Idaho Social Security Act Benefits 54,000 In Idaho

Boise, April 1—(UP)—Idaho social security officials announced today that more than 54,000 men, women, and children in the state are benefitting directly under the social security act.

All ten divisions of the act are in operation in the state, it was said.

Among the beneficiaries of the act, 40,000 are covered by the unemployment compensation provisions of the act, and 14,370 are being cared for under approved public assistance plans.

Wage earners applying for accounts under the old age benefits program total 52,968. Most of these are also covered by the state unemployment compensation law.

In the year since federal funds became available under the social security act, Idaho has taken steps for full participation in all provisions.

The state is now receiving federal cooperation and financial assistance in plans covering unemployment compensation, aid to the needy aged, the blind, dependent children; maternal and child health services; services for crippled children; child welfare services; vocational rehabilitation, and public health service.
