STRUMMING ON — Folk singers and square dancers from throughout the Northwest, entertained at a Junior Class sponsored hootenanny Friday night. The class sponsored the hootenanny as a project to raise funds for charity.

Greek Plays

Proscenium, Arena Stages Set Scene For Four Cuttings

Four cuttings from Greek plays will be presented in an Arena theater to a four sided audience and a Proscenium or picture frame theater Thursday and Friday evening in the University Hut by the Dramatics Department.

The excerpts will be 20 minutes each and will be directed by four students chosen from the Advance Play Production class. Barbara Ware, Kappa, will direct Agamemnon by Aeschylus. Lorenzo Nelson, Delta Chi, will direct "Andromache," by Euripides. Joanne Myers, Theta, will direct "Medea," by Euripides and Linda Steiger, off campus, will direct "Hippolytus" by Euripides.

plays as they see fit with only advice from Edmund Chavez and Miss Jean Collette, drama instructors.

"The students are putting to practice the theory and technique they have learned in their classes," Chavez said. "We will advise them but we will not interfere."

The plays will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday with no charge being solicited for viewing the performances. However, due to limited space, reservation must be made at the office of Miss Jean Collette.

Casts for the plays include: "Medea": Wendy Hen son, Pine, Medea; Wally Lewis, off campus, Jason; Mary Gladhart, Gamma Phi, Messenger; and Nickie McDonnell, Kappa, Atendant. "Agamemnon": Caryn Snyder, Alpha Phi, Cassandra; Dion Davidson, French, Clytemnestra; Walter Brennen, Lindley, leader; Don Volk, Gault, first man and Richard Parker, Willis Sweet, second man.

Regent To Speak To Faculty Meet

Elvon Hampton, a member of the Board of Regents, will be the guest speaker at noon Wednesday in the lower lounge of the Faculty Club.

Hampton will speak about "The Organization and Activities of the Board of Regents as Related to the University of Idaho." Following his presentation there will be an opportunity for questions and discussion.

No Profit From Jr. Program

Only approximately 700 persons attended the hootenanny sponsored by the Junior Class Friday night.

Jim Faucher, Junior Class president, said he wasn't too disappointed with the turnout because "it's the first time a hootenanny has been tried here on that large a scale and I've heard a lot of fine comments on it."

Faucher said expenses for the hootenanny haven't all been recorded yet, but that they paid $925 for the semi-professional entertainers, plus about $50 for advertising.

The exact amount taken in at the hootenanny wasn't known Monday, but was estimated at approximately $700.

Last week, because the Junior Class didn't have funds budgeted to pay the entertainers, the ASUI Executive Committee of the Executive Board voted to cover the Junior Class' expenses and have the juniors repay the ASUI from proceeds at the hootenanny.

Procedure for repaying the ASUI hadn't been decided Monday, but Faucher said the class has enough money to pay the deficit.

Eight groups from Northern Enterprises, Inc., Spokane, alternated during the hootenanny as the audience sat on the floor of the Student Union Ballroom.

Groups ranging from singles to a square dancing group comprise the hootenanny tour organization. All the members are from the Western and Northwestern area and are of college age.

Since the start of the hootenanny craze about a year and a half ago, various campus organizations and living groups have held small, hootenanny-like hootenannies, but this was the first hootenanny of a semi-professional nature to visit campus.

Convention Date Changed By ICEP

The convention date for the Mock Political Convention sponsored by the Idaho Center for Education in Politics has been changed from March 27 to March 13 to 15.

A meeting this Wednesday in the Pend d'Oreille Room of the Student Union Building at 4 p.m. will be held to decide which state each living group will represent and the number of votes they will have.

At the convention the participants will elect candidates for President of the United States in a bipartisan election. Four years ago Nixon was elected President and Kennedy was elected vice-president at a similar convention. Len Jordan and Frank Church, Idaho's Senators, and Lloyd Walker, Democratic State Committee Chairman, will speak at the convention.

U-I Wins Debate Meet; Meyer, Ward Undeclared

The University of Idaho won the Inland Empire Tournament here this weekend with Coleen Ward, Kappa, and Stephen Meyer, off campus, being the only winning team with a 5-0 record.

The Idaho team claimed the trophy of the 30th annual tournament from Washington State University, winners of last year's tournament. Idaho won the trophy two years ago. Montana State University and Whitman College tied for second place in the tournament. Eighteen schools attended including Montana, Whitman,

270 Voices Combine In Mass Concert

Shakespeare, Biblical passages, and the "Mastersingers of Nuremberg" will be interpreted in song by a 270-voice combined choir Sunday.

