CUP, C-CAP Pair - Off For Elections

When this weekend's nominating conventions had ended, one of the campus parties had nominated a complete ticket while the other supplied only seven of the eleven nominations.
Bill McCann is the only candidate for president from either party. His living group officially joined CUP at the convention. At the same time, C-CAP nominated Mick Morfitt, SAE, to fill a spot on its ticket for Executive Board.
McCann received a unanimous nomination over Craig MacPhee, Sigma Chi, who has announced his intention to run independently for president. Larry Grimes, Beta, will also run independently for the top office.
McCluskey Nominated
CUP nominated Dave McCluskey, Sigma Chi, for vice president, while C-CAP decided not to nominate a candidate for the office. McCluskey defeated Nancy (Grubb) Nelson for the CUP nod.
Dick Tracy, Lambda Chi, has announced he will run independently for vice president.
"We felt there were no qualified candidates for president or vice president," said Bob Aldridge, Theta Chi, C-CAP vice president, in explaining his party's move.
Seven candidates from C-CAP and nine from CUP will vie for membership on the nine-member Executive Board. CUP's candidates, in order of nomination, include Lon Atchley, Willis Sweet; Ruth Ann "Woo" Knapp, Ethel Steel; John Cooksey, Sigma Chi; Dianne Green, Kappa; Don Mottinger, SAE; Haven Hendricks, FarmHouse; Joe Gof-finet, off campus; Bob Gorman, off campus, and Denny Dobbin, off campus.

Candidates from C-CAP, in order of nomination, include Ron Twilegar, Phi; Aldridge; Morfitt; Bob Dutton, Delta; Ken Johnson, Phi Delta; Pat Cobb, Hays, and Don Fry, Delta Sig.
Judy Manville, Pi Phi, announced that she will run independently for the Executive Board.
CUP Speakers
CUP speakers for the afternoon were Carol Husa, Hays, AWS president, and Dr. Arthur Gittins, professor of entomology and Executive Board advisor.
Dr. Gittins emphasized that a unity, of the Executive Board and of student government in general, was of the highest importance and that measures to insure and develop it should be considered in this and following elections.
Unity was also emphasized by Larry French, off campus, keynote speaker for the Saturday C-CAP convention.
French also spoke for "qualified and only qualified candidates."
Two of the candidates for president issued statements to the Argonaut this afternoon.
McCann said, "The basic thing that I think needs to be done this year is a thorough study of the ASUI and possible student government reform."
"I want to evaluate the senate, student commission system and look over the E-Board to see if it could be organized by districts. After a thorough study I think we will be able to recon-

Surfers Miss The Corners; Skateboard Sales Soared

"Cruisen for a bruise" was too true for a few of the Idaho students who tried out the new sport for hilly campuses — sidewalk surfing.
Surfers could be seen all over campus swooping down to the bottom of the hill on two wheels. A few, however, didn't make it. Dr. J. M. Fleming, director of the student health center, reported several minor sprains and bruises.
"We also had three major injuries including a complete dislocation of the ankle, fracture of several ankle bones, and a fracture of the femur," Fleming added.
Gritman Hospital reported several sprains, bruises and two broken bones.

broke her leg by the music building corner. Other students didn't let the injuries stop them from trying. They are out at the moment but expect to have more by the end of the week.
State's sales of 192 skateboards.

GRAB YOUR BOARD — As the song says, "Grab your board and go sidewalk surfing with me." University students have taken up the sport in a big way and are shown here "surfing" down University Ave. It may be fun but the injury rate among beginners is high as can be seen by looking at the infirmary list.

KUOI Sets "Feedback" On Election

Issues concerning the coming ASUI elections will be broadcast on Student radio station KUOI Friday evening as a student "feedback" program, according to Will Gribble, McConnel, station manager.
"Student Government. What it is and Can Be" will be discussed by a panel of three students and administrators: Dr. Arthur Gittins, ASUI executive Board advisor; Dean Boyd Martin, head of the department of letters and science; Jim Johnson, FarmHouse, ASUI President; and moderated by Fred Freeman, Sigma Chi, Argonaut Editor.
The program will be broadcast from 7 to 7:30 and will accept student "feedback" or opinion and comments following. The comments will be analyzed and used for future broadcasts, according to Gribble.
"If the students want to find out the issues from those who are informed and on the inside, they should hear the program," said Gribble.
Any students wishing to come up to the studio and listen are invited, he added.

Sales Tax Short 3 Elusive Votes To Pass Senate

Idaho State Educators Await Final Decisions

BOISE — The Idaho legislature wound up its fourth overtime day Monday as the Senate majority leaders were still chasing three elusive votes needed to pass the sales tax.
Resting on acceptance of the tax are increased salaries and operating budgets for state agencies including education. Idaho educators have decried the low budgets with which they are expected to compete with education programs in neighboring states.
Passage of the sales tax depends on about three votes — these from advocates of the Senate-passed referendum bill which is stalled in the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, Sen. Jack Murphy, R-Lincoln, Senate President Pro-Tem told the Argonaut in a telephone interview Monday.
The referendum bill would allow a vote of the people 40 days after the legislative session ends. Idaho law now requires that 90 days lapse before a referendum vote. The Senate passed the bill two weeks ago.
Probably Not
"The House people tell me that the referendum probably won't pass," Murphy said.
Senate alternative, according to Murphy, will be to amend the sales tax bill when it is brought out of the Governor-

U-I Concert To Honor President

President and Mrs. D. R. Theophilus will be honored by the music department at a concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the University Auditorium.
The department has dedicated this concert to the President and Mrs. Theophilus for their promotion and encouragement of music, according to Glenn R. Lockery, acting head of the department.
The symphony orchestra concert will feature piano soloist Sidney Hultgren Thompson, who will perform Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."
Mrs. Thompson, a two-time winner of the Texas auditions of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and a winner of the Idaho student auditions, recently was a soloist with the Boise Philharmonic orchestra and the Boise Junior College orchestra.
Burdette Smith, well known harpist and solo harpist of the Spokane Symphony Orchestra, will assist the University Symphony Orchestra for this concert. L. O. Bauer, professor of music, said.
The program will also include the Overture and Allegro from La Sultane Suite by Couperin as arranged by Milhaud, Two Nocturnes, Clouds, Festivals by Debussy, Overture to A Serious Farce, by Aurelio de la Vega, a contemporary Cuban composer now teaching in California, and Emperor Waltzes by Strauss.

Tickets Still Available For Al Hirt Concert

Over half of the tickets available in the ASUI general manager's office for the Saturday Al Hirt concert have been sold, said Gale Mix, general manager.
"People seem to enjoy the idea of a big weekend," Mix said.
The Hirt concert, which begins at 7:45 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium, will be followed by the Military Ball in the Student Union Ballroom.

Students will dance to the music of the U. S. Navy Band from Seattle until 1 a.m. Women have been granted 1:30 a.m. hours for the occasion. Dress will be semiformal.

Finalists for Military Ball Queen are Tena Gresky, DG; Bobbi Smith, Houston; Connie Hoffbuhr, Pi Phi; Ginny Radke, Theta and Pam Palmer, Alpha Chi.
They will be introduced to the three military units Thursday at 11 p.m. Voting for the queen will also be Thursday.

Sigma Tau Slate Chosen For 1965

Sigma Tau, a national engineering honorary, recently installed new officers.
They are: Marvin Gabert, off campus, president; Gene Livingston, off campus, vice president; Larry Stamper, Kappa Sig, recording secretary; Al Eiguren, SAE, treasurer; Harold Duffy, Ugham, historian; and Merle Gibbens, Ugham, corresponding secretary.

1 Campus Chest Nets Over $3000

The Campus Chest activities of last week cleared a record $3114.93 for charity, Dick Rush, Delt, sophomore class president said. Last year the project made $2200.
Much of the money made was turned in at the dance Saturday night attended by approximately 500 students.
Events at the dance were the crowning of the Ugly Man, the Charleston contest and gambling.

