Over 350 Expected For U-I Conference

High school journalists from all over the state will be arriving on campus Thursday to participate in the 19th annual three-day University Journalism Conference. Over 350 are expected to attend—topping the 300 number who attended last year. "We will probably set a new record at this conference for the number of high schools sending student editors and advisors," said Prof. Bert C. Cross, chairman of Journalism.

Keynote speaker will be William F. Johnston, managing editor of the Lewiston Morning Tribune.

HAROLD CANTOR
Journalism Educators Pres.

DOROTHY POWERS
Spokesman Review Columnist

Johnston, an Idaho graduate and past editor of the Argonaut, is a member of the National Advisory Council of the American Society of Journalism School Administrators.

Besides his journalistic career he has been active in Idaho affairs such as the Idaho Territorial Centennial Commission and the Idaho Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Also billed as headline speakers are Mrs. Dorothy Rochon Powers, reporter and columnist for the Spokesman-Review and Harold Cantor, president of the Journalism Education Association.

Royalty Finalists Of Frosh Named

Frosh Week 1965 officially began yesterday with noon voting for King and Queen finalists. Five candidates for each honor were chosen by their classmates.

In the running for Queen are: Nancy Boivin, Pi Phi, a five-foot one-inch blue-eyed brunette from Idaho Falls. An English major, she would like to study in England after four years at Idaho.

Pam Palmer, Alpha Chi from Coeur d'Alene. A brown-eyed blonde standing five-three, she is an outdoor sports enthusiast. Miss Palmer is also an English major who plans a teaching career.

Sharon Rowe, Gamma Phi, likes the nickname "Rosie." She is an elementary education major from Mountain Home whose plans include teaching and travel. This five-foot-four finalist has brown hair and hazel eyes.

Other Queen Finalists
 Ann Rutledge is a Tri-Delt from Boise who already holds a trophy as SAE Violet Queen. A PE major, she likes outdoor sports and wants to teach college swimming. She stands five-five, and has brown hair.

Barbara Schulte, a Kappa from Spokane, combines sports with an English major. A five-foot-five brunette with blue eyes, she plans to teach high school English after graduation.

Candidates for Frosh King include:
 Gail Ater, Delta Chi, a political science major from Hansen, Idaho, stands six-two and likes hunting, fishing, sports and politics.

Mike Brady, a six-foot Phi Delt from Moscow, likes cars and sports. Majoring in pre-law, this frosh footballer plans a legal career.

More King Finalists
 Steve Brown, Beta from Idaho Falls, includes mountaineering and skiing among his interests.

"Our Town"
 Mrs. Powers, known in this area for her "Our Town" column, will speak at the Friday evening banquet on "This Is the Way to Go!"

The only woman to win the Ernie Pyle memorial award for excellence in Journalism, she is a graduate of Montana State University and was named "Outstanding Reporter of the Year" for 1961 in the Washington State Press Awards.

Cantor, a high school journalism instructor and advisor at North St. Paul, Minn., will address the Idaho Journalism Advisers Association at their Friday noon luncheon. His topic will be "Investments Imply Returns."

Top 10
 He was named to the Honor Roll of Minnesota's top 10 teachers in 1964 and won a Minnesota School Bell Award in 1963 for national leadership in the establishment of a National Scholastic Press Week.

Other speakers will be Edward T. Litchfield, retired news editor of the Spokesman-Review and now journalism instructor at North Idaho Junior College, Coeur d'Alene and Robert Maker, sports editor of the Coeur d'Alene Press.

Group Sessions
 Group sessions headed by advisors or panels of students will cover sports, year book judging, feature writing, writing for television and radio, photography, new methods in duplicating, working with color, responsibility, advertising and methods of printing.

The conference will end Saturday noon with an awards luncheon. The winners of writing contests held before and during the session will be announced at the luncheon.

Applicants are asked to bring ideas for change and improvement with them to the interviews, he said.

Exec-Board Gives $547 To MUN After Struggle

Idaho's Model United Nations' delegation is $147 richer than last year's after a rather complete study and revision of the original budget submitted by Rev. Don Lee, Campus Christian Center, and student chairman Laddie Thueck, Shoup.

"Our original budget was worked out by myself and Laddie and submitted to the University. Our estimate was approximately $750. This, however, was not the first estimate that was seen by E-Board. E-Board was given a revised budget of $480 from Gale Mix, general manager of the Student Union.

"When we learned of this, we duplicated our budget and sent it to E-Board, so that they would be able to see the original estimate."

E-Board Acts
 E-Board then acted Tuesday night, after seeing both budget estimates, to give the delegation $560. A slight change was effected after this because one of the delegates will not travel with the group to San Francisco, but will meet them there, to make the final amount $547.

Idaho's delegates will leave April 5 by car for Claremont Men's College where MUN delegates from over 100 colleges in the far west will convene.

The eight University delegates are: Laddie Thueck and Bill Hallock, both of Shoup; Pat Morris, French; Donna Gibson, Alpha Phi; Keith Erickson, Fij; Larry Munden, off campus; Frank Callaghan, Willis Sweet; and Judy Rice, Theta.

Idaho Bids
 One important issue will be the outcome of Idaho's bid to host the MUN conference in 1967 said Larry Munden, off campus.

Munden explained that the delegates vote for host colleges two years in advance and that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Talent Show Better Than Ever; Blue Key Plans Much Variety

J. Winger Trial Set Thursday

"Will he?" or "Won't he?" remained the question yesterday as Jim Winger, Gault, carried on his battle to see if he will take the Executive Board seat he won as a write-in candidate in the March 17, ASUI election.

At a preliminary hearing Monday, Judicial Council Member Seward H. "Skip" French set 2 p.m. Thursday as trial date when the case will go before the whole council.

One peculiar aspect in the case remains unsettled late Monday was that neither Winger nor James Morfitt, a second-year law student who will represent him, had filed a formal complaint.

Fred Decker, Judicial Council chairman, said that the complaint must be filed before the Thursday trial. The trial Thursday will be open to the public as long as there is room for spectators in the E-da-ho room at the Student Union.

Winger, who was the seventh man to be declared elected after the ballots had been totaled under the Hare system, was ruled an ineligible candidate by Election Committee and Charles O. Decker, Dean of Students. The ruling came after the Committee and Decker had made a routine eligibility check with the Registrar following the election.

Winger, who is a senior and has applied for a degree in June, was determined ineligible for candidacy because he didn't qualify under Article II of the ASUI Constitution which states Executive Board members are "to be chosen . . . from the incoming junior and senior classes . . ."

