Rally Thursday For ISC Game

By LARRY ROBY
Argonaut News Editor

It's been ten years since a basketball battle between the University of Idaho and Idaho State College has been waged and Idaho students are going all out for the big one Friday night here in Memorial Gym.

The Vandal Rally committee, under the direction of chairman Fred Warren, Sigma Nu, is sponsoring a pep rally Thursday night in the Student Union Building in preparation for the long-awaited battle between the two sister institutions.

Federal Aid To Be Topic

The second of three Young Democrat-Young Republican debates will be aired Thursday night in SUB Conference Rooms A and B at 7:30.

Young Democrats Lynn Hosner and Seymour Kolman will argue that the United States should adopt a program of federal aid to education. Young Republicans, Miss Norma Alton and Arlen Marley will present opposing views. John Green, associate professor of education, will act as moderator. The debate is sponsored by the Young Democrats.

Vivian Dickamore, president of the Young Democrats opened the debate series by debating with Lon Woodbury, president of Young Republicans, on the Wilderness Bill last Thursday. A third debate, medical care for the aged, will be presented Feb. 21.

Miss Dickamore contended that the Wilderness Bill is needed to preserve wilderness lands for future generations, provide better management and to stop large business interests from exploiting the natural resources in these areas. Woodbury, agreed in principle with the bill, but listed four reasons for his objections to it. He said the area included in the present bill is too large, limitation was placed on multiple-use, especially mining, and that there is a "presidential veto" in managing the lands.

Miss Dickamore presented material that stated only about 14 million acres are included in the bill. However, Woodbury said his data indicated that there is nearly 65 million acres involved.

A discussion of the mining industry and the accessibility of the area to prospecting led to one of the most heated parts of the debate.

Miss Dickamore contended that a geo-chemical sample survey method advocated by one of the geology professors at the University of Idaho could be used to determine the whereabouts of important mineral deposits. However when questioned, Miss Dickamore refused to name the individual. Woodbury, quoting Roger McConnell, head geologist for Bunker Hill Mines in Kellogg, said that such a method was not feasible and that heavy equipment was needed in prospecting.

"The Wilderness Bill in its present form will hinder the Idaho mining industry," Woodbury said. Another key point of the debate centered around the so-called presidential veto. Miss Dickamore stressed that such a management plan was the best method to insure protection of such Wilderness Areas.

Important Point
"This is one of the most important points of the bill," she said.

Prof. Clifford Dobler, associate professor of political science, who moderated the debate, in summing up the argument, said that the so-called presidential veto was not new.

"This procedure started with President Hoover and has been used ever since where management problems arise," he commented.

The bill gives the President power to give certain groups, permission to enter and use the natural resources of certain portions of the lands.

CLAIMS DUE

Members of the University group health insurance plan are reminded that final claims for expenditures made during 1961 were due on January 31. If any 1961 claims have not been submitted, they should be sent immediately.

The last time the Bengals from Pocatello and the Vandals from Moscow tangled was in December, 1951, on the ISC court. The Vandals won the two-game series then. The series record between the two teams since 1946 shows the University with four victories and ISC with two.

Will Start At 6:30
According to Warren, the rally, which will be conducted on a house-competition basis will start at 6:30 p.m. A yelling contest, in both the men's and women's house divisions will be held. He said that some house leaders have indicated they will perform skits, rather than yell, but he noted that skits would also be accepted.

Living groups entered in the contest as of last night: Alpha Gam, Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi, Sigma Nu, Theta Chi, Phi Delta, Delta Sig, Tekes, Alpha Chi and Pi Phi. Warren said probably more entries will be received before the Thursday night contest.

Trophies will be awarded to the best yell or skit in both the men's and women's living groups.

Jim Lyle, alumni secretary; Mrs. Charmaine Fitzgerald, SUB program director; and Dr. William B. Hunter, Jr., professor of English and head of the department of humanities, will judge the contest. Judging will be based on originality, group participation and quality of the yell or skit.

Pep Band

The University pep band will provide the music for the rally. Word was received yesterday by ASUI President Jim Mullen that a 10 or 12-member delegation from Pocatello was coming to the Idaho campus Friday morning. It was not known yesterday whether or not the ISC cheerleaders would accompany their team to Moscow.

National Card Tournay Slated

The 13th annual National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament will be held on the Idaho campus February 25 in the SUB Dipper.

All University students are eligible to sign up by teams of couples in the ASUI office. The deadline for entries is 5:00 p.m., February 21.

The entry fee for the first 16 contestants is pre-paid by the Student Union Program Council. All other contestants must pay an entry fee of one dollar.

Directors
Janice Carlson, Alpha Gam, and Duff McKee, Fiji, will serve as tournament directors, aided by the SUB off campus programs committee. All play will be by mail and the hands will be judged by William Root, contract bridge authority.

Traveling trophies will be given the college participants winning the national titles—one cup for the high scoring teams, both East-West and North-South.

The four individual national winners will receive permanent trophies and campus winners will receive certificates.

Romances Given Day Tomorrow

In order to give credit where credit is due there has been established a Mother's Day, Father's Day, V-D Day, etc. In order to give lovers their day and Hallmark Cards, the Post Office, and contemporary card manufacturers some business, there will be a slight commutation to the art of romance tomorrow.

It's called Valentine's Day!

Pol. Sci. Profs Attend CCH Workshop

Dr. Boyd A. Martin, Dean of the College of Letters and Science, and Dr. Bernard Borning, of the political science department, led a delegation of five University of Idaho students to a political orientation meeting at the College of Idaho Friday and Saturday.

Citizenship Clearing House (CCH), a national non-partisan political organization, sponsored the political workshop. University of Idaho CCH delegates were: Bob McFarland, Upham; Judy Tracy, Alpha Phi; Tad Engman, Willis Sweet; Lynn Hosner, off campus, and Pat Muldoon, Phi Delta.

Dr. Martin laid the pattern for the meeting with his opening speech on "The Problems of Administration and Judicial Reorganization." This speech was followed by discussion and questions.

