

The Waiting's Over; Prexies Approve Big Sky Conference

Details Left To Athletic Directors

Idaho's search for athletic affiliation, a quest that began in 1956 when the Pacific Coast Conference folded, ended yesterday.

Six northwest university and college presidents agreed "upon the basic principles" forming a new conference called the Big Sky conference, which begins operation next fall.

University of Idaho President D. R. Theophilus called the Argonaut yesterday and gave it the following statement:

"The presidents of Gonzaga University, University of Idaho, Montana State University, Montana State College, Idaho State College (University in July) and Weber College have agreed upon the basic principles for the formation of a new conference to be called the Big Sky conference.

"Essential understanding has been reached, but several details need to be clarified.

"Confirmation of detailed planning is now in the hands of the faculty representatives and the athletic directors.

Starts Next Fall
"The conference will become effective with the 1963-64 academic year."

The name, Big Sky, was suggested recently by Harry Misselnie, sports editor of the Spokesman Review.

But the groundwork for the conference was done by Idaho athletic Director J. Neil (Skip) Stahley. After shopping around the northwest and southwest for other possible conference members, Stahley last fall came up with Montana, Montana State, Idaho State, Weber, Portland U., Gonzaga and Seattle.

Portland, which offers five basketball scholarships, for example, to the other proposed members' 20, decided not to go. Seattle also backed out.

Before the present conference alignment, Stahley had held closed door sessions with Oregon, Oregon State and Washington State, but nothing came of them.

There was also talk of a league including the Idaho, Montana and Dakota schools. And later rumor of a loosely tied conference with nearly every school from Colorado University to Seattle U.

Liquor Sale Costs Student Thirty Days

A fine of $100 and a 30-day jail sentence were imposed on University senior Joe Basque, Upham Hall, Thursday by Probate Judge C. L. Woodward.

Basque had pleaded guilty to selling a pint of liquor to Rick Beebe and Bob Howard, both 19 and from Upham, on Feb. 9.

Warren Hood, state liquor law enforcement officer, signed the complaint. Hood told the Argonaut yesterday "it is questionable" whether further charges will be made.

Basque is in Latah jail now.

DEADLINE TODAY
Today is the deadline for adding new courses for credit. Permission for adding courses must be obtained from an academic dean.

Colonel Charles Hudson Dies Friday In Tacoma

Col. Charles F. Hudson, U.S. Army, retired, died Friday at Madigan General Hospital in Tacoma, Wash., following an extended illness. He was an administrative assistant to the Office of Student Affairs.

Hudson had been with the University since 1948 and handled traffic violations and student employment. He was 65.

Upon arrival at the University Col. Hudson was a professor of military science and tactics for the Army ROTC. He retired from the army in 1953.

He was born July 12, 1897 at Harvey, W. Va. He graduated from the Army Infantry and Command and General Staff Colleges. During World War I he served with the Army of Occupation in Germany and saw duty later in the Panama Canal Zone and Mediterranean Theater.

During World War II he was in the Far East. He received the Legion of Merit and the Order of the Crown in Italy, with degree of commander. Hudson was a member of the Episcopal Church at Moscow and former member of the THREE-WAY TUG-OF-WAR—The running of an independent candidate has resulted in a three-way race for the ASUI presidency in this spring's student body elections. Presidential principals in the political triangle are (left to right) Cliff Eldred, independent candidate; Bill Frates, Campus Union Party hopeful, and Jim Bounds, United Party candidate. Elections will be March 7.

RILC Opens With Speech By Presbyterian Minister

"History happens where man makes a decision of being a human being," stated the Rev. Joseph A. Slicker, at the convocation of the 1963 Religion In Life Conference, yesterday in the Administration Building auditorium.

We live in a world which we don't seem to be able to understand, he continued. "The world is pushing its finger at us and telling us to be human beings. What do we do? How do we respond? If we refuse we demand a feeling of guilt rises up in us."

Life has a tone of futility these days, he said, and students are undecided about the role they can play in history.

"How the hell can a man live in this situation?" he asked the audience. Slicker said that we must do whatever gives meaning to our lives.

Before Slicker's speech, Karen Miles, RILC co-chairman, introduced the other conference speakers. Guest speakers are the Reverend Don H. Lee, the Reverend Louis St. Marie, S. J., Dr. Harold I. Hansen and the Reverend William H. Chalker.

