speech at Spokane Monday that Edgar Snow, public events speaker on the campus yesterday, was "mistaken in many of his views on Red China and that if he (Snow) wanted to be accepted as an authority on the subject, he should refute all statements he has made during the last 10 years."

Speaking before a crowd of 2,000, he added that Snow was an early spokesman for the misleading claim that the Chinese communists were really agrarian reformers and not communists. His comments were in response to a question from the audience.

The title of his speech, attended by 14 Idaho students, was "Is America Going Soft?" He was critical of what he called American pacifism.

Dear Jason Afraid Of Risking The 'Good Life'

Dear Jason:

There will come a day in the not too distant future when we, as a people, will not be able to look a foreigner in the eye and say, "I am an American."

When we were a young and vigorous nation, we were always ready to back up what we believed in, regardless of the consequences. We were young, dynamic and very proud of ourselves. When the battleship Maine was destroyed, we did not send investigating committees to determine the whys and wherefores, we sent troops to defend our national honor.

Today the word patriotism embarrasses us, and with good reason. Today any nation can commit almost any crime and atrocity against my country and feel secure against retribution.

Consider the case of an American GI in Vietnam. He was kidnapped by the Viet Cong and is now being exhibited like an animal to people not worthy of cleaning his good American boots. To think that a representative of a nation that has fought every major aggressor in the world must take that kind of abuse from thugs and bandits.

Cuba is another example. An ideology that states: "We will bury you," has fortified an island country just 90 miles from our shores. Russia has poured arms and equipment into Cuba. They dare us to try to stop them. What happened to the Cuban counterpart in Europe? What happened to Hungary? We encouraged them, we showed them our golden image of freedom. Radio Free Europe gave them the word and they accepted his word—they were absolutely crushed.

"Bad old Russians" we said and went out and invented the tranquilizer. Why? Very simple—we are so afraid of risking the "good life," namely the junk we have accumulated that we are afraid to stand up for what we used to believe in. Our national policy is Temporization, Rationalization, and Procrastination. This policy will destroy us. Not as a country, because wars destroy countries, but as a people, because by destroying our ideals and our self respect we will cease to exist as a people.

Debate Team Is Runner-Up In Contest

The University of Idaho debate team was runner-up in the annual Inland Empire debate team last weekend.

Gonzaga and the College of Idaho tied for first place. Gonzaga was the defending champion. Thirty-four teams representing 11 schools in Montana, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington participated.

Two-member teams argued the question, Resolved: That Labor Unions Should Be Under the Jurisdiction of Anti-Trust Legislation. The winning teams never met during the meet. A pair of girls topped the C. of I. club and two boys were Gonzaga's winning debaters. The tournament was open with no men or women divisions.

CCH Political Workshop Is Postponed

The Citizenship Clearing House Political Workshop has been postponed from Feb. 10 to March 10, because of a conflict with a similar workshop at the College of Idaho.

Dr. Boyd A. Martin, advisor of the organization, recently received an invitation to speak at a workshop at the C. of I. on "State Reorganization." Because of the absence of Dr. Martin and other top political leaders, the University's workshop has been re-scheduled.

Performances Booked Solid For Modern Play Excerpts

Seats for performances of excerpts from four plays presented by drama students were booked solid in advance for both last night and tonight, according to Miss Jean Collette, chairman of dramatics.

Although reservations were needed for admittance, there was no charge for viewing performances of the psychological excerpts from the modern plays.

The productions and their student directors are: "The Bad Seed," Donna Morgan, Gamma Phi; "The Shrike," Diane Pawson, Kappa; "The Mad Woman of Chailot," Pat Dunn, DG; and "Armenic and Old Lace," Bill Line, ATO.

Miss Collette also mentioned that 18 parts for men and six for women, plus extras, will have to be filled at tryouts for the Drama Department's main production of the year, "Volpone," or "The Fox."

The tryouts will be held between 9 a.m. and 12 noon tomorrow at the U-Hut, and the production will take place March 16-17 in Memorial Gym. The play was written during the Shakespearean period.

$525,000 Mines Building

THE NEW MINES building, completed last fall, cost over one-half million dollars. Funds for the building were obtained 50 per cent from the state legislature and the remainder from the Idaho mining industry.

Campus Bustles In Many Ways

The 1961 first semester was filled with the usual activities and unusual progress. The campus scored with a new mines building, promise of an addition to the Student Union Building, and a modern-looking Hello Walk. Queens, Homecoming, student government, and athletics led the parade of fall semester activities.