NO EVIL?—"Speak no evil, hear no evil, see no evil" is the theme that Blue Key Talent Show Masters of Ceremonies Derald "Huey" Hurlbert (standing) and A. Robert Marley have chosen for their banter between acts of the show Friday night.

Entertainment Includes 16 U-I Student Acts

"Cruder and better than ever," "Humor surpassed," and "captivating variety" are comments made about this year's Blue Key Talent Show to be presented at 7:30 Friday night in the Memorial Gymnasium.

And, according to Carl Johannesen, the talent show general chairman, the members of Blue Key are also working on a "questionable display of talent."

There will be sixteen acts of varied entertainment, plus between-acts humor by the masters of ceremonies for the event, Bob Marley and Derald Hurlbert, both off campus.

As added entertainment, Blue Key will also perform during intermission. "Some of the fellows are working on some great jokes to get us all thrown out of school," joked Johannesen.

The Goldfinger
 A part of the acts will follow the "Goldfinger" theme with two dance interpretations and one all-house act doing take-offs on the Ian Fleming adventure.

Penny Gale, Alpha Phi, Linda Tague and Margie Brun, Pi Phi, and the Kappa Sig all house act are the three following this theme.

The Kappa Sigs, as a satire on the character James Bond, do a comedy take-off complete with girls who are actually bossy, and a tricky play on words.

Hays Hall will also present an all-house act, but it will have a twist of the roaring 20's. With girls attired as boys, they will depict a typical 1920's beach scene.

Individual Acts
 Individual acts will include Bill Southwick, off campus, who will demonstrate that the hand is quicker than the eye in his display of magic tricks; Mike Fueher, off campus, with a rhythm rousing drum solo, and Al Elguren, SAE, with a piano solo.

Barbara Howard, Kappa, Tap dance; Al Olston, off campus, accordion; and Margaret Elder, off campus, with a medley of vocal solos are also among the individual members.

Also Joy Esser, Upham, with a medley of organ selections and Carol Tubbs and Nancy Matter, Alpha Phi, who will present a vocal number with bongo drum accompaniment.

Group Acts
 Group acts include the Triads folksing group; Tom and Wally, Phi Taus with a sing along medley; and the Ramblers, a group from the Delt house.

Julie Andersen, DG and David Knutson, Sigma Chi will conclude with a vocal duet.

Derald Hurlbert and A. Robert Marley, both off campus, will

Spur-O-Grams Are Sold Today

Spur-O-Grams will be sold today and tomorrow in campus living groups.

The "messages" will be delivered by U-I Spurs April Fool's Day, according to Brooke Clifford, Gamma Phi, sophomore class secretary.

Students can instruct Spurs to sing their "messages," she said.

FRIDAY
 SUB Film, "The Last Hurrah" — 7 p.m., and 9 p.m., Borah Theater.

Stanford Prof. Johnson Is First Borah Speaker

John J. Johnson, Stanford professor, will speak at 9 a.m. Friday in Memorial Gymnasium.

The first of two Borah lecturers for 1965, Johnson will speak on "The Role of the non-Communist Left."

The speaker studied at the Portuguese Language Institute in Vermont in 1942 and at the University Nacional de Chile with a grant from the Chilean government in 1942. For three years he was a teaching assistant in California and in 1946 became an assistant professor at Stanford. In 1947 he earned his Ph.D and later became a professor of history at Stanford.

From his study of Latin America he has written on several subjects which include the dictatorship in Latin America, transportation and communication in Latin America especially in Brazil, pioneer telegraphy in Chile, the introduction of horses into America, and early U.S. relations with Chile.

AWS Meeting Set

Associated Women Students will hold a meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Appaloosa Room to evaluate the senior key program, according to Paula Spence, AWS President.

"Our purpose is to go over the key privilege program and discuss problems that have come up under the program, making revisions wherever they are felt to be necessary," Miss Spence said.

Women invited to the meeting are 1963-64 and present living groups standards board chairmen, AWS officers, and Mrs. Marjorie Neely, Dean of Women. Interested students are welcome, Miss Spence said.

Interviews Scheduled

AC Directors Important?

Importance of Activities Council area directors to be chosen in interviews April 7 was outlined by Dick Tracy, publicity area director of the Council, in an interview yesterday.

Applications for the seven new directors must be turned into the SUB office by April 6, publicity, recreational, Vandal rally, cultural-educational, services, and social and budget director.

The seven area directors organize and supervise committees in charge of such activities as coffee hours, New Student Days, the calendar, SUB films, Blue Bucket Inn, and Jazz-in-the-Bucket.

Educational - Cultural
 The Educational - Cultural area director is charged with the following committees: Exhibits, Coffee Hours and Forums, Stereo Lounge, Community Concerts, and New Student Days.

The student director decides the future working philosophy of his area and utilizes the preceding committees to see they are serving a definite purpose.

"The biggest problem is to organize programs to enable students to both enjoy them and benefit from them educationally — balancing the educational value with student enjoyment," said Dick Jennings, Delta Sig, chairman of the area.

Publicity Area Director
 Personnel, recruitment, art group, radio-TV, publicity, opinion poll, Activities Council handbook, and the calendar committees are all subordinate to the Publicity area director.

Activities under the committee he supervises include: preparation of posters and other commercial art materials by paid students for other committees, publication of an up-to-date calendar for each semester, polling students to measure the success of Activities Council publicity and to provide a means of transmitting ideas from students to the Council.

Staffing the Activities Council committees through interviews, publicizing AC events, and utilizing the radio and television media with special emphasis on the University facilities are also organized under the publicity director's supervision.

Recreational Area
 Dianne Green, Kappa, is the present director of the recreational area.

The Golden Fleece

By Jason

"Do you realize that there has been more effort put out by living groups for the Frosh Queen and King contests than there was for the ASUI elections?"

One of my staff members asked me that question last night.

No, I didn't realize it until she mentioned it. But after a week of looking at the posters around campus and listening to king campaign serenades while I'm trying to sleep at night, I wonder if the point she made isn't pretty valid.

It's a pretty ridiculous point, too, when one considers the truth in it—"he, and she, beauty contests out-drawing our student government for support."

I hope, however, that the truth—that Idaho students hold more faith in beauty titles than in political responsibility—hurts the new Executive Board enough that its members settle down right away and start making headway on some of the programs that need the hand of the students in the ASUI.

When the new E-Board takes office the first Tuesday after Spring Vacation, the new members will have to show Idaho students who are tied up with this "king" fetish that their loyalties are misguided.