During the conference, the speakers are available for personal conferences of classroom speaking from 9-12:00 in the mornings. Coffee hour will be held this afternoon at 3:30 in Conference room A of the Student Union Building. After the coffee, the several speakers will each hold a discussion lasting until period.

The Student Union Building exhibit is sponsored by the Lutheran Student Foundation in conjunction with the RILC these "Religion and the Arts." The scrolls were given to the Reverend Don H. Lee, Lutheran pastor at the University, by the nationally known Chinese painter, Hwang Ting. Reverend Lee served for six years in Taiwan as missionary and chaplain before coming to Idaho.

In her paintings Hwang Ting uses fragrance of flowers and songs of birds to tell of God's kindness. Freedom is symbolized by the duck floating on the water.

Regents Separate LCNS From U. of I. Saturday

Lewis-Clark Normal School at Lewiston, which has been a division of the University of Idaho during its seven-year history, will become a separate institution Friday.

The new status for the two-year teachers training institution was the result of action by the Board of Regents meeting at the University Saturday.

The change in status may be the school's second in a period of several days. The State Senate is expected to vote today on a proposal, previously passed by the House of Representatives, to make LCNS a four-year institution.

The Regents had earlier recommended that LCNS sever its ties with the University and become a junior college.

In conjunction with the separation action, the Regents passed a resolution commending the University of Idaho for its administration of LCNS. Special tribute was paid to Dr. D. R. Theophilus, president of the University, who also served as president of the normal school, and to Dr. H. Walter Steffens, who, as Lewis-Clark's first administrator, pioneered the re-establishment of the institution which had been closed by legislative action in 1951.

"Efficient, Effective" Dr. Theophilus "carried out his

Students Write Senators To Protest LCNS Change

A number of University of Idaho students began an informal letter-writing campaign to express opposition of four-year status for Lewis-Clark Normal School last week.

Two members of the Idaho Argonaut editorial staff, Neil Modie and Jim Metcalf, spoke to meetings of living group presidents last Tuesday evening and urged them to write to members of the State Senate, where the bill for four-year status at the Lewiston school is expected to come up for a vote today. It passed the House of Representatives Feb. 13.

The movement was designed to emphasize that the proposal had been made without sufficient consideration of public education funds available for such a change, and that University students were concerned not only with the change's effects upon the University but upon the state's educational system as a whole.

State senators reported that letters protesting the bill had been received from both University of Idaho and Idaho State College students, but the ISC student body president, Judi Day, said no organized campaign was underway there.

Sen. Eldon (Dick) Smith, R-Madison, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said although most of the letters he has received are from Lewiston and favor the bill, "I have also received some letters from Lewiston opposing it on the grounds of economy."

State Rep. Edward V. Williams, D-Nez Perce, criticized the student letter-writing campaign Saturday. Williams sponsored the bill in the House.

"I think it's unfortunate that the students of any institution of higher learning in the state of Idaho would resort to this type of measure for the retardation of any state institution of higher learning," Williams said.

Action Marks Start Of Annual Campaign

Betas Keep One, Drop 2 From Slate

The Betas gained three of nine positions on United Party's executive board slate in last week's primary election, but the pair drawing the lowest number of votes declined to run.

Betas nominated were Bill Longeteig, who pulled the second highest number of votes cast; Mark Brown, third in total votes, and Ray Rocha, seventh in total votes.

Longeteig is a junior and Brown and Rocha, sophomores. Nominated for Exec Board were Jim Scheel, SAE, 646 points; Longeteig, Beta, 583; Brown, Beta, 542; Marlene Finney, Gamma Phi, 455; Bob Carlson, Delta Chi, 437; Julie Severn, DG, 433; Rocha, Beta, 419; Larry Nye, Phi Delt, 373; and Mary Lynne Evans, Alpha Phi, 372.

Parberry, Davis Next
After Brown and Rocha dropped out of the race, Penny Parberry, Pi Phi, 365; and Jim Davis, Delta Chi, 364, were given the two open Exec Board nominations.

In United's presidential nomination last Monday, Jim Bounds, Beta, was nominated to run as United's candidate for ASUI president. He polled 335 two-point votes and 236 one-point votes, giving him a total of 906 points.

Second-high candidate, Cliff Eldred, Sigma Chi, would have been United's party vice-presidential aspirant, but he bolted the party and is running for ASUI president as an independent candidate. He polled 291 two-point votes and 212 one-point votes, for a total of 794.

