

Concerns committee needs members to defeat in-state tuition

by Bobbi Humphries
of the Argonaut

Thirty-five committee members are needed on the ASUI political concerns committee, according to Douglas Jones, committee chairman. Jones said there should be one member from each legislative voting district on the committee.

The committee's main priority this year is to defeat the legislative proposal to install in-state tuition, Jones said. "We hope to raise enough noise that they will defeat the proposal."

Other projects of the committee will be to try to defeat the redefinition of tuition and to place a student on the state Board of Education, he said.

Functions of the committee include doing research for the ASUI lobbyist before and during the legislative session, to act as a communicative tool between the lobbyist and the ASUI and to encourage students, their parents and alumni to communicate with their legislators, he said.

Jones said they also hope to encourage students to participate more actively in local, state and ASUI elections.

"This committee is ideal for anyone who wants to make a big impact on student affairs," Jones said.

To date, there is still no ASUI lobbyist, but applications are currently being accepted.

Jones would like to encourage anyone interested in being on this committee to pick up an application at the ASUI office in the SUB as soon as possible.

"I hope to get it off the ground quickly so we can prepare our lobbyist adequately for the legislative session beginning in January," he said.

Campus planning: long range plan, streets, top agenda

by Dan Eakin
of the Argonaut

A long range campus plan, the street modification program, and the jogging path are seen as main issues to be discussed this semester by the campus planning committee, according to Dwaine Marten, committee chairman.

At the advisory group's first meeting of the semester, held Friday, Nels Reese, director of facility planning, said when he came to the university in 1978, it "needed some kind of planning process."

Reese said the comprehensive plan the committee would like to develop will be flexible enough to be modelled to the needs of the campus, but the committee could "use it as a kind of Bible so we can say, 'well, can we put a building here or not?'"

At the meeting, Marten said the street modifications being considered by the planning committee are to be discussed by the City Council Oct. 12.

He said street modifications and campus renovation projects will require $95,000 to do the preliminary beautification work and approximately $300,000 additional money to make all the campus changes, which include student malls, bike paths, and extra lighting.

Dianne Milhollin, handicapped programs director and planning committee member, asked the committee to consider increasing crime rates when discussing campus renovations, because the handicapped are especially vulnerable to crime.

Milhollin also asked the committee to consider additional handicapped parking spaces on campus, including one space in the law school parking lot, three spaces beside the library, and keeping the two spaces in the Administration Building lot.

She asked that a lot be added near the Ad. Annex to accommodate a handicapped student who has to go there to pick up his paycheck. Milhollin said in the winter months it is tough for a wheelchair-bound individual to traverse the snow-covered lot. Four spaces behind the Communication Building were also suggested.

Nelson Curtis, new committee member and head of the art department, said parking has always been a premium on campus and that the space requested near the Ad. Annex would be a misuse of space since it would be used only twice a month when the individual goes to pick up a paycheck.

The committee tabled any recommendation on the requests until a future meeting.

Another issue to be discussed by the committee has to do with construction of a new arboretum near the golf course. Reese said the new arboretum discussion has surfaced because the proposed jogging path is designed to go through the site set aside by the arboretum committee for the new arboretum.

The next planning meeting is Friday at noon in the physical plant.

The Argonaut is published twice weekly during the academic year by the Communications Board of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho. Offices are located in the basement of the Student Union Building, 620 Deakin Avenue, Moscow, Idaho, 83843. Editorial opinions expressed are those of the Argonaut or the writer, and do not necessarily represent the ASUI, the U of I or the Board of Regents. The Argonaut is distributed free of charge to students on campus. Mail subscriptions are $6 per semester or $9 per academic year. Second class postage is paid at Moscow, Idaho. (USPS 255-680).

Copying on campus is growing concern

With all the copy services available around campus, students and professors should have no problem finding utilities to fit their needs.

The Printing and Duplicating Service, located at the Alumni Center, and the Satellite Copy Center on the first floor at the Food Research Center both offer low costs for high volume duplicating. They also print books, brochures, and newsletters.

A number of departments and colleges are now getting their own copy machines. The library, the SUB, and the Administration Building are also equipped with copy machines. Most of these convenience copiers charge about 5 cents per copy.

Downtown Moscow also offers a variety of copy services.

Weatherly moves

John Weatherly, one of the assistant deans for Student Advisory Services, has left to become president of the Nebraska Indian Community College in Winnebago, Neb.

