

Queen Lorna To Reign Over Weekend

She Likes Ranching And Music

By FRED FREEMAN
Argonaut Editor

A musical Miss from Baker, Ore., Lorna Kipling, was chosen Monday in a vote of campus men to reign over Homecoming festivities this weekend.

Although the songs she sings during the summer months when she drives cattle and works on her father's ranch may be similar to cowboy lullabys, the blue-eyed, brown-haired Delta Gamma Junior who stands five feet five inches tall, is no stranger to queen contests.

She feels equally at home singing the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi or marching with a military band playing the Caisson Song — and she's entitled to do both. Miss Kipling was the Sigma Chi sweetheart her freshman year, Military Ball queen last year, and this year is honorary Cadet Colonel of the Army ROTC sponsor corps.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kipling, the new queen has grown up on the family ranch near Baker. Although she has an older brother who is an accountant, the family love for ranching seems to have fallen on Lorna.

The queen laughed gaily when she told of her ranching activities.

"I have my own herd of cattle, 52 head of shorthorns," she said. Besides being fun, she noted that her ranching was paying for a good part of her college education.

"Maybe you'd better put that I took sewing and cooking in 4-H too, so they won't think I'm a complete tomboy," she told the Argonaut in an interview Wednesday.

But her plans for the future include music rather than ranching. "I'd like to live on a ranch," she says, "but I want to teach choir in a high school."

Music too, came early in her life. Now in her third year of singing with the University of Idaho Vandaleers, she first began lending her soprano voice to school and church choirs about nine years ago. Along the way in her musical career she also found time to learn to play the violin, the viola and the piano.

"In the sixth grade, I had the girl's lead in a grade school operetta. It was a kind of silly thing called 'Behind Castle Walls.' The story was about a group of Spanish children who had to find a gold cornucopia which would lead them to great treasures."

For her own treasures, she pointed to the close ties of her family life. Tomorrow when she is crowned by Alumni President Dean Miller, her family will be in the stands watching.

clash tomorrow. This is the first color picture published by a college newspaper in the Northwest. The Queen and her Court will be crowned by Alumni President Dean Miller at the half time of the game Saturday. U. Alums Return For Game

The men who beat the Cougars, team members of the 1954, 1923, 1924 and 1925 football squads will be here this weekend, hoping to see the Vandals down Washington State University once again.

Jim Lyle, alumni secretary, said Thursday that he expected the largest turnout of alumni in the institution's history to watch the 65th "Battle of the Palouse" at Homecoming in Neale Stadium Saturday.

Homecoming will get underway at 6:15 tonight when freshmen women, dressed in pajamas, form a chain and run through men's living groups in a serpentine. They will be led by Idaho Spurs.

At 7 p.m. there will be a rally at MacLean Field. Coach Dee Andros, his Vandals, Homecoming Queen, and her court, and Dean Miller, alumni president, will be there to encourage fans to support the team. After yells, there will be the annual fireworks display.

Parade Saturday
Saturday morning there will be a 15-boat Homecoming parade downtown. Leading the parade will be University President D. R. Theophilus. Dr. Theophilus was named Parade Marshall in honor of his years of service to the University.

The parade will be built around the 1964 Homecoming theme, "First in ten, do it again." A grand prize, and first, and second place prizes will be awarded. Last year the grand prize went to Alpha Chi Omega and Upham Hall, who are building the Queen's float this year.

The University band, and ten bands from northern Idaho and eastern Washington high schools will provide music for the parade. Vandaleers, Spurs, and Angel Flight will march. Mortar Board and Blue Key will ride a fire engine, and Cosmopolitan Club, Young Republicans, and Young Democrats will participate.

Half-time activities will include introductions by Jim Johnston, ASUI president, of Dean Miller, Alumni President, who will introduce the 1964 Homecoming queen, crown her, and present the new monarch with a bouquet of roses. The Outstanding Vandal Booster will also be introduced. The University marching band and WSU marching band will provide entertainment for half-time.

Following the game, open house will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. in the living groups. A Baron a Beef buffet will be available to the public from 5 to 8 p.m. in the SUB.

Johnny Reitz and his band from Portland, Ore., will provide the music for the Homecoming dance.

Special Train Is Planned For Utah Game At Boise

History will be repeated again when students go to the Utah State-Idaho football game in Boise Nov. 14 on a "Vandal Victory Special" train, according to Bob Marley, Vandal Rally Area Director.

Recent meetings of Vandal Rally Committee developed the idea of chartering the train to carry some 750 people, including band members, Century Club, Vandaleers, Vandal Boosters, faculty, student leaders and interested students. See "We Were Wondering" for opinions on the proposed trip.

The train will leave Moscow Friday evening at 7 p.m. and arrive in Boise Saturday morning about 9 a.m., provided there are enough students to warrant the trip. Arrival in Moscow would be Sunday about 11 a.m. Cost per student on the train will be nearly $15, covering meals while in transit and admission to the game.

Union Pacific Railroad is the only line to provide the direct run to Boise. The train would be about 15 cars long.

The committee felt chartering a train would accomplish a number of things, including creating a favorable impression on the legislature which will be attending the game as a group after visiting the University campus, according to A. Robert Marley, off campus.

Hall M. Macklin, head of the department of music, indicated that because the University Marching Band would be an official representative of the University, the associated students would have to raise the money to finance sending the band. This would total almost $2,000.

According to Macklin, sending the band by chartered bus, as is done by the Vandaleers when they tour, would cost only about $1,200. He indicated that travelling by bus would be more desirable, but he would not say the band could not travel on the train.

Thursday afternoon Macklin told the Argonaut that an official project is underway to raise money for sending the band by chartered bus.

Idaho Granted $96,299 For Educational Television

The University received official word Thursday that $96,299 in federal funds had been granted to expand present campus television facilities.

The grant, which was approved by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, will be used to provide tower antenna and transmitter for Channel 12, to be operated by the University.

The grant will make possible affiliation with the National Educational Television Network and direct broadcasting.

Gordon Law, acting head of the department of communications at the University, said he was hopeful bids could be let on all phases of the project and construction and purchasing could begin by mid-November. The university hopes to have the station on the air by the first of February.

"The approval of the funds to go ahead with the station was a giant step forward in the dream of an educational television network which would eventually link all sections of the State of Idaho," Law said. "With the advent of NET affiliation, national programming will become available to the new station and eventually the state.

The matching funds from the Department of HEW will enable the university to ask for bids on improvements at the Paradise Ridge site southeast of Moscow. An all-weather road and a cinder block building to house the television facilities, must be constructed. In addition, a $12,000 tower must be built. An antenna, costing approximately $24,000, and a transmitter, costing about $55,000 must be purchased.

The station will broadcast directly within a radius of 70 miles of the Paradise Ridge site, and will operate a minimum of four hours a day. Cable feeds will be available as far south as New Meadows and as far north as Bonners Ferry.

According to Law, the eventual plan for Idaho is to have educational television stations at Boise and on the Idaho State university campus at Pocatello.

Both campuses have made application to the Federal Communications Commission for channel licenses, he said. With a relay tower at LaGrande, Ore., the Moscow signals would be relayed to Boise and from there to Pocatello. The Pocatello and Boise channels would be

RHA Board Tryouts Held

Interviews for members of the new Residence Hall Association Disciplinary Board were held last night, according to Bob Marley, vice president of RHA.

