Regulations Now Control UI Elections

In a meeting just before Christmas vacation and one last Wednesday night the Executive Board finalized the controversial election regulations.

Prime feature of the new rules is limiting the number of campaign posters a candidate may post on University buildings to 20. The Board's action, which allows posters in 11 University buildings, ends the concentrated plastering of signs of various sizes all over campus.

Other business discussed included athletic regulation changes, SUB sound-off, and the International committee.

The election regulations include: The only type of campaign material allowed outside of University buildings on University grounds will be of bill-board type, and each candidate and party will be allowed only two; only masking tape will be used for securing posters to walls and painted surfaces; no posters will be placed on doors of buildings listed; all campaign material must be down by 8:30 a.m. of the election day; there will be no campaigning in the immediate vicinity of the polls on election day.

Fine Established

Violation of the above rules will be subject to a fine of not more than $25 nor less than $5.

Candidates will be allowed the following number of posters in the following buildings: Administration, 4; agricultural science, 1; engineering, 3; forestry, 2; gymnasium, 1; home economics, 1; Mines, 2; Ridenbaugh Hall, 1; Science, 3; student union, 1; and women's gym, 1. No posters may be placed in any other University buildings.

Some objections to these regulations were posed by John Ferris, Board member who claimed originality would be lost. Bill Bowes, ASUI veeep, countered saying an attempt was being made to eliminate the clutter and this was the only way it could be accomplished. Some changes were made in the athletic regulation changes which were accepted by the Board. They involve changing the regulations for determining who earns letters.

The E-Board initiated a new committee in the area of foreign student relations also. Based on a study and report by Cliff Eldred, E-Board recommended that an International Student Committee and an Advisory Council to the International Student Committee be created.

An Exec Board member will be chairman of the advisory council. Other members of the Advisory Council would include "at least six faculty members (including the foreign student advisor and the Cosmopolitan Club advisor), and the International Student Committee.

The International Student Committee will be the working body and will be elected by the E-Board, Eldred said.

On Miss Alyce Joy Taylor's motion, Eldred's report was amended to give the "old" E-Board the power to appoint prior to spring vacation the committee members for the next year.

Under Eldred's report the E-Board-elect would appoint the new committee members after spring vacation.

Details Later

E-Board will work out details on possible representation of Moscow towns people and exact committee duties at a later date.

Eldred also submitted a report suggesting a public forum Friday afternoons from 4 to 5.

'I' Mag. Accepting Material For Issue

Literary material for the "I", campus literary magazine, is being accepted by the editors now for the issue which will go on sale shortly after finals. Bob McFarland, managing editor, said yesterday.

"Anyone who would like their work printed in the 'I' should get it to Judy Conklin, Kip Peterson or myself as soon as possible so we can select those which will be used. Any stories or poems not used will be returned to the author," he said.

Started over a year ago under the sponsorship of Campus Union Party, the magazine printed two editions in its first year. The same number are planned for this year.

Proposed During Campaign

The idea for the literary magazine was proposed during the spring, 1961 election campaign by the Campus Union Party "to promote a means of recognition of creative talent."

The first edition went on sale Jan. 18, 1962. Of the 500 copies printed, 420 were sold; the other 80 were given to faculty members and sent to other schools.

At the time the first issue was printed, Editor Ken Hibbelen said that the group was going to try to get the ASUI to take over the magazine after the second issue.

This plan would have placed the magazine under University control, however, and was later abandoned.

At the last CUP meeting before Christmas vacation, the party voted to relinquish all responsibility for the magazine. CUP President Rick Wischkaemper stated:

"For the past several years CUP has advocated the publication of a magazine to further the literary efforts of the student body.

"To achieve this end, CUP has sponsored the publication of the 'I' magazine.

Turned Over To APO

"The past success of the magazine has made it possible for CUP to turn the sponsorship over to Alpha Phi Omega, a service honorary. CUP feels that this step will assure the permanence of the magazine and will further serve to remove any possible stigma derived from its sponsorship by a political party," he said.

In accepting the responsibility for the magazine, McFarland said, "APO intends to continue the publication of the 'I' as a service project. Plans call for one issue to be published each semester.

Gov. Smylie Recommends $99 Million State Budget

Gov. Robert E. Smylie has recommended to the 1963 legislature that $99 million will be necessary to meet the state's needs this year, and a committee with little experience will be dealing with the problem, budget committee chairman Sen. Rodney Hansen, R-Minidoka, announced yesterday.

Smylie's recommendation contrasts with the $97 million figure submitted by a pre-legislature budget committee. No decisions have been made as to how the money will be spent. Sen. Hansen was quite concerned about the inexperience of the committee. He told an Associated Press reporter, "We're so stupid we don't know what the problems are." Hansen has one term of prior experience on the committee.

Legislative experts have predicted that it will be towards the end of the session before the appropriation will be made for the University. A $13 million request by the University was trimmed to $11 million by the pre-legislature budget committee.

Ribbon Snipping Ceremony Unveils New SUB Addition

University President D. R. Theophilus formally dedicated the first two floors of the Student Union Building addition Tuesday night with the snipping of a silver and gold ribbon across the entrance to the new Dipper.

