

President Outlines The University Needs

Fans And Band Exodus To Boise

Snowy roads greeted the first of several groups of students headed to Boise for the Business Symposium or for the football game Saturday.

Sheriff Reports
The Latah County Sheriff's department reported roads to be snow-covered most of the way to Boise and urged students to drive carefully.

About 23 students left for Boise Thursday afternoon to attend a business symposium that is jointly sponsored by the Moscow and Boise Chambers of Commerce.

Student Leaving
Other students bound for the University of Idaho-Utah State football game in Boise Saturday have been leaving since Thursday evening with the bulk of them expected to leave after classes Friday. No estimate has been made on the number of students expected to attend the Boise game.

Band Gone
The University Marching Band left this morning at 7 a.m. via chartered Greyhound buses. The band was accompanied by Warren Bellis, Phillip Coffman, and Daniel Bachelder, all from the Music department. Mrs. Daniel Bachelder accompanied the group as a chaperone. The band will have a part in the official half-time ceremonies at the game and will return to Moscow Sunday morning. College students from South Idaho, Utah and Oregon will also be in attendance at the Boise Business Symposium. The total number of students in attendance at the symposium will be approximately 150.

Alumni There
Alumni activities will center around post-game functions at the Boise Elks Temple. Alumni from South Idaho and Utah are expected to attend although in years past the stadium at Boise Junior College has not been filled to capacity for the annual University game at Boise.

Services Set Saturday For Student

The funeral for Tommy Lee Berrong, 20, a University of Idaho sophomore, who died Tuesday from injuries received from an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound, will be held Saturday at the Peckham-Dakan-Davis Chapel at Caldwell. Berrong died shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday at Deaconess Hospital in Spokane.

He had been rushed to Spokane from Moscow Monday afternoon in an effort to save his life after he had been shot behind his right eye. His brother, Frederick, had found him unconscious in the room they shared at Willis Sweet Hall at about 10:45 a.m. Monday.

He was a mechanical engineering major at the University in his third year of a five year program. Both he and his brother attended the University under provisions of the War Orphans Education Assistance Act. His father was killed in World War II. In addition to his brother, he is survived by his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Gale F. Sersain, Tucson, Ariz.

Moscow Possible Dream For Many Says Foreign Student At Idaho

By JANICE CRAIG Argonaut Contributor
What Moscow would provide a dream world for many in the world, said Anne Sundby, junior foreign exchange student from Oslo, Norway.
"You should learn to relax and appreciate what you have," she said. "There is so little time in America that you're busy, busy, busy all the time."
She is staying at the Gamma Phi house. Part of her transportation and tuition expenses are paid by the American Field Service.
"My visit here will make the world seem bigger for the rest of my life," she said. "This is just the age to learn and to know your self better."
Three Universities
There is a necessity for college-age students in Norway to go other places to school, Anne said. Norway has only three universities which do not supply room for those desiring a college education.
"When people find out I am a chemistry major, there is always a long face," she said. "But it is not unusual for women to major in chemistry at home."
After graduation she plans to work as a bio-chemist in a hospital or to teach.
Career Preparation
In preparation for this career she is now taking physical chemistry, bio-chemistry and physics. Typing and tennis and bowling fill out the rest of her schedule.
Besides classes, Anne is following the need that she feels all Americans have—that they have something to do at all SENATORS VISIT — U. S. Senator Len B. Jordan and State Senator Nalley, Gem county, are welcomed to the University by Jim Lyle, alumni secretary.

International Students Day Scheduled At U-I

Foreign exchange students will be recognized and Americans will have the opportunity to become more familiar with the customs practiced in foreign countries Nov. 21 and 22 during a weekend celebration of International Student Days at the University.

The celebration will center around international participation and cooperation as a mock United Nations session, a soccer game and a variety show featuring dances from each of the countries represented on the campus are planned, according to Pat Oberoi, off campus chairman of International Student Relations committee.

Foreign and American students will represent 50 countries at the session which will be held Sat., Nov. 21 in the SUB Ballroom. Topics which will be discussed at the session include, "Admission of Red China to the United Nations," and "Apartheid Policy of South Africa," according to Pat Oberoi, off campus committee chairman.

