Idaho Student Killed In Parachute Accident

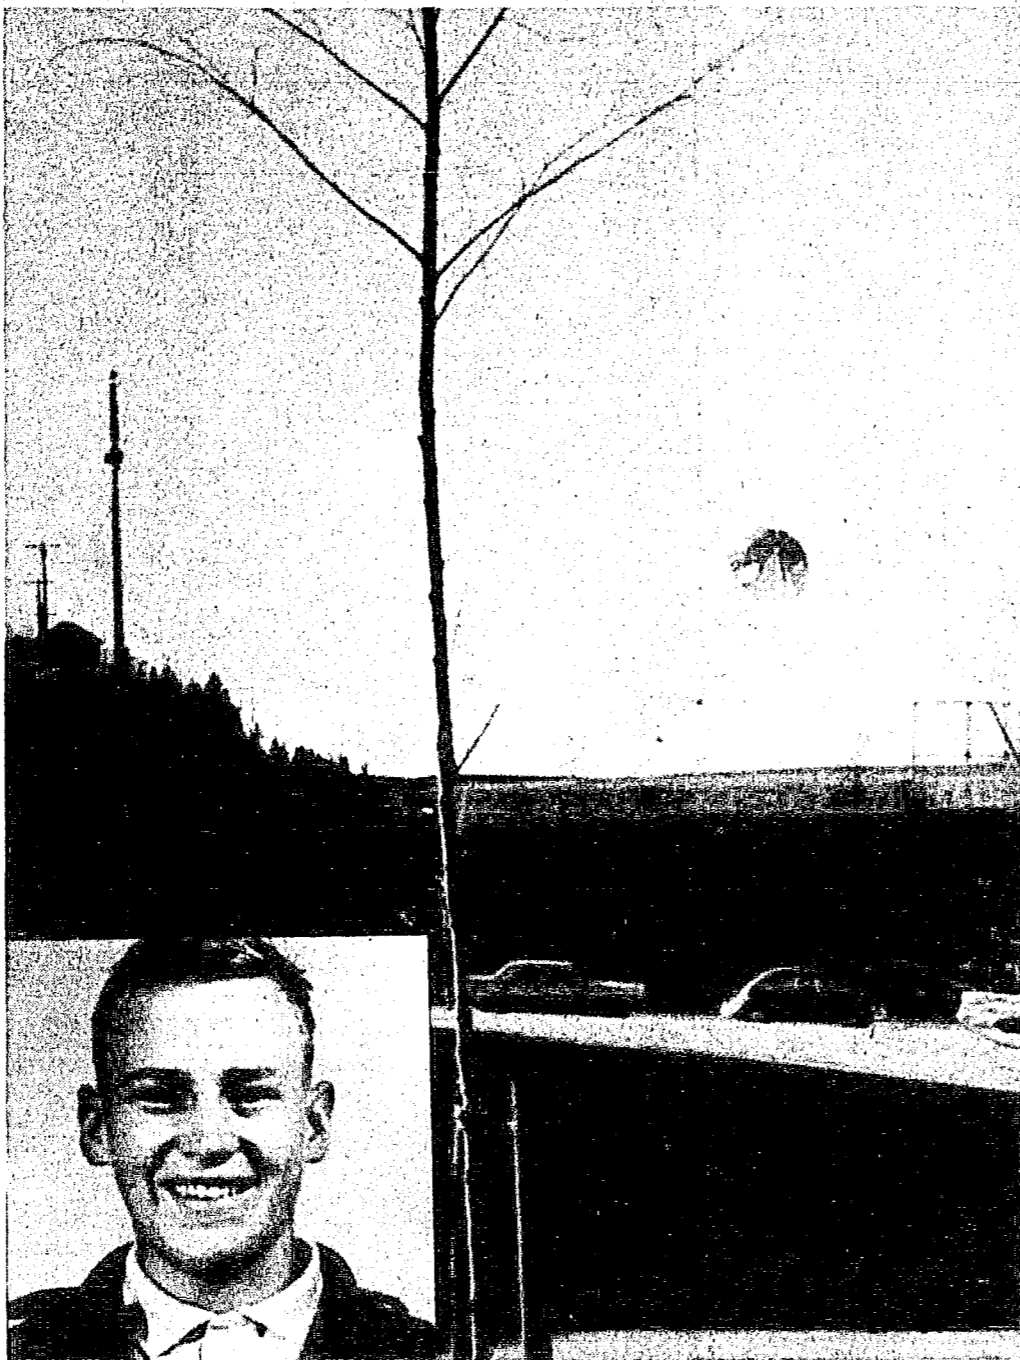

In a freak accident involving a parachute, a University of Idaho sophomore from Emmett was killed on campus Friday, Feb. 23.

Carl A. Johnson, 21, Foultry Plant, and Gregory L. Melton, 20, Gault, were being pulled across a playing field near the football stadium by strong winds blowing in a parachute, the Latah County Sheriff's office said, when Johnson was killed.

Witnesses, including Johnson's brother Howard, Gault, told the sheriff's office that a strong gust of wind about 35 miles per hour caught the chute and jerked it into the air. Although Melton let go, Johnson hung on as the parachute soared about 50 feet above the ground before the rope onto which he was holding broke, causing him to fall to the ground.

Johnson landed on his feet, but died a short time later of what authorities said was apparently a broken neck. Officials said no autopsy was planned. Melton appeared stunned after his fall, and was taken to the campus infirmary, but apparently sustained no serious injuries.

Moc U.N. Discusses Viet. Withdrawal

Condemnation of Israel and Korea and the United States withdrawal from Vietnam will be the topics of the three resolutions to be debated this Sunday at the mock U.N. session from 2:30-5:30 p.m. in the SUB. Twenty sent on one of the issues. Already ready countries have been causing in order to draw up amendments and gain support for their sides of issues.

on-campus living groups and one off-campus group headed by Horst Adam will be representing countries for the General Assembly session.

Students are encouraged to fill the gallery and cheer their favorites and hiss the traditional bad foes of the U.N. The March 3 session is sponsored by the Model United Nations Committee. This committee chaired by Horst Adam will be leaving for Arizona the last week in April to represent the University as Poland in the MUN of the Far West.

Pat Deucey, former MUN chairman and past delegate to Stanford and Portland, will be the acting Secretary General. Pat will have to deal with demonstrations which are being planned by various groups, along with controlling debate and procedures of amendments and counter resolutions. Each group has been working on their strategy for obtaining notariety and some recognition for their country.

Those directly responsible for initiating this Mock Session at Idaho Sunday are the co-chairmen Janie Slaughter, Tri Delata; Katy McCarty, Alpha Gam; and Sandy Hutt, Delta Gamma.

There are 27 countries being represented: Denmark - Alpha Phi, Netherlands-Delta Sig, Austria-Gamma Phi, United Kingdom-SAE, Franco-Tri Delta, Italy-McConnell, Japan-Farmhouse, Canada-Hays and Upham, and the United States-Theta Chi.

This is the first Mock U.N. session of any dimension at the University to receive such interest from participants. Each group will try to follow its countries political policies and to keep as close to the countries past reaction to international affairs. The rebels of the U.N. are expected to follow suit in the Mock session. Albania always pulls through with a major distraction and has assured the convention they plan to dis-

From March 7-9, the Pacific Northwest premiere of the mixed-media theatre will be presented with the up-beat version of the Pulitzer Prize winning "The Skin of Our Teeth," by Thornton Wilder. Directed by Forrest Sears; the play will be performed in the University Auditorium at 8 p.m. Four large screens will surround the futuristic set created by designer-technician, Robert Thompson, instructor of dramatics.

Completing a rugged nine-day tour of the Gem State, the renowned "Vandaleer" mixed chorus, under the baton of Glen Lockery, will return to campus on Sunday, March 10, for a 4 p.m. concert in the University Auditorium. Included in the program will be the Academy Award winning music of Richard Rogers, "The Sound of Music."

On March 12, the University Orchestra under the direction of LeRoy Bauer, conductor, will perform Vittorio Gnamini's "Symphony No. 2 and Joseph for Violin-cello and Orchestra." Guest soloist will be Achilles Balabanis, cellist. The second half of the concert will highlight Aron Copeland's "Appalachian Spring," a 1945 Pulitzer Prize winner in music.

