

WE'VE BEEN ELECTED—Newly selected Associated Women Student officers include Sue Peterson, treasurer; Mary Fallini, president; Mamie Yee, secretary; Pat Johnson, IAWS contact; and Phyllis Unzicker, vice-president. Elections were held yesterday.

AWS officers elected Wednesday; Mary Fallini assumes presidency

Mary Fallini, a Pi Phi junior, has been elected president of the Associated Women's Students for the 1969-70 year. The new officers were announced Thursday noon after a poll election on Wednesday. The presidential race was uncontested. Miss Fallini steps into office with experience as house AWS representative, rush counselor, pledge class president, and membership on Frosh and Holly Week committees. Phyllis Unzicker, Alpha Phi, is the new vice-president. She is the outgoing AWS treasurer and has worked in the AWS Women's Days and Women's Hours Committee. Other juniors vying for the office were Gall Ostheiler, Tri Dell, and Sarah St. Clair, Kappa. An Alpha Phi sophomore, Mamie Yee, was elected to the office of secretary.

Miss Yee has served as secretary of Spurs, AWS house representative, house corresponding secretary, and a member of the Issues and Forums Committee and the AWS Women's Hours Committee. Other candidates for secretary were Jody Webb, a sophomore, Gamma Phi, and Sharon Williams, Pi Phi, a junior. Sue Peterson, Forney Hall, will serve as the new AWS treasurer. Miss Peterson, a sophomore, was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, ROTC sponsor, and Spur historian. She is also a living group officer. Meri Lee Mitchell, Pi Phi, and Christy Eiguren, Gamma Phi, both sophomores, also ran for treasurer. The new officers will be installed during Women's Days, March 3-4.

Like Creed, Warren traveled throughout Europe singing in small groups for his meals. In Israel he got a job in an American movie, "Cast a Giant Shadow" with Kirk Douglas and Yul Brynner. The clown of the Grassroots is Rick Coonce who was brought to the attention of Creed and Warren through a friend who heard him play in night clubs. Although he plays several instruments, his favorite is the drums. His greatest wish in life he says is to own the largest sailboat available and just "drift with the tide, or ride through rough waters." The last to join the Grassroots is Bob Grill, but only after several hundred lead singers were auditioned. The favorite sport of this 6-foot singer is fishing. In fact, his biggest ambition is to be enormously successful and hold the world's record for catching the largest bass. Appearing with them in concert is Oscar Peterson, a jazz pianist. Peterson is Canadian born and has won many piano awards throughout the world. He has recorded several LPs, both with his trio and featured with other great artists. Peterson has also been active in composing, his most well-known work being the "Canadian Suite." His guitarist described him this way: "Oscar is the complete pianist. He worked hard and systematically to develop himself professionally. There were nights during my years with the troupe when he thrilled me to unbelievable heights." Tickets are $2.50 for reserved seats and $2 for general admission. The first 15 rows on the gym floor are reserved as well as sections B and E under the balcony. All other seats will be general admission.

Oscar Peterson appears tonight with Grassroots

Reserve tickets for the Grassroots concert are selling fast with only a few rows available, the information desk reported late yesterday afternoon. Tickets are now being sold at the Wallace Complex Co-ed Lounge, the CUB, Haddock and Laughlin and at the SUB. The public is urged to purchase their tickets now as they are selling fast. The concert, scheduled for tonight, is in the Memorial Gym at 8 p.m. The Grassroots is a rock band consisting of Creed Bratton, Warren Entner, Bob Crill and Rick Coonce. Recent hits such as "Midnight Confessions," "Bella Linda," and "Good Feelings" are all part of the Grassroots sounds. Their two new albums are "Lovin' Things" and "You and Love are the Same" have just been released. Creed Bratton started in show business with his grandparents, and by the time he was ten years old he had mastered the trumpet and the guitar. When he grew older he traveled to Italy and there learned how to literally "sing for his supper." After that he traveled to over a dozen countries, hitting Israel

Jazz Festival to be held March 15

By Kerrie Quinn
Bud Brisols, trumpet soloist with the Henry Mancini orchestra and nationally known jazz pianist, has been named as the featured guest artist on the University of Idaho Jazz Festival to be held on March 15. Included in the day long program will be a contest for high school stage (jazz) bands from Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Montana. An instructional clinic session for the participants and an evening festival concert featuring the U-I's Jazz Lab Band, Brisols and other guest artists, will round out the day. Jazz band groups will range from 12 to 20 pieces. Judges for the contest will be Howie Robbins from Spokane and Prof. William Billingsly from Lewiston. A third judge will be named later. The groups will be judged mainly on quality of performance. Tickets for the Memorial Gym concert will be available from members of the sponsoring groups, at the Student Union and at Haddock and Laughlin. Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1.50 for students. The ticket sales should begin on February 24. Larry Craig, ASUI President, recommended that the Band Jazz Festival which includes the appearance of Bud Brisols, lead trumpet player for Henry Mancini be brought under Special Presentations of ASUI for coordination and implementation. ASUI is under no financial obligation in this production. This plan necessarily had to be brought before Executive Board of ASUI to come under the Special Presentations area. The program had to be recognized and the budget accepted. "We of the ASUI will be helping this program through ticket sales and publicity which is being paid for out of the income from the production," Craig added. The event, which is the first of its kind held in Idaho, is being jointly sponsored by the ASUI, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Ethel Steele House, Tri Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha. The four living groups will in the amount of $280 each, match the estimated expenses. The four living groups will each receive 1/4 of any new profit with the remaining half of the net profit being placed in the ASUI Scholarship Fund. This will be earmarked for music scholarships with the greatest part going to Band. "We feel this approach is well justified because of the energies now being expended by band on the concert promotion," Craig said. David Seiler, director of the Idaho group, said that "popular music and especially jazz has been a part of American life for a long time. It's about time it becomes part of the educational system. We are taking the lead in staging an event that is both educational for the participants and highly entertaining for the audience." Featured on the Idaho Jazz group's part of the program will be several arrangements done originally for the Stan Kenton band including his well-known "West Side Story" arrangements. Among the guests scheduled to appear is Julie Stonecipher, a well-known pop singer in the area and first runner-up in the 1968 national Junior Miss pageant.

