'My Mom and Mother' Weekend Begins, Awards Festival, Song Fest Highlight Events

By BOB TABER
Arg. Reporter

"My Mom and Mother" is here as activities and entertainment for Mothers' Weekend begin today and run through to Sunday, April 28. Highlight of the weekend is the Awards Festival which will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Gym.

A new innovation to Mothers' Weekend this year, the Awards Festival and Song Fest, is a combination of May Pete and Song Fest of last year plus an awards ceremony.

Tapping their new members will be the Spurs, Mortar Board, Intercollegiate Knights, Silver Lance and the Outstanding Seniors. The May Queen and her Court will be crowned with a full professional and recessional with ASUI President, Larry Craig acting as Master of Ceremonies.

A favorite production of the Awards Festival is the Song Fest. Four groups of mixed men and women singers plus individual singers, have been chosen out of a competition of groups of men, women and other mixed groups. Such songs as "Eastside, Westside," "Manhattan," and "Up, Up and Away," will be featured.

Beginning the weekend will be the Phi Delta Go-Go contest in front of Pine Hall tonight at 6. Two girls from each hall on campus will compete for a trophy by performing to the music of the "Five Car Garage." After the trophy has been awarded everyone is invited to attend the street dance around the turtle track in front of Pine Hall.

Through this entire week passers-by have been subjected to "the Phi in the Sky" and encouraged to bet on their favorite turtle. The fraternity or sorority that places the largest amount of money on their turtle will win a trophy. Leading the competition thus far are Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Pi Beta Phi; all of which are over the $16 mark on the betting board. The dark horse candidate, "Esoteric," the Fiji rabbit, who has garnered nearly $2 on the betting table will be held in competition to the Phi Delta three-legged dog. All proceeds gained from this betting on turtles will be donated to the Elk's Rehabilitation Center in Boise.

Later Friday evening will be the synchronized swimming of the Helldivers. The Helldivers is a group of 30 precision swimmers. Dr. Leon Green, head of the Physical Education Department announced that the show will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium at 7 p.m.

The show, entitled "A Sign of the Times," will be performed in separate aquatic moods. Some moods are to be humor, peace, freedom, beat, a summer walk, and the "Impossible Dream." Music for the sequences will come from many melodies including "Born Free," "The Girl from Ipanema," "Charade," "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," and "The Quest." Choreography for the show is being done by Carolyn Thomas, a P.E. instructor, and Frank Burlison, a student from Potlatch. The theme is to be psychedelic.

At 8 p.m. on Friday evening a trio of events of entertainment will be presented for the student and his mother's enjoyment. Beginning the list of activities at 8 will be the Orchestral-Pre-Orchestra Dance Concert. The dance honorary will present a dance based on the old Shaker

Religion. The chanting and beating of drums provide this dance with a very tense and emotional setting. The presentation will be held in the University Auditorium.

The second of the activities will be the play "The Odd Couple" by the ASUI Arena Theatre. This off-Broadway play is a comedy about two newly divorced men who try to "go-it" by themselves. Here the states of tidiness and sloppiness invite a situation of candid comedy. Both men discover that the other presents just as many problems as his wife did. The comedy will be displayed in the University Hut.

The final event at 8 for Mothers' Day Weekend on Friday will be the Opera Workshop. Operas to be held in the Recital Hall of the Music Building will be "Trial by Jury" by Gilbert and Sullivan and "Comedy on the Bridge" by Martini. Both plays are a satire on the world and its habits and problems. The first, by Gilbert and Sullivan, is a duo satire as it depicts a pompous courtroom scene and at the same time is a takeoff on grand opera. The latter depicts the oddity of traveling between foreign countries with certain passports and visas. It tells the story of five people trapped on a bridge between two countries and cannot get off of it. Meanwhile, the bridge is in the middle of a battle and two men on the bridge are vying for the affections of a certain young lady stranded with them. Tickets for the operas are on sale at the SUB and Carter's Drug.

"My Mom and Mother's" second day, Saturday, begins with the Phi Delta Theta Turtle Derby. Each turtle will be placed

'The Odd Couple,' Opera Workshop Dominate Performing Arts Theme

Comedy, that thin thread of mirth which is almost buried these days by the front page of most newspapers, is the dominant theme this weekend in performing arts at Idaho.

Parents here for Mother's Day Weekend may well find their funnybones sorely taxed as they view "Comedy on the Bridge," and "Trial by Jury," presented by Opera Workshop and "The Odd Couple," presented by Idaho Dramatics.

Although Opera Workshop opened just last night, "The Odd Couple" has been playing the entire week to packed houses in the U Hut arena theatre.

The demand for tickets (which sold out for this weekend) for "Odd Couple" has been so great that an extra performance has been scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. Tickets went on sale for this performance

Theta Sig Corsage Sale Extended

The corsage sale sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi for Mother's Weekend has been extended past the Thursday noon deadline. Corsages will be available in the SUB near the Information Desk until noon Friday. At that time the corsages will be moved to the Gym where they can be purchased the rest of Friday and anytime Saturday. Those wanting corsages can sign up in the SUB.

Thy corsages which cost $2.75, come in a variety of colors including white, pink, yellow, red, and candy-striped. In order to assure the proper supply of flowers, approximately 700 corsages will be available for sale throughout the weekend.

yesterday morning, and were almost sold out by last night.

The play features Bill Grubb, AKL, as a housecleaning perfectionist named "Felix" who is divorcing his wife. He moves in with Oscar, a sloppy cigar smoking poker player who is divorced from his wife and the two decide that by living together they can save on alimony. Throw in Murray the cop, (Chuck Bonney, Delta Chi), Speed, (Cope Gale, Lindley); Vinnie, (Jim Hutcherson, off campus) and Roy, (Chuck Wright, off campus) — Toss a few beer cans around the set, and mix with two sisters named Cecily and Gwendolyn Pigeon, (Corrine Rowland, Tri Delta, and Pam Knepper, Houston) and you have the makings of Neil Simon's delightful play.

Directed by Edmund Chavez, who is doing the play in arena theatre, the play draws the audience right into the heart of the story, which is, by the way, based on the true experiences of Simon's brother.

Charles Walton, music department, is the director for the Opera Workshop, which has expanded this year to include two operas and a bigger set. "Comedy on the Bridge," the first number on the program, concerns a group of travelers stuck on a bridge between two fighting countries.

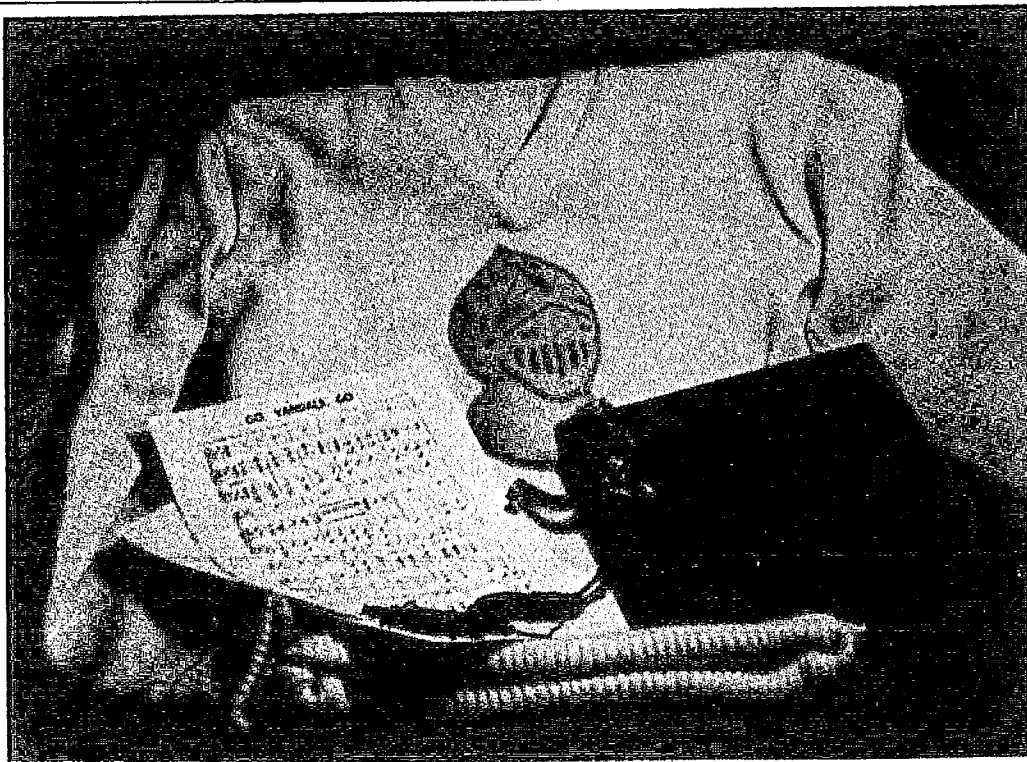

The travelers on the bridge include: Josephine, Dorothy Neuer, off campus, and (double casted) Tecla Guerra, Ethel Steel, Johnny, the boyfriend is played by Richard Wilson, Delta.

Larry Gee, off campus, plays the Brewer, while Eva, (double cast) is played by Carmen Powers, off campus, and Twyla Brunson, Hays. Dave Knutson, Sigma Chi, has the role of school teacher as he ponders a riddle.

In the second opera, "Trial by Jury," the leads are Dave Knutson as the judge; Mike Gifford, off campus as the defendant, and Diana Alcorn, off campus, and Peggy Sharp, Kappa have been double casted as the plaintiff. This opera is a satire on the high courts and their decisions over trifling matters.

There are still tickets available at the SUB and at the door before performances.

