

UNIVILLETTY

INDEX

Vol. 105, No. 10 Arts&Culture5

Calendar2 Classifieds 10 Crossword 2 Opinion 4 Sports&Rec8

THE VANDAL VOICE SINCE 1898

American Indian Studies Program provides link between UI and local tribes

BY BRIAN PASSEY EDITOR IN CHIEF

Editor's note: This is the first in a four-part series examining the American Indian Studies Program at the University of Idaho. The next part will focus on classes and programming.

Tt began as an idea four years ago. Now UI's American Indian Studies Program is a fully operating minor and a link between local tribes and the uni-

Cooperation with local tribes has been one of the main goals of the program.

The brochure for the program includes its mission statement, which reads, in part, "The American Indian Studies Program seeks to apply the collective knowledge, expertise and perspectives from both the Indian communities and the university to enhance the quality of life among Indian peoples.'

"We really wanted to make sure we were grounded from a tribal point of view," said Rodney Frey, a UI anthropology instructor and director of the program.

The ad hoc committee organized to create the program included Frey and other UI faculty, but also members of the Native American Student Association and the Coeur d'Alene and Nez Perce tribes the two immediate area tribes. Tribal resolutions from the two tribes formalized the partnership between them and the uni-

During the program's development, members of eight other tribes in Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Montana, who serve along with Coeur d'Alene and Nez Perce representatives on the university's Native American Advisory Board, also were con-

While oriented around the study of American Indians, the scope of the program is larger. In fact, only one-third of the students enrolled in the program are Indian students.

Frey said the program serves the Indian students by teaching them how to work within their own communities and serves the non-Indian students by helping them learn how to work within Indian communities.

Instructors in the program come from throughout the university, not just the anthropology area. Among the academic areas represented are law, education, English, sociology, history and chemical engineering.

"It's pretty much an interdisciplinary program," Frey said. While the program is academically diverse, it is also racially diverse with four tribally enrolled faculty out of the 14 total faculty members.

Indian instructors in the classroom, students out of the classroom

Frey said one goal of the program is to break down walls and get the natives into the classroom and get the students out of the classroom."

Indians are in the classroom through actual faculty positions

STUDIES, see Page 3

COURTESY PHOTO

Felix Aripa, an 80-year-old elder in the Coeur d'Alene Tribe, is one of the UI American Indian Studies Program's affiliate faculty members.

Funding format aims to increase efficiency

BY KATIE WHITTIER ARGONAUT STAFF

ith a new ASUI funding format nearing completion, the outlook for funding clubs and organizations on the UI campus is positive.

"Without clubs and organizations, the campus is essentially dead," said Joe Lasuen, Activities Board chair. It is a priority to make these organiza-tions successful by assisting them however possible, especially monetarily, he said.

Early last semester the executive cabinet began centralizing funds in one account to increase efficiency.

Because requests for financial assistance came to the board through many avenues, miscommunication and misinformation often led to confusion and lessopriately placed fullding said Amy Newcomb, coordinator of student activities. It became necessary to centralize the financial resources and standardize the allotment of funds by putting them in the care of a single administrative department, she

Under the new format, the Activities Board alone is responsible for the placement of funding. Lasuen said this is not a case of more bureaucracy, but the new efficiency will lead to more possibilities and more on-campus activities.

"It's like checks and balances," he said.

Organizations wishing to secure funding will write a proposal similar to a grant request. Lasuen is in the process of drafting new forms requesting a proposal and an estimated budget. He also emphasized the impor-tance of seeking funding from within the organization's founding funds first, because that is where the majority of financial reserves currently lie.

The large event funding account has about $7,000 to distribute for this academic year, but that amount is expected to grow within the next few years. Due to the grant nature of the new format, Lasuen said the Activities Board will function largely as a supplemental resource, contributing to already secure funds.

Emphasis is given to on-campus events where more people will be served, particularly when one or more organizations come together to sponsor events, Newcomb said. Also, living groups are among the Activity Board's top priorities. As a result, groups seeking funding to travel to conventions, for example, are discouraged from seeking this supplemental aid.

Lasuen plans to hold an organizational forum for leaders of clubs and organizations sometime in October. Any questions or concerns will be addressed at this meeting. The date and time will be e-mailed to various organizations within the next few

The due date for proposals for the year will be in mid- to late November. Events that take

FUNDING, see Page 3

RESCUE ТНЕ

EMET WARD / ARGONAUT

A Moscow Fire Department truck rushes through the UI campus Thursday afternoon on its way to promote the car wash it will hold from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday at Howard Hughes Appliances.

UI offers sign language course

BY TONY GANZER ARGONAUT STAFF

Prench. German. Sign language? For the past 20 years, UI adjunct faculty member Rocky Miller has taught students and community members American Sign Language.

Miller's fall course is provided through UI Community Programs.

"Sign language has been used as a generic term for different varieties of sign communication," Miller said. "ASL is a natural language for deaf people."

Miller, a deaf person himself, said ASL is a visually based language used as the equivalent to English in American society. "It is different in structure and syntax from spo-ken English," Miller said. Miller's course covers not only the language, but also the culture of deaf per-"As students begin to study ASL, they will come into contact with deaf people's culture and heritage," Miller said. Miller has taught sign language all over the Inland Northwest, teaching at Lewis-Clark State College and in Orofino schools.

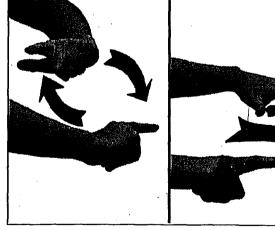

PHOTO ILLUSTRATION BY EMET WARD / ARGONAUT

Miller has also taught children to perform church plays to the deaf.

More than 250,000 deaf persons use ASL, and Miller said ASL is vital in many professions.

"Some will become teachers of the deaf, become interpreters, school counselors, school psychologists, audiologists ... (students) will find learning ASL use-ful and beneficial," Miller said.

Funding for the ASL course comes from the $67 class fee.

Seats are still available for the class, and more information can be found by calling UI Community Programs at 885-6486.

Spammers cause crackdown

BY TONY GANZER ARGONAUT STAFF

niversity technology officials are fighting back in the war against unsolicited mailings to VandalMail accounts with an arsenal of computer programs and strategies.

"(We're using) a multifaceted approach, but there is no one silver bullet for dealing with spam," said Chuck Lanham, associate director of administration for Information Technology Services.

Lanham said spammers — companies that seek out e-mail addresses to advertise a product or service use Web bots to search Web pages to gather e-mail addresses. In essence, a spam e-mail is like a grocery ad marked "Current Resident" in one's Post Office box.

UI student and staff are no excep-

"In essence, you unknowingly advertise yourself on your Web page if you put your e-mail (on the site)," Lanham said.

To help guard UI against spammers, Lanham said ITS is considering subscribing to a spamming black list, a data pool of the 200 most infamous spammers.

ITS has also provided a student filter option so students can insert VandalMail black list, Lanham said.

into the ITS help

www.sites.uidaho.edu/support/. Lanham said ITS will also discontinue the online student/faculty Web site directory. ITS will pull the www.uidaho.edu/public-pages directory Nov. 3 to limit page accessibility, Lanham said.

Students and staff can also fight

spammers. "Anytime you fill out an online form, ask yourself, 'Do they really need this information?' " said Mark Wilcomb, ITS Web services manager.

Wilcomb and Lanham said students should not place VandalMail email addresses on Web sites using text. Making a graphic or GIF image of the e-mail address would prevent Web bots from gathering the address, Lanham said.

Programs are also available for fighting spam. AdAware detects all cookies information stored on a computer and accessed by a spammer - and spyware on a machine, Lanham said.

Wilcomb and Lanham said creating a Hotmail or other Web-based email as a junk mail box may help keep Vandal Mail clean. A junk box could be used for filling out online forms and other less important mate-

"(We've had) a growing number of complaints for spam in VandalMail, and ITS is taking action," Lanham known spammers onto their own The filter can be found by logging

FROM THE ARGONAUT ARCHIVES

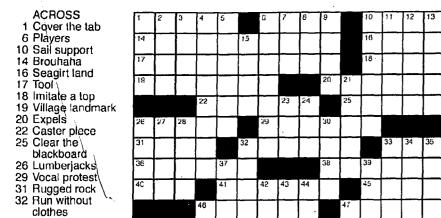

From the Feb. 25, 1955, edition.

"It's 'deep purple' to go to church," said Dean Holt in Wednesday's Religious Emphasis Week closing panel, but he doesn't think this means that religiosity is replacing religion. The meaning of today's upswing in religious membership was discussed by a panel composed of Tom Hopkins, Msgr. Harrington Dean Holt and Dr. Francis Seaman who represented faculty, stu-

Dr. Francis Seaman of the philosophy department, moderator of the panel, disagreed with Holt. He said that by inserting the words "under God" into the pledge of allegiance, Congress put the stamp of religion on the state.

Seaman accused the church of equating communism and atheism, and making religion and democracy mean the same thing.

CROSSWORDPUZZLE

Look for answers in the Sept. 30 Argonaut

48 Teatime treat 51 Liam of "Schindler's List" 12 Tent openings 13 Uptight

15 Male moose

23 Continent of

24 AAA info

item?

30 USN rank

33 Reign over

35 Non-verbal

37 Regularly

39 Like some answers

forecasts

42 Stimpy's pal

43 Map dir.

outfit

44 Totally

34 Stench

32 Superior type

21 Nincompoops

26 Field measure

physician?

27 Picture of a

53 Ring around the sun 55 Eliminator 59 Niagara sound

33 Gadgeteer

Popeil

36 Nocturnal

38 Sham

40 Ogle

mammal

41 Timberland

45 Earth lump

47 Active folk

46 Most favorably

60 Valid 63 Kans. neighbor 64 Stradivarius players 65 Writing table 66 Part of A.M. 67 Eight-piece band 28 Urban purse

DOWN 1 The nearer one _ of the litter 3 Otherwise 4 Hyde, to Jekyll

Springs, FL 6 King Arthur's court 7 Stein filler 8 Next generation member 9 Carryall 10 Stephen King

11 Source for the fam. pet

Solutions From Sept. 23

PEORIA REHANGS KEEN AGENCY INSIDERS PROTOTAL LLOWSECRU | | M | P | B | E | A | N | I | E | S | H | E | R | R | E | I | N | I | N | A | N | E | L | Y | ANTESEGGEAVES ENSSITDOWN

48 Young haddock 49 Sam or Alistair 50 In-person exams 52 Successor of disinfected 46 Arctic coat 47 Masquerade

Ramses I 54 Thomas ____ Edison

58 Relax 61 One for the Germans 62 Came down with

56 Enormous

57 Din ending?

OUTLOOK PALOUSE WEATHER FORECAST

TODAY

Sunny Hi: 79' Lo: 47°

SUNDAY Sunny Hi: 79° Lo: 46°

SENATEREPORT

Sunny

Hi: 77

Lo: 46'

BY KATIE WHITTIER

Sept. 24, 2003

Open forum

The Senate did not hold open forum as there was no business to dis-

Presidential communications

Fuller said he appreciated the manner in which ASUI lobbyist Anthony Georger was included in the consideration of his bill.

Fuller then addressed the new Pick-A-Prof program in which teacher evaluations given by students will be published online for registration assistance. Results of the evaluations will be translated into a five-star system. The results may be obtained using a student ID and password. Profanities and vulgarities will be screened and liability will be covered as part of the $1,500 trial fee for the site.

Fuller said that although this is a contentious issue among faculty, he believes it will prove successful in increasing the quality of education at UI and in encouraging professors to excel while rewarding those who do. Advertising could be a challenge without faculty and administration support, but he believes the Argonaut and other media sources will facilitate publicity,

He also said an incentive plan to encourage students to perform the evaluations is still under construction, since making the evaluations mandatory is not possible or desirable. Any further questions about the site can be addressed to Fuller through e-mail at mason@sub.uidaho.edu.

Senate business

The Senate approved the appointments of Shelley Ytuarte and Jenny Ford to the Activities Board.

The Finance Committee announced Senate Bill F03-16 concerning lobbyist Georger did not pass. The income was amended from $5,000 to $800. The bill later passed as amended.

Senate Bill F03-33, placing the elections coordinator under the Civic Engagement Board, was sent to Rules and Regulations.

Senate Bill F03-34, appointing Kris Kido to the position of ASUI Academics Board Technology Integration Department coordinator, was considered immediately and passed unanimously.

Senate Bill F03-35, granting the president $1,500 for the Pick-A-Prof program, was sent to the Finance Committee.

Senate Bill F03-17, dealing with the reorganization of regulations and job descriptions, passed unanimously. Senate Bill F03-18, rewording Rules and Regulations, passed unanimous-

Senate Bill F03-19, appointing Peter Stegner to the position of department coordinator under the ASUI reorganization, generated discussion over the need for experienced leaders vs. the need for open opportunities to involve more people. A division was called and role taken revealing four oppositions: Senators Herring, Jameson, Magee and Farnen. The bill passed. Resubmitted Senate Bills F03-01, F03-02 and F03-03 were passed as Senator Farnen stressed the need for volunteers at the blood drive Friday, as did Senator Magee, and both encouraged students to give blood. Senator Magee urged students to participate in the College of Natural Resources' Logging Day this weekend.

Vice President Nate Tiegs announced Up 'til Dawn and encouraged par-

Dear Mom,

CAMPUSCALENDAR ·

Viewing of Ul's cloned mule Pasture near the corner of Sixth Street and Perimeter Drive

Borah Blockbuster film: "X-Men 2" SUB Borah Theater 7 and 9:30 p.m.

ASUI Senate meeting UITV-8 programming 8 p.m.

SATURDAY

CNR Annual Logger Sports Roundup UI Frank Pitkin Forest Nursery 10 a.m.

Borah Blockbuster film: "X-Men 2" SUB Borah Theater 7 and 9:30 p.m.

MONDAY

Documentary: "Chicano" Idaho Commons food court

Engineering research colloquium Engineering/Physics Building Room 216

NEWSBRIEFS

Professor receives grant to work in Finland

Harley Johansen, head of Ul's geography department, has received a Fulbright Senior Specialists grant to work at Joensuu University in Finland.

Johansen will conduct research seminars and consult with graduate geography students in several two-week visits over the next two years.

Johansen has studied rural communities in the United States, Finland, Macedonia, Russia and Baltic countries. He will revisit communes in Finland to determine how sustainable their business development has been during the past

The grant is designed to promote collaboration between graduate student projects at Joensuu University and UI on comparative local development research. His first visit will be in April 2004.

