CCC Camp Plans "Open House" All Next Week

An invitation has been extended to the public, according to Dusty Kline, to visit the local CCC Camp and its projects. Visitors will be welcome, he said, starting at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, and continuing through April 6.

This "open house" is being held by CCC camps all over the country, according to Mr. Kline, commemorating the eighth anniversary of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Every effort will be made by the McCall camp in the presentation of a camp program during "open house week" which will give the public a comprehensive idea of the aims and objectives of the CCC's.