Harder Was Third
Gene Harder, Delt, came in third in United's presidential race with a total of 518 points, and became United's vice-presidential candidate when Eldred dropped out.

Forde Johnson, Phi Delt, United's fourth aspirant for the presidential nomination, was placed on social probation by the Office of Student Affairs. When his name was removed from the ballots at 10 a.m. on the day of the nomination election, he had already polled 168 points.

Votes cast for Johnson were thrown out when the election committee was informed of his ineligibility.

Student Hurt In Marring Campaign Car

The Student Judicial Council will hear details concerning a scuffle Friday night, over a car labeled with a campaign slogan, which resulted in a broken jaw and a possible eye injury for one of the participants.

Charles Decker, dean of students, said the University "will take disciplinary action" against Roger Snodgrass, Sigma Chi, for hitting Wilbur Sweet, Willis Sweet. Decker didn't discount action against Sweet for his part in the fight.

"We're interested in the physical damage right now," Decker said. He added the University would wait for the Judicial Council's recommendation. The Judicial Council hearing has not been set.

The scuffle happened about 11:30 p.m. Snodgrass said that (Cont. On Page 2 Col. 3)

SUB To Open To Discussion By Students

University of Idaho students will have an opportunity to express their views on any subject in the "SUB Sound Off" this afternoon from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Bucket of the Student Union Building, Bill Bowes, ASUI vice president, said yesterday.

Sponsored by Activities Council, the "Sound Off" is designed to give any individual a chance to express himself publicly, he said.

To participate, a person need only step up to the microphone which will be set up in the Bucket near the bookstore entrance, identify himself, and begin talking. No limits are set on topics of discussion or on the length of the talk.

Audience reaction will determine whether or not a speaker will continue to talk. A moderator will be present to introduce the speakers.

The most lively campaign in several years swung into full action as the long weekend started Thursday.

The United Party rounded out the list of candidates with the selection of their Executive Board slate Thursday. (See story this page). Candidates from both parties are now visiting living groups explaining their platforms and ideas.

The platforms were issued and are printed on page 2.

Independent presidential candidate Cliff Eldred has issued a platform and has distributed copies of it to all living groups. His entrance into the race has sparked several incidents which may result in this campaign being considerably more violent than in the past.

An old car painted with Eldred's slogan was the cause of a fight Friday night which resulted in a student from Willis Sweet entering the infirmary. (See story this page.)

Wednesday evening the first public smoker will be held at Pi Beta Phi sorority house. Campus Union Party president Rick Wischkaemper will moderate. It will start at 7 p.m. Thursday evening, one will be held at Willis Sweet Hall with United president Dick Reed moderating.

Absentee balloting will be held next Monday and Tuesday in the ASUI office. Persons voting must show reason why they will be unable to vote March 7.

The final ASUI smokers will be Monday and Wednesday of next week. Monday evening a debate moderated by ASUI veep Bill Bowes will be held in the new Student Union ballroom. Wednesday evening under the moderation of ASUI prexy Ron Houghtalin a question and answer smoker will be held following short speeches by each of the candidates. Traditionally the best attended, this smoker is always regarded as an opportunity to discredit a candidate by his opposition.

Eldred plans to participate in all of the smokers and debates.

JACKSON ON COMMITTEE
Prof. M. L. Jackson, head of Chemical Engineering, is a member of the Committee of Award which will select the 1963 winner of the Kirkpatrick Award for Chemical Engineering Achievement.

Talent Show Tryouts Set

Students have until March 11 to turn in applications for entries in the Blue Key Talent Show March 22, General Chairman Fred Warren announced yesterday.

Entries may be submitted in one of three categories; individual, small group and all-house, Warren said. Tryouts will be March 12 and 13.

Applications are available from living group presidents and the ASUI office in the Student Union Building and should be turned back in to the ASUI office, the chairman said.

Master Degree Applications Due

March 1st is the latest date for graduate students to submit applications to the registrar for Master's degrees, the registrar's office said yesterday.

Feb. 20 was the latest date for undergraduate applications for the Master's degree with a late fee. Applications with the late fees will be accepted until May 1.

University Coeds Elect Tomorrow

Karen Fisher, Gamma Phi, and Linda Kinney, Hays, were nominated to run for Associated Women Students president in the primary election Wednesday.