Samuel Barber's "Summer Music, Op. 31" will be played by the Northwest Wind Quintet. The music will be danced to by Kay Kerns, Sharon Stranahan, Jenny Wood, Diane Yemmer, and Michael Graves, and choreographed by Lucy McIver, assistant professor of women's physical education.

Closing out the festival will be Ruth Currier, professional dancer from New York. The famous choreographer-director will perform in the University Auditorium on Saturday, March 16, at 8 p.m. Says the New York Times—"an artist to be reckoned with." Miss Currier will also take part in the Northwest Dance Symposium on the campus, March 11-16.

Psychedelic 'Skin of Our Teeth' Ready for March 7-9

By BRIAN LOBDELL
Arg. Reporter

Anyone for a "happening"? Students at the University of Idaho will be able to experience the first such event to take place here as the Idaho Dramatics presents its updated, psychedelic version of Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth."

The production, filled with projected slides, strobe lights, and electronic music, will open on the campus March 7, and will run for three nights.

Audiences viewing the production will find themselves face to face with everything from L.B.J. to pictures of amoeba and atomic explosions, which will be seen on four large screens which have been incorporated into the set being placed above and around the stage. Four slide projectors will be operating throughout the show as well as two overhead projectors. A movie projector will also be utilized in order to heighten the effects.

Under the direction of Forrest Sears, and the technical direction of Robert Thompson, both actors and crews have been busy preparing for the complicated play. The building crews have constructed stylized, modernistic furniture of the future, as well as a futuristic set to put them in.

The "media" crew has been busy experimenting with slides, liquid projections, strobe lights, and a variety of other ideas, all aimed at showing the audience the latest in communications in dramatic productions.

Director Sears has been localizing the play as much as possible, using local names and pictures of the local environment. While pictures will be projected on the screens throughout the play, an effort is being made to produce the desired effect without distracting from the stage action.

Sears, using his own concepts in the play, will represent the first act as the past, the second as the present, and the final act as the future. In the three acts, man's problems, past and future, are laid out in the lives of one family, the Antrobuses.

This family represents common man, and one sees how man always manages to slip through in times of crisis by the "Skin of his Teeth."

Playing the Antrobus family will be John Naples, off-campus, as Mr. Antrobus; Vickie Haight, Pi Phi, as Mrs. Antrobus; Larry Sampson, Willis Sweet, as Henry, the son; Robyn Walls, Campbell, as Gladys, the daughter; and Nancy Kandel, McCoy, as Sabina, the maid.

The play is symbolic of man's history, as we see the Antrobuses come through the ice-age, (with dinosaurs and mammoths running around on stage), and then survive a tremendous flood that hits while they are visiting the Boardwalk in Atlantic City. They take with them, of course, animals of each specie, two of a kind.

In the final crisis, the family is together once more as a massive world war has plagued the planet. The problems they face in the future could be anyone's.

The play will open at 8:00 p.m. in the Ad. Auditorium on March 7, and will run through the 9th. Tickets are on sale now at Carter's Drug and the Information Desk in the SUB.

Rights Bill Passes By One Vote Margin

The Student Bill of Rights was passed in Executive Board Tuesday night. The Bill was accepted by a narrow 6-5 vote margin after ASUI president Dave Leroy cast the tie breaking vote.

"The Bill is effective," said Leroy, "and I would like to see it in The Committee on Campus Affairs."

Special roll call vote explanation was used by the Board members to qualify their individual votes.

E-Board Approves Golf Course Money

Executive Board approved the recommendation of the golf course committee Tuesday night and appropriated $90,000 for the construction of a new combination club-house and house for the pro.

lounge large enough to be used for exchanges," said Bill Gray.

The recommendation was approved by the board with a 9-1 vote, with Jim Willms voting against the measure. The passage provides the go ahead, pending the Regents approval on the 5,000 square foot structure.

"We had two different plans drawn up, a smaller building for $75,000 (4,700 sq. ft.) and the larger building for $90,000," said Howard Foley. "$10,000 must be added to both prices for furnishings, so really there is only $5,000 difference. Besides, the smaller building would have to be expanded within five years anyway."

The possibility of using the club house as a satellite SUB was mentioned. "It could have a

"A diversified winter recreation club house should also be included within the plans. A slope could be lighted during the winter for sledding and tubing at night. Also, a skating pond could be landscaped into the golf course to provide more recreation," suggested Roy Haney.

Another suggestion by Haney was to make it clear in the recommendation that a ceiling should be placed on the bids. "This report is saying, 'take this much money, $90,000, its available for the facility,'" said Haney, but the report was not changed.

In other business, the board approved Lois' Grieve, and Don Farley to fill two vacancies on the election board.

A budget report requesting that the class treasury's be budgeted more carefully was discussed by the Board. This report recommends that the class officers make their own budget for the following year, and the rest of the allotted money would go into the ASUI funds. If the classes ran low, they would have to make a request to E-Board for more money.

"Presently, the class money lays around for three years, and then the senior officers hunt for ways to get rid of the money," said Bob Fry of the Budget Committee.

"The senior class officers do nothing else but disperse their accumulated funds so why take away their prerogative to do what ever they want with these funds?" asked Jim Willms.

"This budgeting will force class officers to do something, to plan and look ahead for once," said Randy Byers.

Because of poor attendance of class officers, the Board tabled the report until next week.

The ASUI-Washington State charter flight to Europe was mentioned. Thirty individuals from Idaho have presently signed up for the trip, but ten more individuals are needed to fill the rest of our own reservations.

The individual voting breakdown was as follows:

Jim England — "No, I cannot condone protecting the bad actor, as this bill would. Parts that need to be changed are disciplinary records, free speech, the right to dissent; this present bill does not set down a basis on which to work."

Craig Storli — "No. I have changed my mind from what I once thought. I, too, cannot condone the bad actor."

Roy Haney — "Yes. The protection of the guilty should not really be a problem, but it should be the University's responsibility to get rid of the students through a civil court."

Jim Willms — "No. Such a document would destroy the disciplinary system, so how would the students be protected?"

Randy Stamper — "Yes. I have some reservations with this document, but if we don't pass it now, it is completely shot. There are some valid points in this document. There will probably be a lot thrown out at the next level."