The ceremonies, which officially opened the addition but the partially-completed ballroom on the second floor, gave students access to facilities on the basement and first floor. Opened were ASUI offices, lobby and lounge area, Argonaut offices, stereo listening room, TV lounge, information booth, conference room and Dipper.

"This is no Johnny-come-lately thing; it is an investment of time and energy of many," the president told some 300 students who flocked into the room behind him. "The new Student Union is outstanding now and will be for years to come."

Shows Maturity

The new $2 million SUB is symbolic of the student body's maturity, Dr. Theophilus continued. Perhaps in years past the students weren't treated as adults because they didn't act like adults, but the unselfish labor and time devoted to the new building is "indicative of a student body's coming of age," he said.

ASUI Vice President Bill Bowes, master of ceremonies for the event, presented Theophilus with the shovel used by him and former ASUI President Jim Mullen to break the ground for the SUB addition in 1961.

The vice president singled out General Manager Gale Mix as having been largely responsible for the success of the expansion project and introduced him to the crowd.

Other University and student body officials present at the ceremonies included Mrs. Richard Farnsworth, assistant general

TV Math Topics Listed For Week

Topics for the Math TV lectures for the week of Jan. 14 are:

Math I (third and fourth periods): Geometric Progressions, Quadratic Equations, Algebra of Logic.

Math II (first and fifth periods): Functions of half angles, other identities, Inverses and Inverse Functions, Inverse Trigonometric Relations.

Exam, Friday, Jan. 18 — No TV classes.

Petition To Ban Class Offices Gets Enough Names For ASUI Vote

A petition to eliminate any mention of class officers from the ASUI Constitution has received enough students' signatures to bring the issue to a vote in the student body elections March 7.

The petition had 474 signatures on it yesterday, more than the 456 — or 10 per cent of the student body — required to place on the ballot, according to Bob Hahn, instigator of the campaign. However, he said, names will be sought until there are about 500.

If the petition passes by the required two-thirds majority, it "will remove the name of class officers from the Constitution," effective June 15, Hahn stated.

However, the ASUI Executive Board presumably could reinstate the officers even though the student body voted them out, he said, but added that he doubted that the board would do so if the students wished them eliminated.

"All the petition does is eliminate all mention of class officers from the Constitution," Hahn said. Even if they are reinstated, "they wouldn't have any constitutional basis."

He added that he hoped no

Southern Speaker To Discuss Race

A representative of the Mississippi State Sovereignty Commission, a states-rights, pro-segregationist organization, headed by Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett, has accepted an invitation to speak on campus Feb. 18 by Campus Union Party.

Sutton Marks, state representative for Yazoo and Hinds Counties, Miss., is the speaker. The commission will pay all expenses.

Campus Union Party, which extended the invitation, has checked the committees' standing with the United States Department of Justice and they are not on the list of subversive organizations. An invitation has been extended to the Department of Justice to send a speaker explaining the government's action in the recent Oxford, Miss., incidents.

This is part of a program under the sponsorship of Campus Union Party to "stimulate

Ad Lawn Statue Is Redone 'Again'

How often is the statue on the Ad lawn "redone"? A major event there is a major event on campus, according to James A. Parker of the Physical Plant.

The statue is now very green, green. As in the past, the Physical Plant will refinish the statue again, at a cost of between $25 and $30. If you haven't noticed, the hand is also missing, and is being slowly rebuilt by hand at a cost of more than $150, Parker said.

Group Seeking Class Purpose

Members of Junior-Class Extended Board organized a committee "to figure out the class purpose" Wednesday night, according to Class President Jimmy Olson.

A petition seeking the elimination of class officers, "although it's being shot at us, the 16 officers, is more or less aimed at the classes themselves" to see if they have any purpose, Olson said. For that reason the committee was formed.

The group, under chairman Tom Lynch, will meet in about a week to try to decide upon a project the class can undertake, the president said.

political party would take a stand on the petition during the campaign. "I don't want it to become a party issue."

Students have signed the petition, Hahn felt, for three reasons: "To get rid of the officers; to get the officers on the ball; to get the issue on the ballot and voted down."

Began Nov. 13

The petition's sponsor, who is chairman of Election Board, began circulating the petition Nov. 13, less than a week after class elections, because "I don't think class officers do anything worthwhile." It has traveled through 15 of the 38 campus living groups.

The number of students signing the petition in its trips around the living groups have varied from 59 out of 62 at Campus Club to one out of more than 100 at Chrisman Hall. Off-Campus students haven't been approached too much, Hahn said.

Science Foundation Grants Money For Idaho Research

Research in physics and chemistry will be stimulated this year by grants of more than $10,000 to the University of Idaho from the National Science Foundation, Dr. M. M. Renfrew, chairman of chemistry, announced this week.

The budget approved by the NSF will support a program for undergraduate research. It will be the second year of participation for the University. Through NSF approval of $5,880 for research in physics, three undergraduates will be supported for a nine-week period during the summer and given partial support through the following academic year. The funds also include an allowance for equipment and supplies.