The interviews centered around past activities of the applicants and on Disciplinary Board By-Laws which have been printed and sent to each hall.

Two women and two men will be selected to serve as regular members of the Disciplinary Board. Chairman of the board will be the vice president of RHA. The four regular members will have votes with the chairman voting in case of a tie.

The body is intended to decide disputes between two or more residence halls and to hear individual disciplinary problems relating to general hall regulations. It will review all appeals of disciplinary decisions of judicial bodies in individual residence halls and cases referred to it by the Dean of Women or Counsellor of Men's Residence Halls.

Appeals of decisions made by the group will be handled by the ASUI Judicial Council.

MED MEMBERS TOUR HOSPITAL

Fifteen members of Mu Epsilon Delta, pre-medical honorary toured State Hospital North at Orofino Wednesday. The members, accompanied by Dr. D. A. Gustafson, honorary advisor, heard a talk by Dr. Pullen, director at the hospital, before the tour.

Prexy Plans No Holiday Monday

There will not be a holiday on Monday if the University wins the Homecoming game with Washington State University, President D. R. Theophilus announced today.

"Rumors have been circulating on the campus this week that a holiday would be granted should the University win Saturday's football game. It is hoped that we will win, but the rumors of a holiday are definitely unfounded," Theophilus said.

JC Reprimands Drinking Students

Two University students were censured by Student Judicial Council on charges of drinking in the football stands, during the University of Idaho-University of Oregon football game two weeks ago.

Judicial Council heard evidence and deliberated for two and a half hours before deciding the cases, unprecedented in the history of the court.

Larry W. Wilcox, Kappa Sig, was found guilty of violating the University rule which forbids drinking on University property, and of failure to conduct himself in a responsible manner.

The council recommended that Wilcox be placed on suspended suspension for one year, and that, during the year, he not be allowed to represent either his living group or the University, and that any further disciplinary problem in connection with Wilcox be referred back to the Council.

Donald Engdahl, off campus, was found guilty of drinking on the campus.

The Council recommended that he, too, be placed on suspended suspension, and that further cases be referred back to the Council. The recommendations are pending the approval of President D. R. Theophilus.

When a student is suspended and the suspension is suspended, the student will be suspended from school if he is again brought before the body and found guilty within the year. In addition, Wilcox cannot represent his house in such activities as intramural games, Interfraternity Council, and similar activities. Nor can he represent the school in inter-university competition.

Fifteen Students Chosen To Work During Elections

A chairman and fourteen members for Election Board have been chosen following tests Tuesday and Thursday according to Larry Nye, Phi Delt, ASUI vice president.

Chairman for Election Board is Ray Fortin, Phi Delt. Members of the committee are George Buxton and John Anderson, Phi Delt; Ruth Ann Knapp, Ethel Steel; Mike Williams, Phi Delt; Jean Cline, Gamma Phi, and Joe Goffinet, off campus.

Other members of the board are Bill Haught, Phi Delt; Lila Res- leff Campbell; Bruce Sherlock, Phi Delt; Jane Watts, Campbell; Gwen Tolmie, Gamma Phi; Susan Mortensen, Tri Delta; Frank Smith, Lambda Chi, and Sandra Funk, Gamma Phi.

Election Duties
Members of the election board are in charge of handling the elections, polling booths and vote counting. They are responsible for supervising adherence to the constitutional regulations on the part of the voters.

One year's experience plus a desire to be chairman of the election board and after that, the highest grade on the test, are pre-requisites for being chairman, according to Nye.

Other members are chosen from students taking the test on the basis of the highest test scores, said Nye.

MUSIC AROUND HER — Homecoming Queen Lorna Kipling, Delta Gamma, sings, plays the piano, violin and viola. She plans to pass on her talents with music as a high school choir teacher after graduation. But music isn't her only interest. She has a herd of 52 cattle at home on her father's ranch near Baker, Ore., and horseback riding is among her favorite hobbies.

The Golden Fleece

By Jason

Two weeks ago Gov. Robert E. Smylie issued a statement allowing the possibility that a four-year state-supported University might be set up at Boise.

Can Idaho really support another state university at Boise or anywhere else in the state at this time?

In the last legislative session Lewis and Clark Normal School was granted four-year status, but it was given no additional funds with which to establish a four-year degree granting program — there were no funds available.

Shortage Of Funds Now

The shortage of funds in the state after that legislative session also was felt at the University of Idaho. More than $500,000 appropriated to the University was placed in reserve to be issued when the tax monies for the next year were collected. The tax monies fell short and the University was out half a million dollars. These dollars would have made it possible for the University to hire more than the one additional instructor it hired this fall, and would have made it possible to make needed improvements which we had to do without.

As for LCNS and its four-year role and a four-year school for Boise, the legislators had at their fingertips a report on higher education in Idaho made by the Stanford Research Institute. That report said:

"Barring some striking change in the economic character of the state, it appears unlikely that Idaho can afford the luxury of two institutions with mirror academic offerings."

Duplication

This section referred to duplication of course of study at the University and Idaho State. If we can't afford the duplication of study at Idaho and Idaho State University, could we afford necessary duplication in lower division courses for a third University at Boise?

The Stanford Report went on:

"The issue of the 'proper' future for Lewis-Clark—or of its facilities under another name—is not one that is likely to be resolved without arousing some emotion. A reasonable approach appears to be to seek to convert the school into a locally controlled public junior college, supported by a junior college district embracing as much as possible of the Lewiston area."

More BJC's

This type of institution is precisely what Boise has in Boise Junior College now.

In his statement Gov. Smylie stated the need for a junior college to be continued at Boise, in addition to a four-year school.

In a report on planning for higher education in Idaho, President D. R. Theophilus suggested last April that additional junior colleges be set up at Twin Falls and possibly later at Idaho Falls.

A similar recommendation was made by State Senator Perry Swisher in his syndicated column "38th Precinct" on Sept. 24.

These community junior colleges would help relieve the strain of more students than facilities can accommodate at our two state universities — but not compete for state financing.

More Boise Junior Colleges are what we need not a University of Idaho at Boise.

Challenge

To: ASWSU President, David L. Warren
ASWSU Vice President, Dave McGoldrick
Evergreen Editor, Garry R. Petersen

We of the University of Idaho, home of the stalwart and courageous Idaho Vandals, do hereby issue a challenge to you, and the rest of the lackluster Cougar fans who reside at Moo-U:

That the loser of the famous Battle of the Palouse football game between our fine University exemplified by the mighty and resourceful Vandal, and your center of agricultural matriculation, fittingly represented by a lowly feline (cat, to those of you who haven't passed Ag. Lectures) will walk the nine miles separating the Vandal Holy Land and the Pacific Athletic Conference cellar. This challenge is, of course contingent on the fact that the Cougar team can be coaxed out of the dressing room by the officials.

We from Vandalville realize that you people from Cow College have grown fat, sloppy, and pretty generally unfit, due to a 10 year abstinence from hiking. Public spirited and health conscious as we are, we have resolved to put you cat fanciers back on the road to healthful living. We have instructed Coach Andros and his troops to administer a severe shelling to your mercenary jocks, so that all Staters may feel humbly compelled to trek the nine miles from Pullman to Moscow, heads bowed in submission. No refreshments are allowed enroute, and pre-functioning is strictly forbidden. If you desire an Idaho beverage in Moscow on the dreaded day, you'll have to walk it.