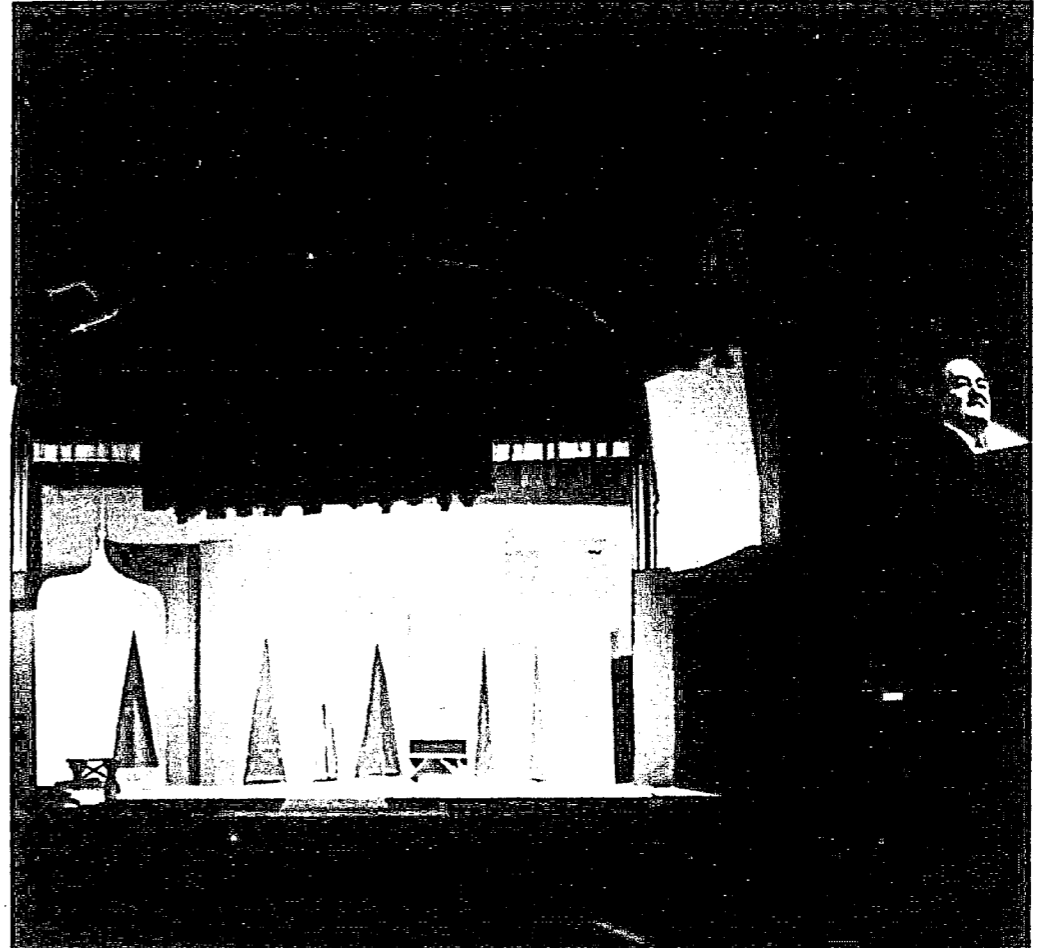

Dennis Bodily — "No. Coming from E-Board, we should make all of the modifications we can. If there needs to be some changing done, we should change it."

Randy Byers — "Yes. I agree with Stamper that if we defeat it, the bill is dead. Although Section 5 should be worked on, overall, we need the bill."

Mike Powell — "Yes. This bill could be cleaned up, but that can be taken care of later."

Howard Foley — "No, I agree with the concept but just because it is late in the year, it isn't justifiable to let it pass at any cost. If we let some of these sections go by without altering, it's a grave way to pass this high body. It could make E-Board look like clowns."

Professor Bell of the law school, answered questions by the Board members prior to the voting. On the disciplinary system under the bill, Prof. Bell said "when 8,000 students have to live together, some bad actors cause trouble for everyone. It's a bad philosophy when these students can't be removed from the University. In this area it is not workable."

Editorial Opinion

A New Low

The fact that campus politics is seething hot is very apparent. Putting the heat on some candidates may be a very good idea. But, someone seems to be taking the idea more literally than figuratively, and resorting to "Burn, Baby, Burn" tactics.

The last two nights someone has set fire to one candidate's signs on the Administration Building lawn. The signs have gone up in a blaze of flame, and the next morning the campus has been greeted by a pile of ashes instead of the intended campaign greeting.

If there is an absolute low to campus politics, burning signs must be it. Such actions are inexcusable, and the people who commit them must be juvenile, and have little sense of what is morally or ethically acceptable.

If student government is to be really meaningful, the participants in the electoral process must realize that they must switch their operations to a reasonable level. Resorting to violence is never a substitute for logical reasoned debate.

The real fire should come on the issues, and if those who burn signs are to be mentally lazy to involve themselves in the issues—maybe they should have never come to a university.

If campus politics is to raise its level of confrontation, those on all levels must become aware that there are certain value judgements that must be made on the basis of ethical standards. All is not fair in love and war, and there are certain ground rules for political contests. The participants must remember to play the game by those rules, and burning signs is a "No, No."

No one will really ever know who burned the signs except those who did it. Accusations are worthless, and we feel sure that it was no one involved with the opposition candidates. But to those who did burn the signs, we have only one comment, "Grow Up!" C.L.S.

Congrats, Dave

Courage in politics is a rare virtue, and when shown it should be acknowledged publicly. We therefore publicly congratulate Dave Leroy for his stand on the student Bill of Rights Tuesday night.

Leroy was in the crucial position of having to decide the fate of the Bill. After a critical evaluation of the document by a lawyer, some votes that were thought to be in favor were changed. The supporters of the document felt reasonably sure that their 7-4 margin would hold. But when the court was announced the score was five to five. Leroy had to break the tie.

Having to break a tie is always a bad position to be in. It is especially bad when the decision has to be on an issue as controversial as the Bill of Rights, where the participants in the legislative process have become emotionally involved with the question.

Leroy cast that deciding vote in favor of the Bill of Rights. He must be given the credit for having the courage to take a stand, and come through on his old campaign promise.

Just one year ago Leroy was telling the campus that he was supporting student interest and the Bill of Rights. At times it looked as though that campaign promise had been just that, a typical campaign promise.

But, in the final analysis Dave had the courage to stand for his convictions. He deserves the praise of all those on campus for his stand; for because of his vote the Student Bill of Rights is one step closer to being passed, and student rights are one step closer to better protection.

But, for the Bill the road ahead will still be a hard one. It must go through Campus Affairs Committee, Faculty Council, and the Board of Regents. At any of those crucial points the bill could be vetoed, or changed radically.

If Leroy's stand on the Bill is to be of any value, he must follow through and take the document forcefully to higher bodies.

Due to time considerations, it is evident that the job cannot be done this year either, which focuses special attention on the ASUJ presidential race. If students want a Bill of Rights, it is important that they elect a President who is pledged to speak for them. C.L.S.

Wanderings

By Chris L. Smith, Acting Editor

The production of the Argonaut to the uninitiated may look like a basically simple process. And there are some simple operations in the complex maze of tasks that go into putting out the paper. But, on the whole, the publication of any campus paper with a limited staff of basically amateurs is quite an undertaking.

Needless to say, some things are overlooked by the staff that would never be left out of a community daily. Last week was a prime example of such an oversight when tragedy struck the campus with the death of Carl Johnson.

Johnson's death was known to the staff of the Argonaut, but the Tuesday paper made no mention of it. Somehow, everyone felt that some other member of the staff had the assignment, and that it was being handled in some special way. The issue went to press, and it was Tuesday afternoon before Jason even noticed the omission. The story is carried on page one this time so that the campus can know. We are sorry about the delay.

To turn attention—Campus politics has certainly seen some interesting developments lately. At last the Presidential candidates are getting down to the basis of all political controversy—a conflict of basic ideologies. Right now it would be hard to put liberal and conservative labels on aspirants, but some very distinct differences do seem to be showing up.

These differences are best seen when the candidates appear side by side and debate the issues. The conflict is real and the campus may have a choice. Now it is for the debate to continue, the candidates to keep to the issues and avoid personality contests, and the campus to make a decision on their respective philosophies.

A new low in the political process was reached during the last two nights however, when two signs were burned on the Ad lawn. The vandals who burned the signs, we feel sure, were not associated with either of the candidates.

However, the burnings did occur, and those involved showed little credit on themselves. Surely they must also realize by now that such actions can do nothing to promote their candidate.

This weekend should be interesting politically on campus, in the state and around the nation.

Here, it will be a good show to watch the campus politicians try to out maneuver each other. They will be playing a big chess game, and it is looking like checkmate time will be Monday and Tuesday of next week. Then the activity should come to a head.

All the kings are now being jockeyed into position and even a few powerful queens are being moved up. Some pawns may get sacrificed to get the king's men better position to maneuver from, but we can always hope that such moves will be limited. There effectiveness is usually very limited.

In Boise Saturday night Idaho Democrats will meet for their annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Banquet. The feast will include most notable Idaho Demo's and looks to be very interesting. The program has evidently been put together to be as nourishing to hawks and doves. The dinner speaker is a Johnson hawk, and the dinner is in honor of Idaho dovish Senator Frank Church.

This is the second time that the Idaho Demos have tried to balance a dinner program for Church. Earlier when Mass. Senator Teddy Kennedy spoke for Church in Boise, Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall spoke on the right of dissent.

The general tactic seems to be to gloss over all the feathers that Church may have ruffled in his own party by his dovish composure. The specific technique is to show the party that the resident and the Senator are really in a basic sort of agreement.

If the Idaho Democrats pull off the trick in Boise it will be just one step in the long process of political wound binding that they must successfully complete in order to reelect Church. The reports coming from the Capitol City should be interesting.

