

Public hearings held here this week

Board to consider fee hike, financial exigency

by Bill Will of the Argonaut

The financial future of the University of Idaho and the state's other institutions of higher education will be determined this week when the State Board of Education/Board of Regents meets on campus in the SUB Galena Room.

Student fee increases as high as $200 per semester and action by the board that would pave the way for layoffs of faculty and staff members are some of the possible results of the April 8-10 meeting.

The session will open at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday with a public hearing to consider a proposal to increase student fees and non-resident tuition by $50 to as much as $200 per semester, to take effect for the Fall 1981 semester. Scheduled for Friday at 8 a.m. is a hearing to help the board determine if a state of financial exigency should be declared at any of the institutions or agencies under the jurisdiction of the board. Such a declaration would allow layoffs of staff and tenured and non-tenured faculty members in financially stricken departments.

UI President Richard Gibb told a faculty group last week that board action on fee increases will be the determining factor in his decision to ask—or not ask—for a declaration of financial exigency at any UI departments.

Gibb said he hopes that board action to make permanent the $50 temporary fee increase levied this semester plus an additional $50 per semester increase would enable UI to get by, with a declaration of financial exigency necessary in only three UI departments—agricultural research, cooperative extension, and public television. All three programs were victims of extensive budget cuts mandated by the Legislature.

The Board will also set a public hearing date at its May meeting for student housing and food service rate increases. If approved in May, the increases would take effect for Summer Session 1981.

The requested increases are in the neighborhood of 9.5 percent for university living halls. The cost of a double-occupancy dormitory room and a B-plan (14-meals per-week) food service contract would rise from $1,572 for the 1980-81 academic year to $1,722 for 1981-82. Rents at all married student housing apartments would increase by $10 per month.

The increases are needed to cover higher personnel costs and inflationary increases in operating expenses, UI officials say.

University administrators are not the only ones seeking fee increases at the meeting.

The ASUI is seeking two fee increases totaling $5.50 per semester. The ASUI is asking for a $3.50 increase in the general ASUI fee and a special $2 fee to go to a special entertainment fund to bring concerts to UI.

ASUI President Eric Stoddard called the $3.50 increase "top priority." He said that ASUI departments would be able to maintain current operations if the increase were approved.

"If we do not have it, I don't know," said Stoddard. "We will have to make some pretty serious examinations of some of our departments," he said.

Final determination on the request will be made at the board's May meeting. Both increases were approved by UI students in past ASUI elections.

KUID-TV will broadcast the meetings live over the campus cable system, which can be viewed by persons on campus on channel 9. The broadcasts will be 8:30-10:30 a.m. Wednesday, 8:30-noon Thursday and 8-10 a.m. Friday.

KUID also will broadcast three one-hour capsules of the meetings Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 10 p.m. on channel 12. The shows can be viewed throughout KUID's viewing area.

At the Special Olympics, you don't always have to finish first to win.

by Mary Kirk

Barry Evans lost a wheelchair race this Saturday in the Special Olympics at the Pullman High School...but only because he didn't use his wheelchair.

There were just two contenders when the race began: an eager Jessie Bergman in pigtails and Barry, who proudly wore his red warm-up suit with racing stripes.

Each of them laughed and kidded as they lined up on the track. But at the pistol crack, only the flapping pigtails sped ahead on shiny wheels.

With a smile almost as big as he was, Barry pulled himself up on a pair of metal crutches, left his chair behind, and started to walk down lane number two.

"Come on Barry! Keep going, keep going!" screamed out the kids and older folks on the sidelines and in the bleachers.

Flashing a grin under the brim of his sports cap, Barry shuffled determinedly on his way. He got a bigger boost about halfway along when another fan zoomed in close.

Spinning the wheels of Barry's own wheelchair, the curly-headed starter of the race rolled alongside him.

Pointing her starting pistol out in front, she cheered Barry and his crutches towards the resurrected piece of string at the finish line.

One step and then another. In no time at all, Barry reached the string and a clapping reception from his fans, a couple of photographers and his pig-tailed rival.

He beamed as several Tri-Delt members helped him back into his chair and pinned a red, second-place ribbon on his jacket.

"I wonder how many more (events) do I got?" asked Barry as his mother wheeled him off to the side. "Do I have any more?"

When he heard the quiet answer of "No, that's all for you," Barry's ever-bright grin disappeared for a second. But it soon came back. After all, he was a winner.

