

Commencement

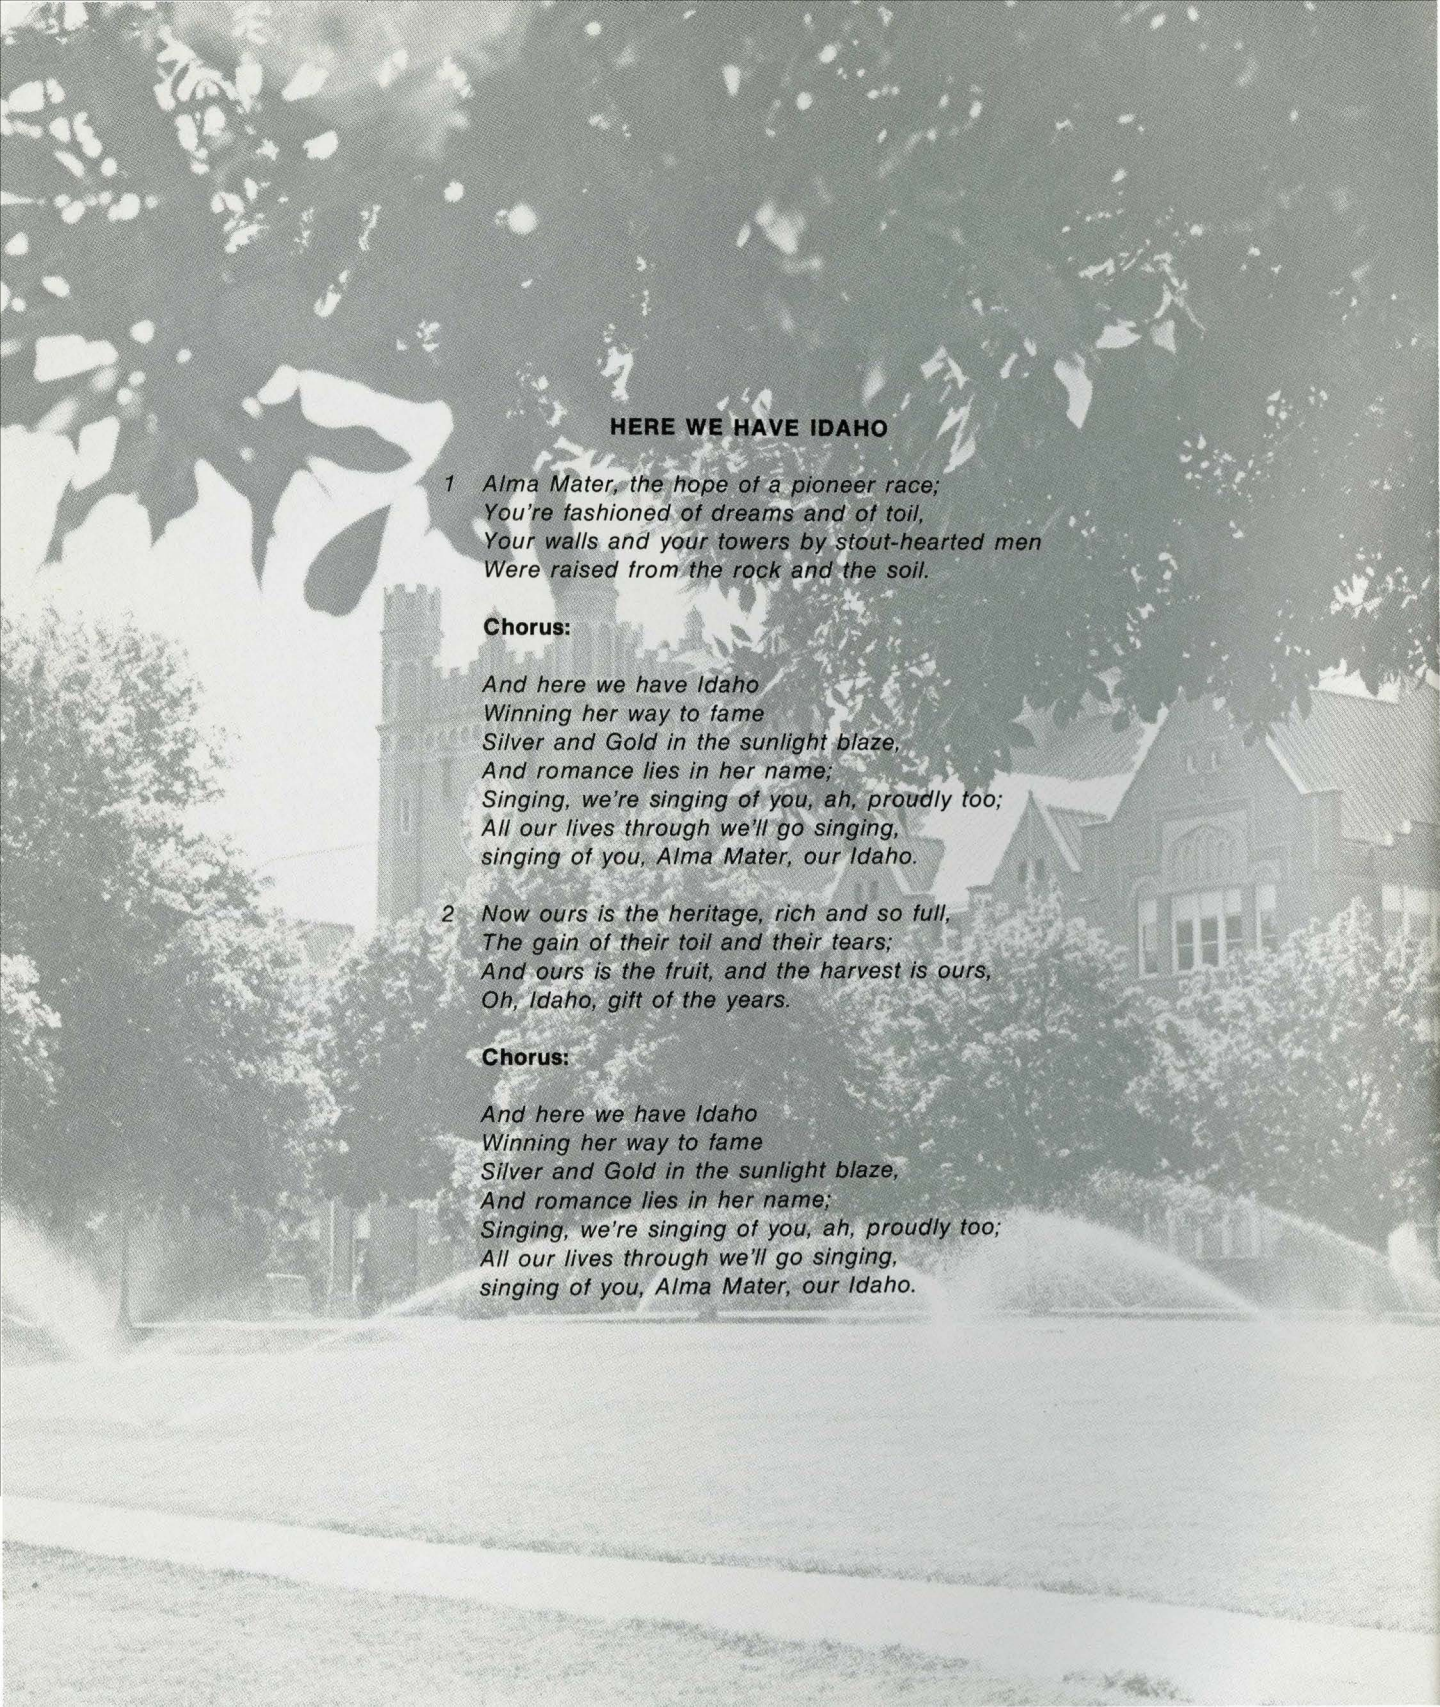

The 85th Commencement

Degrees Conferred

University of Idaho

Saturday, May 17, 1980
William H. Kibbie-ASUI Activity Center
Moscow, Idaho

HERE WE HAVE IDAHO

- 1 *Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

- 2 *Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

ADDITIONAL EVENTS TODAY

The University of Idaho Museum will be open on Commencement Day from 9:00 a.m. to noon and from 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Its permanent collection includes objects from native peoples in Africa, Asia, and North America, plus old photographs of North Idaho. The museum is in Faculty Office Complex West across the mall from the Agricultural Science Building.

The University of Idaho historical photograph exhibit and the Barnard-Stockbridge Photographic Collection exhibit will be featured in the Vandal Lounge of the Student Union Building. Oil paintings by Marilee Keys are also on exhibit in the Vandal Lounge.

David Memorial Carillon will be played immediately following the Commencement Ceremony. Selections performed by Hall M. Macklin, professor of music and department head emeritus.

Alumni Association Commencement Social Hour is scheduled from 5:00 p.m. - 6:30 p.m. at The Travelodge-University Inn, 645 Pullman Road.