Out With The Old—An Evaluation

If I am to find fault with the present E-Board, and there are faults to be found, my strongest criticism is that it is too bad it got such a late start at anything important.

Some of the late start was to be expected, but surely not so much. Carry-overs from the previous student government included Jim Johnston, Larry Nye and Gerald Huettig, all of whom had served on the previous E-Board. (Johnston was elected at the spring elections, and Nye and Huettig filled the unexpired terms of Ken Weatherbie and Dave Lindsay who left at semester.) They, at least, should have had their feet on the ground enough to provide more guidance to the early days of the 1964-65 Executive Board.

Still, under Johnston's leadership about mid-October, working with the Board got to be more fun and more of a challenge. Questions started coming up at meetings. What can we do about the budget? Should this body be more representative? What are some of the reasons that Karl Urban is always steaming about the Gem?

E-Board then started digging. Some of the questions were answered. Others still need answering. But the impetus is there now for the present Board to get some of these questions answered. The only problem is that after tonight, only one meeting remains until the new Board—an even greener board—takes office.

In The State—Two Bi-Partisan Heads

A lot can be said for bi-partisanship when an effort is made by members of both parties to pass needed legislation. Such can be said for the Idaho legislature in the last session when Gov. Robert E. Smylie's "New Day" programs passed.

Yesterday, Republican Gov. Smylie congratulated Democrat Lieutenant Governor Drevlow for his efforts in the passage of the sales tax and other programs.

These measures will enable Idaho to keep up, for the next two years, quality state programs—including the University of Idaho. Commendations are due both to Drevlow and Smylie and to the bi-partisanship of the legislature on these measures.

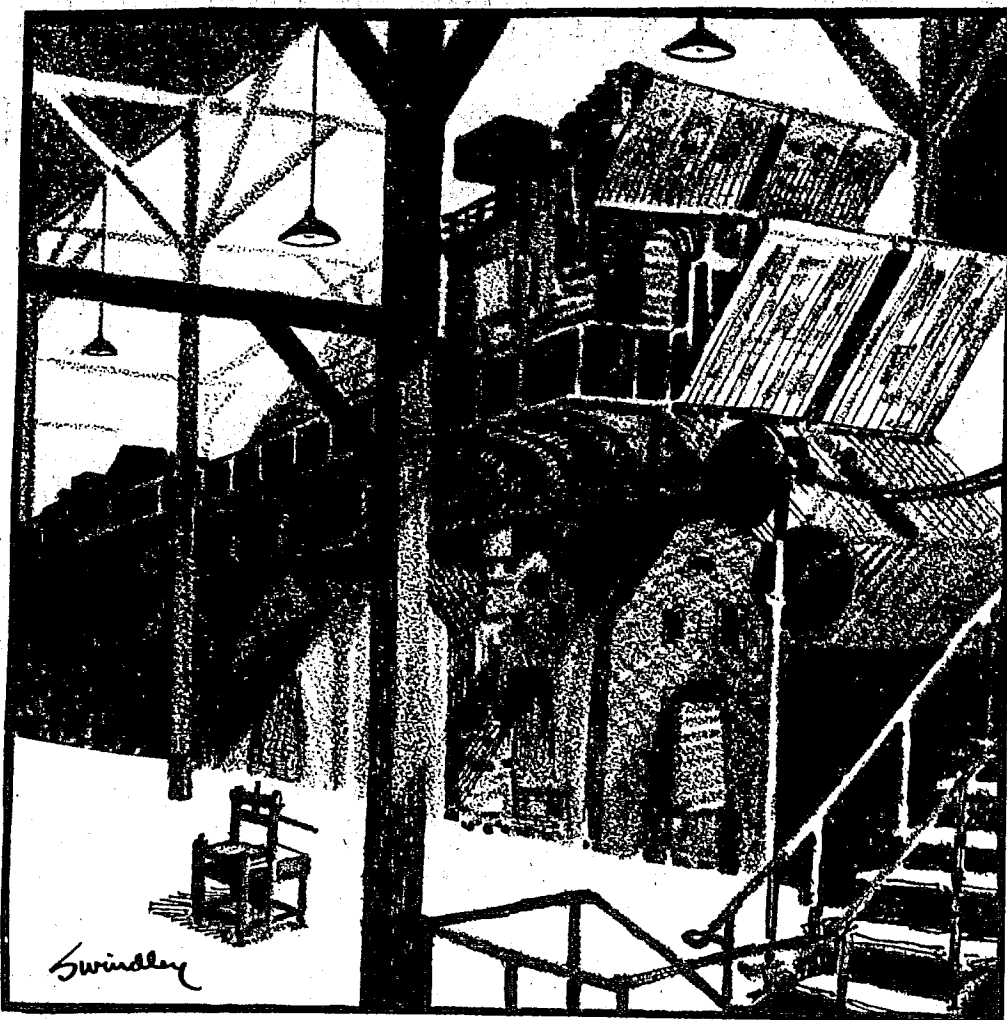

However, bi-partisanship is also rearing another head. This head would destroy the measures that passed the legislature. Sen. Harold Ryan, R-Washington, and Sen. William Dee, D-Idaho, have declared all-out campaigns against the "New Day" legislation—principally the sales tax.

Dee, who announced his candidacy this weekend, hopes it will carry him to the governor's chair. Ryan is against the sales tax at least partly because his county borders Oregon.

The two campaigns these men are waging will make a noticeable difference to the quality programs at the University and in the state if they are successful in defeating the sales tax.

Dee charges that the "New Day" programs demonstrated "a deep tenderness for the large vested interests in the state."

Maybe Mr. Dee doesn't realize that education is everybody's vested interest. On it rests the hope for Idaho.

THE PRESS: Also growth in responsibility

Why Journalism?

Why choose journalism as a career—because with journalism, you are in the center of news happenings and major events every day.

Some of the more than 350 high school students who will be on the University campus this weekend for the annual High School Journalism Conference may keep this in mind. Journalism is an exciting and rewarding career for the public-minded citizen.

As James Copley, head of the Copley string of newspapers in California put it at the 1961 Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, convention:

"By choosing journalism, a young man chooses a field that shapes all national and local policies and decisions. The written word ultimately finds out all venality, all inefficiency, all phonies, all mistakes. The greatest tyrant, in capital city or county seat, looks with dread upon the honest reporters."

The concept of the press as the "Fourth Estate" of our government serving as much as the separate Executive, Legislative and Judicial estates to keep our country free from tyrant's control, is a concept older than the United States itself.

