Aloha, Gale! Thanks a Heck of A Lot

Students and administrators deal with each other every day as the normal work of the bureaucracy progresses at its slow pace. The encounters are usually rather mundane dialogues of dry facts and a lot of red tape usual in such operations, no matter what the subject. Both administrator and student come away with the unsettled feeling of "Did I really make my point?" Not so, when working with Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager who is retiring today after 28 years at the University of Idaho.

A Delight

Gale Mix is unique. And those who have ever dealt with him on any of the many great student projects from Argonaut to Homecoming etc., know what a delightful individual Gale is. Above all, he is a friend. He is really interested in students as individuals and makes one feel that he is sincerely concerned with each student and his particular problems. This is the key factor which has made Gale very successful in his job as ASUI General Manager

Crazy Students

are not the rules and regulations written in a contract, but the finesse required in dealing with the general public, approximately 70 SUB employees, not to mention all the crazy students running around trying to organize special projects. Keeping everyone happy in a massive system like this requires talent, to say the least. Gale does it by patting everyone on the head, listening to their sad tales and then going ahead and doing the job.

Entrepreneur

The Manager's lob requires the wearing of many hats from entrepeneur and newspaper publisher to fund manipulator and public relations expert. Mix has worn them well. The hat he wears best however, is his own well-worn felt one. And this is our point. Gale Mix is more than anything, himself. And those of us at the Argonaut who have worked with Gale over these past few years thank him for all the help and encouragement he has given us and wish him every success in his new endeavors. More than any other single person Gale has helped the Arg through perilous times. So Gale, all we can say is "thanks."

Into The Coffers

Until Idaho gets its new stadium, all future games will be played at Washington.

It seems that a lot of Idaho money will be collected for the coffers of the WSU Athletic Department between now and then.

Maybe, it would at least be more appropriate for Washington students to also pay admittance to the games. Heaven only knows how badly they need the money in the athletic department over there. Which brings us to the real question of the argument. Is it really worth $3.00 to see Idaho beat Wash-

She speaks and sings well with her best performance being "Shall I Tell You What I Think of You" in the first act.

T. H. E. Column

naut, I gather that there are some people on this campus who just don't fit in with the group. The most obvious one which I can think of is our exchange student from the glorious state of Minnesota. Melvy, I just don't know what to tell you, but I'm sure that there must be some way in which you can get your message across. I would suggest that you follow the path of others on this campus who have been opposed to the way the majority operates. Why don't you organize a group of your own?

For a nominal fee, you could take out an ad in the paper and advertize that you are interviewing for positions in the Melvy Corbit Marching Band and Minnesota Picnic Association Choir. With this group you could show the whole state of Idaho exactly how a real march. ing band functions. After you had selected the members for your group, then both of you could put on half time shows at the Idaho track meets. Doesn't that sound like fun?

Much of the talk on campus this week has concerned the rights of certain individuals to censor paintings in SUB art exhibits. I think that there could be a great future in the creation of a new post in the ASUI. Let's appoint an ASUI Keeper of Morals. In making this appointment it would be possible to head off much of this trouble before it has a chance to start. I would imagine that it is only a matter of time before someone is going to create a nude statue of Permeal French and display it in front of the administration building. If we had our own Keeper of Morals, then he would be able to put a halt to this before it had a chance to get off the ground. He could even be made a member of book store advisory committee and help them with their problems.

It has been pointed out to me that it is primarily due to the censorship problem at the book store that the bookstore in the Campus Christian Center went into operation. I was over at the new book store the other day and came to a sudden decision. Last year there was much discussion on campus about the death of God. After visiting the Campus Christian Center's bookstore it became apparent that God isn't dead, He was so turned off by what He saw taking place there that He scratched this area from His rounds.

The mail brought something of interest this week. The writer informed me that "both you and I fully realize what this present jet age has contributed to the moral decay of increasing numbers of our youth, i.e., movies, television, music and fashions." He says that all indications point to a very possible, 20th Century, "Sodom and Gomorrah." You will be interested to know that there is only one answer and that is to FIGHT..... FIGHT, and keep FIGHTING, until this evil is destroyed.