Commencement Banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building Ballroom.

CRYROOM

A cryroom for parents with infants needing attention is available in the south concourse.

FIRST AID STATION

A first aid station with a nurse in attendance is located at the center of the south concourse. Restrooms are located near the center of the south concourse.

CAP AND GOWN RETURN

All graduates should return their caps and gowns immediately following the ceremony at the tables set up on the floor of the Activity Center.

Citations of Merit Upon Retirement

Robert E. Black, Extension Professor Emeritus

Professor Robert E. Black has been a leader in University of Idaho extension programs in several areas. Since 1970, he has been responsible for the supervision of extension programs in nine northern counties. Before becoming district extension supervisor, he had statewide responsibilities as extension poultryman. A native of Arizona, Professor Black earned a bachelor's degree at San Diego State College and a master's degree in poultry science and agricultural economics at the University of Idaho. In 1954, Professor Black joined the staff of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service. He was stationed at Boise for 14 years. Since 1968, he has been headquartered at Moscow. As extension poultryman, Professor Black served all segments of the Idaho poultry industry and wrote many agricultural bulletins dealing with poultry production. In recognition of his contributions to the poultry industry, the Poultry and Egg National Board awarded Professor Black the esteemed Blue Rooster Award in 1968. Professor Black has been an active member of Alpha Zeta and Epsilon Sigma Phi and has held many committee assignments at the university.

Elmer R. Canfield, Professor Emeritus of Forest Resources

Professor Elmer R. Canfield has enjoyed an unique opportunity to pursue two and perhaps three career goals. Following his retirement from the U.S. Air Force in 1960 after 24 years of military service, Professor Canfield enrolled in the University of Idaho College of Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences as a 44-year-old freshman. He completed his degree in 1964, joined a private consulting firm, and in 1966 re-enrolled at the university to begin work on a doctoral degree in forest pathology. Upon completion of his doctorate, Professor Canfield pursued further studies at the University of Arizona before moving to Boise to found a forestry consulting firm. In 1973 he returned to the University of Idaho to assist with research on forest pathogens. He subsequently joined the faculty in 1975 and has conducted research on a variety of economically damaging fungal pathogens which destroy timber resources in the Pacific Northwest. Professor Canfield hopes to pursue yet a third career after retirement from the university, to fulfill another of his childhood ambitions. He plans to raise cattle and travel.

Jay G. Garner, Extension Professor Emeritus

Professor Jay G. Garner fostered the progress of Idaho agriculture during his 34 years of service with the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service. He served as extension agricultural agent for 21 years, and since 1967, has been extension potato specialist for southeastern Idaho. A native of Sugar City, Idaho, Professor Garner received the Bachelor of Science degree in agronomy from the University of Idaho in 1943. In military service from 1943 until 1946, he was awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and Silver Star medals. Joining the UI Extension Service in 1946, he was first assigned to Twin Falls County and later that year became Custer County's first county agent. He was assigned to Fremont County in 1951, where he served for 16 years. As extension potato specialist, Professor Garner developed educational programs serving all segments of the potato industry. He initiated the popular Idaho Potato Schools which have been held annually since 1969. He was responsible for extensive programs dealing with potato bruise prevention. He cooperated with research workers in investigations into the control of potato diseases and insects, variety testing, weed control and other production problems. In 1974, Professor Garner was invited by the Western Australia Department of Agriculture to spend nine months there, studying and evaluating potato production programs. He was an invited speaker at potato schools and conventions in Ohio, Montana, Utah, Canada and Australia. He is a member of the American Society of Agronomy and the Potato Association of America.

Rex I. Gooch, Extension Professor Emeritus

During his tenure of more than 33 years with the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service, Professor Rex I. Gooch has conducted educational programs and projects on behalf of the people of Teton County and Jefferson County. As a respected educator and community leader, he has been actively engaged in wide-ranging efforts to strengthen the social and economic foundations for Idaho's progress. A graduate of Madison High School in Rexburg, Professor Gooch attended Utah State University and received a bachelor's degree in agriculture in 1941. He served in the United States Army for nearly five years, achieving the rank of major in the coast artillery. In August 1946, Professor Gooch joined the staff of the UI Extension Service. His first assignment was in Teton County where he served as extension agricultural agent for five years. He became Jefferson County's extension agricultural agent in 1951 and he continued to serve in that county until his retirement in February 1980.

