DONATING—An Idaho student donates a pint of his blood to the Blood Drive, which was handled by the American Red Cross. The blood will be shipped to Viet Nam upon request of the Department of Defense.

RECOVERING—Students drink orange juice and rest at a table after giving blood at the annual University of Idaho Blood Drive. This year the quota was 900 pints and the living groups competed to see who could give the most on a percentage basis.

Blood Drive Totals Record 1,000 Pints

A total of 1,000 pints of blood were donated at the campus wide blood drive which ended yesterday at 2:30 p.m., and about 120 more student donors were turned away as the doors were closed.

The Rev. Clayton S. Valder, secretary of the Latah County Red Cross said that the 1,000 pints was all the blood center in Boise could handle, and they had to turn students away.

The blood mobile shipped 312 pints out the first night, 362 the second night, and we just couldn't handle any more in the blood mobile than we had today, he said.

"The Red Cross is very proud of the students at Idaho," for donating the record amount," he said. The 1,000 pints total surpasses even last year's total of 908, he said.

Rev. Valder said that the Red Cross now donates more than half of the United States' blood supply. The blood donated this year will go to the armed services, he said.

He added, however, that students had the privilege of signing up blood for specific persons. These requests will be honored, he added.

According to Ron Douglas, Lambda Chi, co-chairman of awards and living group competition, the person receiving the most blood donations is Boyd Given, Fiji. Given had 282 pints designated to him, Douglas said.

Douglas named the winners of the living group competition. The winners of the divisions are:

Men's Halls; L.D.S. with 110 per cent.
 Campus Club with 29 per cent
 Chrisman with 23 per cent.
 Women's Halls; Ethel Steel, 39 per cent
 Forney, 32 per cent
 Hays, 27 per cent.
 Men's fraternities, Phi Tau, 124 per cent
 T.K.E., 79 per cent
 Pi Kap, 76 per cent.
 Women's sororities; Tri Delta, 65 per cent
 Pi Phi, 49 per cent
 Alpha Gam, 30 per cent.

Douglas said the awards would be presented to the various living groups at dinner Monday night. He added that this was unusual, and said they would have been presented Sunday but dress dinners were cancelled due to Loyalty Day.

More living groups competition winners were:

Carter over Shoup, Campbell over Houston, Forney over Hays. Ethel Steel over French, D.G. over Pine, and Alpha Gam over Theta.

Alpha Phi over Alpha Chi, Phi Delta over Gamma Phi, and Pi Phi over Kappa.

Delta Chi over Sigma Chi, SAE over Sigma Nu, Betas over Phi Deltis, Phi Taus over Delta Sigs, and Gault over Upham.

Campus Club over Kappa Sigs, Lindley over Willis Sweet, Chrisman over McConnell, and Snow over Graham.

L.D.S. over Borah, Pi Kaps over Lambda Chi, and T.K.E. over Deltis.

Greek Goodwill Day To Start Greek Week

Greek Goodwill Day starts off Greek Week Saturday, May 14.

Goodwill Day, the sororities and fraternities spend from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. painting Moscow's swimming pool, bathroom and filterhouse. Also, they will do general repair work on the city parks, such as digging around the flower beds, hoeing around the trees, and picking up the debris, according to Steve Bell, Beta, publicity co-chairman.

Highlighting the week is a free dance from 9 to 12 p.m. Friday May 20 in the SUB Ballroom. Music is by the Dynamics, of Seattle, a popular group who have recently cut a record.

Margaret Hegler, A-Phi, co-chairman of Greek Week, emphasized that the whole campus was welcome and urged all to attend. "We have put in a lot of work to have a free dance and yet have a great band, so we hope everyone — Greek and independents alike — will come," she said. The dress is school clothes.

Greek awards banquet is Friday night.

Loyalty Day Scheduled Sunday; Moscow Citizens Sponsor Fete

Frank Hemingway To Give Speech

Sunday is Loyalty Day for Moscow and the University.

Featured speakers for the festivities will be Air Force Capt. Frank Hungerford, a recent returnee from an advisory position with the South Vietnamese Air Force, and Frank Hemingway, ABC newscaster in Los Angeles.

A parade beginning in the Rousar's parking lot at 1 p.m. will begin the festivities. Participants will include the Vandelettes, contingents from the Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC units and sponsors, Pom Pon girls, Spurs, and Century Club. The group will travel down Main Street to Sixth, up Sixth to Rayburn, and over to the Arboretum.

Here a picnic will be held for all who would like to come. Living groups are asked to bring sack lunches and local concessionaires are expected to provide free coffee, soft drinks and ice cream. Folk singers and bands will be there to entertain. Capt. Hungerford and Hemingway will speak at 3 p.m. as a highlight of the picnic.

Capt. Hungerford, who is now based at Mountain Home AFB, Idaho, is a former fighter, bomber, test pilot, and training instructor and is a veteran of 231 combat missions since his assignment in Viet Nam. He entered the U.S. Air Force in 1949 after studying at the U. of Southern California, and the U. of Maryland. He flew combat in Korea in 1951 and 1952 as a night low level attack pilot. His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star, an Air medal with nine oak leaf clusters, the Purple Heart, a Presidential citation, and the Vietnamese Command Pilot Wings awarded by former Premier Cao Ky.

Hemingway, who makes his home in Los Angeles is now in his tenth year at ABC. His radio career began in Portland, Ore. and he moved to Los Angeles in 1945.

