FARMER STEPHAN

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE NOT A COWBOY.

BUT DOES CULTIVATE SEVERAL HUNDRED ACT

It would seem that John Voter will have a ch choose between Cowboy Ben and Farmer Frank ne vember. Looking over Twin Falls County agriculty cords, I find that Candidate Frank Stephan is consi more of a farmer than is see Ben. He grows ber raises pure-bred Hampshire sheep on 320 acres of comprised in two ranches, each of 160 acres.

Some of his sheep were sold at the recent Fi sale, and excited quite some comment because of the ity: Mr. Stephan organized the Twin Falls Bean Association, one of the targest and most successful farmers' co-operatives in the state. I am not sure he uses his losses as a farmer to keep his law off or whether he makes up his legal practice deficien the farm, but anyway, he's a mighty good farmer a cessful lawyer.

May be John Voter would like to learn so about this quiet, reserved, hard-thinking gentler was born on a farm in Huntington county, Ind March 18, 1886. Came to Idaho in 1914. He re elementary education in one of Indiana's sural " school houses," and then attended the university igan for his A. B. and LL.B. degrees. All the tinot in school he worked on his father's farm.

He was prosecuting attorney of Twin Falls years, member of the 1925 session of the legitorney-general of Idaho two years and declined nation for another term. Returned to Twin Fa and has been lawyering and farming there eve

There's the story of the man who is the candidate for governor. He's solid and dens knows his Idaho just like he knows beans on ultimate. His hobbies are the problems of the the problems of the farmer. He has studied worked at both. Democrats and Republican cede that he would make a wonderful chief on