Other nominees are secretary: Carol Husa, Hays, and Joan Rumpeltes, Pi Phi; treasurer: Karen Smith, Tri Delta, and Barbara Ware, Kappa; page: Kathy Baxter, DG, and Myrna Wills, Alpha Phi; maid of honor: Emily Bamesberger, Kappa, and Lynda Knox, Alpha Chi.

The second place presidential candidate will become vice president.

Vote Tomorrow
Final voting will be tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Administration Building.

A constitutional amendment and an opinion poll will also be on the ballot. The proposed amendment would change the time of installation of officers from the week following the May Fete to any time chosen by the AWS legislature.

The opinion poll is to determine if the AWS President should continue to be May Queen and preside at the Mother's Day May Fete or if this position should be given to another outstanding senior woman.

Nominees' Statements
Statements by the presidential candidates are:

Karen Fisher, "In seeking the office of AWS president, I hope to continue improving the policies that the women of the University of Idaho believe need more revision. AWS serves all women and should be used as an organization to benefit them. Linda and I will be working together toward these goals."

Linda Kinney: "AWS, as a representative body, serves an important function in campus living today and I feel that it has reached the point where re-evaluation is needed. The wishes of the majority of women students should be pursued.

"If they desire changes, both Karen and I will try to further the cause. As an instrument for all the women on campus, AWS could and should be their voice. If I am elected, these changes would be the goals toward which AWS would direct itself."

Campus Political Parties Present Promises

Honesty Required

A campaign to elect leaders of the student body has started. Fights and unsupported accusations have taken place. No one seems about to face realistically what student government is and what it should do.

The Argonaut is going to point this out as the campaign progresses. We also intend to criticize those candidates and those platforms which leave an unrealistic impression of their job and duties.

Seldom has anyone run for office promising to do what he can or should do. Always campaign promises are of no prime importance in student government, or of things that student government just can't do.

In the process of any criticisms we may make, some candidates will be subject to more than others. This will not be an attempt to inject bias into the picture on our part. It is merely recognition of the fact that some candidates are more capable than others and will make fewer inaccurate statements.

The student body deserves honest men in office and the dishonest means all use to get into the office should be pointed out. This dishonesty takes numerous paths: platforms composed of minor and emotional issues; criticisms made for the sake of criticizing; appeals to natural ethnicentricity for votes; and all the usual political devices.

Some of these are naturally to be expected in any political campaign and are indeed a rewarding part of it for some. But in the past few years student government has grown. Its budget is almost $100,000. The actions it takes are felt throughout the state. What the ASUI president says may very well have a bearing on how a legislator votes on an appropriation bill.

Whether we like it or not, student government has become something a little bigger than a plaything for the campus politicians or a means of enhancing the prestige of a living group.

Important areas such as student recruitment, ASUI public relations, and state-wide communications between the University and the state's citizenry are involved in its functions. They should become even more involved in these areas during these crucial times for the University. An alert, thinking, and most important, acting, student body can do much for the higher educational system of this state.

This is what we are demanding of student leaders. If they don't live up to it we are going to say so. Whether or not to have class officers, or change a committee's name, or improve Greek-Independent relations is not enough. Student government involves students and the students are citizens who need to be heard and represented to the elders of the state.

That representation is a big job, and it demands more of student leaders than has ever been given before.—J. M.

United Party

We the candidates of United Party propose the following ideas to the students of the University of Idaho based on the principle of "putting the student back in student government" for the benefit of the University.

I. Student Initiative
If any student wishes to express himself on any issue involving himself or student body, he should be granted every opportunity to have a voice and to act without being stifled by outdated traditions, excessive red tape, current policies, or be hindered by ineffectual committees.

II. University Policies
Clarification of university policies and regulations directly affecting the individual student that are presently vague, ambiguous, and lack consistency. The student should have an opportunity to review the present policies and regulations and to have a definite voice in codifying future regulations.

III. Student Funds
To insure that the best possible use is being made of student fees allocated for student use, investigation will be made into the disbursement of student funds with all results made public for student consideration.

IV. Student Faculty Committee
Put student faculty committees back into the realm of active and productive groups by using the accomplishments of these committees in student government and making the results of these committees available for student consideration.

V. Recommendations
1. To take positive action to obtain an official dismissal of classes on the Friday following Thanksgiving day.
2. To reactivate student participation by giving them a voice in the utilization and operation of the Student Union Building.