During the 4 p.m. concert in Memorial Gymnasium, the combined choirs of the Vandaleers, University Singers and some community singers will be accompanied by the University Symphony Orchestra.

Divided into three parts, Sunday's program will open with a prelude, "The Mastersingers of Nuremberg" by Richard Wagner, played by the University Symphony Orchestra.

Part two, "Serenade to Music" by R. Vaughan Williams, is taken from Act V, Scene I of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." Edmund M. Chavez, associate professor of dramatics, said that the spring drama production will probably be "Merchant of Venice" on March 19, 20 and 21.

The program concludes with "Belshazzar's Feast" by William Walton. "Belshazzar's Feast" is an oratorio for double mixed choir, baritone solo and orchestra.

Taken from Psalms 81 and 137 and the fifth chapter of the Book of Daniel, "Belshazzar's Feast" consists of three sections, with short pauses between sections.

"Day Of The Lord" The first, after Isaiah's prophecy that "the day of the Lord is at hand," expresses the feelings of the Jews in captivity. Included in this first section is the unaccompanied eight-part chorus "By the Waters of Babylon."

A vivid picture of Babylon as a great city is drawn in the second part. Walton's brilliant scoring describes how "Belshazzar the king made a feast to a thousand of his lords, commanding the people to drink wine from the sacred vessels taken out of the temple that was in Jerusalem."

"Belshazzar's Feast" is concluded by the story of the "writing on the wall," finishing with a lament and exaltant chant of triumph over the fallen city.

The "Alleluia" chorus, conclusion of the third section, is a glory of sound in which "Alleluia" is flung ecstatically from one choir to the other.

Soloists for the concert include Norman Logan, associate professor of music, who sings the baritone solo in "Belshazzar's Feast" and 11 singers who solo during "Serenade to Music."

The solo group includes sopranos Mrs. William Barnes, Mrs. Jack Marneau and Mrs. Norman Logan, all Moscow; altos Mrs. E. Roy Tinney, Pullman, Mrs. LeRoy Bauer and Mrs. K. E. Fast Photo-Copier Now At Library

Ever get writer's cramp from copying something especially worthwhile from a book or a journal?

With the installation of an electronic copier at the University Library, a researcher or a student can get permanent, personal copies of pages from printed material in the time it takes to hum a chorus of "Here We Have Idaho."

EIC To Probe Scholarships

The Education Improvement Committee will have the opportunity to ask Charles O. Decker, dean of students, questions on the existing program of University scholarships Wednesday.

This is part of the committee's nine point program to study academics at the University.

Although this is not a closed meeting, the 12-student 5-faculty member committee will do the questioning of Decker in the scholarship area.

The idea behind this part of the investigation is that there are aspects of the academic program at the University from the students' viewpoint which need investigation.

The committee is under the chairmanship of Mary Lynne Evans, Alpha Phi. EIC also sponsors the TV program "Probe."

FORESTRY TRIP

In 1930 the foresters held a supervised trip through the Arboretum, according to the Argonaut.

While the new machine will be a boon to persons wanting copies of current materials, it will also make available priceless documents which have been carefully stored in the rare books section of the Northwest collection.

"We can now provide copies of these rare documents without the danger of their being damaged," said Associate Librarian Richard Beck.

Paper on which many rare books were printed has become extremely brittle with age. Skill and care is necessary to keep from injuring them by handling. Under the new system, a librarian will make the copies for the person wanting them for 10 cents a copy.

There is another good reason for the copier. The Library long has been concerned over possible theft and mutilation of materials. It is hoped that convenient access to quick, inexpensive copying equipment will halt any theft or damage.

Each year, several thousand volumes are sent to other libraries across the nation on inter-library loans. Back said. The University Library will now automatically photocopy any journal article 10 pages or under requested by another library instead of lending the actual journal.

"This will be an advantage. Many times a student or faculty member requests a copy of a journal that is out on loan," he explained.

Even with "instant" copy via the new machine, all is not clear sailing, though. Beck, with tongue in cheek, said individuals are expected to assume copyright responsibility for items requested.

'Huck Finn' To Be Staged At University

Philip Hanson will present a one-man show, "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" as a University public events program in the Administration Building Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 21.

The public is invited at no charge.

Hanson will portray 18 characters in presenting this Mark Twain classic about the adventures of a boy's life on the Mississippi. "Lonesome River," a song sung by Jim, the runaway slave, was composed by the actor especially for the solo performance.

An internationally known master story teller, Hanson carries 183 characters in his memory. His one-man shows are played in line, and he must keep the lines ready for performances at all times.

Initiates Told Program Should Be Five Years at the Student Union Building Saturday evening.