THE AWARDS ASSEMBLY, to be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 p.m. in Memorial Gym, will tap Spurs and Mortar Board girls. The annual songfest winners will be decided and intercollegiate night will be honored. At the assembly, the May Queen, Joan Eismann, DG, will be coronated.—(Bower-Korte-Quinn Photo)

The Golden Fleece

"The Graduate"

One line from the currently popular movie, "The Graduate" lingers in the mind long after the frogman scene, the seduction scene, the bed scenes, the bus scene, and the church scene fade a little. The line occurs when Ben, the hero, lacking a better definition, floating round in his swimming pool is accosted by his parents. They lean down with frowns on their faces and a note of concern in their voices saying, "What did that four years of college mean to you?" Ben looks back saying, "You've got me." The remark brings immediate applause and laughter from the theatre audience.

a revolution which will produce and is producing a new graduate. The soon to be born college product is of a different breed than his predecessors. He is no longer the organization man and possibly no longer so innocent. He is more mature, more responsible and even possibly more reasonable. He is a realist but more willing to fight for ideals than his parallels a few years ago. He is not Benjamin.

Progress

We realize that "The Graduate" does not pretend to summarize the trials and misadventures of the younger generation. His lack of direction of purpose are problems faced by every maturing human being. But college is becoming a place where individuals can mature before graduation rather than after. College is no longer the prolongation of the high school scene. It is no longer isolated from the rest of society which is going through even more dramatic change. However, we must remember one minor limitation on the part of the collegiate, he is still a student. Students are dependent, they are still taking more than they are allowed or can give. His role changes though as he gains more responsibility for educating himself and for participating in his community. It is called progress.

Old and New Graduates

We ask ourselves again what the new graduate will be. Change is not through shaping him and of course will never be through. But the old graduate will have a hard time recognizing the new one, as is usually the case. Who is the new graduate? "You've got me."

Not Benjamin

Does his role really say all there is to say about graduating and the current crop of graduates. The image in some ways is not real. Already his story is passe'. The current college generation is passing through

Traffic Court Explained

Fellow Students:

I wish to take this opportunity to issue a reply on a subject which is greatly joked about and has come under considerable criticism. The University's right and obligation to control traffic—or as affectionately referred to by many "The Campus Gestapo."

The purpose of having a student who owns and operates a vehicle on campus, or in Moscow, register his vehicle and affix a sticker to the rear window is for identification in order that student cars might be identifiable and thus facilitate the control or parking in the very limited campus area. The system of three student zones and faculty restricted areas was established with the additional objective of reducing the amount of cross campus driving during the school day.

These rules and regulations have been set up under the authority of the Board of Regents who operate under the authority of the Original University Charter (sec. 5) granted by the State of IDAHO.

I feel that there are many students on our campus today who do not fully understand the Judicial System of the ASUL. This past fall the Student Traffic Court was added to the judicial system. Its prime function is to insure that the Campus Traffic Regulations are justly carried out. This Court has original jurisdiction over traffic and parking citations and considers judicial appeals of such citations.

Another inherent function of this Court is to review and update the traffic regulations and see to it that there is equality and justice in the giving of citations.

This Court can not do its job effectively if the students do not come to it with their grievances and appeals. This Court, however, is not a testing ground for individuals who think they can challenge the traffic fine validity.

There is nothing stopping a student from appealing a ticket, whether or not in his eyes he feels it was justified. I feel that every student has his rights and thus this Court reviews appeals with both the letter and the spirit of the law in mind.

It is my urgent plea to the students of this University to see to it that their rights of "Life, Liberty, and Property" are upheld, not through civil disobedience but through the proper lawful channels. Only then can the students be heard and action taken. I can not make excuses for the inequities which sometimes arise out of the Campus Police procedures. I can only hope to correct these errors and then only can this be accomplished if someone files an appeal.

Another misconception which should possibly be cleared up is the use of the funds derived from traffic fines. The sum $4,000—$5,000 goes into a general University scholarship and loan fund.

The parking problem with which we are all requested to live with is one that is constantly being reviewed and every effort is being made to correct these situations. A program similar to that used by WSU is being looked into. But, in order to have some semblance of order, we are all requested to uphold and comply with the existing regulations. May better days not be too far in the future.

Well, the elections are over and here comes the big weekend. I would personally like to welcome all you mothaahs to the campus. Although this campus has always had its share of mothers, they seem to be out in force this week. Who the mothers are all depends on what side of the fence you are on.

Speaking of mothers, I just happened to look through the latest issue of the Wipe. You know, after reading some of the things in it I don't know what side of the fence that paper is on. I have strong suspicions that it may be doing the best job of walking the middle of the road that any paper on this campus has ever done. Let me sight a couple of examples.

On one of the pages appears a poem entitled, "Oh Fred." In this poem Jim Willms talks about Fred (Maher) using quaint language and he says that he can't stand "that filthy crap." In another portion of the Wipe there appears a letter from crude old Edward W. Swett in which Willms says he "left blank spaces where the language was tainted." Now, return to the poem. Take the first letter from the second word in each sentence. What does that spell? For those of you who don't happen to have a copy handy it says, ".....you Fred." The censorship is my own. Remember the mothers on campus.

The next example concerns an article entitled "What the Student Strike Really Is." After reading the article I came to the realization that this must be a serialized article and it is going to be continued next week. I couldn't find anywhere in the article what the student strike is. The only thing of interest that I found was, that as far as strike coordinators go, there are an equal number of Christian, Independent and Communist representatives involved. It seems like I have seen that same sort of thing of membership involved in some other organization. Possibly it was the United Nations or something.

Here is a final bonus example of how well the Wipe walks the middle of the road. In the special page concerning the strike, the Wipe says that "... we will be speaking out against the following: 2. Racial oppression. But is this really true? If it were, then I would say "Strike." Now we come back to wise old Edward W. Swett's letter. He says "I believe that someone once said that (of M. L. King) someone ought to shoot the black Someone did. I don't feel guilty. I didn't do it."

Now, don't you see what I mean when I say that this must truly be a middle-of-the-road paper? So, in closing, I would like to give this week's salute to the Wizard's Wipe for its excellence in publishing.

Faculty Member Upholds Protest

Dear Jason:
The war in Vietnam, military conscription, and oppression of and discrimination against those that are dark-skinned, are important issues for young people throughout the country, and which therefore must concern university communities. I shall not cancel classes on Friday, but as a teacher, and as an individual, I express my sharing in this concern and my support of thoughtful inquiry, intelligent criticism, and constructive protest.

Writer Criticizes Symphony Tour

Dear Jason,
I have a few concrete observations which I would like to convey to you. In particular, I would like to comment on the three-day tour that the University Symphonette recently made into Southern Idaho.

As I understand it, this tour was set forth to advertise the University. (What an advertisement it was!) Not only was the Symphonette as a whole to represent the University, but every individual in the organization was to do so, too; herein lies my complaint. I must admit, while in concert they performed beautifully. But what about the time after the concerts? These people were NOT on their own time and they had no time to forget that fact. They were on tour to represent the University — favorably.

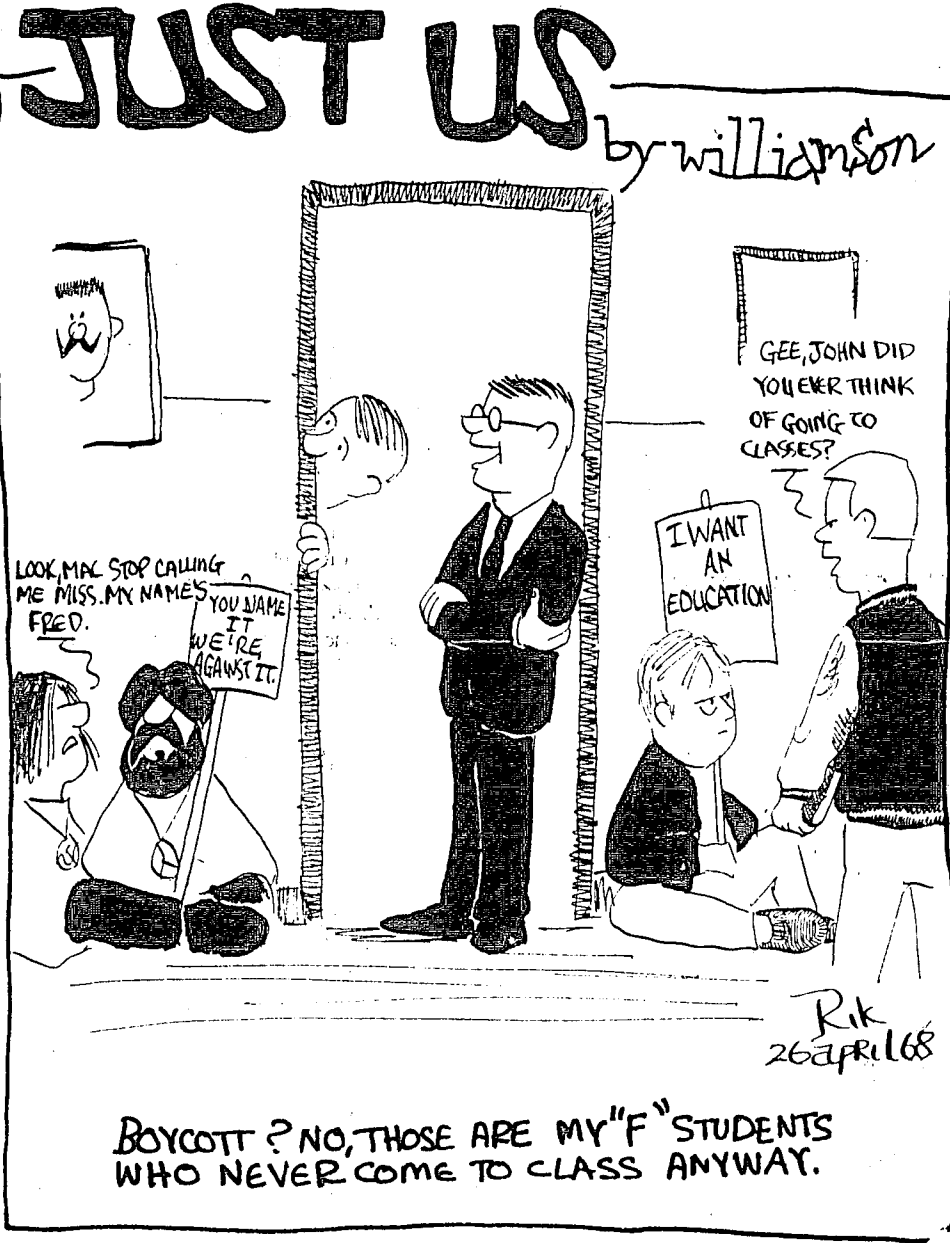

Some of these individuals were poor examples to rely on to represent anything! Partying and drinking were completely un-called for. Also, some of these individuals were invited to private homes as a gesture of kindness toward the University. Now, when mature adults are invited somewhere, they remember that they are guests and respect the privilege. Did the above individuals do this? NO!
I will conclude this article

