

67th Annual Commencement To Be June 10

Students Select Top Teachers, Military Profs

Fifteen faculty members and four ROTC instructors were chosen yesterday to receive Outstanding Teacher Awards in a program sponsored by the junior class.

The 15 faculty members chosen were selected from the seven colleges teaching undergraduate courses. From one to five representatives from each college were selected.

Honored from the College of Letters and Science are Dr. Robert J. Hucksorn, assistant professor of political science and associate director of the Bureau of Public Affairs Research; Dr. Clifford Dobler, associate professor of political science; Dr. Fred H. Winkler, assistant professor of history and political science; Dr. Lorin W. Robert, assistant professor of botany; and Emmet E. Spiker, instructor of physics.

Chosen from the College of Education was Sidney Miller, assistant professor of education. Dr. Arthur D. Partridge, assistant professor of forestry and pathology, was selected from the College of Forestry.

Dr. Erwin Graue, professor of economics, and Dr. Donald W.

Hollinger Retires; Modie Moves Up

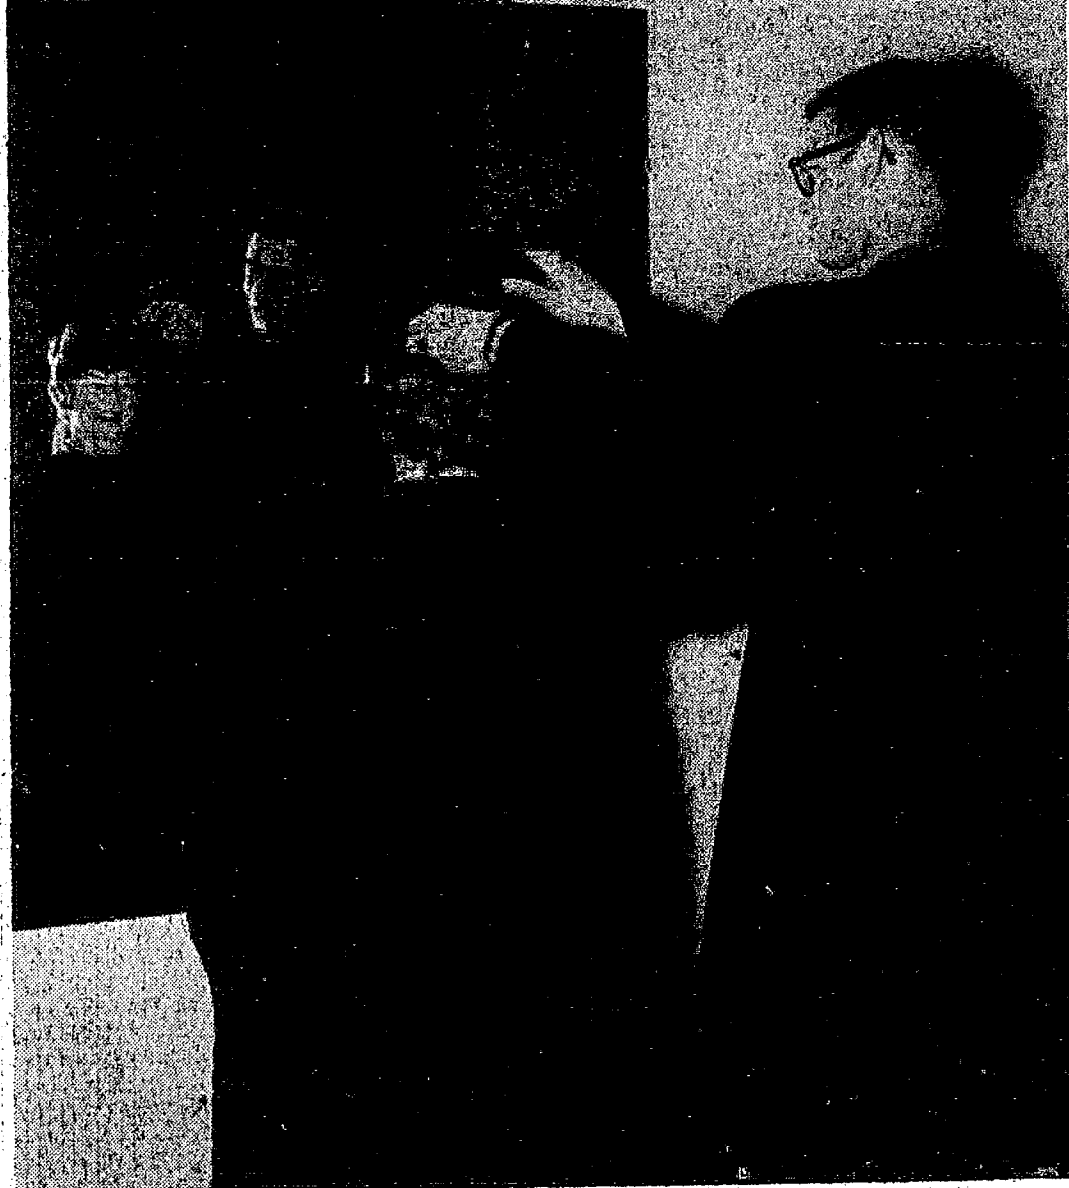

Today is a day of rest and rejoicing — for the Arg staff at least. They have finally completed another year with today's issue. The wrap-ups of the year's news also mean the wrap-up of the Argonaut for another year. With issue number 54, the staff retires under the editorship of Herb Hollinger to return next fall under the reign of Neil Modie.

The first issue is scheduled for Sept. 21, the second day of registration. Jim Hernden will be second semester editor.

L. Kinney, Nelson Are Given Honors

Linda Kinney was chosen "Spur of the Moment" and Barry Nelson was chosen "Knight of Knights," Wednesday at the annual joint Intercollegiate Knight-Spur Banquet.

These awards are given to those who have contributed the most in outstanding work and service to the University.

926 To Receive Degrees; President Will Give Talk

A two-day flurry of graduation activities for students and alumni will reach its climax June 10 when the University awards academic degrees to 926 students in the 67th annual commencement ceremonies at Memorial Gymnasium.

Of the 926, 724 students seek bachelor's degrees and 184 are candidates for master's degrees. The total compares with last year's total of 943.

Two honorary doctorate degrees will also be awarded. Both recipients are members of the class of 1929 and both have made outstanding contributions to the field of science.

Receiving doctor of science degrees will be Carl P. Clare of Chicago, founder, president and chairman of the board of C. P. Clare & Co., and Dr. Dwight J. Ingle, head of the department of physiology at the University of Chicago.

Clare, holder of more than a dozen patents in the relay switching field, heads a company that is a leader in the electrical relays field in the United States, Canada and England. He has been extremely active in civic and church activities.

Ingle, a world-renowned authority on endocrine secretions, has conducted studies leading to major advances in the treatment of glandular difficulties. He has published a number of technical papers, as well as a book, on his research.

The academic procession will begin at 9:15 a.m. at the Administration Building, from where it will commence to the gym for the 9:30 a.m. commencement ceremonies.

The event will open with the professional, "March Noble," played by the University Commencement Band under the direction of Warren Bellis. Joe J. Christensen, director of the Latter-Day Institute of Religion on the campus, will deliver the con-vacation. The band will then play "Chorale Alleluia."

Dr. Donald R. Theophilus, president of the University, will deliver the commencement address.

Following the speech, the Vandaleer singers, directed by Glen R. Lockery, will present two numbers: "Christus Factus Est" and "Hallelujah Chorus" from Mount of Olives. Angela Sherbenou will be accompanist.

Degrees will then be conferred by the deans of each college. D. D. DuSault, University registrar, will hand out the diplomas. Arthur S. Howe, associate professor of languages, will receive a citation of merit upon retirement. The first doctor's degree ever earned at the University will be awarded to Florence D. Aller, who will receive a doctorate in education.

After the audience sings, "Here We Have Idaho," Christensen will deliver the benediction and the band will play the recessional, "War March of the Priests."

The weekend's activities will begin the morning of June 9 with commencement rehearsal at 9:30 at which time a number of academic awards will be given to the graduates. Graduation caps and gowns will be available at the University Book Store a day or two before commencement, according to C. R. Kerr, store manager. The book store will be open all day Saturday so students may pick up their gowns, and it will be open Sunday immediately after commencement so the graduates may return the gowns.

Legislation Seminar Is Successful

A seminar on labor legislation and unemployment insurance scheduled for one day turned into a three-day conference in the SUB last week as many question and answer periods followed the speeches by leaders of labor and industry from the area. The discussion, which centered about the King Bill, H.R. 7640, before Congress now, ended late yesterday afternoon after many lengthy discussions.