Campus religious centers sponsor program series

Announcement has been made of the third in the Winter Program Series of the St. Augustine and Campus Christian Centers. This program will be on "The Population Bomb" and will take place, as the others have, Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Campus Christian Center. It will consist of an illustrated talk given by Dr. Harry Caldwell, with discussion to follow. "Of the four programs in our series, this is probably the one that will treat the best known subject," said The Rev. Edward Weiskotten of the Campus Christian Center staff. "People have been hearing a lot about the population explosion lately. It is a very serious concern and we want to treat it fully in this series, but we have purposely put it in the middle of the series because we want to present it in the context of several other problems that we believe are all inter-related. Poverty, hunger, and a disturbed ecology all have to do with population pressures. "We are very pleased that Dr. Caldwell is presenting the program for us," Weiskotten added. "He has the relevant information at his fingertips and has prepared it in an interesting visual format. He will also be able to speak out of first-hand experience since he spent four months in one of the most populous areas of earth, Asia, in 1967." A continuing feature of the Program Series is a display of graphs, charts and maps in the SUB, the St. Augustine Center and the Campus Christian Center which illustrates this week some of the population problems. Each display has free and low priced literature on the subject of the week. In addition the university library has prepared a display drawing attention to some of the books available in the library on the whole range of subjects in the series. The university bookstore likewise has displayed some of the more pertinent titles on sale in the bookstore. "A good many people have cooperated to make this whole series and the displays possible," Weiskotten said. "We appreciate the efforts of those in the library, the bookstore, the SUB,

CUP candidates must submit questionnaires February 19

Candidates running through Campus Union Party Convention on February 25 are urged to prepare themselves for the convention, Kristi Greenawald, CUP president said today. The pre-convention CUP questionnaire (below) for all prospective candidates will be due on Wednesday, February 19, at 8 a.m. to Jan Sinclair, Kappa. Those students running for Executive Board are to answer the two following questions with 60 words or less. (1) Faculty Council has rejected many student initiated proposals during this past year. As a prospective E-Board member, what would be your solution to this problem? (2) What can you as a prospective E-Board member do within the framework of the existing structure to re-align the student body behind the student government? Presidential candidates running through CUP are asked to answer the following two questions: (1) What are some of the contributions you would be willing to make to further the Idaho Student Government Association and make it an effective statewide student organization? (2) As president of the ASUI, in what area do you feel you should place the most time and emphasis? All questions are to be answered with approximately 60 words or less. The answers must be typewritten, double-spaced, and must include name, living group, phone number and class in school of candidate. A picture should also be submitted with the answers. These answers will not be accepted after Wednesday morning February 19. Vice-presidential candidates are to answer one of the above questions, and the question: As vice-president of the ASUI, under the present system, you would be in charge of Activities Council. Do you wish this present system to be continued, or would you like to see the vice-president relieved of Activities Council and be given more direct administrative responsibilities? A platform meeting for CUP officials has been called for Saturday morning, February 15, at 10 a.m. in the Student Union Building. The pre-convention caucus will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, February 19. At this caucus, living group representatives must present the names of the living group delegates for the convention.

Report that SCEE obtain Grassroots profits fails Tuesday

A report to turn profits over from the Grassroots Concert to SCEE (Student Committee for Equality and Education) failed at the executive Board meeting Tuesday night. The report requested that 60 per cent of the profits made from the concert be turned over to SCEE and their scholarship fund. Originally, the concert was booked by SCEE as a money making effort. But the SCEE felt that they could not handle the project alone, so they requested the help of Big Name Entertainment, who signed the contract. "There was a misunderstanding between SCEE and Big Name Entertainment," said Larry Craig, ASUI president. "Big Name Entertainment is not a profit making area, and it operates off of the student tax dollar." SCEE laid nothing on the line for this concert, since the $5,000 tab for the performers is being paid by the ASUI, Craig said. But at the same time, SCEE wants to pick up the profit, when they never even made an outlay, said Craig. "If this concert falls flat, then the ASUI has lost the total amount of money and SCEE is clear from any financial profits," Craig said. This might also mean the establishment of a bad precedent, said Craig. E-Board supported the Idaho Jazz Festival, but this is a different case, according to Craig. The groups sponsoring the Jazz Festival accumulated enough outside financial help to stand behind their concert, thus the ASUI had no financial responsibility, Craig said. "Furthermore, we can't underwrite autonomous campus groups," said Chuck Wardle. Tom Carrol disagreed and said that the ASUI should pay the penalty, since it showed negligence in not setting guidelines for which organizations could go by. The report failed to pass. In other E-Board action, the Board approved a new freshman orientation program prior to registration in which the new freshman would go through a two-day period to ease freshmen into college life. In other action, the Board approved the Band Jazz Festival, approved a regulations change (so that ASUI doesn't have to approve athletic sweaters and letters), approved a new position—a campus mailman and approved a travel budget for the Pom Pom Girls to go to Pocatello and Weber State.

Arnold Air Society Conclave held this weekend on Idaho campus

Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight chapters from 11 schools in Washington, Montana, Oregon, and Idaho will participate in the Northwest Regional Conclave at the University of Idaho this weekend. The activities at the Conclave will consist of a military ball, business meetings, and selection of the region's Little Colonel. The joint men's national Air Force ROTC honorary and the Air Force Auxiliary for women will meet to decide upon policies for the new year. Featured speaker for the Conclave will be Gerald W. Frank, special assistant to United States Senator Mark O. Hatfield, Oregon. Frank will speak on the war in Vietnam. He recently returned from a tour of Vietnam. The Little Colonel Award is given to the top Angel Flight member in the region. Representing the University of Idaho is Vicki Yoden. Miss Yoden, a sophomore from Blackfoot, Idaho, is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. During the past two years at the University, Vicki has accumulated many campus and living group activities as well as being active in Angel Flight. She is a member of Vandaleers, Alpha Chi AWS representative, Spurs, finalist for the 1968 Miss U of I contest, and pledge trainer for the Alpha Chi sorority. As an Angel Flight member, she has performed duties as Assistant Operations Officer, Information Officer, Angel Flight pledge trainer, Angel Flight drill team and songleader. Criteria for the selection of the Little Colonel includes Angel Flight participation, academic standing, personality, and beauty of face and figure. The selection of the Little Colonel will take place at the military ball being held Saturday evening. Following the regional Conclave Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight chapters at the University of Idaho will participate in a regional ski party which is planned for March 1. Squadrons from the Northwest have been invited to attend. Members of Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight will attend Air Force ROTC National Conclave at New Orleans during the week of March 30 to April 6. The national conclave will be highlighted by speeches and seminars given by national Aerospace leaders. During their stay they will also visit the fun spots and famous places of New Orleans. After the National Conclave members of the Idaho and WSU chapters will participate in their traditional "Angel Flight Olympics." The "Angel Flight Olympics" are being hosted this year by the Idaho chapter. The Olympics are very similar to those held every year by Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of Idaho. Later this spring, Arnold Air Society will form a briefing team on survival techniques. The briefing team will travel to schools in Idaho and deliver demonstrations and lectures on survival techniques. A limited number of scholarship grants in the amount of $250 will be awarded each semester to undergraduate foreign students. Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Prindle in the Office of Student Affairs. The deadline date of April 1, 1969 has been set for filing applications for the fall semester.