Regents Accused Of Hide and Seek

Dear Jason,
Atrocious! When Regent President Smith makes the statement that he is a member of the Board of Regents purely for his own satisfaction, it seems to be time to have a change in the Board of Regents.
I feel that the Regents should have a definite responsibility toward the University of Idaho and the students attending this school. When the Regent's meeting adjourned and ran away from demonstrators on last Wednesday, it indicated to me how much responsibility the Regents felt toward the students. The reluctance on the part of the Regents to have an open meeting with the students is another example of the attitude of non-recognition that the Regents have toward the students and their grievances.
I feel that the Regents should consult the students on all matters that concern the University of Idaho, especially on those matters that concern a boost in students' fees, and admit that the University of Idaho is for the educational benefit of the students, not for the Board of Regents to play hide-and-seek with

Of all the contentions the Eunuch portrayed, the most demanding to student government is student impatience. The student rebellion against the "system" is kindled by impatience. What then, can the ASUI do to satisfy the unbending demands of students?

The first task to undertake is developing a rationale with which the ASUI can communicate with students. For, many persons, during my visitations have asked the question, "What in the hell does the ASUI do, any way?" Further, they ask, "Why doesn't the ASUI act upon the issues right now, why deliberate?" These questions demonstrate the breakdown in communications. And, unless the communications gap is bridged, students will increasingly look toward the radical elements for guidance. Therefore, I contend that E-Board members must go to the students, directly seeking opinion and advising conjecture. Thus, my visitations are intended to answer these questions and to inform students of the operations of an effective student government.

Secondly, students must become aware of the facts behind the issues before they act. Thus, they may discover that no great emergency exists. For example, one of the radical liberals on campus told E-Board last week that Faculty Council would be voting on a new drug policy at a Thursday meeting. Supposedly, this new drug policy would give the University the power to dismiss students who were suspected of drug use. However, I called Dr. Bopp, chairman of Faculty Council, who told me there was no truth in that conjecture whatsoever. But, the radical element used this rumor to incite a demonstration. Therefore,

I advise all students to use their government first. If ever a question arises, call on us, and we will help you get the facts.

Thirdly, the ASUI should help students develop rational means for the amelioration of their problems. In considering the demonstration itself, I am rather unsure of its merit. Perhaps the need for intercourse with students by the Regents was made very clear to them, but will they commiserate? I contend that no one can solicit the sympathy of someone by angering and threatening him. Such was the case with Regent Smith. I have talked with all but one of those students attending that meeting, and it is my belief the man was accosted. I only hope the Regents will accept the measures that E-Board is taking to more closely link them to the students. If necessary, I will make every attempt to contact each Regent personally and urge him to adopt more liberal policies.

Finally, the ASUI is obligated to represent the total spectrum of student opinion, not just the minority. The radical liberals of the academic community fail to realize that they comprise, at the very most, 5 per cent of the student body. Therefore, John, John, Bruce, Kathy, Bob, Gordon, Fred, etc., you must have patience while the ASUI spends 95 per cent of its time serving the rest of the student body.

In summation, I urge all students to get your $15 worth from each board member. Come to us so we may satisfy your impatience. Student government is no longer alive and well in Acapulco; it is concerned and active at the University of Idaho.

Editorial Opinion

Experience Needed?

Experience, one will find, is often more important in the world today than the old standby education. The search for a job is usually built upon a foundation of education with the superstructure of the future requiring the strength of experience to withstand the forces of the society.

Executive Board is once again struggling with a host of inexperienced members and consequently is unable to exhibit a consistency that we expect of our governing body. Surprisingly enough the new members are not the only ones showing a little green on the edges. Even the old-experienced members have faltered this year.

Tuesday's meeting of this body was an interesting lesson in double talk. A report was presented to encourage the students to make a decision on the student strike scheduled for today. Both sides of the issue were aired but when the vote was taken, in spite of their avowed mission to inform, one side of the question was left unanswered and for the most part ignored.

It was interesting to see them encourage the members of the student body to investigate this strike and then make a decision to participate or not participate. The conservative side of the board wouldn't accept this because, to them, it would be giving support to the people with whom they disagree. A rather poor policy to take when it denies the existence of dissent and the right of people to disagree, but no worse than the action taken by the opponents of the conservatives when they refused to include all of the information on the subject.

Jim Willms presented an informative report with facts concerning the march, its sponsors, and its purposes. They were facts, and this was brought into the open, but they still refused to include this information with the action taken, which was to encourage people to think it over and exercise their conscience.

The refusal to include all of the facts is not consistent with their desire to inform and encourage the people, but this is something that should be remedied by time and experience.

The conservatives, too, exhibited a bit of inconsistency when you realize that they have been after students to get interested and become involved for years. It is too bad they are so narrow-minded as to fear the masses when the masses might not be on their side. How sad! S.A.B.

Carroll Denies Communist Strike

Dear Jason:

Many of the actions and reactions concerning the events of the last two weeks have demonstrated the potential dangers that this school faces. I am not talking about any students who either support or oppose the sit-in, the Eunch, or the student strike and discuss their positions rationally. The students I fear are those who spread exaggerated rumors or complete lies in the belief that their cause is so right they can trample other individual's rights to further it.

In specific let's use the rumors and exaggerations spreading against the student strike. The student strike was originated and organized at a Student Mobilization Committee Conference early this year. Many concerned groups were in attendance including representatives of the Communist Party of the U.S.A., the YMCA, the YWCA, the American Friends Society and many others. These are all facts and have been presented as such. If this was as far as these people went, everything would have been fine, but these people were unable to stop with just telling the truth. They had to twist the truth and in some cases even disregard it in the name of their righteous cause. First they emphasize the influence of the Communist Party completely out of proportion, thus de-emphasizing the influence of the YMCA, YWCA and so on. Next the words "Communist inspired" were being used in connection with the strike. Yet these people had access to papers which prove that discontented Negroes had inspired this strike. And at the last I have heard of this exaggeration turned lie is that the Communists are completely controlling the strike. If this rumor were given 2 or 3 more days to grow we would all be hearing how 10,000 Red Guardsmen will be marching in Moscow, Idaho, for the student strike.

And yet this was done in the name of democracy and patriotism. Our fear of communism is such that we would be willing to give up those very freedoms which we say we are protecting from the Communists. This state has never left the McCarthy era (Joe net Gene). It is so paranoid that it believes that there are two Communists behind every tree. We as students and citizens must recognize that communism is a definite threat to democracy. The question is to what extent do we want to go in fighting Communism. Do we wish to go as far as the Germans did in the '30's? Yet this is the exact direction in which many of the Birch-Fear mongers are taking us. The point is that the net effects of losing a right is the same whether the Communists or the fascists take that right.

This is not an abstract theory that I am talking about. It is happening on this campus right now. Many people here are unable to respect the beliefs of another and are trying to deny that person his right to possess those beliefs. If this campus is to really encourage academic freedom we will have to get away from this type of thought. This can be done in part through legislation, but for the most part students will have to create this intellectual atmosphere themselves. The key to creating such an atmosphere is developing a respect for both another individual and his beliefs.

Hopefully,
Tom Carroll

Argonaut Donates Free Advertising

Dear Jason,

What breed of editor are you? In your Friday, April 19, 1968 editorial you gave the "Eunch" two columns, totaling 26 inches in length, of advertising as to the ability of the Eunch to be controversial. As a result the Tuesday, April 23, 1968, Arg was spewing forth letters to you concerning the good and the bad of the Eunch. These letters totaled 71 inches of advertising for the Eunch which has been shown to be bolder than the Arg in these letters.

Now at the prices given to me by an Arg staff member you have at $1.25 per inch of regular type, as the letters are written in the April 23, 1968, Arg, given away $88.75 of advertising space for the Eunch, about the Eunch, and against the Arg due to your editorial blunder in the April 19, 1968 Arg. Now if your editorial had been in columns like the other "Dear Jason" letters, you would have given away approximately another $32.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Your talent with a ruler is outstanding, Mr. Durham. The Argonaut does not however put a price on free discussion.

AWS Thanks Living Groups

Dear Jason:

The AWS State Hospital North Committee wishes to extend thanks to all the living groups on 50 of advertising in Friday's editorial space alone. Though you didn't intend these entries as advertising or your editorial to be the same, an editor of any other newspaper would have realized what exactly he was doing if he were to put an editorial in his paper as you did in the Friday's Arg.

What am I trying to tell you? First you don't show any subtle ability to set traps as the Eunch snared you in for free advertisement, and second it is apparent you don't think before you write or publish.

At this time I wish to thank the Arg or Fupaw, Incorporated, or whatever you call yourselves for being the bright and shining example of what you currently are.

Dear Jason,

In the great American tradition, as exemplified by such great Americans as Thomas Jefferson, Ben Franklin, and Marty Peterson, I wish to submit to your readers a plan, which if put into practice would produce numerous benefits for the students at this university. I call it the "Mother-Power" Plan.

As you know, every year about this time we are confronted with several time-worn U. of I. traditions, the relevance of which, if there ever was any, has gone the way of the horse and buggy. Such traditions as Frosh Week, Mother's Weekend, and the Phi Delta Turtle Derby just don't mean that much to today's college student struggling to make a place for himself in the world. I suggest a change: instead of dropping the traditions of yesteryear completely and risk leaving numerous committee workers feeling useless, let us, instead combine them into one spectacular fete, with a few modifications to make it more relevant to today's needs. The "Mother-Power" Plan would look like this: Every female living group on campus would select one of its members as a representative of that group. This girl would then ask her mother to participate in this worthy cause. On the April weekend set aside for the event, the mothers representing each group, clad in shorts and sweatshirts, would assemble at McLeans Field. Then Dave Leroy and succeeding ASUI presidents in the years to come, wearing swimming trunks, would be smeared from head to toe with Crisco. When the signal was given, Leroy would start running with the mothers in pursuit. The mother who finally catches him would be declared the winner, and her daughter gets to (oh, joy!) marry Leroy.