All of the principal speakers presented their views on the bill and the rising cost of unemployment insurance. Since then there have been many question and answer periods of discussion.

Speakers from both labor and industry spoke on this subject. Ewan Clague, Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Washington, D.C., gave an overall picture of the situation in the opening speech. He told of the past, present and future implications and the long term results.

While industry opposes the bill, no particular legislation has been submitted which expresses the thinking of industry on this subject.

This seminar, under the direction of Dr. D. D. Kendrick, Dean of the College of Business Administration, was held to inform the public about the issue.

The conference was sponsored by the University, Area Chambers of Commerce, the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, Idaho Mining Association, Idaho Retailers Association and the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

Among the four ROTC instructors honored were Army Maj. Robert E. Olson, assistant professor of military science, and Navy Lt. Don S. Campbell, assistant professor of naval science. Air Force recipients were Capt. Edward C. Sayre and Lt. Col. Anthony M. Engels, assistant professor of air science.

The instructors were chosen on the basis of such criteria as knowledge of subject matter, stimulation of intellectual curiosity, interest in subject, attitude toward students and interest in self-improvement.

ROTC instructors weren't included in the judging for the top 15 because of the different circumstances under which the ROTC personnel teach, according to junior class president Gary Carlson.

The recipients of the awards will be given a letter of commendation from the selection committee, comprised of outstanding students from each of the colleges, and a certificate of achievement from the student body.

Gene Harder, Duke of IK's, having heard that the banquet was to be held an hour later than scheduled, arrived as dessert was being served to take his place as master of ceremonies and to present the "Spur of the Moment" award to Miss Kinney on behalf of the IK's. Nancy Yount, president of the IK's, then awarded the "Knight of Knights" award to Nelson.

Denny Abrams, Phi Delta, provided entertainment for the group of 32 after dinner.

Miss Rose Marie Aten, Spur advisor, also attended.

TMA Elects Olds As Prexy At Meet

Denny Olds was elected president of Town Men's Association Monday night at a meeting in the Student Union Building.

Other TMA officers elected are Floyd Lukehart, vice president, and John Ormiston, secretary-treasurer. A social chairman and intramural manager will be chosen at a later date.

Carpenters Still Picket SUB Addition; Talks Fail

Though only a few carpenters are currently working on the new Student Union addition, all other unions are at present respecting their picket lines, which is the reason for the delay.

Gail Mix, ASUI Manager, said he doesn't know how long the other unions will continue to respect the picket lines and some pressure maybe put on the carpenter's union to go back to work.

A conciliation meeting in Spokane Wednesday failed to settle the strike. No new date for further talks has been set.

Almost all the concrete work has been completed with all the slabs finished and almost all the

End Is In View With 3 Days Left

When you struggle home from your last class today you may take consolation in the fact that there are only three (3) more days of classes left.

This is mostly due to the fact that finals start on Friday and that Wednesday is a national holiday. So everyone can stay home and listen to the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race on the radio without having to worry about cutting classes.

Lindley Award To Be Given

A new annual award — the Lindley Award for Scholarship and Character, which is to be considered the highest tribute paid to a College of Letters and Science student — is to be presented June 9, Dean Boyd A. Martin said today.

The award has been established by Ernest K. Lindley, Washington, D. C., in memory of his parents, Ernest Hiram Lindley, former president of the university, and Elizabeth Kidder Lindley. Ernest K. Lindley, who is a graduate of the University, is now a special assistant to the Secretary of State and a member of the State Department's Policy Planning Council. He is a former editor of Newsweek magazine, and the author of various books on the political scene.

Dr. Ernest Hiram Lindley was the World War I president at the University — 1917-1920. He was responsible for the elevation of the departments of forestry and mines to the status of schools, which later became colleges. Under Lindley's administration, the present system of dormitory financing was instituted.

Lindley Hall, completed in 1920, was named after Dr. Lindley while he was still president. He resigned in 1920 to become chancellor of the University of Kansas, a position he held for 19 years. He died and was buried at sea in 1940 while returning from a world lecture tour.

"We have long wanted an award which could be considered the highest granted to a college of letters and science student, and this is it," said Dean Martin.

The dean added that the recipient would be given an individual plaque bearing his name. The names of all those who receive the award throughout the years will be engraved on another plaque to be placed in the Administration Building.

Idaho Alums Will Be Honored Soon

Idaho alumni who graduated 25, 40, 45, 50, or more years ago will be especially honored during commencement weekend, Jim Lyle Alumni Secretary said yesterday.

Special dinners will be held Friday evening, June 8 for the classes of 1917, 1907, and possible 1912. An informal gathering is planned for the class of 1937 Saturday afternoon June 9.

W. Fisher Ellsworth, Idaho Alumni Association President, will address the graduating seniors Saturday morning during commencement practice.

That noon will be the alumni luncheon and Alumni Association business meeting at the Moscow Hotel.

Alumni who graduated over 50 years ago, called the "Golden 50's," will be especially honored. At the alumni dinner Saturday evening will be special guests including state and national elected officials from Idaho, the Board of Regents, the University administration, and student leaders.

The Vandaleers will present a concert at the dinner, including songs for all age groups present. On Saturday afternoon an informal reception will be held for the class of 1962, their parents, the Board of Regents, the Faculty, Alumni, and friends of the University. The Faculty Women's Club will be the hostess. It will be held in the Student Union Building.

Charles Webbert, social science librarian, explained that in the Nineties the Eastern writers who were gridding out the stilted novels — intended to be thrillers — became intrigued with Idaho as a setting because of the reports on gold booms. Throughout the years, the University library has obtained an extensive collection of them.

He will appear at the University and Washington State University under the sponsorship of the American Chemical society. The public is invited.

Grant Awarded To McNamara

A grant of $1,500 has been awarded to William McNamara, a University student in forest products by the Potlatch Forests, Inc. foundation.

Under the Potlatch fellowship, McNamara will study in the field of wood technology under the direction of John Howe, assistant professor in the College of Forestry.

McNamara is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho and Alpha Zeta honoraries and of the Forest Products Research society. He is also the winner of the Ascension Farm and the Charles Powell scholarships.

Southern-Bounds May Save Miles

Students going home on U.S. Highway 95 can save a few miles by taking a county road north of Grangeville. The turn-off is located in a cut about five miles north of Grangeville and comes out just north of White Bird Hill. It is approximately 8 miles south of Ferdinand and there is a farm house on the north side of the road just after the turn-off. It saves approximately 10 miles.

Stahley Resignation Top Arg Story

Arg Poll Ranks Election, Construction Stories Among Top 10 For 1961-62 Term

By R. Lawrence Roby
Argonaut News Editor

Campus construction work, politics (both campus and state wide) and entertainment features during the 1961-62 school year took a back seat to the resignation of the University's football coach J. Neil (Skip) Stahley in a poll of this year's ten top news stories, conducted by the Argonaut.

The selection and ranking of these ten stories were made by the Argonaut editorial staff. Skip Stahley's step-down from head football coach and the hiring of Dee Andros, former University of Illinois assistant football coach, in his place took the number-one story spot for the year. CUP's takeover of the presidency, and Executive Board in student body elections in the spring was the number two story.

Other stories and their ranking among the top ten:

- (3) Approval by the Board of Regents of a new dormitory complex on the campus to be partially completed by Sept., 1963; (4) The renewed basketball battle between the University and Idaho State College; (5) The abolition of the controversial Student Representative Assembly by the Executive Board.
- The last five stories included: (6) Construction work on the new Student Union Building addition started and is now slightly ahead of schedule; (7) Discrepancy in the selection of the site for the 1962 Miss University of Idaho pageant by the Inter-collegiate Knights; (8) The extension of senior women's hours to 2 a.m. for three Saturday nights each semester by the Associated Women Students legislature; (9) The appearance of hit-recording star Jimmie Rodgers on the campus for the Junior-Senior "Spring" weekend; and (10) Citizenship Clearing House's sponsorship of the political workshop which drew 26 state political candidates.

Stahley Resigns While Under Fire

Midway through the 1961 football campaign Vandal football coach J. Neil (Skip) Stahley came under fire from many University students and alumni after Idaho continued to steadily build up an insurmountable number of losses on the gridiron. Effigy-hanging of Stahley, who had been head football coach here for eight years, became one of the methods students used of expressing their dissatisfaction.

The resounding Dad's Day defeat at the hands of the University of the Pacific was nearly the final blow. Argonaut Sports Editor Herb Hollinger expressed his feelings on the situation. In his columns he maintained that the University should find a new football coach, even though this wouldn't cure all Idaho's sport's ills. These columns drew both criticism and praise from area newspapers, radio and television stations. They were the main topic of discussion on the campus for many weeks.

