

THE GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

How entertaining is an entertainer? Besides being ambiguous I think that an entertainer's character can not be judged completely by stage performances.

Although certainly not a critic, I was very pleased with the off stage performance given by Jimmie Rodgers and Dave Ellington, one-fourth of the Fairmont Singers.

Well, after the concert a person might think that that would be the last of Rodgers and crew. However, this is when the real show began.

After singing at the Gamma Phi house for nearly two hours, the Delta Gammas cordially invited the entertainer and his troupe to visit the "anchor" house.

Monday at lunch, (thanks to Marlene Finney) the Gamma Phis got one more stare at Rodgers and one of the Fairmont Singers before they left in a blue convertible Cadillac.

It was too bad that 723 students who tore themselves away from their books Sunday afternoon didn't get to see the group in a casual atmosphere.

As for the Junior-Senior classes, they did an admirable job on the Weekend and even though not blessed with good attendance, the Prom and the Concert were both well-organized and well-worth the time of the few who attended.

Don't Worry, Girls - Ratio Is Still 3:1

By LILLIAN KIRSCHNER
The women students on the campus can rest easy this spring as far as the male - female population is concerned for the ratio is still three men for every woman.

Looking at the student population from a different angle it is found that of the University's 4,351 students listed in the Directory of Students, 3,303 of them list Idaho as their home state.

There are 109 students at the University from 24 different foreign countries, and only eight of them are women.

Graduation announcements will arrive about May 1 and will be on sale at the Student Book Store, it was announced yesterday.

They Need Help!

The new ASUI administration, which set up official shop less than a month ago, already needs help.

Bill Bowes, vice president and head of the newly-formed Activities Council, which will direct all ASUI activities, says students are not showing enough interest in applying for chairmanships and positions on major committees.

Bowes does not know how to account for the "apathy of the students," but he does know if he can't get enough competent people to fill the major positions, the whole ASUI operation will be in trouble next year.

at least one of the ASUI committees. It is this able reserve of students upon whom the responsibility for keeping the ASUI running necessarily falls.

CONVENTION BOUND

The biennial convention of Alpha Phi sorority will be held this summer in Chicago. Official delegates will be Dorce Baldridge and Barbara Bainbridge. Alternates are Nona Kay Sherrin and Mary Lynne Evans.

Seniors back from student teaching are Fran Regadara, Anita Wilcomb, and Shauna Gygli. Other student teachers visiting this weekend were Mary Evans and Freddie Unzicker.

The members and pledges alike serenaded the SAE house after lunch last Saturday.

Bernie Jensen and Nancy O'Rourke, both from Boise, attended Sunday dinner at the house. Irene Bishop was selected "Rookie of the Year" by the Alpha Phi hashers.

EXCHANGE ENJOYED

The Delta Gamma's recently hosted the Theta Chi's at an all-house exchange with dancing and an exchange of songs.

Weekend guests were Judy Elliot, Spokane; Sally Seubert, Cottonwood; and Bonny Ross, Boise.

RELIGION ADOPTED

A new religion has developed within the Delt Shelter known as "A-Phism." This is being led by a sturdy religious person on a stage known as Frosty, who has been gathering his small group of followers, about him nightly and making a pilgrimage to the end of Elm Street and singing hymns. All have vibrant hopes of "high honor" in the near future.

Bob DeSchazo, Mountain Home, has been a house guest this weekend.

Patty Thompson concluded the show by modeling her wedding gown which she made herself.

Prizes were donated by Moscow business firms, and hair styles were furnished for the show by local beauty shops.

Moscow Schools Will See Children's Theater This Week

University students will entertain the children of Len Whitmore grade school tomorrow with the Oriental comedy "The Land of the Dragons."

The two-act play will be performed on Thursday at St. Mary's school and also at Russell school. They will be at Whitworth and West park schools on Friday.

A public presentation will be given in the University Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

The production staff is composed of 19 co-eds. These include Joanne Evans, assistant director; Pat Wellington, stage manager; Mrs. Phyllis Anderson and Helen Walsler, costume crew; Katherine Seely and Donetta Palverson, building and stage crew; Anne Curry and Karen Beck, light crew; Nancy Snook, and Marilyn Loepky, paint crew.

Others are Rita Stewart and Virginia Sweetate, property crew; Vivian Dickamore and Marian Moore, publicity; Coleen Custer, Donna Morgan, Angie Arrien, Linda Ensign, and Bonnie Scott, make-up crew.

The play is a highly imaginative tale about a Chinese princess with love troubles. She must find her "prince charming" by the time she reaches her 18th birthday, but frets about her predicament.

A road-wandering male inhabitant of the land happens along who is only a little odd. He is called, strangely, Road Wanderer and speaks to birds and dragons as if he were one of them. As a matter of fact his favorite companion is his pet dragon.

Hunt To Talk On Marriage

John Hunt, assistant vice-president of the First Security Bank, Moscow, will discuss the economic factors of marriage and how to plan adequately for future financial needs tomorrow night at 7:30.

Mr. Hunt will discuss the working wife, installment buying, family budgets, buying a house, insurance and other money matters in marriage.