To take a cue from the Phi Deltas, there would be a booth where people could bet money on different mothers. The money would then be given to charity. (Nothing personal, Phi Deltas, but turtles just don't make it anymore.)

Not only would this be good publicity for the university, but the coeds would become highly involved in the selection of ASUI officers. They would tend to vote for someone who would be practical and reliable—in short, someone who would make a good husband.

If not in time for this year, I don't see why this plan couldn't be utilized at least next year.

Yours truly,
John D. Snyder

Student Wants 'Mother-Power'

Idaho 'Businessman of Year' Chosen by Alpha Kappa Psi

Henry L. Day, president of Day Mines Inc., Wallace, won the "Idaho Businessman of the Year" award announced by Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity.

"Mr. Day's keen interest and accomplishments in both his profession and civic affairs have made him one of Idaho's most distinguished citizens," said Pursley.

Day will be honored at a dinner at the Student Union Building, 7 p.m. Monday, April 29. He will be presented with an Alpha Kappa Psi plaque, and made an honorary member of the fraternity. Principal speaker at the dinner will be President Ernest W. Hartung. Remarks will also be made by Dean David D. Kendrick of the College of Business Administration, and Assoc. Professor Robert W. Clark, faculty advisor for the fraternity. L.J. Randall, chairman of the Board of Hecla Mining Co., Wallace, will serve as toastmaster.

A native of Spokane, Day has lived in Wallace for more than 60 years.

Graduating in mining engineering in 1923 from the University of California, he did advanced studies in economic geology at the Harvard Graduate School.

In 1947, Day headed the consolidation of firms known as Day Mines, Inc., which embraced all the family mining activities. He was the first president of this operation, and has continued so to date. "DMP" has paid more than $10 million in dividends.

Day's business experience embraces participation in numerous companies, mostly in his home country, which include hardware wholesaling and retailing, machinery manufacturing, newspaper publishing, insurance and real estate operating, explosives distributing, dairying, water utilities, banking, hotel operating, and smelting and refining.

He was a leader in the construction of the Wallace Civic Memorial Auditorium, 1945-47; the Neewahlu camp on Lake Coeur d'Alene for Camp Fire Girls, 1954-55, and the East Shoshone Municipal Hospital, 1966-67. During 1958-61, Day was one of the leaders of the state's mining industry which raised matching funds for the construction of the College of Mines building on the University of Idaho campus.

HENRY L. DAY, president of Day Mines, Inc., Wallace, has been named the first "Idaho Businessman of the Year" by the University of Idaho chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, the professional business fraternity. Day will be honored at a dinner at the University's Student Union Building, April 29, at 7 p.m.

THE INTERNATIONAL STUDENT STRIKE

The war in Vietnam, the unfairness of the draft and the oppression of Black people have become the burning issues which affect university-age individuals throughout the country and which therefore affect the entire university community. As university educators and as concerned individuals, we therefore hereby express our sympathy and support for the International Student Strike Against the War in Vietnam, Racial Oppression, and the Draft. Although some of us may not wish to call off classes, we nevertheless feel that many such actions might be justified in view of the ineffectiveness and impotence of more traditional forms of protest.

Mothers'

In heats of three or four turtles. The winners of each heat will be run off in the championship race. The first heat of turtles is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. The champion turtle racer will receive a trophy for his respective living group. Each turtle will also be judged on his costume and the costume of his trainer. His supporting cheering section will also be judged. Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each division.

From 10 a.m. to 12 noon the University of Idaho Student Bookstore will have open house for all visiting mothers. And from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. a cafeteria luncheon will be served in the SUB.

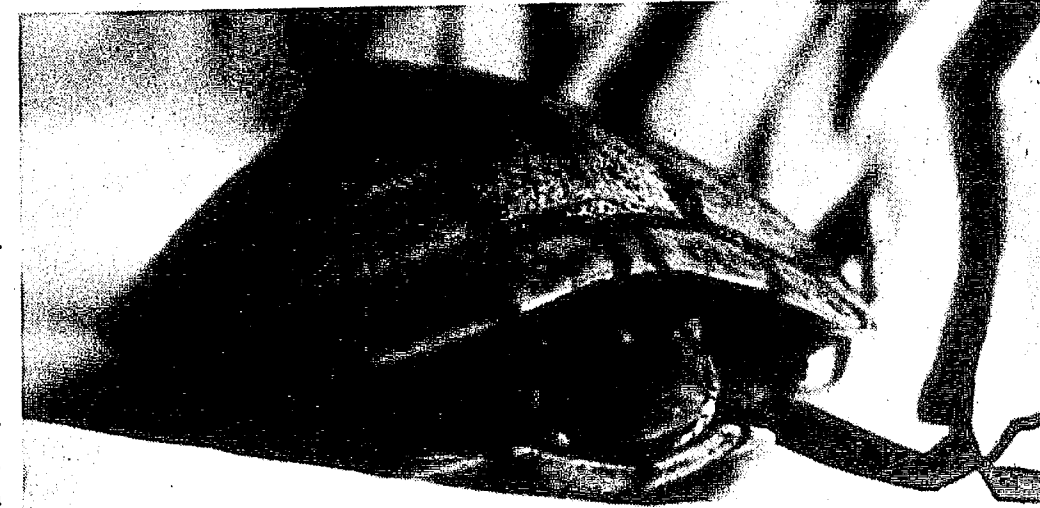

On Saturday afternoon all living groups will have open house from 4 to 6 p.m. Most houses will be serving buffets or dinners to visiting mothers.

Running for a second night will be the Helldivers synchronized swimming at 7 and again at 8:30 p.m. Also for the second night will be the Orchestras-Pre-Orchestra Dance Concert and "The Odd Couple" both scheduled for 8 p.m. The Opera Workshop in the Recital Hall will also be presented Saturday night at 8.

Sunday a tribute to mothers will be given by Hall Macklin on the David Memorial Carillon.

PRACTICING UP FOR SONGFEST are DG's and Fijis, who are one of four groups to final for the group mixed contest. The singers will perform during the Awards Assembly tomorrow afternoon at Memorial Gym at 1:30 p.m.

Spanish Art Displayed

A rare and valuable collection of original religious paintings from New Mexico is on view at the University Museum through April 28. Called "retablos," they are depictions of saints for use in the churches of the Spanish-American population of the Southwest, and are examples of America's only non-Indian native religious art.

Supplementing the retablos are detailed, original water color paintings from the National Gallery of Art on the same theme. "The Art of the Spanish Southwest" gives residents of this area a unique glimpse of one of our sub-cultures. Also on view are a hundred pre-Columbian ceramic figurines from Mexico, mainly illustrating medical abnormalities.

The retablos are lent by the Taylor Museum of Colorado Springs through the courtesy of its curator, Robert L. Shalkop. A leading authority, and author of the book "Wooden Saints, The Santos of New Mexico," Shalkop points out that the historical origins of this art lie clearly in the baroque painting and sculpture of 17th century Spain. But he adds, "Psychologically, however, it is not so much a pale reflection of these as an extraordinary anachronism—a final, unexpected flowering of medieval Christian imagery, separated from its roots by half a world and a thousand years."

Humanities Department Takes No Action Against Fred Maher

Dr. Floyd Tolleson, head of the department of humanities, announced today that his department has decided to take no action against Fred Maher, an instructor of humanities at the University of Idaho.

In a closed meeting that was held at the Faculty Club during the noon hour yesterday the entire faculty of the department of humanities voted not to take action against Maher for his statements in the EUNUCH and to encourage the University to abstain also.

The motion that was made by Dr. Barbara Meldrum and approved by the faculty read: "The humanities department doesn't approve of any faculty member maligning any student, but with respect to Fred Maher's recent article in THE EUNUCH we refrain from any action against him and further recommend that the University refrain from any action in this matter."

At that time they defined their position as that of an appellate body and therefore unable to take a stand on the situation without a lower body taking action first. They referred the recommendation to the Department of Humanities, where it had been until yesterday's action.

Action began April 18 in the weekly meeting of the Administrative Council. That body met and sent to Faculty Council a recommendation to consider censure of Maher for his writings in the EUNUCH. Faculty Council received the communication on April 18 and decided to let the issue rest overnight as they reconvened the morning of April 19.

At that time they defined their position as that of an appellate body and therefore unable to take a stand on the situation without a lower body taking action first. They referred the recommendation to the Department of Humanities, where it had been until yesterday's action.

Ninety - Five Initiated In Scholastic Society

"The expert has failed to solve our problems in a completely satisfactory way, and I suggest the solution lies not in a return to classical education, but rather in the development of the 'expert plus,'" Dean Albert R. Menard, Jr., of the College of Law, said Tuesday at a dinner honoring 95 initiates into Phi Kappa Phi, all-campus honor society.

The university juniors and seniors, among the top 5 and 12 percent, respectively, of their classes, were received into membership by Phi Kappa Phi President J. W. Martin, professor of agricultural engineering, and President-elect Malcolm M. Renshaw, head of physical sciences.

In his address, "A Reaction Against Overspecialization," Dean Menard said, "Education must contribute to an individual's sensitivity to his personal impact upon his neighbor, and his personal impact upon society and his environment."

Those initiated include:

In the College of Agriculture: Linda J. Balster, Larry Church, Linda G. Hamp, Richard H. Ross, Jr., and Thomas N. Turco.

In the College of Education: Bernadene Hickman Balckburn, Chris Dickard, Dennis Dossett, Joan E. Eismann, Sharon J. Ferguson, JoAnn B. Gronbach, James L. Haddock, Connie F. Hoffbur, Sue Y. Hovey, Jeanne M. Jacobs, Donna C. Wise Kristin and Karen Parriott, Linda J. Larson and Mary Martin McLoughlin, Dorothy D. Robertson, Kathleen Schulze, Kermit L. Staggars II, Peggy C. Swanson, Connie Bradley Thompson, and Ev Torppa.

