Dr. Ernest W. Hartung
President
University of Idaho

Dear President Hartung,

Please accept this note of thanks for the efforts of Ms. Sandi Gallagher in helping us to make our basic management course as up to date as possible.

Affirmative Action has caused quantum changes and new problems for managers in the U.S. Current management texts discuss the subject inadequately. To expose our students to this important area of management, we have called on the person with the expertise, Sandi herself.

There are three sections in Business 311, "Introduction to Management Theory," and a total enrollment of 170 to 195 during each semester. Sandi has found the time to come in and discuss Affirmative Action with each of these sections, meeting all three in the fall and again this spring. Some 360 students have thus been acquainted with the program and its impact on the University. She generated much interest, and occasional consternation, in her discussions of equal opportunity and remedial action.

Sandi has been most considerate and gracious in taking the time from her very busy schedule to enrich this course. Our students are better equipped to lead and manage because of her efforts.

Sincerely,

Jack Magee