LeRoy Gornick, Sigma Chi, was crowned Ugly Man by Carol Groves, Kappa, this year's Holly Queen, during intermission.
The Delta Gamma dance team won the Charleston contest and were awarded the trophy at Sunday dress dinner. This is the second year in a row that they have won the dance contest.
"It was a very successful week and I would like to congratulate all the committee chairmen. I would also like to thank the "Peasants," who donated their time," Rush said.
The total money made is broken down into the following categories, he said: house auction, $1875.00; Ugly Man, $53.07; Charleston contest, 152.85; gam-

Jane Watts Appointed Assoc. Editor

Miss Jane Watts, Campbell, was named associate editor of the Argonaut, Monday by editor Fred Freeman.
Miss Watts, a junior majoring in English, has been an Argonaut staff member for two years. She has been managing editor and social editor.
The job of associate editor was vacated a month ago when Jerry Brown resigned due to academic pressure.
Miss Watts is the third person to take the post since the 'academic year began. Mark Brown was named to the position by Communications Board last spring but when he failed to return to school last fall, Jerry Brown was appointed.

Good Publicity Tool?

U of I Rifle Team Deserves Better

By LEO JEFFRES
Argonaut Managing Editor
The Idaho Rifle Team deserves better status in the organization of the University sports program because it is such a good inexpensive publicity tool for the U-I said John Sackett, Executive Board member, in an interview yesterday.
Sackett has worked in the area of campus relations this past year on the E-Board.
"This is a crucial period for the University and one of the real advantages of having any sport at all is in the credit that they bring to the University through the activities in which they achieve state and nationwide publicity," he said.

This is what the Idaho Rifle team has accomplished, the E-Board member said.
"It is interesting to note that the National Rifle Association has over one million members, and in recent years Idaho has achieved a national reputation in the organization," he said.
Sackett outlined the achievements of the Rifle team.
Last year the team ranked in the upper fifth out of 401 student teams participating from throughout the nation, he said. This year they hosted the Idaho State Gallery Rifle Championship, Northern Section, which drew 75 teams to the U-I campus.

tional publicity for the University. It's also a point that the "The comments to the University from many of these teams regarding the way the tournament was conducted reflected outstanding credit upon Idaho," Sackett said.
Last weekend the team defeated Idaho State University and retained the D. R. Theophilus Trophy, the counterpart to the basketball Spud Trophy, he said.
"The team deserves the support of the student body as a major sport and I think it deserves more publicity than it has had up to this time," said Sackett.
Another advantage of the team is that it is open to all male and female undergraduate students who have the required GPA, said the Idaho junior.

There have been some excellent women participants representing Idaho, he added.
"It's important that we give students the opportunity to participate in a sport in which they are interested, especially since many Idaho schools have rifle teams," Sackett said. "This could be a strong drawing card throughout the state."
The team costs the University almost no money, and the ASUI supplies only $150 for sweater awards, said the E-Board member.
"I personally feel that we have here one of the best means of na-students here on campus have been either unaware or indifferent," Sackett said.

"We must not let this die, but must continue our support," he added.

The Golden Fleece

By Jason

The causes espoused by University rabble elements might seem less worthy if a proposal which will be presented to Executive Board tonight is adopted.

The proposal is to set up a student organization to give interested students first-hand information about problems that the University and Idaho education face. While the underlined purpose of the organization envisioned by Linda Elliot and Tom Lynch would be to give the citizens of Idaho a more accurate and worthwhile viewpoint of what is the situation with our educational facilities, it also could have its effect on the students.

Not To Indoctrinate

Neither Miss Elliot nor Lynch plan to set up an organization where the administration could dictate policies or indoctrinate student thinking. But they have learned that this is the only way for students to effectively find out the answers to troubling problems.

"The students above all must approach this task with a mature and intelligent understanding of the true purpose of the task at hand. We must assume the role of public educators ourselves..." the report written by Miss Elliot and Lynch says.

"The students must avoid public exhibitions of emotions, for such displays would negate the very purpose of our cause. Instead we must be willing to work and to talk to our respective communities and acquaint them with the truth concerning education, so that they can act on it."

Failure 'Til Now

A good reason for our failure to reach more students after the negative preachings of some other groups perhaps lies in the lack of a positive program such as this one.

This is supported by the eagerness with which the assembly addressed by Dean Martin was accepted Wednesday night.

Vindictive generalizations have no place in obtaining positive action. Rather the efforts—and all of our efforts—should be spent first, answering the questions of what we face in education to our own satisfaction, then, to answer the questions put to us by others.

Goes Beyond Our Sphere

Miss Elliot and Lynch, however, would like to see this type of organization go beyond our small sphere at the University of Idaho. They, like some other students here, realize that "finest hour" of Idaho education will come in a united effort with our other public supported colleges. They propose that similar groups be set up on the other five public-supported school campuses.

Is this Utopian? I'd say that it is a cause worthy of our efforts.

At University 56 Earn 4.00 First Semester

Fifty-six full time University of Idaho students earned a 4.00 grade point average for the first semester, Registrar F. L. O'Neill announced today.

Some of the 56 are Paul Anderson, Kent Bailey, Rosemary Burke, Bert Clegg, Gary Crandall, John Fairman, and Robert Farnum, all off campus.

Others are Rube Jones, Mary Kampl, Francesca Merlan, Tom Merlan, Patricia Nielsen, Anthony Pursley, Judith Schoepflin, and Robert Warila, all off campus.

Robert Emmingham, Frank Erickson, Alvin Mong, Jim Griffith, Joanne Healea, Hilda Strong, Floyd Hutchins, Michael Bonnell, and Donna Olson, all off campus, earned 4.00 g.p.a.

Don Marshall, and Doug Ehlerke, both Chrisman, Linda Carter and Julie Martineau, both Houston; and Carol Ritter, Michelle Barrett, and Conalyn Cooper, all Hays, are also among the fifty-six.

Cathy McClure, Theta; Merrily Fruechtenicht, Alpha Gamma; Brooke Clifford, Gamma Phi; Marilyn Gresky, DG; and Max Walker, Delta Chi, were also listed.

James Peterson, and Bruce Simon, both Borah; Boyd Earl, and Leslie Webb, both Lindley; and Eugene Fuller, Roberta Knutson, Bette Lynch, and Judith Sinclair, all Forney made perfect grades also.

O'Neill also mentioned Cecil Johnson and Donald Wintersten, both Willis Sweet; Robie Mitchell, Pine; and Richard Palermينو, Campus Club.

