

BUNKER HILL & SULLIVAN M. & C. Co.

Wardner, Idaho, Aug.5, 1900.

On August 5th, operative saw Burch, who told him that he had changed things all around, put in new foremen and shift bosses; that, for the time being, there was no place for him, but there would be one in a few days.

On the same day operative learned that Voigtlander was in Wardner, and he began to look for him.

Everything in Wardner seemed to be quiet.

Seattle, Wash. Aug.13, 1900.