Johansen has worked with faculty in UI's College of Business and Economics to help transfer undergraduate business curriculum to a new management school in Skopje. The new program would provide a western model of business and geographic education, taught by Macedonian faculty with assistance by UI faculty. The project is in the development and fundraising phase.

For more information, contact Harley Johansen at 885-6212 or johansen@uidaho.edu.

CCF hosts fall retreat

Campus Christian Fellowship will be holding its annual fall retreat Sept. 26-28. The retreat will take place at Riverview Bible Camp, north of Spokane. The cost of the retreat is $75 per person and includes a sweatshirt as well as food. lodging and travel for the three-day, twonight retreat.

Those attending the retreat will depart at 4 p.m. Friday from the parking lot at

It's hard to believe we've been in Pullman a year already! Sam is growing so fast! With his

Pullman. The Family Maternity Center took great care of me during my delivery and when the baby was born. Even better, our neighbor is one of the nurses there so we know the people constructing a brand new hospital. It's great; I'll Overlake Hospital right here in Pullman. From friendly staff, it's a great piece of mind for all of having a full-service hospital right here in taking care of us! The community is even have a state-of-the-art hospital as good as the board-certified emergency docs to the allergies and John's knee surgery, it's been nice

Living Faith Fellowship, 1035 South Grand Ave. in Pullman. For more information, contact Living

Faith Fellowship at (509) 334-1035. Access to Kibbie Dome limited

A portion of the Kibbie Athletic Center will be blocked off this week due to construction.

The southwest corner of the center will be restricted while maintenance workers construct a drain line to an electrical

For more information, call 885-6288,

Campus sprinkler testing now in progress

Maintenance officials have announced they will conduct campus-wide fire sprinkler testing through Oct. 3.

Students and occupants of Ul buildings are advised to safely evacuate buildings during alarm testing and to wait until re-entry is authorized.

National Fire Prevention Week begins Oct. 4

Local fire departments are encouraging families to participate in "Plan Ahead For Sleepy Heads" to kick off National Fire Prevention Week on Oct. 4.

The program encourages families across Idaho to test their smoke alarms and practice their home escape plans. It will involve a statewide smoke alarm test and escape plan event Saturday night. Radio and television stations will prompt local residents to test their alarm devices at the end of the evening news broadcasts.

The program was organized after fire awareness officials found most children do not wake up to the sound of smoke

Library to discontinue copy cards

The UI Library has announced it will discontinue copy card services effective at the end of the semester.

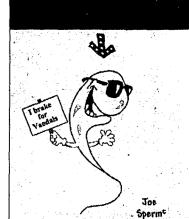

No refunds will be made for outstanding copies and Vandal Card readers will continue to be available.

To charge copies to a budget, faculty and staff may establish PIN accounts at the Photocopy Center. For more information, call 885-7040 or e-mail copyc@belle.llb.uldano.edu.

Attention New Vandals This is Joe, your friendly, neighborhood sperm.

This is how to avoid him.

Planned Parenthood NW 1125 Nys, Pullman (509) 334-1525

Planned Parenthood of the Inland Northwest

ARGONAUT

PHONE DIRECTORY

ADVERTISING CIRCULATION CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING NEWSROOM PHOTO BUREAU PRODUCTION ROOM

PROFESSIONAL PROFESSIONAL PROFESSIONAL COLLEGIATE MEMBER

CNDAM ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS

(208) 885-7794

(208) 885-7825

(208) 885-7825

(208) 885-7715

(208) 885-2219

(208) 885-7784

NEWSPAPER PACEMAKER FINALIST ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS, 2002 SECOND PLACE NON-DAILY ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS, 2002 SECOND PLACE, BEST OF SHOW ACP/CMA NATIONAL CONVENTION, NOV. 2002

ARGONAUT ADVERTISING MANAGER Abigail Bottari

Fax: (208) 885-2222

(208) 885-5780 (208) 885-6371

ARGONAUT ADVERTISING PRODUCTION

Rodger Koetod

Classifieds Manager

us. Miss you lots!

Love,

Matthew Butcher (208) 885-6371

rate -- .20 per word Bargain rate - 5.00

POLICIES
Pre-payment is required. NO REFUNDS WILL BE GIVEN
AFTER THE FIRST INSERTION. Cancellation for a full refund accepted prior to deadline. An advertising credit will be issued for cancelled adds. All abbreviations, phone unmbers and dollar amounts count as one word. Notify the Argonaut Inmediately of any typographical errors. The Argonaut Insort esponsible for more than the first incorrect insertion. The Argonaut reserves the right to reject ads considered distasteful or libelous. Classified ads of a business nature may not appear in the Personal column. Use of first names and last initials only unless otherwise approved.

ARGONAUT PRODUCTION

Managing Editor Joy Barbour

Pullman Memorial Hospital 1125 NE Washington Avenue 509-332-2541

YOUR new hospital . . . coming 2004.

Emet Ward, editor Brett Bingham, Laura Hixon, Sarah Quint

the Argonaut Classified section the Tuesdays before the meetings. All meetings are goen to the public, and all interested parties are inhited to attend. Questions? Oat Student Media at 885-7825 or visit the Student Media office on the SUB third floo

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO ARGONAUT is printed o

ARGONAUT © 2003

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced in any form, by any electronic or mechanical means (including photocopying, recording, or information storage or retrieval) without permission in writing from the Argonaut. Recipients of today's newspaper are granted the right to make two (2) photocopies of any article originated by the Argonaut for personal, non-commercial use. Copying for other than personal use or internal reference, or of articles or columns not owned by the Argonaut (including comic strips, Associated Press and other wire service reports) without written permission of the Argonaut or the copylight owner is expressly forbidden. Address all inquiries concerning copyright and production to: Rights and Permissions, University of Jaho Argonaud, 301 Student William, Moscow, 10 83844-4271.

The Argonaut is published by the students of the University of Idaho. The opinions expressed herein are the writers', and do not necessarily represent those of the students of the University of Idaho. Argonaud is a member of the Associated College Press, the College Newspaper Business and Advertising Managers Association and subscribes to the Society of Professional Journalists Code of Chics.

All advertising is subject to acceptance by the Argonaut, which reserves the right to reject ad copy. The Argonaut does not assume financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertising unless an error materially affects the acts meaning as determined by the Student Medis Board. The Argonaut's liability shall not exceed the cost of the advertisment in which the error occurred, and a refund or credit will be given for the first incorrect insertion only. Makegoods must be called into the student Advertising Manager within seven working days. The Argonaut assumes no responsibility for damages caused by responding to fraudulent advertisements.

Non-profit Identification Statement: The Argonaut, ISSN 0896-1409, is published twice weekly during the academic school year and is located at 301 Student Union, Moscow, ID 83844-4271.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the address fisted above

EDITOR IN CHIEF Brian Passey

Chairman, Argonaut Endowment Board of Directors Phone: (208) 885-7845 Fax: (208) 885-2222 E-mail: argonaut@uidaho.edu

Phone: (208) 885-5780

E-mail: abbyb@sub.uidaho.edu ARGONAUT ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Sarah, John & Sam

(3 publications, 14 words, selling fewer than 200 items) old type - .25/per word POLICIES.

Copy desk

Jake Alger, copy desk chief Cady Allred, Betsy Dalessio, Chris Kornelis, Eevi Maki

UI STUDENT MEDIA BOARD

Course packets, e-reserve next targets

BY NATE POPPINO
ARGONAUT STAFF

Copyright, and its role on the Internet, is one of the most hotly debated topics today.

To date, most arguments have dealt primarily with digital music, but another front is appearing on college campuses. The next target may be course packets and library e-reserve programs.

A July press release by University Readers, a company that puts together course packets for professors, said publishing groups are beginning to look closer at both types of programs.

Both the UI Library and professors said they do not break copyright with the information they distribute and neither have heard of any incidents in which people were sued.

"All the materials we use we get copyright permission for"
Professor Larry Forney said, referring to course packets. "We have to be very careful."

Lynn Baird, head of the

Lynn Baird, head of the Library access service, said de facto guidelines were established in 1996 for e-reserve programs and UI follows these guidelines, including protecting the works with passwords and keeping them for only one semester.

"Publishers contribute to the quality of information and we need to work with publishers to protect their rights while delivering access," Baird said.

Both the professors and the Library pay copyright fees for what they distribute. The Library's fee is about $20 per item, but professors' fees vary widely.

However, articles don't always cost money. Some titles and course materials can be posted freely because the copyright has expired.

Other materials can be used under the Fair Use Act. Eligibility for fair use is determined by four questions: What will the material be used for? What is the nature of the content of the material? How much of the material is used in comparison to the work as a whole? What is the effect on the market value of the material? Emphasis is placed on educational use and factual documents.

The guidelines for e-reserve use specify that all e-reserve systems should not contain any material not lawfully obtained, which forms the basis of the remainder of the guidelines. All e-reserve systems should also contain notices against online distribution of works.

University halts race-based bake sale

BY LINDA K. WERTHEIMER
THE DALLAS MORNING NEWS

(KRT) — The sign said white males had to pay $1 for a cookie. White women: 75 cents. Hispanics: 50 cents. Blacks: a quarter.

The event Tuesday at Southern Methodist University was no PTA bake sale.

It was a conservative student group's attempt at making a political statement, and it caused such a stir that SMU shut it down after 45 minutes.

The Young Conservatives of Texas chapter ran its so-called affirmative action bake sale to protest the use of race or gender as a factor in college admissions. Conservative groups have held similar sales at colleges around the country since February.

Group leaders say they were only making a point while exercising their freedom of speech, but a black student who filed a discrimination complaint with SMU said the bake sale was offensive. SMU officials said they halted the event because it created a potentially unsafe situation for students.

"This was not an issue about free speech," said
Tim Moore, director of the Hughes-Trigg Student Center. "It was really an issue where we had a hostile environment being created that was potential-

v volatile."

During the bake sale students were crowding around the table outside the student center, and several began to get into a shouting match, Moore said. David C. Rushing, a second-year SMU law student and leader of the conservatives' group, said the event didn't get out of hand and that at the most a dozen students gathered around the table of sugar and chocolate chip cookies and Rice Krispie treats.

"We copied what's been done at multiple campuses around the country to illustrate our opinion of affirmative action and how we think it's unfair," said Rushing, chairman of Young Conservatives of Texas at SMU and for the state.

Chapters of the group held similar bake sales at the University of Texas at Austin and Texas A&M University this month. Both schools allowed the events, citing free speech policies.

Rushing, 23, said the events strive to give students a sense of the inequality he says is created by unequal college admissions policies for whites and minority groups.

minority groups.

Matt Houston, a sophomore, said the group's sign, which listed prices for the treats by the race and sex of buyers, was not a learning tool. It was offensive by place before then will be offered reimbursement at that time. After that, the Activities Board will locate the money according to need. Any funding left over will be offered for further proposals by the end of January. Any questions concerning the new format and how to arrange funding should be directed to Jenni Keller, funding department coordinator. She can be reached at the ASUI office at 885-6331 or 885-ASUI.

FUNDING

From Page 1

STUDIES

From Page 1

in order to infuse "tribal perspectives" into the courses. When it was created, program directors went to the Coeur d'Alene and Nez Perce tribes to ask each tribe to use its own criteria to select a member who would become part of the program. The tribes were to judge by their standards, academic degrees aside, who would best represent the tribes in the program

Frey said UI is the first institution he knows of to allow tribes to pick a faculty member based on tribal wisdom and judgment alone.

The Nez Perce tribe chose D'Lisa Penney-Pinkham, who has a bachelor's degree in natural science and a master's degree in education. The Coeur d'Alene tribe chose Felix Aripa, an 80-year-old tribal elder with no college education.

"With the AISP and the affiliate faculty positions, the university recognized the important and unique perspectives of the area tribes," Penney-Pinkham said. "In an American Indian Studies Program, students are learning more than content. They are learning about native perspectives of viewing the world and indigenous ways of learning and teaching.

"As a native instructor teaching (the) Plateau Indians (course), I have a background and unique perspective that cannot be found in a book," she

What Aripa may lack in degrees he makes up for in a lifetime of learning through hastings experience.

"A textbook could not replace the incredible experience of affiliate faculty member Elder Aripa storytelling in the classroom," Penney-Pinkham said.

"He's amazing," Frey said.
"He can outhike any 20-yearold."

"He is just like a walking encyclopedia," said Diane Allen, 49, education director for the Coeur d'Alene Tribe. Allen said the tribal elders often do not get treated with the respect they deserve, but it is different in the American Indian Studies Program. "They have respected our eld-

"They have respected our elders, which is really important to us in the tribe," she said. "We know that the degree doesn't mean anything in terms of what they know about Indian country."

One of the courses Aripa and Penney-Pinkham have contributed to is anthropology 422: Plateau Indians. Among class activities were field trips to local reservations to see their fisheries, sacred places and other important areas.

"The students engaged in cultural experiences outside of the classroom, such as potato digging on the Coeur d'Alene Reservation," Penney-Pinkham said. "The class was able to focus on real-world applicable learning experiences in a culturally significant way."

Another course involving Indian instructors is the Nez Perce language course. The idea was first proposed by Ken Sherwood, former president of the Native American Student Association, who wanted to elevate the status of the language to that of foreign languages such as German and French.

The class was originally offered as a course through Lewis-Clark State College, but is now a UI course, though it is still taught by video feed through LCSC.

Eight credits of the course count as foreign language credits for UI bachelor of arts degrees.

Aripa and Pinkham have also team-taught American Indian Studies 401: Contemporary American Indian Issues, or what Frey refers to as the "capstone course." with other UI faculty.

Georgia Johnson, of the Division of Teaching Learning and Leadership, also teaches the course and describes it as a policy course: "What's going on out there and why is it going on this way?"

way?"
"It's kind of a dream course for me ... because it's co-taught with tribal officials. ... Students learn an amazing amount from these people, more than they would ever learn from me."

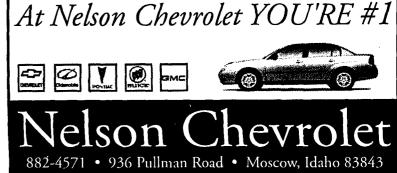

Johnson said the class deals with issues relating to water, land, gaming, schooling and other important tribal topics.