John S. Sutrick, majoring in the College of Forestry and Stephen C. Anderson, in the College of Law were also tapped.

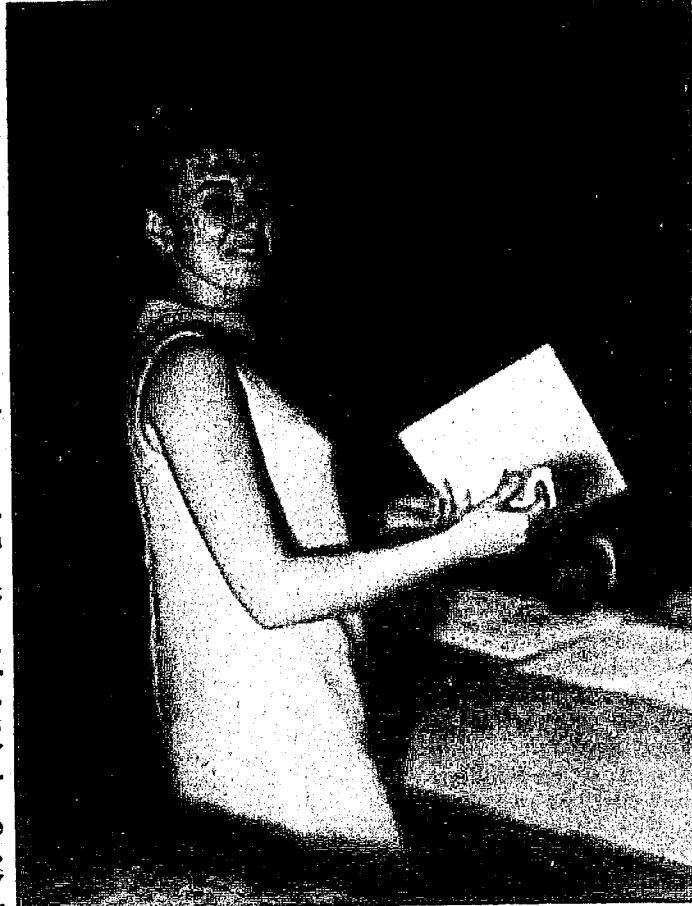

Initiated from the College of Letters and Science include: Marion D. Amonson, Kathleen V.

Angell, Robert Arneson, Gail S. Ater, Fred T. Burton, Catherine M. Connor, Tim Ellis, James B. Evans, Sandra L. Gates and Donald L. Gayman, Terrance P. Gough, John A. Green III, Connie Gustafson, Jean L. Hancock, Donald K. Harmsworth and Marilyn C. Harwood.

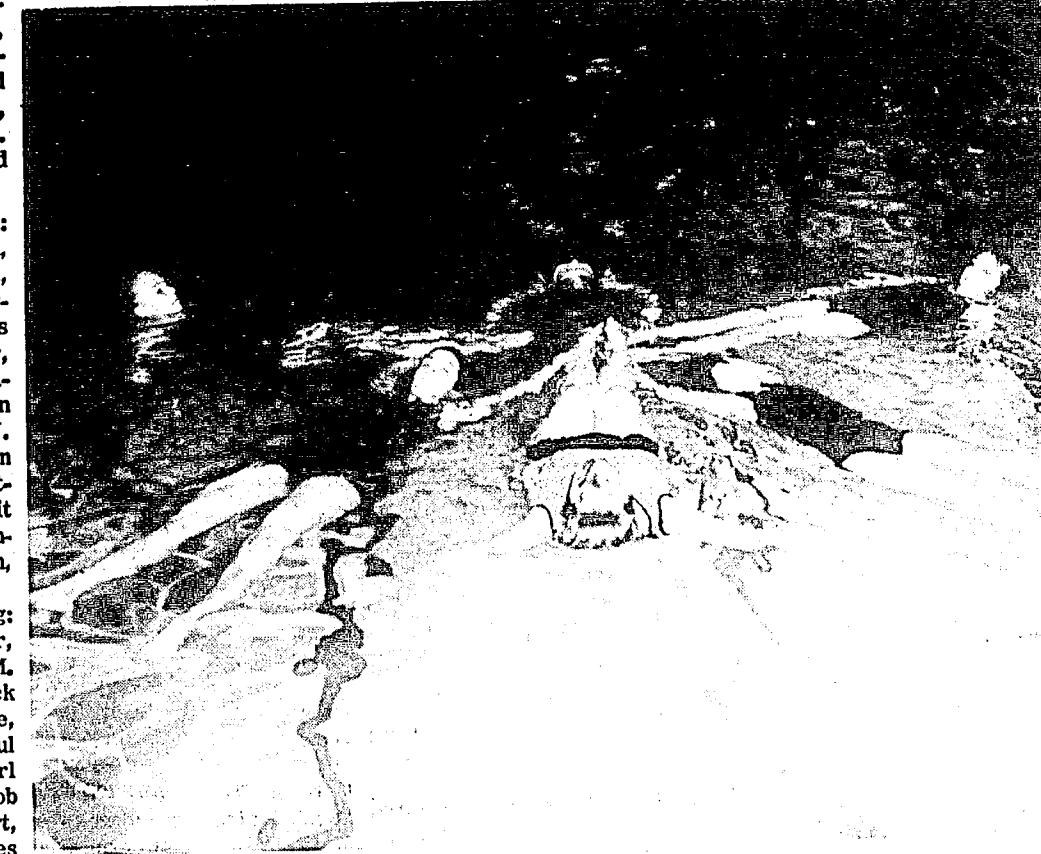

Also initiated were Robert M. Harwood, Carol S. Henriksen, Cathryn J. Holm, Mary J. Horton, Ralph C. Kerns, Kathleen J. Marlow, Kathleen D. Marshall, Kathleen I. McCann, Margaret A. Nelson, Elsa A. Pacheco, Linda M. Palmer, Freda N. Park, Joan Reeder, Ronald L. Robinson, Roger J. Roth, Susan Q. Stettler and Paulette Thompson, Arthur M. Vetter, Jr., Rodney L. Watson, and Pamela J. Zehner.

In the Graduate School: Louise A. Braun, and Hilda G. Strong.

Four members of the faculty initiated into Phi Kappa Phi include Arthur M. Finley, head of the department of plant science; John A. Green, Jr., professor of education; Edson R. Peck, professor of physics, and H. Sidwell Smith, dean of the College of Engineering.

SUSAN STETTLER, senior class secretary, was initiated Tuesday night along with 89 other students into Phi Kappa Phi honorary. The initiation ceremony and banquet were held in the Student Union.—(Bower Photo)

REHEARSING FOR THEIR SYNCHRONIZED swim show are six members of the University of Idaho Helldivers. They are (clockwise from center) Kay Barnes, Campbell; Gayle Knox, Alpha Gam; Karlene Gellings, French; Kathy Riordan, Eihel Steel; Nancy Shephard, Alpha Gam, and Terry Chronic, Carter. The Helldivers will perform in the University's Memorial Gymnasium, April 26-27.

Report Lists Strike Sponsors

An International Student Strike sponsored by the Student Mobilization Committee is scheduled for today on campuses across America and in cities around the world.

The Mobilization Committee has issued the call for the strike under the title "International Student Strike Against the War in Vietnam, Racial Oppression and the Draft."

The Strike is being jointly sponsored by the SMC and the newly formed National Black Anti-War Anti-Draft Union, (NBAWADU).

The NBAWADU proposed to the Student Mobilization Committee Conference last January that they join together in support of the strike. The Convention was in favor of the action and accepted it by a vote of about

875 to 25, according to the group's magazine, the "Student Mobilizer."

According to E-Board Information Report N. 7, submitted by Jim Willms, the following groups were in attendance at the conference when the strike was proposed: Students for a Democratic Society, Young Socialist Alliance, DuBois Clubs, the Resistance, Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, War Resisters League, Chicago Area Draft Resistance, and the American Friends Service Committee.

Also, the Communist Party, Socialist Workers Party, NAACP, SANE, YMCA, YWCA, Youth Against War and Facism, Progressive Labor Party, Workers League, Camp Fire Girls, and several additional black student groups attended.

Internationally, the SMC is expecting the school systems in Cuba and Russia to be closed and mass rallies and demonstrations held in their place. There is also the possibility that Labor Unions in both France and Japan will go on strike.

In addition to the three national objectives of the SMC, local committees are supposed to coordinate their own issues.

The Committee for the Peaceful Solutions for World Conflicts is the local sponsor of the Student Strike.

Campus Affairs

Campus Affairs will discuss the Student Bill of Rights this afternoon at 4 p.m. in the SUB.

E-Board Encourages Position On Strike

An executive Board report encouraging student position on the strike scheduled for today was passed last Tuesday night.

The report was accepted after several amendments were added to the original. The report was passed by a vote of 6-4, with Board members French, Wardle, Whistler and Willms voting against it.

The participation and position report reads as follows:

"Even though the ASUI Executive Board takes no position on the student strike and that in the belief that University students should be encouraged to become involved in issues of national importance, the Executive Board of ASUI urges all students to give earnest consideration to all implications involved in the upcoming student strike.

"Regardless of the stand any individual student may take, if that stand was formed through extensive thought and clear conscience, we extend our moral support to that student.

"We also request that any teachers conducting classes on that day do so in their normal manner."

"It is our duty as E-Board members to promote and encourage active participation on this campus," said the author of the report, Tom Carroll.

"We have pointed out the reasons and issues involved in this strike," said Board member Bob Young. "The strike is against the war in Vietnam, against the draft, and for civil rights."

"Who is sponsoring the student strike?" asked Carol Bennett, A.W.S. It's about time someone presented some information on who is sponsoring the strike nationally, she said. (Related article on page 4).

"I don't think that E-Board should say anything one way or another on this report," said Jim Willms. "We should not endorse a strike that is asking students to boycott their classes for a day."

