Idaho Student Takes Life

Alan L. Strong, 18, a University of Idaho freshman took his own life early Friday morning in his room at Willis Sweet Hall, according to the Latah County Coroner and University officials.

Brooks said that Strong had placed the barrel of the gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

According to Assistant Dean of Students Harry Davey, Strong's body was discovered around 8:15 Friday morning by Jon Pierce, a resident of Willis Sweet.

Pierce was delivering a suitcase to Beare. When Pierce knocked on the door and received no answer, he opened the door to set the suitcase inside and discovered the body.

Beare, who had not been awakened by the blast was still sleeping. From all evidence, Strong had shot himself while standing in a closet to muffle the sound, and the body had fallen out of the closet and partially into the study room.

The Moscow police and the Latah County Coroner were summoned, and after investigation the body was taken to Short's Funeral Home in Moscow. Estimated time of death was between 7:00 and 7:30 Friday morning. The coroner said death came instantly.

Services for Strong have been scheduled for 2:00 p.m. Wednesday at the Howell Edwards Memorial Chapel in Salem, Oregon.

Strong was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Strong of Lewiston. He was born May 24, 1946 in Bush, Colo. He graduated from high school in Sweet Home, Oregon, last June, and was registered in Architecture.

In addition to his parents, Strong is survived by a brother, Bruce, who is a student at Portland State College, and a sister, Linda, who is attending Lewis-Clark Normal School in Lewiston.

Full use of library materials can be made with the extension of the Reserve Book Room hours to 11 p.m. nightly except Saturdays.

Upper floors of the Library will close at 10 p.m. as usual, but general collection materials may be brought to the ground floor Reserve Room for use there.

Deposits of $15 will be accepted at the SUB Information desk until December 15 if it was announced by Bill Kyle, club president.

He stressed the importance of making the deposit to give the Ski Club accurate figures as soon as possible to enable final arrangements for accommodations to be made.

The trip which will start Jan. 24 at 6 p.m. and run until Jan. 28 will cost $55.50 for Ski Club members and $60.50 for non-members. Club membership is $2 year.

The Helldivers and Orchestras will combine to present a Christmas show entitled "Our World of Christmas." It will be an hour of dance and synchronized swimming.

The show will be Friday and Saturday with performances slated for 7:30 each night. The show is free of charge and will take place in the Memorial Gym Pool. Only the first 200 people will be admitted due to restricted seating capacities.

The American Institute of Physics, Student Section, will tour the physics facilities Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Students on the tour will meet in the basement of the Physical Sciences Building. They will then tour the building and a party will follow. All interested students are invited to attend.

5 Finalists Chosen for Holly Queen; Women's Hours Extended To 2 a.m.

By Kerrie Quinn
Arg. News Editor

Five finalists who were announced last night have been selected to vie for this year's title of 1967 Holly Queen. The queen will be announced Saturday night at the Holly Week Dance.

Finalists include Janet Perri, Kappa; Marsha Bohman, DG; Carolyn Steele, Theta; Jill Freeman, Forney; and Sally Armstrong, Pi Phi.

Miss Perri, a sophomore elementary education major from Lewiston, was last year's Navy Color Guard Girl. Marsha Bohman, a Sociology major, is still reigning as Military Ball Queen from Troy.

Jill Freeman is an English major from Idaho Falls along with another IF girl Carolyn Steele, who has no definite major. Miss Steele was Frosh Week Queen last year. Sally Armstrong, a Lewiston girl, is another finalist, with no specific major.

Other girls running for Holly Queen were Mary Walker, Alpha Chi; Karen Anderson, French; Caroline Brooks, Oleson; Nancy Coe, Gamma Phi; and Jackie Bodenhofer, Campbell.

2 O'CLOCK HOURS
Women's hours have been extended to 2 a.m. this Saturday because of the Holly Week Dance. The dance will be in the SUB Ballroom from 10-1 a.m.

Activities for Holly Week slow down until Thursday when Holly Frolics will be presented by the queen finalists. The Frolics will take place in the SUB Blue Bucket from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

The finalists will participate in humorous skits and stunts. Entertainment will be provided by Dick Sams, Delt, with a piano solo. Sams is president of the sophomore class. Rick Kume-man's group will be playing some blue grass favorites at the Frolics, too.

Joe Tasby, Graham, will M.C. the show with the help of Bob Bush, Delt. A special treat will be Mike Benson, Sigma Nu, who will be Santa Claus.

Final voting for Holly Week Queen will take place Friday at noon. Finalists will tour living groups today through Thursday before the voting.

The new Holly Queen will be crowned Saturday night at the dance, with "Shades of Christmas" as the theme. The dance is semi-formal and admission is free. Women's hours have been extended for the dance until 2 a.m. The dance will be from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Roger Enlow, Borah, and Donna Stevens, Theta, have announced that the decorations will consist of a maze of cheesecloth and colored lights in the form of a winding tunnel, which will rise from 7 feet at the start to 16 feet as students enter the dance.