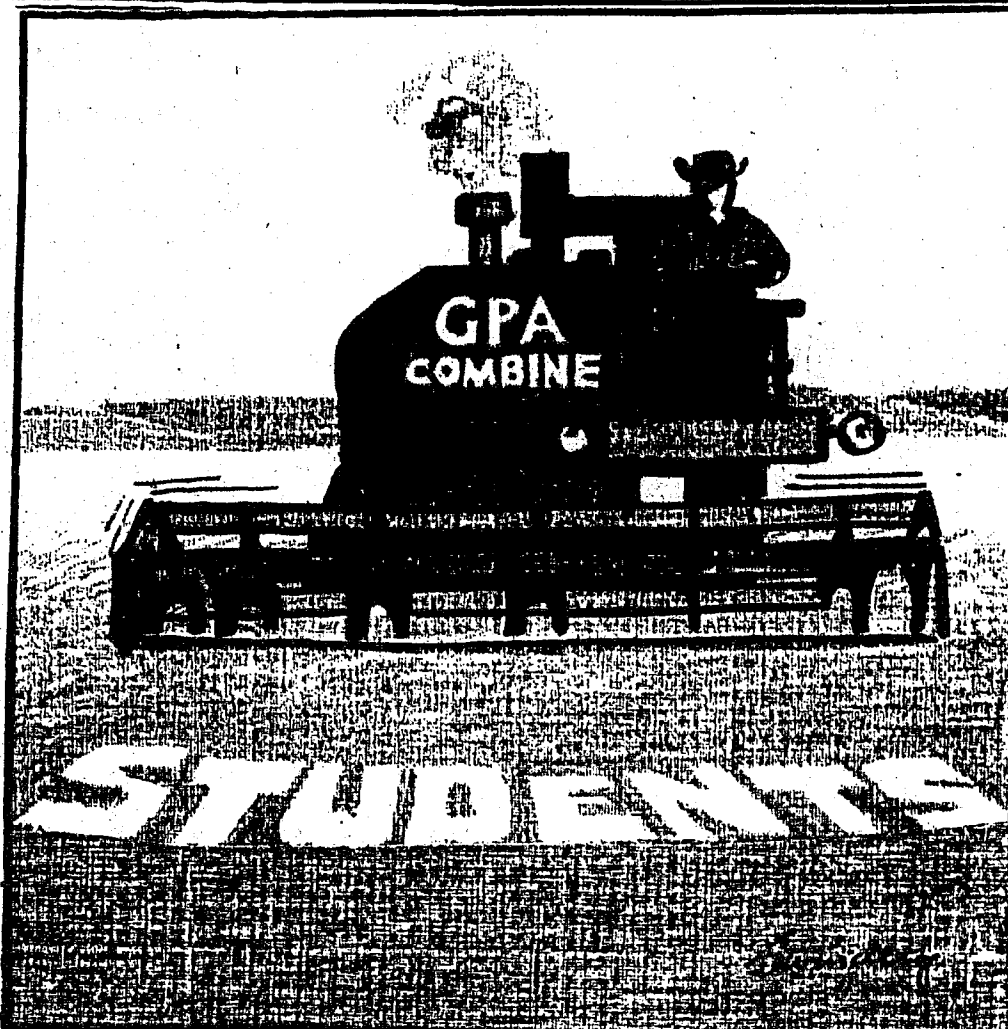

Richard Mace, Lambda Chi; Jeffery Tollefson, Phi Tau; Ella Ulican, Patricia Findley, both Pi Phi; Barbara Schulte, Kappa; Susan Harris, Alpha Chi; and Carl West, Phi Delta, complete the list.

Liberals And The Sales Tax

"I can't understand," writes a subscriber to the Idaho Observer, "how a liberal can be in favor of a sales tax." In other places and at other times it might well have seemed strange to see liberalism linked with a regressive system of taxation. But in Idaho in 1965 the real paradox lay in how a liberal could fail to perceive the importance of the sales tax to his cause.

Liberalism received a setback Tuesday evening when the Idaho Senate, in what may have been only an initial test of strength, rejected a state sales tax. Opposition of the liberals contributed to the defeat.

The liberals' objection to the sales tax is that it falls most heavily on the poor. Those who earn the least and can least afford to support the government are required by this system to pay the highest proportion of their income in taxes. The sales tax stands in contrast to the progressive income tax, in which the tax rate rises with ability to pay. The income tax is unquestionably a fairer tax.

If that were the only standard that mattered, and if governments were to be judged solely by the equity of their tax structures, then there could be little justification of the sales tax by the usual tests of liberalism. But neither of these hypotheses can be supported.

The income tax, well suited to a largely self-contained economy such as that of the United States, loses much of its appeal when superimposed on small geographical segments of the economy. In Idaho, where the state income tax rate is already among the highest, further increases can have a damaging effect in the state's competition for population and industry. Further increases also compound a problem which is inherent in state income tax administration: the avoidance of taxes by individuals and companies capable of diverting taxable income into operations outside the state.

Thus the fairness and productiveness normally associated with an income tax apply only in a limited sense to the Idaho income tax. There are limitations to the amount of revenue that can be raised through the tax without injustice to the resident taxpayer and damage to the economy.

With income tax increases ruled out by the logic of economics and politics, the liberal must ask himself if a regressive tax is too high a price to pay for an adequate level of government services. It is here that the question of the role of state government comes into play—a consideration which should be of no less concern than the question of how government is to be financed. Of what value to the citizens is a progressive tax system if the revenue it produces won't educate their children? How badly are the citizens hurt by a regressive tax which provides them for the first time with the means to meet their minimum responsibilities in education, public health and welfare?

It is more than a question of regressiveness in a tax. It is a question of whether government itself is to be progressive or regressive. The sales tax bill, for all its regressive qualities, presented Idaho with its first real chance to break the bonds of a regressiveness of a far higher order. As such, it should have had the unstinting support of liberals.

—Samuel H. Day in the Idaho Observer, March 4, 1965.

'Edit-Monument'

Your editorial comment on the Lantern is a classic monument to administrative conformity. As the editor of a so-called student publication, you have betrayed yourself and the student body by being a tool of the administration. I submit that your entire editorial policy is that of parroting the administrative position.

In the rare instance when you print an opposition opinion, you immediately follow it up with an editorial comment in which you imply, "Now that you have heard the rabble, this is the correct position," and you then sally forth spouting the dictates of the administration. Your apparent standard for a rabble rouser is anyone who disagrees with the "sacred hill." This is an incomprehensible attitude for the editor of a student newspaper. Simply because a member of the staff disagreed with a statement made by the editor of the Lantern, you implied that the latter was a liar. Is this your idea of good editing?

Before you deny it, it's there in black and white and once again, as the editor of a student publication, you've betrayed your position. The Lantern opened the breach and challenged you to enter. Your refusal to accept the challenge is a measure of your worth, or the lack of it, as an instrument of the student body. And yet you have the gall to criticize your critics for not supporting your operation! I fail to understand upon what basis you attack half-truths and lack of honest presentation. When it comes to half-truths (Continued on Page 5 Col. 7)

Misinformation

Dear Jason:
As a member of a group of students at the University of Idaho whose integrity has been questioned, I feel compelled to speak out in defense of this body.

In a recent Gadfly by David Soper, the engineers at the University were accused of cheating. Mr. Soper used an amazing figure of 90 per cent to indicate the people involved; a figure quoted from one source who chose to remain anonymous for uncertain reasons. Mr. Soper is, by all facts, badly misinformed on the subject as it pertains to the engineering college.

On exams, virtually no cheating occurs and indeed, it would entail a paramount effort to successfully carry out such a venture. The ability to think, to demonstrate a knowledge of underlying principles and to apply them to practice are what are tested. In short, an answer is of little significance. It is your demonstrated knowledge of the factors leading up to the answer that are tested.

As for the matter of problem assignments. First, a small percentage of the problems turned in are the result of community effort. This can be attested to by the variety of answers and methods of solutions found on the problems. Any engineering instructor will tell you this.

Second, the real aim of the engineering college is to teach the underlying principles and the correct methods of their application. With such a large amount of underlying material behind every concept, there are understandably many methods of approaching a common end. It is for this reason that discussion groups find their origin and why they are a tool in the learning process rather than an implement of cheating.

Last, I feel that the integrity of the average engineering student is such that he does not condone such efforts leading to cheating. I would suggest that Mr. Soper pursue this further with the intent of finding the facts.

John Sackett

Here's More About—

be different," he cautioned.

No Alternative

Murphy was less optimistic about an alternate tax should the sales tax be defeated when the Senate votes or should it be defeated in a referendum.

"We can't go to an income tax, a personal property or ad valorem tax because we can't begin collecting immediately with a tax other than a sales tax," he said.

In any case another tax bill would have to be brought up in a special session, according to Murphy. He predicted that the legislature would end its regular session not later than Saturday and go immediately into its scheduled special session or reappointment.

The series of tests including the final for one course has been the same since 1959. Grades became a case of who had the best set of files. It became so rank that this last semester the students went to the instructor and asked him to change the final or they would make a formal complaint. Several of the top students use files in class and not on of weekly report given was original. In the laboratory class which require a formal report each week on the laboratory experiments, it is absolutely impossible to get above a C without a file. I think it can be conclusively shown that there is a direct ratio between the size of file and course grade. The one student whom the instructor considered above reproach, had the largest file and was not ashamed to admit it to his fellow students. The students definitely had the ability to do excellent work on his own, but time and grades were at a premium.

In any case of cheating in school it is the student who is hurt. This doesn't mean he loses solely from a moral standpoint; he loses hard cold grade points. If a student allow other to cheat, the degree of proficiency of his fellow students seems higher and the curve raises which lowers his relative position. The A student will get his A regardless, but the studious C student who is struggling for a B is knifed when his "buddy" raises the curve a little higher with a prop in his cuff. What is even more tragic is the sincere C student on the borderline who is working like a dog, but is eliminated because he didn't have the final.