We may crudely paraphrase Thomas Jefferson who said that if he had to choose between a free press and a free citizenry, he would choose a free press—but we maintain his idea.

The news that the men and women of journalism write shapes the ideas of every American—at least the ideas not gathered through personal contacts and knowledge.

Not every man in the United States can hope to know President Johnson, our senators or representatives or even the mayors of our cities, on a personal basis. They can know and evaluate these people and what they are doing only through a press that informs them, and informs them honestly.

But we digress from our central theme—the excitement of being in the center of issues and having first-hand information when the legislature acts on a sales tax, the Regents appoint a new head for the University of Idaho or the earth quakes in Chile.

Not all journalists have the opportunity to uncover a major scandal that wins them a Pulitzer Prize. But nearly all journalists have the opportunity to write about the happenings that shape our daily lives, whether these happenings be the weekly city council meetings, the decisions of the school board which will some day affect our children's education or the simple joys and griefs which make life worth living.

And so to the high school journalists who are here this week, we extend our heartiest greetings and the invitation to look around at journalism and the rewards that it offers.

Here's More About—

Activities Council Directors

recreation, arts and crafts, and Parents' Day committees are under her control.

The Arts and Crafts Committee attempts to provide in the Student Union Building a cultural stimulus toward art and to promote interest in crafts. Another committee — Indoor recreation — presents such programs as bridge, square dancing, and "modern" dances.

"This is a new area just getting on its feet," said Miss Green. "Next year should be a tremendous year for the area. One of the main problems will be to initiate an arts and crafts program throughout the year. We want to hire part time help to teach arts and crafts lessons."

The definite function of the arts and crafts room must also be decided, she said.

The services area director supervises the hospitality, Blue Bucket Inn, seasonal decorations, and Mothers' Day committees. The hospitality committee members act at the official greeter of the University and are available to lead tours of the campus and the SUB.

"Working with the committees under the director and helping them function properly is a big problem," said Ann Albee, Houston, services area director. "Achieving a good organizational pattern in working with your committee chairmen and the committees as a whole would be an excellent goal for the new area director."

Presenting programs featuring such students as Ray MacDonald and Judy Manville, Pi Phi, as the Jazz in the Bucket Committee did earlier this year.

is organized under the supervision of the social area director.

Other committees in this area are the open house and homecoming committees.

"The new director must know how to organize and to 'informalize' the SUB through such activities as the mixer dances and an enlarged Jazz in the Bucket program," said Jim Fields, FarmHouse, social area director.

A. Robert Marley, off campus, is area director of the Vandal Rally. Pom Pon girls, cheer leaders, Vandalettes, Pep Band, half time, and Century Club are under the direction of Marley.

The position of Budget Director will be a separate area this year and selection emphasis will be placed on those applicants majoring in accounting or business, Tracy said.

Pre-Occupation With Grades Called Characteristic Of College Generation

By SUSY SMITH
Argonaut Feature Editor
(Editor's Note — This is the first of a series of articles dealing with collegiate attitudes opinions and actions. The second will be based on Idaho student's opinions on the March 22 issue of Newsweek.)

Pre-occupation with grades, and "I-can-do-without-God-for-a-while" attitude and only a minor epidemic of the Berkeley bug.

These are the dominant characteristics of the college generation, according to recent polls and interviews conducted by Newsweek magazine in an article titled "Campus '65."

A comparison of the attitudes described by Newsweek writers and those of comments of Idaho students, both verbal and through channels such as Diogenes' Lantern, shows direct similarities.

Eight hundred students from a cross-section of America's colleges and universities were polled by Louis Harris and Associates.

Pressures?
One of the questions asked was, "What are the major pressures on students?" Almost half gave the same answer: "Frustration over not being a superior student."

The college student's supreme confidence in a prosperous future is based on the assumption that he will enter that future with a diploma.

"The pressure bit is pretty cumulative," said Francis J. Dever, Jr., a Boston College freshman. "It seeps into about everything."

Graded By All
Newsweek described the situation this way:

"The student is graded by his teachers, his parents, and himself. That can be a ruthless triumvirate, especially for the generation that grew up under Dr. Spock's permissive influence, the profoundly understood generation whose enlightened parents used Freud as a household word, much as their own parents used Fiat."

In spite of this pressure, 85 per cent of students interviewed declared themselves satisfied with college and only 12 per cent dissatisfied.

Dissatisfied
That generalized student satisfaction with college life contains within it some serious dissatisfactions. Though increasing population and growing organization of knowledge compel bigger universities, 60 per cent of the students preferred smaller schools. Thirty per cent found bigger universities more favorable.

Of those who preferred smaller schools, 22 per cent cited the chance of more individual help as a reason, 18 per cent, "informal contact," 16 per cent said small schools make it easier to "remain an individual, not a number."

Only eight per cent said it was easier to learn in a small college.

Better Equipped
By contrast, those who favored the larger university, said they were better equipped and provide a better-quality education.

Next to his high-school classing, the first thing today's impressionable college freshman learns he can do without is his old ideas about God.

Loss Of Faith
According to Newsweek's finding, it is less a sudden traumatic loss of faith than a gradual fade-out of their adolescent concept of God. And for the remainder of the undergraduate career, there is little time, inclination or opportunity to find a more viable replacement.

Newsweek indicates that confusion usually begins with a student's first encounter with the variety of philosophic thought in freshman survey courses.

Promiscuity
The Newsweek poll found that two-thirds of the boys and girls polled believe that prevailing campus standards encourage promiscuity; and more than four out of five said that their experiences in college had made them take a more tolerant attitude toward those who defy traditional sexual morality.

For all the outbreaks of "campus political action," only a minority of students have been bitten hard by the Berkeley bug, according to Newsweek.

Apathy
The majority of students who reject the activist scene may do so out of moderation — or just plain apathy. Some are too

IS EUROPE?

College life is such a busy one, what with learning the Maxixe, attending public executions, and walking our cheetahs, that perhaps we find ourselves sometimes neglecting our studies. Therefore this column, normally a vehicle for innocent tomfoolery, will occasionally forego levity to offer a quick survey course in one of the learned disciplines. Today, for an opener, we will discuss Modern European History.

Strictly defined, Modern European History covers the history of Europe from January 1, 1904, to the present. However, in order to provide employment for more teachers, the course has been moved back to the Age of Pericles, or the Renaissance, as it is better known as.

The single most important fact to remember about Modern European History is the emergence of Prussia. As we all know, Prussia was originally called Russia. The "P" was purchased from Persia in 1874 for $24 and Manhattan Island. This later became known as Guy Fawkes Day.

