Valley Farmers Are Urged to Up Production

Family-type farmers and small operators cooperating in the Valley and Adams Farm Security Administration program are being urged to increase production of milk, chickens, eggs and pork this year to increase their incomes and share in the expanding market for these products resulting from the department of agriculture's "Food for Defense," says Marice V. Sorenson, County FSA supervisor, located in Cascade.

"Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, has announced that prices of these commodities will be supported through department purchase on the following levels (Chicago market): Hogs, $9 a hundred; butter, 31 cents a pound; eggs, 22 cents a dozen, and chickens, 15 cents a pound", Sorenson said.

"Supplies acquired by the department will be used for lease lend food aid to Britain and other countries, Red Cross shipments, distribution to needy and destitute families through state welfare agencies, free school lunches, and release on the market in case of unwarranted speculative price rises. Increased home consumption of these products will also be urged to build a healthier America and strengthen our home defense efforts."

FSA families can support the "Food for Defense" program with little change in present farm plans or outlay of additional funds, explained Sorenson, through added feeding for sustained egg production and increased milk production, saving their best heifer calves, saving additional pigs for fall breeding or planning additional fall farrowing. Where substantial changes in farm plans are considered, they should be carefully reviewed with the FSA office.