In the center of the floor will be a large white flocked Christmas tree with colored lights around it. Down the right side will be four red and four green spot lights, which replace the regular ceiling lights, while on the left side will be four each of gold and blue.

Enlow reported that the dance colors will be predominantly blue. On the stage will be a cheesecloth wall with the theme of the dance "Shades of Christmas," attached. Colored spot lights will also be shining on this wall.

Playing for the dance will be "The Ceptors" from Spokane. Last year they won the Team Fair Battle of the Bands and played on contract in Sun Valley during the summer.

Chaperones for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Ostyn; he is athletic director for the University of Idaho; and Dr. and Mrs. Gittens. Gittens works in the Idaho Entomology department.

Three Living Groups Crown Queens

Snowball Queen, Dream Girl, and Laurel Sweetheart wore the new queens crowned Saturday at formal dances.

Kathy Crowder, Pi Phi, was announced as Gault Hall Snowball Queen at the annual Gault Hall Snowball Dance Saturday night. Kathy was among four other finalists: Annie Van Stone, Houston; Cindy Hull, Tri Delta; Lyla Anderson, Alpha Gam; and Jonita Nesbitt, DG.

During intermission the finalists were called to one end of the dance floor, where a throne stood beneath an archway. John Snider, social chairman, opened an envelope which contained Kathy's name and announced her as new Snowball Queen. Jan Forsman, Campbell, 1966-67 Snowball Queen, crowned her.

Kathy then had the traditional dance with Gault Hall's president. Her escort was Buddy Carter. As Snowball Queen, Kathy will attend dress dinners at Gault and other functions.

"I feel pretty great," said Kathy. "I was really surprised and happy to be chosen as Gault's new queen."

Phi Kappa Tau announced Janelle Burket, Gamma Phi, as its first Laurel Sweetheart Saturday night at a formal dance. Other finalists were: Jeni Wood, Tri Delta; Martha Ames, Hays; Jeannie Ganguet, Pi Phi, and De Ann Bryant, Alpha Chi.

At 11 p.m. those attending the dance gathered in the living room of the chapter house around the fireplace. Dave Clark, secretary, gave a talk about the new tradition Phi Tau will carry out with their Laurel Sweetheart. He then presented each of the finalists with a necklace.

Bruce Brown, president, announced Janelle as Sweetheart, and then crowned her and presented her with red carnations, the fraternity's flower.

"I was really excited," Janelle said, "and I only hope that I can do a good job as Laurel Sweetheart."

Phillip Schmidt and Terry Bateman, two of nine persons arrested in recent weeks by the Moscow Police Department on charges of possession of marijuana, were tried last week and placed on probation.

Schmidt was arrested Nov. 12 along with seven other persons, and was charged with possession of marijuana for sale. He appeared Nov. 7 before Richard Greener, judge of the Latah County Justice Court.

At the time of the trial the charge against Schmidt was reduced to possession of marijuana. Court records show that the charge was considered to be a misdemeanor. Schmidt pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and given a $250.00 fine.

Both the fine and the sentence were suspended by Greener, who placed Schmidt on probation until Dec. 7, 1968.

According to the terms of the probation, the fine and jail sentence can be imposed if the probation is violated. The court order also calls for the dismissal of the action upon fulfillment of the probation.

prosperous and interesting year as Theta Chi Dream Girl," said Corrine Rowland, Tri Delta, commenting on her new honor.

The Theta Chi Dream Girl dance took place also on Saturday in the SUB Ballroom. A formal dinner preceded the event.

Bateman was arrested at the same time as Schmidt, and was charged with possession of marijuana. He appeared Dec. 8 before Moscow District Judge Tom Felton.

Bateman, who is now 18, was placed on probation until his 21st birthday.

He pleaded guilty to the charge of possession of marijuana, but his plea was not accepted by Felton. If at any time during the period of probation Bateman violates the terms of the probation, Felton may accept the plea of guilty and Bateman may be sentenced.

At the end of the probation period, the case against Bateman will be dismissed, and his record will not show a conviction for the charge of possession of marijuana.

According to Felton, trials have not yet been scheduled in the cases pending against seven other persons arrested in marijuana cases during the last month.

Commercialized Sex and The Art of Being Real

Commercialization is something we put up with all year long, as part of the socio-economic system which keeps this country progressing along to where ever it is going. But, the 'hard sell' technique becomes a bit more oppressive during the Christmas season. When we speak of the hard sell, we do not mean a voice and a face screaming out of the television screen proclaiming the merits of a particular product. The hard sell approach is much more subtle these days, because it utilizes the pressure of conformity, primarily through idealized sexual roles. What we are actually talking about is the commercialization of sex.

from the clothes she wears to the manner in which she combs her hair. It is hard to be real when one is trying so hard to fit into the ideal image. The UBS writer underscores this by saying, "On many levels of their existence girls have to prostitute themselves, to sell themselves and their human beingness for a price. The price is the security of being accepted by the male on the male's terms." We would say that it is more on the terms of the 'subtle hard sell advertisement.'