Study Atmosphere

Specific areas of attention by the selected students will be the study of upper atmosphere movements under the guidance of Dr. J. S. Kim, associate professor of physics, and the study of growth of inorganic crystals and measurement of their properties supervised by Dr. E. F. Sieckmann, assistant professor of physics.

Approval by the NSF of an equivalent program in chemistry will make $4,440 available. Four students will study under Dr. James H. Cooley, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. Peter K. Freeman, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. E. K. Raunio, professor of chemistry, and Dr. Renfrew.

Current holders of the undergraduate grants in physics are James Assendrup, Mark Hodgson, and Robert Parkinson. Doing research in chemistry are Corder Campbell, Jack DeBaun, Jr., Norman Kelley and Curtis Sutton.

Ruth Elaine Anderson presently holds an Idaho Academy of Sciences grant for research in inorganic chemistry. Dr. Renfrew is directing her studies.

Prof To Talk At IPA Meet

Bert Cross, chairman of the Department of Journalism, will address the Idaho Press Association convention on "Educating for Journalism" at Boise this afternoon.

Cross is attending the 2½-day conference of weekly newspaper editors and publishers with Walter K. Bunge, instructor of journalism at the University.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie will address the convention at a banquet tomorrow evening. He is also scheduled to hold a press conference with the newspapermen this morning.

Student Reenlists During Vacation

A University of Idaho student reenlisted in the Navy during vacation.

Sgt. Lyman W. Vogel, Jr., will be commissioned a Marine second lieutenant upon graduation next June. He came to the University in 1959 as a student in the Navy Enlisted Scientific Education Program, and is studying electrical engineering.

Controversy

From all appearances it looks as if a controversial speaker will appear on campus next month speaking in favor of segregation. While highly controversial, and probably he will be subject to much criticism, he still has the right to speak, we are fortunate in being at a University that allows this sort of activity.

Campus Union Party has invited Sutton Marks, a state representative from Mississippi and a member of the Mississippi State Sovereignty Commission to speak Feb. 18. The Commission is a self-proclaimed states' rights, pro-segregationist organization.

A request to the United States Department of Justice to send a speaker explaining the legal aspects of the government's action in the recent Meredith issue at the University of Mississippi was sent by CUP.

It should be an interesting evening at least, if not educational.

The event stands in contrast to the action taken by several western Universities last year in refusing to allow Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States, to speak.

Undoubtedly the views expressed will be something different than that ordinarily heard on this campus. As a college student, one cannot claim to be an educated person unless he actively seeks both sides of the question.

While there may be some criticisms to Marks' appearance there will not be open resistance by either faculty or administration. This again is a commendable feature of this University.

Campus Union Party and its efforts to promote such activities are also commendable. — J. M.

Jim Metcalf's Campus Perspective

It's a new year and typically at this time of year one's perspective tends to be a bit foggy as pressures from many directions arise. Perhaps a little crystal ball gazing along with some reviewing would be appropriate.

What the new year may bring is a little hard to tell. Right now it's bringing out co-eds in ski pants as the thermometer continues to drop and winter has finally reached the Palouse. There might even be a white final week as a sort of compensation for no white Christmas.

Also those immediately concerned with such things are beginning to make plans for next month as they enter the annual rat race to see who gets the honor of occupying the new plush ASUI Executive offices. Nothing concrete yet, just rumors, ideas and talk over coffee in the SUB and beer at Mort's.

Some other activity going on may be explained at least partially by this as potential candidates attempt to make themselves known. Several Executive Board members (notably juniors) are doing their job most industriously as they hand out reports, think of projects, and get their name in the paper. Also rumor has it that the junior class is starting a move to justify class officers. They have even formed a committee to do such. Class officers, especially junior class officers, are always potential ASUI candidates, and they may be getting a little worried.

Speaking of that, the petition to abolish the class officers, lacks only a few signatures which it will surely obtain. It looks like its backers have succeeded and the issue will be on the ballot this spring. Will probably be interesting at least. We will see . . . que sera, sera.

Current ASUI officers are beginning to wrap up their business and soon their administration will be history. While it has not been spectacular, it has been one of solid progress in the usual mild manner. A student judicial council has been established, the Activities Council has firmed its position in the government, and some moves have been made to improve other minor areas of student government with some success. Not spectacular but respectable will probably be the judgments on their terms. The officers have generally been serious in their administration of duties though the Executive Board has failed to do as much as it could at times because of an inability to forget party differences.

Other signposts for the new year show that the University will get most of what it wants but not quite enough from the legislature to really do the job it deserves. See the chairman of the appropriations committee estimates the budget to be $2 million more than the pre-legislative committee did. Hope the University gets its share. It needs it.