Racing for victory, Jessie Bergman and Barry Evans of Moscow placed this weekend in the Special Olympics sponsored by the UI Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Student victim of assault, burglary

A University of Idaho student, Teri Jo Keefover, returned to her home on Morton Street Friday at 12:30 a.m. and was met by a burglar armed with a knife.

Keefover, a sophomore majoring in journalism, was tied to her bed by the intruder who demanded money. When she told him she had no money, he left saying he would return.

Keefover managed to free herself and ran to a neighbor's house for help.

Police are still investigating the incident.

State still defendant in Barker suit

A request by the state of Idaho to be removed as a defendant in a civil suit filed against University of Idaho football player Larry Barker was denied Friday by Judge Andrew Schwam.

The suit, filed last November by Stan and Marla Slutz against Larry Barker and the State of Idaho, claims "the University of Idaho knew that he (Barker) was a man of violent and dangerous disposition...and permitted and encouraged Larry Barker's dangerous and violent propensities." The Slutzes sued the state because UI is "a University of the State of Idaho."

The Slutzes filed the suit after Stan Slutz was beaten unconscious, had his jaw separated from his skull and had his nose and other facial bones broken in a fight Dec. 12, 1979.

Barker was charged with the beating but the charges were later dropped for lack of evidence.

The Slutzes are suing for damages totaling $116,000.

in court

University of Idaho student Terry A. Fah, 109 E. Fourth St., number 23, pleaded innocent Monday in magistrate's court to a charge of disturbing the peace. Fah allegedly disrupted a class in Morrill Hall about 9 a.m. Friday by threatening Dick Beeson, an assistant professor of sociology, and challenging Beeson to fight. A pretrial hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 21 at 4:15 p.m.

A preliminary hearing for George Diogenes Blalack, Upham Hall, on a charge of first degree burglary, has been rescheduled for Friday, April 17, at 1:30 p.m. in the magistrate's division of Idaho District Court in Moscow. Blalack allegedly broke into the stereo lounge in the basement of Wallace Complex on March 21. The preliminary hearing was originally scheduled for April 3.

police blotter

Three people reported their wallets stolen from the College of Law building and two others reported their purses were taken from the Faculty Office Complex Thursday morning.

Mary Lezaniz, Sue Shields and Timothy Wilson, all law students, reported their wallets taken sometime Thursday morning. The wallets contained cash, various credit cards, checkbooks, keys and student ID's.

Janyce Paulsen, senior secretary at the FOC, and Linda Mayo reported their purses were taken from an unsecured closet in the FOC between 8:15 and 8:45 a.m. Items taken consisted of cash, a pay check, an insurance check, credit cards and an endorsed check for $493.

Police have no suspects in the thefts.

Kenneth Tallman, Delta Sigma Phi, reported that someone did about $150 worth of damage to the hood of his car between 7 a.m. Thursday and 6 p.m. Friday while it was parked in the parking lot at the University Ridge Apartments. The damage was possibly done by someone jumping on the hood of the car.

Robert I. Frazier, Graham Hall, reported that someone stole a stereo worth about $150 from his room between 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Thursday.

Paying for frills

Should the State Board of Education/Board of Regents pass the $100-per-semester fee increase requested by the presidents of Idaho's four-year colleges and universities?

A reasonable person might say that however the board might try to explain such a fee increase, if it passed the increase it would be charging in-state tuition, which is illegal.

A reasonable person might also say that Idaho's colleges and universities desperately need the money, and that this is not the time to quibble about legal technicalities.

Certainly higher education is in desperate financial trouble. Even with a $100 fee increase, it might be necessary for the board to declare a state of financial emergency.

But at the University of Idaho students pay $50.50 per semester in fees to support intercollegiate athletics. These fees bring in a total of almost $700,000 per year. And more than $500,000 of state money is spent on athletics. The total of state money and student fee money spent on intercollegiate athletics at UI is about $130,000 less than UI would raise from the $100-per-semester fee increase.

It is unrealistic to expect the board to completely abolish intercollegiate athletics, however appealing that alternative might be. At the same time, it is not fair to ask students to pay substantial fee increases unless substantial cuts are made in intercollegiate athletics.