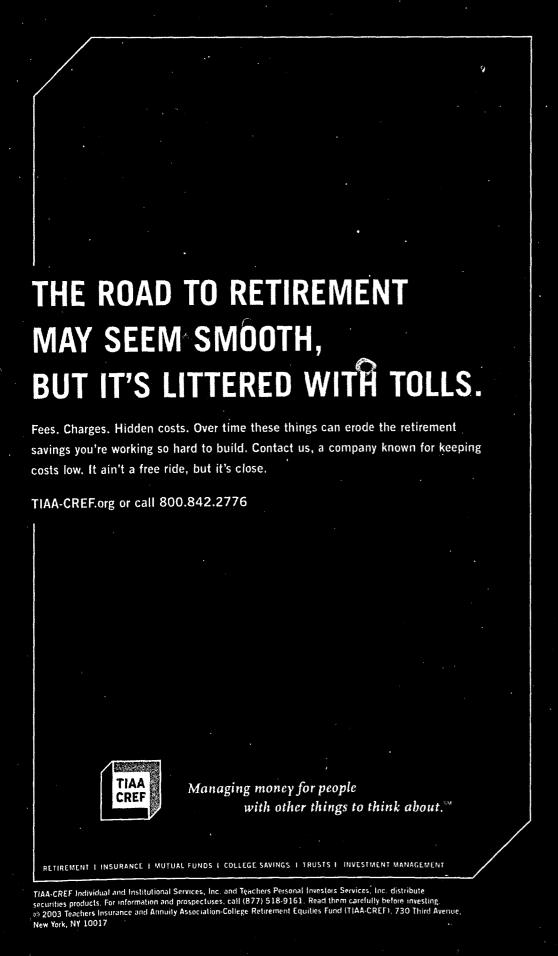

"Primarily what we do is try to establish a framework for sovereignty — not from a European prospective but from an indigenous perspective.

"If you want to understand Indian country, you have to go to poetry, short stories, sections of novels and now film."

In Moscow: 2230 West Pullman Road

QUESTION

Do you believe Congress should give President Bush $87 billion for continued support in Iraq?

Do you see any better solutions?

MAILBOX

Assaults could be prevented

Dear editor.

I have recently read about the sexual assaults on campuses this year. I just wanted to point out that we all have a civil right that is guaranteed under the second amendment to the Constitution of the United States and in the constitution of the state of Idaho. That is the right to bear arms. This right also guarantees you the right to self defense.

Let me paint an example. I am 300 pounds and have usually been able to hold my own in a fight. I am not intimidated by any woman that I know. However any, and I do mean any, 90pound woman with a .22 auto pistol in hand has my — while I am still alive undying respect.

I read in the Moscow Daily News that the self-defense class taught on cam-pus suggests that you force the rapist to beat the holy s--- out of you to make a better crime scene. This seems unwise to me and a rather bad idea. Instead, while the mutt is working on completing the crime, simply get your gun and make him the victim. I am tired of hearing about women being the victims. It's time that some of you practice your civil rights. Besides, it would be nice to save the taxpayers the cost of a trial and incarceration of this type of

All you need to do to get a con-cealed weapons permit that is valid in the state of Idaho and Washington is to go into the Colfax County Sheriff's Office, pay $50 and pass a background check, and you will be licensed to carry in both states. Sharps Indoor Shooting Range in Spokane has a women and guns class designed specifically to introduce women to firearms. Let's face it, this is Idaho. If you don't know how to shoot a gun already, just ask some of your male friends how to shoot. At least one of them should be very knowledgeable.

> David Klingenberg computer science

Blood drives discriminate against gays

Dear editor,

I most wholly applaud the Red Cross and similar organizations for their hard work. I was pleased to see the story encouraging people to donate blood. I would, however, like to point out a sad fact about donating blood.

For obvious reasons, the blood supply must be kept wholly clean. But this has resulted in stereotyping and, thus, discrimination. Though (due to a Web site error) I was unable to confirm this, the Red Cross has a standing policy that any male who has engaged in sex with another male after the mid-'70s is ineligible. The implication is that all gay men have HIV or AIDS, and this is misguided. The result is discrimination against a particular group of people: gay men.

There was even a school in Oregon that banned blood drives because of this blanket discrimination. While I obviously don't want people to stop giving blood, I think this little-known fact should be shared. What's more, eliminating this pointless rule would result in more people being eligible to donate.

Keith Southam Ul alumnus St. Louis, Mo.

Don't let losers win

Dear editor.

After watching the two men prance around with their signs and act as though they were God, I have determined one thing: they won. They came to this campus to stir things up and to push people's buttons ... and that is exactly what they accomplished.

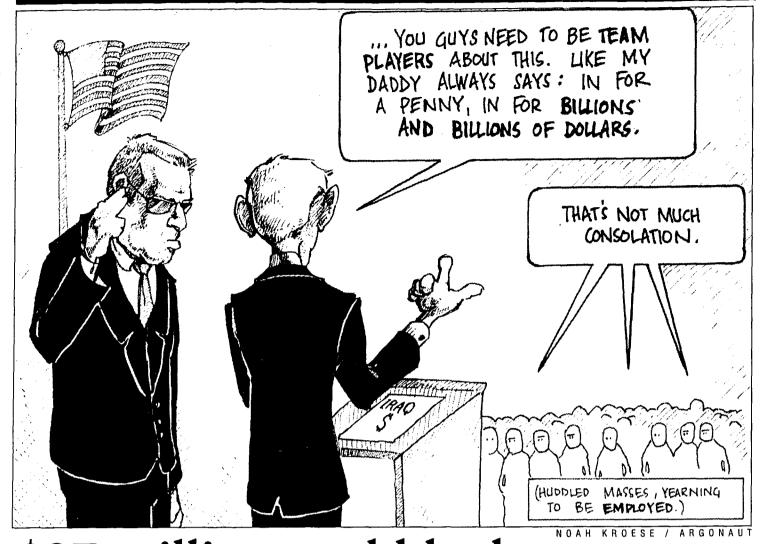

I stood around for a while to watch people's reactions. One thing I did notice: the people that were getting the most defensive were the people that had their own Bibles with them. I'm assuming that because they have their Bibles here on campus, these people hold a very strong faith within their own

My question is, if you feel so strongly about what you believe in, why waste your time arguing about it, especially with two men that consider sports fanatics to be hell bound? Why couldn't you just take this situation back to your church groups, discuss it amongst yourselves, and leave it at that? Instead, you gave them a reason to be here.

I understand that these men could have been very upsetting to the most faithful, or to anyone at that, but why can't you just ignore it? If everyone had kept on walking, they would have had no one to preach to. Instead, people stuck around and let them win.

> Alisa Goolsby Moscow

OURVIEW

$87 million could be better spent

n many cases throughout the course of history, the past is marked and then we collectively move on, leaving it behind to be contemplated while consequences are forgotten and repercussions go unnoticed.

Iraq is not such a case. President Bush's foray into Iraq has been an issue of international importance since the initial targeting. From the beginning there has been widespread and vocal opposition both within the United States and

Since the inception of the return to Iraq, Bush has been hemming and hawing, nodding his head, pounding his fist and putting his foot in his mouth.

As we look back on the crisis in Iraq, it seems our original objectives have fallen by the wayside and the only thing the American public has to show for our grand intervention is dead soldiers, dead civilians and a request for $87 billion to keep up the bloody work.

As Bush pushes congress for $87 billion and continually alienates the international community, accountability should be a key condition for any continuing action in Iraq.

The word accountability appeared in Bush's push for the presidency; call it a campaign objective. Yet, what the American public has continually seen is a complete lack of justification, clearly laid-out plans and honesty. Following the lead of Donald Rumsfeld and Condoleeza Rice, Bush admitted last week that no

ince when has exercising

Democratic senator from the war in Iraq.

Massachusetts, Ted Kennedy,

questioned the motives of the Bush Administration regarding of debate among Republicans of all ranks and members of the press, supposedly a group with a "left-wing bias."

Why would a senator speak ill of the president of the United States, the Republicans demanded. How could he question the tary, they wanted to know. He must not support our troops, or hate Iraqis to say such things, argued, must be evil beings for maligning the president.

other elected official?

they proclaimed. Democrats, they

Since when does becoming a senator require one to check his or her opinions at the cloakroom member of the opposing party be required to say nice, cheery statements about the president, or any

What Kennedy said may have Since when has exercising one's First Amendment rights been ill-advised, but there was certainly nothing wrong, either ethically or legally, with the statement. A senator of the been an un-American thing?

door? Why should a ranking commander in chief of our mili-

His comments set off a storm one's First Amendment rights been an un-American

Last week the ranking senior

Check your opinions at the door?

United States is still a citizen of the United States, and the right to question

ranking politician has more than the right to question George W.

duty to do so.

world arena?

after all.

ers.

their lead-

A high-like Kennedy citizens have evidence ties Saddam Hussein to the Sept. 11, 2001, attacks on the World Trade Center. However, 69 percent of Americans in a Washington Post poll believed this to be the reason for the war

The war, which the American public largely supported under false pretenses, has become far more expensive than Bush ever let on it would be. What's to say the new price tag will produce a more accountable, honest and cooperative Bush?

Granted, no man can predict the future. Some people may say the hardest part has just begun and we have to stick with it; we can't abandon Iraq. After all, the United States created the mess, and now we should stick around long enough to clean it up.
On the other hand, how much longer do we have to go it alone, taking away valuable funds from within our borders to rebuild a place we destroyed, against heightened criticism and virtually void of international support? According to True Majority, an organization founded by Ben Cohen of Ben and Jerry's fame, the $87 billion Bush is asking for could solve the school budget crisis in every community, provide health insurance for every uninsured American child for 15 years, or even provide seven years worth of food for all six million of the children who die from hunger around the world.

Instead, America is stuck in a philosophical quagmire; to spend or not to

ANNETTEHENKE

Annette's column appears

the Argonaut, Her e-mail

arg_opinion@sub.uidaho.edu

Bush and his motives: He has a Republican pundits keep argu-

How easily people forget. If the ing that the statements hurt the Republican-lead impeachment of

Bill Clinton wasn't both a bipartimud-slinging campaign against the office that Clinton held at the time, then what was it?

How does knowing that Bill Clinton stained an intern's dress add meaningful debate to the Politics is not for the faint of heart. If an elected official has his or her feelings hurt when the kids on the other side of the aisle start taunting, perhaps elected office is not the best place to play san witch-hunt and a massive office that Bush now holds.

spend, that is the question.

As many countries spoke at the United Nations General Assembly on Tuesday, the disapproval of U.S. unilateral action in Iraq seemed painfully evident. Bush attempted to rationalize the action and justify the continued presence of the United States while minimalizing the role of the United Nations.

There is no doubt that America sits in a tight spot with minimal international support, a big monetary request and a continued crisis in Iraq to look after. Can we allow the president to take the money and run? No.

The best option seems to be holding the president accountable, pressing for a firmly outlined, specific plan of action and strict conditions for the receipt of any money.

In times like these, we have to wonder what would have happened if the United States had given weapons inspectors more time to find these nonexistent items; if it had proceeded with the backing of the international community; if it hadn't jumped into this mess without forcing Bush to state the objectives, the plan and the possible consequences rather than manipulate our fear.

But that's the thing about looking back: Vision is much more clear. With the gift of past experience, we can look at this $87 billion and make sure we are making clear moves towards peace; with every dollar spent.

BOYER

SPEAKOUT

"No. I think that the pressure should have stayed on them the first time that we were there."

> Josh Boyer sophomore physics Kendrick but Bush could get the U.N. to help since he took this on his back and that was a mistake of his."

'No. Maybe half

Patrick Skreenock freshman architecture Rathdrum

President Bush $87 billion for continued support in Iraq. The idea of President Bush to help Irag is a good cause. Democracy and freedom for Iraqi people is more important that $87

"I think Congress should give

Dodaon Konlani graduate history President Street to benefit the elite white man in this country. Not only is this benefit short term, America can't place psuedo democracy in a thought like that before.

STUDLEY

"No! We need to stop killing people in other countries

Tess Studley sophmore general studies

SCOTT

"Well, at this point, someone or something needs to finish what was started, so yes. I am unsure that the whole of the figure should be given at this point, but no matter the function of the funds it is the main catalyst of completing this at this point."

> Tuck Scott MFA graduate Blythewood, S.C.

"No. Put it towards our ever failing public school system."

Carly Taylor iunior family and consumer sciences

"No. Yes. Give a little, take a little. Compromise some and call in the favor

> Jordan Wrigley freshman general studies Moscow

A'RĞÖNAÜ'T

EDITORIAL POLICY

The opinion page is reserved as a forum of open topics relevant to the UI community Editorials are signed Passey, editor in chief; Joy Barbour, managing editor;

ly reflect the views of the University of Idaho or its identhought, debate and expression of free speech regarding tities. Members of the Argonaut Editorial Board are Brian

E-mail | arg_opinion@sub.uidaho.edu

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (U-WIRE) -

CAMPUSTALK

STAFF EDITORIAL

INDEPENDENT FLORIDA ALLIGATOR

Think about the gay vote

In Tuesday's Washington Times. one of the lead stories outlined a homosexual rights group's support of Wesley Clark. The traditionally conservative paper's right-wing editors seem to know exactly what they're doing. Gay rights issues still are a dividing subject in America. They get people on the right running for their church pews and even make those in the middle of the road think twice about their nuclear family values.

Bringing the issue into the Democratic presidential nominations game early on is a poor attempt at boosting President Bush's sinking rankings. Most homosexual voters already will support the Democratic Party.

However, the steadfast readership of the Washington Times, or anyone moderate who accidentally glances at a copy, may see the article as reason to vote for Bush. That's why the Republican Party wants to make this an issue in the coming elections, and why Bush continues to slip homophobic rhetoric into his speeches.

Ed Gillespie, chairman of the Republican National Committee,

CONTACT US

E-mai

argonaut@uidaho.edu

has said to the Washington Times that gays show intolerance and bigotry by trying to force the rest of the people to accept alien moral standards.

This is exactly the backward thinking that alienates people from the party trying to appear inclusive. While the rest of society is progressing to include anti-discrimination laws and equal protection for gay couples, the Republican strategy seems to be bent on scaring religious conservatives with talk of gay unions. In the latest poll, the retired presidency. And while it still is early in the campaign season, it is never too soon to try to polarize the American public. But by trying to make it a national campaign issue, Bush really just is seeking to shift the debate to this contentious issue and away from the more danger-

Army general beats Bush for the ous topics of the dismal economy and his foreign affairs blunders. In the meantime, while Bush tries to preserve the sanctity of marriage and conservative groups try to make it the next campaign issue, the people truly affected remain without the rights of heterosexual couples. Issues involving gay marriage are very important to gay couples and, indeed, candidates should voice their opinion in this debate. The debate should not, however, consume the presidential election in the way that some conservatives hope it will.

by the initials of the author. Editorials may not necessari- Jennifer Hathaway, opinion editor.

