'Ball Queen' Begins Reign Saturday

One of the five Military Ball queen finalists will be crowned at the annual Military Ball Saturday night at Memorial Gymnasium. Anne Wood, Delta Gamma; Lee Lackey, Hays; Sue Fisk, Gamma Phi; Diane Fawson, Kappa; and Andrea Anderson, Pi Phi are the finalists. Capt. E. Davey Jr., U. S. N. will announce the new queen during the intermission.

The theme of the dance will be in keeping with the theme of the World's Fair in Seattle, "Century 21."

General chairman, Midshipman L. O. Woodbury, announced that the 13th Naval District Band from Seattle will play for the dance which begins at 9 p.m. All University ROTC students in uniform will be admitted free. Others will be admitted at the door for $1 per couple.

The reception line will be strictly student officers this year, with representatives from each of the three ROTC units.

The responsibility of the dance planning is rotated each year to a different branch of the ROTC; the Navy is in charge this year.

Spurs Decide To Sponsor Song Fest

A reorganized Song Fest under the sponsorship of the Spurs will be held during the May Fete weekend, according to Nancy Yount, head of the Spur Song Fest committee. The traditional Song Fest was last presented in 1960.

Miss Yount said that a meeting has been set for Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Delta Gamma house for all song leaders of living groups who are interested in participating in the competition May 11.

In the new Song Fest there will be three divisions—men, women and mixed groups. However, in each division there will be eliminations and only three winners in each division will sing in the final presentation. The eliminations will be held during the first week of May.

Registration will be $7 for the men and women, while $10 is the fee for the mixed groups.

Each group will sing two songs, commented Miss Yount. One will be a common song to be sung in each division. The second will be a special song chosen by the individual groups.

During the Song Fest itself the three winners of each division will sing only their special song. The winners will sing for an encore the common song in their division.

Minimum participation in the single groups is 25 people. In the mixed groups it has been set at 35. There will be no solos allowed, said Miss Yount.

Every living group is eligible whether they have won in the past or not. To help the song leaders of the respective groups, Professor Glen Lockery of the Music Department has offered to give advice in song direction. The time will be announced later.

Information will be sent out soon to the living groups as to rules, eligibility, etc.

"This is different from the previous song fest in that it has eliminations and will be generally handled in a different way. It is used by WSU and other Northwest schools and has been quite successful," commented Miss Yount.

Exec Board Names Two Frosh Heads

Carl Johannesen, Campus Club, and Gary Mahn, Sigma Nu, have been picked by the Executive Board as over-all chairmen for Freshman Week, March 12-17.

The board's decision to pick a chairman or chairmen came after the Academic Council refused a petition by the four scholastically ineligible freshman class officers to retain their positions. Traditionally the class president is chairman for the week.

Dennis Bodily, ineligible class president, recommended to the board that Johannesen and Mahn be named. He said the recommendations were drawn up by all the class officers.

Other candidates for the position who had been nominated by the Freshman Extended Board were Mark Brown, Beta; and John Utt, Delta Sig, who lost the class presidency by four votes in the fall election.

SUB Debate Draws Sizable Crowd But Smoker Fails To Produce 'Fire'

Over 500 students crowded into the Student Union middle ballroom last night, hoping to see the annual, pre-election Smoker turn into a "fire," as it has occasionally in the past. Any hopes they may have had were left smoldering.

The smoker, which is generally credited with "making or breaking" the majority of ASUI candidates, was undistinguished by any startling statements or accusations. The carnival-like atmosphere, sometimes prevalent in the past, was absent from the yearly "turkey-shoot."

The two presidential candidates, CUP's Ron Houghtalin and United's Gary Carlson, acquitted themselves well with their respective summation speeches.

In his final speech CUP presidential candidate Ron Houghtalin urged the voters to look for the quality of the job done while in office when considering the candidate's qualifications, not just at the list of offices. He pointed out that the editorial in the "I," a subject of much debate during the smokers, exemplified freedom of expression and perhaps this would attract students.

He used the constitution in pointing out several points in his party's platform and then closed by saying: "I hope you will respect the sincerity of myself and my candidates and whenever you want something done, let us know; that will be our job."

United's Carlson preceded Houghtalin in the final remarks. He noted the experience of the United candidates saying that this list of qualifications exhibits a willingness to work and maturity combined with forcefulness. He also asked about a point in CUP's platform concerning the strengthening of Inter-Fraternity Council as a communicative body. He closed by saying "The door to the ASUI office will always be open. My mind will also be open."

Both of the candidates received long ovations for their speeches.

It seemed that a great many of the questions the audience directed to the candidates were "loaded or pat" questions. Several times the candidates had a ready answer prepared which they read from their notes.

In his opening remarks Carlson defended last year's E-Board and the action taken on raising the activities grade point requirement by saying, "I say you can't lead without an alleged fallacy in CUP's accusation that the students were not against the grade raise 9-1, but rather 2-1."

Voters Approve Constitution

Voters, by a 110-vote margin, approved the revised ASUI constitution.

A total of 1,144 "yes" were counted to offset 320 "no" votes and 439 blank ballots.