Predictions that can be made with relative safety include: continued growth of the student body; an almost even split again between the two parties on ASUI Executive Board with United dominating slightly and a CUP president and United vice-president; passage of the ASUI constitutional amendment to abolish class officers; continuation of ridiculous women's rules and AWS not doing a great deal about it; the best GEM in years; continuation of publication of this paper though it may be a strain at times; graduation of the class of 1963 . . . that might be a strain at times also; publication of a literary magazine finally; a few more clubs formed and maybe another queen contest; someone objecting to too many clubs and queen contests; Hello Walk becoming extremely icy during February; general losing seasons in spring sports; conclusion of a very successful basketball season and an improved football season next fall; ISC becoming ISU; the University beating ISC in basketball and football; the campus becoming as beautiful as ever in the spring; the new SUB being completed to everyone's satisfaction and amazement; Idaho co-eds maintaining their traditional reputation; the male-female ratio not improving to any considerable degree; and in general when all falls into perspective it will be another ordinary year with some advancement and progress and as usual not enough of it. — This is Idaho's story.

Fewer Posters, But No Need To Worry

Class and student body office seekers have been limited in the number of campaign posters they can display but they still have plenty of loopholes through which to make themselves known.

Executive Board voted Wednesday to limit each candidate to the sticking of only 20 posters in all University buildings, and the number in each place was designated.

The ruling will end the wallpapering of buildings' interiors with hundreds of posters of all sizes, appeal attempts and quality imaginable, but it offers a challenge for imagination of two different types.

When the rules were passed, it was hoped that the drastic limitation of the number of posters would inspire considerable — and necessary — imagination in each one, thus eliminating the hasty, trashy ones that so ubiquitously have covered the campus in past election campaigns. Each poster will now have to be carefully made and strategically placed.

Should Be Some Imaginative Loopholing

The E-Board action, however, should also result in much time being spent in devising means of bypassing the poster limitations. Students can only have 20 posters in buildings and two billboard-type signs outside, and they can't have any on trees, telephone poles and University markers. But they can plaster their handbills all over living groups, friends' cars and downtown. And they're free, of course, to hand them out.

And think of the size of the posters. Each candidate can only have one in the Student Union Building, to use an example, but nothing says that that sign can't stretch from one end of the building to the other.

The same goes with the signboards outside the classrooms. If he can afford it, a candidate is free to erect a billboard large enough to blot out the sun. Billboards have been rented in the past, and they undoubtedly will be utilized even more in the future.

So fear not; you'll still be able to tell when election time is here. The posters may be fewer in some places, but they'll simply be bigger in those places and more abundant elsewhere.

Dean Wohletz Former Hero Of College Ball Diamond

Dean Ernest Wohletz of the University of Idaho's College of Forestry used to be quite a man with a bat, both on and off the baseball diamond.

The swinging prowess of Wohletz, who starred in baseball as an undergraduate at the University of California and coached baseball here during World War II, came to light today with the receipt at the University of a faded clipping from the San Francisco Chronicle, dated August 13, 1927. It reads:

"Babe Ruth has batted out a few hot ones, but Ernest Wohletz, of California, from Tehama county, has gone him one better.

"Wohletz starts the fall semester as a hero. Before the Berkeley Fire Department was able to respond to a fire call from the Golden Bear boarding house, 2646 Bancroft way, Wohletz seized a baseball bat, climbed up on the roof and batted out the flames from a burning chimney which threatened the roof.

"When the Fire Department reached the scene they found the blaze subdued, with a loss of only $75."

Conferences Are Planned

Two liquid fertilizer dealers management conferences have been scheduled on the University of Idaho campus. Dr. Raymond Kooi, director of adult education, announced.

The first conference will be held Jan. 21 and 22; the second Feb. 7 and 8.

The events are sponsored by the Division of Adult Education, the College of Business Administration and the Liquid Fertilizer Dealers of the Northwest.

Topics to be discussed include the impact of recent changes in the Internal Revenue Code on the fertilizer industry, accounts receivable, controls, financing methods, inventories and case studies.

'Maj. Benson' Will Be Film This Weekend

The award winning film, "The Private War of Major Benson," will be the last SUB film of this semester. The film will play in the Borah Theater Friday and Sunday nights.

Attendance has gone up this semester over the last according to Kris Wales, SUB film chairman.

"I think that the better quality of the films selected is responsible for the increased attendance," Wales said.

The "Private War of Major Benson" is a comedy starring Charleston Heston, Julia Adams and Tim Hovey.

The plot features a loud-mouth Major who is assigned to a school for youngsters. In the fun which follows, 300 future soldiers put the Major into full retreat.

A color cartoon will accompany the film.

Showings will be at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Friday and at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Admission is 35 cents single, and 60 cents per couple.

APPLY FOR DEGREES
Seniors who expect to leave the campus for student teaching during the second semester should file applications for their degrees before leaving. J. F. Weitz, dean of the College of Education, announced yesterday.

35 Teams Enter Annual Idaho Debate Tournery

A new wrinkle will be added to the two-day 27th annual Inland Empire Debate when 35 teams from the Northwestern schools meet on campus this weekend to debate a Common Market topic.

The debaters accustomed to straight constructive and rebuttal speeches of ten and five minutes respectively, will also be faced with cross-questioning and answer sessions between constructive speeches.

Start at 1 p.m.