Confidently.

We, the students of Washington State University, accept the inane diatribe offered by the University of Idaho. It is our respectful reply that we are again prepared to administer the annual "Massacre of Moscow" on Saturday, Oct. 24th.

History has provided us with a humorous portrait of your namesake, the Vandal. We should like to remind you of that portrait and the ludicrous legacy it represents.

By definition, a Vandal is a "Frustrated warrior, noted for his cowardice and incompetence in battle." In a heated skirmish, the Vandal shall be found well to the rear, maiming the wounded enemy or assuming the proverbial possum pose of self defense.

However, it is more for his exploits off the battle field, than on, which have earned him his ignoble image. It is indeed here that he is most effective. In fact, the Vandal stands unexcelled in three endeavors: the burning of churches, the beating of old women, and the violating of innocent virgins. In each of these disciplines the Vandal excels; they represent the glory and zenith of his abilities.

Social critics of the Vandal find themselves in agreement with the historians. They describe the Vandal as "socially offensive" off the battle field, but tactically inoffensive on it.

This history of the Vandal is a long, infamous one. We would choose not to pursue it further here, for it has never been our practice to harass the handicapped.

In summary, we accept your challenge, reminding you of your historical heritage and offer to you a recommendation. We suggest an affluent nomenclature for your institution, consistent with the image of the Vandal and your unmatched record since 1925 of two wins and 38 losses against WSU—the University of Impotence. We look forward again to the exodus from Idaho following a traditional Washington State win.

Sincerely,

David L. Warren, ASWSU president

Navy Grads Can Enter In Contest

Navy Times, the Navy's international weekly publication, recently announced the beginning of an essay contest offering a total of $2,000 in prize money to Naval ROTC senior graduates.

The contest is sponsored by Esquire Naval Tailors of Norfolk, Va. Esquire will provide a $1,000 cash award to a senior graduate in the NROTC program who writes the best essay on "The Role of Education in Military Preparedness."

In addition, the NROTC unit in which the first prize winner is enrolled will receive $250.

Other Prizes
Second place winner will receive $250 cash. Five other prizes of $100 each will be given to the next best essays.

The essay theme must be of 750 words or less and must be submitted typewritten to Navy Times postmarked no later than March 18.

The complete outline of official rules of eligibility and form have been sent to unit commanders of 53 NROTC colleges throughout the United States. Navy, Marine Corps and NESEP students in their last undergraduate year are eligible.

Spirit, Spirits And Fifth

The Idaho-Oregon football game was a splendid example of the University's fighting spirit—except for one incident.

Two students were censured by the Student Judicial Council for drinking on campus. Perhaps the phrasing of the Council is particularly important, "failure to conduct yourself in a responsible manner."

Most students are capable of conducting themselves in a responsible manner whenever they deem it necessary. If this is the situation, then perhaps the real trouble is the cause behind the irresponsible behavior—booze on the bench.

There's a time and a place for everything, and at a football game, booze and irresponsibility may become a two-some.

Another possible result of such activities is unnecessary and unwanted "fifth quarter activities." If the game ends, and school spirit is twisted into spirits of another form, then neither students nor the Universities from which they come ends up on the winning side.

"Booze on the benches" may end up the next morning as black eyes, stiff bones, and a ruined reputation for the University of Idaho.

Coach Dee Andros has asked students to remain in the spirit of competition and to refrain from ruining the Homecoming with certain extra-curricular activities.

"I hope we will restrain ourselves when we do win," said Coach Andros.

Possible consequences of boozing in the stands leading to fifth quarter activities could result in the cancellation of future WSU games. President D. R. Theophilus warned last year that cancellation is a possibility.

At a meeting of WSU board of control members and the ASUI E-Board members Tuesday night, Guy Wicks, Associate Dean of Students, emphasized that now that WSU is a member of the Pacific Athletic Conference, the Idaho game is no longer one of their larger drawing cards. This makes a possible cancellation more of a possibility.

University officials have issued recent statements indicating a "crack-down" on student drinking in bleachers at football games. President D. R. Theophilus and other administration officials have stressed the importance of responsibility in University sponsored extra-curricular activities.

Everything comes back to the same idea — "responsibility." Take it or leave it, the responsibility is yours.

"Booze on the bench" isn't a synonym for "on the rocks." A better definition would be "irresponsibility." L.J.

OF IMPORTANCE:

You tell me. What of importance in the world continues to have any significance whatever after 1:30 on Saturday?

What does it matter if the only woman you ever loved is turned into a toad by an evil witch on Saturday morning. No Matter?

So what if 600 million Chinese are each carrying nuclear bombs in their vest pockets and smiling. This is neither relevant nor important.

Between 2 and 4 does it matter that Barry wants to use nuclear weapons to discourage fifth quarter activities.

It is not even worth noting that the taxes gained on liquor sales during the upcoming weekend in Moscow will be used to construct three new classroom buildings, with the remainder going to boost teacher salaries for the next four years.

All That's Important
On the afternoon of October 24th, 1964, only one thing of note will be happening in the entire world . . . IDAHO vs WSU.

All skirmishes are cancelled for the day in Vietnam and the Pope will be tuned in by short-wave radio.

Every complimentary objective known to man will be applied to the sterling young men in black and gold. The others will have equally as many derogatory remarks lavished upon them. Occasionally, the two are apt to become confused in the heat of the battle, but this is of no particular importance.

I'm not sure that I can take all that emotion in a single afternoon. Then there's all this other stuff going on too.
Pick A Date?
Friday night there's going to be several hundred coeds passing in review in front of my door in their pajamas. It really is the best way to pick a date for the dance though. All that is only a warm-up for Saturday. I've even been yelling more at my room mate this week so I don't lose my voice in the middle of the game.

You see, it's not just a game. It's a matter of honor, duty, pride, and psychological domination; it's a struggle for nine miles of physical fitness. (Please don't make me walk nine miles in the rain again).

The battle has already been won in the pubs of Moscow. The philosophy of Saturday afternoon was aptly stated many years ago by a philosopher whose name I do not recall: (liberal) translation from the Greek "Kick the hell out of 'em!"

responsible from various groups involved are contacted and all problems are anticipated and worked out in advance. It's a tremendous idea, especially since it would raise school spirit."

RUTH ANN KNAPP, senior, Ethel Steel, I think it would be a great idea to go, but I think the band would have to go as a unit and be sanctioned by the University."

BOB MARLEY, senior, off campus. "I think it's a great idea. I'm glad I thought of it."

DICK LITZINGER, senior, Lindley. "I think it would be wonderful. I think it would be good to get the students out to support the team away from home for a change."

HARRY TODD, night manager of the SUB. "I think it's a tremendous idea."

Prof Discusses WSU Relations

Dr. C. Clement French, President of Washington State University, discussed the problems and the opportunities for cooperation of neighboring universities at the Faculty Forum Wednesday.

Dr. French said that although there is no formal cooperation between the U of I and WSU as a traveling scholar or a faculty exchange program, such programs would be desirable.

Hopes for such programs in the near future are dim, Dr. French pointed out, because of existing Washington statutes prohibiting it.

