

E-Board Hears Campaign Starts As Candidates Withdraw

Mrs. Fitzgerald

Mrs. Charmaine Fitzgerald, Student Union Program Director, told the Executive Board Tuesday night she was pleased the new Activities Council plan had been passed, and asked the Board to consider granting a graduate assistantship for a student to assist the Activities Advisor under the new program.

Five Students, Instructor Are In Car Wreck

Five University of Idaho students and an Idaho women's physical education instructor were injured in a head-on car collision Friday night at Portland. The group was in Portland where they were attending a Pacific Northwest dance symposium.

Miss Gaydena Brown, assistant professor of women's physical education, is still in a Portland hospital where she is being treated for a broken nose she received in the wreck. She is expected to be released today.

Larry Shupe remained in a Portland hospital Friday night and Saturday after he suffered a broken foot in the collision. The other four Idaho students, Jeanne Bryer, Judy Denton, Susan Davis and Gayle Kramer were released after treatment for minor cuts and bruises on their legs.

The accident occurred at 6:20 p.m. on McLoughlin Blvd. near the Hawthorne Bridge.

An oncoming car driven by a 20-year-old Portland man skidded head on into the 1957 Oldsmobile driven by Miss Brown.

Two other passengers in Miss Brown's car, both Montana State University students, also suffered minor injuries. John Barber of Missoula received cuts on his forehead and Kristine Webb of Bozeman, suffered severe shock.

Interviews Set For Activities Area Directors

Petitions for interviews for Activities Council area directorships must be turned into ASUI office by today, Dick Stiles, ASUI vep, said yesterday.

The interviews for these positions will be between 7 and 10 p.m. Feb. 28. Candidates for ASUI Executive Board who are not elected and who wish to apply for one of the positions will be interviewed March 12.

Five area directorships are open for applicants. Each of these area directors will have charge of several committees, and will be a member of the Activities Council along with two faculty advisors and the ASUI vice president. Applicants must have completed three semesters work and be above the activities GPA requirement.

These area directors will assume positions quite important in the governmental structure as they are second only to the Executive Board in decision making power.

The new area directors will be recommended by the old Board of Selection and Control and the Student Union Board. After this duty, these two bodies will have their duties absorbed by the Activities Council.

ASUI Prexy, Public Relations Director To Tour South Idaho

ASUI President Jim Mullen and Public Relations Director Carl Berry leave tomorrow for a three-day tour of southern Idaho to confer with high school officials and University of Idaho alumni.

According to Mullen the purpose of the trip is to discuss the relationship which the various high schools have with the University. Mullen and Berry will talk with high school superintendents, high school principals, deans and counselors, students and student teachers and alumni leaders.

The pair, who are accompanied by ASUI Secretary Jim Lyle, and Director of Admissions Frank Young, will go to Twin Falls, American Falls, Pocatello, and Idaho Falls. They will also represent the University student body at the Idaho-ISC basketball game in Pocatello Friday night.

Mrs. Fitzgerald commented that in the future it would be rather difficult to hire someone who would be willing to handle the expanded program functions of her job as well as the management functions such as reservations, conference planning, and co-ordination and management of night managers, she has assumed since coming to the University.

She added that under the new plan program direction jobs would be broad enough for one person without the extra management functions.

At Other Colleges
Mrs. Fitzgerald said that graduate assistantships such as she proposed are available in many of the larger colleges. She said that the student awarded this graduate grant would assume many of the management duties now assigned to the Program Director, or under the new Activities Council, the Activities Adviser.

Several members of the board expressed interest in such a program, but definite action was postponed until further investigation.

Outlines History
Mr. Fitzgerald also briefly outlined the history of Association of College Unions in the United States. "The general philosophy behind them," she said, "is to educate through leadership training."

In other action, Dick Stiles, ASUI Vice President, told the board that interviews for the five area directors of the new Activities Council would be held February 28. He indicated that applicants must have the required 2.2 grade point average and have completed at least three semesters of successful college work at Idaho.

Members Object
Several board members objected to the date, saying those positions should be open to defeated Executive Board candidates.

Answering the objection Stiles said that in the past most of the Student Union work has been done by juniors and sophomores.

"And these positions should not be a consolation prize for defeated ASUI candidates," he added.

For Juniors and Sophomores
Stiles further indicated that he felt the positions should be awarded mainly to juniors and sophomores. The positions, thus, could provide a leadership lab for ASUI officials, he said.

Okeson objected to this point, saying that nothing would kill the program faster than not allowing seniors to participate.

"It would be a waste of a lot of qualified people," he said.

According to the last word received by the Argonaut, interviews will be held February 28, as scheduled earlier, and again after Executive Board elections.

FORD FOUNDATION

The Ford Foundation has announced a five-year, $8 million program of forgivable loans and other aid to doctoral engineering students preparing for teaching. Information on the loans is available at the Graduate School office.

Berry in outlining the objectives of the trip said:
"We will be discussing relationships between the University and the individual schools with regard to the presentation of students for the University; and the increased and effective services offered by the University — with special emphasis on the Associated Students' level."
"It is our hope to impress upon all we see our concern for the high school students of the state obtaining the best possible preparation before they come to the University."
"We naturally hope that our visits will be well received. Meetings are scheduled with W. Fisher Ellsworth, president of the Idaho alumni association, and head of the Twin Falls alumni association."