The Friday evening banquet featured three speakers representing the state departments of Washington, Oregon, and Idaho. They were Freeman Holmer, administration assistant to Gov. Mark Hatfield, Oregon; George Shipman, representing Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, Washington; and Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho.

A panel on State-Judicial Reorganization was featured at the Saturday Morning session. Panel members included State Supreme Court Justice Henry F. McQuade, and Canyon County Justice of the Peace R. H. (Bill) Young.

Dr. Martin stated that he and all students who attended felt that the meeting was very worthwhile, for not only did they hear interesting speeches, but were able to meet nearly every present candidate for governor of Idaho.

Frosh Blanks Due Feb. 19

Applications for the Frosh Week committees should be filled out and returned to the box in the lobby of the SUB by Feb. 19, according to Steve Meyer, freshman class president.

Second Semester Enrollment Record Is Established At 4,146

Twenty-five more students have registered at the University since last Friday to boost the record second-semester total to 4,146.

This is 290 more students than the second semester total last year of 3,856. That was a new record also. University Registrar D. P. DuSault, said that possibly five or six more students will probably register.

Last year's second-semester figure was surpassed during regular registration procedures when approximately 4,000 students passed through Memorial Gymnasium registration lines Feb. 5 and 6.

Normally registration drops five or six per cent from first to second semester. This year's second-semester enrollment is above last year's first-semester enrollment of 4,001. An all-time enrollment figure was set last fall when 4,351 students enrolled at the University.

The second-semester enrollment has increased by almost 500 students in the last two years.

Late registration will probably continue until Feb. 27 which is the last day for adding courses for credit.

Instruction To Be Given On Library

Specialized instruction in the use of library resources for graduate students and upper classmen is now available at the University library according to Richard Beck, assistant librarian.

Subject specialists will give the lectures in the library with strong emphasis to be placed upon techniques of bibliographic searching. Instructors may make arrangements for their classes by contacting the appropriate subject librarian.

Japanese Grad Student Believes Youth Of His Country Lack Spiritual Background; Is Communist Threat

Lack of a spiritual background among the majority of Japanese youth of today is a factor that adds to the communist threat to the Land of the Rising Sun.

Morio Yokoyama, a University of Idaho graduate student in political science who recently arrived in America, is quick to point out that Japan has the fastest growth rate of any nation in the world today—but also many problems.

Red Charged Decision Series Begins Today

'Eros' To Cover Subject of Love

On the newsstands in March will be the world's most expensive magazine—devoted to the subject of love!

The magazine, EROS, will be devoted to "the joy of love" and will cost $10 per copy. Among the articles to be published will be:
"A photographic essay on love in the New York subway, a collection of advertisements for manhood restoratives from late 19th Century American newspapers, a schematic drawing for a male chastity belt once approved by the U.S. Patent Office, a financial review of the contraceptive industry, one of America's least-known-about businesses."

Defenbach Announces Candidacy

James A. Defenbach, assistant professor of accounting at the University, has filed his name for nomination as state auditor on the Republican ticket.

He is the first Republican to announce his candidacy for the office. Incumbent, Joe R. Williams, a Democrat, announced his candidacy earlier.

Defenbach has been on the University faculty for four years. On announcing his candidacy, he said, "It is an accountant's job. The people are entitled to a professionally qualified man as state auditor, and I will bring to that position the professional educational qualifications and the experience of an administrator gained in private business operations."

He is a certified public accountant and worked with the Federal Internal Revenue Service and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at Seattle before coming to Idaho.

Need GOP Governor
Commenting further, he said, "I am convinced that we will have a Republican governor for the next four years and he should have in the statehouse other state elective officials who can work in harmony for the best interests of the state."

The 36-year-old professor is the son of the late Byron Defenbach, the Republican nominee for governor in 1932 and author of several books on Idaho including "The State We Live In," and "Idaho," the latter in three volumes, all published in 1933.

The nominee received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Idaho.

SDX POSTPONED
The Sigma Delta Chi meeting scheduled for tomorrow evening has been postponed.

The Great Decisions discussions programs that two Grangeville civil groups have accused of having "pro-communist leanings," will be started on the University of Idaho campus this week.

The Borah Foundation sponsors the Great Decisions programs. The discussion series consists of eight discussions on decisions in foreign policy facing the United States. The material is prepared by the Foreign Policy Assn. of New York City.

Clinton Grimes, executive secretary of the Borah Foundation, said that Stahley Thomas, director of the Campus Christian Center, will hold a discussion group Tuesday nights in his home at 1225 East 7th. Another group will be headed by Gordon Powers and will consist of an eight-man panel.

Grimes said that Thomas would pick up anyone that was interested in attending his group at the Campus Christian Center. Thomas' discussion program starts at 8 tonight with the second topic on Brazil.

Also Grimes said KWSC, the Washington State University radio station, broadcasts National Education Broadcasting tapes of the series at 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Not Surprised
Grimes said that he was not surprised when the Great Decisions program was criticized. The Grangeville American Legion Post and Grangeville Junior Chamber of Commerce came out against the program's material last Thursday.

"We always have some extremists attack the program every year," Grimes said. "The Borah Foundation has sponsored the Great Decisions discussions for the last four years. Last year, according to Grimes, the criticism was made by individuals and not by groups."

Robert Hansen, commander of the Grangeville Legion post, said the post went on record opposing the program after reading material submitted by the Legion unit in Atlanta, Ga. Hansen said the material listed the program as "insidious and subversive" and said for years the Great Decisions program "has been an unending stream of propaganda, calculated to strengthen the position of the Soviet Union."

Brainwash
The Jaycees expressed their opposition to the program in a letter to the Idaho Free Press, the Grangeville newspaper. The Jaycees, who Hansen said took their material from the same source the Legion used, said the "do it yourself" program of foreign policy is being used to brainwash the American people on a national scale. If allowed to be successfully completed the participants would accept Soviet advancement over the world."

Grimes said that the charges made by the Grangeville group were not true. The material on which they based their opinion is very slanted, Grimes commented. According to Grimes each Great Decisions program is researched by members of the University political science department before the Borah Committee will agree to it.