In mid-January after a three-day marathon session of the Board of Regents meeting here, Stahley resigned as head football coach and recommended that Dee Andros take over the head mentor reins. Stahley still holds his position as Director of Athletics at the University and Andros is the football coach.

CUP Wins Close Student Election

Campus Union Party upset the political cogwheels in the March 7 student body elections when Ron Houghtalin, CUP candidate for president, was elected by a slim 41-vote margin over United's standard bearer, Gary Carlson. This was the first time since 1956 that a non-United party president had been elected.

Bill Bowes, United's vice-presidential candidate easily won election over CUP's Roy Bowman, in the record-voicing election. Some 2,505 votes were cast. Sixty-eight per cent of the student body turned out for the big election of the year. CUP's representatives on E-Board include: Bill Frates, Toni Thunen, Tom Eisenbarth, Carvel Whiting and Alyce Joy Taylor. John Ferris, Skip French, Cliff Eldred and Fred Warren are United's stronghold representatives.

Dorm Center Due In Sept., 1963

Partial-completion date of Sept. 1, 1963, has been set for the new Wallace Residence Center, which is scheduled to be built on the west side of Shoup Hall. Approval of the specifications for this 212-student capacity dorm was made by the Board of Regents after they had approved a rule which would bar most unmarried undergrads under 21 from off-campus living beginning with the fall, 1964 term.

This policy was presented to the Board by University President D.

R. Theophilus. The second dormitory unit of the Wallace Residence Center is due for completion in Nov., 1963.

Idaho Renews Rivalry With ISC

Athletic competition between the University of Idaho and Idaho State College was renewed during the 1961-62 term on the maple courts. In a home-and-home game exchange series, both teams fought to what might be termed a "stalemate." Idaho won the first hard-fought contest in Moscow 70-68, and ISC turned the tables at Pocatello later in the season, defeating the Vandals, 67-65.

Both schools went all out for the big basketball games of the season with bonfires, parades and rallies.

ASUI Abolishes 2-Year-Old SRA

After much squabbling over its purpose and duties the Student Representative Assembly met with the hatchet at the Feb. 6 meeting of the ASUI Executive Board. The two-year-old organization, which had been a political football ever since its existence, met its death by a 7-1 vote by the Board. One member of the Board abstained from voting.

Complaints registered against the "legislative body" ranged from "it's a waste of time," to "it wasn't doing the job it was assigned to do." No solutions to the creation of a new body of its type have been found.

Work On SUB Addition Begins

Since the beginning of the school year students have witnessed the rise of pillars of concrete and steel beams, as construction work on the new Student Union Building addition began to take shape. Work started on the new $2,113,800 structure in the early part of October.

A carpenter's Union strike in the past two weeks has caused a work stoppage on the building, but construction work was already ahead of schedule at the time of the strike so the completion date of December of this year is still set. Work on the building addition will be done in stages. After the opening of the new addition, renovation work will start in the present SUB and will be completed by May, 1963. At that time construction will begin on the cafe, fountain, cafeteria and bookstore. Both the old and new buildings will be completed by September, 1963.

Beauty Pageant Problems Crop

The Intercollegiate Knights had a few problems in finally landing a location for the annual Miss University of Idaho Pageant—but after a two-week postponement when adequate staging facilities could not be obtained—the whole program went off better than any had in the past.

The problems began when too many students and townspeople complained to the group that there would be inadequate seating facilities in the Borah Theater where the event had been scheduled to take place after the IK's found they could not obtain the services of the University Auditorium.

After a change in the date—to find a time when the auditorium would be open—the problems were ironed out and Miss Jean Farley was crowned 1962 Miss University of Idaho on the night of May 6 in the auditorium (with a crowd of students and townspeople.)

AWS Extends Women's Hours

Two a.m. permission for three Saturday nights a semester for senior women was granted by the Associated Women's Students in March. This was a major revision in previous women's hours, and was brought about by the AWS Board of Reference.

The AWS legislature is composed of AWS officers, presidents of the women's living groups and presidents of all women's organizations.

Workshop Draws State Candidates

Twenty-six state political hopefuls converged on the Idaho campus March 10 for the first Citizenship Clearing House-sponsored political workshop. The candidates—ranging from Attorney General Frank Benson to Democratic candidate for governor Charles Hernandez, of Salmon—participated in panel discussions dealing with political issues of the state.

One of the highlights of the event was the suggestion by the controversial attorney general that the Idaho governor should become the chairman of a three to five-member executive body. The governor would have the same capacity as the other elected state officials, suggestion.

Dr. Snyder's Suggestions Late For Poll

The staff also considered the adamant suggestion of reorganization of the Department of Communications by outgoing Department head Dr. William Snyder as one of the top stories of the year.

Breaking too late to be considered on the poll, it nevertheless is considered one of the major news stories of the year. In an interview the first part of this week, Dr. Snyder and other instructors in the Department under him all voiced the opinion that some functions of the Department should be placed on a University level.

University President Dr. D. R. Theophilus in an interview said that a study had been made four years ago when the Department was created and that no changes were going to be made at the present time.

Dr. Snyder was the second man to resign from the Communications Department this year. Dr. Granville Price, chairman of journalism, resigned at the end of the first semester.

Plan More Construction To Be Science Bldg., Dorms

Additional construction will take place this summer in addition to the Student Union construction, Kenneth A. Dick, University financial vice-president, reported yesterday.

If the Permanent State Building Fund Advisory Council approves the request, bids will be called for, and a contract will be let for the new science building. Dependent upon successful completion of financial arrangements with the Federal Housing Commission, bids will be called for and the contract let for the Wallace Dormitory Complex.

The science building will cost about $2,100,000 and the price of the dorm complex will cost about $3,698,000. About $500,000 will be spent on an additional boiler and extension to the heating plant.

This summer, well number three will be drilled in order to insure an adequate supply of water for the campus.

Other work to be done this summer includes a plant security center north of Third and Line St.; more than the other projects scheduled.

Dick stated that the completion of Seventh Street was probably of particular interest to the students additions to the vehicle storage center; completion of Seventh St. between the Student Union Building and the Mines Building; and the same type of masonry repair on the present science building that

Coming Back? Leave Address

All students planning to return to the University this fall are urged to give their summer addresses to the Registrar's office so that applications for Permits to Register can be mailed to them.

The permits will be mailed late in the summer to save the students standing in line at the beginning of the fall semester to get their permits.

University Summer School Schedules 260 Courses

More than 260 courses ranging from agriculture to zoology, besides many short courses, will be offered during the University's summer school sessions this year.

Special workshops will be held in photography, school publications, economic education, agricultural education, children's literature, accelerated arithmetic methods, industrial arts design, trial arts and crafts, and a special traveling workshop in painting.

Registration is on the first day of the summer term, June 18. The workshops, which offer University credits, cost $10 per semester hour. Most are for three credits.

A summer camp will be held for courses in geology and mine surveying near Miskay, Idaho. Instructors are from the University staff. The work is designed to accommodate both College of Mines requirements and the interests of students from other schools that may not operate similar camps.

Forestry summer camp is an eight week training period for students majoring in forestry who have completed the first two years' requirements of the forestry college. They also must intend to enroll in one of the five upper divisions of the college in their junior year.

The forestry camp is held at a "branch campus" on the shore of Payette Lake near McCall. Students will obtain practice in land surveying and timber measurements. Ecological relationships concerning forest and range lands, wildlife and fish, observation of logging and sawmilling, and even some forest fire fighting will occur.

1,400 Expected At 1962 Session Of University Summer School

An attendance of 1,400 is expected for the University 1962 summer school session, according to Paul Kaus, acting director of the division of adult education and summer school.

During the eight-week session, 200 courses are offered in six different colleges and 41 departments, employing 89 staff members.

Last year 1,314 registered, of whom 800 were teachers working on master's degrees. In the College of Letters and Science 268 were enrolled.

Workshop Offered Workshops and short courses are offered for students who do not wish to attend the full eight weeks. It is possible to take a series of workshops throughout the summer, but two may not be taken at the same time. Most of the workshops last three weeks with one credit earned for each week.

The National Science Foundation is offering three institutes for high school teachers with bachelor's degrees. The eight-week institutes are offered in entomology, mathematics and science.

Seven University students have been selected to participate in the National Science Foundation's undergraduate research programs at the University for the summer. They include: chemistry, Michael Lee Olson; electrical engineering, Corder Campbell; pre-med, Norman R. Kelley; agriculture, J. Curtis Sutton; physics, James Assendrup; physics, Mark Hodgson; and Robert J. Parkinson, electrical engineering.

These students selected will receive a $60-per-week stipend for full-time programs. They will continue this allowance on a partial basis during the following academic year. These students were picked on the basis of their good academic achievement and professional goals in the fields of science, medicine and engineering.