Space-Age Board Sends Congrats

The University of Idaho Executive Board is shooting for the stars and one quite orbit-minded political star at that.

At its regular Tuesday meeting last week the board unanimously voted to send a letter of congratulations to U. S. Astronaut John Glenn.

The only thing the board regretted was that the astronaut did not take the time to pass over the University on his momentous flight.

Applicants Due For Blue Key Talent Show

Contestants in the annual Blue Key Talent Show must have their applications filed in the ASUI office in the SUB by Thursday, according to the talent show officials. General chairmen selected by the upperclassmen's honorary to head the event are Jerry Okeson and Bill Hobdy.

Applications, which can also be turned in to Okeson or Hobdy, are available in the ASUI office. The student talent show is scheduled for Mar. 23 in Memorial Gym.

The Blue Key Talent Show is sponsored by Blue Key each year to provide University students the opportunity to display their talents in comic skits, comic vocals, dancing, musicals — both vocal and/or instrumental, piano, house acts, novelty acts, etc., according to the chairmen.

Auditions for the hopeful contestants will be held on Saturday, Mar. 10, and the dress rehearsal has been set for Mar. 22 at 6:30 p.m. Entrants will be contacted as to time and place of tryouts, said Okeson.

The division or category for each of the talent acts will be determined after the auditions. The awards will consist of one trophy for the winner in each division or category.

According to the chairmen, the policy of the talent show will be basically the same as last year. Last year's winners are ineligible for awards and only students registered for credit with the University are eligible for participation.

Assistants to the general chairmen will be selected soon to handle the different segments of production, talent, publicity, and judges, said Blue Key prexy Duane Allred. Allred said that one of last year's chairmen, Jim Okeson, will also help in organizing the Blue Key show.

Caps And Gowns Deadline Is Set

March 5 is the deadline for seniors to be measured for caps and gowns according to D. D. DuSault, University registrar. Measurements will be taken all this week at the University bookstore.

Bachelors' caps and gowns and master's hoods must be worn at the baccalaureate - commencement exercises. Attendance is required at the commencement exercises unless formally excused by the president of the University. Requests for excuses must be presented in writing to the senior's academic dean.

The program for rehearsal and baccalaureate - commencement days will be mailed to the graduate by the registrar's office about May 1.

R.I.L.C. To Feature Jewish Rabbi For First Time At U.

A Jewish rabbi will be featured in a University of Idaho Religion In Life Conference for the first time since the Conference began 15 years ago. The R.I.L.C. Week is March 12-14.

Rabbi Lloyd R. Goldman lectures on college campuses under the auspices of the Jewish Catawauqua Society, an organization which creates better understanding of Jews and Judaism through education.

The other two RILC speakers presented in today's Argonaut are Dr. Don C. Wood, LDS First President presiding over the Northwest-ern States Mission, and the Rev. Robert G. Albertson, Director of Religious Life at the University of Puget Sound.

Rabbi Goldman is spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel in Spokane, Washington. He previously served congregations in Indianapolis, Indiana, and Downey, California. The rabbi received his B.A. degree and was ordained at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, receiving his M.H.L. degree.

Dr. Don C. Wood specialized in biochemistry at Brigham Young University. The RILC Conference theme, "Faith in Orbit," concerns science and religion.

Dr. Wood, a native of Farmington, Utah, received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Brigham Young University and his Ph.D. from Cornell University at Ithaca, New York.

Wood became Director of Biochemical Research at the U. S. Veterans Administration Hospital, Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1952 and was Assistant Professor, Department of Pathology, University of Utah School of Medicine. In 1960 he became Director of Biochemical Research at Providence Hospital in Portland, Oregon.

Prior to his call to the presidency in 1960, Wood served five years as Bishop of the Val Verde Ward (Bountiful, Utah).

The Rev. Albertson has a B.A. from Colorado State College of Education and a B.D. from Garrett Graduate School of Religion. He has served as Methodist minister in Illinois and Washington. He was Assistant Professor of Religion at UPS before becoming Director of Religious Life.

Co-chairmen of the event are Katherine Koelsch and Ron Thurber. Other chairmen are Karen Miles, secretary; Bob Running, programs; Idonna Kellogg and Brent Jacobs, publicity; Ron Rock, seminars; Julia Hogg, hospitality; Mike Fuller, book sales; Edwina Zabel Gustavson, luncheons; Bonnie McKay and Jack Cover, organization of houses; Ann Ingebritsen, conv. and worship; and Loren Butler, vice-chairman.

FIRST SUMMER SCHOOL

In 1959, to bring better trained students to the regular session, the University of Idaho introduced a summer school — the first in the Pacific Northwest.

Idaho Debaters Participate In Invitational Tournament

Ten University of Idaho debaters will be among the 500 participants at the Linfield College Invitational debate tournament at Linfield, Ore., this weekend.

The Linfield tournament, the largest in the Northwest, was started in 1923 and is held every spring. The teams that represent the Northwest in the national debates at West Point, New York, annually are chosen on the basis of their Linfield tourney records. Thirty-five teams are competing at Linfield this year.

According to Dr. A. E. White, head, chairman of speech and debate team coach, Idaho has a "better than usual" chance of placing a team in the West Point matches.

Leave Tomorrow
The Idaho debaters will leave Moscow tomorrow and will debate in Linfield Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
The Idaho squad is comprised

CUP E-Board Candidates Baum, Cobble Out Of Race

As election day draws near the pace is gradually quickening as the campus politicians and their candidates began to make their plea for votes March 8.