Editorial Opinion

Anything Goes, Baby!

The time for a change in the Argonaut's editorial policy has arrived and the following are guidelines for a possible understanding of the situation.

For the purpose of defining this policy the students at the University of Idaho will be divided into three categories, which are: the screaming liberals, composed of the left wing swingers that would have us print everything and do it sensationally; the typical Idaho conservative, who would have us print nothing that could possibly hurt the University; and the third group to be symbolized by Sayme Quantos', they could care less what we print or even if we print.

The first group has printed underground papers and tried to push their ideals in many ways. As to the second group of conservatives, these people take hush-hush subjects and expose them to the light of day in a sensational, irrational and slanted manner.

The merits of the exposure granted by the liberal publications are not high, but then the exposure does occur, and in many cases any public treatment would be better than the cloud of secrecy that often hangs over unpleasant affairs.

The second group would have us print nothing more than social news and the stuff that is news, but not really interesting or dynamic. Their closet of off-limits subjects would include anything unpleasant to the University and the numerous taboos that exist at the U.

The third group, Stymie's outfit, holds up its tradition and once again doesn't really care.

Basic editorial policy will continue in much the same manner as the past, but an introduction will be made to the scene.

It will amount to taking the subjects of the first group (the liberals) and treating them with the responsibility and respect of the second group (the conservatives) if they were forced to do something.

In other words, the type of story that is usually given the sensational treatment will be given the responsible treatment. Any subject is suitable for discussion by the Argonaut and any vesicle for the exploration is fair game, but it will be done responsibly.—s.a.b.

A Lesson To Be Learned

The Student Committee for Equality and Education has just had an opportunity to learn a good lesson on money-making ventures.

SCEE had an opportunity earlier last year to bring a big entertainment name to this campus for second semester. The agent told SCEE about all of the profits they could make if they hired one of his groups. And besides, the agent promised to knock $1,000 off the price of the two groups.

This could have been a good deal, but SCEE didn't have any money to pay the initial $2,500 contract fee, so they turned to Big Name Entertainment to help them out. They simply repay the ASUI after the successful concert and keep the profits for themselves.

But their entertainment turned out to be the "Grassroots" and the "Oscar Peterson Trio." Neither group had the credentials that draw a good college crowd; they weren't too popular, and furthermore the groups didn't have any great hits, which the students could identify them with.

Furthermore, a nationwide trend has indicated a drop-off in popularity of entertainment on a college campus. Student interest has dropped off and these entertainment groups have raised their prices.

The chance of profits on this program tonight at this time look very slim. In fact the ASUI will be lucky if it comes out even.

If SCEE would have made the investment in this entertainment, there is more than a good chance that this "money-making" project might have caused total devastation of the committee.

SCEE has showed a tremendous amount of promise so may they now tread lightly. It would be a bitter lesson if one big mistake utterly destroyed all that has been built so far by this progressive committee. Money never comes easily, so remember this road the next time you cross it. c.j.e.

Vanity is vain

Editor, The Argonaut:
My vanity is so vain,
And my profanity is so profane;
Even when I think of you,
And do not swear,
I looked for you in the library, I looked for you in the SUB, I looked for you in the University Drug, but you were never there; and not once did I hear you whispering.

I'm still here, not because I want to be, but because you want me to be. If I were not here, and I told you why, you would not like me. But that will not be, I have to like you, for your sake. You have given me your morality, and to keep from sinning by mine, I must abide yours.

Editor, the Argonaut:
I have certainly been happy listening to the pleasant sounds coming from the athletic department lately. Taken all together, they seem to say "we have only the interest of the student at heart." I beg to defer.

It seems to me that the love next to the heart of the athletic department is a self-love, encompassing only the jocks, their tutors, and of course, the faceless legions of Vandal Boosters throughout the Christian world.

What has the athletic department ever done for the student? It provides a little entertainment for the masses on a few Saturday afternoons. I for one do not appreciate watching official representatives getting stomped at the hands of what we are told is an inferior opponent. And it doesn't matter what sport, the University of Idaho gets stomped. What else has Doc Green and the gang done for us boys? Insisted upon a continuation of required P.E., so we can all grow up to be All-Americans. "Give me one hour a week, kid, and I'll make a man out of you." We got rid of required ROTC in 1963 and it is about time we got rid of its counterpart.

I think the athletic department should be disbanded. Then, if we must keep organized athletics, they should be under the control of the ASUI (E-Board) where the student body could have some control over them. The existing facilities would then be available for the use of the students, which would be a nice change, since the students are the ones paying for them.

John R. Foley

I passed every test and class last semester, but I flunked my course. I wasn't alone, however, all of my instructors flunked too.

There is reputed to have been a professor at the University of Oregon who offered to answer any questions on his normal topic (Milton) or on anything in general, including metaphysics. I have wanted to challenge all of the enlightened professors of this institution to put forth even one truth that can be proved. Just one little truth; it need not be large. After all, DNA is so small and perfect. Or is it? (Besides the possibility of some slight structural error, or a misinterpretation of the facts, what is perfect? Our tools, be they words or whatever, are often ambiguous.) We attack the world with what we have, our minds, and few of us consider men to be perfect. So tread lightly, but you won't. You'll stomp, and I'll stomp, and we'll put each other down. In nearly every class the instructor has said: "Now look at this objectively!" But I can't. But maybe you do, and surely he does. So look at these objectively: Why am I here? Where is my purpose? Does existence matter? Does this institution attempt to answer these questions? Can this institution answer these questions? Do these questions really need answers? Can a mind withstand true objectivity?