Students will represent the regular stands of the countries they represent. Members of the International Student Days committee have sent to the various countries for information on their policy, Oberoi indicated.

A First
International Student Days is being held for the first time at the University of Idaho, said Oberoi.

A fashion show will be presented Saturday evening in the Borah Theatre. Twenty different foreign costumes will be model-

U-I Directory On Sale In SUB

Kampus Keys, the University student directory, are on sale in the ASUI office and are also being sold by members of Blue Key and Mortar Board.

The Keys are 75 cents for students and $1.00 for non-students. Members of the honorary will be selling the Kampus Keys downtown next week.

Radio KUOI Will Celebrate Its Nineteenth Anniversary

Radio KUOI will celebrate its nineteenth anniversary with an open house Sunday from 2 to 11 in their studios.
"We're nineteen years old Sunday and we're back on the air after a couple of years of being relatively inactive," said Al Burgermeister, KUOI station manager.

The open house will be held at the studios on the third floor of the Student Union Building, he said.

Sophs Plan Holly Week Committees

Plans for Holly Week get under way next week when Sophomore Extended Board begins interviewing for committee chairmen. Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Sawtooth Room of the Student Union Building.
Many students are expected to try out for various committee positions which plan the week's activities set for December 7 through 12, according to Dick Rush, sophomore class president.

Angel Flight Pledges Are Initiated By Air Society

Philip E. Peterson, Dean of the Idaho law school, was the guest speaker at a buffet preceding the initiation of new members to the Air Force "Angel Flight," AFROTC sponsors group, and the Arnold Air Society Tuesday evening in the SUB.

Peterson, a Lt. Col. in the Air Force Reserve and commander of the local reserve squadron, emphasized the necessity for military personnel to acquire advanced education, especially before entering the service.

The Idaho AFROTC unit presented Peterson with an AFROTC Meritorious Award in recognition of the support he has provided for AFROTC through his reserve officer affiliation since 1953.

Angel Flight Initiated

Angel Flight pledges initiated at the buffet are Second Lieutenants Nancy Andrus and Nancy O'Rourke, Gamma Phi; Margo Dunham and Peggy Reed, DG; Anne Edwards, French; Dawn Hasfurth, Forene; Andee Kanta, Alpha Phi; Bibby Ogletree, off campus; Pam Poffenroth, Kappa; Bobby Smith, Houston, and Linda Tschikof and Mary Whitesel, Alpha Chi.

University Pres. Dr. D. R. Theophilus announced that the University will ask for a $25.5 million budget for the University for the coming biennium in an address to Idaho Legislators at a Thursday noon luncheon in the Student Union Building.

Dr. Theophilus said the $25,459,915 budget includes $20,687,136 in state appropriations. The general education budget, which covers operations minus agricultural and extension and research expenses, came to $18,166,091.

About 90 Legislators began their third day of meetings in Moscow this morning as guests of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce in a program attempting to acquaint Idaho lawmakers with North Idaho's problems. The lawmakers met at Lewiston Wednesday.

Need Salary Increase

One of the greatest needs of the University, Dr. Theophilus said, is to increase the staff salaries. He showed a table of 1963 figures which indicated Idaho was far behind other institutions of the same size and responsibility in salaries for instructors, assistants, associate and full professors.

The president said financial cutbacks made it impossible this year to hire any more than one instructor at a salary of $5,856.

The University is requesting a total of $3,945,270 for construction during the biennium. This request includes a college of education building ($1,262,450), an engineering laboratory building ($1,971,640), a women's physical education building ($1,080,140), a new wing on the agricultural science building ($1,499,790) and a coliseum ($3,131,240).

1,400 In Education

The president said the College of Education presently takes care of about 1,400 students involved in teacher training programs in one manner or another.

Teaching, he said, is the largest single professional or vocational interest among the students at the University and predicted that at least 2,000 students would be enrolled for teacher education by the 1973-74 school year.

He said that no new engineering laboratory space has been provided at the University since 1941. He compared the laboratory space available at other universities and colleges with that of Idaho.

He pointed out that the present women's gym was constructed in 1904 and was assigned exclusively to the women's physical education program after the completion of Memorial Gym in 1930. He said the present facilities are too small and its obsolescence prohibits offering a modern program.