Persia without a "P" was of course called Ersia. This so embarrassed the natives that they changed the name of the country to Iran. This led to a rash of name changing. Mesopotamia became Iraq, Schleswig-Holstein became Saxe-Coburg, Bosnia-Herzegovina became Cleveland, there was even talk about changing the name of stable old England, but it was forgotten when the little prince escaped from the Tower and invented James Watt. This later became known as the Missouri Compromise.

Only last week he invented the German short-haired pointer.

Meanwhile Johann Gutenberg was quietly inventing the printing press, for which we may all be grateful, believe you me. Why grateful? I'll tell you why: Because without Gutenberg's invention you would not have this newspaper to read and you might never learn that Persenna Stainless Steel Razor Blades are now available in two varieties—the regular double-edge blade we have all come to know and love, and the new Persenna Injector Blade. Users of injector razors have grown morose in recent years, even sullen, and who can blame them? How would you feel if you were denied the speed and comfort and durability and truth and beauty of Persenna Stainless Steel shaving? Not very jolly, I'll wager! But injector shavers may now rejoice—indeed all shavers may—for whether you remove your whiskers regularly or injectively, there is a Persenna blade for you—a Persenna Stainless Steel Blade which will give you more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other brand you might name. If by chance you don't agree, the makers of Persenna will gladly buy you a pack of any brand you think is better.

Yes, friends, we may all be grateful to Johann Gutenberg for inventing the means to spread this great news about Persenna. The next time you're in Frankfurt-am-Main, why don't you drop in and say thanks to Mr. Gutenberg? He is elderly—408 years last birthday—but still quite active in his laboratory. Only last week he invented the German short-haired pointer.

But I digress. Returning to Modern European History, let us now examine that ever-popular favorite, France. France, as we all know, is divided into several Departments. There is the Police Department, the Fire Department, the Gas and Water Department, and the Bureau of Weights and Measures. There is also Madame Pompadour, but that is a dirty story and is taught only to graduate students.

Finally we take up Italy—the newest European nation. Italy did not become a unified state until 1848 when Garibaldi, Cavour, and Victor Emmanuel threw three coins in the Trevi Fountain. This lovely gesture so enchanted all of Europe that Metternich traded Parma to Talleyrand for Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. Then everybody waited till dawn and then, tired but happy, they started the Thirty Years War. This later became known as Pitt the Younger.

Space does not permit me to tell you any more about Modern European History. Aren't you glad?

DEADLINE IS SET

Wednesday has been set as the deadline for all entries to the SUB Art Contest, according to Maun Rudisill, ASUI office. Entries will be accepted in the following categories: Oil, water color, graphic arts, and photography.

RECOGNITION PLAQUE—A plaque in recognition of Chamber of Commerce contributions to the University was recently presented to E. R. Short, past Chamber president, and M. J. Kenworthy, new Chamber president. Presenting the plaque are Jim Johnston, outgoing ASUI president, and Bill McCann, new ASUI president.

Future 'U' Enrollment Restrictions Hinge On Jr. Colleges, Says Prexy

Future restrictions on the enrollment of both Idaho and out of state students were predicted by President D. R. Theophilus in a half hour interview with Dave Soper on KUID Thursday.

These future restrictions cannot be initiated until a junior college system in the state is developed, said President Theophilus.

The U-I head administrator strongly supported the development of the junior college system because it fulfills the state's obligation to offer a higher education to all residents.

Because

while controlling the quality of students who go on to the university.

With a strong junior college system, all students would be required to prove themselves at a junior college before being admitted to the University, he said.

Coordination Dr. Theophilus said this type of system would require a high degree of coordination so students would not lose credits in transferring, and state resources would not be wasted in duplications in the various institutions.

He predicted that the U-I and ISU will be the two big institutions in Idaho in the future.

New Ed Building

In the appropriations granted by the legislature this session, was a package bill for a new College of Education building and a new Engineering Laboratory for the University.

Part of this will be financed, according to Theophilus, by a $5 assessment to all students in their registration fees. Bids will open for the construction of the new Art and Architecture building around May 1 and its completion is set for next spring, he went on to say.

Interviews Set For Committee

Interviews for chairman of the Blood Drive Committee will be Wednesday from 7:30 to 10 a.m. in the Student Union Building Sawtooth room.

Chairmen of publicity, reception, award, and facilities will also be interviewed.

Chairmanships are open to members of any class.

YR's Plan Interviews

Young Republican nominees for office will be interviewed before election Wednesday night by the Y. R. Executive Board, according to Ray Rocha, off campus.

"Then their ideas or platform for the coming year can be presented to the members attending," he said.

The plan to interview nominees before election is new and is being used to find the definitely interested and qualified persons for office, said the outgoing president.

Elections and interviews will be at 7 p.m. in the Borah Theatre.

So far, about five persons have been interviewed earlier by the executive board and some have outlined activity plans for the coming year.

"We would like to have a better relationship with the senior party. And we also hope to have more educational meetings on a bi-partisan basis, so students can hear both sides of issues," said Rocha.

"Most students at the college age don't know too much about party policies and it would help them to make a party affiliation if they could hear two sides of an issue," he said.

Voting during the elections is to be limited only to actual signed members, according to Rocha.

Offices needed to be filled are: president, vice president, executive vice president, secretary and treasurer.

There are also other appointed offices to fill, such as public relations, education, advertising, and social.

KUOI Radio Station Sets Feedback Program

A feedback program centering on an analysis of the ASUI budget has been tentatively scheduled for the second week in April by University radio station KUOI.

The exact date of the program will not be definitely set until the ASUI budget has been presented to E-Board, according to Bob Sparks, McConnell, who will moderate the program.

Panel members for the program are still being selected and will be announced next week, according to Jim Kuehn, McConnell, chief announcer.

Ballot In Argonaut

A ballot containing questions concerning the budget will be published by the Argonaut in conjunction with the program.

The ballots will be collected, analyzed and compared with the answers of the panel members, for the information of members of student government. The stress of the program and ballot is on two-way communication, according to Sparks.

Kuehn said that much favorable comment has been received on KUOI's last feedback program concerning student government on campus.

KUOI is presently embarking on a new series of editorials discussing the "wastes" on the University campus. This will be a four-part series beginning immediately after spring vacation. The University is now receiving bids for further equipment for KUOI operations. Upon receipt of this equipment, it will take an estimated two weeks to achieve complete campus broadcasting coverage.