In summary, cheating in some degree is widespread throughout the University. The faculty have an abiding faith in their students which leaves the door wide open. A sort of honor among thieves prevents fellow students from saying anything. The student has one objective and that is graduation and getting out of here. He is not about to get involved in anything that would jeopardize his position. The faculty are not about to crusade for students who do not care enough to fight for themselves. Case in point, one faculty member started to bring some of the more fragmentary cases to light and was advised by his fellows that this was very unwise. The students would only give him lip service and each case which might be brought up implied that the fellow faculty member was not doing his duty. In short, if anything was said his academic career would be short lived.

What can be done about all this? An open public scandal will solve nothing and seriously damage the position of the University. The solution lies in a sincere and systematic effort to curb cheating in the future.

1. A group such as the Education Improvement Committee should be designated as a clearing house for cheating problems. A system of reporting and remedies should be established which would not jeopardize either the student or faculty. The system should be such that general cases could be brought to the committee without the individual's name being published or made known in any way. Only when specific indictments against specific individuals are involved should both parties be informed on the others' statements.
2. A strict, uniform testing procedure should be set up which would govern the number of times a test can be given and how the test is administered. A caustic punishment policy will never work because no faculty member or student wants to see a person's career ruined over a single incident. Therefore they will not report the case.
3. A test disposal address should be provided so that all ditto masters keys etc. could be dropped in the staff mail and disposed of by a reputable individual. The solution is to make it extremely difficult to cheat and not to try to set up a vicious penal code which would not be enforced. A realization that students, like the rest of our society, need a little help to keep them honest, would do a lot to solve the problem.

Twenty-one new members were initiated Feb. 20. They are: Ken Ayers, Dick Brown, Frank Burlison, Bill Borreson, Steve Bell, Jim Carlson, Bill Cook.

Ron Dean, Jim Eaton, Ralph Kerns, Greg Lineham, John Lilton, Jim Mundt, John Miller, Norm Nelson, John Neale, Skip Oppenheimer, Jim Ratcliffe, Tim Rutledge, Larry Santchi and Dennis Smith.

Thirty Betas attended the 25th annual northwest Beta Songfest Saturday, Feb. 27 in Spokane. Most of the day was spent in meetings after Dr. Paul Van Ripper, general secretary of Beta Theta Pi, gave an introductory speech.

After the banquet the singing competition was held. The Idaho song team, led by Larry Grimes, president, finished first in a field of eight.

DELTA TAU DELTA
Rev. George Mink, director of the Wesley Foundation at Washington State University, attended dinner Tuesday and held a short discussion period after the meal.

Pledges had an exchange with the Alpha Chiis Wednesday.

GAMMA PHI BETA
A dress dinner exchange with the Sigma Chiis was Wednesday, Feb. 17. Entertainment was provided by the Sigma Chi singing group.

They had an exchange with FarmHouse last Thursday evening. Pledge exchange with the Phi Deltis was last Wednesday.

PI BETA PHI
New pledges got their big sisters. Cary Ambrose is Nancy Bolven's big sister and Karen Hoffbuhr is Jean Hancock's. Judy Manville is the new big sister of Trudy Hall, whose former big sister, Zoe Ann Gripton, left at semester.

All pledges presented their big sisters the traditional paddles early Sunday morning by getting all the members out of bed and fixing their breakfast.

Each big and little sister pair chewed from opposite ends of a long red licorice to determine who could eat the most. The winner got to use the paddle.

Magician Set For Show At University

Andre Kole, world famous magician, will perform tonight in the Galena Room at 8 p.m.

Billed as America's leading illusionist, he is recognized as having an original act entitled "Artistry in Flames." In recent years his program has included making a person dematerialize or causing an automobile full of people vanish in a wisp of smoke.

Kole has been a professional magician for the past 15 years. At present he is spending a major portion of his time in making personal appearances at leading universities and colleges across the country and speaking to civic and television audiences.

When he was 13 he appeared in over twelve states, Canada, and Central America, and was known as the "World's Greatest — Junior Magician."

The speech is open both to students and to members of the community, Ann Simpson, Hays, said.

His tours are in conjunction with the work of Campus Crusade for Christ International.

Sweetheart Of Sigma Chi Follows Words Of Song

"The blue of her eyes and the gold of her hair are a blend of the western sky" says the fraternity song, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

The song came true Saturday night when Nancy Andrus, the first blonde, blue-eyed Sweetheart on the Idaho campus in ten years, was crowned Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

The five foot two inch Gamma Phi was crowned by Janice Cruzen, Pi Phi, the outgoing Sigma Chi queen at the annual Sweetheart dinner-dance.

Winning contests is nothing new to Miss Andrus. She was a high school cheerleader and chosen class Junior Miss her senior year. Through the last honor she became a princess at the Palouse Empire Fair.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Andrus of Lacrosse, Wash.

Bridge Session Winners Given

Duplicate bridge winners for March 5 session have been announced.

First place winners were: Judy Stuebbe and Cathy Lyon, both Campbell; second, Tony Wolf, SAE, and Clyde Nelson, off campus; third Mary Yoden, Kappa, and Chuck White, SAE.

The next session is scheduled March 19, according to Joanne Fry, Theta, Indoor Recreation Committee.

UI DEPRESSION DAYS

Some 200 students shared in a $3000 fund provided by the FERA while attending the University in 1934. Each student received $15 a month for work on the campus.

Parking Areas Outlined At U-I

IF YOU DIDN'T KNOW, or have been getting excessive parking tickets, or none when you think you should have; operations council has re-announced this statement.

"Anyone may park in front of and to the north of the Ad. Building."

Parking is prohibited behind the Ad. Building, however, in the metered zone — which is posted "restricted area" signs at BOTH ENTRANCES.

Also only visitors and community students with section "B" car stickers, may park on the North Side of University Avenue between Ash and Line streets.

Rings N' Things

PINNINGS
KING - WALKER
Sue Louise Ellis read a poem while a blue candle was passed at the Gamma Phi house Feb. 24. Barbara Hayden blew it out and announced the pinning of Judy King to Bob Walker, Delta Chi.

ENGAGEMENTS
HODGE - PRESSEY
A blue candle entwined with white carnations was passed at the Alpha Chi house Friday night. Pam Palmer claimed it to announce the engagement of her big sister, Mary Hodge, to Bill Pressey III, a 1963 graduate of the University and now of Pensacola, Fla. A July 25 wedding is planned.

BITHELL - OLIVER
The Pi Phis got fortune cookies with their dessert at Sunday dress dinner. The fortune said, "You are invited to the June wedding of David Oliver and Linda Bithell." Oliver is from Indianapolis and Miss Bithell is Pi Phi house president.

ELLIS - ELIASEN
At Gault Hall Sunday dress dinner Richard Lewis announced the engagement of Lyle Ellisen to Barbara Ellis, off campus.

'Western Dance' Planned Friday

A "Western Dance" is scheduled Friday from 9 to 12 p.m.

Music will be furnished by the Four Swedes, a western band. No admission will be charged, according to Dave Lohr, FarmHouse, reporter for the Block and Bridle Club.

U-I Delta Sigs Crown Dream Girl At Dance

Patty Bowles, Pi Phi, won a trophy that came up to her chin when she was crowned the Dream Girl of Delta Sigma Phi at the Carnation Ball Saturday night.

Miss Bowles, who is five feet one inch, was selected from 32 candidates and 5 finalists.

The Dream Girl was announced by Jerry Agenbroad, Delta Sig president, and crowned by Cathy McClure, Theta, the outgoing Dream Girl.

Miss Bowles won the large traveling trophy for her house and a smaller cup for herself.

Each of the finalists was awarded a small loving cup.

Finalists for the Dream Girl were Karen Stillman, Tri Delta; Dolores McLean, French House; Elaine Wozniak, A Phi, and Linda Snyder, Gamma Phi.

The Delta Sigs honored both of their Dream Girls at Dress dinner Sunday.

The Delta Sigs gave Miss McClure a gold charm bracelet with little heart pendants with the name of each Delta Sig engraved on them.

Jeff Grimm supplied the music for the Ball.