Agriculture Wing

A new wing to the agricultural science building is needed to house several departments of the College of Agriculture now spread around the campus, according to Dr. Theophilus. Some federal tion of this and the engineering funds are available for construction of this and the engineering laboratory, he said.

Seating capacity for basketball games is 3,571 at Memorial Gymnasium, Dr. Theophilus said, and for commencement and public events, 3,816.

He called attention to the enrollment predictions and said the present building cannot take care of the current student needs.

A new building should have a total area of about 126,250 square feet, he said, and have a seating capacity of 8,000 for basketball games and 9,100 for public events.

Athletic Offices

Offices would be provided for the athletic staff and a stage would be installed for entertainment. In addition, parking for 1,000 cars would be adjacent to the building.

After construction of the coliseum, Memorial Gymnasium would be assigned to the Men's Physical Education department and intramural activities.

He predicted that the present enrollment, 5,173, now being held down by restrictive entrance requirements, would rise to 5,593 next year, 5,776 in the fall of 1966 and 5,893 in the fall of 1967.

Breakfast With Students

By 7 a.m. Thursday morning, the legislators-elect were eating breakfast with students from their home counties at various living groups on campus. Students had invited them personally, by wire, last week, following their elections.

Moscow Chamber of Commerce manager, Troy Bussey, had, through student body leaders, arranged for the students to host the legislators.

Before lunch yesterday, the legislators spent an hour touring the campus in six school buses. They remained in the buses while a tour guide pointed out the buildings.

Panel Discussions

During Thursday morning sessions, the legislators heard two panel discussions. At 9:30 Jack W. Murphy, Republican senator from Lincoln County, moderated a six-man panel on sources of revenue in the state.

At 10:30, Rep. Larry Mills, (R-Ada) moderated a similar panel aimed at explaining how Idaho taxes are spent.

The group heard proposed resource planning in Northern Idaho explained Thursday afternoon, as well as reports from North Idaho Chamber of Commerce vice presidents.

Jordan Speaks

U.S. Sen. Len Jordan spoke to the group about Idaho and her problems Thursday night at an informal banquet in the SUB Ballroom.

A panel on reappointment was conducted this morning with four legislators serving on the panel, Carl C. Moore, senator from Nez Perce County, informed legislators about Highway 95.

On Way To Game

Following a business sessions the legislators left for the Idaho-Utah State game in Boise tomorrow.

In addition to their visit to the University and to Moscow, the legislators toured Dworshak Dam and State Hospital North, Lewis-Clark Normal School and Lewiston Port District.

The Gadfly

By DAVID SOPER

"I... am a sort of gadfly, given to the state by God; and the state is a great and noble steed who is tardy in his motions owing to his very size, and requires to be stirred into life."

I am that gadfly which God has attached to the State, and all day long and in all places am always fastening upon you arousing, and persuading and reproaching."

While I have no divine flat in writing this column, I do believe in the necessity of honest critics in a democratic society. No group of elected officials should be free to operate without open and public discussion of their decisions and policies.

A principal weakness in electing E-Board members from the student body at large rather than from districts is the lack of identification felt by the students with the E-Board and more obviously the lack of rapport felt by E-Board members for the people they seek to represent.

They tend to assume the entire campus feels the way they do about this issue or that, falling to realize that the circle of acquaintances they draw opinions from is far from typical.

We then see the vocal few influencing policies effecting us all.

Dedicated?

Previous Boards have had visitation programs designed to get the members into various living groups where they can meet with and discuss ideas and problems with the student body rank and file.

This year's Board was no exception. Last spring, an ambitious visitation schedule was worked out. But, it is apparently inconvenient for these officials to be adequately prepared to discuss questions which may arise and it is so difficult to follow the schedule.

Many of the members just couldn't make it. After all, isn't one night a week sufficient dedication?

Buck Passing

The visitation program obviously wasn't working too well so the Board sought to remedy the situation. Thus far, all was well and good, but the decision they made as to what to do was ill considered and ill advised.

They Passed The Buck

Harry Truman, who recognized his responsibilities as the head of state, had a sign on his desk reading "the buck stops here."