Sophomores...

Here's what the new 2-year Army ROTC program means to you

A new Reserve Officer Training Corps program permits selected college sophomores to be commissioned as Army Second Lieutenants in two years. You can do this by:

1. Completing a special 6-week summer camp between your sophomore and junior years.
2. Completing the 2-year Advanced Course at any school offering the ROTC program.

What are the benefits of Army ROTC training?

- Management training for success in civilian or military life.
- $40 per month pay while attending the Advanced Course, plus uniforms; pay and paid travel for summer camps.
- Eligibility for free flight instruction at selected schools leading to a private pilot's license.
- A commission as an Army officer, with all of its accompanying benefits, including higher income, greater opportunity for advancement and officer status.
- The personal satisfaction that comes from knowing you're trained to assume leadership responsibilities.

These benefits will put you a step ahead of other college graduates and will pay off for the rest of your life. You owe it to yourself to investigate these new opportunities.

Scholarship Deadline Set For U-I Enrolled Students

April 9 is the deadline for filing scholarship applications for students currently enrolled in the University, according to Charles O. Decker, dean of students.

The general University Scholarship Committee will be reviewing and considering applications during the Spring vacation period. Their general objective is to inform recipients of their selection about May 1, according to Decker.

Students wishing to make these applications for scholarships for the next school year may obtain application blanks from the Office of Student Affairs.

Those scholarships which are generally available to students, according to Decker, are the Ralph M. Alley Memorial, which awards two $50 scholarships on the basis of need, campus contribution, and scholarship; and the Associated Women Students $150 scholarship for women.

The Charles F. Baker Scholarship for $200 to students in the College of Agriculture; and the Bank of Idaho scholarship for students in the College of Business Administration.

Blue Key and Boebling

The Blue Key scholarships which award two $100 donations to male sophomores who have made a tangible contribution to the university; and the Boebling Scholarship for junior and senior students majoring in mathematics, physics, and engineering which range from $150 to $300.

The Boise Civitan Club, which provides $100 annually for a senior majoring in clinical psychology of a related field, and the Dorris C. and Nellie H. Bowers scholarship is for students in anthropology.

Also available are the Bessie L. Carithers award for majors in pre-nursing or medical technology; the Challenge Cream and Butter Association award to freshmen or sophomores majoring in dairy science, and the Crown Zellerbach Foundation grant to be used for students in forestry.

Additional Scholarships

The Davis Brothers award for upper class students majoring in the College of Business Administration; the Delta Delta award to a woman student for high scholarship and need; and the First Security Foundation which grants two $500 awards in the College of Business and in the College of Agriculture.

The General University Scholarship is available to sophomores and juniors for outstanding achievement with definite need; and the Mary Lillian Henry Scholarship for $150 for a man student on basis of character, leadership and citizenship.

The Idaho Association of Realtors $200 renewal scholarship for students in the College of Business Administration, the Sarah Hutchinson award for a junior woman in music or journalism; and the Idaho Beer Distributors award for students in agriculture are available.

The Idaho Candy Company scholarship for majors in Business; the Idaho Federation of Garden Clubs for students in horticulture, and the Idaho Power grant for students in agricultural engineering.

Available Awards

The Idaho Ice Cream Manufacturer's Association is for students in dairy manufacturing, and the Idaho Milk Processor's Association grant for students in dairy manufacturing.

The Intercollegiate Knights scholarship is available to past or present members of IK's and the Marion Kraus Memorial for students in pre-nursing.

The A. E. Larson fund is for students in the College of Mines, and the Jacob Monson Agricultural Scholarship for students in agriculture or ag. engineering.

The C. W. Moore scholarship is to be awarded to students with a "B" or better academic level; and the Lucile Olin scholarship for students in the radio-TV field.

The Pacific Northwest Plant Food association provides grants for students in agronomy or other area of soils, and the Panhellenic scholarship is for a member or pledge of an Idaho sorority to be used during her junior or senior year at the University.

The Kenneth Primus award is available for a sophomore student on the basis of scholarship and college contribution, and the Ralston-Purina scholarship to be awarded to a senior in the College of Agriculture.

Regents Endowment

The Regents Scholarship Endowment for sophomores and juniors for outstanding achievement and definite need, and the Texaco Scholarships to male students in the fields of chemistry, engineering, geology, and physics.

Finally, the Utah Power and Light Company Scholarship is for students in ag. engineering and the R. M. Wade Foundation for students in agricultural education.

Scholarships in other specialized fields are also available. Students wishing to know more about them should contact the Office of Student Affairs.

U-I Students Attend Meet

Four representatives of the Idaho chapter of the Student Idaho Education Association attended a convention in Boise Thursday through Saturday.

Representatives of the University student chapter, Jo Harshbarger, Pine, Frank Sawyer, McConnell, Fran Emery and Nadine Wright, both Theta.

At the convention Miss Wright announced her candidacy for the State SIEA vice president.

The SIEA which for the first time met separately from the IEA, held a mock session like the IEA.

At the conclusion of their meeting the SIEA presented to the IEA the resolutions it had passed.

Watercolor Show In Art Building

A display of 20 water colors will be on view in the lobby of the Art and Architecture building through April 10.

The water colors are by Anthony Read, a graduate student in Art education at Eastern Washington State College at Cheney.

The display, sponsored by the art department at Eastern Washington, has just come from the Spokane Community College.

Australian-American Pianists In Concert Tonight

OUT LIKE A LION—March, which came in like a lamb for a change, is following form and going out like a lion. Snow began falling Thursday afternoon and did not stop until Saturday morning. Students may hope that snow doesn't fall in May again this spring.

The Moscow Community Concert Association and ASUI will present Nelson and Neal, Australian-American duo-pianists, in concert tonight at 8 p.m., in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Nelson and Neal are two of the most reverently dedicated concert artists in America today, according to Norman R. Logan, associate professor of music.

Their recitals invariably consist entirely of original four-hand literature, and are brought to life with a sensitive execution and depth of perception reminiscent of the Golden Age of duo-pianism, he said.

The artists are currently recording for 20th Century-Fox Records.

Attendance at the concert will be limited to Community Concert members and students presenting their ASUI cards.

Positions Open For U-I Coeds

Final practice for pom-pom girl tryouts will be 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Dipper of the Student Union Building.

Six regular and four alternate positions are open to all freshman, sophomore and junior girls regularly enrolled in the University. A 2.2 grade point accumulation is required.

Any girls who are interested but cannot attend this meeting should contact Mary Ellen Fairchild, Gamma Phi Beta.