Arconaut

301 Student Union

Moscow, ID 83844-4271

Friday, Sept. 26, 2003

Anonymous 4 doesn't disappoint campus crowd

BY RIJEL GLASBROOK SPECIAL TO THE ARGONAUT

edieval quartet Anonymous 4 — graceful and clothed all in black took the stage at the REVIEW

University Auditorium Tuesday night to a sold-out crowd. One hummed pitch, and they began singing. Their voices blended like a single being, seamlessly rising and falling together.

"When we've gone to Spain, we've found that people don't believe that we're not nuns. Because how could we possibly sing this music if we're not nuns?" said Marsha Genensky, one of the four singers in the group, according to a press release.

The female a cappella quartet, of which three members are from the United States and one is from Ireland, showed itself to be just as good in person as on its many acclaimed CDs.

Some of the group's CDs are more contemporary, such as the traditional carols from the British Isles on "Wolcum Yule."

Most, however, are from more ancient sources and sell very well for the genre. The program Tuesday, titled "The Origin of Fire," consisted mostly of music by the Abbess Hildegarde of Bingen, who lived in Germany in the early 12th century. early 12th century.

This will be Anonymous 4's final year as a touring ensemble after 17 years together.

As such, and after a program such As such, and after a program such as the one Anonymous 4 gave, the lack of a standing ovation was remarkable. Perhaps it was because the program comprised all liturgical music and people felt "reverential." Perhaps it was because the audience wasn't prepared for medieval music all in Latin. Perhaps they were just in away.

Perhaps they were just in awe. But still, it seems any hoo-hah can come to this university and belch on stage and get a standing ovation. How is it that one of the world's foremost medieval vocal groups can come to Idaho and not get one?

The auditorium was sold out, so obviously the audience knew what it was in for. In any case, the experience was marvelous. The next concert in the series is the Salzburg Hyperion Ensemble on Nov. 7.

WEEKENDUPDATE

Music, good weather hit the spot

BY AARON BLUE ARGONAUT STAFF

bringer of bad news, but lets just say it may be time to take mom's old advice:
"It's a beautiful day out; why don't you go outside and get some fresh air?"

As you've probably noticed, the Palouse is not particularly exciting this weekend, but never

On Friday, WSU is bringing in a unique musician that's definitely worth a listen. Prasanna graduated from the Indian Institute of Technology in Madras with an engineering degree in 1992, but decided to come to the United States and pursue a career in _music. Although he grew up with a love for both classic rock and traditional Indian music, he soon started making rounds playing

Having just released an instructional guitar DVD, Prasanna is coming to WSU with drummer Steve Smith and should be impressive. The show starts at 7 p.m., but tickets are a little tough to get; you have to buy them in advance at the CUB. On the bright side, they're only $5 for UI students.

Also on the music scene, John's Alley plays host to Spokane's three-piece Jupiter Effect on Saturday. Fresh off the release of its second album, Jupiter Effect plays a mix of rock, funk and ska for just $5.

The opening act is Stingshark. Besides those two shows, though, there's not a lot for nightlife. Just your typical weekend mix of board games, bars, movies, etc. The Borah Theatre is showing X-Men United — X-Men 2 for the layman — Friday and Saturday. The sequel is rumored to be better than the first mutants-turned-heroes story, and it made bank at the box office, so X-Men United is a pretty good bet. At the very least you'll get to see Hugh Jackman, who I'm told is hot, and Halle Barry, who I know is.

The Kenworthy is showing "The Shape of Things," the latest

WEEKEND, see Page 7

NATURE NURTURES

LAURA HIXON / ARGONAUT

Matthews explores new sounds on solo effort

BY BRIAN PASSEY EDITOR IN CHIEF

ollowing the lead of violinist Boyd
Tinsley, who released a solo album over the summer. Dave Matthews is the second member of the Dave Matthews Band to go solo with his recent "Some Devil." What easily could have been just another DMB album - minus the band instead became a totally new direction for Matthews.

After recently moving to Seattle with his wife and young twin daughters, Matthews used the changes in his life to try something a little bit different. He recruited a new rhythm section (Tony Hall on bass and Brady Blade on drums), invited along a couple of friends (frequent collaborator Tim Reynolds and Trey Anastasio, both on guitar) and found a 45piece orchestra, the Seattlemusic Group.

"Dodo," the opening track, sounds surprisingly different than any other thing Matthews has done, though it still has many of the characteristics the band popularized in its albums. In place of LeRoi Moore's lone saxophone, however, there is a baritone sax, tenor sax, flugel horn and trombone courtesy of The Dirty Dozen

Brass Band. "Gravedigger" is in the darker vein of "Before These Crowded Streets." The song tells the stories of a variety of dead characters, beginning with Matthews softly brooding about them before building to a crescendo of twin electric guitars and screaming strings. The song is easily the most intense Matthews song since "Don't Drink the Water."

Matthews also revisits "Gravedigger" at the end of the album, this time with just his acoustic guitar and the now subdued strings in the background. In this version, however, the intensity is replaced with pure macabre eeriness as Matthews quotes "Ring Around the Rosies" and implores, "Gravedigger / when you dig my grave / could you make it shallow / so I can feel the rain?"

The title track is appropriately the only truly solo song on this solo album as Matthews' voice rises to a beautiful falsetto, accompanied only by himself in a rare turn at electric guitar. His choice to use electric instead of acoustic guitar was a wise one as it adds a fuller sound to the charming song.

Matthews also finds

DAVE MATTHEWS

"Some Devil" ★★★★★ (of 5)

Now available

MATTHEWS, see Page 7

Bonus disc is decent sequel to 'Luther'

BY BRIAN PASSEY EDITOR IN CHIEF

n addition to Dave Matthews' new material on "Some Devil," a limited edition "Dave Matthews and Tim Reynolds Live at ..." is packaged with some copies of his new solo album. The fivesong EP was recorded in March and April in five different locations and covers the expanse of Matthews' career.

The only thing "Live at ..." adds

duo's 1999 REVIEW doubledisc epic Live at Luther College" is songs not performed on that album.

three

They do

two songs.

Thing" and "Seek

Up," but the new

versions still sound

repeat

"Jimi

DAVE MATTHEWS AND TIM REYNOLDS

"Dave Matthews and Tim Reynolds Live at ...' ★★★½ (of 5) great.

"Live at ..." begins with the powerful "Grey Street' stripped down to just Matthews and Reynolds on dueling acoustic guitars. The fervor in Matthews' voice makes up for the loss of instrumental intensity in this acoustic version. However, the weaker "When the World Ends," from the disappointing album "Everyday," does not add much to the mix.

The dueling guitars return with ferocity in the classic "Jimi Thing." Matthews holds his own with guitar god Reynolds as their guitars build up, fall and interweave with each other, while Matthews' voice dances delicately across the stringed collaboration.
The nearly 30-minute

mini-album finishes with songs from two different eras: the brand-new solo bal-lad "Stay or Leave" from "Some Devil" and the decade-old "Seek Up." Though separated by time, the two songs represent Matthews' songwriting at its most beautiful.

Stone cold: Horror movie misses its mark

BY CHRIS MARTIN AND JACOB DENBROOK

Forror and suspense movies come from completely separate worlds. Where one will pull scare after scare to make its audience jump, the other will use tension to build a feeling of dread or helplessness.

ARGONAUT STAFF

"Cold Creek Manor" borrows from both categories and comes out somewhere else. Tagged as a thriller, it aims to use drama to enhance tense scenes and partial horror aspects to portray the country life of the Tilsons as things begin to go awry.
With city life not all it's cracked up to be, the Tilsons move out to the unnamed country and buy a run-down house called Cold Creek Manor. Dale Massie, the previous owner of the manor, returns asking for a job, the Tilson lifestyle making increasingly dramatic and dan-

REVIEW Good: C.M.: It's a situation we've seen before in The Shining:" the familiar happy family goes into the country to a big house where problems arise. When Sharon Stone's char-

"Cold Creek Manor" C.M.: ★★★ (of 5) J.D.: ★★1/2 acter, Leah, perfectly enunciates "Cold Creek Manor" to a gas attendant, it's clear that cheesiness will run the majority of the film. And it does. "Manor" is a cheesy, pre-dictable romp through the horrors of the Tilson family living in unknown territory.

And that's good, because if it weren't for the cheesiness, this serious "thriller" wouldn't have a giant, dilapidated house to live in. For example, one scene involves the family running away from snakes of all kinds some exotic - hidden throughout the house. We're led to believe one of the following: A) all these exotic snakes are easily found in this so-called country setting; and B) someone actually snuck in and hid them all without anyone even noticing. Silly

The actors are incredibly serious in the face of some humorous situations. Dennis Quaid as Cooper Tilson is mentionable because he's the most professional actor throughout. The character Dale Massie, played by Stephen Dorff, is a menacing psychopath, although his redneck caricature is ludicrous. Often times the actors in general appear ridiculous and absurd.

which adds to humorous instances but detracts from the feeling of the picture's wholeness

Aside from the humor of the situations, we're treated to some semi-tense moments and a story that doesn't degrade the viewers — that is, they're not leaving the theater stupefied. The story entertains like a monkey juggling a firecracker; you're not really amazed, but you have to see what happens when that firecracker goes off. Sadly, the boom isn't so big in "Manor," and by the end the viewer is left feeling very cold.

J.D.: Horror has become a scarily hot commodity in the fickle, swinging trends of Hollywood. With the success of "Freddy vs. Jason" and "Underworld" in the last few months, we might soon be digesting more grotesqueness

COLD, see Page 7 Dennis Quaid and Sharon Stone star in "Cold Creek Manor."

Festival Dance tickets are on sale now

The Festival Dance & Performing Arts 2003-2004 Great Performances Series will kick off at 3 p.m. Oct. 5 at the Beasley Performing Arts Coliseum with the colorful American Indian Dance Theatre. This program offers audiences an opportunity to experience the Native American culture's age-old rituals in a journey through time. Titled "Ceremonies and Celebrations," the two-hour program begins in a traditional vein with the ancient Grass Dance, which prepares the ground - or in this case, the stage for the dances that follow.

Other dances on the program include the Shawl Dance and the mystical Eagle Dance. A more modern dance piece created by AIDT's artistic director, Hanay Geiogamah - gives his interpretation of the Indian artist's search for a way to take his heritage into the future.

The American Indian Dance Theatre, formed in 1987, was a pioneer in bringing authentic traditional American Indian dance and music to the world, and an innovator in placing in a theatrical setting. The company of 18 dancers and musicians has performed to acclaim in virtually every state of the Union and toured theaters and festivals in Europe, North Africa, the Middle East and Australia. The company has taped two television specials for the PBS Great Performance Series, one of which was nominated for a Primetime Emmy Award.

The October performance will be part of a two-day residency made possible by a grant from the Western State Federation and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Tickets are available at Beasley Coliseum and The Depot in Pullman, UI North Campus Center in Moscow and Albertson's in Lewiston, as well as through Ticketswest at 1-800-325-SEAT. Prices are as follows, depending on seating: adults, $24 and $16; students, $16 and $14; and children 12 and under, $12 and $10. All seats in the first seven rows

Evensong will honor retired WSU teacher Sunday

FIND YOUR GAME

 \mathbf{AT}

THE U OF I GOLF COURSE

Fall Student Golf Pass $49

Use pass

Monday - Thursday

Student ID required

Spring 2004 Golf Pass $225

Buy NOW and

Student ID Required

play with it today!

St. James' Episcopal Church at 1410 NE Stadium Way in Pullman will conduct the service of Evensong at 5 p.m. Sunday to celebrate the musical gifts to the church by William Brandt.

A professor of music at WSU since 1956, Brandt directed the St. James' Choir for 25 years before his retirement in 1983.

The choir will perform two of the many pieces that Brandt composed for his church over the years: "Thy Word Shall Be a Lantern To My Feet," a setting of Psalm 119, and "Say Unto Those Who Are Faint of Heart," an anthem for Advent.

Events feature clothing expert's exploration of global themes, food

Few facets of culture serve to reflect humanity's' diversity of needs and wants more than clothing, or food. Few cultural aspects evoke as many similarities, either, say University of Idaho School of Family and Consumer Sciences experts. The school will present an international clothing and textile expert during its annual Margaret Ritchie Distinguished Speaker series Sept. 26-27.

Joanne B. Eicher, University of Minnesota Regents professor and author, will present "The Display of Skin: From Africa to the Academy Awards" at 12:30 p.m. Sept. 26 at the University Auditorium. Her program is free and open to the public.

Food will figure in a program that evening at 7 p.m., "Get Wrapped: An

The University of Idaho College of Law Chapters American Civil Liberties Union Sexual Orientation Diversity Alliance

Lady Justice

Join the College of Law students for their first welcome DIVERSITY = STRENGTH

The Beach

Friday, September 26th oors open at 9:00, shows at 10:30 & Midnight 18+, 15 before available at ECLECTICA

17 at the door or 15 if dressed in drag

DANCING · BEER GOOD TIMES

International Celebration of Clothing and Food," It will also feature Eicher, who will review the nature of wrapped and draped garments from both historical and cultural perspectives.

"Get Wrapped" also will feature wrapped appetizers such as nori rolls, crepes and Mediterranean wraps. The two-hour evening program, which is also free and open to the public, will be held in the UI Student Union Building Ballroom. The program will focus on clothing and feature a dozen or more themes common to garments worn worldwide. Students will be invited to wear the traditional dress of many cultures to illustrate each

Schedule for Eastside Cinemas

"Pirates Of The Carribean," PG-13 (noon) (3 p.m.) 6 and 9 "Matchstick Men," PG-13, (1:50 p.m.) (4:20) 6:50 and 9:20 "Once Upon A Time In Mexico," R, (12:30 p.m.) (2:45) 5, 7:15 and 9:30

"The Order," R, (2:30 p.m.) 9:40 "Open Range," R, 6:15 p.m., 9:10
"S.W.A.T.," PG-13, (noon) 4:45 p.m. and 7:10 "Finding Nemo," G, (1:35 p.m.) (3:55)

Schedule for U4 Cinemas

"Cold Creek Manor," R, noon, 3 p.m., 7 and 9:30 "Duplex," PG-13, 1 p.m., 3:30, 7 and

"Fighing Temptations," PG-13, 12:30 p.m., 3:30, 7 and 9:30 "Rundown," PG-13, 1:30 p.m., 4:30, 7

Showtimes in () are for Saturday, Sunday only.

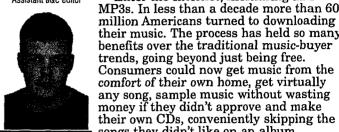

Price slashes will never save the evil emperors of pop

n October the largest distributor of music, Universal, is planning a 30 percent reduction on all of its music. As if this will help.