The decision of the Board to make visitations only when solicited by living groups is just that easy way out that Harry S. realized he couldn't use. The Board has an inescapable obligation to all of us that cannot be so lightly tossed off. Living group presidents are naturally more concerned with more pressing problems than ASUI affairs. To expect them to come asking for information about what is happening in student government is placing the burden on the wrong shoulders.

An Obligation

E-Board has an inherent obligation to attempt to find the broadest possible forum to use as a sounding board for the many programs they consider and decisions they make. This obligation is not well met when they seek to transfer this duty to someone else.

THE WASHINGTON WATER POWER CO.

1411 E. Mission Ave. Spokane, Washington

North Idaho C. of C.

We're optimistic about the effectiveness of the Chamber of Commerce plan to show Idaho Legislators the University campus in the hope of bigger and better programs through appropriations next session.

At least the program should have worked.

The Chamber has a valid need to present, and the need was effectively presented. The Chamber mapped out every minute to make efficient use of the time the lawmakers were here. Each member was drilled on University procedure, needs, and activities for two weeks in preparation for their task.

The Legislators, we believe, are intelligent men who want what is best for the State. We could plan on having our requests granted, then, since our needs are valid and our Senators and Representatives are wise and fair, if it weren't for one last barrier—their constituents.

No matter how strongly the Legislature favors giving more money to the University, the chances of getting it are scant unless the people in their home counties agree to investing more money in education.

As a result, the task of getting more teachers with higher salaries to teach in better buildings with better labs, has hardly begun. There will be more than a few pressures on the Legislators before the final vote is taken. You can bet that not all of them will be pushing in the direction of the University of Idaho.

What can be done to see to it that the Chamber of Commerce effort has not been wasted, and to see that we come back next fall to a program of continued scholastic excellence?

Perhaps the most effective student lobby would be a program which begins now to convince the people of the State that the future of the State depends, to a significant extent, on the action of the Legislature toward the University.

A good number of important legislative decisions will be made before the group even convenes in Boise as the people in counties tell their representatives what they expect.

If the newly elected class officers are as anxious to serve the school now as they were before they were elected, a good project might be to organize Legislative pressure for the University at the local level.

The planners could organize student body members from each county into teams. The teams could map county plans to educate county residents to the wisdom of dollars invested in education, and could get voters to write and phone their representatives telling them that they favor increased appropriations to the University.

Besides being the most effective place to begin, the county level is sure to be the least expensive place to lobby. Major expenses involved would be stationery and postage, which is not true of trying to send a group of students to Boise when the Legislature is in session to worry Legislators who are already too rushed to complete their business.

Educating students to the needs of the school should not be too formidable. The Chamber of Commerce educated their members, and they have appreciably less at stake than we do. — L. B.

One of the more important aspects of the Boise game, in public relations values, is the annual banquet for south Idaho high school student body officers. Executive Board members, the ASUI President and V-P and other student officials act as hosts and good-will ambassadors to these future leaders. This year they are coming from over 20 high schools throughout the state.

"Ingo" Johannesen, ASUI P. R. Director, has spent many long hours in planning what appears will be one of the better banquets held. Unfortunately and somewhat curiously, five of the nine elected E-Board members won't be in attendance. They have more important things to do than this venture into student recruitment. Fortunately, there will, if "Ingo" can scrounge them, be sufficient leaders to have a somewhat balanced ratio of students to high schoolers.

The Gadfly of Socrates' fame is back. This time with comment on student government, particularly the E-Board.

The Gadfly is going to be more than a fly. It's going to have stung in the column if it's needed and it won't hesitate to give credit if it's called for.

The column is not for sarcastic comment but for fair comment.

Too long this student government has not had a watchdog watching over it. Not that anyone is dishonest but governments of any sort tend to get lazy, cut corners, become ineffectual, terribly pompous and even a little ridiculous if they have no reason to suspect surveillance by alert observers.

We are sure that the Argonaut is doing right for both the student government and the students by hosting the Gadfly every Friday following an E-Board meeting or at any other appropriate time.

Esox Fables

By Bob Banashek

SMILIN' ESOX

Because this world has been endowed with more than its share of falseness, I search for things which are honestly profound and others which are honestly absurd.