Century Club Selects 100 Women To Lead Student Game Spirit

One hundred girls have been selected for the newly organized Century Club, following interviews Saturday and Monday. Members of Century Club are freshmen women selected from every living group on campus and will act as official hostesses for the Vandal Rally Committee. The club plans to act as a nucleus to arouse student interest in athletics on campus, according to Bob Stanfield, Campus Club, Activities Council public relations director. Century Club will make its first appearance at the Rally to be held at MacLean Field. Members will form a funnel for the football team as it comes on the field to be introduced.

Coeds Given Later Hours

Idaho Coeds technically will have 2:30 permission for the first time in history this Saturday because of time change from Pacific Daylight time to Pacific Standard time Sunday at 2 a.m. Permission for coeds to be out until 1:30 a.m. (which is 2:30 a.m. daylight time) standard time Saturday, was granted yesterday by Mrs. Marjory Neely, Dean of Women. A statement to the Argonaut from Mrs. Neely's office said:

When Ralph Terry goes golfing...
'Chap Stick' goes along!
"With today's heavy schedules," says this Yankee ace, "I just can't sneak in much golf during the ball season. So I don't really hit the courses till October. The weather's cool, and that's trouble for my lips. To soothe them, I always use 'Chap Stick'. It takes away that uncomfortable, dry feeling—helps heal sore lips fast—summer or winter. With 'Chap Stick' along—on the diamond or golf course—I don't worry about my lips, just my game!"
A favorite in Canada. The lip balm selected for use by the U.S. Olympic Team.

This year's Homecoming promises to be the greatest in many a year. The toughest Vandal football team in years is really "up" for the game with the "cowardly Cougars" from Moo U.

The Athletic Dept. is predicting a crowd of 18,000 and the Idaho students are so confident of a Vandal victory that they have already thrown away their walking shoes.

We invite you to look around your campus and participate in the many activities taking place this weekend. Meet old friends, cheer your heart out for the Vandals, Dance, Dine, and above all have a good time.

Original 1922-24 Pep Band Plans Reunion At Idaho

The Idaho campus will recall the sounds of "Dixieland" music when the founders of the 1922-23, 1923-24 original University Pep Band return for the Washington State-Idaho Homecoming game.

Although the group won't "strike up the music", eight of the 15 members of the band will visit Idaho for a reunion this weekend, according to Jim Lyle, alumni secretary.

"Back when pep bands were pep bands," the University's band played an extremely important part in pre-game activities, he said. They weren't subsidized and they paid their own expenses because they just liked to play music together.

Al Marineau of Hollywood, Calif., has taken initiative in helping organize the reunion of the group, said Lyle.

"Dixieland" is favorite "Dixieland" music was a favorite of both fans and members of the band. Jazz was not far behind and the band stomped out a piece that made students really move, he said.

"They used to have a piano player who could play nothing else, so they gave him a horn and he marched with it just because they needed a piano player," said Lyle.

Celebration Dinner The reunion squad will have a celebration dinner at the Moscow Hotel. They will sit as a body at the game and will be introduced to the crowd.

Attending from the original pep band are: Paul Atwood, Winchester, Mass.; F. C. Shenberger, Twin Falls; Fred J. (Lefty) Marineau, Portland, Ore.; Al Marineau, Hollywood, 28, Calif.; Howard ("Hod") Taylor, New York, N.Y.; Lynn Hersey, Aberdeen, Wash.; Eugene Ostrander, Twin Falls.

Taylor was on the Idaho campus three weeks ago but is going to return from New York City for the reunion.

Another band alumni who is the president of a chemical company called long distance from the East to inform Jim Lyle, he was coming.

Lynn Hersey of Aberdeen, Wash., organized the original pep band in 1922.

Paid For Transportation
 The band played at a few dances to make enough money to pay for transportation and other expenses, Lyle said.

The group wore white sweaters with an "I" down the front. Three of the original members are deceased: Sven Moe, Doy McKinley, and Francis Eldridge. Others who will not be able to attend include: Erick Leithe of Seattle, Wash.; Ruford Eugene Powell; Vernon Walters; Elmer Wyland.

LBJ vs. H2O On Mock Ballot
 A "mock" Presidential and Vice Presidential election will be sponsored by the Idaho Center for Education in Politics (ICEP) on the same date as class elections.

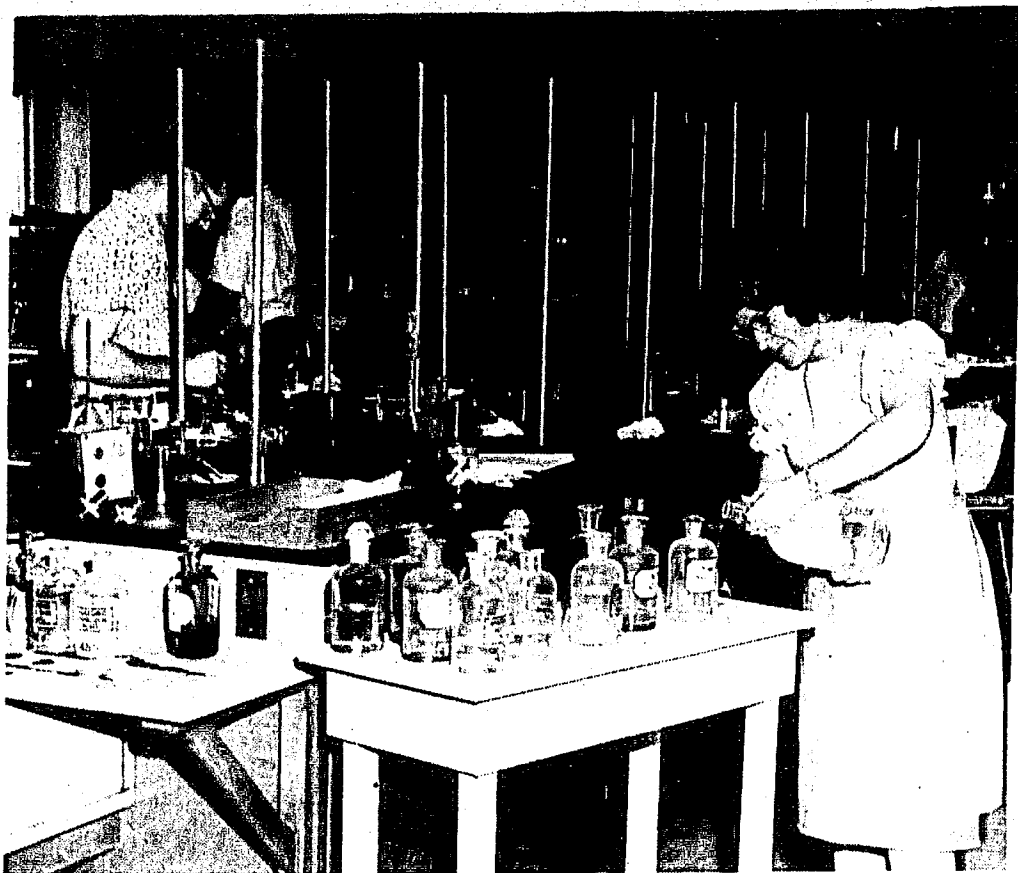

In addition to the national voting state, students will be handed a questionnaire to determine voter patterns and election behavior, according to Sue Solomon, Theta, president. The questionnaire is strictly for statistical purposes only and no names will be identified or released, she said.

TV Program Is On Legislators
 The ASUI is sponsoring a television program over KUID concerning the state legislatures Thursday at 7 p.m., according to Gerald Huettig, Delta Sig, E-Board member.