Prior to becoming a radio personality, he worked on the stage in New York for several years and later turned to directing professionally. He produced and directed the largest outdoor pageant in Canadian History and was director of the Bala Theatre Players for five years. Hemingway will arrive tomorrow about 4 p.m. when he'll be greeted by a welcome from the Chamber of Commerce Ambassador's Club. A public reception will follow early that evening.

Should there be rain on Sunday, the picnic will be held in the Field House and the program in the University Auditorium.

E-Board Hears More About Sales Tax; Issues Statement

By Mike Seibert
 Argonaut News Editor

A more careful look at the present Idaho sales tax was one of the main elements at E Board meeting Tuesday night. Members of Executive Board decided last week that they should hear more of what exactly the sales tax is doing for the University and what some of the possible alternatives could be.

Louis Boaz, who retired as editor of the Idahoian in January and who is presently chairman of the "Forward Idaho" a state-wide committee who are supporting the present tax structure because it does give the Universities some of the funds so desperately needed by them, spoke to the board.

Jim Monroe, democratic representative from Nez Perce County was also present at the E-Board meeting. He has been on the revenue and taxation committee for 16 years in the Idaho state legislature and helped to write the sales tax bill.

Both men gave the good and bad features of the sales tax bill and both agreed that the bill was getting some money for the University.

Monroe gave a brief history of the tax laws in Idaho and pointed out that since Idaho became a state its taxes have caused concern and have been increased again and again.

Monroe said that he wished to alleviate the fear that should the sales tax be voted down the funds already set would be cut back. "This is not true," he said.

He also added that there were (Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

Foresters Conclave Starts

Foresters from 10 Western schools are at the University of Idaho this week for the Association of Western Forestry Clubs conclave.

The group of 74 was welcomed Thursday morning by Dean Huber, president of AWF.

The events for today are a trip to Lewiston to the Potlatch Forests Industries plant. At 7 p.m. there will be a dinner and a dance. Tickets for the dance are $3.00 per person for non-members of AWF.

Speaker at the banquet will be Arthur Roberts, forest counsel for the Western Forestry and Conservation association at Portland.

Saturday lumberjack contests will be held at New Meadows creek near Troy. A bean feed and the election of the 1967 conclave host will wrap up Saturday's activities.

Co-chairmen for the week are P. J. McGrath, McConnell, and Leslie Betts, off-campus.

Two forestry specialists, one a counsel and the other in resource economics, will be guest speakers at the conclave.

The conclave began with registration Wednesday at the Forestry Building.

Yesterday, Dean Huber, Tacoma, Wash., officially welcomed the group.

Mothers Will Be Kept Busy With Derby, Play, May Fete

Events planned for Mothers' Weekend, May 6-8, are so numerous that it will be impossible for either Mother or child to avoid being involved in at least one.

The activities begin Friday, May 6, at 6:30 p.m. with the Phi Delt street dance at the Beta-Phi Delt corner. Music will be provided by "The Children," a Phi Delt band.

According to Tim Neary, Phi Delt, a go-go contest will highlight the dance year.

The same evening at 7:00 p.m. the Helldivers swimming and water acrobatics show will be presented in the Memorial Gymnasium.

The play, "An Inspector Calls" can be seen in the University Hut at 8:00 p.m. Admission for the dramatics department production is $1 or an activities card.

In the Memorial Gymnasium the Spur Songfest will begin at 8:15 p.m. The program includes the usual living group singing competition, a song by the Spurs, and the presentation of a $100 scholarship to a junior who is a former Spur.