This individual goes on to say that they are prepared to help combat this situation. "As an incentive to our youth, as something to be proud of, and look up to, we are founding a "NO SEX BEFORE MARRIAGE" club, and furnishing, for the small sum of $1.00, a lovely certificate, 8 by 11 and suitable for framing, showing membership in this club, with his or her name, or the name of a group, organization, etc., inscribed thereon. In addition, we are also furnishing buttons, and wallet size cards."

This is really an unselfish organization, though. "We desire nothing for ourselves; save the realization that perhaps our small effort will, in some way, help guide our youth . . . . .

Many of you will probably have some doubts about this organization, i.e. membership qualifications. Do you suppose that these memberships are retroactive? I also wonder if it is possible to take-out a trial membership? If you have any questions, you may send cash, check, or money order to KELCRO, 568 Freemont Street, Corning, N.Y. and their zip code is 14830.

Well, this week column comes to a sudden end and it leaves me with a weird question in mind concerning the continuity of my writing. Just exectly what does Melvin Corbit have in common with the "NO SEX BEFORE MARRIAGE" club?

Anarchy, Democracy Defined

Dear Jason.

Regarding the letters of Misters DeMeyer, Andrus, and Kostka. Gentlemen, I offer you my congratulations on your poignant, retaliations to my letter of Oct. 27. I am duly impressed, not only by the eloquence of your statements, but by the conviction and perception you demonstrate as well. I would like to pose the question, "Where does democracy end and anarchy begin?" By definition, anarchy is "a political doctrine advocating the abolition of organized authority." Under this concept, all governments are evil and tyrannical. Since both of you gentlemen agree that the FBI is a militaristic, secret organization with the sole purpose of investigating innocent people, then perhaps you both agree that the U.S. would be better off without them. Perhaps we'd be better off without a government at all. Then we'd certainly have the freedom to demonstrate without being watched. We could do literally anything we desired without the slightest fear of reprisal—except maybe being shot by someone who didn't happen to espouse our cause.

The freedoms you evidently want are freedom from: reprisal, inferred reprisal, control, implied control, investigation, suggested investigation, and common sense. Mr. Kostka, you state that the FBI has never protected our freedoms. The dictionary says that to protect is "To defend or guard from attack, invasion, annoyance, or insult," and freedoms is ""civil liberty, as opposed to subjection to an arbitrary or despotic government." Considering the word "arbitrary. They do not have the power to decide who to investigate and who not to investigate. It is their duty, by their charter, to investigate all possible sources of potential danger to the democratic government of the United States. Investigation does not necessarily mean that reprisal will follow. It does, however, indicate that a person or persons are involved in an activity that could, under certain leadership and direction, be classified as subversive. If one's cause- in this case opposition to the war in Vietnam-is objecting to the policy of his government and not to the very form of government itself, then one must realize that the investigation will reveal just that.

Democracy is a government of the people. If it is of the people, it is by concensus. Concensus being the majority, it is the FBI's duty to see that the interests of the majority are upheld. If it takes an investigation of peoples involved in a march to preserve those interests, then an investigation there must be.

I agree wholeheartedly with your right to dissent. In many ways I even agree with your point of view. But I cannot let myself believe that you desire freedoms so extensive that your motives cannot even be questioned, no matter what the act.

As yet, the purpose and destination of the pictures has not been determined. If these pictures are used for comparisons with the FBI's list of known subversives, then I am in agreement with their being taken, but if they are being used to establish a file of marchers, then I too am in opposition. I do not believe, however, that the latter is going to occur.

If what you gentlemen want is total, absolute freedom, then I suggest you name "anarchy" as the ultimate goal of your demonstrations. If you are merely desirous of changing our government's policy toward the war in Vietnam, then you must accept the restrictions and limitations that are inherent in a Demo-Pat Klevenow.

Worthless Week and How to Cope with It

In case anyone does not know it, this Monday begins the most worthless week of the entire semester-"midterms". Jason has several questions to ask. Are midterm grades significant to either student or faculty? Does anyone give tests during midterm week? How much of midterm grades is anything more than paper work for an already overworked professor?

An Improvement?

We would venture to say that most professors view midterms as nothing more than a nuisance with many of them giving blanket C's to pacify the augers of the bureaucratic system. For the student they mean nothing more than probaly a single grade on that first test and the possibility of facing six exams the week before midterms, since no one gives them during the specified week. This is all a very aging experience for all concerned. Sometimes it's worse than finals week because of the time element, which is definitely lacking.