In an old notebook I have written:
The Leprosy of an inquisitive intellect festers and bleeds in the gaze of its own eye. The laser of logic sears an indiscriminate path across the mind's bare nerve. Misery's lips suck the wound shut, and the injured mind protects itself through clouded thoughts. Logic is smothered in the fantasy of love, and joy replaces contemplation.

The Monkeys are too busy singing, and I guess you're too busy dancing (your strings are showing), and the profs are too busy talking. I'm not too busy to put anybody down, it slows me down though, tryin' to pick myself up.

Zen opened its hand and there was nothing there. Why is your fist squeezed so tightly? If there is something there, why can't you show it to me? Oh! but you're right, knowledge ain't for the ignorant or uneducated.

Bob Dylan said: "Applause is bullshit." So I'm giving all of you out there a great big hand. And now you know what is the sound of one hand clapping.

ODE TO A STATUE

By R. E. Serrano

Where, oh where has my little car gone?
Where, oh where has it gone?
Under dirt-spattered snow, as it drifts along
I fear, I fear my little car is gone!

Where, oh where has my physical plant gone?
Where, oh where has it gone?
Say it isn't so, that in warm dry yards and houses of tin your collective vacations you're on.

True, oh true ole physical plant
When spring arrives please be advised
That the ghost of my little car again will arise.
Where, oh where has my little car gone?

But ticket me you might, ticket me you will,
Remember, oh remember
That my cold little car and hot little mind
Still cry out: "For God sakes, clear the parking lots!"

Focus The Darn Thing

By Bruce Noll

SETTING: Monday afternoon; Ad Parking lot.

CHARACTERS: Kampus Kops, Friends A and B, Kampus Kop Kar, Snowball.

ACTION: Kar turns by College of Law, Friend B throws snowball, hits back window of Kar.

SNOWBALL: Sploosh!
Kampus Kop stops, Kop exits as friends begin to walk away.

KOP: Hey, you! Lemme see some ID.
A: Who?
Kop: You in the glasses. Lemme see some ID.

A: Why?
KOP: (angrily) Lemme see some ID!
A: For what—what's wrong?
KOP: For . . . for just plain orneriness, that's what.

A: In what way . . .
KOP: Look, you gonna show me some ID or do ya want to go to the judge right now?

A: I'll go to the judge.

A goes with Kop to Kar; B, who threw snow, walks away. End of scene. End of play, for that matter, because nothing else happened. Even if the kop had picked on the right guy, (in this case me) nothing would have happened. Moral: Anybody can throw snow at the Kampus Kop Kars.

Nobody seems to know what responsibilities the Kampus Kops have other than to direct traffic. This is especially true since they try to do everything on campus except control the traffic. They have lunch from 11:45 to 1:00 or later and quit work at 4:45, when traffic really needs regulating. It has always amazed me to see these dudes brandishing guns — why the hell do they need a gun to show drivers where to park their cars?

I have been at a loss to find anything that positively explains their duties and authority. Can it be we have just let them assume the power they throw around? WSU campus police are members of the Washington State force. It seems that our Kampus Kops can arrest you only on the grounds that I can — citizens arrest.

The University supposedly pays one half of one Moscow Policeman's salary, for which, one would suppose, that officer spends half of his time on campus to maintain the laws. He is the Johnny with genuine authority who possibly merits our respect. These other dudes on campus it seems are out of bounds most of the time—that's why the Moscow Policemen laughed at them when a friend of mine did some investigating into the Kampus Kops' authority.

If somebody can find out what is going on let the rest of us know. Meanwhile, I wouldn't tell anybody not to throw snow at their kars. Nothing will happen—I mean what if ten or twenty guys lobbed snow at the Kampus Kop Kars? They might stay at their hamburger stand and forget about tickets for awhile.

The Gadfly

Student Affairs

by John Orwick

As a witness at a recent hearing held by the Student Bill of Rights Review Committee, Dean of Students Charles Decker advised students not to develop a bill of rights placing too great an emphasis on protecting students from the university. It would be wrong, he felt, to become too legalistic in our approach to student discipline.

The personnel of the Office of Student Affairs, which Decker heads, are men of good will and fair-minded in their contact with students. If Decker's pious proclamation is credible, Student Affairs has earned the trust of the students.

At this point it would be appropriate to examine the past record of the Office of Student Affairs and the nature of its fair-minded dealings with students.

In the fall of 1966 Student Affairs investigated a burglary at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. One of the suspects—later cleared of any involvement—was a resident of McConnell Hall, Dewey Newman, at that time Dean of Men, phoned the proctor at McConnell, Ben Goddard, to request that Goddard send the student to Newman's office for questioning.

A short time later Newman again called this time to order Goddard to search the student's room while Newman was questioning him. Though Goddard refused, it should be clear that the Dean of Men felt no compunction about breaking into a student's dormitory room.

Another incident involving Student Affairs developed in the spring of 1968. In addition to being Dean of Men, Newman also served as a Major in the Marine Corps Reserve. It was in the latter capacity that he addressed a letter to the Bureau of Navy Personnel recommending that a student enrolled in Naval ROTC be dropped from the program.

Newman based his recommendation on a series of complaints he had allegedly received from Dale Ogle, the roommate of the student in question. Ogle later filed a sworn affidavit stating that he had made no such complaint to Newman, that the conversations were initiated by Newman and, most importantly, that Newman had assured him that anything he said would be considered privileged information and kept strictly confidential.

When he was later questioned about this incident, Newman glibly observed that his first obligation was to the Marine Corps, not to the University of Idaho student body. Dewey Newman is no longer Dean of Men, and the entire staff of Student Affairs has changed its approach to students this year—or so Dean Decker would have you believe. With this in mind, it is interesting to consider a meeting which occurred on campus sometime last year, probably in September, 1968.

Participants at this meeting included Allan Sheppard, Idaho State Attorney General; Cliff Barnett, head of the Idaho Board of Pharmacy; Harry E. Davey, Newman's replacement as Dean of Men; and Charles Decker, Dean of Students. Dean Davey misplaced his personal notes of that meeting, and so the discussion is available to us in some detail.

The major topic of discussion apparently was drug abuse by University of Idaho students, and what could be done about it. With the knowledge, approval and cooperation of the Office of Student Affairs, Barnett's Board of Pharmacy has enrolled "at least one undercover agent, and hopefully two more right away" as students at the University of Idaho.