Speaker for the evening was William P. Barnes, professor of mechanical engineering, who spoke on engineering education.

Barnes felt that engineering should be a five-year program. The first two years would comprise a nearly common program for all engineers and the last three years would be devoted to specialization.

He defined the role of an engineer including his education, part in the world of today and the part he plays in the future. Joe Murphy, off campus, Sigma Tau president, welcomed the members, initiates and guests to the banquet and introduced the speaker and honored guests.

Following this the new initiates were presented their keys and plaques by Sigma Tau advisor, Dr. Robert Furgason, associate professor of engineering, and Dr. Dwight Hoffman, assistant dean and professor of chemical engineering.

The new members are Gordon Judd, Delt; James Peterson, John Schaufelberger, Sam Taylor, Willis Sweet; John Sachett and Hugh Yearles; Fiji; Pat Wicks, ATO;

Prep Kids Auditioning By Tapes

Two high school student musicians, a pianist and string instrument soloist, are to be selected to perform as a part of the program of the Western Division, Music Teachers National Association on the University of Idaho campus Aug. 9 through 12.

Students invited to perform will be chosen by audition of tapes of their solo performances. The judging committee, comprised of out-of-state musicians, will identify the tapes by a numbering system.

Announcement of the convention was made by Professor Hall M. Macklin, president of the Idaho Music Teachers Association. Tapes should be submitted to Macklin at the Department of Music. Deadline for submission of the tapes is April 1.

"This is a welcome opportunity for some of our finest Idaho musical talent to be heard at our biennial Western Division Convention," stated Mrs. Adelaide Anderson Marshall, Idaho chairman of student activities for the Idaho Music Teachers Association.

The Western Division of the national association is comprised of Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

The Golden Fleece

By Jason

These Are the Times That Try Men's Souls . . .
 Finals, that is. Actually, it isn't finals that are so bad, it's the tests, lectures past the hour and special projects that precede finals that are trying.
 Seems that some instructors feel that they must cram an entire nine weeks into three, or is it four—Jason, and other students, have lost all track of time. Or perhaps, (couldn't be you'll say) it's that students try to cram a whole semester's work into three.
 Whichever the case may be, students all look a little mopey about now. Meetings may continue as scheduled, but we'll wager they are ill attended and dull.

Tying Loose Ends . . .
 As the end of the semester approaches and Jason 72 approaches retirement age, there are some loose ends that must be tied.
 Back to the Jan. 8 issue, Professor Dobler informs me that I wasn't thorough enough in my research. Seems that a 1948 Supreme Court decision by the Supreme Court ruled that released time for religious instruction is legal, as long as it is not taking place on public school grounds.
 At any rate, my gripe still holds. I still feel that some of the other examples I listed, such as religious instruction credits necessary for graduation, are illegal. Wish someone would do something about it.

In the last issue Jason wrote an edit concerning the David Soper affair. Seems that we misunderstood. The Letters and Science office attempted for two weeks to contact him.
 Also, as far as the inconsistency is concerned, the reason for inconsistency by Administrative Council is that some instructors submit warning slips and take attendance, others don't.
 Also, Soper maintains that he did attempt to withdraw from one class and felt that he did. He intended to withdraw from the other two, he says, except for the fact that he was informed he had been withdrawn from school before he could accomplish the withdrawals.

I am also informed that Mr. Soper was told he could submit an explanation in addition to his petition. This he did not do.
 At any rate, there have been several mumbblings concerning the play the story received. As we look back through Argonaut files we find several students received bigger play when they were placed on probation.
 Soper is a prominent ASUI figure. He has been mentioned as a possible contender for ASUI President. His involuntary withdrawal from school was big news. Just as the involuntary withdrawal of Jason, the ASUI President, an Executive Board member, or other such office holder would be big news.
 We feel the story was factual, the editorial fair, the prominence of the story justified.
 The case rests.

AC Interviews Are Tonight

Interviews for various Activities Council committee positions will be held tonight from 7 to 10 p.m. in designated rooms in the Student Union Building.

 The purpose of the program is to bring recognized research scientists to this country to make visits to graduate departments of geology in order to stimulate interchanges of scientific knowledge and research experiences.
 The visit of Gage to this campus is sponsored by the American Geological Institute, the Idaho Bureau of Mines and the College of Mines.

SDX Officers Plan Conclave

Officers of the University of Idaho and Washington State University chapters of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism society, are planning a regional convention to be held jointly on the two campuses April 25, Mark Brown, Idaho convention chairman, said Monday.
 Tentatively scheduled is a banquet, open to the public, which will feature a prominent newsmen as speaker. Included in the region are chapters at both Oregon universities, both Washington universities, Montana State University and the University of Idaho.