3. To make a substantial effort to initiate an intensive summer school program at the University of Idaho for talented high school students.
4. To encourage the utilization of faculty talent and knowledge for the mutual benefit of the individual student and the student community through forums, lectures, recitals and other timely presentations outside the class room schedule.

5. To eliminate busy work and ineffectual committees from direct Executive Board coordinating by assigning them to Activities Council, in order to effect efficiency and continuity in their function.

KUOI celebrated its first anniversary Nov. 15, 1946 with President Buchanan as the featured speaker at a special ceremony.

Campus Union Party

We feel that Campus Union Party has established itself this past year as the progressive party, with its dedicated service both in the political arena and the arena of student affairs. With pride we view the following accomplishments:

1. Successful fulfillment of our party's goal of placing the I magazine in the hands of responsible editors where it will no longer bear the burden of party prejudice.

2. In the area of public relations and student recruitment, the accomplishment of a revised and comprehensive student handbook.

3. Intellectual stimulation of the student body through symposiums and speakers on vital issues of our day.

4. The successful establishment of the Activities Council and Student Judicial Council programs.

5. The progress and imminent completion of the KUOI radio system.

With continued dedication to better student government, we pledge our support to Campus Union Party's progressive ideals of improving student government and strive towards firmer establishment of the party, with an eye on the future and an eye on the past.

I. Although as a political party we support class officers, we recognize the controversy that exists and feel that the students should be presented the pros and cons of the issue and allowed to make their decisions without party pressures. If class officers are retained, we as a party will further integrate them into recently formulated ASUI structure and give them practical responsibility, while maintaining their freedom of initiative.

II. In order to utilize our public relations program in promoting student recruitment and better informing the citizens of the state about our university, we propose to set up a traveling booth display to appear at the state fairs in Boise and Blackfoot. This booth will offer information on all aspects of our university.

III. We propose to improve communications between ASUI government and campus living groups by:

a. Pre-publishing of Executive Board agendas.
b. Mailing to the various living groups the ASUI minutes, reports, and notices on a weekly basis.

IV. Continuing in our policy of bringing big-name entertainment to the campus, we advocate promoting co-operative programming with WSU on an expanded basis.

V. We resolve to work for the improvement and completion of the international student program which was begun this year by our present ASUI Executive Board, realizing this is an area in which there is a need for student government to rise to an international level.

VI. We intend to support the Student Judicial Council and work towards constitutional status for this body.

Eldred's Objectives

1. Fountain Forum:
Weekly or biweekly free discussion of Student Government and University topics in the Bucket. Properly organized and moderated. This would give inspiration to students and student leaders.

2. Little Hoover Commission:
Student-Faculty committee to meet with the objectives of properly approaching and studying the chronic questions in student gov. Also topics with which student body should become familiar, (community and representative type gov. — In Loco Parentis.)

3. University Community Planning Group:
Student-Faculty Committee to give students their opportunity to help plan University development. (Beautification of campus — sidewalk planning — student conveniences in buildings etc.)

4. 'Big Black Book':
A large book, well catalogued, in ASUI office for students and faculty to find current information about living groups and organizations.

5. Centennial Preparations:
Student body effort to participate in centennial celebrations. State wide recognition would be the result of a good program.

With continued dedication to better student government, we pledge our support to Campus Union Party's progressive ideals of improving student government and strive towards firmer establishment of the party, with an eye on the future and an eye on the past.

I. Although as a political party we support class officers, we recognize the controversy that exists and feel that the students should be presented the pros and cons of the issue and allowed to make their decisions without party pressures. During the seven years the University administered LCNS, it "re-established a dormant institution and put it into operating order," the board's resolution read. "This program called for additional loads on many personnel at the University beyond and above regular duties."

"Dedicated Manner"
"In all instances these extra duties in connection with Lewis-Clark were carried out in a dedicated manner to achieve the maximum results within the limitations of the program specified by the law re-establishing the institution at Lewiston."

Named acting administrator of LCNS when the institution becomes separate from the University was Dr. Cleon C. Caldwell, who has been dean of the school the last five years.

The Idaho Argonaut

Associated College Press
Official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, issued every Tuesday and Friday of the college year. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Moscow, Idaho.

The Golden Fleece

By Jason

A nickel cup of coffee at the Student Union Building was a top campaign topic in the mid-50s.

More recently SRA (Student Representative Assembly) was a hot issue although on Idaho's relatively small campus, student leaders can get quicker and more objective communications with students from a more direct means such as the presently-used living group visitations.