A careful distinction needs to be made here. Laws prohibiting marijuana usage, however distasteful to some persons, must be enforced by someone until such time as the legislature repeals them. The objection is not with the enforcement of these laws, but with the University agency coordinating enforcement on this campus.

In theory at least, the Office of Student Affairs operates a counseling service for the benefit of Idaho students. Davey's notes mention that a doctor at the Student Health Center could not be required to disclose privileged information about student drug usage. Presumably the psychologists employed as counselors by Student Affairs would not be so exempted. The conflict of interests is too obvious to require elaboration.

The conclusion compelled by this evidence is also obvious: don't say anything to a Student Affairs counselor you wouldn't want revealed to a grand jury. The counselor who is there to serve you may be obligated to the narcotics control agency. Hopefully, the identity of the student undercover agents will be available for publication next week.

If the above are examples of fair-minded actions of men of good will, as Decker claims, the Student Bill of Rights currently being developed should include every possible safeguard to protect the Idaho student from his University.

College Bowl holds two tournaments

February 4 the kickoff match and the first two tournament matches of College Bowl were held.

In the faculty exhibition match Team A, with Dr. Greever, Mrs. Nancy Waldo, Dr. Sullivan, and Dr. Proctor, won over Team B with 130 points. Team B, with 115 points, consisted of Dr. Hosack, Dr. Howler, Dr. Barber, and Dr. Edwards.

Following the kickoff Campus Club defeated the Fiji team 120 to 50. In the third match of the evening Willis Sweet won out over Kappa-Lambda Chi II with a score of 135 to 65.

Thursday, Feb. 6, Kappa-Lambda Chi I defeated the ATO's 110 to 80; Gault Hall brought in 150 points to Phi Phi's 95; and the SAE's defeated Hays Hall 215 to 60.

Matches this week were held Tuesday and Thursday evening in the Dipper. Tuesday the 11 Carter Hall competed with Olesen, Phi Kappa Tau with McCoy, and Delta-Gamma Phi II with Alpha Phi.

Thursday matches included Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Campbell Hall; Beta Theta Pi vs. Farm House; and Upham Hall vs. French House.

Next week tournament matches will again be held in the Dipper, 3 matches Tuesday and 3 Thursday. Matches begin at 7:00 p.m. A schedule giving the dates and results of all matches is posted at the sub.

STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION—The Physical Plant finally decided to do something this winter and only yesterday started clearing the SUB parking lot. Of course the ruts are still very predominant, but we'd like to take our hats off to George Gagon and his crew. They're finally getting the right idea.

Prof. lauds growth potential

"Idaho has a great potential for growth," University of Idaho Business Administration Professor Charles W. Rice, Jr. stated in an address about the state's economy this week in Newport Beach, Calif.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Western Regional Science Association, Rice said:

"Although Idaho ranks No. 9 in economic development out of the 17 western states, all indications show that it has a potential for economic growth."

Ranking Idaho's industries in comparison to the other states, he commented:

"Out of the 17 states, Idaho's forestry industry is No. 5, agriculture is No. 10 and tourism No. 11. However, Idaho ranks No. 7 in land devoted to forestry and No. 15 in land for agriculture. This indicates that the state has higher crop values and uses its forest lands better."

Rice and a graduate student Robert D. Lawson recently completed an economic factor analysis of the 17 western states which he used as the basis for this talk.

Sales and Sales Management Training Program

This Program is designed to develop young college graduates for careers in life insurance sales and sales management. It provides an initial training period of 3 months (including 2 weeks at a Home Office School) before moving into full sales work.

Those trainees who are interested in and who are found qualified for management responsibility are assured of ample opportunity to move on to such work in either our field offices or in the Home Office after an initial period in sales.

Aggressive expansion plans provide unusual opportunities for those accepted.

Tri Deltas offer annual scholarship of $300

Applications will be received for the $300 scholarship offered by Delta Delta Delta sorority until March 1, 1969. The award is open to all full-time undergraduate women students on campuses where Tri-Delta has a chapter.

Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Student Affairs or from Gail Ostholder, Tri Delta Services Project Chairman. The scholarship award is based on scholarship, service and need.

Tri Delta scholarships are offered on each of the 108 campuses that have chapters. The successful candidate on each campus is automatically placed in national competition for one of the $1000 National Awards.

This year the recipient of the award will be announced at the Pansy Breakfast to be held May 11. Last year's winner was Nancy Knox, A Phi.

During the past 25 years, the scholarship award program offered by the Tri-Delta Service Projects has recognized and assisted 3,400 women students with awards granted totaling over $500,000.

KUID presents child abuse show

The hostile world of parent-abused children will be discussed February 17 at 9 p.m., when KUID T.V., the University of Idaho's educational station, presents "The Battered Child."

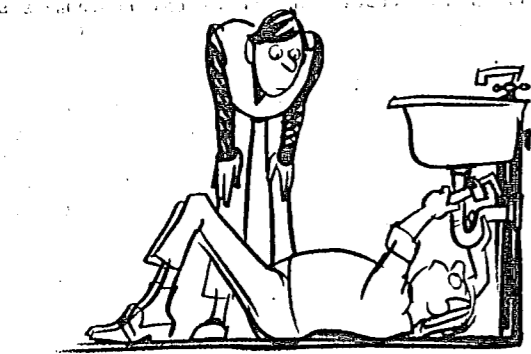

Candid interviews with "battering" parents highlight the program's case studies, which are drawn from a current group of children at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver.

Parents appearing on the program include a mother who devised tortures for her bed-wetting five-year-old son, and another woman whose four-week-old baby "mysteriously" developed bruises and a broken leg.

The program also draws upon the observations of pediatricians and psychiatrists treating children at the medical center.

Another authority appearing on the program is Roger Allott, Colorado Springs district attorney, who states the case for therapy rather than prison sentences, a practice that is being followed increasingly in Colorado actions against abusive parents.

Lindley Hall 1 is independent champ

Lindley Hall-1 defeated Lindley Hall-2 last night to capture the Independent basketball trophy for the second year in a row. The win gives Lindley a shot at the campus championship next Wednesday night against the Greek champions.

Lindley swept into first place in Independent basketball with a 1-2 finish Tuesday over runner-up Willis Sweet. It was the second 1-2 finish for Lindley this year.