After all, it is students who pay the most for, and benefit the least from, intercollegiate athletics. Idaho students may well be willing to overlook legal technicalities to maintain the quality of their education. But they will be quite legalistic when it comes to paying for unnecessary frills.

'No comment,' says ATO president

by Betsy Brown
of the Argonaut

Alpha Tau Omega chapter President Dan Pence declined to comment Monday night on whether the ATOs had changed their minds about releasing the name of a house member who fired five shots at the Delta Gamma sorority in February.

A possible vote on the issue had been scheduled for the ATOs chapter meeting Monday evening.

But Assistant Dean for Student Advisory Services Bruce Pitman is optimistic the issue will be resolved in the next few days. "We're getting very close to agreement with the chapter (about the release of the name of the man who fired the shots)," Pitman said Monday night.

The ATOs were placed on probation by the University of Idaho in late March after they voted to protect the identity of the man who fired the shots. As part of that probation, Pitman called the ATO national fraternity and informed the national office about the situation.

The displeasure of the national fraternity apparently prompted Pence to consider putting the issue to another house vote. The ATOs tentatively planned to vote on April 1, but postponed the decision until Monday's chapter meeting. Pence would not tell the Argonaut what decision, if any, the fraternity had made about the issue.

"We're kind of in a resolution period," Pence said. He said he didn't think it would be proper for him to comment. "There isn't a position right now," he added.

Pitman said he thought Pence had declined to comment because the negotiations between the Pence and himself had not yet been completed. "Frankly, there are a couple things he and I need to talk about tomorrow," Pitman said. He said he would have a "far better and more complete" picture of the agreement that would be worked out in a few days.

In February, then ATO chapter President Brad Hazelbaker told the Argonaut, "I highly doubt it was a member of our house." Pitman took no action against the ATOs until he determined that an ATO member had fired the shots, and that the fraternity had decided to shield the man.

ASUI program cuts considered

The ASUI senate will consider Wednesday night several bills that could provide some changes in the structure of the ASUI.

A bill that if passed would eliminate the Entertainment Committee under the Activity Center Board, and another that would move it under the Programs Department are on the agenda.

A bill to eliminate the Ethnic Cultural Awareness Committee will also be considered.

The senate may also establish a special committee to assess the future needs and changes of the SUB.

Another bill would provide for the expansion of promotional duties under the ASUI promotions department.

This bill would, if passed, have the promotions department work in cooperation and be responsible for outlining and executing advertising for the ASUI Entertainment Committee.

Thrills n' spills

Editor,

The University of Idaho Rodeo Team would like to extend an invitation to the students, faculty, alumni, and friends of UI to join us April 10-12 (Parents' Weekend) in Lewiston for the UI National Intercollegiate Rodeo.

This is a fine opportunity to see some of the top collegiate cowboys and cowgirls in the northwest compete for prizes in bull riding, calf roping, barrel racing, saddle bronc riding, and many other events.

The Idaho team is small but determined and hardworking and needs your support to produce a successful rodeo. So plan on bringing your parents and attending a performance Friday or Saturday, or the final round Sunday where the top 10 in each event compete for the championship.

Enjoy a western tradition and catch the thrills and spills of rodeo at the same time. Be with us Parents' Weekend, April 10 (3:30 p.m.), 11 and 12 (1:30 p.m.) and let 'er buck.

Death swims

Editor,

In response to Melanie Hutchinson's letter:

swimming to deaths and injuries in the Nuclear Power industry.

If everything potentially harmful was banned, living would be illegal.

Peace walk

Editor,

On April 8, 9, and 10 a group of people from the Bay area on a "Walk to Moscow, U.S.S.R." will be in Moscow, Id.

They began walking at Seattle and plan to walk across the U.S., Europe, and the Soviet Union to Moscow. They were given permission by the Soviet Consul in San Francisco to walk through the U.S.S.R. to Moscow, where they plan to be 1 1/2 years from now.

As they walk they will be promoting peace, calling for a halt to nuclear weapons, and asking the governments of the U.S. and U.S.S.R. for mutual disarmament.

Idahoans For Safe Energy invites the public to help welcome this group to Moscow at a potluck dinner on Wednesday, April 8. Bring something to eat if you can, hear their story, and learn about the issues at 6:00 p.m. at 510 E. Morton Street. You may also meet with them at the Cafe Libre on Friday, April 10 from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m.

