CCC Camp Will Be Dismantled Soon, Crews Now Working

---

Dismantling of the Riggins CCC Camp F-106 was started Monday, February 24, according to Supervisor J. W. Farrell of the Idaho National Forest. Captain Annett of the Boise District CCC Headquarters is in charge of the 25 CCC enrollees from the Pollock CCC camp and the two carpenter foremen who will dismantle the army buildings.

Work has not yet started on salvaging the Forest Service buildings. It is expected this will start in the near future. Salvaged materials from these will be used in constructing buildings for portable sidecamps and lookout stations. The Forest Service will dismantle 12 buildings and the army seven.