Posters are appearing all over campus and the candidates are all on tight dinner and lunch schedules with various living groups as they answer questions and appeal for votes. The action got rolling last week after the two opposing slates had been picked.

Both parties have combined the talents of their candidates and officers to draw up platforms to appeal to the voters and to give them something to talk about at the various smokers scheduled for the next two weeks. (See page 2)

Candidates Withdraw
Two candidates have dropped out of the race this last week, both of them on the CUP ticket. Ann Marie Baum, Forney, withdrew her name from the ballot because she would have to leave school for 9 weeks first semester of next year to student teach. Bill Cobble, TKE, was declared scholastically ineligible for extra-curricular activities.

Smoker Schedules
Wednesday night at the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house will be the first smoker. Dean Grossenbach, United President, will moderate. The following night at Gault hall, Tory Nelson, CUP president, will moderate a smoker. Both are scheduled between 8 and 9:30 p.m.

The ASUI debate will be next Monday evening and the traditional ASUI smoker will be election eve in the SUB Bucket.

A debate has been scheduled over KRPL Tuesday evening between the presidential and vice-presidential candidates.

Platforms Issued
Both parties issued fairly short platforms this year, both of them having suggestions in various areas of student government which they feel need improving. Both parties have come in support of the proposed Activities Council and more Executive Board visitations to the students.

CUP has proposed a change in the traffic violation system on campus in plank 4. Elaborating on the plank Nelson said that he thought a change was needed in the penalty system; either a progressive fine system or a demerit system.

Club Sponsors Panel Thurs.

The relationship of the United States to the common market will be discussed by a panel sponsored by the National World Affairs Committee of the Cosmopolitan Club Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Donald W. Seelye, Prof. of labor economics and business administration, will moderate the discussion to be held in the south ballroom of the Student Union Building. Dr. Harry F. Caldwell, associate professor of geography, and Gurdeep Singh Grewal, graduate student in foreign trade, will also participate. Questions will be welcomed from the floor following the panel session, and the public is invited to attend.

United has supported the Activities Council and the Judicial System but have not proposed anything really different. Party president Dean Grossenbach said, "I can't see that there is any point in adding anything new. If we do our best to raise the caliber of utilization of the government that we have now will have better student government."

Politicians Will Speak At CCH Workshop

Some of Idaho's current political figures will be guest speakers at the Citizenship Clearing House political workshop March 10.

According to Gordon Powers, president of CCH, a non-partisan political organ, all of the candidates for the various state offices have been issued invitations to attend the workshop to be held at the Student Union Building.

"We are hoping to give the students a chance to meet most of the candidates for state office," Powers said. "A great many of them have already accepted."

Powers said that he had received a reply from John G. Walters, State Democratic party chairman, and now a candidate for governor in the GOP primary. Others who have indicated that they would attend are Secretary of State Arnold Williams, State Auditor, Joe Williams, State Senator Ray Cox, Jr. (D-Kootenai), Harold Lough (R-Latah) and Clarence Higer, Emmett, candidate for governor in the democratic primary.

Powers said that the workshop would consist of open-discussion panels; statements and question-and-answer sessions with the candidates.

The discussion topics include: how can I get into politics; winning an election; how do you raise money for a campaign; after the campaign—patronage or not?; the administration of state headquarters; function of the Young Republicans and Young Democrats in politics.

Snyder Named SDX Advisor

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, elected two new officials to fill recently vacated positions in the organization, according to president Herb Hollinger.

Dr. W. W. Snyder, head of the University's communication dept., was named as the Society's faculty advisor to replace Dr. Graiville Price who resigned his chairman of journalism post at the end of the semester. Also elected was Jim Herndon, as treasurer, to succeed LeRoy Kellogg who also left at the semester's end. Vieing for the treasurer's office were Herndon and James Metcalf.

Dick Tefft, Sigma Delta Chi vice-president, was graduated at the end of the first semester but his position will not be filled, according to Hollinger, because of the closeness of elections for next year's officials.

Neil Modie, program chairman, gave a progress report on the selling of baseball programs concluding the Tuesday evening meeting.

Board Approves Junior College

The Idaho State Board of Education recently approved a proposal by the Bonneville County commissioners to establish a junior college in Idaho Falls.

This information came over the weekend from Harry Moore, Bonneville County clerk. Alvin Denman, chairman of the commission, said that a date for the special election on the junior college proposal will be set at a future meeting of the county commissioners.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

There is a very interesting and intriguing letter in the Dear Jason column of today's Arg. It was written as a letter to the editor but it is one of the best interpretative articles on the upcoming ASUI election or any ASUI election that I've seen.

After reading the article a person might think that it was written in disgust of the results of all the political "hay" that is wrought by the annual election. If this is what is meant, I agree wholeheartedly.

Also on this same page is the party platforms of both student parties, for student interest and discussion. Although this might be asking quite a bit, it might be interesting to students to know what the differences are in the two parties' platforms. At least this will give students some knowledge of what the candidates are talking about in the coming smokers.

Congratulations to the Young Democrats and Young Republicans for their series of debates. Never in the memory of this Jason has a program been handled in such a smooth way with evidently outstanding results. According to one source there were forty-odd persons at the debate Wednesday evening.

Although this is a minute fraction of the Idaho student-body it does show that there is increasing interest in this type of activity. The Argonaut hopes that these will continue and that more students will become interested and a part of political activity on the campus.