New Addition

CONSTRUCTION of the new Student Union Building addition was started last October. When finished, ASUI activities will move in the new wing while the old portion of the SUB is being revamped. The SUB will be twice its present size when the building is completed.

Sorority On The Move

A NEW HOME for the Alpha Chis was completed this fall on Nez Perce Drive. Moving into their former house were the Theta Chis, whose old home was torn down to make way for the new Student Union Building addition.

Women Take Over

IDAHO'S INCREASED enrollment made the housing situation more critical, especially where women students were concerned. McConnell Hall, formerly a men's dorm, was turned over to the women.

Old Landmark Leaving

PROGRESS calls for the tearing down of the Nest. The building will be torn down so that a new, safer approach to campus can be made. No immediate plans for destroying the Nest have been made yet, however.

New Record

NEW RECORD — University of Idaho enrollment jumped to 4,356 to set a new record. A new record enrollment is expected for second semester, also.

Campus Center

AREAS REMODELED — Even the Administration Building, first structure on the campus, underwent a modernization recently. Some of the improvements to the Ad. Building were a new roof, and redecoration of the President's, Academic Vice President's and Regent's office.

Sportlight On Last Leg; Writer Says Give Decision A Chance

Surely good news to some, this column will be discontinued with this issue. However, before the Sportlight is committed, I would like to comment on a couple of sports activities during the semester in which it was written.

It seems that when a writer feels that a certain situation needs scrutinizing and reorganization, he embarks on somewhat of a crusade. During the past football season just such a situation developed, at least in my mind.

Although there are many who criticized the Argonaut and this column for the way it was handled, it definitely was a problem or the Board of Regents would not have spent the amount of time on finding a solution as they did. The solution that was prompted by the Regents is, in my opinion, the best possible under the circumstances. I'm not saying that it will or won't work, but, nevertheless, the Regents went into the situation quite thoroughly and they heard all sides.

If Idaho wants to be represented by the best possible football situation it can have under the limited funds, then the students will have to back the Regents' decision and work to see that it is successful. And the most important method is to support the decision until it has been given a chance to prove itself.

Personally, I feel that Idaho will have one of its best football teams in history next year and with the continued interest in athletics by the people of the state that it will continue to be promoted in the way it was proposed by the Regents.

If anyone has had a chance to read an Oregon newspaper recently you can tell that sports writers in that state feel that Idaho has as good a chance against Oregon State as anybody they have played. Coach Joe Cipriano feels the same way. Oregon State has only lost one ballgame and that was at the start of the season.

Cipriano says that if our defense improves and the offense keeps its present trend, then Idaho could very easily win both games from the Beavers. Whatever the outcome it can be easily guaranteed that the two ballgames will be exciting and close. They certainly should be as well-played as the two last weekend.

There has been a lot of speculation as to how the Vandals will be able to stop the two big Cs of Oregon State. Mel Counts and Jay Carty are definitely big threats. Another unpublicized but talented Beaver is Terry Baker. Baker will be wearing number 24 in the game and is a junior guard. He is also an all-around athlete for the Beavers, playing first string on the Oregon State football squad.

If you can remember last year in Memorial Gym, Baker was one of their best cagers. He has that year for experience and, although overshadowed by Counts and Carty, he definitely will be one to watch Friday and Saturday.

The sports desks will be headed by two experienced and capable individuals next semester. Taking the first nine weeks will be Larry Roby and the remaining nine will be the job of former Sports Editor Jim Herndon. From all indications these two will have much to write about on the Idaho sports scene as it looks like a big year in all aspects.

Season's Toughest Weekend Faces Vandals

7-Foot Center, Leading Scorer In Idaho-Oregon State Tussle

Currently holding the best record in the Pacific Northwest at 11 wins and 1 loss, the Oregon State Beavers invade Memorial Gym tonight and tomorrow for contests with Idaho's Vandal cagers. Idaho's 13-game home-winning streak will be on the line.

A good reason for Oregon State's good record can be expressed in 7 foot sophomore center Mel Counts. The tall Oregonian is leading the Beavers in scoring with a near 21 point average. As if this isn't enough, the Beavers also have senior forward Jay Carty who is close behind Counts in scoring.

Only Loss

Oregon State's only loss came in a split with Montana State University in the first two ball games of the season. Since that loss the Beavers have piled up a 10 game winning streak. They defeated Washington State in two games at Pullman in December.

"Their record shows that they are the best team in the Northwest," was the reply of Vandal mentor Joe Cipriano when asked about the Beavers.