Dear Jason!

Explains Revolt, Asks Help

Dear Jason:
 I would like to explain the situation of the recent revolution in Zanzibar. I believe that this revolution is backed by communists and has been executed by pro-communists or communist supporters. The sinister, the evil, the grim effect of communism and the hunger for power to deprive man of freedom. This we cannot, and must not, allow. We must not tolerate it, we must destroy those who allow themselves to be used as tools to sell the freedom of their country. In the case of Zanzibar I will again say, the country is not run by a minority of Arabs. In 1961 a democratic election was held and the majority won the election, the nationalist party which has since been overthrown.
 Again in 1963 the nationalist party won the election and led Zanzibar into independence. Zanzibar has 50,000 Arabs and 220,000 Africans. Twice in three years the nationalist party won the elections. And so the majority of the overthrown government are not Arabs, but Africans, success of liberty.
 I'm not the only one who is away from Zanzibar, but before we can do anything we must have funds and support. If we are to defeat those who have threatened our freedom, whether Zanzibar moves in the direction of communism or whether it moves in the direction of freedom will depend upon us, upon our energy, upon our determination and upon this basis we must build our country into a free country.
 And so I turn to you my friends, and ask for your support. When America said "let every nation know whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardships, support any friends, oppose any foe, to assure the survival and success of liberty."
 And so my friends I ask for your support. I hope with God's help I will exercise my strength and wisdom, and that I may achieve for all time peace in my country.

My Column

By Mark Brown

It's about time we bold, hard-hitting dauntless, call-a-spade-a-spade type journalistic editorializers of the Idaho Argonaut put on our yellow glasses and step, heads lowered and leading with our lefts, straight into another expose of something-or-other.
 I refer, specifically, to the lack of men's restrooms in the Administration Building.
 I have appointed myself to head up this matter and get everyone off their seats and into action.
 The problem is as follows: How can one who takes a two-hour lab in a room on the second floor smoke a cigarette on the Ad steps, visit the restroom and get back to class before the bell rings to end his ten minute break between halves?
 Speaking in the campus vernacular, it's a real bear. And if you haven't tried it, don't knock it.
 In my three years of attending classes in the Ad Building, I have not been able to find any other men's restrooms besides the one on the third floor and the one in the basement. Which puts the feller on the second floor in kind of a quandry.
 Now just to clear myself of any personal gain motives, let me point out that I have four classes in the Ad Building, only one of which is on the second floor. It is a two-hour accounting lab. So I am merely speaking up for the poor persecuted wretch, not myself.
 The name of my crusade, I believe, will be "More Men's Rooms For A Better Idaho and A Better America."
 After all, the little plaque on the wall by the Ad steps reads "For the training of her future citizens." Unfortunately, under present conditions, her future citizens are getting frustrated.
 So, gather 'round, fellow students. Raise that voice of indignation. Those janitors have had life easy long enough. Yellow glasses are on sale at Fok's this week and crusade dues are nominal.

Forensic Group Initiates Five

Delta Sigma Rho - Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic honorary, met at the home of Dr. A. E. Whitehead, advisor, Sunday evening for initiation and a chill feed.
 Five students were initiated into the honorary: Stephen Meyer, off campus; Nancy Grubb, PI Phi; Arlen Marley, Upham; Jim Johnson, FarmHouse, and Jon Trail, Gault.
 Requirements for initiation are outstanding forensic participation and scholastic standing.
 Delta Sigma Rho recently merged with the national Tau Kappa Alpha honorary. Previously, Delta Sigma Rho was the forensic honorary on the Idaho Campus.
 The new society has a membership of approximately 194 chapters throughout the United States.
 The next meeting of the group will be Feb. 12 at 7 p.m. in the Russet Room of the Student Union Building.

Scholarships Probed

As part of the Education Improvement Committee's nine point program for study of academics, the committee will interview Dean Charles O. Decker about scholarships at the University.
 In an informal atmosphere student and faculty members of the committee can probe the structure of scholarship program.
 What the committee intends to do with the information gained will depend on what it actually discovers.
 Perhaps in the probing the committee will discover why some fields such as home economics have an abundance of scholarships in comparison with those offered in (say) secondary education.
 On the other hand, it can find out just how many scholarships are never applied for, and how much money is never used. It could determine how many students apply for the same scholarships and where more scholarships are needed.
 It is doubtful, we feel, if any great improvements or changes will be made in the program, but at least the committee has taken the initiative to go to the source for the information.—J.C.