"I, A Woman"

The epitomy of the commercialization of the female could be viewed in the movie, "I, A Woman" which played in Pullman last week. Jason had the unfortunate experience of sitting through half of it before she became nauseous and was forced to leave. The Swedish movie was nothing more than hard core pornography and it reduced sex, to nothing more than a product on the commercial market. The same attitude is expressed in advertisements that emphasize the importance of being physically acceptable, or else. This attitude is reflected in ads that ask, "Have you had any lately?"; "If he kissed you once, will he kiss you again?"; "Take it off, take it all off." "Do you want him to be more of a man? Why not be more of a woman?" and "Would you rather take a bath with them or us?" Playboy's circulation is expected to reach 5 million this year through the commercialization of sex.

On the Market

Sex has always been on the commercial market, but never before has it been used to sell to the mass media on the scale that it has reached during the past two years or so. Not only do advertisements utilize sex to make the product sell, but too, there is a new permissiveness in the arts. As Newsweek magazine said in a recent article, "institutions have simply been over-run by the demands of a mass society that wants to see and hear everything." There is a new frankness and a new precociousness among even the high school group. For the most part, the new honesty is refreshing. Now we can quit hiding behind hypocritical taboos and begin to be real people dealing with one another honestly. But at the same time, especially in the somewhat romantic setting of the college campus, individuals have trouble seeing what is real and what is an ideal created by our commercial world.

What Female Role?

There is an especially large amount of pressure placed on the coed to conform to the supposed ideals of the female role. The role is not that well defined and the result is a subtle feeling of anxiety at not being able to live up to the image of 'superwoman.' This places the girl in the role of an object, rather than that of a fellow human being. Playboy magazine makes a fortune every year on this premise. "This is obscene and perverse not in the sexual sense, but in the human sense, for the purpose is to reduce a fellow human being to the status of a mere object to be used in any fashion whatever to satisfy one's pleasure, says a student-writer in the Nov. 21 issue of The Ubyssay, of the University of British Columbia.

Status Symbol

He goes on to say, "Like a toy, she (the female) can be played with to provide entertainment. Like a car, she can be a status symbol—if she conforms to the current definition of what status is." And here is where the advertisement makes its mint. Madison Avenue can manipulate the standards of status from year to year, constantly leaving the female buyer, and the male, for that matter, with a feeling of insecurity. Therefore, she is constantly trying to be with the in-crowd by the way she decorates her body,

"In a society which measures success by one's ability to acquire objects men begin to doubt their own manhood, their own worth as human beings if they have somehow failed to acquire all the necessary objects of success—and woman is the prize object," says the Ubyssay article. "A society which regards as its very basis the acquiring of more and more objects to the point where this amassment of object-wealth becomes more important than human life and human dignity, such a society cannot help but produce humanly perverted and hung-up individuals."

No About Faces

This is not to say that society should do an about-face. Mass society, mass media and mass production will continue to grow bigger and exert increased pressure on the individual as he attempts to know what is real and what is not. The situation is particularly acute on the college campus where very little is real and where the pressure to conform is almost overwhelming. The vulgarity, however, of the commercialization of sex is only one aspect of a society that produces the equally vulgar tinsel and garish neon lights and tawdry sales pitch that fills so much of our world today. It is increasingly the responsibility of the individual to understand the difference between the subtle soft sell job and the value of legitimacy and 'human beingness.'

Dear Jason

A Feeling Of Numbness

Dear Jason: It is an understatement to say that the U. of I. student body was shocked to learn of the suicide of a fellow student early Friday morning. The unnecessary death of any human being is always appalling to those who remain, but when a relative, close friend, or classmate dies in this manner, the feeling is one of numbness and disbelief. The numbness first comes with the realization that one face will no longer be seen in the classroom; one voice will no longer be heard in the dorm. The numbness spreads as one experiences the sense of complete helplessness present after such a tragedy, and faces the total inability of himself to reverse time for a few short minutes and prevent the death from occurring. As the numbness reaches all parts of the mind, the feeling of disbelief appears.

How is it possible, one asks, for any human being to become so alienated from the rest of mankind through the pressures of our system of education and our society, that he thinks death is the only solution to his problems? Is it possible that his pleas for help, understanding, and love went unheard? Or, were we so concerned with our own small problems that we simply didn't bother to respond? The feeling of disbelief reaches its full intensity at the thought that we could have been so cold and cruel.