The world has wandered too far from honest absurdity when there is no longer room for Smilin' Jack in the daily newspaper. We have gone beyond the bounds of sophistication.

There must be things in this world which are not above a pie in the face. Even the president must forget to zip up his fly once in a while!

But back to the funnies... A Little Charlie Brown Now, we all have a little

Charlie Brown in us. We have unreasonable dreams which we are very fond of; we are very often ignorant and incompetent; and there is always a Lucy among our acquaintances to point out these things to us. If you caricature these traits to "Peanuts" size, you have Man

... the only creature with enough intelligence to be amused at his own blunders. Why not admit that some of the things we do are a little ridiculous — not all of them, just a few of the obvious ones. All young men would like to move inauspiciously from Eagle Scout to John Wayne in some form or another. Some, in fact, will, but there is no reason for the others to stop living.

Highest Ideals There will be moments in every man's life in which his highest ideals will be realized. Now if you caricature that ideal you come up with Smilin' Jack. And you laugh, knowing that such heroic adventure lies entirely within the realm of absurdity. But it is honest. It's honest because it's no more absurd than that some of the real dreams of real men. A man should be just as capable of laughing at his dreams as he is of dying for them.

Objectivity of Man

Now on the other hand, if humor becomes too sophisticated it commences to pry on man's ideals rather than to banter them. Then you have something like Gort, which is equivalent to Charlie Brown breaking his leg every time he tries to kick the football.

In humor of all kinds you have an indication of the objectivity with which man can look at himself. If the best of it burns with cynicism, it is sadder than it is funny.

Burma Shave

There must be room for things as ridiculous as Smilin' Jack and Burma Shave signs, so that Man does not become too involved in his own importance. After all, laughter must be more than a spasm of the throat muscles.

I therefore declare myself the official champion of Smilin' Jack. That in itself is rather absurd. But if Esox hasn't a full right to be the champion of absurdity on this paper... then who does?

Students Invited To Enter Handicraft Show In SUB

University students have been invited to enter the annual Handicraft and Hobby Show held in the Student Union Building Wednesday, according to Mrs. Gale Mix and Mrs. Kvie Laughlin, co-chairmen.

Predictions that the third annual Handicraft and Hobby show will be even larger and more varied than last year's colorful event were made today by Mrs. Mix and Mrs. Laughlin.

The show will be staged Wednesday at the University Student Union Building. Co-sponsors are Gritman Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and Latah County Extension Homemakers Council. Hours will be 1 to 8 p.m.

Proceeds of silver offerings from visitors will be used to purchase high-low (elevator-type) beds for Gritman hospital. Clay Boyd, hospital administrator, terms the beds "one of the hospital's most urgent needs."

Committees are completing arrangements to transform the Student Union ballroom into a hobbyist's delight. Among displays anticipated are ceramics, Indian artifacts, world travelers' souvenirs, knitting, needlepoint, flower arrangements, indoor gardening, cabinet work, cake decorating and holiday themes.

"These are but a few of the activities represented at our show last year, when we had 300 entries," Mrs. Mix said. "We welcome entries from every type of hobbyist everywhere in this area and northern Idaho."

'Sleeping Beauty' Tryouts Planned

Tryouts for the cast and crew of "Sleeping Beauty" will be held Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the University Auditorium.

"Sleeping Beauty" will be presented by the Children's Theatre Dec. 11 and 12 for children in the Moscow schools in addition to University students.

All students are invited to try out, according to Coleen Hawes, off-campus, publicity director.

Major John Couris was in charge of the event and Cadet Lt. Col. Gregg N. Hollinger, Kappa Sig, headed the squad. Cadet Capt. Ervin N. Hirning, Kappa Sig, blew taps during the formal ceremony.

Education Committee Selects New Members

Seven members were chosen for the Educational Improvement Committee after interviews recently, according to Bill McCann, SAE, committee chairman.

Members chosen for the committee were Lon Atchley, Willis Sweet; Dave Lincoln, Fiji; Julie Pence, Gamma Phi; Kenny Agambroad, and Myron Huettig, Delta Sig; Jim Bower, SAE; and Dick Owen, FarmHouse.