The measure to pass needed the approval of 35 percent of the student body (1252 votes) or two-thirds of the votes cast (1734), whichever was the larger number.

The revised constitution was two years in the making. The measure that was passed did not contain any change in the judicial system.

Gov. Candidates

The candidates for governor that will participate are Charles Herndon, Salmon; Lt. Gov. William Drevlow, Craigmont; John Walters, Boise, former state party chairman; Omar Maine, Parma; Conley Ward, Howard Hechtner, Lapwai; and Clarence

United Party's Bowes Is Veep; Voting Total Sets New Record

By JIM HERNDON
Campus Union party's Ron Houghtalin was elected ASUI president by 41 votes tonight to break United party's four-year stranglehold on the prey post.

For the second straight year the president and vice-president will be members of opposing parties as United's Bill Bowes overwhelmed CUP's Roy Bowman 1309 to 1109.

A record 2505 votes were posted in the election. In the presidential race, Houghtalin received 1237 votes to Carlson's 1196. There were 71 other votes, including 18 that were thrown out because they weren't stamped. Other individuals receiving votes were Larry Ripley, Bob Plumb, John Glenn, Lorenzo Toad, and Bob Alexander.

Jim Mullen, who was elected president on United's ticket, and Dick Stiles, who ran for vice-president on CUP's standard, are the outgoing officers.

The last non-United party president was elected in 1956 on a third party ticket. That year Dick Weeks won representing the Student Government party. The previous year another Student Government man, Chuck McDevitt, was elected.

Since then United Party has controlled the executive chair through Dave Maxey, 1957-58; Dick Kerbs, 1958-59; Laird Noh, 1959-60; Bruce McCowan, 1960-61; and Mullen.

At 6:15 all indications pointed that Houghtalin was elected. The balloting at this stage gave the CUP candidate a 1,237 to 1,196 margin. The United party president Dean-Grossenbach asked for a recount.

The results of the recount were made official at 6:28. Houghtalin's 41 tally margin was validated by both party presidents and Bob Hahn, Election Board chairman.

"I'm really glad that there was such a good turn-out at the polls," loser Carlson said. "I think a great deal of Ron and I commend him on his fine campaign and wish him the best of luck in the coming year."

The vice-presidential ballots were tallied by 6:43. The election officials decided that a recount was not necessary because of the 200 vote margin.

CUP's defeated candidate for vice-president, Roy Bowman, commented:

"I'm disappointed, of course, in not winning; however, all is not lost in defeat. I have been fortunate in making many new friends, learning many fine points in ASUI governmental structure and surviving a debate and three smokers."

Ron Houghtalin President

Bill Bowes Vice President

"I'm happy. I know we will have a good year and hope that we will have everyone's support. As I promised last night, we are here to serve you, so let us know when and where we can help."

"I would like to thank all the people who supported me, and especially my campaign manager John Wicklund. I will live up to the confidence the voters had in me."

68 Percent Of Students Turn Out To Vote Today

Campus Union Party won the presidency in an election that saw a record turnout. A total of 2505 students representing 68 per cent of the student body went to the polls.

The old mark was set in 1960 when United's Bruce McCowan edged Paul Kroegel the Independent candidate. A total of 2361 votes were cast in 1960.

Last year only 2280 voted as President Jim Mullen and Vice-president Dick Stiles each won his office by 30 votes.

Ron Houghtalin, the newly elected president captured 49 per cent of the votes as he picked up 1237 ballots. His opponent, Gary Carlson, received 1109 and 41 per cent of the ballots cast.

Bill Bowes ran strong in the vice-presidential tussle. The United party candidate received 1309 votes which represented 52 per cent of votes cast. Roy Bowman had 1109 votes for 44 per cent.

Last year's percentage results were considerably closer. Mullen who squeaked by Lynn Hossner, received 48.7 per cent of the votes cast. Hossner had 47.4 per cent of Surely, this campaign represents that valuable part of education that cannot be gained from textbooks. Best of luck to the victors."

By JIM METCALF
Campus Union Party pulled the surprise of the year as they broke tradition and got out enough voters to elect five members of the new ASUI Executive Board. This is the first time since 1956 United has not dominated E-Board.

United Party filled the remaining four places in the voting which went nine ballots. Last year it took twelve ballots to elect the Board. Bill Frates, CUP, went over on the first ballot with 330 first place votes. 243 first places were needed to be elected as compared to 227 last year. Frates was elected at 8:08 p.m.

One hour later the ninth candidate was picked. The balloting was unusually fast as compared to years past. No one was elected on either the second, third, or fourth ballots. Loren Butler, Angie Arrien, and Barbara Blair, all United candidates, were dropped on these ballots respectively.

At 8:35 when votes were redistributed, United's Skip French was elected. CUP's Jan Evans was dropped on that ballot. On the sixth ballot two more CUP candidates were elected and one was dropped. Carvel Whiting and Toni Thunen went over and Jim Judd was dropped.

On the seventh ballot the action was all United as Fred Warren was elected and Eleanor Unzicker was dropped. There was a tie between Miss Unzicker and Ron Kulm. Kulm had more votes on the previous ballot thus Miss Unzicker was dropped.