It is indeed ironic that this happened during the Christmas season when peace and good will toward men is supposed to exist on this earth. We students, who are attending the U of I, will soon be going home to be with our friends and families. It would be very good if we would all stop and spend a few moments to think about this true meaning of Christmas. As we all know, but often take for granted, Christmas is the celebration of the birth of one who came to earth 2,000 years ago that man might learn to love and have compassion, and that he might learn to abolish bitterness and hatred.

Traditionally, Christmas is a time of gift giving. This Christmas if we would all give the gift of love and understanding to those around us and resolve to continue to do so when we return to school, what happened Friday morning will be prevented from happening again in the future. If all the university students everywhere would just show a little concern for the problems facing others and try to understand points of view different from their own, our generation could be the first in the history of mankind to successfully control the hatred between individuals, races and nations. Our children could then live in a time when there would truly be peace on earth, good will toward men.

Yours truly,
Jim Waite
Borah Hall

Willms Clears

Dear Jason, For the 7th edition of "Willms Unofficial Column," I make reference to last Friday's article and Fleece about E-Board's concern with the Argonaut. It appears you feel that the Argonaut is above criticism. The headline for Friday's article was "Board Defeats Resolution." For the record, the statement on Argonaut policies and responsibilities was for discussion purposes only and was NOT VOTED ON, which hardly constitutes defeat. Need any more to be said?

Do you know what you want to do with your education? Do you know the job opportunities available to a person with your background and education? Whether you are a freshman, sophomore junior or senior, you should know the answers to these questions. Mr. Sidney Miller, head of the Central Placement Service on campus (Adult Education Building) is available to assist all U of I graduates in obtaining employment according to their training, ability and experience.

At specific times throughout the year business, government, industry, and education send their representatives to the campus for the purpose of interviewing students and graduates. Arrangements for these visits are made with the Central Placement Service. It is the purpose of this center to serve the state, region, and nation by providing adequately trained personnel for all industrial and governmental groups as well as schools, public and private, from kindergarten through graduate school. This service is available to all students (not just seniors) upon request. The initial contact with the Central Placement service must be by the student. All candidates desiring the use of this service should obtain the necessary registration forms during the first semester of his last year on campus. There is no charge for this service.

Mr. Miller joined the Central Placement Service in 1963. In that year 168 companies visited the campus to interview our students. This year 300 companies plus 125 school districts will interview at the Placement Bureau. Mr. Miller stated that a list of interviewing companies and schools is sent to every living group every faculty member on campus, the SUB, and the Argonaut. Extra lists are also available at the Placement Office itself. Interviewers come to the Idaho campus because there is an urgent demand for educated talent in the U.S. today. For this reason, companies travel greater distances to interview.

According to Mr. Miller, "They have heard about the quality of Idaho's candidates or have hired one themselves. They like what they see. It speaks well for the State of Idaho because that's where the predominant number of candidates are from."

Technically oriented people (Math, Science, Engineering, etc.) are most in demand. In education, elementary and specialized secondary (music, business education etc.) and English are in special demand. In the business area accounting is very popular. Companies are also looking for people to represent their companies not for door-to-door salesmen. In all areas interviewers are looking for the well-educated, well-rounded student.

How does one register for interviews? Just go to the Placement Bureau and ask for Sidney Miller, or ask one of the secretaries what you need to do. The procedure is simple and well worth your time. Students who are to be married and don't expect to go to work soon, students who expect to have military duty before finding a job still should file records at the office and interview, especially those students not in the education area. These contacts will be invaluable to you when you do decide to work. In later years it is difficult to get recommendations or remember what one did when at college. It is better to do this now. The Placement Service wants you to get the right position the first time that suits your needs.

Mr. Miller is appalled by the number of people who go through his office not knowing what they want to do. Many people have been oriented to one line of study not knowing the jobs available for that line of study. What jobs are available to an English major, or a philosophy major? What jobs are available for you? Is this what you really want for your career? Many students do not know the answers to these questions. Find out now before you are burdened with a career you do not want. Mr. Miller is willing to speak to any group, class, organization or individual at any time or place about the Placement operation. Questions are welcomed and encouraged so that the best possible service may be rendered to you, the Idaho Student. S.G.W.

'A Referendum Would Be Mickey Mouse'

'Responsibility Lies With Regents'--Hartung

By ROGER ANDERSON
Arg. Assistant Editor

A student referendum on the financing of the new athletic complex would make student government at Idaho "mickey mouse," President Ernest Hartung said yesterday.

News of a student referendum on a proposed fee hike for a covered stadium at Idaho State University prompted petitions to be circulated here against the $75 a year hike in student fees.

"I think the Regents are genuinely concerned, as I am, in any realistic student participation in decisions where such participation is realistically feasible," he said.

"The Regents will have no objections to hearing petitions on a student bill of rights in determining how the university will be run," he said.