Aging Experience

Yes midterms are with us, but only on the calendar, because in actuality, they ended today. Why not eliminate them from the calendar, as well as from the bad dreams of students and faculty.

RHA Needs More Applicants

In its two and a half years of existence the Residence Halls Disciplinary Board has brought decisions on over twenty cases. These cases heard by the RHA Disciplinary Board have involved disputes between halls and individuals living in those halls.

It is but one of three judicial bodies set up to decide on disciplinary problems on campus. The other two in the same capacity are the Associated Women Students Board of Reference and the Interfraternity Council.

The Board is composed of eight members: four men and four women. There are four voting members and four non-voting alternates. It also has a Board chairman, Tom Pageler and a faculty advisor, Dr. Victor E. Montgomery, head of the Psychology Department. Members are chosen through the evaluation of an interview and application submitted to the Board members. Term of office is for one year. Applications are being accepted by the board from anyone living in a residence hall. These applications will be accepted through November. Applicants are required to have a 2.0 accummulative grade point average.

Women's Army Corps will be on the campus of the University of Idaho, Tuesday and Wednesday. Nov. 7 and 8, First Lieutenant Carol Ann G. Duescher from the U.S. Army Recruiting Main Station in Seattle. Lt. Duescher is the WAC Selection Officer for the state of Washington and the western section of Idaho. Last Spring, President Lyndon

B. Johnson authorized an increase of 300 additional WAC officers in the Corps. Women students interested in a career in the Women's Army Corps will have an opportunity to discuss the College Junior Program or the Direct Commission with Lt. Duescher during her visit.

Under the College Junior Program, Juniors have the opportunity of taking a four-week training course during July of each year at Fort McClellan, Alabama, designed to familiarize them with life as a WAC officer. During this training, women are on active duty and paid in the rank of corporal.

Transportation costs are paid by the Army. Upon completing the program and graduating from college, the individual is eligible to enter on active duty with a commission as a second lieutenant, if they so desire. There is no obligation inherent in taking the training.

The Direct Commission Program requires 18 weeks of training as a WAC candidate, for the college graduate. Students receive leadership training, in addition to instruction in administration, military geography and techniques of modern warfare. As a WAC officer, the expergation is for two years.

Council of Churches Official Speaks Three Times on

by Edward Weiskotten Campus Christian Center

The university community will have the chance for a "first" this Sunday, when the Rev. Dr. William Nottingham visits the campus. Dr Nottingham is associate secretary of the Youth Department of the World Council of Churches. This marks the first time a staff member of the World Council, with offices in Geneva, Switzerland, will visit the University of Idaho.

Dr. Nottingham will speak three times during the day. In the morning he will be the preacher at the campus worship sponsored by the Lutheran Church, held in Canterbury House, 618 Elm, at 9:45 a.m. In the afternoon, he will speak at a faculty reception in the SUB.

And in the Evening, again in the SUB, he will speak at an open meeting at 7:00 o'clock on the theme 'What in the World Is Happening to Students." It is anticipated that he will speak about student life from the vantage point of his world-wide perspective.

The World Council of Churches, for whom Dr. Nottingham works, is a world-wide ecumenical agency with nearly 200 member churches of Orthodox, Protestant, and Pentecostal persuasion. While the Roman Catholic Church is not a part of the World Council, there is growing communication and cooperation between them. Official observers of the World Council attended the Second Vatican Council, and the Roman Catholic Church will be represented by official observers at the Fourth Assembly of the World Council next summer to Uppsala, Sweden.

A number of forces brought the World Council into being in Amsterdam, Netherlands, in 1948. In the midst of war-ravaged Europe it seemed an unrealistic hope that even the Protestant Churches of countries so recently hostile to one another could be formed into a cooperating council. But the greater desire for growing unity and understanding prevailed over the disruption of the World War and the council was formed. From its beginning less than twenty years ago as a largely Protestant agency, representing the churches of Europe and North America, it has grown to the point where it now includes not only the major Protestant Churches of the world, but also the major Orthodox Churches and a number of Pentecostal Churches as well. Nor is it any longer representative of white, traditional, western Christianity, for many of the newer churches of Asia and Africa are full partners. That the Council has become world-wide and ecumenical was illustrated by its World Conference on Church and Society held in Switzerland in the summer of 1966, which was described by one participant as the most representative group in history to be assembled for such a purpose.