On the eighth ballot Alyce Joy Taylor, CUP, and John Ferris, United, were elected. The time was 9 p.m. Ten minutes later when Miss Unzicker's ballots were redistributed between Tom Eisenbarth, Cliff Eldred, and Ron Kulm, Eisenbarth and Eldred were declared the winners. Kulm had six votes less than the last man elected.

United president Dean Grossenbach in commenting on the campaign said, "I think it was a good campaign and we did our best. The people that worked on this campaign, both the candidates and the party, all worked hard.

Naturally in my mind the wrong people won and as president of United party I don't think that those elected are as well qualified as the candidates that we presented to the people. However, the voters have spoken and we throw our full support behind the people elected."

CUP president Tory Nelson said, "The results of this election are truly recognition of the Campus Union party as a progressive and active party."

At the presidential level last year, Stiles received 48.4 per cent and his opponent Bob Brown had 47.1. 4.5 per cent of last year's 2280 votes went for write-ins.

A mistake was made in computing the total number of votes cast in the constitutional query. However, Election Board Chairman Bob Hahn said that since the margin of votes was so great there would be no recount. The count of constitutional votes revealed that out of a total of 2603 cast 1844 favored the measure. However, a later count showed that only 2505 votes had been cast in the election.

There were 320 no votes and even if the addition of the difference between the two counts were no votes, Hahn said, "There would not be enough no votes to defeat the measure."

Idaho Political Hopefuls Due For CCH Workshop

By JIM HERNDON
Arg Managing Editor

An appeal for students to participate in the political workshop Saturday was made by Bob Tunnicliff, Citizenship Clearing House publicity chairman, and Gordon Powers, CCH chairman.

"The workshop will feature the largest gathering of state political leaders on campus that there will be for the next two years," Tunnicliff said.

"If students demonstrate that they are interested in such an undertaking by attending, we'll hold other workshops in the future," Powers stated. "If the attendance is low we'll have to discontinue it."

CCH, a non-political organization, is sponsoring the political workshop in conjunction with the Young Democrat and Young Republican clubs. Sixteen state office candidates in the June primaries, including all but two of the gubernatorial candidates, will attend.

The GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

Since the ballots weren't counted until late tonight, Jason had to write his column early and as a consequence doesn't know the results of the election.

A little bit about the campaign can be noted, though. As I have said before, the campaign was both quiet and slightly un-dramatic. However, it was interesting and informative. Both parties, it seemed to me, brought out some very relevant matters that could be improved upon in the ASUI structure. The increased interest in KUOI was highly interesting and no matter how you voted it looks as though the campus radio station may get a bit more attention than in the past.

Although this might not be a valid comparison, KWSC from Washington State has one of the best sounds of any radio station in the Inland Empire. It is almost THE radio station for people who want to listen to relaxing music, not to mention the classics and informative educational programs.

It would seem to me that, even though KUOI is not able to broadcast in this same caliber, it should be strengthened to provide a somewhat similar line of listening for University students and faculty. This is an institution of higher learning and its radio station, if it broadcasts, should interpret the efforts being pursued here.

KUOI isn't even able to broadcast to the whole campus and consequently, when it does have programs of interest and intelligent music, they are never able to reach more than a minute part of the student body.

It definitely needs help and funds to provide it the base to begin a program such as this, however. If it doesn't get that help, then why even have a radio station on campus? Surely, there are enough rock 'n roll and twisting radio stations in this area now.

Idaho was honored once again through the efforts of one of its faculty members. Dr. Robert J. Huckshorn, assistant professor of political science, won one of the most sought-after fellowships in the field of political science in the nation.

This is just one more reason why the University, the people of the state of Idaho, and the students here can be justly proud of its state university. Quoting Dr. Robert Hosack, head of the social sciences department, "The award reflects credit on the professional work he has been doing at the University of Idaho." I think that Dr. Hosack's words aptly describe the political science professor. The Argonaut wishes to extend its congratulations to Dr. Huckshorn, as do University students and the people of the state.

Somewhat, the Citizenship Clearing House doesn't get much publicity and recognition but seems to get more accomplished than a dozen similar organizations. It co-sponsored the award that Dr. Huckshorn received and now the local chapter is putting together one of the finest political workshops that the University has ever hosted.

From the list of political figures that will attend the weekend workshop, it looks as though Idaho students have a chance to see and meet practically every important politician in the state. While students are in the political mood this would be a good time to get informed as to the people who are running the state and those who might possibly be in the near future.

I noticed that Governor Smylie will be unable to attend. This is too bad since there will be several candidates who are seeking his job represented at the workshop.

Maybe the newly elected ASUI heads can give them some tips on how to win elections!

Talent Waste?

Dear Jason:
The ASUI election-eve smoky Wednesday pointed to a sorry fact of our election system. Of the candidates running for ASUI president and vice president only two of the four will be elected. From where I was sitting it was certainly apparent that there would be a shameful waste of talent.

Why couldn't the two not elected automatically gain positions on the executive board? Maybe the new board might consider this as an amendment to the new constitution.

