FORESTRY MEASURE EXPECTED TO FURNISH WORK FOR 250,000 MEN

Congress Wednesday passed President Roosevelt's re-forestation bill which is expected to put 250,000 jobless men to work. The President is expected to fix the wage scale at $1 per day. The bill provides for labor in re-forestation work, prevention of forest fires and other forest projects. Recruiting of labor will be done by the department of labor. The men selected will be sent to army posts, given a thorough physical examination, furnished clothing and tools, and then be transported to the various camps.