For years the music industry giants have been apathetic to the villainization of their kind. Their attitude echoed the famous quote from railroad tycoon William H. Vanderbilt in the late 19th century: "The public be damned."

This sentiment worked for awhile. The public was simply too interested in music to give any effective protest to the methods of the industry. SEANOLSON Assistant a&c editor regularly on the arts pages of the Argonaut. His e-mail address is songs they didn't like on an album. Naturally, the music industry was horrified by the idea. Led by Metallica and distribution giants, the industry began a crusade against filesharing. Several court victories sealed its ability to attempt to monitor and prosecute filesharers. They recently filed civil suits

Enter the Internet, filesharing and MP3s. In less than a decade more than 60 million Americans turned to downloading benefits over the traditional music-buyer

Consumers could now get music from the trends, going beyond just being free.

their music. The process has held so many against more than 200 Americans with extensive sharing habits. This list included people as young as 12 years old. Now record sales are down, and the industry is frightened, for good reason. Its policies and shortcomings to both the public and artists have come back to haunt it. While it desperately tries to discourage filesharing, it only further alienates itself from the buying publics, who have simply had

The short history of the Internet has shown that as soon as authorities find a way to stop illegal activity on the Web users immediately find another way around the problem. The situation in music equates to one thing: People will not give up their new luxury.

Companies have ruined any moral argument toward the public by their past practices. They are essentially conducting a wild goose chase that only further deteriorates their cause.

So Universal has the bright idea of significantly lowering all its prices. Not only does this show that it can afford to distribute music at cheaper prices (and it always has been able to), but also that it is trembling at its lost sales. This attempt at perpetuating a renewed habit of actually buying music will only slow down the company's downward spiral.

Most cynical music lovers can see right through this little ploy. Most will avoid the cheap prices out of animosity alone. Universal underestimates the intelligence of the masses. Some will certainly buy into the sale. But the second the price cut is revoked, the buyers will wander back to their computers and check out the new software to get their new

So I say this to the music industry: Enjoy your futile attempt at raising sales and destroying the free market. In fact, good luck, because you're going to need it.

Religion Directoru For Advertising Info Contact Matt Butcher @ 208.885.6371

Mountain View Bible Church

Mark Matthews, Pastor 960 W. Palouse River Dr. Moscow 883-3494 Sunday Worship 10 AM. College Group Prayer Groups Men's & Women's Ministries Youth Group Nursery

Sunday School All Welcome mountainviewbible.org

Christ-centered, Bible-based, Spirit-filled Services:

Thursdays at 7:00 p.m. Sundays at 10:30 a.m. 219 W. Third St.

Moscow, Idaho www.rockchurchmoscow.org

Full Gospel Lighthouse

"The Lord Liveth; and blessed be my rock; and let the God of my salvation be exalted."

YOU ARE WELCOME TO OUR SERVICES! SERVICES .

> Sunday School.....9:45 a.m. Morning Service.....11:00 a.m. Wed Night Bible Study....7:00 p.m. PHONE-882-0949 6 1/2 mi. East of Moscow on Troy Highway (111 N. Washington - Avalon House) to sing Our Lord's pmises, enjoy the company and encouragement of the saints, and to hear instruction from the Holy Scriptures.

Free lunch, Sunday School and Fellowship following morning service Evening Service 6:00 p.m.

Contact: Shirley Greene Church: 882-4332 Home: 882-0622

6th & Mountainview

Community Congregational United Church of Christ

An Open and Affirming and Just Peace Church

Pastor: Reverend Kristine Zakarison

525 NE Campus, Pullman 332-6411

Sunday Worship 10:30 a.m. Learning Community 10:30 a.m.

Assistive Listening, Large Print, ADA Accessible, Child Care Provided Thrift Shop 334-6632 Tu 4:30-6:30, Thur & Fri 11:00-3:00

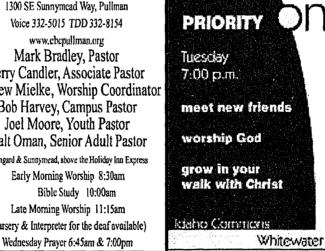

Emmanuel Baptist Church

1300 SE Sunnymead Way, Pullman Voice 332-5015 TDD 332-8154

Mark Bradley, Pastor Terry Candler, Associate Pastor Indrew Mielke, Worship Coordinator Bob Harvey, Campus Pastor Joel Moore, Youth Pastor

Walt Oman, Senior Adult Pastor Klemgard & Sunnymead, above the Holiday Inn Express Early Morning Worship 8:30am Bible Study 10:00am

Late Morning Worship 11:15am (Nursery & Interpreter for the deaf available) Wednesday Prayer 6:45am & 7:00pm

Campus Crusade For Christ

Sub Ballroom-Thursday 8 p.m. (Subject to Change)

www.uicrusade.org More information 882-5716

St. Augustine's Student Center

> Sunday Mass 10:00 a.m. 7:00 p.m.

Weekly Mass (MWF) 12:30 p.m. in Chapel Wed. Reconciliation 4:30 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.

628 Deakin (across from SUB) 882-4613 Pastor Len MacMillan

PRIORITY DA

Whitewater Room First Presbyterian Church

of Moscow

405 South Van Buren Moscow, Idaho 882-4122

Nursery Care Provided Sanctuary open for prayer weekdays, Sunday. http://community.palouse.net/fpc/

Come & Worship

Attending our services could change your life!

Unitarian Universalist Church of the Palouse

Sunday Services 9:30 & 11:00 420 East Second Street, Moscow 208-882-4328

Living Faith Fellowship Ministry Training Center

1035 South Grand, Pullman, 334-1035 Phil & Kari Vance, Scalor Pastors Joe Fitzgerald, Campus Pastor

Friday:

Campus Christian Fellowship......7:30 p.m.

Sunday:

..10:30 a.m.

Wednesday:

Worship.. Nursery Care Provided Call For a Ride A dynamic, growing church providing answers for life since 1971 www.LFFMTC.org

CHRIST CHURCH Two Congregations

Christ Church Logos School Fieldhouse 110 Baker St., "A" St. entrance 10:00 am

Trinity Church Logos scholl Auditorium 10:20 am

Sunday School for both services 9 am www.christkirk.com

Collegiate Reformed Fellowship (the campus ministry of Christ Church) Wednesdays: Gold/Silver Room SUB 7:30 p.m. Matt Gray, Director 883-7903

http://stuorgs.uidaho.edu/~crf/

The United Church of Moscow

American Baptist/Disciples of Christ 123 West First St. • 882-2924 Roger C. Lynn, Pastor

www.unitedchurch.cc

An accepting congregation where questions are encouraged.

Sunday Morning Schedule Faith Exploration Class 9:30 a.m.

St. Mark's Episcopal Church

The Rev. Michael West. The Rev. John Grabner SUNDAY EUCHARIST RITE I - 8:00 a.m. RITE II - 10:30 a.m. CANTERBURY FELLOWSHIP

Campus Christian Center 822 Elm St.

Sundays 5 p.m. Dr. Rob Snyder 882-2536 ext. 3 The Church of

Of Latter-day Saints UNIVERSITY STUDENT WARD SACRAMENT MEETING TIMES Singles Wards-902 Deakin Moscow University III-11:00 a.m.

Moscow University V-1:00 p.m.

Moscow University I-9:00 a.m.

Jesus Christ

Marrieds Wards- Mt. View & Joseph Moscow University VI-1:00 p.m. Moscow University IV-9:00 a.m. Moscow University II-11:00 a.m. Please call LDS Institute (883-0520) for questions & additional information

Concordia Lutheran Church

NE 1015 Orchard Dr. Pullman phone: 332-2830 fax: 332-2830

Sunday Morning Worship: 9:00 a.m. Chinese Worship: Sunday, 2-4 p.m. Student Fellowship: Tuesday, 6 p.m. Rev. Dudley Nolting

Campus Coordinator: Anne Summersun

TV series use old hit tunes

NEW YORK DAILY NEWS

(KRT) — The shows are new, but their theme songs sure aren't.

Many of the new TV series on the schedule this fall will be using hit music to get viewers to tune in.

ABC's "Karen Sisco" starts off with the Isley Brothers' "It's Your Thing."

NBC's "Las Vegas" opens with "A Little Less Conversation" from Elvis Presley. CBS' "Joan of Arcadia" kicks in with "One of Us" by Joan Osborne.

ABC's "I'm With Her" uses a Sugar Ray version of the Joe Jackson rock staple "Is She Really Going Out With Him?"

It's a trend that began to gain momentum in recent years, when pulsating music from the Who played over the opening credits of two top crime shows: "CSI" ("Who Are You?") and "CSI: Miami" ("Won't Get Fooled Again").

Why use hit songs on TV shows? Producers say the struggle for a new series to break through the prime-time clutter is so tough these days, they need all the help they can

Having a song that viewers know can lure

"You have 20 seconds to grab people," said Chris Henchy, executive producer of "I'm With Her." "If it's something people are aware of and it's popular, maybe they will give it a econd look.

Executive producer John Landgraf wanted It's Your Thing" for "Karen Sisco" because the '60s soul sound is already associated with wo films based on Elmore Leonard novels, Get Shorty" and "Out of Sight" (which also leatured the Sisco character).

featured the Sisco character).

But "It's Your Thing" also captures the essence of the independent, butt-kicking federal marshal played by Carla Gugino. "It's really a funky hymn of female empowerment," says Landgraf.

For Henchy, "Is She Really Going Out with Him?" was perfect for a show based on his courtship of Brooke Shields, who's now in his courtship of Brooke Shields, who's now is wife. David Sutcliffe plays a schoolteacher ho begins a romantic relationship with a novie star (Teri Polo).

"It tells the story of the show," Henchy

COLD From Page 5

than we can handle. However, horror itself isn't selling right now; rather, comedy horror is. Producers have found a way to self-deprecate horror films into a more farcical genre, owning to the fact that while it's hard to scare people anymore, it'll never be difficult to entertain them.

"Cold Creek Manor" tries to rise above this sort of sell-out by focusing its scare tactics on portraying horror closer to your home. In this case, it's your next door

Director Figgis borrows heavily from M. Night Shyamalan's subtle techniques of scaring by trying to create real characters and making use of anti-climaxes. He substitutes these techniques for plastering the audience with a bunch of pale bodies with squeamish faces who are doomed to be impaled on sharp household objects.

The trailers for this film make it look like a reused, spit-out "The Haunting," in which the eerie mansion in little-understood rural America vanquishes its ten-ants. "Cold Creek Manor" successfully strays away from that formula, and advisably separates itself from any association with the laughable films of that subgenre.

Dennis Quaid, whose angular, paranoid eyes convey horror better than any guy in a hockey mask, fits in his comfy role as a disturbed father trying to seek a normal life out in God's country. Of course, in accordance with standard horror procedure, rural citizens are always frightening and brutal, simplistic killers.

The Bad:

C.M.: Sharon Stone isn't at her best in "Manor." She portrays Leah with a disen-franchised look about her. Most of the time she wanders about oblivious to her surroundings and leaves it to her husband, Cooper, to deal with everything life-related.

Overall, the family is about as inane and moronic as they come to buy such a crappy house in the first place. As more evidence of stupidity, we're constantly shown characters edging toward very dark pits, using very thin string to climb up seemingly unscalable walls, and punching their wives through draperies. "Manor" is filled with craziness like this, and it's laughable, although it probably didn't intend to be so.

"Manor" is supposed to be a thriller, but it thrills very little. The beginning does a nice job of building tension, the middle does a nice job of breaking the tension down, and the end does a nice job of making Dorff look like Jack Nicholson in "The Shining." "Manor" just doesn't do it well. And there are too many plot holes to even bother to count.

J.D.: Unfortunately, while the movie leans toward the subtleness of silence and anti-climax at times, the plot severely lacks. Audiences seeking horror might be downright bored.

The rest of us can relate to family strife and the loneliness of new experiences, but at times we feel as if we're sitting at a local café watching a family going about their everyday routine. That might work for a documentary or a drama, but certainly not for a horror film.

When we're finally fed some excitement near the last one-third of the film, 'Cold Creek" reuses house-of-horror scare clichés like a Rob Zombie original movie.

The film desperately wants to tap into the adrenalin level of "What Lies Beneath" but ends up coming up far beneath in thrills, and we're left with Sharon Stone with all her clothes on.

The Final Say:
C.M.: "Manor" was somewhat entertaining, but unoriginal. Its predictability was perhaps its greatest flaw. Despite the shortcomings, it didn't repulse my interest in the way "Open Range" did, but it lacked the polish of said film. Don't see "Manor" to be frightened, see it to be amused, and take it with a grain of salt.

J.D.: "Cold Creek Manor" has its moments of intrigue, but it's forgettable enough to avoid being a joke in the next "Scary Movie." Most of all, the film's failures gently remind us that M. Night Shayamalan still can't be touched when it comes to mixing morality and horror.

MATTHEWS

From Page 5

his inner Bono and Thom Yorke on "Trouble" and "An' Another Thing," respectively. "Trouble," with its chiming guitar and upbeat rhythm, is reminiscent of late '80s U2, while the falset-to musings of "An' Another Thing" sound like acoustic Radiohead as Matthews lightly wails about "rain on my head." But despite the similarities to the European bands, the songs remain uniquely Dave.
"Save Me" features an obligatory Matthews staple — female gospel vocals — but has more of an edge to it than other songs employing this vocal type, like "Stay (Wasting Time)." The powerful vocals of the six-woman Total Experience Gospel Choir on "Save Me" contrast the dainty triumvirate of "Stay or Leave," "Oh" and "Baby" with their tranquil melodies and hushed lyrics.

"Some Devil" is a surprising album. Many probably expected it to sound like a regular Dave Matthews Band album minus the violin and horns. But with "Devil," Matthews has transformed himself, and with much greater success than on the misstep "Everyday." This is easily the bravest, the most creative and possibly the best album of Matthews' career.

WEEKEND

From Page 5

movie from writer/director/nowproducer Neil LaBute. LaBute made a name for himself with "In the Company of Men" at Sundance back in '97, but most people know him for directing "Nurse Betty" in 2000.

"The Shape of Things" is about an art student trying to mold her boyfriend into a completely different person, and it focuses on people's reactions to her plot.

So the tall and short of it is that there are not many official events going on this weekend. Like I said before, though, it's supposed to be beautiful out; we're talking high '70s all weekend.