This is the second lecture in the marriage lecture series at the Campus Christian Center.

Miss Marla Tauscher Accepted For Honors Program In France

By KIP PETERSON
Argonaut Staff Writer

Paris, France will be the new "home" for Idaho student, Marla Tauscher for the next year. Marla, a French major at the University, has been accepted by the Institute of European Studies for the Paris Honors program in Contemporary European Civilization.

Marla has been interested in languages since high school, but never began seriously to consider studying in France until about a year ago. She took two years of French in high school, and has had two years of French in college.

"I'd like to go into some sort of government work—foreign service or something," said Marla. She continued that she hopes to get her master's degree sometime in the future, but that "I might get waylaid in Europe and travel for a while or study there another year."

Hopes To Return To Europe

She hopes to take a tour of Europe after the end of the school term in June, and probably return in July.

The students from all over the United States who have been accepted for the program will leave from New York on the S.S. Statendam of the Holland-American Line on August 24. While in France the students will live with families.

Credits received at the University of Paris can be transferred to the University and will count toward her bachelors degree which she will receive in 1964.

From Los Angeles

Miss Tauscher is from Los Angeles, where she plans to attend summer school at UCLA this summer. At UCLA she will live in the Maison Francaise—a house where the students speak French at all times.

"Living there should give me some good practice in speaking French before I go to France," she commented.

Last summer Marla studied conversational Japanese at the University of Hawaii.

She also hopes to get a minor in

Steel House Given Trophy For Grades

Residence Hall Council presented Ethel Steel House with the RHC women's scholarship trophy recently.

A house grade point of 2.66 was achieved by the girls of Steel House last semester, with a freshman girls' grade point average of 2.7.

Alyce Joy Taylor, RHC president, presented the trophy to Betty Thiessen, house president, at dress dinner.

Other guests on hand for the presentation included Robert F. Green, director of dormitories; Dewey L. Newman, RHC sponsor; Jay Sherman, RHC vice-president; Bob McFarland, treasurer; and Kay Ranta, secretary.

Hendricks Wins Livestock Show Honors; 45 Exhibit

Cold weather and rain didn't dampen the spirits of the showmen at the University's Little International Livestock Show Saturday afternoon.

About 45 showmen, including three girls, exhibited livestock in beef, sheep and swine classes.

Winning overall honors in the fitting and showing was Haven Hendricks. He was presented with the herdsman's trophy, the national block and bridle club trophy and the Hickman club trophy. John Rensberg was second place all-around showman.

In the swine division first place went to Sherril Wells and second place went to Wayne Sharp. John Rensberg won the Idaho Wool Grower's trophy for first prize in the sheep division. Haven Hendricks placed second.

There were about 45 beef animals shown. Dr. Don Bell of the animal husbandry department reports that this is one of the largest numbers ever exhibited in this show. Haven Hendricks won first and Jerry Johnston took second. Don Kress was presented with the Hereford Breeder's trophy for the outstanding hereford showman.

Little International began in the early 1900's. It is now sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club, an organization for agriculture students.

Alpha Phis Win Title Again At Weekend SAE Olympics

Even with the threat of rain and unenergetic pigeons, the Sig Alpha Olympics went off as usual last Saturday.

It is annually sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The Alpha Phi's once again took the top over-all position and captured the trophy.

Individual events were won by the following: flag contest, Kappa; tug-of-war, Alpha Phi; 4-juggled race, Pi Phi; egg throw, Alpha Phi; contended race, Theta; 25 yard crawl, Alpha Phi; football punt, McConnell; wheel barrow, Pi Phi; and potato race, Alpha Phi.

Ann Smith, Pi Phi, managed to plunge through her banana cream pie before the other contestants finished to win that contest.

Helping to make the attendance even greater this year was the province Phi SAE convention held here over the weekend.

Coed Receives Pfizer Award

Miss Janet Sprenger, a junior in home economics at the University, is the recipient of a 1962 Pfizer 4-H scholarship award. She is one of 20 winners in the U.S.

The $250 award was announced at the annual Extension Training conference at Oklahoma State University.

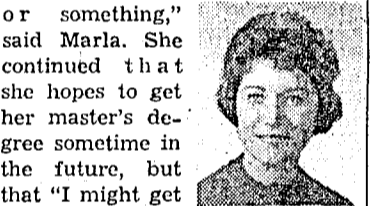

Miss Sprenger has been active in 4-H work for 11 years and considers her major interest frozen foods. Her record of some 713 quarts processed is testimony to her record on this project. She was named state frozen foods winner in 1957 and was awarded a trip to the National 4-H conference in Chicago.

Miss Sprenger returns today from the National 4-H conference in Washington, D. C.

This summer, she plans to serve as a junior assistant to the Extension Home Agent in Nez Perce County at Lewiston. Upon graduation in June, 1963, she will take up an active career in extension work.

The Pfizer scholarship required a teaching plan for a program in animal health or an application of such a program that will be of benefit to human health. Miss Sprenger chose as her plan the instruction of housewives about brucellosis in milk; its dangers, detection, and prevention.

The Pfizer awards were established seven years ago to encourage young people to seek careers in agricultural extension work.