United Picks Candidates In Primary Today

United Party will select its candidates for ASUI President and Vice-President today in a primary election at noon.

Four men are running for the two top spots: Bill Bowers, SAE, Skip French, Phi Delta; Fred Warren, Sigma Nu, and Gary Carlson, Beta.

All of the candidates have been relatively active on campus the last three years. Bowers is now Duke (president) of the Intercollegiate Knights and has served on committees for class projects. He is a junior from Wantagh, New York, majoring in chemical engineering.

French IK Officer

Skip French, is also an IK officer and is an officer in the Interfraternity Council. He has been active in student union work, and is now a student director on the SUB Program Council. He is a business major from Idaho Falls.

Fred Warren is currently treasurer of United Caucus and is chairman of the Vandal Rally Committee. He is a science major from Lewiston.

Gary Carlson is now serving as junior class president and is also president of IFC, and is an IK officer also. Carlson has also served on various ASUI and SUB committees. He is a science major from Boise.

The two candidates not elected today will automatically be placed on the United Executive Board primary ballot. That caucus election will be Thursday.

Lewiston Hill Claims Auto; But Not Life

Gary Fay, 18, Theta Chi, escaped serious injury Monday morning when his car overturned and rolled 200 feet down a bluff on the Lewiston Hill.

The bluff down which Fay slid was described as "just about as steep as they come" and the car slid all the way to the bottom. It came to rest on its wheels and side in a ditch.

The accident was witnessed by three other University students, Marlin Brinkley, Herman Micolet and Manshiro Yuld.

Fay was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston, treated and released the same evening.

Fay's 1956 Ford sedan was damaged beyond repair. Nez Perce County Deputy Sheriff George Minden said that the accident occurred about 3:15 a.m., after Fay had driven some University students home. There was a possibility that he might have dozed off momentarily, Minden said.

Idaho Grad Gains Position

A 1940 graduate of the University of Idaho from Nampa, Dr. Wallace B. Peffley, has been appointed professor of music education at Georgia Southern college, it was learned recently.

A native of Idaho, Dr. Peffley holds degrees from the University of Idaho and Columbia University Teachers College. His master's and doctorate degrees were earned at Columbia.

Dr. Peffley has taught in public schools in Idaho and colleges in Florida, Texas, Washington and Nebraska.

DISPLAY IN SUB LOBBY
Senior architecture thesis problems are now on display in the Student Union Building lobby. The drawings and floor plans depict hospitals and bath houses.

Japanese Grad Student Believes Youth Of His Country Lack Spiritual Background; Is Communist Threat

Lack of a spiritual background among the majority of Japanese youth of today is a factor that adds to the communist threat to the Land of the Rising Sun.

Morio Yokoyama, a University of Idaho graduate student in political science who recently arrived in America, is quick to point out that Japan has the fastest growth rate of any nation in the world today—but also many problems.

"All over the world American democracy is in danger. There should be more educational propaganda about democracy. Democracy has more good points than communism, but the communists are doing a better selling job with many magazines and other things telling about communism."

He added that more care should be exercised regarding the culture and history of a country when democracy is introduced. Many times the people are not ready for it. They are given the machinery and told you must do things this way or that but they don't understand why. With such a meager foundation, democracy cannot last in any country, he said.

"It is very easy to explain communism so that the people can understand it in theory. Democracy is much more difficult to explain," he said.

He is in this country to learn more about Americans and our ways of doing business to prepare for work in foreign trade when he returns to Japan.

The Japanese student was somewhat apprehensive about coming to the U.S. English editions of Japanese newspapers often carry flattering pictures of Americans, while those printed in the Japanese language frequently do the opposite.

Yokoyama grinned when asked if his image of Americans was an overstuffed couple often seen in his country—the man smoking a big black cigar and loudly voicing displeasure at everything while flashing a hog-choking bankroll, and the woman wearing too-tight clothing and too much perfume.

Wolf! Wolf!

The old cry "Wolf! Wolf!" was heard in Grangeville last Thursday.

The Grangeville American Legion post and the Grangeville Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record as opposing the Great Decisions discussion program, sponsored by the Borah Foundation, because they said the material used in the discussion had "pro-Communist leanings." Great Decisions is a series of eight discussions on foreign policy decisions facing the United States.

A close look at the material used in the Great Decisions discussions reveals that the Grangeville civic groups were hasty in making their charges.

The Grangeville groups took their material from one booklet. This pamphlet, called "The Truth About the Foreign Policy Assn.," is put out by a legion post in Atlanta, Ga. The Foreign Policy Assn. prepared the materials in the booklet, the Legion went on record as opposing the Great Decisions program. The Jaycees indicated their opposition in a letter to the Idaho Free Press, the Grangeville newspaper.

The Legion said that the material used in the program is "insidious and subversive." The Jaycee letter said "the do-it-yourself program in foreign policy is being used to brainwash the American people on a national scale. If allowed to be successfully completed, the participants would accept Soviet advancement over the world."

The pamphlet charges some of the writers of supplemental readings, listed by the program, of "having long established connections with groups cited by government agencies as subversives."

The Grangeville groups conclude that the Great Decisions program is therefore pro-Communist.

True, these charges can be substantiated by the booklet put out by the Atlanta Legion group.

But the Grangeville people did not examine further. They did not take in account that the Borah Foundation has the Great Decisions material researched before the Foundation agrees to sponsor the discussions.

The Grangeville Wolf criers must not have known of the investigation that the national American Legion conducted at their national convention in Denver this last year.

The results of these investigations showed nothing pro-Communist about the materials. While the American Legion did not agree entirely with the materials that were presented, they thought the material was fairly objective and that there was no cause for a "pro-Communist" charge.

Investigation shows that the Atlanta group took their material from publications of the Foreign Policy Committee. But the Atlanta group did not take all of the material, only what it wanted. According to Clinton Grimes, Borah Committee executive secretary, the Atlanta Legion post took only the pro-Communist matter, and did not mention the strongly slanted American article that was on the opposite page.