Library Gets 2 Rare Books

Two rare books of Western Americana have been acquired by the University Library's Northwest collection, announced Charles Webbert, social science librarian.

One of the rare items is "Among the Indians. Eight Years in the Far West, 1858-66. Embracing Sketches of Montana and Salt Lake." Written by Henry Bolter, the book was published in 1868 in Philadelphia by T. Ellwood Zell.

The Idaho copy, a first edition in its original cloth cover, has a rare map which was inserted in only a few copies. The book has been termed the most authoritative narrative of fur trading among the Plains Indians of the Upper Missouri for the period.

The second volume is "Oregon Archives" by LaFayette Grover. Printed by Asahel Bush in Salem in 1853, the book, still in its original wrapper, includes the journals, governor's messages and public papers of Oregon from the earliest attempts to form a government including the session of the Territorial Legislature in 1849.

The book is a source of early Oregon history and is regarded as the most important issue of the early Oregon Press.

SIEA To Hear About Placement

Workings of the Placement Office will be discussed by Sidney Miller of the office at the 7:30 meeting tonight of the Student Idaho Education Association.

At this meeting in the Kullyspell Room of the Student Union delegates will be elected to attend the Idaho Education Association convention in Boise in March.

Lewis-Clark To Be Topic At Sigma Xi

A visit to the trails and campsides of the Lewis-Clark expedition will be presented to the Society of Sigma Xi, scientific honorary, at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in the Borah Theater of the Student Union.

John Peebles, research associate professor of engineering and a Lewis-Clark historian, will lecture and show 150 slides of various campsites and trails in the Rocky Mountains. He has visited the known campsites via horseback and jeep since he became interested in the subject 15 years ago. He has been especially interested in the geography of the route which was partly dictated by the need for water.

"On the return trip over the Lolo Trail, Lewis and Clark and their party were on top of 12 to 15 feet of snow. Their Indian guides, however, never hesitated and knew exactly where they were," Peebles said.

The Idaho professor has read practically all the accounts of the famed journey that have been written. He has also consulted the Idaho and the Montana Historical societies for additional information.

Ralph Space, retired supervisor of the Clearwater National Forest and historian, provided much of the data for the Lolo trail portion of the narrative.

Forestry Group To Study Jobs

Representatives from the Forest Service's northwest regions will speak on career and summer employment opportunities in forestry at an Associated Foresters meeting 7:30 tonight in the Gold Room of the Student Union.

The Forest Service representatives will be interviewing students interested in forestry careers today and tomorrow.

A vote will be taken on a proposed revised constitution at the business meeting and members are urged to attend.

Ski Exchange Will Close This Friday

The Middle Ski Exchange, sponsored by the Midshipmen of Idaho's Naval ROTC, will close Friday, according to Midshipman Jim Hunter, Fiji.

Hunter, ski exchange director, emphasized that there are still many items available and merchandise has been reduced to sell this week in many cases.

Skis on hand Monday ranged from a pair of metal Harts with safety bindings to a set of archaic slats priced at 75 cents.

"Operation of the ski shop, located in the University Navy Building has met with unexpected interest, apparently filling a need not locally available," said Hunter.

The ski exchange, open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., supports travel expenses of the Naval ROTC Rifle Team.

'Probe' To Study Admission Laws

The University's new admission policies will be discussed on "Probe" Thursday night.

The program will be moderated by Mary Lynne Evans, Alpha Phi. A student panel will ask Frank Young, director of admissions, questions on the admission practices.

Questions concerning the out-of-state cut down of students and eliminating the lower quartile graduates of high school classes will be discussed.

Broadcast time will be 6:30 p.m. on the University closed circuit channel 7 but the program is also available for Moscow viewers on channel 5.

Young GOP's Elect Heads Thursday

Election of officers for spring semester will be the business of Thursday night's meeting of the University Young Republicans, Mark Brown, president, said Monday.

Officers will be elected for the positions of president, first and second vice presidents, recording and corresponding secretaries and treasurer.

New officers will replace Brown, Arlene Marley, first vice president; Norma Frederick, recording secretary and Judy Manville, acting treasurer. President Wayne Kidwell and treasurer Bob Bushnell resigned at the first of the school year.

At the last meeting, members of the organization heard Charles Simmons, instructor of Latin American history, give a talk on "The Republican Image." Simmons warned of impending danger from what he called "neo-conservatism" which differs, he said, from "classical" conservatism as outlined by the Eighteenth Century political theorist Burke.

Burke, he said, called for social evolution within a state, while the present "neo-conservative" wants to go backward.