Sincerely,
Doug Gotcher

The "I"

Dear Jason:
In response to the repeated derogatory comments and in answer to fearful speculations, I feel I should comment on the state of "The I."

First, there is the subjective and irrelevant reporting of Gale Mix with his seven examples of "Literary Magazine Failure." He states that the U of W, WSU and five other universities lost huge sums of money on their magazines, coming to the unstated conclusion that the U of Idaho should not have one. The point is not that Mr. Mix does not mention the successful magazines; the point is not that the failing magazines were largely poor-humor mags; the point is not that lit mags are supposed to cost money, just as the Arg loses $9000.00 each year; the point is that "The I" was a complete success, even in its experimental stage, selling out in two days and costing only $30. I find it very difficult to accept the "It can't be done report" of such a reporter who, incidentally, claims in one breath that the Idaho publications were highly rated by the Pacific Coast States Publicity Directors and in the next breath, that these directors did not rate the publications.

Secondly, there are the repeated derogatory comments by the Argonaut (with a nervous hope for a glance of approval from the hill) in a vain effort to discredit "The I" and alienate half the campus from it. It should be sufficient to state, in response, that there will be another editorial, and it will be opinionated in spite of the paradoxical contention by the Arg that no editorial should be. Furthermore, "The I" is not a CUP magazine. In spite of the Arg's references to it as CUP's magazine, "The I" is published for the University as a whole, not by individuals. One half the contributors and one half of those now editing it are members of Unfed. "The I" is "Our" magazine, not "Their" magazine, and anyone who contributes, if only by buying an issue, can take his share of credit for it.

Dear Jason

Third, the ASUI will not be offered the privilege of "taking over" "The I", so the propagandists may relax and Mr. Mix need not make any more fraudulent publications. We do not need the financial support, as was at first anticipated; and we certainly do not need the controls that other ASUI publications suffer.

The second issue of "The I" will appear in the sunshine of early May.

Executive Board Disapproves Football Game Proposal

In the last meeting before orientation activities begin for the newly-elected members, the Executive Board Tuesday night voiced disapproval in a 6-3 vote for a proposal that the Idaho-Oregon State football game be held in Spokane next fall rather than in Moscow.

ASUI president Jim Mullen told the board that the athletic department had received a request from the Spokane alumni that the game be held in Spokane. The department referred the proposal to the Executive Board in order to get students' opinion.

Athletic Board of Control, told the board that there would be many financial benefits from a game played in Spokane which has a large population center.

In opposing the proposal, Larry Hossner said that as long as students are required to buy activity tickets they should be given an opportunity to have more home games.

In financial action, the board unanimously voted to transfer $100 from a $300 fund set up for the Varsity Band last year to the Concert Band traveling fund.

According to Mullen, who presented the matter, none of the $300 that had been appropriated for new Varsity Band uniforms has been used and that the fund was thus available for use by the University concert band.

The board also rejected a request that had been presented earlier by Mrs. Charmaine Fitzgerald, SUB Program Director, that an assistantship be set up for a graduate student to take over some of the lesser management duties in the SUB.

The board agreed that in three or four years such a plan might be feasible, but it could not see the need or find the necessary finances for one now.

UNITED WE STAND

The entire academic world is agog over the success of the Associated Colleges Plan—ACP, for short. I mean, you go to any campus in the country these days and you will see students and faculty dancing on the green, blowing penny whistles, grabbing each other by the elbows and yelling, "About that ACP, Charley—like wow!"

And who can blame them? The ACP is a plan not only simply brilliant, but also brilliantly simple. All it is, is a loose regional federation of small colleges. Let's say, for example, that in a given region we have a group of small colleges, each with its own academic specialty. Small College No. 1, let's say, has a fine language department; Small College No. 2, let's say, has a fine science department; No. 3 has a fine music department; etc., etc.

Well sir, under the ACP these various colleges federate. A student in any one of the colleges can take courses in the specialty of any of the other colleges and—here's the beauty part!—he will receive credit for the course at his home college. Thus he enjoys all the advantages of a big university without losing the comfy coziness of a small college!

Well sir, you can see what a good idea the ACP is. I respectfully submit, however, that just because a thing is good is no reason not to try to make it better. Like, for instance, Marlboro Cigarettes. Marlboros were good from the very beginning, and people found out quickly and sales zoomed. But did the makers of Marlboro say, "Okay, we've got it made. Let's relax?" Well sir, that's what you think, you don't know the makers! They did not relax. They took their good Marlboros and kept improving them. They improved the filter, improved the blend, improved the pack. They researched and developed tirelessly, until today Marlboro is just about the most admirable cigarette you can put a match to. There are, in fact, some people who find Marlboros so admirable they can't bear to put a match to them. They just sit with a single Marlboro in hand and admire it for ten, twelve years on end. The makers of Marlboro are of course deeply touched by this—except for E. Rennie Sigafos, the sales manager.

But I digress. The ACP, I say, is good but it can be better. Why should the plan be confined to small colleges? Why should it be confined to a limited region? Why not include all colleges and universities, big and small, wherever they are?

Let's start such a federation. Let's call it the "Bigger Associated Colleges To Encourage Richer Intellectual Activity"—BACTERIA, for short!