The Summer Music Camp will offer three weeks of full-time music for high school students. The operation of a summer elementary school, West Park, will give an opportunity for student teaching in grades one through six.

A recreation program, under the supervision of Clarke Mitchell, recreation director, will provide activities for the students. Golf, swimming, bowling, square dances, steak fries, cruises on Lake Coeur d'Alene and a free watermelon bust will be included.

A summer resident program is offered at BJC in Boise and, for the first time, at NIJC in Coeur d'Alene.

Dr. Raymond K. Kool, former head of the Department of Education at the College of Idaho, is now director of adult education and summer school.

Another controversial editorial, "This Year It's Private," resulted in the most immediate action of any editorial of the year. The editorial reflected student discontent with the announcement that the Miss U. of I. pageant was to be closed to the public. The pageant was revised and opened to the public shortly after the editorial appeared in the paper.

The Argonaut did not confine its attention to football and queen contests, but early in the first semester discussed the problem of foreign students on campus. An editorial on the subject took the stand that the numerous foreign students on this campus may be getting an education, but they aren't getting the friendship and concern of American students, and thus are returning to their native lands with anti-American biases.

Burt of Ada County suggested that the Idaho-ISC football game be held at Boise, the Argonaut forthrightly opposed this suggestion in an editorial. The editorial took the stand that since Burt wanted to draw the state together, the best means of doing so would probably be by holding the games at Idaho and ISC so people from different parts of the state would visit and learn about the respective campuses.

A later Argonaut editorial criticized Governor Robert Smylie's Public Events address on the campus because of its similarity to a speech he delivered here only last year.

Group Honors Dr. Theophilus

Honored as outstanding Idaho educators by Phi Delta Kappa education honorary at ceremonies held in Moscow Junior High school were University President D. R. Theophilus of the University of Idaho and Jack Jones, superintendent of schools in Sandpoint.

The two men received certificates from the honorary in recognition of their achievements in education. Dr. Theophilus was also made an honorary member of the organization.

From Football To Dorms

By SHARON LANCE

Argonaut Associate Editor

College newspaper editorial pages are often attacked because of "radical" or "immature" editorials which seek mainly to attack student government, University administration, and anything else that is tied with controversy in order to give "budding" college journalists an opportunity to get some experience with the so-called poison pen.

The Argonaut however, approached the 1961-62 academic year with an editorial policy aimed not at making the editorial page a corner for printing the views of campus radicals or misfits or publicity-seeking journalists, but to present to the University citizenry what the staff felt were the facts on critical questions as well as to air general student opinion.

The editorial, "Football, Surprise or Sunset?" appeared in the Argonaut the day before the Board of Regents met to consider the athletic situation. This editorial received more comments than any other one of the entire year, and was perhaps the most effective in seeking out and presenting student opinions on a campus issue. The cartoon which appeared with the controversial editorial is reprinted here.

Another controversial editorial, "This Year It's Private," resulted in the most immediate action of any editorial of the year. The editorial reflected student discontent with the announcement that the Miss U. of I. pageant was to be closed to the public. The pageant was revised and opened to the public shortly after the editorial appeared in the paper.

University Housing

Getting some perspective on future University problems, one Argonaut editorial discussed the problem of University housing in the near future. After citing figures on the present and future enrollments, the editorial concluded that the problem must be met head-on with added financial support from the state legislature.

Last Stand The Argonaut made its last editorial drive of the year in Monday's issue, when it analyzed the problems in the University Communications department, and took the position that the Department must be strengthened.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

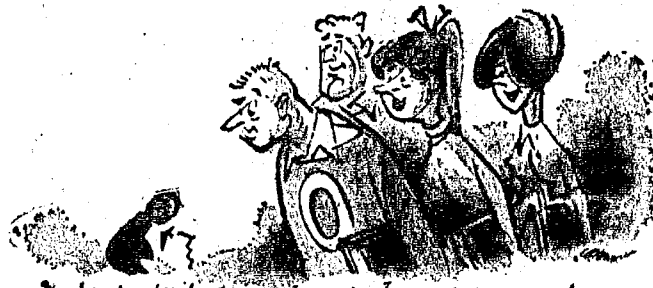

This is the final column of my eighth year of writing for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and this year, as in every preceding year, when I come to the last column of the season, I come to a problem.

My contract with the makers of Marlboro calls for me to write a humor column and, truly, I do the best I can—all things considered, I am not, I should explain, a jolly man by nature. Why should I be? First of all, I am shorter than everybody. Second, there are moths in my cashmere jacket. Third, I work in television.

All the same, when it comes time to write this column, I light a good Marlboro Cigarette, put aside my trauma, and try with all the strength in my tiny body to make some jokes. Sometimes it works better than others, but on the last column of the year, it just flatly doesn't work at all.

Even in the very beginning this was true—and that, you will recall, was eight years ago when I was relatively young and strong and had not yet developed that nasty knock in my transmission. Well do I remember sitting down to write the final column of my first year. Day followed barren day, and not a yock, not a boff, not a singer did I produce. I was about to give up humor and take a job selling mechanical dogs when all of a sudden, in a blinding flash, I realized why I couldn't think of any jokes!

I leapt up from my typewriter and ran as fast as my little fat legs would carry me to the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and I tugged my forelock, and I said, "Sirs, I am well aware that you have engaged me to write a humor column, but today, as I approach the final column of the season, I am far too misty to be funny, for the final column of the season is, after all, a leave-taking, and when I think of saying goodbye to my audience—the swellest audience any columnist ever had—the college students of America—wonderful human beings, every man and

ARGONAUT PICKS OUTSTANDING PLAYERS

It's not whether you won or lost, but how you played the game." — Grantland Rice.

Every year the sports staff of the Argonaut picks those whom we consider are players who have contributed the most to their particular sport the last year. We try to judge the players on attitude, team spirit, and clutch-playing as well as skill. Many of these traits cannot be found on a statistic sheet, so the selections are sometimes difficult to make. However, based on the statistics and our personal observations, we feel that the following individuals are worthy of being named outstanding athletes for the 1961-62 year:

TOM GWILLIAM

A three-year veteran who handles himself well at two positions gets the nod in football. Bill Hill, 6-3, 180-pound senior, lettered his first two years at guard before moving to the tight end spot last season. Hill, a tough, rangy performer, made the switch with little trouble and held down the starting spot all season. Known as a hard man to move, Hill impressed the staff for his steady play for a team which had its ups and downs.

Chuck White might give the appearance that he is quiet and surly, but his sure-fire play on the maple court makes him our pick for outstanding basketball player. The 6-4 forward, a JC transfer, in his second year with the Vandals, was named the most valuable player by his teammates. He earned the honor.

This year he scored a total of 468 points, good for an even 18-point-per-game average. White, a junior, is now fifth among the all-time Idaho scorers. White also set two records during a season that saw several standards fall. His 209 free throw attempts replaced the old mark set by Jim Sather in 1955 with 194 shots.

Without a doubt the outstanding skier pick is Arnstein Friling, who looks as Norwegian with blue eyes and blond hair as his name sounds. He just completed his third year with the Vandal slatmen. When Friling came to Idaho from Norway some three years ago he wasn't sure of his English nor his downhill and slalom, but he was confident about the crosscountry and jumping.

During his stay at the University of Idaho he kept his skills at crosscountry and jumping and developed into a tough competitor in the downhill and slalom. Last season he was rated as one of the top five all-around skiers in the Northwest. He was 12th in Nordic combined at the annual collegiate ski championships in Squaw Valley this spring.

The Vandal netmen won three times as many games this year as they had gotten in the last two years combined and were tabbed "tremendously improved" by friend and foe alike. (Idaho won none in '59, 1 in '61 and 3 in '62.) Much of the team's improvement can be attributed to Howard Sealey, the Arg's pick for outstanding tennis player.

Sealey, who has won a pair of letters, has held the top match spot for the past two seasons. A graduating senior, Sealey's competition from now on will be the amateur matches such as Boise's Memorial Day tournament where he was on the winning doubles team in 1960.

Larry Peterson was named outstanding swimmer by his teammates—he gets the Arg's vote also. Peterson was one of five finnen that survived the 1961-62 swimming campaign for coach Clarke Mitchell. Peterson's best event was the 1500-meter swim, in which he set the University record with a time of 22:43.3. Peterson, a sophomore, still has two seasons left to better his performance.

Bob Johnson turned his football togs in last fall and drew out a pair of spikes and track uniform. He had proven to be one of coach Bill Sorsby's best sprinters. The tall, slender-built sophomore runs the 100-yard dash (:9.9), 220, 440, and anchors the mile and 440 relay teams. In a recent dual meet with Portland University, Johnson was a first-place finisher in each event. He is also the first-place finisher for the Arg nomination of outstanding trackster for the 1962 season. If Johnson can keep up the pace next year he will be one of Sorsby's most dependable point-getters.