Nationally, with Michigan Governor George Romney out of the Presidential race it will be interesting to watch the liberal Republican Governor scurry for a liberal replacement.

The most likely man is New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller, if he will be a candidate. Rockefeller seems to be playing a cat and mouse game with the party to get a "draft" started. If he really didn't want the nomination the Rockefeller machine could easily kill most of the publicity he has been getting lately.

For Rocky it is just a matter of timing. He must wait until the water looks calm, and then jump. If he enters to soon, he will be in for a long barrage of criticism, and could end up on the scrap heap with Romney. If he goes in too late it might be Scranton in '64 all over again.

INTERESTING: To paraphrase a line from "The Raven" that seems appropriate, "Quoth the Wizard, Evermore."

INTERESTING: The best description of one candidate I have heard slates him to be a "To me" candidate, running on a "Yes, but" platform made up of "Well, Maybe" planks.

My friend Kober doesn't seem to identify too much with what is going on in the cities of South Vietnam these days; so my friend Schultz had to explain it to him.

"Suppose," said Schultz, "you came home one night and found the police surrounding your house, and suppose you said to the chief:

"Hey, what are you shooting in my house for?"

"DON'T WORRY, Sir, Charlie's in there, but we'll get him out."

"That's fine, but do you have to shoot at every window to do it?"

"It's the only way. If we don't rout out Charlie, there will never be any peace in this neighborhood."

"That's just great, but in the meantime, would you stop using that flame thrower on my house?"

"Charlie's dug in and we have to use everything we've got. It's for your benefit, Sir. The sooner we get him out of there, the better it will be for everybody."

"I'm SYMPATHETIC with your problem, and I'd like to get Charlie out, too, but where am I going to live if you keep firing mortars into the roof?"

"Good heavens, man, don't be unreasonable. There's more at stake than your house. If we don't get Charlie out of there, we'll lose the respect of everybody in this city."

"Why did you just blow off my chimney?"

"We thought he might be up there. Look, you can always get a new chimney."

"Sure, but what am I going to do for a new garage, since you just blasted mine away?"

"You can't fight crime and lawlessness without doing some damage. Now, be a good guy, and just stand back so we can move this artillery piece up here."

"NOW WAIT A minute, you are going too far. I forbid you to use artillery against my house."

"You are in no position to forbid us to use anything. Charlie has to pay for his crimes."

"That's all right with me, but who's going to pay for my house?"

"I'm sure somebody will take care of it. Besides, that's not our department."

"I don't want to be a bore about this, and I know I can't see the big picture, but that happens to be my dwelling and I worked for 25 years to pay for it. By the way, you know you just wrecked my kitchen, don't you?"

"SORRY ABOUT THAT. I guess he must be in the bedroom."

"What are you doing with that tank?"

"We can hit the second floor better with a tank."

"I'll bet you can. Let me ask you a question: Suppose he is not in the bedroom?"

"Then we'll have to knock out your living room."

"It figures, I guess one last appeal to spare my house would fall on deaf ears, wouldn't it?"

"WHAT DID YOU SAY? I CAN'T HEAR YOU BECAUSE OF THE DIVE BOMBERS."

"ARE YOU GOING TO DIVE BOMB MY HOUSE?"

"IT SEEMS TO BE THE ONLY WAY. LISTEN, THIS HURTS US MORE THAN IT HURTS YOU."

"There they go. Holy smoke, the whole house is falling down! The whole house! My house is gone!"

"There don't seem to be any bodies in the rubble. I wonder if Charlie's in the next house?"

Is There Life After Birth?

Dear Jason,
Life is nothing but an existence. No one lives for the future; instead, people live from day to day. Did I say live? Excuse me, I meant to say that people breathe second by second, minute by minute, hour by hour, and if they are fortunate enough, they will survive until the next day. Many people do not give a damn. Every man for himself! What is wrong with people?

Dear Jason,
In Tuesday's edition of the Argonaut, Mr. Lewis Bacon received front page coverage of his speech before the IFC Conclave. Another of his comments was, "I am tired of seeing a

T. H. E. Column

By Marty Peterson

Many of you may be wondering how I can still be columnist for the Argonaut while, at the same time being a candidate for E-Board. Well, let me put you at ease. Yesterday I reached the decision to follow in the footsteps of George Romney and withdraw my candidacy. The reasons, which are quite different from those of Gov. Romney, are widely varied. For this one time, I will write a serious column and explain what's happening.

While I haven't filed an application for a degree, I am a senior and meet the requirements for graduation. Although there are possibilities that I may be here attending graduate school next year, I would just as soon not have anything holding me back from changing my plans. I believe that anyone who is considering getting elected to E-Board should be completely serious in his intentions, and that means serving if elected.

There is also the problem about being a student during this last year. I have run a jazz show on KUID, FM every Tuesday night. For those of you who aren't aware of it, this is the same night that E-Board meets. Since I am a student majoring in radio-TV, I think that my work in broadcasting should have priority over most of my outside activities and this includes student government.

There are a variety of other reasons which I won't go into at this time, but I really think that being on E-Board should be practically a full-time job if you are really going to get the job done. This means putting an end to as many other conflicting activities as possible. If you aren't prepared to do that, then why not forget it and go find something else to do. If enough people in student government had that idea, there really is a possibility that it could amount to something which would benefit all parties involved, rather than just a bunch of people trying to impress all of the folks back home with what a big deal they have become.

The way things look at this time, and I don't think they'll change, there just aren't that many candidates running who I am convinced are completely sincere in doing the best job possible. The majority of these people aren't capable of taking a stand on anything which could make them unpopular with persons higher up than themselves. Look at the ASUJ officers this year and see how many of them took a stand on whether or not the students should be allowed the right to vote on student funding of athletic facilities. The only official word which came out of it was Dave Leroy's statement to the Lewiston Tribune saying that the majority of the students were for it. The only time that I ever saw President Leroy out talking to any great number of students was when he was campaigning for office, although he has suddenly emerged again in an attempt to help guide another ASUJ presidential candidate.

The few candidates who I would come out and openly support for ASUJ office are Bill Gigray for ASUJ president and Bob Young, Roger Anderson, Tom Carroll and Jim Wilms for E-Board. These are the candidates who really appear to have a serious attitude about constructive student government and aren't afraid to stand up and present the students, even if it means having a conflicting opinion with the administration and others.

I believe that Bill Gigray has already shown that he is capable of taking a stand on issues. There weren't too many people on hand the night this instance happened, but I think that it should be pointed-out to a few people. The other night during a "debate" between the two presidential candidates, it seems that our new football coach wandered into the vicinity. Someone realized that he was in the area and decided to nail down these candidates and their feelings on allowing the students to vote on the athletic facility issue. Well, to sum everything up, one candidate said that he didn't feel that was the place to discuss the issue. However, Bill Gigray, realizing that the coach was in the area, went ahead and told everyone his feelings about this issue. I hope this illustrates exactly why I think that Bill Gigray is the better candidate for president of ASUJ and, I assure you, Young, Anderson, Carroll and Wilms can be equally effective.

One final note. My thanks to Roy Haney for all of his help and, were he not graduating, he would undoubtedly rate more highly on the list than any of the others I have mentioned.

Chrisman Invites Complex To Dine

Dear Jason,
In reply to Miss Shikasha's letter, of last week, concerning the "animals" of the complex: any time you ladies get tired of the poor table manners at the complex dining facilities, you are certainly welcome to dine with the gentlemen of Chrisman. All that is required is your request to the director of housing to have your meal ticket transferred.

Just ask the former member of Pine Hall. They'll inform you of our congenial atmosphere. We hope to see you soon. Sincerely and respectfully,

"WON'T YOU SUPPORT US?" One of many containers at the SUB for collecting money for Campus Chest can be found in the main lobby. Jars for students to put money in for Ugly Man contestants will be up by Monday, the first day of Campus Chest.

Campus Chest Jars Filling, Proceeds To Go To Charity

Pennies, nickels, and dimes are beginning to flow around campus as Campus Chest Week is approaching. March 4 officially marks the entry of the Week as balloting for Ugly Man and Miss Campus Chest will begin in the SUB. Also scheduled to make its campus debut is the Treasure Hunt. The contestant has nothing more to do than listen to KUID for clues, discover the treasure and pick up his two free passes to the Borah Theater films.

