Dear Sir:-

I am sending you today a package of letters, documents and newspaper clippings to be filed in your office. I have indicated in blue pencil the subject headings. Hereafter, we will try to have copies of every paper regarding our business on file with you. It will therefore be necessary for you to have everything systematically arranged so that you can furnish at short notice any information that may be called for.

All newspaper clippings please file according to date in the scrap book. If there are any duplicates, please save them for the present.

In case of any personal papers of mine in the package, turn them over to Edie for filing.

Yours truly,

F. W. Bradley