Purpose of the committee is to promote the educational standards of the University through various projects, said McCann.

Three Projects
The committee has three projects planned: An evaluation of courses numbered lower than 50 with more than 100 students in all sections will be held. The evaluation will be taken by making a random sampling on the junior level, McCann stated.

"Probe" a student produced television program on KUID-TV will be presented monthly. Time-lapse events of interest to the general student body will be presented, said McCann.

Grievance Council
Committee members are also investigating the idea of forming an academic grievance council where legitimate complaints can be heard, he stated.

Faculty members on the Educational Improvement are Dr. Harry Caldwell, assoc. prof. of geography; Dr. William Hunter, head of humanities; Mrs. Ruth Boas, instructor of English; Robert Clark, assistant prof. of accounting; George Russell, assistant dean of engineering; Dr. Fred Winkler, assistant prof. of history; and Bert Cross, chairman of journalism.

Last Year's Committee
Last year's committee members include Martha Turner and Barbara Weeks, Alpha Phi; Phyllis Newrow, Tri Delta; Mary Gladhart, Gamma Phi; and Helen Black, Alpha Gam.

Debbie Reynolds Stars In Film

"It Started With a Kiss" will be the SUB Film for this weekend, according to Bob Anderson, Sigma Nu, SUB Films chairman.

"Boys' Night Out" which was originally scheduled this weekend cannot be shown because it is in cinemascop, said Anderson.

The film is in color and stars Debbie Reynolds, Eva Gabor, Glenn Ford and Fred Clark. The story is a musical comedy involved with the love affairs of a woman and an army sergeant in Spain.

Shows coming in the near future are "The Ugly American," Nov. 20 and "Barabbas," Dec. 4 and 5.

SUB Films are shown at 7:15 and 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and 8 p.m. on Sunday.

New theater pocket guides have been passed out, according to Anderson. They may be picked up at the SUB or in the library.

ETHEL STEEL HOUSE

Following a week of mystery, Big Sisters made themselves known to their Little Sisters last Thursday at an Ethel Steel House dinner. Other house events included the traditional Halloween night exchange with Campus Club.

SPUR NICKEL HOP SET

The Spur Nickel Hop is scheduled Nov. 20 in all women's living groups.

The annual event will be held from 8 to 10:30 p.m. and the cost is 15 minutes for 5 cents.

Concert Set By 'I,' WSU

The Music Departments of Washington State University and the University of Idaho will present Paul Rolland and Howard Karp in concert at Idaho Nov. 22.

Rolland on the violin and Karp on piano will present a program of Brahms, Kirchner, and Beethoven.

Sonata in G major, Opus 78, by Brahms, and Sonata Concertant by Kirchner will be presented. The work by Kirchner is an outstanding contemporary work for violin - piano combination. The piece has two movements and is played without pause.

Sonata in A major, Opus 47 by Beethoven, will be presented. The concert will be at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Recital Hall of the Music Building.

Prof's, Students Attend Discussion

Some 250 freshmen and 20 freshmen English teachers attended an informal discussion hour Tuesday, according to Jim Freeman, chairman of Coffee Hours and Forums Committee.

"This was the largest crowd we've ever had at a coffee hour. We think the program was a success all the way around," he said.

Margaret Hegler, Alpha Phi, is co-chairman of the committee.

An informal discussion with the public events speaker Nov. 20 at 10 a.m. is the next event scheduled, said Freeman.

'Missing Links' Series Plans NAACP Speaker

"Humanity and the Racial Crisis in America" will be discussed by Mr. Harry Ward, past president of the Pacific Northwest NAACP, from Portland, Ore., Sunday night as the fifth in a series of "Missing Links" programs.

The program are sponsored by give cooperating campus groups: Episcopal, Disciple, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and United Church.

Ward will present a closeup of the racial problem in the United States and in the West and present conclusions on the problem.

The "Missing Links" program will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Campus Christian Center. Dinner will precede the meeting at 6:30 p.m.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP
"Sex and Morality" will be the topic of Dr. Stan Thomas, director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, at Sunday's meeting of DSF.

The meeting will be at the home of Dr. Thomas, 1103 East Seventh, at 5:15 p.m.