My official suggestion is get up and go outside. On Saturday morning the Farmers Market will have local jazz ensemble Loose Change playing, which is sure to entertain if you're up by then. The Palouse is a great place to be when the weather's

NOW HIRING FOR FALL

Morning Schedules Available

Telephone Studies from a comfortable Office environment

Work flexible schedule

No selling involved

Earn between $7.00 to $9.00 7 days a week

Located in the Eastside Marketplace • Contact 883-0885 for more information

Spectacle

Dr. Tracy J. Dwyer - Optometric Physician Featuring Oakley! Sunglasses and Prescription Eyewear

The

Outside Saturday Eye Exams
scriptions Filled Appointments Available & Contact Lenses

Biggest Burritos in Town!!! At the corner

See us at the Kibbie Dome

for Vandal

Home Games When you can't go out, of the UI

Campus

9_{em}-9_{pm} Every Day

call us & we'll come to you! 450 W. 6th St. 883-3984

Late Night Guide

Moscow, Idaho

Come See What's MEW at the CLUB! Meet your friends at Moscow's oldest but HOTTEST club! 882-2915 202 N. Main

Want to Advertise in the Late Night Guide?

for prices and more info contact Whitney at 885-5780

the garden

very Drink on the List $2.50 All Day Long

Wednesday Wells lt's Back for a Limited Time $1.00 Well Drinks 8p.m. - 11p.m.

Happy Hours 4-7pm Daily

Well Drinks $1.50 Domestic Pints $2.00 Mirco Pints $3.00

Martini Thursdays Our Entire Cocktail List* $3.00

8p.m. - 11p.m.

Friday Jazz Welcome Back Live Jazz 4p.m. - 8p.m. No Cover

The Hotel Moscow • Main Street • Downtown

COME ON IN & CHECK IT OUT!

WSU vs. Oregon

Gat. College Footban watch Football Sunday NFL Football

lay Night F-

Monday Night Football Play FB Bingo! Giveaways & Prizes!

Why wait in line? We cook your eggs your way!

Brunch -

Saturday & Sunday 9:00am - 4:00pm

Downtown Moscow 882-2050

We've Got Wireless Internet! Surf the Net while you eat! 3:00-6:00 www.gambinositalianrestaurant.com

ALE HOUSE

Open Daily for Lunch & Dinner Saturday & Sunday Breakfast 9-3pm

Monday Night Football

Tequila Tuesdays

• Wednesday Nights on the Deck

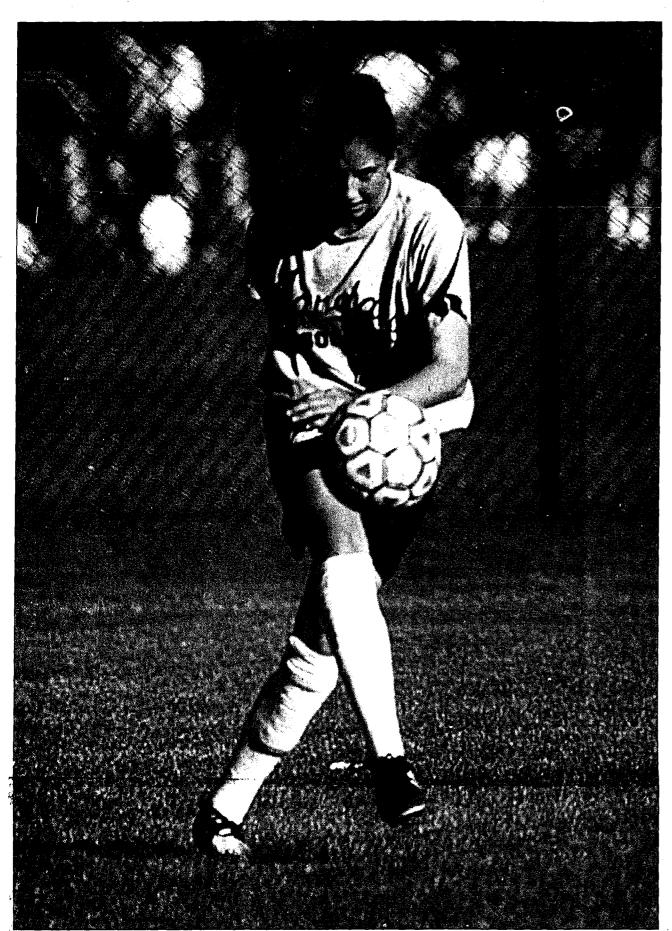

Thursday Ladies

Faculty Fridays

DRAFT PINTS $2.00 · Vandal Saturdays DRAFT PITCHERS $8.00 DAILY WELLDRINK

Bloody Mary Sundays

226 West 6th Street • 882-BREW [2739]

EMET WARD / ARGONAUT

Vandal co-captain Emly Nelson, who has six goals and an assist thus far into the season, leads UI into their last nonconference game today against Air Force, 3 p.m. at Guy Wicks Field.

Nelson passes excellence, legacy to underclassmen

BY JAKE ROBLEE

Thile senior captain Emily Nelson has led the University of Idaho soccer team in almost every offensive category for the past three years, perhaps her most important contribution to the squad is leadership.

"She legitimizes our program and makes it better with her presence," UI coach Arby Busey said.

Since assuming the role of team captain at the end of last season, Nelson has gone from a perennial offensive threat to a complete player both on and off the field. When she assumed the role of captain, she took it

"That (team captain) is a huge honor," Nelson said. "And the team looks to you to lead them on and off the field.

In the wake of a barrage of injuries that have plagued the Vandals this season, Nelson has taken the success of the team upon her shoulders, which is evident by her play.

Nelson began this season right where she left off last year. scored the tying goal Michigan University, and in Ul's first home game this season she scored goals and racked up an assist against regional rival

2003 Senior, midfielder/ forward Eastlake High School

Sammamish, Wash.

GMS

EMILY NELSON CAREER STATS

GOA

Nelson's season has already included one amazing feat. On Sept. 12 Nelson scored a game-winning goal against Boise State and broke the school's all-time scoring record all

"She is the type of person that, if she struggles with one thing during a game, she will figure it out and clean it up for the next one," Busey said.

After rough sophomore and junior years, Nelson has really come into her own this season, based on work she did both on the field and in the weight room.

Her hard work apparently has paid Again, she leads the Vandals in almost every offensive category (goals, points and shots) and was named the Big West women's soccer player of the week for the week of Sept. 15.
"I'm not surprised at all by Nelson's performance this year," UI assistant coach Steve Crum said. "I knew she could do what she is doing this year by evidence of her freshman year. It has taken her a couple of years to develop the physical strength to do it day in and day out and take the beating that other teams are giving her."

Nelson began playing soccer when she was 5, but it was at Eastlake High School, under the tutelage of Crum, that her future in soccer began to take shape.

As a freshman at Eastlake, Nelson met Crum, who left for UI halfway through her high school carper. It was at Eastlake that high school career. It was at Eastlake that she started to play with her current roommate and teammate, UI co-captain Jamie Lewis. Lewis and Nelson have been playing together for eight years and have formed an amazing and unique chemistry both on and off the field.

"When we play together we know each other so well that we know where the other person is going to be," Nelson said. "We have good chemistry on the field, and I hope that the other girls see that and feed off of that."

When Nelson and Lewis were seniors in high school they were recruited by Crum to come to the University of Idaho. He said he saw something special in them and their

"They both really had a passion for playing soccer," Crum said. "One of the reasons that they were recruited here was their ability to be really good teammates, and our goal here is to fill the team with people that will really work hard for each other ... those two are no exception."

Nelson had a standout season that first year, scoring nine goals—the second most in team history for a single season. But after her freshman year she was labeled an immediate threat to opponents and was targeted by most defenses, resulting in a rather modest nine-goal output for her sophomore and junior seasons combined.

This year, however, Nelson has found a way to get the job done, even though defenses still target her.

Busey recently moved Nelson from forward to midfield to help spur consistency throughout the team. He said the change will give Nelson a better chance to physically punish her opponents, but will give her less of a chance at the goal.

"I haven't played midfield in a while, but anything I can do to help the team is good,"

Now that her career is coming to an end, Nelson, a psychology major who plans to graduate next fall, said she does not see herself in that field in the future. However, she would like to give back to the sport that has given her so much. "I would like to coach soccer whether it is at the collegiate level or with little kids,"

Lewis anchors Vandal defense, shares soccer background with Nelson

BY JAKE ROBLEE ARGONAUT STAFF

f it seems like University of Idaho soccer players Jamie Lewis and Emily Nelson always know where each other are on the playing field, that's because they do.
"We know each other so well that we know where the other person is going to be," Nelson said. Lewis and UI forward Emily Nelson, both seniors, come from the same soccer backgrounds Both played together at Eastlake High School under the tutelage of then-Eastlake coach Steve Crum, who eventually recruited them to come to UI after he became an assistant coach for the Vandals. And ever since coming to Moscow, Lewis and Nelson, who room together, have had a major impact on the squad.

JAMIE LEWIS

"Jamie is a great role model for people who want to accomplish more than others think they can," Crum said. "She is a constant overachiever with regards to her own natural given athletic

However, unlike a lot of successful athletes, Lewis is not a very vocal member of the team. She chooses to lead in other ways.

"Lewis is a leader by example," UI coach Arby Busey said. "She doesn't really say a whole lot and is not a real cheerleader type. But when she says something, it is usually spot on and the information is right and everyone listens," Busey

Lewis, a meticulous player, utilizes finesse and skill instead of power and speed. Beyond playing ability, though, Lewis is a good example for her teammates.

"Jamie is a great example of a player on the field," Busey said. "She has a great work ethic. And maybe (she's) not as gifted athletically as some of the players on the field, but you notice that because she works so hard at every component of the game.'

Despite their connection, Lewis has taken on a decidedly different role than that of Nelson, the Vandals' offensive juggernaut and co-captain. However, even though Lewis has played at the defensive end of the field her whole career, that doesn't mean she hasn't had an impact on the scoreboard. Lewis has two goals, three assists and 60 shots thus far in her career.

As for the rest of the season, the Vandals will be looking to Lewis for leadership and strength on and off the field as the young team continues to rehabilitate from all of its injuries. Lewis and Nelson will try to guide the Vandals into conference play next week as UI hosts Pacific at 2 p.m. Friday and Cal State Northridge at 1 p.m.

Sunday.
The Vandals will play today at 3 p.m., hosting the Air Force Academy at Guy Wicks Field.

Football faces another big test

BY MARK WILLIAMS ARGONAUT STAFF

n a season that has already seen its fair share of big games, the University of Idaho football team faces another substantial challenge this weekend when it takes on 1-AA powerhouse and border rival Montana on Saturday in Missoula.

Coming off Saturday's 42-14 shellacking to No. 18 Washington, the Vandal offense continues to struggle with the same thing it has all season long: the passing game.

While sophomore quarterback Michael Harrington did manage to toss two touch-down passes against the Huskies, his other stats were not nearly as impressive. Harrington completed a paltry 6 of his 23 attempts for 54 yards. Senior Brian Lindgren didn't fare much better, completing just three out of seven passes for 32 yards and an interception.

"We're still struggling in the passing game, which is hurting us as a football team," UI coach Tom Cable said. "We have to get some confidence in that group of people: receivers and quarterback.

"The shame of it all is I think this is the most talented we've been as a group in terms of our passing game people.'

Senior running back Zach Gerstner, who had seen little time before the UW game, had a career day for the Vandals, rushing for 104 yards and 21 car-

FOOTBALL (0-4) ries and catching a 3yard touchdown pass in the first quarter. With the game, Gerstner showed he can be a con-Saturday, 1 p.m. sistent weapon out of the backfield.

 New Mexico State "It's always great to play that kind of a game Oct. 4, 5 p.m. and make something happen," Gerstner said.
"I don't think it was that big of a deal ... we Las Cruces Ranking Four-way tie for

Next games

Missoula

Montana

didn't get it done." Montana may not be a high-profile school compared to the likes of UW and Washington State, but the Vandals know from experience that playing in Grizzly Stadium is as tough an environment as any in college football.

"To me it's as good as an environment as you would have in Seattle, in Lincoln, in Oklahoma — all the places I've ever been," Cable said. "They're tremendous football fans and they understand the game. We wear white uniforms over there we have to wear white uniforms over there, we have to accept the ketchup and mustard. Other than that we just need to win a football

Winning, obviously, is something the Vandals sorely need to do, and so far this season it has been the UI defense that has done its part to make victory possible. Anchored by a strong core of seniors who have experienced the rigors of losing for two years already, including senior defensive tackle Brian Howard, the group doesn't care how it gets it done. "I think our biggest goal this weekend is just to win, whatever it takes," Howard said. "Stopping the run is definitely going to be a part of that, but we're just trying to get

FOOTBALL, see Page 10

EMET WARD / ARGONAUT UI defensive lineman Brian Howard lines up to run a play during practice Tuesday afternoon on the Kibbie Dome practice field.