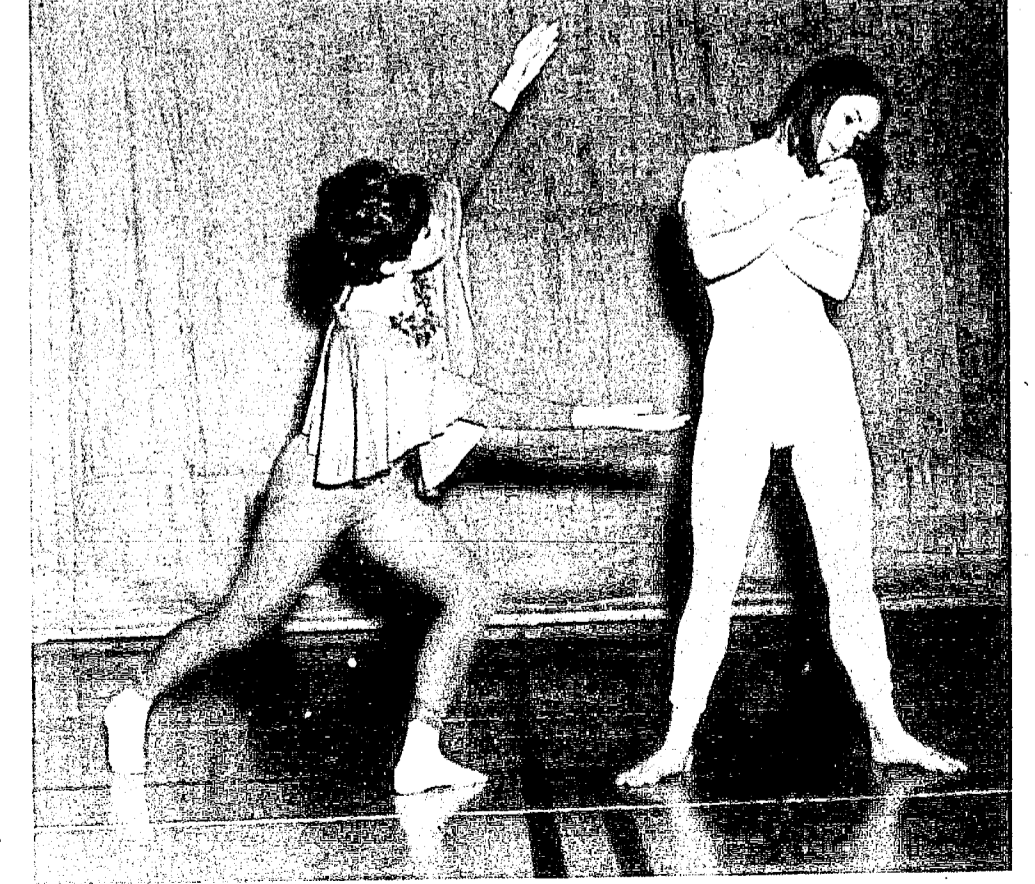

The annual Phi Delt Turtle Race adds to the morning activities at 10:30. Held in the Phi Delt parking lot, it features competition between women's living groups with their turtles.

Activities continue at 2:00 p.m. with May Fete. The AWS program includes the tapping of Spurs, Mortar Board, Silver Lance, and recognition of Outstanding Seniors.

Saturday evening at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Helldivers will present two more shows at Memorial Gymnasium. At the same two times, as a traditional part of Mothers' Weekend festivities, the Orchestis and Pre-Orchestis dance groups present their Spring Concert. Performed to honor the mothers even more this year is Partita V. The program includes the presentation of a variety of dances which include: A folk dance, a display of creative ability by girls who choreographed their own dances, and a little comedy dance.

DANCE PATTERNS—Trudi Williams, Alpha Chi, and Kathy Bowers, Christina Bergman and Susan Reed, Pine, will be among the members of Pre-Orchestis performing in the annual spring concert for Mothers Day.

DUET—Two members of Orchestis, the University modern dance honorary, who will participate in the group's spring concert Saturday, May 7, at 7 and 8:30 p.m. will be Barbara Howard Kappa, and Barbara Feil, Campbell. The performance will be at the University Auditorium.

'Spoonful of Sugar' Is Pageant Theme

The title of Miss U of I will be bestowed on a new girl, chosen from among six finalists tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the SUB Ballroom, according to Jim LaRue, Delt, pageant chairman.

"A Spoonful of Sugar" is the theme of the pageant, for which there is no admission charge.

The contest was previously announced as being tonight, but has been changed to tomorrow night.

Taking part in the pageant are Diane Beyeler, Houston; Bonnie Dowd, Theta; Vicki Haight, Pi Phi; Karen Longesteig, Kappa; and Pam Jones and Helen Transue, Gamma Phi.

Interviews with the judges are to be held today at 2 p.m. in the SUB. This is just to give the judges an idea of the girls' personalities.

Three other divisions in which the girls will compete at the pageant are swim suit, evening gown and talent.

For her part in the talent division, Diane will do a charleston from the "Roaring 20's." Bonnie, a member of Vandaleers will sing a selection. Vicki, an English major who played a leading role in "Andorra", will present a dramatic reading.

Also doing a dramatic reading will be Karen, who is very active in the drama department. Pam, who was a winner of the talent portion of the Miss Twin Falls contest, will play a piano solo.

Helen will also present a piano selection.

Judging the contest will be Mr. W.H. Snodgrass, Mr. Phil Harris, Mrs. William Sloan, Mrs. Roderich Sprague and Mrs. Donald Henrichs. They are all from the Pullman and Lewiston areas.

After the divisions are completed and the judges have conferred, Dick Rush, Delt, master of ceremonies of the pageant, will announce the first and second runners-up, who will receive one dozen white roses. Dick will then announce the new (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Welcome, Mothers

Written On The Wind

By PAT COBB

I always thought it would be a good idea to keep a file to rate your dates. Everybody keeps the traditional list but that is generally the kind nobody wants on. This file could be kept along side those test files which living groups are notorious for and could be cleaned out periodically when people get married, graduate or mysteriously fade away from the sacred halls of ivy.

It would certainly be easier than racing to yearbooks to find out what he looks like or yelling around trying to find out what Joe Blow looks like. It would, however, be wise to accumulate several opinions on one person. For example, there might be a personality conflict between two people which is an educated way of saying, "he got stoned and I don't drink!" On the other hand, there could be a great deal of rapport meaning, "neither one of us drinks."

PAT COBB

This dating file would eliminate the confusion of Friday and Saturday nights when the phone starts ringing about seven for all the left over girls... "Are you sure you don't want to go on a party?" These left-over girls can quickly leaf through the file and figure out if it's worth going, providing you get the correct name from the other end of the telephone.

Your rate sheet could look something like this:
Name: plus any nicknames you are familiar with.
Height: tall enough to dance with Eyes: Contacts or glasses?

Hair Color:
 check here if getting bald
Does he dance?
—fast
—slow
—only when drunk

Car:
—door handles in proper working order
—glove compartment locked
—one seat belt... on his side
—does it tend to run out of gas on lonely, gravelly, country roads?

Does he live in:
—a dorm
—a fraternity
—an apartment, if so
—no. of exits
—how far is it to walk home?
—a roommate?