The Foreign Policy Assn. balanced the pro-red with the pro-American, but the Atlanta group did not.

They failed to list such authors as Pres. John Kennedy, Richard Nixon, and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The Grangeville American Legion and Jaycees, instead of making a hasty accusation, should do what the Grangeville High School and the Grangeville Community Church are doing—getting the Great Decisions discussions program and holding discussion groups to study the material.

Controversy Arises Over Red Speaker

By JIM METCALF
Argonaut Political Editor

A man named Gus Hall has stirred up controversy all over the Northwest in recent weeks as he has put administrative officials of colleges and universities in Washington and Oregon on the spot by asking permission to speak to the student body.

Hall, the former general secretary of the United States Communist Party, and an admitted pro-Communist has approached colleges in both Washington and Oregon in attempts to gain permission to speak. The reverberations from the administrative action has filled the front and editorial pages of college newspapers of the University of Oregon, the University of Washington and other colleges.

There have been denials by university administrators, notably the University of Washington, on the grounds that he is a Communist speaker and an alleged lawbreaker.

(Hall has been accused of violation of the McCarran Act.) With cries of "loss of academic freedom," and "violation of the freedom of speech" the students have responded. At the University of Washington arrangements were made for Hall to speak at the YM-YWCA hall in Seattle after he had been refused permission to speak on the campus by the administration. The editorial pages of the University of Washington Daily were filled with letters to the editor for three days running.

Paper Criticizes

The student paper criticized the action in an editorial which said in part, "The University's decision in the Gus Hall affair would seem to stem, in part, from the belief that students might be corrupted by hearing Hall's political views. In other words, all these students, ranging in age from their late teens to their late twenties, are incapable of judgment. If this is true, then we submit that there is a great weakness in our educational system. If this is true, then the university is failing to do its job. So what are we doing here?"

In an article in last Friday's paper the U of W student body president Cam Hall said, "It is most unfortunate that the University of Washington administration has seen fit to deny the students on this campus a chance to hear the free discussion of ideas, regardless of how repugnant those ideas may be."

"The University has, I feel, harmed its reputation as a growing institution of academic excellence, for without the free discussion of all ideas, a university becomes nothing but a sham."

The situation was a little different at the University of Oregon where Hall was given permission to speak to the student body. The university President Arthur S. Flemming, gave his permission after consulting with faculty and student leaders. Hall's speech is being sponsored by the Young Democrats and the Student Union Forum Committee.

The decision came after Oregon Governor Mark Hatfield had expressed his disapproval of Hall's speaking. The governor's statement said in part, "I do not feel it is a question of free speech to deny a tax-supported platform to one who advocates the overthrow of our government." He added, "College time is too valuable to waste on a man of his ilk."

The school paper, "The Daily Emerald," responded, saying, "Our time is not so valuable that we cannot use a little of it to get an education. It is generally acknowledged that communism is seeking to overrun the United States. If we are to combat communism, we should have a clear conception of just what we are up against. Right now Gus Hall looks like just the man to tell us."

Hall is scheduled to speak at several other Oregon colleges also.

Hall spoke yesterday at Oregon and Saturday in Seattle. The Argonaut has not received the papers giving the reaction to his speech yet. But the controversy rages still as the anti-Communists who believe anything Hall has to say will be detrimental to a college audience fight those who advocate the principles of freedom of expression.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

Friday evening starts what promises to be one of the most vivid rivalries in which the University has ever been a part. The Vandals take on the Idaho State College Bengals in basketball Friday in Memorial Gym. This could overshadow even the WSU-Idaho rivalry.

Possible far-reaching effects of this athletic battle between the two schools and other athletic contests are hard to define. However, the need to tie the schools together has been long a pressing problem. Even though this is just a start, and in athletics, it might possibly be the beginning of a variety of relations with our sister institution to the south.

Certainly the geographical arrangement of the state of Idaho has hampered communication, transportation, etc. This odd situation where a state is divided north and south instead of east and west has created several restrictions on the cultural and educational exchange of ideas, to name two.

Whereas other states with state colleges and state universities there is substantial relations among them, in Idaho there is very little. If there is a good place to start, then increasing relations between the two state institutions is probably the best.

Even though Idaho State has a long way to go to communicate on the same level as the University, the athletic competition might stimulate enough interest to schedule other events between the schools besides athletics. Admitting that this is a hopeful conclusion, eventually the citizens of our state who reside in the southern reaches will take more interest in what happens in Moscow.

This has been a sore point with this Jason for a long time since being a resident of that part of the state it has been especially noticeable to me.

Whatever the consequences, the basketball game Friday night will be the first physical contact between the two schools in a long time. It could prove interesting and if the sophisticated institution (University) should prevail over the inferior element (College) more than a few natives to the south will know we are still here.

THE TRUE AND TRAGICAL TALE OF HAPPY JACK SIGAFOOS

Who would have thought that Happy Jack Sigafos, the boy the sky never rained on, would teeter on the edge of a life of crime? Certainly there was no sign of it in his boyhood. His home life was tranquil and uplifting. His mother was a nice fat lady who hummed a lot and gave baskets to the poor. His father was a respected citizen who could imitate more than 400 bird calls and once saved an elderly widow from drowning in his good suit. (That is, Mr. Sigafos was in his good suit; the elderly widow was in swimming trunks.) Happy Jack's life was nothing short of idyllic—till he went off to college.

Here Happy Jack quickly became a typical freshman—tweedy, seedy, and needy. He learned the joys of rounding out his personality, and he learned the cost. His allowance vanished like dew before the morning sun. There were times, it grieves me to report, when he didn't even have enough money for a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes—and you know how miserable that can be! To be deprived of Marlboro's matchless flavor, its easy-drawing filter, its subtly blended tastiness, its refreshing mildness, its ineffable excellence, its soft pack or flip-top box—why, it is a prospect to break the heart in twain!

Marlboro-less and miserable, Happy Jack tried to get more money from home. He wrote long, impassioned letters, pointing out that the modern, large-capacity girl simply could not be courted on his meager allowance. But all Jack got back from home were tiresome homilies about thrift and prudence. Then one dark day a sinister sophomore came up to Jack and said, "For one dollar I will sell you a list of fendishly clever lies to tell your father when you need some extra money."