AWS Holds Coed Scholarship Tea For University Women In SUB

The Associated Women Students held their annual Scholarship Tea Wednesday in the Galena Room of the Student Union Building.

This was the third annual tea given by the AWS legislature for women students with a 3.3 or better grade point average, according to Carol Husa, Hays, president.

The deans of the various colleges, President D. R. Theophilus, Vice President Kenneth A. Dick, Dean Charles O. Decker and their wives were special guests.

Ceremony

A short installation ceremony was held, and the present officers installed the officers-elect.

Carol Husa initiated Paula Spence, Gamma Phi, and Mike Gagon, DG, as the new president and vice president. Paula Spence initiated Gail Liechner, Alpha Phi, the new secretary; and Phyllis Nedrow, Tri-Delt, initiated the new treasurer, Margie Felton, Kappa.

Nancy O'Rouark, Gamma Phi, chairman of the Cultural Committee, was in charge of the tea. Mrs. Theophilus, Mrs. Decker, Mrs. Dick, Mrs. Samuelson and Mrs. Martin poured.

YOUNG DEMO'S

A discussion group is planned at the Young Democrats meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Board Room of the Student Union Building.

PRESIDENTIAL CHANGE — New AWS president, Paula Spence, Gamma Phi, and past president, Carol Husa, Hays, preside at the tea table during the AWS Installation Tea Sunday. Miss Husa installed Miss Spence as new president at the tea.

Sidney Thompson To Solo In 'Rhapsody' At I Concert

Mrs. Sidney Hultgren Thompson, will be the piano soloist for the concert honoring Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Theophilus Thursday.

The concert given will be in appreciation to President and Mrs. Theophilus for their interest and active support," said Glenn R. Lockery, acting head of the department.

It will feature the University symphony orchestra under the direction of LeRoy Bauer, professor of music, and Mrs. Thompson playing "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin.

The varied program will also include the overture and allegro from the La Sultane suite, by Couperin as arranged by Milhaud, the Nocturnes, Clouds and Festivals, by Debussy, the Emperor waltzes by Strauss and a recent work, Overture to a Serious Farce, by Aurelio de la Vega, a contemporary Cuban composer now teaching in California.

Born and educated in Boise, Mrs. Thompson is the wife of Dr. Erik Thompson of the faculty of the College of Engineering.

She has a bachelor of music and master of music degrees from the University of Texas and has taught as a graduate assistant at that university.

She was a state winner of the Idaho student auditions of the

Public Assistance Rep Due At U-I
Idaho students interested in work in public assistance should make arrangements for an interview with John Yuditsky, Nez Perce County case work supervisor, today, according to Dr. Harry Harmsworth, head of the sociology department.

Yuditsky will be in TC 2-118, the sociology office, all day, he said.

Jazz Liturgy Announced For Sunday

A jazz liturgy will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Moscow, Peter Van Horne, Theta Chi, said.

"Music for the Liturgy, 1961" by Standrod T. Carmichael will be the featured selection under the direction of David Whisner, assistant professor of music. Rev. Richard Lundy, pastor of the church, will be liturgist.

The liturgy uses an eight-voice chorus and a group of five instrumentalists, Van Horne reported.

A discussion on jazz led by Rev. Lundy will follow the worship service, he said.

This service is the second event in the United Lenten Series on Liturgy and Modern Life. The five-week series is being sponsored by the Baptist, Disciples of Christ, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and United Church of Christ groups on campus, Van Horne said.

Drama Class Announced For Children
A creative dramatics class for pre-teen-aged children will be offered for the second consecutive year at the University, Edmund Chavez, assistant professor of drama, announced recently.

Designed for children of the 9, 10 and 11 year-old group, the class will provide up to 20 children with an opportunity to express themselves through the help of the course instructor and university students participating, he said.

The course, Drama 66, is divided into two periods of time, the first being the first nine weeks of schooling in the course, which is directed to the seven students enrolled. The second nine weeks of the semester is the period of time in which the child will participate, he explained.

During the second nine weeks of the drama course the university students and instructor will work with the children in a class that will allow the youngster to express himself and learn some of the basic steps in the art of performing.

Idaho College Of Law Names 17 To Dean's List

Seventeen first, second and third-year law students at the University were named to the dean's honor list for the first semester.

Those persons attaining a "B" or better grade average are named to the list, according to Dean Philip E. Peterson of the College of Law. Those from the first-year class include Faye Collier, Forney; John Ward, Norman Brock, Larry Grimes, James Hargis, Max Jenkins, Dennis Wheeler, and Ronald McAdams, all off campus.

Second-year students include R. Tim Daley, Gary Haman, and Robert Tunnicliff, off campus. Seniors named to the dean's list include David Frazier, Iver J. Longeteig, III, Ronnie Rock, Dennis Sallaz, Roger Wright, and Graham Cross all off campus.

U-I Clerical Exams Set
The University secretarial and clerical examinations will be administered on the following dates through September at 9 a.m. in room 225 of the Administration Building.

March 20, April 3 and 24, May 8, 24 and 29; June 26, July 24, August 7, and Sept. 11, 18 and 25. Examinations will also be given at 1 p.m. June 10, July 8, and Aug. 12.

FRATS ROBBED
Five Idaho fraternity houses were robbed of approximately $600 between 3 and 3:30 a.m., Oct. 2, 1964. Frats robbed included: Delta Chi, Fiji, Sigma Nu, and the Delts.

Election Candidates Slated For SUB Sound-Off Friday

Candidates for student body office will be present at the SUB Sound-off this Friday, said Jim Freeman, chairman of the Coffee Hour and Forum Committee.

The Sound-off will be at 4:30 p.m. with Fred Freeman, Arg editor, as moderator.

Wednesday night, the committee will present Chuck Meinmann with his colored slides of the 1964 Olympics held in Tokyo this fall.

The program will start at 7 p.m. in the Borah Theater, Freeman said.

Meinmann, a former University track star, is presently track coach at East Bakersfield High School. He has attended three Olympics.

The program will include pictures of highlights in more than a dozen sports, a picture story of activities behind the scenes, and other highlights of urban and rural Japan.

Thursday, the Coffee Hours and Forums Committee will present Bart J. Morse, art instructor, whose pictures are now on display in the Student Union Lounge. Morse will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the main lounge about his paintings and will answer questions about them, Freeman said.

Mortar Board Sets Contest

Undergraduates are invited to compete for credit of $25, $15, or $5 at the bookstore in a test for the best personal library, according to Gail Nystrom, Hays, president.

The winner of the local contest will be the University's nominee for the Amy Loveman National Award of $1000.

To qualify, collections must consist of 35 books or more. They may be general or collections centered on one theme, author or subject. Entries are judged by submitted bibliographies and essay questions concerning the books.

Anyone interested may obtain further information in the College of Letters and Science office, the Humanities office or the Library before the deadline, April 19.

SOPH FROLIC

RELIEVING ANAMOSITIES — Students relieved their anamosities, hatreds and pent-up tensions Friday by smashing to bits a '51 Plymouth for charity as part of the Campus Chest activities. Here Bob Aldridge, Theta Chi, gives the "victim" a healthy whack.

VISTA Plans War Against Poverty; College Students Being Solicited

VISTA—Volunteers In Service To America—has recently launched a full scale war against poverty in the United States, according to a recent letter.

This program is designed to appeal principally to college students who are willing to spend a year of their time helping poverty stricken Americans to improve their state.

The administration's new "Peace Corps At Home," will, upon invitation, send part of its recruiting staff to colleges and universities across the nation to tell students of the opportunity VISTA offers for personal participation in the struggle to eliminate the poverty engulfing one-fifth of the nation's population.

Anyone interested may obtain further information in the College of Letters and Science office, the Humanities office or the Library before the deadline, April 19.

Any person eighteen years of age or older who is living in the U.S. may apply. Married persons are eligible only if both the husband and wife apply together and if both qualify.

The letter stated that current plans call for 5,000 volunteers to be selected, trained, and assigned to local projects throughout the United States and its territories during 1965.

The training program will be directed towards the needs of the job and location to which the volunteer will be assigned.

Volunteers will work in rural and urban areas, Job Corps camps, migrant workers communities, Indian reservations, hospitals, schools, and institutions for mentally ill or mentally retarded.