Weatherly started as president of NICC on Monday. His major duties include accreditation and lobbying for funds in Washington, D.C.

While in Nebraska, Weatherly will also work to ensure continued funding of his former UI position. He is preparing statistics, showing the cost per student and the number of students affected by his position, to be presented to a review board. Without funding, the position will be eliminated, Weatherly said.

Weatherly had been at this university for three years. While here, he was involved with new student orientation and student retention. He was also director of Minority Advisory Services. He hopes to return here after gaining experience at NICC.

EARN OVER $850 A MONTH RIGHT THROUGH YOUR SENIOR YEAR

If you're a junior or a senior majoring in math, physics, chemistry or engineering, the Navy has a program you should know about.

It's called the Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate-Collegiate Program (NUPOC-C for short) and if you qualify, you will receive a $3000 Bonus immediately and earn as much as $850 a month right through your senior year. Then after 16 weeks of Officer Candidate School, you'll receive an additional year of advanced technical education. This would cost you thousands in a civilian school, but in the Navy, we pay you. And at the end of the year of training, you'll receive another $3,000 cash bonus.

It isn't easy. There are fewer than 300 openings and only one of every six applicants will be selected. But if you make it, you'll have qualified for an elite engineering training program, unequalled hands-on responsibility, a $40,000 salary after four years, and outstanding qualifications for jobs in private industry should you decide to leave the Navy later.

Ask your placement officer to set up an interview with a Navy representative when he visits the campus on February 21-24, or contact your Navy representative at 206-442-5700 (collect). If you prefer, send your resume to the Navy Nuclear Officer Program, 300 - 120th Ave NE, Bldg. 1, Suite 200, Bellevue, WA 98005, and a Navy representative will contact you directly. The NUPOC-Collegiate Program. It can do more than help you finish college: it can lead to an exciting career opportunity.

Karl Mark's—yes to accessibility

Because Moscow's Karl Marks Pizza believes in being of service to anyone, the accessibility of the restaurant to the handicapped will be improved said General Manager Mark Ferguson on Wednesday.

Ferguson told the Argonaut that, contrary to a statement made by an employee in a Friday article, its owners intend to make the building accessible as soon as it is "feasibly possible." This includes making the front entry way easier to get into, and checking the restrooms, he said.

And, added Ferguson, several handicapped people now come to Karl Marks and his staff is more than willing to lend helping hands.

For $499 an amazing music system that isn't a 'starter' or a compromise for a limited budget, but a total delight to own.

Thanks to a pair of really amazing new speakers from Boston Acoustics, we are able to offer the best low-cost stereo system we have ever heard, a system with truly wide-range, absolutely convincing sound.

The new A-60 speakers are the latest product of a company which specializes in (and has an unmatched reputation for) lowering the cost of excellence in sound. The A-60's go as far up the frequency scale as anything you can find, and their bass equals that of far more expensive speakers. (It's within an ace, in fact, of the absolute best to be had at any price.) In between top and bottom is the musically balanced octave-to-octave response that gives all Boston loudspeakers the sound people keep calling "right."

To power the Bostons, we've chosen the Hitachi SR2000 receiver, an outstanding unit with clean low-distortion sound at all listening levels. The Hitachi SR2000 will also bring in an amazing number of AM and FM stations without fuss or fuzz.

If you drop in (with your favorite and/or most demanding record, if you wish), we'll be happy to explain how the new Bostons sound the way they do for the price. Once you hear our Boston system the only thing you may want to know is how quickly we can bring one out of the stock-room.

For a record player, we've

Palouse bus returns

This semester's version of the Palouse Area Transit System, commonly called the "drunk bus", will begin service between Moscow and Pullman Oct. 9.
The bus will run for six consecutive Fridays. Fridays were chosen as the operation day because that is when traffic between the two cities is greatest, Kathy Moll-Gauthier, ASWSU publicity director said.
She said the key to continuing the service after the $2,400 operating budget runs out in six weeks is the number of riders.
"If we do get enough ridership to make the thing worth keeping around, we will keep it around", she said.
Moll-Gauthier said the bus is for anyone who wants to ride between the two cities to do shopping, go to a movie, or let their kids go skating.
She said the new malls in Moscow have created an even greater incentive to come to Moscow, making the bus system feasible.