The work carried on by the World Council is widespread and varied. In addition to the university and youth relationships that Dr. Nottingham is associated with there are major activities in world-wide relief work, theological study, international relations, and mission work.

Some idea of the scope of the Council's concerns can be gathered from noting the sections for discussion at the Fourth General Assembly next summer: the church's unity in a shrinking world, the church in mission, the churches' role in social and economic development, the churches' role in international affairs, the worship of God in a secular age, and towards a new style of life.

It will be out of this exciting milieu of international involvement that Dr. Nottingham will speak. Dr. Nottingham is an American, educated at Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia and Union Theological Seminary. New York City. He has a Ph.D. from Columbia University, and also studied for a year as a Fulbright Scholar at Strasbourg.

For the past decade Dr. Nottingham has lived and worked in Europe, From 1958 to 1961 he was a fraternal worker with CIMADE. relief agency of the French Protestant churches, at its Paris headquarters.

He then served until 1965 as parish pastor and director of the lay training centre of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of France. This post had unusual ecumenical aspects, since Dr. Nottingham is a clergyman of the Disciples of Christ Church. Despite the differences in Lutheran and Disciples tradition, he was fully accepted by the Lutheran Synod and fulfilled all the functions of the parish ministry. including the administration of the sacraments. Since May, 1965, he has been on the staff of the World Council.

Unlike most other organizations, the Amateur Radio Club takes pride in being able to serve non-members. As their newly elected president, Franz Gisin reported, "Once we reach our full operating potential we'll be glad to relay, free of charge, student messages to all corners of the globe."

"In the past we've found out immediate weather and road conditions of Idaho's major highways just before college vacations. These messages were then posted in the SUB to help students choose the safest way home during snow or sleet storms," Gisin further announced.

According to Dr. Hungerford, the campus amateur short wave station's needs are slight. The ARC is hoping for: 1) a new location, preferably in a campus building cellar. This way the station will be able to function in spite of fallout hazard and will be close to the university's emergency communication system, and 2) enough funds to purchase a new transmitterreceiver and antenna system.

Radio club officers and their advisor plan to approach the Executive Board with a request for formal recognition by the ASUI.

I don't quite understand it. Last year Parsons College Athletic Director and head football coach, Marcelino Huerta, Jr., never had one unkind word about Strickland who saw limited acthe officiating of Wildcat grid contests. Last year, Parsons sported a 9-1 mark. How can such a reverse trend take place?

"I'm never complained about the officiating before until we played Idaho. It was terrible!" exclaimed Huerta following Parsons' 28-27 loss to the Vandals last Saturday.
UPI WIRE SERVICE NOTICE LAST WEEK AT

AIRFIELD, IOWA.

Huerta criticizes officials in Wildcat's 27-26 loss to East Carolina College." Our question of the week-Are bluebirds blue?

It's about time something was said about Steve Musseau and his staff. There's been no bellyaching by Musseau following an Idaho loss. As Vandal Sports Publicist Bob Maker says, "Steve calls a spade a spade." I like that in a coach. Considering the schedule this season and the inexperience on the Vandal club, Musseau and his staff—Billy Hughes, George Davis, Herb Adams, Ed Troxel, and Norm Thomas—have made Idaho an interesting team to follow week after week.

The head man didn't ballyhoo to sports scribes at the beginning of the season, but he didn't cry the blues either. "We'll win our share," he said. The Vandals have too. A 6-4 record isn't out of reach from this team composed of 37 sophomores. Idaho hasn't won six games since 1938.

By the way, Idaho's cross country team will compete in the AAU Championships at Spokane this Saturday. Coach Doug MacFarlane and his charges continue to show improvement each week. What a way to earn a "Block I"-running up to 15 miles a week to get ready for a four-plus mile jog! But the gutty youngsters on MacFarlane's club must believe in themselves to compete in such a non-glory sport.

Pete Whitford is leading the Idaho harriers with the best time of 20:12 for the four-mile plus courses over which the Vandals have run this fall. Other times include Joe Ross, 20:39; Vern Deahl, 20:49; Ted Quirk, 21:33 Larry Bond, 22:03; Fred Lake, 22:13, and Gary Johnson, 22:30.

It's a young club. Ross and Whitford are but freshmen; Bond, Deahl, Johnson, and Lake are sophomores, and only Quirk, a senior, will be lost from the team next season.
