Children's Home Makes Annual Christmas Appeal

A little red stocking will be received by many people in Idaho from the Children's Home. This is a Christmas Appeal from the Children's Home Finding and Aid Society. In order to carry on their work for the destitute and homeless children money must be secured.

Over 300 children have already passed through the Children's Home in Boise this year. Some of these children have stayed a few weeks, some a few months and others the entire year. There has been a daily average of nearly 104 children.

Besides these children in the Boise Home and 50 in the Lewiston Home, the Society supervises over 200 more children placed in foster homes. These children in foster homes are legal wards and the Society is responsible for them until they are adopted or reach 18 years of age.

The demands upon the Children's Home have been extremely heavy this year on account of the large number of homes being broken up by the lack of employment for parents. Many pitiful cases are being received this winter. Large families consisting of seven children ranging in age from six months up to 14 yrs. of age are being sent to the Home. Most of them have been so badly neglected that it takes about three months to build them up to normal health. Many fathers are becoming discouraged and deserting their children; many homes are broken up by death of one or both parents. Other children are innocent victims of bootlegging and vicious environment.

About half of the children given care in the Children's Home are kept as temporary aid cases for six months or longer until their parents can get on their feet and provide a home for them. Other children are taken away from parents by probate courts on account of neglect and vicious environment and these children are for adoption and good foster homes are found by the Society for them.

While in the two Homes they receive medical care and are sent to the public schools of Boise and Lewiston. They are given excellent care and training and many of them are broken of bad habits.

The Children's Home is non-sectarian and the children are allowed to attend the church of their choice. A small per cent are Catholics. About one-third of the children in the Boise Home are Mormons, and the rest are from Protestant homes. Their religion is respected when they are placed in foster homes.

The Society is a charitable organization and not a state institution. The state makes a small appropriation towards the work but nearly half of its income is raised by charity.

The Children's Home is managed by a Board of Directors made up of prominent men and women of Boise and Lewiston. Its books are audited by the State Auditing Department and every penny accounted for.

Mrs. Lillian M. Carve, State Superintendent, wishes to state that an official receipt will be sent to all persons who send money to the Home. People who are interested in adopting a child are asked to write to the Children's Home, Boise, for an application blank.

Unless there is a generous response to the little Red Christmas Stocking, it will be impossible for the Children's Home to care for the many children who are greatly in need of care in the Home.
