ROLL #13

75, 76, 77

Beans planted on the contour, Moscow, Idaho (east of). This is the second year in which the few fields of beans have been planted on the contour.

The results have proven satisfactory and farmers report that tillage is not as difficult on the contour as it is when beans rows are planted up and down the slope. This farm is under CCC cooperative agreement and the CCC enrollees have built stock ponds on this ranch. Contour plantings reduce erosion.

Beans planted up and down the hill - the old way. This is the field adjacent to the one shown in the previous picture.