Does he have a line? If so, is it reminiscent of:
—a carnival barker?
—a number... this is smart, you are never sure just what he said.
—a smoothie... as glass, so sincere sounding that you are instantly suspicious.
—the boy-next-door... that's even worse, he probably is a Real Smoothie.

Drinking:
—he drinks Scotch... preferably Chivas Regal or Haag & Haag Pinch.
—he drinks beer at the Corner Club
—he saunters up to the bar and orders sasparilla.

Type of student: check one —serious—probably in geological engineering
—artsy-craftsy—an English major, no doubt —athlete—usually majoring in football
—serious—drinker, that is.

When he came to pick you up...
—did he honk the horn to let you know he had arrived?
—did he let you go through the door first or did you get squashed?
—did he leer at your assistant housemother?

1. Answer these questions honestly, not as you think you should.
2. This file will be kept. oh, fairly confidential.

This questionnaire is to be used for future dating references. No fair trading around from living group to living group.

If you have any complaints about this rating sheet, please feel free to write them here.

The Golden Fleece

By Jason No. 78—Leo W. Jeffres

Just one of those weeks

It seems that some weeks are always full of activities: libelous letters, queries about Arg policy on letters to Jason, chats with former bosses, three phone calls while three persons are waiting to talk—one perched on the associate editor's typewriter, one on the M.E.'s desk, and one hanging around the door.

Criticism, tension and excitement seem to come in huge heaps which drop with a tremendous load at Jason's feet some days. And this has been one of those days in one of those weeks.

At least one student has asked the Argonaut policy on letters to Jason. The last issue included one from J.M. Sullivan, off campus, and Evelyn Montague, sociology instructor at the U of I. The letter included some remarks on Mack Redford of the Student Judicial Council, plus an Arg news editor. It is Argonaut policy to give students the opportunity to answer charges made against them in letters to the editor. In this particular case, with Sullivan's knowledge of the action, Redford was contacted and submitted a letter representing his views.

This is a matter of Argonaut policy except in matters where letters hit the Administration or particular officials in their actual line of work. Then the initiative must come from the official. Some flexibility is allowed.

Another letter submitted to Jason Wednesday contained at least two libelous statements. Following policy, Jason refused to print those parts which were libelous unless they were rewritten. The letter also contained criticism which would have been libelous if it were not for the fact that those criticized were Arg staffers, the News editor and Jason. This week has been a bonus week for receiving letters and complaints at the Argonaut. Fortunately one begins to develop tough skin or he would have a tough time maintaining his sanity.

Viet Nam hit home again this week when a U of I graduate was killed in that war-torn country. Perhaps this ties together the Blood Drive held on the campus this week and the U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

Li. Kenneth E. Turner, class of 1964, was killed this week in Viet Nam. He was vice president of the Kappa Sig house. His father Joseph E. Turner of Brueau and his sister Mrs. Marie Turner Scott of Boise are also Idaho graduates.

The goal this year is a tribute to Idaho students. Few campuses of this size contribute 1,000 pints of blood. The only complaint most students have is the long waiting line that they must go through to give blood.

Executive Board Tuesday night approved a statement which in effect says that the U of I needs funds critically, the state must provide these funds, how these funds are raised is of no concern to us.

After issuing a weak statement which says that the ASUI Board approves the sales tax if the people of the state of Idaho, the E-Board should realize that if the sales tax is defeated and no other plan proposed, then the result will be to cut University funds.

The Board says that it is not their responsibility or purpose to legislate on state matters and that any tax structure acceptable to the people which will support quality education receives their support.

But issuing a statement urging support does not involve legislating—it is merely a show of opinion. And if the earlier statement supporting the sales tax which E-Board approved is legislating, then the new E-Board has reversed policy.

It is rather unrealistic to think that another tax plan can raise the needed funds for higher education. The sales tax itself is not popular and it will be rather amazing if another is found considering the abundance of discussion which has taken place.

The Executive Board is trying to ride the fence.

Anti-Viet Demonstrations: Valid While Boys Are Killed?

I walked down Bancroft Street and onto the Berkeley campus to be greeted by a young man shouting that there would be a street demonstration against U. S. participation in Viet Nam.

Intrigued, I went a little closer to hear what he was saying and what he was waving in his hand. The Viet Nam Demonstration Committee (VDC) was making plans for a street demonstration in support of the anti-American street demonstrations in Vietnam.

As the circular which they were passing out said:

"On Tuesday night we are going to demonstrate our opposition to U. S. intervention in Vietnam. We are going to demonstrate in our streets, with banners in English and Vietnamese.

"We want the Vietnamese to know that there are Americans who will come out in the streets to show their solidarity. We want to give the Vietnamese demonstrators added inspiration in their struggle to take back their own country."

The speaker also spoke of the recent bombing of the VDC headquarters in Berkeley which had occurred during spring vacation. Eleven people had been working at VDC headquarters on preparations for Tuesday's demonstration when the bomb exploded. The speaker said that "as an attempted murder, it failed. As an attempt to intimidate the anti-war movement, it must also fail."

The demonstration was carried out as planned the next evening with a large group of students participating.

Members of the VDC have already held several demonstrations during this year and plan to continue their activities in the future.

Somehow I question the merit of their activities. It is true that every situation should have a conflicting opinion towards it so that its proof can be proved either true or not. The war in Vietnam is far away and as students, many of us are not directly involved. However, this past week a University of Idaho student was killed in Viet Nam. Lt. Kenneth E. Turner, graduate of 1964 from Brueau was killed in Vietnam after he had been there one month.