The program will include a panel discussion. Questions will be directed by students to President D. R. Theophilus, Vice President Walter Stephens, ASUI President Jim Johnston, and another faculty member, said Huettig.

Larry Grimes, Beta, E-Board member, will moderate the panel show.

"The program will tell the reasons why the state legislatures will be visiting our campus. I hope students will realize the importance of the program," said Bill McCann, SAE, E-Board member.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS study in one of the many physics and chemistry laboratories in the new Physical Sciences Building to be dedicated tomorrow. Former University president Jesse Buchanan will highlight the ceremonies.

'Victorious' Idaho Football Alums To Reunite Here This Weekend

The alumni of 1923-26 will remember the "outhouse" on top of a pile of sticks and newspapers labeled "WSC Administration Building."

Idaho alumni of the 1924, 1925, 1926, and 1954 football squads will visit Idaho for a reunion this weekend.

Each has something in common — an Idaho victory over the Washington State Cougars.

Eighteen of the members of the victorious football squads will converge at the University to see Idaho's first victory over the Cougars in ten years, Jim Lyle, alumni secretary, hopefully said.

Freshmen used to build a large bonfire and place an outside toilet on top with the sign "WSC (Washington was only a college then) Administration Building," said Lyle. Freshmen had to watch guard over the bonfire all night to keep WSC students from destroying it.

WSC Rents Airplane
 One time WSC students even rented an airplane and flew over the bonfire late that evening to upset Idaho's replica of their Ad building, said Lyle.

Matty Mathews coached the teams of 1923-26 to victory. Mathews moved to St. Louis University from Idaho.

Idaho slaughtered the Cougars in 1923-24, 14 to nothing. The following year the margin widened to a 19-3 victory for the Vandals. In 1925-26 Idaho slipped passed WSC with a one point margin of 7-6. This ended the Vandals' winning streak for 29 years.

Jim Lyle recalled the 1924-25 game.

"It was 3 to nothing with 7 minutes to go in the game when Matty put Harry Reget (not of St. Louis) as a substitute quarterback into the game. We dangled them all over the field then," he said.

Attendance at the 1924-25 game was 10,000 said Lyle. This was a large crowd for the old MacClean Field. Wood en bleachers were strung up and down both sides.

Alumni Return To See Homecoming
 Members of the 1923-26 football teams returning to the University this weekend to see Idaho tangle with WSU in the annual clash include: Bud Bliss, Hermiston, Ore. (1924); Orville Jones, Lebanon, Ore. (1923-24); Wallace York, Oakland, Calif. (1924); and possibly others, according to Lyle.

The group will hold a celebration dinner at the Moscow Hotel, sit as a body at the game, and be introduced to the crowd.

"Dry Spell" For 29 Years
 The 1925-26 football team was the last to smell the blood of victory over the Cougars until 29 years later in 1954 when the "dry spell" ended.

The Oct. 26, '54 "Arg" explained the students jubilation over the 10-0 victory in this way, "Idaho students put away their party hats this morning and returned to classes after about the biggest week end since the Ad Building burned in 1906."

When the Vandals upset the Cougars for the first time since 1925, Acting President D. R. Theophilus gave the student body a free Monday.

"It's a little bonus, something I've been waiting for 29 years," said Theophilus.

Idaho completely dominated the ball game on both offense and defense. The Cougars were able to shake their big threat, Duke Washington, loose but once and that was for 20 yards, the longest pickup by any Cougar. Washington's favorite play was a spinner play off tackle and guard.

Final Score: 10-0
 The final score was 10-0 and many of the 12,000 attending shifted Coach Skip Stahley up in the air and marched him around the field. Idaho students scrambled onto the field and tore the goal posts down.

The general feeling, according to the Oct. 26 "Arg" was that "most Vandal backers felt Idaho would play a good game, but few looked for the first Cougar beating since 1925."

The Saturday night post game rally was attended by 1500 students as the team and coaches marched down Moscow's main street, where they were introduced over a portable loud speaker system.

1954-55 Vandal Alumni
 Fifteen of the members of the 1954-55 Vandal team returning for Homecoming include: Ed Barton, Boise, Ida.; Fred Magee, Royal City, Wash.; Marshall Jones, Pilot Rock, Ore.; Ted Frostenson, Spokane, Wash.; Jim Faulkner, Bliss, Ida.; Mel Schmidt, Spokane, Wash.; Gene White, Springfield, Ore.; John Armitage, Dubois, Ida.; Bill Lawr, Walla Walla, Wash.; George Eidam, Boise; Burdett Hess, Calgary, Alberta, Canada; Paul Giles, Sacramento, Calif.; Frank Tevterbaugh, Reardon, Wash.; Mike Hepler, Walla Walla; Burch Roark, Spokane.

The reunion group will meet at the Moscow Hotel for a celebration dinner and sit as a group at the game.

VANDALS SCATTER WOLVE
 The Idaho Vandals defeated the Nevada Wolves by a score of 26-6 in 1935.

Greek Week, Elections Discussed By IFC Members At '64 Retreat

Discussion of a Greek Week and election procedures were two of the topics at the Interfraternity Council last weekend in Lewiston.

All fraternity presidents, IFC officers, officers elect, and Guy Wicks, assistant dean of students, attended the meet.

Items on the agenda included requirements for IFC scholarship award, discussion of a Greek Week; discussion of different orientation programs, scholarship programs, and disciplinary programs.

Greek Week will be held next spring, according to Larrk Hook, Theta Chi, chairman. Activities under consideration include: exchange dinners, guest speakers and forums, an all-Greek project, and officer workshops.

A businessman, faculty member, or a national officer of one of the Greek houses will participate in each session, said Hook.

A Greek Awards Banquet and a Greek Dance were proposed but no committees were appointed, he said.

The purpose of the IFC Retreat was to "have all fraternity presidents together working for a common goal," said Hook. "The work of IFC is improved through better cooperation among the 16 members. After such a retreat, each president knows the other 16 better and is not as hesitant to ask for advice or assistance," he added.

Scholarship Requirements Changed
 The scholarship requirements for the all-house scholarship trophy were changed from first semester to the full year. The pledge trophy is still for the first semester.

House managers were advised to check all fire arms in their houses and to keep track of them, according to Larry Hook, Theta Chi, chairman of the IFC retreat.

Dr. George Watkins, past national secretary of Pi Kappa Alpha, spoke at the Friday night banquet in the Lewis-Clark Hotel.

Requirements for house mothers passed by the group include a minimum work schedule of 20 hours a month, and a maximum of $50 a month salary, said Hook.

Elections Scheduled
 Election of new IFC officers is scheduled the first Thursday in November. Nomination and election procedures were explained.

IFC officers this past year are Larry Nye, Phi Delt, president; Dick Mace, Lambda Chi, vice president; Mick Morfitt, SAE, secretary; Paul Henden, Phi Tau, treasurer; Duane Golcochea, Delt; publicity chairman; and Gary Mahn, Sigma Nu, rush chairman.

The members attending the retreat decided to establish a constitutional revision committee.

Approximately 30 participated in the discussion groups, banquet and other activities, said Hook.

Steve Haskins represented the new Pi Kappa Alpha colony.

'Hot' Tickets Are On Sale

Arboretum tickets have been on sale in the ASUI office for about three weeks and freshmen have been urged to drop by and pick them up.