He gave Jack the list of fendishly clever lies. Jack read:

1. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a new house for the Dean of Men.
2. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a headstone for Rover, our late beloved dormitory watchdog.
3. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to endow a chair of Etruscan Art.
4. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to build our own particle accelerator.

For a moment poor Jack was tempted; surely his father could not but support all these laudable causes. Then Jack's good upbringing came to the fore. He turned to the sinister sophomore and said, "No, thank you. I could not deceive my aged parent so. And as for you, sir, I can only say—fie!"

Upon hearing this the sinister sophomore broke into a huge grin. He whipped off his black hat and pasty face—and who do you think it was? None other than Mr. Sigafos, Happy Jack's father, that's who!

"Good lad!" cried Mr. Sigafos. "You have passed your test brilliantly." With that he gave Happy Jack a half million dollars in small bills and a red convertible containing power steering and four noble maids.

Dear Jason

people called Koreans. They are a poor, but very courageous people. They wanted Freedom and some "Representatives" of my country helped them to achieve it.

I was part of a detail that was clearing a safe lane through an old minefield in the Korean DMZ. We found a bleached rib cage, an old combat boot full of bones, and a dog tag. A marine named Stevens died there. He didn't die on his own ground for a common-shared idea.

About the "Representative" that was captured by the Viet Cong and who rated only a passing comment in "Time" magazine—perhaps you wondered for a moment why I should be concerned about that poor G.I. I have never met. The reason, Mr. Seetharam, is that this "Representative" could just as well have been me. It stuns me that he was rated only as a passing bit of news.

Do you think that he wanted to be torn from his family and sent to some remote corner of the world to die? Can you conceive a man wanting to be exhibited like an animal? Do you think that he wants to live in fear that his next breath may be his last? No, friend Seetharam, even you must concede that no one would want that.

There is another motivating force. I will try, with my limited command of the English language, to make this force clear to you. These "Representatives" are an extension of an ideal . . . an ideal whose epitaph is written in the blood of its people in almost every nation on this earth. It is an ideal which enables me to criticize my government and permits you to criticize both of us.

At the end of the Second World War, America was the most powerful force on the face of the earth. She commanded weapons that, at that time, were absolutely irresistible. America could have imposed her will on any nation that opposed her. America did not do this, Mr. Seetharam. We waved blank checks

Walker Replies To Seetharam

Dear Jason:

Never write in anger, but if you must—then sleep on it for a while. This is good advice, Mr. Seetharam. If you want to cut someone down, then take your time, and do a good job.

I would like to clear up a few points and try to explain to you why your denouncement (Arg. Feb. 6) of me and my ideas was unwarranted.

I was not slandering the Vietnamese people. I just don't like the Communist line. Regardless of race, creed or color, a Red is a Red and a threat to me and mine.

I have been behind that mirror you speak of, old friend. I have seen the misery and poverty that you accuse me of being innocent of. There is a country called Korea, Mr. Seetharam. Perhaps you have heard of it. It is inhabited by

Valentine Day Activities Dominate Social Calendar

By BRIDGET BEGLAN Argonaut Women's Editor

Election, accompanied by Valentine firesides at campus living groups, kept Idaho students busy this week. Hays Hall took some free time for a toboggan exchange with Farmhouse before the onslaught of spring academic activities takes over.

NEW OFFICERS TAKE OVER

Elections were recently held at the Alpha Gam house. Elected were: president, Norma Tipton; first vice president, Kitty Danzieser; second vice president, Isabel Woods; treasurer, Judy Alldredge; corresponding secretary, Linda Uglem; recording secretary, Marie Trail; social chairman, Janice Carlson; Panhellenic delegate, Linda Lewin; house president, Shelley Parcher; rush chairman, Mary VeNard; membership chairman, Beryle Bevan; activities chairman, Claudia Eide; Altristic chairman, Joan Miller; scribe, JoAnn Cowden; editor, Cheryl Taylor; and chaplain, Anne Frazier.

DELTS UNDER NEW CONTROL

Returning to Moscow from semester break, the Delts found the new house officers in control. Buck Petersen, a transfer student from ISC, has been a houseguest during the past week. Jay Branscum, Caldwell, was a guest at Wednesday dinner.

FRENCH ELECTS

As second semester begins, JoAnne Sanborn replaces Pat Stanger as president of French House. Other officers are: vice president, JoAnne Calvert; secretary, Donna Harmon; social chairman, Barbara Buck; asst. social chairman, Sally Evans; and historian, Myrna Stanger. Other officers include treasurer, Carmon Witterman; scholarship chairman, Joyce Staley; song leader, Janice Harding; culture chairman, Peggy Roper; and reporter, Claudine Becker. Representatives to the various campus organizations include CUP, Gayle Kramer; WRA, Janet Orr; freshman WRA, Charlene Harrison; and RHC, Kay Ranta. ATO'S TAKE PLEDGES New pledges at the ATO house are Don Eagan, BJC transfer; and Pat Kahlor, formerly of Wilks Sweet.

Returning to finish out the year is John Fox, who has been studying at the University of Hawaii. Tom Kassida from Fort Lewis, Washington, was a guest for several days last week.

HAYS-FARMHOUSE EXCHANGE

At a recent Hays Hall-Farmhouse exchange, the toboggans were taken from storage and put to use. Tiredness, wet clothes, and a few casualties didn't interrupt the fun.

Recent dinner guests at Hays were Mr. and Mrs. Malkat Singh Smag. Mr. Smag is a graduate student from India who is studying geology.

A dancing exchange was held with Lindley Hall at Hays Thursday evening.

BETAS TO HOST VISITOR

Dr. Seth R. Brooks, Washington, D.C., national president of Beta Theta Pi, will visit here Feb. 21. He will then go to Vancouver, B.C., for the annual Northwest Beta Songfest and Conclave, Feb. 23-24.