Continuing through the week Campus Chest will entertain House Auctions as well as the auctioning of Professors. Houses who wish to bid for one another or a professor are asked to be in the SUB Ballroom March 7 to place their bids on another house or professor. Purchased houses are responsible for a function or exchange with their new owner. Professors will entertain their purchases with a post-lunch or post-dinner talk on a subject of student interest and world problems.

The Campus Chest Week finale will be a grubby dance in the SUB Ballroom. Friday March 8. The dance will be from 9-12, with music supplied by the "Mystic Tambourine". The $5.00 admission fee per person will complete the University of Idaho's Campus Chest for '68.

Those proceeds gathered through contests, auctions, dance and donations are expected to exceed $3000. All profit will be divided between national and local organizations.

Accordingly, national foundations will receive a smaller percentage of donations from Campus Chest due to national establishment. The American Cancer Society, which provides regional education, patient and community services and field studies, is one such national organization.

Others include Muscular Dystrophy which conducts research, grants to education, establishes clinics and provides patient support. The March of Dimes controls birth defects (1 in 16 births) and carries research and clinics. The Red Cross contribution will include the Boise Blood Bank, sending of messages to military families, water safety, first aid classes and home nurse training.

The local foundations, which will receive a larger percentage of Campus Chest contributions, are Moscow United Fund which is comprised of the Idaho Heart Fund, Latah County Mental Health, and the Salvation Army. Research of heart disease and care for Idaho patients is covered by the Idaho Heart Association, another receiver of Campus Chest funds. The Idaho Heart Association does research on farms and medicine and industrial technology. Funds to improve college dorms, equipment, and student loans will be given to the World University Service.

Other foundations of local founding are Alpha Phi Omega, Alliance for Progress, Moscow Opportunity School, the Idaho Youth Ranch, Cystinosis (Little Joe Fund), Elk's Rehabilitation Center, the Lewiston Childrens Home, and the State Hospital at Nampa.

ABC Presents 'Third Reich' in March

"Adolph Hitler is dead. The Third Reich he built, which lasted so short a time, twelve years, but which in its calculated butchery of human life and the human spirit, surpassed anything this earth has seen, is now a painful memory..."

The writer of these words is William L. Shirer, author of the history, "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich." ABC News, in association with Wolper Productions, Inc., is presenting a three-hour television adaptation of Shirer's work.

"The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," depicting in detail one of the darkest eras in human history, will be telecast Wednesday, March 6 and Friday, March 8 (10-11 p.m., EST) and Saturday, March 9 (9:30-10:30 p.m., EST). It is now almost 23 years since World War II ended; 35 to 40 years since the rise of Adolph Hitler. Almost half of the population of the United States was born after his death, and as time passes, less and less is said about him.

"With the passage of time, things begin to fall into different perspectives," said Jack Kaufman, producer-director of the documentary. "You know, villains — historical villains — can easily become heroes with the passage of time. Somehow the reverse should be true; it rarely is."

"I think it's difficult for a generation today, which is absorbed with war in Vietnam and the potential of bombs which are far more frightening than any weapons Hitler could unleash, to do anything but poo-poo the past and say, 'Well, it's done with, and really,

The India Students Association will present an Indian film "The Householder" March 9 at 3 p.m. in the SUB Ballroom. The film, a story about a newly-married Indian couple, has English subtitles. The India Students Association is presenting the film in order to raise funds to contribute to FPAC.

"Want a company that lets you follow through on your own ideas? See IBM March 1st!"

"I was determined not to take a job where I'd be compartmentalized. That's one reason I chose IBM," says George Lefler. (George, who has his B.S. in Engineering, is a Systems Engineering Manager in Marketing.)

The Job Itself

"You start by studying a customer's business even before he orders equipment. Then it's up to you to come up with a system that solves the customer's problems. You stay with it until it's installed and fully operational. You guide the customer every step of the way. So following through on your own ideas is part of your job."

5,000 more managers

"Another thing I like about working here is the chance for advancement. For example, IBM has over 5,000 more managers today than they had four years ago. And they need more every day."

We'd like to tell you more about the IBM story. We'll be interviewing on campus for careers in Marketing, Computer Applications, Programming, Research and Development, Manufacturing, and Field Engineering.

Sign up for an interview at your placement office, even if you're headed for graduate school or military service. And if you can't make a campus interview, send an outline of your interests and educational background to Mr. E. C. Purtell, Jr., IBM Corporation, 3424 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90005. Regents Reorganize College of Business

Reorganization of the College of Business Administration at the University of Idaho—the biggest change since establishment of the college in 1952—was authorized by the Board of Regents meeting at Boise, it was announced today by University President Ernest W. Hartung.

Presently the college has only two departments, Business and Office Administration. Effective July 1, the college will have four. The Department of Business, now supervised by Dr. David D. Kendrick, dean of the college, will be replaced by departments of Business, Accounting, and Economics, with department heads appointed for each department. Office Administration will remain as it is, with Dr. Robert M. Kessel continuing as head.

"The need for departmentalization is the result of a growing administrative burden associated with rising enrollments, increased interest in service and research, and ever-larger service courses," said Dean Kendrick. "The number of student credit hours taught by the College of Business Administration increased 31 per cent between 1963-64 and 1965-66."

PKA Combines Dream Girl, 100th Birthday At Dance

"Happy birthday" will be the key-note of the upcoming Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl Dance, Saturday, March 2, in celebration of its centennial.

In an old southern atmosphere and the characteristic "Confederate Flag," the new Dream Girl will be selected out of 18 candidates, the Pikes have picked five finalists. Respectively representing their groups are: Debbie Watts, Alpha Chi; Sandy Nalder, Pi Phi; Diana Aguirre, D. G.; Deborah DeThomas, Campbell; and Rhonda Hegge, Tri Delta.

British Play Premieres This Week On KUID-TV

"Unman, Wittering & Yigo," a "hilariously sinister... crisply lucid... literate writing." The Daily Mirror wrote: "For tension, writing, acting and direction, I give this play ten out of ten," and the Daily Mail called Giles Cooper "a master of creating tension and menace below dialogue brimming over with high spirits."

Although the cast of "Unman, Wittering & Yigo," is headed by professional British actors Peter Blythe (John Ebony), John Sharp (Cary Farthingale), Peter Howell (Headmaster) and Tamara Hinecho (Nadia), the real "stars" of the play are the 17 school boys themselves.

These naturally inexperienced young actors were handpicked by director Donald McWhinnie (who staged both the London and New York Productions of Pinter's "The Caretaker"), and welded into such a dramatically effective unit that, despite the complications of so many overlapping lines and so many diverse scenes, the entire play was recorded without a single break and with no re-takes.

Frosh-Out '71' Ready For Week In April

The Freshman class has chosen committee members and heads for their FROSH-OUT '71 Frosh Week scheduled for the week of April 7-13. Freshmen turned out in unusually large numbers last month for Frosh Week Committee interviews. Out of the interviews 148 freshmen were chosen to fill the committee posts.

Dates have been set for activities tentatively as Sunday, April 7, beginning the week with a rally, followed by touring of king and queen contestants, final votes and pie-eating contest, April 9. There will be a legs contest, tricycle race and tug-of-war according to the usual tradition of Frosh Week and in addition a couple of new surprise activities are being planned by Frosh Week Committees. The dance is tentatively scheduled for Saturday April 13.

"The purpose of Frosh Week, which this year occurs after midterms, is to get the Freshmen out on campus, giving everyone a chance to relax and enjoy themselves," Dave Bruggotto, general chairman of Frosh Week explained.

Going along with this idea the general committee chose FROSH-OUT '71 as the overall theme for Frosh Week.