Volunteers may be sent to any of the fifty states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the U.S. territories.

The period of service is one year, including a four to five weeks training program. Applications are not being accepted for part-time or summer services.

Volunteers will receive allowances to meet necessary living expenses, said the letter. The amount will vary depending upon local conditions.

They will also receive a salary of $50 for each month of service payable upon completion of service.

Students may write the Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D. C., for more information and applications. VISTA offers an opportunity for dedicated Americans to serve their country at home, said the letter.

SWEET MUSIC FOR TELEPHONE SWITCHING

Add electronics to telephone switching, and some pretty exciting things happen.

Such as a fast-action push-button phone that "dials" numbers by a succession of short, musical tones instead of a lengthy sequence of impulses.

And beyond the "Touch Calling" phone is a new Electronic Automatic Telephone Exchange developed inde-

Exec. Board Lists Agenda

An open meeting of Executive Board to brief prospective members of E-Board will be held following the business session tonight, according to Jim Johnston.

Candidates who are running for office will question present board members on their duties and accomplishments. The Board meeting is also open to any other interested students, said Johnston.

Heading the agenda tonight will be a follow up on the mass student meeting held last Wednesday evening to inform Idaho students of the state concerning the problems of financing education will be discussed. The possible formation of an organization of students throughout the state to explain financial problems of higher education has been proposed by Johnston, Tom Lynch and Linda Elliott, off campus.

AC - Status E-Board will also discuss again and vote on a proposal by Nancy (Grubb) Nelson and Larry Nye to give Activities ASUI vice-president Council Constitutional Status. The council is presently in the form of a resolution, Johnston said. Judicial council was given constitutional status last year after proving its worth, Johnston indicated.

Sergeant Billy Chapman, rifle team coach, will present to E-Board a proposal on the organization of the Rifle Team. Chapman will also show trophies won by the team in a sectional meeting at the University last weekend.

A committee of John Sackett, Gerald Huettig and Cathy Lyon will make a preliminary report on student merit citation awards. Criteria for the awards will be decided at the meeting, Johnston said. The citations are presented yearly to students who have made significant contributions to the University.

Two weeks from today new and old E-Board officers will be meeting at a banquet with the Chamber of Commerce, Johnston said.

HUP-36-22-36 — This could well be the call any drill commander would give to these five beauties. They are the finalists for Military Ball Queen who were announced Wednesday night. One will be crowned to reign as the queen of all ROTC men at the Military Ball Saturday. They are, left to right, Connie Hoffbuhr, Pi Phi; Pam Palmer, Alpha Chi; Virginia Radke, Theta; Tena Gresky, DG; and Bobbie Smith, Houston.

Organization Planned To Promote Public Education

Possible formation of an organization composed of students from the public universities and colleges in the state to promote public education will be discussed at E-Board tonight.

The organization has been proposed by Jim Johnston, ASUI president; Tom Lynch and Linda Elliott, both off campus.

The report says that a conflicting desire of quality education but unwillingness to pay has made the attitude toward education an undesirable one. Students cannot solve the problem but they can begin the fight and acquaint others with the problem in the hope that others will join in, according to the report.

John Sackett, E-Board member, spoke in general favor for the idea proposed.

"Because this is an especially crucial time, we students must be aware of the problems of our University, legislature, and state. We must be able to support efforts to improve the quality of the image our University is projecting."

Sackett added that this program would require the active support of a wide cross section of students and that we must begin immediately.

The report gave three steps to accomplish this program. First that an organization be formed on each campus with the help of the student leaders; second that each organization prepare information about Idaho public education so that the data can be shown to the other groups formed; and third that the program continue to grow and to encourage more students to become interested in solving this problem.

"One main reason it may work now is that interest is high in education now and in the problems facing it such as the ISU engineering program, the higher taxation throughout the state, and the junior college dispute," Sackett said.

Regarding the failure of last year's students' speakers bureau, an organization which was essentially the same as the one now proposed, Sackett answered that "by far the greatest percentage of the failure was the difficulty of arranging meetings of the various groups through the state."

Sackett felt, however, that if students could capitalize on the interest in public education now being shown in Idaho, that the program would have a much higher degree of success.

Hurlbert, Marley To MC Key Show; Tryouts Saturday, Talent Needed

Derald Hurlbert, off campus, and A. Robert Marley, Sigma Omicron Beta, have been chosen as masters of ceremonies for the 1965 Blue Key Talent show, to be held April 2 in Memorial Gym.

Ten applications have been submitted to the Blue Key committee, according to Jim Johnston, general chairman. The application deadline has been extended to Thursday at 5 p.m. Applications may be turned in to Johnston at the ASUI office, Clen Atchley, audition chairman, or any Blue Key member.

"We are especially interested in individual and all house acts," said Johnston.

Tryouts for the talent show are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. Individual and group acts will tryout at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Borah Theatre. All house acts will be presented Sunday at 2:15 p.m. in the SUB Ballroom.

There will be two rehearsals for the Blue Key show. They will be March 24 and April 1. Both are dress rehearsals.

The talent for the show is judged in three groups, individual talent, group talent, and all house acts. Each group will be awarded a trophy.

"It has in the past been a show students have always attended and we plan to keep the Blue Key tradition in making it a show the whole campus enjoys," according to Rick Fancher, off campus.

Key Committees General chairmen for the talent show are Carl Johannesen, Sigma Omicron Beta; and Jim Johnston, FarmHouse. Clem Atchley, Willis Sweet, is in charge of auditions; Fred Freeman, Sigma Chi, publicity; Dave McClusky, Sigma Chi, judges and trophy.

Bob Cameron, Borah, tickets and invitations; Jim Bery, Delt, lighting; Jim Faucher, Sigma Chi, staging; Mike Olson, sounds and radio; and John Sackett, Fiji, and Gordon Judd, Delt, backdrop.

Bill McCann, SAE, is in charge of programs; Chick Cutler, cues, and Bob Dutton, intermission.

Members of Blue Key are tapped during their junior year. Members are selected on the basis of ASUI activities, scholarships, leadership and house activities.

Foresterettes Install New '65 Officers

Pam Stauber was installed as new president of Foresterettes Thursday at the Faculty Club.

Other officers are Anne Glover, vice-president; Mary Gladfelter, corresponding secretary; Sharon Eyraud, recording secretary; Pauline Queen, treasurer; Uxqu0ImURX, IbjpwXKuen nen, social chairman.

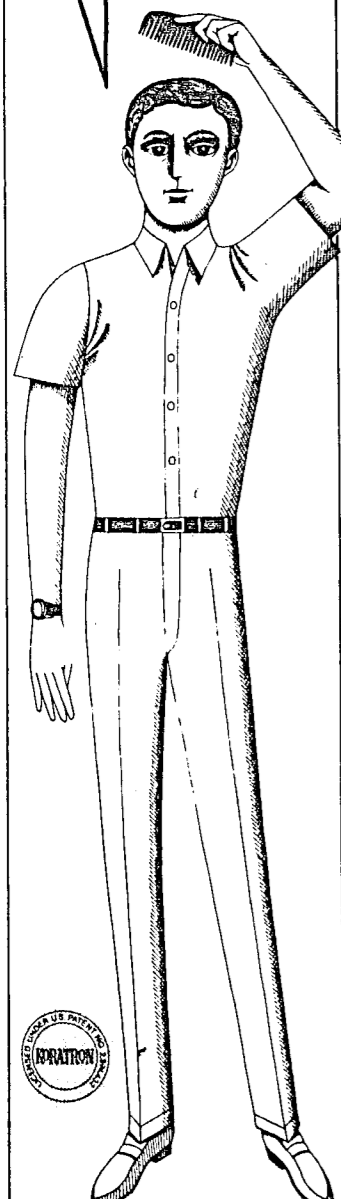

After the formal ceremony, Judy Mathis and Jerri Matze were presented their Putting Hubby Through awards. These awards are given to girls whose husbands have graduated through their help.

Faculty wives attended including Mrs. M. E. Deters, Mrs. F. D. Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Hofstrand and Mrs. E. W. Tisdale.

"Foresterettes are working hard to make the club the success it is on other nation-wide campuses," stated Anne Glover, vice-president.