A coffee hour is held every Monday afternoon between 4:15 and 5:15 in the library of the Campus Christian Center by members of DSF.

A short meditation service will be held on Tuesday mornings at 7:35 a.m. in the Chapel at the CCC.

LATTER DAY SAINTS
Members of the Mutual Improvement Assn. will leave Moscow at 7 p.m. tonight to attend the Stake Conference in Lewiston this weekend. Sunday meetings will be at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. in Lewiston and 7 p.m. in Moscow.

WESLEY FOUNDATION
A recorded address by Dr. Martin Luther King, Nobel Peace Prize winner, will be presented at the Sunday meeting of Wesley. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Campus Christian Center. The Methodists will join other groups at 7 p.m. for the program on "The Racial Crisis in America" a series in the "Missing Links" series.

CANTERBURY
Inquirer's Class will be held at 5 p.m. Sunday at Canterbury. Communion and breakfast will be held Wednesday at 7 a.m.

Thursday Communion and lunch will be held at 12:05 p.m.

Celebration Schedule For Victory

A "Victory Mixer" has been scheduled tomorrow in the Student Union Building from 8 to 11:30 p.m. by the SUB Dance Committee in anticipation of a victory over Utah State.

The purpose of the mixer is for students to get acquainted. Dates are welcome, but the dance committee hopes that most students will come stag and have an opportunity to meet other students.

Explosive Game Forcasted For Vandals

Hope For Even Mark On Line At Boise

Dee Andros and the Idaho Vandals will match strengths with the explosive Utah State Aggies tomorrow in Boise's Bronco Stadium in what promises to be another "down to the wire" battle.

The Vandals, who have lost four close battles this season, were caught by a halfback pass play last weekend in Tucson that set up the game winning score for Arizona in the last 40 seconds of play. The loss gave Idaho a 3-5 mark. Two wins are needed back-to-back for an even season record.

Utah State, with a 5-2-1 mark, was tied with a last-second field goal by Wyoming last week and is the first of two teams standing in the way of Idaho's .500 per cent season mark.

The kickoff at 1:30 tomorrow will open a game described by Vandal coach Dee Andros as, "one of those where a single lapse at any second can cost the game."

Utah State is the kind of team that explodes all at once and catches its opposition off guard, Andros added. "They have tremendous speed and a very fine quarterback in Rudy Curinga," he said.

Second In Nation
The Aggies are second in the nation in total offense with 2747 yards, and have averaged 33.3 points per game this season to their opponents 11.9 points.

One problem that has plagued Utah State all season is injuries. During this season 27 of Aggie coach Tony Knap's players

Riley Praises Vandal Babe's Season; Bases It On Fine Teamwork

With the wrap-up of the 1963-64 frosh football season, Coach Bud Riley had nothing but praise for the Vandal Babes. "I'm real happy with this group of kids," he said. They were undoubtedly the best all-around team I've ever coached. Never before have I seen the fine quality on the field that we had this year. They all wanted to excel. They were the easiest group to get a one hundred percent performance from that I have ever had the privilege of coaching."

Team Work
Riley attributed the success of the Vandal Babe season to what he described as "exceptional teamwork on the part of the kids."

"It was teamwork like I have never seen before in boys who, for the most part, had never played together prior to the start of the season. They seemed to knit together so well both on and off the football field."

Riley stated that he thought it was highly probable that the greater portion of this year's frosh starting line-up would see action with Dee Andros' Vandals next season. He said that, in past years, an average of eight to ten frosh players have returned to the varsity. He spoke highly of the abilities of his two quarterbacks, Mike Mitchell and Paul Gentle. However, he went on to say that he felt that he could draw an accurate comparison between them. "They are two entirely different type quarterbacks, he said. Gentle's size will be his big asset. He's a real capable boy when it comes to running the power sweeps."

He continued by saying that he thought Mitchell's ability to pin point his receivers with a quick pass, as well as the smoothness with which he ran the option play would be invaluable in future seasons.

Two Fine Kickers
Riley also praised his two kicking specialists, Danielson and McKinstry. He said that Danielson could give a fine showing in the field goal department. He was 4-4 this season. He went on to say that McKinstry was a real asset to the team with his punting ability. He also predicted that McKinstry could see some action in the Vandal defensive secondary next year.