Jack I. Hagen, Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering

Professor Jack Hagen retires after a 15-year academic career in teaching and research. His most recent research has been in the area of the photo-chemical aspects of fuel cell energy conversion. He was born near Coeur d'Alene and attended Idaho public schools. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees in physics and math from Oregon State University in 1948 and 1949. He is a member of Sigma Xi and Sigma Phi Sigma honorary societies, several professional organizations and has been active in resource conservation efforts. He is the author of several technical publications in his field of specialization.

Robert C. Haynes, Professor of Agricultural Education and Agricultural Engineering

The quality of educational programs in vocational agriculture throughout the state of Idaho has been improved by the efforts of Professor Robert C. Haynes. As a faculty member of the University of Idaho College of Agriculture during the past 24 years, he has contributed significantly to the training of young men and women preparing for careers as high school vocational agriculture instructors. A native of Colorado, Professor Haynes earned bachelor's and master's degrees in agricultural education at the University of Idaho. Between 1940 and 1951, he served as vocational agriculture instructor at high schools in Star, Melba and Wilder. He then served one year in southwestern Idaho as area supervisor in the vocational agriculture program for veterans. From 1952 until 1955, he was assistant state supervisor for vocational agriculture in Boise. A member of the University of Idaho faculty since 1955, Professor Haynes has taught farm mechanics and related subjects in college classes and off-campus workshops. He was named the outstanding teacher in the College of Agriculture in 1977. The Future Farmers of America presented him the Honorary American Farmer degree in November 1977. From the Idaho association of Future Farmers of America, he received the "Distinguished Service Award" in 1979.

R. Loren Kambitsch, Extension Professor Emeritus

Throughout his career with the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service, Professor R. Loren Kambitsch has helped citizens of Idaho make effective use of the university's resources and services. He has developed demonstration projects which increased public awareness of scientific progress in agriculture. With the cooperation of interested farmers, he has conducted extensive tests of new cereal varieties on local farms. Professor Kambitsch was born in Genesee, Idaho. He received the Bachelor of Science degree in agronomy at the University of Idaho in 1943. After completing three years of service with the U.S. Army, he joined the staff of the UI Extension Service, beginning as 4-H agent in Nez Perce County. Three months later, he moved to Benewah County to accept the assignment of extension agricultural agent. In 1955, Professor Kambitsch became extension agricultural agent in Nez Perce County. His service there continued for 24 years, resulting in the growth of solidly based extension programs which address the diverse needs of the county's rural and non-rural residents.

Virgil D. Kennedy, Extension Professor Emeritus

Professor Virgil D. Kennedy has conducted educational activities in the field of farm management during his 33-year tenure with the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service. By means of training sessions and workshops, he has helped UI Extension Service personnel and farmers of the state develop competence in farm business enterprise analysis. A native of Oregon, Professor Kennedy attended Oregon State University and received the Bachelor of Science degree in farm management in 1941. He was awarded the Master of Science degree at Iowa State University in 1942. After serving three years in the U.S. Marine Corps, he began his work with the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service as extension farm management specialist in 1945. An accomplished public speaker, Professor Kennedy has entertained and instructed audiences of many types. He has had a leading role in in-service training programs for Extension Service personnel.

Charles G. Painter, Extension Professor Emeritus

As researcher and extension educator, Professor Charles G. Painter has given leadership to University of Idaho programs dealing with soil management. His investigations into the soil nutrient needs of Idaho crops resulted in the formulation of practical guidelines for fertilizer use. Born in Nebraska, he spent his childhood on an irrigated farm near Brush, Colorado. After military service, Professor Painter attended Colorado State University, graduating in 1947. He was awarded the Master of Science degree in soil science by Michigan State University in 1948. He was employed by Utah-Idaho Sugar Co. as a research assistant from 1948 to 1950 and was a research soil scientist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture from 1950 to 1954 when he joined the faculty of the University of Idaho College of Agriculture. He served as extension soils specialist from 1954 to 1967 and also from 1973 until his retirement in January. From 1967 to 1973, he was engaged in soils research at the University of Idaho Extension and Research Center at Parma. Professor Painter is the author of more than two dozen publications dealing with soil management. He has provided training in land judging to extension agents and vocational agriculture instructors and assisted in land judging contests for members of 4-H and Future Farmers of America.