There is no doubt that there are students from each campus in the United States that have served in Viet Nam in the past year and I somehow doubt if they really appreciate their own classmates' demonstrating against the work that they are doing. When one student can volunteer to go to Viet Nam and fight for his country, how can other students not only avoid the draft and burn draft cards, but also actively demonstrate against the men who are fighting there.

The VDC's main argument seems to be that the United States has no right in Viet Nam and that they should leave. The issue is a difficult one to answer; however, we are presently in Viet Nam and are presently sending soldiers every day to this country. Why can't we then as the men and women leaders who will be leaders tomorrow back the government's decision and see what will happen.

The first world wars were undoubtedly not greeted with any more enthusiasm than this war in Viet Nam. However, there were few men students who were left behind to continue their college education. These students were fighting for their country. Somehow in the great striving to be individuals, students involved in the VDC at Berkeley have lost sight in the democratic principles which they claim to support.

Whether or not we are actively participating in the war, we should support those who are willing to give their lives for us. —M.A.S.

State Mock Nominating Convention Scheduled At 'I' May 15

MOCK CONVENTION SLATE

Living Groups To Represent Idaho Counties

"And Ada County yields to Nez Perce County for the nomination of . . ." This will be one of the familiar statements at the state Mock Convention to be held May 15 at the U of I.

Sponsored by the Idaho Center for Education in Politics (ICEP), the convention will include delegates from all of the 44 counties in Idaho. Living groups are representing the counties.

Nominations will be made for U.S. Representative, U.S. Senator, Lieutenant governor, and governor.

Scheduled meetings previous to the convention include: Thursday — delegations chairman meeting, Student Union Building.

May 9, Monday — Platform Committee, Rules Committee meetings in the SUB.

May 15, Sunday — Convention begins at 2 p.m. with Republican and Democrat rallies, followed with sessions and convention business at 3 p.m. — at the SUB.

A list of delegates and alternates must be turned in to the office of Dean of the College of Letters & Sciences Boyd Martin, in the Administration Building.

May 9 the Platform and Rules Committees will meet. One Republican and one Democrat delegate from each living group will attend each of the two meetings.

Living groups must have full voting strength to cast all of their county's votes. The minimum requirement is one delegate for every two votes.

No unit rule will apply and delegations can split their votes.

Delegations will have a chairman and vice chairman. The chairman will cast the votes for both Republican and Democrat delegate factions. But the chairman and vice chairman must be from different parties.

Lon Woodbury, off campus, ICEP president, will be temporary chairman of the convention. After preliminary business a permanent chairman will be elected. The chairman must be a member of Young Republicans, Young Democrats, or ICEP.

State chairman of Young Republicans, Larry Schoenhut of Cascade, and state chairman of Young Democrats, Leo Krulitz of Boise, will keynote the convention.

Platforms will contain about five plans concerning major issues such as the sales tax.

This Thursday delegations chairmen will meet at 7 p.m. in the SUB. Other delegates and interested persons are also invited. During the meeting campus chairmen for particular candidates will be chosen. These chairmen should try to contact political leaders from their county to enlist support, according to Woodbury.

Demonstrations for major candidates, including drums, bands, etc., will be held, he said yesterday.

Dear Jason

Sullivan Suggests Steps to Redford

Editor: In reference to Mack Redford's letter, I should like to suggest the following:

1. One cannot attend a meeting held the night before the paper discussed it. A meeting can hardly be considered open to the public unless it is publicly mentioned in the Arg stating the correct time, place and date before it is to be held.
2. I did attempt to speak with the Dean but he was out of town and Mr. Wicks did not wish to discuss it since he was not involved.
3. Redford's question as to whether I condone cheating convinces me that he looked on the probation as a cheating matter.
4. The five year suspension is not only "unusual" but might be considered by some to be both "cruel" and "unusual." This provides another indication that neither Redford or the council understood what the correct issue before the court was. Redford's report said, "We felt Mr. Hill's case warranted this suspension." His comments in last Friday's Arg to the effect that he had heard rumors that "some faculty members thought the Judicial Council decision to place Hill on suspended suspension was not strong enough punishment" leads one to believe he was correcting a previous mistake. One does not do this because of an off campus fight which had already been punished in the police court.
5. Regardless of this case and the manner in which it was disposed there is still a noticeable absence of an established procedure controlling all disciplinary matters within the University. I would recommend for consideration an extensive program used

Cosby Tickets

Tickets for the Bill Cosby show, set May 14, are selling "Out of this world", according to Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager.

Mix told the Argonaut yesterday that the number of seats left are limited. There are 500 seats on the main floor, 600 on the balcony, and only 60 left in the reserve section, he said.

Cosby, television's "I Spy" co-star, who was recently nominated for one of television's coveted Emmy Awards, appears at the University soon, in what must be height in his popularity.

Tickets for the performance are selling at $3.10, $2.60 and $2.10 a seat, and are selling like wildfire.

The program is outlined in seventeen pages of the student handbook and covers the policy, administration and rules and regulations. It takes the position that, "The university distinguishes its responsibility for student conduct from the control functions of the wider community." Elsewhere it contends that, "Procedural fairness is basic to the proper enforcement of all university rules."

6. I would invite Mr. Redford to call a public meeting at which time the Judicial Council might present their views, the procedures now followed as well as to answer any questions pertaining to such matters from the audience.