A long range plan for the physical plant of the University which was entrusted by the constitution to the Board of Regents, President Hartung said.

If a referendum were held and students voted "yes," then everything would be fine, he said.

"What if we have a referendum and the students vote 'no'?" What if the Regents then decided to go ahead, come what may? Then student government would become "mickey mouse," he said.

If student referendums are used to give the Regents a sense of what the students are thinking, the students would feel betrayed if the Regents would decide to move the other way, he added.

"It is the Regents, not the students who are responsible for the University," Dr. Hartung said.

Since Idaho State was established by an act of the state legislature, Dr. Hartung said that he did not know how ISU operated.

Maybe the state Board of Education told Dr. Davis to go ahead and find out how the students were thinking, he added.

"I do not know what factors were behind the referendum decision at Idaho State," Dr. Hartung said.

A factor that students often take too lightly is that they represent a quiet transient group in the use of the campus facilities. The Regents must be responsible for the campus 10, 20, even 30 years from now; not just concerned with the present student population, he said.

"Some students complain about the rooms in the Wallace Complex. When the room arrangements were made, students were consulted at that time," he said.

A mock up of the rooms for the new Complex X is now set up in the Wallace Complex. But the generation that votes on it will never live in it, Hartung said.

Dr. Hartung said he had a strong feeling that when these rooms are lived in the students would say "If asked as students we would have told you. . ."

The decision to build a new athletic complex was sparked from complaints about the "crummy" swimming pool, the fact that the track is unusable in the spring, and other factors, he said.

Because of the complex needs, ranging from a swimming pool to a running track, to parking lots, to a sports coliseum, the Regents combined them into one project, made an estimate of what the cost will be and set the fees, he said.

The increase will put the University within five dollars of the ISU student fees, Hartung said.

"If ISU does raise its fees, it may be significantly ahead of Idaho again," he added.

If the cost of the athletic complex would have required a $100 to $150 increase, the Regents would not have gone ahead, he said.

"The Regents chose to finance the athletic complex through student fees because 'there is no other way.'"

"Our last request to the legislature was not awarded in the full amount," Hartung said.

Among the items cut was a sports coliseum. The sports coliseum has been put before the legislature twice, he said.

"We are already going before the friends of the University for a new Performing Arts Center. . . It is going to be a tough job; we may not make it. How are you going to fund the athletic complex otherwise?" Hartung said.

Hartung said that several students would rather use the money for other purposes such as raising teacher's salaries. That, however, would make the fees into a tuition, which is forbidden by the state constitution.

Tuition is money charged for the direct attributable costs of education such as faculty salaries, plant maintenance, and supplies and equipment.

"Sports competition, the Student Union, etc. are not central to the main thrust of education," he said.

One has only to look at the debates of Congress to know that a large segment of the population feels that higher education should be public supplied, as elementary and secondary schools now are, Hartung said.

President Hartung commented on the recommendation of Perry Swisher, as printed in the "Intramountain Observer," to abolish college football in Idaho by saying:

"I would be interested in having a student public opinion poll on the subject of football, with, again, the realization that it would not be binding on the Regents in any sense of the word."

actionary Testing Station?

Willms, why don't you make your "Wipe" out of more appropriate paper, so it can be put to its proper use?

Willms, you have maintained that the University is an educational institution, so why don't you make use of the facilities? about the "Argonaut," even you couldn't make it any more conservative. Have you considered thinking beyond the scope of an adolescent student who has already surrendered his soul to the establishment? Try it for a couple of days, it might be quite an experience, even for a narrow minded whippersnapper like you.

Sieg Heil, Willms!

In reference to Jim Willms and his trashy letter of Dec. 8, I among hordes of others, am getting mighty tired of reading and hearing about his retarded political philosophy. I am a tired, liberal University of Idaho student—tired of swallowing his rotten opinions and out-dated attitudes.

Willms, who always pretends to be democratic, spouts out the philosophy of a person who is goose-stepping through life, and is always pro the establishment although in many cases it is nothing more than organized hypocrisy. But, what else can be expected of student leaders who attend Idaho's National Re-

The Film Classics Club will present "The Petrified Forest" Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Ag. Science 100. Set in the early 1930's the movie presents the actions and conflicts triggered by a bank robber who holds several people of different backgrounds hostage in a gas station-lunchroom while waiting for another part of his gang to join him.

Although it was not his first movie, "The Petrified Forest" was the film which brought stardom to Humphrey Bogart as the bank robber.

PUBLIC RELATIONS ASSISTANT INTERVIEWS

Interviews for Public Relations Assistant Director and Secretary will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. The room will be posted at the Information Booth in the SUB.

The Sophomore Extended Board will meet at 8:00 Wednesday night in the SUB, according to Dick Sams, Sophomore Class President.