Merle R. Samson, Extension Professor Emeritus

As an agronomist, Professor Merle R. Samson has extensive knowledge of the crop production practices that will benefit Idaho farmers. As an agricultural agent of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service, Professor Samson has been an effective teacher and adviser of farm people. His work on behalf of Idaho alfalfa seed producers has attracted wide attention. Professor Samson was born and raised near Mountain Home, Idaho. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Idaho in 1941. From 1942 to 1945, he served in the U.S. Navy. In March 1946, Professor Samson joined the staff of the UI Extension Service as 4-H agent in Latah County. He was transferred to Bonner County in May 1946 and served as that county's extension agricultural agent until 1949 when he became superintendent of the University of Idaho Branch Experiment Station at Sandpoint. He was engaged in research work for three years. From 1952 to 1954, Professor Samson owned and operated an agriculture-related business. He rejoined the UI Extension Service in 1954 as extension agent in Bannock County. In 1970 he became county chairman of the UI Extension Service staff in Canyon County. Under Professor Samson's leadership, the work of the extension staff in Canyon County attained widespread national recognition.

Henry W. Silha, Professor Emeritus of Mechanical Engineering

After 39 years of teaching and contact with over 1,000 students, Henry W. Silha, professor of mechanical engineering, is retiring this spring. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and has served as chairman of its Inland Empire Section, a member of the American Society for Metals, the American Society for Engineering Education, Sigma Xi and Sigma Tau. He received the Engineer of the Year Award in 1976 from the Inland Empire Sections of ASME and ASM. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering from Montana State University in 1940 and his Master of Science degree from UI in 1950. He has taught classes in applied mechanics, machine design, vibrations, experimental stress analysis and kinematics and dynamics of machinery. A native of Montana, he plans to continue to make his home in Moscow.

Vance T. Smith, Extension Professor Emeritus

Exemplifying the creative, problem-solving approach of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service, Professor Vance T. Smith has helped farmers find solutions to many problems during an extension career that began in 1941. His areas of expertise include soil fertility, irrigation, weed control, potato storage and crop and livestock management. A graduate of Malta High School, Professor Smith attended the University of Idaho. He received the bachelor's degree in 1939, graduating cum laude with a major in both crops and soils. In 1941, he received the master's degree in soils and plant physiology at Washington State College. As his first assignment with the UI Extension Service, Professor Smith served as district 4-H agent in eastern Idaho. In 1943, he became extension agricultural agent in Bear Lake County. From 1945 until 1953, he had statewide responsibilities as extension soils specialist. He carried out an extensive educational program regarding soil fertility and soil management and wrote 10 agricultural bulletins published by the University of Idaho. He developed and promoted soil testing in county offices of the Extension Service. He became an extension agricultural agent in Minidoka County in 1953, with the special assignment of helping 700 veterans establish farms on the 800,000-acre North Side Minidoka Irrigation Project. Between 1969 and 1974, he served in Teton County. He was able to increase crop yields in the Teton County area after he discovered that many soils in the area were seriously deficient in sulfur. For the last five years he has served Bingham County. In 1978, he received the "Outstanding Contribution to Agriculture" award, sponsored by the CIBA Geigy Co. That same year, he was honored by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. He was named state winner of the NACAA "Public Information Award" and was awarded second place in the national contest.

Herbert J. Vent, Professor Emeritus of Education

Professor Herbert J. Vent, who has taught elementary education courses at the university since he came here in 1960, obtained his bachelor's degree in 1941 and master's degree in 1942 from the University of Oregon, and a doctor of education degree from Stanford University in 1949. A native of Soda Springs, Idaho, he is widely published in the field of social science. He has instructed at several American universities and, before coming to the University of Idaho, was a professor of geography and international relations at Air University of the U.S. Air Force ROTC. He has also been a research analyst with the U.S. Geological Survey, a cartographer for Webster Publishing Co., and a member and president of the Idaho State Textbook Committee.

Significance of Academic Costume

DOCTORS wear the round, bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or velvet of color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he so chooses, wear the gold tassel on his cap.

MASTERS wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part for the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

BACHELORS wear the long pointed sleeve; the hood is small.

UNDERGRADUATES wear the round or pointed sleeve, and wear no hood.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institutions granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree — for example, arts and letters, white; fine arts, brown; philosophy, blue; science, gold-yellow; music, pink; agriculture, maize; engineering, orange; forestry, russet; pedagogy, light blue; commerce and accounting, drab.

HONOR CORDS draped over the shoulders designate the students who are graduating with honors: cum laude with silver cords and summa cum laude with gold cords. These are recognition cords and are worn on this one occasion only — they are not part of the academic costume.

Honor Cords are provided by the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

"Mr. Gault should be meeting the nucleus of the University now. There are about thirty students."

"Thirty . . . Where in all Idaho did the University get that many?"

—Reported conversation from the first day of classes at the University of Idaho, October 3, 1892