We've got the Weekend, and we also have only 30 more class days left before finals. This means that spring weather must make a sincere appearance on the scene, or all those lovely functions may be crowded into a few days. Recovery from such activities could be gruesome. However, this weekend looks pretty good. Roger Williams, "Mr. Piano" is appearing at 3 p.m. Sunday at Bohler Gym on the WSU Campus. Also featured on the program is the Dutton Ensemble. Tickets are on sale at the Idaho ASUI office. The Miss U of I Pageant is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday night at the SUB Ballroom. The SUB movie this week is "I'd Rather Be Rich." Campus dances this weekend, all on Saturday, include Forney, raunch; Gault-Upham, raunch; Hays, semi-formal; SAE, raunch; Boreh, semi-formal; Carter, semi-formal, and the law school's dinner dance.

several areas where readjustments should be made to the present tax structure. The sales tax is not based on the first principle of taxation, the ability to pay," Monroe said.

"I wonder what will happen if we lose the sales tax," Boaz said. "I wonder if the property tax or the income tax will go up. We favor the sales tax because we do not want to gamble with the future of you, the students and the University.

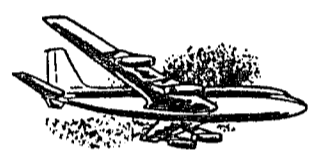

Monroe who is not an advocate of the sales tax presented a couple of other possible solutions to the financial problem which were not presented at the legislature.

Other E-Board action included the appointment of each member to a specific area of concern by Dick Rush, president. Members and area in which they will be in charge are: Stan Smith, Upham, Educational Improvement; Joe McCollum, SAE, Finance and Budget; Gary Vest, Fiji, Student Government and Judicial Improvement; Phil Peterson, SAE, Operation Investigation; Steward Sprenger, Farmhouse, Community and Alumni Relations.

Jim England, Willis Sweet, Campus Communications; Mark Smith, Beta, Student Union Operations; Constitution and Regulations; Louis Grieve, Shoup, Student-Faculty Relations; and Tom Shields, Gault, Intercampus Relations.

A six to three vote was taken to approve the appointing of Miss U of I and the Homecoming Queen as standing members of the Hospitality committee to serve as hostesses to visitors at the University.

Air Force ROTC Honored At Fairchild Air Base

Air Force ROTC cadets, members of the Cadet Group Det. 180 at the University, took their annual dining-in at Fairchild Air Force Base, Spokane, yesterday, according to Cadet Col. Lon Atchley, Willis Sweet.

Of the 200-member Cadet Group, 130 cadets and 12 Angel Flight members bused to the Spokane base at 12 noon and 4 p.m. They were returned the same night.

The dining-in ceremony was highlighted by the presentation of awards to several Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight outstanding members. Guest speaker was Col. Chester H. Bohart, commander of the USAF

Survival School at Fairchild. Major William L. Green, USAF, was presented with a gift from the cadet group. Maj. Green leaves the detachment for Del Rio Air Force base in June after a four-year University tour. Several facilities at the huge Air Force installation were shown to the group. A KC-135 was open for tours, as were other projects.

Rat-Trap Housing Asks Inspection

Students who feel they are living in sub-standard housing have been asked to contact Lee Davis, off campus, member of the off-campus housing committee. Davis said the committee is trying to have these places inspected by the city health official and fire chief. He said this is a part of the program for improvement of off-campus housing.

"If any places are found to be unsanitary or unsafe, a list of them will be turned in to the Moscow Chamber of Commerce, for proper action," he said.

The committee is made up of members from the Town Men's Association past executive board members, and interested town's people, he said.

CATTLE SHOW—The Little International Livestock Show, a fitting and showing contest, for practicum students, will be Saturday at 1 p.m. in the U of I judging pavillion. The Herdsman will give a trophy to the top showman and the event is open to all students.

Livestock Show Set Tomorrow

In a livestock show, who wins the awards, the livestock or the showmen?

The showmen will take most of the prizes at the Little International Livestock show at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the pavillion, behind Memorial Gymnasium. It is a fitting and showing contest for practicum students.

Three groups for sheep, swine and beef are divided into four, three and five divisions, respectively. The divisions will compete against each other for the top sheep, swine and beef. Then the three winners will compete for overall champion.

Judges are Darrell Brown of the American Hereford Association for beef, Herb Holmes, a former U of I student, for swine, and Joe Hoge for sheep.

Awards to be presented are a Herdsman trophy for the top showman, Hickman plaque for top showman, and an American Association award for the top hereford showman.

Other awards will be given by Wool Growers for sheep showman, Swine Growers for swine showman, and Idaho Cattleman's Association for Beef showman. Block and Bridle Club will present ribbons to the winners of the first three places in each class, and a rosette to the overall showman.

We set out to ruin some ball bearings and failed successfully

The Bell System has many small, automatic telephone offices around the country. The equipment in them could operate unattended for ten years or so, but for a problem.

The many electric motors in those offices needed lubrication at least once a year. Heat from the motors dried up the bearing oils, thus entailing costly annual maintenance.

To stamp out this problem, many tests were conducted at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Lubricant engineer George H. Kitchen decided to do a basic experiment that would provide a motor with the worst possible conditions. He deliberately set out to ruin some ball bearings by smearing them with an icky guck called molybdenum disulfide (MoS₂).

Swock! This solid lubricant, used a certain way, actually increased the life expectancy of the ball bearings by a factor of ten! Now the motors can run for at least a decade without lubrication.

We've learned from our "failures." Our aim: investigate everything.

The only experiment that can really be said to "fail" is the one that is never tried.