Foresterettes was established on this campus in 1951 as the first official organization of forestry students' wives. Each year they award a scholarship to a married upperclass forestry student. Various projects are sponsored throughout the year to raise money for this project, according to Mrs. Glover.

U-I Faculty Recital Set For Tonight

The University Department of Music will feature Norman Logan, baritone, in a Faculty Recital tonight at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Also participating in the recital will be Agnes Crawford Schukit, piano and harpsichord, assisted by David Whisner, cello, and Norma Hagerman, flute, with a vocal trio and string quartet.

The program will include Ich wil den Kreuzstab tragen, Cantata No. 56 as composed by Bach, Pilgrimage by Floyd, five poems of the Ancient Far East composed by Griffes, and Dover Beach, composed by Barber and performed by George Skramstad and Luynn Patton on the violins, Gil Piger on the viola, and Marjorie Drago on the Cello.

Teaching Asst. Salaries Said To Handicap U-I

Higher salaries for graduate teaching assistants were proposed to Graduate Council by Associate Prof. of Chemistry, Dr. Peter Freeman, in a meeting February 12.

He pointed out that the University is presently severely handicapped in securing qualified graduate assistants if it cannot maintain the quality and attract capable graduate helpers.

"The graduate student salary is similar to all University salaries in that they are on the low end of the spectrum," said Freeman in a recent interview with the Argonaut.

"There is a wide range of stipends with graduate students on the bottom and if we don't move up we won't be able to get the good people."

Competition is keen for good graduate students who will be good as teachers and as students themselves, he added.

The University wants to raise stipends if it can, he added. If it doesn't get more money from the present legislature all of the University programs will be held at the present rate.

"We will certainly suffer if we don't raise our stipends, however," he concluded.

Brain Tumor Causes Death Of U-I Coed

A University of Idaho sophomore who underwent surgery for a brain tumor in her hometown in January, died Feb. 28, it was learned today.

Marcia Ingraham, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Ingraham of Topsfield, Mass., was buried March 2 in her hometown. Miss Ingraham transferred this year from Boise Junior College and was majoring in education.

In a letter to Mrs. Gladys Rutherford, housemother at Ethel Steel, Miss Ingraham's living group, it was suggested that contributions could be made to the American Cancer Society, 138 Newbury St., Boston.

Dear Jason

and slanted perspectives, you know no peers, so I assume you are attacking it from a position of experience.

I suggest that, while you remain a sounding board for the administration, you are not deservng of the student's respect and as such, you and the Argonaut do not, and will not, have it. The very existence of the Lantern underlines the existence of the need it is attempting to satisfy.

Some honest introspection should reveal that the Lantern is the foster child of your complete failure to function as a representative instrument of the students of the University of Idaho.

David Boone P.S. — Judging from your past policy, I'm making book you won't have the fortitude to print this.

Raff Set To Talk At ACS Meeting

Dr. Rudolph A. V. Raff will speak on "The Development of the Fundamental Concepts of the Science of Polymeric Materials" at a meeting of the American Chemical Society Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Room 112 of the Physical Sciences Building.

Raff is a member of the chemistry research section of Washington State University's division of industrial research.

structure our student government so it will be more representative on campus."

Grimes said, "If our student government is going to mean anything we're going to have to get our most responsible students in it. Student government must be approached by mature, responsible students who have proven themselves in both academic and extra-curricular activities.

"This is the choice I propose to place before the student body: Who is the best qualified candidate to fill the obligation of being a leader in both academics and activities on this campus. The next ASUI president ought to be this man," he concluded.

MacPhee indicated he will present his statement in the Friday issue of the Argonaut.

A NEW PROGRAM OF INTEREST TO MEN

It isn't easy to become an officer in the United States Army. Only the best young men are selected. The training and course of study are demanding. But if you can qualify—and you should find out if you can—you will receive training which will put you a step ahead of other college graduates. Army ROTC training will give you experience that most college graduates do not get—in leading and managing other men, in organizational techniques, in self-discipline and in speaking on your feet. This kind of experience will pay off in everything you do the rest of your life. Army ROTC has a new program designed specifically for outstanding men who already have two years of college; and plan to continue their college work. During your junior and senior years in this program, you will receive $40 per month. Want to find out more about the program? Simply send in the coupon below, or see the Professor of Military Science if you are now attending an ROTC college. There's no obligation—except the one you owe to yourself.

Vandals Close Cage Season; Lose To U of W Huskies 99-87

ISU Win Not Enough For King Spud Trophy

Idaho's basketball Vandals retained possession of the King Spud Trophy in spite of a rather disgruntling 104-92 loss to the Idaho State cagers last Friday night on the Bengal's home court. The hot shooting of ISU's Dave Wagon and DeWayne Cruse wasn't enough to surpass the 26-point cushion set by the Idaho five in their 120-94 romp over the southern Idaho cagers earlier this season.

Vandal cage mentor Jim Goddard said that he thought that the first half told the story as far as victory was concerned.

First Half Killed Us
"The Bengals killed us in the first half," said Goddard. They played the best ball that they have played all season. They were exceptionally hot; whereas, we couldn't hit a thing. I can't help but think that they held a slight psychological advantage over us — they had nothing to lose and everything to gain."

The Idaho speed merchants did manage to close the Bengals 60-40 half-time lead but as Goddard noted, "It just wasn't enough to slow Idaho State's momentum. The Idaho coach pointed to the fact that this same problem had been haunting the Vandals all season.

Good and Bad Halves
"We haven't been able to pull the close one out of the fire," he said. "Basically, we have one good half and one bad half. If we have a bad first half that puts us down a few points, we are hard put to catch up. When the day comes that we can put together two good halves of basketball, and we are able to win the close one, then we will have a successful season as far as a win-loss record is concerned."

Goddard also stated that he thought the team was somewhat hampered by the officiating.

"I can't say that it was either good or bad," he continued. "However we had set our defenses with the hope of drawing the offensive charging foul like we did here. As I look back on the game, I don't recall even one offensive charging foul being called."

However, as the head Idaho cage mentor noted, it wasn't this factor alone that killed the Vandal five.

Outhustled Us
"The Bengals were great in the first half," Goddard said. They out hustled us for the loose ball and were real tough on the boards. Their inside shooting was excellent — just a little more than we could cope with."

Shooters Win Theophilus Rifle Match

The University of Idaho rifle team won the Theophilus Trophy Match last weekend, defeating the Idaho State squad by a combined team score of 1124-1093.

The Theophilus Trophy Match is an annual event between the Idaho and Idaho State teams. The match was run concurrently with the National Rifle Association Collegiate Sectional Match to which the Idaho team played host this year. Fifteen Pacific Northwest rifle teams were entered in the sectional competition.

Pacing the Idaho squad in the Theophilus competition was Dick Tracy with a score of 283. He was followed closely by Boyd Given and Jack Hutteball, who both had tallies of 281. Joe Gillespie of Willis Sweet fired a 279 in the competition.

The Theophilus Trophy was given for the first time. It was donated by the Idaho Rifle and Pistol Association.

The Idaho varsity rifle team finished second to Eastern Washington in the sectional competition with a score of 1129. Idaho's Joe Gillespie captured the first place berth in the individual competition with a score of 290 out of a possible 300.

Washington State and Gonzaga University finished third and fourth in the match with scores of 1116 and 1108, respectively.

The University of Alaska won last year's match with a score of 1141 out of a possible 1200.

Look Picks

All Americans

NEW YORK, March 8 Princeton's Bill Bradley, acclaimed as "the best of the best," led the balloting for Look Magazine's ten-man All America team, picked by the United States Basketball Writers Association.

The All America selections, made by the writers' nine-man national awards committee representing the eight NCAA districts, were announced today in Look.

The All America team is as follows: John Austin, Boston College; Rick Barry, Miami (Fla.); Bill Bradley, Princeton; A. W. Davis, Tennessee; Wayne Estes, Utah State; Gall Goodrich, UCLA; Fred Hetzel, Davidson; Clyde Lee, Vanderbilt; Cazzie Russell, Michigan; Dave Stallworth, Wichita.