There are still a few bugs in BACTERIA.

What a bright new world BACTERIA opens up. Take, for example, a typical college student—Hunrath Sigafos (son, incidentally, of the Marlboro sales manager). Hunrath, a bright lad, is currently majoring in burley at the University of Kentucky. Under the BACTERIA plan, Hunrath could stay at Kentucky, where he has made many friends, but at the same time broaden his vistas by taking a course in constitutional law at Harvard, a course in physics at Caltech, a course in frostbite at Minnesota and a course in poi at Hawaii!

I admit there are still a few bugs in BACTERIA. How, for instance, could Hunrath attend a 9 o'clock class at Harvard, a 10 o'clock class at Hawaii, an 11 o'clock class at Minnesota, and still keep his lunch date at Kentucky? It would be idle to deny that this is a tricky problem, but I have no doubt Idahoan ingenuity will carry the day. Always remember how they laughed at Edison and Fulton—and particularly at Walter Clavicle who invented the collarbone.

Three cheers for American ingenuity, which gave us the ACP, the collarbone and MGM. ... that's the Mighty Good Makin' you get in Marlboro, the filter cigarette with the un-filtered taste. Settle back and enjoy one. You get a lot to like.

Bucket Will Serve Pancakes

The first servings of four varieties of pancakes will be made Sunday evening when the doors open to the Blue Bucket Inn Pancake House in the southeast corner of the Student Union Building cafeteria. Operation of the Pancake House got the green light this week after more than a month's planning by the Blue Bucket Inn Committee of the SUB programming committee. The Pancake House, which will be open every other Sunday evening from 5:30 to 7:30, will be patterned after the original Blue Bucket Inn, which was located in the present Bookstore. The Blue Bucket Inn was a restaurant and one of the "great meeting places" on the campus before the installation of the Bookstore. Fourteen waiters and waitresses will serve the 16 tables in a restaurant style. According to Ann Spiker, Blue Bucket Inn Committee chairman, the Pancake House will have a capacity to serve 60 persons at a time. The Student Union cooks, under the supervision of Dean Veltus, SUB food director, will prepare four varieties of pancakes — strawberry, buttermilk, Swedish and blueberry. Side orders will also be available. Waitresses and waiters include Joani Myers, Sheryl Henderson, Terry Stigle, Gayle Cramer, Marlene Strobel, Patty Brown, Sharon Hopper, Colleen O'Keefe, Anne Albee, Nancy Wolte, Sue Nelson and Joe Basque.

Religion In Life Speakers To Be With Campus Church Groups

By ANN SHAW
"Values: Relative or Universal?" will be the topic presented by the Reverend Robert G. Albertson to Methodist students this Sunday evening at 5:30 p.m. at the Methodist Church. Reverend Albertson, who is one of the visiting speakers for the annual Religion In Life Conference, is director of religious life and assistant professor of religion at the University of Puget Sound. He will also be the guest preacher at the First Methodist Church for the two services of worship at 9:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. Sunday. His topic will be "To Be a Man."
BREESE FELLOWSHIP
Dr. Gilbert Ford, chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics at Northwest Nazarene College of Nampa, Idaho, will speak at the Breese Fellowship meeting Sunday evening. Dr. Ford, an atomic physicist and a Harvard graduate will speak on "The Relation of Science to Religion."
CANTERBURY HOUSE
Two of the Religion In Life Conference speakers will be guests at the regular Canterbury Supper at 5:30 p.m. Dr. Daniel L. Morris, Head of the Department of Science, Lakeside School, Seattle, and The Rev. David S. Alkins, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Walla Walla, and chaplain at Whitman College will visit with Can-

Religion In Life Conference Opens Monday

Eight Noted Clergymen And Church Laymen Will Head Three Days Of Discussions

By IDONA KELLOGG
Argonaut Staff Writer

Dr. Daniel Luzon Morris, an Episcopalian layman and scientist from Seattle, will formally open the 1962 University Religion In Life Conference Monday at 11 a.m. with the topic "This Man-Made World." Fourth period classes are excused for the convocation which will be held in the Administration Auditorium. Dr. Morris heads a slate of eight clergymen and laymen from different denominations of the Pacific Northwest, who will speak Monday through Wednesday in seminars, classes, living group gatherings, and informal gab sessions on topics concerning religion and science. The RILC theme is "Faith in Orbit."

Dr. Morris is now a member of the bishop's committee at St. George's Episcopal Church in Seattle. In addition to publishing nearly a dozen scientific papers, he is the author of "Possibilities Unlimited: A Scientist's Approach to Christianity." He has just completed a second book with the tentative title, "This Man-Made World," and it is from this that most of his material for RILC will be drawn. The other three speakers are Dr. Don C. Wood, who presides over the Northern States Mission of the Church of Latter-Day Saints; Rabbi Lloyd R. Goldman, who lectures on college campuses under the auspices of the Jewish Chautauque Society; and The Rev. Robert G. Albertson, director of religious life at the University of Puget Sound, Seattle.