We don't talk about crosscountry without mentioning the name Douglas. Harrier fans thought that Idaho had seen the last of the crosscountry stars when Ray Hatton ended his Vandal career, but a slim, sandy-haired Englishman with a ground-eating stride by the name of Dick Douglas arrived to fill the gap.

Douglas, the Arg choice in crosscountry, ran his best race at the Pacific AAU championships in Seattle last fall when he posted a 24:40 to capture third place and lead the Vandals to a second-place finish.

Robb Smith was the foundation block from which coach Dick Snyder built his golf team this spring. Smith, a graduating senior, was the only returning veteran. Smith, a three-year letterman, has lost only four matches during his collegiate career as he earned the Arg's choice as outstanding golfer.

Clutch-hitting and Mike Stowe have been synonymous this spring. The Arg's number one baseball pick displayed his timely hitting during the road trip to the coast when his late-inning hitting brought in some needed Vandal runs. Stowe, who plays both first and third base, has a good chance of making the all-ND team this spring as he is presently hitting .362 in conference and .371 for the season.

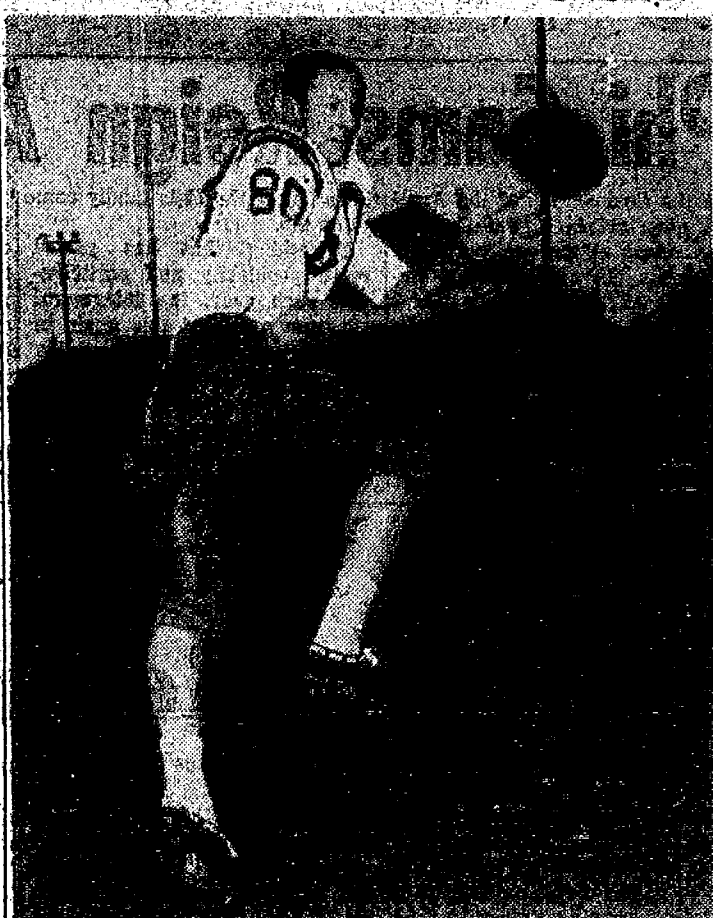

We felt only one person was in the running for all-varsity pick. Dick Mooney, whose sparkling play has been watched in Neale Stadium and on MacLean Field, gets the nod as top varsity athlete for the year. Last year the three-sport star Reg Carolan was named. Winning awards for Mooney is not new. He was voted the Hec Edmonson award for his football play and just recently won the Idahoian trophy for the most outstanding senior athlete.

The 5-10, 160-pound senior has played two years at half-back for the Vandal gridders. Last season was the leading kick-off return man in the nation with 494 yards in 23 carries. He is currently playing shortstop for the Vandal nine and is leading the team in hitting with a .395 season mark and is almost a sure thing for ND honors with his .351 ND average.

Every team has that player who sits on the bench most of the time but helps out when he can. This year the unsung hero award goes to Tom Gwilliam. Gwilliam is so quiet and soft-spoken that one wouldn't know that he has been to about every basketball practice in the last three years.

Red-shirted his sophomore year, the 6-4 forward got in barely enough time to letter last year and appeared in 13 games this season. But without players like him the Vandals couldn't function.

Townsend Goes As Vandals Enter Last Series

FIFTH TO GO — Reg Carolan received a letter yesterday inviting him to participate in the annual College All-Star football game next August 3 in Chicago. Four other Vandals since 1954 have played in the all-star game.

Three-Sport Star Reg Carolan Named To College All-Stars

Reg Carolan becomes the fifth Vandal griddier to be invited to participate in the annual College All-Star game sponsored by Chicago Tribune.

Carolan received a letter yesterday from the Chicago paper notifying him that he had been selected for the 45-man team. The College All-Stars, under the direction of Otto Graham, will play the National Football League champs Green Bay August 3 in Chicago.

Four other Vandals have been invited to the football classic since Athletic Director Skip Stahley came to Idaho in 1954. Records do not go back farther than '54. Named from the Vandals were Guards Dick Foster (1957) and Jerry Kramer (1958); center Wayne Walker (1958) and tackle Jim Prestel (1960). Of the group only Foster did not start.

"It will be a tremendous opportunity," the rangy red-headed Carolan said. "I'm looking forward to it."

Carolan lettered three years for the Vandals at end and for the last two seasons he has led the club in pass receptions. The 6-6 220-pound athlete also starred in basketball and track for Idaho. Last year he was the Arg's pick as outstanding varsity athlete.

NCAA Finals Draw Idaho

The University of Idaho will be represented by a team for the first time in many years at the NCAA track and field finals.

Coach Bill Sorsby and several of the Vandal tracksters will be at the NCAA meet at Eugene, Oregon.

Sorsby said that he will pick the final entry list from the following: Dick Douglas, three-mile; Paul Henden, 3000 meter steeplechase; Curt Flisher, Pete Luttrupp and Zura Goodpaster in the 440 hurdles; Reg Carolan, discuss; Bob Ruby, hop-skip-and-jump; Ed Jacoby, broad jump; and Bob Johnson, open 440.

"Barring unexpected injuries, the University of Oregon should have little trouble winning the NCAA finals," predicted Sorsby. The Webfoots, coached by veteran Coach Wayne Anderson indicated that he would start veteran lefthander Pat Townsend this afternoon in the first of the three game series with Washington State. The Vandals won an earlier decision and the two teams have been rained out once in Northern Division play.

Idaho closes out its 1962 baseball season with a nine inning contest against the Cougars tomorrow at MacLean Field. If Townsend goes in the first game probably Dave Sewright and Ralph Lawrence will start tomorrow with Denny Grant and Bill Hui-zinga available for relief.

"If we can win all three games we can place at least third and possibly second," Anderson said. If the Vandals can win three games while Oregon is losing Idaho has a chance for second place.

Co-captain Dick Mooney continues to lead the Vandals in hitting with a .395 average for the season and a .351 mark in Northern Division play. First baseman Mike Stowe is second for the season with a .371 average, but tops the team in ND play with a .362 mark.

Stowe, one of the top contenders for an all-ND berth could make the grade at third base, a position he has been playing the past week. With Gary Riebe out of the lineup with an attack of the flu, Stowe moved over to third and Chuck White came in from right field to play first base. This sent the team's fourth hitter Pete Mooney, the younger brother of Dick to the outfield from the bench and Idaho won two in a row after a three-game losing streak.

Forney Triumphs In WRA Archery

Forney Hall is the winner in the WRA archery tournament. Forney defeated all comers in taking the title. Hays Hall finished second, followed by Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma in that order.

WRA softball is once again in play following rains. Forney Hall defeated the Alpha Phi 22-2. McConnell Hall beat Kappa Kappa Gamma 5-2.

Poor weather has still held up the track meet. WRA officials hope to stage the event as soon as weather permits.

Bill Sorsby

Sorsby Has Job In Cambodia

Clearances were being prepared today so that Bill Sorsby, popular young track coach, could be granted a year's leave of absence to coach in Cambodia, Athletic Director J. Neil Stahley announced today.

Stahley said that the action was taken in cooperation with the U. S. State Department in its educational and cultural affairs program. Sorsby is scheduled to coach for a year the national track team of Cambodia, a country that is surrounded by nations involved in southeastern Asia's current crisis. Bordering Cambodia are Laos, Thailand and South Vietnam.