If there is one vote that SHOULD be made on Mar. 8 in the ASUI general election it should be for the proposed revision of the ASUI constitution. No one has kept any count on the hours that were involved in revising the old constitution but there were over a hundred spent by the Executive Board if everything was calculated.

Surely there are probably minor flaws in the organization, but this is hardly significant if the whole of the revision is viewed. As long as Jason seems to be in the congratulating mood it seems as though one could go to the Executive Board for the fine job produced in revising the constitution.

Anyone who has read the old constitution would notice that it was in need of many adjustments and a re-organization. Just an example of this, but by no means a big one, was the preamble. The old constitution barely had a sentence to qualify as a preamble, but thanks to Board member Chuck Thompson and his crew the revision has a stimulating purposeful preamble.

Campus Union Platform

The progressive Campus Union Party has had the following proposals from its first ASUI platform and basic philosophies adopted or enacted:

1. Promotion of symposiums on timely and important issues while parents and alumni are on campus—the well-received Dad's Day faculty symposium.
2. A means of recognition of creative talent—the successful campus literary magazine, The I.
3. Encouragement of organizations which stimulate discussion of international, national and state affairs—initiation of the National and World Affairs club sponsored debate, "Liberalism vs. Conservatism."
4. Creation of a cross-campus party—a combining of two distinct living group philosophies for one party with one philosophy for the betterment of the University of Idaho.

Not content with past accomplishments, we strive to continue our progressive ideals of improving student government:

1. Student body, faculty, and administration have all expressed a need for more effective communications. In an effort to strengthen existing communicative bodies, we advocate 1) a more extensive and active Executive Board Visitation Program; 2) encouraging political parties to exercise their proper responsibility to their constituents; 3) strengthening of other communicative organs.

2. Recognizing the increased effectiveness of the programs of Student Recruitment and Publicity with the recent addition of the position of Public Relations Director, we would advocate continued improvements in these areas.

3. We support the Activities Council as an improvement in co-ordination of ASUI and Student Union activities.

4. We support a change in the philosophy of the traffic violation system.

5. In order to emphasize the academic excellence of our University for the purposes of Student Recruitment and a more realistic public image, we desire to publicize the outstanding achievements of our faculty in a faculty spotlight, through such media as the Argonaut, KUOI, university publications and local radio stations.

6. We recognize the need for and resolve to support the proposed program for complete campus coverage by KUOI under the existing budget.

Dear Jason

Circus Time

Dear Jason:

The annual ASUI drama has begun to unfold. The stage is the University of Idaho campus. Smoke-filled SUB conference rooms, lounges in various living groups, tables in the Bucket, Shakey's and Berry's and polling booths scattered across the campus are the sets. The cast includes aspiring politicians, behind-the-scenes party workers, inquiring Argonaut reporters, SUB rats and average Joe College. This drama has several acts.

Act I is centered around the selection of party slates at a secretive party primary and at a pompous nominating convention. Various interest groups jockey for position to secure a slot for their man on the party tickets. Candidates are groomed and grilled by the old "war horses" in the art of campusology. Old and new talent is tapped to draft party platforms which are skillfully composed to make glittering promises in vague terms. The completion of the platforms provides the shining new politics with the ammunition needed for the second act.

Act II is concerned with the grand spectacles commonly identified with campus politics. Political rallies, debates, and smokers that have become venerable institutions on the campus, are THE events to watch before election. No production is more zealously presented than the smoker. Conscientiously the campaign managers schedule a smoker on the "Greek" side of the campus and another on the "Independent" side. No smoker, however, can be compared to the grand finale... the SUB Smoker.

The SUB Smoker becomes the focal point of political attention. This extravaganza is the best attended event of the spring political season. Fans interested in obtaining front row seats gather in the Bucket shortly after noon. They come well equipped to endure the ordeal with cards, magazines, newspapers and an occasional text book. As 8:00 p.m. draws near, standing room only can be found. The professional of the candidates occurs shortly thereafter. At this point the entire production resembles a Roman circus with pagans waiting to see the Christians thrown to the lions. Gleefully, Suzie Snob in the front row nudges her bridge partner and remarks about the loud tie candidate "X" is wearing or how cute candidate "Y" looks in his new blue blazer. The atmosphere of the amphitheater is charged with emotionalism while logic and reason are ignored. The candidates who receive the best reception are those who put on the best show. Sometimes even superb showmanship will not move those engaged in a good bridge game.

Act two ends without significant success in stimulating the audience to evaluate the candidates and the issues on their merits. Most of the old, preconceived notions are still intact.

Election day ends the drama. Voters from every sector of the campus cast their ballots after "investigating" and "evaluating" the issues of the campaign. The end of act three seems to complete a paradox.

Public knowledge and discussions of the issues so essential to the processes of democracy, seem to be used to mock democracy by abuse.

Harold Schillreff

Express Thanks

Dear Jason:

On behalf of the Young Democratic Club, I wish to extend a sincere thank you to those members of faculty, participating debaters, and students who combined their efforts in achieving a successful series of debates between the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans.

A special thank you to the Arg staff in offering excellent news coverage.

Although last Wednesday night officially ended this series, it is the hope of our group that our "Rival Republicans" will act in continuation of such events.

Mullen Encourages Informed Officials'

The following is the third and last on student government by ASUI President James Mullen.—Ed.