The Opinion Poll Committee has placed suggestion boxes in the Ad. Bldg., outside President Hartung's door; the coed lounge in Wallace Complex; and in the SUB, outside the main cafeteria door.

Graham Hall will hold its second annual Christmas Dance this Saturday at the Wallace Complex east cafeteria. The dance will be from 9-12 p.m. and will feature "The Band-side Society." Dress is grubby and admission is free.

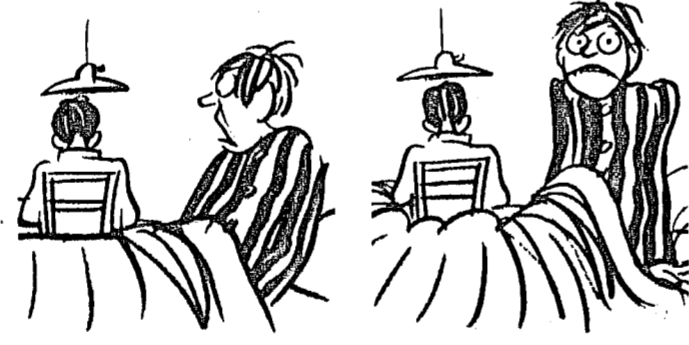

The Campus Young Democrats will meet at 7:00 Wednesday night in the SUB, according to Roy Haney, Young Democrats President. Sidney Duncombe of the Political Science Department will speak to the group.

Haney said that the meeting is public, and invited all interested persons to attend.

$$5. \text{It's already gotten me a great job with Equitable. Challenging work. Good pay. Responsibility. And the chance to move up to an important management position.}$$

Can they use a top-notch dart thrower?

Some say we specialize in power . . . power for propulsion . . . power for auxiliary systems . . . power for aircraft, missiles and space vehicles . . . power for marine and industrial applications . . .

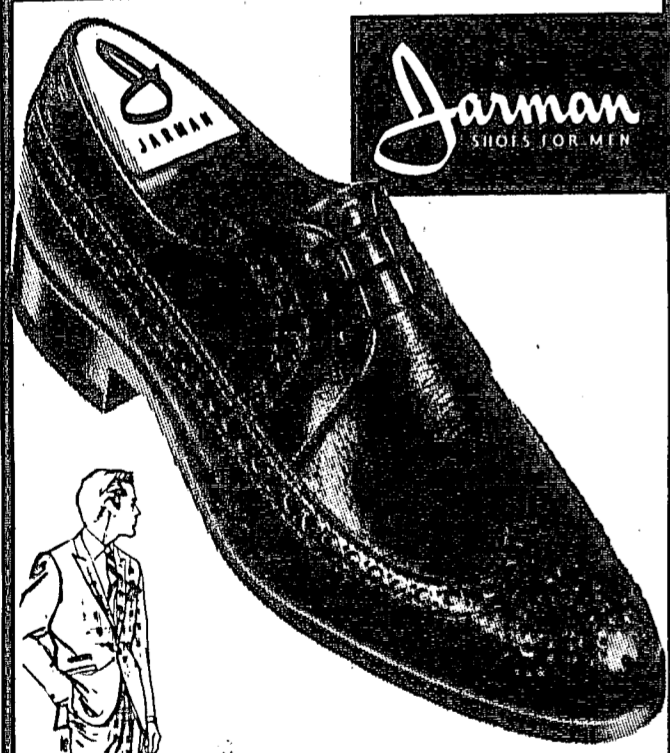

... they're right. And wrong.

It might be said, instead, that we specialize in people, for we believe that people are a most important reason for our company's success. We act on that belief.

We select our engineers and scientists carefully. Motivate them well. Give them the equipment and facilities only a leader can provide. Offer them company-paid, graduate-education opportunities. Encourage them to push into fields that have not been explored before. Keep them reaching for a little bit more responsibility than they can manage. Reward them well when they do manage it.

You could be one of the reasons for Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's success . . . if you have a B.S., M.S. or Ph.D. in:
MECHANICAL • AERONAUTICAL • ELECTRICAL CHEMICAL • CIVIL • MARINE • INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING • PHYSICS • CHEMISTRY • METALLURGY
CERAMICS • MATHEMATICS • STATISTICS
COMPUTER SCIENCE • ENGINEERING SCIENCE
ENGINEERING MECHANICS.

And we could be the big reason for your success. Consult your college placement officer—or write Mr. William L. Stoner, Engineering Department, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, Connecticut 06108.

Jarman SHOES FOR MEN

Forward Fashion

In a relatively short time, the "forward fashion" suit has become the favorite of American men. For you to wear with it, Jarman has designed a new series of shoes whose detailing, lines and leathers subtly complement this contemporary look. Come see these distinctive new Jarman styles and you, too, will be eager to join the "forward fashion parade."