Vandals Fall To MSC 71-65; Face Zags Thursday

Jim Faucher's behind the scoreboard

A basketball team can have a 20-6 record or a 6-20 record, but when they win the one big game, they're heroes. Saturday night, the University of Idaho Vandals were heroes—they beat Idaho State on their own court. The 69-62 score didn't tell the whole story. The Vandals outshot, outplayed, and outran the Bengals.

One thing that the game proved was that not only is the Vandal football team the football champion of Idaho, but they had better move over and make way for the basketball team. The Vandals may not be doing that well in the Big Sky Conference, but when you consider that they knocked off one of the top contenders for the championship in basketball in the conference, well, it's better than quitting smoking.

The Bengals will get another shot at the Vandals Feb. 15 here in Moscow. It might not be a bad idea to file that date away for future reference, like getting a date and going to the basketball game instead of going up on the hill or other places. Over 5000 fans turned out in Pocatello to see the game Saturday night.

Those of you who listened to the game over the radio, as yours truly did, and as the finale came in the game, little whispers arose from the parched listeners, "They'll blow it, I just know they'll blow it!" But blow it they didn't, and Idaho State went down to defeat again. It wasn't just a "defat" to the Bengals, it was a loss, a loss of a little more of that prestige that they have been trying to build up over the past few years. And the University of Idaho? I think that we showed why we're called a University, and rightfully so.

It is interesting to note that the ISU basketball coach Jim Nau didn't start all of his regular five. Of course these five saw action later in the first half, but Art Crump, the high scorer of the Bengals was held to only two points in the first half and had a grand total of four points for the game.

The two big guns for the Vandals were Ed Haskins and Tom Moreland. Haskins had 11 points in the first half and showed why he should be getting that starting berth on the team. Moreland had 20 for the night.

The 19th amendment to the Constitution gave the women of the land the right to vote, and equal rights. You could say that WRA on the Idaho campus is also striving for equal rights and doing a good job of it. It might be worth our while to take a look at the women's side of athletics on this campus.

I'm not just putting in a plug for the organization because they gave me free dessert and coffee Sunday afternoon at their Recognition Hour, and were wearing dresses instead of their athletic clothes, but because they are just as important an element of this campus as the men's intramural system. Over 120 women, girls, or what-have-you were at the event to see who the outstanding participants were for the first semester in the organization.

A few cried, a few screamed, and many clapped as the awards were given out. All of the women on the Idaho campus are members of the WRA, and they have a fine group. A Scoreboard salute and all that goes out to Georgia Cutler, the new president of WRA and to her new officers; and to Anita Cox and the outgoing officers.

WRA Holds Awards Hour

The WRA participation trophy was awarded to Ethel Steel and the WRA tournament trophy was awarded to the Alpha Phi at the WRA Recognition hour held Sunday in the SUB Ballroom.

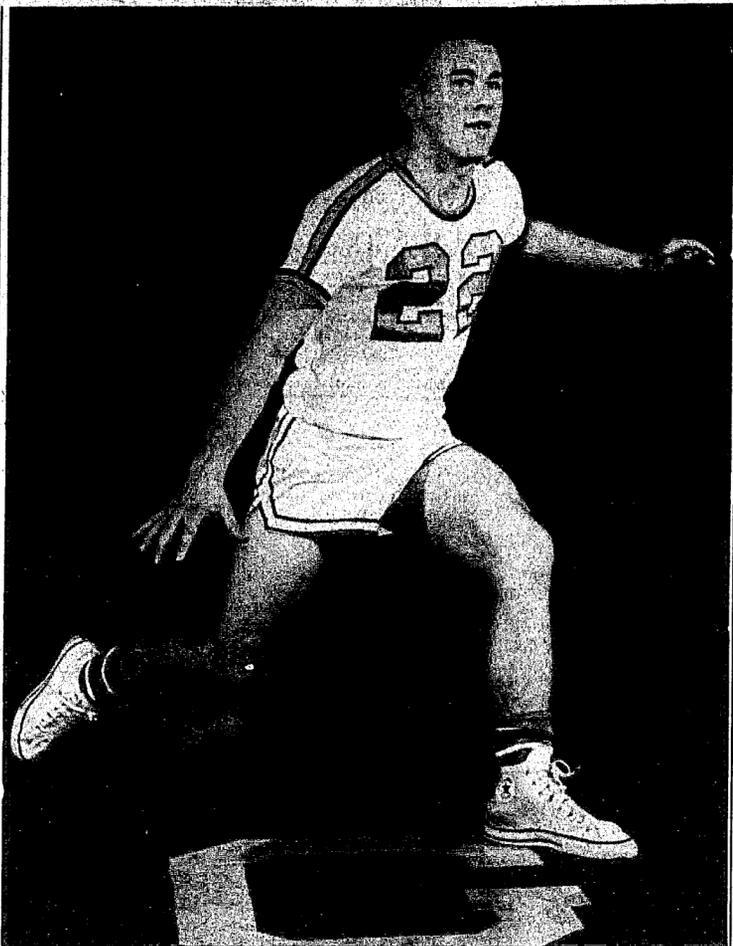

The Joyce Weaver Schuett plaque was awarded to Sharon Gygli, Alpha Phi. The plaque is given to the top junior or senior girl in WRA who has the qualities of sportsmanship, cheerfulness, and leadership.