Dr. Nuxoll has served in Moscow's St. Mary's Church as well as St. John's Cathedral in Boise. He holds degrees in education, philosophy, and theology, having attended St. Edward's Seminary at Seattle University, and the Catholic University of America. In addition to his duties in Emmett, Fr. Nuxoll contributes to several magazines and newspapers on topics of current religious trends. Rev. Alkins attended New England Conservatory of Music in Boston and later received a Doctor of Music degree. His Bachelor of Divinity degree is from Berkeley Seminary, New Haven, Conn. He was rector of Christ Church, Seattle, and Episcopal Chaplain, University of Washington, before coming to Walla Walla. He is also the chaplain to Whitman College students.

The other four speakers have been featured in past issues of the Argonaut. Dr. Morris, the keynote speaker, has received his B.A. degree from Yale in 1929, and his Ph.D. in organic chemistry in 1934. After a year of post-doctorate research at the Yale Medical School, he taught science and math at Putney School, Putney, Vt. From 1944-1948 he did biochemical research at Mead-Johnson and Company in Evansville, Indiana. He then came to Seattle, as research supervisor at Ford, Chemical and Research Laboratories, Inc., a consulting firm.

Dr. Ford has been a research physicist at the University of California. He held a teaching fellowship at Harvard. Rev. Woods holds a B.S. in biology (genetics and eugenics) and degrees in English literature from Whitworth College, and a degree in theology from the San Francisco Theological Seminary. He has done much research on the nature of man while working for his Ph.D. in social psychology at the University of Washington. During the course of these studies, he has published a book entitled "Church Drama and the Christian Faith—A Definitive Philosophy."

Nuxoll, Catholic pastor of Sacred Heart Church in Emmett, are two of the eight speakers featured in next week's Religion in Life Conference. Dr. Daniel Luzon Morris, Episcopalian layman and scientist from Seattle, is keynote speaker. The conference theme is "Faith in Orbit" and concerns science and religion.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Nationally-known Christian Science lecturer, Ella H. Hayes, will speak at the Campus Christian Center next Thursday at 8:15 p.m. Her topic is "Christian Science, Defender of Individual Right."

ENGINEER?
SCIENTIST!
We're looking forward to meeting you

We'll be on the campus on the dates listed below, ready to give engineering and science seniors information on space-age careers in a dynamic industry. If you are looking for a company offering assignments on programs of unique interest and career potential, you'll be interested in the advantages Boeing can offer you.

Boeing, for instance, is a major contractor on such advanced programs as the Saturn S-1B advanced first stage booster, the Dyna-Soar manned space glider, the solid-fuel Minuteman ICBM, and the Bomarc defense missile system. Boeing is also the world's foremost designer and builder of multijet aircraft, including the eight-jet B-52H missile bomber, the KC-135 tanker-transport, the C-135 cargo-jet, and the famous Boeing 707, 720 and 727 jetliners. In addition, Boeing's Vertol Division is one of America's leading builders of helicopters.

Research projects at Boeing are under way in such advanced fields as celestial mechanics, solid state physics, nuclear and plasma physics, flight sciences, space flight and propulsion. Expanding Boeing programs offer exceptional opportunities to holders of B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in aeronautical, mechanical, civil, electrical-electronic and industrial engineering, and in engineering, mechanics, engineering physics as well as in mathematics and physics. At Boeing you'll work in a small group where individual ability and initiative get plenty of visibility. You'll enjoy many other advantages, including an opportunity to take graduate studies at company expense to help you get ahead faster. Drop in to your Placement Office and arrange for an interview. We're looking forward to meeting you!

Still Another Idea From Carl

State Rep. Carl Burt has a brand new idea. Like some of his others, though, it's been proposed without too much consideration of its feasibility or whether anybody else is in favor of it.

Last week he suggested that Idaho and Idaho State play a third basketball game this season to decide which team is tops. So far each school has won one game.

Mr. Burt has claimed somewhat vaguely that a group of southwest Idaho residents wants a post-season contest between the two schools. Whether the "group of southwest Idaho residents" is comprised of anyone more than Rep. Burt himself, I don't know.

The trouble is, the idea is practically impossible to carry out. Both the Vandals and the Bengals have completed — or will this weekend — 26-game schedules, the maximum approved by the NCAA. And special NCAA permission for the game would be practically impossible. Apparently Mr. Burt proclaimed his idea without checking into this.

Idaho Athletic Director Skip Stahley says the only post-season games the NCAA would approve are NCAA tournaments. "There couldn't possibly be another game because that would create so many exceptions that the rule wouldn't be any good," he said.

The legislator seems to have lost interest in his idea already. "I heard Mr. Burt was going to contact me, but he hasn't yet," Stahley said. "Nobody from ISC has, either. I think the idea will collapse of its own weight."

Mr. Burt, who some people claim is a possible candidate for governor, secretary of state, or some other office, has thought up a few other ideas during his stint in the Legislature, but some of them haven't worked out, either.

For instance, he has proposed that Idaho State College become a university, that Lewis-Clark Normal School become a four-year school while it's still trying to obtain enough money to operate successfully as a two-year school, and that next year's Idaho-ISC football game be played at Boise. But he hasn't had much luck in finding enough other people to support these suggestions.