Idaho Romps Over Alaska In Home Openers

Boise College Takes Two From Vandalbabes

The Vandalbabes opened their season over the weekend with two losses to the quintet from Boise College. Friday night they dropped a close one 48-49, but Saturday evening brought a different story as the Broncos came back in the second half to win 66-52.

Adrian Prince and Keith Hessing were the top men for the 'Babes during the first contest as they combined for 32 of the 48 total. Prince had 17 while Hessing dropped in 7 field goals and one foul shot for 15. Burke of Boise College topped all scorers with 20 points.

Prince, who hails from Saginaw, Mich., was also the top rebounder for the young Vandals as he retrieved 14. He is the tallest man on the squad and stands 6'6", but weighs only 190 pounds.

Of the five men that played for coach John Smith two each are from Idaho and Washington and Prince the fifth is from Michigan.

Gerald Forth is from Nezperce and Keith Hessing played ball in Boise for Capital. John Nelson came to the Vandals from Spokane and Marvin Williams is from Everett.

The Saturday night game, which was also a preliminary to a varsity-Alaska contest saw the Broncos make up a 6-point halftime deficit and go on to win 66-52.

Keith Hessing took over top scoring honors for the 'Babes and the game as he totalled 20 points on 7 field goals and 6 charity tosses. Gerald Forth was next with 8 as the scoring was spread out amongst 7 of the 10 men that played.

Top spot for the Broncos went to Hart as he "dropped in 16

The Vandals topped the statistics for the second night in a row but were unable to outscore the visitors.

The Inquirer

By Bucky McCleneghan

Don't be alarmed if you heard or felt any strange noises or tremors last Saturday afternoon. It wasn't an earthquake, but rather late ex-heavyweight champions John L. Sullivan, James Corbat, and Jim Jefferies, to name just a few, turning over in their graves during and after the World's Boxing Association's semifinal heavyweight elimination championship bout between Jimmie Ellis and Oscar Bonavena. It looked like two middle-aged males running their first mile in 20 years. Ellis was tired after the third round, and Bonavena had had it after the ninth. In fact, a lucky punch thrown by Ellis, in which his opponent actually ran into that row won the decision for Ellis. Two of my friends who viewed the fight late in the fifth round, were under the impression that as the preliminary match until the illustrious boxing commentators of so long (and too long), Howard Cossell, described the fight.

Although Navy quarterback John Cartwright did a tremendous job in engineering the Middle's upset win over Army, the big weapon was perhaps the Pentagon's decision of not allowing the Cadets to play in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day, against undefeated Wyoming. That's the Army for you!

And weren't the San Francisco 49ers superb the following day against the Chicago Bears. It was the sixth defeat in a row for John Brodie and company after they won their first five out of six. Meanwhile, their Bay cousins of the AFL, the Oakland Raiders, rambled over the San Diego Chargers to take a commanding lead in the Western Division with just three games remaining. Bay area fans are now singing, "I Left My Heart in Oakland."

Speaking of the AFL, the New York Jets popular star quarterback, and playboy, Joe Namath, wasn't exactly in the hearts of every Jet fan after he threw five interceptions in a 28-14 defeat to the last place Denver Broncos. This puts the Houston Oilers tied with New York for the Eastern Division crown, and with three weeks of action left to play. Don't worry about it Joe, Hugh Hefner's playmates still think you're great — and with fans like that — who needs the others (maybe LBJ)?

