Gentlemen:

I am in great need of your assistance. I am currently in the midst of research on the status and development of Black Studies curriculums in American colleges and universities. The research will develop into a dissertation study for the Ph. D. in higher education here at Southern Illinois University. The tentative title of the study is "Toward A Model with Rationale for Black Studies Curriculums." I am hopeful that you have a complete listing of the Black Studies programs which have been developed at institutions of higher education in your state, with perhaps some additional information and that you will be good enough to send a copy. This information is vital to my study.

May I hear from you as soon as possible.

Sincerely and respectfully,

Hank Wilson