The debates will begin tonight at 7 p.m. Two rounds will be held this evening at 7 and 8:30, a pair tomorrow morning at 9 and 10:30 and the final rounds at 1 and 2:30 p.m.

Schedule for Saturday's debates will be posted in room 104 of the University Administration building.

Each team will debate both times of the topic: "Resolved: that the non-communist nations should form an economic community."

Idaho Debaters
Debaters representing the University of Idaho are Nancy Grubb, Betsy Wicks, Rick Beebe, Jack Patrick, Frank Peck,

Besides Idaho, teams will represent schools in Oregon, Washington and Montana.

New Director Being Sought

Expansion of the Activities Council will take place next week when selection of a publicity area director will be made.

This will make six area directors on the council. Now there are five directors. The committees under them have been re-organized recently to make the operation more efficient.

The interviews will be at 7 p.m. next Thursday in the new Executive Board room. Candidates must have a 2.2 GPA, and should have experience in Student Union and ASUI activities.

The new director will hold membership on the council until March of 1964. The current five directors will be replaced this March after the ASUI elections.

KUOI Sends Call For Announcers

KUOI, student-owned-and-operated campus radio station, needs announcers, Perry Olson, station manager, said.

Anyone interested in becoming an announcer should contact Perry Olson at TU 3-5601 or Ken Myers, 6363, as soon as possible. Experience is not necessary.

Olson said that the announcers will begin training at the beginning of the spring semester.

Moscow Gals To Live Here

"Moscow freshman women will be permitted to live on the campus the second semester," Mrs. Marjorie Neely, University of Idaho dean of women, said today.

"To alleviate crowding the first semester it was necessary to have all local freshman women reside at their homes," Mrs. Neely explained. "However, following the pattern of the years, there will be more space available the second semester."

The dean of women added that local freshman women would be permitted to live either in dormitories or sororities the second semester. She suggested that anyone desiring to reside in a dormitory should make application early to the director of dormitories.

A number of the sororities are expected to hold rush the second semester.

Forum Attended By U-I Students

Three University of Idaho engineering students were among two hundred technical students who attended the 1962 Boeing Advanced Aircraft, Missile and Space Technology Forum during vacation.

Clark Brewington, Richard Jacobsen and William Schnelle were among students from 58 colleges and universities who attended the all-expense paid trip.

KUOI Will Resume Station Transmission

KUOI, University student radio station, will begin operation "very soon," according to Perry Olson, KUOI station manager.

Olson said that most of the necessary equipment for operation has been acquired. Plans are being laid to build all the transmitters within a month.

Lines must be strung from the station to every living group on campus. It may be longer to get the transmission system operating in the vicinity of Nez Perce Drive and Campus Club, as there are no poles on which to string the line, Olson said.

Previously, under half of the living groups were able to get a good signal on the radio station, he said.

"The quality of KUOI will be better than any other AM station the campus can receive when the project is accomplished, Olson said.

The station will start operating when lines are strung and when enough transmitters are installed to make the broadcasting worthwhile.

Off Air Since Spring
KUOI has been off the air since last spring.

The transmission was not of good enough quality and did not cover the campus well enough," he said. "So we decided to stay off the air until the situation could be improved."

The station had also been operating illegally for some time, he said. The signals were covering parts of the city of Moscow. Being unlicensed the station could legally only cover the campus itself.

The Federal Communications Commission had inspected the operation several times, he said. They approved of the new system being instituted when they were told of the program last spring, he said.

Would Like Studio
KUOI offices in the Student Union Building will be remodeled this spring, Olson said. Although the station could function with the space at the present time, KUOI would like to have a new studio, he said.

"The office space is inadequate for good production," he said. "The control room is fine, but we should have more office space, storage room and a larger record room and news room."

"At present, we have to use the studio and news room for storage," he said.

Plans Made For 2 Years
Olson said that the first plans were made for the project about two years ago when Jerre Wallace was manager. Some research

Catholics Entertain Bishop; Lutherans To Start Lectures

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

"The Thinking Christian Layman," is the program title for the Sunday evening meeting of the Lutheran Student Association. Mr. John Lien, a graduate student in clinical psychology from Washington State University, will lead the program. The meeting will be held at 5 p.m. in the Campus Christian Center.

The Lutheran Diner's Society will meet today noon in the Grey Room of the Campus Christian Center. A tape entitled "Authority in the Church," by the Rev. Gerald P. Weber, will be played.

ROGER WILLIAMS FELLOWSHIP

Bible study with Bill Goding will be held this afternoon, at 4 p.m. in the Campus Christian Center.

A Roger Williams supper will be held at 5:15 p.m. on Sunday at the First Baptist Church. A meeting will follow at 6 p.m. with Bill Goding conducting the discussion groups.

BRESEE FELLOWSHIP

"An Effective Campus Witness," is the program for Sunday's meeting of the Bresee Fellowship. The topic will be discussed by a panel with participation from the audience. The meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m. in the Nazarene Youth Center.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

Bill Goding, Baptist Student Minister for Washington State University and the University of Idaho, will speak on the topic "Oh, Jerusalem," at the Disciple Student Fellowship meeting in the First Christian Church at 5:15 p.m. on Sunday.

WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION

Ken Smith will lead a discussion on Mormonism at 5:30 on Sunday in the Campus Christian Center.

CATHOLIC STUDENT ASSOCIATION

His Excellency, the Most Reverend Bishop Sylvester Treinen, will be in Moscow Saturday afternoon and Sunday. Rafe Gibbs will be Master of Ceremonies at a dinner to be served in honor of Rev. Treinen Saturday evening. A reception will follow in the North Ballroom of the Student Union Building from 8-10 p.m. Everyone is invited.

On Sunday morning His Excellency will offer the 9:30 Mass and will be present at the Communion Breakfast following.

Saturday morning at 9 there will be a business meeting which all executive members are asked to attend. Nominees for officers are to appear before the nominations board at 10 a.m.

Sunday there will be a Communion breakfast after the 9:30 Mass for the election of new officers.

CANTERBURY CLUB

A series of lectures will begin Sunday night on the history of the Episcopal church, beginning with the establishment of the Christian faith, the writing of the New Testament, and tracing the historical movements of the church to the present. Sunday evening meetings will begin with evening prayer at 5 p.m. followed by dinner, with the program of Church History beginning at 6:15 p.m. in the upstairs main hall. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these programs.

The Rev. W. Lee Davis, Episcopal chaplain at the U. of I., will accompany the Rev. Dean Holt, chaplain at WSU, to a college chaplain's conference to be held next week at Grace Cathedral, San Francisco. Rev. Holt will present a paper on the college ministry, which will be the fulcrum point of the conference.

Dean Sought For Ed. Dept.

The selection of a new dean of the College of Education to replace Dr. J. Frederick Weltzin will probably take several months, University President D. R. Theophilus said yesterday.

Weltzin announced Dec. 13 that he would relinquish the deanship Aug. 31 to devote full time to teaching and research.

"We're just getting up a little bit of steam and reviewing the field and selecting candidates," the president said. "So nothing has been done in a positive way."

A GUIDE FOR THE UNMONEYED

R. L. Sigafos was a keen, ambitious lad, and when he finished high school he wished mightily to go on with his education. It seemed, however, a forlorn hope. R. L.'s father could not send the boy to college because a series of crop failures had brought him to the brink of disaster. (R. L.'s father raised orchids which, in North Dakota, is a form of agriculture fraught with risk.)

It was, therefore, squarely up to R. L. He could go to college only if he worked his way through. This was a prospect that dismayed him. He had a deep-seated fear that the task would be too great, that he would never be able to carry on a full, busy college life and still find time to do odd jobs and make money.

Racked with misgivings, R. L. paced the streets, pondering his dilemma. One day, walking and brooding, he came upon a park bench and sat down and lit a Marlboro cigarette. R. L. always lit a Marlboro when he was low in his mind. R. L. also always lit a Marlboro when he was merry. The fact is there is no occasion—happy or sad, pensive or exuberant, cheery or solemn—when Marlboro with its fine filter and fine flavor is not entirely welcome, as you will discover when you go to your favorite tobacconist and buy some, as we—the makers of Marlboro and I and R. L. Sigafos—hope you will do real soon.

Sitting and thinking and smoking a Marlboro on the park bench, R. L. was suddenly interrupted by a small, quavering voice which said, "My boy, you are troubled. Can I help?"

I gave a fencing lesson to the Dean of Women

Seated beside R. L. was a tiny, gnarled man with wispy, snow-white hair. His skin was almost transparent, showing a delicate tracery of fragile bones beneath. His back was bent, and his hands trembled. But his eyes were bright and clear. R. L. looked into those eyes, into the wrinkled face. He saw wisdom there, and experience, and kindness. "Do you think, sir," said R. L., "that a boy can work his way through college and still enjoy a rich, full campus life?"

"Why, bless you, son," replied the stranger with a rheumy chuckle, "of course you can. In fact, I did it myself."

"Was it very hard?" asked R. L.

"Yes, it was hard," the stranger admitted. "But when one is young, all things are possible. I, for example, used to get up at five o'clock every morning to stoke the furnace at the SAE house. At six I had to milk the cows at the school of animal husbandry. At seven I gave a fencing lesson to the Dean of Women. At eight I had a class in early Runic poets. At nine I gave lectures at the Gamma Phi Beta house. At ten I had differential calculus. At eleven I posed for a life class. At twelve I watered soup at the Union. At one I had a class in Oriental languages. At two I exercised the mice in psych lab. At three I gave the Dean of Women another fencing lesson. At four I had qualitative analysis. At five I went clamming. At six I cut meat for the football team. At seven I ushered at the movies. At eight I had my ears pierced so that at nine I could tell fortunes in a gypsy tearoom. At ten I had a class in astronomy. At eleven I tucked in the football team. At twelve I studied and at three I went to sleep."

"Sir," cried R. L., "I am moved and inspired by your shining example!"

"It was nothing," said the stranger modestly, shaking his frail white head. "It was just hard work, and hard work never hurt anybody."

"Would you mind telling me, sir," said R. L., "how old you are now?"