"Either Ken Maren or Reg Carolan will take Counts," said Cipriano. If Carolan takes Counts, then Maren will guard Carty.

Idaho will counterattack with power of its own with high-scoring junior guard Rich Porter, ASUI public relations director.

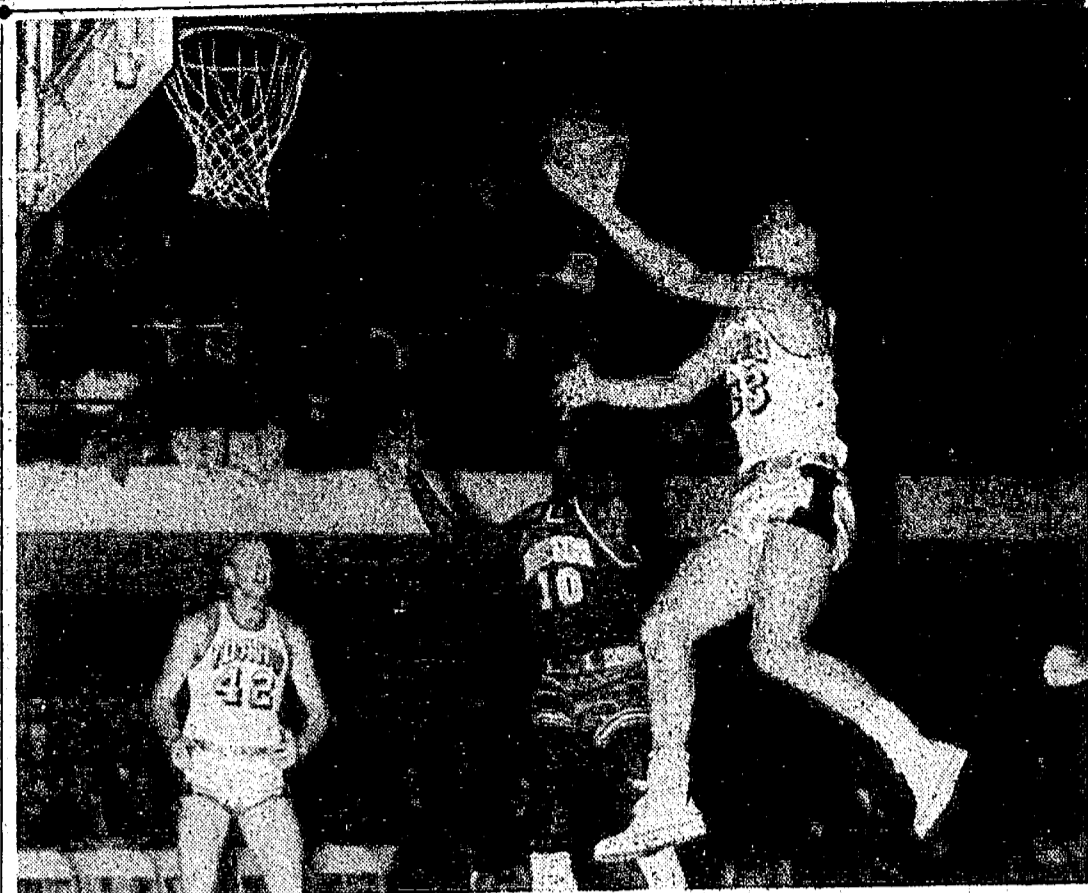

junior forward Chuck White, cager extraordinary, and Ken Maren who came alive in the Oregon series to lead the Vandal conquest.

These three plus senior guard dead-eye Gary Floan and defensive specialist Reg Carolan round out the starting five. This is the same five that started for Idaho in the Oregon series. Backing up this group are Jim Scheel, Tom Whitfield, and Lyle Parks who have seen considerable action in previous games.

Coach A. T. "Slats" Gill of Oregon State will start Counts, Carty, Terry Baker, Steve Pauly, and Gary Rossi.

Idaho's frosh will play games before both weekend contests with the Vandal Babes tackling Columbia Basin College Friday night and the Gonzaga freshmen Saturday night.

Special feature at the Saturday night game will be the Kellogg Elks Band. The Elks will furnish entertainment for fans during the evening, according to Carl Berry, ASUI public relations director.

DRIVING FOR TWO - Vandal Chuck White leaps high in the air and lofts the ball over the outstretched hands of John Mack. Rich Porter looks on. White was high man for the Vandals Saturday night with 26 while Porter's 28 points was high Friday night. The Vandals topped the Ducks twice.