Cougars Tread By Vandals Once Again, 9-8

Idaho's Mike Lamb Tames The Cougars For The Second Time

The Idaho Vandals upped their season mark to 23-4 last Tuesday as they defeated the fourth-ranked Washington State Cougars by a score of 9-8. This is the second time Idaho has defeated the Cougars and both times the score has been identical.

Washington State jumped off to a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning as their leading hitter, Dale Ford, pulled the ball down the left field line for a homerun with a man aboard after starting pitcher Ken Johnson had two strikes on him. In their half of the sixth inning the Vandals came back with four runs to tie the score. Wally Posey walked, and singles by Doyle DeMont, Terry Taylor, and Mike Lamb brought home two runs. Another run came on an error with the final run of the inning coming home on a wild pitch by Washington State's third pitcher of the day, Joe McLean. In the seventh inning Idaho chased home four more runs on an error, a walk, a fielder's choice, a bases-loaded walk to Gary Luce, Wayne Adams' squeeze bunt, and a double by Rich Toney which produced two runs to give the Vandals a 9-5 lead. A single, a walk, an error, and a passed ball brought home another Cougar run the following inning. In the eighth inning Reberger came in to replace Mike Lamb and then was yanked in the last inning. Washington State started the 9th Inning Tough inning with an out but then this was followed by three walks. Simmons who relieved Reberger walked in a run and was relieved by Bill Stoneman. He in turn walked in another Cougar which made the score 9-8 with only one out, but then Stoneman settled down to strike out Jim Doyle and Fred Sackett to end the game.

Following Garman in the batting department are pitcher Skip Ivie with a .500 mark, first baseman Bob Lantz from Spokane at .417, and Clyde Coon at .300. Ivie is the leading hurler with a 3-0 record with 31 strikeouts in 23 innings and an earned run average of 1.08.

Playboy Picks Ray

Idaho fullback RAY MCDONALD has been named by PLAYBOY magazine to its first offensive unit in football. This was announced today by sports editor Anson Mount in Chicago. McDonald, who holds all of the Idaho scoring and ground-gaining records, will be featured in the September issue of the magazine.

Golf Team Travels

Idaho's golf team takes a 2-3-3 season record into Saturday's dual match with Idaho State on the Crane Creek course in Boise. Leading the Idaho attack will be DICK TRAIL and BILL COOK of Twin Falls, MIKE CARTER of Boise and BOB ERICSON of Pocatello.

IM Interest Up

The University of Idaho takes a deep interest in intercollegiate sports but there seems to be an even deeper interest in the Intramural program at Idaho. Intramural Director, CLEM PARBERRY had 1,552 individuals participating on 160 teams during the past basketball season.

Dick Arndt Traded

DICK ARNDT who was chosen as a future draft choice by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, was traded recently by the Rams to the Green Bay Packers. The 6-4, 250-pound tackle was traded along with reserve quarterback Ron Smith for halfback Tom Moore.

When was the first night baseball game played?

Make a guess—then check the answer at the bottom of this advertisement.

Surprised? Well, now, would it also surprise you to know that the average unit price of electric service now is only a fraction of what it was back in those days?

That's right. All through the years, while the cost of nearly everything else has been going up and up, the average unit price for household electricity has been going down and down.

Keeping your electric service your best budget bargain is the job of all of us at your electric company, just as it is with the more than 300 other investor-owned electric light and power companies across the country!

THE WASHINGTON WATER POWER CO.

*The first night baseball game was played June 2, 1883, at League Park, Fort Wayne, between M. E. College and the Quincy Professionals. Score: Quincy 19, College 11. The field was lit by 17 electric lights of 4000 candlepower, and the game was played before 2000 spectators.

Nothing can take the press out of Lee-Prest slacks

Not that it's on his mind right now. And it needn't be. Those Lee-Prest Leesures can't help but stay crisp and neat. No matter what you put them through. They have a new permanent press. So the creases stay in. The wrinkles stay out. Permanently. And that's without ironing. No touch-ups, either. They're made from Lee's special blend of 50% polyester and 50% combed cotton. For wash and wear... with conviction.

Incidentally, that permanent press is the only change we've made in Leesures. They still have that lean, honest look... smart, tailored fit. New Lee-Prest Leesures. Test their permanent press yourself. It isn't necessary, but it's a great way to spend an evening. From $6.00 to $8.00.

Meeting of the Minds

Idaho Academy Of Science Meet At U-I

The Idaho Academy of Science annual meeting returns to the University of Idaho campus this weekend for the first time since 1962.

More than 200 scientists are expected to register for sessions at the Student Union Building today and tomorrow. Included will be a cross-section of Idaho's scientific minds from both education and industry.

The sessions are open to all students and others interested. Much of the scientific interchange of the Idaho Academy of Science meeting will occur during the section meetings Saturday.

More than 80 scientific papers will be presented in these separate sessions for scientists in botany, earth science, engineering, mathematics, physical science, science education and zoology.

Each of the papers deals with Idaho-oriented research. They will be presented by students and faculty of seven colleges and universities and three high schools, and by scientists with the Atomic Energy Commission, Geological Survey, Forest Service and Phillips Petroleum Co., Idaho Falls.

While these sections are meeting, the social science section will present a series of panel discussions on topics of more general interest — Idaho reapportionment and Viet Nam among them. Section chairman Sydney Duncombe has arranged the following program in the Borah Theatre:

State Senators Harold Lough, Latah, and Cy Chase, Benewah,

are featured members of the panel on Idaho reapportionment, which starts at 10 a.m. Chairing the panel will be Clifford Dohler, associate professor of political science, while other speakers are O. E. Dial, Idaho State, and Donald McCabe, Idaho.