The Argonaut expects more to come from this election campaign than such issues as "let's have a student on this-or-that-faculty committee" or "let's have bigger and better social events."

We'll be disappointed if we don't hear some clear-cut ideas for the betterment of the University image, not only on campus, but at the state level.

With the future of the University and higher Education at stake this year, the University's state-wide image is important and the role University students can play is great. Able leadership is needed, however.

CUP's, United's and Cliff Eldred's platforms have planks which touch on students' role in University and public relations. But, the planks contain only general statements, as political platforms must.

The Arg plans to take issue with the candidates who don't use initiative and sound reasoning in developing their public relations plank.

The slate leaders are capable. Eldred, CUP presidential hopeful Bill Frates and United's Jim Bounds were graduated from Idaho high schools—Eldred, New Plymouth, Bounds, Lewiston, and Frates, Rupert—and should realize the problems the University faces in a higher education survival race . . . That it'll take University administration and student cooperation to present the University's case.

Eldred and Frates are members of the present Executive Board and have had experience dealing with not only campus student problems but with student-Administration conflicts and also have had a brush with University-legislative problems.

Bounds is, more or less, a political unknown. His campus-wide offices have been limited to IK pledge-master. He has had administrative responsibility as present president of the Beta fraternity.

Being a political unknown, Bounds hasn't made the enemies Eldred and Frates have. On the other hand, he hasn't given students an opportunity to see what he can do and how much responsibility he is capable of handling.

Bounds claims that not being on E-Board means that he doesn't have previous commitment which will hamper a successful presidency. He says he can look at issues more objectively. Maybe so.

This year's three-way race for the presidency shows Eldred's initiative and a weakness in United Party—a weakness which must be corrected either during the present campaign or shortly afterwards to maintain a strong two-party system on campus.

Eldred was supposed to be a shoo-in in United's four-way primary race. But Forde Johnson's name had to be dropped (and 84 first place votes invalidated) when the Administration announced after the polls opened that Johnson was ineligible. When the results were in Eldred had run second by some 44 first-place votes to Bounds.

Eldred had made his stand clear to the Argonaut long before the primaries. He said he had some ideas he thought would help student government and that he felt those ideas could be carried out from the president's chair.

So when he found he had run second, he withdrew to run on his own. By the time United party leaders decided a reelection might be in order because of the invalidated ballot caused when Johnson was dropped, Eldred had support as an independent candidate.

United's weakness—The party doesn't provide a chance, CUP does, for a person who seeks to be president or vice president just to run for the office he desires.

United ends up with a presidential choice and accepts the people's second-choice presidential candidate as a vice presidential candidate, instead of a first choice vice presidential candidate.

Eldred was not the only one who had one office in mind. Bill Longeteig knocked on the United election board room door.

"I dropped Eldred's name," Pete Groom, United election board chairman, said.
"If things would have been different, I'd done the same thing," Longeteig said, indicating he would have asked that Bounds' name be dropped had he not won.

Later that night, John Ferris admitted as much to a group who had gone to the Sigma Chi house to persuade Eldred to stay in United Party.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT — Student Hurt In Marring

he and Monte McClure came upon Sweet and three others, as the foursome was tipping a car used by "Individuals for Eldred" to promote Cliff Eldred, Sigma Chi, as an ASUI presidential candidate. The car was parked near the intersection of Sixth and Deakin St.

Snodgrass said he hit one of the four around the car and knocked him down. He slugged another, Sweet, twice. The others ran.

Sweet said that he "was on his way to jump a freighter for Lewiston," when he met three friends near the car. They decided to tip it over.

Eldred and a carload of friends happened by. Snodgrass and McClure stood by the bridge and watched. Eldred's car turned around in the Student Union Bldg. parking lot. Snodgrass and McClure rushed the group when it tipped the car over.

"We were concerned about the car," Eldred said. "I had an agreement with Moscow Auto Wrecking to use the cars (another car was on Raeburn St.) as a campaign stunt, but I'm responsible for them."

Eldred added that windows were broken and the top and fenders bent.

"We were watching the cars because they had been painted up the two previous nights," he said.

Sweet is in the Student Health Center (infirmary). He underwent surgery today, but is reported in fair condition.

"TERTULIA ESPANOLA"
Tertulia Espanola, organization for students interested in Spanish, is being formed. Dr. E. H. Miyares, associate professor of languages, and Dr. F. Ilarraz will act as advisors.