Sigma Tau Plans Meeting Tonight

Sigma Tau, engineering honorary fraternity, plans a short, informal meeting for prospective members tonight at 6:45 p.m. in the Cataldo Room of the SUB.

Requirements for admission to the fraternity, advantages of membership and fraternity Williams, chairman of the Arts goals will be discussed, Harold Duffy, Upham, said.

Economics Is YD's Topic

Young Democrats discussed the importance of the Economic Opportunity Act at a regular business meeting in the SUB Wednesday night.

The discussion, lead by Orville Nutting, TKE, pointed out the necessity of the program in the areas of Negro employment, older unskilled workers, and the numbers of youth entering the labor force.

Knitting Lessons Begin Tonight

Beginning knitting lessons will begin tonight at 6:45 p.m. in the Silver Room of the Student Union Building.

Kay Henricks, an instructor for the Needle Nook will teach the six Tuesday night lessons.

Interested students may apply in the ASUI office. A professional instructor charge of three dollars must be paid, Dour Williams, chairman of the Arts and Crafts Committee said.

MISS U OF I

Preliminaries for the Miss U. of I. Pageant this Thursday have been cancelled because of the small number of applicants, according to John Cooksey, Sigma Chi, chairman of the Pageant. All girls who have applied will appear in the finals April 30.

WORK IN EUROPE

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg—You can still get a summer job in Europe and a travel grant through the American Student Information Service. ASIS is also giving every applicant a travel grant of at least $250. Wages are as high as $450 a month. Such jobs as resort hotel, office, sales, factory, farm, camp and shipboard work are available. Job and travel grant applications and full details are available in a 36-page booklet which students may obtain by sending $2 (for the booklet and airmail postage) to Dept. R, ASIS, 22 Ave. de la Liberté, Luxembourg; City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

No, I was just thinking about what to give Sue. It's our anniversary.
- You're not even married.
We've known each other three full weeks.
- You give a gift every week?
We try to remember the important dates.
- Isn't that overdoing it a bit?
Not when you're in love.
- You'll be broke before you get to the altar.
Oh, we're very practical. Sue gave me a pocket pepper grinder and I gave her my B+ theme on Parental Attitudes Among the Arawak Indians.
- If you really want to be practical, why don't you get a Living Insurance policy from Equitable—and give her security. That way, when you get married, you'll know that she and the kids will always be provided for if something should happen to you.
Swell idea. Now, what do you think she'd like for National Crab Apple Day?

Nothing can take the press out of Lee-Prést slacks

Not that it's on his mind right now. And it needn't be. Those Lee-Prést Leasures can't help but stay crisp and neat. No matter what you put them through. They have a new permanent press. So the crease stays in. The wrinkles stay out. Permanently. And that's without ironing. No touch-ups, either. They're made from Lee's special blend of 50% polyester and 50% combed cotton. For wash and wear... with conviction.

Incidentally, that permanent press is the only change we've made in Leasures. They still have that lean, honest look... smart, tailored fit. New Lee-Prést Leasures. Test their permanent press yourself. It isn't necessary, but it's a great way to spend an evening. From $5.98 to $7.98.

Idaho: 'Belt' Golf Champions; Take 'Fatmans' Relay

Trail, Carter Score Low As Banana Temp Drops

By JOHN JAMES
Argonaut Sports Writer

Defending champion University of Idaho successfully topped the Banana Belt Golf tournament's six-team field by a comfortable margin of 16 strokes over runner-up Washington State at the Clarkston Country Club Saturday.

The Vandals finished with a four-man 36-hole total of 627. WSU was second with 643 strokes and Gonzaga University ended third with 650.

Trail, Carter — Low Individual low scores for Idaho were registered by Dick Trail and Bill Carter. Both chalked 154's. In the overall standings they were tied for third spot.

Other Vandals were Larry Kirkland 156, Ros Rognstad 157 and Chick Cutler 162. Trail led the Idaho No. 1 team to the championship, while Carter pioneered the No. 2 contingent. The second team finished fifth with 658 points.

Medalist honors went to Larry Lee of Whitworth College, who fired a 150 for the 36 holes. Tied for second with 153's were Karl Ota of Eastern Washington and Bob Carlson of WSU.

Positions Still Open "We played two 5-man teams but we still haven't broken it down to the main 6-man team," Snyder said.

"Have to get the team rounded into shape. Up to now, it has just been qualifying. "We have good depth. There are eight men playing about the same and three more are going to turn out."

Poor Weather Hampers Coach Snyder said that he thought Idaho did fairly well under the weather conditions. The tournament ended in cold rain. Players teed-off as quickly as snow melted from the fairways.

Even with the good showing of Idaho's strong golfers Snyder feels that we have got to make quite a bit improvement. The scores are not too good, he said.

The reason for Snyder's awareness is due to the scheduled University of Washington and Seattle University match in Seattle April 12-13. He feels that this match will be testing the Vandals well.

Concluding the Banana Belt's golf program, Eastern Washington State College had 651 and fourth spot; Whitman, fifth at 672 and Whitworth last with 695.

Idaho's unbeaten linksters will host Eastern Washington on the University's golf course Saturday.

Cage Meeting Set Tomorrow

Announcement of next season's schedule and the preparation for next year's ball club will be made at a meeting of all basketball players Wednesday at 4 p.m. in Memorial Gym, Coach Jim Goddard said today.

Recruiting is Goddard's present major headache. He is hastily catching up on past correspondence and organizing his follow-up on potential Vandal talent.

"Now, it's the follow-up of the kids from high schools and junior colleges plus covering the in-state talent," he said.

WRA Rules Hold Rifle Team Awards

The question of whether women should receive athletic awards for participation on the rifle team held up passage of the rifle team awards at the Executive Board meeting Tuesday.

Although the other winter sports awards passed routinely, the recommendations for rifle team awards were held up until conferences could be held with the Administration and Miss Mable Locke, the advisor of the Women's Recreation Association.

The WRA constitution does not allow awards not authorized by the WRA. Awards passed were varsity and freshman basketball, varsity swimming, and varsity skiing.

Co-Rec Pool Hrs.

Pool hours for co-recreational swimming will be weekdays 4-5 p.m., Saturday afternoons from 2-4, and Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7-8:30, announced Leon Green, head of the Physical Science Department. Staff swimming will be at noon weekdays only.

POWER SPIN—Idaho's Fullback Ray MacDonald sailed the discus 154'7" Saturday at the Banana Belt Track Meet at Lewiston. His effort, however, was only worthy of second place.