INTRAMUI			Ů				·
Men's competitiv	e flag foo	tball		Section 3	Win	Loss	Forteit	Money Shots	0	1
Section 1 I Can't Tell You	Win 1	Loss 1	Forfeit	Pikes Therapists	3 2	0	0	SLB & Friends	1	1
Theta Chi	i	1	0 D	Betas	3	1 0	0	Section 4 Olesen	Win 1	Loss 1	Fort
SAE	á	Ó	0	Casual Disc	1	2	0	Bare Witch Project	Ó	2
Sigma Nu	1	1	0	Section 4	Win	Loss	Forteit	Phi Kappa Tau	2	ō
Black Tornados Section 2	0 Win	3	0	Sigma Chi #1 PunshingFiredevils	3	0	0	Big Duke	1	1
Delta Sigma Phi	wiii	Loss 2	Forfeit O	Delta Chi	2 1	1 2	0	Top Gun	2	0
Mad Hatters	ž	ō	Ď	Fiji	3	ō	0	Women's competitive	10 0000	or
Ramrod	0	3	O					Section 1	Win	Loss	Fort
Farmhouse Bet ās	2 2	0	0	Women's competi	tive ultim	ate Frist	ee	Delta Gamma	2	0	(011
Section 3	Win	1 Loss	0 Forteit	Section 1	Win	Loss	Forfeit	Dynamite Kicks	0	2
Delta Chi	2	0	0	Delta Gamma Gamma Phi Beta	0 1	3 2	0	Alpha Phi	2	1
AKL	2	0	0	Alpha Gamma Delta	ż	1	0	Kappa Delta Kappa Alpha Theta	0 2	2 1
The Shockers Sigma Chi	0	2	0	Kappa Kappa Gamma	3		•	Section 2	Win	Loss	Fort
Pikes	1 2	t 0	0					Pi Beta Phi	2	0	-
Balls Deep	ī	1	Ö	Men's recreational				Free Kicks	2	0
			•	Section 1 Wasted	Win	Loss	Forfeit	Gamma Phi Beta Alpha Gamma Della	2	1 0
Women's compe	titive flag	football		Theta Chi	3 1	0 1	0 1	Kappa Kappa Gamma	i	2
Section 1	Win	Loss	Forfeit	Taus	2	i	ó	.,
Bling Bling Pi Phi li	2	1	0	Phi Delta Theta	0	1	2	Women's recreation	al socc	er
n Pni ii Pi Beta Phi	1	2 0	0	Section 2	Win	Loss	Forteit	Section1	Win	Loss	Forf (appa Delta	ů	3	0	Bad News Bears Olesen Hall	2 2	0 0	0	Go Lisa Gamma Phi Beta	. !	0
ri Delta	. 0	3	Ŏ	Turfburns	2	1	0	Tornadoes	1 0	0 2
las Beens	3	. 0	_ 0	McCoy Golden Boys	ō	1	ĭ	iomadoca	U	-
Section 2 Samma Phi Beta	Win D	Loss 2	Forfeit 0	Phi Kappa Taus	0	. 2	1	Women's wiffle ball
IGD	2	Ó	Ö	Section 3 Care Bears	Win 3	Loss 0	Forfeit	Section 1	Win	Loss	Forfe
G	ž	ō	ő	Sigma Chi B	3	. 0	0 0	Delta Gamma	1	1
G Frosh	0	3 .	0	Pornstars	ī	ĭ	1	Sluggers Kappa Delta	2	1
lappa Kappa Gamma lipha Phi	2 2	0 0	0	The Sharks	1	2	0	Coors Queens II	2	0 0
грна ст	2	U	0	The Underachievers Borah	0	2	1	Gamma Phi Beta	ī	2
/len's recreationa	al flan foo	thall		Section 4	2 Win	1 Lass	0 Forteit	Kappa Kappa Gamma	0	0
ection 1	Win	Loss	Forfeit	Adam is not Good	0	1	2	Olesen Hall	1	2
hi Delta Theta	2	1	0	Hot C's Dream Team	3	0	0	Monio wiffle hall
tcCoy Scholars	0	3	0	Brothers from Diff, Mothers		3	0	Men's wiffle ball Section 1	Win	Long	Co.s.
hi Kappa Tau ajones Grande	1	2	0	Kappa Sigma Kappa Sigma	3 2	0 2	0 1	Sigma Chi B	Win 1	Loss 1	Fort
lesen Hall	2	2	0	The Chukkars	1	2	ά	Pikes 2	i	Ġ
eal Deal	3	ò	. 0				-	Phi Delta Theta	1	2
ection 2	Win	Loss	Forteit	Women's recreation	nal ultim	ate Frisb	ee	Kappa Sigma	0	2
emper Ubi Sub	0	3	0	Section 1	Win	Loss	Forfeit	Beta's 1 AKL 3	2	0
íke Scrubbs ngineering	2 2	1 1 -	0	. Gamma Phi Bela	0	2	1	Section 2	Win	Loss	Forte
Bus	2	1	ŏ	Mass Destruction Olesen Hall	2 0	1 2	0 1	Fiji 3	0	0
igma Chi B	2	1	Ď	Roanoke Survivors	3	Ď	b	Balls Deep	3	0
eta Frosh	1	. 2	_ 0	Rebel Thunderbeans	3	0	Ō	Struck Out Delta Sigma Phi	2 1	1 2
ection 3 ad News Betas	Win 2	Loss	Forteit	Theta Stars	1	1	1	Theta Chi	ò	3
ao news belas eta Juniors	2	0	0	Mania assessibilis				Sigma Chi	0	3
heta Chi	ō	3	Ö	Men's competitive		l acc	Page 11	Section 3	Win	Loss	Forte
recked 'Ems	1	1	0	Section 1 Delta Sigma Phi	Win 1	Lass 2	Forleit O	Theta Chi 2 Delta Chi	0	2
rmy of Darkness	1 Min	1 000	1 Earlait	Theta Chi	3	ő	0	Taus	3	1 0
ection 4 /ild Cats	Win 2	Loss 1	Forteit O	G Thang	Ō	3	0	Engineers	Ĩ	ĭ
runken Mob	1	ģ	0	Evil Penguin Attack	2	1	0	A2K 1	2	Ö
арра Кедда	2	1	0	Section 2 Bamf	Win 1	Loss 2	Forteit O	(Results through Wednesday)
rmhouse B	0	3	0	FC Corona	3	0	Ü
lud Dawgs Igh Rollers	1 3	0 2	0	La Real Suciedad	1	1	Ö				Ste / 100
ection 5	Win	Loss	Forteit	Global Village	0	0	0		45 SEAS	Service Control	2400
our Country's Bad	1	2	0	Sigma Nu Section 3	0 Win	0	2 Fortait		111111
ue Darts	0	3	0	Pikes	WIR O	Loss 1	Forteit O			1000
lm's Militia NR	3 1	0 2	0 0	The Gladiators	1	i	Ö		die
nn appa Sigma Rec .	1	2	0.	Rebels	1	1	0
AE C	3	ō	0	Delta Chi	1	0	0	Million 74	+>==++23 5 3	3 22
ection 6	Win	Loss	Forfeit	Fiji Section 4	Vin	1 Loss	0 Forteit	Es a second \	$(s(n_2))$	> 10
alls Deep	2	0	0	Kappa Sigma	1 .	0	0		- Marine	HE	अन्त ्
o Money KL Piedge	1 0	1 2	Ω 0	Betas	1	1	Û	0	a Willia	a 200	•
atsinators	2	ő	ű	AKL Bolon Lock Children	1	1	0				,
Ac p	1	1	0	Peles Lost Children Farmhouse	1 0	0 2	0 0		A		4
poseknuckles	0	2	0	· arringgag	υ	2	Ŋ	for the	he house		(0)
	anal flam	ioothall		Men's recreational	soccer				1
omen's recreation			Eorf-14	Section 1	Win	Loss	Forteit		•		120
ction 1 mma Phi Beta	Win 1	Loss 1	Forfeit O	Big Montana	1	1	1	4			TILL
esen	,	'n	ñ	Kee's Hairy Wrists	1	1	1		الأكسان	-24	1.'JA

SPORTSCALENDAR

TODAY

UI soccer vs. Air Force, Guy Wicks Field, 3 p.m.

SATURDAY

Ul football vs. Montana, Missoula, noon; Outdoor Program --- natural rockclimbing trip.

WEDNESDAY

Outdoor Program — natural rockclimbing class, 6:30 p.m., SRC; open kayak pool sessions, 7-10 p.m.,

THURSDAY

UI volleyball vs. UC Irvine, Memorial Gym, 7 p.m.

FRIDAY

UI soccer vs. Pacific, Guy Wicks Field,

Note: Intramurals — Entries for team sports will open one week before entry deadline. For more information, call the Campus Recreation Office at 885-6381. Outdoor Program: For more information, call office at 885-6810.

Sports calendar items must be submitted in writing or e-mailed to arg_sports@sub.uidaho.edu by Sunday or Wednesday before publication. Items must include a date, deadline or some other kind of time element.

SPORTSBRIEFS

Greer making improvements

University of Idaho sophomore Keith Greer has been upgraded to satisfactory condition and has been moved out of intensive care to a regular ward at Seattle's Harborview Medical Center.

Greer had been in intensive care at Harborview since Aug. 31, when he developed Acute Respiratory Distress Syndrome after surgery to repair his broken right leg. He initially was listed in critical condition. He was upgraded to serious Sept. 10 as he continued to make progress.

Last weekend he gradually was removed from a ventilator as he began to breathe on his own.

Big West coaches' poll predicts UI women's cross country repeat

The University of Idaho women's cross country team has been selected to finish first in the Big West by a conference coaches' poll.

The Vandals are the defending Big West Champions and return six athletes, including the Big West individual winner, Letiwe Marakurwa. The women received eight first place votes for a total of 98 points.

UC Santa Barbara received the other two first-place votes and was chosen to finish second in the Big West. UC Irvine and Utah State were picked to finish in a tie for third and Cal Poly came in fifth with 60 points.

Cal Poly was chosen to win the conference on the men's side as it received eight first-place votes. Idaho was selected to finish fifth, the same ranking as last season's coaches poll. Defending champion Utah

State was chosen second, followed by UC Santa Barbara and Cai State Fullerton.

Big West women's cross country poll 1 Idaho (8) 2 UC Santa Barbara (2) 3 UC Irvine 3 Utah State 5 Cal Poly 6 Cal State Northridge 7 Cal State Fullerton 7 Long Beach State 9 UC Riverside 10 Pacific () First-place votes	98 92 70 70 60 56 35 35 23
Big West men's cross country poll 1 Cal Poly (8) 2 Utah State (1) 3 UC Santa Barbara 4 Cal State Fullerton 5 Idaho 6 UC Irvine 7 Long Beach State 8 Cal State Northridge 9 UC Riverside (1) Eist oligan whise	79 71 66 44 42 37 31 20 15

Santa Barbara sweeps Athlete of the Week awards

UC Santa Barbara earned a clean sweep of the cross country honors as juniors Jeff Gardina and Desiree Leek were named Big West Male and Female Athlete of the Week, respectively.

Gardina won the UC Riverside Invitational on Sept. 20, traversing the 8K course in 24:23.80. He outdueled a field of 315 other runners to capture first place. UC Santa Barbara finished in first place out Leek was the top collegiate finisher and third overall at the UC Riverside Invitational. She ran the 5K course in 17:38.00, which was only 3.5 seconds off first place. Leek competed in a 145-runner field and helped the Gauchos win their second consecutive meet.

Indian Dance Theatre American

Presented by Festival Dance

A Feast for The Eyes" The New York Times Thrilling and Profound" Dance Magazine

Tickets

Beasley Coliseum Adult: $16-$24

Children 12 & Under: $10 - &12

Sunday, October 5th. 3pm

Discount for Groups! Tickets available at Beasley Box Office, The Depot, UI North Campus Center, Albertson's and

For more information call: 883-3267. Local Sponsor: Zions Bank

Student: $14 - $16

Ticket's West.

First Seven Rows: $28

Don't miss this extraordinary opportunity to witness this awe-inspiring pageant of ancient and authentic drumming, dance and music.

30 open. Multicultural Affairs Presents:

Hooligans Sigma Chi Team Monko

Phi Delta Theta

W.W.U.

Sonic Death Monkeys

Fiestas Patrias September 16 Commons Courtyard

en's competitive ultimate frisbee

Loss

(PA) (ref

Dance: A Night in Tijuana

October 8 Gold & Silver room, SUB

llam - lpm 8pm - midnight free admission $2.00 per person / $8.00 per couple

Documentary Chicano: Taking Back the Schools September 29 Commons Food Court Ham free admission

Movie: In the Time of the Butterflies Borah Theater, SUB 7pm free admission October 6

Lecture: "For the Love of the Laborer" by Anjel Luna Horizon room, Commons 6pm free admission October 15

October 11

Latino Festival 03

SUB Ballroom 6pm free admission

Sponsors:

University of Idaho Office of Multicultural Affairs, Orginizacion de Estudiantes Latino Americanos, College Assistance Migrant Program Organization of Students, Gamma Alpha Omega, Sigma Lambda Beta, and Sabor de la Raza. Office Diversity and Human Rights, The Association of Latinos and Iberians

Harvard University John F. Kennedy School of Government

Admissions Information Session Monday September 29th Idaho Commons Building Horizon Room 4:00pm

Michael Burke, Associate Director of Admissions, will conduct an Information Session to speak about the admissions process and introduce the following degrees:

Master of Public Policy (MPP) Master of Public Policy/Urban Planning (MPP/UP)

Master of Public Administration/International Development (MPA/ID)

Master of Public Administration (MPA2)

Doctorate in Public Policy

The Kennedy School of Government is at the forefront of domestic and international public policy research and houses twelve research centers specializing in a variety of policy areas. Students are given the opportunity to concentrate on areas that include:

Business and Government Policy

Crime and Criminal Justice

Environment and Natural Resources

Health Care Policy

Housing, Urban Development, and Transportation

Human Resources, Labor, and Education

International Security and Political Economy

International Trade and Finance

Nonprofit Sector

Political Advocacy and Leadership

Political and Economic Development

Press, Politics, and Public Policy Science, Technology, and Public Policy

FOOTBALL From Page 8

a win right now."

Thus far the defense's consistent improvement has been spawned by its tendency to force turnovers. The squad forced two against Washington, and the players know they will need to get more of the same in order to compete on Saturday.

"That's something that's becoming who we are defensively," Cable said. "Every game we have created at least one turnover."

Like the passing game on offense, defending the run has been a struggle all year long for UI, which gave up 231 yards on the ground against the Huskies.

UI has given up 1,096 total rushing yards in four games so far this year, ranking the Vandals 107th in the country in that category.

"We've improved in some areas, and in some areas I think we're kind of working through the issues," Cable said. "We've played three teams that have been able to run the ball pretty good in Washington, Washington State and Boise." Furthermore, Cable said the running attack of each of those teams improved as the game

On a lighter note, this game will mark a homecoming of sorts for starting right guard Jade Tadvick. The redshirt freshman is from nearby Stevensville, Mont., and is looking forward to playing in front of family and friends.

"I've got a lot of people coming to watch and everything," Tadvick said. "I'm looking forward to it and hopefully I can put on a show.

Montana (2-1) has a three-game win streak against the Vandals dating back to 1999, when UI won the game 33-30 in Missoula. The Grizzlies have won the last three meetings by an average of 6.3 points. UM won last year 38-

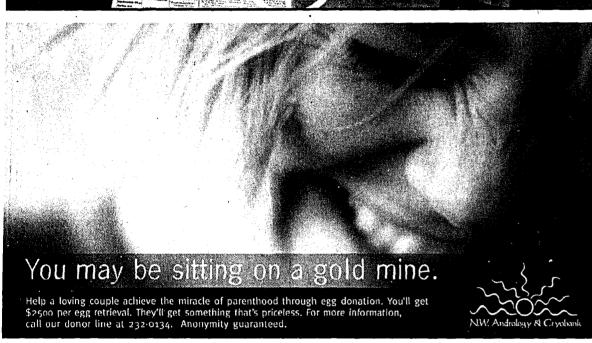

Montana is led by Jeff Disney at quarter-back. He has 417 yards passing with a 53.6 completion percentage along with four touch-down passes. J.R. Waller leads the way on the ground with 175 rushing yards on 32 carries.

The Vandals lead the series against the Grizzlies 55-25-2, with the first game being played in 1903.

Kickoff will be at 12:05 p.m. PDT, and the game can be heard live on 104.3 FM KHTR. It will be televised regionally only in Montana.