Main speaker at the annual event was Dr. Gordon, head of the physical education department at Washington State University. Her speech pertained to the qualities or character the girls should have concerning activities.

Installation of the new officers followed. The new officers are: Georgia Cutler, Forney, president; vice president, Jackie Smith, Pi Phi; secretary treasurer, Marilyn Ramey, Alpha Phi; recording secretary, Betty Neale, Forney; and public relations, Wilma Greene, Alpha Phi.

After the installation of the I club tapped their new members. Those tapped were Katy Hawks, Ethel Steel; Jackie Smith, Pi Phi; Martha Turner, Alpha Phi; Jeri Ross, Alpha Phi; Betty Neale, Forney; Anne Frahm, Forney; and Marilyn Ramey, Alpha Phi.

In 1934 the Drama Department presented "Lilies of the Field" as its spring play.

The University of Idaho Vandals came within six points of defeating the league leading Montana State College Bobcats last night as they lost to the Montana five, 71-65. The Bobcats broke an Idaho zone in the second half behind the 28-point effort of MSC's Don Rae. Idaho plays Gonzaga Thursday in Spokane.

The score, which saw-sawed throughout the game, was in the Vandals' favor at the half way point, 39-37. The score was tied ten times throughout the evening.

The game got off to a fast Vandal start as they led 8-2 with just minutes gone, but then Rae started his assault on the Vandal defense with his long outside jump shots. Rae hit two shots, followed by Bob Gustafson, and the score was tied at 8-8.

With 11:15 left in the first half the Vandals' Tom Moreland hit for two to give the Vandals an 18-17 lead. MSC's Rae followed with a free throw due to a Tom Whitfield foul and the score was knotted up again at 18-18.

Ed Haskins hit for two of his 19 point effort for the night with 2:20 remaining in the first half to bring the score to Idaho 35, MSC 31. Rae hit for two from the outside.

Bobcats Go Outside
In the second half the Vandals went into a zone defense, but the outside shooting of the Bobcats continued to plague the Vandals.

The Bobcats started to pull away from the Vandals with 15:30 remaining in the game. MSC's Ken Schweitzer made two on a 25 foot jump shot to put the Bobcats ahead 48-41. They were ahead for the rest of the night. Moreland and Jay Anderson made two fast baskets for the Idaho squad but Rae came back again to give the Montana five a 50-45 edge. Montana State's coach Roger Craft was then called on a technical foul for contesting an official's call. Moreland missed the extra free shot.

Another Technical
Montana State College was given another technical call on a disputed official's call again. Whitfield was fouled by Andy Wyatt, who didn't like the official's decision and contested the call. The extra shot was again missed.

The Bobcats had stretched their lead to ten points, 60-59, with two minutes remaining. A final Vandal offensive spearheaded by Moreland fell short as the gun sounded with the score 71-65.

Scoring
In the scoring column, high point man for the night was MSC's Don Rae, who hit for 28 points. Idaho's high man was Tom Moreland with 23 points. He was followed by Ed Haskins with 19, Jay Anderson, 9; Chuck Kozak, 6; Tom Whitfield, 6 and Bill Mattis, 2.

Other MSC scoring saw Kermit Young with 17 points; Dave Knostman, 8; Andy Wyatt, 7; Bob Gustafson, 4; Ken Schweitzer, 3; Bill Phillips, 2 and Chuck Hallam, 2.

The Minnesota Twins, second in the American League in 1962, had the poorest exhibition record of the 20 major league teams this spring. They won 7 games, lost 20.

Finmen Go To Seattle

For Meet

Idaho's finmen will begin to get down to serious business this weekend with the first two of several dual meets in preparation for the Far West and Big Sky Championships to be held in the latter part of February and the first week in March.

On Friday night the Vandals will be heavy underdogs against the always strong University of Washington swim team at Seattle. Saturday afternoon Idaho will travel to Ellensburg, Washington to meet Central Washington State College, a team that fell to the Vandals last year by about 25 points.