Sorsby came to the University of Idaho in 1959, and has developed teams which have been strong contenders in Northwest competition. His cross-country teams have been outstanding, the 1960 team winning the Pacific Coast championship. Last week, the Idaho track team took first place in the annual Bill Martin Relays at Walla Walla, with Central Washington placing second and Whitman third. Of the 11 new marks set, three were by Idaho men.

A graduate of the University of Oregon, Sorsby formerly was an assistant track coach at that institution. Before coming to the University of Idaho, he also coached track at Jefferson high school in Portland, and at Erasmus high school in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Stahley said that a replacement would be obtained for Sorsby during his year's leave of absence.

Netmen Fourth

The Vandal tennis team closed out its season last week-end when they participated in one of the most confusing Northern Division Championships ever held.

The meet started last Friday and was immediately run afoul by the Palouse rain. The rain so confused things that the singles final has not been held to date. For the first time in many years, play was held under the lights on Idaho's campus in order to complete the meet. The effort failed.

The doubles final was finally played off in Corvallis. OSU's number-one team of Gordon Brynildsen and Dave Oehling defeated a second Beaver team of Keith Baxter and Jerry Wickwire. Score was 6-4, 6-4.

Duck Larry Brooks and Brynildsen were to have met in the singles final, but as yet the match has not been staged. Oregon State will win the ND meet, regardless of the outcome in the singles final, according to Idaho coach Bill Logan.

Baxter and Wickwire defeated WSU's top team of Jim Norland and Joe Kleitsch to gain the finals. The other OSU doubles team had to sideline Idaho's team of Howard Sealey and Larry Durbin. Idaho will probably finish in fourth place, one point behind Washington State, indicated Logan. Oregon State, WSU and Idaho were entered in the ND affair. Washington did not enter.

According to the tennis boss, the top Idaho performances were turned in by Sealey and Durbin. The Vandal pair was all-winning in doubles until they met the Brynildsen-Oehling duo.

In singles, Durbin bowed to Brooks 7-5, 6-2. The Webfoot ace went on to the finals. According to Logan, Sealey suffered bad luck in the draw. Sealey drew Oregon's John Ehrhart and lost 6-4, 7-5, in a very close contest. Ehrhart went on to lose in the semifinals of the singles play.

"Had Sealey not drawn Ehrhart, I think he could have gone all the way to the semifinals," said the coach.

'61, Year Of Decisions, Will '62 Be Improvement?

RECORD BREAKING — The Vandal mile relay team of John Pasley (left), Curt Flisher, Nick Carnefix and Bob Johnson broke the University's mile relay record which had stood for 11 years with a 3:16.4 in the Far West Relays. The old record was 3:18.1, set in 1951.

New Coach, New System For Vandal Gridsters

The Vandals go into their 70th season of intercollegiate football with a new coach, a new coaching staff, a new offense, and the most favorable schedule in a decade.

For new coach Dee Andros, however, it will be a task to instill a winning tradition in a team which has won only three games in the past two (19 games) seasons.

The Vandals had a spirited spring practice and Andros professed to be pleased with the fight and desire shown by his 60 charges.

The squad which Andros inherited from now athletic director "Skip" Stahley will be predominately sophomores and juniors. Only four seniors are on the roster.

While such powers as Army, Washington, and Oregon do not appear on the schedule this year, two inter-mountain powers, Utah and Utah State, are billed along with Oregon State, Washington State and Arizona.

Last fall the big powers, Oregon, Washington, Utah State and Army weakened the Vandals and left them prey for the smaller foes. Idaho had a rough Saturday in Eugene opening day, falling to the Ducks, 51-10.

However, until the Montana game 'day was a grim time for the Vandals as they lost their next five in a row. Oregon State dumped Idaho 44-6, WSU, 34-0, Army 51-7, Utah State 69-0, Pacific 27-2, and Arizona, 43-7.

Statistic-wise Mosolf was the top rusher followed by Dick Mooney. Mosolf netted 286 yards in 116 carries and Mooney clipped off 230 yards in 69 carries.

Rangy Reg Carolan headed the squad in pass receptions. The 6-6 split-end caught 21 tosses for 225 yards and one touchdown. Mooney was number two man with 11 catches for 115 yards.

The two perennial Idaho problems — speed and depth — will face Andros and his staff again this season. In the recent spring practice two matched teams fought it out on even terms in the semifinals intrasquad game.

In the speed department Idaho will have two track lettermen and a pair of fresh sprinters in uniform.

form. The two track men — half-back Bob Johnson and end Bob Ruby — both missed spring practice to compete in track. However, biggest personnel problem facing Andros and his staff is the replacement of three graduating tackles. Only two lettermen were on hand at the beginning of spring drills, Ellery Brown and Joe Cramer.

Defense is hard to evaluate since the staff is new and the opposition is strange to all members. It stands to reason that the Vandals will be tougher in '62 than the '61 team which had a record 351 points scored against it.

Harriers Return; Thinclads Stronger

The Vandal cross-country team enjoyed another successful season in 1961. Idaho finished first in three meets, including the West Coast Cross-Country Championship.

Highlight of the past season was the Vandals win in Palo Alto. Idaho easily out-distanced the field to win the annual West Coast Cross-Country Championship, defeating teams from California, Stanford, San Jose State, and Occidental College.

In addition, the Vandals defeated WSU 25-30 on two different occasions. However, Idaho lost to the Cougars twice by a lone point.

Henden and Douglas gained much glory for the Vandals after the season ended. The two entered the Canadian National Championship, with Douglas finishing second and Henden third.

Idaho should have a banner year next season, as no one is lost through graduation. Douglas, Henden, Olaso and all the rest will return.

Sophomore sprinter Bob Johnson was the top point gainer with 65%. Others in the top six included Dick Douglas, 58; Reg Carolan, 51; Paul Henden, 38; Jerry Pressey, 36%; and Nick Carnefix, 35%.

The Vandals went up against some of the top teams and individuals in the country. Idaho faced Oregon, Southern California, and Oregon, the number one, two and three ranked track teams in the nation.

Soon after the season began, however, injuries, lack of interest and other reasons reduced the squad to such a few number that it came to be termed "The Iron-man team," boasting but six swimmers.

Other stalwarts included Larry Peterson, who set a new varsity record in the 1500-meter freestyle; diver Dick Henry, Chuck Sowars, the only senior; Ken Steward, an all-around swimmer, and Dan Cole.

have in recent seasons with a little better speed in the backfield and at least two quarterbacks who can mix up their play-calling. Quarterbacks Gary Mires and Mike Whiles have shown that they can make the option work.

The Regents, at Stahley's request, followed the latter course. The Skipper paid the price for the revision, stepping down from head football coach, to operate solely as athletic director.

A statement, concurrent with Stahley's resignation, was released. The Regents made it clear that Idaho would not deemphasize athletics.

What the statement added up to, in essence, was a "Great Decision" for Idaho football. What it meant in essence, was a new coach and more money.

In basketball, Coach Cipriano fielded a creditable team, posting a 13-13 record, best since 1958. "We're going to have a lot of returning lettermen," Cipriano commented about next winter's squad.

Baseball will be much the same story. Anderson will lose some of his standouts, but the spring roses, with a few timely JC transfers, should be bright for Idaho.

In Track, coach Bill Sorsby won't be around next spring to see his building program pay off, but his products should manage to pick up a few more of the records they neared and topped this spring.

Swimming, for Clark Mitchell, has never been an encouraging sport. Confined to a dank, narrow pool, the watermen produce more than they should, but still lose.

Idaho's lone win was the Bill Martin Relays at Walla Walla. The thinclad crew came from behind with tremendous performances in the final five events to win going away.

Arg Wraps Up Year, Predicts

"This world that we're a-liven in is mighty hard to beat; You git a thorn with every rose. But ain't the roses sweet!"

Skip Stahley, who coined that little ditty back in 1959 after Idaho's football loss to Washington, might have been hard-pressed to back up his philosophy last fall, but over-all Idaho athletic teams in general backed it to the hilt.

For "Skip" and his footballers, it was a tough year, a football season that saw more than its share of thorns and darn few roses during the season. But the roses may be there for next fall.

All the roses shouldn't bloom in the fall either, with basketball coach Joe "Cip" Cipriano, baseball coach Wayne Anderson, swimming coach, Clark Mitchell, the Idaho track team and golf and tennis squads all looking forward to a "rosy" future.

But football is the big sport, and the big question mark, as far as most Idaho fans are concerned.

Skip had his troubles last year as Idaho's grid fortunes dipped to their lowest level in many a year. Even the extra win the Vandals picked up over their prior year's efforts couldn't quite compensate for the 69-0 and 51-7 poundings.