The Viet Nam struggle will be probed during a 2 p.m. panel that will be chaired by George V. Wolfe, College of Idaho, an authority on international relations. Panelists include Paul H. Castleberry, a Viet Nam expert on the Washington State University faculty; Dr. Warren B. Ross, a Nampa physician recently returning from Viet Nam, and two University of Idaho professors who are authorities on international relations and diplomatic history, Robert E. Hosack and Fred H. Winkler.

The third panel beginning at 3:45 p.m., will discuss studies of Idaho government and politics. Ray C. Jolly, College of Idaho, is chairman. Panel members are Dean of Letters and Science, Boyd A. Martin, Idaho; Merle W. Wells of Boise, state historian; Monty Munn, J. R. Simplot Co. at Caldwell, and O. E. Dial.

Dr. Charles H. Drake, professor of bacteriology at Washington State University, will speak at the Saturday noon luncheon in the SUB Galena Room. His topic is "Pollution, People and Politics."

A member of the WSU faculty since 1944, Dr. Drake is noted both as a teacher and researcher in bacteriology and public health.

Dr. Drake said he will "trace a drop of water from inception as rain until it is returned, used and reused to the sea" during his talk here Saturday. He will "point out some of those things which can happen to water and its inhabitants and users when several factors, none important alone, act together to bring about serious problems."

Dr. W. R. Hibbard Jr., director of the U.S. Bureau of Mines, will deliver the banquet address Saturday evening. His topic is

"The Role of the Scientist in Our Modern Technological Society."

University of Idaho President Ernest W. Hartung will also take part in the banquet program.

In addition, many Idaho students are area residents who will attend parts of the program. Dr. Malcolm M. Renfrew, head of the Department of Physical Sciences, Academy president, and Dr. Arthur R. Gittins, professor of entomology, program chairman, have invited students and townspeople to take part in the meeting of particular interest to them.

Registration for the meeting opens at 1 p.m. Friday in the SUB. First general-interest event is a symposium at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the SUB Galena room.

Dr. William F. Barr, professor of entomology, is chairman of this symposium on biological control techniques as they may apply to Idaho conditions. Featured with him are Dr. H. E. Telford, chairman of the entomology department, Washington State University, and three entomologists with the USDA Agricultural Research Service — Joseph E. Gentry, chief staff officer for survey and de-

Week Performance Set For U-I Drama

Edmund Chavez, professor of drama, requests that all students wishing to attend the University drama production, "An Inspector Calls," please attend performances during the week. Thus, because of limited seating capacity, visitors to the University campus during Mother's Day Weekend can see the play.

The production will be presented nightly at 8 p.m. at the U-Hut all next week including Friday and Saturday.

JERRY REYNOLDS,

Your all new Dodge Dealer in Moscow, says

COME TO REYNOLDS DODGE,

TEST DRIVE THE DODGE CORONET

Enlist now in the Dodge Rebellion!

Jerry Reynolds has a plan that will be of special interest to graduating seniors of the University of Idaho. So if you're a Vandal, come on, join the Dodge Rebellion!

Never has a showroom displayed a car as striking as this. Seats, Center Console, many other features, all standard. And there are other ways to kick the dull driving habit at Reynolds Dodge. Try Polara for more "big" in your car. Or blast out of boredom with the nimble Dart GT. With the strongest warranty (below) in the business, Jerry Reynolds takes the worry out of buying a new car. Reynolds Dodge also has the tough Dodge Trucks, featuring the sweet-looking Sweepline Pickup. And you'll find Jerry Reynolds means it when he says he's rebelling against careless, inefficient service. Come on in. Reynolds Dodge—and the Dodge Rebellion—wants you. (If you're a Vandal, as well as a rebel, Jerry Reynolds has a special plan for University of Idaho graduating seniors. Come see him about a new Dodge).

HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1966 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Work Starts on Catholic Center Building to Serve 850 Students

Work on a new triangular-shaped Catholic Center, to serve about 850 Catholic students at the University of Idaho, is beginning with the demolition and moving of three buildings on the property facing the Student Union building, according to Father Andrew J. Schumacher, Newman Chaplain at the university.

St. Augustine's Catholic Center will feature three separate units at its location on the corner of Deakin and 6th Streets. The chapel, separate from the student center and chaplain's residence, will be circular in form, measuring 84 feet in diameter.

The conical roof will be covered with heavy shake shingles and the 12 foot high walls will be poured concrete with an exposed aggregate finish on the outside.

Interior walls will be soft stucco, with a ceiling of plaster finish, giving the impression of an inverted funnel extending to the highest point on the roof 72 feet above ground level. With the spire it extends to approximately 100 feet.

"Simple and plain materials will be used in the construction of the chapel," Schumacher said. "The natural beauty of the round church could provide ideal conditions for bringing about a right liturgical spirit."

At the mid-way point of the conical roof there will be a star of wooden cross-beams. Attached to the beams will be a long round woodcrate chandelier hanging directly over the middle of the church to light the interior, Schumacher said.

The student center will be a two story rectangular-shaped building with chaplain's residence attached. The outside walls will be stucco paneling. A covered walk will stretch the length of the building facing the chapel, and will serve as a main entrance

Crockett Presents Piano Recital