Co-chairmen of committees for Frosh-Out '71 are as follows: Tug-o-War, Dennis Madsen, Fijl and Greg Trail, Sigma Chi; Tricycle Race, Jerry Bermesolo, Delta Chi and Meri Lee Mitchell, Pi Phi; and New Activities Committee, Ron Wietick, McConnell and Janelle Burkett, Gamma Phi. Co-chairmen of the Pie Eating Contest Committee are Gene Kimbrell, Sigma Chi and Susan Kelly, Theta; and Legs Contest, Dennis Harwick, Phi Tau and Christy George, Pi Phi.

Heading the Dance Committee are Gordon Bemrose, Sigma Nu and Rita Takahashi, Tri Delta; Royalty Committee, Ann Parker, Campbell and Sharon Stranahan, Tri Delta; Publicity, Lynn Hoff,

DR. LEWIS GARMIZE, University of Idaho Psychology professor, video tapes a lecture at the University's educational television station for his introductory course. The new method provides the answer for faculty and students to the mass teaching situation.

Garmize Introduces New Teaching Method

A new method for teaching freshman Psychology has been developed by University of Idaho psychology professor Lewis M. Garmize.

The new method, a combination of video-taped television programs and regular class sessions, provides the answer for faculty and students to the mass teaching situation.

Each semester about 500 students take the introductory Psychology course. Previously, one instructor devoted his entire teaching time to that course. This prevented him from keeping current in his specialty and insured a dull, by the book course for the students.

With the new system, students receive instruction via television from six Psychology professors in their different specialties. Each week students view a new lecture and then meet in two regular class sessions with graduate assistants to discuss the program.

"One of the problems of teaching a large class is losing the student's interest. With this new teaching tool, we don't have that problem. Through the use of slides, films and enthusiastic instructors, Introductory Psychology becomes exciting and not just a class where you fall asleep," Dr. Garmize stated.

For the future, Garmize sees this method applied to other academic areas of the university and possibly on a state-wide basis for Idaho's Continuing Education Program.

Ostyn, YC Present At Campus Affairs Session

The Committee on Campus Affairs met yesterday noon with University Athletic Director, Paul Ostyn and football coach McNease. The athletic dorm was the topic of discussion.

"We need a better team with more pride within themselves and pride within the University," said Mr. Ostyn. "I am presently saddled with working out the details of the dorm and nothing is definite yet. But President Hartung agrees whole-heartedly with the plan."

"Coach McNease has served at several institutions that have athletic dorms and has worked with them in the past," said Ostyn. "For the past thirty years, we have had a losing football team, and we have changed football coaches on the average of every three to four years. It's time that we give the football men an opportunity to do something with our program. If we want a winning football team, let's do something about it. If not, let's put this football situation on an entirely different plane."

"The details on this dorm were first unanimously accepted by the Athletic Board, and then approved by the Athletic Department and the President," said Ostyn.

"I would like to see the team win, but this will create problems for the fraternities," said Howard Foley.

"Had we proposed this dorm for this semester, there would have been complications on the part of many fraternities, but the dorm won't officially start until next fall," said Ostyn. This will allow fraternities to increase the size of their pledge classes. In an athletic dorm, football would be the unifying factor, and would allow players from all over Idaho and the U.S.A. to live together. We're not running an animal farm and we are not shutting them off from campus life."

The question was asked whether or not it would be a year-around living situation.

"Yes, we have found that the problems don't really exist during the regular season when the coach sees the boys every day. The rest of the season the coach loses contact with the team, and this is where the trouble comes in. Therefore it will be a year-around venture," said Ostyn.

"The football player can socialize all he wants in the fraternities, just as long as he is in his room by 10:30 p.m. and in bed by 11:00," said Coach McNease. "There will be a curfew for the players during the season."

"I asked all of the football players recently if they objected moving into an athletic dorm, and nobody objected," said Coach McNease. "but I'm not going to dictate for the students and the players."

The finished product will be judged on character and originality.

The new Dream Girl will be the highlight of the fraternity's annual Carnival Ball, which will begin at 9 p.m. in the Galena Room of the SUB. Music will be provided by the Lemon Rubber Band.

Eighteen girls competed for the honor this year. Among them were Angela Harshfield, Houston; Carol Helmgartner, Tri-Delta; Sharon Icebice, DG; Connie Keene, Hays; Kathy Neely, Carter; Penny Proctor, Kappa; and Sherril Rowe, Oleson.

Others in the contest were Julie Rasmussen, McCoy; Geraldine Stout, Forney; Marcia Welch, Pi Phi; Sue Whaley, Alpha Gamma; Susan Whittaker, Ethel Steel; and Dianne Williams, French.

Five finalists were serenaded Sunday. They include Reggie Chipman, Theta; Kathy Jo Jacobs, Alpha Chi; Carolyn Rowlett, Gamma Phi; Lorle Thomas, Campbell; and Bev. Velasquez, Alpha Phi.

The Moscow Jaycees will present their 1968 version of the national contest, Battle of the Bands, in Moscow, March 23. The program will be staged as a dance for the local junior and senior high school students.

Regents Reorganize College of Business

Reorganization of the College of Business Administration at the University of Idaho—the biggest change since establishment of the college in 1952—was authorized by the Board of Regents meeting at Boise, it was announced today by University President Ernest W. Hartung.

Presently the college has only two departments, Business and Office Administration. Effective July 1, the college will have four. The Department of Business, now supervised by Dr. David D. Kendrick, dean of the college, will be replaced by the departments of Business, Accounting, and Economics, with department heads appointed for each department. Office Administration will remain as it is, with Dr. Robert M. Kessel continuing as head.

PKA Combines Dream Girl, 100th Birthday At Dance

"Happy birthday" will be the key-note of the upcoming Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl Dance, Saturday, March 2, in celebration of its centennial.

The dance will begin at 6:45 with a cocktail gathering. Following is to be a candlelight banquet at which President Hartung and Dr. Watkins will deliver the address for the evening. After the banquet, the couples will dance to the music of the Scott Reed Quartet.

In an old southern atmosphere and the characteristic "Confederate Flag," the new Dream Girl will be selected out of 18 candidates, the Pikes have picked five finalists. Respectively representing their groups are: Debbie Watts, Alpha Chi; Sandy Nalder, Pi Phi; Diana Aguirre, D. G.; Deborah DeThomas, Campbell; and Rhonda Hegge, Tri Delta.

Miss Watts is a sophomore from Payette, Idaho, majoring in elementary education. Miss Nalder, Ketchikan, Alaska, is a junior majoring in sociology, and Miss Aguirre, a freshman majoring in Business Education, is from Mountain Home, Idaho.

Miss DeThomas, Rupert, Idaho, is a freshman majoring in English, and Miss Hegge, a sophomore majoring in Office Administration, is from Spirit Lake, Idaho.

The present Dream Girl is Kathy Wilcomb, Alpha Chi; a junior from Salt Lake City, Utah, majoring in psychology.

Each semester about 500 students take the introductory psychology course. Previously, one instructor devoted his entire teaching time to that course. This prevented him from keeping current in his specialty and insured a dull, by the book course for the students.

With the new system, students receive instruction via television from six Psychology professors in their different specialties. Each week students view a new lecture and then meet in two regular class sessions with graduate assistants to discuss the program.

"One of the problems of teaching a large class is losing the student's interest. With this new teaching tool, we don't have that problem. Through the use of slides, films and enthusiastic instructors, introductory Psychology becomes exciting and not just a class where you fall asleep," Dr. Garmize stated.

For the future, Garmize sees this method applied to other academic areas of the university and possibly on a state-wide basis for Idaho's Continuing Education Program.

British Play Premieres This Week On KUID-TV

"Unman, Wittering & Yigo," a sinister comedy by the late British playwright, Giles Cooper, will be given its American television premiere on NET Playhouse Monday and Wednesday at 9 p.m. on Channel 12 — KUID.

At his untimely and accidental death last year, Cooper was one of England's most prolific writers and was widely known in the worlds of radio, television, and the stage as a master craftsman and a dramatist much concerned with contemporary problems.

"Everything in the Garden," has been adapted for Broadway by Edward Albee and is currently running in New York.

When "Unman, Wittering & Yigo" first appeared before television audiences in England, the London Times described it as "hilariously sinister... crisply lucid... literate writing."