In the first game Tuesday Lindley-1 dumped Willis-1 50-17. Behind hot outside shooting and a stingy defense Lindley raced to a 24-7 halftime advantage. Despite numerous turnovers to a Willis press, Lindley increased that advantage until the final whistle.

Three Lindley players in double figures were led by John Taft with 13. Dan Meeker tallied 11 and Roy Lundeen 10 for the winners. Leading scorer for Willis Sweet was Jim Wickboldt with 9 points.

Lindley-2, 36, Willis Sweet-2, 19 was the final of the second game. Cold shooting by both sides in that contest resulted in a 14-6 halftime score.

ABOUT TO COMMIT VANDALISM are Idaho's Steve Brown (31) and Adrian Prince (25). Monday night's game with the Idaho State Bengals ended in riot. The Vandals managed to break a seven game losing streak beating the Bengals 60-58. The two teams meet again tonight and tomorrow night in Pocatello.

Idaho beats Idaho State ends Big Sky shutout

The Idaho Vandals edged Idaho State University Monday night in 60-58 in a conference thriller. The Vandals, ahead 43-27 at the half, went cold in the second period, scoring only 4 points in the first nine minutes of that period.

three more points before Idaho got on the scoreboard again with a short jump shot by Adrian Prince and a long one by Jim Thacker brought the Vandals back 53-52, with 7:25 remaining.

With 9:25 left in the game, the Bengal's Lane Broyles hit a jumper to tie the score at 49-all. The Bengals scored

The lead changed hands until a hook shot by Jerry Smith gave the Vandals a 56-56 tie with 5 minutes left to play. Both teams worked for a good shot but Idaho got the next score off a tip-in by Bob Ross. One shot free throws by Phil Waddell and Smith gave Idaho a four point advantage, and a desperation jump shot by ISU's Trent Magnar was to no avail.

Waddell held the ball out of bounds after that shot until the gun sounded. A minor scuffle ensued when both benches and some fans poured onto the court.

Annual Navy rifle meet to be held tomorrow

The University of Idaho Naval ROTC will host seven ROTC and varsity rifle teams from four universities in the annual ROTC Invitational Rifle Match, Saturday, February 15.

Participating in the competition will be Army ROTC from Washington State University, Army ROTC and varsity teams from Eastern Washington State College, Army ROTC teams from Gonzaga University, and Army and Navy teams from the University of Idaho.

The match, open to the public, will be fired on the rifle range in the Memorial Gymnasium—beginning at 8 a.m.

Officials for the competition include Roy Nokleby, Moscow; Lt. R. A. Conder, USN, and Lt. D. L. Holick, USN.

Alpha Phi wins WRA bowling

By KERRIE QUINN
 Alpha Phi sorority came in first in the Women's Recreation Association winter bowling tourney which has been underway for the past two weeks. The A Phi's, who compiled 1853 points in the contest, had team members Carol Blodgett, Terrie Vance, Willie Hawkins, Jan Gamble and Phyllis Unzicker.

Coming in second with 1770 points was Hays. Third place was wrapped up by Campbell with 1598. Alpha Gamma Delta with 1591 was in fourth place and in fifth was Tri Delta with 1530 points. One hundred points went to the winning team for living group participation points.

In the individual series tournament, composed of three games, Carol Blodgett, Alpha Phi, came in first with 450 points. Second place honors went to Terrie Vance with 400 points. Third place winner with 389 series was Eda English. In fourth and fifth place were Betty Helm with 374 and Linda Barriochoa with 355 respectively.

Individual scorers in the tourney were Barb Boren, Alpha Gamma Delta, with a 193 high game. A 162 score for second place went to Carol Blodgett. Third place went to Eda English and Peggy Long wrapped up fourth position.

IT LOOKS BAD for Idaho's Greg Marhenke as he tries to struggle out from under Whitworth's Don Ogden. Seconds later Marhenke reversed Ogden and went on to win the 123 pound class with a pin in the third period. Idaho beat Whitworth 40-2 Monday night.

Grapplers beat Whitworth 40-2

The Varsity wrestling team won their third straight Monday night beating Whitworth College 40-2. The game was played after the varsity basketball game with Idaho State.

Whitworth's only score came in the heavy-weight class when Whitworth's Mike Carr wrestled Idaho's Ed Clauson to a 4-4 draw. Each man was awarded two points.

Idaho had five pins and three decisions to sweep the rest of the match. The Vandals pinned their opponents in the 123, 137, 145, 160 and 167 pound classes. Idaho's Craig Stuart won by forfeit in the 130 pound class. Pete Vallojo decisioned Whitworth's Steve Tucker 12-2 in the 152 pound class.

In the 123 pound class Greg Marhenke (D) pinned Don Ogden in the third period. Marv Seal (D) pinned Keith Huntington in the third period to take the 137 pound class. Roger Thomas (D) won the 145 pound class in the first period, pinning Pete Vanderwegan in 2:11. Mike Boeck (D) also won in the first period, pinning Tom Lawrence in 2:45 to take the 160 pound class. In the 167 pound class Henry Bommer (D) pinned Darrell Voss in the second period. The Vandal grapplers meet Montana at 3 p.m. in the Memorial Gym today.

There will be a Pre-Game Feast dinner tomorrow before the Montana State basketball game from 5-7 p.m. in the Blue Bucket. The price is $1. Special features will include piped-in music and soft lights.

We want engineers who want to get away from it all.

If you're the kind of engineer who can't stand the thought of sitting at the same desk in the same office day after day, then you're the kind of engineer we want to talk to.

We want to talk to you about a career in technical marketing.

Engineers in this field spend most of their time out in the field. Sales, application and field-service engineers are always on the go. Talking with GE customers. Selling GE products and systems. Solving other people's problems.

To do all that, you have to understand a lot more than engineering. You have to understand people and how to communicate with them. And that can be one of the hardest jobs there is.

If you'd like to know more about a career in technical marketing, plan to talk to our representative when he comes to campus. He can tell you how you can get away from it all and, at the same time, get ahead.

SPORTS OPINION

by Dave Finkelnberg

The Idaho Wrestling team will face the University of Montana today at 3 p.m. in Memorial Gym.

The Vandal matmen will be looking for their fourth win in as many starts after defeating Gonzaga, University of Alberta and Whitworth College in the past week.