"Twenty-two," said the stranger.

You don't have to be a rich man's son or daughter to enjoy Marlboro cigarettes, available in soft-pack or flip-top box at your favorite tobacco counter.

Vandals Play Ducks; Gus To Guard Moore

Idaho's Vandals, fresh from an eight point win over Washington State Tuesday, left Moscow this morning at 8 a.m. for Eugene, Oregon, trying to keep their three game win streak alive in a two-game series against the Oregon Ducks. The Vandals and the Ducks meet Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m.

Idaho will be playing its third and fourth games in a seven-day span, and coach Joe Cipriano feels that the extended play could have its adverse effects upon the Vandals.

"With all this playing, we have-not had any time to really prepare for the Oregon games," said Cipriano. The mentor said that practically no work was put in against the Duck offense during practice Wednesday.

Johnson Leads Effort

At Pullman, Gus Johnson turned scorer and led the Vandals to a 75-67 win over the Cougars to wrap up the "Battle of the Palouse" for another year. Johnson scored 24 points and played his usual fine ball-handing and rebounding game.

Idaho needed Johnson's 24 points as the Cougars battled the Vandal club right down to the wire. Led by Byron Vadset and Jim Walton, the Cougars stayed close most of the way before they gave way to Johnson's 20 points in the second half. Walton was WSU's top scorer with 25 points, high for the game.

Idaho's lead was 20-10 early in the second half before WSU began to click. The Vandals were never really safe from then on.

"We weren't bubbling over out there," remarked Cipriano. "We could have played a lot better."

Cautious Cipriano

Cipriano feels his club will have to play a lot better down in the Oregon city. "We hope to win both games, but we will be hard pressed to get a split," said the Idaho mentor.

"It will be a tough test on their home floor," assured Cipriano. He took a 12-man traveling squad with him.

According to the coach, Oregon has good rebounding and tough defense. "They have four men on the offensive boards," Cipriano cited Oregon's recent 64-51 win over Portland when the Ducks were on the road as a good indication of the type of defense that will be facing the Vandals.

The Idaho boss said that Glen Moore and Steve Jones are the two big offensive threats. Moore shoots a good hook and a jumper, while Jones likes to drive.

Played In '60

Moore was one of Oregon's leading scorers two years ago, but sat out last season with academic difficulties. Cipriano said that Johnson would draw the job of trying to stop Moore.

According to Cipriano, Jim Scheel will miss the Oregon trip. Scheel suffered another injury after recently rejoining the team.

Idaho will carry a 8-2 record in to the contests. Cipriano is expected to go with his usual starters, but said that Bill Mattis, Chuck Kozak and some of the other Vandal second unit men could see action.

Larry McBride's SportShop

Coach Clark Mitchell and his varsity swimmers have a good chance to pick up an item that has eluded them for a long, long time. The item is a victory in a swim meet.

It's been quite a spell since the Idaho finmen have captured first place in a meet. They won but once last year, and that one was in mid-season. The days since then have been lean and bleak.

There's a good chance that the finmen's fortunes may be altered. For one thing, they will have an experience edge on their opposition. (It's been a long time since the Vandals have been in such a situation.) The three teams which Mitchell's club will tangle with tomorrow — Idaho, Utah State and Montana State U. — are just starting their seasons, as far as meet competition goes. In fact, these teams will all vie in their first meet tonight.

In addition, the finmen just may be better than they appear to be on the scoreboard. All season long, Idaho has gotten top performances from individuals, but it hasn't been enough to stem the tide of inexperience and lack of depth. The Vandals are about due to get some top efforts from some of the lesser-known but potentially excellent swimmers. Tomorrow could be the day.

That the Vandals will take a number of first places in the Missoula meet seems likely. Von Tagen and several others can do the job. At least their coach says so.

Idaho's big dilemma is the inability to score the seconds and thirds that are needed to cop a swim meet. In swimming scoring, a first does you little good if the opposition takes second and third. The question is whether or not the Vandals will go out and get those seconds and thirds, the ones that make the difference between a winner and an also-ran.

There is a good chance that they will. The Vandal swimmers have been rather silent during their win drought. However, actions speak louder than words, and those varsity swimmers have worked tirelessly, beyond the point at which other squads would have thrown in the towel.

Mitchell and finmen are long overdue to be rewarded for their efforts. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the first installment comes tomorrow afternoon.

Swimmers To Seek Spoils In Missoula

The Vandal varsity and frosh swim teams wound up a concentrated week's work with high hopes of improved success in their performances. The varsity will meet Idaho State, Utah State and Montana tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Missoula. The frosh await an invasion of the WSU Couababes Tuesday.

A quiet atmosphere of optimism exists around the pool. "I think we can take some first places, but we need seconds and thirds to win the Missoula meet," said Idaho mentor Clarke Mitchell.

Mitchell said that the three teams competing against the Vandals will hold a three-way meet tonight in the Montana city. "We plan to arrive in time to see this meet, so we will get a good look at our opposition," said Mitchell. The Vandals were scheduled to leave at noon today and will return immediately following the fin meet.