Even though we say we are not taking any position on this student strike, Willms continued, we are giving our moral support for the students to take part in the strike, I cannot give my moral support to any student to take part in this strike, he said.

Phi Eta Sigma Initiates Forty-Three New Members

Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman scholastic honorary for students with a 3.5 grade average or better, will initiate forty-three members Saturday in the SUB. The ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 5:30 p.m.

Those to be initiated are Randy York, Chrisman; Ron Wietzke, McComel; Clifford Bradley, Willis Sweet; John Meyer, Gault; Robert Wallace, Sigma Nu; Larry Hall, off campus; Scott Wu-Yen Wang; John Bush, Delta Chi; and Greg Gebhardt, Campus Club.

Others include Philip Riersgard, off campus; Dwight Sawin, Willis Sweet; Phillip Volkman; Richard Wittman, Farmhouse; Fred Haslins, Borah; Gregory

Balfary, Chrisman; Jerry Hughes, TKE; Larry Somers, off campus; David Heidel, Kappa Sig; John Messenger, Gault; Stein Buer, Snow; Michael Chemoorow, Lindley, and Steve Crawford, Graham.

Also to be initiated are Robert Curteman, Sigma Chi; William Grubb, Alpha Kappa Lambda; Douglas Hill, Upham; Dave Hilton, Delta Sig; Denver James, Campus Club; Gary Martin, Sigma Chi; Steve McCarrel, Beta; Thomas McMillan, off campus; Dextral Miles, Snow; Brian Miller, Graham, and William Parkhurst, off campus.

New initiates also are William, off campus; Steven Seale, Pi Kap; Robert Shepard, off campus; Terry Thiessen, Fij; David Todd, Delt; Duane Unzicker, SAE; Robert Wagner, off campus; Ken Wombacker, ATO, and Harley Schreck, Willis Sweet.

Canterbury House Elects Officers

The following students were elected to hold office in Canterbury House for the remainder of the academic year and first semester of next year: Garre Biladeau, Gault, president; Steve Featherkile, Willis Sweet, vice president—administration; Dave Mansfield, Willis Sweet, vice president—operations; Nancy Bateman, Hays, secretary and Linda Richardson, Campbell, treasurer.

Committees for the remainder of the academic year will have the following students serving as chairmen: Food—Linda Richardson; Recreation—Dave Triguero; Lay Readers—Jim Story; Altar Guild—Mary Ann Burnett; and Ecumenical Relations—Ben Potter.

Canterbury House will be open to students of all faiths daily from 8 a.m. to midnight for study and recreation. Evening prayer will be read on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. and Father Keithly will celebrate Mass every Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. in the Canterbury Chapel. Wednesday evenings following Mass will be devoted to short business meetings. Sunday evenings will begin with a supper at 6 p.m., followed by guest speakers presenting topics of current interest to all students.

"When you are away from your homeland, you get rusty on your native dances," said Luke Wen Yuen Lee, a graduate student majoring in political science, who is in charge of activities. "Therefore, we have collected funds from our group to bring an expert from San Francisco to direct us for the May 12 program here.

PARTICIPATING IN A NAVAL program after graduation are naval aviators to be Mike Simpson, Snow; Paul Freudenthal, Lambda Chi; Ralph Lanning, Chrisman; Dennis McCormick, Lambda Chi; and Bill Bailey, SAE. The training consists of 36 hours flight instruction, 20 hours of which are dual and 16 solo; and 35 hours of classroom instruction in basic aerodynamics, meteorology, aerial navigation, and Federal Aviation Agency regulations.—(Bower Photo)

AN A-4 SKY HAWK is the type of plane five University of Idaho students will be learning to fly next year after completing a Naval training school. The men will be participating in the Flight Indoctrination Program (F.I.P.).

Navy ROTC Takes Part In Flight Indoctrination

A Flight Indoctrination Program (F.I.P.) has been designed to orient Navy R.O.T.C. midshipmen toward a career as naval aviators. The candidates must be seniors in the program, and they must pass a medical examination.

The training consists of 36 hours flight instruction, 20 hours of which are dual and 16 hours solo; 35 hours of classroom instruction in basic aerodynamics, meteorology, aerial navigation, and Federal Aviation Agency regulations. All of this studying must be done in addition to regular courses. Upon successful completion of training candidates receive an FAA private pilot license.

The flight training is carried out in single engine Cessna 150's, 172's and Piper Cherokee 140's. After eight to ten hours of instruction with a certified instructor, the fledging aces are turned loose and allowed to make their first solos.

The rest of the training consists of cross country flights and basic instrument procedures. After 36 hours of training in the air the students are ready to take the check ride for their licenses.

This program is only a first step for these young men. Upon graduation they receive commissions as Ensigns (Navy) or 2nd Lieutenants. They report to NAS, Pensacola, where the training of a naval aviator starts in earnest.

After pre-flight training at Pensacola they are assigned to either McCain Field, Meridian, Miss., for training as jet pilots; or Whiting Field, Milton, Fla., for training as helicopter pilots or as pilots of propeller driven aircraft.

After 18 months of training, they receive the gold wings of a naval aviator.

Greek Week Activities Scheduled for May 6-11

This year's Greek Week, set for May 6-11, features such activities as exchange dinners, a SUB banquet, an all-campus dance and clean-up for Moscow City Parks. A special kick-off function for Wednesday is to be announced later.

The theme this year is "Golden Age of Greeks." The purpose of Greek Week is to promote Greek and Independent relations and to bring IFC and Panhellenic closer together in understanding and cooperation. IFC President is Jody Olson, Fij; and Panhellenic President is Mimi Henrikson, Tri Delta.

General chairmen of the week are Jeff Crumrine, Delta Sig; and Ivy Broberg, Delta Gamma. Other chairmen are Community Day, Carlye McGinnis, Pi Phi; Jim Barbes, Pi Kap, and Dick Schultz, Lambda Chi; Dance, Arlene Kirchner, DG; and Joe Cenarrusa, Theta Chi; Publicity, Marcie McGuire, Theta; and Wally Hedrick, Fij; Exchange Dinner, Linda Haslins, Kappa; Ted Creasan, Delta Sig; and Bob Taisey, Sigma Nu; Kick-Off Function, Willie Hawkins, Alpha Phi; Jim Whistler, Fij; and Mike Rowles, Delta Sig; and Banquet and Invitation, Kathy McDonald, Gamma Phi; Brent Compton, Phi Delt; and Stan Tluczek, FarmHouse.

'China Night' Boosts FPAC; Benefit Program Planned

It will be "China Night" at the University of Idaho May 12 when Chinese students stage their own benefit program to raise funds for the University's proposed Performing Arts Center.

A five-course Chinese buffet dinner will be served at 6 p.m. in the Student Union, followed by Chinese entertainment including a fashion show, dancing, music, movies and boxing.

There are about 40 Chinese students on the campus, and they are all taking part. Some are doubling as cooks and dancers.

"Many of our Chinese students want to be a part of the FPAC drive, and we want Idahoans to know something about the Chinese culture. This is a way of doing both things."

Prior to China Night, a Chinese art exhibit will be on display in the Student Union ballroom, May 6-12. China Night will be a prelude to the FPAC benefit concert May 14 by Karin Hurdstrom, European opera singer, who is a graduate of the University.

The University of Idaho was rated in the upper 29 per cent of universities and colleges in the annual Putnam Mathematical Competition for the U.S. and Canada.

Tickets for the China Night benefit will be $3 for adults, and $1.50 for children. They will be on sale April 27 at Hadcock and Laughlin, Moscow, and at the Information Desk.

Engineering School Sets Open House

An open house for high school students and the public will be hosted by the College of Engineering Saturday, May 4, it was announced by Dean H. S. Smith. The open house will start at 9:30 a.m. and end at 3 p.m.

The purpose of the event is to acquaint persons with new trends in engineering and engineering education. A number of displays will be manned by engineering students.

Bids Open On New Ad Building Roof
Low bids for the construction of a new roof on the Administration Building at the University were opened Thursday by Business manager Joseph W. Watts.
Low bidder on the new roof was C & S Builders, Inc. Pullman, at $75,550. Also bidding were Adco Construction, Spokane, $76,782, and S.G. Morin and Son, Spokane, $78,415.
According to the architects, Cullen, Gale and Martell, Spokane, "The new roof will be constructed of specially textured steel so that it will not detract from the traditional beauty of the building."
All bids now go to the Regents for approval.

Who's helping to make your better future happen?
The electric company people!
As daily living becomes more and more electric, you can see the future happening. Because electricity is the energy of progress. It has played a big part in turning yesterday into a better today, and will help bring about a wonder-filled tomorrow.
Constant, aggressive research and sound business management by the people of your investor-owned electric light and power company have kept the average unit price of residential electricity going down over the past years. And though the price of almost everything else has been going up and up, that same farsighted planning and research will keep your electric service plentiful and low priced no matter how many wonderful new ways you find to use it!

THE CLINCH MOUNTAIN STRING BAND, one of the winners in the Blue Key Talent Show, will be on hand tomorrow morning for the Peace Picnic being held in the Arboretum starting at 11 a.m. A program will be held at 1 p.m. after lunch is served.

Peace Picnic Features Speakers, Jug Band, Art

Bringing peaceful people together in the promotion of peace is the reason for a "Peace Picnic" to be held tomorrow. The picnic begins at 11 a.m. in the arboretum or the fieldhouse, whichever the weather permits. Those attending should bring a sack lunch. Lemonade, coffee and dessert will be provided free. The program begins at 1 p.m. with music, an art exhibit, and speakers. Music will be provided by the Centennial Trout, a jug band. Members are Kelly Raebrecht, Bruce Stanger, Mike Gifford, Denny Coelho, Roy Simmons, Mark Heizer, and Rick Kueneman. Vic Reynolds, Bruce Stanger and Mike Eugene will be showing their art. Speakers from WSU are Rutledge Dennis speaking on Black Power; Dr. Tony Phillips speaking on Dissent, and Howard McCord reading some of his own poetry. The peace picnic is sponsored by the Committee for Peaceful Solution to World Conflicts.