Two Juniors Lead
Coach Clark Mitchell says he will rely heavily on a pair of juniors, Carl Von Tagen and Lowell Yamashita, to pick up points for the Vandals. He is also hoping for top performances from newcomers Kris Kirkland, Bob Wendt, and Bill Graham. Kirkland and Graham are sophomores, while Wendt is allowed to compete as a freshman under the rules set down by the Big Sky Conference.

Following this week's pair of matches the Idaho swimmers will compete every week except during finals as they will particularly aim for the Big Sky Conference Championships to be held the first week of March in Ogden, Utah.

Idaho Babes Rally To Beat WSU 68-64

Idaho's Vandal frosh came from behind in the closing minutes to beat arch-rival Washington State frosh 68 to 64 in basketball play last night in Memorial Gymnasium.

Paced by the strong shooting of Dave Schlotthauer and John Foruria the Vandal Babes led 34 to 30 at the halfway point.

Falling behind in the latter part of the game, the Babes saw the Cougar-kids from WSU leading 64 to 59 with one minute and fifty seconds remaining on the scoreboard clock.

The Vandal Babes put on a full court press and scored two stolen baskets by Mike Wicks on open balls. Wicks got the ball once more and scored two more points to put the Babes up front to stay with the score 67 to 65.

With 18 seconds left Jerry Ahlin sent two free throws through the hoop to give Idaho a little breathing room.

As the gun sounded Ahlin was fouled by WSU's Bud Norris which gave Ahlin one more foul shot and the Babes a 68- to 64 victory.

High man for the night was Schlotthauer with 20 points. He was followed by Foruria with 16 and Ahlin with 11.

A GUIDE FOR THE GUIDERS

One of the most interesting academic theories advanced in many a long year has recently been advanced by that interesting academic theorist, E. Pluribus Ewbank, Ph. D. who holds the chair of Interesting Academic Theories at the St. Louis College of Footwear and Educational Philosophy. Dr. Ewbank said in the last issue of the learned journal, the Mount Rushmore Guide to Scholastic Advancement and Presidents' Heads, that we might be approaching the whole problem of student guidance from the wrong direction.

Dr. Ewbank, a highly respected pedagogue and a lifelong smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes, (I mention Marlboro for two reasons: first, to indicate the scope of Dr. Ewbank's brainpower. Out of all the dozens of brands of cigarettes available today, Dr. Ewbank has had the wit and taste to pick the one with the most flavorful flavor, the most filtration filter, the most soft soft pack, the most flip top Flip Top box; I refer, of course, to Marlboro. The second reason I mention Marlboro is that I get paid to mention Marlboro in this column, and the laborer, you will agree, is worthy of his hire.)

But I digress. To return to Dr. Ewbank's interesting theory, he contends that most college guidance counselors are inclined to take the easy way out. That is to say, if a student's aptitude tests show a talent for, let us say, math, the student is encouraged to major in math. If his tests show an aptitude for poetry, he is directed toward poetry. And so forth.

She set the entire math department abog

All wrong, says Dr. Ewbank. The great breakthroughs, the startling innovations in, let us say, math, are likely to be made not by mathematicians—whose thinking, after all, is constrained by rigid rules and principles—but by mavericks, by nonconformists, by intuitors who refuse to fall into the rut of reason. For instance, set a poet to studying math. He will bring a fresh, unfettered mind to the subject, just as a mathematician will bring the same kind of approach to poetry.

By way of evidence, Dr. Ewbank cites the case of Cipher Hinary, a youth who entered college with brilliant test scores in physics, chemistry, and the calculus. But Dr. Ewbank forced young Cipher to major in poetry.

The results were astonishing. Here, for example, is young Cipher's latest poem, a love lyric of such originality that Lord Byron springs to mind. I quote:

He was her logarithm,
She was his cosine.
Taking their dog with 'em,
They hastened to go sign
Marriage vows which they joyfully shared,
And wood and wed and pi squared.

Similarly, when a freshman girl named Elizabeth Barrett Sigafous came to Dr. Ewbank to seek guidance, he ignored the fact that she had won the Pulitzer prize for poetry when she was eight, and insisted she major in mathematics. Again the results were startling. Miss Sigafous has set the entire math department agog by flatly refusing to believe that six times nine is 54. If Miss Sigafous is correct, we will have to re-think the entire science of numbers and—who knows?—possibly open up vistas as yet undreamed of in mathematics.

Dr. Ewbank's unorthodox approach to student guidance has so impressed his employers that he was fired last week. He is currently selling beaded moccasins at Mount Rushmore.