Some reports say they have gone like hot cakes, others say they have sold a few, but the question is, who needs one?

"Well, what do you think you need one for . . . and you had better hurry, they are now selling at a discount of only $1.25 instead of the usual $1.50, said Sandi Laughlin, ASUI Administrative Assistant.

The seasonal tickets have begun to be traditional around a few fraternity houses for the last few years. Freshmen, unaware that a season ticket is not actually required for arboretum activities, have conscientiously been buying the tickets; and later, humbly returning to the office to have their money refunded, according to Mrs. Laughlin.

"Two years ago, the boys who bought the tickets were too embarrassed to return to get their money," she said. "The money is still in the office."

 "Sales have gone up 100 percent this year, according to Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager. "We have a special this week because of the WSU game; two for one, plus one cent." Students aren't buying one cent snipe hunting tickets, though," he said. "Elevator tickets for the library can be purchased for only $1.25, at the complex," he added. "They can get the whole elevator for that."

Student Cars Checked By APO

About 200 student cars went through a safety check line Friday and Saturday sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, University service fraternity, according to Gary Strong, Upham, president.

About one half of the cars did not pass the check for one reason or another, according to Strong. Those which did not pass did not receive safety stickers.

The cars were checked for safety of brakes, lights, signals, exhaust, steering and tires, along with other devices.

Members of the fraternity did the checking, following the National Safety Council Guidebook. They worked in conjunction with the University Security Center. Chairman of the safety check was Roger Lackey, McConnell.

"We hope and plan to it again, preferably making it an annual affair," Strong commented.

Prof Selected For National Lecture Tour

Dr. Malcolm M. Renfrew, head of physical sciences and professor of chemistry, has again been selected to be on nationwide call to lecture to high schools and community groups.

Each year 50 teachers of chemistry throughout the United States are selected by the American Chemical Society to participate in a program of visiting scientists in chemistry to lecture in high schools.

The program is sponsored by the National Science Foundation with the purpose of encouraging talented students to follow chemistry as a profession.

Arrangements for visitors are made through local sections of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Renfrew has served as chairman of two of the professional divisions of the society and was an industrial research director before coming to Idaho in 1959.

Vandals On The Road

CORVALLIS BOUND — It's Friday morning and the Vandals are heading for one of their eight road games this year. The plane ride means time for different things to coaches and team members. For Head Coach Dee Andros, (upper left) it's time for analysis of the opponent's strengths and weaknesses, time to once again go over Vandal strategy for tomorrow's game. For Paul Lawrence it is a time for relaxation and meditation. For others (upper right), Max Leet-zow, Vern Leyde, Stan Burratto and Backfield Coach John Easterbrook, there is time to polish that bridge game. Leet-zow and Burratto are working for master points. (lower right) John Boisen reads the paper, Bill Bufton studies, Joe Rodriguez, John Fouria and Butch Slaughter relax and catch up on sleep. At the end of the trip, Coach Andros gets a birthday cake from some of his supporters. These pictures were taken on the Vandal flight to Corvallis last weekend, but they could have been made on almost any Vandal trip.

Vandal Frosh—Pups Clash In 1st Home Game Today

The Vandal Frosh will clash with the University of Washington Husky Pups in their second game of the season and first home game at Neale Stadium today at 1:30 p.m.

Frosh Coach Bud Riley expects a "real tough" battle as the two teams take the field. This is the first game of the season for the Pups, but they are big and well conditioned, according to Riley.

The U of W Frosh also have Don Moore, a 200-lb. fullback from Tacoma, Wash., who was the 6th ranked high school player in the United States last year. Riley is depending on quarterback Paul Gentle, who was outstanding in last week's game in Boise; Ron McKinstry and Darrell Danielson, both halfbacks; and Steve Spyer and Steve Ulrick, who did fine jobs on defense against Boise Junior College, to lead the Frosh to victory.

At BJC In the Frosh's opening game last Saturday against BJC, the Vandal babes were delt a 33-10 defeat.

"BJC had played five games before they met us," Riley said, "and they were a little too strong for us." The Broncos used a platoon system, and just wore the team down, he added. "We were in the game all the way until the final two minutes of the third quarter," Riley said, "they blocked a punt and scored, kicked off and recovered a fumble and scored, and ran over one more tally — all in about three minutes."

Last Year Big Ray McDonald led the Vandal Frosh past the Pups last year by a 32-18 margin. McDonald rushed for 210 yards in that encounter.

The Frosh went on last year to a 2-1 record, losing to strong Columbia Basin 28-0. They shut out the Washington State Cou-babes 36-0, to highlight the season. Line-up On the line — James Evans, left tackle Lyle Bergstrom, left guard; Steve Ulrick, center; Karl Klenske, right guard; Steve Spyer, right tackle; Larry Santchl, right end; and Rich Toney, split end. In the backfield — Paul Gentle, quarterback; Dennis McCanna, halfback; Pat Davidson, wingback; and Mike Woolrick, fullback.

First Win In Decade Could Break WSU Jinx

By JACK MARSHALL Argonaut Sports Editor

Ever since the Vandal silver and gold beat the Cougar pink and blue to open a lasting foot-ball rivalry in 1893, 10-0, Idaho has generally come up on the short end of the score.

Not much has changed through the past. The Cougars have replaced pink and blue with crimson and gray, but Idaho still dominates the short end of the score with regular consistency.

Times change and so do scores. And tomorrow may be the biggest change in a decade of the rivalry, as the Vandals go against the Cougars in the 65th Battle of the Palouse as odds-on favorites to win.

Even though the Cougars hold a 49-14 edge in the series, have managed to shut Idaho down the last 10 years, and have two more wins this season than the Vandals, they are playing the underdog role.

A factor in the rating has been Idaho's two close losses to Oregon and Oregon State. The Ducks squeaked past the Vandals 14-8 and the Beavers edged Idaho 10-7.

As far as close wins go, WSU's last two over the Vandals have gone right to the wire. In 1962 Cougar Dave Mathieson passed to record-setting end Hugh Campbell to break a tie and win the game.

Last year Idaho took the lead on a field goal by Mike Mayne, but WSU's Bill Gaskins flagged down a kickoff on his own eight yards, Williams shares a half-back spot with him.

Gaskins is back and he has a friend named Clarence Williams who is near the top of the AAUW in rushing this year with 443 yards, that shares a halfback spot with him.

Idaho's backfield is not without its threats. And as it is said — the best defense against a good offense is a better offense. With powerhouse fullback Ray McDonald in the backfield, the Vandals could have just that. McDonald is currently leading the Vandals in rushing with an average of 5.6 yards per carry, and has only played one full game.

The way the cards are stacked a trend may be broken. The Vandals could turn the trick!

Ex-Sooner Grid Stars To Match Coaching Skills

Two of the Northwest's most famous "sooners" will get together tomorrow in one of the Northwest's oldest football rivalries.

That's when Idaho Head Coach Dee Andros leads his Vandal grid squad against Washington State's Bert Clark and the Cougars. Both Andros and Clark are ex-football stars from the University of Oklahoma.

Andros played on the Sooners' varsity squad four seasons and in three post season bowl games — Gator Bowl in 1947, — and the Sugar Bowl in 1949 and 1950 — and came out on top every time.