I. Graduate Is Candidate For Coach

The first possible candidate for the position of head football coach at Idaho was cast in to the limelight Wednesday when a story in the Moscow Daily Idahonian reported a former Vandal griddier was interested in the job.

A. J. (Tony) Knap who played his college football for Idaho in 1936-37-38 said he was "definitely interested in the Idaho coaching post" according to Al F. Barackman, sports editor for the Moscow paper. Knap who is currently an assistant at Utah State University was All Pacific Coast end in those three years and won honorable mention All-America his senior year.

After graduating Knap coached at Bonners Ferry, Pollatch, and Lewiston before moving to California to coach. According to Barackman, Knap has had one losing season in 20 years of coaching. In seven years of high school mentoring in Idaho he compiled a record of 44 victories, 11 losses and 2 ties.

Knap is currently in a hospital bed at Logan, Utah, where he is recovering from a recent automobile accident. By his own admission he has always had the ambition of returning to the University as head football coach, said Barackman in his column.

He has been Utah State University No. 1 assistant the past three seasons.

Verne Leyde, and Chick Cutler, any one of whom can step right in and take over.

Coach Anderson admitted that this year's team doesn't have quite the finesse of last year's frosh squad, but he seems to think that game experience will overcome any deficiencies.

IM Bowling Is Wrapped Up; Managers To Meet Tuesday

Well fans, here they are. The results of intramural bowling, both past and present. Here are the results, taking them right off the top.

Jan. 9: Sigma Chi defeated Shoup Hall, three games to 1. Phi Gamma Delta took four from FarmHouse, and the Delta Chis defeated the Delta Sigs, 3-1.

High individual game went to Bill Allen, Delta Sig, with a 199. The Fijis swept the rest, including high team game, 765, high team series, 2212, and high individual series, Doug Cogilizer, 503.

Jan. 11: The Phi Dels defeated the Lambda Chis, 4-0. Willis Sweet took Lindley, 3-1. TMA took 4 from the Sigma Nus, and the Betas lost to Gault, 3-1.

High individual game, 205, and series, 547, went to Ron Fristo, TMA. Willis Sweet captured both high team game and series with an 840 and 2463, respectively.

Jan. 16: Upham took Chrisman, 3-1. The Phi Taus swept 4 from the Tekes. Campus Club took four from the ATO's, and the Dels, last year's champions, defeated Theta Chi, 4-0.

High individual series went to Jon MacArthur, Chrisman with a 518. Wayne Moody copped high game honors with an even 200 while leading Campus Club to high team game, 805, and high team series, 2360.

On the "A" basketball circuit, a tight race is looming in League I, where the Phi Dels knocked over the Tekes, 48-32. The Dels defeated LDS, 47-17.

The Fijis kept their win streak intact also with a forfeit win over Delta Chi. Sigma Chi also remained undefeated by downing the Phi Taus, 39-27.

In League II, the Kappa Sigs moved right up into the challengers circle as they handily put away the Betas, 43-37. The ATO's slowed considerably in defeating the Lambda Chis, 27-21.

The Sigma Nus won their second, by knocking off Theta Chi, 28-20. And the SAEs had little trouble in handing the Delta Sigs a 42-30 loss.

Willis Sweet has tucked away his second and third wins, by taking Upham 38-22, and TMA, 39-28. Campus Club beat TMA 27-21, but lost to Lindley Hall, 44-17.

Chrisman defeated Upham rather easily, 50-25, and rounding out League III play, it was Gault over Shoup, 40-37.

There will be an intramural managers meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 4:30 p.m., in room 109 of the Gym.

Booster Meeting At New Idaho

The board of directors and drive chairmen from various Idaho cities will attend a special Vandal Booster meeting in the New Idaho Hotel on Saturday afternoon at 2:30, state president Fred Lillege, Boise, said today.

Following the directors' session the Boosters will meet with members of "I" Club, Vandal lettermen's group, for a no host spaghetti feed, also at the hotel. The dinner is billed for 5:30. Boosters attending will be guests of the lettermen at the Idaho-Oregon State basketball game.

Varsity Swimmers To Meet Two Teams In Home Pool

Fresh from two very successful engagements last weekend, the varsity swim team hopes to do it again. Competing in their home pool for the first time this season, coach Clark Mitchell is bracing the Vandals for an invasion of the Eastern Washington Savages and the crew from the U. of Alberta.

Eastern Washington will hit the campus scene on Friday, while the Canadian squad comes to join battle Saturday.

Mitchell appears decidedly optimistic, expressing the opinion that "these will be close meets, and there will be some close races as well." The Friday meet will begin at 4 p.m. and the clash Saturday will start at 2 p.m.