Serious shot

Editor,

This recent incident concerning a Greek house shooting a rifle through the walls of another house really fills my shorts. This is a serious crime and should be dealt with accordingly. Suppose I had shot at another house from my apartment window, I would now be in jail facing charges of discharging firearms within city limits, willful destruction of property, and recklessly endangering the lives of others. If my roommate had tried to protect me, he would be charged with withholding evidence.

I guess the Greeks were punished; they were put on social probation. WHOOP TE DOO WHOOP TE DOO! I think it's time that the system is changed so that these Greeks become responsible for their behavior.

Tom McDonald

Solutions

Editor,

Since last Monday I have continually heard the resurgent cries of our darling little liberals for federal handgun controls as a solution to the problem of violent crime. Not only are subscribers to this concept naive, but they remain in their dream world on this issue like many other liberal/socialist ideas.

The solution to this problem lies in the punishment of criminals, not weapons. There should be a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment for anyone convicted of committing a felony with a firearm, and the mandatory death penalty for all convicted murderers. Honest, decent, and law abiding American citizens do not deserve to have their rights taken from them based on the argument that doing so would control the criminal elements of our society.

Bell named College of Education dean

Tom Bell, currently associate dean of the University of Idaho College of Education, has been named dean, UI officials announced last week.

Bell, 40, has been with UI since 1966 in a variety of administrative positions in the college, including assistant dean and director of the division of teacher education, a post he currently holds.

"It's pleasing to see such an outstanding candidate among our own faculty," UI Academic Vice President Robert Furgason said. "The reputation that Bell has built over the years is widely heralded throughout the state and region. We're pleased to have a person of his stature and his reputation to be our next dean of the College of Education." Bell will assume the post July 1.

Bell did his undergraduate work at Idaho State University and graduated from there in 1957 with a master of science degree in educational administration. In 1966 he was awarded a doctoral degree in educational administration from Utah State University.

Over the past decade he has served as a consultant to the Yakima Educational Service District, the Anchorage, Alaska School District, the Department of Education in American Samoa, the Queensland, Australia schools and to the government of Guam as well as directing UI's College of Education off-campus programs in the state.

Prior to coming to UI he was a public school teacher in Jerome, Bancroft and Grace, as well as principal and superintendent in the North Gem School District and superintendent of Grace Schools, both in Caribou County in Southeast Idaho.

Everett Samuelson, current dean of the college of Education for the past 17 years, will become Distinguished Professor of Education Administration and direct international education programs in the college. There were 130 applicants for the college dean position.

Idaho men soar in track meet

The Idaho men's track team won 11 of 16 events in the Moscow USA Games while the Vandal women took four firsts Saturday to mark the first meet on the Vandals' new $200,000 outdoor track.

The meet brought an assortment of small and junior colleges here for a non-scoring meet. Montana and Boise State also participated but sent only women representatives.

Against the lesser talent, the Idaho men enjoyed a hey day compared to their season opener against WSU a week ago. The only event in which the Idaho men failed to place in the top three was the javelin.

"The meet had lesser competition where we belong comparing scholarship handouts," said Idaho men's coach Mike Keller about the meet. "It was much better from a week ago."

Jim Sokolowski and Dave Harewood paced the Vandal performance by winning two events apiece. Sokolowski won the long jump with a 22-11 leap and the high jump at 7-0. Harewood took the 100 meters in 10.6 and came back to win the 200 in 21.3. Harewood also ran the anchor leg on the Vandals' 1,600-meter relay team which won in 3:15.8.

"Dave did a good job in the 100, 200 and the relay after a lack-luster performance last week," complimented Keller.

Keller also thought Ray Prentice did a good job in the 800 where he ran a lifetime best of 1:51.8 to finish second.

Mitch Crouser took the discus for Idaho with a 182-0 toss and finished second behind former teammate Steve Saras in the shot put. Saras, who graduated last spring from Idaho, competed for the Moscow USA team and won with a 60-3 throw. Crouser's toss was measured at 58-3.

Neil Crichlow won the triple jump for the Vandals with a 49-7 jump while Mark Rabdau finished second in the pole vault.

Mike Martin took the 110 hurdles in 14-3 while teammate Jon Segal placed third in the 400 hurdles. Sam Koduah won the 400 for Idaho in 48.3 and participated on the winning 1,600-relay team along with John Trott, Dave Benton and Harewood.