Recent dinner guests at the Beta house include Lt. and Mrs. Norm Howse; 2nd Lt. Don Modie, Jr., and Chris Hauff, Alpha Phi. Howse is a 1960 Idaho graduate, is on leave from the Navy and will soon serve in Japan. Modie, a 1961 graduate, was recently graduated from Air Force Officer training School at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

ALPHA CHIS HAVE FIRESIDE

Fireside at the Alpha Chi house was held Sunday night in honor of Geri Lee Gregg and Nancy Freeson, a new pledge from Inglewood, California.

VALENTIN'S DAY OBSERVED Alpha Phi's celebrated Cupid's holiday with a Valentine fireside on Sunday.

A pledge exchange was held with the Delta pledges this week.

DELTA SIGS PLEDGE TWO New pledges at the Delta Sig house are Jim Wecker from Nampa and Frank Peck from Meila.

The annual sweetheart dinner and fireside were held last Sunday. Pinnates of brothers who were guests at dinner included Kathleen Sweeney, McConnell; Judy Powers, McConnell; Carol Rau, Hays, and Jody Wiegand, Tri-Delta.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Prichard and Charles Bartell were faculty guests at the fireside Sunday night. Alum Bob Stevenson dropped into the chapter house Sunday afternoon.

250 Couples Attend Foresters' Ball Friday; Woolwine Wins Foresterette Scholarship

Approximately 250 couples attended the annual Foresters' Ball held in the Student Union Ballroom Friday night, according to chairman T. J. France.

France said this was a few more than attended the dance last year, and commented that the event was "very successful," because of the cooperation of the sponsoring Associated Foresters.

He pointed out that the gambling casino, which was used for the first time this year, was especially popular. The chairman jokingly added that Dean Ernest Wohletz of the College of Forestry even "broke the bank at one table."

Wins Scholarship Phil Woolwine, senior forestry major, was awarded the Foresterette's scholarship of $50 during intermission. The Foresterette's, an organization composed of wives of forestry majors, annually awards the scholarship on the basis of need, grade point, participation in activities, and wife's participation in activities.

The Foresterettes presented a variety show as intermission entertainment. The group presented several dance steps, including a "Little People" number for which sacks covered the dancers' heads. Master of ceremonies was Bob Greene.

Twelve Idaho Coeds Picked To Serve On Fashion Board

Twelve University of Idaho coeds have been appointed to the Mademoiselle Magazine's College Board and will compete for one of the 20 Guest Editorships for four weeks next summer.

Those appointed to the board are Judy Conklin, Deanna Duffy, Bonnie McKay, Janet Sprenger and Eleanor Unzicker, juniors; Elaine Grafious, Julia Hogg, RexAnn Lancaster, Connie Largent, Carol Lou Thornock and Georgia Tiffany, sophomores; and Wendy Henson, freshman.

The Idaho coeds among 805 students at 335 colleges across the nation who will report to Mademoiselle this year on the college scene.

As a College Board member, each girl will complete an assignment that will show her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion, advertising or art, in competition for the twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded by the magazine at the end of May.

The winning Guest Editors will be brought to New York for four weeks next June to help edit, write and illustrate Mademoiselle's 1962 August College issue. They will receive travel expenses and a salary.

While they are in New York, the Guest Editors will interview outstanding men and women in their career fields to help clarify their career aims. They will also visit fashion showrooms and advertising agencies, and will be guests of honor at Mademoiselle's mammoth College Fashion Show in the Waldorf Astoria and at parties that the magazine is planning for them.

Is this the only reason for using Mennen Skin Bracer?
Skin Bracer's rugged, long-lasting aroma is an obvious attribute. But is it everything?
After all, Menthol-iced Skin Bracer is the after-shave lotion that cools rather than burns. It helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Helps prevent blemishes. Conditions your skin.
Aren't these sound, scientific virtues more important than the purely emotional effect Skin Bracer has on women? In that case, buy a bottle. And—have fun.

Chuck, Charlie Spark As Idaho, Oregon Split

The Vandal basketball squad, starring Chuck White, threw a strong zone defense at the Oregon Ducks to defeat them, 73-67, at Eugene Friday night. But the Webfoots, starring Charlie Warren, bounced back hard the next night to walloop the Vandals, 91-64.

Idaho was almost helpless Saturday, especially without the services of guard Gary Floan, whose academic status made him ineligible to play, and 6-8 center Ken Maren, who was benched early in the second game with a pulled groin muscle.

And Warren didn't help the Vandals, either. The sharp-shooting Webfoot forward bagged 27 points the first night and 33 the second night to set an all-time Oregon career scoring record.

The final clashes this season between the two squads gave the Vandals a total of three wins over the Ducks in five games.

Vandals Start Hot
Starting out hot, the Vandals roared to a 15-point margin with six minutes gone in the first game and had a 32-27 margin at half-time. White, who racked up 29 points in the game, teamed with guard Rich Porter to keep Idaho going strong.

The Vandals cooled only slightly in the second half and kept the Ducks at bay with an effective zone defense. A sizzling .520 field goal percentage in the first half helped the Idaho cause.

But the Vandals won despite the efforts of Warren, the top Duck scorer, and Bill Simmons, who bagged a total of 15 points.

Zone Defense Broken
The second night was an entirely different story, as the Ducks effectively fired over the Vandals' zone defense, which was abandoned early in the game.

Partly because of the loss of Maren, a strong backboard battler, Idaho yielded rebounding superiority to the Oregon squad. Warren was a strong Webfoot man on the backboards, in addition to his high scoring.

Warren's deadly accuracy was bolstered by the shooting of big center Wally Knecht, who fired in 19 points against the Vandals. Warren's total of 60 points in the two games brought his three-year scoring total to 1,198 points, breaking the total of 1,186 set in the mid-1940's.

ISC Next
Vandal Coach Joe Cipriano thought Maren should be over his injury in time to play against Idaho State College Friday, when the Bengals invade Moscow for the first time in years.

The ISC squad has a 13-7 season record compared to Idaho's 10-10 record, although the Bengals have played against a number of smaller schools than Idaho's opponents. Cipriano predicted the game would be "really tough" for his squad.