Maybe Mr. Burt's next idea will at least be feasible.

Cip And OSU Liked Them

Vandal basketball coach Joe Cipriano remembered a group of people today whom he thought are worthy of high praise. "I forgot to mention it, but our pompon girls were really great down at Oregon State a couple of weeks ago," he said.

Cipriano heard quite a few favorable comments about the precision (probably a few about the nice legs, too) of the girls when they traveled to Corvallis for the two games last month.

"Even some of the sportswriters down there mentioned something about how it shows good Idaho spirit," the coach said, "and they thought it looked like Idaho was finally kicking through with a few shekels for its athletic program." Looks like the girls can look forward to a few more trips.

Halfback Dick Mooney Chosen As Most Inspirational Gridder

Dick Mooney, senior halfback from Weiser, was given the Heck Edmonson Award as the 1961 Vandal football team's most inspirational player at the annual squad banquet tonight in Pullman.

Mooney's teammates selected him by a landslide. He led the nation in kickoff returns last year and set five new school records in doing it.

Idaho, Maybe Without White, To Meet Washington In Finale

Idaho's Vandals will face one of their toughest opponents of the year — and possibly without the services of their leading scorer — when they face the Washington Huskies tomorrow night in Memorial Gym in the closing game of the season.

Chuck White, who has been averaging 18.1 points a game for Idaho, is still recovering from a sprained ankle he acquired in a contest at Idaho State last weekend. Coach Joe Cipriano said he wouldn't know until tomorrow whether or not the junior forward would be able to play.

However, the coach was optimistic about Idaho's chances. "We have a good chance of beating them; I feel it," he said. But he added that "they're probably the second best basketball team we've played, next to Oregon State."

The Vandals boasting a record of 13 wins and 12 losses, will be trying to net their first winning season since 1958, when the team had a 17-9 record. Washington has a 14-10 record.

Met Once Before The two ball clubs have met

3 To Receive Hoop Awards

Three annual basketball awards will be made at half-time of the Idaho-Washington basketball game Friday night in Memorial Gym.

Oldest award of the trio is the Ronald White plaque presented by Sigma Nu fraternity. The first award was made posthumously to Ronald White, who was killed in an automobile accident. First presented in 1946, the plaque is given to the athlete voted most valuable by his teammates. Last year's winner was Ken Maren.

The Jay Gano trophy was first presented in 1952 in memory of Lt. Jay Gano, who was killed in Korea, Oct. 10, 1951. Gano was a former basketball letterman at Idaho. Sam Jenkins, a guard from Denver, Colo., and the highest scorer in Idaho history at that time, was the first winner. Last year the trophy went to Dale James, an assistant coach this year.

The "Oz" Thompson award was presented for the first time in 1959. It is the team sportsmanship award presented in honor of "Oz" Thompson, a member of the 1923 Pacific Coast Conference champion Vandals. James won the first award. Last year it was presented to Tom Guillian.

The presentations will be made by University vice president H. Walter Steffens.

once before this season. That time the Huskies defeated Idaho 75-66 at Seattle. This time the Vandals will have the home court advantage.

Idaho will be facing one of the Northwest's highest scorers tomorrow night in the person of Bill Hanson, a 6-8 senior center. He is averaging 21.1 points a game and scored 40 against California last weekend.

If White plays, he and junior guard will be leading Idaho into the fray. Porter shook off a three-week slump last weekend to boost his per-game point average to 14.9.

In Last Game

Two Vandal seniors, both starters, will be playing their last collegiate basketball game tomorrow. They are forward Reg Carolan and center Ken Maren, the team's leading rebounder.

Probable Vandal starters are White, Carolan, Maren, Porter and Lyle Parks. Starting for the Huskies will be Hanson, Dick Reiten, Keith Brown, Roger Niva and Ed Corell.

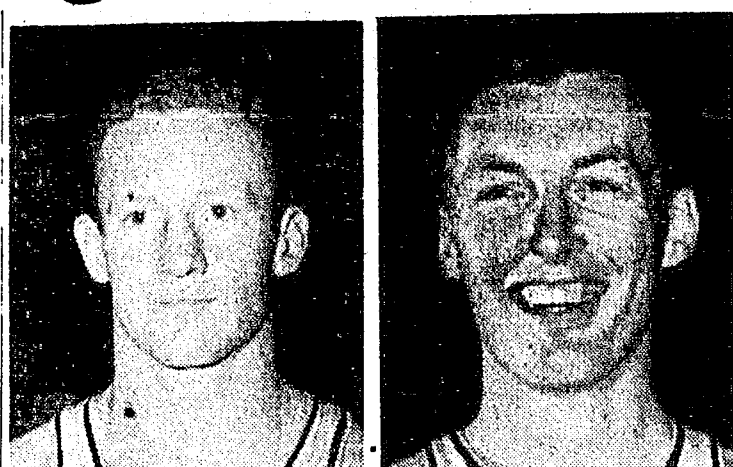

Swimming Group Adds 23 To Roster

Twenty-three swimmers picked up their Heildiver crests tonight, as the Idaho swimming honorary tion.

The crack pool honorary tapped the 28 Monday evening, preparatory to tonight's initiation.