Student Strike Begins At Noon

The International Student Administration lawn about 1:30 p.m. for speeches and music by the Centennial Trout. The second annual peace picnic will be held in the Arboretum Saturday morning at 11 a.m. Speakers for the picnic are Rutledge Dennis, speaking on Black Power and Tony Phillips, speaking on Dissent. Nationally known poet Howard McCord will read some of his own works. There will also be live music, an art exhibit, and some other speeches.

SMALL GROUP DISCUSSION was the major aspect of Wednesday night's Student Leader Workshop sponsored by the Moscow Chamber of Commerce at Moscow Junior High School. Approximately 22 students and 35 Chamber members participated in the event.

Assistant Sought For ASUI President

Larry Craig has announced the creation of a new ASUI position, Presidential Administrative Assistant. E-Board voted April 16 to allow the student president to interview and appoint an individual to this position. This individual would be responsible to the president in the following areas:
1. Handle all presidential correspondence.
2. Assist in special research projects—the president might assign.
3. Assist Executive Board Secretary during heavy work periods.
4. Assist in establishing an up to date filing system for the E-Board office.
5. Handle all incoming and outgoing presidential mail.
6. Work in any other areas where the president may deem it necessary. Interviews for this position will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 29, in the SUB with room posted. Any individual who feels they are interested in this type of work and would have the time is urged to interview; the position is salaried.

The 1968 mock political convention at Washington State University begins tonight at 7 p.m. with a keynote address by U. S. Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo. McGee will be followed Saturday at 9 a.m. by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who also will give a keynote address. The convention will be in Bohler gymnasium and is open to the public.

Pansy Breakfast

The annual Tri Delta Pansy Breakfast will be held Sunday, May 5, from 9 to 11 a.m. at the chapter house, 609 Elm. This breakfast is in honor of all second semester senior women on campus. The event includes a breakfast, entertainment, style show and announcement of the winner of the Tri Delta scholarship.

Any second semester senior woman who has not received an invitation is urged to call the house. Many could not be contacted because of inadequate lists and changes of address.

A German Coffee Hour will be held Friday, April 26 at 3:30 p.m. in the Burning Stake. The featured film will be "Unser Weg-unser Leben."

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO Orchestral-Pre-Orchestral dancers will perform a concert based on Shaker ceremonies Friday and Saturday (April 26-27) at 8 p.m. in the University Auditorium in conjunction with Mothers' weekend activities.

Chamber of Commerce, Students Discuss Community Problems

By MARLENE SILHA, Arg. Reporter
Discussing the problems between the University and the community, 22 students met with 36 Chamber of Commerce members Wednesday in the Moscow Junior High School. The students and chamber members divided into discussion groups and met later for a summary of meetings in a general session and for refreshments. The topics for discussion were understanding the business community, off-campus housing, community participation for campus affairs, employment opportunities in Moscow and methods to improve the state-wide image of the University. One of the central issues discussed included the local prices and why they seem so high. The business explained the reason for the prices and the students expressed their views on the cost of merchandise. Limitations of off-campus housing and the price fixing of renting off-campus housing was also discussed. Students and chamber members decided there was a real need for both the university and the community to help support FPAC. They also talked about the legislative committee of the Chamber. Students said that they felt that the relation between wages and talent in the community were out of proportion. The students seemed to feel they were being underpaid. The group also decided that the university needed a more progressive public relations program, Chamber members suggested recruiting students to the University through funds provided by the community. Students were chosen by each dean who selected ten outstanding students from his college. The Chamber of Commerce then selected 60 students from the 90 suggested, attempting to get six students from each college without having more than two from any living group and trying to keep a balance between on- and off-campus students. Out of the 60 students invited, 37 replied they were able to come, while only 22 actually attended. The Workshop, however, was considered successful and will continue next year when it is to be held early in the fall and spring. Dwight Hoffman and Jeffrey Lamy were in charge of the Workshop.

Assistant research professor of plant pathology at the Aberdeen Agricultural Experiment Station, Dr. James R. Davis, who holds three degrees from the University of California, and has been on the faculty of the University of California at Davis. Instructor in foreign languages, Edwin A. Gardner, University of Idaho graduate from Ola, who has a master's degree from the University of Oregon, and has been working on his doctorate at the institution.

Smiley Receives Fulbright Grant

Participation in a one-year Fulbright lectureship at the University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur, has been authorized by the Regents for Dr. Charles J. Smiley, it was announced by President Ernest W. Hartung. Smiley, professor of geology, will depart May 15 for a post as lecturer and researcher at the Malaysian institution. "The research opportunities are limitless," said Dr. Smiley. "Many of the plants which are now extinct on this continent still survive in Southeast Asia. The value of an extended visit there lies in the knowledge I can gain concerning plant associations as well as climatic, topographic, soil, and other conditions in which the plants have been able to survive."

Cougars Drop Idaho, Vandals Face Big Sky

Vandal Netters Drop CBC, 12-0

The Idaho netmen came through with a decisive 12-0 victory over Columbia Basin last Tuesday as Coach Ron Stephenson sent everyone into action bringing the Vandals record to 7-8.

Darwin Walters, playing at the No. 1 position in singles, swept through John Poe in two sets, 6-2 to get Idaho off to a good start. Then Jeff Williams had no trouble with CBC's Rick Rice in the second singles match swamping him, 6-0, 6-0.

Doug Demney, playing at No. 3, showed fine form as the Boise product best Bob Kimbrough, 6-3, 6-2 to give Idaho a 3-0 margin at the end of three matches.

Bob Brunn, a freshman from Meridian, conquered Ralph Rodriguez in two sets, 6-0, 6-0. Skip Rudd, playing at the No. 5 spot found rough going in the first set of his singles match outlasting Mike Estes, 10-8 before finishing off the match with a winning set of 6-1.

Freshman Don Hamlin from Walla Walla continued to play fine tennis with an impressive 6-1, 6-2 win over CBC's Andy Anderson. Frank Newman and Larry Hessler, another freshman, finished off Idaho's sweep in the singles competition with decisive victories.

Newman ran over Darrold Minnelly 6-1, 6-2 and Hessler decided Tim Kreuger, 6-2, 6-0.

In the doubles competition which has given Idaho some headaches, the Vandals finally seemed to mesh as they won all four doubles matches in two sets each.

Doug Demney and Skip Rudd played at the No. 1 spot and easily defeated John Poe and Rick Rice, 6-3, 6-1.

Jeff Williams and Frank Newman teamed up at No. 2 to over-

Track & Field National Marks

The latest standings released by the United States Track & Field Federation point out some interesting times and distances as the track season is in full swing.

Jimmy Hines of the Houston Striders claims the best performance thus far in the 100-yd. dash with a 9.2 clocking with John Carlos, SCVYV holding down the top spot in the 100 meters with a time of 10.2.

Mike Fray from Mesa, Arizona CC has the best time of 20.2 in the 220 yard dash with Tommy Smith second at 20.5. Villanova's Larry James breezed through the 440 in 45.2, for the top mark in that event with Southern Cal's Carl Trentadue having the top billing in the half mile at 1:47.9.

Oregon has the top two milers in the nation with Preston Davis out front with a 3:58.4 mark. Second in line is teammate Arne Kvalheim at 3:58.5.

Southern Cal's Earl McCullough holds down the top mark in the 120-yard high hurdles at 13.3 with Richmond Flowers from Tennessee close behind at 13.5.

In the 440-yard intermediate hurdles, Oregon's Gary Knoke has the top mark with a 50.3 clocking with Ron Whitney of the Striders in the runnerup spot at 50.9.

Turning to the field events, eight men have gone over the 7-foot marker with Stanford's Peter Boyce being on top at 7-3. Close behind him is Ed Caruthers of the Pacific Coast Club with a mark of 7-2.

In the pole vault Southern Cal's Bob Seagren has the top vault with 17-1 1/2 with freshman Alti Alarotu from Brigham Young just a shade behind with 17-1 1/4. Fresno State's Erddi Mustakari has also cleared the 17-foot barrier.

Gayle Hopkins competing for Pasadena AA has the top mark in the broad jump at 26-5 1/2 with freshman Jerry Proctor from the Redlands next in line at 26-4. El Paso's Bob Beamon has also sailed over the 26-foot mark.

Charles Craig from the Pacific Coast Club is leading all triple jumpers with a leap of 52- 1/4. Teammate George Woods is the leading weightman with a putt of 68-1 while Randy Matson of the Houston Striders is a distant second at 66-5 1/2.

George Puce of the Striders is the top discus thrower with a toss of 11-3 with Jay Silvester second at 199-11. Washington State's John Van Reenan is in third place at 195-10.

Larry Stuart of the Striders is tops in the javelin with a mark of 272-3. Frank Covelli of the Pacific Coast Club is second at 265-8 while Ben Laville is in third at 260.

Southern Texas has the top billing in the mile relay breezing around the oval four times in a fine fashion of 3:07.0.

Dennis Channing

Channing Is Chosen New Idaho Trainer

Paul Ostyn, athletic director for the University, announced today that Dennis Lee Channing, R.P.T. has been hired as the new trainer for the university.

Channing will replace Packey Boyle, who will retire at the end of this school year.

Channing is 29, a native of Everett, Wash., and comes to the University of Idaho from Stanford, where he has been the assistant trainer since 1965. Channing also served as assistant trainer for the San Francisco 49ers during this past season.

The new trainer is a graduate of the University of Portland with a B.A. in education and received his physical therapy degree from Stanford in 1966.

Channing is married and is a member of the National Trainers Association and the American Physical Therapy Association.

Channing served in the U.S. Air Force from 1957-1960 in France, Germany and England.

"Channing is a fine addition to our staff. He will be a highly professional replacement for Packey Boyle, who has completed many fine years as our trainer. Being a registered physical therapist, Channing will aid the staff with his knowledge of the treatment of injuries, their cure and measures to prevent injuries," Ostyn said.

"Rehabilitation of injured athletes is of prime concern to any athletic program and his training as a physical therapist will greatly aid our program. I am certainly impressed with his experience in treatment of athletic injuries," said Dr. William Fitzgerald, university physician.