Triathletes prepare for competition, head to Walla Walla on Saturday

BY BETSY DALESSIO ASSISTANT S&R EDITOR

Although the main season for triathletes is the spring, 12-20 UI Triathlon Club members have risen to the occasion and will compete in the Whitman Fall Triathlon this Saturday.

The triathlon will be held at 8 a.m. on the Whitman Campus in Walla Walla. It includes a 500-yard swim, 3.1-mile run and 10-mile bike ride. Day-of-the-race registration of the available at 7 a.m. at the Sherwood Pool Center.

Founded in April of 2000, the UI Triathlon Club provides an opportunity for triathletes to train in a group and receive motivation and support from fellow athletes.

Members share training tips, experience and competition strategies while preparing to compete around the Northwest. "Team camaraderie is important to us," club president Ben Greenfield said. "It's more fun to train and compete as a team." The team welcomes all ability levels and meets at 6 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month in the Idaho Commons Wellspring Room to discuss coming races and events.

Each meeting also includes a 10-15 minute special presentation. In October members will discuss a Dave Scott Triathlon

Members of the club receive a T-shirt, reimbursement for entry fees, discounts from sponsors such as De Soto Sport and E-Caps/Hammer Nutrition, a chance to participate in team training sessions, an Internet training network and free access to clinics and social events.

For beginners the club offers special workshops including swim, bike and run training sessions. "Triathlon season is generally from April to September, but we train and host activities all year," Greenfield said. Because triathlon is usually a highly individualized sport, Greenfield said the club rarely trains as a group. However, team spinning sessions, group runs and swims, as well as pizza:

parties, do occasionally occur.

"This year a primary goal is to have regular poker runs, once a month, and more frequent training in the spring organized so that all levels can participate," he said.

The club plans to take a trip to Nationals at Lake Havasu in the spring. It also will conduct training weekends in Coeur

IN SEARCH OF THE GEM A CARTOON SAGA BY NOAH KROESE

ORDER YOUR GEM ONLINE AT HTTP://www.SUB.UIDAHO.EDU/GEM/ OR COME DOWN TO THE GEM OFFICES ON THE THIRD FLOOR OF THE SUB

SSIFIFDS

WORK SELL

Per Word (per publication). Bold Type (per word)....

Advanced payment is required for all classified ads, unless credit has been established with the Argonaut To place your classified ad call

885-7825

POLICIES

Pre-payment is required. NO REFUNDS WILL BE GIVEN AFTER THE FIRST INSERTION. Cancellation for a full refund accepted prior to the deadline. An advertising credit will be issued for cancelled ads. All abbreviations, phone numbers, email addresses and dollar amounts count as one word. Notify the Argonaut immediately of any typographical errors. The Argonaut is not responsible for more than the first incorrect insertion. The Argonaut reserves the right to reject ads considered dis tasteful or libelous. Classified ads of a business nature may not appear in the Personal column. Use of first names and last initials only unless otherwise approved.

EMPLOYMENT

For more information on *Jobs numbered 04-###-off, visit www.uidaho.edu/sfas/ ld or SUB 137 Jobs numbered Job# TO-###, visit the Employment Services website at www.uidaho.edu/hrs or 415 W.

Numerous health care positions. For more info, visit SUB 137.

GO VANDAL FOOTBALL

04-066-off, 20 Delivery Drivers, Sandwich Assembler in Moscow: Make and serve sub sandwiches, perform general store cleaning, Required: Excellent customer service skills. Insurance and at least 18 vrs old (for drivers). 15-40 hrs/wk $6.00/hr

04-097-off, 5 or more CNA positions in Moscow: Provide services for young adults with special needs Required: CNA license, caring personality with interest in the field PT. DOE.

T03-137. Video Production Technician Assist the UI Video Production Center by part-time working on multi-camera production assignments on an asneeded basis. Work Schedule: varies, Start Date: ASAP, Ending Date: end of spring semester, Rate of Pay: DOE. Min $12.50/hr, Department: ITS-Video Production Center

EMPLOYMENT

04-099-off, 3 CNA's or NA's in Moscow: Caring for elderly individuals, activities of daily living (feeding, dressing, oral care). Will provide training if necessary. Preferred: CNA. PT or FT. Shifts are 6am-2nm 2pm- 10pm, or 10pm-6am. DOE.

Assistant tasks as assigned.

required for this job

Waiting on tables &

Experience in the $5.25/hr.

Experience building database driven web pages is 04-070-off, 4 Servers &

Kitchen Help in Moscow:

kitchen work. Required:

food industry. 20 hr./wk.

GOOD LUCK

VANDAL

CROSS

COUNTRY

04-102-off to 04-104-off

3 Mechanics, 8 Heavy

Operators, 3 transportation Coordinators & more.

Required: 17 to 34 yrs old or up to 55 yrs old if prior ments, pass health exam

ground check, ASVAB test

& criminal history back-

& full sports physical.

Enlist in Reserves, 1

mer $416/wkend

descriptions

wkend/month in Coeur minimum. See web or bulletin board for further d'Alene, 2 wks each sumheight/weight require-

Equip/Construction

service. Meet

04-063-off, Farm Work in Juliaetta: Perform odd iobs around a farm including using a cutting torch, Clean & paint farm equipment, perform machine repairs & general farm work. Required: Experience with farm chores, with cutting torch, welding & spray painter. PT. flexible Excellent pay

04-098-off, 5 or more Care providers in Moscow: Providing services for young adults with special needs with developmentally & physical disabilities. Required: Caring personality with interest in the field PT. DOE.

04-100-off, Nanny in Moscow: Care for 6 mo. infant including feeding & entertaining. Required: 1st Aid, CPR training. Preferred: Early childhood development background. 7:30-10:30 am, M-F

04-061-off, CNA in Colfax, WA: Assist elderly in longterm care setting with dressing, oral care, eating, toileting, transferring, and walking. Required: Able to lift up to 75 lbs., perform basic personal care, & possess range of motion. 8+ hrs/wk $7.01/h r(not certified), otherwise DOE

EMPLOYMENT EMPLOYMENT

04-068-off, Manual Labor 04-101-off, Housekeeping in Moscow: Vacuum store, in Moscow: Digging to dust counters, clean 2 prepare for concrete founrestrooms, empty trash dation. Possibly more cans, wipe mirrors & perwork available. Preferred: Construction skills form general duties of cleaning in a business Flexible $7,00/hr. 04-073-off, 1 to 3 setting, Required: Must he in town & work over Hashers in Moscow, onthe holidays & possess campus: Clean up, serve desire to do a good job. meals, mob floors, do Will Train. 4 hrs/day, 5 dishes, perform misc. days/wk, 2 of which are kitchen help. Required: Sa & Su, pick the other 3. Neat, clean, courteous, Weekday hrs are 6am pleasant individuals. 10 am. Sa is 8:30 am -Varies $6/hr. 12:30 & Sun is 10:30am 04-107-off, Cataloger in

2:30pm ~$6.50-7.00/hr. Moscow: Duties include: T03-136, Web Accessioning, cataloging, Development & Support and storage of items & entering collection infor-Assist Idaho Commons & mation into electronic Student Union by: supdatabase. Required: porting daily operation of Experience in accessionthe Computer Network ing, Familiarity with electhrough telephone, online, tronic cataloging. 40 hrs and in-person support of total $10.00/hr. network users and their applications and other

04-110-off, Multiple Glass Blowers in Moscow: Use artistic talent to design glass beads & sculptures. Required: Passed secondary or post-secondary art class. PT or FT $5.15/hr. to start.

04-089-off, Child Care in Moscow: Pick up an 8 yr. old at school, take home & wait for older brother. Help boys with homework. Needed from 3:00 pm - 5:00 pm. Required: Some experience with children 8 hrs/wk 5.50/hr

04-090-off, Multiple Child Care in Moscow: Occasional evening child care for two boys ages 8 &12 Required: Experience with children. Variable $5.50/hr For more info visit uidaho.edu/sfas/jld or SUB 137.

04-081-off, CNA's & Aides in Moscow: Work with children with developmental disabilities or provide care for people in their own homes Required: Interest in helping youth & people with disabilities. Must pass criminal history screen. Flexible, some weekends Competitive

EMPLOYMENT

Assistant in Moscow: Duties include: Reception, research assistance, publicity & events assistance. office support for director & operations coordinator. Required: Computer competence in word processing & spreadsheet software, email & basic internet skills. Ability to work well with public. including reception of visitors & answering phone. Able to climb stairs, stand or walk for extended periods of time, & lift & carry at least 25 lbs. 16 hrs/wk

$7.00/hr. 04-108-off, 1-2 Aquatic Exercise Instructors in Moscow: Instruct prenatal aquatic exercise classes & instruct general aquatic exercise classes twice a week. Supervise special needs groups in pool with care takers once a week. Required: Knowledge & experience of instructing exercise classes. programs, & lesson in water. Can be trained.

Certification & life guard preferred, but not required, 2 classes/wk, 6 hr/wk T & Th 4:30-5:30 & 5:30-6:30 and Th 7-8 DOE 04-105-off, Egg Collector in Pullman: Collect eggs & clean pens. Required: Experience with animals, able to lift 60 lbs. repeatedly & have reliable transportation. Must not have allergies to dust or birds. Preferred: Small & agile physique. PT, wkday morns, wkends, holidays. $8.00/hr. to start. After-school childcare needed for three busy children and mother. Requires transportation from school to activities then home. Prep and serve snack. help with homework, possible dinner prep. Great opportunity for students needing research/observation credits, 2-3 additional full days each month depending on school schedule and availability. Contact Kelly at 882-4787 or 338-0848.

EMPLOYMENT

DELIVERY AM THE TRI-BUNE, one car route in Moscow before school or work. Two reliable vehicles and team helper good. Earn approximatel $400-$450 per month. Leave message 882-8742.

MOSCOW SCHOOL DIS-TRICT #281 is currently accepting applications for the following extracurricular coaching positions: BASKETBALL: JV Boys Basketball Coach - MHS Anticipated Assistant Boys Basketball Coaches-MJHS & MHS WRESTLING: Assistant Coach- MHS BASEBALL: Varsity

Baseball Coach- MHS Assistant Baseball Coaches- MHS All positions: open until filled. Moscow School District, 650 N. Cleveland, Moscow, ID 83843-3659. (208) 892-1128. www.sd281.k12.id.us EOE WSU International

Programs seeks recently eturned Peace Corps volunteer. Position esponsible for recruiting Peace Corp volunteers or WSU and UI campuses. Salary negotiable, See the WSU temporary job postings at www.hrs.wsu.edu/csheo/\ iewjob.asp?jobnum-

chenow@wsu.edu. EARN BIG $$$ Do you need extra money

ber≈90870 or e-mail

Candace Chenoweth at

to actualize your dreams of an education, while still affording some of the luxuries you deserve? If you have "The Right Stuff." you can earn $500-$800 working a minimum of two shifts each week. We are now interviewing for dancers, Hostesses and Beverage Servers at: State Line Showgirls "A true gentlemen's club" located in State Line. Idaho. No experience nec essary! Call State Line Showgirls-(208)777-0977 anytime after 3pm-seven days a week.

EMPLOYMENT

T02-124, Weilness Instructor Assist Campus Recreation with instructing a certified Spinning class and a certified Fitness class. Must be able to teach fitness classes. Work Schedule: 1-2 hours per week; flexible, Starting Date: 8/25/03, Ending Date: 12/20/03, Rate of Pay: $12.00/hr

ELS NEEDED No experience required. all looks and ages. Earn $100-$300 a day. 1-888-820-0167 ext. U39

ALL POSITIONS! NOW HIRING! $15-$18/hr. Visit Us now at www worknow4students.homestead.com We specialize in helping students earn

Bartender Trainees Needed $250 a day potential. ocal positions. I-800-293-3985 ext.701

Need person to help train dog few times a week. No experience necessary. Need transportation Minimum wage. (208)338-0284.

SERVICES

A+ and Network+ Certified Computer Technician. Laptop and desktop repair with warranty. Best rates in town guaranteed. (208) 892-8866 5pm-9pm.

MISC.

Uniontown has three places to eat, three places to get a drink, two bed and breakfasts, two great antique stores and is only 15 minutes south on highway 95 using the cut-off road.

approved.

BULIMIA TREATMENTS Seeking females with bulimia (binge/purge eating) for 8-week treatment study. Participation confidential. Contact Jane: 335-4511 or jlbarga@hotmail.com. WSU IRB

MISC.

ACLU & SODA Virgin Drag Show Friday Sep 26 @ the Beach 6pm 5$ before 7$ @ door

> Moscow School of Massage Stressed?

Try Massage 1hr-$25

Friday Sept. 26th Relax this weekendl Receive a student massage at reduced rates in our Community Massage Clinic (Sept. to June 1-hr. massage just $25

Call now for appointment! 882-7867 S. 600 Main St. Moscow ID 83843

MOVIES

The Best Family Film Since Finding Nemo " ... Harrow Ke * SECONDHAND LIONS

FG 6:45 a 9:00 ETA BARGAM MATWEED 2:00 5 4:15 SAF SIM Spean Atmitted - 1823/12652

"One hell of a ride."

7:00 ± 9:30 EIR BARGAN MATNEE 4:30 SAT-SUN And Observations pro test and departs. Paris Appendia — NO Med

ANNOUCEMENTS Fraternities - Sororities Clubs - Student

Groups Earn $1,000 - $2,000 this semester with a proven Campus Fundraiser 3 hour fundraising event. Our free programs make fundraising easy with no isks. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so get with the program! It works. Contact CampusFundraiser at (888)923-3238, or visit campusfundraiser.com.

Sigma Alpha Lambda, national leadership & honors organization is seeking motivated students to begin a campus chapter. 3.0 GPA rminer@salhonors.org Emmanuel Preschool has limited openings for 3 and 4 year olds. Call 882-1463.

req. contact:

FOR SALE

Washer and Dryer Rent for $30/monthFree maintenance and delivery 883-3240

USED FURNITURE Beds, Couches, Dressers, Ent. Ctrs., Computer desks, Tables & Chairs. Coffee tables. Pictures, Lamps, Mirrors and Decorator Items. We have it all. Huge selection- Affordably priced at Now and Then, 321 E. Palouse River Dr. Moscow. Delivery Available

RENTALS 2 bedroom apt avail

NOW! Want it just thru Dec? that's OK. Walk to: campus - quiet location: modern, clean & bright on middle floor(cheap to heat) on-site laundry & off-street parking. 460.00 per month - $210 Deposit, Call now! - This: one won't last! Otto Hill Apartments - 882-32242