Riley spoke highly of the strong running ability of Pat Davidson. "In spite of the fact that he sustained a bad back injury in our game with the University of Washington," he continued to turn in fine showings whenever called upon. Idaho Vandal football spectators should see a lot of him in future seasons."

The Vandal Babes finished their season with a 2-1-1 record. They suffered their only defeat at the hands of a tough Boise Junior College team.

Saturday Game Is A Sell-Out
The University of Idaho Athletic Department announced today that all reserved tickets for Saturday's clash between Idaho and Utah State are sold out. Those reserved tickets that did not sell were sent to Boise. However, general admission tickets will be available at the stadium in Boise on a limited basis.

While it appears that the Wildcats might have their first losing season in seven years, plans are being made to make a great effort to knock off the league leading Bobcats this Saturday.

Passing Strong
Sweeney said the Bobcat passing attack was the best of the season. He was also pleased with his running backs, fullback Dave Miller, halfback Dick Haden and halfback Dan Sundling. Sweeney had nothing but kind words for the Bobcat offensive and defensive linemen — especially Gary Richards and Ken Brunsvold. Injuries to two key defensive players, guard Gary Rohmer and linebacker Eddie Phillips may hamper Weber State's chances of overpowering the Bobcats of Montana.

However, the Wildcats will be out to pull the seasons upset. Montana State must win to capture the league title. A Wildcat victory would tie MSC and Idaho State for the crown with 2-1 marks. A Weber State victory is unlikely. However, Coach Nalder has promised a few surprises for the Bobcat team.

Could Be A Loser
While it appears that the Wildcats might have their first losing season in seven years, plans are being made to make a great effort to knock off the league leading Bobcats this Saturday.

Weber May Block MSC From Title

Only one team, Weber State College, stands between Montana State College and an undisputed Big Sky Conference title. They collide Saturday afternoon at Ogden's Municipal Stadium.

Montana State clinched a tie for the title with a 30-6 victory over Montana University last week. A win over Weber would give the Bobcats a 3-0 loop record and a clear-cut championship. In the only previous meeting of the two teams, MSC won 26-8 last year at Ogden.

Weber has had its problems this year, but Coach Jim Sweeney and his club won't take the Wildcats lightly. "Anything can happen on a given Saturday," Sweeney said.

Following the win over MSU, Sweeney declared: "We finally put together 60 minutes of good football. We never lost a fumble and only had one pass intercepted. The virtual elimination of mistakes made a big difference."

Next Year
Whitworth, Western Washington State, University of Washington, and the Seattle Olympic Club are also expected to be at the meet, which will take place at Green Lake Park. The course at Green Lake is mostly grass and follows the edge of the lake. Last year hairpin turns and pavement stretches were included in the event.

Full Strength
The team is at full strength again since John Mynott, who missed three meets with tendon trouble, went back into action by taking 10th in the Big Sky meet last weekend.

Besides Mynott, Paul Henden, Ted Quirk, Charles Fleiger, Nils Jepsen and Bernie O'Connell will make the trip to take place in the 10,000 meter event.

Bruce Swayn and Tom Dietrich will run in the 5000 meter event for Idaho.

This meet will wind up the college cross country competition for O'Connell and Henden, who will have completed four seasons on the team.

Next Year
Next year could be another good year, MacFarlane said. "I will lose two fine runners and will have to fill up the gap; but have some freshmen this year that have done an excellent job and should be around a few more seasons."

Vandal Harriers End Season At AAU Meet

With a second place finish in the Big Sky Conference cross country last week and a third in the Inland Empire AAU National meet the week before, the Vandal harriers will end the season tomorrow as they travel to Seattle, Wash., for the Northwest AAU championship 10,000 meter (6¼ mile) event.

The annual meet in Seattle has been a favorite event in the past for Idaho cross country teams. Last year the Vandals took third place in the meet, and chances for a repeat performance may be possible, according to Doug MacFarlane, track coach.

"We will be facing some strong competition up there," he said. "Washington State will be present along with the tough Vancouver Olympic Club." WSU has beaten Idaho twice this year.

edge of the lake. Last year hairpin turns and pavement stretches were included in the event.