Because student government is somewhat limited by factors previously mentioned, such as lack of continuity and annually changing leadership, it is advisable that newly elected officers be well informed as to the student programs and policies and preferably experienced. Lack of either or both of these qualities will not be disastrous, however, any beneficial accomplishment by student government may be negated. Being informed entails a cursory knowledge of general University policy toward students, alumni, legislators, and others, and a specific knowledge of student government structure and operation.

Previous experience need not be only in student government, but in any leadership position that teaches courteous expediency in dealing with individuals, groups, and meetings. Experienced individuals know where to find information if they do not already know it. Even in experience, however, success is not guaranteed.

A Good Year

The Executive Board this year has been a good one and can single out accomplishments that are of at least indirect benefit to everyone. But, there have been some failings due to a number of causes. It appears now that the Judicial Com-

KUOI Gives Plea For Announcers

The campus radio station needs help.

According to KUOI station manager, Jerre Wallace, in normal operating years there is an abundance of announcers and a minimum of secretaries, copywriters, record librarians and directors. However, this year it's exactly the opposite.

He said announcers are needed. No radio experience is necessary and voice quality is not of prime importance.

Potential radio broadcasters can meet at the radio station in the Student Union Building to-night at 6:45. All other staff members are requested to be there also.

United Party Platform

We, the candidates of United Party submit the following platform to the student body.

We feel that our student government should provide the nucleus around which to build all ASUI activities. The preamble to our constitution lists several objectives for student government. We have adopted these as standards by which we would serve the student body.

To further strengthen ASI and the total University program, we would support the following:

- COMMUNICATIONS: Assign each board member to four living groups for visitations.
- PUBLIC RELATIONS: Continue visitations by student leaders.
- Promote more intensive Boise game activity.
- Organize student government forums with high schools.

ACADEMICS

Improve and continue the freshman-faculty forum.
Work for attainment of more scholarships for incoming freshmen.

STUDENT FACULTY RELATIONS: Invite faculty to executive board meetings.

Improve the student-faculty retreat.

ALUMNI

Offer our services to the alumni secretary.

LEGISLATURE

Follow an "eyes and ears open" policy.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT IMPROVEMENT

Give our full support to the activities council and judicial council as instituted by this year's executive board.

College Literary Mags Fail; Arg, Gem Compare Favorably

Idaho student publications compare quite favorably with other Pacific coast universities according to Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager, who attended a Pacific Coast Publications Directors Convention in Santa Barbara, Calif. last month.

He said that almost all of the schools, even those with an enrollment of 18,000 or more are having trouble making a success of their literary magazines. At almost all of these schools, the magazines are published by either the English or journalism departments and are losing money.

Representatives from Washington State University, University of Washington, University of Oregon, Oregon State University, University of California, Stanford University, University of Southern California, UCLA, University of Montana, University of Arizona, University of Utah, Los Angeles State College, San Fernando State College and the University of California at Santa Barbara attended the convention.

Idaho was the smallest school there, yet the Argonaut and the Gem Of The Mountains rated among the top in comparison with the publications from other schools, according to Mix. The public relations people criticized the various publications of the schools but did not rate them. Commenting on the Argonaut in comparison with other papers Mix pointed out that the Arg usually runs about 33 per cent of its space to advertising while most other colleges run 40 to 50 percent. He added that except for Oregon State University, Idaho is the only paper on the West Coast that is regular size rather than tabloid. Most of the other papers are dailies.

Gem Rated High

In his report to the Executive Board Mix said, "The Gem Of The Mountains has rated very well for the size of our institution than any other school in the area."

He went on to add that the color is outstanding, the cost is less, and the book was accepted better by our students.

He brought back a rather complete report on the literary magazines published by most schools because of the interest on this campus in starting one.

Literary Mags Fail

One large school lost $1,800 last year on its magazine and they discontinued publication this year. Another school with over 18,000 students could not make a success of its magazine and discontinued it two years ago. Another school is still printing one but is losing about $600 a year.

Idaho's handbook is smaller and not as elaborate as those put out by some schools.

Rich Koch, left, Kappa Sig, and Maurice Giunta, Lindley, are still alive and twistin' Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. after some 30 hours of the twistathon. The two Idaho freshmen were the only contestants left when the event ended with Koch winning the world's twist title. The twistathon was part of a promotion stunt by Moscow Merchants and a local radio station and began Saturday morning.

Idaho Freshman Koch Wins Twisting Contest, Finishes As World Champion

By MRS. BETTY JACKSON Argonaut Staff Writer

Rich Koch, Kappa Sig, had no idea he was entering a twist marathon Saturday, but after 36 hours and three minutes he wound up world twisting champion.

Second place was won by Maurice Giunta, Lindley Hall, with 32 hours and 21 minutes, and 10-year-old Carlos (Charles Del Valle) came in third with 27 hours. The contest was sponsored jointly by a local radio station and shoe store. Entrants also included seven girls who dropped out Saturday afternoon.

Koch, a freshman, thought he was supposed to dance the twist from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. and didn't find out until he had been twisting three hours that he was in a marathon.

Shocked "It was sort of a shock," he said. "I've always gotten a side ache after one or two twists, but this time I didn't so I just kept going."

He was recuperating in the infirmary Monday, nursing sore muscles and calloused feet.

The contest aroused much interest and the shoe store was crowded most of the time. Store owner Larry Halvorson estimates that 10,000 persons passed through the doors of the store and there were as many as 300 spectators at a time.