If the six week trial period turns out to be successful ASWSU will analyze the results, prepare a report, and then set a proposal before the WSU Assembly asking for more money and possibly more buses, Moll-Gauthier said.
Being hopeful, she predicted a "real positive response" to the bus system. An average to better than average ridership will be required to make the system work, she said, but those levels of ridership do not guarantee the service will break even.
She said transit systems rarely break even, and usually require subsidies of some sort to operate.
Round trip tickets on the bus cost $1.50 and Pullman ticket outlets are the WSU Bookstore, the WSU Question Center, and Mr. Sandwich. Moscow outlets are Roger's Ice Cream and the SUB Information Desk. Tickets will also be available on the bus, which will have six round trip runs each Friday evening.
The two bus stops in Pullman are: downtown Pullman and the WSU Bookie. The four stops in Moscow are: 1516 Pullman Rd. (in front of the Best Western), 645 Pullman Rd. (in front of Cavanaugh's), Friendship Square, Ratskellers, and First and Main. The bus runs between 4 p.m. and 2 a.m.

Programs department recruiting committee members

by Bobbi Humphries
of the Argonaut

Members are needed on a number of committees under the programs department, according to Bill Spoljaric, programs board manager.

Committee chairpersons have been selected by ASUI President Eric Stoddard and will probably go before the senate this week for approval. Spoljaric said. However, members are still needed on the art, coffee house and issues and forums committees.

"Sitting on one of these committees is not only good experience but can be fun as well," Spoljaric said.

The programs department is divided into two areas: entertainment and special events.

Under the entertainment portion are concerts, SUB films, art shows, coffee house and issues and forums. The special events portion includes Homecoming, parents' weekend, blood drives and the cultural awareness committee.

the department's budget is earmarked for concerts, with issues and forums taking another large chunk. It is often hard to compete for concerts with Washington State University where seating is more abundant, he said.

rather concentrate on smaller shows, Spoljaric said. The board hopes to bring more variety to the students this year including comedy, music, speakers and films.

Harriers enter Whidbey meet a different team from years past

by Don Rondeau
of the Argonaut

Traditionally, the Fort Casey Invitational at Whidbey Island, Wash. has been an Idaho cross-country stronghold. In the meet, the Vandals face stiff competition from the likes of Washington, Montana, Montana State and other Pacific Northwest teams. This weekend, when Coach Mike Keller takes his team to the 1981 Ft. Casey meet, the task could be tougher than it's ever been.

One thing interesting to note about this year's squad is that there are only two scholarship athletes. According to Keller, "The NCAA expects us to compete in three sports, cross-country, indoor track, and outdoor track, with a maximum of 14 scholarships. Here at Idaho, we have 12.

"We're the only sport in the NCAA that doesn't have enough scholarships to make a full team up. For example, a Division I football team may give out 95 scholarships," he said.

Keller believes the shortage of scholarship money serves as a definite disadvantage in recruiting. "The type of athlete that I'm able to recruit here at Idaho is entirely different than it would be at Washington State where they have funds to bring in more athletes to their institution," he explained.

Added to the financial problems facing Keller, he also lost three seniors from last year's squad, including All-American Kole Tonnemaker.

"Any time you lose three seniors, let alone an All-American, it is definitely going to show up. We are in a rebuilding year because of that. We're fortunate that Andy Harvey and John Trott have helped us out in having some leadership," Keller said.

Because of the young team Keller has, he has made some changes. "We had to change our workout status a little bit because of the type of individuals we have, their ages and the mileage they put in the past," he said.

Keller feels that the Pelleur meet, held Sept. 19, is no comparison to the competition at Fort Casey. At this meet, the Vandals will get a taste of Big Sky competition from Montana and Montana State.

Keller said he will be very interested to see how his two top competitors, Harvey and Trott, will do against Big Sky competition.

Along with Harvey and Trott, LeRoy Robinson, Don Rondeau, Kevin Wolf, Brad Webber, Steve Lauri, Jim McKean, and Frank Knapp will make the trip to Whidbey Island.

Meanwhile, a different type of problem has come up for the women harriers. Sonia Blackstock, a 1980 cross-country All-American has a ruptured tendon in her foot.

Head coach Roger Norris doesn't know when Blackstock will be able to return. "It may be a week, or it may be three months—I have no clue. It's just a matter of how fast it heals up," he said. Norris feels that losing Blackstock would definitely hurt the Vandals in their attempt to win a national championship in November.