The title of the play is taken from the last three names on the roll of a class of English schoolboys, whose school master has just died in a mysterious accident. When young and idealistic John Ebony arrives as the replacement teacher and tries to discipline the strangely unruly lot, he quickly learns who is real master of the class. They tell him that when his predecessor also tried to punish them, he was pushed off of a cliff.

Although the cast of "Unman, Wittering & Yigo," is headed by professional British actors Peter Blythe (John Ebony), John Sharp (Cary Farthingale), Peter Howell (Headmaster) and Tamara Hinchco (Nadia), the real "stars" of the play are the 17 school boys themselves.

These naturally inexperienced young actors were handpicked by director Donald McWhinnie (who staged both the London and New York Productions of Pinter's "The Caretaker"), and welded into such a dramatically effective unit that, despite the complications of so many overlapping lines and so many diverse scenes, the entire play was recorded without a single break and with no re-takes.

The Freshman class has chosen committee members and heads for their FROSH-OUT '71 Frosh Week scheduled for the week of April 7-13. Freshmen turned out in unusually large numbers last month for Frosh Week Committee interviews. Out of the interviews 148 freshmen were chosen to fill the committee posts.

Dates have been set for activities tentatively as Sunday, April 7, beginning the week with a rally, followed by touring of king and queen contestants, final votes and pic-eating contest, April 9. There will be a legs contest, tricycle race and tug-of-war according to the usual tradition of Frosh Week and in addition a couple of new surprise activities are being planned by Frosh Week Committees, the dance is tentatively scheduled for Saturday April 13.

"The purpose of Frosh Week, which this year occurs after mid-terms, is to get the Freshmen out on campus, giving everyone a chance to relax and enjoy themselves," Dave Brugotto, general chairman of Frosh Week explained.

Co-chairmen of committees for Frosh-Out '71 are as follows: Tug-o-War, Dennis Madsen, Fiji and Greg Trail, Sigma Chi; Tricycle Race, Jerry Bermesolo, Delta Chi and Meri Lee Mitchell, Pi Phi; and New Activities Committee, Ron Wietskd, McConnell and Janelle Burkett, Gamma Phi. Co-chairmen of the Pic Eating Contest Committee are Gene Kimbrell, Sigma Chi and Susan Kelly, Theta; and Legs Contest, Dennis Harwick, Phi Tau and Christy George, Pi Phi.

Heading the Dance Committee are Gordon Bemrose, Sigma Nu and Rita Takahashi, Tri Delt; Royalty Committee, Ann Parker, Campbell and Sharon Stranahan, Tri Delt; Publicity, Lynn Hoff,

Ostyn, YC Present At Campus Affairs Session

The Committee on Campus Affairs met yesterday noon with University Athletic Director, Paul Ostyn and football coach McNease. The athletic Dorm was the topic of discussion.

"We need a better team with more pride within themselves and pride within the University," said Mr. Ostyn. "I am presently saddled with working out the details of the dorm and nothing is definite yet. But President Hartung agrees wholeheartedly with the plan."

"Coach McNease has served at several institutions that have athletic dorms and has worked with them in the past," said Ostyn. "For the past thirty years, we have had a losing football team, and we have changed football coaches on the average of every three to four years. It's time that we give the football men an opportunity to do something with our program. If we want a winning football team, let's do something about it. If not, let's put this football situation on an entirely different plan."

"The details on this dorm were first unanimously accepted by the Athletic Board, and then approved by the Athletic Department and the President," said Ostyn.

"I would like to see the team win, but this will create problems for the fraternities," said Howard Foley.

"Had we proposed this dorm for this semester, there would have been complications on the part of many fraternities, but the dorm won't officially start until next fall," said Ostyn. This will allow fraternities to increase the size of their pledge classes. In an athletic dorm, football would be the unifying factor, and would allow players from all over Idaho and the U.S.A. to live together. We're not running an animal farm and we are not shutting them off from campus life."

The question was asked whether or not it would be a year-around living situation. "Yes, we have found that the problems don't really exist during the regular season when the coach sees the boys every day. The rest of the season the coach loses contact with the team, and this is where the trouble comes in. Therefore it will be a year round venture," said Ostyn.

"The football player can socialize all he wants in the fraternities, just as long as he is in his room by 10:30 p.m. and in bed by 11:00," said Coach McNease. "There will be a curfew for the players during the season."

"I asked all of the football players recently if they objected moving into an athletic dorm, and nobody objected," said Coach McNease, "but I'm not going to dictate for the students and the players."

Other famous artists in the exhibit include Goya, David, Constable and Corot. "Paintings of the 18th and 19th Centuries" may be seen every afternoon from 1 to 5 through March 22.

DR. LEWIS GARMIZE, University of Idaho Psychology professor, video tapes a lecture at the University's educational television station for his introductory course. The new method provides the answer for faculty and students to the mass teaching situation.

Garmize Introduces New Teaching Method

A new method for teaching freshman Psychology has been developed by University of Idaho psychology professor Lewis M. Garmize.

The new method, a combination of video-taped television programs and regular class sessions, provides the answer for faculty and students to the mass teaching situation.

Sigma Chi Slates Sat. For Annual 'Derby Day'

The Sigma Chi Derby Day is an annual event sponsored by chapters throughout the nation each year. This year's Vandal Sig Derby to be held this Saturday, is a competitive event in which the freshman or pledge classes of each women's living group on campus are participating.

Each women's living group has selected one girl to be a contestant in the Sweetheart Contest. This girl is also her living group's team captain for Derby Day. The teams are composed of all pledges or freshmen in the living group. Points will be awarded for the living group with the highest participation percentage, figured on the total number of eligible participants present at Derby Day.

Highlights of the morning will be the Derby Day parade and various relay and skill events. The parade will start at 12 noon, with each team decorating a vehicle of its own choosing. Expenditures shall not exceed $10 and the team captain shall be the central figure in each parade entry. The parade will begin behind Wallace Complex, wind around the campus and end up at the Sigma Chi house. The theme for the parade is "The Roaring Sixties of the 1920's". The tally of Derbies grabbed and pants painting of all living group volunteers with the Greek letter Sigma Chi will follow the parade. The co-eds will then participate in a balloon grab, a rope raffle, a special event by the Little Sigmas, a mystery event, and a cream puff event. The final activity will be "Deck a Sig," where each team will pick a Sigma Chi pledge and given 15 minutes will dress him however they see fit. The finished product will be judged on character and originality.

Ribbons will be awarded for first, second and third places in each event, and a permanent trophy will go to the grand winner of the Derby Day. Most of the events will take place Saturday on the field behind the Sigma Chi House. If weather is bad, they will be held in the University field house.

The Sweetheart contestants are: Carolyn Keithly, Alpha Phi; Trudi Bennet, Carter; Rosie Fitzinger, Oleson; Jenny Wood, Tri Delta; Susan Goplerud, Kappa; Susan Gardner, French; Candy Cain, Alpha Chi; Roxanne Gardner, Ethel Steel; Kerry Lockhart, Alpha Gam; Bobbie Ashton, Hays; Cathie Morgan, D.G.; Kristi Vines, Houston; Cristy Eiquern, Gamma Phi; Marjorie Beckwith, McCoy; Fern Stevens, Campbell; Rachelle Meenach, Theta; Trisha Jagon, Forney; and Jeanne Gagnuet, Pi Phi.

Vandals End Season At Gonzaga Saturday

Vandal Netters Start Workouts

Preparation is underway for Idaho's 1968 version of their tennis wrecking crew who are currently the defending Big Sky champions. Coach Ron Stephenson started workouts for the first time at the beginning of the week for Idaho's defense of the Big Sky crown.

Things are looking up for the Vandals since they have a four-man nucleus of veterans returning. The loss of Keith Ries and Lee Takahashi via graduation have left some gaps, but the Vandals have some promising netters that should be able to fill their shoes substantially.

The Vandals who have won the Big Sky championship for the past two years compiled a respectable 10-6 record last year in Ron Stephenson's debut as head coach. Idaho has the material this year, but the road will be rugged ahead as they face a 30-match schedule to be played in less than two months.

Idaho opens its season on March 28 against Oregon State at Corvallis and play such high-powered squads as Washington, Oregon, Washington State and Utah State just to name a few. The season finale will be the conference championships slated for May 17-18 at Weber State in Ogden.