Drama Department Names Original Scripts' Deadline

The University Drama Department has set April 1 as the last day on which University students may submit original scripts for studio production. The department will stage the student-written plays May 17-18. According to Jean Collette, chairman of dramatics, the plays can last for 20-25 minutes, and will be cut at the director's discretion. Drama students will direct the productions. The department is particularly interested in satires, but will accept any type of script. The plots should preferably concern campus life. Interested students can contact Miss Collette at the U Hut for further information.

Campus Club Scholarship Is Pondered

Methods of setting up a memorial scholarship fund for Campus Club in honor of former member Fred Klomke, who died of cancer last June, were discussed by Owen Bratvold of Spokane, who visited the living group last Saturday. Several alumni of the University, and Campus Club in particular, have expressed a willingness to contribute funds toward such a scholarship fund, according to Campus Club spokesmen. Anyone wishing information about the scholarship or interested in contributing is asked to contact Mr. Bratvold, West 2617 Broad, Spokane, 16, Wash.; or Chong Cheng Ho, 2162 14th Street, Troy, New York.

Loss-Weary Cougars Invade Vandal Home Court Tonight

Palouse Cage Crown At Stake In Final Idaho-WSU Match

INTRAMURALS

Intramural action in basketball and bowling neared their close last week, as skiing prepared to enter the spotlight this weekend.

Last Monday's cage games saw the Phi Deltis over Sigma Chi 47-37; the Fijis over LDS 48-20; the Deltas over TKE 54-36; the Betas over the Phi Taus for forfeit.

The next night's tilts were highlighted by Gault Hall's lopsided victory over Upham, 82-27. Other scores that night were: Kappa Sigs 45, Lambda Chi 37; ATO 48; SAE 25; Lindley 45, Chrisman 38; TMA 25, Shoup 20; and Campus Club over Willis Sweet by forfeit.

Wednesday it was Upham 2 over Gault 2 by a 41-37 score; Lindley 2 over Chrisman 2, 43-20 and TMA over Shoup 46-30.

In bowling action Tuesday the Sigma Nus beat Upham 4-0; Theta Chi defeated Campus Club 3-1; the ATO's beat TKE 3-1 and the Deltas and Phi Taus split 2-2.

Thursday it was Sigma Chi over Fiji 3-1; Shoup over Kappa Sig 3-1, and Delta Chi over Lindley 3-1.

Intramural skiing will begin Saturday at the North-South Ski Bowl at Emida with 10 men's living groups entered. Members of the varsity ski team will judge the matches.

The fifth and final "Battle of the Palouse" will decide the basketball championship of the area tonight when the Vandals host the Washington State Cougars at 8 tonight in Memorial Gym.

The loss-weary Cougars, who lost two tilts last weekend, will come into the clash with an 8-14 win-loss record. The Vandals, with a 12-11 record, will face their rivals after winning a game and losing one from the strong Oregon State Beavers last weekend.

The Idaho-WSU series this season is presently tied up, with each squad having won two games. The Vandals defeated WSU 75-74 in the Far West Classic at Portland and won 75-66 at home earlier this month.

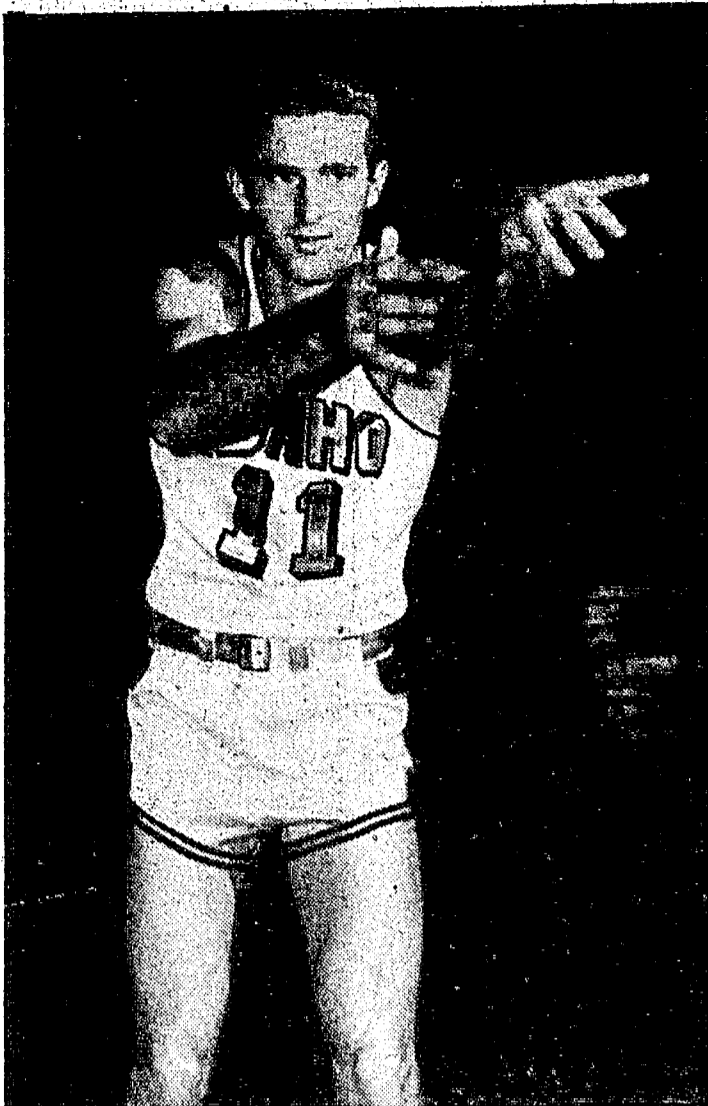

The Cougars' two wins both came on their home court, where they beat Idaho 65-60 and 63-62.