TENNIS MEETING SET
A meeting for all persons interested in turning out for the Idaho tennis team will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday in Conference Room E of the Student Union Building. Freshman prospects also may come to the meeting.

Track Team Is Training For Meet

The University of Idaho varsity and frosh track squads have been in training for one week for the 1962 season, which begins with the Washington State University Indoor Invitational Meet March 17. The varsity squad totals some 40 men, with 25 freshmen turning out.

Only one varsity athlete was lost due to grades, while nearly ten frosh prospects were lost on account of grades. The varsity loss, though small in number, was major in damage. Sophomore Ron Huff, holder of Idaho's all-time sprint records of 9.6 and 21.1, was declared academically ineligible for the spring season. Number two varsity sprinter Phil Steinbock, with 9.8 and 21.8 best marks, transferred to San Jose State to further weaken the sprint ranks.

Frosh athletes lost include 9.8 sprinter Ron Kirby, half-mile Pete Tullis (1:54.8), state B half mile champ, Rod Glasby, miler Wayne Meckel, shot putter Jerry Brown, and hurdler Leon Shaver. Strength was added to the team with the addition of Ron Albright, 13' pole vaulter and state prep champion from Lapwai.

Transfers Help Squad
The varsity team was also strengthened with the addition of half-milers Doug Hopkins and Scott Fitch from Boise J.C. and 14.9 hurdler Zura Goodpaster from Olympic Junior College.

Major varsity weaknesses are found in the javelin and pole vault. No letterman or squadmen from the 1961 team are in either event. Frosh vaulters include Albright, 13-7 3/4 vaulter, Dave Rambeau of Placerville, California, and 12 foot vaulter George Urie from Hansen. So future prospects are bright in this event. Bill Graham, Hermiton, Oregon, and decathlon prospect Rolf Prydz from Oslo, Norway, should brighten future javelin chances.

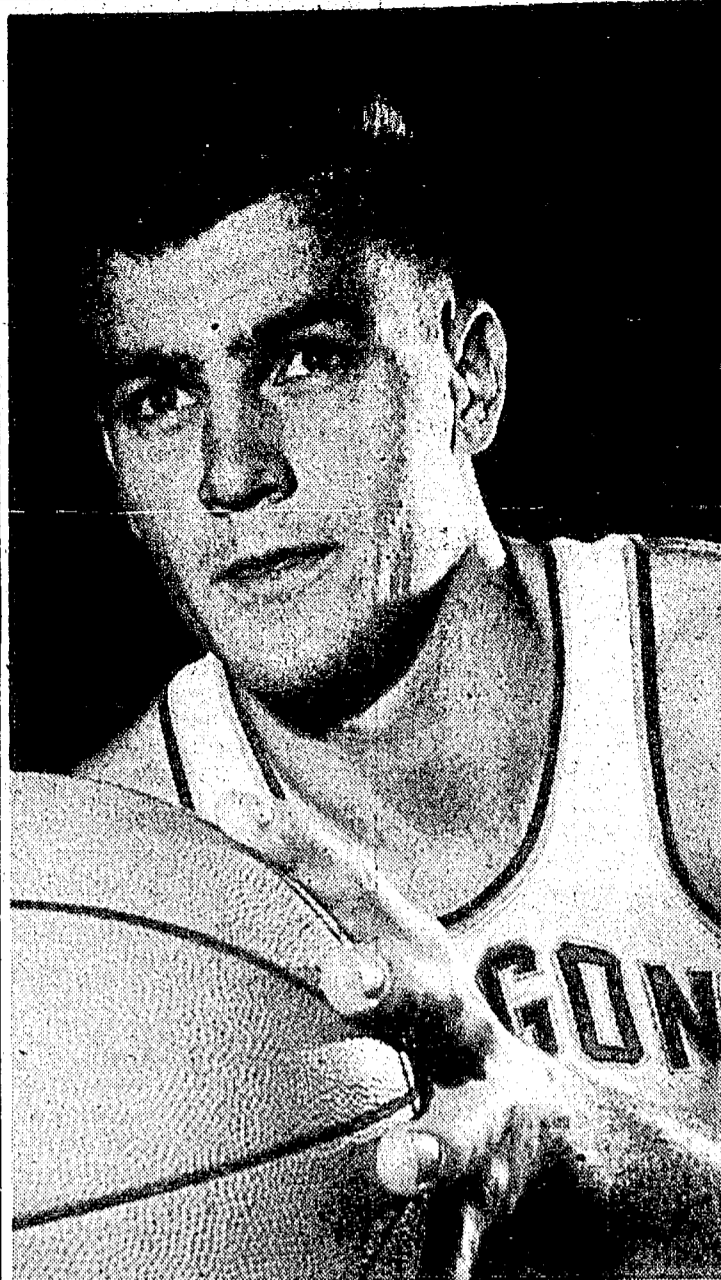

Floan Ruled Ineligible For Basketball

Vandal guard Gary Floan is "academically deficient" and therefore ineligible to play basketball, the Athletic Board of Control ruled Friday.

The two-year senior letterman, who missed basketball practice last week and the two Vandal games at the University of Oregon last weekend, also will be ineligible for the Idaho golf team this spring.

Floan was the number one man on the golf team last year and has been the fourth highest scorer on the Vandal cage squad this season.

The board also examined scholastic records of Idaho athletes in other sports, but the eligibility of other athletes wasn't revealed. Floan played for a Colton, Wash., AAU team in an exhibition March of Dimes game against a Lewiston squad last Wednesday but Athletic Director J. Neil (Skip) Stahley said the player's participation in the game didn't contribute to his ineligibility.

BIG GUN . . . Charlie Warren, hated by Idaho fans but idolized by Oregon fans, was the principal figure in the two Vandal-Webfoot games this weekend, which saw each team win once. The flashy senior forward scored a total of 60 points in the two games.

Vandal Swimmers Drop Meets To Oregon Pair Last Weekend

The Vandal swim team, hosting its first weekend meets of the season, took it on the chin as it dropped contests to the powerful Oregon Ducks and the equally strong Oregon State Beavers. Score-wise, Coach Clark Mitchell's team was never in the meets.