Estes, accidentally killed on the night of February 8 when he brushed against a high-voltage wire in the dark, was the first player ever voted All America honors posthumously.

Stallworth won All America recognition as "the standout of the tough Missouri Valley Conference."

Almost 100 'B' Basketball Teams Set

The competition is still keen as nearly 100 intramural "B" basketball teams move into their second week of league play. In last Wednesday's Memorial Gymnasium maple court action the following scores were reported:

- SAE-1, 34—LH-3, 16
- KS, 32—BTP-5, 12
- TMA-2 32—DC-2, 11
- LCA-2, 22—PDT-2, 17
- WSH-7, 16—PKT-2, 12
- DC-4, 11—SC-3, 10
- BH-3, 28—GH-1, 14
- ATO-5, 20—SN-2, 8
- DTD-5, 21—PGD-2, 16

THEOPHILUS AWARD — The National Rifle Association's sectional championship award, the D. R. Theophilus Award, went to the University last weekend when it placed second in the varsity rifle competition between six schools and 15 teams. The award, established this year by the University president, will annually go to either Idaho or Idaho State University. Accepting the trophy are, from left to right, Jack Hutteball, Dick Tracy, Joe Gillespie and G-Sgt. Billy Chapman.

U-I Wins Big Sky Swimming Meet Title For Second Straight Year

Vandal finman Karl von Tagen broke three individual records to qualify for the NCAA championships, and Idaho's 400-yard freestyle relay team smashed a league record as the University swimming team successfully defended its Big Sky Conference tank title last weekend in Missoula.

The Idaho tank squad finished the meet with 149 points, 30 more than the Idaho State team, the Vandals' closest contender. Weber State finished in third place with 84 points. Fourth place went to Montana with 47.

Von Tagen bettered his own Big Sky records in the 50, 100, and 200-yard freestyle to qualify for the collegiate finals to be held in Ames, Iowa March 25-28.

The Vandal 400-yard relay team swam its way to a new conference record of 3:37 in the Missoula splash. The team is composed of Dave Grieve, Bob Winn, Chuck Edwards, and Kris Kirkland.

John Cramer, Vandal swimming coach said that he was both pleased and proud of the performances given by the Idaho squad.

"Every swimmer on the team hit his psychological and physical peak at the right time and all performed at their season best," Cramer noted.

The Vandal tank mentor pointed out that the Idaho squad wasn't expected to win by such a win margin but that their great will to win and to retain the league title enabled them to pull far ahead of their closest contenders.

"They swam like champs," Cramer continued. "I was proud of them throughout the entire meet, not only in the way they swam but also in the way that they conducted themselves away from the pool. They were fine gentlemen representing the University of Idaho the way it should be represented."

A Vandal medley relay team composed of Chuck Edwards, Bill Stillmaker, and Fritz and Karl von Tagen broke an Idaho relay record with a time of 3:44.4, cutting nearly six seconds off the old mark.

Upset honors went to Vandal tankman Kris Kirkland as he splashed his way to a pool record and personal best in the 200-yard individual medley. He beat Mike Haratta of Idaho State. The conference record is still held by former Idaho finman Gary Baker.

Fritz von Tagen followed suit behind brother Karl, as he too bettered two of his old records. He smashed his records in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. The frosh swimmer from Walnut Creek, Calif., bettered by 2 seconds a mark in the 100-yard event that he set in a Eugene, Oregon meet earlier this season.

Frosh finman Frank Burlison broke his old marks in both the 100 and 200-breast stroke, bettering his old record in the 200-yard event by nearly three seconds.

Bruce Anderson placed fifth in the 500-yard freestyle with a personal best time. Idaho's Steve Calhoun followed in sixth place.

Willis Sweet finished in sixth place with a time of 3:07.5. Shoup Hall captured the seventh place berth with a total time of 3:09.1.

Delts Take First Place At U-I IM Ski Meet

The Delta Tau Delta ski team captured first place honors in the intramural meet held Saturday in the North-South Ski Bowl at Emida. The Delta squad won the meet with a combined team time of 2:45.2, eight seconds faster than the Phi Gamma Delta squad, their closest contender.

Dennis Miller, Sigma Nu, recorded the fastest individual time for the meet. He ran the course in 1:20.3. He was followed closely by Frank McWhirter, ATO, who finished with a time of 1:20.7. Third place honors went to John Frestenson, Delta Tau Delta, who's best time for the course was 1:21.2.

Phi Delta Theta finished in third place in the intramural meet with a combined time of 2:58.4. Fourth place was taken by the Sigma Nu team, which had a team time of 3:01.1.

The Alpha Tau Omega squad, led by McWhirter, followed closely behind the Sigma Nu team with a combined time of 3:02.8.

Willis Sweet finished in sixth place with a time of 3:07.5. Shoup Hall captured the seventh place berth with a total time of 3:09.1.

Other teams completing the course with qualifying times were:

Three Maple Court Careers Are Closed

By Jim Petersen
Arg. Sports Editor

Three Vandal cagers hung up the silver and gold for the final time last night as Coach Jim Goddard's speed merchants dropped a real see-saw court clash to the Washington Huskies, 99-87. Big Tom Moreland, Chuck (The Truck) Kozak and Jay Anderson wound up their collegiate careers as the Idaho quintet closed out its 1964-65 season with a 6-19 record.

The Idaho squad jumped into a quick lead as Moreland and Kozak combined forces to dump in 12 points to the Seattle's club's 4 in the opening minutes of play.

Matthews Broke Ice
Washington guard Henry Matthews broke the ice for the Husky five with a long jumper with 16 minutes remaining in the first half. Sophomore center Gordon Harris then took the helm as the U. of W. squad edged past the Vandals and moved to a 16-12 lead.

The Huskies retained their slight edge until Vandal forward Dave Schlotthauer found the bucket for six quick points to pull the Idaho squad into a one-point lead.

See-Saw Scoring
The scoring lead juggled back and forth between the Idaho and Washington clubs for the remainder of the first half as both clubs repeatedly vied for the lead. Lynn Nance and Dave Hovde led the Washington scoring race as they combined for 12 points while Idaho's Moreland, Rucker and Skafke took turns adding to the Vandal tally from both the inside and outside.

The Seattle club pulled into a six point lead with three minutes of play remaining on the clock and for a short period of time it looked as if they might lengthen their gap as Harris and Nance repeatedly found the bucket from the key area. However, scoring on the inside and Skafke's long jumpers evened the half time score 42-42.

Second Half Started Same
The second half started much the same as the first half ended with both teams battling for the lead. Schlotthauer and Rucker led the Idaho scoring in the opening minutes of play. Husky Gordon Harris paced the Washington scoring keeping the Seattle club in close contention.

The score was tied four times in the second half before the Seattle five, led by Bruce Brickner and Lynn Nance, pulled to 79-72 lead with seven minutes of play remaining. Jerry Skafke closed the gap to four points with a long jumper with five minutes of play left in the game.

Lead Lengthened
The Huskies lengthened the gap to seven once again with two minutes showing on the scoreboard clock as Jim Hermann dropped one in from the charity stripe.

The Seattle club scored their next four points from the free throw line. Mike Wicks dumped in the last bucket from the field for the Vandal five on a long jumper with 1:20 left to play, to make the score 93-85.

Huskies Steve Olsen and Nance added another four to the Washington tally in the last minute of play. Bob Flowers scored the ninety-ninth point for the U. of W. on a long jumper as the final gun sounded. Moreland scored point number 86 for the Vandals, and the last point of his college career.

Two Cagers Honored At Half

Two Vandal cagers were honored in last night's half-time ceremonies. Senior center Tom Moreland received the Ronald White award for the second season in a row. The presentation is made annually to the player named as the most outstanding by a vote of his team mates. It was given by the Idaho chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity in memory of a former Vandal cager, Ronald White, who was killed while on a basketball trip with the university squad in 1946.

The Jay Gano award, given to the player deemed the most inspirational by his teammates went to junior guard Jerry Skafke. The award is presented each year in memory of the former Idaho basketball letterman who was killed in Korea, Oct. 10, 1951. The presentation was made by Mrs. Jay Gano. Last year, the award went to Jay Anderson.