Andros played on the Sooners' varsity squad four seasons and in three post season bowl games — Gator Bowl in 1947, — and the Sugar Bowl in 1949 and 1950 — and came out on top every time.

Clark, too, has had a taste of bowl game victory. He was Andros' teammate in 1949 and 1950, one year that Oklahoma was nearly the unanimous choice for National Champion. Clark played center and line-backer and Andros filled a guard spot right next to him.

They won't be side-by-side tomorrow, but will face each other across a 50-yard-wide, chalk bordered, arena, an arena similar to ones fought in together 14 years ago.

Andros coached on the Oklahoma staff in 1951 — the last year Clark was on the team. Since then the Vandal mentor has been an assistant coach at Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl in 1956 and California in the Rose Bowl in 1959.

Since coming to Idaho in 1961, Andros has given Vandal fans a new trend in football play. He coached the Vandals to a winning 5-4 record last year — the first coach to turn the trick since Ted Bank led the Vandals to a 6-3 mark in 1938.

Following graduation from Oklahoma in 1952, Clark played one year of professional football with Calgary in Canada, then spent two years in the U.S. Army.

The Cougar coach had his first coaching job as an assistant at the University of Arkansas in 1956, where the Razor-backs ran up a 7-3 record that year.

In 1957, Clark moved to the University of Washington under Head Coach Jim Owens, also an ex-teammate at Oklahoma, where he spent six seasons.

This is his first year at WSU, and he has managed to give the Cougars a 3-2 record so far.

Crafts Wanted For SUB Room

A survey of student interest concerning possible uses of the new Arts and Crafts Room of the Student Union Building is being conducted by the Arts and Crafts Committee, according to Dianne Green, Kappa, area director.

A survey sheet is being distributed to the activity chairmen of each living group on campus. Results will be compiled to determine uses for the Arts and Crafts Room.

Crafts suggested by the committee are ceramics, cake decorating, knitting, graphic arts, seed pictures, mosaic pictures, jewelry making, painting.

Intramural Football Enters Final Week; League Leaders Get Set

This is the week to do something about your future!

This week the Bell System recruiting team will be on your campus. They're here to talk to people who want to put their educations to work in the fast-growing, fast-moving communications business. Maybe that includes you. We're interested in engineering, business and liberal arts seniors who have done well and who expect to keep on doing well. We want people who are acquiring the habit of success. We can strengthen it. The Bell System is where people find solutions to exciting problems. Bell System companies are equal opportunity employers. If you haven't done so already, you owe it to yourself to find out what the Bell System can offer you. Sign up now at the Placement Office for an appointment with our representatives. This might be the week your future comes into focus.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO LIBRARY

Andros-Vandals Hope To End 10 Year Cougar Jinx

The Vandals will be out to break a double jinx on Saturday when they host the Washington State University Cougars, and Coach Dee Andros has been making special preparations this week.

Idaho will seek to end this season's four-game losing streak and a dry spell against the Cougars which dates back to 1954.

And, Andros and his staff have been instilling incentive as well as new plays to the Vandal football game this week.

If Willie Gaskins' last quarter touchdown kickoff return which overturned an apparent Idaho victory, 14-0, and the ensuing nine-mile "annual" walk last year was not enough for the Vandals to seek revenge against the Cougars, Andros added a new wrinkle this week.

Cougar Lard
Four signs greeted the Vandals on their way to the practice field:

"This is Cougar Country, so they say!"

"The Cougars must die for the Vandals to make hay!"

"Block them, tackle them real hard!"

"Vandals like muffins baked in Cougar Lard!"

And once on the field, the Vandals practiced to the tune of the Cougar growl, piped in over the public address system.

The result has been a twist to better so far as the Vandals are concerned. Instead of rated "without a chance," as in most years when the Battle of the Palouse rolls around, Andros' charges are expected to make a good account of themselves.

This is evidenced by the best pre-game ticket sales to touch the Idaho campus since 1957.

Physical Work
All of the Vandals' preparation this week has not been psychological. Andros has held controlled scrimmages for his squad since Tuesday.

Hold Williams
His chief concern on defense has been in finding a way to stop the Cougar offense, and this to Andros means calling Clarence Williams, the Cougar halfback who is ranked eighth nationally in rushing.

Linebacker Dick Litzinger, out of the lineup since he strained his knee in the 22-0 loss to Utah, will be back to help out with this chore. He is expected to see duty at his middle linebacker

Vandal Win Over WSU Predicted

"I think the Vandals will win tomorrow, but I'm not naive enough to think the Cougars will come here and play dead," was the way Dee Andros, head football coach, addressed Vandal Boosters this week.

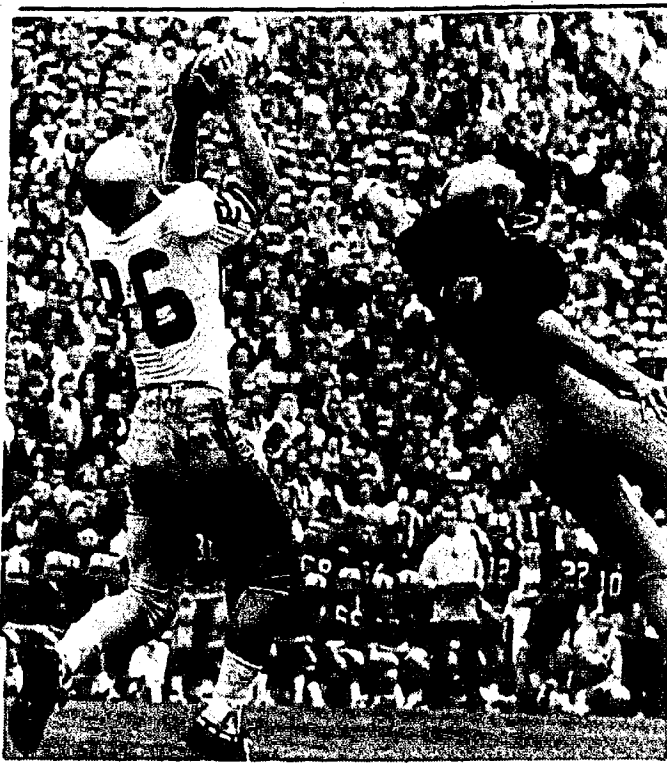

The Vandals are sick and tired of playing great football and losing, Andros said, and they are ready to chew up anything that wears crimson and gray.

Andros, in regard to his prediction of victory, said, "I just planted a new tree in my yard and I hope to be around to watch it grow."

It is true that Washington State has some fine running backs, "but we've got some things the Cougars are worrying about and not the least of them is big Ray McDonald," Andros commented.

McDonald has done a fantastic job, especially to the fact that one leg is an inch and one-half smaller around than the other due to being in a cast, the Vandal mentor said.

No matter what the pre-game predictions indicate, it will be a rough and tough football match tomorrow, he commented.

GRABS ANOTHER ONE — Vern Leyde (86) gets behind defender and goes high in the air to snare a Monahan pass for a 10 yard gain against Iowa.

Football Has Spotlight; Basketball Coming On

Football has the spotlight these days, but that doesn't keep Jim Goddard's basketballers from being active, too.

The Vandal hoopsters will stage a full scale scrimmage for homecoming fans who would like a sneak preview of the 1964 Vandal basketball squad tomorrow morning at 10:15 in Memorial gym.