Win Holds Second Spot, Best Mark In Five Years

The Vandals travel to Spokane tomorrow as they complete the basketball season on the road. A win for Idaho will assure them of second place in the Big Sky Conference and give them their best record since the days of Gus Johnson in 1962-63.

Idaho enters the contest with a 9-5 league record and 15 wins against 10 losses overall.

A win will make it impossible for Idaho State to catch the Vandals in Conference standings but should the Vandals lose the Bengals could tie them if their road trip into Montana produces three wins for them.

At the same time if Weber State should lose all three of their games in the Montana series this weekend the Vandals would be tied for first. But, the chances of either of these things happening are small.

"I don't look for any miracles this weekend," Bob Maker said, "so the Vandals will probably finish in second place."

It will be the fourth meeting of the two teams as Gonzaga will have one more chance to even their record against the Vandals. The Zags won the first encounter that was before Christmas and not in league play, but the Vandals downed them twice here in Moscow to take the lead for the series and keep themselves in contention for the Big Sky Championship.

All three of the games this season have been decided by less than nine points.

The last few games for the Vandals the young men on the squad have been progressing and have contributed to the wins.

Steve Brown, the Vandals jumping-jack, has been rebounding the scoring well as of late. He topped the Vandal scorers Monday night with 19 points and feels that he can do better.

Jerry Smith has been adding the scoring punch from the big men that Coach Anderson has been needing. He scored 15 on Monday and was also strong on the boards.

percentage has risen 17 points in two weeks to 66 percent.

Phil Waddell is currently making 57 percent of his shots from the field and is also leading the Vandals in free throws with 86 percent in conference play and 89 percent overall.

Other conference action for the weekend will have Idaho State at Missoula on Friday and Saturday and Weber State there on Monday to close league competition.

Weber State will play MSU at Boyeman on Friday and Saturday. The two teams from the southern tip of the conference triangle will then trade opponents on Monday.

Coach Ron Nord, of the Montana grizzlies is looking forward to a tough weekend but would like to do something about Weber's record.

Tennis coach, Ron Stephenson, has requested that anyone interested in turning out for tennis to please contact him as their earliest convenience in his office in the Athletic Dept.

Many Veterans Return

Among the returning veterans is Idaho Falls' Jeff Williams who last year as a freshman compiled a talented 16-2 record in singles play and captured the Big Sky crown as No. 3 man. Williams who is a pre-law major settles things out on the tennis court as well as in the judicial court as can readily be seen by his past performance.

Another capable competitor is Spokane's Frank Newman who is a two-year letterman and is only a junior. Newman returns to the tennis court battles as a tossup as Frank entered last season as No. 3 man and ended up playing as the No. 6 man for the Vandals. Newman finished as runner-up as No. 6 man at the Big Sky championships last year losing to his old adversary Jim Fox of Montana in the finals, 15-17, 6-4, 7-9. Frank has the know-how to become one of the leading netters this year and will be counted on heavily in Stephenson's plans.

Also among the leaders is Lewiston's Skip Rudd who is currently the only senior on the Vandals roster. Rudd is a "loner" in that he is currently doing his practice teaching and will be working out on his own for the first couple of months. Rudd was runner-up as No. 5 man in singles competition last year at the conference championships, but has the potential to become a consistent winner for the Vandals in the 1968 court campaign. Stephenson feels that if Skip can perfect his forearm stroke, gain personal confidence in his play, and recover from a back injury that bothered him late in the season last year, he could be a key factor in Idaho's tennis fortunes.

Another member of Idaho's tennis squad at the top of the list is Boise's Doug Denney who returns after lettering two years to bolster the Vandals' youth movement. Denney has been one of the main cogs in Idaho's tennis endeavors for the past two years, but takes time out for academic endeavors having thus compiled a 3.78 GPA in electrical engineering without the presence of a C on his transcript. Denney is one of the strong contenders for the No. 1 man in singles competition for the Vandals. Denney won the Big Sky championship last year as No. 2 man after performing the same feat as No. 3 man the previous year.

Newcomers Added

Looking at the newcomers, Idaho is destined to have some possible help from Meridian's Bob Brunn, a freshman, finished second in the Intramural tennis playoffs this year.

Also new to the squad is Darwin Walters, a freshman from Meridian. Proclaimed by many as the "best high school player in the state" last year Darwin proved his supporters correct by winning the State High School Singles Championship this past May.

Last, but not least, among the Vandal upstarts is Don Hamlin, a freshman from Walla Walla. Hamlin could prove to be a welcome addition to the squad and could give the Vandals strength and added depth in tournament play.

Coach Stephenson plans on holding an intra-squad tournament next week to get a look at his netters under actual playing conditions. Said Stephenson, "This tournament will give some basic guidelines to establish some tentative combinations for doubles competition." Any way you look at it, the Vandals will have to be considered as strong runners for the Big Sky tennis crown again this year.

Cagers Recieve Awards

Jim Thacker and Rick Day were the recipients of the Roland White and Jay Gano awards respectively during the halftime festivities at the Montana State game Saturday.

Thacker, a 5-9 junior college transfer from Spokane Community College, received the Roland White award which is given to the outstanding player on the Vandals squad each year.

The award is in honor of Roland White who was accidentally killed while on a basketball trip with the Idaho basketball team. This award is given by the Sigma Nu fraternity to the outstanding player selected by the vote of his teammates.

Last year the award was presented to Bob Pipkin and Dave Schlotthauer since there was a deadlock in the voting. Other past winners include Chuck White, Jerry Skafie, Tom Moreland and Gus Johnson.

The Jay Gano award went to Rick Day, one of the two seniors on this year's squad from Rosalia, Washington.

This award goes to the bas-kethall player voted most inspirational by his teammates. The award is in honor of Lt. Jay M. Gano who was killed in Korea Oct. 10, 1951.

Rod Bohman received the award last year with past winners including Jerry Skafie during the 1964-65 and 1965-66 seasons. The award was originated during the 1951-52 basketball season.

Thacker is currently the leading scorer on the team having compiled a 17.2 average in 25 games while maintaining a 17.4 average in conference play.

Thacker is also one of the leaders in the nation in free throw percentage with an 81 percent accuracy mark hitting on 125 of 153 attempts.

Day, on the other hand, is averaging 9.9 points a clip during the regular season while netting 11 points per game in Big Sky competition. He is also among the team leaders in rebounds hauling down 6.7 a game.

Day will close out his collegiate basketball career this Saturday in Spokane against Gonzaga while Thacker will have another year of competition to look forward to.

Former Gridder Returns After Vietnam Tour

The switch from the war-torn areas of Vietnam to the campus at the University is a welcome change to Mike Whiles, a former Vandal grid star.

Whiles, who played in the defensive backfield of Dee Andros and the Vandals for three years and was an assistant for Steve Musseau, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army through the R.O.T.C. program here. He has just completed his two year tour of duty which included 12 months in the Republic of Vietnam.

The former Vandal gridder returned with several awards to attest to the fact that his strength and ability didn't stop on the gridiron. He was awarded the Silver Star, Bronze Star with the V (for Valor), the Air Medal, National Defense Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal and the Vietnam Service Medal. He also returned with two Purple Hearts.

The Silver Star was awarded for gallantry in action on a special patrol for Army Intelligence. He led a 30-man patrol on an intelligence mission that involved finding a meeting in the Bot Lot woods and capturing the officials in the meeting. They accomplished their mission by capturing three Viet Cong officials and returning to home without firing a shot.

ATO Is Champ In "A" Play

The ATO's behind the scoring of Randy Hellman and Dave Fealko won the Intramural "A" basketball crown with a 36-31 victory over Lindley Hall 2.

The score at halftime was 16-15 as the contest developed into a defensive encounter as the game progressed.

Randy Hellman lead the ATO's with 11 points followed by Dave Fealko with 16. Scoring leaders for Lindley were Owens with 12, Linehan, 7, and Baiz with 6.

A reminder to all club members, that Saturday practice will be at 10:00 a.m. on the field behind Memorial Gym. Everyone be there.