This Saturday, the Vandal track team will be in Boise to compete in the All-Idaho meet against Boise State and Idaho State.

Road trip leaves Vandal netters at 8-5

The Idaho men's tennis team lost to Boise State 6-3 Friday in the opening match of the Boise State Invitational.

On Saturday, Idaho was once again defeated when Utah State gained a win, taking Idaho 6-3. Idaho was able to take a win in the number one position with Mike Dailey defeating Dave Edmond 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. In the number three position it was Idaho's Doug Belcher defeating Tod Kent 1-6, 6-4, 6-4. Meng Kai of Idaho in the number four position was successful over Hank Kennedy 6-2, 6-2.

Idaho finally got things together to outplay Montana 9-0. All Idaho players were successful in the win over Montana. The men ended the weekend with a 1-2 record and are 8-5 overall on the season.

The Idaho men will take on Lewis-Clark State College tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. on the courts behind the women's gym.

After a week off from play, the Idaho women will host the UI-P&E Athletic Invitational. Play will begin at 2:30 p.m. Friday and go all day on Saturday.

Golfers roll

The Idaho men's golf team opened its season on the winning side when it finished second in the Washington State Invitational before winning the Columbia Basin Invitational.

In the WSU meet, the host Cougars won the match with a 757 score. Idaho was next at 767 followed by Eastern Washington 785, Columbia Basin 791 and Montana 801.

Dave Jasper enjoyed an outstanding meet for Idaho when he won medalist honors with a 36-hole total of 146. Mark Burton was next for Idaho at 154 while teammates Sam Hopkins and Gary Cooke tied at 155.

The Idaho team then won the Columbia Basin Invitational with a 773 score.

Special events highlight weekend

Parent's Weekend at the University of Idaho is different things to different people—The Turtle Derby, spring football, visits with old and new friends, awards ceremonies, concerts and special dinners are but a few of the activities offered.

The annual event will be Friday through Sunday.

Many UI offices and departments will have open houses all day Friday. An art faculty show and photos from the Moscow Mardi Gras will be displayed at the UI Fine Arts Gallery. Living groups will hold open house all day Saturday. The annual Student Awards Assembly will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the SUB Ballroom.

There will be a tour of the Veterinary Science facilities from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. Saturday. A public reception is planned from 4-6 p.m. Saturday at the home of Dr. Floyd Frank, dean of the Idaho Faculty of the Northwest College of Veterinary Medicine, 1495 Walenta, Moscow. A guided tour of the College of Law will be offered at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

For the sports oriented, there will be a UI NIRA Rodeo at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Tammany 49ers Arena, Lewiston, and a Vandal varsity football scrimmage from 4-5:30 p.m. in Moscow Friday. Saturday's sports events include the Dick and Pat Snyder Memorial Golf Tournament all day at the ASUI Golf Course, with presentation of awards an hour after dusk; a UI women's tennis tournament beginning at 9 a.m. on the courts behind the PE Building, another round of rodeo competition, and a men's and women's rugby tournament beginning at 9 a.m. at the Wallace Complex fields.

Concerts and similar entertainment events planned include Phi Delta Theta Flicks, outdoor movies beginning at dusk Friday; "My Fair Lady" with showings at 7 and 9:20 p.m. Friday in the SUB Borah Theatre, and the Beethoven Mass in C performed by the UI Chamber Singers, UI Chorus and the UI Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m. Friday in the Administration Auditorium, admission free, reception to follow.

Also planned are a UI Dance Theatre studio concert at the Physical Education Building at 3 p.m. Saturday, admission $1 donation; "A Musical Celebration," featuring music from Renaissance to Bluegrass at 8 p.m. Saturday at St. Augustine's Church and reception to follow at St. Augustine's Center with an offering to benefit the St. Augustine's Building fund; a parent and student dance beginning at 9 a.m. at the Moscow Elks' Lodge to the music of the UI Jazz Band, and Coffeehouse at the Wallace Complex Coed Lounge from 9 to 11 p.m. Saturday, featuring the Dulcimer String Band from 9 to 10 p.m. and the Bottom Dollar Boys from 10 to 11 p.m.

Other activities include a Parents' Association Board of Directors meeting at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Cavanaugh's Motor Inn; the Phi Delta Theta Turtle Derby at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, and a belly dancing workshop from 1 to 5 p.m. at the SUB, featuring Lee Ann Fromig.