1. According to the Department of Labor, you're worth over $350,000 as soon as you get your sheepskin. That's theoretical, of course.

I didn't even know the Department was thinking about me.

3. As an Eco major, I feel obliged to tell you what would happen to that bundle. First, Uncle Sam would help himself to about 290 C$. With the going rate for penthouses, your life's earnings would disappear in one year.

You've ruined my day.

5. Fortunately, there's a way out for you.

Tell me—tell me.

Well, you won't be getting all that money in one year. You'll be getting some of it each year, at a much lower tax rate. What you should do is put aside a certain amount of it.

2. The way they figure it, that $350,000 is how much the average college graduate will earn by the time he retires.

I'll take it right now in a lump sum. Would I live in Penthouse, Yacht, Homburg. The works.

4. Since you'd be only 22, you couldn't qualify for Social Security. You'd have to go back to your dad for an allowance.

I never could handle money.

6. Put some money into cash-value insurance, the kind they call Living Insurance at Equitable. It gives your wife and kids solid protection and it saves for you automatically—builds a cash fund you can use for retirement or any other purpose.

You Eco guys have all the answers.

way to jump a freighter for Lewiston," when he met three friends near the car. They decided to tip it over.

Eldred and a carload of friends happened by. Snodgrass and McClure stood by the bridge and watched. Eldred's car turned around in the Student Union Bldg. parking lot. Snodgrass and McClure rushed the group when it tipped the car over.

"We were concerned about the car," Eldred said. "I had an agreement with Moscow Auto Wrecking to use the cars (another car was on Raeburn St.) as a campaign stunt, but I'm responsible for them."

Eldred added that windows were broken and the top and fenders bent.

"We were watching the cars because they had been painted up the two previous nights," he said.

Sigs Serenade Queen Finalists

Five finalists for Sweetheart of Sigma Chi were serenaded Saturday night.

The finalists are Shirley Moore, Kappa; Judy Manville, Pi Phi; Mary Ellen Glodowski, Gamma Phi; Barbara Hardy, Pi Phi and Lorna Kipling, Delta Gamma.

The living group winner of Derby Day, which was held Saturday, was the Pi Phis, with the individual award going to Barbara Hardy, Pi Phi.

The contest will end Saturday night with the annual dance. The new Sweetheart will be crowned by Myrna Wills, Alpha Phi, reigning Sweetheart.

Military Ball Finalists Told By Honorary

Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, have chosen five finalists for Queen of the Military Ball.

The finalists are: Ann Thompson, Alpha Phi; Donna Kay Hamlet, Tri Delta; Mary Ann Yoden, Kappa; Barbara Hardy, Pi Phi, and Sherry Bruce, McConnell.

The queen, who will be chosen by popular vote among all ROTC students, will be crowned during intermission.

This year's event, sponsored by the Air Force ROTC will be the first formal ball to be held in the new Student Union Ballroom.

An innovation to the Military Ball this year will feature the music of two dance bands to provide continuous dancing.

The main band will be the 25th Army Band from Caldwell. The Moonlighters will alternate and provide a change of pace for the dancers.

The ball is scheduled for Mar. 9 from 9 to 12. All students are invited to attend. Admission will be $2 per couple.

Peter, Paul And Mary, Pizza Features Of Pledge Sneak

Two more houses have announced elections of officers, while the usual serenades, firesides and exchanges keep students busy.

ALPHA GAM pledges went out for a pizza dinner and heard Peter, Paul and Mary on their sneak last week. The next day, the hashers snuck.

SWEET, LDS HOUSE ELECTED SPRING OFFICERS

Elected by WILLIS SWEET Hall recently were Mike Allred, president; Bob McClinty, vice president; Clark Easterday, secretary; Ron Elsberry, treasurer; Don Heavrin, sergeant-at-arms; Bruce Reed and Bob Reed, intramural managers; Dick Bourassa, social chairman; and Ed Duffy, prop. manager.

Newly elected officers of LDS House for the spring semester are Leon Hansen, president; Coy Jemmett, vice president; Lyle Porter, secretary; Noel Lance, treasurer; Dave Gillett, social chairman; and Larry Hansen, intramural manager.

Bob Ames has been elected TEKE pledge trainer.

FIRESIDES HELD IN THREE HOUSES

ALPHA CHI pledges feted the loveliness of their big sisters at a fireside Thursday night. Each pledge read a poem about the beauty of her big sister and presented her with a paddle. Judy Elliott performed a pantomime and Joan Littleton sang.