Will Take Eleven

"We will take our entire eleven man squad and the team should be at full strength," said the coach. He said that the team has had spirited drills all week. "They have been doing fine work," was Mitchell's pronouncement.

The fin boss said that the Vandals would work out tonight after the three-way meet "so they can get the travel kinks out."

According to Mitchell, Carl Von Tagen, Larry Peterson, Gary Baker and Charles Edwards have the best chances of taking first places, but he quickly added, "This will be a full team effort."

Montana is reported to have a deep team of about 16 finmen. Mitchell said that Idaho State, has a fine sprinter and said, "Von Tagen will have his hands full."

Cook To Dive

Peterson will handle the distances, Von Tagen is scheduled for sprints, Edwards will vie in the backstroke, Baker will go in the individual medley and butterfly, Dave Katsilometes will get the call in the breast stroke, and Mel Cook will be Idaho's diver.

Mitchell feels that the Vandal Babes are a better team than the bunch that were beaten so badly by the WSU frosh in the season's opener. "They have come a long way since the start of the year," said the coach.

"Inexperience hurt the frosh in the first WSU game. It is still a problem, but they are working on it," explained Mitchell. "We still need a lot more experience."

"They are coming along and have been working real hard. It's a race against time," said Mitchell.

According to Mitchell, several of the Vandal Babes who joined the squad after the season began have made rapid improvement, and this should aid the frosh finman in the efforts to overhaul the Couababes.

Skiers Will Open Season At McCall

The University of Idaho will host a ski meet for the first time in many years tomorrow when they compete with British Columbia, Montana State, Idaho State College, College of Puget Sound, Central Valley College and the McCall Ski Club in Idaho's season opener.

Competing for the Vandals will be Bob Trent, Steve Kimball, Dave Iverson, Erik Friis, Rolf Prydz, Per Jensen, Arnie Friling and Harald Jensen.

The Vandals left at noon yesterday for the two-day meet.

The McCall meet begins with the downhill and cross-country events. Events held Sunday include the slalom and jumping events of the card.

IM 'A' Ball Starts As Sigma Nus, SAEs Win

The Fijis and Sigma Nus won important games in the opening action of intramural "A" basketball Wednesday night. Joining them atop League One are the ATO's and the SAE's who won their contests handily.

Two games were played in League Two with the Lambda Chis and the Kappa Sigs coming out victorious over the Phi Taus and the Delta Sigs.

The Fijis outscored the Phi Deltas 56 - 44 after trailing most of the first half. Chuck Lange scored 17 for the winners, and was followed by Bill Goss with 16. Dinnen Cleary was high for the Phi Deltas and the game with 22.

Overtime

The Sigma Nus sneaked by the Deltas by one point 45 - 44 in overtime. Vern Leyde led the Sigma Nus with 18, and Del Block scored 19 for the losing Delt five.

The SAE's easily handled LDS 45 - 20 as M. E. Ross poured in 29 points. The ATO's also found the going easy as they bounced the Delta Chis 42 - 23. Tom Richards topped the ATO scorers with 17, and Walter Hardesty was high for Delta Chi with 12.

Team Effort

The Kappa Sigs romped to a 45 - 21 win over the Phi Taus in a game that was characterized by balanced scoring. No Kappa Sig had over 11 points. In the other League Two game the Lambda Chis beat the Delta Sigs in a low scoring contest, 26 - 16. Gary Oppinger was high for the Lambda Chis with 11 points.

Monday action finds four games among the independents with two games in the Greek leagues: 7 - court 1, Chrisman Hall 2 vs. Upham Hall 2; court 2, TMA 2 vs. Gault Hall 2; court 3, Campus Club 2 vs. Lindley Hall 2. 7:40 - court 1, Shoup Hall 2 vs. Willis Sweet Hall 2; court 2, Sigma Nu vs. LDS; court 3, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Frosh Beaten By Couababes, 53-49

The University of Idaho freshmen will meet Lewis and Clark Normal in Lewiston tonight and then they will travel to Spokane Saturday night for an outing with the Whitworth College juniors.

The Vandal Babes just couldn't seem to find the Basket Tuesday night in the remaining minute of play, as they were defeated by the Washington State frosh 53-49.

The Couababes, thanks to a strong comeback late in the first half which shushed over into the early going of the second stanza, prevailed in the ragged encounter, but the Idaho frosh seemed to provide the last minute thrills. The score at the midpoint of the game was knotted up at 23-23.

Stayed Close

In the second half, three quick baskets by the Couababes gave them the lead which they had throughout the remainder of the game. The Babes stayed always within striking distance and took the ball with a minute left toward their end of the court.

The Idaho frosh tried no less than 20 shots at the basket in the remaining minute of the game, and the ball never could drop through but the Vandals maintained control although unable to close the WSU spread.

High scorer for the game was Idaho's Ed Haskins who hit for 16 points. He was followed by one of his teammates, Larry Sappington, who scored 11 points.

In the game tonight, frosh coach Ken Maren said that he is not planning any certain type of offense for the team as yet, and "we will have to wait and see what type of defense Lewis and Clark puts up against us."