INTRAMURALS

Four costly forfeits were registered during last Thursday's intramural "B" basketball action.

Each time a forfeit appears the team who forfeits loses five points when the total points are counted for the particular sport. So, it is wise not to forfeit or the group loses intramural "participation" points.

Three contests were extremely well-fought. Shoup-1 outlasted Beta Theta Pi-2, 14-13. The Beta-4 saved the day for BTP by squeaking through Gault's defense for a 20-19 victory. In the third hair-raiser, Phi Delta Theta-2 mustered a 18-16 win over Fijl-2.

No "B" basketball games are scheduled today due to the community concert tonight at 8 p.m.

Two Idaho nordic ski stars came through with high finishes to place in the NCAA championships at Crystal Mountain Washington last weekend.

Vandal skiers Nils Jebson and Joh Ostbo claimed fourth place in the national cross country and fifth among the nations top jumpers, respectively.

The meet at the big mountain in western Washington was staged in far from ideal weather conditions. Snow-laden winds through most of Sunday afternoon's competition hampered skier's visibility and created unsafe course conditions.

Pleased With Meet Idaho ski mentor, Dick Day, said that in spite of the weather conditions, he was pleased with the meet and with the performances of his two ace skiers.

"It was a good meet—an excellent meet as a matter of fact," he said. "I felt that the meet was conducted in a manner befitting a national championship."

Day noted that the meet was by far one of the best that Idaho had been in a long while.

Hampered by Loss of Skier "However," he said, "I do feel that we were hampered by the loss of jumper Rolf Prydz and Terry Coffin. Prydz was ineligible under an NCAA ruling regarding age and previous competition. Coffin broke his leg at Bozeman's Bridger Bowl when we competed there."

Day explained that the loss of Prydz and Coffin forced Idaho to enter the meet and compete on an incomplete team basis with three skiers entered in cross country competition and two in jumping.

"Competing as an incomplete team can be disastrous when it comes time to add up total team points," Day noted. "However, I do think that we placed the highest of all teams competing on an incomplete basis, strictly on the basis of Jebson and Ostbo's performances in the nordic events. They really came through for us."

Possibly Seventh or Ninth "The only thing I can say for sure," he continued, "is that we finished somewhere between seventh and ninth place on a full team scale—probably because there were only a few full teams entered in the meet compared to those who had skiers entered in only a few events."

U-I Diamond Crew Hosts CBC, Whitworth Fri-Sat.

Baseball makes its debut in Moscow this weekend when the Idaho Vandals tangle with Columbia Basin on Friday and Whitworth college on Saturday.

Both meetings will be single games. The Vandals split with CBC in Pasco on March 20, but will be meeting Whitworth for the first time here on Saturday. The Vandals lost 5-2 and won 3-1 against the Hawks. In their only meeting with the Whites last season Idaho won 12-1.

Going into their weekend's action the Vandals find themselves on the short end of a 3-4 record, an unaccustomed spot for an Idaho baseball team.

The Vandal bats haven't been ringing, but Idaho has shown that it will be a running team again with 11 stolen bases in seven games. Centerfielder Jim leading the base burglars with three.

Hoagland Leads Stickers Veteran Tom Hoagland from Spokane is the leading sticker among the regulars with a .316 batting average. His slugging mark is .576 and the Vandals haven't been operating in parks with fences yet.

Rookie Al Simmons from Coeur d'Alene and junior Mike Lamb from Lewiston are heading the mound staff with junior Frank Reberger from Caldwell improving after a shakey start. Simmons is 1-0 and has chalked up eight strikeouts in seven innings.

Lamb is 1-1 and has fanned 11 in 15 frames. His earned run average is 2.97. Reberger has struck out 12 in 10 1-3 innings. The strikeout crown, however, belongs to Bill Stoneman, another junior from West Covina, Calif., with 12 in 8 2-3 innings.

U-I Graduate Commissioned

A semester graduate of the University, Donald R. Hillier, was commissioned as Ensign, USN, in informal ceremonies held Wednesday at the Navy Building.

Hillier, who usually goes by the name of Randy, graduated in February with a B.S. degree in geology.

Prior to his commissioning by Capt. Harry E. Davey, Jr., professor of Naval Science at the University, he spent six weeks aboard the USS Permit, a nuclear-powered attack submarine sailing out of San Diego.

To Return Ensign Hillier will return next week to Submarine Flotilla One in San Diego for temporary duty awaiting the next class in Navy Nuclear Power School at Mare Island, San Francisco.

A Delt at Idaho, Hillier headed the 150-man Idaho midshipman battalion and captained the Idaho Navy Rifle Team during his senior year.

Cramer 2nd To NCAA Indoor Vault Champion

By JIM PETERSEN
Arg Sports Editor

Washington State University almost made a clean sweep of the Banana Belt Relays in Lewiston's Vollmer Bowl last Saturday. The Cougar cindermen captured first place honors in all but one event—the Fat Man's Relay. Idaho won that event. WSU didn't even enter.

Perhaps it's just as well. and half-miler Nils Jebson back on the cinders. Prydz was featured in the pre-jumping at the NCAA championships last weekend and Jebson took a fourth in the cross country at Crystal Mt., Wash.

Also returning to action this Saturday as the Vandals travel to Ellenburg for a meet with Central Washington State will be sprinter Bill Bryson and weight man Ray Miller. Both missed the Banana Belt relays because of minor injuries.

The Vandals have been in the Washington State Indoor at Pullman and the Banana Belt during the past two weeks. The meet with CWSC will be the first dual meet competition and will give MacFarlane a chance to assess his individual talent as the Vandals begin to groom for the season closer—the Big Sky championships in Pocatello on May 21-22.

Head track mentor, Doug MacFarland wasn't at all displeased with the performance of his crew.

Cramer Second Idaho swimming coach, John Cramer, placed second in the pole vault as he cleared the crossbar at 15 feet. Cougar senior Bob Yard, the NCAA indoor vaulting champion, edged Cramer out with a vault of 15-6. Cramer, a former University of Washington track star, competed independently in the meet.

No one was more surprised with Cramer's performance than he himself. "It was the first time that I had touched a pole in competition since I competed in Sweden last summer," he said.

He's Happy Cramer isn't the only Idaho coach who is wearing a smile on his face. MacFarland is grinning from ear to ear—and for good reason—the ski season has finally ended. Not that he is anti-ski team—it's just that the end of skiing means that Idaho will have its lettermen javelin map and triple-jumper Rolf Prydz