Against the Savages, fans will get a chance to see two top men. Eastern has an outstanding diver in Clair McKie, who doubles also as a swimmer. One of the most versatile competitors the Vandals will face this year, McKie can be expected to be thrown into most of the events in which the Savages might be weak and hold his own. McKie was second in diving in the Evergreen Conference championships last year.

Good Run

In addition, you can be sure that the Vandals will keep a close eye on Savage distance man Lanie Wilman. Wilman can be expected to "give our boys a good run in the distance events," according to Mitchell.

Little is known about the Alberta squad. They will swim Friday over at Pullman, so they should not have any advantage over the Vandals condition-wise.

Mitchell will go with his eight man "Iron Men" squad against the two opponents. The Vandals will be led by co-captains Mike Free and Greg Malcolm.

Mitchell will have Free and Larry Peterson in the distance events,

Dan Cole in the butterfly, Malcolm in the breaststroke, Jim Cobble in the sprints, Dick Henry, who faces a big test against Eastern's McKie, in diving, Ken Steward in the backstroke, and Chuck Sowers in the freestyle.

The Vandal Babes will be at home for 2 games this weekend. Tonight they meet Columbia Basin J.C. This will be the first meeting of the two squads, and it should be a good one.

Columbia Basin has won one and lost one to BJC, has defeated Lewiston Normal, and has lost to the WSU Couababes, giving it a record almost comparable to the Frosh.

Saturday night the Gonzaga freshmen will move in to try for a win over the Babes. Game time for both games will be 6 p.m.

Probable starters for tonight will be Larry Rasmussen at center, Tom Moreland and Jim Halte as forwards, and Nelson Levias and Ed Tollefson as guards.

Rasmussen, who has seen action in only three games this season, has been steadily improving with each game, and is beginning to show his fine ability.

Moreland, Halte, Levias, and Tollefson are all mainstays of the squad, giving it height and good speed. The shortest man on the starting 5 is Levias at 6-3.

Don't, however, look for these 5 to play the entire game. Coach Wayne Anderson has a whole benchful of talent including Charlie Kozak, Terry Henson, Don Soward,

WSU Dunks Idaho Frosh

WSU's swim team, piling up points in every event, swamped the Idaho frosh squad in a meet held Tuesday at the Memorial Gym pool. The visiting Couababes racked up 68 points, while the Vandal Babes, who were able to win but two events, finished a distant second in the dual meet with a total of 28.

Coach Clark Mitchell had little to say about the loss. He felt the Christmas vacation could have hindered the team but quickly added "but that's no excuse. They outswam us, and we're going to really have to work harder for the next one."

The only real bright spots for the frosh squad were the two firsts, and a new record set by Carl Von Tagen. Dave Katsilometes got a first when he reeled off a 1:19.5 in the 100 yard breaststroke. Frosh captain Von Tagen swept to victory in the 100 yard freestyle with a clocking of 55:4.0.

Ironically, the husky finman shattered a frosh standard and still lost the race. Von Tagen swam the 200 yard individual medley relay in 2:26.7 breaking the old Vandal Babes record by 11.5 seconds, and six seconds lower than the current varsity mark.

The clocking was good enough for Idaho, but not for WSU, and he had to settle for second place.

The loss gives the frosh team a record of 0-2 for the season, the other defeat having been delt by the same WSU team. The frosh finmen have one more meet on the calendar.

Babes To Meet CBJC, Zags This Weekend

The Vandal Babes will be at home for 2 games this weekend. Tonight they meet Columbia Basin J.C. This will be the first meeting of the two squads, and it should be a good one.

Columbia Basin has won one and lost one to BJC, has defeated Lewiston Normal, and has lost to the WSU Couababes, giving it a record almost comparable to the Frosh.

Saturday night the Gonzaga freshmen will move in to try for a win over the Babes. Game time for both games will be 6 p.m.

Probable starters for tonight will be Larry Rasmussen at center, Tom Moreland and Jim Halte as forwards, and Nelson Levias and Ed Tollefson as guards.

Rasmussen, who has seen action in only three games this season, has been steadily improving with each game, and is beginning to show his fine ability.

Moreland, Halte, Levias, and Tollefson are all mainstays of the squad, giving it height and good speed. The shortest man on the starting 5 is Levias at 6-3.

Don't, however, look for these 5 to play the entire game. Coach Wayne Anderson has a whole benchful of talent including Charlie Kozak, Terry Henson, Don Soward,