Idaho had two possible courses of action: deemphasize and "turn in the marbles" or make a drastic revision in policy and play with bigger marbles.

The Regents, at Stahley's request, followed the latter course. The Skipper paid the price for the revision, stepping down from head football coach, to operate solely as athletic director.

The Vandals started off fast, disposing of Whitworth, Gonzaga and Montana State before falling to home town Seattle 69-68 in the final second. This one point loss was an omen of things to come, as Cipriano's club was to go on to lose five games by three or less points.

The Vandals lost two of their next three games and went into the Far West Classic with a 4-3 mark. In the Classic opener, Idaho defeated Portland 61-50.

Following the Far West fray, the Vandals headed into the traditional Northern Division play. Engaging the three Coast schools four times each, Idaho came out 6-6, defeating Oregon 3-1, bowing to OSU 1-3, and splitting with WSU 2-2.

Of the three, the Oregon State series was probably the most exciting. Fans packed Memorial Gym when Coach Slat's Gill brought his nationally ranked Beavers to town.

The Vandals lost the first game of the home series 74-59, a game in which White was tossed out for elbowing. The next night the Vandals were looking for blood and almost got it.

The Vandals also didn't have much luck with the Oregon Ducks. It looked like the Ducks had the Vandals' number as the Oregon team swept the first three meetings. Catcher Jeff McQueeney hit his first two home runs of his college career, one in the last of the ninth on a 3-2 pitch, to beat the Ducks in the Vandals' final encounter.

Idaho took the only conference game with the Cougars 8-7 here. Another scheduled contest with WSU was rained out.

Coach Wayne Anderson has a strong nucleus coming back next season. However, he will lose the services of several valuable players including pitchers Townsend and Denny Grant, shortstop Dick Mooney and leftfielder Bob Vervaeke.

Co-captain Mooney is currently leading the team with a .395 season average and a .351 league mark and is almost a cinch of making the all-northern division team.

Next year's outlook can be summed up as follows: PITCHING — (Weaker) — with Townsend gone, Lawrence who was this year's no. 1 workhorse will have to carry more of the load. However, the Vandals will have a capable starter in Dave Sewright.

INFIELD — (Stronger) — If someone can be found to take Mooney's place at shortstop the Vandals will have a tight infield. Gary Reibe will be back to play third along with Mick Michelson.

OUTFIELD — (Stronger) The strength of next year's outfield depends on whether Herb Dehning, last year's ND centerfielder, can shake the slump dropped his .300 plus batting average to below .200 in ND play.

The Frosh also will offer some help to the varsity. Tom Haig will give the mound staff some support.

Bill Hartack won three of the last seven Gulfstream Park Handicaps.

Phi Gams Reign As New Champs

As the final edition of the Argonaut goes to press, Phi Gamma Delta reigns as the new intramural campus champion. A Fiji victory over ATO in the Greek Championship softball game Tuesday assured PGD the title.

These three living groups had a dog fight all year in vying for the trophy. The Delts, ATO's and Fijis changed places a number of times before the Fijis finally came out on top.

Something that has gained more popularity and participation each year, the intramural program saw just this again in 1961-62. Two more sports, skiing and weightlifting, were added to the list of campus-wide sporting events.

Nick Carnefix, Phi Delt, outdistanced some 300 odd runners to win the Turkey Trot and give his living group the cross-country title. The Betas finished second; the Kappa Sigs third.

The ATOS won the first weightlifting championship ever held on campus. Chrisman Hall was second with the Fijis third. A total of 76 men competed in the grunt-and-groan event.

ATO came back to win the B basketball crown, defeating an upstart Farm House team. Farm House had gained the final round with a triumph over a favored Fiji team.

The Betas earned an intramural trophy with a triumph in the bowling competition. The SAEs were second. Willis Sweet was third and the Phi Taus fourth.

ATO added another trophy with their triumph in track. The ATO team won out in the finals of the two-day event to defeat the Fijis. The Delts finished third. ATO Bill Mattis was the top individual point getter.

The Fijis continued their spring sports success with a win in the golf tournament. Mel Cook, Phi Delt; Bill Stout, SAE; and Bob Robideaux, ATO, all tied for medalist honors. The ATOS finished second; the Delts third.

Lindley Hall was the winner in the table tennis play, defeating Chrisman Hall by three points. The Delts finished third. Chrisman's Gary Evans defeated everyone in sight to walk away with the singles crown.

In an event just completed, Gault Hall won the horseshoes championship. Vern Helt, Gault, defeated Chrisman's Doug Bishop to gain the individual championship.

Intramural director Clem Parberry and his staff felt that the program had a number of fine athletes participating.

Phi Delt Nick Carnefix was outstanding in the Turkey Trot. Sigma Nu's Wanek Stein and John Pasley; Loyd Harvisold, Willis Sweet; Denny Erhart and Gene Novotny, Lindley; and Chrisman's Curtis Norman were good in football.

Upham's Wayne Thiessen and Dave Gundlach were big reasons behind the Upham volleyball triumph. Delt Bob Hall was another outstanding volleyballer.

Mike O'Shea had the highest average of anyone in the bowling tourney. John Desmond pressed more in the weightlifting meet than anyone else. Dick Seley led his squad to the Greek softball title.

Ray Anderson of Gault was a big gun in A basketball, as was ATO Jeff Wombolt. Bill Mattis, ATO, was outstanding in the track meet. The list could go on and on.

Parberry looks for an ever better intramural program next year. The intramural director expects to see the "Little 500" bicycle race and handball added to the growing list of intramural sports. There could be others as well.

Swimming, Skiing, Golf, Tennis Have Hard Year, Eye Future

The Idaho swimming team struggled through a 1-9 season, but scores sometimes do not reveal the whole story.

Coach Clark Mitchell had 13 men turn out for practice last fall. Of the 13, there was one senior and three juniors. None were lettermen.

"To a man, they were lacking in previous competitive experience," said Mitchell. Mitchell remained proud of his swimmers throughout the season, which saw the Vandals defeat only Central Washington. "From what they knew, they did a tremendous job," commented the Varsity mentor.

The squad members continually lowered their times throughout the season.

Idaho's tennis team showed improvement this season as they posted a 3-14 mark as compared to last year's 1-10 record. Coach Bill Logan welcomed back Howard Sealey, Larry Durbin and John Ferris at the beginning of the season.

In addition, Logan got help from Dick Stiles and Terry Winter. Logan said, "Next year, the team will be as strong and probably a little stronger than this year."

The Vandal golf squad posted a 6-6 record with the Northern Division yet to be played as the final edition went to press. Coach Dick Snyder started the season with but one returning letterman, Robb Smith, and a host of green sophomores. The improvement that these sophomores made overshadowed the actual record," said Snyder.

Being the only returnee, Smith carried a heavy burden and played well in spite of it. In addition, the team got help from Wally Lowe, who came out of nowhere to become a dependable stickler.

Next year's outlook seems bright. Smith and Lowe will be lost, but the rest return. In addition to having a number of juniors with a year's experience, Snyder will be able to draw upon the best of a frosh team that posted a 4-0 record.

The Idaho ski team enjoyed another good season. Up against teams with full-time coaches and larger budgets, the Vandals still managed to finish high in the standings for most of the meets.

Washington seemed to prove the most trouble.

Arnstein Friling and Jan Istad were two of the Vandal cogs. Both went to the NCAA meet at Squaw Valley, California.

Next year's picture does not seem especially encouraging. Bergvall and Astrup have graduated, and there is a question on Friling's eligibility.

However, the Vandals will have Istad, Jensen, Rolf Prydz and Eric Friis. In addition, the Vandals may have the services of Howard Gerrish, Idaho star two years ago.

Logan felt that Idaho did better in the Northern Division Championships than in the past. The Sealey-Winter doubles team reached the semi-finals before being ousted.

Departing from the tennis scene will be Sealey, Durbin, and Stiles. Keith Gregory, Winter and Ferris will return.

Logan said, "Next year, the team will be as strong and probably a little stronger than this year." The outlook appears to be brighter. Logan will have the advantage of a good frosh team and some transfers.

Events To Remember In 1961-'62

"Volpone" was one of the many and excellent plays presented by the University Drama Dept.

This is the reason why the new SUB is currently stagnant. Remember the striker who was doused by a bucket of water? No wonder his back is turned.