Idaho Has Advantages

Besides boasting the best recent performances, the Vandals will have the advantage on their home floor. All players on both sides are expected to be in shape for tonight's action, although Vandal reserve forward Jim Scheel is nursing a sprained ankle suffered in the game with Oregon State Saturday. Coach Joe Cipriano said that Scheel should be all right for tonight's game, however.

The Beavers' game has been two-platooning some, so that should be a little different for us," Cipriano said. Idaho used a number of reserves in both of the Oregon State tilts, but Cipriano didn't know how much he would rely on substitutes tonight.

Probable starters for Idaho are Chuck White and Reg Carolan at forwards, Rich Porter and Lyle Parks at guard and Ken Maren at center. WSU will probably start out

LED IN UPSET—Vandal guard Lyle Parks, scoring 16 points and leading a first-half rally, was a main reason for Idaho's upset victory over Oregon State Friday night. The junior will be starting for the Vandals when they host WSU tonight.

Monroe Picked As First Assistant Grid Coach

Dick Monroe, assistant football coach at the University of Nebraska, has been chosen by new Vandal head football coach Dee Andros to take the same position here, Athletic Director J. Neil (Skip) Stahley announced yesterday.

Monroe is the first assistant to be selected by Andros, who himself was chosen by the Idaho Board of Regents Feb. 17 to take over as head coach.

Monroe, like Andros, is a former Oklahoman, but graduated from Kansas University in 1949. After three years as a high school coach in Kansas, Monroe returned to the university as an assistant. From 1953 through 1956 he was an assistant at Wichita. In 1957 Monroe joined Coach Bill Jennings at Nebraska.

The 39-year-old bachelor was a center on the Kansas Orange Bowl team of 1948. He was born and raised in Oklahoma, graduating from Madill High School in 1940.

Transferred to Kansas

After four years in the Air Force, Monroe enrolled at Oklahoma State, where he played for one season. The following year he transferred to Kansas, where he lettered in football three seasons.

"I am happy to have the opportunity to join Dee Andros and your athletic department at Idaho," Monroe said yesterday. "I am looking forward to the job at Idaho as a real challenge, and I am enthusiastic for the opportunity it presents."

Stahley commented yesterday: "In talking with Coach Andros it appears that Dick Monroe is well qualified as a football coach."

Andros will have complete freedom in choosing his staff of assistants, Stahley said, adding that he has no idea how long before the new coach will select the rest of his staff.

The coach will have the same size staff — three assistants, a frosh coach and a scout — as last year, Stahley said.

Last year's staff was comprised of assistant coaches Sid Hall, Gary Farnsworth and Bill Peterson, frosh coach Bud Goodell and team scout Wayne Anderson. Anderson, who also is freshman basketball and varsity baseball coach, might remain in the scouting position, but none of the others applied to remain as assistants, the athletic director said.

The present assistants will stay at Idaho through spring practice, which begins in April after spring vacation. Peterson said that he — and as far as he knew, none of the other assistants — has any plans for next year but are "looking around" for jobs, possibly as high school coaches.

White Leads In Scoring Race For Vandals; Porter Second

WSU Swamps Idaho Finmen; Tourney Next

The Vandal swim team, again up against superior depth, speed and experience, lost another match as the Washington State Cougars swamped them 64-23 last Saturday.

WSU won all but one event, as Clark Mitchell's Vandal crew took only the final event. His squad won the 440 relay when the Cougars were disqualified.

To add insult to injury, the Cougars swept first and second in five events in racking up their easy victory. According to Mitchell, "They really took us to the cleaners." The Vandals have been unable to beat WSU all season.

Again, it was primarily the old story of lack of depth that made the big difference. Idaho was reduced to four swimmers and a diver with the loss of co-captain Mike Free, who suffered a dislocated elbow. He will be out of competition for the rest of the season.

With only one senior on the team, the Vandals also suffer from a lack of experience. The squad "lacks experience in both competition and in years," Mitchell said.

This week the finmen enter the Northern Division Championships, competing against WSU, Washington, Oregon and Oregon State. Preliminaries in the 200 individual medley and the 100-meter dive will start Thursday at WSU at 2 p.m.

According to Mitchell, there is little hope for berths in the finals. He added that his team will be out for times more than for victories.

Bridge Scores Maybe Make Nat's

Twelve Idaho students will have their scores entered in the regional and possibly national competition of the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament.

They are Darwin Adahl and Norman Johnson, first place winners in North-South competition; Robb Smith and Phil Hanel, second place; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hegsted, third place.

First, second and third place winners, respectively, in East-West competition are Mike McNichols and Tony Park; Judi Tracy and Jerry Boyd; Denny Burnside and Bid Light.

The tournament, held last Sunday, was directed by the Student Union off-campus committee.

OSU Gets Revenge

The Beavers' outstanding passing for the Vandals the next night, howling and playmaking were too much ever, and Oregon State won revenge by a 65-50 score.