"We're in fine physical shape," Goddard said. "The squad returned in as fine a physical shape as I've ever seen for the opening of practice. But we've still a long way to go before we're ready for our first game."

Goddard divided his squad into two eight-man teams. Veterans Chuck Kozak, a 6-4, two-year letterman forward, and last year's scoring and rebounding leader, Tom Moreland, head the "white" team.

Letterman Jim McElroy is listed at forward. Lettermen Jay Anderson, Ed Haskins and Terry Hensen are at guards along with sophomore Rod Bowman and squadman Don Sowar. Haskins and Anderson were starters last year.

Vandal Harriers To Test League Strength—Meet MU, MSC Today

The University of Idaho cross-country team will "test the strength of the league," Coach Doug MacFarlane said, as the harriers meet Montana and Montana State College today, in Missoula, Mont.

from 14 different schools throughout the area. Coming Up

Next week the harriers will travel to Spokane and the Junior

Mens 10,000 meter (6 1/4 miles) event. The IEAU meet will feature outstanding non-Olympic runners from all parts of the United States.

Leyde—Leading Receiver—Is An End Doing A Job

The Palouse Country Colleges have always been noted for the fine ends that they have turned out since the end of World War II, so it's a little hard for people to get steamed up over Vern Leyde.

He's just another good end doing his job each Saturday afternoon for the Idaho Vandals. The fact that he has been the team's leading receiver for the past two seasons and is apparently headed for the same honor again this year is taken for granted.

After his first game as a sophomore, Leyde had benched the first-team split end, who also happened to be one of the team's co-captains, and has been in the starting lineup ever since.

Gains Spot
With Idaho trailing 45-0 and seven minutes left in the first game of the '62 season, Coach Dee Andros benched his first and second units, sending in 11 sophomores. "I wanted to keep our regulars from getting banged up any more than they already had," Andros said at the time. Rookie Mike Whiles (now Idaho's safety man and defensive quarterback) was running the team. He hit Leyde with four straight strikes, the last one for a touchdown. Utah State won the game, 45-7, but Leyde had himself a varsity job. He went on that season to catch 11 more passes and score another touchdown. His four receptions against the Aggies was an individual high for the season and the 64 yards he gained receiving against Montana led the squad. His 45-yard grab in Missoula was also the longest of the year.

Grabs 14
As a junior, Leyde caught 14 passes, including four against Washington State for an individual high. His 86 yards against the Cougars was also tops for the team. His 46-yard reception in that game was the longest non-scoring pass of the season. (Fullback Galen Rogers caught one for 51 yards and a touchdown against Fresno State.)

This season Leyde got a little help. Andros decided to use a defensive wild card at split end so that the former Rogers all-city end can get a rest when the Vandals are not on defense. So far it has paid off. Leyde has ten catches to date and four games to go.

Keeps His Shirt
Consistent performance keeps Leyde wearing the gold shirt of a first team end. Last season he added kick returns to his collection of activities and ran back six for 74 yards.

Silver and Gold not only are the colors of the University of Idaho but are also the color of Head Coach Dee Andros' game shoes.

His shoes, a pair of golf shoes with 14 karat gold spikes were presented to him by the Moscow Elks Golf Club during fall camp.

When Kenneth Jordan, the course pro, presented the shoes to the coach he told the Vandals who were watching "We know that we can't improve his golf game, but we can improve his appearance."

Dee has been wearing the shoes when he leads his charging team on the field, ever since.

IDAHO FROSH DUMP PUPS 24-14

The Idaho Frosh broke a third quarter tie with a field goal and a touchdown to beat the Washington Frosh 24-14 for the fourth time in five years here yesterday.

"We ran hard, hit hard and we won," Coach Bud Riley summed it up.

The Idaho Frosh are now 1-1 and the Washington Pups are 0-1. The Vandal Babes play the Montana State University frosh next Saturday in their next outing.

The Pups sprang halfback Paul Gastonlate in the first quarter for a 55 yard jaunt and a touchdown to open the scoring.

By then the Vandal Babes had their feet on the ground, and ground out a touchdown in 13 plays. Quarterback Paul Gentle set it up with a 29 yard keeper play, and Denny McCanna dived over from the one.

Before intermission, Mitchell tossed a pass in the flat to Pat Davidson and the Spokane seatback scampered 55 yards for another tally.

Gaston and fullback Dan Moore teamed up with a running game in the second half to tie the score 14-14.

But Danielson kicked over a field goal from the 19-yard line early in the fourth quarter, and set up the final tally with another 33-yard run. McCanna scored his second TD of the afternoon with four minutes remaining, and the Idaho defense put the lid on the Pup passing attack.

The Vandals outgained the Pups 323 yards to 199. McCanna had 98 of those Idaho yards for 4.9 yard-per-carry. Rich Toney snared six passes for 81 yards to top the receivers.

The Idaho defense allowed Moore 104 yards but kept the Pup quarterback to a total of minus 23 yards rushing and one for eight in passing and seven yards.

The Idaho offense came alive in the second quarter and didn't stop until they had the Washington State Cougars well by the tail as the Vandals made Homecoming complete, winning 28-13.

"The Washington State defense was about what I expected. In the first quarter, it just took us a little while to adjust and find where we could go through because they were playing their linebackers in a little bit," Head Coach Dee Andros said.

But after the first quarter, the Vandals ran through the Cougars all day with Big Ray McDonald leading the way. McDonald set a new record for number of Vandal carries with 34 — one more than the entire Cougar team. His new record beat 30 carries set by Larry Nordby against Oregon State in 1950.

"We ran McDonald a lot. That gave the other boys better holes," Andros said pointing to the continual threat of the big sophomore.

In the fourth quarter, a third-down - thirteen - to - go touchdown pass from Quarterback Mike Monahan to Joe Chapman, fell just short of another record. The play covered 77 yards. Only the 80 yard touchdown pass by the same pair against Iowa four weeks ago is better in the Vandal record books.

Earlier in the game Monahan had completed long passes to Chapman and Vern Leyde. In the opening of the second quarter, Monahan passes to Chapman in a play which took the Vandals 44 yards, just one yard short of scoring. McDonald came through on the next play to do that and give the Vandals a 6-0 margin.

"Any time you have as good a defensive team as the Cougars, and you get by them a couple of times with a long pass, it shakes them," Andros said.

Another combination that worked well for the Vandals was the Monahan to "Tom-Tom" Morris pitchout. The play got the Vandals good yardage several times, some of them when they could have been in a spot.

Andros had words of praise for his whole team after the game. When he came up to the press box after the victory, beads of sweat were running down the coach's face.

"You'd think that I had been out there playing," he said.

Just before the game, the Vandals received a telegram wishing them well. It said:

"Cleveland, Ohio — Good luck Saturday. Beat Washington State for Dee." It was signed Jim Moran, a former Idaho great who signed for this season with the New York Giants.

Prexy Plans No Holiday Monday

There will not be a holiday on Monday if the University wins the Homecoming game with Washington State University, President D. R. Theophilus announced today.

"Rumors have been circulating on the campus this week that a holiday would be granted should the University win Saturday's football game. It is hoped that we will win, but the rumors of a holiday are definitely unfounded," Theophilus said.

18,620 WATCHED

Official attendance for the Idaho-WSU Homecoming clash was 18,620—not counting about 150 WSU students who watched free from a hillside above Neale Stadium.