We talked with wrestling coach Ron Stephenson earlier this week, and he was quite happy with the way his team has improved during the season. "I am starting five freshmen now," he told us, "and by the time they are seniors they will be beating everyone around."

Ron didn't neglect to mention that his freshmen, and the rest of the squad are doing pretty well right now. His lightest freshman, Craig Mahrhenke, has won his last three matches in the 123 pound class. The next three divisions are also represented by freshmen. Craig Stuart, at 130 pounds has a 7-4 season record. Wrestling at 137 pounds Marv Seal, who didn't go on the mat for the Vandals until this semester, is 2-2 so far. Roger Thomas, at 145, has pinned his last two opponents.

Pete Vallejo, at 152 pounds, is Stephenson's only starting senior and has a 5-3 mat record.

Probably the most improved wrestler on the squad is freshman Henry Boomer. The 167 pounder has won his last five matches despite his lack of experience. Jim Lemmon, third in the Big Sky Conference last year at 177 pounds and heavyweight Ed Clauson, who has an 11-3-1 record for the season, top off the team.

From the looks of things we can't help but conclude that wrestling, which wasn't revived at Idaho until three years ago, has a bright future. What's more, the fans who turn out for today's match will find wrestling's presence here is pretty shiny too.

The Vandals meet the ISU Bengals Friday and Saturday evenings in Pocatello, then travel to Ogden for a game on Monday with the Weber Wildcats.

Coach Anderson is taking plenty of snakebite remedy with him for this trip to the Bengal lair. We don't blame him. We haven't seen many friendly crowds in the Pocatello snakepit.

"We'd sure like to win one on the road this season," coach Anderson remarked wryly this week. This is the Vandal's last road trip. Speaking of ISU, Anderson admitted, "we have our work cut out for us, but we should be able to handle their press. Our biggest problem is shooting."

We can understand Anderson's worries about his team's shooting. The Vandals have dropped five conference games by 10 points or less. An increase of 1 or 2 per cent in the team's shooting average could have made the difference in any one of the games.

The bright spot in the scoring column is, of course, Jerry Smith. Smith, who scored 27 and 32 points against Weber, poured in 22 points in the first half against Idaho State before an unfortunate collision left him seeing double.

Despite the injury, Jerry came in late in the second half to score a crucial field goal, and then the final foul shot to put the game on ice.

Jerry is now the second leading scorer in the conference, with 20.7 points per game and a fine 52 per cent average for the six starts.

Also coming on for the Vandals are forward Bob Ross, and guard Marv Williams. Both earned starting berths Monday night, and have been doing good court work for the team.

Coach Anderson's reply to a question about Weber State was, "We'll play them on Monday." Certainly the Vandals will find tough going against the league-leading Wildcats on their home court.

We can't help remembering, however, the Vandals who bumped off Weber in Ogden a couple of years ago, after the Wildcats had won 45 straight games on the home court. This year's Vandals have the formula for that sort of win.

Last Friday night weekend they showed they could take the edge off the Justis Thilgen-Willie Sojourner scoring combination. The Vandals just forgot to show score themselves.

Monday night the Vandals poured in buckets at a .550 clip in that torrid first half. They showed an even stronger scoring punch against the University of Washington.

We wouldn't be too surprised to see the Vandals get their stuff together down south. In the meantime, listen to your radio. Game time is 7 p.m. for all the games this weekend. When look forward to the return of the Vandals for a pair of home contests next weekend.

Swim Coach Chet Hall takes his tankmen to Western Washington for two double dual meets this weekend.

The Idaho swimmers take on Highline College and Western Washington College at Midway, Washington on Friday, then go after Portland State and Central Washington in Ellensburg on Saturday.

Idaho has never gone against Portland in a dual meet, and the same goes for Highline. Both appear to be strong, however, and "The matches could go either way," says Coach Hall.

"Central Washington is probably the toughest of the four," Hall told us before heading west, and "We barely beat Western Washington last year."

Last weekend Dan Kirkland made a clean sweep for the first time this season, of the three events he entered, as he won the 500 and 1000 yard free-style events and the 200 yard individual medley.

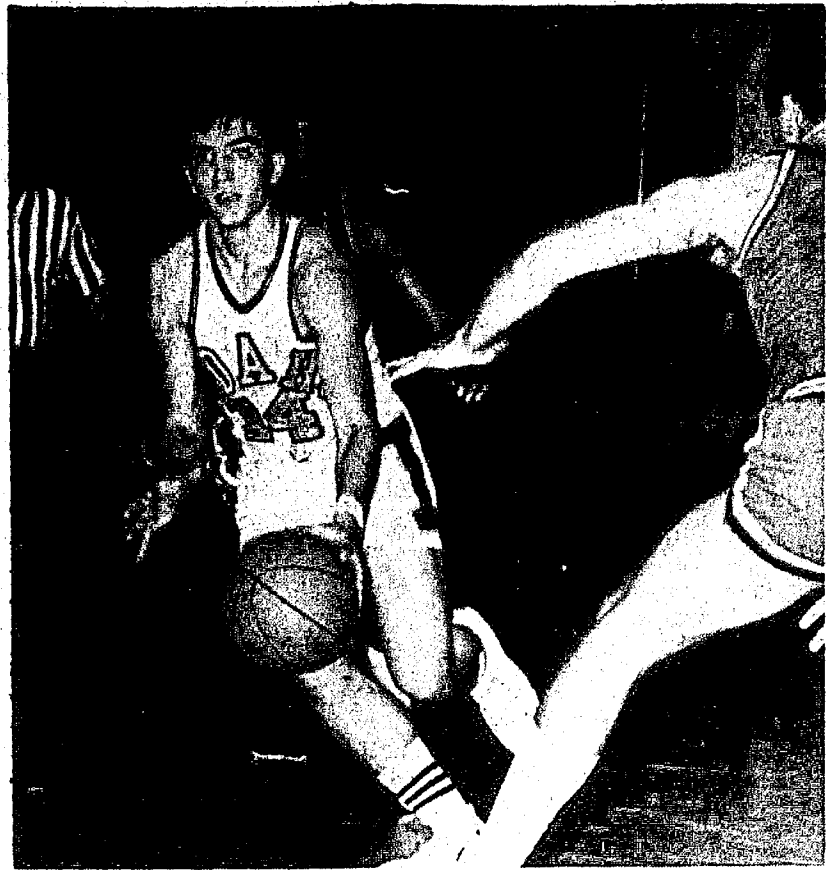

Other team members picking up firsts in that meet were Marc Greenwell in the 200 yard backstroke, Terry Thelsson in the 200 yard freestyle, Jim Dean in the 200 yard butterfly and Bob Bonzer in the 200 yard breaststroke event.