Oregon States' Jay Carty, who scored 26 points Friday, was held to 14 the next night, but teammate Mel Counts' accurate jump shots added 16 more points for the Beavers.

The defense that Idaho showed the first night was weaker Saturday, as Beaver Garry Rossi and Baker drove through it to score regularly.

Both coaches substituted freely, and Oregon State's entire squad saw action. Cipriano's sophomores saw a lot of action both nights.

Idaho-WSU Frosh To Meet Tonight In Final Encounter

Idaho's freshman basketball squad takes the floor tonight at 8:50 for their fourth and final encounter against the Washington State Couababes as a preliminary to the tussle between the Vandal and WSU varsity teams at Memorial Gym.

The Babes bring into the game an 11-4 mark and a string of three straight impressive triumphs, but the Couababes won't scare easily, according to Idaho frosh coach Wayne Anderson. His club is one down in the three games the two squads have already played against each other. Anderson wants the win badly to bring the series to 2-2.

Lately the frosh club has been playing good ball, having walked over Lewis-Clark Normal last week and holding previous wins over Yakima Junior College and the Whitworth junior varsity. Anderson had four men in double scoring figures in the Babes' last outing.

Moreland Leading

Leading the frosh will be Tom Moreland, who is tops on the club in several departments. The ex-Coeur d'Alene High School cager has a strangulation hold on scoring, rebounding and shooting percentages this season.

Welcomed additions have been the scoring of Nelson Levias, Jim Halte and Ed Tollefson. Guard Terry Henson's ball handling and general floor leadership is also expected to present trouble for the couababes.

Tonight's encounter will be the next-to-last one of the season for the Babes. They will close out the year Friday against Columbia Basin Junior College.

"Blind as a bat" is a meaningless phrase. Contrary to popular belief, most bats can see perfectly well in bright light.

Don Wieskopf To Supervise Youth Camp

Don Wieskopf, assistant professor of physical education, has been named supervisor of instruction for the Little League Baseball Summer Camp at Williamsport, Pa., it was announced by Creighton J. Hale, vice president and director of research for the youth organization.

Beginning this summer, Little League Baseball will offer the camp which will be a mixture of regular camp living with particular emphasis on playing the national past-time.

"Our goal is to provide a complete course of baseball instruction including constructive attitudes toward the game and those who play it; to give participants a sense of participation and achievement through discovering latent talents and learning new skills; to show the relationship of the game of baseball to that of living in a democratic society, and to point up the values of discipline, team play and sportsmanship through the enjoyable experience of playing baseball," Wieskopf explained.

Youngsters selected for the camp will live in new dormitories and play on the field built for the Little World Series.

On Wieskopf's staff will be a number of outstanding college baseball coaches, physical educators and experts in youth work.

Wieskopf is well-known in the Northwest for his radio interviews with national sports stars and appearances at sports clinics.

HOW TO BE A BWOC

Ladies, let me be frank. The days of the college year dwindle down to a precious few. And some of you—let's face it—have not yet become BWOC's. Yes, I know, you've been busy what with going to class and walking your cheetah, but really, ladies, becoming a BWOC is so easy if you'll only follow a few simple rules.

The first and most basic step on the road to being a BWOC is to attract attention. Get yourself noticed. But be very, very careful not to do it the wrong way. I mean, any old girl is bound to be noticed if she goes around with a placard that says, "HEY! LOOKIT ME!" Don't you make such a horrid gaffe. On your placard put: "ZUT! REGARDEZ MOI!" This, as you can see, lends a whole new dimension of tone and dignity.

Once you have been noticed, it is no longer necessary to carry the placard. It will suffice if, from time to time, you make distinctive noises. If, for instance, every three or four minutes you cry, "Whippoorwill!" you cannot but stay fresh in the minds of onlookers.

We come now to clothes, a vital accessory to the BWOC—indeed, to any girl who wishes to remain out of jail. But to the BWOC clothes are more than just a decent cover; they are, it is not too much to say, a way of life.

This spring the "little boy look" is all the rage on campus. Every coed, in a mad effort to look like a little boy, is wearing short pants, knee socks, and boyshirts. But the BWOC is doing more. She has gone the whole hog in achieving little boyhood. She has frogs in her pockets, seams on her knees, down on her upper lip, and is followed everywhere by a dog named Spot.

All this, of course, is only by day. When evening falls and her date comes calling, the BWOC is the very picture of chic femininity. She dresses in severe, simple basic black, relieved only by a fourteen pound charm bracelet. Her hair is exquisitely coiffed, with a fresh rubber band around the pony tail. Her daytime sneakers have been replaced by fashionable high heeled pumps, and she does not remove them until she gets to the movies.

After the movies, at the campus cafe, the BWOC undergoes her severest test. The true BWOC will never, never, never, order the entire menu. This is gluttony and can only cause one's date to blanch. The true BWOC will pick six or seven good entrees and then have nothing more till dessert. This is class and is the hallmark of the true BWOC.

Finally, the BWOC, upon being asked by the cigarette vendor which is the brand of her choice, will always reply, "Marlboro, of course!" For any girl knows that a Marlboro in one's hand stamps one instantly as a person of taste and discernment, the possessor of an educated palate, as a connoisseur of the finer, loftier pleasures. This Marlboro, this badge of savoir-faire, comes to you in flip-top boxes that flip, or in soft packs that are soft, with a filter that filters and a flavor that is flavorful, in all fifty states of the Union and Duluth.