Norris is not planning to rush Blackstock back. "We are not going to have her run for us until she is completely ready," he said.

On the positive side, the Vandals are coming off a second place finish in the Old Faithful Invitational at Yellowstone National Park. There, they defeated Division I Schools, losing only to Minnesota.

"I was pleased with how they ran. We didn't have any spectacular performances, but everybody ran up to expectation. Caroline Crabtree, who finished third for us, by far ran the best race of her collegiate career," Norris said.

The women's team will also compete with the men at Whidbey Island. Sherrie Crang, Caroline Crabtree, Kelly Warren, LeeAnn Roloff, Sandy Kristjanson, Jenny Ord, Randa Allen, Regina Corrigan, Julia Fudge, Helen Waterhouse, and possibly Blackstock, will run for the Vandals in the meet.

Sophomore All-American Patsy Sharples will not run in the meet. She will be competing in the 10K Diet Pepsi Championships in New York on the same date.

Four months ago, Idaho Coach Mike Keller was the happiest man in Moscow, his Vandals having won the Big Sky Conference Track Championship. Now, with only 12 scholarships at his disposal, he's paying the price by being forced to use half-milers by trade in cross country meets.

Vandals look respectable in 21-6 loss to Hawaii

Even in losing to the Div. I Hawaii Rainbow Warriors, the Idaho Vandal football team served notice that it can play as well as any team on its schedule—and, save some misfortune on special teams, can beat any team they'll face.

The Vandals lost, as expected, to the 95-scholarship rich Rainbows, but what was unexpected was the final margin of difference and the fits Idaho gave their WAC opponents throughout the game, as Hawaii managed but one score from one drive on offense.

The final 21-6 score itself will serve notice to Big Sky opponents of Idaho's capabilities, but a careful look reveals the contest was close.

Hawaii's first two scores came on a 62-yard punt return and a punt block recovered in the end zone. Between those 14 Rainbow points, Idaho managed its touchdown in the defensive struggle—a three-yard pass from Ken Hobart to tight end Tom Coombs on fourth-and-goal.

Idaho defensive coordinator Leland Kendall said the two big plays were not so much a breakdown on Vandal special teams' play, but "they hurt us with their speed. They had exceptional athletes in a couple of skill positions that hurt us."

As far as the effort put forth by the Idaho contingency of 46 players, Kendall said the team played very well, especially on defense. "They hustled and they hit. It really was a very, very fine football game, I wish more of our fans could have seen them."

Hobart said he took some of the hardest shots he's ever experienced. "I'm very, very sore. I've never been this sore before after any game."

Mark Vigil did not make the trip, as he underwent knee examinations in Seattle, along with running back Terry Idler.

Offensively, Hobart said the Vandals had trouble maintaining drives. "Their stunting created some problems for us and both teams had turnovers. I think we gained a little confidence though, if it weren't for the punts it would have been a touchdown apiece."

Idaho returned to Moscow at 2:30 a.m. Monday morning from the trip, which included some traditional Hawaiian hospitality. "It was a very pleasurable time," Kendall said. "Our kids went first class and played first class."

Rugby teams win weekend matches

Blue Mountain Rugby Club recorded two more wins last Saturday in home matches against Gonzaga and Riverside of Spokane. Gonzaga gave the Moscow team a tough battle in the first contest before falling 10-16, while the second game was a thrashing, 32-0, Blue Mtn. over Riverside.

In women's play, Dusty Lentils opened their 1981 season with a 24-0 shutout of Boise.

SIDELINES

Volleyballers win tourney, 11-3 overall

A championship in the Whitworth Invitational volleyball tournament last Saturday enabled the Idaho women to up their season record to 11-3 and gain valuable court time, according to Coach Amanda Burk.

Idaho swept past four opponents on their way to the title after suffering a home-match loss last Thursday to Spokane Falls. In that contest, Idaho was close, losing 5-15, 15-3, 14-16, 15-11, and 12-15. "We didn't play very well in that match," Burk said.

For the home SFCC match a low turnout was seen, due in part to a misprint concerning ticket prices in the Idahonian Burk felt.

Ticket prices of $3 adult and $2 youth are for the general public, UI students are admitted free to home matches in Memorial Gym with ID card.

This Thursday, Idaho will travel to Spokane to meet Gonzaga and then depart Friday for Missoula, Mont. and a tournament involving five Div. I schools. Idaho will be the only small school in the tournament.