The first fireside of the semester at WILLIS SWEET Hall was held recently.

A Valentine fireside was held

Hungry for flavor? Tareyton's got it!

"Tareyton's Dual Filter in duas partes divisa est!"

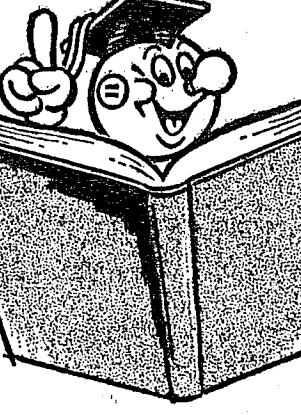

says Lucius (Poppa) Marius, he-man historian and author of Inside Caesar. "Homo sapiens today sure appreciates fine flavor," quoth Poppa. "Nota bene the popularity of Dual Filter Tareyton. Reason: flavor—de gustibus you never thought you'd get from any filter cigarette."

What'll happen when you've flipped your tassel?

Graduates in Engineering, Liberal Arts, Mathematics, Business, Social or Physical Sciences: What happens next???

Will you have a career? Will you have charted your course in life? And which among these following things will you expect from your life, from your career?...

1. GOOD STARTING SALARY? You might do very well indeed, starting with a Bell System Company (see below). Much depends on you—and us. Let's talk about it.
2. EXECUTIVE LEVEL? Why not? We have to fill two new executive positions every month, in Pacific Northwest Bell alone. It could happen to you—before too long. Depending on you—and us. So let's talk.
3. OPPORTUNITIES IN GROWTH? It's nice to get that pay check, and with a Bell System Company (if we like you, and you like us), it's pretty likely you'll enjoy a lifetime's work, with regular paydays, as part of a great, expanding human service, essential to the world in times both good and bad. That means challenge—with security! 4. TRAVEL? There are both stay-at-home and see-the-world type careers in the check list of companies below. Think about them carefully and come see us.
5. ADVENTURE? With a Bell System Company, you just might find yourself part of the greatest adventure in all human history: Echo, Telstar, Outer Space—the miracles of thought transmission at 186,300 miles per second, to and from worlds yet unknown! Imagine the usefulness of such a career, what it could mean to your country, its culture, its prosperity, its very existence! Shall we talk?...about a career with Pacific Northwest Bell?

INTRAMURALS

The Fijis wrapped up the League One intramural basketball crown with a 55-21 romp over the Delta Chis. Terry Gustaval led the victors with a 15 point effort.

The Delts remained a top contender as they scored a 54-31 win over the Phi Delts. Milton Vilhear found the going quite easy as he fired in 25 points for the Delts.

The Lambda Chis had only to win last night's game against the sixth place Sigma Chis to complete an undefeated season and take the League two title.

Washington had an early lead, but the Vandals scored ten straight points to wipe it out. Lyle Parks and Johnson led the early scoring effort.

White scored four times in a row for the Vandals and the result was a 50-47 Idaho lead. White scored two more goals against the pressing Huskies to wrap up the win.

The Phi Taus Lead league Four after gaining four points in a forfeit from LDS. The Fijis moved into second with a 3-1 win over the Betas and the SAE's took four from Shoup Hall.

The world-famous Globetrotters are once again coming to Moscow, sponsored by the Moscow chapter of the Vandal Boosters.

Heartbreaking Defeat

Swimmers Eye FWC Play After WSU Loss

The Idaho varsity swim team, victimized by Washington State in the final event of the card, will wind up the 1962-63 season Friday and Saturday when they compete in the Far West Championships at Seattle.

The Vandals will leave at 8 p.m. for the Championship. Final Event Hurt Idaho. A defeat in the 400 freestyle relay, the last event of the day, cost the Idaho team a win against the Cougars.

Mitchell felt the meet went about as he had expected, except that "we did surprisingly well in getting seconds and thirds. The Vandals swept first and second in three of the events, while the Cougars twice garnered first and second. A complete whitewash in the relay events hurt Idaho's chances.

Carl Von Tagen lost his 100 freestyle speciality but took a first in the 50 freestyle. Charles Edwards won the 200 backstroke and Lowell Yamashita garnered first place in the 500 freestyle.

Louis Wolfson's Harbor View Farm won $525,650 in purses during the first 11 months of 1962.