'SWEATERS HERE

Freshman and varsity football sweaters for 1961-62 may be picked up now at the Athletic Department.

LAST GAME — Two Vandal seniors will play their last collegiate basketball game tomorrow night when Idaho closes its season against the Washington Huskies. Seeing action for the last time will be forward Reg Carolan (left) and center Ken Maren, both starters.

INTRAMURALS

It's all over in the "A" basketball wars. The powerful ATO team won the trophy for the second straight year Tuesday with a smashing 62-36 victory over TMA2.

With three ex-Panhandle Conference high school stars playing for the ATOs, the contest was never close.

Jeff Wombolt, a former varsity member, led the winners with 23 points. Dean Lundblad canned 15, and Gary Amos added 14 to the ATO drive.

The ATO team previously had won the right to play for the trophy when they beat the Deltas 33-28 Monday night for the Greek championship.

Phi Deltis Win In the rest of the "A" windup, Monday night's game saw the Phi Deltis beating their traditional Beta rivals 49-37 for fifth place in the Greek standings.

Gault took Upham 2 for fifth in the Independent side of the ledger with a 54-43 win. Elsewhere, Willis Sweet 2 captured third place for the Independents with a forfeit win over Chrisman. In a low-scoring game, TMA won 9th place in Independent standings with a narrow 17-16 victory over GH2, and Willis Sweet won seventh as they beat SH2 45-31.

In games played Tuesday, the Fijis edged Kappa Sigma 41-39 for third in the Greek standing, and Chrisman 2 trounced Campus Club 49-18 for 13th place in the Independent ranks. An Independent battle for 11th is still under protest.

In a note of interest, the Fijis shot into first place in intramural point standing by virtue of their triumph in skiing. They now have 827 points. The Deltas are still holding down second with 820. The ATOs took a big drop, falling from first to third. They have a 820-point total but basketball points are not added in.

Idaho Tracksters Prepare For Cougar Meet March 17

The Vandal varsity and freshman track squads are well into their fourth week of training to prepare for their first meet, the Washington State Indoor Invitational Meet March 17.

The initial home meet this season is the University of Idaho Invitational Relay Meet March 31. Teams already entered include Yakima Valley Junior College, Columbia Basin College, Eastern Oregon College, Central Washington College and the Inland Empire Athletic Club.

This is the second year that the meet has been held, and some ten schools and clubs, four more than last season, are expected to participate.

Although hampered in practice by the past two weeks of cold and snow, the Idaho squad ran through its first trials in the Washington State fieldhouse last Saturday. Except in a few instances, marks were poor, but most team members are quickly rounding into shape.

Borneman Stars

The outstanding varsity performance was by quarter-mile hurdler Dick Borneman, who ran a swift 60.7 500 yards followed by a 52.7 relay quarter. Borneman is one of the top intermediate hurdlers in the Pacific Northwest, and he'll be performing in this event in the Far West Relays in Corvallis on March 31. Another intermediate hurdler, Curt Flisher, ran a 2:22.5 1000 yards, which is a good mark for this early season.

Half-mile Louie Olaso posted the best time in the 1320 yard run, at 3:16.7. Olaso will be Idaho's steeplechase entry in the relays on the 31st. Another good mark was Bob Johnson's 37.5 330.

Several outstanding track and field marks were reached by the Vandal squad the week before, when they held their first trials of the season indoors at Washington State. Marks were especially good considering the earliness of the trials and the cold temperatures.

Lectzow Breaks Record Freshman discus thrower Max Lectzow of Los Altos, Calif., surpassed the school frosh record with a throw of 151 feet 6 1/4 inches. Junior discus man Doug Anderson had the longest throw of his career at 149 feet 8 inches. Senior Joe Davis, slowly rounding into condition, threw 143 feet.

Another frosh weight-man, Darrell Rich, from Bakersfield, Calif., put the 16 pound shot 47 feet 9 inches. The frosh marks in the shot and discus are 47 feet and 147 feet respectively, both marks set by Don Biagi in 1961.

Two outstanding track marks were set, one by a freshman and one by a varsity athlete. Jerry Howard, state B high hurdles champion from Potlatch, ran the 70 yard high hurdles in 9.1 seconds, and former state A low hurdle champion Jerry Pressey from Twin Falls ran the 70 yard low hurdles in 8 seconds flat. Both marks equaled the winning times in the 1961 WSU Indoor Invitational meet. Pressey also ran a swift 5.5 50 yard dash.

LESSON 4 - Why men watch girls

Men watch girls for various reasons. Personally, we need no better reason than the reason men climb mountains. They are there. We have heard old men say they watch girls because it makes them feel younger and young men because it makes them feel older (see above). While investigating the reasons why men watch girls we picked up a clue from, of all things, a bird watcher. He told us that he formerly had been a flower watcher. Then one day a Speckle-Breasted Jackdaw happened to land in his garden as he was watching a calla lily and he noticed that the bird moved. He switched to birds on the spot. Girl watchers have discovered that girls enjoy this same advantage (movement) over calla lilies. (Speaking of advantages, how about Pall Mall's natural mildness?)