Friday, OSU hit campus and rudely blasted the Vandals 69-24, piling up firsts in all but two events. Idaho's only wins were turned in by co-captain Mike Free with a 25:8.0 clocking in the 50-yard freestyle, and by Larry Peterson in the 200-yard backstroke. Peterson's time was a good 2:34.4.

Idaho had about the same luck against Oregon, as the impressive Ducks all but swamped the Vandals out of the pool with a 64-27 trouncing. Idaho's lone victory was garnered by diver Dick Henry. The Vandal finmen have now dropped four straight dual meets.

WSU Beaten
All told, four wins were brought back to the state of Oregon. Oregon blasted WSU over in Pullman Friday, 60-35. Saturday, OSU edged the Cougars 45-43 in a real thriller.

Even with the bad scores, Mitchell still had praise for the Vandals, terming the two efforts as "better than all year, even with a two week layoff. It was a really good job." Commenting about the competition, Mitchell felt that Idaho was outmanned, adding that the Oregon clubs were "far too strong. We hope we can do better next year."

No Records Set
Mitchell's expectations for possible new Memorial Pool records went by the boards, as none were set. Even with the score so high, there were a lot of close races.

Mitchell was especially pleased with the crowd spirit. A lot of fans were watching their first swim meet and seemed to really enjoy the action.

Friday and Saturday, the Vandals invade the state of Washington for dual meets against Washington and Eastern Washington. The final home meet is scheduled for Feb. 24 against Washington State.

Girls Cancel Trip To Oregon Game

Idaho's pompon girls were unable to accompany the Vandal basketball team to the University of Oregon last weekend as was planned, but instead had to cheer for the Vandals beside the radio at home.

After the pompon girls had made plans to attend the game against the Webfoots, a telegram was sent from Oregon informing the girls that they would have only five minutes to cheer at each half-time of the two games. Because of the time allowed them, the girls decided not to go.

The girls plan, however, to travel to Oregon State University Feb. 23 and 24, when the Vandals play two games against the Beavers.

Frosh Win Two Over Weekend

Idaho's frosh basketball club, rebounding from a defeat last week at the hands of the Washington State Couababes, came back from a two-day road trip this weekend two games richer. Wins against Yakima Junior College and the Whitworth Junior Varsity gave the Babes a 10-4 record for the season.

Coach Wayne Anderson had his worries about the two games, but the Vandal Babes, playing some of their best offensive ball of the season, came through in a breeze. After hitting their first eight field shots without a miss, Idaho's frosh trounced the Yakima squad 89 to 75. After the hot start, the Babes increased their halftime margin to 50-31 and one point wideened the margin to 28 points. Charles Kozak tanked 18 points for the Babes, followed by Tom Moreland with 17 and Jim Halte with 16. John Day led Yakima scoring with 12.

Anderson's hot-shooting bunch combined strong scoring with some outstanding play by Moreland the next night to beat the Whitworth JV's 77 to 67. This was the second defeat the Idaho frosh have handed the Whitworth gang.

With three games left to go, the frosh will play their next one at Moscow against Lewis-Clark Normal as a preliminary to the varsity game with Idaho State. The Babes hold a 79-72 victory from an earlier encounter with LCNS.

Moreland is still leading the pack in most frosh statistics. The Coeur d'Alene cager picked up 40 points last weekend and now has a total of 160 in 14 games. His 112 rebounds is also tops for the squad.

Holding down second place is Halte. The ex-Kent, Wash. star has 147 points and 101 grabs off the backboards. Ed Tollefson is third in the scoring parade with 143 points, followed by Nelson Levias with 122.

Moreland also leads the field in shooting accuracy, as he is currently sporting a .561 mark from the floor. Kozak is also over the 50 per cent mark with a .507. He is fourth in rebounds, having nabbed 82.

IM MANAGERS' MEETING
An intramural managers' meeting will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Room 109 of Memorial Gym. Business will include election of officers, final voting on weight-lifting and skiing and the setting of a date for ping pong and B basketball.

With second semester here, A basketball is back in action, heading towards the same stretch.

In Thursday's action, the Delta Chis took LDS 54-22, and the Phi Deltis beat the Deltis in a free-swinging 29-22. The battle was a contest for second place in League I. In other League action, TKE beat the Phi Taus 38-24, and the front running Fijis blasted Sigma Chi 42-29.

Over in League 2, it was the Betas over LCA 32-25 and SAE over Theta Chi 40-23. Highlight of League 2 action was the ATO's whopping 84-28 romp over the Delta Sigs. This was a new intramural scoring record.

In League 4 action, LH2 lost a squeaker to UH2 34-32. WSH2 beat SH2 46-35. In other games, CH2 took it on the nose from TMA2 58-22, and GH2 won from CC2 by forfeit.

On Tap For Tuesday
Tuesday's schedule finds LH2 going against WSH2 at 7 p.m. on court 1. TMA2 plays UH2 on court 2 and the Deltis tangle with the Fijis on court 3 to wind up the 7 p.m. action. At 7:40, the LDS team plays Sigma Chi on court 1, the Phi Deltis against the Phi Taus on court 2, and Delta Chi rounds out the card on court 3 against the Tekes.

Wednesday, at 7 p.m. the league-leading ATOs play the Kappa Sigs on court 1. Sigma Nu goes against LCA on court 2, and the Delta Sigs tangle with Theta Chi on court 3. At 7:40 it will be the Betas against SAE on court 1, Shoup Hall versus Lindley on court 2, and Willis Sweet playing Chrisman on court 3.

In Thursday's bowling action, 3-1 wins were chalked up by Upham over TMA, ATO over Theta Chi, Phi Tau over Campus Club and the Deltis over TKE.

The individual high game was bowled by Dick Williams, TKE, who scored 220. Upham's 866 gave them high game team honors, and Garth LaCelle's 548 brought the individual high series mark to the Upham pinster. The team high series score also went to Upham, which posted a 2463.