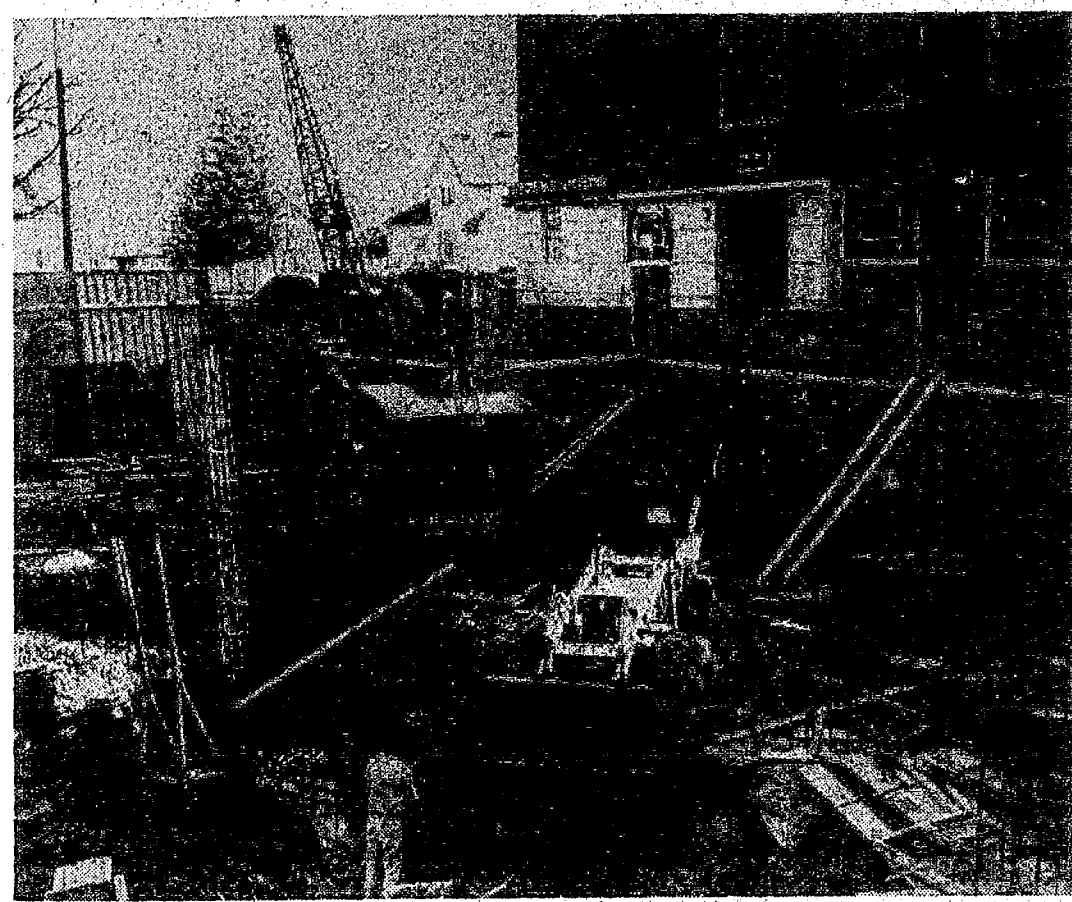

Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo was one of the outstanding presentations that students saw during 1961-62.

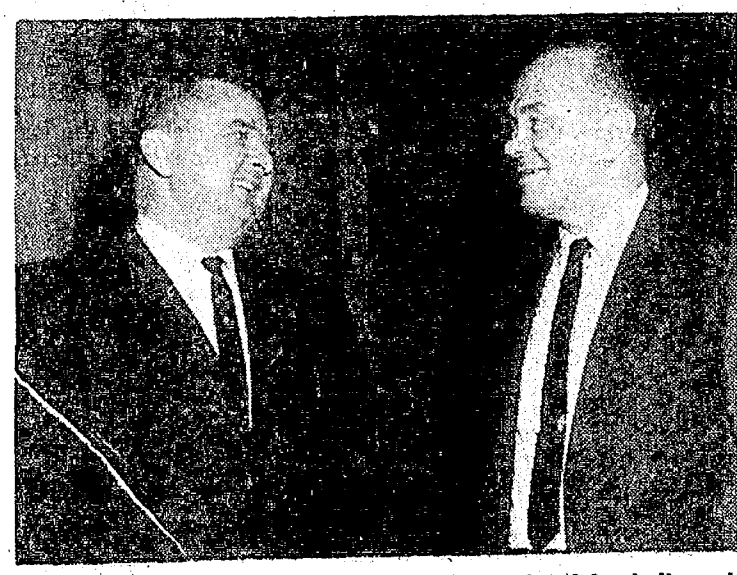

Miss Toni Thunen, Homecoming queen. Remember the game Idaho won and all the "unsteady" alums?

ASUI 1961-62 president James Mullen discusses student government problems with vice-president Dick Stiles. A new constitution was accepted by the student body under this administration.

The new Student Union is begun in earnest. Even though there will be no skating rink, the SUB is scheduled to be completed in late fall.

Classed as the biggest story of the year, new head football coach Dee Andros (left) chats with former head "Skip" Stahley.

The big event at the big May Fete weekend was the naming of the outstanding seniors. Dr. D. R. Theophilus congratulates the newly named seniors.

Definitely an added improvement on the west side of campus was the conversion of McConnell Hall to a women's living residence last fall.

Cliff Eldred, Dave Tracy, and Harold Schillreff display the work that gave Idaho a top ranking at the Model United Nations convention held in San Diego.

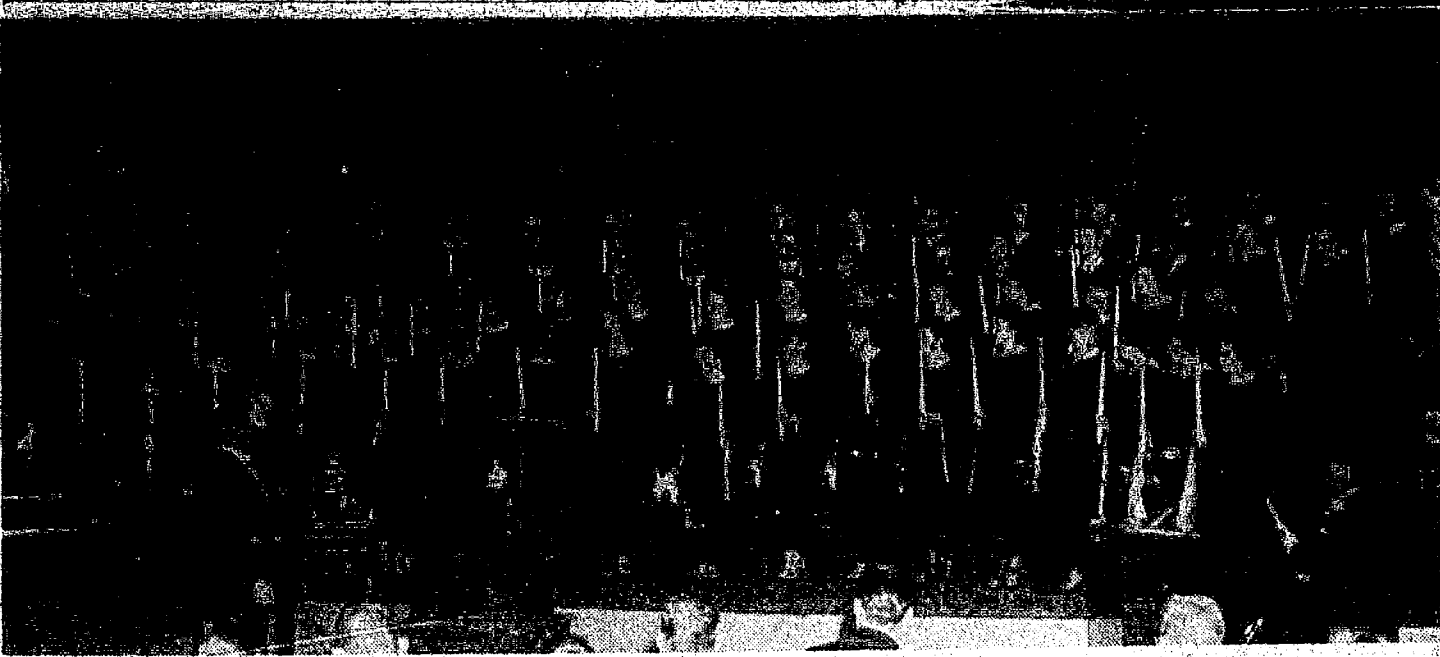

The winning float for Homecoming was the Theta Chi-Alfa Gamma Delta "A Whale of A Victory." There were many outstanding floats for an outstanding weekend.

The fiery death of the Student Representative Assembly. Student leaders Mullen, Hossner, Nelson, and Stiles watch intently as it is vanquished.

Memories of the Year Gone By

The sound heard nationwide, the Vandaleers give another out-standing Christmas Candlelight Serenade. This was broadcast to the nation by the Mutual Broadcasting System Dec. 18.