Registration Continues For Car Club Hillclimb

Registration will continue this Sunday for the hill climb to be held May 12 on the Winchester Grade. The University Sports Car Club which is sponsoring the event will accept entries from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the SUB Sunday April 28, according to Rick Tackman, pres.

Entry fees will be $4 for club members; $5 for student non-club members; and $6 for non-student, non-members. The hill climb will be run up the old Winchester Grade that was abandoned recently. Practice sessions will be held Sat. May 11 with the competition scheduled for May 12.

Entries may be mailed to the club, and will be accepted if received by May 1. They should be sent to: U.I.S.C.C., Rt. 1, Box 118N, Moscow, Idaho 83843. Questions can be answered by calling 882-5296.

Tackman also announced the expected attendance of Jean Calvin, rally editor of SPORTS CAR GRAPHICS magazine at the hill climb. She is currently writing a series of articles on University Car clubs and will do an article about the University organization as well as cover the hill climb for the magazine.

Committee reports were received Wednesday evening as the club made final preparations. Committees reporting were: fire equipment and ambulance, technical inspection, publicity, and communications, and the competition committee.

Play Two Doubleheaders At Weber, Idaho State

John Smith's diamondmen hit the road this weekend as they face Idaho State at Pocatello Saturday for a twinbill and then face the Weber State Wildcats in Ogden for a double affair on Monday.

In their final tuneup game before heading into conference play the Vandals fell victim to Washington State for their third setback at the hands of the Cougars, 10-5.

Bob Eieffer started on the mound and took the loss for the Vandals evening his record at 1-1. John Smith also called on Skip Ivie, Fred Horne and Pat Myers for brief pitching stints.

The Vandals have youth on their club and they had to pay the price as the diamondmen committed eight costly errors to the Cougars' one. WSU picked up two runs in the third, one in the fourth, two in the fifth, four in the eighth and one more tally in the ninth.

Idaho managed two runs in the seventh and three more in the final inning but their rally fell short with Skip Gillis taking the win for the Cougars. The Vandals' record now stands at 11-9 while the Cougars ran their mark to 20-3 on the season.

The Cougars picked up five unearned runs in the encounter which was originally scheduled for University field, but had to be switched to Pullman due to a sprinkler problem.

Second baseman Clyde Coon, who played his prep ball at Borah, was the standout for the Vandals as he rapped out five hits, all of them singles. Both teams picked up 11 hits in the wild encounter.

The Vandals will now be out to defend their Big Sky crown, but their defense will have to tighten up if they are to keep their crown. Idaho will meet Idaho State tomorrow at Pocatello in a crucial doubleheader and then will head for Ogden for a two-game clash with Weber State.

The Idaho-WSU Invitational Bowling Tournament will be held April 27-28 at the SUB bowling alley.

Coach John Smith is yet undecided about his starting pitchers in the Idaho State series, but will probably choose his weapons from Skip Ivie, Fred Horne and Craig Christensen.

"We are starting to hit the ball better," said Smith, after the Vandals hit some good shots off WSU starting pitcher Skip Gillis. Gillis threw a 4-0 shut-out at the Vandals in Clarkston last week.

Smith went on further to say, "Our pitching has been great, but we are going to have to tighten up our defense. I think the kids can do it, but they have got to get over their nervousness."

In the pitching department, Craig Christensen has a .40 ERA and has 34 strikeouts to his credit. Skip Ivie looks also impressive with a .81 mark followed by Pat Daniels and Pat Myers with marks of 1.00 and 1.28 respectively.

Phil Reser continues to lead the club in hitting hanging around the .400 mark and Clyde Coon could give the Vandals some added help in the hitting department. Coon had a .219 average before his five hit barrage against the Cougars.

Idaho's pitching staff looms up as being capable of handling the bat as Pat Myers is slugging away at a .333 clip and Fred Horne has compiled a .294 average. Craig Christensen has also proved himself dangerous up at the plate with a .286 mark.

IT'S BACK to the high jump pit for Steve Brown pictured here as the NCAA high jump champion will compete in a quadrangular meet at Cheney on Saturday with Eastern Washington, Whitman and Lewis-Clark Normal after recently being reinstated on the track team.

Hurdstrom Concert Slated for May 14

Karin Hurdstrom, a University of Idaho graduate and well-known European opera singer, has invited the Vandaleers to participate in her concert at the U of I May 14. Miss Hurdstrom is returning from Spain to give a benefit performance for FPAC next month.

Miss Hurdstrom was a member of both the Vandaleers and the Madrigals when she was a student in the mid-'50s. Professor Glen Lockery who was the Vandaleer conductor when she was here will conduct the benefit concert.

"I will know I am really home when I appear once again on the same stage with the Vandaleers," said Miss Hurdstrom. She has recently appeared in Madrid, Vienna, Salzburg, and Munich. "The success of Miss Hurdstrom on the international stage has given inspiration to the many Vandaleers who have followed here," said Professor Lockery.

"The opportunity to appear with her offers the biggest challenge of the year."

Miss Hurdstrom and the Vandaleers will appear May 14 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gym.

Frosh Honorary

Initiates Tomorrow

Initiation for new members of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary for freshmen women with a 3.5 first semester, will be held at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the SUB Ballroom, according to Cathy Rowell, Tri Delta, president of this year's group. The initiation service will be followed by a banquet in conjunction with Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary. Guests at the banquet include both old and new members of each group and their parents.

McCarthy Wins 'Choice 68' Election; 'Reduced Military Activity' Favored

A low voter turnout of approximately 1500 persons participated in Choice '68, the nation's first national collegiate primary. While the total results of the election will not be released until after the first of May, the results of a 30 percent sample are available.

According to the sample, Eugene McCarthy was the winner of the thirteen candidate Presidential race. In the Idaho state races Frank Church won a decided victory over his four opponents by picking up approximately 73 percent of the total vote. The two congressional races were won by incumbent James McClure in the first district and Ralph Harding in the second district.

In addition to the Presidential race on the Choice '68 ballot, there were also three referenda.

The most popular course for military action in Vietnam was a "Phased reduction of military activity." However, the course of action chosen in regard to the bombing of North Vietnam called for the U.S. to "intensify bombing." In confronting the urban crisis, "Education" came out as the most popular combatant.

When the voting polls opened there weren't any of the Choice '68 data processing ballots available due to an error in shipping them. The ballots arrived at 2 p.m. and all votes which had been cast on printed forms were later transferred over to the official cards.

Personal information which was registered on the Choice '68 ballots showed that the majority of the voters affiliated themselves with the Republican Party. The majority of the voters appeared to be in the 21-22 and older bracket. The personal information on the state ballots, which consisted of the voters home, religion and opinions on several referenda of state interest will not be computed until a later date.

The total breakdown of the sample showed that, out of 455 voters, 116 preferred McCarthy. Nixon was next with 101 votes. Other candidates were Rockefeller, 79; Kennedy-63; Reagan-48;

Johnson-18; Percy-7; Lindsey-7; Wallace-6; Hatfield-6; Halstead-4; Stasson-0 and King-0. The second and third presidential votes were not counted in this sample.

The course of military action in Vietnam broke down to "Phased reduction of U.S. military activity"-186; "All out U.S. military effort"-113; "Immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces"-65; "Maintain current level of U.S. military activity"-49; "Increase the level of U.S. military activity"-42.

The course of action in regard to the bombing of North Vietnam was topped by "Intensify bombing"-143; "Temporary suspension of bombing"-114; "Permanent cessation of bombing"-89; "Maintain current level of bombing"-85; "Use of nuclear weapons"-22.

The methods for confronting the urban crises were headed by "Education"-196; "Job training and employment opportunities"-140; "Riot control and stricter law enforcement"-70; "Housing"-35; "Income subsidy"-11.

There were 169 Republicans in the sample group, 102 Democrats, 156 Independents and three persons affiliated with other parties. The ages of the voters were dominated by those 22 and over with 139 persons. Next came 109 who were 21; 88 who were 20; 82 who were 19 and 23 who were 18 and under.

The state primary break-down showed, for the Senate, Church-935, Smylie-146, Cenarrusa-127, Murphy-86 and Hansen-46. The first congressional district race showed McClure with 703 votes for 58 percent of the total and White with 489 for 41 percent. The second district race showed Harding-267, Cenarrusa-248, Murphy-167, Orvil Hansen-159, Evens-54, Adams-47, Benson-44, Herndon-41, Forschlor-13, Egbert-7 and Loveland-25. In addition to these votes, there were also seven votes for Frank Benson for the Senate seat.

New Recruitment Committee Formed

A new committee on student recruitment was formed in E-Board action Tuesday night.

"Student recruitment has suffered from a lack of consistency, and until a comprehensive program can develop, it will continue to suffer," said Tom Carroll.

Members of the new committee are: Allison Miller, Taylor Gudmundsen, Tom Carroll, Rick Ritter, Frank Young, director of admissions, Rafe Gibbs, director of information, one representative from both IFC and Panhellenic, and two representatives from RHA.

A policy statement on obligations and expectations of ASU officials was rejected by the Board. The statement was to be used when new ASU officials take office so they would understand their obligation to the ASU.

In other action, the Board passed a report requesting that Faculty Council submit their rough work draft of minutes to E-Board members previous to each Faculty Council meeting. "The releasing of these minutes will keep students better informed of academic developments at the University of Idaho," said Board member Bob Young.

ISU Bengal Adopts Censorship Policy

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — The Idaho State University Communications Board has adopted a policy requiring the student newspaper to obtain faculty advisor clearance on editorial comment.

The newspaper, The Bengal, reported the action Wednesday. Editor Frank Hissong told the Associated Press he believes the board action stemmed from a request by University President William Davis.

Hissong said Davis apparently objected to certain material printed on the paper's editorial page, including work by a California cartoonist on the subject of abortions, and a guest editorial containing a four-letter word.

The Communications Board is composed of five students and four faculty members. The faculty advisor, Jack Groustage, journalism professor, must check all material related to commentary prior to publication, according to the new order.

Any violation of directives contained in the Communication Board's policy statement will result in dismissal of the editor, the paper said.