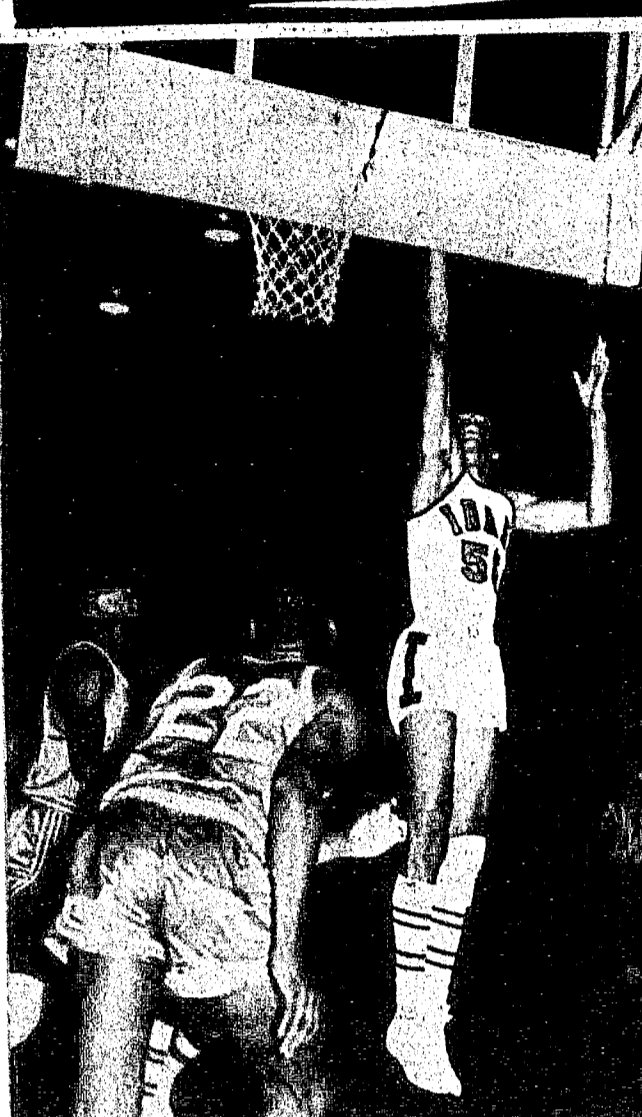

The Dumb-Dumb "Award" goes out this year to the sport writers of the Associated Press for not including UCLA in their final top ten football ratings.

Who says our men in Washington D.C. don't influence the public? The baseball world is acting just like them. Players and owners are feuding over the minimum starting pay scale from $7,000 to $12,000 per year (teachers take note). Meanwhile, for better or for worse, the inter-league slave trading continues, with major cities vying for major league franchises in 1969.

Carl Yastrzemski is keeping his cool at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield, Mass. where 16 days ago, he began his rigorous conditioning program which he credits to his winning the triple crown last year while at Boston.

On the home front, WSU and Idaho are still searching for that individual, who will rise and lead their respective football teams to victory. While they're at it, they'd better devise ways and means to get the front line freshman and JC transfers to enroll in the local Palouse Country schools of higher learning.

TWO MORE POINTS for Idaho as this scene was a common occurrence at Memorial Gym over the past weekend. Idaho romped to a double victory over Alaska, 102-64 and 83-62.

Thacker's Scoring Spree Crushes Alaska Twice

The Idaho Vandals behind the hot shooting of Jim Thacker romped over the Alaska Nanooks for a double victory during the weekend. Idaho coasted to a 102-64 win in the Friday night tilt and decisively Alaska, 83-62 in the finale Saturday night.

In Friday night's action Idaho built up a 45-24 halftime lead having three players in double figures. Thacker topped all scorers with a 19-point output followed by Rick Day and Larry Kaschmitter with 17 and 14 respectively.

Bob Ross and Phil Waddell each had eight points and their credit as did Jim Johnston and Tony Traweck. Wayne Anderson used 12 players in the scoring spree with each player getting on the scoreboard.

The Vandals hit 52 percent from the field and connected on 28 of 37 free throws for 76 percent at the charity line.

The Nanooks were out-rebounded 51-15 as Larry Kaschmitter hauled down nine rebounds followed by Day with eight and Traweck with six. Nobody fouled out for the Vandals as Anderson substituted freely after the first half of play.

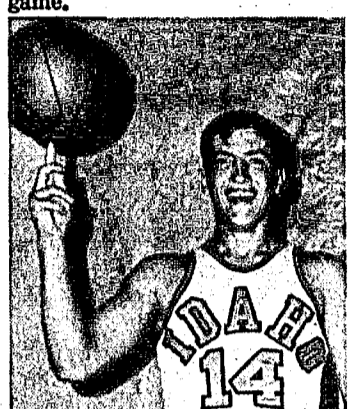

The sparkplug for the Nanooks was 5-11 guard Milo Griffin who hit on 14 of 16 free throws combined with eight field goals for a 30-point performance. Griffin also lead Alaska in rebounds with seven to his credit.

In the second half Idaho reeled off nine straight points at the start and held a commanding 49-35 lead at the intermission.

In the second stanza of play 5-9 junior guard Jim Thacker tossed in 16 of his 25 points for the night connecting on four markers in a row at one point in the game. Thacker was 10-14 from the field while going 5-5 at the charity line. He also hauled down nine rebounds to round out his performance.

Sophomore Bob Ross tallied 11 points with Rick Day, Larry Kaschmitter and Steve Brown each contributing nine. The Vandals again dominated the boards by a 44-28 margin as the Nanooks were out-hustled throughout the game.

High man for Alaska was Milo Griffin who tallied 23 points. Griffin scored a total of 53 points against the Vandals but this was still below his 65-point, two-game performance against Western Washington in which he tallied a one-game high of 38 points.

Both teams were without the services of one of their starters. Tony Traweck sprained his ankle in Friday night's contest and did not see any action. Gary Schaefer, Alaska's 6-6 freshman forward from Seattle was out due to illness.

The Vandals' record now stands even at 2-2 as they meet the Washington State Cougars in Memorial Gym tonight at 8:05 p.m. The Cougars won their opener handily over the Gonzaga Bulldogs but lost the finale of their twin bill with the Nebraska Cornhuskers Saturday night.