With the team in better shape than it has been all season, the tankmen appear to be ready to better their 3-3 dual meet record.

The next meet for the swimmers will be home match against the Highline College team at 2 p.m. on February 22.

Vandalettes meet

Present and prospective Vandalettes will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Music Building. Sweaters are to be turned in at this time.

JIM THACKER leads the conference in free throws. Thacker has hit 19 out of 20 in the last six games for 95 per cent. Joining Thacker in the Big Sky stats is Vandal Jerry Smith. Smith is second in the conference in field goals. He has averaged 20.7 points per game in the last seven games.

Idaho ski invitational to be held at McCall

The University of Idaho Invitational Ski Meet held annually at McCall, Idaho, begins tomorrow. Ten teams from the northwestern United States and western Canada will participate in the two-day event.

Vandal ski coach, Bruce Henry said the slopes are in excellent condition and the weather is expected to be ideal for the contest.

The team left Moscow by car yesterday morning in order that they would have a day to practice before the match.

Slalom and Giant Slalom races will be held at the ski area in McCall on Saturday. The Vandal alpine team is composed of Bob Zapp, Brent Brady, Bob Pace,

Freshmen lose again 73-71

The Idaho freshmen dropped a cliff-hanger to Wenatchee Junior College 73-71 Saturday night. The Vandals, trailing by only 2 points, 40-38, at the half dropped behind by 7 in the early minutes of the second half. The freshmen began attacking that margin, gaining a 71-71 tie with a minute left to go, but couldn't find the range for the crucial basket. A last second shot by Bertuca clinched the game for Wenatchee.

Adrian Wegner scored 24 points and hauled in 14 rebounds to lead the Vandal frosh in both categories.

The University Museum is showing a color film on Easter Island every afternoon at 4:15 p.m. through February 23.

Billionth dollar loaned

The billionth dollar has been loaned under the Guaranteed Loan Program for college and vocational students, Commissioner Harold Howe of the U.S. Office of Education has announced.

The billionth dollar was one of 600 borrowed by Cynthia E. Reed, 20, a freshman English major at Whitworth College, Spokane, Wash., who plans to become a teacher. The $600 loan from the Old National Bank of Washington in Spokane is insured by the Federal Government.

Miss Reed is also receiving financial assistance under two other programs administered by the Office of Education's Bureau of Higher Education. She has a $750 National Defense Student Loan and expects to earn $280 this year in her job in the college cafeteria under the College Work-Study Program.

The Guaranteed Loan Program, authorized by the Higher Education Act of 1965, makes long-term, low-interest guaranteed or insured loans available to students attending approved colleges, universities, vocational, technical, trade or business schools.

Students obtain their loans from banks, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, credit unions, pension funds, and similar lending institutions. The lender is protected against loss by a State agency or by the Federal government. A loan can also be guaranteed by a private nonprofit agency, United Student Aid Funds, Inc. (USAF).

Generally, a student may borrow up to $1,500 each academic year to a maximum of $7,500 for his college career. Repayment of principal does not begin until nine to twelve months after the student has left school. A student may generally repay his loan over a period of five to ten years, although he will be required to pay at least $360 per year. Repayment of principal may be deferred while the borrower is serving in the military, Peace Corps, or VISTA, or during any time he returns to full-time study.

The maximum interest rate is 7 percent per year. If a student comes from a family with an adjusted income of less than $15,000 a year, the Federal government pays all interest charges while he is in school and until the repayment period begins. It also pays the interest during any period when repayment of principal is deferred.

The Office of Education expects that 750,000 loans totaling more than $641 million will be made by the end of the current fiscal year, which closes June 30, 1969. In fiscal year 1968, approximately 515,000 loans totaling some $426 million were made. About 330,000 loans totaling approximately $248 million were made in fiscal year 1967.

The rapid growth of the program is indicated by a comparison of loan activity for 1967 and 1968 during the months of July, August and September-peak months for student borrowers. In 1967 during these months 223,642 students borrowed $202.7 million; in 1968 during the same months 326,260 students borrowed $313.4 million.

THE GRASSROOTS—Appearing in concert tonight will be the Grassroots. They will perform in Memorial Gym at 8 p.m. Tickets are still on sale at the SUB and range in price from $2 general admission to $2.50 for reserved seats. Oscar Peterson will appear with the group.

Martin contributing author for text

The various facets of Idaho government and politics are discussed by Dr. Boyd A. Martin, dean of the College of Letters and Science at the University of Idaho, as a contributing author for a new political science textbook entitled "Politics in the American West."

According to Dean Martin, "the book recognizes the growing importance of the West in American politics, and gives a thorough analysis of elections in 13 western states during the 1958-68 period."

He wrote the chapter on Idaho, discussing its geography and resources, population, education, news media and public opinion, nominations and elections, party organizations and party leaders, pressure groups, legislative politics, voting habits, and the impact of national politics and trends.

Dean Martin, a native of Idaho, received his B. A. degree from the University in 1936. His M.A. and Ph.D. were earned at Stanford University.

He has served as president of the Western Political Science Association and the Pacific Northwest Political Science Association, and is a member of the Constitutional Revision Committee.

Numerous articles have been written by him for the American Political Science Review, the American Scholar, American Assembly, and Western Political Quarterly. He is also the author and co-author of various books, including "Introduction to Political Science," "Apportionment in the 1960's," and "Responsibilities of Colleges and Universities."

Dr. Philip M. Crane, Chicago, Ill., a member of the National Advisory Board for Young Americans for Freedom, will appear at the University of Idaho on February 19 at 4 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom to speak on "America's Heritage... The Faith We Have Not Kept."

He is being sponsored by the University's student chapter of Young Americans for Freedom.

Dr. Crane gained national recognition in 1964, when he wrote "The Democrat's Dilemma," a critical analysis of the modern Democratic Party.

Formerly head of the Department of History at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., he resigned his position in 1967 to become the headmaster at Westminster Academy in Chicago.
